Local Dog Pound Gets Attention In Grand Haven

Supervisors Discuss Possibility of Moving County Extension Office

GRAND HAVEN (Special) —Subjects ranging from improving conditions at the Holland city dog pound to the possibility of moving the county extension office from Grand Haven to Allendale were discussed at a second-day meeting of the Board of Supervisors Tuesday in the court house.

Besides that, the possibility of raising tax rate limitations by one mill for county road improvements the next three years was referred to the prosecutor for examination and the preparation of the necessary petitions which ultimately could call for a special election. The prosecutor will report at an adjourned session Friday afternoon.

Three Holland women led by Mrs. Floyd Koopman appeared Tuesday and received assurance from Martin Boon, chairman of the sheriff's committee, that the situation at the Holland dog pound will be improved in a short time. Boon said the sheriff is willing to share expenses in improving the pound estimated at $350 plus a gas chamber.

Mayor Robert Visscher of Holland suggested that women concerned with conditions at the pound could aid immeasurably in the problem if they would engage in an educational program so that people would not let their dogs run at large. "These dogs shouldn't be allowed to run all over and there's no excuse for having 25 to 30 dogs in the dog pound," Mayor Visscher said. Visscher said.

City Manager Herb Holt of Holland said Council has included $200 in its new budget effective July 1 to be used for a sanitary execution chamber and an exercise pen. He also said a new poundmaster has been employed with the city's share at $35 a week, an increase of $5, and the mileage allowance has been changed from a flat $150 a year to six cents a mile. Holt also said that the fact that the county has a surplus on its dog program while the city has a deficit would seem to indicate an improper revenue structure.

Three members of the Ottawa County Farm Bureau expressed the need for a more central location of the county extension office, suggesting that Allendale would more adequately serve the majority of farms and would give farmers easier and quicker access to the services they require. The group included Matthew Adema of Tallmadge township, bureau president, Hilbert Holleman of Byron Center and Tony Medema of Blendon township. It was pointed out Ottawa county has 3,400 farmers and the bureau has a membership of about 1,500. An individual who has three acres of land or $500 of agricultural income is considered a farmer.

It was suggested that the present school building might be available for the office after the new Allendale school now under construction is completed. The request was referred to the agricultural committee for further study and report back at the October session.

Wednesday, Aug. 10, was set aside as the day for the annual county employees' picnic to be held at Camp Pottawatomie. The court house will be closed for the day and supervisors and their families will join in the event.

A resolution presented by the agricultural committee recommending that the program for testing for Bangs disease on a strict test and slaughter basis on Trumble of bureau of the animal husbandry at Lansing gave statistics pointing to a substantial decline in incidence of Bangs disease since the county-wide program was launched in 1949.

A resolution presented by the county officers committee whereby county employees under the Municipal Employees' retirement act may come under coordinated program with Social Security was adopted.

Picnickers Asked To Be Considerate

If you're planning a picnic at Holland State Park this weekend, it wouldn't be such a bad idea to cart your own table along.

Park Manager Clare Broad said that there has been a shortage of picnic tables all season and that a heavy weekend would make things even worse.

"Visitors would be very wise to bring card tables," he said.

Broad asked that those using the park's tables be considerate of others and clear their things off right after eating to give someone else a chance to use them. He also requested that visitors help park officials by throwing their trash in the containers provided.

He reported that he would have extra life guards on duty this weekend. Recently hired for full-time duty was Braxton Pounders, 21, of Saugatuck. Dave Milanowski, 21, of Grand Rapids, was hired earlier.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN KILLED — Gordon Walsh, 31, of Grand Rapids, was the driver of what was once a 1941 model car before it crashed on M-21 between Hudsonville and Grandville early Sunday morning. Walsh was killed instantly. His nephew, Elwin Raymond, 25, Grand Rapids, escaped with minor facial cuts. The car hit a guard pole, similar to the one at right, and flew through the air for 84 feet, clearing the guard pole shown before crashing to earth. The entire right side of the car was ripped off when it smashed sideways into the pole.

CRASH KILLS ONE, INJURES FOUR—A 1951 model car (background) carried a Grand Rapids girl to her death Sunday afternoon when it was struck broadside by a southbound car (right) on US-31 at James St. Blond haired, 16-year-old Sharon Boogard of Grand Rapids, died of her injuries in Holland Hospital four hours after the accident. Her twin sister, Shirley, and four others were injured. Deputies said the death car, westbound on James St., apparently failed to stop at the intersection and drove into the path of a car carrying an Indiana couple. The car rolled over on its top pinning the Boogard sisters and the driver, Richard Thurber, 21, Wayland, inside.

Grand Rapids Girl Dies in Hospital; Twin Sister Hurt

Car Apparently Failed To Stop at James St.; Attracts Large Crowd

A Grand Rapids girl on her way to Holland State Park Sunday afternoon was killed and her twin sister injured along with three others in a two-car crash at US-31 and James St.

Sharon Boogard, 16, Grand Rapids, died in Holland Hospital four hours after the accident at 6:30 p.m. from a crushed chest and a skull fracture.

Her sister, Shirley, received a head injury and multiple cuts and bruises. The driver of their car, Richard Thurber, 21, Wayland, received body bruises and lacerations. Both are in "good" condition at Holland Hospital.

The driver of the other car, John Baswell, 34, Michigan City, Ind., received a fractured right ankle and a possible dislocated shoulder. His wife, Fannie Mae, 30, received compound fractures of both arms, the left leg and suffered the possible loss of sight in her left eye.

The Indiana couple were treated at Holland Hospital and then taken by ambulance to Michigan City Hospital later Sunday afternoon.

Ottawa County deputies said the accident occurred when Thurber apparently failed to stop at James St., and drove out onto the highway in front of the southbound Indiana car.

The impact knocked Thurber's car into an open field where it overturned. Deputies and passing motorists were forced to roll the car back on its wheels before the Grand Rapids residents could be removed.

Deputy Bud Grysens was patrolling US-31 a mile south of the accident and arrived on the scene in minutes followed by deputies Len Ver Schure and Rich Bell.

Three ambulances removed four of the injured and the fifth was taken to the hospital in Ver Schure's station wagon which is equipped with a stretcher. Hundreds of motorists converged on the scene, apparently attracted by the sirens of ambulances and patrol cruisers. Holland police were waiting along streets in the city to clear a route for the ambulances.

Park Attendance Takes Slight Cut

Some chilly weather cut attendance at Ottawa Beach compared to last weekend, but not much.

More than 35,000 people were recorded Friday, Saturday and Sunday to bring the total attendance for the week to 64,721 and the year's tally to 454,516.

Last weekend, more than 40,000 persons visited the park during a hot, humid spell.

Attendance Friday was 6,990; Saturday, 13,450 and Sunday, 15,071.

A cool northwest wind had driven the water temperature down to 55 by this morning.

The wind started whipping area beaches about 3 Saturday afternoon, and made sun bathing a little rough for the rest of the afternoon.

Total camping permits at the park were 218 last week to bring the year's total to 650, about 40 percent ahead of last year.

While camping spaces, both tent and trailer, are plentiful, Park Manager Clare Broad warned area residents to register early this week if they plan to be camping during the Fourth of July weekend.

He pointed out that there is always an influx of tents and trailers for this weekend, and asked area residents to cooperate so the park's registration system would not be so jammed next weekend.

All reports indicated that the perch run was still holding up, with many fishermen getting their limit this morning.

A visitor from Virginia caught a 38½-inch northern pike off Chippewa Point in Lake Macatawa Tuesday.

Ottawa, Allegan Draft Quotas Set for August

Ottawa and Allegan Counties each must furnish 10 men for the draft during August, according to an announcement today by state selective service headquarters in Lansing.

August draftees will be at least 21 years of age or older, Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state director of selective service, said. He added that most of the August calls were expected to be filled by volunteers. The August total is 24 more than the July draft call but is still the lowest draft call this year.

Pvt. Hulst entered the Army last December and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

ENDS LONG POSTAL CAREER—Assistant Postmaster John Grevenoged spent his last day at his desk in the Holland post office today, completing 49 years and 10 months of service with the local system. During his career, he served under five postmasters, G. Van Schelven, William O. Van Eyck, Adrian J. Westveer, Louis J. Vandenberg and Harry Kramer.

Assistant Postmaster Retires Here Today

John Grevenoged, who became assistant postmaster at the Holland post office in 1924, spent his last day at work in the local office today, rounding out nearly 50 years of service with the local postal system.

When Grevenoged joined the local staff as a regular clerk Sept. 1, 1905, the office force consisted of as postmaster, an assistant postmaster, five city carriers and 10 rural carriers (horse and buggy days).

After a half century, the local post office now employs three supervisors, 16 clerks, 22 city carriers, six rural carriers, 15 substitutes and three custodial employees.

Fifty years ago, total postal receipts for the year were $18,000. Today, the receipts amount to approximately $450,000, or 25 times the volume of business back in 1905.

In 1905, G. Van Schelven was the postmaster, Adrian J. Westveer was the assistant postmaster. The three clerks were John H. Kramer, father of today's postmaster, Harry Kramer; Clarence Fairbanks and William J. Damson. Westveer is the only survivor, and it is a coincidence that Grevenoged is retiring 20 years to the day that Westveer retired as postmaster.

The Holland post office was allowed a superintendent of mails July 1, 1917, and Grevenoged was the first to hold this position. When A.J. Westveer became postmaster July 19, 1924, Grevenoged was elevated to the post of assistant postmaster.

During his postal career, Grevenoged has served under five postmasters, G. Van Schelven, William O. Van Eyck, Adrian J. Westveer, Louis J. Vandenberg and Harry Kramer.

Back in 1905, the post office was located in the present Woolworth building, covering half of the floor space. The other half was occupied by First State Bank, now First National Bank. The Post Office moved to its present building opposite Centennial Park in 1915. At that time it became a first class post office, reaching the $40,000 mark in receipts per year.

Throughout the years, Grevenoged has been active in the work of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed Church. He served as a member of the consistory about 25 years, 13 of them spent as clerk.

The veteran postal worker marked his 70th birthday anniversary on June 13. Under civil service regulation, his retirement is mandatory the beginning of the following month. Had he served another two months, he would have rounded out a full 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Grevenoged live at 78 West 15th St. Their four children are all married. There are 12 grandchildren.

More Than 300 Registered for Swim Lessons

More than 300 have already registered for swimming lessons, Recreation Director Joe Moran reported today.

But Moran said that there is still plenty of room in the swimming program and even dropped the minimum age from 8 to 7 to allow more youngsters to participate.

Cosponsored by the Recreation Department and the Red Cross, the program includes two three-week sessions, from July 5 to 22 and from July 25 to Aug. 12.

Six classes of swimming instruction are given—beginner, intermediate, swimmer, junior lifesaving, advanced lifesaving and senior lifesaving.

Those who wish to register in the program may do so by obtaining a blank at the recreation office in Lincoln School at the corner of Lincoln Ave. and 10th St.

Periods reserved for Holland swimmers start at 12:35, 1:20, 2:20 and 3:10. These are the times when buses leave from Lincoln School.

The 1:20 period in the first session is already filled for beginners and intermediates.

Instruction is given in both the morning and afternoon, but the mornings are reserved for students from outlying communities.

Senior lifesaving students must be 16 or over. Those under 16 may take advanced lifesaving, however.

A registration fee of $1.50 is required from each person.

Directing the program again this year will be Ned Stuits. His instructors are Mary Sangster, Joyce Alverson, Nancy Lindgren, Chuck Rubin and Bobbie De Boer. Helpers are Ellen Rubin, Jeannie Jarvis and Mary Anne De Vries.

Chippewa Water Given Health OK

Parents who are worried about the safety of the water at the new site of Red Cross swimming instruction can take relief from the state health department's recent report.

Ned Stuits, who is heading the swimming lessons again this year, announced today that the water of Chippewa Point had been okayed in all respects after a recent investigation.

There is still a lot of room for those who wish to take lessons in either of the two periods, from July 5 to 22 or July 25 to Aug. 12.

Those interested should register at the recreation office in Lincoln School today or Friday. Stuits will hold a meeting tonight at 7 with his six water safety instructors and four helpers. Jim Sebastian has been added to the list of helpers.

Group Proposes Toilet Building For Ottawa Beach

State Commission May Approve Outlay For $30,000 Next Week

LANSING (Special) —Holland State Park will get a new combination toilet, laundry and shower building soon if the Michigan Conservation Commission approves a $30,000 recommendation next week.

Arthur C. Timer, chief of the Conservation Department's parks and recreation division, told The Sentinel this morning that his office had recommended that amount for the new building.

The Commission meets next Wednesday and Thursday at Higgins Lake to study proposed expenditures totalling $450,000 for Michigan's state parks and recreation areas.

Elmer said that the building would be for the new oval section that was constructed last year at the park. At present, temporary outdoor toilet structures are being used by campers there.

If approved, fixtures in the new building would be connected to existing sewer and water lines in the park.

The parks and recreation division has recommended that most of the $450,000 be spent on 22 of the state's 57 parks and recreation areas.

The state Legislature appropriated $800,000 for capital outlay during the coming fiscal year but stipulated that $300,000 be spent on Sterling Park near Monroe and limited land purchases to $50,000.

Besides Holland, other recommended outlays from the remaining $450,000 are:

Development project in Yankee Springs recreation area southwest of Hastings, $92,800.

Construction in Hayes State Park west of Clinton, $28,000.

Construction in Bay City State Park, $26,000.

Holly recreation area, $26,000; Ortonville recreation area, $25,000; Proud Lake and Waterloo recreation areas, $20,000 each; Island Lake recreation area, $14,000.

Gary Essenburg, 19, route 1, Zeeland, a passenger in a car driven by Melvin Swartz, 19, Grand Rapids, were treated for lacerations at Zeeland Hospital and released.

Judy Verecke, 18, route 2, Zeeland, a passenger in a car driven by Delores Heihn, 19, route 3, Hudsonville, was also treated for minor facial cuts.

Ottawa County deputies said Miss Heihn was making a left turn off the Boreulo Rd. when her car was struck by the northbound Essenburg car.

The entire left side of Miss Heihn's car was torn off by the impact as it slid into a nearby field. Deputies said Essenburg's car skidded 132 feet before the impact.

Deputies said both the Essenburg '55 model car and the '53 model car driven by Miss Heihn were total losses.

Divorce Granted

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—A divorce decree was granted in Ottawa Circuit Court Wednesday to Ellen Owen from Frank Owen, both of Holland. Mrs. Owen was restored her former name of Ellen Chispeil.

CITY ASSESSOR WILLIAM KOOP (left) and Mayor Robert Visscher study chart which points out that 60 percent of summer taxes levied this year will go for schools and 40 percent for city operations. Thousands of tax bills, some of which are on table in foreground, will be in the mail in a few days. Charts like the one displayed here are on display in the city treasurer's office and in the city assessor's office. (Sentinel photo)

Summer Tax Bills Will Be Mailed in Few Days

In the next day or two, local owners will be receiving their summer tax bills. And—as expected—the bills are going to be a bit higher this year.

Total amount of taxes spread this summer is $1,053,492.87, with 40 per cent for the city and 60 per cent for schools.

This year's total is $180,256.52 more than last summer's tax levy of $873,236.35. Of this year's figure, the increase for the city is 20 per cent or $35,069.70 (which also includes estimated first year payments on bond and interest for the new hospital addition).

The increase for schools amounts to $145,186.82 or 80 percent of the total increase of the summer tax levy.

The 1955 assessed valuation for real and personal property in the city is $30,133,970 on which the tax rate is $34.98 per $1,000 valuation. The assessed valuation was increased $6,368,770 this year, placing the assessment at 80 percent of basic values.

Assessed valuation in 1954 was $23,765,200 with a tax rate of $36.77 per $1,000 valuation. Under the 1954 valuations, the new rate would have been $44.33 per $1,000 valuation.

Deadline for summer taxes is Aug. 15. After that date a 2 percent penalty will be added until Sept. 10. After that, the penalty will be 6 percent.

Two-County Meeting Held In Mental Health Interest

More than 45 citizens representing all sections of Allegan and Ottawa counties heard an address by Harold Webster, executive secretary of Michigan Society for Mental Health, at a dinner Tuesday evening at Cumerford's restaurant.

He told the group that in Michigan today there are more than 30,000 patients in our mental hospitals. Less than half of them will return to society. About 85 percent of them could have been treated successfully, he said. But there are more than 4,000 additional persons who need and are begging for hospital treatment.

Webster said one out of every 12 children born each year faces hospitalization for mental or emotional disorders some time in life. He said success in treatment depends on early recognition and early treatment. With more research, more knowledge, more doctors and other needed personnel and more awareness on the part of our citizens and lawmakers, perhaps the toll could be mercifully cut to one in 50 or even one in 100.

Establishment of child guidance clinics in the state was an early step in preventing mental illnesses, he said. Clinical experience showed that many children with serious mental illness were being sent inappropriately to juvenile detention homes, adult wards of state hospitals or to corrective vocational schools, because of lack of residential psychiatric treatment centers.

Mr. Webster suggested several ways in which the average citizen could effectively participate in a program for bettering conditions in the state. A group representing two counties such as attended the meeting Tuesday night could plan several meetings a year to lay groundwork for more public participation in an educational program, he said. The Michigan Society for Mental Health could aid such group planning with program outlines, films, and experienced leadership, by relating the local group to the Michigan Society of Mental Health.

There could be a strong tieup with efforts in the state through PTAs, federated women's clubs, church groups and farm organizations. The society aids in pulling together the leadership in the community, he said.

At the close of the meeting, the group voted to explore the possibility of forming an Allegan-Ottawa committee. Each county chose three representatives to act as a temporary coordinating committee.

Mrs. George Stephens and Mrs. Robert Horner of Holland Branch, American Association of University Women, and Mrs. Charles Lininger, who has been active in establishment of a nursery school, made arrangements for the meeting. They were assisted by several others in both counties. Mrs. Horner presided. The Rev. Christian Walvoord gave the invocation.

Holland persons attending were Dr. Donald Hogue, William Vander Lugt, Mrs. Henry Rottschaefer, Florence Vander Woude, Mrs. Charles Van Duren, Mrs. Bert Selles, Harry Harrington, Walter W. Scott, the Rev. E. M. Ruhlig, Mrs. E. W. Hyde, Gerrit Keuning and Judge Fred T. Miles.

Others present were Roy H. Lowing of Jensen, chairman of Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge, State Rep. Ben E. Lohman of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wise, Dr. A. B. Mitchell and G. Ray Sturgis of Allegan; Mrs. Leona Ver Meer, Hudsonville; Jennie Kaufman, Judge Jacob Ponstein, Steven Mead, R. Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Ben Grosse of Grand Haven; L. G. ## Keep Those Butts In Car, Smokers

Watch those cigaret butts, motorists.

That was the warning issued by Fire Chief Herman Windemuller of Park Township Dept. No. 2 today after a grass fire came close to burning the residence of John Woldring on James St. Tuesday afternoon.

The fire was discovered at 1:45 by a neighbor, George Dryer. The Woldrings were not at home and Dryer kept the fire away from the garage and house until the fire department arrived.

Grass was burned all around the garage and around a dog coop, which was not occupied.

Windemuller said he was sure the fire was started by a cigaret butt thrown out by a driver or passenger since it started so close to the road. He warned that it was extremely dry and that everyone should take extra care to keep butts in the car ashtrays.

Another grass fire was answered by Windemuller's department Monday at the George De Feyter home on Lakewood Blvd. It started at 11:20 a.m. and was caused by burning paper blowing out of an incinerator. There was no damage.

Athletic Passes Give Holland 1st Place All Alone

Wildness cost the Grand Haven Athletics first place in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball League Monday night and handed it to the Flying Dutchmen by an 8-7 count.

Trailing 5-2 in the bottom of the eighth, the Dutchmen needed only three hits when Athletic hurlers dished out five walks and allowed six runs.

That gave Holland an 8-5 margin which the Athletics tried hard to erase but they could manage only two runs in the ninth.

As it was, it was extremely undramatic when Ted Schreur walked across the plate for Holland with the eventual winning run, forced in from third when Ken Van Tatenhove walked with the bases loaded.

All three men on base, Schreur, Art Hagge and Jack Kempker, had walked, too.

In the ninth, a walk and two singles pulled Grand Haven back into contention, but Jack Gragg saved the victory for starter Dave Schreur by getting pinch-hitter Johnson to pop up to catcher Ron Coeve.

The win put Holland back into undisputed possession of first place and broke a three-game losing streak. Holland's league record is now 4-2 while Grand Haven has 3-3 for a third place tie with South Haven.

In second place are the Fennville Merchants with 3-2. They get a chance to tie Holland for the top spot tonight when they travel to Zeeland for a makeup game against the Chix.

The Dutchmen looked bad in the first inning as Grand Haven pushed across three runs on a lone single. Schreur gave up a single to John Hatch, then walked the bases full with passes to Pat Kambout and Bill MacPhee.

Schreur then hit opposing starter Ken Clark, forcing in a run. Then an error by second-baseman Bob Van Dyke handed the Athletics two more runs.

Van Dyke, who has taken his release from minor league duty for the Boston Red Sox, played his first game for the Dutchmen this season and had a bad night all the way around. He struck out three times in four trips to the plate.

The Dutchmen pulled up to 3-2 in the bottom of the first without a hit — using two errors, a walk, wild pitch and sacrifice fly.

Fourth run for Grand Haven came in the third the same way, this time on an error, wild pitch and fielder's choice.

Grand Haven took its 5-2 lead in the seventh on doubles by Emery Holzinger and Kambout.

Clark, who had been riding along on a two-hitter for seven innings, gave up singles to pinch-hitter Rog Smith and Van Tatenhove and a walk to Dick De Freese.

Ron Fortney's single brought in a pair of runs. After two Dutchmen went out, a fielder's choice and four straight walks clipped Clark's successors, Pete Fisher and Kambout.

Twelve men went to the plate for Holland in the eighth. The Dutchmen picked up five hits during the game, the Athletics a half-dozen.

Next game for Holland is Thursday when they travel to Grand Haven.

Prison Sentence Given In Armed Robbery Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — James Hilton, 19, of 238 1/2 West Main St., Zeeland, who pleaded guilty June 13 to a charge of attempted armed robbery, was sentenced Tuesday to serve 18 months to five years in Southern Michigan prison at Jackson with recommendation that he serve the minimum term and also be sent to Cassidy Lake to enable him to finish his high school education.

Hilton allegedly held up a West Olive grocery store owned by Bert Beckman in Port Sheldon township last Dec. 4. He also has admitted that he committed a burglary last Dec. 3 in Greenville where he obtained several guns, one of which was used in the West Olive attempted holdup.

Two of the guns were later found in a creek near Van Raalte school on 16th St. in Holland.

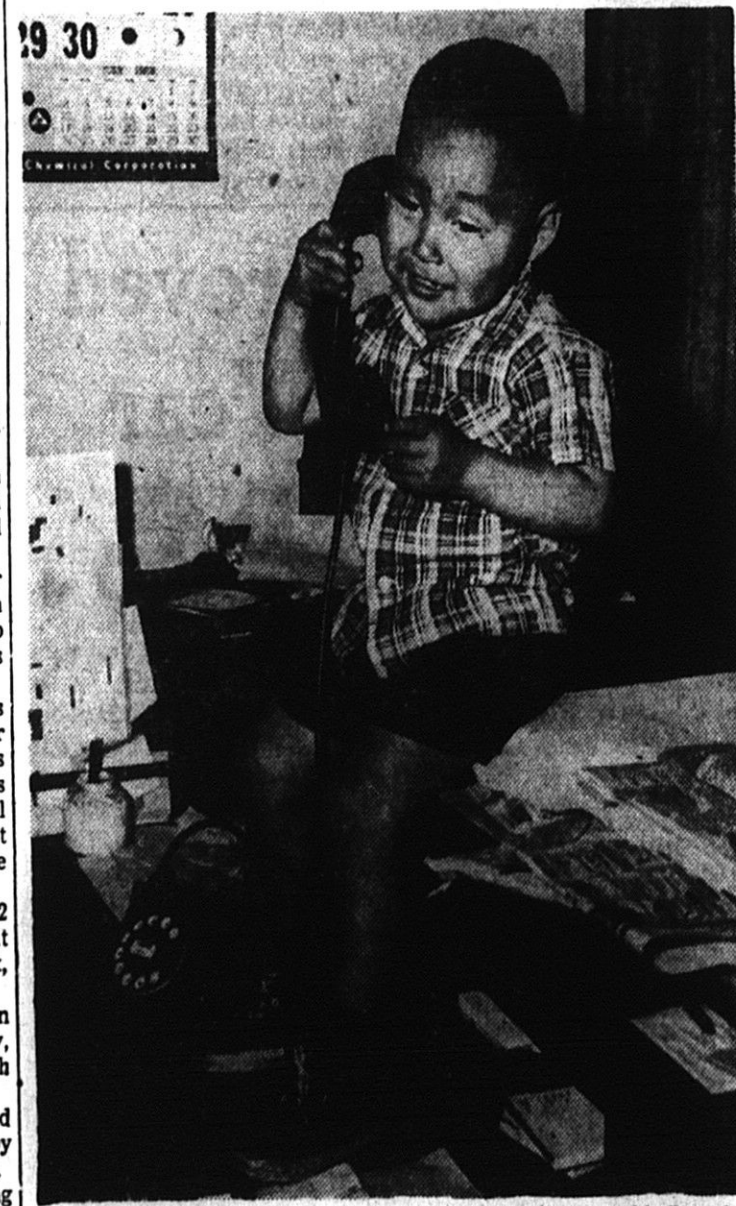

MACATAWA, 1892—This group gathered at the end of Mishawaka Ave., at Macatawa Park for an afternoon of sunning and wading in the summer of 1892. The picture is a photograph of a photograph owned by Mrs. Jeanette H. Kremer, who now lives at 2060 32nd St. She remembers watching the photographer at work with these subjects even though she was just a child at the time. Pictured are (left to right) Helen Hubbard; an unidentified child; Ebertha Roelofs, of Grand Rapids, who now owns an exclusive country day school in Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. J. S. Hughes (Mrs.

LATEST ADDITIONS—Members of the Phillip F. Aman family, of 112th Ave., (route 3, Holland) are all smiles when anyone mentions the latest additions to their group. Twin girls arrived about a month ago, making the second set of twins in the family. The Aman's now have six daughters and one son. Pictured above from left to right are Lillian Veronica, 4; Marcella Maria, 10, who is holding Stephanie Mae, four weeks; Mrs. Aman and Michael Francis, 1 year; Margaret Mary, 10, holding Suzanne Marie, four weeks, and Phyllis Anne, 2 years. (Sentinel photo)

ALASKA WAS NEVER LIKE THIS — Two-year-old Bumsie Williams, whose home is a tiny fishing village in Alaska, finds all sorts of things fascinating in Holland, from ice cream sodas, cars and especially TV and the telephone. Bumsie — visiting here for the summer with Mr. and Mrs. David Karsten, who teach in his native Yakutat — can't resist the phone and was happy to "make a call" for Sentinel photographers. Bumsie — with his big brown eyes and brand new crew cut, it hard to resist, too — especially when he turns on that winning little Indian grin. (Sentinel photo)

Bumsie Gets Big Thrill Out of American Gadgets

A two-year-old Alaska boy with big black eyes and a friendly smile is rapidly getting acquainted with the Holland version of the American way of life. He's enjoying this adventure tremendously.

John George ("Bumsie") Williams, Jr., arrived here last week with former residents, Mr. and Mrs. David Karsten who for several years now have been teaching grade school in the small fishing village of Yakutat, Alaska.

The boy's mother is presently in a sanatorium and won't be home before the end of August. That's why "Bumsie" made the long trip to Michigan. His father, who's acting postmaster in his home-town, already has two other children on his hands during the long summer vacation.

So now miracles are highlighting the little Indian's life every day. His greatest discovery is T.V.

"He calls it Kee Pee," says Mrs. Karsten. "He gets wild when there are dancers on the screen. He can watch them for hours."

Then there's that other mystery, the telephone. Given the opportunity to handle this exciting gadget, the boy usually does more looking than listening as if The Voice at the Other End might materialize from the earphone any minute.

Cars are equally fascinating to "Bumsie." So far, he had known only the open jeeps that slowly bump over Yakutat's unpaved streets.

"We flew from Alaska to Seattle where we store our car for the winter," says Mrs. Karsten. "Then we drove all the way to Holland. A long, long trip of several days. But he didn't get bored at all for every passing car was an event for him."

Junior Citizens Receive Awards

Winners in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Citizenship contest were honored at a meeting of the Jaycees Tuesday night in Cumerford's restaurant.

Norman Wanger, chairman of the contest committee, awarded cups to Sonja Lee Bouwman and Suzanne De Pree, winners of the two divisions. Certificates of merit went to Jane Klaasen, James Boyd, Jack Hamelink, William Kail and Pat Harder. John Kleinhessel and Marcia Bouws were absent.

In sponsoring the contest, the Junior Chamber aimed to counteract in some way the unfortunate publicity on the misdeeds of today's so-called delinquents. The Jaycees contend that the unfortunate publicity affects a very small percentage of young people today, and the greater majority is properly concerned over America's future.

Serving on the committee were Norman Wanger, Harold Combs, Paul De Kok and Ray Helder.

Speaker of the evening was Mayor Robert Visscher who outlined city functions under the new charter which has been in operation for the last four years or more.

He described City Council as the governing body of the city. Under the old system standing committees were used as liaison between Council and Boards. Under the new charter, only three boards were retained, the Board of Public Works, Hospital Board and Library Board.

Today Council devotes most of its time to policy making matters, and details are worked out through the city manager and city employees. Mayor Visscher also discussed the reorganization of ordinances as ordered by the charter.

He mentioned the accelerated paving program in recent years which leaves few streets yet to be paved in Holland. A question and answer period followed.

Harold Combs announced a Scotch lite program in which Jaycees will visit various city playgrounds July 7 to apply the reflective tape on fenders of bicycles.

TOUGH ALL OVER

If it's any comfort, 30 nations were represented at a recent meeting of the World Touring and Automobile Organization at Washington and all 30 reported they had parking problems. The delegates, striving to promote and encourage motorists to travel abroad, had some concrete proposals for easing customs regulations and driving credentials but kept asking each other where people would park if they took their cars into other countries.

To most Americans the idea of a parking problem in other lands seems strange. We know that we have the highest per capita ownership of motorcars, and therefore should have the most acute shortage of parking space.

But what we do not often realize is that many American cities were laid out originally by optimistic real estate promoters who had notions of how big their burgeoning towns would grow. Nearly every American town has a Broad St. or a Main St. with a 120-foot right of way that must have looked like an empty 10-acre pasture to the early residents.

In most other countries no such optimism prevailed. Cities originally were built within walls, and streets followed cowpaths, designed for cows traveling in single file. In Europe and the Middle East American cars can barely make a passage, let alone park.

Some novel solutions to parking difficulties came from a few of the delegates. For example, the representative of the Automobile Club of Egypt reported Cairo was installing parking meters on every street wide enough to support a parking lane. Beside each meter is a telephone. As the only Egyptians who can afford cars are also wealthy enough to employ a chauffeur, the phone is used by the owner to summon his driver when he is ready to resume his journey.

Milan, Italy, is excavating underground parking spaces, a plan already resorted to by San Francisco and about to be tried in Detroit. From the Automobile Association of Britain came a proposal to make parking facilities an integral part of all street and highway construction. The British delegate suggested that national governments offer funds to be matched locally for street and road building.

About all the conference could come up with as an international solution to the world parking problem was a resolution. It called for adoption of a standard procedure for surveying and assessing parking needs in each country. In other words, the delegates were stumped for a solution.

Sunday School Lesson

July 3, 1955
A Prophet of Judah's Decline
Jeremiah 22: 1-9, 24, 25
By Henry Geerlings

No man ever had a tougher assignment than did Jeremiah. Having a patriot's devotion to his country he was sent to declare its final doom. Having a shepherd's tender heart, he had to minister to a stubborn and unrepentant people. Although he bore the Lord's message, he at times felt that even God was against him. The ruling religious authorities hated him. The kings and princes opposed him. His own townspeople and kindred hated him and sought to kill him. He had to say what he said for he was burning with the sins of the nation. He found himself in the center of the raging battle between Jehovah and His rebellious people.

His heart was tender, but he was sent with a hard message. His experiences and those of Demosthenes of Greece were parallel. The great orator of Athens tried to arouse his countrymen to the dangers threatening from Macedonia under Philip. They were so engrossed with life, and their souls too deadened, to heed his speech. He was banished in the performance of his thankless task. Nor would the people of Judah listen to the appeals of the prophet. They plotted against him. They put him in the stocks before the cynical crowd. They chained him and dragged him through the streets to prison. They threw him into an abandoned cistern and left him to die.

After the death of Solomon the kingdom was divided. For 210 years the two kingdoms lived side by side, sometimes enemies, sometimes friends and allies. After the fall of Israel Judah continued, but the pressure from without became more and more pronounced.

Like Belgium, Judah was a buffer state. The armies of Assyria and Egypt, struggling for world domination, had to cross Palestine to get at one another. The kings of Judah had a difficult role to play. They would favor one nation, then another, whichever seemed stronger. For political reasons, the religion of Assyria was sometimes made official in Judah, and under Jehoiakim religious conditions were very bad.

Jeremiah's messages reflect the history of his people during a period of forty years and more. The threat of a Syrian invasion started him on his prophetic career. He did not think the reforms under Josiah had struck deep enough into the life of the people. They put themselves under the book, but not under God. Israel had fallen a hundred years before because she had forsaken the Lord. Judah had not profited by the lesson.

The prophet was deeply disturbed when he saw Hypocrisy at the local shrines. He called for repentance and a change in the manner of life. His vigorous preaching earned him the enmity of many, even among his friends and nearest relatives, for the reformation involved for them the loss of their income and their life-work.

The government-fostered prosperity brought rich rewards to favored citizens. They indulged in extravagant living. The poor were extremely poor and had no recourse against their oppressors. Even the king made them toil as conscripted labor. The ruling classes took their lands and sold them into bondage for their debt. The upper classes lived in open sin. Drunken parties and riotous living increased as the shadow of foreign invasion deepened. The nation was slipping fast and the end could come any time.

The more insecure the nation became, the greater were the sins of the people. A sort of family overmastered them. The nation is doomed, they said, let us have a good time. The rights of others are nothing. Let the poor starve. Throw the rubbish where you will. Religion? Well, the only religion we want is just to win the favor of the gods so we may prosper. And let no king or prophet interfere.

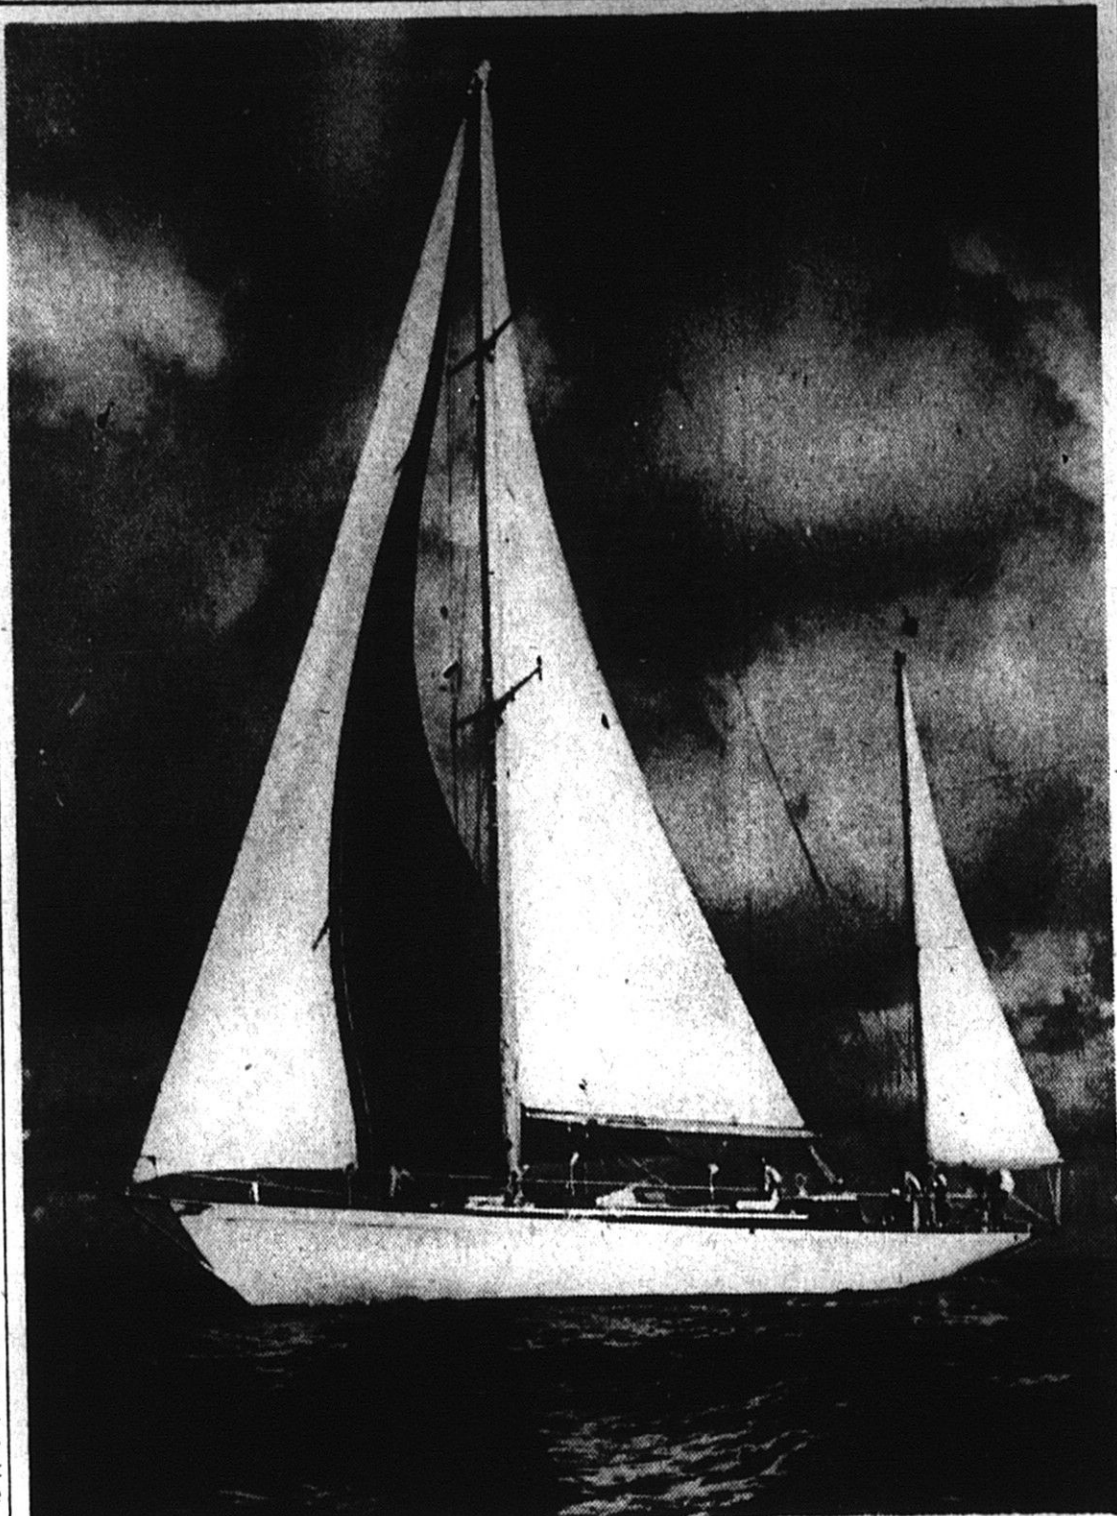

Are there signs of moral and spiritual decay in America today? The pessimists and optimists would make different answers. Whichever one may be, he will do well to consider the tokens of decline in that trust of indices, the home. The divorce rate in America is but one token of domestic tragedy. Besides, there is the breakdown of parental discipline, the lessening of mutual devotion between the members of the family, and the surrender of cultural and spiritual leadership. When we understand that a people do not rise above the level of their homes, this decline becomes an alarming sign of a decaying America.

When nations forsake God, they sign their own death warrant. For this means, eventually, that a people have abandoned the basic moral and spiritual principles of truth, justice, righteousness, love, and belief in the dignity of every individual. Where these principles do not prevail, the seeds of national decay are present and national doom is inevitable.

HILARIA, THE NEWEST BOAT in the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club fleet, will be entered in the Lake Michigan Yachting Association regatta during the weekend of July Fourth. Skipper Hugh Schaddelee and his crew will race the 55-foot yawl from Milwaukee to Macatawa Friday in the Queen's Cup race and also participate in the triangular race on Lake Michigan outside the Holland breakwater on July 4.

Macatawa Bay Yacht Club Will Serve As Hub for Big Events This Weekend

There's a big weekend ahead for the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club.

It has two big honors this year. Not only is the club host to the Lake Michigan Yachting Association regatta on the Fourth of July, but it is also the destination for almost 60 yachts that are running in the Queen's Cup derby this Thursday and Friday.

Because of the regatta, Queen's Cup officials decided to end it at Macatawa Park instead of at Muskegon as in previous years.

Seven MBYC boats will leave Wednesday for Milwaukee. Starting point for the big event is Milwaukee's South Shore Yacht Club.

The yachts will leave Milwaukee early Thursday evening and will be expected at Macatawa Bay Friday morning. They will be running in four classes.

Entering in Class A from MBYC will be Commodore Harold Sears' Revenge and Hugh Schaddelee's Hilaria.

In class B, Hollis M. Baker's Whizzer will be running while in class C the MBYC entries will be Allen Willard's Belle Aurora, Clarke Field's Reverie, William Nansen's Raratonga and Charles Phelps' Corvette.

The Queen's Cup goes to the craft in each class with the best overall corrected time.

A buffet supper for skippers and crews will be held at Macatawa Bay Yacht Club Friday evening and a dance is scheduled for Saturday night.

Many yachts will stay over for the Association regatta in which all craft will race a 15-mile triangular course Monday. Hollis Baker, Jr., is racing chairman of the association events.

Many yachts racing in the Chicago Yacht Club's Chicago-to-Saugatuck competition Friday and Saturday will also compete Monday at Macatawa. About 30 Chicago craft will race from Chicago.

Old Model Vehicle Crashes Into Pole Near Hudsonville

Men Were on the Way To Holland Park to Fish Early Sunday

A Grand Rapids man was killed instantly while his nephew escaped with minor cuts when their old model car veered off M-21, smashed into a guard pole, and flew 84 feet through the air before crashing in a heap at 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

Gordon Walh. 31, Grand Rapids, died on the spot of multiple fractures. His passenger, Elwin Raymond, 25, also of Grand Rapids, received a few facial cuts.

Raymond told Ottawa County deputies he was asleep and couldn't tell them what happened. Witnesses and skid marks told the story all too plainly.

Walsh was passing another west-bound car on M-21 between Hudsonville and Grandville, when he apparently lost control and hit the left hand shoulder of the road.

The car shot back across the two lanes and started skidding sideways for nearly 220 feet before striking a wooden guard rail pole. The pole acted much as a spring and shot the car high into the air. It continued on for 84 feet before crashing into a pile of twisted steel and broken glass.

Parts of the car, fenders, windshields, and seat cushions, were scattered for nearly 300 feet along the path. Ottawa County deputies said they had never seen a car so demolished except in one case of a train-car accident.

Walsh was thrown from the car while Raymond somehow remained inside. Ironically, a ticket found on the dead man's body was issued to him by Grand Rapids police only 24 earlier.

He had been charged with leaving the scene of an accident, not having a driver's license and having defective brakes on his car. Raymond said his uncle had bought the car Friday.

The two men were on their way to Ottawa Beach, according to Raymond, to wait for the park gates to open at 5 a.m. so they could get a good spot to fish for perch.

Milk Bottle Foils Robbery Attempt

ZEELAND (Special)—A 16-year-old Holland youth is nursing a sore head today and two others are in the Kent County Juvenile home because an attempted armed robbery flopped Saturday night.

The trio were threatening John Hendricks, 60, a gasoline station attendant on Main St., with an iron pipe when Marvin Lokers, 29, Zeeland drove into the station. He saw what was happening, walked in, and ordered the youth to hand over the iron bar. When the boy hesitated Lokers smacked him over the head with a milk bottle.

The youth handed over the bar directly afterwards. Zeeland police arrived minutes later and arrested two of them. A third, who fled, was picked up at his home by Holland police.

Zeeland police and Ottawa County deputies questioned the trio and turned them over to Probate Court officials.

A Pretty Good Way to Finish

What better way could there be to finish a game of golf than with a hole in one.

Orwin Cook certainly knows. It seemed pretty good Tuesday when he nailed an ace on the 18th green while playing for a General Electric team in the Industrial League at the American Legion course.

He thought he overshot the green, and looked all around it for a few minutes before thinking of the cup. There his ball was, right beside the flag.

To accomplish this trick, Cook had to shoot across the river and steep hill on the 149-yard final hole.

His final score for the nine holes? It kept him quite a spell under 50-45, to be exact.

Congress Lauded Ex-Rep. Jonkman

Led by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., the U.S. House of Representatives recently eulogized the late Bartel J. Jonkman, former representative of the fifth district that includes Ottawa County.

Rep. Ford was high in praise for Jonkman and characterized him as a "fine citizen and public officer."

Rep. Ford inserted into the Congressional Record editorials from The Holland Evening Sentinel, The Grand Rapids Herald and the Grand Rapids Press which commended Jonkman.

After reading the editorials into the Record, Rep. Ford yielded the floor to Rep. Frances P. Bolton of Ohio who said, in part:

"We of the Foreign Affairs Committee have missed Mr. Jonkman very much since he left the committee. Now that he has gone beyond where we can confer with him, now that he has gone beyond where we can have his word, his counsel, we shall miss him even more."

"I remember the wonderful times we used to have over the use of two words. As a result we used to call Bart Mr. Deems Jonkman. He was a lawyer and he maintained that the word 'deems' meant that if 'the president deems' such and such a thing is right it never comes back to the Congress but if he just finds it is right, we would get it back here for our O.K. again. So Bart tried over and over again to get the word 'deems' out of our legislation and to substitute therefor the word 'finds.' Finally just before he left the committee we were considering a bill that came to use with the word 'finds' in it. We had a real celebration."

Speaker Sam Rayburn ended the eulogy with: "Mr. Speaker, Bartel Jonkman was a courtly gentleman. He was a capable and sane legislator, and really served his day and generation."

De Waard-Timmer Rites Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon De Waard

Miss Arleen Timmer, daughter of Mrs. Louis Timmer of 106 West 20th St., and Gordon De Waard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick De Waard of 182 East Fifth St., spoke their marriage vows Saturday, June 18, in a double ring ceremony in Sixth Reformed Church.

Flowers of pink and white against a setting of palms and ferns formed the background for the rites performed by the Rev. Henry Mouw. Robert Weener, pianist played traditional wedding music. Martin Hardenberg, Jr., sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a champagne colored sheath dress with matching duster. The dress featured a square neckline edged in rhinestones and an all over embroidery of roses. The duster had embroidered braid with rhinestones which culminated in a large rhinestone brooch. She wore orchid and beige accessories and carried a white Bible with twin orchids.

Mrs. Robert Weener as matron of honor chose for her sister's wedding a two-piece pink dress, styled and embroidered to resemble the bride's. Her accessories were pink and white and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white snapdragons.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Glenn De Waard. Martin Hardenberg seated the guests.

Both mothers wore navy blue dresses with navy and white accessories. Both had matching corsages of orchids.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Moderne Room of Cumerford's Restaurant. Mr. and Mrs. John Deters, Jr., were master and mistress of ceremonies. Others assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harmsen who presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Hillis Timmer and Miss June Timmer who arranged the gifts.

For a wedding trip to Glacier National Park the bride wore a two piece black and white dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. De Waard has been teaching in the local Christian Schools and Mr. De Waard is a tool and die maker at Imperial Tool and Die Co. in Grandville.

Six Persons Hurt As Autos Collide South of Douglas

Six persons were injured, two seriously, in a three-car collision on US-31 in Saugatuck Township at 5:02 p.m. Friday.

Involved were two southbound cars driven by Thomas Van Holstyn, Grand Rapids, and Fay Earl Coffman of Grand Rapids, and a northbound car driven by Margaret Child, 47, of Chicago.

According to state police, the Coffman car slowed down for the southbound line of traffic and the Van Holstyn car failed to stop. The Van Holstyn car rammed into the left rear of the Coffman car and skidded into the northbound lane of traffic where it struck the Child car head-on.

Injured were:

Katherine Pinkerton, 78, Chicago, multiple bruises, possible fractured legs and multiple facial lacerations. Going to surgery today at Holland Hospital.

Margaret Child, 47, multiple bruises, possible fractured nose. Condition good at Holland Hospital.

Johanna Van Holstyn, 65, bruises. Taken to Douglas Hospital. Peggy Coffman, 23, Grand Rapids, treated at Douglas Hospital and released.

Fay Coffman, 25, leg and arm bruises treated at Douglas Hospital and released.

Eileen Child, 7, under observation at Holland Hospital.

Occupants of the Child car, including Mrs. Pinkerton, were coming to Holland for a vacation at The Mooring.

Van Holstyn was issued a ticket for reckless driving.

State police were nearby at the scene of a semi fire at the time. The semi, owned by Elgie Brooks of Fennville, caught fire when a tool apparently fell over the battery terminals and caused a short. The Douglas fire department was called.

Grand Haven Now Tied for League Lead With Holland

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Pitcher Marv Gorbouse of the Zeeland Chix will be the first to tell you that a team usually does not win ball games on two scattered hits.

At least, the Chix certainly don't.

For the second straight time Thursday night, the Chix produced only two hits for Gorbouse and fell to the Grand Haven Athletics, 1-0, in Grand Haven.

On June 17, the Chix could manage only a pair of hits against South Haven and Gorbouse took the loss, 2-1.

Especially heart-breaking for Gorbouse was the fact that he had a no-hitter going for seven innings. But the Athletics bunched three hits in the eighth for the one that counted.

Picking up the victory for the Athletics was veteran Ken Clark who didn't even let the Chix say boo except in the fourth and fifth inning.

In the fourth, he gave up a single to Ron Appledorn, then calmly picked him off first base. Catcher Ken Wiersma rapped a n o t h e r single in the fifth, but never moved off first as Clark struck out the side.

Clark struck out 12 Chix along the route. Gorbouse was breezing along even better and reached his peak in the seventh by throwing the third strike past all three batters.

But Rug Susterich singled with one out in the eighth to break the ice, then scored on a fielder's choice and singles by E m e r y Holzinger and Bob Klukos.

Those were the only hits for Grand Haven, but they were enough as the Chix failed to put a man on in the ninth.

Miss Irene Boer Feted At Dessert-Linen Shower

Miss Irene Boer, who will become the bride of Robert De Young of Flint on July 9, was guest of honor at a dessert-linen shower Wednesday night.

Hostess was Mrs. Egbert Boer, 350 Maple Ave. During the evening the group hemmed towels for the guest of honor.

Guests were Miss Margaret Boer, Mrs. Peter Boer, Mrs. Adrian Slikkers, of South Haven, Mrs. R. Vischer, Mrs. Jack Stolp of Grand Rapids, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Sr., Mrs. Thomas Smith, Jr., Mrs. Jacob Essenburg, Jr., Mrs. J. Knoll, Mrs. I. J. Kuipers of Sheldon, Iowa, Mrs. Lawrence Van Meeteren, Mrs. Walter Van Meeteren, Mrs. Andrew Westbroek, Mrs. Harold Manting, Mrs. Don Vredevoogd and Mrs. Lawrence Lanting of Grandville, Mrs. Truman Hunter, Mrs. James Lanting and Mrs. John Lanting of Grand Rapids.

Bike Rider Injured
Four-year-old Carla Heyboer, 104th Ave., Zeeland was treated for minor cuts and bruises by a local physician Thursday afternoon received when a bicycle she was riding was hit by a car. The accident occurred on Paw Paw Dr. near M-21. Driver of the car, Deane Hamm, 19, of 70 West 13th St. was given a ticket for driving a car with a revoked license. Ottawa County deputies investigated.

Fennville Church Scene of Rites

Mrs. Ronald Layton

Immanuel Church at Fennville was the setting for an afternoon wedding on June 11 when Miss Julia Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller of Hutchins Lake, route 1, Fennville, and Ronald Layton of Hopkins were married. The Rev. Lawrence Runyon of Honterey Center Church performed the double ring service at 2 p.m. before an altar decorated with candelabra palms, iris, peonies and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with fitted bodice covered with imported chantilly lace, standup collar and long sleeves. The hoop skirt featured a front plenum of lace extending down the sides and around the full length train. A lace and net sweetheart tiara trimmed with orange blossoms held her finger veil. She carried a white Bible and bouquet of white roses, carnations and ivy.

Miss Doris Layton, sister of the groom, as maid of honor wore a gown of orchid net over taffeta with lace bodice and jacket. She wore a matching headband and carried a cascade of orchid iris and ivy.

Charles Miller of Lakeville, Ind., was best man. Neil Jacobson of Olive Center and Herbert Layton of Hopkins, cousins of the couple, were ushers. Mrs. Leon Reimink of Fennville was organist and Gerrit Dykman was soloist.

A reception for about 50 guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors with Mr. Dykman as master of ceremonies. Readings were given by Miss Loretta Tucker of Fennville and Mrs. Jacob Jacobsen of Olive Center. Solos were sung by Miss Marie Schultz and Calvin Dykman. Miss LuAnn Bryant served the bridal table. Miss Velma Miller of South Lyon and Miss Loretta Tucker poured and Miss Helen Kluck cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Richard Miller and Miss Dorothy Layton were in charge of the gifts.

For going away the bride wore an avocado green suit with brown and white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Layton is a graduate of Fennville High School and Mr. Layton, Hopkins High School. Both attended Chicago Evangelistic Institute at University Park, Iowa, and Bethel College at Mishawaka, Ind. They will be at home after July 1 at 215 Church St., Mishawaka, where Mr. Layton will continue his work. Both plan to re-enter Bethel College in the ministerial and educational fields.

Mary Bosch Wins After 36 Games

Mary Bosch is the new champion of the under 15 girls division in the Junior Center tournament, but she had to play 36 games Friday to get it.

In one of the toughest matches of the tournament, Mary finally overcame Suzanne De Pree, champion last year in the under 13 division, 8-6, 12-10.

Both girls, however, won the opportunity to go to the state Junior Center as guests of the Holland Evening Sentinel. The Sentinel pays the expenses for the entire Holland team which include all winners and runners-up in the 12 divisions.

Little Marilyn Teall, who is only nine years old, got all the way to the finals in the under 13 girls before losing to No. 1 seeded Barb Kuite, 6-0, 6-1. Marilyn had beaten Vickie Ziel, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4 in the semis.

Marilyn got her championship, however, when she teamed up with Barb to beat Bosch and Bron in under 13 doubles, 6-2, 6-3.

A big upset was pulled in the boys under 13 doubles when Burton Wiersma and Ron Maat blasted to a 5-7, 6-3, 9-7 victory over No. 1 seeded Gary Teall and Terry Pott for the crown.

Headon Collision Injures Three

Three persons were injured in a two-car head-on crash Wednesday afternoon two miles north of New Richmond because one of the drivers didn't understand the "game" of switching lanes when passing.

One of the drivers, Riley Decker, 22, New Richmond, is in Holland Hospital with a possible fractured neck. The other driver, Allan Graves, 17, route 2, Hamilton, was released after treatment of minor injuries.

A passenger in Decker's car, Walter Justus, 33, New Richmond, was also treated for cuts and bruises and discharged.

Allegan County Deputy Henry Bouwman said Graves told him the following story. Whenever Graves highway they would switch lanes and pass each other.

Wednesday Decker was driving the car and didn't switch lanes when Graves crossed over resulting in a head-on collision.

Bouwman said Graves will be charged with driving a car without an operator's license and reckless driving. Charges will also be filed against Decker when he is released from the hospital.

The two '48 model cars were demolished, Bouwman said.

Nine Safeties Fail To Produce Runs Against Muskegon

Funny thing, but the Flying Dutchmen seem to have forgotten the art of scoring runs.

They didn't know how Thursday night as they were blanked for the second straight time last week — this time by Muskegon Home Furnace, 6-0.

Monday night, they took their first defeat of the season when Fennville trampled all over them, 12-0.

That's in contrast to Saturday night when they bounced Fennville with 11 hits, 11-6.

Thursday night, it wasn't a lack of hitting because the Dutchmen rapped out nine hits but pitcher Norm Creamer bore down every time and stopped all scoring threats.

Meanwhile, the hard-hitting Muskegon crew was combing starter Jack Gragg for 12 hits, seven of them in two innings to produce all six runs.

Three singles and a base on balls brought a pair of runs for Muskegon in the first, but Gragg steadied himself and scattered five hits for the next six innings.

Muskegon ran Gragg out of the park in the eighth, however, on two singles, a triple and a home run for four runs.

Jack Bolema singled, went to third on an error by Dutchman leftfielder Max Doolittle and came home on Bill Matson's single. Jim Morse's long triple to right made it 4-0 before catcher Bob Soderman blasted one into the left field stands to send Gragg running.

Manager Russ Wolrding called Bob Smith who struck out the next two batters to end the onslaught. In the ninth, Smith set down the side in order.

Ron Fortney and DeFreese collected two hits apiece for the Dutchmen.

Hospital Bids Opened Here

Bids for the new addition for Holland Hospital were opened at a meeting of the hospital board and other officials at 2 p.m. Thursday in Council chambers in City Hall.

There were four bids for general contracting plus one combined bid: four for mechanical, four for elevator, two for pneumatic tube, two for laundry, two for refrigerators, two for refrigeration system, one for kitchen equipment, two for mechanical conveyors, and three quotations on sterilizers.

Hospital leaders said bids were higher than hoped for, but pointed out the situation is not unusual since many hospitals opening bids in recent weeks have been in the same position. Many of these hospitals are in the process of negotiating with contractors.

The hospital board held a special meeting late Friday to discuss the bids with architects' representatives. City Council will hold a special meeting to award contracts before July 1.

Of the four bids for general contracting, two local firms entered the two lowest bids, Elzinga and Volkers and Martin Dyke and Sons.

William J. Brouwer, vice president of the hospital board, presided at the opening of the bids in the absence from the city of John F. Donnelly, board president. City Clerk Clarence Greengood read the bids which appeared complicated due to many alternates in single bids. Opening of bids took more than an hour.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Shades of Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables!"

A Grand Haven man was sentenced to pay $10 fine and $5.50 costs or serve three days on a simple larceny charge in Municipal Court Friday. He allegedly had stolen a morning newspaper.

Law Enforcement Groups Caution Holiday Drivers

Michigan won a war last Fourth of July weekend that it doesn't want to win again.

It is the war American motorists wage each holiday to kill each other off.

In 1954, 35 persons died on Michigan highways during the Fourth of July weekend. No other state even came close except California with 29 traffic fatalities.

For most of the nation, in fact, traffic deaths were far below the expected figure. Total highway deaths in the U. S. for the long weekend were 324.

Starting Friday afternoon, millions of Americans will rush to the highways to start another long holiday weekend—one that lasts until Tuesday morning.

Currently in the midst of a three months "Slow down and Live" campaign, Michigan will again call out the National Guard to aid in keeping the traffic deaths down.

The Guardsmen were called out for the first time last Labor Day and the traffic toll dipped to 22. Gov. Williams credited the Guard with saving "about 10 or 15 lives."

All across the state, every patrol car available will be mobilized—to watch what is expected to be one of the largest flows of traffic in the state's history.

From Holland, a full contingent of police cars will join the patrol along with increased coverage by state police.

Two National Guardsmen from Holland's Co. D, Sgt. Austin Walters and Sgt. Jerry Kline will assist the Allegan County Sheriff's Department.

Township and county law enforcement officials from Ottawa, Muskegon and Oceana met Saturday at the Grand Haven state police post to map plans for the weekend.

All county patrol cars will be out from 2 p.m. to midnight each day during the weekend. Nine National Guardsmen will assist the Grand Haven state police post.

Gov. Williams has called out 400 Guardsmen in all, and Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler has shut down all road construction projects except for emergency work or relocations where traffic will not be affected.

Of the Guardsmen, 216 will assist state police while the remainder will work with sheriff patrols.

"Roads will probably be crowded with the heaviest traffic we have ever had over the fourth," Childs said.

"One thoughtless, or careless or negligent act can end in death or permanent disabling injury. We're asking drivers to use caution and to slow down and live."

further investigation to this problem before any conclusions can be drawn.

This seems to be a busy month for bugs and diseases. Many inquiries have come to us on everything from root maggots to rose bugs, especially in the past few days we have received calls in regard to damage caused by wire worms and root maggots in both corn and bean fields. Some control has been achieved by treating the seed with Lindane or using a wettable chlordane. These two insecticides have had the right kind of weather for development which explains why they are so noticeable now. Both like wet soil and fairly cool temperatures and many of our soils were in this condition at planting time. Not much can be done when the maggot or wire worm has entered the main stem of the plants.

Wettable chlordane can be used as a soil spray provided edible root crops are not to be grown on the same soil for a period of four years. The chlordane will kill the worms that have not entered the stalk.

This year seems to be proving the biggest risk in planting winter barley on our lower soils that tend to be wet. Many stands of barley which survived the very wet fall last year will probably be low in production. On well drained soils stands are much better. In some cases the application of fertilizer this spring has helped to save the stands even on poorly drained soils. It appears that the wet soils remain cool in the spring thus drying up the natural nitrogen that otherwise will be available to the plant.

Our test plots on four varieties of winter barley and one variety of winter oats show very closely the results of wet seasons on barley. One trial was intentionally placed on low soils and the result is that all varieties tested are shorter stands and lighter grain than the other trials on higher well drained soils.

Fire Damages Cottage In Port Sheldon Area

Quick thinking neighbors of Le-viet White of Wilmington, Del., vacationing at Port Sheldon, helped prevent serious damage to his cottage when fire broke out late Tuesday afternoon.

The neighbors grabbed garden hoses and came on the run when White sounded the alarm. Bedding lying across a defective wire in the attic of the two-story cottage was blamed for the fire.

Firemen from Holland Township No. 1 station arrived minutes later and kept the blaze confined to the attic and a portion of a second floor bedroom.

Damage to the roof and water and smoke damage to parts of the cottage were estimated in excess of several thousand dollars. The building is owned by White's mother-in-law, Mr. P. T. Brant of Port Sheldon.

Fennville Blanked By Appledorn, 7-0

ZEELAND (Special) — Ron Appledorn won his second straight game from the Zeeland Chix here Tuesday night by blanking the Fennville Merchants, 7-0, in a Southwestern Michigan baseball League game.

The Chix are still in the cellar with a 2-4 record, but Appledorn has pitched both of the Zeeland victories. He beat the Holland Flying Dutchmen Friday night, 4-2.

Fennville nicked Appledorn for nine hits but he scattered them well. In the ninth, good fielding preserved the shut-out when the Merchants bunched three hits.

Zeeland used its nine hits off Bill Maciak at the right time, although walks and a couple of Fennville errors helped, too.

Fennville's loss knotted three teams for second place in the league at 3-3. Also tied are Gand Haven and South Haven. Holland still rides on top by a full game at 4-2.

Grand Haven will have an opportunity to tie the Dutchmen for first place Thursday night in Grand Haven. Holland clipped the Athletics Monday night, 8-7. Friday night, the Chix will entertain Grand Haven.

Howie De Jonge's double drove in the first run in the bottom of the first and singles by Art Klant, Ken Wiersma and Marv Goorhouse made it 2-0 in the second.

De Jonge rapped a single in the seventh, Appledorn got to first on an error and both rode home on Tony Diekema's double. A pair of walks and singles by Wiersma, Goorhouse and Appledorn produced the final three tallies in the eighth.

The standings:

Holland 4 2 .667

Fennville 3 3 .500

Grand Haven 3 3 .500

South Haven 3 3 .500

Zeeland 2 4 .333

7 Get Probation In Circuit Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Tim Kaiman, 44, route 3, Hudsonville, who pleaded guilty June 13 to a charge of larceny from a warehouse, was placed on probation for two years when he appeared before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Wednesday.

Kaiman was given a 60-day suspended jail sentence and ordered to pay $100 costs and 04 a month oversight fees. Kaiman allegedly took six pairs of jeans and other supplies from the Farmers Co-op of Hudsonville and Vriesland on or about May 15.

John Sands, 17, Grand Haven, who on June 20 changed his plea to guilty on a nighttime breaking and entering charge, was placed on probation two years, conditions of which are that he serve 30 days in jail, pay $50 costs within 60 days after leaving jail, make restitution of $119, leave intoxicants alone and pay $5 a month oversight fees.

Sands and two companions allegedly broke into Riley West's service station at West Olive Feb. 15. The trio was later apprehended in Florida and served terms in Fort Meyer jail, after which they were returned to Grand Haven.

Dennis Rowe, 19, Eugene Christell, 19, Gerrit Bronkhorst, 18, and LeRoy Compagner, 19, all of Holland, who pleaded guilty June 13 to nighttime breaking and entering charges, all were placed on probation for two years. Conditions are that each pay $50 costs, $5 a month oversight fees, make restitution of $15 and refrain from drinking.

The four youths who admitted breaking into Pine Creek school last Oct. 6 were severely reprimanded by the court. Compagner said he did not enter the building but remained in the car and shared in the loot.

Harold Goodyke, 40, route 1, Zeeland, was placed on two years probation and ordered to make $300 restitution and pay $100 costs and $5 a month oversight fees.

Goodyke had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement involving $215 from the Vogelzang Hardware Store while he was employed as a clerk.

Thieves Smash Safe at Store

Burgars smashed open a safe at the Plockmeyer Feed and Farm Supplies Co., 187 Columbia Ave. Tuesday night and escaped with $100 in cash.

The warehouse-office building was entered by forcing a sliding door near the rear of the structure. The burglars ripped aside mesh screens and climbed over the top of two partitions before they could enter the main front office.

The knob on the safe was knocked off, police said, and the contents scattered as the thieves plucked out the cash. A dozen pennies were also found near the front of the battered safe.

Police said the burglars brought their own tools as hammers and other tools on a nearby window sill were untouched.

Employees said the break-in must have occurred sometime after 6 p.m. Tuesday and 7-30 Wednesday, when it was discovered.

Supervisors Ask Law Revisions On Appraisals

Committee to Work With Geerlings, Van Peursem In Drafting New Law

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Laying the groundwork for carrying on an independent appraisal of true cash value of property in Ottawa county, the Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon passed a resolution requesting the state legislature to amend state tax laws to permit such a county-wide appraisal.

The supervisors, who had been studying plans for a county-wide appraisal for several months, were informed a few weeks ago in an opinion from the state attorney general that the county has no statutory power to carry out such a program.

George Swart of Grand Haven, chairman of a special committee appointed to study reappraisals, gave a lengthy summary of the study. He said the need of county-wide appraisals is becoming more apparent and "this thing is coming whether we want it or not."

City Attorney Howard W. Fant of Grand Haven added, "I don't care if the attorney general says it's illegal. If it's illegal we'll have to do something to make it legal. If we don't do something now, we'll lose some of the powers we've been fearful of losing. If we start the ball rolling now we will be doing a service not only for ourselves but for the local assessing officers all over the state of Michigan."

The resolution asks that state laws be amended to permit any county to retain an independent appraisal firm to make a county-wide appraisal for the purpose of assisting local assessing officers in arriving at a true cash value for assessment purposes and to assist the Board of Supervisors in securing and equalizing assessments.

The special committee and Prosecutor James W. Bussard will work with State Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings and State Rep. George Van Peursem in drafting appropriate enabling legislation and to submit the draft to the county board for consideration during this session.

In other business, Louis Meisch, traffic safety director of Muskegon county, explained Muskegon's safety program aimed at cutting down accidents and traffic fatalities.

The program in Muskegon is largely volunteer and has been regarded as a great improvement. Muskegon county fatalities in 1952 totaled 42. Then the "Crusade for Safety" was launched and in 1953 the fatalities totaled 29. Last year the total was 28. Not counting two fatalities the past weekend, the total was only five, compared with 13 up to the same weekend last year.

Meisch said the Crusade for Safety has a membership of 250 and has seven committees, the largest one being the educational committee. It is expected that the board will pass a resolution on such a safety program in this county.

A request from Consumers Power Co. for a right of way over two parcels of county-owned property in Robinson and Olive townships was referred to the conservation committee. Action will probably be taken at the October session.

A request from County Treasurer Fred Den Herder for additional help for addressograph purposes was referred to the ways and means committee. When the county started the addressograph work in 1940 the work for the year covered 1898 pages requiring 23,000 plates. In 1954, there were 2,802 pages and 33,000 plates. So far this year there have been 2,898 pages of descriptions.

A communication from Holland residents regarding the care and maintenance of a dog pound in Holland was referred to the sheriff's committee to report back today.

Elzinga-Volkers Beats Fogerty, 7-2

Leroy Fogerty, who pitched a no-hitter in Legion "A" League baseball last week, didn't do so well Tuesday night.

Elzinga-Volkers used five hits and a bundle of Fogerty's walks and wild pitches to beat Padnos at Riverview Park, 7-2.

A pitcher who did have it, however, was Holland Hitch's Dave Hilbink who twirled a nifty four-hit shutout over H. E. Morse.

Three of the seven Elzinga-Volkers runs were scored when Fogerty uncorked a wild toss with a man on third. The winners scored one run in the first and two in the second while Dave Bos was holding Padnos scoreless until the fifth when Fogerty slammed a triple to drive in one run, then scored himself.

But that was all for Padnos and Elzinga-Volkers collected pairs in the bottom of the fifth and seventh to make a minimum of trouble.

Bos got the win on a five-hitter. Tom Aye started for H. E. Morse but was tagged for hits by two batters that scored on his error and balk later in the inning.

He was taken out for Kaper in the fourth when Hitch utilized three hits and a weak Morse defense to score six runs and finish scoring for the game.

In 1950 roughly 15 per cent of all wages paid in the U.S. went to the 8 million public employees, including members of the armed forces.

Raphael's 3-Run Burst in Seventh Nips Barber, 7-6

Barber Fords thought they had a City League softball game in the bag at Van Tongeren Field Tuesday night.

They didn't, though.

After breaking a 4-4 tie with two runs in the top of the seventh, the Fords watched lowly Raphael come back with three tallies in the bottom to win, 7-6.

In another game, Holland Moose clubbed out 11 hits for a 6-3 victory over Bareman's Service.

A double by "Doc" Overbeek between singles by Jay Hop and Art Vanden Brand gave Barber a 2-0 lead in the first.

Vern Boersen tied up the game in the third by driving in two runners with a triple, then Ernie Prince pushed Raphael out in front 4-2, with a home run blast over the left field fence.

Two singles, a walk and a sacrifice fly tied the contest again in the sixth and a two-run triple by Warren Plaggenmeyer shoved Barber ahead in the seventh.

Jas Ebels singled to open Raphael's seventh, went to second on a wild pitch and came home on pinch-hitter Norm Boeve's double. Boeve went to third on an infield cut and tied up the game when he scored on a wild pitch.

Boersen doubled, went to third on Herb Maatman's scratch hit and flashed home with the winning marker on an error by catcher Vanden Brand.

Ebels went all the way and picked up the victory for Raphael, while Bob Ebels relieved Howie Bosch for the Fords in the seventh.

Bill Zych's home run highlighted a four-hit, four-run outburst by the Moose in the fourth that won the game.

Jerry Veldman's homer in the bottom of the fourth finished scoring for both teams and allowed Matt Numikoski to coast to victory on a six-hitter. Joe Berens relieved Bos when the Moose threatened again in the sixth.

Man Bound Over on Count Of Aggravated Assault

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Ronald Grant Long, 29, of 205 Pine Ave., Holland, was arraigned in the Grand Haven Municipal Court Saturday afternoon on a charge of aggravated assault. He waived examination and, unable to furnish $500 bond, is in county jail awaiting arraignment in the Ottawa Circuit Court.

The charge against Long is the result of a fight between him and Cecil Long, 21, of the same address, which took place at their place of employment about 4:30 p.m. Friday, when Ronald told Cecil to leave some money at his home, plus an additional $5 to apply on back room and board owing Ronald and his wife.

When Cecil refused, Ronald struck him four times, and after Cecil fell to the ground Ronald continued to stomp and kick him in the head, causing a cerebral concussion. Cecil is still confined in Municipal Hospital.

Elzinga-Volkers Beats Fogerty, 7-2

Leroy Fogerty, who pitched a no-hitter in Legion "A" League baseball last week, didn't do so well Tuesday night.

Elzinga-Volkers used five hits and a bundle of Fogerty's walks and wild pitches to beat Padnos at Riverview Park, 7-2.

A pitcher who did have it, however, was Holland Hitch's Dave Hilbink who twirled a nifty four-hit shutout over H. E. Morse.

Three of the seven Elzinga-Volkers runs were scored when Fogerty uncorked a wild toss with a man on third. The winners scored one run in the first and two in the second while Dave Bos was holding Padnos scoreless until the fifth when Fogerty slammed a triple to drive in one run, then scored himself.

But that was all for Padnos and Elzinga-Volkers collected pairs in the bottom of the fifth and seventh to make a minimum of trouble.

Bos got the win on a five-hitter. Tom Aye started for H. E. Morse but was tagged for hits by two batters that scored on his error and balk later in the inning.

He was taken out for Kaper in the fourth when Hitch utilized three hits and a weak Morse defense to score six runs and finish scoring for the game.

Dog Notes

by Peter BOGGS

June is known as the month of brides. It also follows the time of year when more pups are born than at any other season. This month, if you ride through the countryside, the sudden increase in the number of pups is quickly apparent.

In many a front yard is a pen enclosing a group of small pups and a sign saying, "Pups For Sale." Dog breeders raise dogs at this time of year because it is thought the weather is more beneficial for a growing pup. They believe that the pups can get more sun now than in the colder weather.

Sunlight is extremely beneficial to growing dogs, but for very young pups the strong rays can be very dangerous. Never expose puppies under 10 days of age to the direct rays of the sun for any great length of time.

If you put a pen of young pups out-of-doors in the sun be sure to afford them some shade. If you don't you may find most of the litter suffering from sunstroke when you go to bring them indoors.

It's Tick Season Again
Each year at about this time I receive literally hundreds of letters from dog owners residing in tick-infested areas asking advice on how to keep their dogs free of these pests. I live in a really infected territory and here's how I have personally kept my own dogs free of these pests:

I have dipped them periodically in a dip made by mixing two ounces of fine derris root powder, one ounce of neutral soap and one gallon of warm water. You can purchase the derris powder at your local drug store but be sure that it contains at least 3 per cent of rotenone. Either dip or spray this solution on your dog and you will find that he will remain free of ticks.

Hot Weather Tip
Each year as hot weather approaches I remind you of how, on a hot day, little annoyances often upset you. The same is true with your dog.

In warm weather a dog normally of even disposition may become a little unruly and snap at anyone who attempts to tease him. Therefore it is very wise to instruct children not to tease or torment a dog on a hot day.

The old saying, "Let sleeping dogs lie," is one to remember and heed—especially so during the hot summer months.

Three Grand Rapids Girls Injured in Ottawa Crash

Holland Nurse Leaving For Missionary Career

A local nurse is all set for a career as missionary-nurse in Nigeria, British West Africa.

Miss Ruth Vander Meulen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rhine Vander Meulen of 13 East 24th St., announced Saturday.

leg of her journey to a foreign land. Her parents will take her to New York City where she will board a plane next Wednesday for Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

In the Netherlands she will be joined by another missionary who is visiting relatives there and the two will leave July 3 for Africa, landing at an airfield 150 miles from their destination in Nigeria. Improvements the last few years have provided roads in that area, and the rest of the journey will be made by car.

Miss Vander Meulen will first engage in language study, probably at Plissia in the interior of Nigeria before being assigned to one of several mission stations operated by the Christian Reformed Church in Nigeria. As yet, the stations have no hospitals, but plans are under way for building one or more hospitals as soon as government permission can be obtained.

Missionary work will not be new for the local nurse. For 2½ years she worked with the Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky, a private program which dealt with public health nursing, midwifery, obstetrics, and many other phases. In this work, the nurses were often called upon to do tasks above and beyond the call of nursing because the area had no doctors.

Miss Vander Meulen will be abroad 2½ years before she gets her first furlough. Since completing her nursing training in Butterworth Hospital back in 1946 or 1947, she worked a few years in Holland Hospital. Since returning from Kentucky the first of the year, she had taken a semester's course at the Reformed Bible Institute in Grand Rapids.

In her missionary work, she will be supported by her own church, Holland Heights Christian Reformed Church, which was organized and built since World War II. She will be Holland Heights Church's first missionary.

Holland Heights Church staged a farewell for Miss Vander Meulen Thursday night. The pastor, the Rev. Harry Vander Ark, presided and the Rev. Henry Evenhouse of Grand Rapids, director of missions for the Christian Reformed Church spoke on "The Challenge of Missions."

Harold Banger led the song service. Other music consisted of a duet by Nancy Buursma and Carol Tuls, accompanied by Joyce Zwiers, a women's quart consisting of Mrs. Donald Kragt, Mrs. Cornie Overway, Mrs. Dennis Steinfert and Mrs. Julius Ver Hoef, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Tuls, and by a young men's quart consisting of Cal Dykema, David Klaasen, Louis Stegink and Gary Vander Ark.

Moose Defeats Barber Fords, 5-3

The Moose scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth at Van Tongeren Field Thursday night to overcome Barber Fords by a 5-3 margin in a City League softball game.

A single by Jason De Vries brought in Don Hulst and Gil Vanden Berg who had singled and doubled, respectively.

That made it 5-2 and enabled the Moose to withstand another run by Barber in the sixth when Bob Hop's triple brought in Wayne Hop from first.

It looked like curtains for winner Matt Numikoski in the first when Jun Hop's home run over the right field fence gave Barber a 2-0 lead.

But Stu Baker tripled for two runs in the third, then came in himself on an infield out to make it 3-2. The two-run outburst in the fifth sewed up the game.

Bob Ebel's was the losing pitcher. He gave up seven hits. Only one game was played as Vanden Berg forfeited to Baram's Service because of a lack of players.

How Disbrow Broke Golf Mark

You can't make many mistakes when you shoot a 31 at Saugatuck Golf Course. And M.K. Disbrow didn't when he fired the new record there Friday.

Par for the course is 36. Shooting five strokes under par, Disbrow picked up three birdies and an eagle.

His eagle three on the par 5 fifth hole came on an extremely long stretch of 490 yards. This sensational effort is the one that enabled him to break the record.

He birdied the first, third and ninth holes with a 12-foot putt on the ninth green breaking course pro Lorin Shook's previous record of 32.

Disbrow stroked five of the holes in par.

The record: 444.355.344—38

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

When the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee recently released portions of the Henry Morgenthau, Jr., diary relating to the late Harry Dexter White, the fact was revealed that the diary as a whole contains 900 "volumes." We are not told how many words each "volume" contains. But suppose it should be about 10,000, the length of a fairly long short story in a magazine, the total would reach the impressive figure of nine million words. Even if each "volume" should be cut in half, the total wordage would still be staggering.

That Morgenthau diary would doubtless be published some day, or at least generous portions of it. It will form a part of the history of our time. Mr. Morgenthau kept it while he was Secretary of the Treasury from 1934 to 1945.

It so happened that when this news release about the Morgenthau diary appeared in the newspapers I was reading "The Secret Diary of Harold L. Ickes," which covers the same period, while Secretary of the Interior Ickes kept a detailed diary of everything in the New Deal scene in Washington that even remotely affected his role in the government. We are told that the diary as a whole contains some six million words. Three big volumes of some 700 pages each have already been published, and more are to follow.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the measurement of words in print, it may be said that if all of the two diaries of these Roosevelt cabinet members should be printed, the Ickes diary would fill the equivalent of about 60 average sized novels, and the Morgenthau journal would fill some 90 volumes.

All this was written by only two men—who, by the way, were supposed to be busy with the work of important government departments. One wonders when they found time for so much extra-curricular activity.

But what interests me most is the way the two pictures are likely to differ—that is, if the Morgenthau diary is eventually printed. That there will be a radical difference is certain.

For Secretary Ickes hated and despised Morgenthau, and Morgenthau hated and despised Ickes. Ickes never passes up an opportunity to set down in his diary how big a fool he considers Morgenthau, and sometimes the word "fool" will not fully express his contempt; often "inwit" would come closer to the mark.

It seems certain that Morgenthau has put down similar remarks about Ickes. At least it will be fascinating to be on the lookout for them when and if the diary is finally published.

Nor were those the only two of the members of the Roosevelt cabinet who hated each other. Ickes is at times almost as caustic about Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture. We have not yet been told whether Wallace kept a diary or not, but since diary keeping seemed a kind of disservice of the Roosevelt cabinet, it would not be surprising if he did. In that case, the fun of contrasting the three would be tripled.

The general public probably has the naive idea that the members of the President's cabinet are all patriotically working for the same great ends, like the members of a family. Read "The Secret Diary of Harold L. Ickes" and become disabused. Ickes hates and despises not only Morgenthau and Wallace, but at times Cordell Hull and Harry Hopkins as well. There were times when these cabinet members did not even speak to each other at meetings of the cabinet. And there were other times when the President had a hard time keeping them from abusing each other in meeting. In politics, as in other things, life is not by any means always what it seems.
