Court House Will Close Saturdays Starting in July

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The county court house at Grand Haven will be closed on Saturdays hereafter, according to action taken Tuesday afternoon at the closing meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The new schedule is effective this week.

While the court house will be closed on Saturday morning, all offices will be open during the noon hour the other five remaining days, thereby giving the public an extra hour of service throughout the week. The new arrangement calls for the court house to be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. continuously for the five days.

Action was taken after a petition for the move was presented signed by 44 county employees. The county officers committee presented the request without recommendation. One supervisor called attention to the auto license bureau but said this was not a county function and the board need not be concerned over this angle.

A survey revealed that 29 counties in Michigan are closed on Saturdays, eight are closed during the summer, one during the winter, six pending and 39 open all year. A total of 29 are open during noon hour and 54 are closed during noon hour.

There were few dissenting votes. The board approved a resolution whereby Clarence Reenders was appointed agent for the county to offer for sale a 40-acre parcel of land in Robinson township. The parcel was obtained by the county in a scavenger sale.

Considerable time was devoted again to equalization problems and the board finally passed a substitute motion to abide by action taken by the County Allocation Commission.

Clarence Reenders who was appointed to investigate the removal of a conservation officer from the south end of the county said he would submit a report at the October session.

The board granted an additional appropriation of $2,000 for boarding care for Probate Court.

The board also passed a motion authorizing the ways and means committee to make further investigation of insurance premiums and reappraisals.

The board was reminded of the county picnic Aug. 11 at Camp Pottawatomie and then adjourned subject to the call of the chair. Chairman John Van Dyke, Jr., of Holland, presided at the two-day session.

South Haven Beats Zeeland Chix, 9-5

SOUTH HAVEN (Special)—The South Haven Merchants unloaded 14 hits on two Zeeland pitchers and beat the Chix, 9-5, Saturday night to take undisputed second place in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball League.

South Haven's Wally Wilt was rushed in to relieve Leon Kriesten in the second inning when the Chix staged a four-run uprising, and he held Zeeland to one run the rest of the way.

The Merchants had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning and they tied the game at 4-up with three runs in the bottom of the second, sending Chix starter Gene Schrotenboer to the showers and bringing in Gene Tasma, who finished the game.

Zeeland picked up its final run to take a momentary 5-4 lead in the sixth but the Merchants shoved around three tallies in their half of the sixth and salted the game away with a pair of runs in the eighth.

The two South Haven pitchers held the Chix to seven hits and Junior De Jonge collected two of them. Zeeland and Holland's Flying Dutchmen are now tied for third place with 2-2 records.

American Legion Plans Big Holiday Program Monday

Holland residents today started making plans for the long holiday weekend which in most cases gives the people a three-day holiday.

Main attraction of the July 4 weekend is the American Legion program Monday evening at Legion Memorial Park, following a pattern of Independence Day celebrations carried on for many years by the local patriotic order.

Object of the Legion's interest in celebrating July 4 is two fold—first to perpetuate the spirit of the day and second, to relieve traffic loads on highways by keeping residents closer to home.

Events will start at 7:30 p.m. with a concert by the American Legion Band. State Senator Clyde Geerlings of Holland will deliver the Independence Day address and the program will be climaxed by an extensive fireworks display, guaranteed to be every bit as good as the displays the last two years. The fireworks program is expected to take 45 minutes to an hour.

Harry Wetter is serving as general chairman.

Holland police and law enforcement agencies everywhere are asking all motorists to practice particular caution and courtesy over the long weekend, calculated to be one of the busiest holidays trafficwise of the entire year.

Elsewhere, all business operations are expected to suspend for the day. The post office also will be closed and no deliveries will be made. The lobby will be open from 7 to 9 a.m. for the convenience of box holders.

Summer Tax Bill Mailing Delayed

City summer tax bills will not be mailed until July 15 rather than the normal July 1 date because of a recent opinion by Attorney General Frank Millard in Lansing.

According to Millard's opinion, where any county has overlapping school districts, the tax allocation commission must allocate millage on the state equalized valuation instead of the county equalized valuation.

The opinion, which will probably face a fight in court to determine if it can be enforced, did not change the tax rate in Holland although the taxes did go up 35 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

School and city taxes this year are $36.77 compared with $36.42 per $1,000 in 1933, according to City Assessor William Koop.

Treasurer Readies School and City Summer Tax Bills

ZEELAND (Special)—Proposed changes in the method of state school allocations have delayed sending out summer tax assessments in Zeeland, but according to City Treasurer Anthony Mulder bills will be in the mail by Saturday.

City Assessor Nick Cook was unable to deliver tax rolls until the state changes were made, and thus the whole procedure was slowed up temporarily.

July has replaced December as the expensive month in Zeeland, as changes in both the city and school payment dates have been made. Formerly city, school and county taxes were paid in December.

But according to the new charter adopted in 1931 the city tax date was changed to July, and last summer voters approved changing the school assessments to July.

The switch means citizens pay about 85 percent of their total taxes in July. Current city rates are $10.80 per $1,000 of assessed valuation while school taxes are rated at $19.07 per $1,000.

Deadlines for payment is July 31.

According to Assessor Cook, county rates will be about $3.50 per $1,000, unless the Board of Supervisors approves equalization on a state basis. This would raise the equalization and lower the rate.

One group in Zeeland exempted from the school payment is part of the new West End addition which remained part of the New Groningen school district.

3 Years Under City Manager Cited for Club

City Manager Harold C. McClintock presented highlights of accomplishment under city manager form of government to members of the Kiwanis club Monday night at the Warm Friend Tavern.

McClintock, who was appointed Holland's first city manager on May 15, 1931, pointed out the manager is primarily an administrator responsible for supervision and management of the business affairs of the city with the duty of carrying out the policies established by Council in accordance with the Charter.

Some of the major accomplishments in Holland, McClintock stated, was the development of a position classification and pay plan covering the general city employees. Council has given consideration to these plans but as yet has not arrived at a final conclusion.

A centralized purchasing system has been established with the city clerk designated as purchasing officer. The plan provides for the taking of bids on the basis of specifications developed jointly by the department head and purchasing officer. The purpose of this purchasing procedure, McClintock stated, is to provide closer supervision of purchases and to establish a base for encumbrance accounting, which will result in better budget control required by the Charter.

A monthly reporting to Council of activities of the various departments of the general city has been established. McClintock said, as well as quarterly financial reports.

Touching upon the paving program for the past few years, McClintock said plans and specifications for paving of streets have been prepared during the winter months and bids for the work received early in the spring, resulting in obtaining better prices on paving bids. With this new system inaugurated by the city manager the 1932 paving program resulted in a saving in costs of approximately $11,000 over that for similar work done in 1931. Good bid prices have been received on the 1933-34 paving program assuring a continuation of saving to property owners.

Speaking briefly on the work of the Planning Commission, McClintock said an area master plan for Holland has been developed and its various phases are now being reviewed in preparation for public hearings before final adoption. Although the city manager is not a member he is working closely with the Planning Commission attending practically all meetings and serving on several Commission committees.

McClintock also pointed out although he was not a voting member of the Board of Public Works, he attends all meetings and participates in discussion of Board matters. "I have no direct personal knowledge of the situation prior to 1931," McClintock stated, "but I have been reliably informed that the relationship between the Board and the general city are on a much more congenial basis now than prior to 1931." Acceptance of the Council-Manager form of government by the Board has been excellent, McClintock emphasized.

The position of city auditor was established under the new charter and filled in May of 1932. McClintock said, which has resulted in a centralization of city auditing and creating greater budget consciousness by department heads and has assisted materially in keeping expenditures within budget amounts. Machine accounting equipment has been purchased and will be placed in operation July 1, resulting in greater efficiency in the handling of city accounting procedures.

In May of 1933 McClintock stated a program for the investment of general city funds not currently needed to meet operating expenses was instituted. This program is handled through the office of the city auditor under general supervision of the City Manager. With most investments in the form of 31-day Treasury Certificates interest earned during the year the program has been in force amounted to $9,716.19 and anticipated earnings on securities maturing in the near future will amount to $752.59. About $3,800 of this amount has come from investment of proceeds of the Civic Center bond issue.

Other procedures instituted under the City Manager include setting up of several multi-copy forms designed to save office time in issuing licenses, building permits, purchase orders and other items. McClintock said he has also kept in close touch with the Michigan Inspection Bureau in the development of a fire insurance rating for the city which has resulted in Holland obtaining lower fire insurance base costs for all industrial and commercial property in the city.

Visscher Defeats Dykema to Capture Under 18 Crown

It was just about all Holland in the Southwest Michigan Closed Boys Tennis tournament today as local players swept the field in the Grand Rapids under 18 competition and placed the majority of the finalists in the under 13 and under 15 action at the 21st St. courts.

At Grand Rapids Tuesday, Hank Visscher gained revenge over Paul Dykema in an all-Holland final, stroking out an easy, 6-1, 7-5 victory to take the under 18 crown. Dykema upset Visscher in the finals of Holland's Junior Center tournament, last week.

Tuesday, Overway and Plagenhoef annexed the under 15 doubles championship by prancing to an easy 6-2, 6-1 decision over Larry Solomon and Scott Maentz of Grand Rapids.

Vanderstelt, definitely the favorite in the under 13 finals, romped over Grand Rapids champion Jim Reed, 6-4, 6-2, in a Tuesday quarterfinals match, then went on to take a hard-fought decision from Keith Johnson of Cedar Springs, 1-6, 6-0, 8-6. Johnson upset Vanderstelt in Muskegon's Junior Center tourney last week.

Meanwhile, Damson was grabbing a finals berth for Holland by blasting Muskegon's Dave Hathaway, 6-1, 6-1, and clipping another Muskegon boy, Truman Keeter, 7-5, 6-1.

In Tuesday under 15 action Overway moved into the finals with a "love" victory over Doug Van Dam of Muskegon, and Plagenhoef did almost as well by tromping Grand Rapids' Maentz, 6-0, 6-1.

Scheduled for completion this afternoon is the under 13 doubles competition. Semifinals were slated for 1 and the finals at 4. In the semis, Vanderstelt and Hathaway from Muskegon were paired against Holland's Wayne Overway and Dennis Kuite while Damson and Jack Hulst were bracketed with Jon Berson of Muskegon and Johnson of Cedar Springs.

Miss Marlene Meninga of Kalamazoo as mad of honor, Miss Alice Hilbert of Kalamazoo, bridesmaid, John E. Visser as best man and Leonard F. Visser and Arthur E. Visser as ushers, were attendants.

The bride gown featured a white lace bodice over satin, long lace sleeves pointed over the hands and a fingertip veil. A cascade bouquet of white carnations was carried by the bride.

The bride's attendants were attired in sleeveless gowns of white dimity and yellow print, featuring empire waists and scoop necklines. They wore matching headpieces. Their colonial bouquets consisted of yellow daisies. Wedding music included traditional selections by the organist, Miss Jane Vander Velde, and solos "Through the Years" and "Because" sung by Mrs. Robert Wagner.

A reception for 130 guests was held in the church parlors. Waitresses were Mrs. Robert Hendrickson, Mrs. Randall B. Bosch, Miss Myra Saunders, Mrs. Gretchen Yonkman Vandenberg and Miss Jane Zwemer.

Following the reception the bride changed to a navy linen suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage, for their wedding trip to Glen Lake. After July 1 they will be at home, 203 West 21st St.

Both the bride and groom were graduated this month from Hope College. They plan to teach at Rockford Mich. in the fall.

Guests attending from away were Raymond Zwemer of New York City, brother of the bride, the bride's immediate family of Bethesda, Md., and Mrs. Amy Violette from Alexandria, Va.

Grandstanding...

By Jack Kolo
By the skin of their teeth. That's the financial situation for the five teams playing in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball League this season. But the mere fact that they're pulling through is enough to make most club officials happy.

"At least we're keeping our nose above water," says Gabe Kuite, president of the Holland Flying Dutchmen Boosters Club. "But we sure could use a few more fans."

Over in Zeeland, League Secretary Cal Fleser has about the same story—only the Chix are losing money and have been forced to use donations from a few sympathetic merchants to keep their heads above the waterline. "Things could be a lot worse," Fleser remarked. "The league is pretty evenly balanced and look at the close race for the first-half championship."

Fleser wasn't kidding there. The league lead has changed hands about three times in the past week and seldom has one team been up there all alone. At present, however, South Haven holds the top spot with a 2-1 record while the Dutchmen and Grand Haven are in second place with 3-2 showings.

A severe shock to the league this year was the loss of the Grand Rapids Black Sox, always a big drawing card in Holland-area parks. Replacing the Sox was Cedar Springs, a team which has definitely caused a few problems.

Probably the most difficult problem is the location of Cedar Springs—almost on the northern border of Kent county. Secretary Fleser pointed out that when the South Haven Merchants play in Cedar Springs or vice versa, there is a total traveling distance of 175 miles involved. That's a long way to go for players who have to work during the day.

Dutchman Manager Russ Wolrding cited another complication with the Cedar Springs outfit—and this one is rather humorous even if it shows how not to operate a baseball team.

Wolrding had the Dutchmen up in the Flannels' territory last week for a league contest. "It looks like they're trying to grow weeds on the infield," he complained. "The playing surface is absolutely horrible."

The Holland manager forgot to take a scorebook to Cedar Springs. When he asked the Flannels' manager for a sheet, he found that Cedar Springs didn't even keep a scorebook.

"We finally ended up using an old paper bag," Wolrding laughed. Secretary Fleser asks for mercy on the Cedar Springs outfit, however, "After all, they're brand new in the league and seem to be coming along pretty good," he said. "We're hoping they'll become strong enough to be a real contender."

Fleser said that league teams are wooing Fennville in an effort to expand the loop to six squads next year. Fennville was asked this year, but did not feel it could field an adequate team. Zeeland's Chix have played an exhibition contest with Fennville to help the squad gain interest in league affairs.

To settle disputes like the one last season when the Grand Haven Athletics walked off the field in the first inning of a game with the Black Sox, the league has obtained an arbitrator. Handling the chore is Len Colby, sports director of radio station WKZO in Kalamazoo. So far, Fleser reports, Colby hasn't had to make any decisions. "But just wait," he predicts.

Holland's Kuite is president of a recently-organized club that is trying to bolster the sagging interest in the Dutchmen during recent years. And there's been a moderate amount of success.

Admission price has been pared to 50 cents. And the Boosters Club is selling three different kinds of tickets—one for the entire season, one for 10 games and one for three games. Each one of these tickets will admit a man and his wife (Kuite didn't say what would happen if someone tried to use the ticket with another man's wife.)

For each home game, the club has obtained a worthwhile prize donated by a Holland merchant. At Monday's game, for instance, a small table-model radio was given away.

Expenses have been cut to a minimum. The usual large number of free passes has been virtually eliminated.

The Dutchmen must pay $10 for light expense at Riverview Park and must kick in 10 percent of the total gate receipts for the use of the field.

This rental problem has plagued the Zeeland Chix all season. "We have to pay a flat $25 to use the Athletic Field," Fleser said, "and it just about kills us when a poor crowd shows up. We've lost money on every game this season."

It would seem that an easing of the rent rate could be the answer to the survival of the Zeeland Chix. As for other teams in the league, Grand Haven and South Haven are drawing pretty good crowds.

As Fleser says, the league isn't asking for charity. It's only asking for fans who are willing to enjoy a good ball game for an extremely low admission price. That's the plea all around the league.

Reception to Honor Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Vander Linde

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Vander Linde, who have just arrived in Holland following their honeymoon, will be held Wednesday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in Coldbrook Christian Reformed Church, Barnett St., Grand Rapids. The event is being given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Vander Linde, Sr., 426 Quimby St., N.E., Grand Rapids. No invitations have been issued.

The couple was married Saturday, June 19, in First Presbyterian Church, Petoskey. The bride is the former Mary E. Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Scott of Petoskey. The groom is director of instrumental music in Holland Christian Schools.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 p.m. by the Rev. E.P. Linnell of Zanesville, Ohio, and the Rev. Lloyd Brasure of Petoskey. Pedestal baskets of white peonies and gladioli, candelabra and an arch of candles centered with a cross of white carnations, formed an impressive setting for the rites. Tall white candles tied with bows of white satin and clusters of maidenhair ferns decorated the pews.

Sheriff Points Out That Several Men Carry Cards

Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek Friday discounted the resignation of four deputies and said "after all we have more than 150 card-carrying deputies in the county."

Vanderbeek said that Ben Dykhouse of Hudsonville has been suspended as of the first of the year. Henry Walters of route 1, West Olive, was on a special status and the "other two were just used during Tulip Time," the sheriff added.

"We have several card-carrying deputies and many of them were held over from the past sheriff's regime," Vanderbeek said. "We recently hired two more deputies in Hudsonville at the request of the village board."

The British Commonwealth provides 94 per cent of the world's nickel, 73 per cent of the gold, 49 per cent of natural rubber, 42 per cent of tin, 53 per cent of chrome, 93 per cent asbestos and 64 per cent manganese (less U. S.S.R.).

There are 56 varieties of owls.

A new tank truck with a capacity of 900 gallons is the latest addition to the equipment of Park Township Fire Dept. No. 2, located across from the airport on the Ottawa Beach Road.

Constructed by IXL Machine Shop, Inc., the tank is mounted on a 1954 Studebaker two-ton chassis. The truck carries a portable pump which can fill or empty the tank in only five minutes.

Much of the labor in installing the tank on the truck and preparing the unit for service was done by members of the department, thus keeping the cost to the township below $3,000.

Fire Chief Herman Windemuller said the primary purpose of the new truck will be to keep the regular pumper supplied with water, but that it can also be used alone to fight grass fires. Previously, the department had to depend on the truck from Park Township Department No. 1 in Central Park when an additional water supply was needed.

The department's regular truck, a 1952 model with a capacity of 600 gallons, was purchased after the fire station was completed two years ago.

Since that time, the department has answered 60 alarms with an estimated total property loss of $10,000. Windemuller said that the estimated value of the property saved by the department is $35,800.

Serving as assistant chief is Jake De Feyter while Malcolm Veneklassen is secretary and Jack Witteveen is treasurer.

Other members of the department are Robert Boes, Arnold De Feyter, Ted De Graaf, Erwin De Vree, John Kievit, Floyd Klinge, Arnold Streu and James Volkema.

Many Petunias In Tulip Lane

Members of the Holland Council for Civic Beauty headed by Lida Rogers Friday complimented residents living on tulip lane who have planted petunias and other annuals in the lanes in front of their homes, and pointed out there is still time to plant such flowers.

A check of tulip lane Thursday night revealed that many persons are cooperating with the council in attempting to make the lanes colorful for the remainder of the season. The park department has taken charge of large sections in the boulevards in the west section. All residents have received careful instructions on how to care for the plants, particularly in pinching off top buds periodically to make the plants more bushy.

Petunias, dwarf marigolds and other recommended annuals are not hard to grow, but do require a certain amount of care and watering, it was pointed out. Easiest way to develop this type of planting is by obtaining a flat of transplants from a florist or grower.

Mrs. Robert Kouw and John Benson are heading the committee on the tulip lane planting project. The city has been divided into four zones.

Youth Found Guilty In Larceny Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — After deliberating for one hour and 15 minutes, a Circuit Court jury Friday found Duncan Tucker, 18, of 1142 Fulton St., Grand Haven, guilty of larceny from a person. He will appear for disposition June 30.

Tucker was one of four involved in a fracas at the north side last November when Harold Van Raalte, a discharged soldier from Ferrysburg, was robbed of $75 and a wristwatch and his eye glasses were destroyed.

It was Children's Day at Third Reformed Church and one by one the young moppets rose proudly to speak their pieces.

One presentation was a group of memory verses by the young beginners and with a flourish four youngsters took their places on the stage. First Jeanne Beekman took one step forward, lifted her head high so that she could get closer to the low microphone and recited her verse. Then came Brian Kooiker and Kathy Notter, one step forward and lift head high.

Lastly came Jackie Kuiper, just 5, who proudly took his step forward, and then boomed into the mike, "I forgot!" His teacher conveniently nearby prompted him and he gave his verse.

Jackie couldn't understand why the audience laughed so hard, but we can. The verse: "I shall not forget Thy Word!"

Later Jackie told his mother, Mrs. Robert Kuiper, route 1, "I guess you just made me say it so often I forgot."

From the Grand Rapids Herald: A friend walked into a downtown restaurant at lunchtime Tuesday, told the hostess he was waiting for U.S. Attorney Wendell A. Miles and asked her if she knew him. The hostess said no so the friend described Miles like this:

"He's a short, handsome man with graying hair and stark blue eyes."

It worked, the hostess recognized "Blue-eyes Miles" when he came in and directed him to his friend.

What we in Holland want to know is does this put Wendell ahead of Jack Benny, the comedian with the baby-blue eyes?

Eddie Mulder, one of the sixth graders at Lincoln school who shared in the work in planting petunias in tulip lane there, is now pursuing a brand new hobby at home. He's trying to raise coconuts.

He didn't know how to go about it, so he wrote to conservation departments in several sections of the country. Finally he wrote to U.S. Rep. Jerry Ford who referred his letter to a senator in Florida and that's how Eddie got his information. It involves some trick of not burying the coconut entirely, or something like that.

Ruth Zwemer, another sixth grader, is trying her luck at growing avocados.

Successful or not in hobbies, the teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Protzman, says the children have had a lot of good experience in letter writing.

How good is your memory? If you associate epic events with such mundane things as heat waves you'll probably recall that it's just four years ago tomorrow that the Korean war started.

Sunday, June 25, 1950, was a real blinger when it comes to heat waves, and that particular hot spell was broken by the granddaddy of all electrical storms that night.

What makes the historic date even more memorable was that on that day, parts of the wreckage of a big airliner which went down in Lake Michigan were found off South Haven.

If you want a real treat these days, take a drive through Kollen park and see the lovely roses. They're almost as colorful as tulips.

When the Lunt-Fontanne comedy, "O Mistress Mine," was played on Broadway, a man in Washington, D. C., wired a New York friend to get him a pair of tickets for the following Saturday night. This friend was able to do, and promptly wired: "Mistress okay for Saturday."

The Washington man read the wire and chuckled. Pencilled below the message were the words: "Western Union prefers not to transmit this type of message."

(Prince photo)

Vows were exchanged Friday, June 18, by Miss Lillian Joyce Bos and Bernard Nyhof in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. John Guichelaar in North Street Christian Reformed Church, Zeeland.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wynand Bos, route 3, Zeeland, and Mr. and Mrs. John Nyhof, route 5, Holland.

Decorations included two white altar bouquets, candelabra and Oregon fern. Pews were decorated with white bows.

"Because," "God Gave Me You," and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Harold Paddling, accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Sluiter who played appropriate music.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of chantilly lace and nylon net over shimmering satin featuring a lace etched yoke with lace medallions framing the curved line of her basque bodice and long lace sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The wedding ring waist released a full flowing skirt of nylon net over lace with a rich depth of chantilly lace. A seed pearl crown with scalloped front secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pompons.

Miss Pearlina Kiel as maid of honor wore a yellow gown and carried a colonial bouquet of green and white flowers. Bridesmaids were Misses Hermina and Window and pew arrangements were white candles and white gladioli. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Marion de Velder when she sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of illusion tulle over satin with accents of Venice lace. The very full illusion skirt terminated in a sweep train over a wide hoop. The fitted bodice featured a sculptured boat neckline and short lace-edged sleeves. Her elbow length gloves of illusion tulle were edged in lace. A fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of bridal satin, imported lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white starlike roses and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

As maid of honor, Miss Ann Marie Winterhalder of Zeeland, sorority sister of the bride, wore a waltz-length gown of lime peel green chromespun taffeta featuring a pin tucked motif which formed a wide V neckline, cap sleeved bodice and continuing through the Empire waist and elongated hipline releasing a full gored skirt. The pin tucked motif was repeated in a half-hat head-dress with a nose veil. She carried Golden Rapture roses touched with white snapdragons.

Wearing gowns matching the maid of honors in shades of lemon peel yellow, the bridesmaids were Miss Norma Friden, Woodbury, Conn., and Mrs. Jack Mastenbrook, Clarkston, sorority sisters of the bride; Miss Janice Boersma and Mrs. James Slagh of Holland. Miss Ruth Klingenberg Bride of Bernard Haak

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized Friday night in Maple Avenue Christian Reformed Church when Miss Ruth Marian Klingenberg became the bride of Bernard J. Haak. The double ring service was performed at 7:30 p.m. by the Rev. Gareth S. Kok beneath an arch of white peonies and orchid gladioli. Palms, ferns, five seven-branch candelabra and baskets of white peonies formed the background. Clusters of gladioli, greens and bows marked the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Klingenberg, 275 East 32nd St., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haak, 271 South Maple St., Zeeland.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of imported chantilly rose-point lace and tulle over satin. The fitted lace bodice featured a portrait neckline outlined with a delicate scallop of lace. The long lace sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and tiny buttons extended down the back of her gown to the waist. The voluminous tulle skirt was styled with a scalloped lace overskirt which fell from a peplum in front to form the sweeping chapel train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was secured by a tiny matching lace cap embroidered with seedpearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and swainsonia. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Rodger Buining of Grand Rapids, college friend of the bride, attended as matron of honor, wearing a gown of orchid net over taffeta. A pleated band of point de Esprit edged the top of the strapless gown and crossed the front of the fitted bodice to form a fly panel on the bouffant skirt. With it she wore a tiny shrug jacket and a godet bonnet of matching material and short white lace gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of hibbard roses and swainsonia.

The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Klingenberg, sister of the bride, Miss Helen Jansen, the bride's cousin, Miss Elaine Haak, sister of the groom, and Miss Marjorie Pott, were identical gowns and hats to that of the honor attendant. Their colonial bouquets were of deep purple asters and white swainsonia. Organ prelude music and the wedding marches were played by Roger Rietberg. Soloist, Prof. Henry ten Hoor, sang, "O Perfect Love," "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a gown of periwinkle blue lace and chiffon with matching hat and pale pink gloves. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother was dressed in navy blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

At the reception for 150 guests in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs.

Edgar Prince presided at the punch bowl and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veneklassen arranged the gifts. Miss Hannagrace Lenters was in charge of the guest book. Waitresses were Misses Joan Kragt, Muriel Elzinga, Joan Van Wingeren, Lucille Gort, Joan Kole, Doris Buurman, Rose Van Til and Faith Kok.

Solos were sung by Prof. ten Hoor and Miss Virginia Klingenberg. Miss Helen Van Vels gave a reading and Rev. Kok led closing prayer.

For their northern honeymoon Mrs. Haak wore an ice blue linen suit styled with a box jacket, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and split white carnations. After July 12, the couple will be at Camp Gordon, Ga., where the groom is stationed as a corporal with the Military Police Division of the Army. Mrs. Haak will remain with her husband a short time before returning to live with her parents.

The bride is a graduate of Holland Christian High School and Hope College where she was affiliated with Kappa Beta Phi sorority. She will teach in the fall at South Side Christian School. The groom also was graduated from Holland Christian.

FISHING GAMBLERS

The newspaper of the nation are growing the annual crop of the "biggest fish" pictures. Fame of a sort is coming to some citizens who almost live for that kind of thing. The satisfaction registered on their pictured faces is an index to their inner content.

Well, they are in distinguished company. So important a man as Herbert Hoover displays exactly the same facial satisfaction when the reporters picture an unusual catch he has made, and President Eisenhower's smile is as broad as that of the country boy when he has caught the "big one."

Nor is that a mere modern development. So long ago as the days of Queen Elizabeth I old Isaac Walton devoted a large part of his life to fishing, and to recording his reactions the art of angling. There were no newspaper pictures in those days, but old Isaac wrote a book about his fishing prowess that he called "The Compleat Angler" (they spelled "complete" that way in those days). He remained boyish and wholesome on into old age, in part at least because he gambled with the trout that inhabited the streams of his native England.

For that's what fishing is, at least on the amateur basis—gambling. One of the few wholesome types of gambling in existence. The sport's gambling characteristics go far to accounting for its appeal to many people who would never dream of putting even a two-dollar bet on a horse.

Suspense is obviously the secret of the appeal of any type of gambling. Suspense is uncertainty of outcome, and it is that uncertainty, that catch of the breath, that causes thousands to risk their money, rather than the cash they stand to win. If the returns in gambling were a sure thing, the vice would almost certainly disappear.

And so with fishing. If a fisherman could be sure of getting as many and as big fish as he wanted when he went after them in Macatawa Bay or in Lake Michigan or in his favorite trout streams, he would soon tire of the effort. Basically he does not go to all the trouble to get fish to eat; quite a few fishermen don't even like fish. He goes because fishing is a gamble.

His charm lies in the very fact that he stands a chance of coming home without even a little one in his creel. The uncertainty of it is the secret of its charm. For the moment he is a gambler, and he savors all the emotions of the gambler's heart. For gambling is an art, and millions of people are emotionally artists.

Sunday School Lesson

July 4, 1954
Jesus Our Example and Lord
Luke 2:40-52

By Henry Geerlings

The story of the boyhood and youth of Jesus is not written. The evangelists bring Him to Nazareth. They set Him in the home there where He grows up through childhood to manhood, but the life of those years is not recorded. Why not? Not because it was not worth telling, but because in one sense there was nothing to tell. That boyhood passed without any striking incident and it passed in silence. He grew, as other boys grow through commonplace years in which He spoke no word which was for any outside His own sphere, nor was concerned with aught save the immediate interests of His little world.

It is to Nazareth that all the Christian ages have turned to see Jesus in His boyhood. No doubt its interests were rural and spiritual. The childish eyes of Christ opened upon all the scenes and labors of village life, upon all the movement and color and fragrance of nature. We know how all these reappear in His parables and give life and beauty to His teachings. And yet Nazareth, though so quiet and retired, could be reached by the throbs of the great world's movements.

Of the life Christ lived there we can say first of all that it was a perfectly natural life. He was a real child, a real youth, a real man. He was perfectly human. His manhood sprang out of a youth which sprang in its turn from a boyhood and a childhood, and His wisdom throughout corresponded with His years. By action and experience He gradually developed the vast potencies that were in Him. He gradually realized in the details and particulars that which from the first He possessed. He did not stand still. He grew.

He was a life of obedience. Voluntarily He placed himself under civil law. He who made all true laws was the truest law keeper. He submitted Himself to the law of religion the very religion He had come to abolish by fulfilling it in Himself.

When He was 12 years old, aside from the events surrounding His infancy this is the only glimpse we get of His life until He was ready to enter upon His public ministry. At the age of 12, a Jewish boy became known as a son of the law. He was enrolled in a definite course of instruction, taught to fast and attend the public worship, and was to begin learning a trade. He was now at the age to fulfill these obligations and so He went with Joseph and Mary to the Feast of the Passover in Jerusalem. This Feast kept constantly before the children of Israel their miraculous deliverance by the hand of God from the oppressor in Egypt. It had particular reference to the tenth plague, the passing of Jehovah over the homes where the blood of the lamb had been put over the door, sparing the first born of that house.

They found Him in the midst of the doctors. Who were they? Learned men custodians of the literature of the church, men of light and leading, men foremost in literary and critical repute. They found Him in the midst. Where He is the metropolis. Where He is the court is. Where He presides himself all the geometry of creation bears down upon Him. He is above and within and under and beyond all things. He was hearing them and answering their questions, and they were drawn to Him.

When His parents found Jesus among this group they must have watched and listened for a time to take in the full significance of that which they saw. The anxiety of the past hours of searching, as well as the joy of finding Him unharmed, seem to be included in the words "thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing." The reference to Joseph as father simply follows the universal custom of calling the stepfather by this name. Intensity marked His devotion. He was in the service of God and He must be about His business. His teaching grew out of the occasion. He pondered deeply on God's word and God's will. All that concerned the temple was His Father's business. He would be in this world only a short while and He must use every opportunity to do what His Father wanted Him to do. Evidently Jesus expected His mother to have a deeper understanding of this event than her words implied. Jesus displayed His own consciousness that he bore a special or particular relation to God, that His Father's business was the most important business in all the world.

LOOKING DOWN ON INNSBRUCK

Beautiful Mountains Mark Austrian Landscape; Cable Car Trip Exciting

By Bill Butler

INNSBRUCK, Austria—Nestled in a valley with mountain ranges on all sides is the picturesque city of Innsbruck. Innsbruck literally means bridge over the Inns. The Inns is the river that flows through the valley and this city of more than 100,000. The Sill River also flows from Switzerland, through the Brenner Pass and through the valley. Since early time both the Inns and the Sill Rivers have overflowed the valley so that even today the town is not on the floor of the valley but at the foot of the mountains.

Nordkettenbahn Mountain, 6,900 feet above the town is easily reached. First we traveled by taxi to the first cable car station high in the hills. Then by Cable car up the mountain and as it was raining we did not take the trip to the summit but took the car down to the station. Clog railway took us the rest of the way down.

At the foot of the clog railway there was a horse and carriage and the ladies of our party rode to the hotel by carriage. The men walked and got lost but finally reached the hotel about an hour later.

There are several castles in the area as Innsbruck was at one time the location of the summer palace of the Emperor of Austria. The beautiful Court Church, located in the big open court, contains the tomb of the Emperor Maximilian. He is not buried there, however, but in another church.

Last night some of our party went to one of the local hotels that had a large auditorium where boys and girls were performing Tyrolean dances and singing and yodeling in native costume.

The main industry of Innsbruck is textile weaving and the mills here make cotton and linen cloth. There are also several lumber and flour mills in the area.

Maria-Theresien-Strasse, Marie Theresa Street, is the main street of Innsbruck. Here the visitor finds the mountains to the north and south with a wonderful view of the center of the city including the old burghers' houses, the balcony with the roof of goldplated copper tiles and many old and interesting inns.

The River Inns was once used for shipping and commerce. Salt from the mines in Vienna was shipped to Innsbruck but the river has been dammed in several places and it is not deep enough for present traffic.

In Munich we met a Dr. and Mrs. Kline from Litchfield, Mich., when we arrived at the hotel in Innsbruck we found that the Klines were staying at the same hotel so we had a reunion.

There is not any natural coal in Innsbruck today so it is necessary to import all the coal from Germany. There are many woodpiles in Austria.

On our tour of Innsbruck we also saw the buildings of the University, which teaches everything except technical and commercial courses. The enrollment is about 4,000, 25 per cent girls with a few exchange students. Many of the pupils come from Germany and Switzerland, our student guide said, because the expenses are cheaper in Austria.

The town is predominantly Roman Catholic and there are about 25 churches in the city. All but one is Catholic. The one remaining is Protestant.

Austria is occupied by the Russians, Americans, British, and French troops in that order. Russia is the largest and France the smallest. As a result the Austrians do not have an army and they do not have an airline, either commercial or military.

Every year one of the important events in Innsbruck is the fair that is held every fall. As we toured the city we saw the fair grounds, with the many large buildings.

Our student guide, Frank No-wotny, told us that he was going to the University in Vienna and that he was studying economics. The University wants him to go to South Africa. I suggested that he come to America in the diplomatic service, and he replied that, first, he must study. While we were waiting for some of our party he introduced me to one of his friends, a boy who is going to the local university and studying languages. He said he could read and understand five languages.

This afternoon I talked with Mr. and Mrs. Torono of California who had been to Germany to adopt a young girl about three years old. They had purchased a used automobile in France and were going to resell it to the same dealer when they were through with it.

This being the longest evening in the year the mountain top was covered with bonfires, and as the evening was cool and clear the fires and smoke made a very impressive picture. This afternoon when we were traveling up the mountain we noticed that there were hundreds of people carrying old tires and five-gallon cans of oil as well as their overcoats and backpacks into the cable cars.

Our curiosity got the best of us so we asked some of the young men what the tires were for and they said for the fire. Then we asked more questions and found out that this tradition had been going on for hundreds of years. There were hundreds of fires burning just at dusk and they continued for more than two hours.

Our Swiss American Express representative said that they burn fires on the mountains in Switzerland Aug. 1, while our Puerto Rico tour members say the fires burn in October in their country. Evidently, this is an old world custom—at any rate, it is impressive on a clear cool June evening in Austria.

We have found that the police in Innsbruck speak several languages so they have served us well when we needed information or directions. They may be identified by the little tabs on their coats.

The city has a mayor and four Feiste Meisters who are paid and elected by the people. They have ample Street cars even if they do haul four small cars behind the large one that furnish the motive power. They also have trackless trolleys and many fine buses in fact, Europe seems to be equipped with many fine tour buses and they are manned by very efficient drivers, some of whom speak several languages.

There are many fine trips that can be made from Innsbruck—by rail motor coach or automobile. More and more we find there are so many beautiful places to visit and so little time. We traveled from Munich via bus over the road known as the Bavarian Alpine tour and as this was Saturday afternoon there was the usual heavy traffic moving on the highways.

The road passes a tip of Lake Starnberg where we noticed a U.S. Army Yacht Club sign, then on through Weilheim and on to where we turned off the main road and on into Oberammergau where the famous Passion Play is performed every 10 years. We stopped for a quick look around the town and the theater and then went on our way again where we ran into a pouring rain.

We loaned the driver a rain coat so that he could make a quick run for the customs and immigration office for the inspection of Americans before entering Austria.

There were quite a number of people waiting so that this required about 45 minutes, the ride over and down the mountain into Innsbruck is on a 15 per cent grade so that our progress was slow. Since the road is winding and the rain continued we did not have a very good chance to view the countryside.

We noticed, however, that we seemed to run out of the sugar beet fields. On the way out of Munich we noticed a great number of large Linden trees along the highway—there seem to be many of them in Germany.

We passed lumber and paper mills on the way as we passed through some fine government forests.

We skirted Garmisch by a few miles. This town is a great tourist attraction and a well-known resort. We did not remember, but the driver told us that the Olympic games were held in Garmisch in 1936. They are building a stadium in Innsbruck now and they hope that the Olympic games will be held there in 1960.

Moose Outlasts North Holland; Vandenberg Wins

A sharp single by George Botsis in the last of the seventh broke a three inning deadlock Thursday night in City Softball League play at Van Tongeren Field as Moose squeaked past North Holland 5-4.

Vandenberg Buick scored in four innings to whip cellar dwelling Gra-Bell by a 6-1 margin.

Botsis' single scored Gil Vandenberg who had just doubled breaking a Moose scoring drive that hampered them from the first inning. Moose had jumped to a four run lead in the initial inning.

Leadoff man Stu Baker was hit by a pitched ball. Red Hulst saged on an error and Frank Bagladi on a fielder's choice. With bases loaded Less Dorneveerd drew a walk and Gil Vandenberg cleared the bases with a double.

North Holland took over in the third inning as Jun Hop pounded out a home run with two men on base. The rally petered out but in the fifth North Holland knotted up the score as Vern Hop doubled and scored on an infield error.

Botsis hurled a five hit ball notching the win while Glen Ebels gave up just six safeties to take the loss.

First man up for Vandenberg singled and the Buick squad trailed from this point. Justin Vander Zwaag got the single, went to third on errors and stole home to score.

Vandenberg tallied again in the second when Stan Wlodarczyk walked, stole second and scored on Bill Fortney's single.

Gra-Bell's lone run came in the third inning on singles by Bob Stille and Norm Scheerhorn.

Vander Zwaag walked and scored on Paul Fortney's single in the fifth inning before Vandenberg chalked up three more runs in the sixth.

A walk and several Gra-Bell errors loaded the bases and paved the way for Paul Fortney's single tallying two more runs. One of the runs had scored on an infield error.

Bob Fortney was winning pitcher allowing six hits, while Bob Stille allowed just five but was charged with the defeat.

Dutchmen Beaten By Grand Haven

Athletics Capture Undisputed First; 18 Walks Do It

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The Holland Flying Dutchmen pitching staff should have stayed in bed Thursday morning.

Three Dutchmen hurlers limited the Athletics to four hits here Thursday night, but gave up 18 walks, hit three batters and uncorked four wild pitches as Grand Haven rode back into undisputed first place in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball League with a 12-2 victory.

Only Holland's Lou Humbert could find his control. He took over in the sixth inning, held an Athletic rally to one run and pitched hitless ball the rest of the way. Grand Haven picked up its final run in the seventh as the result of a Holland error.

The win gave the Athletics a 3-1 record while Holland slid from a first place tie to third place with a 2-2 record. The Zeeland Chix are in second with a 2-1 mark.

Ernie Victor started on the mound for Holland, but was taken out in the third as Grand Haven used three walks, a hit and three wild pitches to take a 3-0 lead. Jim Prins pitched until the sixth and was forced to go through the horrendous fifth when the Athletics produced seven runs on only one hit, five walks and a hit batsman.

Meanwhile, Grand Haven's Ken Clark was tossing a four hitter at the Dutchmen—and without the surplus of walks. Holland's two runs came in the fourth when Paul Mack and Bob Van Dyke clubbed singles and came home on Grand Haven errors. But the Dutchmen were all done there.

The Dutchmen will get another crack at Grand Haven Monday night when the Athletics come to Riverview Park for an 8 p.m. contest. The Zeeland Chix travel to South Haven for a league game Saturday night.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Grand Haven	3	1	.750
Zeeland	2	1	.667
Holland	2	2	.500
South Haven	1	1	.500
Cedar Springs	0	3	.000

Taking second in the 37-mile race was Hollis Baker's "Whisper" while "Revenge," owned by Harold Sears and Charles Bissell, finished third. "Revenge" actually crossed the finish line second, but the corrected time in the handicap event gave the runnerup position to "Whisper."

Allen Willard's Bell-Aurora took fourth while the only South Haven boat, Commodore Bill Hover's "Banish" came in last.

"Hilaria" won in a fast time of two hours, 33 minutes. The boats left South Haven at 11 a.m. and "Hilaria" came across the line at 1:33 p.m.

VFW Edges Fords; North Holland Trounces Gra-Bell

Barber Fords, dropped from second place in City Softball League last week, slid within a half game of fourth place Monday night as they lost a free-scoring contest 13-10 to VFW.

Gra-Bell continued its disappearance into the league cellar as North Holland walked away with a 21-4 win in the second game at Van Tongeren Field.

VFW was resting on its laurels and an eight run lead in the fifth inning of the opening contest when Fords parlayed doubles by Howie Van Voorst and AJ Pierasma with a single by Rog Beckman and two walks into six runs.

VFW had taken an early lead on a double by Bill Franks, single by Vern Vandewater and Hank Prince's home run. This gave the Vets a 4-2 margin in the first inning countering Fords two runs set up by Gord Barnes' double.

The Vets tallied twice more in the second on Bill Franks' homer and singles by Vandewater and Jay Hoffman. Another Vet homer, this one by Hank Prince again, and a Franks single accounted for two more runs in the third.

Fords pushed across two more runs in the fourth and fifth while the Vets picked up five tallies in the same period. Big gun in the VFW attack here was John Wolters with a double while Vandewater, Hoffman and Prince banged out safeties.

Then came the big sixth inning as Fords crossed home six times but fell short of tying up the contest.

Winning pitcher was Al Kraai allowing seven hits while Ken Ver Hoven and Marv Pading shared mound duty for the losers with Ver Hoven taking the loss.

Hank Prince with two homers and a single and Bill Franks with a homer, double and single were hitting stars of the game.

North Holland wasted little time in scoring against Gra-Bell. The Hollanders scored six runs in the first second and fourth innings and three in the sixth.

Gra-Bell countered with one run in the fourth and three in the sixth inning.

Bern Ebels held Gra-Bell to three hits to notch the win, while Rog Overway, Jim Bouws, Dale Mulder and Rog Van Wyk all had a try at stemming the Holland hitting attack.

For the Hollanders Bob Hop had two hits in four trips while Vern Hop had two for five including a two run double.

Lake Phenomenon Noted From Holland Resorts

The effects or perhaps forerunner of the phenomenal wave that swept several persons into Lake Michigan in the Chicago area Saturday morning was witnessed here by several persons in the Castle Park and Holland area, it was learned today.

Mrs. Carter W. Brown and her two children, Roger and Jack, Robert Cavanaugh of Hope College, Barbara Slagh of Holland and a few others who were working with play classes at the resort noticed at about 9:30 a.m. that the beach suddenly had extended 100 feet or more. There was no noticeable "tidal wave" or wall of water in the distance, but as they discussed the unusual occurrence, the water came back, not with a great rush but fast enough for a person walking on the beach to run inland.

The water phenomenon in Chicago was described as a seiche, a mounding up of water caused by rapid fluctuation in the wind and air pressure. Carter P. Brown of the Castle has noticed such phenomena twice before during his years here.

Another water phenomenon July 14, 1938, was far more disastrous in the Holland area. At that time a sudden rising and disturbance in the water caused three drownings in Holland area and endangered some 20 panicking fishermen on the piers at Holland Harbor. The fishermen were rescued by a construction tug and Coast Guardsmen. Life guards at Holland State Park had managed to get most of the swimmers out of the water. Two sisters, Esther and Josephine Fabiano, were rescued and revived.

Two domestic employees at cottages in Tennessee Beach were drowned. They were Ruth Riksen, 19, of Holland, and Catherine Schmitt, 18, of Beaverdam. Several persons became exhausted trying to rescue the girls. The third victim was Herbert J. Brouwer, 34, a telephone company employee in Grand Rapids who was picnicking with a Grand Rapids group at Tunnel Park. One person was drowned in Muskegon and another in Pentwater in the same freakish wave.

Discharged Friday were Jacob Kievit, 164 Walnut Ave.; Elyn Schrotenboer, 186 East 32nd St.; Virginia Veeder, 28 West 28th St.; John Kolenbrander, 75 West 31st St.; Mrs. Ben Voss, route 5; Clifford Strabbing, 7 West 15th St.; Mrs. Dick Klein, 37 East 10th St.; Mrs. John Van Raalte, 225 West Ninth St.; Mrs. Vern Tinkhof and baby, 628 Graafschap Rd.; Mrs. Robert Weersing and baby, 2021 Lakeway; Mrs. James A. Fords Pushed Out Of Second Spot In Tight Race

Main Auto pushed Barber Fords out of second place in City Softball League standings this week, but aside from a three way tie for sixth place no major changes took place.

Hulst Bros. chalked up two wins to continue in a three game lead for the top spot. Main Auto's gain was on the basis of dual wins, while a pair of wins moved Bareman up into the three way tie with Hulst and North Holland.

Standings include:

Hulst Bros.	11	1
Main Auto	9	3
Barber Fords	8	4
Moose	7	5
VFW	6	6
North Holland	5	7
Vandenberg Buick	5	7
Bareman Service	5	7
North End	3	9
Gra-Bell	1	11

Second baseman Herk Cramer slammed two home runs for North End Tavern Friday night in City Softball league play but it wasn't enough as the North Enders fell before Bareman Service 11-4.

A seventh inning rally died short for VFW as Main Auto edged them 4-3, in the opening contest at Van Tongeren Field. North End took an early lead on Dell Koop's double as Cramer garnered his first RBI with a single. In the third inning Cramer's first homer scored John Messergan who had singled.

Bareman began to get rolling in the fourth inning on a pair of singles by Ted Schreuer and Chet Warner. Both scored on wild pitches. Bareman knotted the score for a moment in the fifth on doubles by Vern Beelen and Bob Berens.

North End popped back into the lead in the fifth as Cramer poked his second homer.

In the sixth inning the roof fell in on Bareman. Louie Altens singled, Ted Schreuer tripled and Bareman fumbled a couple times to give North End seven runs. The final run on a double by Chet Warner and single by Norm Bos was anticlimactic.

Norm Bos went the distance for Bouman allowing nine hits and taking the win. Case Velderman and Ed Stille hurled for North End with Velderman taking the loss. Together they allowed 12 safeties.

In the opener Main Auto coupled a lone single by Ralph Bouman with a walk and several Vet errors into a three run lead early in the second inning.

Auto hurler Jason Ebels was in complete control as three VFW singles were scattered in as many innings.

In the fifth the autos picked up another run as Leroy Tucker was safe on a fielder's choice and went all the way around on wild pitches.

Pressure mounted in the seventh when singles by Bill Franks and Larry Tebbets combined with two Auto errors to score three runs. But with one man on base and two outs, Ebels struck out the batter to end the inning and halt the VFW rally.

Ebels gave up five hits in winning, while Al Kraai did a masterful job in holding Main Auto to two hits but was charged with loss.

Delicious Foods Found at the Hub

Families throughout western Michigan have come to the conclusion that there are two good places to eat—at home and at the Hub Restaurant in Zeeland. Good news spreads fast and the Hub is still one of the restaurants that put meaning in "home-cooked meals."

There's never any "skimping" on quality. Pure, rich butter, fresh eggs and wholesome, healthful milk are used to fix favorite dishes.

There's a variety at every meal. In addition to choice in roasts or steaks, there's always several fresh vegetables along with Hub's famous salads and oven fresh, piping hot rolls. The Hub also is noted for its generous portions.

Are the mosquitoes as hungry at your house as at ours? They can be easily controlled by spraying the shrubs and lawn area with 50 percent wettable DDT to 100 hundred gallons of water. Repeat application when numbers again appear. Of course elimination of stagnant water will help. This can be done by either drainage or treatment with a light dose of pyrethrum and kerosene.

Lee Brown of Brown's elevator, Nunica reports malathion has worked as good as DDT once did in the controls of flies in the dairy barn. Lee says that Marvin Lubben of Nunica has had these results.

I have had many calls this past week on shade tree troubles. Leaves are dropping on many trees. In checking I find great numbers of aphids present. These are small green plant lice that suck the juice from the leaves causing curling and in time dropping. Use 1 teaspoon of Black Leaf 40 to a gallon of water or 1 pint to 100 gallons of water in addition use 1 teaspoon of Dreft to each gallon as a wetting agent.

It's time for onion growers to enroll in the Upson and Bushel Onion Club. This contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania Railroad is available to any Michigan grower-the grower producing the highest yield of U.S. No. 1 Onions on any one acre from a field of at least three acres will be crowned Michigan Onion King. Entries close on July 15. Send your name to the county agent if you are interested.

July 27 is the date of the annual Muck Day at Michigan State College. This is an all day affair held at the experimental farm at Bath, Mich. Robert Lucas and J. Fred Davis will show work in Hybrid Onion varieties, fumigation for nematode control, winter barley on muck, new insecticides and fungicides, irrigation techniques, chemical weed control in onions and asparagus. You can bring your own picnic lunch or buy your lunch on the grounds.

County Farmers Survey Damage From Heavy Rain

Agricultural Agent Reports Haying Delay; Corn, Pickles Flooded

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Ottawa County farmers were surveying the rain damage Friday and some of them were still trying to drain the water from their fields.

Although some crops suffered little damage from more than four inches of rainfall between Sunday and Tuesday, County Agricultural Agent Richard Machiele reported that "haying time" has been delayed and that some corn and pickles would have to be replanted.

"Corn is generally behind the crop of last year," Machiele said. He added, however, that much "rotted out" corn had to be replanted earlier because of previous heavy rain and cold weather.

Especially in the Vriesland-Forest Grove area, he said, the hay harvest is delayed for a couple of days because the clay soil is still too moist for haying. Also, much of the county's hay was "broken down," making it difficult to harvest.

According to Machiele, the best quality of hay is obtained when the harvest is not delayed. But he did not expect too large a loss in the county.

Machiele said that a great deal of wheat was also "down" because of the heavy rain. "It's almost impossible to harvest that way," he said. The wheat harvest, however, is still weeks away.

Most of the flooded corn and pickle fields are in the lowlands of the Holland-Zeeland area. "They're using the dead furrows in the fields and opening up the ditches to get rid of the water," Machiele explained.

He said that some of the pickle crop will definitely have to be replanted as a result of the flooded fields.

Machiele noted that relatively little damage was done to blueberries. He said that the pickers were out this morning.

One barn in the county, at Nunica, was burned after being struck by lightning. Machiele had no reports of county livestock killed, but said that one farmer in Kent County lost 25 cows that were struck.

Let's Plant Beauty! Now You Can Feed Your Lawn as You Sprinkle

Have you tried the new system of feeding your lawn and garden as you water? Though this system will probably not replace the use of bulk fertilizers, you will find yourself using it increasingly as you learn to appreciate its ease and effectiveness.

You have seen the ads. A water soluble plant food is placed in a pail of water. A gadget, with a tube which is placed in the pail, is attached to your water faucet and not more than 50 feet of hose attached to it. The plant nutrient is drawn slowly out of the pail as you water, and the plant is fed through its leaves as well as its roots. Be sure to read mixing directions.

We know that a plant can absorb nutrients only when they are in solution, that is, dissolved in water. In this system the food is immediately available. The chemicals are sufficiently diluted so there is no danger of burning, as is often the case in the careless use of dry fertilizers. We know too that plants should not be fed when they are dry. Watering and feeding at the same time eliminates this danger.

Nagelkirks became the parents of a daughter Margaret Ann on June 6.

All Big Things Aren't in Texas

Although he comes from the land of the "biggest" it took fishing in Lake Macatawa to convince little Carl McCullar of Dallas, Tex., that there's some mighty big things here too.

Nine-year-old Carl was fishing with his 13-year-old brother, Don, from the retaining wall on Lake Macatawa just opposite Sunny Brook Tourist Court Saturday when he hooked a 30-inch Northern Pike that weighed six pounds.

He had to summon help from his brother and Phil Strengtholt, owner of Gunny Brook, to reel in the whopper. Strengtholt finally netted the fish. Little Carl was fishing for perch with a small hook and an angle worm for bait.

And he was mighty excited. "I thought I was seeing things, and said that that can't be a fish," he told Strengtholt when he saw the fish in the net.

Carl and Don are vacationing at Sunny Brook with their mother while their father attends the furniture market in Grand Rapids.

His mother explained the boys don't fish very much in Dallas and it certainly was a thrill for them. They'll have some big stories to tell when they get home.

Grand Haven Officials Searching For Sewer Solution as Citizens Howl

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — City officials were studying storm sewer finance plans Friday as irate citizens demanded action and pointed to their still-flooded basements as evidence.

Monday night's city council meeting was jammed with complaints as almost 25 persons showed up to present their various flood problems. Many of them were howling over the three-inch water level in their cellars as a result of Sunday's deluge.

But Mayor Claude Ver Duin pointed out to the angry householders that the city had been working on a sewer plan for 18 months, but had run into trouble in obtaining state assistance for the truckline sewer along the new US-31 route.

This state aid, said Ver Duin could save the city up to $40,000 of an estimated $350,000 that has been set up as the minimum for an adequate storm sewer system throughout the city.

Besides, the mayor added, if other additional areas of the city were to be included in the project, the cost might run as high as $700,000. At present, the project includes only the "crucial" areas.

The Grand Haven Tribune, leading the citizens' voice in demanding action on the sewer problem, ran a front page damage report blank Wednesday and asked property owners who suffered losses to send them in.

"The actual expense already suffered by local property owners in dealing with floods already experienced might have gone a long way in financing the storm sewers," the Tribune declared editorially. "Certainly the losses that can be avoided in the future by their construction will help pay the cost."

Meanwhile, the city's Citizens Finance Committee met and decided to weigh several of the mayor's suggestions and meet again for recommendations.

And Grand Haven property owners were ready to make sure they did meet again—soon. They wanted action.

Camp Fire Day Camp to Open Next Week

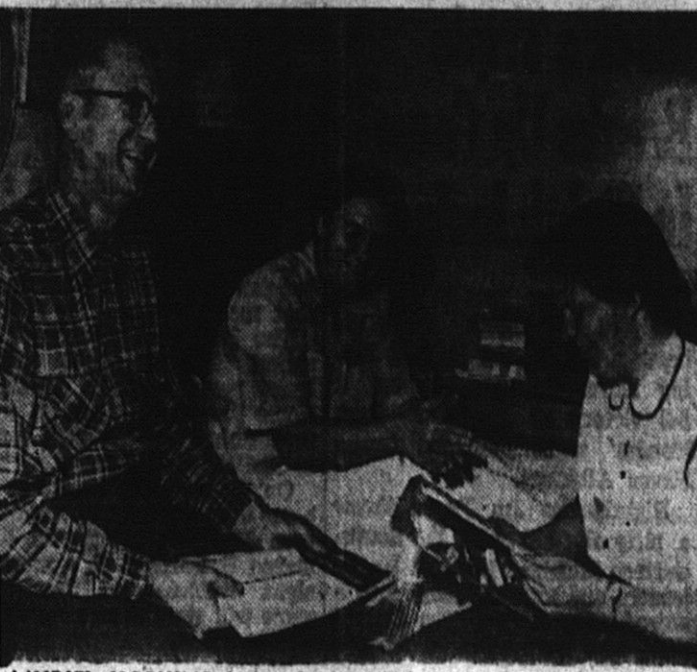

Local Girls Participate in Camp Activities

A highlight of the summer vacation for many local girls is the Camp Fire Day Camp which will open next week in Holland. For 5 weeks buses will leave the Camp Fire office on Central Ave., at 9 a.m. to transport an eager group of girls to Camp Kiwanis. Through the efforts of the Community Chest, Kiwanis Club and Holland Council of Camp Fire Girls an excellent schedule of activities will be supervised by a capable staff who in turn are assisted by older Camp Fire Girls as junior counselors. The camping program is carried out at little expense to participants. Games, nature study, handicraft, swimming and outdoor cooking are included on the roster of activities. Each Monday a nurse from the Health Department will check each camper. An approved American Red Cross swimming instructor is stationed on the waterfront at all times. Excellent sports equipment for the camp has been purchased with money the girls earned through candy and daffodil sales. Each day they assist in building fires and preparing part of their meal.

During the final two weeks, when older girls are in camp, they will stay overnight on Wednesday. Each Friday night is Family Night and families are invited to bring their supper and learn about the girls' week of activities. A Council Fire will be held this year on July 23, July 30 and Aug. 6 when girls will receive the beads they have earned during the week. Registration is closed for the week of July 12 but more girls may register for the other weeks, according to Mrs. Andries Steketee, local Camp Fire director.

In 1953, Federal restrictions against the sale of liquor to Indians were removed.

Muriel Hopkins, who had her left leg amputated four years ago, may be confined to her bed or wheel chair all the time these days, but she still finds time to do her bit for the community.

Unable to continue her summer work on the handicraft program at local playgrounds this season, Muriel has had several conferences with other recreational leaders to lay out this year's program.

And there's more involved to a handicraft program than one would suspect. There's a multitude of things like leathercraft, ceramics, string craft, braiding and knotting, leather tooling, reed work and some paper work, the latter mostly with smaller children. Of all subjects, ceramics is the most involved and that program alone includes a lot of other related art work.

The handicraft program this year is being supervised by Vida Harper, working under Joe Moran, city recreation director. Both have consulted Muriel on several occasions to get the 1954 summer program started.

Muriel, who now faces possible amputation of her right leg due to a circulatory ailment, has had more than her share of being in and out of all kinds of hospitals. She was graduated from Holland High School in 1943, one of the top girl athletes ever to go through local public schools. She enrolled in Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo with intentions of becoming a physical education teacher, participating freely in all types of sports—tennis, basketball, league softball and soccer.

It was during her sophomore year that she was injured at soccer which led to other troubles, climaxed four years ago with amputation of the left leg. She was out of school a year and intermittent illnesses caused a six-month delay in graduating, but she obtained her degree Jan. 23, 1949. The following month she went to Mayo clinic, the first of several visits to several hospitals.

After her leg was amputated, she shifted her interests to another career—occupational therapy and since then obtained 45 credit hours. Last Friday she was taken to Kalamazoo for her national board exams and while she had not been informed as to the outcome, she feels confident she passed the six-hour exam. Before taking her exams, she had nine months of affiliation work in Kalamazoo State Hospital, Sunnyside TB Sanitarium in Indianapolis, Mayo Clinic at Rochester and Minneapolis VA Hospital.

Switching from an active sports career to one of simple handicraft isn't the easiest change, but Muriel has absorbed her hobbies with interest. She has done a lot of sewing, studying and all the other crafts which absorb many hours. For five years she has had a long list of customers for Christmas cards as another sideline.

Probation Given On Homicide Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Genora Hill, Jr., 24, Muskegon, who pleaded guilty June 14 to a negligent homicide charge as the result of a fatal accident May 15 in which Richard Rickerd of Hart was killed, was placed on probation for one year when he appeared in Circuit Court Wednesday.

Conditions are that he pay $100 costs and surrender his operator's license for a year. The accident occurred in Crookery township west of Nunica.

Duncan Tucker, 18, Grand Haven, who was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury June 25 of a charge of larceny from a person, was placed on probation for three years. He also must serve 30 days in the county jail and pay $5 a month oversight fees.

Tucker was one of four involved in the theft of $75 and other effects from Harold Van Raalte, discharged U.S. soldier, last November at the North Shore Park. Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Haven, another of the four who was convicted of robbery-unarmed, is now serving a five to 15-year term at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

As terms of his probation, Tucker must return to high school in September and complete his last two years and get his diploma. The judge also ordered the sheriff not to allow Tucker any visitors outside of his family because the court does not want Tucker's sojourn in jail to be considered a holiday.

Mrs. Lucille Murner, 68, Grand Haven, who pleaded guilty June 14 to a charge of larceny from a store building, was placed on probation for a year and must pay $3 a month oversight fees. Competition Keen in Library Reading Plan

Who is going to be first to "Build a Library?" That's the question Holland youngsters are deciding in the current summer reading program at Holland Public Library.

More than 300 children have signed up for the unique program under which children paste "bricks" on a picture of a library building, according to librarian Mrs. Hazel Hayes.

Each book read is a "brick" and 50 bricks are needed to complete the building. Each child who enters has his name written on a picture of a building, and the number of bricks gives an accurate count of books read.

Highlight of the "Building a Library" program will be a party this fall for each boy or girl who completed 10 books. Diplomas will also be presented.

The contest is open to any child from first through ninth grades. Although the contest is already underway, registrations will be taken at any time. Closing date for the event is Sept. 4, the Saturday before school starts.

Children are encouraged to read for pleasure during the summer, and no written book reports will be required. Any type book may be read, providing it is not below the child's reading ability.

After 10 books have been read and the diploma earned, books from any grade level may be read to continue earning bricks for the library building.

If all the squares on a library building are not filled by the deadline, the child may continue to add bricks until his building is completed.

Miscues Mar Play In Legion League

Errors and Walks! That was the big problem in American Legion Junior league baseball's first contest at Riverview Park Wednesday night as H.E. Moore capitalized on First National Bank mistakes in an 18-4 victory.

Hilton and Ver Haven were on the mound for the Bankers, and Just couldn't stem the tide of Moore batters. Meanwhile, the Banker fielders were having a tough time hanging onto the ball.

The Moose squad scored in every inning except the third, accounting for seven runs in the fourth inning.

Winning pitcher was Northuis who was tagged for four hits. In the second contest at Riverview Park Elzinga-Volkers slammed out four runs in the first inning taking a lead they never gave up as they beat Padnos Iron and Metal 9-8.

Nykamp hit a second inning home run for the victors. Padnos got rolling in the fourth inning and pressure mounted as they pulled within one point of the winners. But nice infield play by Elzinga-Volkers cut short the rally.

Nykamp was the winning pitcher allowing 10 hits while Tornovich and Teusink shared duties for the losers.

Sun's Reflection Starts Auto Fire

A welder's torch and the sun rays caused fires Tuesday that resulted in extensive damage to two cars, firemen said.

Fire Chief Herman Windemuller said it appears the sun's rays reflecting off a mirror on the back shelf of a car owned by John Vish, Ottawa Beach summer resident, the car's interior on fire.

The interior of the '48 model car was badly damaged, Windemuller said. Seven firemen from Park Township No. 2 were on the scene for about 20 minutes. The car was parked near the main entrance to the park.

Sparks from a welder's torch hit the gasoline tank and set a car owned by James Craig, route 4 on fire late Tuesday afternoon. The car was inside the Service Machine Co. shop, 44 West Third St., when the blaze broke out.

The car was driven outside before flames could damage the shop. Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen said the rear end of the car was extensively damaged.

'No Cause' Is Ruled In Directed Verdict

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith gave a directed verdict of no cause of action Monday afternoon in the case of Allen E. Roberts who sought $30,000 damages from Marvin Haveman, both of Allendale, for injuries received in an auto accident Jan. 3, 1953.

Judge Smith gave the directed verdict on the grounds that plaintiff had not shown freedom from contributory negligence. Roberts who was the last to testify told the court he had a complete loss of memory on the subject and also had suffered from amnesia during the intervening time.

Only eyewitnesses were the defendant and a brother of the plaintiff. The brother said he did not know the car was going to be hit until the actual impact. Plaintiff was unconscious in a hospital for three or four weeks after the crash.

Wilsons Visit European Landmarks

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Wilson, 17 West 10th St., who returned last week from a six-month tour of Europe, are pictured here with a Yeoman Warder, or "Beefsteak" at the Tower of London. Their visit to Britain was a climax of their tour. They met the "Beefsteak" when they toured the City of London, the square mile which covers the site of the original Roman settlement called Londinium, on the banks of the River Thames.

The Wilsons toured the Medierranean area on a 66-day cruise on the "Britannia" and visited many other countries. They spent some time in the Netherlands and visited the province of Maastricht where they were guests of the Burgemeester, Baron van Kessel. Maastricht is 10 miles from the U.S. National Military cemetery where 20,000 American soldiers are buried. The graves are adopted by various young people of Maastricht in a project conducted by Baroness van Kessel. The Wilsons visited the cemetery while in the country.

60 Days Allowed To Raze Houses

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — At the conclusion of a condemnation hearing in Circuit Court Wednesday afternoon, Judge Raymond L. Smith ordered Walter E. Anderson of Muskegon to raze two houses at 306 River Ave. and 312 River Ave. in Holland within 60 days.

Two suits has been filed against Anderson by Joseph A. Childs, commissioner of the Michigan State Police, involving the two dilapidated buildings. Anderson was ordered to show cause why an order should not be entered requiring him to correct and abate the fire hazard. The original order dated March 8 gave Anderson 30 days to raze the buildings and remove all rubbish and debris.

Holland persons present at the hearing were James E. Townsend, city attorney, and John Otting, fire inspector.

Anderson previously had petitioned City Council to rezone the properties commercial in order to build a service station. The request was referred to the planning commission which recommended no change be made.

School Expansion Sites Considered At Special Meet

Van Raalte Residents Warned of Increased Class Room Needs

Two sites for future school expansion were presented Friday at a special "information meeting" for members of the Van Raalte school district, east of Holland on 16th St.

The school board also was recently informed that the federal government would not approve the hot lunch program for the coming school year unless changes were made in kitchen facilities.

The facilities, which were approved in 1951, are in the old part of the building. Estimates on costs for changing the kitchen run about $1,500.

In other action the board said one new room is absolutely essential before the fall term. Plans call for fixing up the basement for the fifth room.

Although present enrollment is 130, school board members warned that census figures show that enrollment in 1958 will be at least 250 students, a sharp increase.

A report by a special "Citizens Committee" informed the group that two sites are being considered for the necessary expansion. One is the John Hulst property on Whitbridge (Eighth St.) between Glendale and Fairview Sts., while the other is the Poppema property on Whitbridge near the "Y" intersection of Whitebridge St. and Paw Paw Dr.

No plans for building or discussions for bond issues were made at this meeting. It is expected that a decision will be forthcoming at the annual school meeting July 12.

Members of the school board include president Gerald Den Bleyker, secretary James Slager, treasurer Ben Van Slooten, Jr., and trustees Earl Schipper and Richard Van Eyk.

On the special citizens committee were George Lemmen, Peter Van Eyk, Marvin Geerlings, Ralph Whitehead and John Vanden Berge.

About 100 persons attended the special meeting.

Mack's Triple Breaks Up Game In Eighth Inning

Scoring three runs in the bottom of the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie, the Holland Flying Dutchmen whacked out a 5-2 victory at Rview Park Monday night over the Grand Haven Athletics.

Righthander Jim Boeve threw a nifty five-hitter at the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league leaders and knocked them into a second-place tie with the Dutchmen, who were elevated from a third-place knot with the Zeeland Chix. All alone in first are the South Haven Merchants with a 2-1 record.

It was Paul Mack's long triple with two on that broke the tie in the eighth. After a two-run second inning, the Dutchmen had been held scoreless as Grand Haven's Loren Cook slammed the door and allowed only two hits.

But Bob Van Dyke opened the eighth with a single and Lou Humbert entered the basepaths on the third baseman's error. Then catcher Ron Boeve walked to load the bases.

Van Dyke came home when Al Dykema went out, pitcher to first, to give Holland a 3-2 lead. But it was up to Mack to give the Dutchmen their three-run bulge.

Holland collected two runs in the second on three hits as Lou Humbert singled, Ron Boeve tripled and Dick Plagenhoef singled after Dykema and Mack had gone out. In all, the Dutchmen garnered seven hits with Ron Boeve getting a triple and a single.

Never did the Athletics get more than one hit in an inning as Boeve showed excellent control and struck out seven. Grand Haven picked up its first run in the third on a walk and a triple and tied the game in the fifth on Westerhof's home run.

Cook fanned 10 Dutchmen, but ran into the two big innings that meant the win for Holland.

The Dutchmen move back into action Thursday night with a home game against Muskegon Home Furnace, a powerful squad that dished out a 16-2 licking to Holland in Muskegon.

On Monday, the Dutchmen will host their traditional Independence Day rivals, powerful Kalamazoo Sutherland, in a morning-night doubleheader. The first game will start at 10 a.m., the second at 8 p.m.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.

More than 100 women attended an all-Michigan meeting of the American Society of Women Accountants Saturday at Macatawa Hotel.

Registration started at 9 a.m. Sightseeing, boat rides, golf, tennis and swimming was enjoyed until luncheon in the dining room at noon.

The invocation was given by L. May Bender and the welcome to Holland was given by Irma K. Hoeland, president of the Holland chapter. Gretchen E. Ming, president-elect of the local chapter, made introductions.

Discussion period opened at 2 p.m. in the ballroom of the hotel with Miss Hoeland presiding.

Included in the topics for discussion were "Musical Figures" by the Muskegon chapter, Norma Griesbach and Hazel Howard;

"The Filing of Permanent Chapter Records," Detroit chapter, Jean Curry, C.P.A.; "Our Legislation Program," Grand Rapids chapter, Elizabeth Sage.

"Our Education Program" was presented by Lansing chapter, Ruth Mossman, C.P.A.; "Chapter Meeting Programs," Saginaw chapter, Margie Perry; and "Nightmares or Pleasant Dreams," Muskegon chapter, Elizabeth Shannessy, Hazel Howard and Margaret Durham.

After the discussion period a coffee kletz was held at 4 p.m. followed by an informal social hour.

Miss Ming was general chairman for the all-day meeting. Assisting her were Agnes Callan, decorations; Cecilia Ver Hage, entertainment; Bonnie Stoltz, finance; Minnie Haan, program, Gertrude Frans publicity; Jeanette Mulder, registration, and Ann Brower, reservations.

Using a Dutch theme, members received an identification tag in the form of a wooden shoe. Tables, attractively decorated with red and white carnations, bore Dutch names on a cardboard shoe using Dutch terms. Guests matched the names on their lapel cards to the names on the tables in finding their places.

Graveside Rites Held

Graveside services were held this afternoon at Olive Center Cemetery for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heerspink who was dead at birth at Holland Hospital Monday morning. Surviving are the parents who reside at route 2; three sisters, Mrs. Theodore Renkema of Holland, Leona June and Donna Joy at home; one brother, Henry J. at home and the maternal grandfather, John Harsevoort of Holland.

The Salvation Army has more than 5,000 officers in the United States.
