"ONE-HORSE" COLLEGES.

Every college in the country is now congratulating itself upon being the center of intellectual life, and upon having sent forth the most honored sons of the Republic. Each institution of learning evidently believes that without its important aid the mental progress of the nation would have been checked, and a lower stage of culture attained. We need not remind some of these institutions of learning that the age by no means holds them in the high honor which once was given them. New professions have sprung up, new mental influences have begun, new positions are held, which have no relation to the academic training, formerly so much valued. In Great Britain, two men have died within a few months, who each led, one in the theoretic, and the other the practical, field—MILL, the great philosopher, and BRASSLEY, the celebrated railroad builder, both of whom owed nothing directly to university training. The present most eminent English thinker in abstract philosophy, SPENCER, is not, we believe, a graduate of any school of learning. WALLACE, the great naturalist, has had no advantage from college or university; and many others could be mentioned, who are leading its practical affairs, who have not been members of the learned schools.

There must be in a university professional schools as well as an academic department; a scientific school as well as a classical. Such an institution is like an old oak. It cannot be set out just as flourishing and stately as a landscape gardener would have it; it cannot be transplanted. It must grow through patient years before it can be what we see in our old institutions. The idea that a millionaire or a rich State can create a university at will, is as delusive as to believe that this wealthy City could create a Windsor or Phoenix Park merely by effort and outlay. Sometimes even immense wealth and time cannot found a genuine university as we may see in more directions than one. There are, in fact now but two universities in the country, Yale and Harvard, and they have only just begun to assume this broad character, though they were founded almost with New-England. Their growth has been like that of the elms which overshadow their halls. It has taken two centuries to give them their present stately form, and their old vigor. Learned men have struggled with poverty in them, and have transmitted names which will last as long as our history. Their youth have died for "liberty and country," and added an immortal wreath of patriotism to the many laurels of intellectual victories which crown their portals. Beneath their old doorways the feet of the learned and saintly have trodden for two centuries, until the very associations of the place are full of the highest impulses and noblest memories.

Such institutions cannot be built up in a night, like a Western railroad town. And a few of them are better than a thousand superficialities, ignorance, and clap-trap.—N. Y. Times.

FALL FROM A BALLOON.

Prof. La Mountain, the aeronaut, advertised to ascend in a balloon at Ionia on the 4th inst.; accordingly, he was on hand, and preparations were made under his direction for the ascension. A correspondent of the Detroit Tribune says:

"The canvas had something of a worn appearance, as if the worse for being filled with heated air too often. At the summit where the canvas was sewed together, a block some 10 or 12 inches in diameter was fastened, and through this six guy ropes were secured, hanging down over the sides of the balloon, being at the bulge of the balloon some 17 feet apart, and these were tied to the basket by the professor himself. There were no ropes running around the balloon horizontally to prevent the guy ropes from slipping, or to keep the whole thing from sliding out between the ropes with a gust of wind. At 3:55 p. m. the professor stepped into the basket, and the balloon took a shoot upward almost perpendicular, with the professor waving his hat to the crowd, all apparently enjoying the sight.

"In a moment more, however, the mouth of the balloon was seen to wave about, two or three times, then to pass between the ropes, careening over on the side, when the ropes broke out from their fastening at the top, and the fall commenced. La Mountain was noticed to be apparently making some effort to get the basket above him, and, if possible, to break the fall, but after the first struggle he fell so rapidly that nothing could be distinguished but the falling body, his hat coming after him about 100 feet or more behind, and the old canvas, nearly collapsed, floating down gradually.

"The body struck the ground half a dozen feet from the northwest corner of the jail building. It struck with such a terrible thud that it jarred the ground for 50 rods around, and made an indentation in the solid ground eight inches in depth. There was scarcely a bone in the whole body not broken into fragments. It was as limp as a rag. There were very few fractures of the skin except the right foot, the bone of the right leg being driven through the bottom of the foot. The body was laid out on a couch, a circle formed and all who wished to view the remains passed around.

"The professor is a brother of the celebrated aeronaut, who died two or three years ago. This one's name was Edward La Mountain. He is a jeweler by trade, and lived at Brooklyn, in this State. He had said just before he went up, that he wished to take the train for home as soon as possible after coming down, as his wife was very sick. He, himself, had not had his clothes off for ten days. There were from 10,000 to 12,000 people who witnessed the horrible tragedy, and it has been the theme of general conversation by everybody. It is singular to hear the various estimates of the heights he had attained, varying from 500 feet to half a mile. He was seen by people four miles from the city, at an angle of 35 degrees. The best estimates make the height from which he fell from 1,000 to 1,500 feet. Those who were on the hill back of the town, said the strangest sight was to witness the people swaying back and forward like a field of wheat moved by the wind. Looking at it from what we now know it looked like a piece of recklessness, almost suicidal, since one single rope around the balloon, 10 feet from the mouth of it would have averted the catastrophe."

A letter from Lieut. Governor Holt, dated Queenstown, Ireland, June 2d, informs his friends of his safe arrival in Europe, after a very fine passage across the Atlantic. He experienced none of the disagreeable sensations of sea sickness, and was able to take his rations at the usual and regular hours.

Hon. T. W. Ferry has our thanks for compendium reports of Ninth Census.

Common Council.

CITY OF HOLLAND July 8.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment, a full Board being present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Ald. Schaddelee, seconded by Ald. Dykema, that the rules be suspended—Carried, yeas, 5; nays, 2.

The committee on streets, roads and bridges, reported, recommending the acceptance of the work of covering 8th street, west of Cedar street with gravel, and that the Mayor and Clerk be instructed to settle with the contractors, and pay the balance of their account as soon as sufficient funds can be raised to do so.

Moved, seconded and carried, that the report of the committee on streets, roads and bridges be adopted.

A petition from G. J. Haverkate and others, was presented, asking that the sidewalk on the west side of Fish street be six feet wide.

The petition was granted, all voting yeas.

A petition from B. Ledebor and one hundred and ninety others, was presented, asking for a "special election under the new charter." The petition was read, and Dr. Ledebor addressed the Council in explanation of its object.

On motion of Ald. Hoogesteger, seconded by Ald. Duursema:

Resolved, That the petition of one hundred and ninety citizens of the city of Holland, for a special city election, be referred to a committee of three, to be appointed by the Common Council of said city of Holland; and, that said committee report at the next regular meeting of said Council.

YEAS—Alds. Schaddelee, Aling, Kamperman, Dykema, Duursema, Hoogesteger and Sipp.

NAYS—Ald. Kanter.

Carried, 7 yeas; 1 nay.

Alds. Hoogesteger, Schaddelee and Dykema, were appointed as a special committee to consider and report on the petition asking for a special election.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, the amounts of saloon licenses were reconsidered, and for reasons set forth by the respective parties, all licenses fixed heretofore at $75.00 were reduced to $50.00, payment to be made one-half down, and one-half in three months from the 1st of July 1873.

Carried, all voting yeas.

A communication was received from Mr. G. Van Schelven, declining to accept the appointment of School Inspector. The communication was accepted.

On motion of Ald. Aling, seconded by Ald. Dykema, J. E. Higgins was appointed School Inspector. All voted yeas except Ald. Kanter, who voted nay.

License of E. Kruisenga, as saloon keeper, was granted on payment of $50.00.

An ordinance was passed fixing the salaries of city officers as follows: City Marshal, $500.00; City Clerk, $300.00; City Treasurer, $100.00; City Collector, $200.00; City Attorney, $100.00; Chief of Fire Department, $25.00, for the fiscal year 1873.

Adjourned.

THE HAT SWINDLE.—The Chicago Tribune gives an account of a confidence game that is being practiced in that city at present. An old hat worth fifty cents is carefully done up in a box and taken to the residence of some gentleman whose name is on the directory, always at an hour when the gentleman is not at home. The messenger presents the hat to the lady of the house and says Mr. — has purchased a new hat and paid one dollar on it, giving orders to present the bill for the balance when the hat is sent up. The lady looks at the bill, pays it and the messenger departs with the money. The wrath of the gentleman on coming home and finding a beaver which would disgrace a third-rate pawn shop, can be imagined. The trick has been unusually successful. At one house where the messenger arrived with the hat, the lady surveyed the bill, but having no ready money to squander on plug hats for her husband, gave the man an order on the grocer for $1.50. The beaver took the order, changed it to $14.50, took it to the grocery store and had it cashed. There was some all profanity a day or two afterward.

THE FOURTH.

But little patriotism was expended in this city on the 4th inst. A general celebration was not held, and but little disposition was exhibited in the enjoyment of such festivities as were at hand. A few of our citizens visited the grove, near Lake Michigan, and enjoyed themselves in dancing and strolling in the shade.

The steamer Ira Chaffee, of Saugatuck, arrived here a little before noon, with a large delegation of citizens, who came out to see the sights and enjoy the lake breeze. The Chaffee made several trips to Lake Michigan, and a few of our folk availed themselves of the ride.

The usual amount of "poison" was imbibed, and its effects made visible to the "naked eye." Several whisky fights indicated that we were not behind our neighbors in civilizing influences.

hind our neighbors in civilizing influences.

One marked feature of the day was a burlesque by the "Horribles," which was commented upon favorably. In their disguise they succeeded admirably and in personifying they could not be mistaken. Many sharp hits were made which we hope will have their beneficial effects in the future.

Many of our people went to Grand Rapids, and some to other places, but the most of them remained at home pursuing the even tenor of their way under their own vine and fig tree, wishing that things were different, but making no efforts to change them.

CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLAND, July 8, 1873.

MY DEAR DOCTOR:—Will you please give the public some little information as regards the departure of trains as per time tables in our city papers?

FIRST. The date of the G. R. & I. R. R. time card is as follows: De Holland, April 13, 1873; De Grandet, December 16, 1872; News, April 13, 1873.

SECOND. Date of M. L. S. R. R. time card: De Holland, June 2, 1872; De Grandet, Dec. 16, 1872; News, April 28, 1873.

THIRD. Date of C. & M. L. S. R. R. and the G. R. & H. R. R. time cards: De Holland, Nov. 17, 1872; De Grandet, June 8, 1873; News, no date.

Now, as no two of these time cards agree, which is correct? or, are they one and all intended to mislead the public? A friend at my elbow suggests that they are all correct, and that our editors are each for himself endeavoring to follow the instructions of our city Council, and that while one is Chicago, another Cleveland, the third is our true city time. Surely, they are as much mixed as our School Boards.

THE STORM.

Its Effects upon the Crops in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, O., July 8.—The following accounts of damages to crops and buildings, and the estimated loss by recent rains have been received here. In Ohio, throughout Fayette county, oats, wheat, and corn have been seriously damaged. Loss estimated at $3,000 besides crops. In Troy, Miami county, the Troy wagon works lost 15 new wagons by the building being blown down. In Washington county crops were considerably beaten down and damaged. In Belmont county, several acres of timber were destroyed. For a mile around Belmont, nearly all the fences were blown down, admitting the stock into the grain fields. The wheat and corn is also flattened out. In Morrow county, in vicinity of Cardington, the storm leveled the fences and timber in all directions. Many valuable orchards were ruined. The loss in Franklin County is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. Bottom lands were covered with water, destroying the crops. Part of the town of Winchester is under water, compelling some firms to stop business.

In the southern portion of Licking county crops of all kinds are badly damaged. Of the Newark, Somerset & Strasville Railroad track, 25 miles was washed out and several bridges destroyed. In Clinton county grain in shocks and that standing in fields was alike prostrated, making it necessary to cut a great portion of it by hand. In the southern portion of Green county, wheat suffered an estimated loss of 15 to 20 per cent; in other portions the loss is considerably lighter. The weather is still showery, and unless it clears up soon, the wheat crop, which is dead ripe, will be greatly injured. In Muskingum county, Zanesville, Washington, Perry, Wayne and Knox townships suffered the most damage to growing crops—not less than $10,000, besides a heavy loss in timber. The trains on the Muskingum Valley Railroad expect to resume trips to-day. In the northern part of Butler county, crops were badly damaged, and a large amount of timber was also blown down. In Union county wheat is badly damaged, especially along the creeks where whole fields were destroyed. In Pickaway county the crops destroyed and washed away will approximate to $125,000. At Nelsonville the Hocking River overflowed and inundated a part of the town. The crops in bottom lands are a total loss. The damage to crops is estimated at $10,000. The Marietta & Cincinnati railroad track was covered with water to deep to allow the passage of trains. In Fairfield county the loss to public and private property is estimated above half a million, many low farms being swept of everything but buildings. The Hocking canal will not be repaired this summer, having 15 large breaks in it within 25 miles. Bremen is six feet under water on the morning of the Fourth, and four bridges on the Cincinnati and Muskingum, and the Cincinnati and Hocking Valley Railroads were wrecked. The Hocking canal and river were made one stream by numerous breaks.

In the south-eastern part of Indiana, severe loss is also reported. In Union county crops are damaged 10 or 15 per cent. Ripley county wheat suffered badly. Decatur county wheat will yield but one-fourth crop. Shelby county two-thirds, the wheat sprouting very fast. In Dearborn county the loss to crops will be far up in the thousands. Fayette county corn will yield a three-fourth crop.—De Tribune.

Liquor Law.—A warrant was issued by Justice Post, July 4th, against Frank Taylor, for selling liquor contrary to law. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25.00 and costs.

Peter S. Bergen, of New Jersey, will deliver a lecture to-morrow evening at the M. E. Church, in this city, at 7 1/2 o'clock; subject, Temperance. Go and hear him and enjoy a great treat. He has spoken in all the Western States.

The "Band" excursion on the Fourth of July, proved a very pleasant affair. Those who availed themselves of taking a trip on the Evelyn, speak in high terms of the efforts made to entertain them, both on the trip and at the grove.

A new enterprise has sprung up in our midst, and one we have long felt the necessity for. Mr. Whitmore has opened a shop corner of Eighth and Cedar streets, for the manufacture of grave stones and monuments. He is a good workman and will succeed.

Mr. Jacob Fielemann desires us to say that he will take $2,000 stock and donate six acres of land to the Iron Company, in addition to his former subscription, providing the furnace shall be located on his forty acres near the Junction of the Grand Rapids & Holland R. R. with the C. & M. L. S. R. R.

The favorite little steamer Fanny Shriver, which was sold to parties in Ludington a few weeks since, has returned to our lake, where she will be employed during the season. She has been thoroughly refitted, and is ready to accommodate private parties with excursions at short notice. See advertisement in another column.

We learn that George Murdock, of Ventura, got a little too much benzine mixed with his Fourth of July, and on reaching home, made up his mind that his family was not what he wanted, and commenced maltreating his daughter, who immediately got away from him, when he commenced pounding his wife, threatening to kill her, bruising her in a shameful manner. Interference put a stop to the proceedings.

The great show of Adam Forepaugh has come and gone, and the people are satisfied that it is a "big thing on wheels," although he does not show all the rare animals failed to put in an appearance. But notwithstanding the deficiencies, it was well worth seeing. One noble feature of Forepaugh's show, is that his attaches were all gentlemen, with no drunkenness to mar the pleasure of sight seeing, and no gamblers to fleece the unwary.

Lost.—On the 4th inst., John Nies, of Saugatuck, visited this city, and while here lost his pocket-book, containing one thousand dollars. John was in trouble; he was sure it had been stolen by some of the light fingered gentry. On the evening of the same day two boys saw something in the street and picked it up; it proved to be the stolen pocket-book with the money in it. John at once relieved our city of the imputation of thieving, and did a "good thing" for the boys. We have received a note from Mr. Nies, who desires to thank the young men for their honesty, and gives us their names as Albert Manting, son of Dr. Manting, and Jacob Verlu, son of P. Verlu. Young men of that stamp are bound to succeed, and will become an honor to community.

Our correspondent H— wants information relative to the departure of trains as published in the city papers. We have taken pains to collect timetables as often as received, and if not correct it is the fault of those who should notify us of change. We think, however, if our friend will compare notes, he will find our table for C. & M. L. S. R. R. to be correct, as now running, even if it has no date; as also the table for G. R. & H. R. R. For all roads we correct as often as we receive copy.

PLEASURE EXCURSIONS.

ON Black Lake & Lake Michigan

We wish to inform our citizens and the public generally, that the steamer Fanny Shriver, of Holland, can be chartered any day or eve during the summer season of 1873, to run excursions on Black Lake and Lake Michigan, for the small sum of FIVE DOLLARS. We put the price down to the lowest figure, so that any one family, can afford to take pleasure trips during the hot, sultry summer season, and enjoy the cool and refreshing air of Lake Michigan. We wish to have it fully understood that on trips when the boat is chartered, no person will be allowed to go, only those parties that chartered the boat.

STATE OF MICHIGAN:
The Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa—in Chancery.

Henry D. Post, Complainant, vs. Jan Aling, Mary Aling, Daniel Beert, Tryntje Beert, Willem Arendse, Hermanus Gezon, John Roost, Michael P. Visser, and Heltje De Jonge, Guardian of the heirs of the estate of A. Plugger, deceased, Defendants.

In pursuance and by virtue of a decree of said Circuit Court, in Chancery, made in the above entitled cause, on the fifteenth day of February, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-three, Notice is hereby given, that, on the sixth day of August next, (1873) at one o'clock in the afternoon, I will sell, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Grand Haven, in said County of Ottawa, all that place or parcel of land, situated in the County of Ottawa and State of Michigan, known and described as Lot numbered one, (1) in Block numbered sixteen, (16) in the village (now city) of Holland, according to the recorded map of said village, in the office of the Register of Deeds, of Ottawa County, Michigan.

R. W. DUNCAN, Complainant's Solicitor.
Dated—June 9, 1873. 17-23

Twelve Good Reasons Why I Should Trust.

1. The pleasure of purchasing and opening a set of books.
2. The employment of a book-keeper at a high salary.
3. The employment of one or two men to collect your accounts.
4. When called upon to pay some demand—it is convenient to have a good number of accounts on your books.
5. The pleasure of sending in your bills through the post-office, and seeing nearly one-half your bill paid for postage, returned to settle some account.
6. To hire persons to make collections, and have the greater part of the bills returned unpaid, bringing you in debt to the collector.
7. Trusting parties who have always been your customers, and have the pleasure of seeing them go around one or two blocks to shun your place of business, and take their cash to a rival establishment.
8. To wait a year or two, send in your account, and see the party get up and curse and swear—that if you don't trust them, you will never get your pay, and they will be cursed if they ever patronize you again.
9. The pleasure of having parties leave town, forgetting to settle that little account on your books.
10. Being compelled to take legal measures to collect your just dues, and thereby make friends with all the relations, friends and acquaintances of the party.
11. The knowledge that you must add all the bad debts in as expenses, and charge all your customers an additional price to cover, is very annoying.
12. The pleasure of making any number of enemies (if you ever ask for your own), who will be sure to run down your store and all connected with it.

NOTICE.

For the above twelve good reasons, I hereby give notice, that on and after this date, all goods sold at the Cerrado Store, will be for CASH, or its equivalent; and shall give my customers the advantage of an immediate stock of goods, and a cash trade.

Now I Mean Business.

I have on my books, accounts ranging from twenty five cents to hundreds of dollars, and I want all who read this notice (if in my debt), to call at once and pay. I must have the money, and I will let you settle without costs, but if it is your wish that I shall add interest and costs I will do so. Remember this. I intend to have my pay and close my books, and have what is my just due.
