CITY AND VICINITY.

Wheat 96 cents.

Strawberries are still plenty at 6 cents a box.

The new court house and jail of Muskegon will be constructed of Holland stone.

Married, on Tuesday of this week, John Hayes and Miss Laura Fatts, both of this city.

Benton Harbor has just dedicated a new $12,000 Congregational church and laid seven miles of water mains.

John Thompson is a busy man, this summer, filling orders in this vicinity for the Perkins wind mill, and putting them up.

An excursion train of nine coaches came from Pentwater and Big Rapids, Tuesday, to spend the day at the Holland Resorts.

The steamer Kalamazoo is doing a nice business both passenger and freight, and is becoming quite a favorite with our traveling public.

List of letters advertised for the week ending July 2nd, 1891, at the Holland City Post Office: P. C. Flanders, Thomas Hamilton, Mrs. Hattie Myers, James S. Suydam, A. Y. Waters. G. J. VAN DUREN, P. M.

The union meeting of Christian Endeavor Societies of this city, in Hope church, Sunday evening, was largely attended. Revs. Bergen, Bargelt, Dosker and Scott and Mr. C. Scott of St. Paul taking part in the exercises.

The question of appointing a deputy oil inspector for this district has not yet been settled. The leading aspirants are James Cavanaugh, of Muskegon, D. C. Wachs, E. D. Blair and Toney Baker of Grand Haven.

John Van der Meulen, of this year's Hope College graduating class, will take a position in the Northwestern Academy next fall, as instructor of Latin and Greek, vice Miss Emma Kollen, about to depart for Japan.

We learn from the Chr. Intelligencer that Rev. D. Van Pelt, of New York, former pastor of Hope Church, has fully recovered his health, and has been engaged to supply the Harlem Presbyterian church in that city, during the summer.

The new law which puts all the penal and reformatory institutions of the state under the management of a single board composed of four members, legislates out of office, among others, D. O. Watson of Coopersville of the old board of managers of the Ionia House of Correction.

The amount of railroad travel to and from this city, especially in connection with the resorts, may be somewhat inferred from the number of passenger trains that arrive and depart at this station. The time card of the C. & W. M. shows 28 trains to and from Holland, daily.

Tuesday of last week the U. S. supply steamer Daily stopped at our harbor and supplied Mr. Van Regenmorter, keeper of the lighthouse, with the necessary oil, etc., for the year. Capt. Ludlow, inspector, was on board, and after an examination of the premises, pronounced his satisfaction with the manner in which the keeper discharges his trust.

The Holland Republican Musical Band has been engaged by the Muskegon folks to assist in their grand demonstration to-day. They have succeeded in completing their uniform, consisting of cap and fatigue blouse, with gold lace trimming. The early train on the morning of the Fourth will take them to the booming City on the Heights.

A very delicate optical surgical operation was performed by Dr. J. G. Huizinga the other day, on Mrs. O. C. Stevens, residing north of the city. The right eye had become diseased, resulting in total blindness and lest it should also fatally effect the other eye it became necessary to remove it. The morning after the operation the left eye already felt relieved and inflammation had ceased.

Last week R. E. Werkman moved his personal effects to Benton Harbor, to become a permanent resident there. It is generally felt that in his departure Holland loses one of its most enterprising citizens, and that much of the recent growth and development of the town were due to the vigorous manner by which Mr. Werkman managed to initiate and push matters. As alderman and as member of the board of water commissioners he has served the municipality well, and we have no doubt that in due season the good people of Benton Harbor will learn to appreciate the strong points of their new fellow-townsmen.

A bountiful rain Thursday evening.

The post office has been favored with a coat of fresh paint.

The frame for the new residence of A. Steketee, on Ninth street, is up.

If you want to see what is beautiful in nature, get up early these mornings and enjoy the fresh air.

The recent hot spell chronicled several cases of prostration in our large cities, some with fatal result.

A large force of mechanics are at work at the new residence of J. C. Post, on Thirteenth street.

All those interested in cycling are requested to meet at the office of Dr. J. G. Huizinga, on Tuesday, July 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Married in this city, by Rev. G. J. Nykerk, Tuesday last, Abraham J. Thompson and Miss Celia Oosting, both of this city.

If some responsible party would attend to the repairs of the sidewalk and crosswalk at the River street railroad crossing, we feel sure the hundreds of Macatawa passengers that daily go and come that way would duly appreciate his sense of duty.

E. N. Williams having disposed of his hotel at Fennville has moved with his family to this city, and taken rooms for the present over Notter & Verschure's. At an early date we expect to find Ed. actively engaged in a new business enterprise here.

William, oldest son of Paul Berg-huis, met with a serious accident Thursday morning. In unloading a mowing machine from the wagon at his father's place, east of the city, he fell and sustained a double fracture of the right leg, one at the ankle and the other a little below the knee. Dr. H. Kremers was called in to relieve the sufferer.

Special attention is directed to the Macatawa Program for the Fourth, in another column. The opportunity for our citizens to spend the day, with their families, in a social way, near their own door, has never before been excelled. We have been requested to announce that the last boat, Saturday evening, will leave the Parks at 12 o'clock.

Col. Ludlow, U. S. A., wife and party came into the harbor Wednesday evening, on board the U. S. steamer Hancock, and spent Thursday at the Park and the Beach. The Colonel made a close examination of the harbor, with reference to the pier repairs to be made this season, and expressed himself well satisfied with the work done this spring.

Died in this city, Tuesday afternoon, Julia Josephine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Doyle, aged twenty years and five months. The death of Julia is a severe blow to the parents, following so close upon that of their eighteen year old daughter Rose, who died June 1, 1888. The funeral took place Thursday forenoon, from the residence of the bereaved parents, on Pine street, the Rev. Father E. A. Caldwell of Grand Haven officiating.

At the home of the bride's parents, in this city, were united in marriage, last Tuesday evening, Stillman G. Yenks and Miss Mary Vischer, Rev. Dr. Chas. Scott officiating. The ceremony was attended only by the nearest relatives of the bride. The happy couple left the same evening for a week's visit to relatives and friends, when they expect to make their residence at Kalamazoo, where Mr. Yenks will occupy a professor's chair at the Baptist College.

The thunder storm between Sunday and Monday was very severe, in the Ventura district. Lightning struck the house of Klaas Labbinga, nine miles north of here on the Grand Haven road, nearly destroying it. The chimney was torn down and the ceiling of two rooms with the partition shattered to splinters. The six inmates of the house escaped without injury, except that Mrs. Labbinga was found insensible on the kitchen floor. Dr. F. J. Schouten was called in to render the necessary medical assistance.

The special election at L. P. Husen's, the River street jeweler, closed on Wednesday evening. The contest involved a gold watch and chain to the best looking lady, married or single, between the ages of 16 and 30. The canvass showed 314 votes cast. Mrs. Jacob Van Putten, Sr., took the lead; Miss Tillie Van Schelven was next; and then followed in their order, Miss Nellie Verschure, Miss Nellie Heflie, Miss Nellie Huntly, Mrs. Geo. Hadden, with any amount of scattering. The votes were counted by J. G. Van Putten, Wm. Brusse and Al. Meyer, and the watch was awarded to the first named lady.

Have you noticed the new delivery wagon of Blom, the confectioner?

Services will be held in Grace church next Sunday, July 5th, at 7:30 p. m.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Te Roller, Seattle, Wash., on the 17th ult., a son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. Schoon, on Wednesday morning—a young alderman.

Six of our bicyclists partook of a tramp on wheels to Zeeland, Tuesday evening.

At Stevenson's jewelry store, Eight street, some bargains can be made. See notice.

The new residence of F. Swift, on East Eighth street, is receiving the finishing touches.

The new warehouse of the West Mich. Furniture Co. is being enclosed and ready to receive the roof.

By the latest apportionment Ottawa and Muskegon counties will remain as one senatorial district—the Fifteenth.

Squire Fairbanks is putting up an one-story brick store, on River street, and adding to the rear of his office building.

The Alumni of the Grand Rapids High School had a picnic at the resorts, Wednesday. They came down 150 strong.

The steamer Kalamazoo had a large cargo of local merchandise from Chicago on board, on the return trip Thursday morning.

The new residence for Hope College president, on the campus, will at last be completed, ready for occupancy before the close of the year.

On Saturday, the Fourth of July, the Post Office in this city, will be open from 9:00 a. m. till 2:00 p. m.

G. J. VAN DUREN, P. M.

Elsewhere appears the call for the third annual meeting of the Ottawa County Building and Loan Association, for the election of four directors, presentation of report, etc.

About as artistic a specimen of painting and decorating as can be expected in any city of even twice the population of Holland, has just been displayed by Mr. J. W. Flieman, the River street painter, on the safe in the publishing office of the News.

The culvert across tannery creek, on Eighth street, has been completed and the supplemental grading rendered necessary by the change, is being done under the supervision of the street commissioner. The improvement is a permanent one, and though quite costly, could not very well be postponed.

Tuesday a delegation of employees of King & Co.'s factory, at Whitehall, came to this city to look over the place of their future habitation. They were very well pleased with everything, except the scarcity of vacant dwelling houses. The plant will be moved from Whitehall to the new factory on Bay View the latter part of this month.

Our esteemed fellow townsman Gerit Slenk, died Sunday morning, after a lingering illness of many months. He was one of the early settlers of Holland, coming here in the spring of '47. What is now known as the Phoenix planing mill is the outgrowth of a small concern started by a firm of which he was a member, in 1859, and which introduced the first planing machine in these parts. The only official positions he could ever be induced to take were those of chief engineer of the fire department and member of the board of building inspectors. He was buried on Tuesday afternoon, from the First Ref. church, of which he was a member, Revs. H. E. Dosker and J. T. Bergen officiating. The large attendance attested the esteem in which he was held by his townsmen and neighbors, the fire department of this city acting as escort. The deceased leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. G. Laepfle, of this city, and Mrs. J. Vander Veen, of Grand Rapids.

The first installment of water pipe has arrived, from Cincinnati.

Monday evening, July 6—special business in K. O. T. M. hall. A full attendance of the members is requested. O. J. HANSEN, K. K.

J. Van Landegend is making some slight repairs on the building known as the old Binnekan bakery, recently purchased by him.

Independence Jottings.

Forty-four stars on our flag to-day!
Forty-four stars, presenting the finest constellation in the astronomy of nations.

It was resolved by Congress, June 14, 1776, "that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." For every new State admitted in the Union an additional star was added to the blue field. Every such new star is officially added through orders of the War Department, on the 4th of July succeeding the admission. The new star to be added to-day represents Idaho.

The study of the past is the lesson of the present. In Richmond, Va., they celebrated last week the 150th anniversary of their oldest church, St. John's Episcopal, built of wood, but still in good preservation. This building has a claim to glory, for it was within its walls that Patrick Henry made that famous "Give me liberty or give me death" speech. It has survived the fatalities of three subsequent wars.

On Independence Day it is well enough to reflect that this Republic has advanced or stood still just in proportion as its people have revered the men of the American Revolution and practiced the principles of the Declaration of Independence. Nothing but good results from the estimate and admiration in which posterity holds the character and achievements of George Washington, the genius of Alexander Hamilton, the statesmanship and patriotism of Jefferson and the Adamses and their compatriots.

As a nation we will sink into the grossest materialism just in proportion that the lessons of Independence Hall and of Valley Forge, the inspirations of Concord and of Bunker Hill do not stir the blood of the people or inspire the imagination of our youth at the Public Schools.

Fourteen millions of people have landed in this country and become absorbed in our population since 1820. Of our 63,000,000 of population nearly one-half have no ancestry or traditions which go back to the Revolutionary War. It is our duty for the good government of to-day and the greatness and growth of the republic in the future that the unification of our people shall be not only in loyalty to the flag and devotion to the constitution, but in pride in the traditions and the history of our past.

To-day we want the emigrant of yesterday to say, "My pride and inspiration is not in Frederick the Great, or Louis XIV, or William the Conqueror. It is not in a hero of England, or of Ireland, or of Wales, or of Germany, or of France, or of Holland, or of Scandinavia, but it is George Washington."

No people have ever founded a State which has become a great nation, or have ever preserved and enlarged their liberty unless they had largely developed the qualities of imagination and of sentiment. They must deify the heroes to whose valor and statesmanship they owe their origin. They must see the clash of contending armies, hear the roar of the mighty hosts and the din of battle and be enthused on patriotic occasions with the fire and the spirit which animated the men who created them as a power on the earth.

It was the love of nationality, the inherited, ineradicable belief in the necessity of the perpetuity of this Union for the liberties of mankind and the elevation of the world, which strangled slavery at the cost of hundreds of thousands of lives and billions of treasure, rather than dividing the country peacefully upon the lines of the States which were free and the States which were slave.

We have need in our day to cultivate stalwart and robust Americanism. We do not want an Americanism which is boastful and puffed up, but one whose object is to cultivate a knowledge of a glorious origin, an unequalled century a land developed in 100 years beyond any example in recorded time and yet in its infancy, a nation to-day one of the most powerful upon earth an educational system which disseminates at the public expense universal education, a patriotism which is equal to all the requirements of troublous periods and peaceful times, which, when thoroughly appreciated and understood, will enable us to contemplate the past, knowing the present and defining the future, and say to our children, The proudest title on earth is to be an American citizen.

Here in America is a finer sense of what is due from man to man than you will find in other lands. We do not cringe to those whom chance has crowned; we stand erect. The highest test of civilization is the treatment of women and children. By this standard our country stands first among nations. No American should ever say a word or write a line that can be sneeringly quoted by an enemy of the great Republic.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alternatives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alternatives.

"I consider that I have been

SAVED

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plattsburgh, N. Y.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 230 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Petsy, Mine Boss, Breckenridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

By Taking

"My niece, Sarah A. Losee, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losee, Utah.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Hog could not Move.

Cured by the use of Steketee's Hog Cholera Cure. Read:

G. G. STEKETEE:—Please send me two more packages of your Hog Cholera Cure. I leave the last I got from you to a sick hog that could not move itself, and now it can get up and come to the trough for feed. I want to feed this lot mostly to my horses. I believe it is a good remedy.

Saved his hog at an expense of two packages of Hog Cholera Cure. If your druggists do not keep it, then send 60 cents to G. G. Steketee, of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The best and surest dye to color the beard brown or black, as may be desired, is Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers. It never fails.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at P. W. Kane's Drugstore.

Cured.

Dr. F. J. Schouten: Dear Sir—For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and have used all kinds of remedies I could hear of; but it done me no good. Then I learned about your pills, of which I tried two boxes; and now I am free from rheumatism.

Truly Yours,
JAMES GRACE.
Holland, Mich. tf.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Arnica salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. P. W. KANE, Druggist.

Those Pills.

Dr. F. J. Schouten: Dear Sir—For four years I have been troubled with rheumatism and have experimented with different medicines off and on, but without relief. This winter I was persuaded to try Dr. F. J. Schouten's Anti-rheumatic Pills. Two boxes were sufficient to cure me.

Dr. F. J. Schouten: Dear Sir—About three months ago I bought a box of your anti-rheumatic pills and after using one-half of them I find myself in perfect health. Last year I went to Mt. Clemens, Mich., and although I obtained relief there, it did not cure me. At the urgent desire of some of my friends I tried your anti-rheumatic pills with the above happy result. I deem them the best I have used and I have tried nearly everything.

Respectfully Yours,

Drs. Starkey Palen's TREATMENT BY INHALATION.

1529 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa.

The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment, that of Drs. Starkey & Palen, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen magnetized; and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

It has been in use for more than twenty years; thousands of patients have been treated and one thousand physicians have used it, and recommend it,—a very significant fact.

The great success of our treatment has given rise to a host of imitations, unscrupulous persons; some calling their preparations compound oxygen, often appropriating our testimonials and the names of our patients, to recommend worthless concoctions. But any substance made elsewhere or by others and called Compound Oxygen, is spurious.

"Compound Oxygen—Its Mode, Action and Result," is the title of a new book of 200 pages, published by Drs. Starkey & Palen, which gives to all inquirers full information as to this remarkable curative agent, and a record of surprising cures in a wide range of chronic cases—many of them after being abandoned to die by other physicians. Will be mailed free to any address on application.

THE BOOK TRUST KNOCKED OUT

A Card To The Public.

Some six months ago we began the publication of our reprint of the famous Encyclopedia Britannica in 25 Volumes, which we issued at $1.50 per volume. The price of the English edition always has been and still is $8.00 per volume, and the Scribner edition $5.00 per volume in the cheapest binding.

That the public appreciate so great a bargain is shown by the fact that over half a million volumes of this reprint have been sold in less than six months.

This elegant new edition we still offer at the same price, $1.50 per volume. This is the greatest bargain ever known in books.

Better still, we will deliver the set complete on small easy payments, to suit the convenience of customers.

Remember this is not an abridgement, but the great Edinburgh ninth edition, reproduced page for page, with important articles on American subjects rewritten to date by eminent American authors, and new maps, later and better than in any other edition.

We further announce that we have in preparation three volumes of "American Additions and Revisions," thoroughly supplementing the original work. With these supplemental volumes you will have at small cost an Encyclopedia unapproachable in completeness; a thorough "digest of the libraries of the world," and a complete record of current progress and events.

SPECIAL OFFER.—We claim that our reprint compares favorably with the high priced editions in every respect, and in respect to maps, and strength and beauty of bindings is superior to them. In order that this claim may be tested by a personal inspection we make the following proposition: We will furnish volume I. at 60 cts.—a fraction of actual cost—if sent by express. Add 40 cts. postage if wanted by mail. Amount paid for Volume I will be credited on price of set when ordered.

MY OLD STONE WALL.

It stands as it stood in "old lang syne,"
By the side of the lane that leads to the spring.
Over it clamber the running vine.
And about it the brambles and lichens cling;
In the bushes that flank it on either hand,
The robins chirp and the bluejays squall,
While stat'ly cypresses, a giant hand,
Are standing guard o'er my old stone wall.

Men show me in triumph their fences white,
Built by some youth with a beardless chin,
As mushrooms' frail that grow in a night,
Or lilies that neither toil nor spin,
And granite deftly hewn in a day,
With iron crowned like an elon pal,
But painters are rare who can match for me
The hues of moss on my old stone wall.

What sounds it has echoed in bygone years—
Perchance the savage war-hoop shrill,
While the homestead blazed amid shrieks and tears,
Or the cannons booming on Bunker Hill.

The bear once haunted the sunny glade,
The deer when he fled from the hunter's ball
And the fox as by moonlight he slyly strayed
May have lurked in the shade of my old stone wall.

I wonder sometimes what his name might be
Who rolled together these massive stones,
While his firelock leaned 'gainst the nearest tree,
Was it Smith? or Thompson? or Brown; or Jones?

Did he wear a cue and a three-cornered hat?
Was his leg boot-fashioned from spruces tall?
Was he long or short? Was he lean or fat?
This man who constructed my old stone wall.

Perhaps he landed on Plymouth rock
From the Mayflower's boat with the pilgrim band,
And wandered away from the little flock
To make him a home in this rugged land;

Perhaps he had children who climbed his knee
When the shades of evening began to fall,
While he told of his childhood beyond the sea,
And rested from building my old stone wall.

Hundreds of winters' snows since then
Have whitened the hills of the still old town;
The builder has gone from the haunts of men;
In the Valley of Death he has laid him down;
No hand has embossed his deeds in song.
His name tradition may not recall,
But behold his handiwork, stanch and strong,
This ancient relic, my old stone wall.
—Boston Journal.

A LOST JEWEL MYSTERY.

James Blayne was a little out of temper. For more than a fortnight he had unsuccessfully devoted all the opportunity at his command to discover the whereabouts of Lady Merton's jewels, and of the man or woman who had stolen them.

James Blayne was a promising young member of the detective force, on the lookout for the lucky step that should lift him above the level of his peers, and when the Merton robbery was entrusted to his care he thought he had got his chance at last.

It certainly was rather an interesting case.

About three weeks before the day on which we record Mr. Blayne's loss of temper, pretty Lady Merton, as might have been gathered subsequently from the newspaper reports, was spending a solitary evening in her house in Brook street. Sir Robert was dining with an old friend some little way out of town, and, not returning till the morning, my lady had intended going to the play with some friends. But late in the afternoon she altered her plans, dispatched a note begging to be excused on account of a severe headache from joining the party, and with a curious feminine idea of comfort and indulgence, told her maid that she would not go down stairs again, but would have some dinner "on a tray" in her boudoir at 7:30.

At 10 o'clock she rang her bedroom bell, and saying that her head still ached badly and she should go to bed, dismissed her maid, requiring nothing more that night. Before leaving the maid asked if she should go to the jeweler's the next morning early, as had been arranged, to take there for repair a diamond brooch of her mistress. "Yes," adding as her maid opened the jewel case to take out the brooch, "Oh, leave it till the morning."

The box was relocked and the key put in its usual place in one of the dressing-table drawers. The butler stated that at 10:30 the house was shut up and every one went to bed.

The next morning Lady Merton, finding her headache no better, kept her room darkened till after 10 o'clock, when some tea was brought to her by her maid. The latter then went to the jewel-case for the broken brooch, and finding the box unlocked with the key lying near it hastily opened it and cried out the robbery to her mistress.

This was the story that in twenty-four hours was known to most newspaper readers in the country, and this was the story that about three weeks later was trying James Blayne's temper. Again and again he reviewed the few heads of the case.

On July 25 Lady Merton went to bed between 10 and 10:30 p. m. The jewels were then in their places, and she, seeing the box opened, told her maid not to disturb them till morning. The maid locked the box, replaced the key in a drawer, and shortly went to her own room, fastening the door—this last fact being attested by the housemaids, who slept in an outer room. The butler swore to turning out the lights and "shutting" up at 10:30. Lady Merton slept little and restlessly till 12:30, when she got up and stirred the fire—this fact attested by the cook, who slept in an outer room above and was aroused by the sound of the poker. At 10 o'clock the next morning the jewels were missing, and the jewel-case stood in the dressing-room within, and only approachable through Lady Merton's bedroom.

Robbery from without, Blayne rejected after due examination as an impossibility. From within, by a man; well-nigh impossible, owing to the position of the jewel-case and to Lady Merton's restless state during the night. It seemed a case of cherchez la femme, and Blayne had sought ceaselessly; chiefly among the women of the house, of course, though here also the great difficulty of crossing Lady Merton's bedroom unperceived by her was with him more strongly in their favor than their excellent characters from their employers. The lady's maid seemed his only chance, as, of course, she was fully acquainted with the situation in all its senses; and her footfall, which he proved to be light and to which, of course, Lady Merton was accustomed, would disturb her less than any of any other visitors. But the lady, while suggesting no other solution of the problem, rejected this last theory with some indignation, declaring that she had the utmost confidence in her maid, and that she had scarcely closed her eyes before midnight, after which hour the housemaid pronounced it an imposbility for the lady's maid to have crossed their room unnoticed.

So Mr. Blayne was a little out of temper with his lagging luck, and he decided to get two or three days' leave, and then, having rested his riddle a bit, to start afresh at reading it. Thus he found himself on the afternoon of Aug. 13—his request for leave of absence having been granted—talking to a pretty, neat-looking girl in a small semi-detached villa on the outskirts of the new and fashionable watering place, Stonelay.

"So you've been getting on pretty well, eh, Nellie?" he asked.

"Oh, yes, Jem, very. The air here seems to be quite setting me up, so I fancy I had been working a bit too hard, though I always said it was mother's nonsense. It's true it's rather dull here, but then I often go into Stonelay and have a look at the smart visitors; so even if Aunt Sarah is snappy at times I don't mind. She's kind enough, really."

"She couldn't have got any one else to bring her here, so she ought to be. I bet the beastly water puts an edge on a temper like her! Yes, I expect it's pretty dull alone with her. Poor Nellie!"

"Oh, I don't mind; and we've got a new neighbor."

"Old Mrs. what's name—you told me of, gone?"

"No. She's got a new lodger—a man—good looking, rather. She brought him in one day to tea, and we meet him now and then on the road. But he doesn't go out much."

"Oh, biding on some account, is he?" asked Jem rather snappishly of the pretty dressmaker.

"Nonsense, Jem, he isn't hiding. He is drinking the waters, he says, and he has a very pretty sister."

"Sister? Then they both lodge next door?"

"No. She comes to see him. She is a lady's maid staying at Stonelay. The husband of the lady she is with is drinking the waters."

"Ugh! lady's maid?" said Blayne spitefully, thinking of his recent trials, with which his fiancé was acquainted.

"Really, Jem, I believe your failing to fix the stealing business on the poor lady's maid has made you hate the lot. And, talking of your jewel affair, I find while you lose—"

"How do you mean?"

"Why, yesterday I found such a lovely button on the path just outside here. It was sparkling in the sun and I picked it up and brought it in. I went in to old Mrs. Brown to ask Mr. Martin (her lodger) if he knew anything about it; but he was away for two days, she told me, coming back to-night. Auntie says I'll have to make it known, perhaps advertise it if it once claims it, for this morning I showed it to Mr. Frazer, the jeweler at Stonelay, and he said it was a very good button, and uncommon, as the stones are beryls."

"What?"

"Dear me! beryls. Are they as extraordinary as all that?"

"That depends. Show us the button, Nellie!"

"Here it is," she said, taking it from the mantlesheff.

"Twelve gold filigree buttons jeweled with beryls," Blayne murmured to himself. "I should like to see your neighbor, Nellie, and his sister, the lady's maid."

"Why, Jem, you don't think—oh, I remember now, that description you sent me of the lost jewels! But this can't be. She is such a dear little thing, and so pretty."

"Yes, what sort?"

"Oh, middle height, dark hair, pretty eyes, nice figure—"

"That'll do, Nellie. It would fit almost any one. I say, who's that coming up the path to the house now?"

"Why, that's Mr. Martin," said Nellie, as Blayne instinctively got behind the muslin window curtain, from which post of vantage he could easily see without being seen. "He's good-looking, isn't he, Jem? Looks like a gentleman, rather?"

"Yes, just that last. I think I've got his measure."

"And oh, there is his sister just behind him—see? Now, that's not your lady's maid, is it?"

"That!" exclaimed Blayne, with eyes nearly starting through the lace of the curtains. "Is that your lady's maid and that man's—sister?"

"Yes," answered Nellie, as her neighbor and his sister, nodding and smiling to her, entered the next house.

"Does she stay the night there?" inquired Blayne.

"Oh, no, nothing more than an hour. Her lady couldn't spare her. But what is the matter with you, Jem, laughing in jerks like that?"

"Oh, nothing. I say, Nellie, is there a visitor's list in the paper here?"

"Yes, but Jem—now that wasn't your lady's maid, was it?"

"No, dear; now—the paper."

Blayne wandered steadily on through the list of "fashionable visitors" till he came to "Victoria hotel, Sir Robert and Lady Merton." Then he folded up the paper, saying: "Well, Nellie, I'll go into Stonelay with you to-morrow morning to have a look at the fashions. Here is Aunt Sarah coming to see after us," as that respectable lady entered the room.

"And there goes Mr. Martin's visitor," said Nellie as a woman hastily closed the door of the next house and hurried away.

"She must be late."

"Rather," said Blayne.

The next day the detective and his intended walked into Stonelay and after a few minutes' private conversation with the manager of the Victoria he astonished Nellie by insisting on buying her different trash in all the shops that commanded a view of the hotel. At length, on his offering her a pink glass mug decorated with the legend "In Affectionate Remembrance, in forget-me-nots," she began protesting.

"All right, dear, we'll take it to Aunt Sarah," he said, with his eyes fixed on a gentleman who was mounting a horse and that a groom had been leading up and down in the front of the hotel.

As soon as the object of his attention had ridden out of sight Blayne said to his companion:

"Do you mind walking on home, Nellie? I have a little business at the Victoria which I must see to at once."

then I'll come on after you with the—"

"Jewelry?"

"Yes, and the mug."

Blayne walked into the hotel and sent a written message to Lady Merton, asking if she would see him at that somewhat early hour, as he had to catch the next train to town. He was shown into a sitting-room where a very pretty woman in a soft morning wrapper was lying on the sofa reading the paper. She rose as he came in, and he thought of the lady's maid whose description would "fit almost any one."

"Well, Mr. Blayne," she said, with a smile, "you came about the jewels, of course?"

"Yes, my lady, I do."

"There is no news, I suppose?"

"Your ladyship will be pleased to hear that there is news."

"Ah!" she exclaimed, starting; "what—what news?"

"A small, very small portion of your jewelry is in my hands."

"Indeed!" said Lady Merton more calmly. "Are you sure it is mine?"

"I think, my lady, that beryl buttons, such as yours," pausing to note her pallor, "are extremely rare."

"Ah! and—"

"And this button that I hold in my hand"—he showed it to me as he spoke—"was found in a small semi-detached villa at some little distance from this town during the absence of—the thief."

He watched the blood rush to her face, her brow, and, thoughtfully looking elsewhere, said:

"The rest of your jewels, my lady, must be recovered by me or by—you."

"Really," she stammered, "I—I don't see—"

"I beg your pardon, my lady, but we waste time. I know that in a case of this sort my instructions would be to avoid the chance of scandal and I look to you to help me with this, for your own sake. You must return to that house this morning with me."

"I can't! I can't!" she gasped, clinging to the side of the sofa.

"My lady, you must!" answered the detective. "If you go with me I shall find only the jewels, but if I go alone I must find the thief. Now, will you come and recover your property, or shall I discover—"

Thanks to the exertions of that able officer, James Blayne, Lady Merton is an exception to many less fortunate ladies in having recovered her jewels, "never again," she declares, "to lose them." And the detective, now steadily advancing in his profession, never forgets that anxious and trying fortnight, during which he gave too little consideration to lachryms and headaches.—London World.

Cable Cipher Codes.

The ingenuity exercised in devising cipher codes is astonishing to veteran travelers. These little volumes are now published in convenient form to be carried in a traveler's pocket and contain a list of five or six hundred English words selected more for their telegraphic euphony than on any other consideration, arranged alphabetically and each with its meaning in plain language set opposite to it. The number of words, phrases and sentences which a single cipher word may mean when flashed under the ocean is astounding. For instance: In Low's new pocket code the word "scamper" means "Telegraph in cipher as soon as you receive the copy of the pocket cable code which I send you for that purpose." The word "enraptured" means, "Check book has been lost or stolen; please stop payments on any checks bearing the number of my check book." When telegraphic euphony is alluded to an expert will readily understand that the object desired in cipher words is a collection of letters, the telegraphic symbols for which are most readily intelligible to the ear of the cable operator, the telegraphic sounds, for instance, for "m" and "e" are so nearly alike, it is said, that certain unions of those letters have been avoided as far as possible. The system on which a code may be arranged is well shown in this series of three definitions: "Liberty," means "in reply to your"; "Libertine," which means "in reply to your letter"; "Liberty," which means "in reply to your telegram."—New York World.

He Was Off.

He was getting a shine on his boots as he leaned up against the postoffice building, and, observing that the boot-black had a black eye, he remarked:

"I am afraid you are prone to belligerency, my son."

"What's them?" asked the lad.

"You have been engaged in a physical contest."

"I don't catch."

"In other words, you resorted to muscular force where argument would no doubt have been far better."

The boy rubbed away for awhile and tried to straighten the kinks out of the several expressions, and then suddenly looked up and queried:

"Oh! you mean my black eye, don't you?"

"Of course I do."

"You mean that I've been in a fight?"

"Yes."

"And got licked?"

"Perhaps. It is very sad to see one so young walking in the path which leads to sin and disgrace."

"You're off, old man—way off!" replied the lad with a good deal of spirit as he chucked his brushes into his box.

"I wasn't scarpin' wid none of de kids. Seven big fellers was a robbin' of a man on Second avenue de oder night. An' I jumped in an' saved him an' his bootle, an' got dis eye for me reward."

"Oh, that's it! Then I'm sorry to have said anything. I hope I didn't hurt your feelings. Here's a nickel extra."

"My feelin's was hurt, sir, but dis makes it all right. Scrap wid a kid! never, sir!"

"That's right, my boy! A brave boy will not fight when he can avoid it."

"No, sir, and besides, it was his elbow he hit me wid, and all by accident, and de way I did lam de stuffin' outer dat messenger boy and make him holler would hev made all your hair climb right up! Thankee, sir; I'm allus open to advice!"—New York Sun.

ASTRAY BUT RECOVERED

TALMAGE PREACHES ON THE NECESSITY OF A REDEEMER.

Beauty, Pathos and Comfort Found in the Fifty-third Chapter of Isaiah—How and Why Men and Sheep Go Astray. Whosoever Will, Let Him Come.

Dr. Talmage's subject last Sunday was "Astray, but Recovered," and his text Isaiah liii, 6: "All we like sheep have gone astray: * * * and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all."

Within ninety years at the longest all who hear or read this sermon will be in eternity. During the next fifty years you will nearly all be gone. The next ten years will cut a wide swath among the people. The year 1891 will to some be the finality. Such considerations make this occasion absorbing and momentous. The first half of my text is an indictment, "All we like sheep have gone astray." Some one says: "Can you not drop the first word? That is too general; that sweeps too great a circle."

Some man rises in the audience and he looks over on the opposite side of the house, and he says: "There is a blasphemer, and I understand how he has gone astray. And there is another part of the house is a defrauder, and he has gone astray. And there is an impure person, and he has gone astray."

Sit down, my brother, and look at home. My text takes us all in. It starts behind the pulpit, sweeps the circuit of the room and comes back to the point where it started, when it says: "All we like sheep have gone astray." I can very easily understand why Martin Luther threw up his hands after he had found the Bible and cried out, "Oh! my sins, my sins," and why the publican, according to the custom to this day in the East, when they have any great grief, began to beat himself and cry as he smote upon his breast, "God be merciful to me a sinner."

I was, like many of you, brought up in the country, and I know some of the habits of sheep and how they get astray, and what my text means when it says, "All we like sheep have gone astray."

Sheep get astray in two ways, either by trying to get into the other pasture, or from being scared by the dogs. In the former way some of us got astray. We thought the religion of Jesus Christ short commons. We thought there was better pasture somewhere else. We thought if we could only lie down on the banks of distant streams or under great oaks on the other side of some hill we might be better fed.

We wanted other pasture than that which God through Jesus Christ gave our soul, and we wandered on and we wandered on, and we were lost. We wanted bread and we found garbage. The further we wandered, instead of finding rich pasture, we found blasted heath and sharper rocks and more stinging nettles. No pasture. How was it in the worldly groups when you lost your child? Did they come around and console you very much? Did not the plain Christian man who came into your house and sat up with your darling child give you more comfort than all worldly associations? Did all the convivial songs you ever heard comfort you in that day of bereavement so much as the song they sang to you, perhaps the very song that was sang by your little child the last Sabbath afternoon of his life?

There is a happy land, far, far away. Where saints' immortal reign, bright, bright as day.

Did your business associates in that day of darkness and trouble give you any special condolence? Business exasperated you, business wore you out, business left you limp as a rag, business made you mad. You got dollars, but you got no peace. God have mercy on the man who has nothing but business to comfort him. The world afforded you no luxurious pasture. A famous English actor stood on the stage impersonating, and thunders of applause came down from the galleries, and many thought it was the proudest moment of all his life; but there was a man asleep just in front of him, and the fact that that man was indifferent and somnolent spoiled all the occasion for him, and he cried, "Wake up! wake up!"

So one little annoyance in life has been more pervading to your mind than all the brilliant congratulations and successes. Poor pasture for your soul you found in this world. The world has cheated you, the world has belied you, the world has misinterpreted you, the world has persecuted you. It never comforted you. Oh! this world is a good rack from which a horse may pick his hay; it is a good trough from which the swine may crunch their mess; but it gives but little food to a soul blood-bought and immortal.

What is a soul? It is a hope high as the throne of God. What is a man? You say, "It is only a man." It is only a man gone overboard in business life. What is a man? The battle ground of three worlds, with his hands taking hold of destinies of light or darkness. A man! No line can measure him. No limit can bound him. The archangel before the throne cannot outlive him. The stars shall die, but he will watch their extinguishment. The world will burn, but he will gaze on the conflagration. Endless ages will march on; he will watch the procession. A man! The masterpiece of God Almighty. Yet you say, "It is only a man." Can a nature like that be fed on husks of the wilderness?

Substantial comfort will not grow on Nature's barren soil. All we can boast till Christ we know is vanity and toil.

Some of you got astray by looking for better pasture; others by being scared by the dogs. The hound gets over into the pasture field. The poor things fly in every direction. In a few moments they are torn of the hedges and they are plashed of the ditch, and the lost sheep never gets home unless the farmer goes after it. There is nothing so thoroughly lost as a lost sheep. It may have been in 1857, during the financial panic, or during the financial stress in the fall of 1873, when you got astray. You almost became an atheist. You said, "Where is God, that honest men go down, and thieves prosper?" You were dogged of creditors, you were dogged of the banks, you were dogged of worldly disaster, and some of you went into misanthropy, and some of you took to strong drink, and others of you fled out of Christian association, and you got astray. O man! that was the last time when you ought to have forsaken God.

Standing amid the foundering of your earthly fortunes, how could you get along without God to comfort you, and a God to deliver you, and a God to help you, and a God to save you? You tell me you have been through enough business trouble almost to kill you. I know it. I cannot understand how the boat could live one hour in that chopped sea. But I do not know by what process you got astray; some in one way, and some in another, and it you could really see the position some of you occupy before God this morning, your soul would burst into an agony of tears and you would pelt the heavens with the cry, "God have mercy!"

Sinal's batteries have been unlimbered above your soul, and at times you have heard it thunder. "The wages of sin is death." "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." "The soul that sinneth it shall die."

When Sebastopol was being bombarded, two Russian frigates burned all night in the harbor throwing a glare upon the trembling fortress, and some of you are standing in the night of your soul's trouble. The cannonade and the conflagration, the multiplication of your sorrows and troubles I think must make the wings of God's hovering angels shiver to the tip.

But the last part of my text opens a door wide enough to let us all out and let all heaven in. Sound it on the organ with all the stops out. Thrum it on the harp with all the strings atune. With all the melody possible let the heavens sound it to the earth and let the earth tell it to the heavens. "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." I am glad that the prophet did not stop to explain whom he meant by "him." Him of the manger, him of the bloody sweat, him of the resurrection throne, him of the crucifixion agony. "On him the Lord hath laid the iniquity of us all."

"Oh," says some man, "that is not generous; that is not fair; let every man carry his own burden and pay his own debts." That sounds reasonable. If I have an obligation and I have the means to meet it, and I come to you and ask you to settle that obligation, you rightly say, "Pay your own debts." If you and I walking down the street, both hale, hearty and well, I ask you to carry me, you say, and say rightly, "Walk on your own feet!" But suppose you and I were in a regiment and I was wounded in the battle and I fell unconscious at your feet with gunshot fractures and dislocations, what would you do? You would call to your comrades saying, "Come and help, this man is helpless; bring the ambulance; let us take him to the hospital," and I would be a dead lift in your arms, and you would lift me from the ground where I had fallen and put me in the ambulance and take me to the hospital and have all kindness shown me. Would there be anything becoming in my accepting that kindness? Oh, no. You would be mean not to do it. That is what Christ does.

If we could pay our debts then it would be better to go up and pay them, saying, "Here, Lord, here is my obligation; here are the means with which I mean to settle that obligation; now give me a receipt; cross it all out." The debt is paid. But the fact is we have fallen in the battle, we have gone down under the hot fire of our transgressions, we have been wounded by the sabers of sin, we are helpless, we are undone. Christ comes. The loud clang heard in the sky on that Christmas night was only the bell the resounding bell, of the ambulance. Clear the way for the Son of God. He comes down to bind up the wounds, and to scatter the darkness, and to save the lost. Clear the way for the Son of God.

Yonder is a woman who would say: "I wandered off from my father's house; I heard the storm that pelts on a lost soul; my feet were blistered on the hot rocks. I went on and on, thinking that no one cared for my soul, when one night Jesus met me and He said: 'Poor thing, go home! your father is waiting for you. Go home, poor thing!' And, sir, I was too weak to pray, and I was too weak to repent, but I just cried out: I sobbed out my sins and my sorrows on the shoulders of Him of whom it is said, 'The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.'"

There is a young man who would say: "I had a Christian bringing up; I came from the country to city life; I started well; I had a good position, but one night at the theater I met some young men who did me no good. They dragged me all through the sewers of iniquity, and I lost my morals and I lost my position, and I was shabby and wretched. I was going down the street thinking that no one cared for me, when a young man tapped me on the shoulder and said, 'George, come with me and I will do you good.' I looked at him to see whether he was joking or not. I saw he was in earnest and I said, 'What do you mean, sir?' 'Well,' he replied, 'I mean if you will come to the meeting to-night I will be very glad to introduce you. I will meet you at the door. Will you come?' Said I, 'I will!'

"I went to the place where I was tarrying. I fixed myself up as well as I could. I buttoned my coat over a ragged vest and went to the door of the church, and the young man met me and we went in; and as I went in I heard an old man praying, and he looked so much like my father I sobbed right out; and they were all around so kind and sympathetic that I just gave my heart to God, and I know this morning that what you say is true; I believe it in my own experience. 'On him the Lord hath laid the iniquity of us all.'

Oh, my brother without stopping to look as to whether your hand trembles or not, without stopping to look as to whether your hand is bloated with sin or not, put it in my hand, let me give you one warm, brotherly, Christian grip, and invite you right up to the heart, to the compassion, to the sympathy, to the pardon of him on whom the Lord had laid the iniquity of us all. Throw away your sins. Carry them no longer. I proclaim emancipation this morning to all who are bound, pardon for all sin, and eternal life for all the dead.

Some one comes here this morning, and I stand aside. He comes up these steps. He comes to this place. I must stand aside. Taking that place He spreads abroad His hands, and they were nailed. You see His feet, they were bruised. He pulls aside the robe and shows you His wounded heart. I say, "Art thou weary?" "Yes," He says, "weary with the world's woe." I say, "Whence comest thou?" He says, "I come from Calvary." I say, "Who comes with thee?" He says, "No one; I have trodden the winepress alone!" I say, "Why comest thou here?" "Oh," He says, "I came here to carry all the sins and sorrows of the people."

And He kneels and He says, "Put on my shoulders all the sorrows and all the sins." And, conscious of my own sins first, I take them and put them on the shoulders of the Son of God. I say, "Canst thou bear any more, O Christ?" He says, "Yea, more." And I gather up the sins of all those who serve at these altars, the officers of the Church of Jesus Christ—I gather up all their sins and put them on Christ's shoulders, and I say, "Canst thou bear any more?" He says, "Yea, more." Then I gather up all the sins of a hundred people in this house, and I put them on the shoulders of Christ, and I

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

G. VAN SCHELVEN, Editor.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1891.

The Milwaukee Line.

The first steamboat arrival of the newly established line between Holland and Milwaukee was on Tuesday morning, when the "City of Marquette" tied to the new transfer docks, just completed at Ottawa Beach. Her cargo consisted of about six car-loads of freight, mostly northern, which was at once loaded into C. & W. M. freight cars.

The City of Marquette is a new boat, built last year, 119 feet long, with fine cabin accommodations. During this and the coming week, while final arrangements for the season are being completed, she will make tri-weekly trips, or rather a round trip every two days. For instance, she will again arrive here on Saturday morning (July 4), and then leave for Benton Harbor and return here in the evening, leaving for Milwaukee about midnight; arrive in Milwaukee Sunday morning and leave there again in the evening, and so on a round trip every two days.

This arrangement however is only temporary. In the course of a week or ten days the company expects to run another, a larger and faster boat, which will run exclusively from this port and make the round trip between here and Milwaukee every twenty-four hours, thus forming a daily line. During the fruit season, however, this boat will also run to Saugatuck harbor. Due announcement of all this will be given at the earliest possible date. Also of the connections, by rail or boat, at Ottawa Beach, for passengers from this city. For whether the boats will come up the bay and land at the head of Black Lake or not, will depend largely upon the amount of local traffic.

In entering the harbor and making the dock no difficulty was encountered, and before again leaving Mr. Dickinson, the general agent of the line, was given the opportunity of satisfying himself of the splendid condition of our harbor at present, there being not less than 24 feet of water at the dock, plenty of water between and outside the piers and all of 15 feet of water on the outer bar.

The City of Fremont, another boat owned by the Milwaukee and Eastern Transit Co., 200 feet long and drawing 12 feet of water, will arrive at Ottawa Beach Sunday morning, with an excursion party from Benton Harbor.

The Fair.

The dates for the next annual fair of the South Ottawa and North Allegan Agricultural Society have been fixed for Oct. 6, 7, 8 and 9. Judging from the present agricultural and horticultural outlook the prospects for an elaborate and satisfactory display are very encouraging. The premium list has already been placed in the hands of the printer.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors the following appointments were made for the ensuing year:

Marshal—M. D. L. Hollis, of Jamestown.
Superintendent of Grounds—W. Diekema, Holland Town.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Superintendent—J. J. Cappon, City.
Judges—H. D. Post, City; C. Van Loo, Zeeland; G. J. Kollen, City.
Judges (bread, dairy produce and butter special)—Jacob Lokker, City; Miss Christina Ten Have, North Holland; Mrs. R. Van Zwaluwenburg, Drenthe.

The People's Party.

A branch of this new political party was duly organized in this city, last week, when the place was visited by R. L. Bonfoey, organizer of the National Citizen's Alliance, for the Fifth congressional district, designated at present as the People's Party by the convention lately held at Cincinnati. The local organization, having for its territory Holland city and town, started out with a membership of about fifty and a full set of officers was elected. Any one can become a member who will subscribe to the platform of principles adopted at the Cincinnati convention and by renouncing his allegiance to either or both the old political parties.

As near as we can learn the above embraces two distinct organizations. The one mentioned above, is open, and the other is secret, being somewhat of an inner circle and the real power behind the throne. It is generally surmised that in this city the membership of the Single Tax Club will be largely merged into this new movement.

The peculiar activity at this time is with an eye upon the congressional election in this district, this fall. It is the intention of the People's Party to place a candidate of their own in the field, which will likely be Geo. F. Richardson, of this county, although in several quarters the name of Geo. Ballard of this city, is being suggested. Whether or not this candidacy will then be endorsed by the Democracy will be the next problem for the silk-stocking wing of the party, at Grand Rapids, to solve. It is also freely hinted by some, that the congressional convention of the People's Party will be held in this city.

Resort Wavelets.

The past week has been a busy one at Hotel Ottawa.

Arthur Long of Grand Rapids is resorting at the beach.

G. C. Westervelt's addition to his cottage is quite an improvement.

Sol Smith Russell, the actor, is expected at Hotel Ottawa in July.

The steamer Macatawa now stops at Zalmink's Cape when signalled.

H. Postma, of Holland, made a business trip to the resorts, Wednesday.

A gang of twenty men are at work cleaning up the rubbish on the beach.

Prof. Anderson's cottage at Harrington's Landing presents a fine appearance.

Prof. Chas. Scott and family, of St. Paul, Minn., are stopping at Macatawa Park Hotel.

Galen Eastman, of Grand Rapids, has taken quarters for the season at his resort cottage.

Several new steam launches have been fitted up this week, to be in readiness on the Fourth.

The City of Marquette came in at 4 o'clock Thursday morning with a heavy cargo of freight.

The Sacred concert, given by Squire's Orchestra, at Macatawa Park Hotel, Sunday, was largely attended.

The Grand Rapids Trinity church choir will give a concert at the Hotel Ottawa, this (Friday) evening.

J. Van der Ven and family, of Grand Rapids, have occupied their summer cottage at Macatawa for the season.

Geo. G. Steketee and family, of Grand Rapids have resumed their summer residence at Macatawa Park.

Squire's Orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the hops at Macatawa Park Hotel every Saturday evening.

Messrs. J. C. Post, Prof. C. Scott and P. H. McBride have taken their families to the Macatawa resort, for the season.

The South Bend colony at Macatawa Park is rapidly increasing. A few days more and it will reach its old time numerical strength.

The new engine arrived at the Beach Sunday morning, and the dummy is now running regular every ten minutes with crowded cars.

An evening ride to the resorts, on the steamer Macatawa, is one of the delights of this hot weather and is being indulged in by many.

Special passenger trains will leave Ottawa Beach on the evening of July 4th, as follows: For Allegan at 10:30 p. m.; for Grand Rapids at 11:00 p. m.

H. Bradshaw and family of Chicago came over on the steamer Kalamazoo, Thursday morning, and at once occupied their cottage, near Harrington's Landing.

C. C. Lamos and party from Chicago were heartily welcomed at the Park Hotel. They arrived there Thursday morning, and have come to stay for the season.

The steamer Macatawa was inspected Monday, and was reported in better trim than last season. The Lizzie Walsh made the 19 o'clock trip from Holland.

Commodore A. B. Turner, Capt. Geo. Davis, Capt. Mead, Capt. Lamos, and Capt. Long are making things lively on Macatawa Bay with their steam launches.

C. S. collector Steketee, of Grand Rapids, has laid in a special supply of fireworks. The pyrotechnical display at Harrington's Landing on the evening of the Fourth will be glorious.

The permanent campers, cottagers, resorters and hotel guests at Macatawa Park have all been indulging in special preparations for a good time on the Fourth, and intend to spend the day right socially.

Thursday morning the steamer Kalamazoo landed 19 passengers from Chicago at the Macatawa dock, including a party from Bloomington, Ill., who intend to spend a part of the season at that resort. The remainder were Chicago tourists.

Says the Detroit Evening Sun: "Fishing is excellent at the different resorts around Holland, one party caught two perch, one frog and a mud turtle, all at one setting. Their catch would have had a greater variety, only, it is supposed, the 'bait' gave out."

Macatawa Bay now presents a lovely appearance about 6 p. m. The steamer "Mac" arrives about that time as does the Nelly, from Saugatuck, and three times each week the Kalamazoo is at the pier, en route for Chicago; and with the Lizzie Walsh spinning from Macatawa Park to Ottawa Beach, and the other Landings, the scene is very animated.

The cottages as well as the hotels and docks at the Park and the Beach will all be handsomely trimmed and decorated on the Fourth and illuminated in the evening. It cannot be denied but Independence Day will be as enthusiastically and patriotically observed at the Holland resorts this year as anywhere in "this broad land of ours."

A Grand Rapids party while looking for change in his vest pocket Wednesday, took out a five dollar bill to pay his way from the Park to Holland.

Quite a gale of wind was blowing, and while in the act of handing it to the purser, the wind and not the purser took it and carried it from the boat into the water. The trip is one that will not be forgotten very soon by that gentleman.

J. H. Alliger, Amusement Director of the Ottawa Beach Resort, took the train for Lansing, Monday, to arrange for a band on the Fourth and induce the Lansing Canoe Club to give an exhibition at Ottawa Beach, at an early day. In both instances he has met with success. The Lansing State Band 17 pieces, will be in attendance at the Beach on Independence Day, and the Canoe Club will give an exhibition at some day in the latter part of July.

The formal opening of the season at Macatawa Park took place Saturday evening, and was in the main a home affair. The steamer Macatawa with the West Michigan Band on board conveyed a large party of the friends of this favored resort from this city, and the guests of Hotel Ottawa helped to swell the festive throng that had gathered in response to the kind invitation of Mrs. J. Ryder, the ever popular proprietress of the Macatawa Park House. The illuminations at both resorts were elegant and profuse and added largely to the gaiety of the evening's entertainment. It was a very happy and social affair.

The following are a few of the amusements which will be given at the Beach at early dates, and show what a hustler J. H. Alliger is. First: A concert by the Trinity Church Choir of Grand Rapids July 3rd. Second: A magnificent display of fireworks and other amusements July 4th. Third: Masquerade Carnival July 10th. Fourth: Schubert Club concert July 15th. Fifth: During the week of July 12th, Tejero will dance three evenings in Hotel Ottawa parlors. She is the rival of the famous Carmanita, and her refined dancing to the music of Tomasso's Orchestra, will be a novelty which will attract large crowds to the resorts.

No matter what may be the ills you bear from indigestion, a dose of Ayer's Cathartic Pills will ease you without question. Just try them once and be assured; they have much worse dyspeptics cured. You'll find them nice and amply worth the price.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
COUNTY OF OTTAWA.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Ottawa, holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, on Tuesday, the Thirtieth day of June, A. D. 1891, the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Present, CHARLES E. SOULE, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Eelje Elzinga deceased.
On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Martin Elzinga, executor of the will of said deceased, praying for the examination and allowance of his final account, that he distribute said estate, he be discharged from his trust, have his bond canceled and said estate closed:

Thereupon it is Ordered, that Tuesday, the Twenty-eighth day of July next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the next of kin of said minor, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. And it is further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the HOLLAND CITY NEWS, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Ottawa for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

(A true copy.) Attest
23-7w CHAS. E. SOULE,
Judge of Probate.

TWO GOOD RED MEN.

A MURDER SENSATION NEAR PEORIA, ILLINOIS.

Three Men Killed by Falling Walls at Peoria, Ill.—An Indiana Victim of Hydrophobia—A Tennessee Court-Room Tragedy—Ohio Glass Factories Closed.

DEADLY DUEL IN A CANOE.

Two Michigan Indians Fight with Paddles and Both Are Drowned.

Swift Arrow and Guide of the Woods, two noble Michigan red men, both belonging to the Walpole Island Indian Reservation, disposed of a canoe-load of cherries, the first of the season, and got drunk off the proceeds. They staggered to their canoe and both got in. Guide of the Woods was not so drunk as Swift Arrow, and had not taken twenty sweeps when he conceived the idea that the latter was shamming to avoid work, and he ordered him to help paddle. A fight ensued, and both fell overboard and drowned.

WHITE CAPS IN ILLINOIS.

Marshall County Turn Up Over the Murder of Royal Frisby.

Marshall County, Illinois, is all excitement. The body of Royal Frisby was found dead with two loads of shot in his body. The whole matter originated in a family quarrel. John Carver died about thirteen years ago, leaving a widow, one daughter and three sons. Some time after his death Royal Frisby married the widow and ran through the property left by Carver in short order. The wife sued for a divorce and received a decree. Frisby afterward married the daughter, whom, it is said, he ruined while he was yet the husband of the girl's mother.

TOUGHS IN THE COURT-ROOM.

Two Witnesses Mortally Wound Each Other at Buffalo Valley, Tenn.

At Buffalo Valley, Tenn., a picnic was given recently. Two men named Prentice and Carr got into a quarrel. Carr stabbed his opponent and the wound proved fatal. Carr was put under arrest and while the hearing was in progress a dispute arose between two witnesses named James Mitchell and Oscar Plunkett. They drew revolvers, instantly opened fire on each other and kept it up until both had been mortally wounded.

Fatal Fight Among Huns.

A desperate fight took place in the Hungarian district at Plymouth, Pa. A party of Huns had been drinking, their shouts causing disturbance. John Majak requested them to desist. He was brutally beaten and fled to his home, where he aroused a number of friends. A free fight ensued, fully 100 Hungarians taking part. Andrew Kamski and Stanislaus Sackesha were fatally injured and a large number seriously hurt. No arrests.

Ohio Farmer Victim.

Detectives are in Canton, Ohio, after a gang of sharpers, of whom Samuel Camp, of Marshville, is the leader. They have victimized farmers and others out of $20,000 worth of property. Samuel Rehm, the Wayne County farmer who reported to the police some weeks ago that he had been robbed of $10,000, is a leader. Rehm took this course as a ruse to avert suspicion. He has disappeared.

Riotous 'Longshoremen at New Orleans. There was a lively riot on the New Orleans levee between union and non-union 'longshoremen. A number of shots were fired, but no one was seriously injured. The union men carried the day, and will hereafter have no opposition in the unloading or loading of vessels save those containing fruit, which will be handled by Italian stevedores.

Glass Factories Close for the Summer. All but one of the fourteen flint and window glass factories of Findlay, Ohio, have put out their fires for the summer vacation, which will last until Sept. 1 and probably longer, as a wage schedule has not yet been agreed upon. The closing of the factories of Findlay gives over two thousand employees a two months' vacation.

Cattle Thief Escapes and Is Recaptured. Officers recaptured Frank Evans at Drakeville, Iowa. He was arrested charged with stealing cattle, but told such a plausible story that he was released. Later evidence more criminal than his release made necessary. He has confessed that his cattle speculations had been going on for two years.

Died from Hydrophobia.

Reuben Drew, a farmer, 76 years old, living at Arcola, Ind., was bitten by a pet dog six weeks ago. Mr. Drew was taken sick with hydrophobia and died in terrible agony. The unfortunate man had to be tied to his bed with ropes.

In a Maltster's Fall.

At Baltimore Levy and Joseph Straus, maltsters, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors. The assignee's bond is $300,000.

Three Men Killed.

At Janesville, Wis., Patrick Hegarty, Richard T. Bennewitz, and John Flaherty were instantly killed by the fall of a wall.

Explosion of an Oil Tank.

Reports come of the explosion and burning of a large tank of oil at Coropio Station, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, fifteen miles from Pittsburgh. One report states that four men were killed by the explosion. Another report says that two men were fatally hurt.

Killed by the Collapse of a Bridge.

An iron bridge over the Erie Canal at Warner, N. Y., collapsed and carried nine workmen into the canal. William B. Cadd was killed and William F. Austin seriously injured.

RESPECTED THEIR DEAD.

Because the Grave Was Dug Near a Murderer's a Burial Was Postponed.

There was great consternation at the Park Cemetery where lies the body of Scheele, the murderer, says a Bridgeport, Conn., dispatch. Thomas Thornton, an Englishman, died Friday night. His friends purchased a single burial plot at the Park cemetery. In this cemetery graves are sold by number. The number they had called for a grave next to that of Scheele. After the coffin had been taken from the hearse and mourning friends had gathered about the grave some one remarked that it was a shame that a man like Thornton should be buried beside a murderer. Others thought so, too, and it was decided to postpone the burial, if possible, to dig another grave. He said, however, that he had no authority to do this, and it was finally arranged to place the body in the receiving vault until another plot could be bought.

COMMERCIALLY SOUND.

Activity at Pittsburgh—Risk Trade at Chicago.

R. D. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Signs of improvement in business grow more frequent and distinct, though there is nothing like a radical change as yet. The situation which has prevailed during the year gives way but slowly to increased confidence, the more slowly because of a few failures in business at Philadelphia and in leather and shoes in the East. Yet the soundness of the commercial situation is generally recognized, and the hesitation which remains is rightly attributed mainly to uncertainties regarding the demand for gold from Europe and the financial situation there. Hence dispatches announcing the settlement of difficulties which have been hanging over the London market, and which were supposed to affect one or more houses having large interests in this country, are regarded with satisfaction. While gold continues to leave England for Russia the banking institutions of Western Europe are well supplied, and in this country treasury disbursements have been enormous. The one point of danger is still the exceedingly strained condition of credits abroad on account of past disastrous speculations.

TOOK POLICEMEN FOR BURGLARS.

An Old Sea Captain and His Son Have a Fierce Fight with Officers.

Police Officer Knott attempted to arrest Thomas Golding, Jr., an employee of the Hydrographic office, at the house of his parents in San Francisco, on a charge of horse stealing. Mr. Golding, Sr., who is an old Pacific Mail steamship captain, repelled the officer with a cutlass, and when he was re-enforced by Officers Brown, Gould, and Magee, Golding was assisted by his wife and son. A number of shots were fired, and when the Goldings were finally arrested and taken to jail it was found that old Mr. Golding had a bullet wound in the back that will probably prove fatal. The Goldings claim to have mistaken the police for burglars. This was also the view taken by a citizen named B. C. Mann, who attempted to arrest one of the policemen and was knocked senseless.

AID FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS.

The Mayor of Cherokee Sends Out an Appeal—Five Hundred Homeless.

Mayor David H. Bloom, of Cherokee, Iowa, has sent out an appeal for aid. There are 500 people in the place who are homeless and who will have to be supplied with food and shelter. The loss to the town is estimated at $250,000. The damage has been great along the Maple River and Ida Grove, Correctionville, Danbury, Holstein and Battle Creek, including the intermediate country, have been deluged. Two children were drowned near Correctionville and one man near Galva. Large numbers of cattle have been drowned. Half the crops on the Iowa river have been ruined. The loss to the Iowa river is estimated at $250,000.

IMPORTATION OF SMALLPOX.

Surgeon General Wyman suggests a Means of Preventing It.

Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine Hospital service has called attention to the importation of smallpox and other diseases into interior States by means of the baggage of immigrants and the immigrants themselves arriving at New York and other ports, and has suggested the desirability of furnishing to the States to which the immigrants are bound a list of persons who come in vessels which are or have been infected or which come from ports where contagious diseases prevail.

WILL ACT INSTEAD OF PREACH.

The Rev. John Jayne to Leave the Pulpit for the Stage.

One of the most brilliant ministers of the Christian denomination in the West has been the Rev. John Jayne, of Fairmount, Ky. He is but 28 years old and unmarried, though it is said he is about to lead to the altar a lineal descendant of Henry Clay. The announcement is authoritatively made that he has resigned his pastorate and is going on the stage. He will essay dramatic parts. The news causes a wide sensation in the leading church circles and great regret among the heads of the denomination.

CHINESE FANATICS STILL ACTIVE.

A Band of Murderers on the March to Commit Fresh Massacres.

Advices by the steamer Batavia stated that Consul General Leonard, at Shanghai, had notified Admiral Belknap, of the Asiatic squadron, that the band of Chinese who destroyed the Woo Shih French Mission were at Soe Choo, en route for Shanghai, and that it was feared they would next attack the French missions, eighteen miles from Shanghai, and at Sachakar, four miles from Shanghai. One French and one Russian gunboat had arrived at Shanghai, making nine gunboats for up-river service.

PAULINE MARKHAM'S TROUBLES.

Report that She Has Sued for a Divorce from Randolph Murray.

Pauline Markham, who was some years ago a bright particular star of the burlesque stage, has separated from her husband, Randolph Murray, and for five months the couple have been maintaining separate establishments in New York. It is now rumored that Miss Markham has sued her husband for divorce on the statutory ground. This is denied by both Miss Markham and Murray. "We have simply decided to live apart," said Miss Markham, "as we cannot agree together."

Dame Rumor Says.

Rumors are rife that Mrs. John A. Logan is soon going to marry George E. Lemon, the millionaire pension agent. When Mrs. Logan sailed for Europe some weeks ago she is said to have given a hint of her purpose to a few friends. And now Lemon himself has gone to Europe and before sailing made no secret of his intention to join Mrs. Logan's party and travel about the continent with them. The names of Mrs. Logan and Captain Lemon were linked for matrimony some months ago and idle tongues can now see only a marriage abroad in their presence across the Atlantic this summer. At the time of the report both entered a strong denial. But now there are a great many who believe the report to be true.

Gov. Roles Renominated.

The Democratic State Convention of Iowa met at Ottumwa and renominated Hon. Horace Roles for a second term as Governor. The ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant Governor, Samuel L. Bestow; Supreme Judge, L. G. Kline; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. B. Knoefler; Railroad Commissioner, Peter A. Day. The platform adopted demands the repeal of the prohibitory liquor law; favors the Australian system of voting; denounces trusts, pools and combines; and acknowledges the great debt the nation owes to the soldiers and sailors of the Union.

Status of Henry Ward Beecher.

In front of the Brooklyn City Hall, in the presence of 10,000 people, was unveiled a handsome bronze statue of Henry Ward Beecher, the great preacher of Plymouth Church. Thirty representatives of Mr. Beecher's family were in attendance. President Seth Lowe, of Columbia College, delivered the address, which was an eloquent tribute to the memory of the dead divine. The statue, which is pronounced to be a very artistic piece of work, stands upon a granite pedestal ten feet high, and the whole measures eighteen feet. The total cost was $35,000.

Chinese Rioters Were Rebels.

A Shanghai dispatch says the Chinese Government has come to the conclusion that the recent riots were not merely anti-Christian, but were also aimed at the reigning dynasty in China. The outrages on foreigners have been perpetrated by means of the secret society of Kolo, direct descendants of the Taipings, who came so near to the overthrow of the empire. This accounts for the sudden activity of the Chinese Government in bringing the rebels to justice.

Nebraska's Under Water.

A perfect deluge of rain has fallen throughout Nebraska, says an Omaha dispatch. Railroad traffic is entirely suspended in the State. There were no trains in or out of Omaha for the West-to-night. In many places in the State the tracks are under water for miles, rendering traffic entirely impossible. The Missouri is a raging torrent. It is rising fast, and is within a few feet of the danger line. Crop damage is incalculable throughout the State.

To Repair the Dolphin.

The Navy Department will resume the repair of the Dolphin July 1 at the Norfolk navy yard, when the appropriations for the next fiscal year will be available. But the department appears to have abandoned the idea of fitting up the vessel to replace the Dispatch and only the ordinary repairs will be made. The President and such guests of the nation as are to be transported by water from place to place must continue to use the old vessel.

Ruined by Gambling.

George Bradford, Postmaster at Station B, Carondelet, Mo., is missing. It is alleged that Bradford lost considerable money of late in gambling and betting on races. Bradford's accounts with the Government balance, as has been shown by a thorough examination. His friends and one or two secret societies, of which he was Treasurer, are not so fortunate. It would appear, for he has left debts behind him to the amount of $3,000.

Simmons Gets Six Years.

James A. Simmons, who was convicted of aiding General Peter J. Claassen, President of the Sixth National Bank, in the embezzlement of the funds of that institution, was brought up before Judge Benedict in the United States Circuit Court at New York and sentenced to six years' imprisonment in the Erie County Penitentiary. An appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme Court. The scheme which nearly wrecked the Sixth National Bank caused a sensation in banking circles in March, 1890.

One More Trial for Pneumatic Guns.

As a result of the report of the Commander Evans Board, which conducted the recent tests of the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius at Fort Monro, Va., the Navy Department has decided to make further tests of the guns. It will take about three months to make certain alterations and comply with requests of the board and then the final and thorough test of the pneumatic guns will be made.

Secretly Wedded.

Charles S. Parnell and Mrs. Kitty O'Shea were married at the parish church of Steyning, Sussex, in the presence of two witnesses who arrived by train. The names of these witnesses are, however, not given. Immediately after the knot had been tied the bride and groom left the town for a destination not known, but conjectured to be Paris, where it is believed the honeymoon will be spent.

Failure of a Nebraska Bank.

J. M. McKnight, National Bank Examiner, took charge of the Red Cloud (Neb.) National Bank, and closed its doors. This is the second national bank failure at this city within a month. The milling firm of R. Greig & Co., at Cannon Falls, Minn., has made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. The assets amount to $63,162, and the liabilities foot up nearly $150,000.

Indiana Murderer Pardon.

Sylvester Bassett, of Shelby County, Indiana, who was sentenced in 1887 to eighteen years' imprisonment for killing his brother, has been pardoned by Governor Hovey. The brother was drunk and abusing his aged father, when Sylvester interfered. A fight ensued, in which the elder brother was stabbed to the heart.

Beginning of the Work.

The first start has been made upon the World's Fair buildings at Jackson Park, Chicago. In the history of the Columbian Exhibition will be written the fact that the woman's building was the first one begun. Chicagoans will come in for a share of the glory, for the contractors of the carpenter work are citizens of Chicago.

Cloudburst in North Carolina.

A report comes from Cherokee County, North Carolina, of a terrible cloudburst there lately. Two ill-fated distillers named Harvey Agnew and Jack Newton, who happened to be near by, were instantly killed. A number of farms for miles below were inundated and growing crops suffered a loss of several thousand dollars.

Must Pay Taxes on Its Land.

The decision of the Indiana Supreme Court holding that the old State Board of Agriculture is a private corporation is likely to cost the corporation considerable money, as the State Auditor has determined to place its real estate—a tract of land lying in Indianapolis and worth $300,000—on the tax list.

Birchall Didn't Confess.

Dean Wade, who was the spiritual adviser of Reginald Birchall, hanged at Woodstock, Ont., last fall for the murder of Benwell, emphatically denies the story that he had admitted that Birchall confessed to him and that he had refrained from making the confession public because it implicated others.

Drunken Fight Ends in Wife Murder.

At Leavenworth, Kan., Mrs. Mary Ryan was shot and fatally injured by her husband, Dennis Ryan, in a drunken fight. They quarreled about some money which Ryan had. Five shots were fired, of which two took effect, one in the left breast and the other in the head. Ryan was captured.

Bardsley in Court.

John Bardsley, ex-City Treasurer, of Philadelphia, who several days ago pleaded guilty of embezzlement of public funds, was brought from prison to court for sentence, but on motion of District Attorney Graham sentence was suspended indefinitely.

Died While Playing Foot-Ball.

A special from Marion, Ind., says: Steven Stakenberg, a student at the Normal College, died suddenly while playing foot-ball. He stooped to pick up the ball, fell, and expired instantly. Stakenberg lived at Carthage, Ohio.

Fire in Cleveland.

At Cleveland, Ohio, fire at the Canfield oil works caused a loss of $50,000, on which there is an insurance of $25,000. A planing mill and several piles of lumber belonging to Woods, Jenks & Co., adjoining, were also burned, causing a loss of $10,000.

Death Caused by Lightning.

Near Oak Lake, Minn., at Archibald Malcolm's farm, a bolt of lightning killed a team of horses and a Frenchman standing near, while the driver was unhurt. Mr. Malcolm was standing inside a window at the house, and was stunned.

Nineteen Samos Storm Victims Buried.

The bodies of nineteen sailors who were drowned in the great storm at Samoa were buried at Mare Island with imposing ceremonies. Their remains were taken to the cemetery, seven in one hearse and twelve on a caisson constructed of gun carriages.

Damaged by Fire.

At Jefferson, Texas, fire destroyed a business block, causing a loss of $75,000, on which there is $35,000 insurance. Fire in the Border City Mills at Fall River, Mass., did about $100,000 damage. The loss is covered by insurance.

Adds Is Left.

The contest over the Mayoralty of Emporia, Kan., was decided in favor of G. A. Biddle, the Republican candidate, a recount of the votes showing that he had a majority. His competitor was William Addis, the Alliance candidate.

Woodruff Under Arrest.

The Grand Jury of Pulaski County, Arkansas, returned an indictment against ex-State Treasurer Woodruff for embezzlement of State funds. Woodruff was immediately placed under arrest.

Chinamen to Be Returned.

Acting Secretary Spaulding has directed that three Chinamen who were arrested at Detroit for entering this country in violation of law be sent to San Francisco for transportation to China.

Four Within Ten Days.

Four children of Albert Reuser, of Jersey City, have died of diphtheria within the last ten days. The cause of the disease is attributed to a defective sewer that connects with the house in which they live.

A Thriving Province.

The commerce of New South Wales, one of the Australian provinces, is, in proportion to its population, three times that of Canada, five times that of France, and eight times that of the United States.

The Obituary Record.

Dr. John L. Northrop, the instructor in zoology at Columbia College, who was so badly burned by the explosion of a cask of alcohol in the basement of the college building, died at the Presbyterian Hospital.

Ran Away with His Wife's Money.

G. W. Stranahan, the tailor who ran away from Atchison, Kan., a few weeks ago, taking with him a certificate of deposit for $1,000 belonging to his wife, was arrested at Salt Lake City.

Dr. Talmage's Brother Dead.

Dr. John Talmage, a brother of the Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, the Brooklyn divine, died suddenly at Somerville, N. J., from apoplexy.

Broke the Steamship Record.

The steamship Furst Bismarck, from New York for Southampton, made the trip in 6 days 16 hours 10 minutes. This beats the record.

Drafting Them Into the Army.

Capt. Pratt, of the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian school, has been trying to induce young Sioux Indians to join the regular army.

United in Death.

James Holden, of Fosterville, Tenn., was fatally stabbed by an unknown negro. Holden shot the negro dead.

"German Syrup"

"I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Pictou, Ontario."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Board of Education.

HOLLAND, MICH., June 26, 1891.
The board met in special session, called for the purpose of fixing salaries of teachers, etc.
Regular order of business was suspended.
Resolved, That each teacher already engaged, who has taught in our Schools during the last year, shall be given an increase of salary of $5.
Carried.
Com. on teachers recommended that Miss Sadie G. Clark be engaged as teacher, at a salary of $200.—Adopted.
Board adjourned.
C. VERSCHURE, Sec'y.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Olive Centre.

Haying has begun, and yields better than was expected. Corn is small for the time of the year, and grows slowly.
Many of our people will go abroad to celebrate, and some of the stay-at-homes will hold the Fourth at Fellows Corners, where there will be a bowery, good music, refreshments and other amusements.
Lafayette Ballor feels more like celebrating than anyone else around here. His wife presented him with an eight-pound boy, June 25th.
Mrs. E. H. Merritt was badly stung by bees last Saturday, while hiving a swarm.
Henry Cheesman has a head of timothy one foot long. It is about as large at the top as it is at the foot.

Allegan County.

The board of supervisors have elected P. A. Latta, present secretary, as commissioner of schools, at a salary of $1,300, and Mrs. D. V. Purcell of Plainwell and James Warnock of Douglas school examiners. Dick Newman, of Allegan, was delegated to represent the interests of the county at the next meeting of the state board of equalization.

Fruitgrowers are thinning their peaches. There are more on the trees than the limbs will bear.

On Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday nights the strawberries are taken on the tug Shriver to the mouth, where they are transferred to the steamer Kalamazoo, which stops on her way from Holland to Chicago.—Saugatuck Commercial.

In anticipation of an active demand for small fruits at Chicago, during the season of the World's Fair in 1893, a number of growers will set extensive patches this year to have them in full bearing in 1893.

The improvement to crops of all kinds since the late rains has been very marked, and many farmers who were fearful of having a light yield, are now certain of nearly an average crop.

Fruitgrowers say that they have never before known peaches to be so large at this time of the year. The weather since the opening of the spring has been almost perfect.

Commission men are thicker hereabouts than fiddlers in Tunket.—Douglas Record.

A little dog belonging to Mr. Thomas was playing on the second floor of the new paper mill at Plainwell, Friday noon, when he fell into the chute connected with the beaters, and in less time than it takes to write it the pup was pulp.—Independent.

The great drawback of the strawberry business of this section is that the product is ready to go on the market just as the raspberries of Southern Illinois come on and consequently the sale is very poor. If they could be shipped to St. Paul or other northwestern points, better prices would undoubtedly be realized.—Commercial.

The curculio seems to have become discouraged with the successive fruit failures in this region and to have taken himself to pastures new. Plums or cherries show little evidence of his presence this year.

Pumping continues daily at the Allegan oil well, and with satisfactory results, the yield being steady at the rate of eight barrels per day. The next step in the business is to determine the value of oil, which is said by all of the many oil-men who have seen it to be very much above the average. Samples have been sent to Cleveland, O., and Franklin, Pa., for analysis, and further proceedings will depend on the reports. The liquid pumped from the well varies in the amount of oil it bears, being at times only twenty-five per cent, and at others seventy-five per cent, petroleum, the remainder being salt water. If the oil is as good as it is believed to be, or even nearly so, the well will pay handsomely and at least one more will be put down by local capital.—Gazette.

Overisel is to celebrate the Fourth in the good old-fashioned way, and will outdo itself this year as compared with other years. George Kollen will be one of the speakers.

William Miller, one of Salem's most successful farmers wishes to announce to his brother granger that he has a sure trap to catch cut worms. By mere accident last week Mr. Miller threw a few bunches of green clover in his corn field and while cultivating corn turned over one of these bunches of clover and found 124 cut worms under it. Joyous with this accidental result he put out some bunches to catch the pest, and as a result last Monday he picked from under these bunches 1,471 cut worms by actual count. For fear some one might doubt the veracity of the statement he called in some of the neighbors to see and count the worms.

"Excuse me, George, but when I saw you a year ago, your face was covered with pimples; it seems to be all right now." "Yes, sir; that's because I stuck to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the greatest blood medicine in the world. I was never so well in my life as I am now."

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of payment of a mortgage executed by Jan Van den Bosch, of Holland, Ottawa County, State of Michigan, to Hubert Kappel, of Zeeland, Ottawa County, Michigan, dated March twenty third, A. D. 1885, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Ottawa County, Michigan, on March twenty fifth, A. D. 1885, in book 31 of mortgages on page 159, which mortgage was assigned by said Hubert Kappel by assignment in writing dated June sixth, A. D. 1891, to Isaac Marsilje, of Holland, Michigan, and which assignment was recorded on June ninth, A. D. 1891, in said Ottawa County register's office in book 35 of mortgages on page 459, which mortgage was given to secure payment of part of the purchase money for the premises hereafter described, and on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars, and to set off and proceed, having been instituted at law, or in equity, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is therefore hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and the statute in that behalf provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale at public vendue of the mortgaged premises, to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with interest and costs of foreclosure and sale, including the attorney fee provided by law, and by said mortgage. Said sale to take place at the front door of the Ottawa County court house, at Grand Haven, Michigan, on the TWENTY FIRST DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1891, at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day. All of that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the village of Zeeland, in the county of Ottawa, and State of Michigan, and described as follows: An undivided three-eighths (3/8) part of an undivided two-thirds (2/3) part of lots fourteen (14) and fifteen (15) of Block number two (2) of the village of Zeeland, according to the recorded plat of said village, together with the buildings thereon and the steam power with all the machinery run thereby, excepting that part of said of number fourteen (14) with the buildings thereon, bounded on the north and east sides by the north and east lines of said lot number fourteen (14) on the south by a line parallel with the north line and one hundred (100) feet distant therefrom, and on the west side by a line parallel with the east line and one hundred and six (106) feet distant therefrom, and also excepting a square piece of one hundred feet north and south by twenty four feet east and west in the north west corner of said lot number fifteen.

Dated June 23rd, 1891.
ISAAC MARSILJE,
Assignee of Mortgage.
J. C. POST, Attorney.
