Echoes From The Heart Of Brazil, S. A.

ALICE HALVERSON SAYS THEY PIONEERED IN THE JUNGLE AS VAN RAAL-TE PIONEERED

It will be remembered that a little over a year ago Alice Halverson of Holland, who with her husband is doing missionary work in the heart of Brazil in the jungles there, where it takes two months to get mail, returned to that country and is sending her first message for the public through the Holland City News. This publication has printed other contributions from Mrs. Halverson and these are intensely interesting. It surely must take courage for this small group to be isolated from civilization and to mingle only with the Indians of the South American continent.

But, let Mrs. Halverson tell the story in the accompanying letter:

Rio Parnatinga, Mato Grosso, Brazil,
May 17, 1937.

Holland City News,
Holland, Michigan.

Dear Readers:

A year has passed since we left Holland and our desire has often been to pen a few lines to the readers of the City News. Seems like here in the wilds of Brazil we manage to keep busy with the rest of the world.

Just received a pack of City News—the first since our return. Our mail arrives once every two months, so you know, mail day is full of excitement! Our last batch arrived the middle of April and contained States' mail dated Dec. 7th and later. So, you see, some of our mail is far from up-to-the-minute.

Enjoyed reading about Holland's celebration in honor of Dr. Van Raalte's coming 90 years ago. Those pioneer stories are very vivid to me for many of the early settlers' experiences are daily duplicated here. They had non-friendly Indians to contend with. Had to cut down virgin forest for homes and gardens could be made. Had to be their own furniture makers. They had no roads, only trails. These same problems and plenty of others confronted us here, but all in all, those Michigan pioneers faced far more privations and dangers than we do here. We are isolated and in many ways lack modern conveniences, but lack nothing needful. Why? We even have a radio. That's far more than Dr. Van Raalte and party ever heard of, let alone enjoy. We can only tune in after 6 P. M. and so far have not been able to get stations beyond the coast of South America, but, even so, the radio gives us a bit of news, music, etc. Music comes in clearly, but news reports are very limited and often inaudible. Reporters are very fluent speakers—too fluent to suit us.

May, June are beautiful months. August and September are very hot. From October to April we have much rain.

We are back here for ten months and have had plenty of work to make the time speed by. Our only object is to instill into these Indian hearts the need for a Saviour. We walk long distances to reach the Indians in the village or else ride horseback to get in touch with those scattered around. We teach all who want to learn whether they be young or old. Every Thursday afternoon the women gather in a native hut and besides the Bible period we teach them how to write their names, count up to 10 and read a, e, i, o, and u. A few who are beyond this first stage are learning to write their husband's name, count from 10 to 25 and read a few simple words like "vovó" and "vovo" which mean grandfather and grandmother.

Today, we expected several Indians to come to work for us but none appeared. A great feast was in away yesterday so today is "rest day." During the past week the women were very busy making "farinha." Several braves were fishing but heavy rains brought them back empty-handed. A young bullock was substituted and did the Indians have a good time! No drinks are served at these feasts for alcohol is prohibited on this reservation. They played their own native games and danced until tired were too skinned and sore to continue. Reports are that by tomorrow all will be rested and ready for work. In many ways an

PARTY OF TEACHERS IS TREK- ING TOWARDS LOS ANGELES

A postal card from Carlsbad, New Mexico, from Miss Margaret Van Wyven announced that they are about to enter the Crystal Caves at that place, one of the wonders of the world. One of the rooms is 750 feet under ground and two and a half miles back from the entrance of the cavern. For two minutes at intervals there is a 50,000-candlepower flare of calcium light, which brings out the color in detail of this unusual rock formation. From the roof of the cave long icicle-like pointed rocks hang downward, while the floor of the cavern is covered with all sorts of mineral in grotesque rock formations. They call them Totem Poles. The teachers are proceeding to Los Angeles in easy stages. In the party are Miss Margaret Van Wyven and the Misses Gertrude, Vera and Henrietta Althuis.

A former resident of Holland, the Rev. Arthur Oudemool of Kings-ton, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Oudemool of Holland, will preside at a large gathering at Mt. Marion, N. Y., July 4 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt will deliver his annual Independence Day address. Rev. Oudemool is a graduate of Holland High school, Hope College and the New Brunswick seminary.

EDITORIAL

IT MIGHT BE A HAPPY
FOURTH OF JULY

"The Glorious Fourth" can be just as glorious as you choose to make it. This year the week end created by the holiday will intensify the hazards which Independence Day always produces. The watchword should be "Take Care." Independence Day is just what the name implies—celebrating the independence of a nation. The coming week end will demonstrate vividly the modern interdependence of people. Great streams of traffic pouring over the highways, of which Holland and its resorts will receive a large share, will show how essential are mutual regard and courtesy among drivers.

Fireworks will demonstrate it too. A "firecracker thrown by another" is, according to the National Conservation Bureau, the greatest single cause of the tremendous number of fireworks accidents recorded the day after the 4th of July. Holland has just had a demonstration of that when strangers in our midst celebrated firecracker-shooting too early and severely injured an innocent Holland by-stander.

At the beaches and lakes in Michigan and elsewhere imprudent swimmers will again remind us that human life must be risked to save the life of a drowning person. And swimmers, or those who cannot swim, should not be foolhardy, but take precautions, thus preventing tragedy in their homes, and possibly tragedy in the homes of others who might have attempted to save and lose their lives in the attempt. Reasonable care divides a happy holiday from the tragedies which mar it. Reasonable care will insure you, your family, and the other fellow against mishap. For instance:—

If you must use fireworks—give yourself plenty of space. Keep away from children and animals and buildings. Throw firecrackers away from people and inflammable materials, not at them. Never hold an exploding firecracker nor set them off under a bottle or can. Caution the smallest wound immediately, tetanus poisoning works fast and kills.

If you go swimming swim in safe and protected places. Beware of strong under-tows and currents. Know your limits as a swimmer. Wait two hours after eating. Avoid shallow places.

If you drive, see that your car is in good mechanical condition. Check tires, lights, brakes, steering mechanism, windshield wiper, rearview mirror, horn. Drive skillfully, at a reasonable speed. Observe the rules and courtesies of the road.

In Holland Mayor Geerlings has issued a message forbidding premature cracker shooting. Chief Van Ry of the police department has issued warnings that are sensible and sound and this community is well-informed where the lines of safety and the lines of danger lie. If these warnings are heeded so poorly as has the shooting of firecrackers weeks before Independence Day, then the reports in Tuesday morning's newspapers will be appalling. These few early celebrators may not be aware of the nervous reaction it brings to the folk and those who are conversing—and there are many in every community. Let us hope that in Holland and at the resorts, and everywhere for that matter, a sane 4th of July may be inaugurated with a day's activity tempered with common sense.

LIFE BELT OF LOST CAR FERRY FOUND ON BEACH

Two young boys, William Hyland and Sydney Overall of St. Louis, Mo., found a life belt on the beach near Grand Haven that was lost overboard when the large car ferry, "Milwaukee," went down in the fall of 1929. The life belt was found deep in the sand, where it was buried for nearly eight years. It was still well preserved, despite the fact that it was in wet beach sand almost constantly.

The going down of the "Milwaukee" brought anxious days to Grand Haven folk, for there were several men from that port on the car ferry. Not until wreckage was found near Kenosha, Wisconsin and two life boats washed ashore with the crew dead, was the awful truth realized among the seven families who lived at Grand Haven and who had loved ones aboard. The only authentic message that was ever found was picked up in a sealed can from the ship, the type that is used in case of great danger. The message was written by A. R. Sabin, purser of the ship, whose body was later discovered. The message read:

"Str. Milwaukee, Oct. 22, 6:30 p.m. Ship taking water fast. Have turned around and headed for Milwaukee. Pumps all working but gaze (which was constructed to have been written gazed) bent. Can't keep water clear. Flicker is flooded. Seas tremendous. Things look bad. Crew is same as last year."

National attention was drawn to the catastrophes with the result that Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg proposed placing a coast guard cutter on Lake Michigan. The cutter Escanaba was built and Grand Haven was designated as the home port and she has operated from there since 1932.

The car ferry, "Milwaukee," went down with all on board and the message above was the only word received, the large crew and some passengers being drowned.

Daughter Of Late Publisher Passes In East

MRS. CORNELIUS B. MUSTE OF BROOKLYN MUCH BELOVED WOMAN

Funeral services were held in both Brooklyn and Holland

A message came to Holland Friday morning that shocked the many friends and relatives of Mrs. Cornelius B. Muste, wife of Rev. Muste, pastor of the Old Reformed Church of Brooklyn. Death came after suffering for many years from an asthmatic condition that was prevalent since childhood.

Funeral services were held in the East at 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon in one of the oldest Reformed churches in America, where Rev. Muste has been pastor for several years. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. Frank Avery Hoff, pastor of the Central Reformed Church of Patterson, N. J. Mr. Hoff is closely related to the Muste family, is also a graduate from Hope College and is well known in this city. At the services, which were largely attended, Miss Rebecca Crawford sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." The funeral services were very impressive.

The relatives present at the services, well known in this vicinity, were Miss Janet Mulder of Holland, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Muste and daughters, Nancy and Connie of New York and Rev. and Mrs. Frank Hoff of Patterson together with the husband and daughter.

After the services the remains were placed on the Wolverine Express, and Rev. Muste and daughter, Miss Myra Jane, and Miss Janet Mulder, who was called Estelle because of the serious illness of her sister, arrived in Holland Monday evening. The remains lay in state at Dykstra's Funeral Home, where a throng of relatives and friends from this city and vicinity paid their respects.

The funeral in Holland was held at 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of John E. Kuizenga, member of the faculty of Princeton University, and former head of the Western Theological Seminary. He was assisted by Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Church, who read the scripture, and Dr. E. D. Dimment, former President of Hope College, who offered prayer.

The rites at the church were largely attended. The floral tributes came from home and abroad and these were beautiful, indicative of the love and esteem in which Mrs. Muste was held by her many friends in the East as well as in Holland and vicinity, where she was born and received her fundamental education. At the church the pews set aside for the relatives of the deceased were designated by carnations cresting the panels to the pews. The services were impressive indeed.

The discourse of Dr. Kuizenga pictured the strength of Apostle Paul, one of the most forceful figures mentioned in the Bible. Despite his strength he was afflicted with an ailment that was constant with him through life. He felt that in his affliction he was weakened and he deplored the fact that this weakness might make him fall short of giving his full service to Almighty God. Dr. Kuizenga paralleled this phase of the life of Paul with the life of Mrs. Muste, who despite this handicap, with her constant steady on in the service of her Lord. She carried on uncomplainingly, the personification of sweetness, love and faith. Dr. Kuizenga said.

During her girlhood there was no murmuring because of the affliction, and during her married life she was a faithful assistant to her husband who had been a pastor since his graduation covering a period of more than twenty years. Mrs. Bernice Mulder Muste was a devout Christian woman, who carried on the work of the Master joyfully without complaint or hesitancy. The great mother influence and her Christian faith is also reflected in the sterling character of the only child and daughter who survives, as was brought out in the discourse.

The Prelude, rendered by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, who presided at the console of the organ, added to the solemnity of the occasion. Mrs. Snow gave as her offerings several well known hymns, which she rendered continuously until the opening of the services. Her posthumous was also a group of hymns. Her rendition of these softly-played, religious compositions was artistically done.

Mrs. Bernice Muste was the oldest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mulder. Mr. Mulder, it will be remembered, was a publisher in this city for many years, and up to the time of his death six years ago.

A most sad coincidence is the fact that the 20th anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. Muste would have been last Sunday, while the day after her burial was also the day of her birth 47 years before.

Interment, Tuesday, was in Pilgrim Home cemetery in the Mulder plot. At the cemetery Dr. Kuizenga again took charge, and at the close Dr. Dimment scattered rose petals in the open grave, symbolizing the Biblical passage, "Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust."

The survivors are the husband, Rev. Cornelius Muste and daughter, Miss Myra Jane, age 16; two sisters, Miss Janet Mulder of Holland and Mrs. Ronald Mountain of Pontiac; and one brother, Leon Mulder of Grand Rapids.

The pallbearers were Prof. A. H. Hinkamp, Prof. Egbert Winters, Prof. Albert Lampen, Principal John Riemersma and Mr. John Vander Brook, all of Holland, and Dr. J. Carlton Pelgrim of Coral Gables, Florida, Dr. E. D. Dimment

Hope College students talk of printing a college paper in the near future. Note:—Nothing came of it for about two years, then the Hope College Anchor was created, first a monthly magazine style, then a weekly, and later two times a month, except during the vacation periods. The Holland City News has printed the Anchor 44 out of the 47 years it has been in existence.

The prettiest, neatest little wagon that it has been our lot to see for some time is the one made for our enterprising cigar manufacturer, Jim Vander Ven. The vehicle was made by Takken and Despel, dealer of the Holland Wagon Works, and the fine paint job was done by H. Landis, who understands his business. Note:—Vander Ven later became a doctor.

Mr. A. H. Fisher of Hamilton has commenced the erection of a new cottage at Bay View, Macatawa, on the lot just east of the cottage of Charles Leonard of Grand Rapids.

Prof. J. B. Nykerk, tutor at Hope College, has been offered a position as instructor in mathematics and music at the Northwestern Classical Academy at Orange City, Iowa. Prof. Nykerk will undoubtedly accept the position in the Fall. Note:—Dr. Nykerk passed away about eight months ago; he did accept the place for a short time, and then came back to Hope, where he rounded out his years of his career with that institution, with the exception of a year's leave of absence when he studied at Oxford University, England. Dr. Nykerk devoted his entire life to the local institution. He was repeatedly honored, especially in recent years, and a final tribute was paid to this wonderful man when a beautiful plaque costing $200 was dedicated to him during this past commencement in Hope Memorial Chapel, and at that time Rev. John Dykstra, D.D., pastor of Central Reformed Church, Grand Rapids, gave the eulogy, his subject being "Grand Old Man of Hope." It was a solemn occasion, the entire faculty and student body, from whom contributions were received, being present.

Mr. Dan Bertsch, local dry goods man, received a dispatch from West Point stating that his son "Willie" was fortunate enough to pass the examination and will now be admitted as a cadet in the United States Military Academy. William was one of the 180 examined to pass and we are happy to say that he went through with flying colors, being perfect in many of his studies. Note:—Mr. Bertsch later ranked high in military circles of the country. For a time he was stationed on the Philippine Islands, for many years he was at the port in San Francisco Bay and held many other posts in strongholds of American defense. During the Spanish-American War he was a high officer in the regular U. S. Army and also held an enviable place during the World War. He passed away in California. He was the brother of Fred Bertsch, now living on U.S.-31, Macatawa Drive.

North Holland All Prepared For Monday

4TH OF JULY WILL BE CELE-BRATED ON THE 5TH WITH POWELL, NOTED WRITER, THE HEADLINER

The large committee having to do with the celebration of the 4th of July at North Holland have the program well arranged for the celebration on Monday. As usual, the activities will be held on the large school campus, where there is plenty of shade, and an improvised stage has already been built for the speaker, Mr. Stanley M. Powell of Iowa, and the other features in the program augmenting the discourse of the day.

Mr. Powell has gained a great deal of prominence throughout the state as an able speaker; in fact, he is in great demand. He speaks largely on topics that will be inter-

Two contributions of $1,000 each for the support of Hope College and the Western Theological Seminary were found in the mail addressed to Rev. G. De Jong, financial agent for both institutions. One was from a member of the Reformed Church at Muscatine, Iowa, the other from a member of the Fifth Reformed Church of Grand Rapids. Both donors requested that their names be withheld.

The large launch, "Idella," belonging to Will Orr, manager of the Citizen's Telephone Co., had a compass and some clothing taken. A hobo is suspected. Note:—The launch "Idella" was a well-known yacht then and the late Mr. Orr donated it for business parties and for pleasure parties. He finally took it down the Mississippi by way of the Chicago canal to the Gulf of Mexico. It never returned.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The League of Michigan Municipalities is meeting in the City Hall and there is a big program on for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Mayor Stephan is pictured shaking hands with all the cities. There is a halo of hands stretched out all around him. Among the cities represented are Saginaw, Owosso, Traverse City, Flint, Muskegon, Grand Haven, Lansing, Allegan, Detroit, Bay City, Grand Rapids, and Kalamazoo. "Abe" has a broad smile and the cartoon shows him shaking hands with Kalamazoo. Below the cut is the following inscription: "In behalf of the citizens of Holland, I welcome you." Note:—Mr. Stephan was at one time president of the League and that honor came later to Mayor Earnest C. Brooks. The Michigan Municipal League is for the purpose of going into problems that confront every city alike. All cities join to help or to fight in the courts any vicious legislation. It is just what the name implies, in other words, all municipalities in this instance go under one head. Mayors, city attorneys, city clerks and aldermen are asked to take part in these periodical conferences, when each official tells his troubles, and is given advice as to how to meet the problems of their respective cities. Holland is still a member of that League today.

Mrs. J. P. Naber died at the age of 77 at her home in Ebenezer.

J. S. Morton, president of the Graham-Morton Co., has donated the use of the "City of Grand Rapids" to Mayor "Abe" Stephan for Thursday afternoon for the entertainment of Holland's guests during the convention of the League of Michigan Municipalities. This large steamer plies between Holland and Chicago on the regular summer run.

A boulevard lighting system is to be installed in Fennville and a new paved street is to be run through the heart of the village.

Seventeen girls of the Bush & Lane Piano Co. motored to Macatawa Beach Wednesday evening where they enjoyed a weenie roast. Members of the party were: Misses Katherine Baereman, Henrietta Boeve, Johanna Bosch, Julia Boeve, Viola Bosch, Johanna Caauwe, Priscilla Boeve, Elsie Kulkman, Nellie Peterson, Merle Seekamp, Bertha Seedyke, Frances Vos, Reka Vos, Coda Van Klavren, Tillie Van Voort, Jessie Westra, Sadie Windmuller.

Miss Nellie Churchford has gone to Mayo Hospital at Rochester, Minn., where she will be given a combined X-Ray and radium treatment. Miss Churchford is very hopeful that the new method may effect a cure. Note:—Miss Churchford was the founder of a city mission here many years ago, the outgrowth of which was the City Mission on Central ave., a large structure, erected largely through her efforts. When the depression came, which was some time after Miss Churchford's death, financial difficulties made it compulsory for the mission to go elsewhere and it is now in the Walsh building on East 8th st.

TURTLE RACE AT WAUKAZOO

On Sunday afternoon there is going to be a unique race staged at Waukazoo. A large number of turtles have been secured and a turtle race will be in progress. We do not know what the prizes are or whether these go to the swift or the slow. Who knows, maybe the next will be a snail's race at a snail's pace. Such an event always reminds us of the fable of the "Turtle and the Hare."

HORSE PULLING CONTEST

One of the interesting features in the program at the North Holland 4th of July celebration will be the horse-pulling contest to see which farmer has the best horse flesh along the countryside. That surely should bring a crowd from the country, and from town as well.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING HELD TUESDAY

At a special meeting of the common council called by Mayor Geerlings, $1,900 for street improvements of Washington Ave. from 28th to 32nd streets was started. The Globe Construction Co. of Kalamazoo, who is paving other streets in Holland, submitted an offer to the city for this improvement. This and other council transactions will be found in the official council on page two of this section.

LIFE-TIME MERCHANT IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Death came to John De Jongh late Tuesday afternoon at his home at 16 East Tenth St., after a protracted illness. John De Jongh was born in this city on May 12, 1862 and was 75 years old. He had been in the grocery business since he was a lad, and learned to drive a horse as a delivery boy.

His father many years ago conducted a grocery and dry goods store. It was a small wooden structure and the family occupied a part of the building. It was in 1892 that Mr. De Jongh and his brother, Henry, took over the business from the parent and the firm name was then changed to J. and H. De Jongh. The then young men built a fine brick block on East 10th St., the site occupied by the frame store which had done service well back in pioneer days, when general stores were very popular places to trade at by both farmer and city customers.

De Jongh brothers carried on a very successful business all these years and the firm's standing in this community is indeed high. Many folk still trade at De Jongh's who first bought their food stuffs at the father's little store. The writer knows that a few catfish pennies of "us kids" was exchanged for a candy mouse or a licorice stick at that little store on 10th St. and a few of the coppers were shy in the collection bag by no fault of the store-keeper you can be sure.

John De Jongh has always been an enterprising citizen and never failed to help in doing his part in the city's behalf. He was an ardent church worker and in the early days was affiliated with the old Ninth Street Christian Reformed church. Later he and his family joined the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church where Mr. De Jongh served many years as elder and deacon.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Allie D. Zuidema, Detroit, wife of a nationally known pipe organist. Three sons also survive, William of Albuquerque, New Mexico; Cornelius, now in the grocery business with his father and uncle; Dr. Edwin, who practices in Detroit; also two brothers, Arthur of Burnetts Corners and Henry of Holland; one sister, Mrs. Jacob Stroop of Central Park.

Funeral services will take place this Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the home and at 2 o'clock in Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, with the Rev. R. J. Danhof, pastor, and the Rev. L. Veltkamp, pastor of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church officiating. Burial will be in Fairlawn cemetery.

Friends were privileged to pay their respects and view the remains at the Dykstra Funeral Home Thursday.

The bearers will be Dick Stekete, Cornelius Stekete, John Sluiter, Ed Westing, J. Henry VanLente, and Jacob Elenhag.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. O. S. Cross at her home on West 11th St. Tuesday were Mrs. Ray Value, Mrs. Frank Value, Mrs. H. W. Stuch and Mrs. Franz De Lale, all of Allerton, and Miss Grace Pond of Chicago.

Rosenraad Ill Fails To Come To Board Meet

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF OTTAWA COUNTY ARE IN SESSION

Mayor Geerlings, City Attorney Elbert Parsons, Ray Nies, William Brown of Holland, George Henvel of Park Township, and Albert Hye of Holland Township are the representatives of the Board of Supervisors from this vicinity who are deliberating at Grand Haven this week.

This is a very important session, since the board of equalization has been compiling a table of valuations on cities, villages, and townships. The committee has been active most of the week and the final estimate on these valuations, compiled in an equalization tabulation, will be brought up today or tomorrow. The total valuation of the entire county has been fixed at $40,945,541, as compared to $40,195,813 for last year.

Real estate as assessed this year is fixed at $39,019,405 compared with $38,810,375 in 1936; the real estate as equalized is $35,231,023 compared with $35,018,178.

Personal property assessments are fixed at $5,714,518 as compared with $5,118,635 in 1936 and equalized at the same amount.

A deduction of $1,432,130 in real estate valuations is proposed for Grand Haven; $24,706 for Holland; $56,720 for Zeeland; Spring Lake township, $531,000; Grand Haven township, $48,716; Robinson township, $55,047 and Crocker township, $89,428.

The total equalized assessment as proposed by the table for Grand Haven is $6,082,590 as compared with $5,894,040 in 1936. Holland City, $11,389,564 as compared with $11,068,254; Zeeland City, $1,901,818 as compared with $1,847,355. In the township there is but little change in the totals of a year ago.

Action will be taken on the equalization on Thurs. or Fri. when it is expected the amounts will be discussed. Holland's assessed real estate valuation is $9,233,110 and Grand Haven, $5,884,000.

Harold Cornelius, deputy county treasurer, requested a raise in salary. It was turned over to the committee on county officers. Mr. Boven now receives $1,100 per year. Recommendation that all leases be sold on property occupied by the county infirmary, was made by a committee comprised of Dick Smallegan, Albert Stegenza and Philip Rosbach, the arrangements to be made by the superintendents of the poor.

The conservation committee, Frank Hendrych, chairman, reported an expenditure of $940.85 for the propagation of trees and planting beach grass to prevent erosion. There is a balance in the fund appropriated by the board of $559.15. The nursery in Georgetown township under the supervision of Peter Damstra has been examined by experts from Michigan State College and is said to be as fine a collection of young trees as any in the state, according to the report.

Miss Deborah Veneklasen, County welfare executor, explained some changes made in the requirements of those who wish to go to CCC camps. The age limits have been changed, she stated, from 17 to 23 years instead of 17 to 28 years.

Cornelis Rosenraad, dean of the board in point of service and in years, was unable to be present due to a stroke he suffered last Thursday. He sent a note to the board stating his inability to attend. Despite his advanced age he has seldom missed a meeting in the 25 or more years that he has served on the board. He is one of the most active members, is on several of the most important committees and there are few matters brought before the board on which he does not express himself.

It is expected that after the equalization bill has been passed that the board will adjourn, which will possibly be late today, Friday.

WESTERN PAPER DESCRIBES MARRIAGE OF FORMER OTTAWA MAN

A letter was received from Mrs.
P. VanDyk of Lynden, Washington, containing a clipping from the Bellingham Herald, Bellingham, Wash-telling of the marriage of Ralph Van Dyk to Miss Minnie Troost at the First Reformed Church of Lynden on June 17.

Mr. Van Dyk was a former Ze-eland man and received his fundamental education in the schools there. Miss Troost is the daughter of a former North Holland family whose parents moved to the state of Washington 40 years ago.
The Bellingham newspaper gives a half column write-up on the couple describing the impressive services at the church, the floral decorations, and the gowns of the bride and the lady participants in the marriage party. The marriage occurred in the evening at 8:00 o'- clock, the Rev. M. J. Duven of Hol-

POTTER-NEUWSMA MARRIAGE AT THIRD REFORMED CHURCH

The auditorium of Third Reformed church was the scene of a pretly wedding Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, when Miss Jeanne Hendrine Potter, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Potter, became the bride of John E. Nieuwsma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nieuwsma of Strasbourg, N.D. Palms, ferns, potented plants and baskets of flowers and lighted candelabra formed a beautiful setting for the double ring service which was read by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev.
William Van't Hoff, pastor of Third church.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Eunice Ruth Potter, young sister of the bride, played, "Largo," by Handel, as a violin solo. Two vocal Warnshuis as organist. As the bridal party assembled, Miss Warnshuis played the Lohengrin Wedding March. Mendelssohn's Wedding

March was offered as a recessional.

of her father was beautiful in a formal wedding gown of white satin, cut on princess lines and fashioned with a high neckline, lace yoke and long full pointed sleeves.
Her finger-tip veil of tulle was arranged with a coronet of white gar-denias. The bride's bouquet was made of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Pauline Potter who wore shell pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of talisman roses, pink carnations and sweet peas. Bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Potter, another sister of the bride, and friend.

Little Audrey Jean Timmer, three-year-old relative of the path of the bride. Master Maurice Marcus, also three years old, carried the rings on a satin heart-shaped pillow.

groom, was best man. Head ushers were James Nettinga and Chester
Meenars, colleagues of the groom,

The belt moves under a special designed series of water nozzles which play a stream of water under 65 pounds of pres- sure on them and this removes all scales and the fish are ready to pack.

HOLD MISSION MEETING AT "OLD WING MISSION"

Monday night Mrs. Fern Fairbanks and Mrs. Shirley Fairbanks entertained the Mrs. Verna Girard group of the Foreign Mission Society of the M. E. Church of this city at their home in "Old Wing Mission Farm" in Fillmore Township. Mrs. Effie Walker led in the devotions and Mrs. Fred Schiebach read two letters from Mrs. Alice Halverson, missionary in South America. There were twenty-three persons present including the guests, who spent a social hour after the regular program had been completed.

It might be interesting to note that the "Old Wing Mission Farm" was owned by the mission in 1870. Dr. George Smith ministered to the Indians. It was built by the late Isaac Fairbanks, and part of the mission still remains on the site where it was first built.

FINE PROGRAM AT BIG PAVILION ON THE 4TH

It is gratifying news that Stan Norris and his orchestra, after making such a great hit at the grand opening at the Big Pavilion at Saugatuck Wednesday, has been engaged for the entire season. It will be a gala season at the Big Pavilion this summer with such a fine music master leading a fine orchestra. Dancing and movies every night is scheduled for this summer and you are assured that there will be many special features, especially during the Regatta and Venetian Evening period.

MAN TAKES PLACE OF HORSE

Our correspondent from Allendale writes that she has heard horses are plentiful in the country, but this seemingly is not the case in the vicinity of Allendale. It appears that D. Roeters, a resident of Pearlville, tried in vain to locate some farmer in the neighborhood who could spare one horse for a short time, since Roeter's garden needed cultivating. He was unsuccessful in his attempt, so a good friend, Mr. B. Custer, harnessed himself to the cultivator and Mr. Roeters succeeded in cultivating the garden spot. Custer reports that it was hard pulling, but he changed off with Mr. Roeters and tried his hands at the cultivator handles about half the time.

We have heard of and seen pictures of men and women harnessed up with an ox, not in this country, but this is common in some European countries. It is hoped that the Allendale folk will find a horse or a tractor next year to cultivate the garden patch, or we might suggest a snail. We are wondering which would be the hardest. We also suggest that Roeters give Custer a "bang-up" dinner, for he will need it after such strenuous exercise.

COLLECTION OF SUMMER TAX BILLS TO BE STARTED HERE TUESDAY

Final plans for the collection of city and school taxes were made Thursday with the mailing of 6,000 summer tax bills by the city treasurer's office. City Treasurer Henry J. Beckfort announced, Thursday, that collection of the taxes will begin Tuesday morning.

The bills were mailed from the office of City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark yesterday after a number of weeks had been spent in preparing them. Their value is $331,846.80, which is $8,050.99 less than it was over last year's total of $339,897.79.

The taxes may be paid until August 15 and after that date they will become delinquent. After August 15 a collection fee of 2 per cent will be added and after Sept. 10 an interest fee of 4 per cent will then be added.

The total city tax rate for this year is $17.02 which is 40 cents lower than the 1936 rate of $17.42. The total school rate is $12.10 or $1 less than the 1936 rate of $13.10.

OPENS TWO-DAY CONVENTION AT CASTLE PARK TODAY

Today and Friday Castle Park will be a busy place with the opening of the season, for the Masters Bedding-Making salesmen of the Charles Karr Co. have arrived and are holding their convention there today and tomorrow. The representatives at the meeting are from forty-eight plants associated in the sale of the Karr mattresses. There will be several business sessions, when the Fall advertising campaign and promotion program, as well as making the styles for 1938, will be some of the matters discussed.

The Castle is now open for this large number of guests and, naturally, will remain open until the close of the season this Fall. A guest program will be featured for the 4th of July.

The Lake Freighters A. J. Patmore visited Holland harbor Wednesday. It carried a cargo of gasoline consigned to the Globe Oil and Refining Co. The boat docked at the company's dock near the foot of West 16th St. at 5:30 p. m. and after unloading her cargo left the dock at 11:55 p. m. Wednesday night. This is the second load of gasoline the company has received at its local marine bulk storage plant since it was recently completed.

Echoes From The Heart Of Brazil, S. A.

Indian's life is an easy one. No time schedules nor punching of clocks for him. He eats, works and sways in his hammock when he feels like it. They have no regular meal time and there is never the drudgery of dish-washing. Children eat or go without food all day long—according to how much or how little food there is in the hut. Indians are generous and it is an unwritten law that all must share with even their latest relatives. Much stealing of cattle and crops—always some one else to profit "incognito." Lying and stealing are two evils we continuously combat against.

We planted our garden last November and enjoyed plenty of green corn during January. We are trying to raise chickens but so far have met more failure than success. It is too hot for inclosed coops here, so chickens roost in trees. Vampire bats suck their blood and leave them weak and exhausted. Death often follows. Then we have a huge snake which belongs to the boa constrictor family that is continuously feasting upon our chickens. Mr. Halverson shot two of them just in the act of crushing the chickens prior to eating them. So much forest nearby will, for a long time, prove a real snake problem.

Our home is finally furnished. Mr. Halverson made all the furniture. A long stage and plenty of hard work elapsed between the time he found dried cedar logs in the forest and made them into useful articles of furniture. Our mud house, white-washed inside and outside with thatched roof and "mother earth" floors is a wee palace along the side of an Indian hut. Nothing in our home interests these Indians more than the pictures on our walls. The one of the quintuplets offers no amount of questions. One Indian asked us if God wished to punish the mother by sending five children at once. Twins are considered a curse here. Not long ago a mother had twins and the father killed the girl but the boy was left to grow up.

Junia is fourteen months now and is a healthy, lively girl. She has a very limited vocabulary of English, Portuguese and Indian. The Indians shout for glad when she says a bit of Indian. They imagine her saying far more than she says. Every night I sing a Dutch Psalm to her for I would like for her to know for what her birthplace is known. Wish I could tune in and hear some Dutch Psalm singing.

We have received the needed permission to start advance work among the Indians of the Xingu region. Mr. Halverson and fellow workers plan on leaving here in one and returning in August or September. It will mean months of silence and separation for I must try to do my part in keeping the home-fires burning. Up to the present date these Indians have never seen a white woman but soon they will see two of our lady missionaries.

There is a savage tribe, the Cayapos, roaming these parts that is feared by all. Some time ago they killed one of our nearest Brazilian farmers. The savages arrived here not far from his home. After killing him they robbed him of his arms, stripped him of all clothing but his belt, and cut off his ears. His wife and 12 children have deserted the farm which is a very profitable one, yielding much corn, rice and sugar cane. These Cayapos roam in rain and sunshine sleeping out in the high grass without blanket or shelter. Picture them sleeping huddled together all through a night of pouring rain. Twenty-five years ago this territory was more inhabited than it is now. Fear of the Red man has driven them to more peaceful parts. We, too, fear these Cayapos. Our men in making the Xingu trip will need pass near their territory. Our home is not in danger, for which we praise God. Everybody here needs travel armed.

This letter has grown unusually long. Trust this finds you all enjoying a pleasant summer. If any of you wish to drop us a line, please address all correspondence to Curitiba, Matto Grosso, Brazil, S. A. Caixa 50.

Your fellow citizen,
Alice Halverson.

HOLLAND CONSUL ACCEPTS BID TO CENTENNIAL AT MUSKOGON

William G. Bryant, Netherlands consul at Detroit, has accepted an invitation of the Muskegon Centennial association to attend the celebration of Centennial Netherlands day July 22, it was announced today.

Mr. Bryant, it will be remembered, has been a guest at our Tulip Festival at least three times.

Acceptance of the executive committee's formal bid was made by Mr. Bryant in a letter to his friend, former Circuit Judge John Vanderwerp.

Plans of Muskegon's citizens of Dutch extraction to honor the memory of their forebears whose immigration to western Michigan has contributed greatly to its up-building have been transmitted in official dispatches to the Netherlands embassy in Washington through Consul Bryant.

It was indicated today that if papers clear diplomatic channels in time, Mr. Bryant may make his approaching Muskegon visit as an emissary of Queen Wilhelmina and convey formal greetings from the Holland government.

Mr. Bryant also is chairman of the international touring committee of the American Automobile association, and has offered to cooperate in the success of the Centennial publicity in the association's publications throughout the country.

Value Worms as Soil Aid is Now Shown

More Important For This Than Bait For Fishing

To most people the angle worm suggests hook, lines, sinkers and a certain number of deluded fish which have tried in vain to escape from their folly and particularly a few big ones which did escape. But to the forester, angle worms may suggest hardwood forests, according to Dr. P. R. Gast and James W. Johnston, Jr., graduates of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse, N. Y.

Angle worms also have been otherwise distinguished. It has been said that angle worms sing; that is how robins hear them or find out where they are, and the claim that these curious invertebrates are silviculturists and have something to do with the growing of trees is also a novel idea, at least to the layman.

This lowly denizen of the earth, notwithstanding all the skepticism about the claims of his versatility, is probably the most important individual of the many soil animals which exercise influence upon forest soils, especially soils in which hardwoods grow, according to Doctors Gast and Johnston.

The most important of the earthworms from the forester's viewpoint are the big ones; scientists have named them Lumbricus terrestris. They are the kind that are lured from their burrows by rain or the shades of night, the piece of resistance of the robin. According to scientists, these earthworms help to fertilize the soil. Aside from making the soil more porous, they consume the leaves of certain hardwood trees and draw the leaves into their holes, where the leaves either decay or are digested and deposited in contact with or near mineral soil. This process is said to aid in breaking up the mineral soil through chemical reactions and helps to prepare minerals for tree food, thus making it easier for trees to pump the needed minerals into their elaborate system of cells, fibers and leaves, where are manufactured the materials from which wood is made.

The marriage of Miss Jean Spaulding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Spaulding, of Holland, and Robert Zoerheide, of Holland, was solemnized Friday evening, at the cottage of William Vander Schell, north of Getz Farm. The marriage ceremony was read by candle light at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. H. D. Terkurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white satin with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a spray of orange blossoms. Miss Virginia Allen of Grand Rapids was her bridesmaid. She was attired in a gown of blue organdy and carried a bouquet of rose buds. Miss Betty Jane Spaulding, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, wore lavender organdy and carried pansies to match her dress. Bruce Moore of Kalamazoo attended the groom as best man. Miss Fern Zoerheide, sister of the bridegroom, sang "O Promise Me," and "Trust in Me," accompanied by Ned Shaw who also played Lohengrin's wedding march. A reception followed the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago and upon their return will make their home in Kalamazoo where Mr. Zoerheide operates a meat market.

The marriage of Miss Gene Muel Van Kolken, daughter of Mrs. Marie Van Kolken, 143 East 22nd St., and Donald E. TeKoller, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. TeKoller, 184 East Fifth St., was solemnized Saturday at the home of the bride's mother. Vows were spoken at 5:30 o'clock under an arch decorated with pink and white roses in a corner adorned with evergreens. The Rev. H. D. Terkurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, performed the single ring ceremony. The bride was charming in a gown of white lace over satin and her finger tip veil of tulle was held with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white sweet peas. Miss Mary Van Kolken, as maid of honor, wore a floor-length gown of tea rose organdy and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Barbara Lou Van Kolken, sister of the bride, as flower girl, carried a basket of pink organdy. Sewell Fairbanks was best man. Miss Dorothy Van Otterloo was a mistress of ceremonies and Preston Van Kolken, brother of the bride, acted as master of ceremonies. Preceding the ceremony Miss Marian TeKoller, sister of the bridegroom, played the Lohengrin's Wedding march. She also accompanied Miss Lois TeKoller, sister of the bridegroom, who sang "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly." Immediate families of the bride and groom, their grandparents and several friends attended the wedding and reception which followed. Mr. and Mrs. TeKoller left on a short wedding trip. They will make their home at Virginia Park.

Henry Heetderks, 134 East 21st St., made application Monday with City Clerk Oscar Peterson for a building permit to reroof his home with asphalt roofing at an estimated cost of $100.

WHAT means this demonstration, In home, in street, and hall? What means this children's singing? Each one with heart and voice? Why all this bunting floating, And why these banners gay? What are these things denoting? It's Independence Day!

What means the gay bells ringing? Why do our hearts rejoice? What means the children's singing? Each one with heart and voice? This yearly contribution, Which ne'er shall know decay, Tells of the Revolution—It's Independence Day!

Fraternal thoughts engender A country's love that sticks. That's why I all remember The War of "Seventy-Six." And so we come displaying Our national love this way, The Stars and Stripes are saying "It's Independence Day!" —Frank B. Williams, in Grit.

Old Bell Rings Again After a Long Silence

ALLEGAN STARTED AT NEW SOUND OF OLD CHIMES

(Allegan News)

Those who counted 12 chimes at Allegan recently are glad to know they were not "hearing things."

The twelfth chime brought to a close many years of silence in the belfry of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Allegan, Mich. Workmen repairing the roof and belfry of the church had put the bell in working order a few minutes before that time and gave the Rev. J. Ethan Allen, rector, the signal for a test just as the court house chimed sounded the hour. Result: some few listeners prepared for lunch.

Just how many years the bell has been silent, the rector could not say. But the first official use the revived bell received was the following Sunday morning, when he tolled the old bell to call the parishioners to the 8 o'clock service.

Workmen copied the following inscription from the bell: "Menely & Co., West Troy, N. Y., 1882. Easter Memorial, 1871. Parish of the Good Shepherd, Allegan, Mich. Diocese, Mich., age 50 years. Parish, 13 years. Church 2 years. H. Judd, rector. Vestry, W. B. Williams, senior warden, S. J. Arnold, junior warden, C. R. Wilkes, Aug. Lilly, J. Deale, J. M. Pennock, Treas., A. E. Calkins, Secty. Easter, 1882."

The bell was first cast in 1871 and dedicated on Easter of that year. Ten years later it cracked and the original metal was sent back to be recast into the present bell. Except for the two lines dated 1882, the original inscription was retained. That would date the age of the parish at 79 years, with the present structure dating from 1869.

Repair work on the belfry and roof has been completed and the members of the congregation are happy in the thought that their church is now in fine shape and they will be listening every Sunday for the peal of the old bell.

One Hour Parking Limit Starts Saturday Downtown

(Grand Haven Tribune)

One hour parking in the business district on Washington and adjoining streets will be enforced from tomorrow, June 26, until the end of the summer season, according to Lawrence DeWitt, chief of the police department.

An officer will be employed to enforce the section and the little white chalk marks which he places on the tires will be warnings to motorists that he is watching. If the rule is infringed upon the motorist will find a ticket posted on the windshield, which means the payment of $1 in the traffic court at the police and fire station building.

The dollar fine is for a first offense, $2 for the second and $3 for a third. After that, the chief warns, anything can happen.

Signs have been up for several weeks but the rule was not enforced as the traffic downtown did not warrant enforcement. With the influx of summer residents the streets are now lined with cars from early until late at night inconveniencing many who wish to come to the section for shopping. "No Parking" signs have been placed on Seventh street, near the congested factory district warning motorists of parking on that section of the state highway which during the summer is heavily traveled.

The officers are endeavoring to police traffic in this city and about 60 arrests for speeding have already been made this season for which a fine of $10 is imposed. Garage men report many more cars on the highways and in the city over this time last year, although the great tourist movement has not really started.

For two years Grand Haven held a perfect record with no deaths as was cited by the state safety council. Early this spring the record was marred when Richard York, five years old, was killed on his way from the Central school to his home on Seventh st.

One weighed five and one-half pounds, the other four pounds, six ounces.

This Shows Michigan to Be "Summer Playground"

More than 1,250,000 Michigan hunting, fishing and trapping licenses were purchased during 1936. The sales of some licenses such as the resident deer and small-game hunting licenses and the resident 50-cent fishing license, far exceeded those of any previous year.

In 1936 the sale of resident hunting licenses increased by approximately 40,000 over the previous year. A similar increase is noted in the resident fishing license and the resident deer-hunting license sales. Total sales of the various 1936 game and fish licenses follow:

God Hears a People's Cry—Exodus 1:6-14.

Henry Geerlings

Two men make a great difference in the affairs of two peoples. A new king means the change of Egypt's policy toward the Hebrews. Joseph among the dead leaves his fellow countrymen unprotected.

History seems to have meant nothing to the new ruler. If he read it, he read it with no gratitude for what Joseph had done for his country. Or it may be that he had felt that the past had paid his debts and the present had nothing to do with what then was. Or it may be literally true that this new monarch knew nothing about Joseph and cared less. But he did know Joseph's people. They had grown mightily in numbers and in power and possibly in substance. They were strange Jews if they did not. They have genius to get on materially and it is a rare genius. In this respect, I take it, the Jew of the long ago is not different from the Jew today. He owns much of New York City now and he is on a fair way to own very much more if the Gentile does not watch out. So the new ruler of Egypt had a problem to face in the people of Joseph. He thought they were becoming a menace. He feared them.

not simply by reason of what they were, but also by reason of what they might become. Given numbers, material substance, racial consciousness and they might become an ally or an enemy. They were maintaining their separateness and racial distinctiveness. They showed no disposition to become merged racially with the Egyptians. They were a foreign people in a foreign land. They persisted in keeping intact that racial individuality which has defied through the ages the destroying power of nations. In these modern days we know something of what it means to deal with those peoples who refuse to lose their racial individuality. Melting pots do not always melt. Some people refuse to be assimilated. The Jews of long ago did down in Egypt. So the new Pharaoh was statesman enough to insist on keeping intact that racial individuality which has defied through the ages the destroying power of nations. In these modern days we know something of what it means to deal with those peoples who refuse to lose their racial individuality. Melting pots do not always melt. Life guards at the Holland State park Sunday afternoon saved the life of a little girl but in the excitement no one asked her name. She was given artificial respiration by life-guard Charles Fies, of Michigan State college, and was treated at Holland hospital. The girl was walking in shallow water from the breakwater, near the beach, and in some way fell into the water. Struggling, she filled her lungs with water, and it took artificial respiration to revive her.

The accident happened at 8 o'clock.

Thomas Parker, 30, of 248 Pine Ave., suffered a fractured right arm, bruises and cuts in an accident which occurred Saturday evening at 7:30 P. M. on a county highway, 2 1/2 miles north of New Groningen. Parker was riding in an automobile, driven by Harold Vrieling, 28, 254 Pine Ave., when the vehicle struck a horse owned by Mr. K. Vanden Bosch, rural route No. 1, Zeeland. The force of the car striking the horse cut off the animal's left leg, just below the knee. After striking the animal, the car continued for a short distance and came to a halt in a nearby potato patch. Peter Damstra, rural route 1, Zeeland, who chanced to be passing the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred, rushed Mr. Parker to the Zeeland hospital. The horse was led to a nearby field and shot. Vrieling reported to Deputy Sheriff Martin Smith of New Groningen that he was proceeding south on the highway. He said that as he neared the horse, which was being driven in a northerly direction on the left side of the road by Mr. Vanden Bosch, he sounded his horn as a warning. The horse reared on his hind legs and came down in the path of the automobile, which struck him in such a manner and force as to amputate the left leg. The force of the impact caused serious damages to the right side and front portions of the automobile.

LIBERTY, one of two treasured BELLS

TWO of the bells which played important roles in early American history — pealing warnings or glad tidings during the nation's battle for survival — are treasured by Philadelphia, observes a Philadelphia United Press correspondent.

Most valuable of the two from historical standpoint is the world-famed Liberty bell, which was tolled when first public announcement was made of the Continental congress' adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

The bell had pealed for anniversaries and festivals until 1835, when it cracked while being rung for the funeral procession of Chief Justice John Marshall of the United States Supreme court.

Other bells identified with America's struggle against foreign encroachments are the chimes in the steeple of Old Christ church. During the Revolutionary war they were removed and secreted to block possible attempts of English soldiers to melt them for ammunition.

Schedule for Swimming Classes

The program for swimming classes this summer under the auspices of the American Red Cross was released last week by Edward Damson, instructor for the Holland area.

The program is for adults as well as children and all instructions are free of charge. Any organization may arrange for a special class with Damson.

Swimming lessons, which will continue throughout the summer, will be given on any beach from 9:45 to 11:45 a. m., and from 2 to 4 p. m. Zeeland swimmers will get lessons every Monday morning at Ottawa Beach, and Holland people may get instruction in the afternoon. On Tuesday, Damson will be at Port Sheldon to instruct resorters there.

Wednesday all day will be devoted to Holland swimmers and all others who appear at Ottawa Beach. Thursday the class will be held at Central Park, and Friday classes will be held at Macatava.

Damson said that all persons interested in taking life-saving tests from William C. Lucey, state examiner, must register with him by June 28. Tests will be given June 29.

a two-course lunch was served. Rev. and Mrs. De Vries are making their home in Spring Lake. The bride was feted at a shower, last Tuesday evening, attended by approximately 90 women of the Spring Lake church.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

THE long fourth of July week-end needs a well stocked larder and plenty of foods that can be eaten cold. For picnics plenty of bread, canned meats and fish, peanut butter, preserves, salad dressing, butter, eggs, cheese, lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, fruits and beverages are essential. Cold ham, chicken, turkey, duck, tongue, jellied meats or meat loaf or fish may be on hand as left overs. Favorite fruits for this holiday are bananas and oranges, watermelons, peaches, cherries, and plums. Berries do not carry well on picnics though they are plentiful and reasonably priced for home meals. The first few new crop apples and pears are in market. Seasonable foods make up these holiday menus.

- Low Cost Dinner: Cold Cuts, Potato Salad, Quartered Tomatoes, Bread and Butter, Cottage Pudding, Berry Sauce, Tea or Coffee, Milk
- Medium Cost Dinner: Baked Ham with Bananas, New Potatoes, Creamed Spinach, Bread and Butter, Watermelon, Milk
- Very Special Dinner: Cantaloupe, Broiled Chicken, Glazed Carrots, Green Peas, Tomato Salad, Rolls and Butter, Ice Cream, Sponge Cake, Coffee
