Sportsmen Want Better Approach To Breakwaters

Petitions Being Signed Seeking Aid to Correct Hazards Near Holland

With perch biting at the Lake Michigan piers, local sportsmen are again concerned over the inaccessibility of reaching the outer piers since stones in the rubble mounds are submerged by water.

Leaders of the Holland Fish and Game club are compiling petitions signed by hundreds of local sportsmen seeking improvements at the breakwater approaches, particularly on the north side where many of the thousands of visitors to Holland State park come solely for fishing.

Civic groups including the Fish and Game club, Common Council, Macatawa Bay Yacht club, Harbor board and other organizations have been seeking government aid over a period of years.

Common Council in April, 1946, adopted a resolution requesting the Harbor board to make application for improvement of the hazardous condition existing because of the high water level. A letter from the city clerk to the district engineer in Milwaukee requested that more stone be placed on top of the submerged stone so that fishermen and others may get onto the breakwater without wading through water on slippery stones.

An answer from Milwaukee engineers a week later told local leaders that the rubble mounds were built purposely low so that wave action passing the harbor entrance would pass over the connections into the lake and dissipate itself on shore.

The letter continued: "The purpose of these connections is also to prevent cross currents around the inner ends of the breakwaters and the resultant filling of the entrance channel with sand. A recent survey shows that there is no immediate need for placing additional stone in the rubble mounds as far as navigation and commerce are concerned. River and Harbor funds cannot be properly expended for placing additional stone to enable fishermen and the general public to gain access to the breakwaters for recreational purposes."

Local sportsmen are not arguing over engineering problems, but they point to excellent "accommodations" utilized by fishermen at other lake breakwaters such as Grand Haven, Muskegon, Ludington and elsewhere.

Zuverink Homers In Last Inning To Whip Chix

Breaks Up Own Game After Uphill Battle; Visitors' Bats Boom

A capacity crowd of 2,000 saw George Zuverink break up his own ball game in the ninth inning Monday night with a line drive homer to deep center field. The Flying Dutchmen edged the Zeeland Chix 4-3. The dramatic ending came as a climax to a tight pitchers' duel between Zuverink and Al Jones of Zeeland.

With the score knotted at 3-3 in the last half of the ninth, Driscoll fled to the left fielder and every fan in Riverview park prepared themselves for an extra-inning contest. But Zuverink stepped calmly to the plate and connected with the first pitch that Zeeland offered. That was the end for Zeeland and Zuverink was rounding third before the center fielder recovered the ball in the center field corner. Some fans were stunned and remained in their seats for a moment, but scores flitted around Zuverink, and not until Manager Batema rescued Zuverink from the mauling crowd, did the giant pitcher get a chance to regain his breath.

Al Jones of Zeeland pitched marvelous ball, as he allowed the local only five safeties. He fanned 13 Dutchmen and had the Hollanders in check at all times. It was by far the toughest pitching the locals have battled against this season.

Neither team scored until the fourth inning when the Chix opened their scoring drive with a lone run. Roelofs tagged a triple into right center field and raced home after Walters fled to medium-deep right field. But the Hollanders came back to even the count at 1-1 in their half the fourth on a walk, a sacrifice and a two hit by Rotman. Rotman's fly was a looper into medium-deep left field which fell between a confused left and center fielder.

In the fifth Zeeland went scoreless, but the Dutchmen added a run to pull ahead 2-1. Zuverink was safe on an error, taking second base. Ev De Neff topped a short grounder to the pitcher who wheeled and threw to third, but Zuverink slid under the tag to put a man on first and third. Van Lente was out on an attempted sacrifice although Zuverink scored on a grounder to the second baseman by Wenzel.

In the sixth for Zeeland Walters blasted a long home run over the right field fence with Roelofs on first to put the Chicks ahead 3-2.

The Dutchmen didn't tie the score until the eighth inning when Loren Wenzel touched a single to left field and took second on a fielders' choice by Woldring. Henry De Neff was out pitcher to first on a sacrifice bunt with both runners advancing. Jones let go with a wild pitch, allowing Wenzel to score. The Zeeland fire-baller settled down however to strike out the next two men to end the inning in a tie.

Zuverink set the Chicks down in order in the ninth and then came the dramatic moment when the tall Dutch moundsman broke up the ball game with his "inside the park" homer to center.

Although Jones was charged with the loss, his pitching was superb. The Chicks boomed out eight hits, four of them for extra bases. For the Dutchmen it was a continual uphill fight.

Roelofs, Walters and Raterink all hit safely twice for Zeeland while Zuverink's single and home run was tops for the locals.

Jarvis Ter Haar, master shooter of the Holland Rifle club, took second place in the grand aggregate in the Illinois state rifle matches held in Chicago recently.

North Shore Wins League Contest

North Shore continued their winning ways Saturday night as they took an easy 12-6 win from the DCA nine in a Wooden Shoe League game. Carl Reimink allowed seven hits pitching for the winners while North Shore garnered 14 safe blows from the slants of Walsh, Vandenberg and Piersma.

North Shore opened the scoring in the first inning on a long home run by Waterway with Hindert on base. The winners tallied another in the third while the DCA lads scored one in the second and two in the third to knot the count. After scoring a single tally in the fourth, North Shore staged a big six run rally in the fifth on five hits, a walk and an error. Reimink provided the big blow of the inning with a triple driving in three runs.

DCA retaliated with two runs in the eighth on two walks and a base hit by L. Borgman making the score 11-5 at the end of eight innings. Each nine added a singleton to their scores in the final inning to give the final tally of 12-5.

Witteveen and Lubbers paced the North Shore hitters with three hits apiece. Dorsch led the losers with a triple and a single.

Fremont Nips Holland Squad

The Steffens Market softball team of Holland again hit a streak of misfortune Saturday night when they lost a 5-4 decision to Fremont. It was the fourth time this year that the locals have lost contests by one run.

Fremont took a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning on two long circuit clouts in succession. With one out, Tanis of Fremont clouted his home run and Sewis followed suit with a similar drive. The Hollanders came back to score one run in their half of the fifth on a walk, a single and a double. Buurma led off with a base-on-balls and took second on a single by Prince. Steggers pounded a double to right field scoring Buurma and making the count 2-1.

Fremont matched the Dutchmen's one run in the fifth and made the score 3-1 as they scored one run on two hits, a single and a double. Before the Hollanders scored again, the Fremont aggregation sent two more men over the plate. Two doubles and a single in the sixth netted the Fremont outfit two runs making the score 5-1.

In the eighth inning the locals began their belated drive. Tony Bouman singled sharply to right field and Johnson blasted a long home run to score two runs and put Steffens back in the game with the score 5-3. In the ninth inning the Dutch could only squeeze one run over the plate on a run scoring double by Steggers. Huist popped out to the third baseman to end the contest with the score of 5-4.

Pres Bos started on the mound for the locals and gave way to Vander Veen in the fifth. Vander Veen was charged with the loss. Johnson, Prince and Steggers all got two hits for the locals.

Carol Plasman Married To Gary J. Van Ommen

The bride's gown of imported lace and marquisette was fashioned with marquisette yoke, giving an off-the-shoulder effect and swaths of lace formed a peplum from the waistline. Orange blossom clusters held the fingertip veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Irene Vander Woude was maid of honor and Mrs. G. Garber was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of blue taffeta and carried colonial bouquets.

THE LOST (POLITICAL)
CHORD

If Washington could write songs,
one of its geniuses would about this time be inspired to attempt one on "The Lost Chord" (political), but there would be no sound of a great Amen at the end of it.
For the much advertised
harmony between a New Deal
president and the Republican congress overwhelmingly elected by the people has been marred beyond recognition.

It was the Democratic president who instituted the era of harmony. Mr. Truman announced on his own initiative, soon after the votes had shown what the American people are after, that there was no reason why he and the new congress could not get along.
All that was needed, he assured
the country, was a spirit of reasonableness. He as president was ready to give and take, and he expected the congress to display a similar willingness to compromise for the good of the nation as a whole. This gesture of necessity had to come from the president;
congress, having just received a mandate from the people, was not called upon to make such a move.

But strangely enough, it has been congress that has shown a spirit of give and take, and it has been Truman who has not been willing to do anything but take.
The result is a rupture that is not likely to be healed before the end of the present administration.

Broadly there were two main groups of issues on which the principle of give and take could be exemplified, at the time of the November election. One was international, the other domestic. The administration was deeply and passionately interested in getting the so-called "Truman Doctrine" enacted into law. There was of course a good deal of debate about it, and there were many objections from the Republicans (as there should be in a democratic society), but the fact is clear for all to read that the Republicans gave Truman his wish. They lived up to the promise they had not made to him.

The domestic issue was divided into the questions of tax reduction and labor curbs. The Republican majority again engaged in searching debate, as they should,
and finally passed by swamping majorities two bills that they believed as passionately represented
the will of the people as Truman believed his foreign policy did.
Now the golden opportunity had come for Truman to translate his promise into action. But he did no such thing. He vetoes both bills.

It is no argument for him to say he thinks both bills bad. If he thought them good there would be no merit in signing them and there would be no give and take in the act. From now on there is likely to be open war between the president and congress. But that war was declared by the president.

Sunday School
Lesson

June 28, 1947
Enduring Contributions to the Nation
Psalm 119:105; Micah 6:1-8
Isaiah 2:2-4

By Henry Geertling
This lesson seeks to gather up some of the chief values which grew out of this period; growing monotheism, deepening worship,
an intensely ethical and spiritual message of the prophets, a po-petic literature of surpassing value and idealization of Jerusalem as the figure of eternal spiritual values. These elements have large meaning for our times.

Isaiah was one of the major prophets and prophesied during the rule of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah. His name means "Jehovah is salvation." Thus he was even through his name a living symbol of the confession that the God of Israel, rather than Baal
was the source of salvation for man.

Micah was one of the minor prophets of about the same time.
He prophesied for some forty or fifty years. He was a native of a small town in the southwest of Judah. His name means "who is like Jehovah." Like Amos and Hosea he reproved and threatened with power, not only against the sins of the people, but against princes and prophets alike. Micah not only foretold the final doom of the children of Israel, but he foretold the coming of the Messiah.

Every generation passes on to succeeding generations traditions and customs. Likewise every generation inherits a tradition that has accrued through the years.
There are many historic memorials in our land that depict clearly our heritage from various countries and groups of people. The old custom house in Philadelphia houses one of the finest tributes to the early settlers from Germany. At the present time the House is being maintained by a foundation that is preserving for our enjoyment and the enlightenment of successive generations
the creative achievements of German-Americans. Their works of art, published articles, historic research—all are being preserved.

Our heritage from ancient Israel indicates that some of the customs and traditions that began centuries ago, when Amos was tending his sheep on the hills of Tekoa, have played an important part in the life of twentieth century America. Naturally, some of the religious rites of ancient Judaism have been reserved in today and are re-enacted by orthodox Jews today, just as they were then.

One of the great contributions
God has given us through Israel is the Old Testament. What a rich heritage this is! After the release of the Hebrews from Egypt, God gave to the nation and to the Ten Commandments the foundation of all Hebrew legislation. God also gave to Israel and to us large emphasis upon the importance of worship, as presented in the tabernacle and in the temple. He spoke through teachings of the prophets, and through the great literary books of wisdom. How poor our literature would be without these. In them
we see the departure from God and from the requirements of God, and then the struggle back to God.

There is something very modern in Micah's accusation that the Hebrews had turned their backs
upon God in spite of clear and repeated revelations of Himself to them. Through the prophet, the Lord reminded His people of their miraculous escape from Egypt, a period hardly more suggestive of God's merciful care than one may find in the early history of our country. Valley Forge and the crossing of the Delaware should have a religious significance for us almost as impressive as the crossing of the Red Sea had for the Israelites.

Micah leveled his charge against the Hebrews at the point of their religion, a point where they would have considered themselves least deserving of censure. At a time when the forms of religion
were still being maintained,
though without much meaning,
and there was a considerable cry
for a return to religion, God spoke out clearly to the effect that He would not be found or honored in any of the standard religious exercises that men commonly assumed were highways to His presence and power. The words of Micah's prophecy were as shocking as if a modern prophet were to disparage church attendance, baptism and the Lord's Supper. The high moment in the Hebrew's religious experience was the bringing of a burnt offering before the Lord. But the prophet, schooling in the art of dressing truth in stinging words, declared that there would be no value in such exercises, even though repeated ten thousand times. God's greatest delight is in seeing men live in justice, mercy, and humble faith. His insistence continues to be the ideal of the most advanced exponents of pure religion.

Tight Pitching Features Win

Donnelly-Kelly emerged victorious in its Holland softball contest with Hart and Cooley Monday night 5-1 after a sterling mound performance by H. Cramer who kept eight hits well scattered.

The winners were never seriously threatened. The Hart and Cooley lads didn't score until the last inning. Donnelly-Kelly took a two run lead in the second on three singles and a stolen base. They added three more in the fifth on two errors and a long home run by Wlodarczyk.

Hart and Cooley got a base hit in nearly every inning, but failed to score until the seventh as Cramer proved to be tough in the pinches. They tallied their single run in the seventh on singles by McCarthy and Herringa and a walk to Myreham.

Harmen and Myreham, pitching for the losers allowed the Donnelly squad nine safeties over the seven inning route.

Firm Installs New Automatic Press

Printing everything from books to cards and doing it expertly, Steketee-Van Huis Printing House, 9 East 10th St., has seen its business grow from a small job shop to a printing establishment of large-scale importance.

The quality of their work has been their chief embarrassment, for it has attracted the attention of many outside concerns who would like to have this local firm do their printing of catalogs and advertising literature. However, demands of Holland's commercial and private customers come first, and in fairness to them all outside business has to take a back seat.

In order to handle printing jobs expertly, Steketee-Van Huis have progressively added new equipment of latest design. Typical of the alertness which has kept this company to the forefront is the fact they were the first commercial printing plant in Michigan to install a new type of press, known as the Improved Miehle Vertical. This speedy automatic press is recognized as the most

Vets Trounce North Shore Nine

The local Vets nine had too much power for the North Shore nine Monday, humbling the Waukazoo lads 6-2 in a twilight affair. De Kraker on the mound for the Vets allowed but five safeties. Witteveen pitched well for the losers giving up seven hits.

North Shore took an early one run lead in the first inning on three singles sandwiched between an infield out. Their lead was short lived, however, as the Vets broke loose for four big runs in the third. Fielding lapses on the part of the North Shore nine accounted for most of the Vets' tallies. North Shore came back in the last of the third garnering one run on a double by Nykerk, a fielder's choice and error.

Neither squad did any scoring until the sixth when the ex-GIs scored their last two tallies. A walk, two errors and a single provided the scoring opportunities. De Kraker retired eight by the strikeout route while Witteveen fanned 11 Vet batters.

Hotel Improves During Six Years

June 9 marked the sixth anniversary of the operation of the Warm Friend Tavern by the American Hotels Corp.

It was just six years ago, June 9, 1941, that Crown Princess Juliana and her consort, Prince Bernhard, of the Netherlands arrived here for a three-day visit during which time they stayed at this hotel; that the nation-wide hotel operating corporation took over the management of the Warm Friend Tavern and Chester Walz became the hotel's new manager.

A considerable number of improvements have been made at the hotel within the past six years. The most recent has been the installation of new furniture easy chairs and all of the rooms

Farm-To-Prosper Plan Lures Many New Organizations

Preliminary Report On Planned Year Urged As Incentive

With new organizations entered the West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper contest in all five counties — Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, and Ottawa—county agricultural agents are certain of increased participation over 1946.

Largest percentage increase is in Mason county where five have entered the 1947 contest in contrast to two in 1946. At least one other is expected to make final decision at its next meeting to participate. Harold J. Larsen is the county agricultural agent.

Participating this year in Mason county are: Pere Marquette Grange, Riverton Farm Bureau, Lincoln River Farm Bureau, and Custer Farm Bureau, plus Pere Marquette-Summit Farm Bureau which competed in 1946.

In Oceana county where 11 turned in reports in 1946, six have turned in the preliminary reports requested. These are: Blooming Valley Grange and Blooming Valley Parent-Teacher association, Newfield Farm Bureau, newly entered this year, Ferry Grange, North Weare Grange, Golden Farm Bureau, and others to enter the contest are Hart Grange, Otto Farm Bureau, and Beona Farm Bureau, with many others expected to enter, County Agent Lyle E. Tompkins said. A number of 1946 participants still are to be heard from.

In Newaygo county six organizations have turned in preliminary reports to County Agricultural Agent Clarence C. Mullett. Others are expected to do so. Two of the six which participated in 1946 are yet to report. Those reporting to date are Garfield Farm Bureau, Big Prairie Grange, Ashland Grange, Bookside Farm Bureau, South Dayton and North Dayton Farm Bureaus, the last two newly entered.

In Ottawa county six organizations have entered this year, although only two have to date turned in their preliminary reports to the office of County Agricultural Agent Leo R. Arnold. These are North Chester Farm Bureau, Sweepstakes winner in 1946, and the North Ottawa Junior Farm Bureau. Others entered are Coopersville Grange, Huyser Farm Bureau, and two new ones—Talmadge Grange and Marne Parent-Teacher association. Four organizations completed reports in 1946.

In Muskegon county nine organizations have turned in preliminary reports to County Agricultural Agent Carl H. Knopf's office. These are Holton Farm Bureau, Beach PTA, Montague PTA, Whitehall PTA, Trent Grange, Fruitland Grange, Cloverville Grange, Laketon-Dalton-Fruitland Farm Bureau, Casnovia Farm Bureau. Beach PTA is entering for the first time. Still to be heard from are Lake Harbor Grange and Lakewood Civic Builders association, entering for the first time, and Muskegon and Ravenna Granges. This would total 13 as compared to 11 in 1946.

Filing of a preliminary report with the county agricultural agent's office is not mandatory. It is urged as an incentive for a planned year's program. In 1946 a number of organizations turned in final reports which had not made preliminary reports.

Asks Shanty Removal From Private Property

Conservation Officer Harold Bowditch today urged all fishermen who have left their shanties on private property along Black Lake, to remove them immediately. Bowditch said he had received complaints from property owners.

He also said that the channel from Black Lake to Lake Michigan is classed as inland waters, hence a fishing license is required.

Fishing has been "exceptionally good," he said and added that some catches of bass were reported at the Grand Haven pier.

Opening Prayer Is Innovation For Supervisors

Grand Haven, June 26 (Special)—An innovation at the opening meeting of the Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon was the offering of a prayer. This procedure will be followed at the opening of each daily session. Supervisor John H. Ter Avest of Polkton was the first member called upon to offer prayer.

City Attorney Peter S. Boter of Holland attended his first meeting and was given the same committee appointments as his predecessor, Vernon D. Ten Cate. He was welcomed by Chairman Maynard Mohr of Zeeland township.

Ter Avest criticized current distribution of tax allocation, calling attention to the fact that Kent county allocates 5½ mills for schools but Ottawa county already has 7.8 mills to schools. He felt three mills should be a minimum for townships.

In support of Ter Avest's opinion, Dick Nieuwsma of Park township said his township is having difficulty operating on two mills. He said it already has spent $10,000 for fire equipment, leaving nothing for roads.

Clarence Reenders of Grand Haven township said one district asked for 20 mills and received 9.75 mills. Albert Stegenga of Olive township said his township was cut from three to two mills.

Donald O'Hara, executive secretary of the Municipal Employees Retirement system, explained the employees' retirement system and distributed literature.

The highest attendance at the Diamond Springs Summer Bible school was 105. The school closed Friday evening with a program by the children. The crowd was so large that not all the people could get inside the church.

Albert Gates and Hiram Gates were in Allegan on business Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coffey and children visited Mr. and Mrs. John Eakins at Battle Creek Sunday. Mrs. Eakins and four of the younger children returned home with Coffeys.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis TerAvest and children, Larry and Linda visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lamped Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lyle Wakeman and children spent four days last week in Benton Harbor visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips.

Miss Marcia and Mardell Shimmings of Allegan spent the weekend visiting Colleen Lawhon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wesseling and children spent Saturday evening shopping in Allegan.

Mrs. John Gates and children spent last Wednesday evening in Bradley visiting Mrs. Leon Haywood and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stanton and daughter, Lois and Mr. and Mrs. Garret Lemmen and daughter, Sharon of Allendale were visitors at the Diamond Springs church Sunday and later guests of the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Gearhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arndt and children, Margie and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Smith and son Don of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Barnhart of Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fune Zeinstra and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Brenner and son Ray of Shelbyville visited Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Henningson and son, Gary at Bradley last Sunday.

Mrs. Alex Eding and children of Benheim spent Friday visiting Mrs. Mary Van Der Mere and Nettie Van Der Mere.

Mrs. Margaret Wentzel of Hamilton enjoyed supper last Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Arndt and children.

Mrs. Harold Bleeker and children visited while Saturday evening with Mrs. Mary Van Der Mere and Nettie.

Max Lawhon spent the weekend at Sparta visiting his mother, Mrs. Neva Jo Lawhon.

There were people in attendance Sunday at the Diamond Springs Wesleyan Methodist church from Jacksonville, Florida and from Allegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Immink and children and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Parker and family attended the camp meeting at Allendale Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Edward Boone is the evangelist there this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawhon and daughter, Jeannie of Grand Rapids visited Max and Colleen Lawhon Friday evening.

City's Youngest Eighty-Year-Old Keeps a Diary

One-Armed Sam Miller Corresponds Regularly With Fifty-Two Persons

Sam W. Miller, 176 East 10th St., is probably the youngest 80-year-old in Holland.

He thinks nothing of walking downtown on errands at a pace which rivals that of a newspaper reporter.

The years have been kind to the man who lost his right arm at the age of 23 when he was run over by a train. At that time he was engaged in switching cars in the freight yard in Holland.

The only "flaw" in his robust health has been a gradual neuritis-like affliction in his left arm. This has been bothering him for 35 years. He said it is caused because he uses his one arm too much.

And use his arm, he does! For years, it has been his hobby to keep a daily diary. No simple four lines does he devote to developments of the day, but he painstakingly prints with pen and ink on narrow-lined paper, a good page and a half per day. His collections of the years fill many leather binders filled with loose-leaf paper. These diaries provide a goodly segment of the city's history.

Besides keeping his diary, he keeps a complete necrology (record of deaths) of all persons he knows, accompanied by brief explanations. "There aren't many left who grew up with me," he said.

He works out in his yard, spends a lot of time each day reading, and maintains correspondence with 52 different persons. By "maintaining correspondence" he doesn't mean a single page once or twice a year, but a steady stream of letters.

He doesn't call himself "retired" and he'd probably take a job if one were offered in which he could utilize his talents. During the war, he spent five years as a guard at the Gear-Grinding Machine Co. in Detroit.

Mr. Miller has packed a "heap of living" into his 80 years. Born on a farm near a small hamlet called Petersburg in Ontario in 1867, he attended country schools and lived on the farm until he was 20 years old. Then he came to Michigan and in 1892 he took out his first naturalization papers but neglected to get his final papers until 24 years ago.

He lost his arm when he was 23 years old and then learned telegraphy, serving as an operator at Resort Junction, later known as Waverly.

Later he was promoted to clerk in the superintendent's office in Grand Rapids and was transferred to Ionia in the same capacity. After the office was abolished, he returned to Waverly and received permission to erect a small eating place. This was destroyed by fire nine months later.

Back in those days, the railroad yards were between 7th and 16th Sts. in Holland but the citizens requested the company to move the yards. The company moved the yards to Waverly, but it also transferred all passengers at the yards. A year or two later, this service returned to Holland.

This was the time Miller erected a restaurant at the Holland depot and operated it for 24 years. Later he operated a lunch room in Virginia park and Miller hotel on East Eighth St. He was justice of the peace for six years.

Miller was among the first in Holland to own a car. He purchased his first car in 1903. In 1905 the state of Michigan decided to license cars. The first license was a small aluminum disc costing $2. The Millers are justifiably proud of their four children, nine grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The family conspired to "put one over on father" June 7 when his 80th birthday anniversary rolled around. They did this by the simple expedient of "doing nothing."

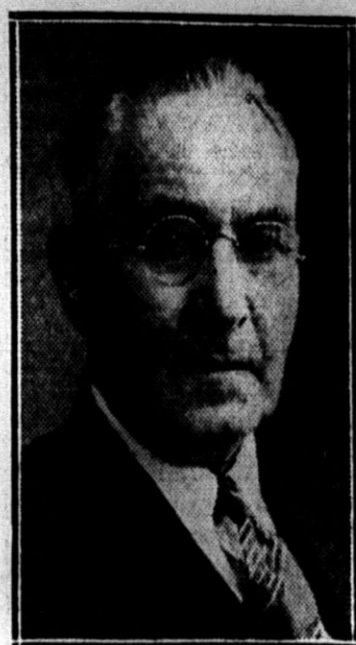

But the next week on Father's day when all danger of surprises was over, the entire family poured into the large Miller home for the week-end with the exception of a son-in-law, Johnny Hyma, noted entertainer, who was playing a USO circuit in Spokane, Wash.

Johnny's wife, the former Ruth Miller, came to Holland from the west coast particularly for the occasion. With her she brought Johnny's gift, an underwater pen, together with a promise of a refill on next Father's day and a poem and with the first letter in each line spelling Sam Miller.

The children are Mrs. Hyma, Mrs. Mary Cobb of St. Joseph, R. A. Miller and Howard (Bing) Miller of Detroit.

Gathering here for the occasion were Mrs. Hyma, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dyke and children, Mike and Patty of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Miller, Gayle Ann Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stephenson and children, Claude and Roger, of Detroit; Mrs. Mary Cobb and Nedra and Bryce of St. Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and children, Carol Ann, Norma Lynn and Bonnie Lou of Detroit, and Herbert Miller of Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bosch, 68 West 17th St., visited relatives in Grand Rapids Wednesday.

HC Maintains Lead in Legion League Contest

It was still Hart and Cooley out in front of the American Legion baseball league today after coming from behind to whip Duffy's Shamrocks 7-3 Tuesday night. In the nuptial of the double bill Northern Wood humiliated Ford with a 14-1 trouncing.

Duffy's, yet to win a league contest, nearly staged an upset last night as they led the league leaders for five innings before giving way to a Hart and Cooley onslaught. HC tallied once in the first while the Shamrocks came back with two to take a 2-1 lead. Duffy's added another to its total in the third on an error, a walk and a single to right by Jack Hop.

Hart and Cooley tied the count in the fifth on three doubles and a single. They put the game "in the bag" in the sixth with a big four run outburst. Six hits combined with four errors and three walks provided the impetus for the big uprising with Schutt, hurling for Duffy, tying fast.

Hart and Cooley garnered seven safeties off Howie Schutt while the losers got only five hits from the pitching of George Czarkies. Wiodarczyk paced the Hart and Cooley batsmen with two hits.

Northern Wood showed some of the 1946 championship form against the Ford Phillies as they unleashed a 16 hit barrage, while Kearney Zoerhof was hurling a neat four hitter. Zoerhof was complete master of the contest as he fanned 15 Phillies. Kehrwecker, on the mound for Ford, retired five by strikeouts.

Both sides went down in order in the first, but in the second the Woodsmen clouted seven safeties, including two triples to aid in the scoring of eight tallies. Jimmy Lampena and Dale Artz supplied the big blows of the inning with long triples. Bremer got a double and single in the hectic inning.

While Zoerhof was having little difficulty with the Ford batters, the Northern Wood lads added two more tallies in the third, two in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Ford scored its only run in the sixth inning when "Buncie" Japanga clouted a double to score Ron Appledorn who had walked. Bremer of the winners led all hitters with four out of four, followed by Artz with three in four trips to the plate. Rosendahl and Japanga each got two of the four Ford safeties.

Dutchmen Bow To Colored Nine For Initial Loss

Senators Present Well Balanced Squad; Local Defense Shaky

The Detroit Senators hold distinction of being the first baseball nine to defeat the Holland Flying Dutchmen in the 1947 season Thursday night when the colored aggregation hammered out a 9-3 win. The Senators proved themselves a hard-hitting outfit. They pounded three Holland hurlers for 11 hits while the locals gained nine safeties off two Negro moundmen.

Both teams hit safely once in the opening inning but neither squad was able to score. In the second inning the colored Senators got to Lefty Van Wieren, starting hurler, for two hits and four runs. The Hollanders made an attempt to even the count in the second, but had to settle for one run on two timely hits. Harry De Neff doubled to right field and scored on a single by Driscoll.

The Senators made the count 5-1 in their half of the third on two hits, a single and a double to left field. The Dutch went scoreless in the third with only one hit, a single to right by Wenzel. Van Wieren held fast in the fourth and held the Detroiters scoreless, but the locals went down in order leaving the score at 5-1 at the end of four innings.

In the fifth inning "Double Duty" Radcliffe, Detroit hurler, pounded one of Van Wieren's fast balls for a long home run making the score 6-1. The Hollanders also added a run in the fifth when Van Lente singled through shortstop and scored on a long triple to center field by Russ Woldring. Woldring "died" on third when the next batter fanned.

After the invaders went scoreless in the sixth inning, the Dutch gathered another run on two hits. The drive that counted was a circuit clout by Juke Van Huis with no one on base putting the count at 6-3. Van Wieren attempted to aid his own cause when he lined a single to center, but he didn't get past the initial sack.

In the seventh inning George Zuverink came to Van Wieren's aid, and after two runs had scored and two men still on base, Zuverink fanned the next two men and forced the third to ground out, short to first. The locals failed to score in the remainder of the contest. Zuverink whiffed four men in the eighth inning, but one of the third strikes got past the catcher.

Bob Vandenberg made his 1947 debut before local fans in the ninth inning, and looked exceptionally fast.

Scattered through the Dutch fielding were five errors which aided the Senators in their victory drive. Van Wieren fanned seven men, Zuverink six and Vandenberg two for a total of fifteen strikeouts. Only five locals went out via the K route.

Wenzel and Woldring led the locals with the stick with each gaining two hits. Colored moundmen, Radcliffe, had a perfect night at bat as he hammered out three safe blows in three trips to the plate.

Local Hurler Misses No Hitter

Lanky Ben Jansen, hurling for Dykema Tailors, narrowly missed a no hit no run game Thursday night as the Tailors walloped Heinz 12-0. With one out in the final inning Oosterbaan singled to spoil the Dykema hurler's perfect contest. The game was a regularly scheduled Holland Softball league tilt.

The Tailors had little difficulty with the hurling slants of Otten as they garnered eight safeties. They took a two run lead in the first inning on three walks and an error. They added four more in the second on three hits, a walk and two errors. The Blue and Gold tallied one in the fourth, and then broke loose for five additional scores in the fifth. The big five run burst was featured by a long homer from the bat of Weener, Dykema shortstop.

Heinz never threatened as the furthest they advanced a runner, was second base in the first inning. Jansen fanned 13 Heinz batters throughout the seven inning contest.

Hart and Cooley will meet Holland Furnace in a league contest tonight.

City Winners Have Much in Common

The two Holland winners of second prizes in the Dutch essay contest have much in common. Both A. Dale Stoppels and John F. Terkeurst are sons of Reformed church ministers and have lived in Holland most of their lives. Stoppels spent 39 months with the U.S. Navy and Terkeurst spent 3 1/2 years with the U.S. Coast Guard.

Stoppels, of 264 West 18th St., was graduated from Hope college earlier this month. He is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Stoppels, and grandson of a Dutch Army officer who migrated to the United States late in the 19th century. Stoppels has been admitted to the University of Michigan law school.

He served three years and three months with the Navy and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant (jg). He served as communications and gunnery officer on the USS Tolovana which participated in operations in the Marshalls, Palau, the Philippines and Okinawa. After the war he served on the same ship with occupation forces in Korea, Tokyo Bay, Kyushu and China, and later as intelligence officer in atom-bomb tests at Bikini.

Always interested in writing, he gives much credit to Prof. Edward Brand of Hope college and Janet Mulder of Holland High school. In his essay he discusses both phases of Dutch settlement in America, the early colonists and the later immigrants, and points out the moral strength given by these settlers to "an adolescent fast-growing country."

Terkeurst, of 495 Central Ave., son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Terkeurst, is now a senior at Hope college taking a pre-law course. He is a descendant of Dutch immigrants who settled in Holland in 1847 and entered the contest because of an interest in Dutch history.

He was graduated from Holland High school and attended the University of Michigan for 18 months where John Stibbs was his composition instructor. He spent 3 1/2 years in the armed services. In his essay, he discusses the Batavian-Friesian people, the Dutch influence through immigration to the Middle colonies, the Dutch influence through the immigration of 1847, and the Dutch-American influence in general, pointing out the Batavian-Friesian strain in many Americans.

Volley From Ambush

THE AMBUSER sincerely hopes this news won't cause hizzoner the mayor and his aldermen any uneasiness, but at last council meeting Mrs. Stuart Padnos was seen to be knitting away while city affairs were being conducted.

I seem to recall there was a knitter in "The Tale of Two Cities" whose handiwork resulted in not a little discomfort for some of the story's other characters. We hope Mrs. Padnos hasn't any such sinister designs.

Speaking of affairs of state, it becomes evident that the more Congress slices it, it still is budget.

Budget, of course, brings up the rather painful subject of taxes. Science tells us that a piece of uranium the size of a golf ball could run the motor of an automobile for 200 years, providing a shield could be devised to absorb the deadly rays that this remarkable element emits. Suppose some scientist devises such a light weight shield and motor car builders design a motor to use this atomic energy. How will the federal and state governments collect highway taxes?

Obviously no taxpayer is likely to pay taxes for 200 years on his lump of uranium. Would the state retain title to the metal and collect an annual royalty? Would the tax assessor put a meter on the car and collect a mill per so many electrons? This is really getting to be a complicated world.

Of course, we needn't settle the problem immediately. Physicists claim a proper shield for an automobile would weigh 50 tons. But it never does any harm to be prepared. Maybe a shield can be devised that weighs only one ton and we'll be off in a cloud of radioactive mist.

Fred Sandy of route 6 is carrying an attractive swirled cane of light-colored wood which is particularly appropriate during this Centennial year. Purchased for only a dime in 1897 at Holland's semi-centennial celebration, the cane is now 50 years old. "They must have sold five or six thousand of them," Mr. Sandy estimates. He added that it was quite the thing for the "young fellows" to be seen carrying one. He was about 18 years old at the time the cane bears a metal plate with the dates, 1847-1897.

Bob Kouw has noticed the veritable epidemic of honorary degrees and chided the Ambusher thusly, "you and I are the only ones who didn't get one this year."

Sorry to disappoint you, captain, but I got mine early.

My honorary degree of "Van" was bestowed early in the second semester with appropriate ceremony. And the accompanying citation, carries the seal of the state of Michigan and the signature of a former governor of the state.

Anybody know where Bob can get an honorary degree before all the universities are out?

Maybe it isn't sporting to recall the unpleasant weather of a few days ago, but the sight of men attired in overcoats and straw hats didn't quite strike the note the Chamber of Commerce might have liked it to do. The reason for this tragic commentary on the elegance of our local males is past—it is to be hoped.
