GRAND HAVEN HAS A WATER SCANDAL

Grand Haven can't help but be in style, it too has a water scandal. It appears that the Grand Haven Water Co., better known as the old Wiley Water works, has been receiving into its mains water from the city mains through a 1 1/2 inch pipe connecting the two.

The discovery was made by George Swart, who was engaged in flushing the pipes in the Beach Tree section of the city. In looking for the flush gate in the city mains he was surprised to uncover the tap which connected the two mains.

It is estimated with an inch connection, under the pressure of the city pumps, that 231 gallons a minute could be pumped into the Wiley mains, making a total of approximately 332,640 gallons in twenty-four hours. The tap, however, is an inch and a half size, bringing the total up above the 400,000 mark. If this tap has been in existence long, a great amount of the city's water has been going through the Wiley mains.

Citizens are trying to get satisfaction through the courts. At any rate, whether the city can get satisfaction or not the municipal plant has evidently been giving the Wiley system a great big boost, for—how long. The discovery that the city plant was pumping more water proportionately that cities twice the size of Grand Haven, caused considerable surprise among the water commission. Arrangements were made for placing meters at various points along the line in an effort to discover if possible where all of the water was going. The discovery of the big tap in the mains in the fourth ward, will partially solve the problem in a measure at east.

During the time in which the pipe has been connected, the Wiley takers, who are usually strong boosters of the superior Wiley water, have been drinking a delightful blend of Wiley and city stock. Therefore the city adherents are giving them the laugh.

SHOT THROUGH HOLLAND INTERURBAN

Passengers of a crowded westbound Holland interurban car narrowly escaped injury Friday afternoon, between 3:30 and 4 o'clock, when a bullet crashed through a window. The car was passing De Kraker's Corner, two miles beyond the city limits of Grand Rapids, when the shot went through the window.

Sheriff Hurley is at a loss to explain the mystery. Deputy Sheriff Flanders has been investigating the affair, but has been unable to find the person who fired the shot.

TO CAPTURE SMUGGLERS.

Bill O'Connell, who is one of the many candidates for sheriff, was in Holland Saturday fixing up his fences. He told the News that he is making great progress and that many Holland citizens have signified their intention to support him. Bill is also enlisting the support of Sheriff Andre to help him get the job of revenue officer for Ottawa county, in order to put a stop to the unlawful smuggling said to be going on across Grand River near the Jenison ferry. No doubt, if appointed, Bill will make a record for himself.

HEALTH BOARD DONT'S.

Don't accept from dealers any milk that has a temperature of more than sixty degrees. The law compels milk men to keep their milk cooled down to sixty.

Don't remove the caps from the milk bottle until the milk is to be used.

Don't expect milk to remain sweet in receptacles on the kitchen table.

Don't leave the milk exposed at all so that particles of dirt and dust can collect in it but keep it on ice until used.

COST MORE DEAD.

There are men who argue that living is high, but they might try dying. A living man gets shaved for 10 cents, but a dead one pays $5 and never kicks. A good kersey overcoat costs $25, but a wooden one costs $100. A grave digger will plant potatoes for 20 cents an hour but for planting you he gets five times as much. A carriage to the theater costs $2, but one to the cemetery costs $5. A saloon-keeper will fill your hide to bursting for 50 cents, but the embalmer gets $12.50 for the same job. Come to think of it there are lots of things left to live for in this world, despite the high prices and hot weather.—Ex.

An Interesting Difference

"This Editorial speaks louder than anything we could say."

(Kalamazoo Telegraph)

Three cities in Michigan—Lansing, Holland and Kalamazoo—started experimenting with the municipal lighting problem at about the same time. The results experienced have been interestingly different.

In each of the cities a publicly owned lighting plant was installed. Lansing established hers in 1892; Holland in 1894; Kalamazoo in 1895. In Lansing and Holland the lighting plants have been kept out of politics, being governed by non-salaried, non-partisan boards. In Kalamazoo politics have entered very directly into the conduct of the lighting business.

In Lansing and Holland the municipally owned lighting plants have proven exceedingly successful if the reports of officials in charge are correct. In Kalamazoo municipal ownership has not thus far shown any results that reflect much of credit upon the scheme of public ownership.

Other things being equal, the conclusion that mismanagement because of a faulty system of political battles and squabble is responsible for the difference. Apparently there is no other reason why a given amount of electricity can not be produced by the city of Kalamazoo just as cheaply and as effectively as it can be produced by the city of Lansing. There are just as many men of brains (generally speaking) in Kalamazoo as there are in Lansing. There are just as many honest men here.

But Lansing has operated its electric light plant, according to her claim, for 19 years with success. She has provided her citizens and manufacturers with a much cheaper commercial rate than Kalamazoo has enjoyed. She has lighted her streets for $43 per lamp per year as compared with an expense in Kalamazoo of $65.67 per lamp per year for the same service. In addition to all this, she now has a plant that is a going concern, equal to the needs of the city for years to come. It is conservatively worth between $250,000 and $300,000 after nearly 60 per cent depreciation has been allowed.

Kalamazoo's plant, costing some $308,002, admittedly is practically worthless.

Holland has money in the bank to the credit of her city plant. Lansing has money in the bank to the credit of her city plant. Kalamazoo has no money in the bank to the credit of her plant.

This difference is not only interesting, it is sufficient to demand an answer. Tax payers in this city ought to determine why this difference exists. If our system is so expensively wrong, assuredly, it should be changed.

Is there as much ability, as much civic honesty; are there as many men of brains in Kalamazoo as there are in Holland and Lansing?

The Telegraph-Press is confident there are more. This paper has tried fairly to show what neighboring cities have done with the lighting plant, that its readers might be enabled to draw their own conclusions as to what should be done here.

"De Ouden Blijven"

When the result of Monday's vote on school trustees was announced it was learned that about 35 women had taken advantage of their right to vote on questions arising at school meetings. Wm. Brusse was found to have defeated James A. Brouwer for a place on the board by only four votes, receiving 150 of his opponents 146. The other trustees re-elected were Henry Geerlings, who received all of the votes but 22, and Attorney Fred T. Miles, who had 211 out of 279 votes cast. Henry Geerlings, C. M. McLean and Henry Vander Ploeg acted as election commissioners.

Hope Church Notes

During the heated season, the Sunday morning worship closes earlier than usual. So the exercises of the Sunday school will commence at 11:45 instead of noon and they will close at a quarter before one.

The evening worship will never exceed the hour and will almost always be within fifty minutes. The music is prepared with special care and all is done to make these summer night services inspirational.

The Wednesday evening meeting will take the Christian Endeavor Topics until the resumption of the before-church young people's gatherings on September 3rd.

The sermon thought for next Sunday morning is, "What man was created of, in, to."

The evening subject is "Lost at Home, or the Prodigal's Elder Brother."

ZEELAND.

The annual election of school trustees was held and resulted in the unanimous re-election of the present members. Charles Sijnder was elected director; James Schilling moderator; and Wm. E. Van Dyke, treasurer.

Mrs. Mary DeKruif of Grand Rapids visited with Mrs. A. DeKruif the first of the week.

Rev. H. Vander Werp of Zutphen was in the city Monday visiting friends.

Paul Van Zoeren and Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Van Zoeren of Grand Rapids were in the city with their automobile and attended the services of the First Reformed church Sunday.

The following will supply the pulpit of the First Christian Reformed church of Zeeland, while the regular pastor, Rev. D. B. Drukker is absent: Prof. G. D. Leijonh, July 18; Prof. Albert Broene, July 23, and Candidate P. W. DeYong, July 30. All are of Grand Rapids.

A marriage license has been issued for Mr. J. C. Drost, 37 Holland, and Jennie Noordhoek, 37 Zeeland.

Candidate P. W. DeJong of Zeeland, who graduated from the Theological Seminary of Grand Rapids in June is in receipt of a call to the Christian Reformed church at Hawley, Ia.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vanden Bosch—a daughter.

Rev. J. H. Mokma of Overisel was in the city Tuesday visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. J. Schipper of Overisel was in the city Tuesday visiting friends and relatives.

At the meeting of the Zeeland Civic Club it was decided to hold the second annual picnic in Jenison Park on Friday July 21. It is expected that the Zeeland band will furnish the music for the occasion.

While Edw. Hill of Zeeland was walking along the shore between Saugatuck and South Haven Tuesday he found a hurricane deck chair belonging to carryer Pere Marquette, No. 18 that was wrecked a year ago between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Miss Lou De Kruif returned home the first of the week after a two weeks visit with friends in Detroit and Ann Arbor attending the Commencement exercises at the University.

Board Klevet, the Zeeland rural mail carrier who purchased an automobile a few days ago to deliver his mail figured in a smash up Tuesday. Klevet was driving his car behind a buggy but was unable to bring it to a sudden stop on the corner of Maple and Main Streets where the rig turned into a side street. He drove into the buggy and the occupants tumbled and a boy was thrown out but not seriously injured. Klevet's machine smashed into the cigar store of Scheulmeyer & Son. Both the machine and the buggy were damaged considerably.

The monthly meeting of Concordia of the Christian Reformed church of the classes of Zeeland took place Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Christian Reformed church at Rusk. The Rev. Wm. Koe presided and the Rev. J. Smitt of Zeeland acted as secretary. The Rev. T. Van der Ark of Drenthe read a paper on "The Herodians" and the Rev. J. B. Onkman of Borculo read a paper on "Office of Deacons." A discussion followed. After the meeting a social time was spent and dainty refreshments were served. The wives of the pastors were present.

A meeting took place last Monday evening in one of the rooms of the Zeeland High school for the purpose of electing two trustees on the Board of education, and for conducting other business. It was decided to raise by a tax $2000 for the general fund and $100 for the library fund. It was decided further to have 10 months of school. A. Labuis, president of the board announced that the High school will have more scholars the coming school year since 10 went out and 16 will come in. Seven new teachers will arrive to fill the vacancies. Benj. Neerken and Dr. H. A. Rigtink were re-elected as members of the board of education for another three years.

A new plant is being built on South Centennial street in Zeeland by Peter Elentbaas. It is to be a saw mill and will be the fourth of its kind in that city. It is rather remarkable that in this factory will be placed only one machine which is a band saw; rip saw; buzz planer; emery grinder and shaper all in one. Three men can work it without trouble. It runs with a 7-horse power gasoline engine. Mr. Elentbaas claims that he is the only one who has such a machine in this vicinity. It is called a variety machine. The building is 28x50 feet and is being built of cement blocks.

Tuesday evening the marriage of Miss Janie Pruim of this city and Edwin John Allett of Allegan took place in the Second Ref. church. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. Moordyk, pastor of the Ref. church at Grandville. It was the society event of the season.

Six bridesmaids attended the bride. They were the Misses Anna Pruim, sister of the bride, Alyda DePree, May and Ada Labuis, Carrie and Nellie Moordyk. Miss Minnie De Bruyn, dressed in pale blue marquisette and carrying white carnations was maid of honor. Miss Elsa Pruim, niece of the bride was flower girl. The bride was given away by her brother, Everett Pruim, who also officiated as master of ceremonies at the reception. The bride wore a dress of white chiffon over white silk with gold lace and pineapple cloth. Her veil was fastened to her hair with swansons and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The groom was attended by Walter Most of Lansing. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The assembled guests visited the happy couple and speed as they left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Lansing.

Govett Keppel is the proud possessor of a battle scarred flag, tattered and torn that was carried through the fiercest battles of the Civil war. It adorned his home on the 4th and created considerable comment.

Thomas Keppel is in Chicago.

John Kamps of Indianapolis has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kamps, at their home on Church street.

Jay De Herder is in Ann Arbor taking a summer course at the U. of M. Mr. and Mrs. J. Alderink are spending a few weeks in Toledo, Ohio.

While Frank Osinga was working in the wheat field of the Zeeland Brick company, near Zeeland, he discovered a rattlesnake which was two and a half feet long. Mr. Osinga killed the snake and took the rattles which were five in number. Snake bites can again be used as a good cure in the drug store.

J. Palmboos of Vriesland was harpooned with a bay harpoon the other day while unloading hay in his barn. He received a severe gash about the head, although not dangerously so.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Struders, O., have been visiting friends and relatives the past week.

Miss Haughvout, trained nurse of Kalamazoo hospital, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Cook at their home on Central avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. William Koe of Rusk were in the city Friday.

The Second Reformed church has let a contract for the new pipe organ to the Bennett company of Rock Island, Ill. The cost will be $3,000, of which one-half has been given to the organ fund by Andrew Carnegie.

JAMESTOWN.

During the storm a few days ago the barn of Edward Zuidem was struck by lightning and was destroyed, causing a loss of $2,000. The roof was torn from the barn of E. E. Taylor at Jamestown, but the structure did not catch fire.

Cut these weeds yet? If not you had better get busy. If the highway commissioner has to cut them, under the new law you will find the expense with ten per cent added into your taxes next winter. It will be cheaper for land owners to cut their own weeds.

John Boersen, aged 35, a resident of Jamestown, was killed by lightning the other day. Boersen was standing at his front door watching the storm when the bolt hit him. Other inmates of the house were badly shocked but the building itself was not badly damaged.

While crossing the interurban tracks near Jamestown last Thursday night, a buggy containing John Wierse and his ten-year-old daughter was struck by an interurban car. The horse was killed, the buggy was demolished and both occupants of the rig were hurled into the ditch. Wierse sustained two fractured ribs, while his daughter escaped with one.

Mail clerks on an eastbound train from Hudsonville were treated to a most peculiar mess of scrambled eggs. It seems that someone in Jamestown who sells fancy eggs took a notion that they would go as well by mail as any other way. Carefully wrapping each egg in a thick covering of tissue paper he packed them in a pasteboard box and sent them by mail. Now, all the mail, save one pouch, is taken from this place by fast trains, a mail catcher being used. It was in a bag of that character that the eggs were placed, and one can imagine what happened when the great iron crane struck it. It would not be much trouble to imagine what the mail clerks had to say either. The head clerk made it his business to come down to this place to inquire into the matter, but as the package was mailed at the Jamestown office he was referred there.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. Dykstra of Jamestown was the scene of a happy event Saturday when Hermarus Roelof Telegenhof celebrated his ninetieth anniversary in the presence of his children, grand children and great grand children and other relatives and friends. Mr. Telegenhof was born in Oudehaske, province Friesland, the Netherlands, and came to this place with his family in 1884. He began his career as carpenter.

When he was 42 years of age he met with a serious accident that nearly cost his life. A big wall fell upon him and broke one of his legs, so that it had to be amputated. His wife died 20 years ago. The children who celebrated his birthday anniversary are: Roelof of Zeeland, George of Central Lake, Mrs. D. Dykstra of Jamestown, Cornelius of Zeeland and Abel of Central Lake. He has 24 grand children and 33 great grand children. Mr. Telegenhof is at present in good health and was never ill.

An elaborate dinner was served and the rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers. Mr. Telegenhof received many gifts. It is claimed that he is the oldest resident in Jamestown.

OVERISEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Koopman celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home in Overisel township Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Koopman were married in Holland and came to America on their honeymoon. They came to Overisel by way of Kalamazoo and Allegan and have lived in the same home ever since. Their trip across the ocean required 42 days, but the rest of their journey did not savor so much of the pioneer as they came from New York to Kalamazoo by railroad. Mr. and Mrs. Koopman are respectively 90 and 84 years of age and are in fairly good health. Mr. Koopman has been identified with the Reformed church in Overisel as elder for many years. Five children are living: These are Mrs. G. Hagelskamp, J. H. Koopman, Mrs. J. Immink of Overisel, Mrs. H. Vanderkolk of Vriesland and Gerrit Koopman of Allegan. They have seventeen grandchildren.

SAUGATUCK.

New service goes into effect today which will give hourly service out of Saugatuck as follows: 6:25, 7:15, 8:15, 9:15, 10:25, 11:15 a. m.; 12:25, 1:15, 2:25, 3:15, 4:25, 5:15, 6:25, 7:15, 8:35, 10:10 and 11:30 p. m. The 10:10 p. m. car to be the last car out of Saugatuck for Grand Rapids. This schedule will remain in effect until the end of the season.

Frank Erler, a young wrestler who has clashed with such men as Gotch and Hackenschmidt with creditable showings, and Miss Nora Erler, daughter of H. J. Erler, proprietor of the Kalamazoo House, were married here Friday. Erler had been scheduled to wrestle Westergaard in Des Moines, Ia., but had canceled the engagement after deciding upon his wedding date. During the evening a messenger boy arrived with a note from Westergaard wishing the pair much happiness and declaring that he, too, had been married but a few hours earlier in the day.

WEST OLIVE.

L. T. Norton has returned to Detroit after spending a month's vacation in the village.

Tommie Alger has been transferred to New Buffalo with his crew of 50 men laying steel for the P. M.

Teddy Roberts has been enjoying the chicken pox. Must have had a great time.

Sunday school at the M. E. church Sunday at 10 a. m. and preaching service at 11 was well attended. The pastor's subject was "Heaven."

Mr. and Mrs. John Leeland are the proud parents of a ten-pound boy.

About 40 men turned out the other day and raised a barn frame for Chas. Cole.

J. R. Pixley has been entertaining his cousin from Grand Rapids.

The L. A. S. met at the home of Mrs. Honnony Binns Wednesday. We have not heard whether the gentlemen accompanied the ladies or not, but we presume so.

We are pleased to see the smiling face of our mail carrier, Clifton Binns, again on duty after an absence of a couple of months on account of poor health.

The M. E. Sunday school enjoyed a day's outing at Port Sheldon.

John Leeland's driving team became prostrated by the heat Monday. Only efficient nursing saved them.

T. L. Norton received a car load of hard coal Monday.

Thomas Binns and family of Holland have been calling on friends for a few days.

Ely Sankey's team was struck deaf by the lightning recently. Since that they have also become dumb. No insurance.

NEW HOLLAND.

Friday night on the midnight train the body of W. S. Stegenga, who was drowned at Big Rapids, arrived in Holland, accompanied by John Stegenga, a brother of the deceased, who went to Big Rapids to take charge of the remains as soon as the news of his death reached Holland. The funeral was held Monday at 11 o'clock from the New Holland Reformed church.

The accident occurred while he and two of his companions were in bathing. Stegenga went swimming with two companions, Gabriel Boss and Henry Beld. Boss tells the story of the drowning as follows:

"Very strangely all of this was arranged by him," said Boss. "He asked me in the afternoon if I wanted to go out for a swim in the evening. I told him I might. Then Henry Beld, who comes from Zeeland, not far from Holland, was asked to go along. During his talk he appeared very happy and hopeful and talked of his future plans. After graduating in August he expected to work a year and then enter the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He had his plans all completed and talked very confidentially."

"We had been in swimming at the same place the night before for the first time. The water was nice and warm, much warmer than the air," continued Mr. Boss in answer to a question whether the water was not cold and whether it was not cramps that caused Stegenga to drown.

"No, I don't think he was seized with cramps. That's the strange thing about it. It must be that he just became exhausted. He was swimming along in the deep channel, only about 10 or 15 feet wide, and I was with him. Then he tried to swim for the shallows, where the water is only about five feet deep but seemed to find it hard work. I was nearer to the shallows and he grabbed me tight by the hand and was pulling me back. Then he left go and tried to reach the ladder which seems to have been put there for persons to grab hold of. He missed this and then called for help, going under as he did so."

"I couldn't swim well enough to help him without getting drowned myself and Beld can't swim at all."

"Waste alive when taken out?"

"I don't think he was. The color on his face was good and the body warm. We worked over him for an hour or more, tried everything that could be done, but it did no good."

At the morning exercises W. N. Ferris changed his talk and read David Swing's address on death. He also paid a beautiful tribute to the young man and former student, telling of his excellent work and brilliant prospects for the future.

HOLLAND TOWNSHIP.

County Road Commissioner Bostworth, Durham, Dykema and Rakus Cook have been investigating and inspecting Muskegon county roads recently and are acquainting themselves with the different systems of county road building.

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How a Holland Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Holland people testify. Here's one case of it: J. W. Flichmann, 83 River St., Holland, Mich., says: "I suffered intensely from dull pains across the small of my back and in my limbs and the physicians said I had lumbago. The joints of my body were stiff and stooping or lifting was difficult. The doctor's medicine did not seem to help me and I was finally induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They effected a cure and since then I have recommended them at every opportunity."

Mr. Flichmann gave the above statement in December, 1906, and on May 10, 1909, he said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills brought me has been permanent and my back now gives me no trouble. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to my friends and in every case their use has been followed by great benefit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Notice of Meeting

To whom it may concern: Be it known, that on the 8th day of June A. D. 1911, an application was filed with Edwin Fellows, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Ottawa, for the locating and establishing of a certain drain, which said drain was described in said application as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point on side of highway, and about 30 rods east of northwest corner of Section 26, Town 5, north of range 16, west where a certain creek crosses said highway, thence east along south side of highway about 40 rods where said drain crosses said highway to the north side of said highway, thence east to east line of a highway running north and south on one-fourth Sec. line Sec. 23 Town 5, North of range 16 west, thence north along east side of said highway, about 30 rods thence due east to east line of west one half of south-east one-fourth, Section 23, thence north on said line to where it intersects and old drain, thence north-easterly in said drain about 60 rods, thence due north about 60 rods thence east to east line of Section 23, Town 5, north of range 16 west, said drain to be 4 feet in the bottom at outlet, that said drain will traverse the township of Holland.

Be it further known, that on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1911, a meeting of the township board of the township of Holland will be held at Luke Jalying at nine o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of determining whether or not the said proposed drain is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience and welfare; and at such meeting all persons owning lands liable to assessments for benefits, or whose lands will be crossed by said drain may appear for or against said drain proceedings.

Given under my hand this 10th day of July, A. D. 1911.

Albertus Vander Haar,

Township Clerk of the Township of Holland.

Drenthe

After an illness of old age Mrs. L. DeKleene died at her home here Sunday at the age of 77 years. The deceased was born in Drenthe, the Netherlands and came with the Van Raalte party to this vicinity in 1847, settling in Drenthe. She was a member of the old Settlers association. Her husband died several years ago. The deceased is survived by four sons: Dick, John, Marinus and Gerrit all of Drenthe and ten grandchildren. Funeral services will be held today at 11:30 from the home and at 1 o'clock from the Christian Reformed church here, Rev. T. Vander Ark pastor of the church will officiate. Interment will be at the Drenthe cemetery.

East Saugatuck

The Misses and Mr. Smellink of Grand Rapids are spending a few weeks with relatives here.

Mr. B. DeBoer and family of Grand Rapids are visiting relatives here this week.

Mr. J. Jackson, being in Holland on business one day last week, put his horse in the stables owned by the Roller Mills. When he was ready to go home his horse was missing. He started to search for it immediately. After a few days he found that two small boys, age 12 and 8, had taken his horse and hitched it to a buggy owned by some other farmer and driven to Ottawa Beach for an outing.

Mr. H. Slenk of Holland was home with his auto last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jirils of Zeeland visited Mr. J. Jirils and family Sunday.

Harm Hendricks formerly of this vicinity but now residing in Iowa, will be on his way home from a trip to the Netherlands.

Mrs. Tindholt of Holland is staying with her mother, Mrs. J. Dubben on her farm.

Saugatuck

The General George E. Mead, sand dredger, completed its work today on the Saugatuck channel which is now deep enough to permit the entrance of the largest boats on Lake Michigan.

THE SINGING HEN.

The singing hen usually lays hatchable eggs: she is a busy hen, working as she sings. When first let out in the morning she flies for the dust heap, wallowing in it with apparently the same delight that a duck takes in water; then up she gets fluffing her feathers and fluttering her wings to rid herself of the surplus. Her toilet made, she is ready for breakfast. The singing hen is never found on the nest in the daytime; she is the first up in the morning, and the last to bed at night; her eggs are so strongly vitalized that they will hatch under the most adverse conditions. Nine times out of ten infertility in eggs is due to over-fat, sluggish hens, or hens so tormented with lice and mites that there is no sing left in them. Don't waste time trying to match chicks from the entire flock; the season is getting on. Shut up the sluggish males, and give the alert, vigorous hens free range.—Inland Farmer.

POTATOES OLD AND ## NEW, SOAR

If you have some old potatoes that are not working now is the time to get rid of them, for they have taken an awful jump in price. In the past few days the price of old potatoes in the local stores has gone up to $1.00 a bushel, the price they were quoted at today. If you only want a peck, they will cost you 25 cents.

New potatoes are even worse. In Chicago they are way up while the market a year ago was $1.00. In Holland the retail price is from 60 to 75 cents a peck.

ROAD TO WEALTH IS PLAIN

But the Man of Millions Quotes One Vital Point From His Directions.

The Man of Millions smiled benignly upon the earnest faced youth who stood before him, hat in hand.

"You wish to know," he said to the young man, "the rules to be followed to attain fortune. It is a simple matter and it is no secret. Yet so many men fail."

The Man of Millions sighed. After a momentary pause, he resumed in his most gracious manner:

"First, I wish to say that every boy has today the same opportunities—nay, better opportunities—that I had. You have a better knowledge of men and books than I had at your age. Furthermore, you have glorious examples of men like—well, I might mention myself, but modesty forbids. Anyway, the magazines and newspapers are filled with stories of the successes of our great men of industry from which you may profit."

"Work and save, by boy, and opportunity will come. For instance, you might buy a few good standard stocks when they are down at rock-bottom and sell when they get high; or you might buy some good lots in a locality where some great city is to be built and hold them until the city springs into being, and gold will flow in upon you in a steady stream."

The Man of Millions swung back to his desk to contemplate the plans for the new hospital he was building for sufferers from gout.

"But," suggested the youth timidly, "how am I to know when stocks are at rock-bottom?"

"I have already given you too much of my valuable time," said the Man of Millions shortly, as he pushed an electric button on his desk which released the section of the floor on which the youth was standing, and lowered him gently to the reception room below.—Roy R. Atkinson in Puck.

LEAVING IT TO THE GUIDE

Bishop Didn't Have Language Equal to the Occasion When the Trout Escaped.

The bishop was an angler and was keen on trout fishing. Early in the season, if not the opening day, he responded to the lure of the rippling brook. As he crept softly through the elder thicket that bordered the stream he had the good fortune to hook a trout that put up a stormy fight. Evidently the fish had no mind to grace the creel of even an apostolic expert.

The guide held his breath. It was not possible for him to get near enough through the brush to help the bishop and the enemy. He could only watch the fight and hope for the best. The struggle culminated in a swift jerk that landed the dripping old warrior up in the branches of a maple which towered above the alders—not an unusual experience for an angler, but the first of the kind that had fallen to the lot of the bishop. Well—he was always seeking experience and now he had it. This, however, was different from casting and the result was dire. The line snapped, the brilliant and dashing Fontinalis dropped back into the brook and with an insolent wave of his tail said as plainly as words, "By, by, old boy."

The bishop and guide looked at each other. Then the bishop said to the guide in the earnest and appealing tone with which he was wont to stir the emotions of his congregation, "John, you say it."

SNAPS FOR THE ALLIGATORS

Geese Raiser Finally Found Out Just Why His Flock Did Not Increase.

The oldest of us can remember being told that "Little Boopie lost his sheep," but as they came home at last, Boopie was not so badly off as was Bob Vorus, who six years ago started a goose farm on his mill pond, near Lumpkin, Georgia.

He knew the value of feathers, and thought the people would appreciate the opportunity of obtaining them near home for making pillows and beds.

His big mill pond was such a fine place for them to swim and live and raise their young in. So he got five hundred pairs of geese and put them on his pond.

Their nests were built in the rushes along its banks and their melodious voices reverberated from end to end of the pond. But they did not increase, according to Bob's notion; their numbers were diminishing perceptibly.

A dead one could be seen occasionally drifting along the edge of the bordering rushes. At first Bob thought it might be minks, otters, skunks, foxes, or what not that were destroying them, but soon found out that it was alligators for he actually saw one of the ugly reptiles catch a goose and pull it under water. Partly eaten geese would sometimes be found.

HE WAS A DANGEROUS RISK

In These Rushing Days the Pedestrian Has No Show at All With Insurance Company.

Here was a case where it seemed as if everything was settled. The insurance company's doctor had reported that the man seemed to be all right, and the man himself had certified that he was not engaged in any dangerous occupation.

"I lead a sedentary life," he told them. "I work in an office and we have no danger or excitement."

"How about sports?" the examiner asked. "Do you football? Baseball? Do you box? Do you belong to an athletic club?"

"No—none of that stuff. I guess I'm a safe risk."

"Do you scorch?"

"What do you mean?"

"Do you drive your car faster than the speed limit?"

"I have no car."

"What? How do you get about?"

"I walk."

"Risk refused. A scorcher is a dangerous risk, but a pedestrian has no chance at all. Buy a car, old chap. Sorry—good night!"

Picked Up Here and There.

"It's a shame the way they crowd these cars. The passengers should rise up and insist on getting a chance to sit down."

"You may send me up the complete work of Shakespeare, Goethe and Emerson—also something to read."

"I'd like to dance and I should dance, only the music puts me out and the girl gets in my way."

"Yes, her husband robbed her of every cent she had—and just think, she only married him because she was afraid of burglars!"

"Hello! Is this the butcher? Well, you may send me up a roast of beef, and remember, please, butcher, to have it rare. That's the only way my husband can eat it!"—Boston Transcript.

Living Portrait of Mark Twain.

A singular story comes from a small town in Pennsylvania, according to Harper's Weekly. On April 21, 1910, a cow was born on a farm near Albury at almost the identical moment when Mark Twain died at his home in Connecticut. On her right side, outlined in dark brown against a snow-white background, is a profile bust of that author. The likeness, which was plain at the birth of the calf, has grown more and more distinct, until it is now impossible to fail to identify the well-known features. Naturally, the cow was named Mark Twain. It is safe to say that the great humorist would have appreciated this joke of Nature at his expense.

Prince's "Pul" Abolished.

According to custom in China the members of the imperial family are above the law. Prince Can-Chi has been doing just as he likes recently, fortified with this immunity. There is not a hygienic law that this interesting person has not broken, and his great recreation seems to have been to defy the police. At length to the endurance of the police there came a limit, and the matter was brought under the notice of the regent, who has not only abolished the "convention," but the prince's recreations also, and given instructions that in future he must act as an ordinary citizen, or stand the consequences.

Training School for Burglars.

An academy where burglary was being taught on the most approved lines by experts in the profession was discovered by the police at Berlin lately. The principal, who was an old convict, examined each student in the various branches of the science before granting the leaving certificate, which was equivalent to a degree in burglary. In return for their training, board and lodging, the students were expected to pay a fixed sum and a percentage on their profits during the

DIDN'T SEEM TO WORK OUT

Dog Owner's Idea Bright Enough, but Somehow Her Memory Got Twisted.

To Miss Bounce, who knows nothing whatever about dogs and can scarcely tell a greyhound from a St. Bernard, Mr. Kennell presented a fine young Airdale terrier. He was extremely wide awake and active, even for a pup, and the young lady was kept constantly on the alert to prevent his getting into mischief or running into danger. Casting about in her mind for a suitable name for this restless animal Miss Bounce remembered that in her school days she had learned in her philosophy that "wind is air in motion." What more appropriate name, then, for the young Airdale than Wind. So Wind he was called. His name, thought Miss Bounce, also will aid me memorably to remember the name of the species to which he belongs.

"What kind of a dog is that pup of yours?" asked some one a few weeks after the christening.

Miss Bounce's eyes roved anxiously for an instant, but steadied themselves directly as she replied with serene confidence, "He is a Wind Hound."

GRIPS AS MUSCLE BUILDERS

Traveling Salesman Seems to Have Idea Which Might Really Be Called a Good One.

After dinner they were discussing athletics, and each had his favorite method of reducing or building up. The traveling salesman proudly called attention to a remarkable development of biceps which swelled up beneath his coat sleeve.

"Very good, indeed," said the professor, testing with his fingers. "How do you accomplish it?"

"My method is extremely simple and takes no time away from my work. In fact, it is a result. These muscles have been developed by carrying heavily loaded 'grips,' as we usually call our big handbags on the road. I always carry two, loaded as nearly alike as possible, so I shall not grow one-sided. I began with only one grip, and swung it from one hand to the other, as fatigue impelled, but I found that it is actually easier to carry two than one. I am perfectly balanced with two, and I assure you I need no extra gym work for strengthening my arms, shoulders or back. I almost could carry a piano in each hand if the instruments were not so cumbersome."

Actor's Proper Place.

Mahlon Ivans, Jr., of Merchantville has a reputation as an actor and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given, Shorty had one of the leading parts. After the show, while he was taking off his makeup, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway. "Are you Mr. Ivans?" inquired the old man. "Yes," replied Shorty, as he motioned him to be seated. "Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting tonight. You should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth or Irving, or Joe Jefferson." "Why-w-why," said Shorty, "those actors are dead." "I know it," said the old man, as he turned on his heel and left.—Philadelphia Times.

Wanted the Day to Himself.

Nothing makes us quite so weary as these elaborate, gotten-up-ahead-of-time jokes that some people stage and spring with such a dramatic effect. Our Washington correspondent told us of one of these, the other day. A man went into the patent office, last week, and said he wanted a copyright. They steered him to the right department, and he opened up like this:

"This is Saturday, is it not? Thank you. I understand that you will not issue a copyright on Sunday?"

"No, sir. That is the rule."

"But you will issue a copyright on any other day of the week?"

"Yes, sir."

"I'm so glad. I want to get Friday copyrighted. It's my birthday, and I don't want any other fellows using it. How much will it cost?"

Rapid Increase of Life.

As illustrating the enormous powers of reproductive increase in the vegetable world, the case of a common weed, the Sisymbrium Sophia, may be cited. This weed produces three-quarters of a million seeds, and these, if they all grew and multiplied, would in three years cover the whole land surface of the globe. Darwin calculated that the slowest breeding of all animals, the elephant, would in 750 years, from a single pair, produce 19,000,000 individuals. Rabbits would, from a single pair, produce 1,000,000 individuals in four or five years.

The Wheel Track to Eternity.

Time is the most important thing in human life—for what is joy after its departure?—and the most consolatory—for pain, when time has fled, is no more. Time is the wheel track in which we roll on towards eternity, which connects us to the incomprehensible. There is a perfecting power connected with its progress, and this operates upon us the more beneficially when we duly estimate it, listen to its voice, and do not waste it, but regard it as the highest infinite good in which all finite things are resolved.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

RED HAIR WAS NEW TO THEM

Indians for a Long Time Insisted That White Man's Scalp Must Have Been Painted.

Forty years ago the Indians in Colorado knew but little of the white man, and nothing hardly of his ways or habits except from tradition. Among the people who went to settle in Colorado at that time was a man with very red hair. He and his party were thrown among the Indians, who thought at first that his hair was painted, just as they painted their own bodies and faces.

An old chief came up to him one day and looked at his hair very carefully.

"Ugh!" said he.

And then, turning to the interpreter who had the party in charge, he wanted him to ask the man where he got the kind of paint that would color, and yet not be greasy or look dabby. He was told that the man's hair was not painted, but he would not believe it. He once more walked up to the man and scrutinized his locks, running his hand through them and looking at his fingers.

The red-haired man became a little nervous, and half fancied that the chief was calculating how nice a red scalp would look hung to his belt. The interpreter, however, laughingly told the man what the chief had said.

Two or three more of the Indians then gathered around the party, and they and the interpreter had a pow-wow. Finally the interpreter asked the man if he would object to putting water on his hair.

He saw the Indians would not believe but that it was painted, until they saw that the water would not wash the color out. The man took some water, rubbed it on his hair, and then showed his hands to them. But it took four or five days of wondering examination to convince them that he had not found some peculiar paint, and got himself up in a bright red suit of hair.

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER

Youth Beginning Well and Father Seemed Abundantly Justified in His Reasoning.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush.

"Say, Pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a three-hundred-dollar horse for one-fifty will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a horse, my son?" inquired the father cautiously.

"Bay, 4 years old, sixteen hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What?" he exclaimed.

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading horses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."—Lippincott's.

Fond Hearts Finally United.

After waiting 30 years for her to become a widow, George Slegarm of Wilkesbarre, Pa., has married Mrs. Marietta Tchern of Hazleton. When they were young in Germany, they fell in love, and would have married had it not been for the opposition of their parents. They tried to elope, but were discovered and caught before it was possible for them to wed. Slegarm, despondent and angry, emigrated, and his sweetheart, who was married a year after he left, followed a few years later with her husband, who died a short time ago. Slegarm lately discovered that his old sweetheart lived in Hazleton. The old courtship was begun again and culminated in their wedding the other day.

Light on Habits of Snakes.

The popular theories regarding the cobra's musical ear, and the snake's power of fascinating birds, are upset by a statement made the other day by Professor Barnard who has been studying this species of snake in Ceylon. The serpent's traditional love for music is a pure fable, he says. The only effect of music is to arouse the reptile's curiosity, which is excited by any loud and acute sound. The cobra protrudes its head from its burrow alike on hearing the snake charmer's flute, the rattling of a chain, or the sounds made by beating the ground with a switch. Barnard also concludes that the power of fascination upon birds is purely imaginary.

A Wide-Awake Constable.

"Ye say ye ain't been speedin', eh?" said Silas as he stopped the car. "Nary a speed," said the chauffeur, trying to be amiable. "When did ye leave Quinceville?" demanded Silas, suspiciously. "Five o'clock this morning," said the chauffeur, with a wink at his companion. "Five this mornin', eh?" said the constable, catching the wink. "Taken ye six hours to come four miles. Wa-al, I guess I'll run ye in, anyhow, only I'll change the complaint from overspeedin' to obstructin' the highway."—Harper's Weekly.

Half Holiday for Clerks

Next Wednesday for the first time, the plan of closing local stores for a weekly half holiday no doubt will be tried out in a majority of local business houses and we believe that it will prove to be successful beyond the hopes of even its strongest advocates. As has been continually suggested in the News this half holiday for business men and their clerks during the hot summer months is practically a necessity and has been in operation in the News office for the past three months. The movement is in line with the one that is now becoming nation wide and that will result ultimately in less friction between the employer and the employed. For the man who toils is now receiving, and will continue in the future in a larger measure to receive greater consideration at the hands of the man who directs his labor. The Holland clerks will be permitted to forget the cares and worries of their employers' business and participate to their hearts content for the afternoon and evening in the pleasures that Holland and the resorts in her vicinity have to offer in the summer time.

The new plan like most successful innovations, will doubtless cause every merchant who tries it to wonder why it was not inaugurated long before. The adoption of it at this time bespeaks well of the progressiveness of our merchants. Most of all it points again to another achievement resulting from organization. Both the merchants association and the clerks association made the thing possible. Without the cooperation of both there can be no result. Who can say but that this rest in mid-week, this change of scenes and thoughts, will not manifest itself in even better service not only from clerk to merchant but from the entire business corps of the city to the public generally?

That police motor cycle is at it again. Now when one of the boys in blue goes one mile in two hours? the speedometer registers 150 miles, showing how hard it is to figure time and speed when one rides a motor cycle. But the wonder of it all is when the cop goes five miles in two minutes then the delusive speedometer only registers one mile which, mathematically speaking would still exceed the speed limit for ordinary citizens. It goes to show that speedometers, like water and light meters are hard to regulate in order to satisfy everybody.

The Ghost of Havana

Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers in charge of the work of raising the Maine, is in all probability correct in his opinion that the closest investigation will likely fail in determining whether the vessel was destroyed by an internal or an external explosion. His reasoning is sound. The destruction of the vessel was so complete, he says, and the deterioration has been so great, as to baffle exhaustive search. Indications are that the greatest force was from the inside, says Gen. Bixby, showing that the forward magazine had exploded. But, he adds, very significantly, it strikes us, that it must forever remain a question whether the magazine was not exploded by the explosion of a torpedo on the outside.

Failure to prove the origin of the explosion will not be surprising. Discharging a torpedo under a ship heavily loaded with high explosives would certainly make a wreck so complete as to leave no trace to show where the movement commenced. We have expected this. The resurrection is a resurrection only of the dead, and not of history. The history has been made without such a resurrection. This country sprang to arms against Spain on the circumstantial evidence seemed to the average mind, conclusive. Spanish officials at Havana had threatened that if a United States warship came into that port to stay, it would never leave it. When, in spite of such threats, and the protests of the Spanish government at Madrid, the Maine was sent there, she was anchored at an isolated point in the harbor offering the best facilities for destroying her without injury to other shipping. Afterward came the explosion, destroying a vessel which had hitherto met with as few accidents and casualties as any in the line. The rest is history not buried in any sense of the word.

Unless the raising of the Maine can show indubitable evidences of some kind destroying the circumstantial evidence on which the American people will reserve the right of thinking and saying that they acted wisely and well. That they acted quickly and energetically the whole world knows.

The five men held at the jail for implication in the murder of Edward Baker, were all arraigned before Justice Charles K. Hoyt Friday afternoon on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. The quintette were rather surprised at the mild charge placed against them, but they all pleaded guilty and were sentenced to sixty-five days in jail. In the meantime their records will be investigated by Sheriff Andre and his staff.

Judge of Probate Edward P. Kirby, and School Examiners Stanton and DeBoer elected Egbert Winter, superintendent of the Spring Lake schools as county school examiner to fill the vacancy left by Nelson R. Stanton, who has resigned to take the position of county commissioner of schools. Mr. Stanton was elected at the last general election by an overwhelming majority.

The steamer Manchester, in command of Capt. Everett Zwemer, son of John Zwemer of this city, arrived in Milwaukee Friday night with a load of coal for the Milwaukee western. It was expected that the entire cargo of 3,500 tons would be unloaded in about five hours.

A suit for divorce has been started in the circuit court by John A. Vanderberg against Bertha K. Vanderberg. In the bill of complaint the complainant alleges desertion on the part of his wife and asks for divorce, waiving the custody of their son under the provision that he be allowed to visit him and have him with him when he pleases.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Barney Hopkins of Grand Haven and formerly of Holland, and family are moving to Milwaukee, where they expect to make their home. The Hopkins family have made Grand Haven their home for a number of years and their many friends here regret their departure. Mr. Hopkins is engineer on the Grand Trunk car ferry Milwaukee and finds residence in Milwaukee more convenient than Grand Haven.—Grand Haven Tribune.

While trying to relight a gasoline stove in her cottage on Blue Bell court at Macatawa park Mrs. A. Abramson of Chicago, aged 45, was so badly burned by the explosion that she had to be rushed to a Chicago hospital to save her life.

The home of P. Kelrinnis was struck by lightning and considerable damage was done. Two members of the family had narrow escapes and were stunned by the bolt.

The Holland Printing company, recently organized, has taken over the business of Garvelink Bros. Printing Co. The shop, formerly in the First State Bank building, has been moved to Henry Holkeboer's plant on College avenue.

A local real estate man has a customer on the string who wants him to secure for him one thousand acres of land in Ottawa county. The tract, when secured, will be converted into a modern sheep ranch and will be one of the biggest ranches of its kind in the middle west.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Lightning played havoc with the residence of Fred Dorgelo, 138 West Twenty-eighth street. A bolt ripped off the shingles and whizzed through every room in the house, tearing the plaster from the walls and even tore the casters from beneath the bed upon which Mr. and Mrs. Dorgelo were sleeping. Although badly shocked the couple were uninjured. No fire resulted.

A farewell was tendered to Mrs. H. V. S. Peeke and Mrs. Albertus Pieters at the home of Mrs. Helen De Bruyn, 50 East Tenth street, Friday afternoon. Mesdames Peeke and Pieters expect to return to their missionary posts in Japan in August.

Tom N. Robinson, a recent graduate of the law department of the University of Michigan, is the latest accession to Holland's legal fraternity. Mr. Robinson is better known as the state fair wanderer in 1907 when for a prize of $100 he walked from Grand Rapids to Detroit. Tom will occupy one of the vacant rooms in the Holland City News office for the present.

G. W. Mokma is back in the First State Bank. He was confined to his home for a few days, having been prostrated by the heat. Al Vegter, one of our mail carriers, was also overcome, but is again on the job.

BEVERLY, MASS.—President Taft's family already is settled in "Parrametta," which is the summer seat of government for this season, and Mr. Taft himself will be here as soon as national affairs permit him to abandon Washington. He came with the family, but could stay only two days. Mrs. Taft's health already is benefiting by the change, and the children are enjoying themselves immensely.

Bob Moore suffered a loss of several hundred dollars Monday when his big touring car caught fire in front of the Busy Bee cafe at Saugatuck. Oil in the bottom of the car was accidentally set fire and the machine was soon in flames. The fire department was summoned to put out the blaze.

The Rev. Dr. Ame Vennema, president elect of Hope College, was accorded a pleasant surprise upon his return to Passaic, N. J., when he found among the mail on his desk a special delivery letter containing a check for $500, this being the gift of the Passaic congregation.

The highway commissioners of the various townships are giving notices to all owners of property warning them to cut down and destroy all noxious weeds. The owners of property are held responsible under the state law and the commissioners warn the public that those failing to comply with the law are liable for the cost of cutting down the weeds and brush. Noxious weeds flourish in a number of places in Holland township and the owners of property should bear in mind the provisions of the state law in the matter.

The annual picnic given by the Grand Rapids City Rescue Mission to the poor children of that city was held Tuesday at Jenison park.

The new Graham & Morton boat docks and warehouse, taking the place of the ones recently destroyed by fire, are now completed. The new arrangement of building and docks is more roomy and convenient than the old.

During the month of May there were 84 births in Ottawa county and 35 deaths. In Holland there were 32 births and 8 deaths; in Zeeland, 6 births and 1 death, and in Grand Haven 6 births and 5 deaths.

Judge Padgham has sustained the objection made by the attorneys for Egbert and John Vanderveen in the high school condemnation proceedings that the matter should not be taken up until after the quo warranto proceedings brought to test the validity of the question as to whether Attorney Arthur Van Duren, before whom the case was tried, was legally a justice of the peace.

Dean Campwell of Grand Rapids and Miss Hattie Herring of Chicago, who are spending the summer at the parks, slipped away to Grand Rapids Friday, where they were married. The couple met at the resorts and were married after one month's acquaintance.

Andrew Languis was arrested Sunday evening by Officer Steketee on the charge of assault and battery on the person of E. A. Smither, made while Languis was under the influence of liquor. Justice Miles sentenced him Monday to sixty days in the Detroit House of Correction.

Burton A. Baker, 28 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Baker, who live near Saugatuck, committed suicide by shooting himself with a shot gun, placing the barrel of the weapon to his mouth and blowing away part of his head. Ill health had caused Baker to become demented. His body was taken to a Detroit crematory.

Rev. D. R. Drucker of Zeeland was called to Passaic, N. J., this week by the illness of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. Drucker.

City Attorney C. Vander Meuler has moved his office from 8 E. Eighth street to the offices provided by the city on the third floor of the city hall.

Albert Den Herder, aged 22 years, of Grand Rapids, was drowned in Lake Michigan Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Ottawa Beach. The young man with his younger brother Chester had gone to Ottawa Beach to spend the day at the Ives cottage. During the morning they went together to the lake for a swim. Hardly had Albert touched the water than he threw up his hands and shouted for help. Both the boys were good swimmers. The younger dove in and attempted to help his brother but the task proved too much for his strength and he was forced to relinquish his hold to save his own life. Although the life savers arrived immediately and the body was recovered within ten minutes after it went down all attempts to restore life proved futile. The life savers and two Grand Rapids physicians, Dr. Urguhart and Dr. Hastle, worked over the body until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Fire of unknown origin which started in a pile of shavings at the mill of Scott & Lagers, 10th and River streets Tuesday evening, for a time threatened the main building. Quick work by the firemen prevented a disastrous blaze.

Venetian Night on Macatawa Bay, August 5 is to be a bigger mid-summer social event this year than even before. The committee in charge is now completing preliminary arrangements for this greater water fete and the prospects for a bountiful return for their labors is now assured.

Jurors from this vicinity drawn for the circuit held in August are: Wm. O. Van Eyck and Harry Wickerink of Holland; Jacob Van Loo, Zeeland; Lawrence Mulder, Blendon; Herman Rooks, Holland Twp.; John Geerlings, Jamestown; Johannes Katz, Zeeland; and Barney Wolters, Olive township.

Bert Tinholt and A. A. Par's, rural letter carriers, have secured permits from the postoffice department at Washington to make their daily rounds in automobiles and yesterday farmers on both routes received their first mail by the new method.

Friends of Mrs. Alice Kerkhof in this city have been apprised of her plans for returning to Holland. Mrs. Kerkhof left here last fall for Phoenix, Ariz., with her three children in the hope of seeking a cure from tuberculosis for her oldest son John. No relief has been secured and the boy is anxious to return home to die.

Tuesday afternoon for the second time the jury in the case of Gerrit De Witt, accused of furnishing liquor to an habitual drunkard, failed to agree and it is doubtful whether the case will be retried on the same issue. But Prosecuting Attorney Osterhouse may prefer even a more serious charge against De Witt. This charge, if it is made, will be of perjury, there being a serious discrepancy between De Witt's testimony on the first trial and the testimony of an Italian on the second. De Witt said on the witness stand that there were no Italians present at the time the alleged offense was committed. The Italian testified Tuesday that he was present and that he had been furnished liquor by De Witt. Then De Witt admitted that this was true. The case stirred up not a little excitement and feeling and was hard fought by the attorneys.

Wm. VanTottenhove is building a beautiful residence on W. 15th street.

Cornelius Terpstra broke the index finger on his right hand while threshing on the farm of John Dykhouse south of this city yesterday.

Little six-year-old Bernard C. Mense died last Tuesday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mense at Macatawa. The body was shipped to the home this noon in Valparaiso, Ind. The Menses occupy the "Eugenic Cottage" on Interlake Walk.

A warrant has been issued from Justice Miles' court for the arrest of Frank J. Walsh, on a charge of furnishing liquor to T. J. Maxted, an habitual drunkard. The warrant was sworn out by Deputy Sheriff C. J. Dornbos. Mr. Walsh pleaded not guilty and the hearing will be within a few days.

Rev. D. R. Drucker, pastor of the First Christian Reformed church of Zeeland, and formerly of Holland lost out in a race with death. Mr. Drucker was summoned by telegram to Passaic, N. J., owing to the serious illness of his mother. He was hastening to the east, but his mother died while he was on the way.

An effort is being made by the police to locate Geo. VaaderPoel, a young man of this city who is home from the navy on his furlough. VanderPoel is alleged to have stolen a bicycle from Bishop and Alofs repair shop and a horse and rig from the Nibbelink barn. It is said that he bought the wheel but made no payment on it and sold it for much less than its value. Then he rented the livery rig and left the city. Van der Poel has had difficulties with the police before joining the navy. For the past few days he has been wearing a sailors uniform about the streets.

The livery rig was recovered later but the whereabouts of the young man are still unknown.

The extent of the Michigan fruit belt is shown by the fact that while strawberries were being harvested in the southern part of it they were blooming in the northern part—and being damaged by heavy rains.

"What profiteth it a man though he be a deputy sheriff, if the pesky thieves don't realize the fact and come and steal a man's goods from his very house." Such is the plaintive cry of one of the late-appointed deputy sheriffs added to the force for protection during the strike in Grand Rapids. The loss of a silver hair brush, a silver-topped clothes brush and a lot of tableware was reported to the police by one of the newly appointed officers, whose home is on Sheldon street. The silverware is engraved with the initials "J. B. C." No clew was left by the visitors. Their method of going out and coming is a matter of mystery.

NEW TESTAMENT TIMES BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

DIVINE JUSTICE AND MERCY
II Chronicles 33:1-20—July 16
"Cease to do evil; learn to do well."—Isa.
1:16, 17.

MANASSEH, the central figure of this study, was the son of the good King Hezekiah. Manasseh succeeded to the throne of Judah in his twelfth year—the bad son of a good father. This matter of good fathers and evil sons, and evil fathers and good sons, was probably due, frequently, to the good or evil character of the mothers, as well as to the fact that the king, occupied with the affairs of state, could not give proper attention to the cultivation of his own children, although, doubtless, there are exceptions to this rule.

How Few Recognize the Sacredness of Parental Responsibilities

Parentage is undoubtedly the highest and most important function of human life. Yet how few realize the sacredness of parental responsibilities! The Prophet inquires, "Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?" While admitting the inference that none of our race can possibly be perfect, we must admit also that in the parents reside great possibilities respecting the good or evil of their children. This responsibility should be felt in mating—before marriage. We are not urging that marriage should be put upon the same plane as stock breeding, and the finer sentiment disregarded; but we do claim that the spirit of a sound mind should be sought in connection with the most important contract of life, affecting not only the destiny and happiness of the pair, but also of their offspring.

Is it any wonder that children are born nervous and peevish when we know that the mother in bearing them was fretted and annoyed in a thousand ways? Is it any wonder that children are born to a heritage of passion, anger and lust, when we think of the experiences of their mothers which are thus impressed upon them? Surely all parents of reasonable judgment, understanding these matters, would lay proper foundations for character in their children—foundations upon which, subsequently, they would patiently, carefully and lovingly develop their children along the lines of the highest standards of righteousness and the beauty of holiness and loyalty to the Creator! But while this should be the endeavor of all, when could we hope ever to bring the world into a condition to desire and strive for such results? Never! Hope for the world would die were it not based upon the sure Word of the Lord, which promises mankind help from on High in the great Kingdom of Messiah.

The Valley of Hinnom

King Manasseh reintroduced idolatry, built altars for the worship of Baal in the courts of the temple, used enchantments and communicated with evil spirits. The punishment for idolatry was not eternal torment, be it noted; that erroneous view came to us during the "Dark Ages." We are getting back to a better understanding of God and His Word.

In connection with the king's idolatrous delusions, it is recorded in verse six that he "caused his children to pass through the fire in the valley of Hinnom."

That valley lies just outside the city of Jerusalem, to the south. It is now considerably filled up and covered with orchards. Of old it was a deep valley. It was used for religious rites at one time. A great brass image erected there, the body of which was hollow, constituted a due for the fires built underneath. The image had outstretched arms, which became heated and upon these arms children were sometimes offered in sacrifice to the false deities, wholly contrary to everything authorized by the Almighty.

Later on, this valley of Hinnom was polluted so that it might never again be used as a place of worship. No doubt it was used as a place for the destruction of the offal of the city of Jerusalem—dead cats and rats and dogs, etc., were thrown there and fire and brimstone burned therein for the destruction of the foul gases. The bodies of the vilest criminals might after death also be thrown into this valley as refuse.

In the New Testament, written in Greek, this "valley of the son of Hinnom" is styled Gehenna, or, later, Gehenna. Our Lord several times used this valley in illustrating the Second Death—the hopelessness of all those who would wilfully, intelligently and persistently refuse the grace of God. Eventually all who will come to love righteousness and hate iniquity shall be enabled to attain eternal life, and all who will love iniquity and hate righteousness shall have the punishment of the Second Death, symbolically represented in Gehenna—"everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord."

Ex-mayor Cappon and lady, and Miss Minnie Plugger left Thursday night for Philadelphia, where they expect to participate in that grand Picnic. We wish them a pleasant time.

A second band has been organized in this place and we hear they are progressing finely with Dr. D. M. Gee as teacher. The following are the members: Wm. J. Scott, Frank Heald, Fred Heald, J. M. Doesburg, Dr. D. M. Gee, C. Wiersma, A. Zuidema and Peter Meengs. As will be seen, three of this number have played before.

Saturday night at 9 o'clock a most brilliant meteor passed directly over this city from southeast to northwest, leaving behind it a train of fire extending over an arc of at least 50 degrees. For 15 seconds the sky and earth were lighted with a pale greenish light, as bright as that made by a full moon. The meteor burst at a point apparently a little north of the city, but probably far out into Lake Michigan. When the explosion took place there were several portions of the body visible, all of different colors. The trail was visible for half an hour after the meteor had disappeared, and was very luminous for ten or fifteen minutes. No sound accompanied the passage or explosion.

WHAT YOU SAW 30 YEARS AGO

At the Cape of Good Hope, near Table mountain, the clouds come down very low, and then disappeared without dropping in rain. At such a time if a traveler should go under a tree for shelter from the threatening storm he would find himself in a drenching shower, while out in the open space, away from a tree or shrub, everything would be as dry as a bone. The cloud or mist is rather warmer than the leaves, and so, when it touches them, it changes into clinging drops, which look like dew. Fresh drops keep forming; they run together; and, at length, the water drips off the leaves like rain. And this process goes on until the clouds lift and the sun comes out again.

GIRL MOCKS AT FATE.

Heroine of Double Somersaulting Auto To Be Seen Here.

The most terrific act in the history of circus thrillers, the double somersaulting automobile act, will be seen in Holland on July 17 as the climax of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros' circus. This is the Dante's Inferno of circus paralyzers. So-called thrillers of the past pale into nothing before it.

And the act is performed by a young French girl barely out of her teens. The heavy car with the gritty young woman at the wheel plunges down a steep incline with lightning speed. An upward curve at the terminal of the tracks sends the car up into the air, where it turns two complete somersaults before alighting on the runway fifty feet away.

It is a moment of suspense that the audience will never forget. It holds the eyes of even those who had made up their minds not to look. It is impossible to resist the act. It pinches the heart and whitens the faces of those who behold, and the relief of the audience when the feat is finished in safety expresses itself in a sigh of thanks.

Another thriller with the show, the beauty of which is inspiring, is known as the "Human Buttery Act." It is a sensation of French origination and is presented by the famous Ty-Bell Sisters. Holding by the teeth to almost invisible strands of steel the young women are lifted to the dome of the tent, and there, by means of hidden mechanism, are made to circle, dart and fly through space with the grace of birds, while multi-colored spot lights are directed upon their flowing robes.

The act is the most beautiful conception of a French spectacle builder. Aside from its beauty it is dangerous enough to be intensely exciting.

Like a rolling ball of snow the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus has grown and gathered to such an extent that it is now out of all proportion with the recollection of it that lingers in the local mind. It has been many seasons since it exhibited here and it now comes with new laurels won and with much more to recommend it than ever. There is not a country on earth that it has not at some time in its fifty years of existence pitched its ten acres of canvas. It is considered in New York the most popular show that exhibits in that city. When it last exhibited there its parade received unbounded praise.

The show now has 350 performers, the majority of whom are from European and Asiatic countries. There are 100 big acts on the program. The menagerie is a wonderful zoological collection. The entire equipment of the circus is brand new.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default has been made in the conditions of a mortgage dated May 12, 1910, made and executed by Glenn L.
Gillett and Mary N. Gillett, his wife, as mortgagors unto the Berlin State Bank of Berlin, Michigan, as mortgagee; whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative. Said mortgage was on the 13th day of May, A. D. 1910, recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Ottawa County, Michigan, in Liber
95 of mortgages on page 262. Said mortgage was on the 23rd day of May, 1911, duly assigned by the Berlin State Bank of Berlin, Michigan, to Charles P. Goodenow and the assignment thereof was on the 24th day of May, 1911, recorded in said office of said register of deeds in Liber 105 of mortgages on page 10.
No proceedings at law or in equity have been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. There is claimed to be due at this date the sum of Four Hundred Twenty-six and 54-100 dollars ($426.54) for principal and interest and the further sum of fifteen (15) dollars for attorney fee provided by law for this proceeding.

Notice is therefore hereby given that for the purpose of satisfying the sums due on said mortgage for principal and interest and interest to ac-cure thereon, besides the costs and expenses and attorney fee provided by law for this proceeding, the un-designed will foreclose said mortgage by sale of the premises described and will sell said premises at public auction or vendue on the 9th day of September, A. D. 1911.

at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the north front door of the Court House in said Ottawa County, in the City of Grand Haven, Michigan, that being the place where the circuit court for the County of Ottawa is held. Said mortgaged premises are described as follows, to-wit:
the following described land and premises situated in the village of Berlin,
County of Ottawa and State of Michigan, namely:

Commencing at the southeast corner of Lot number seven (7) of the Village of Berlin, according to the recorded plat thereof; thence southeasterly along the westerly margin of the Grand Rapids and Muskegon State Road, so called, sixty-five and one-half (65½) feet to the right of way of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon Railway Company's right of way; thence northwesterly along the northerly border of said right of way, one hundred and fifty-six (156) feet to the south line of said Lot seven (7); thence east one hundred fifty-eight and one-half (158-
½) feet to the place of beginning.

Dated, June 14, 1911.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood;
give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c at Walsh Drug Co., H. R.
