Tipsy Motorist Rams Into House

Grand Haven (Special)—Two men appeared before Justice Frederick J. Workman in Spring Lake Monday, one charged with drunk driving and the other for being drunk and disorderly.

Arrest resulted after the car driven by Ziegried Gribowski, 21, route 2, Spring Lake, going east on West Savidge St. in Spring Lake, rammed into the home of John Vander Zwaag. The impact knocked about 25 cement blocks out of the foundation, caused considerable damage to the front porch, breaking several windows, and moved the house on its foundation.

The car tipped over, pinning Gribowski and his passenger, Wilhelm Brenner, 20, of Mishawaka, Ind., underneath. Both were able to extricate themselves from the late model coupe.

Gribowski was taken to Municipal hospital where several stitches were required for an arm laceration. Brenner was uninjured. The car was completely demolished.

Damage to the house was estimated between $500 and $600.

Justice Workman sentenced Gribowski to pay $100 fine, $5.40 costs and serve four days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated and Brenner, $15 fine and $4.80 costs for being drunk and disorderly. Arrests were by Spring Lake village Officer Dick Livingston.

Jennie Dykema Victim of Crash At 15th, Central

Mrs. Jennie Dykema, 51, of 51 East 19th St., was fatally injured in a car-truck crash at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday at the intersection of 15th and Central. Her husband, Andrew Dykema, driver of the car, received only one small bruise and shock.

Driver of the truck, Charles E. Garris, 27, of Michigan City, Ind., was the same man who jackknifed his semi last May 29 to avoid hitting a little girl who toddled onto the street on 32nd St.

Mrs. Dykema was thrown from the car by the impact and died instantly. The semi was traveling west on 15th St. and the driver, who often comes to Holland, told police he shifted from third to second gear as he approached the intersection at the rate of about 15 miles an hour. He said he was partly in the intersection when the '50 model car driven by Dykema came from the south. Garris attempted to turn his tractor to the right to lessen the impact, but the right front wheel of the car hit the left front wheel of the truck, causing the semi to straighten out and head almost straight west.

Garris received a sprained left wrist in the accident. Dykema was suffering from shock and could not recall the speed, but both drivers and witnesses estimated it probably was 25 miles an hour.

The Dykema car was damaged on the front and right side to the extent of about $800. The tie rods of the truck and the left front fender were damaged to the extent of about $300.

Mrs. Dykema's body was lying about 35 feet from the point of impact and about two feet away from the truck as it came to rest against the curb on 15th St. clear of the intersection. The car was against the truck.

Mrs. Dykema was born in Holland township Feb. 23, 1901. She was a member of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. Surviving are the husband, a daughter, Mrs. Wesley De Jong of Muskegon; six sons, Nicholas, Russell, Theodore, Bernard, Edwin and Nelson, all of Holland; her mother, Mrs. Leonard Dekker of Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Russell Dykema and Mrs. Chester Van Tammelen; seven brothers, Gary, William, Alex, Daniel, Harold, Nicholas and Melvin Dekker, all of Holland.

City police headed by Chief Jacob Van Hoff, and Coroner Gilbert Vande Water are continuing their investigation in cooperation with Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles. Police listed three witnesses, Bert Arendsen, 110 East 32nd St.; Boyd De Boer, 860 Howard Ave., and Wallace Van Patten, 18 East 16th St. All were driving cars in the immediate vicinity.

Police said it was Garris's first accident in 12 years of driving and eight years of truck driving. When he jackknifed his semi in May to avoid hitting 17-month-old Velma Van Ark of 69 East 32nd St., the truck was not damaged. At that time the child had wandered into the road and sat down and while Garris saw the child, it was obvious an oncoming car did not see her. So Garris jackknifed his vehicle in such a manner that the truck formed a protecting fence about the child, and also alerted the other car to stop in time.

In a summer wedding Saturday afternoon at Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, Miss Helen M. Hoekstra, daughter of Mrs. Louis D. Hoekstra of 26 East 20th St. and the late Louis D. Hoekstra, and William Selles, Jr., spoke their marriage vows. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Selles of 110 East 15th St.

The Rev. Albert Selles of Tyler, Minn., uncle of the groom, read the double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. before a setting of palms and ferns, bouquets of white pompons, snapdragons, peonies and stock and branch candelabra. White net bows marked the pews.

Appropriate wedding selections were played by organist Richard L. Hoekstra of Chicago, brother of the bride. Soloist Marvin Schans sang "God Gave Me You," "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

For her marriage the bride, who approached the altar on the arm of her brother, George Hoekstra, selected a gown of white satin. Her high stand-up collar was edged in Chantilly lace and small satin covered buttons extended down the front of the fitted bodice. The long sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. A gathered peplum, trimmed in Chantilly lace, formed a point down the back over the bouffant skirt which fell into a cathedral length train. Her veil of imported Swiss illusion was held in place by a small satin cap edged with pearls and satin piping flowers. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy. She also carried her mother's wedding handkerchief.

Attending the couple were Miss Patricia Brieve, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, Miss Suzanne Dykstra and Miss Beatrice Vander Vlies, bridesmaids. Bert Selles assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Simon Dykstra and William Buursma.

Bridal attendants' gowns were identically fashioned of light blue marquisette over taffeta with bouffant skirts and insertions of satin at the waist. Marquisette capes tied with satin piping covered the strapless bodices. The matching marquisette half hats were trimmed with flowers to match the attendants' bouquets. Miss Brieve's bouquet was of deep pink carnations. The bridesmaids' bouquets were of light pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors for 100 guests following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. James Kooi of Grand Rapids were master and mistress of ceremonies. Gifts were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Haak. Serving at the punch bowl were Miss Anne Selles and Mrs. Edward De Jong. During the reception Miss Evelyn Huizenga sang a vocal solo.

Out-of-town guests were from Chicago, Clearwater, Fla., Maple Lake and Tyler, Minn., Van Nuys, Calif., Rehoboth, N. M., Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Kalamazoo and Zeeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Selles left after the ceremony on their honeymoon to Canada's Thousand Islands and the Adirondack mountains in New York. For the trip Mrs. Selles wore a blue-gray suit with navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage. After July 3, the newlyweds will be at home at 151 East 14th St.

The bride, who moved to Holland in 1935, was graduated from Holland Christian high school and Calvin college. She has been teaching in Southwest Christian school, Grand Rapids. The groom, a life resident of Holland, also was graduated from Holland Christian high school and Calvin college. He plans to teach at Western Michigan Christian high school in Muskegon next fall.

On Friday evening the wedding party was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Selles.

Holland Family Hurt in Accident Near Gordon, Neb.

Five members of a Holland family were injured, one seriously, when their car was sideswiped by a truck on a highway near Gordon, Neb., while returning from a vacation trip to the Black Hills in South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Appledorn and their three children, of 22 East 29th St., all were taken to a hospital after their car was demolished in the crash. Most seriously injured was their youngest son, Jerry, 1, who received a fractured jaw and possible fractured vertebra in the neck area. He will remain in the hospital for a week or two.

Appledorn received three fractured ribs, but his condition was good enough so that he and the other two children, Carol, 12, and Robert 8, returned home during the week-end. Mrs. Appledorn, who received a severe gash on the head, will remain in Nebraska with the youngest son and the two will fly home a week or two hence when the youngster can be moved.

News of the accident was received in Holland Thursday afternoon when Appledorn called a close friend, Earle Vander Kolk at Macatawa Park. Vander Kolk informed Appledorn's family, and when relatives made further contact Thursday night the news was quite reassuring. It was not known when the crash occurred, but local persons believe it took place either Thursday morning or Wednesday evening.

The Appledorn family had left Holland June 14 for a trip to Sibley, Iowa, to visit Mrs. Appledorn's mother, and from there went to the Black Hills.

Ens. Henry K. Alexander, Jr., U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Alexander of 141 East 31st St., has been awarded a letter of commendation for his outstanding performance of duty aboard the destroyer James C. Owens in the Korean War zone by Cmdr. R. B. Erly, USN, commanding officer.

The letter reads in part: "In particular I desire to bring to your attention the devotion to duty, the proficiency and the strength of character displayed by you during this vessel's operations against the enemy in the Korean theater during the period between 5 March 1952 and 28 May 1952. You contributed to a great extent toward the development of the U.S.S. James C. Owens into one of the most proficient shore bombardment vessels in the combat area."

"As assistant navigator you were of invaluable assistance to the executive officer. On 7 May 1952 when this ship was damaged by enemy shore batteries at Songjin, Korea, you displayed the sound judgment of a good naval officer under fire, and after the completion of that action your voluntary service in caring for the wounded was a comfort to them and an example of leadership to your shipmates."

Ens. Alexander was graduated with honors from the U.S. Naval academy at Annapolis with the class of 1951 and served on the J. C. Owens for a year. He reported last week at New London, Conn., where he will attend the Navy Submarine school. Ens. Alexander and his wife, Anne, have been living at Norfolk, Va., home port of the J. C. Owens.

A CANADIAN BLOW FOR FREEDOM

The superior court of Montreal has ruled invalid a city ordinance which ordered retail stores to close on Roman Catholic holy days. In doing so it has struck a blow for freedom that should rejoice the hearts of Catholics as well as of Protestants.

Montreal is of course a predominantly Catholic community. But Canada, like the United States, is committed to the separation of church and state. In making its ruling the Montreal superior court has declared that no church organization should have the right to dictate in the secular affairs of a state or nation or community.

For obviously, if a church, Catholic or Protestant, assumes the right to govern in the secular affairs of one community, that right must be granted in another community as well. Suppose another state or city or nation is peopled by citizens of quite the opposite religious persuasion. Those people should have the right to fix things in accordance with their own religious convictions. Suppose, for instance, that a given community should be peopled largely by atheists, those people should have the right to close the churches. That would so obviously be an act of tyranny that the most primitive sense of logic can recognize it.

But it would be the natural development if any church organization is allowed to dictate a community's government merely because it happens to be in the majority. In the very nature of things that majority is temporary. A half a century from now a Catholic city may be predominantly Protestant, or a Protestant community may be Catholic. A hundred years ago Boston was a Protestant city, even largely a religiously "liberal" city. Today it is quite the reverse. There is no safety for any religious group except in a rigid separation between church and state. The censorship that any church uses today for its own advantage may tomorrow be turned against it in the shifting of population majorities.

Churches may of course be as dictatorial as they please within their own ecclesiastical groups. They may impose any censorship that their members can be persuaded to accept. The moment they try to impose their wills on the members of other churches, or on people without any church affiliations, it becomes an exercise of tyranny.

In the Time of the Judges-2:8-17; 21:25

By Henry Geerlings

The period of time covered in the events narrated in the book of the Judges is variously estimated from 250 to 450 years. It is the only history that survives of that important era known as the Iron Age of Israel, stretching from Joshua to Samuel. The events in this book do not appear to be chronologically arranged. The author was more concerned with other matters.

The book declares the innate tendency of man to sin and the abundant and persistent grace of God. Its object is to write indelibly upon the heart of the whole race that the nation that forgets God cannot prosper. We see how that at the death of Joshua the unity of the national life was broken, each tribe looking out for its own interests alone, and each man doing that which was right in his own eyes.

The question of authorship remains unsettled. The Talmud assigns it to Samuel, and the popular view seems to accept this opinion. There is nothing in the book to require the acceptance of a date later than the time of this great judge, nor is there anything even to hint at who wrote it. We can do nothing better than conjecture.

No other book sacred or profane, narrates incidents more stirring than Judges, we follow the faithful chronicler with interest that never wanes. He leads us into conflicts in which we think Israel must be forever annihilated, but in the critical moment, when all seems lost, God appears upon the scene, and the nation that raised its voice unto Him is triumphantly saved.

The death of Joshua removed from Israel a unique figure. His influence was commanding. He was able to keep the people in line while he lived, but his removal was a signal for the deterioration of religious experience. The collapse did not come until some time after his death. Those who belonged to his generation remained true to his teaching. But then we are told in words tremendously significant that there arose another generation after him that did not know Jehovah, nor the work which he had wrought for Israel.

Punishment follows disobedience. This truth is written on every page of Judges. Sin is a disorder that must be dealt with according to its nature. It deserves punishment. Indeed it has part of its retribution within itself. It has fangs that sting. But no doubt God sent the punishment He did for a remedial purpose. He meant that it should heal their backslidings, that it should show them idolatry is not profitable, that covenant breaking is serious business, and that to turn to Him is the only way to peace and life. It is impossible to press wrongdoings to one's bosom without preparing for one's self a harvest of many and bitter tears.

When the people of Israel got into the promised land they soon took to doing like the heathen around them. They worshipped idols and forgot God. They acted almost as if there had never been a Moses or a Joshua. They were not very much of a separate people. But God did not forget them. They were still His own, and He labored with them to bring them to their religious senses. It was a difficult task, but by patience, punishment and power He accomplished it.

Man's weakness makes God's power all the more apparent. Samson was a fickle individual. There was much in him that we cannot admire. Still God's spirit laid hold upon him and made him a terror to the invaders. He was a mixture of gold and clay, and God laid hold of the gold and used it to the advancement of His name. It seems strange how one person can reach both heights of honor and depths of dishonor. There is something radically wrong when practically a whole nation turns to idols. What had become of the family religion? Where was the tabernacle with its saving ministry? Had the sacred feasts of Passover and Tabernacles dropped out of the life of this people? Was the Sabbath a neglected institution? What had become of the priestly and teaching function of the church?

It is impossible to conceive of a nation turning to unbelief where there is fidelity among those who are charged with the dissemination of religious truth. There must have been a decay of faith in the very citadel of pure religion. Wholesale backsliding reflects discredit on the spiritual leaders of the time.

Sin is fascinating and seductive. It amazes us to think how quickly a people can revert to base ways when their leader is taken away. Joshua's hand was little more than cold in death before Israel began flirting with strange deities. Here is to be found one of the permanent messages of this book. If anyone wants to know how deceitful the heart is and how desperately wicked let him read a few chapters of the Judges. Sin seemed to be like a magnet drawing the people's heart from Jehovah. But that does not surprise us. Conditions have not changed very much. With all the preaching and teaching going on in our churches, and with all the resources of God's power at our disposal, men continue to serve self and to find their satisfaction in the world. Yes, sin is like a cable.

Severe cold during winter months is very essential to many flowers of the north temperate zone.

Compromise Hit On Allegan School Condemnation

Allegan (Special)—State Deputy Fire Marshal Walter Burns, of Paw Paw, has agreed to a compromise on the condemnation of the North Ward school, according to James Green, school board president.

Green said work already has begun on making the changes which Burns felt were absolutely necessary if the school is to reopen this fall.

The school board president reported that Burns agreed to let the school re-open providing the classroom located above the boiler is abandoned.

Other items included in his original order which will be done this summer are removal of two steam radiators near main exits, repairs to attic windows, re-laying of loose brick in the parapet walls and other minor repairs.

In the last week Green said the school has been subjected to a "long overdue housecleaning." Dust and dirt and an accumulation of years of "odds and ends" has been removed from the attic and basement. The boiler and heating system will receive a thorough overhauling and the boiler room will be painted.

Green said that Burns and the board agreed that use of the building under these terms will be allowed only on a year-to-year basis. The fire marshal's department will review the situation each spring, he said, "so that conditions at the school will not be forgotten."

Definite arrangements will be made later.

Another summer trip planned is to the Allegan state forest experimental station. This trip will be by private cars in late afternoon or evening, accompanied by a few parents. Anyone interested is asked to call Mrs. Knutson or Mrs. Wenzel.

Lokker-Brewer Vows Spoken

Bouquets of white peonies, stock, gladioli and daisies accented with two seven branch candelabra decorated Trinity Reformed church for the wedding of Miss Donna Brewer and Donald Lokker Wednesday, June 25. Dr. John R. Mulder performed the double ring rites.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Brewer of 115 East 20th St. and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Lokker of 32 East 19th St.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, with lace accenting the bodice and ruffled decolletage. The skirt of tulle was accented with four insertions of pleated lace and extended into a sweep train. She wore long matching lace mitts which tapered to points over the wrists. Her Juliet cap, which held her finger tip veil of imported illusion, featured three small bands of matching lace with scattered seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with pale pink orchids.

Miss Bette Brewer and Miss Marlene Brewer, the bride's sisters, were maid of honor and bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of ice blue and pink nylon net over taffeta, respectively, short white summer gloves and double strand pearl chokers, gifts of the bride. They carried colonial bouquets of daisies and gypsophila. Little Beverly Dannenberg as flower girl wore a pale yellow gown of net over taffeta styled similar to the bride's and carried a basket of rose petals. Allan Lee Lokker, dressed in a white suit, carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Charles Lokker, brother of the groom, was best man and David Haas of Bogota, N.J., and William Timmer of Holland were ushers. Mr. and Mrs. William Brewer, uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. William Zonnebelt, organist, and Mrs. Earl Vanden Bosch, who sang "I Love You Truly," "God Gave Me You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The mother of the bride chose a lavender silk crepe dress with white accessories and the groom's mother, navy blue silk with white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

A reception for 200 guests was held in Terkeurst auditorium. Miss Dottie Elferink and Charles Smeenge served at the punch bowl, arranged on an attractive table on the church lawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dyke arranged the gifts. Mrs. William Timmer, Jr., Miss Joyce Lanning and Miss Elferink poured at the buffet tables. Mrs. Peter Vander Wege, Mrs. Richard Van Eenennaam and Mrs. Henry Stroop assisted about the rooms.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Mackinac Island and now are at home at 32 East 19th St. The groom, who is serving in the U.S. Army, will report for further duty on July 10 in Washington state.

For going away the bride wore a pink print silk dress, with gray linen jacket, white accessories and pink orchid corsage.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Holland high school. The groom also attended Hope college.

Two Holland Men Draw Jail Terms

Jail sentences carrying past the Fourth of July Friday were handed to two Holland men who pleaded guilty to charges involving fire-works.

Municipal Judge Cornelius van der Meulen sentenced Alvin Johnson, 25, of 400 Fifth Ave., and his brother, Vernon Johnson, 22, of 402 Fifth Ave., to jail for nine days each. In addition, fines of $25 and costs of $4.70 each were ordered, with alternative of 10 extra days in jail.

Vernon pleaded guilty when arraigned earlier last week on charges of selling firecrackers, and sentence was deferred until today. Alvin pleaded innocent to charges of transporting and having in his possession firecrackers and fireworks, and trial date was set for today. But Alvin changed his plea to guilty.

The address of Vernon Johnson, 402 Fifth Ave., was incorrectly listed in court records and The Sentinel as 52 South Division Ave. when he was arraigned. There is a Vernon Johnson who lives at that address, but he was not involved in the firecracker case.

Children Suspected

Children are the chief suspects for a break-in discovered at Little Netherlands this morning. Missing were some miniature figurines, boats, horses and cows, and a few pennies from a wishing well. Sid Jarvis, who operates Little Netherlands for the Chamber of Commerce, discovered the break-in this morning. The exhibit is open each Friday, Saturday and Monday through the summer. Officers commented that entrance probably was made by climbing over the wall.

Man Picks Wrong House For Break-In Attempt

Grand Haven (Special)—Lawrence T. Reardon, 33, Grand Rapids, tried to get into the wrong house to call a taxi when he tried one door of City Police Officer Charles Rumsey's home about 5 a.m. Sunday.

Reardon explained he had been at a party and later ran his car off the road and was wandering around in a "strange city trying to call a taxi."

Mrs. Rumsey was up feeding her small baby when Reardon tried the doors. She called her husband who held the man in custody until the patrol car arrived and took him to the county jail.

He was arraigned before Justice George V. Hoffer Monday on a drunk and disorderly charge and paid $50 fine and costs.

Assessor Explains 1952 Tax Rate

Several inquiries regarding the summer tax rate resulted in City Assessor William Koop issuing a breakdown of the 1952 tax rates as compared with taxes in 1951.

Koop said the city tax rate is lower by approximately 15 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Some confusion has resulted because the 1951 city taxes were based on a 15-month period as against a 12 month period this year.

Following is a comparison of the 1951 and 1952 taxes, per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The 1951 taxes are first in each case.

City tax, $16.12-$12.36; debt service-schools, 86 cents-88 cents; general school, $10.80-$13.12; special voted tax-new schools, $6.30-$6.23.

The increased cost of operations resulted in the general school taxes rising above last year, Koop said.

Remember our Korean friend, Young Chang Chun?

Well, Chun hasn't forgotten us either, and he had special reason to remember Holland earlier this season when most of the 50 tulip bulbs sent him last fall burst into bloom and created quite a sensation in Pusan.

He wrote in part: "You may have no idea how wonderfully the tulips were welcomed by the natives. They were planted in the yard of Rev. Kim, who is my close friend and also a graduate of our seminary here in Pusan. The tulips were so beautiful that the secretary of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry asked us to place one plant in the office of the minister. So we did. The newspaper writers were so much impressed that they wrote the story in their paper. We took the tulips to our hospital and you may imagine how much comfort and good feeling they gave our patients."

Chun also wrote he is preaching and carrying on evangelistic work, besides working in the hospital dispensary.

Chun was in Holland as a student at Western Theological seminary when war broke out in Korea two years ago. He completed his theological training early in January, 1951, and left almost immediately for Korea. Some time later he found his wife and two children.

Tulip Time interest continues. The Chamber of Commerce received a letter this week making reservations for 20 members of the Golden Chain Garden club of North Industry, Ohio, for a visit here during the festival in 1953.

The Chamber of Commerce also is seeking the owner of a roll of film found at one of the tulip farms during Tulip Time. The finder had the film processed in an attempt to identify the owner, but so far nobody has been able to identify the people. There are several wedding pictures presumably taken with a flash camera. Anybody who has heard of the loss of a roll of film during Tulip Time may call at the Chamber office and attempt to identify the people. There were 12 exposures on the film, and only one was a Tulip Time scene.

The latest Tulip Time note to come to the Sentinel office was accompanied by a nice color picture of a Sentinel newspaperboy hawking his wares by holding up a copy of the Sentinel's Tulip Time edition.

The youngster was identified as young Art Banks of West 14th St., a substitute carrier. The picture will go to him.

The letter came from H. G. Winslow, manager of the Milner Co. of Detroit.

Thamx, Mr. Winslow!

Holland's Tulip Festival came in for some good publicity recently in two separate journals.

A glowing article on the tulip festival, pictures of local workers in Dutch costume were featured in the latest edition of the "Herald 57 News," published for all H. J. Heinz Co. plants and personnel.

And the recent edition of the Michigan Bell telephone company's "Bell" features a short article with two accompanying photos of Ruth Veele, local phone company operator, who was one of the klompen dancers featured on Arthur Godfrey television show before the festival.

Supt. of Mails Sipp Houtman calls attention to the rules that no "dodges" may be put into mail boxes. "Dodges" is a fancy name for hand bills and the like. Young boys who peddle such things aren't always informed that mail boxes are for mail alone. The other things should be put between doors—or anywhere except in the mail boxes.

Speaking of mail, Holland-Racine Shoes, Inc., and the post office are trying to figure out a 10-day delay in returning an air mail letter from California.

The secretary's eyes popped when she came across a returned letter dated 26, 1937, a week or so ago. It turned out to be an air mail letter the old Holland Shoe Co. had sent a salesman, A. C. Moss. The letter requested certain information on Moss's expenses the previous year so that a report could be compiled by the end of the year. It would appear the information was obtained later, certainly the report didn't wait 15 years.

The letter predated the merger of the Holland and Racine Shoe companies which was effected in 1939, and nobody in the present management quite recalls a Moss as a salesman.

Back in 1937 the letter was sent to the salesman in care of a Los Angeles hotel, and the only notation on the envelope outside of the new date June 15, 1952, was an "unclaimed" stamp. Local personnel are wondering if the letter languished in some dark pigeon-hole to these many years.

Time goes more quickly when it comes to parking meters. Just ask Ed Damson, local high school teacher.

Ed parked a few days ago in order to go into police headquarters to renew his operator's license. There was time left on the indicator and he got his new license fairly soon and returned to his car with time still left. But Mrs. D. had a few errands and Ed walked up the street.

By the time he returned the red flag was up and a convenient violation envelope under the windshield wiper.

So Ed retraced his steps to the police station and plunked down another 50 cents.

Laff for the day:

The author of a famous book on economics received a phone call from a stranger. "I question your statistics on the high cost of living today," said the stranger. "My wife and I eat everything our hearts desire and we get it for exactly 68 cents a week."

"Sixty-eight cents a week!" echoed the economist. "I can't believe it! Won't you tell me how? And to make sure I get your story straight, please speak louder."

"I can't speak louder," said the stranger. "I'm a goldfish."

Leonard Rejects Claim He Is 'Dupe' In Governor Race

Former Commissioner Tells Young GOPs 'I'm In Race To Win'

Former state police commissioner Donald S. Leonard repudiated a statement made by another candidate that he was injected into the Republican gubernatorial race to split the vote in Wayne county to allow a candidate from Western Michigan to win.

Speaking before a capacity crowd of 65 Ottawa county Young Republicans and guests at the Mary Jane restaurant Monday night, Leonard said that this other candidate had made the statement that he entered the race as a "dupe." Although not referring to the candidate by name, Leonard was speaking of a talk given by Secretary of State Fred M. Alger several weeks ago.

Leonard amplified his remarks by going back several years to tell of the time many of his friends urged him to run for mayor of Detroit. He said he told them he was not ready to enter political life.

Again, Leonard said, these many friends had nominating petitions printed to enter him in the governor's race two years ago. These friends, he said, urged him to take a fishing trip, or get out of town so he would not be available to answer questions. Leonard said that at that time was state police commissioner. Leonard said he told these friends he would not in any way condone those tactics and if they circulated the nominating petitions he would resign his commissioner's job the next day.

Leonard cited these instances to show that now that he was in the race, "I'm in the race to win." He said that if he was fortunate to be honored with the governor's position that "no individual will be the boss of Donald S. Leonard."

Leonard said he felt that the women of the state were behind him. He said, "The country needs the support and fresh outlook the fine women of this country have. On their shoulders, well rests the future of this country."

He said that the two other candidates for governor have performed a disservice to the party by throwing mud at each other rather than aiming at the present governor in office at Lansing.

"You can't win elections by throwing mud and I will have none of any character assassination or mud tossing," Leonard said.

Leonard said the present governor was telling half-truths, not the whole truth to the people. He briefly touched on the recent Jackson prison riots and said the speech given by a prison official congratulating the rioters was "The most disgraceful speech ever made in the state of Michigan." Leonard said he would tighten prison administration if elected governor.

Leonard also came out for thrift in governmental operations, for the St. Lawrence Seaway project and said he would operate the governor's office for all the people, not just for "selfish pressure groups."

Leonard concluded his talk with a promise, that if elected, he would order a grand jury empaneled in Wayne county to investigate the headquarters of the Communist party which he said was located in that county.

Swimming Class Begins in Allegan After Difficulties

Allegan (Special) — The swimming phase of the Community council's summer recreation program smoothed out this week after "just one crisis after another," according to Program Director Kenneth Otis.

Swimming lessons, summer-time high spots for more than 300 Allegan youngsters, were resumed Monday morning at Baseline lake. They were halted last week when officials sought a new agreement with the owners of the beach. The owners halted swimming at the lake after the dock was broken down when overloaded with children and because regular patrons objected to having a section of the beach roped off for the city program.

Since then, with the city's help, a raft has been built and a different area roped off. Otis said the new area had a good sandy bottom and that the weeds are being cleaned out rapidly.

Earlier this year, it appeared that there might be no swimming program at all. A Grand Haven man purchased the Littlejohn lake beach which had been used in seven previous summers and the Community council was unable to make arrangements for its use.

Meanwhile, city officials are still trying to induce the state conservation department to join in a project which would include a public beach at the west end of Littlejohn lake on state property. There is little hope that this beach would be built this year, Otis said.

Aiding Otis at the beach this year are Robert Peckham, a teacher, and Sally Burdick, 16. Otis recalled that Miss Burdick was a "star pupil" in one of the first swimming classes, seven years ago.

Grand Haven Stores Adopt Friday Opening

Grand Haven (Special) — Most stores in Grand Haven will remain open Friday nights instead of Saturday, starting July 11, following action by a Store Hours committee.

A survey revealed most people prefer the Friday opening since many already do their grocery shopping at that time and would like to complete other shopping tasks at the same time.

The survey also brought out preference for the Saturday night closing since Saturday is mostly a pleasure evening in this resort center.

Robert Joiman was chairman of the committee, assisted by Paul Oltman, Jack Reichardt, Henry Koppel, Ray Warnock and James Wierenga.

Group Makes Final Plans for Reunion

Final plans for the annual reunion of Pine Creek school were made at a meeting Monday evening in Pine Creek school.

Officers met with school board members to arrange final details for the reunion which will be held Saturday, Aug. 2.

Present at the meeting last night were G. De Ruiter, Al Riemersma, Hine Vander Heuvel, Mrs. Jo Rusticus, Mrs. J. Jacobs and Mrs. A. Pommerening.

Equipment Returned

Everything is in order at the Little Netherlands Saturday with the missing figurines returned after being reported missing Friday morning. City police located two boys aged 9 and 13 who returned the missing equipment Friday afternoon.

Fire claimed 200 lives and caused property damage totaling $9,113,366 in Kentucky last year.

Coopersville Firm To Build New Plant

Coopersville — Air Control Products, Inc., of which Robert L. Leigh is president and general manager, has announced plans for a new factory building and general offices to be located on a 25-acre tract at the west end of Spring St., running south to the Grand Trunk railway.

The initial factory building will be 180 by 240 feet, and will be occupied by the Leigh Building Products division which currently is operating in three separate buildings.

The register division will continue to operate in which is now the main plant, but it is hoped that the new plant will be expanded in the future to accommodate this division.

A new office building with 10,000 square feet floor space will include research offices, a modern cafeteria and a recreational center for employees. The office building will be of modern ranch-type architecture with a large patio in the center.

The company located in Coopersville in 1941 and has shown phenomenal growth since that time. Its payroll amounts to about $850,000 a year.

The Coopersville Common Council and the Polkton township board have co-operated in plans for extending sanitary facilities and providing roads to the new location. The firm will drill its own well, thereby assuring its own water supply as well as being able to aid the village in case of emergency.

Zeeland Residents Get First Summer Tax Bills

Zeeland (Special) — Property owners in Zeeland this week are receiving the first July tax bills in the history of the city. They are for a four-month period and are payable July 1 to Aug. 1.

The change was brought about by the new city charter adopted last January.

City Treasurer Nick Tanis announced the fiscal year previously ended the last of February. According to the new charter, county and school taxes will continue to be collected from December to February, but city taxes will be collected in July. This change was made to ease the tax load in winter, when other expenses are necessarily heavier.

Boat Destroyed After Explosion

Grand Haven (Special) — A 26-foot launch named "Lake Louise" purchased only a few weeks ago by Mr. and Mrs. William Van Herwaarden of Grand Rapids, was totally destroyed by fire about 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The Van Herwardens were going for a ride and apparently flooded the carburetor, causing the engine to backfire and ignite. The couple used the boat fire extinguisher and thought they put out the fire.

But when Mrs. Van Herwaarden closed the hatch over the engine, it exploded in her face. She was taken to Municipal hospital and treated for first degree burns on her arms, face and legs.

The unanchored boat floated away from the dock, making it difficult for anybody to fight the fire. Finally, a few Spring Lake firemen got aboard, chopped a hole in the boat and sank it.

Van Herwaarden, a police officer in Grand Rapids for 31 years, valued the boat at $1,500. He said he had no insurance on it. The accident occurred near the Barrett boat works on Spring lake.

Rotarians Honor Leon Moody at Regular Meeting

Holland Rotary club members bid farewell to Leon Moody at their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday noon at the Castle. Moody, who is leaving Holland after serving on the Holland high faculty for the last 28 years, has been secretary of the local Rotary club for the last 18 years.

President Kenneth DeFree reviewed the many years that Moody has worked diligently for the Rotary club and added that in accepting the secretary's job year after year, Moody gave up all opportunity to become club president.

Setting aside precedent, DeFree appointed Moody acting president for the day. He was presented with a check and scroll signed by all club members.

Moody also was given the title "veteran member" which makes him eligible to participate in Rotary activities anywhere in the world. He also was appointed honorary president for life of the Holland club.

In summing up Moody's contributions, DeFree quoted from Henry Ward Beecher. He said that when a great and good man leaves a community, he leaves behind him so much of himself.

After visitors were introduced and the Moody presentations, Junior Wood, contributing editor to "Nation's Business" and a summer resident of Waukegan, discussed the coming political conventions in Chicago and mentioned several sidelihts on candidates, both Republican and Democratic.

Wood said he believes Sen. Robert A. Taft will be nominated on either the first or second ballot. When questioned about this statement, Wood said Taft may not have sufficient delegates for the early nomination, but he would probably pick up support as the roll call vote continues at convention time. He feels that state delegations will jump on the bandwagon and back Taft once the Ohio senator piles up an early lead in the nomination fight.

Wood told listeners of several suggestions that politicians have been making regarding length of terms for various elected officials. He suggested that "sanity tests" be administered periodically to all elected officials. If they pass the tests keep them in office. If not, replace them. In that way, Wood said, we could keep our best men in office.

To emphasize the close attention to detail of one possible candidate, Wood told this story:

During a televised tour of the remodeled White House, President Truman pointed out a Minerva clock and mentioned some of the historical detail about the timepiece.

After the telecast, Wood heard a story about the clock that occurred during President Grant's term of office.

It seems, Wood said, that Grant grew weary of the continuous stream of visitors attending a particular reception. To hurry the visitors off, Grant set the clock ahead one hour. The guests, looking at the clock, decided the hour was getting late and departed.

Wood said he sent that story to one of President Truman's secretaries who was a personal friend. In return Wood received a personal letter from Mr. Truman thanking him for the story, but stating he did not agree with all the historical information and was checking into it.

Then last Wednesday, Wood received a phone call at his Waukegan home from the White House. The caller, another of Truman's secretaries, was calling and said the President wanted to advise Wood that he was planning to discuss the Minerva clock at his weekly news conference.

Wood concluded that it was quite a lot of long distance calling and writing for just one item.

The Zeeland Kiwanis club carried out an interesting and helpful project when they added sports equipment to Zeeland parks. They recently acquired earnings from the circus which they sponsored early in June and these were used to purchase basketball backboards with rings and nets and also a pair of aluminum mesh tennis nets with standards.

The nets are rust and weather proof and will remain in position throughout the year. This new equipment was installed at the ends of a pair of shuffleboard courts at Lawrence Park for the benefit of children, thus providing ample room for outdoor basketball. The club has also improved city owned property on Peck St. for playground purposes by installing wire mesh for a new backstop. The club financed the moving of the plot for the benefit of young folks in the southeastern section of Zeeland.

Members of the club assisted in carrying out these projects, including Wally Van Asselt who worked on the Lawrence Park project and John Molter handled the Peck St. project. Cement for these projects was donated by Willard De Jonge and Don, Van den Heuvel and Bouwens Bros. donated contractor's equipment.

Allegan Ponders Lopping Towers Off Court House

Allegan (Special)—The Allegan Board of Supervisors adjourned Thursday afternoon subject to the call of the chairman after taking action that will probably provide county residents with conversation for the next six months.

Acting in a report from a Kalamazoo architect, the board authorized its building committee to obtain estimates on the cost of removing the tower, spires and minarets from the top of the court house, leaving a flat roof on a line just above the third floor ceiling. A pitch and gravel roof will then be installed.

Foreseeing some opposition to the removal of the tower for sentimental reasons, the board planned to put the project to a vote, either at the coming election or in April. While it would be possible to finance the project with funds on hand, the board indicated it wished to learn the people's attitude on the question. It will, however, go ahead on recommendations to remove unsafe portions of the tower and rampart wall before winter. Last winter large sections of the wall broke off.

The board approved transfer of $8,000 direct relief and $32,000 for social welfare during July, August and September, but commented sharply on the welfare board's recent order that all requests for conferences be made in writing. The supervisors of social welfare brought in a resolution stating it did not believe that questions should be limited by this restriction. The report was approved by the board, 18 to 13.

Park Township Firemen Answer Week-End Calls

Park township fire department No. 2 answered a pair of grass fire alarms during the week-end.

About 400 young pine trees on the property of John Wolrding on James St. were destroyed in a grass fire Friday at about 7 p.m. Firemen said the fire apparently started when some burning paper from an unattended garbage pit fire blew over into the grass.

At 6 p.m. Sunday, firemen answered a second grass fire call on Ransom, St., near the beach. Firemen said this blaze likely was caused by firecrackers thrown into the beach grass.

About 80 per cent of the population of the Virgin Islands is of Negro descent.

There's 50 years of chit-chat to catch up on for this family group. Antony Meeuwsen, center, arrived here recently to visit his sisters whom he hasn't seen since he was 18 years old. Left to right are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert De Hamer of

Dutch Farmer Reunited With Sisters in America

There's a lot of talking going on in the James Michielien home these days—and it's all in Dutch.

It started a week ago with the arrival of Antony Meeuwsen of Krabbendyk, province of Zeeland, the Netherlands. He came to visit his sister, Mrs. Michielien, whom he hadn't seen for 50 years.

And to complete the family circle, another sister, Mrs. Hubert De Hamer, came from Kenosha, Wis., for a visit too. The two women had left the Netherlands as brides in 1902. Now Mrs. Michielien is 74 and her sister 73.

Back in the Netherlands, 68-year-old Antony is a farmer. During the war the Germans overran the country and destroyed his farm, stealing much of the farm equipment. He was moved to the island of South Beveland by the Germans. After the Netherlands was liberated, he returned to Krabbendyk and resumed farming.

Theft of his bicycle was in some ways more of a loss than the damage to his farm. Use of bicycles for transportation is vital in the Netherlands. The Dutch visitor plans to remain here until Nov. 5.

BUYING SOMETHING?

When in the market for merchandise or services, you insist on knowing what you will get for your money.

When a candidate asks you to hire him for public office, the wise voter will inquire as to what the applicant thinks on vital issues. In addition, those who need the services of a Congressman in connection with veterans' or any other problems in Washington will satisfy themselves as to whether the candidate has the ability, the experience — the qualifications — to do the job they want done.

The job of a Congressman is complex. No one can satisfy all the voters all the time. So — Take a look at the overall picture. If you find — as you will when you look at our present Congressman — that he has acted for the best interests of the country, done what a majority of the people wanted done, SUPPORT him.

Sure, your Congressman, Clare E. Hoffman, has been "agin" a lot of things — the New Deal's waste, extravagance, corruption, its unnecessary war in Korea. But that means that he has been FOR efficiency, economy, honesty, peace.

Look at the whole situation. Your Congressman is sound in his views, able, sincere, consistent, courageous. He has experience.

Renominate him August 5 and re-elect him November 4.

Men Are Drowned During Week-End In Two Mishaps

Grand Haven (Special) — Stanley J. Siedlecki, 48, Muskegon Heights, was drowned in Grand river near the dock at the foot of Washington St. about 7:20 a.m. Sunday. The body was recovered 25 minutes later.

Siedlecki was one of three persons thrown into the river when a wave swept their 14-foot boat as Siedlecki sat on the side of the boat. The group had intended to fish near the pier but started back when the waves were too big in that area.

When city police arrived at the dock, Ed Karp, 35, Grand Haven, and Ed Elnick, Muskegon, were about 20 yards out in the river and Karp was pulling Elnick toward the dock. The empty boat which had not overturned was nearby.

The two men told officers they had warned Siedlecki not to sit on the side of the boat.

Five men of the Coast Guard headed by Ralph Knudson and three men from the Cutter Mackinaw headed by F. C. Reed assisted in recovering the body. Police men on the scene were Howard Vander Wall, Robert De Weese and Delbie De Gram.

A local physician was called and a resuscitator was used for a time. Coroner Joseph E. Kammeraad pronounced the man dead at 8:35 a.m.

The three fishermen had started out from Cottrell boat works near Spring Lake and Ferrysburg intending to fish at the pier. They were returning to Spring Lake when the upset occurred.

Siedlecki was employed as a forman at Continental Motors in Muskegon.

The body was taken to Kammeraad funeral home and later removed to the Balmirne funeral home in Muskegon.

Allegan (Special) — A Chicagoan fishing below Allegan Municipal dam was the county's first drowning victim this year.

Fred Clark, 47, was drowned in the fast waters which whirl around a sharp bend just below the dam at 10:35 p.m. Sunday. He had fallen from the river bank where he sat fishing with his wife, Alma, and a friend, Fred Fraggins, also of Chicago.

The body was recovered at 11:50 p.m. by conservation officers, Harry Plotts and Donald Forester.

The body was taken to the Ten Brink funeral home in Hamilton.

Mrs. Schrier announced that Miss Ruth Keppel will serve the club as historian.

Other board members present were Mrs. J. D. Jencks, chairman of ways and means; Mrs. H. Childress, chairman of the junior division; Mrs. J. J. Brower, publicity; Mrs. Jerena Rooks, horticulture; Mrs. F. Coleman, retiring president; and Mrs. Edgar Landwehr, Mrs. P. Fredrickson and Mrs. William Beebe.

Also present were officers elected along with Mrs. Schrier at the annual June luncheon meeting of the Garden club. They are Miss Lida Rogers, first vice president; Mrs. H. J. Marslie, second vice president; Mrs. E. P. Schneider, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stanton, recording secretary, and Miss Duffy, treasurer.

Members of the Tulip City Rod and Gun club have been spending Saturdays and every available minute at the Ten Hagen creek, located north of Holland in Port Sheldon township, erecting deflectors in the creek. Under the supervision of conservation officers, the members have been constructing various types of deflectors that divert the natural course of the creek. Action of the waters around the deflectors digs holes in the creek bottom which serve as resting places for trout. The creek will be open to all fishermen in the area. Conservation Officer Elmer Boerman, (second from right) points out a single-wing deflector to members of the club. Ten Hagen Creek Will Be Top-Notch Trout Stream

A group of avid Holland sportsmen aren't just sitting back and blaming the state conservation department for lack of game fish in a little Ottawa county stream—they're getting out and doing something about it.

The men, all members of the Tulip City Rod and Gun club, have selected Ten Hagen creek in Port Sheldon township, for their stream improvement project. They know the state conservation department has approved such work for streams throughout the state. But the state would take "forever and a day" to get at tiny Ten Hagen creek.

So the local men decided they'll have good trout fishing almost in their own back yards.

About 15 members of the Rod and Gun club showed up for the initial work detail Saturday, June 21. They staked some big railroad spikes down in the stream with steel and wire. These ties will serve as deflectors to change the current of the stream and help provide homes for trout.

The men say action of water digs holes around the ties and that's one place where trout hang out. They explained that many streams in this area, such as Ten Hagen, have sandy bottoms and are flat with no holes for trout.

Besides railroad ties, the men are using salvage materials such as fallen trees, logs and chunks of wood found in the area to protect banks and at the same time provide cover spots for trout.

Amazing thing about the entire project, according to Conservation Officer Elmer Boerman, is that they're doing the work gratis and furnishing their own materials. If they waited, it would cost the state conservation department several hundred dollars to do the same work.

And Dennis Muellerleile from the conservation department's fish division, did his part that first day. Although Saturdays are "off days" for fish division personnel, Muellerleile came to Ten Hagen "on his own hook" to show the fellows just how to start their project.

The sportsmen put in a full day's work June 21 and a few were out working on the project again last Saturday afternoon. There will be a lot more time spent on the improvement project before they're finished.

It was emphasized that the Rod and Gun club isn't doing the work for just themselves, but for all fishermen in the area. They already have obtained permission from property owners on the stream to "go ahead."

Boerman points out that it has been the department's policy in recent years to build up fish habitats rather than prostrate by dumping hatchery-reared game fish into streams.

Nickel Phone Calls Will Be History

An institution for nearly a half a century—the nickel telephone pay booth—was a thing of the past in the Holland area this week.

Manager A. G. Sall of the local Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said Saturday that the changeover took place Monday. This change affects approximately 125 pay stations in the Holland, Zeeland and Macatawa areas Sall said.

The changeover which involves revamping the coin chute in the pay station mechanism to take care of the new method of operation. Instruction cards informing people on how to operate the phones will be revised.

The new rate of 10 cents was authorized by the Michigan Public Service commission on June 5, following an investigation into the rising costs which the Michigan Bell Telephone company contended made the rate boost necessary. Gov. G. Mennen Williams backed the findings of the commission.
