Consider Normal School for Ottawa, Allegan Counties

Supervisors Debate Whether Jap-American Dentist Will Be Hired

Grand Haven, June 29 (Special)—Referred to the committee on schools and education at the Wednesday meeting of the board of supervisors was a proposition submitted by Ottawa County School Commissioner Dick H. Vande Bunte that Ottawa county join Allegan county in establishing a normal school with a two-year program.

He said the present program in Allegan county has a one-year course which he considers inadequate, but if Ottawa joins Allegan, the state will contribute $3,000, $500 of which would go to Allegan county toward expenses and $2,000 could be used for a third helping teacher here to assist in music and art in the rural schools and the balance of $500 could be used for other expenses.

Vande Bunte said an enrollment of 10 is necessary for a normal to operate but if two counties join even though there are only five or six, the program can continue. He said Allegan supervisors, also meeting this week, are expected to take action in joining Ottawa. Vande Bunte said those attending the normal could ask for a war emergency certificate for teaching in rural schools after attending one year. These certificates are recognized by the state, he said.

L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, requested names of outstanding youths 16 to 21 to attend Michigan State college for an eight weeks' course in leadership training Oct. 23 to Dec. 15 under the Kellogg scholarship program. Ordinarily Ottawa county would be allowed six scholarships but this year 12 are available.

Chairman John H. Ter Avest appointed Edmund Wilda, Dick Smallegan, Charles Lowing, Henry Slaught and Peter Van Ark to appoint the joint meeting of the welfare commission and supervisors in Port Huron Aug. 8, 9 and 10.

The board took under consideration Vernon D. Ten Cate's recommendation that a Japanese-American dentist be hired to replace Dr. Virginia Winterhof who recently resigned to take a position in Benton Harbor. Ten Cate explained that this dentist is the only one available under the Couzens foundation.

Several board members, including some who have relatives in service, expressed themselves as not too friendly toward the suggestion while others emphasized the Christian angle. Ten Cate asked for a straw vote but several suggested they ponder the question and probably take it up again this afternoon.

At Tuesday's meeting, insurance representatives appeared relative to increasing insurance on the court house buildings. Supervisors authorized an appraisal before taking action. The board also approved the agricultural committee's recommendation that $200 be allocated for travel for Harvey J. Elliott, 4-H district club agent from July 1 to Jan. 1, 1945.

Grand Haven, June 29 (Special)—Charles H. Lowing of Georgetown township told the board of supervisors at its opening meeting Monday that rapid progress is being made at Park township airport and that large runways have been placed on the grounds. He said Charles R. Sligh, who has been active in airport work, has been seeking personal contributions and many of these have been sent to the county clerk marked for this particular purpose.

A ruling was requested from Acting Prosecutor Louis H. Osterhaus on procedure on how these checks received by the county clerk could be turned over to Sligh, but the board adjourned before the ruling could be presented. While waiting for the ruling the board approved Herman Van Tongeren's motion that the finance committee consider the advisability of purchasing additional war bonds for the county.

The board ordered filed a communication from the State Association of Supervisors regarding Ottawa county's share in the proposed million dollar state appropriation from current revenues in accordance with the so-called supervisors' plan approved at the state association's meeting last January.

This proposed appropriation is scheduled for consideration at a state-wide meeting in Lansing in connection with a special session of legislature to be called by Governor Kelly, the report said. The local board also was asked to appoint a committee to attend the joint meeting of the welfare commission and supervisors at Port Huron Aug. 8, 9 and 10 to discuss amendments designed to simplify and give the supervisors more authority in welfare administration.

Ottawa county's share is proposed at $136,207.35. One half of this amount is scheduled to go to the county as a whole and the other half is divided among cities and townships, according to population. This amount is divided as follows:

Alkendale, $1,571.89; Blomdon, $1,571.89; Grand Haven, $1,571.89; Holland, $1,571.89; Spring Lake, $1,571.89; Zeeland, $1,571.89.

Harvey J. Elliott, district 4-H club agent for extension work in Muskegon and Ottawa counties, reported that the board's appropriation of $300 for travel expenses from July 1 to June 30 has been used up and requested an additional sum to carry on the work for the balance of the year. He asked the board to appropriate $400 at the October session, the same amount as Muskegon provides, to carry on from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1945. His request was referred to the agricultural committee.

Mayor Elmer J. Schepers of Holland attended his first meeting as a member of the board and was introduced by Holland City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate. He was given the same assignment of duties and committees held by former Mayor Henry Geerlings.

Bougainville, June 28 (Special) —Ordnance personnel, working under the intense heat of the tropical jungle were recently confronted with a condition that not only hindered the efficiency of their operations, but endangered their health as well. Their machine shops are housed in trailers, power being derived from a portable electric generator. The fumes of the generator, augmented by the stagnant air, created the problem.

First Lt. Donald W. Winter, of Holland, Mich., assigned to the ordnance section of an advanced base service command on Bougainville, Solomon Islands, improvised a method of "air-conditioning" that has practically eliminated the above condition.

The lieutenant has utilized the fan that cools the tractor automotive motor, so that it draws air in through the radiator and circulates it throughout the trailer. "This method," he said, "has not been used before. Pure necessity warranted its application here."

Lt. Winter entered the army Feb. 26, 1942. Prior to embarkation overseas he was stationed at the Aberdeen proving grounds Md.; Camp Forrest, Tenn.; Fort Ord, Cal.; the Benicia arsenal, and Fort Sheridan, Ill. He has been awarded the American Defense service ribbon and the Asiatic-Pacific service ribbon with a bronze star.

His home is at 80 West 11th St., Holland, Mich., where his father, Henry Winter, resides.

Air Corps Test Set for July 13

An army air force examining board of Detroit will be in Holland July 13 to conduct tests for 17-year-old youths interested in joining the air corps. The test will begin at 1 p.m. in the Elks temple, Central Ave., and is for the procurement of candidates for air combat crew training for pilots, bombardiers, navigators, with emphasis on gunners.

The test is for 17-year-olds only, and those who pass will not be called until they are 18 and if they are then in high school the candidates will be allowed to finish the semester.

The Holland squadron of the civil air patrol is making arrangements for the test and plans to mail circulars to 200 or 300 17-year-old youths in this area announcing the test.

Add 42 Thousand To Bond Figures In Two-Day Sales

Purchases of individual war bonds continue steady in Holland, with about $42,000 in bonds during the past two days swelling the total to $248,125.25. The local quota is $968,133.60.

George Damsen, statistical chairman, reported the following sales for Tuesday and Wednesday: Peoples State bank, $7,518.75 in E bonds and $222 in G bonds on Tuesday, 4,387.50 in E bonds and a treasury savings note in series C amounting to $12,000 on Wednesday; Holland State bank, $5,608.25 in series E and $100 in series G on Tuesday and $9,412.50 in series E on Wednesday; Ottawa County Building and Loan association, $943.75 in series E during the two days and Holland post office, $1,162.50 in series E on Tuesday and $712.50 in series E on Wednesday.

Washington, June 29 (UP)—War bond sales reported yesterday were the highest ever recorded for a single day and brought total purchases to $9,374,000,000, Ted Gamble, national war finance director, announced.

Total sales for the day were $3,569,000,000. Thus sales through $16,000,000,000 over-all goal. Sale of more than $7,000 in war bonds Saturday and the announcement here of a war bond premiere to be held July 6 today added impetus to the fifth war loan drive.

"Clowning" swelled the bond total by $7,218.75 Saturday afternoon and night when Roy Young, Peenie Dailey and their band "arrested" local citizens who paid their penalties by buying bonds. A band played selections in honor of each sale.

Saturday's 2 p.m. parade led off the day's events with an array of decorated trucks and tractors, complemented by two fire trucks, members of the American Legion band and a delegation of local Camp Fire girls with their director, Mrs. Lloyd Reed. Horses and riders, Hub Boone's mule and buggy carrying the clowns and "Hitler's coffin" and the "jail" truck completed the lineup.

Misses Barbara Heneveld and Betty Van Klink of the Peoples State bank sold a total of $2,199.75 in bonds during the afternoon festivity when Officers Harris Nieuwma, Ralph Wolbrink and Rance Overbeek arrested bystanders and took them before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith who broadcast accounts of the "trials" through a loudspeaker.

Buyers of $500 bonds in afternoon sales were John De Wilde, Charles Kuhnne and Ward Hansen. Gerrit Van Anrooy bought a bond for his daughter, Lt. Viola Van Anrooy, a nurse in Italy.

Saturday night Mrs. Don Van Lente of the Holland State bank presided with Judge Smith in the court and sold a total of $5,025. Outstanding sales were two $1,000 bonds to A. Patsy Fabiano, a $1,000 bond to Chester Van Tongeren and Myron De Jonge, and a $500 to R. O. De Weerd. Several $100 bonds and other smaller denominations were also sold.

Harry Beekman, president of the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced the war bond premiere July 6 at 9 p.m. in Holland theater. The motion picture to be shown will be "Two Girls and a Sailor" featuring Van Johnson, Joan Allison, Gloria De Haven, Jose Iturbi, Jimmy Durante, Gracie Allen, Lena Horne, Harry James and Xavier Cugat.

All seats for the premiere, sponsored by the Junior chamber, will be reserved. On suggestion of Frank M. Lieveson, local war bond chairman, all seats will represent purchases of $100 bonds or more, although if there are co-owners on the $100 bond purchase, two tickets will be issued.

Purpose of the premiere is to sell "extra bonds" according to Lieveson and Beekman. Tickets may be obtained from Peoples State bank, Holland State bank, Building and Loan association and the post office.

178 Flak Holes After Toughest Raid

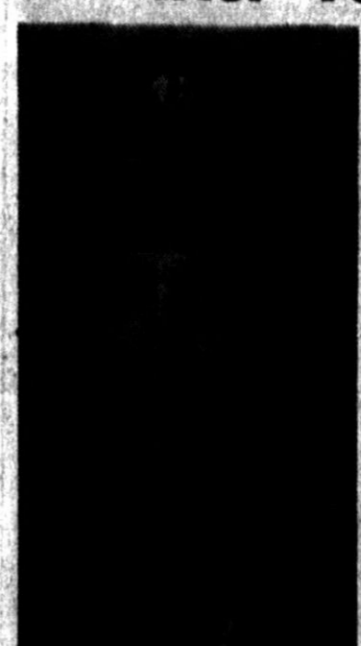

S/Sgt. Gordon H. Dangremont, 24, holder of the Air Medal and seven Oak Leaf clusters, home on a 21-day delay-on-route after completing 50 plane missions out of Italy, said Wednesday night that his toughest mission was over Weiner Neustadt, Austria, in which his plane returned with 178 large flak holes and other serious damage.

Assistant flight engineer and top-turret gunner on "Flame McGoon," a B-24 Liberator, Dangremont said in addition to the 178 flak holes, the hydraulic system and brakes were shot away, the No. 3 propeller was shot out, half of the rudder was gone and the right aileron, control service in the wing, also was gone.

The bomber, named after one of Al Capp's cartoon characters, was forced down at an airfield in Allied territory about 200 miles from the home base and all members of the crew emerged without a scratch. It took about two months to complete repairs. Dangremont said.

The Austrian mission with an aircraft plant as objective was the longest Dangremont participated in, requiring 13½ hours. He said the plant was completely destroyed.

Sgt. Dangremont, who in addition to the Air Medal wears service ribbons for the Italian campaign, the pre-Pearl Harbor service ribbon and the Good Conduct medal, arrived at the Holland depot June 19 and was met by the entire family. He left Italy June 1 and arrived in the United States June 14. From here he will go to a test camp at Miami beach, Fla., for three

S/Sgt. Gordon H. Dangremont

As top turret gunner, Dangremont has had three close calls and considers himself very lucky. He said after the first two missions, members of the crew made quite a point of "three times and out." The third time a piece of shrapnel shattered the turret and narrowly missed his head. Dangremont breathed a sigh of relief and informed the crew over inter-plane communications that the third one had struck and he was okay.

"Much is said of the slug with 'your number' on it," Dangremont said, "but our 'Flame McGoon' was shot up with that slug and after that we figured such a chance would not happen again." He explained that his crew's plane was numbered "42" and after the memorable mission over Austria one member pulled out a large piece of shrapnel with a "42" on it.

Other memorable missions were the Steyr raid over Austria with an aircraft engine plant as objective and the Regenbunz raid in Germany, also for aircraft plants. Dangremont participated in only one low-level bombing raid over Fano, northern Italy, to destroy a bridge used for transporting German supplies. Low-level bombing, for which the Ploesti oil field raids are famous, is more dangerous than "high-level" bombing. Dangremont said, since the large bombers drop 2,000-pound delayed-action bombs from a height of 100 feet.

Overseas since September, 1943, Dangremont met nobody from Holland in Italy, but a few days before he left, he read the name of Bob Woldring on the register. He tried to look him up but learned that Bob was planning to return home soon too. Also around that time he read the name of Don De Kraker on a Red Cross register but could not reach him.

Dangremont's crew has participated in raids on targets in Italy, France, Austria, Germany and all the major countries of the Balkans. He enlisted in the army air forces in Austria, 1941, entered active service in September and trained at Jefferson barracks, Mo., Keeler field, Miss., Williams field, Ariz., Kingman, Ariz., Clovis, N. Mex., and El Paso, Tex., before going overseas. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dangremont, reside in Hamilton.

'Moe' Woldring Expected Home Soon From Italy

Sergeant Is Credited With Destroying Two Airplanes in Europe

Fifteenth army air force, June 29 (Special)—With the destruction of two enemy fighters to his credit, S/Sgt. Robert "Moe" Woldring, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Woldring of 189 East 5th St., Holland, Mich., soon will be headed back to the United States after a period of prolonged aerial combat activity.

"Our outstanding mission was to Steyr, Austria," Sgt. Woldring said of his combat experience. "The fighters met us on the coast of Yugoslavia, fought us all the way to the target and back to the coast. The Jerry had everything up there."

"Ju 88's and Me 410's were shooting rockets and the Me 109's and 110's and FW 190's were coming through our formation. The sky was white with shots—enemy and our own. Many enemy planes were shot down and I saw a lot of them explode in the air."

"Before we dropped our bombs on the target, my turret was empty of ammunition. On our run, with the help of one of the waist gunners, I reloaded my turret and helped bring our plane home after driving off many attacks."

Sgt. Woldring performed this feat of transferring the ammunition during the hottest portion of the air battle, but it paid off good dividends because he has received credit for the destruction of an Me 110 during the mission.

The group with which Sgt. Woldring was flying was one of the first American heavy bombardment group in the Mediterranean theater of operations to hit the continent of Europe and holds the Presidential citation, awarded for the famous low-level attack on the Ploesti oil fields.

While flying with the group, Sgt. Woldring, ball turret gunner on a B-24 Liberator, participated in attacks on targets in Italy, Austria, France, Germany and all the major countries of the Balkans.

"Other outstanding missions I participated in were Regenbunz, Germany, and Ploesti, Rumania," Sgt. Woldring said. "Boy, the sky was pretty black with flak over Regenbunz. I don't see how our bombardiers even saw the target through it."

Over Ploesti I was credited with my second fighter, an Me 109," Sgt. Woldring remarked. "Four members of our crew received the Purple Heart during our missions, so Jerry didn't always miss."

He has just been awarded the Good Conduct medal to add to his list of decorations, which includes the Aid Medal with several Oak Leaf clusters.

Sgt. Woldring received his gunner's wings at Laredo, Tex., Dec. 18, 1942. He attended Holland High school.

The Dutchmen were behind the entire game but were always close at the heels of the Krafts and always threatening to score.

In the ninth inning with the score reading 4-2 against them Harry De Neff and Lloyd Driscoll both singled and then Ray Jingles, pitching for Grand Rapids, retired Juke Van Huis, Don De Pree and Roy Zwemer in order to end the game. De Neff scoring on Van Huis's long fly to the outfield.

Grand Rapids jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the third inning on hits by Jingles and Mel Bates. They added two more in the fourth when Art Manley and Johnny Fleser singled and came home on Pete Milto's two-base blow into left-center.

Holland made it 3-1 in the fourth when Frank Bagdadi singled and came home on a drive into center field by Lloyd Driscoll after advancing to second on an infield out.

Holland made it 3-2 in the sixth when Lefty Van Wieren and Wayne De Neff singled. Wenzel drew a walk and then Harry De Neff slammed a single to right field which nicked Wenzel, running to second, on the heel. Wenzel was called out with Van Wieren scoring and the De Neff boys left on first and third base. Jingles then fanned Driscoll ending the inning.

It seemed like the old winning jinx the Krafts have been holding for the past few seasons over the Dutchmen is still haunting the local boys because each team got eight hits and Holland had several chances to win the game but couldn't come through.

In the ninth inning Grand Rapids scored what proved to be the winning run when Johnny Fleser drove a long double up against the leftfield stand, advancing to third on a sacrifice and then scored on an infield out.

Harry De Neff topped the hitting for the evening blasting out three singles in four trips to the plate for Holland.

Two Calls During Storm

Holland firemen were called out twice during Holland's second severe electrical storm Thursday night, but reported little damage.

Another call came in from the North side only a minute or two later, but firemen searched in vain for the fire. A woman had reported seeing flames, but firemen were unable to locate a blaze in that area.

Should Enclose Name Slips in A.P.O. Parcels

Postmaster Harry Kramer today urged persons sending parcels to servicemen overseas to enclose a slip bearing the complete names and addresses of the sender and addressee in each parcel to insure delivery.

The war department has received an increasing number of reports concerning parcels addressed to overseas A.P.O.'s which fall of delivery either because of the illegibility of the addresses or because the outer wrappers were torn, mutilated or destroyed in transit. Addressee must be legible and should be typed or written in ink. Sales slips or retail stores should not be used for address labels as they are often illegible and unusable.

Other officers are: Vice president, Nelle Zuydyk, Grand Rapids; recording secretary, Edna Heyboer, Grand Rapids; treasurer, Wilma Horning, Detroit; devotionist, Viola Weaver, Kalamazoo; periodicals, Mrs. Thelma Drandall, Adrian; extension, Mrs. Alice A. Griffin, Freeport; evangelism, Dick Vriesman, Muskegon; Hope college, student, high school, Esther Thomasma and Jacoba Dalebout of Grand Rapids; citizenship, Merrill Thorne, Owasco; leadership training, Anna Meijer, Kalamazoo; missionary, Olive Portinga, Three Oaks; recreation, Robert Barton; Blissfield; church activities, Minnie Bittner, Sodus; finance, James McKay, Highland park.

Holland union placed second in the state registration contest for having 162 per cent of its quota of assigned registrations by the deadline sometime before the convention opening. Delbert Vander Haar, union president engaged in state field work for the summer, served as local registrar. Saginaw with over 200 per cent placed first in the contest. Mr. Vander Haar also served as chairman of the resolutions committee and read the resolutions Saturday night.

Leon N. Moody, recreational director for Holland, served as one of the convention leaders and directed three recreational conferences for the convention. Miss Cornelia Van Voorst, state publicity superintendent, conducted three publicity conferences, assisted by Arthur Machan of Detroit. A tour through the Muskegon Chronicle for some 20 delegates interested in publicity took the place of the second conference. Miss Van Voorst also announced winners in the state publicity contest at the Saturday night session, Detroit placing first, Barry county second and Muskegon third.

More than 40 Endeavorers of Holland marched in the convention parade Saturday afternoon, flags of all nations. The Holland contingent presented a colorful picture with delegation marched second as it won second place in the registration contest.

Dr. Ruth Isabel Seabury of Boston, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Congregational-Christian church, in a challenging address Saturday night on "Christian Youth and Tomorrow's World" said people should not be content with the four walls of the local church, and cited many incidents of the need for character building in this country and in foreign countries. She mentioned a young flier who was so impressed by the need for missionary work abroad that when he died his considerable fortune was willed for missionary work in Japan after peace is declared. Dr. Seabury, described as "an internationalist by instinct," has traveled all over the world.

Dr. Frederick H. Olert of Detroit, native of Holland, told the delegates in his keynote address Thursday night on the convention theme, "Christ for the Crisis," said Christ is the hub of the whole wheel of life and that His teachings of 2,000 years ago have all the freshness and radiance needed today. He said no man can have wrong ideas about Christ and have right ideas about life.

Rev. G. Paul Musselman, Episcopalian rector of Highland park, who spoke Friday night on "Jesus the Galilean Citizen," said Jesus' teachings apply to today's problems as well as the day of the fishermen, 2,000 years ago. He said America cannot make a satisfactory postwar world without converting a pre-war people to Christ. Dr. Reuben H. Mueller of Cleveland, secretary for the Evangelical church, speaker at the concluding service Sunday afternoon, used for his subject, "They Were Expendable," taken from the title of the book by William L. White. He spoke of the sacrifice of human life, quoting several examples of "grim realities" and urged the church not to be complacent. "With all the smugness and complacency in evidence in America, we seem to be losing the very thing everybody is fighting for," he said.

George Dibble of Bloomington served as convention song leader. He was song leader at a state convention here in 1930.

Gets Silver Star for Courage in Italy

The Silver Star, awarded for gallantry in action, has been presented to Pfc. Bront Veenstra who is stationed in Italy. The citation accompanying the medal, both of which have been sent to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Huyser, route 5, brother-in-law and sister, commended him for his "outstanding courage, fearlessness and devotion."

During the crossing of the Rapido River in Italy, spearheaded by the 36th "Texas" division of which Pfc. Veenstra is a member, he volunteered to guide his colonel through minefields to the river bank. The trip was made under heavy fire with shells falling all around, but both remained on the bank while the commanding officer encouraged his men.

Pfc. Veenstra came to Holland from the Netherlands in 1938 and entered the army, after having been turned down by the air corps, navy and marines because he was not an American citizen, June 4, 1941. He received his citizenship papers while he was in North Africa.

Barbara Dee Folensbee Wed to Capt. J. Timmer

Of interest to local friends is the marriage of Miss Barbara Dee Folensbee, Hope college graduate, and Capt. John Norman Timmer, army air forces, which took place in the Lovell General hospital chapel at Fort Devens, Mass. Saturday at 4:30 p.m. Miss Folensbee is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Bradley J. Folensbee of Fort Devens and Capt. Timmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Timmer, Watkins St., SE, Grand Rapids.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, an army chaplain, before the altar banked with white gladioli and peonies. Wedding music was provided by Capt. Harvey E. Archer, executive officer at Lovell General hospital, who sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," and Chaplain Walter Gerken, organist, who played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Myron J. Folensbee of Garden City, N.Y., wore a lovely gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines with sweetheart neckline, heirloom lace and ruffle trim, long sleeves and full train. Her long tulle veil was held by a tiara of matching heirloom lace and gardenias and sweet peas formed her heart-shaped bridal bouquet.

Miss Janet May Clark of Albany, N.Y., Hope college classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of pale blue, embroidered taffeta with short matching veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mildred Timmer, sister of the groom, Mary Ellen Rockefeller of Wilmington, Del., and Veronica Riggs of Rye, served as bridesmaids. They wore pastel gowns with matching accessories and carried old-fashioned rose gay bouquets.

THE ROBOT AND A SENSE OF HUMOR

The German propaganda official appear to have lost their sense of humor about the robot planes that have been doing damage in England. Goebbels was able to assure the German people that the robots had caused the evacuation of London, and he capped the climax when he held out a hope that the robots might even be sent over the Atlantic to mess up New York.

Normally the German people are not lacking in a sense of humor as their literature emphatically proves. But such indications as have come through from Hitler-land seem to show that the Germans are swallowing this propaganda with relish. If they had even a slight vestige of a sense of humor left on the subject of this war they would at least season their credulity with the salt of ridicule. But war kills humor.

Neither have we preserved our sense of humor on this subject. In the reports of the destruction that censorship allowed to get through to us from London, the emphasis was—can you believe it?—on hits on hospitals and churches! Quoting:
"The most serious Saturday night incident appeared to be that involving a hospital where only one small building was left standing and a number of fatalities resulted." Quoting from the same story: "During daylight a church was partially destroyed and a number of worshippers killed."

Now to anyone with even an elementary sense of humor that is dreadfully funny, in spite of the tragic implications of the words themselves. For it is almost certainly true that a hospital was hit and that worshippers were killed. But just as certainly a number of other buildings were hit—perhaps a brewery, of which London has many, perhaps a packing house, perhaps an abandoned store. But correspondents in London or British censorship did not consider it worth toll rates to mention any of those things. But a hospital and a church! Could anyone say more clearly that these blankety-blank hits are always deliberately aiming at hospitals and churches?

Those pitiless robots were of course aimed with diabolical precision from the French coast so that they would land exactly at the site of a hospital or a church!
The Nazi mathematicians had it all carefully worked out on their charts so that the robots would not land a block short of the hospital or church or overshoot the mark by a block. Or is the implication of the report perhaps that the robots themselves have something of Nazi devilishness in them so that they hover in the air until they find a likely hospital or church and then go after it?

If the American people do not ridicule that type of reporting from London they will prove thereby that they too have lost their sense of humor.

Entering into the Promised Land Joshua 1: 1-9
By Henry Geerlings
Moses passes out. Joshua comes in. Moses had a long and eventful career. He stands forth as one of the greatest men of the world. He was well educated. He was a great thinker. He was a brave leader. He was a safe and sane legislator. He knew God. He was a quick and sensitive interpreter of the divine mind. He knew his people and how to deal with them. Under the divine inspiration he compassed the emancipation of enslaved Israel.
He started them on the way to nationhood. It seems strange that Moses should have been called out of the world just at the time he was. He seemed to be needed for Israel's new day. But then that is the way of seeming so often to our poor human view.

Men who seem so necessary to some great task are called hence and we think that death then is nothing short of a calamity.
We think that the work is going to fall into utter collapse, and it does not. God has some other man. The workman dies but the work goes on. When Moses goes Joshua comes. Perhaps Joshua was better fitted for the present task than Moses. It is a good thing that there is a succession of capable men for the work of God in the world. No two men are exactly alike, but each has his place and abilities. Each one does his part and makes his contribution toward the establishment of the kingdom among men.

Now Joshua was called to a big task. There was a great challenge in it to his soul. He was to lead a people into a new country to him and them. It partook of the nature of a thrilling adventure. It called for sound judgement and unfailing courage and far-seeing vision and lasting patience. The success of the adventure depended in large-measure upon his fidelity and enduring courage and persistent faith in and obedience to the God of Moses. His people were more of a vast group of wanderers than an organized nation. They were as dependent upon him and his leadership as children upon their parents. But he in turn was dependent upon the God of Moses.
Moses was dead and gone, but his God was not. God goes on through the ages inspiring and encouraging his servants and giving them success in building his kingdom.

God seemed to have faith in Joshua and Joshua evidently had great faith in God. He undertook his task with the promise of the divine presence and aid. He would not have been equal to the task in his own strength and wisdom. What seem like superhuman burdens are laid upon men's shoulders and the only reason they can carry them is that God is with them. That is the only reason that some great men have been willing to undertake some duties. Lincoln went to the presidency feeling that if he were to get through with it God must help him. "Go ye into all the world—ye, I am with you always," was the command of Jesus and the encouragement for carrying out the command.

The divine assurance becomes the spur for human undertaking.
Men undertake the seeming impossible because they can count on God's help. Of course God's promised presence does not mean any lessening of human effort and human courage. Men do not become any the less men because God lends his aid. God will not do what men can do themselves.

He will not carry any load that they themselves can carry.
He does begin where human wisdom and human strength leave off. He inspires and supplements. He let Joshua be Joshua, but he was Joshua plus. So is every God-helped man—he is himself plus.

The book of the law was a big factor in Joshua's life and success. It was his daily meditation. He planned his own life and that of the nation according to its directions and inspirations.
Well might he, for there was wisdom there surpassing his own and going in the ways which it pointed out he would go on to victory. We should pause here and recall that we have a greater and fuller book of the law. In it we have the mind of God concerning us and His world. We may find here the solution for all our serious problems, individual and national. Here is all the necessary material for nation building. Our statesmen would find wisdom and power and vision in the book of the law. More grace would certainly mean less national disgrace.

Holland In 1913

Twenty-eight petitions for naturalizations will be heard by Circuit Judge Orien S. Cross when the actual business of the August session of court begins, began a story in the Monday, Aug. 4, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1913. As usual the Hollanders predominate with more natives of the Netherlands seeking rights of citizenship than all other nations combined. There are 19 natives of the land of windmills and dikes, four Germans, three Swedes, one Austrian and one from Hungary.

It is reported that 11 graduates of the eighth grade at New Groningen school will continue their studies next year at the Zealand high school. This is a large percentage of the graduates from that district and shows that the interest in high school courses in that section is increasing rapidly.
A great deal of credit is due to the principal, John Ederbeck for so many pupils continuing their studies.

several days last week in western Allegan county visiting farm-that there will be only 15 to 20 per cent of a peach crop in the county. While well sprayed apples will be 60 per cent, unsprayed orchards will run only 40 to 45 per cent. Plums are very scarce. Keifer pears are nearly a total failure and there are but a few Bartlett's, Seckels, Clapps and Flem-

Richard Doaker and Eugene Stekmorning and from there they will go to Georgian Lake where they will make their headquarters.

From their camp they will make canoeing expeditions around the many beautiful lakes near there.

The water situation is still very problematical according to a report of Supt. Champion made to the board of public works last night. Tests are constantly being made for new wells and the superintendent will continue to make tests until such a time as a new supply shall have been found or until it shall have been established that no adequate supply can be obtained by this method. Mr. Champion last night also submitted plans for an additional pump at the 21st St. station to be used as an emergency pump. This pump is to be used in case the regular pump should at any time be put out of commission.

MEN AGAINST DEATH

YOU who have waited for so many months for this decisive invasion wish only for one thing—the power to strike one blow at the side of those who are fighting for us, the ability to bring victory one fraction of an instant nearer.

You can. And those who rode with the Allied Invasion Fleet will know you by what you think and what you do now! They are prepared and determined to endure the most savage opposition that evil genius can conceive and desperation put to use. You can be prepared to remain calm in the face of the inevitable wild rumors of victory, to remain sure and steadfast in the teeth of set-backs and losses.

More—there is one tangible way to show that you, safe at home because they are braving death in Europe, have your hearts as well as your hopes in this invasion. It is to back the attack with War Bonds as you have never done before! It is to back it in dark hours as in bright, back it with every single dollar that you can possibly wrest from necessity!

This Fifth War Loan drive gives you an opportunity you have never had before—to show those who are fighting how fully the nation and you as an individual stand with them. It's your turn now!

O'Conner Holds Foe To Four Hits; Victor Hurls Perfect Finale

The Holland Flying Dutchmen annexed their fourth victory of the season Monday night in Riverview park by walloping the Muskegon C. W. C's 13-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Clyde O'Conner.

Ernie Victor of Holland High school worked two innings, the eighth and ninth, and retired six men in order.

Holland gained a 12-0 advantage going into the fifth inning and had the least amount of trouble in winning as they have had in any game so far. The colored boys threatened to score only once when they advanced a man to third on a walk and a hit.

For the second time in a row, Harry De Neff, batting from the clean-up spot, smashed out three hits in four trips to the plate, including a riple out towards the right-centerfield flag pole.

Loren Wenzel contributed two singles for second highest batting honors.

Another Waste Paper Drive Friday

Henry Geerlings, local chairman for the OCD salvage division, today announced another waste paper drive for Friday. City trucks will start at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

"The previous drives have been very successful and we are anticipating a good response again," Geerlings said.

"Waste paper saved and salvaged today is helping to make the invasion of continental Europe a success. Paper is with our fighting forces in many useful forms. Picture a hungry American soldier in a foxhole reaching into his pack and taking out a small cardboard package marked U. S. army field ration K, breakfast unit."

"He opens two thicknesses of cardboard and from the waxed inner cover he removes his breakfast-biscuit bars wrapped in cellophane, a little tinfoil envelope containing powdered coffee, a small tin of chopped beef and egg, a stick of chewing gum, and three cigarettes. Lunch and supper are obtained in the same way.

"Each meal is made up of slightly different rations. Other fighting men around him are all satisfying their hunger from the K ration boxes out there where the bullets are flying far from the mess halls and field kitchens."

"Paper products made from waste paper make these emergency meals possible. Paper goes to war in this and hundreds of other vital uses. Ammunition, Red Cross supplies, tanks and planes are shipped overseas packed in cardboard and wrapped in protective waterproof paper. Waste paper is now a most important aid to victory. Do not waste it. Save it and you will be rendering a worthwhile service."
