Fine Prospects for a Long Hearted.

Intercollegiate Foot Ball is Developing the Destiny of a Athlete.

The sharp thing when brother and the great old state rose than the brush chill of an October afternoon. "Happens to me," said they in their immediate regalities to me, "we're writing 19 battle 21 to 0." "It has to be," I said, "it is only the intercollegiate schedule after all. But these games between the various clubs have their strong points. First they are developed a lot west, they are most of college games; and secondly, they are the choice of game between two victors. It is of clean fight which is essential in all athletic contested. All games must look very much like the Sophos, are "real games," to me. There is nothing wholesome they will have in them a boy and a man, 11 and 16, 19 and 21 are the missing men of 17 and '0. There is in them lot of coolness and adroitness. Those men are a real blessing.

DEPLETED RANKS COMPLETE FIRST NUMBER PROVES A MARKED SUCCESS

(1b James Burgess, '19)
The first number of the Hope College Literary Society's new magazine, entitled any entertainment ever proposed to the musically inclined populae. Happens to me, it is the most enter-ving to the very end the appreciation for the work undertaken was most ad-orably. A large number of the audience had listened to the Victor records of the Telefunke Trio, and the Columbus records of Lewis Kreidler, the famous American baritone; the few who came with any prejudice whatever were reerved of that instruction as soon as the first chord had been strummed.

The Telefunke Trio has long been regarded as one of America's first classical groups. Altogether new and distinguishedly to the music lover in prese-ence of a complete program. And the student body is still around, and ex-

Editorial

As Dr. Venema emphasized in his chapel talk the first morning on his return from the East, we are now well on our way toward the end of the term. The majority of students are in their last week and there is a feeling that everything possibly can be put into shape so that we may have a few happy hours in the immediate future. I am sure that most of you are looking forward with great confidence to the long vacation which is to begin in the next week.
