Just for Style.

Don't imagine glasses can be worn for style. A glass which possesses a focus when it does not correct a defect, invariably causes one.

Another popular error is that a person should put off wearing glasses as long as possible. It does not matter what your age is, if you feel that your eyes are not giving you the proper service, have them attended to at once by a competent optician.

They will be reinforced by 300 more

Superintendent F. D. Haddock has submitted to the Board of Education his annual report for the year 1900-1901. It shows that 1,398 pupils entered school during the year. This en-previous year, was divided as follows:

High School department, 167; Grammar dept, 621; Primary dept, 911;
Sub. Primary dept, 199; Total 1,898.
Five years ago the enrollment was 1, 752. Then 30 per cent were in the grammar and high school departments, where 40 per cent are now to be found. Regarding attendance and punctuality, the figures are gratifying.
Ninety three and three-tenths represents the percentage of attendance a record unequalled but once during the past decade. There has been a decrease in the cases of tardiness from 762 last year to 466 this year.

Alphonso Van Zee, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Zee, sparks being blown into a scratched finger, which, after a few days, fea-tered rendering amputation necessary, but the malady had by that time spread too far to prevent lockjaw, and the inevitable symptoms-closed shut jaws and head thrown back-forecasted

the probable result.

FRIDAY, July 12.

Lake and Marine.

Len H. Adams, of Pentwater, has been appointed a surman in the White River lifesaving station.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Port Sheldon.

J. Oleman raised a new barn Wednesday and J. Estell will raise one soon. He has a new granery and is busy finishing his house. Mr. Davis has his house painted and also C. Miles. John Ten Hagen has his brick house nearly finished. It is the best on the road.

Talk about our poor country. The improvements and the new machinery the farmers have got so far this year goes to show that they must be making something and are finding out that it don't pay to have old buildings and old tools. Our roads are our greatest drawback but they are all finding out that we must get at them sooner or later and try and get a good road to our booming City of Holland.

J. McEachren the cor. of the Chicago Post passed through here last Thursday looking up items.

We were glad to see that our Pentwater cor. is yet among the living.

Ray Nies of Holland, and a lady friend was here Sunday and called on our justice, but we understand, not for the purpose of getting spliced.

From the West Olive correspondent a short time ago we noticed the announcement that Miss K. Connell and Miss L. Peterson had gone to the exposition. So upon their return we were much pleased to meet them and learn that they really had an enjoyable time.

Fred Hibbert and sister, Miss Emily Hibbert, of Chicago are the guests of Chris Cook.

While Abe Kline was pitching hay for Chris Cook he killed a rattlesnake, first of the season.

West Olive.

The correspondent did not send in his news last week on account of the Fourth but he has scratched up the principal parts for this week.

Harvesting has begun but the work ought to be easier as most farmers use the binder.

Then Schilling's family came back two weeks ago from Milwaukee to spend the summer.

Mrs. A. S. Baker, who has been on the sick list is improving.

Mrs. F. H. Marble, mother to the correspondent, was in Grand Haven Thursday.

Abe Boyer, Sr., completed Joe Weiser's granery and then Joe bought a Champion blinder.

Fred Myers, C. Schultz and John Olman and wife were in Holland Monday.

J. Leland's dulcimar, Joe Peck's violin and C. McKinley's guitar make a fine orchestra for this place.

Messrs. Timmer and Trimpe two of our honest Dutch farmers across the river are each building a new barn.

Dewitt Steinburg has removed to Fennville with his family.

J. B. Estelle will probably have one of the finest residences around here before next winter. If he keeps on West Olive and Port Sheldon will soon be connected.

Over 100 people attended the Sunday school picnic on the Fourth and a few went to Agnew while some staid at home.

Arthur Bacon of Biteley, Newaygo county spent the Fourth with John Peck.

People around here should do all in their power to promote good roads, while they have the time. The correspondent wishes to help them as much as possible.

Frank Robinson, of Holland visited with L. Garnett last week.

Ben Van Baalte made a business trip through here Wednesday of last week.

Next Sunday Rev. Rork will preach on the Sabbath. Will he give any reference?

Chas. Ebel, Jr., spent the Fourth in Muskegon. He saw Prof Maxwell fall 400 feet from his balloon, and instantly killed.

Baptism service by the Pigeon river, brought out nearly the whole town and neighborhood last Sunday. Twelve were baptized by Rev. Cilley.

We now understand that the Connel farm at Port Sheldon has been sold again. Philip Maas of Chicago has bought it from E. H. Baker for $14,000. There seems to be money in that farm.

C. McKinley has now got a barber shop added to his combination. We should patronize him enough to make that business profitable.

Chas. Cole, A. R. Wabble and John Peck have each bought a Champion blinder.

"Granny" Norton aged 83 years and the oldest resident of this village is still a very good worker. She can get dinner better than many younger women "sweet sixteen" included.

Fred Peck was in Grand Haven Monday.

Miss F. Wartman arrived Monday from Chicago for a visit with her father, D. G. Wartman and sister, Elberta.

John Olman another industrious farmer living near Port Sheldon is also building a large barn.

Ed. Maynard's stone foundation under his house was completed by A. Boyer this week.

M. A. Taylor is at present canvassing as fruit tree agent for Greening Bros., Nursery.

Arthur Boyer and family of Detroit are visiting at Abe Boyer's. They arrived Tuesday and expect to remain for some time.

Wm. Marble, Esq., was elected director at the school meeting Monday.

day to succeed "Doc" Norton who has retired, probably on account of old age.

Lewis King and wife of Chicago, are spending three weeks vacation with our colored man, Nelson Cooper.

Hamilton.

A ball game will be played in this village on Friday. Overisel is coming here this time.

Earl Gillies has gone to Waverly to work.

John Lilly is moving into his new house.

The new photograph gallery is now ready for business.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Charles Hutton, Ber-ville, Mich.

She Didn't Wear a Mask.

But her beauty was completely hidden by sores, blotches and pimples till she used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Then they vanished as will all Eruptions, Fever Sores, Boils, Ulcers, Carbuncles and Felons from its use. Infallible for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Scalds and Piles. Cure guaranteed. 25 cents at Heber Walsh.

A household necessity. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

It Baffles the World.

No Discovery in medicine has ever created one quarter of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It's severest tests have been on hopeless victims of Consumption, Pneumonia, Hemorrhage, Pleurisy and Bronchitis, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Hay Fever, Hoarse-ness and whooping Cough it is the quickest, surest cure in the world. It is sold by Heber Walsh, who guarantees satisfaction or refund money. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Endorsed by Clergymen.

Gentlemen: some personal experience enables me to heartily recommend the use of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment. For external application in cases of sprains and bruises it is unquestionably excellent. It takes hold and gives relief. This is not a guess, but a word of testimony.

EDWARD HAWES, D. D. Dr. Hawes was for many years pastor of the First Church, Burlington, Vt. His testimony is the testimony of all who use the Arnica and Oil Liniment. It never fails to give satisfaction. Sold by all druggists at 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

A Terrible Explosion.

"Of a gasolinstove burned a lady here frightfully," writes N. E. Palmer of Kirkman, Ia. "The best doctors couldn't heal the running sore that followed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve entirely cured her." Infallible for Cuts, Corns, Sores, Boils, Bruises, Skin Diseases and Piles. 25 cents at Heber Walsh, druggist.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50 cents. Sold by Heber Walsh, druggist.

Ask your grocer about Cremola.

If young ladies think sores, pimples and red noses look well with a bridal veil and orange blossoms, it's all right. Yet Rocky Mountain Tea would drive them away. 35 cents at Haan Bros.

ASKS FREE TRADE.

Porto Rican Assembly Adopts a Resolution Formally Requesting the End of the Present Tariff.

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 5.—The first general celebration of the Fourth of July in Porto Rico was made notable by the passage and signing of the free trade resolution, the important step in ending for all time the tariff between the United States and its colony. It is asked that the present system be ended on July 25, the anniversary of the coming of the American flag.

The joint session of the assembly lasted three hours, and the action on the free trade resolution was unanimous. The assembly hall was crowded, and cheers greeted the announcement that Gov. Allen had signed the resolution.

Only Thirty and Gray

How is this? Perhaps sleepless nights caused it, or grief, or sickness, or perhaps it was care. No matter what the cause, you cannot wish to look old at thirty.

Gray hair is starved hair. The hair bulbs have been deprived of proper food or proper nerve force.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Increases the circulation in the scalp, gives more power to the nerves, supplies missing elements to the hair bulbs.

Used according to directions, gray hair begins to show color in a few days. Soon it has all the softness and richness of youth and the color of early life returns. Would you like our book on the Hair? We will gladly send it to you.

TURKEY PAYS THE BILL.

United States Succeeds in Collecting the Indemnity Demanded of the Sultan.

AMOUNT OF SETTLEMENT IS $95,000.

This is Something Less Than Original Demands But It Is Usual in Such Cases to Reduce the Amount—Uncle Sam to Distribute Money to Claimants.

Washington, July 10.—The state department has received the amount of the American indemnity claim against Turkey, $95,000, through the American legation at Constantinople.

The money was paid by the Turkish government to Mr. Leishman, our minister at Constantinople; was by him placed in the Ottoman Imperial bank and drafts remitted for the amount. These drafts have just reached Washington. As is always the case, the claims in the aggregate considerably exceed the amount of the indemnity actually paid, but our government has expressed itself satisfied with the payment. It assumes full responsibility for the distribution, the Turkish government paying down a lump sum of $95,000 and leaving it to the state department to distribute this among the claimants at its discretion and after its own fashion. It is stated that as soon as the department officials can prepare their lists they will communicate directly with the claimants.

Ends Negotiations for Present.

Washington, July 10.—With the reply of Secretary Gage, pointing out the impossibility of accepting Russia's proposition on the tariff controversy pending a decision by the court, it is expected that there will be no further active negotiations on this question until the United States court renders its decision in November, and Russian officials in Washington who have deferred their departure pending negotiations left Wednesday for Narragansett, where the embassy will be established for the summer months, M. de Wollant being in charge. Mr. Gage's answer has been transmitted to St. Petersburg.

Discuss Elementary Education.

Detroit, Mich., July 11.—"Elementary Education" was the general topic discussed under various heads by the National Educational association on Wednesday morning. There were more than 2,500 teachers in the Light Guard armory when Bishop Foley, of Detroit, arose to open the session with a prayer. President Green then introduced F. Louis Soldan, superintendent of city schools, St. Louis, as the first speaker. His paper was on "What Is a Fad?"

Town Swept Away.

St. Louis, July 10.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Austin, Tex., says: A telegram received here by Webster Flanagan, collector of internal revenue, from F. V. Gentry, agent of the American Brewing association, states that the town of Port La Vaca, Calhoun county, was swept away Tuesday night by a storm. Nearly all the houses were blown away and a large number of boats wrecked. No lives are reported lost. Port La Vaca is on the Gulf of Mexico, on Lavaca bay.

Cloudburst Washes Away Town.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—A Helena (Mont.) special to the Dispatch says: A deluge of rain amounting to a cloudburst washed away nearly the entire town of Corbin, 20 miles south of Helena, and the Big Peck concentrator there at night, according to the messages received in Helena. So far as is known there was no loss of life, but the damage to wires renders details unobtainable.

YOUNGERS PAROLED.

Pardon Board After Long Deliberation Acts Favorably Upon the Applications.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—The state pardon board at noon Wednesday approved the parole of Coleman and James Younger, who have been in the Stillwater penitentiary for the past 25 years for complicity in the robbery and murder at the time of the raid on the Northfield (Minn.) bank.

The friends of the Youngers have never ceased their work on behalf of these well-known characters, and for over 20 years have used all possible means to secure their legal release from prison. Each succeeding governor was requested repeatedly to grant a full pardon, but the opposition to such an action was so strong and active that denials always met them.

The new law provides that the state prison board may parole life prisoners who have served 35 years, less good time allowance, which makes about 24 years actual time served, but it is necessary to secure the approval of the pardon board to such parole and the prisoners so paroled may not leave the state. The prison board several weeks ago took the first step towards paroling the Youngers and Wednesday's action by the prison board is the necessary step to give them liberty. The two men are Military Administration of the Philippines Ends and Civic Comes Into Power.

JUDGE TAFT INSTALLED AS GOVERNOR.

Creates Executive Departments and Names Commissioners—Message from the President Cheered—Gen. Arthur Transfers Military Authority and Leaves for Home.

Manila, July 4, 10 a. m.—Gov. William H. Taft was inaugurated here today as the first civil governor of the Philippines under the dominion of the United States. In his inaugural address Gov. Taft said he would create four executive departments, as follows:

Interior, under Commissioner Worcester. Commerce and police, under Commissioner Wright. Justice and finance, under Commissioner Lee. Public instruction, under Commissioner Moses.

Gov. Taft also announced that in September he would add to the Philippine commission Senors Prado Tavoro, Bonito Legorda and Jose Lu-gariaga.

Gov. Taft, in his address, said that the civil administration will begin with a treasury surplus of $4,000,000 in gold.

I extend to you my full confidence and best wishes for still greater success in the larger responsibilities now devolved upon you, and the assurance not only for myself but for my countrymen of good will for the people of the islands, and the hope that their participation in the government which it is our purpose to develop among them may lead to their highest advancement, happiness and prosperity.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

Slits of Flags.

The streets of Manila are covered for miles with flags, bunting and pictures of President McKinley, Gen. MacArthur, Civil Gov. Taft, Admiral Dewey and Gen. Otis. The demonstration is apparently a spontaneous one on the part of the citizens of all nationalities here, and is due to the popular respect entertained for Gov. Taft, who possesses the people's confidence, and the able and satisfactory administration of Gen. MacArthur, who retires with the strongest commercial, political and social endorsements. Everybody says that things have been well done in the past and that the future is well begun.

Departure of MacArthur.

The transfer of the military authority to Gen. Chaffee was carried out in the presence of the generals, in Gen. MacArthur's office. There was no formality. Gen. MacArthur presented the new commander to the generals and remarked: "I bequeath to you all my troubles."

All the high civil and army officers accompanied Gen. MacArthur to the river front, where he formally embarked with his staff on the transport Meade. Gov. Taft and Gen. Chaffee then returned to the palace and received the public.

The New Hope Church.

SERVICES AND ORGAN RECITAL.

The untiring efforts of the determined band of men and women that has been active in the work of arranging for the erection of the new Hope church have been rewarded by the highest measure of success. The new structure is completed and will ever be a monument to their zeal and persistence. And a grander monument could not be given them, for the new Hope church, if it follows the pathway blazed by the old, will be one of the most important factors in spreading the fruits, the benefits of religious inspiration throughout the west.

Never did people labor more faithfully than the members of the committees having in charge the different departments of the work. The building committee followed to a great extent plans laid down by Dr. J. W. Beardslee, who is now traveling in Europe, and a magnificent edifice is the result.

The exterior is severely plain and chaste in outline but is imposing. The interior is a marvel of good taste and beauty of design. Artistic simplicity is aimed at throughout. The walls and ceiling are finished in terra cotta touched here and there with a line of blue. The floors are covered with a green carpet. The windows of frosted glass admit the softened rays of the sun in the day time and at night electric lights set off the interior to good advantage. In appointments, beauty of design and purity of architectural tone the interior cannot be excelled and resembles a fairy palace. The whole is set off to excellent advantage by a handsome pipe organ, one of Kimball's best creations. The pipes are ornamented with pink and green trimmed in gilt and gold, and harmonizes with the simple but rich shades on the walls and ceiling.

The church was formally opened and the first services held last Sunday morning and evening. Large crowds thronged the auditorium at both services which were conducted by Rev. J. T. Bergen.

During the morning services Rev. Bergen took occasion to pay tribute to all who had taken part in the burdensome duties connected with the building of the church and the equipping of the interior. He referred to Dr. Beardslee's untiring efforts in planning for the new structure, and his effective work as chairman of the building committee, despite his ill health.

Prof. Bergen praised the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, of which Mrs. O. E. Yates is president, for the bravery they exhibited in assuming the responsibility of raising $2,400 for the pipe organ. He extolled the ladies of the church for providing the carpets a feature which seemed hopeless of acquirement at first, but led by Mesdames McLean, Browning and King, the ladies had raised more than enough to purchase the carpet, and the male members of the congregation were advised to recognize the financiering ability of the ladies in the future.

The music committee which had in charge the purchasing of the organ, was composed of Mrs. Yates, chairman, Mrs. Diekema, Prof. Veghte, J. J. Cappon, and Dr. A. C. V. R. Gilmore. They were warmly praised for their success in carrying out this important assignment.

Miss Hannah Te Roller acted as organist during Sunday services and brought out with good effect the sweet, pure notes of that magnificent instrument.

An organ recital was given Tuesday evening to test the tone and quality of the new organ and show to the congregation and the public its wonderful power and musical expression. It was given by Herbert Foster Sprague, of Westminster Presbyterian church, Grand Rapids, assisted by the Hope church choir under the direction of Dr. A. C. V. R. Gilmore. A large audience was present and never were the listeners treated to a grander or sweeter feast of music and song.

The first number on the program was a "Sonata in G Major" by Rheinberger. The first part, the Pastorale, was a seemingly confused medley of sweet sounds apparently incoherent but rich and true to the musical ear. Then came the "Intermezzo," sharp, full, rounded and pure, and lastly the "Fugue" with a dainty warbling cadence. It was a remarkable exhibition of the organist's skill and the possibilities of the instrument, and caused the hearers to fairly gasp with feeling.

This was followed by a selection from "Stabat Mater" by Rossini, "Inflammatus" by the chorus. Miss Grace Yates gave the solo parts with more than her usual power and sweetness. She never sang better and the chorus was not a whit behind in its grand support. Never was the selection better rendered and the work of the choir awakened astonishment even in those who had heard it many times before but never to such good advantage as Tuesday night.

Mr. Sprague then rendered the following:

a "Grand Offertoire in D Minor" Ballette.
b "Berceuse," Gounod.
c "Meditation," Lemare.

The first was rich and pure, the third was suggestive of the title and the tones reached every shade of feeling and every phase of musical thought. The second was very beautiful. Take the word as it appears, "Berceuse," with its musical blending of consonants and vowels all smooth and free in their entirety, then imagine soft and pure, touching and lofty strains of music set to the letters of that word and you have an idea of the harmonious substance brought out of the ethereal by Mr. Sprague's masterly touch. It was exquisite.

Every selection played Tuesday evening was a part in the great whole that went to show the power, well nigh limitless, of the pipe organ as a medium musical inspiration.

The evening's program was ended by the cantata "The Peace of Jerusalem" by the chorus led by Dr. Gilmore and the "March of a church Festival" by the organist. The cantata was up to the previous high standard of the choruses and the solo parts were ably rendered by Miss Grace Yates, Miss Kate Pfanstiehl, Messrs. Martin Dykema, Fred Browning and Dr. Gilmore.

formed church was appointed acting principal. Instruction was accordingly begun Nov. 13, 1901. On the day of opening 17 pupils were enrolled. This number was afterwards increased to 27.

Rev. J. J. Van Zanten, pastor of the church, and Miss Cornelia Walvoord, graduate of the Oskosh Normal School taught during the year. June 20 and 21 1901 examinations, both written and oral were held and the instruction brought to a close. Six had successfully pursued studies belonging to the first year High School grade. All made commendable progress in the elementary branches. Nine succeeded in getting diplomas from the County Superintendent during the year which diploma entitles them to High School grade. Prospects bid fair for two, possibly three good sized classes in the fall.

May 31, 1901, it was resolved to build the Academy at Cedar Grove, June 13th ground was broken, June 29th, 1901, the cornerstone was laid.

EGBERT WINTER, APPOINTED INSTRUCTOR.

It is gratifying to note that when the Academy opens next fall one of Holland's well known young men will be connected with it as one of the faculty. Egbert Winter has received notice of his appointment as one of the instructors. Mr. Winter is one of the brightest and most able of Holland's young men. He was graduated from Hope College in June and is a graduate of the Holland High School. He received the following letter this week notifying him of his appointment:

Oostburg, Wis., July 9, 1901—My quietude. The executive committee has secured an extremely low rate, viz: one cent a mile to Ottawa Beach and Macatawa Park from all points within the territory mentioned.

President Bannings states that the object of this huge gathering is to bring the various church societies into closer union, as these organizations are all working for the same object. The executive committee is planning to make arrangements so that all of the members of the different societies will reach Ottawa Beach at 10 o'clock in the morning. The picnickers will partake of dinner at 12 o'clock. The auditorium has been engaged at Macatawa Park by the executive committee and at 2 o'clock a program of addresses and music will be given. President John Bannings will preside at this meeting, and speakers of state and national reputation will be present to take part in the program. A telegram has been sent to the secretary of the national organization of the Christian Endeavorers and a favorable response is expected. Professor J. T. Bergen of Hope College, has been secured to deliver an address intended especially for the Junior Christian Endeavorers.

At the conclusion of the program a boat ride on Lake Michigan aboard the Pere Marquette steamers has been also arranged. The trip on the lake will last two hours.

The closing feature of the day will be a sacred concert to be held in the auditorium at Macatawa Park in the evening and in which some of the best singing talent will participate.

Gentlemen: some personal experience enables me to heartily recommend the use of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment. For external application in cases of sprains and bruises it is unquestionably excellent. It takes hold and gives relief. This is not a guess, but a word of testimony.

Dr. Hawes was for many years pastor of the First Church, Burlington, Vt. His testimony is the testimony of all who use the Arnica and Oil Liniment. It never fails to give satisfaction. Sold by all druggists at 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50 cents. Sold by Heber Walsh, druggist.

Historical Account of Cedar Grove, Wis., Academy.

The Sheboygan Herald has the following account of the founding of the Academy at Cedar Grove, Wis.:

"The plan of establishing an academy in Eastern Wisconsin was first suggested by Dr. G. J. Kollen, L. L. D., president of Hope College, Holland, Mich. His first mention of it was at the April session of Hope College council in the year of our Lord 1900. Being favorably received the matter was further brought to the notice of Particular Synod in May following.

"We ball" so Synod resolved, "the tendency at present manifested of still further increasing the establishment of educational institutions in various localities of this great Northwest, where God has so signally opened a field for the work and extension of our Reformed church.

We hope and pray that the present movement to increase such academic christian higher education in different localities of our church may meet with the approval of our people, and that each success attained may become a means of upbuilding and extending God's church in this great western part of our country.

General Synod in June of the same year took similar action cordially recommending the establishment of academies.

In August 1900 President Kollen visited the Wisconsin colonies. Under his leadership a conference of 4 pastors and 20 consistory members was held at Gibbsville Aug. 13, 1900. After due deliberation a consensus of views and sentiment was reached, namely, to put forth efforts looking to the establishment of an Academy in Eastern Wisconsin believing that the indications of Providence lay in that direction.

Class at its fall session further encouraged the enterprise by favorable action.

A temporary Board of Trustees was meanwhile elected. Membership as follows: Rev. S. Van der Werf, Rev. J. Sietsema, Rev. F. J. Zwemer, Messrs. John Abbinck, John Wessellink, G. Lammers and P. Verhulst.

Nov. 6, 1900 it was unanimously resolved to begin academic instruction in chapel of Cedar Grove Reformed church which building had been gratuitously tendered for the purpose by the congregation. Rev. J. J. Van Zanten, pastor of the Cedar Grove Re-

Dear Sir:—Yesterday the temporary board of trustees of Providence Memorial Academy of Cedar Grove, Wis., considered your application and decided to offer you a position as instructor.

Rev. J. J. Van Zanten who is at present visiting at Holland, Mich., can fully inform you as to requirements and qualifications.

An early acceptance or refusal is desired.

Yours Truly,
REV. JOHN SIETSEMA, Sec.

Grand Christian Endeavor Picnic.

The Fourth District Christian Endeavor Society, composed of ninety-seven societies in the counties of Kent, Allegan, Ottawa and Montcalm is making active preparations for a monster picnic to be given August 1 at Macatawa Park and Ottawa Beach. The magnitude of the affair will be more fully realized when it is stated that no less than 10,000 persons are expected to take part.

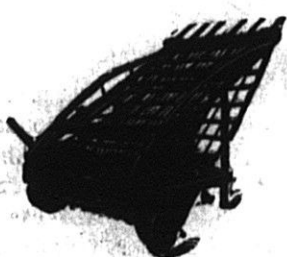

The Third and the Fifth Districts Christian Endeavor Societies have also been invited to take part, and will participate in the big event. Invitations have also been extended to church organizations outside of the Christian Endeavor societies. Those invited are the Baptist Young Peoples' Union and the Epworth League Societies in each of the districts mentioned, so that the indications point to a certain realization of the projectors as to attendance. The territory from which all of these church workers will come to assemble together for the occasion runs as far north as Pentwater; on the south by St. Joe; on the east by Lansing, and on the west by Lake Michigan, and embraces sixteen counties.

Arrangements for the mammoth picnic are in the hands of the executive committee of the Fourth District Christian Endeavor Society, and includes among others the chairman, John J. Bannings, of this city, president of the district organization.

The executive committee has been corresponding with the various societies in the outlying districts and many enthusiastic responses have been received, showing the interest in the event and all promising to be present. As an illustration Kalamazoo has sent in word that they are desirous of taking part in the picnic, and accordingly arrangements are now being made with the Lake Shore Railway Company for making connections at Allegan with the Pere Mar-

Attendance at the Christian Endeavor Convention in Cincinnati Breaks Record.

ANNUAL ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Outlines the Plan of the Society and the Scope of Its Work—The Report of the Secretary Shows Large Increase in Membership—All Old Officers Re-elected.

Cincinnati, July 8.—The twentieth international convention of the United Society of Christian Endeavor was formally opened Saturday night with an attendance the largest in the history of these great gatherings. Almost every country on the globe is represented among the delegates. President Francis Clark formally opened the convention with a greeting to the delegates and Secretary of State

PRESIDENT FRANCIS E. CLARK.

Louis C. Laylin, of Columbus, welcomed the delegates to the Buckeye state for Gov. George Nash, whose physician advised against his coming.

Telegram from McKinley.

The following telegram was read from President McKinley at Canton:

"Willis Baer, Secretary of International Society of Christian Endeavor, Cincinnati, O.: Upon the assembling of the International Christian Endeavor society please extend to those present my cordial greetings and best wishes for the success of the sessions. I regret that it will be impossible for me to be with you on this occasion.

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

President Clark Speaks.

In his address President Clark said in part:

"For every age God prepares His agencies. As the bee is made for the flower, as the bird's wing fits the air, and the fish the yielding water, so in the moral and religious world God adapts His plans and methods to the needs of the time.

"To the mind of the devout believer there is no surer test of the overruling providence of God. In every great movement in the church of God can be seen God's nice adjustment of time and place and method to the needs of the age.

"I think it is no empty boast to claim that the Christian Endeavor society was raised up by God for a special crisis in the twentieth century. It is built on strenuous lines. It appeals to the sense of duty. Its purpose is not to amuse young people, or to tickle them with the entertainment straw, but to call upon them in the name of Jesus Christ to do hard things for their Lord and for His church.

"This is the meaning of the Christian Endeavor pledge. Call it what you will—covenant, affirmation, promise; word it as you choose, so long as you do not take out of it the ring of high resolve and earnest purpose to confess Christ and work for Him. 'Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy mind and with all thy soul and with all thy strength.' 'Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness.' 'Make other things subordinate to your religious duties.' This is the meaning of the Christian Endeavor pledge, and there is potency in such a promise.

Report of Secretary Baer.

The report of Secretary Baer contained the following:

"In 1891, the close of the first decade of Christian Endeavor, there were 16,274 societies, and we returned hearty thanks to God for what He had wrought. In this year 1901, at the close of Christian Endeavor's second decade, we must employ the same numerals, though differently arranged, to tell our numerical strength, for the 16,274 societies have become 61,627. The nearly one million members have become nearly four millions! This growth is marvelous, and nothing comparable to it can be found in history. The rapidity with which the societies have multiplied is so familiar, having compelled attention around the world, that we have in late years accepted that fact as commonplace. I remind you of this wonderful numerical extension of Christian Endeavor because it proves to me beyond a doubt that ours is not a man-made society, but a broad, interdenominational, international and interracial brotherhood. 'Man can organize a society, God creates a movement.'

"More and more is Christian Endeavor becoming an evangelistic agency for Christ. In all 160,000 young people have in the last 12 months joined the church from the ranks of our societies."

Old Officers Re-elected.

The old officers were re-elected as follows:

President—Francis E. Clark, Boston.
Treasurer—William Shaw, Boston.
Secretary—John W. Baer, Boston.
Auditor—F. H. Kidder, Boston.

The report of Treasurer Shaw shows the total receipts for the year ending June 1 to be $11,020; expenses, $10,864, leaving a balance on hand of $156.

Christian Endeavor delegates on Sunday filled the pulpits of most of the churches in this city and in surrounding towns.

Jessie Morrison Gets Five Years.

Eldorado, Kan., July 8.—Jessie Morrison was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary at Lansing by Judge Alkman Saturday afternoon. She was convicted of killing Mrs. Colin Castle June 22, 1900, because of jealousy over Colin Castle. Miss Morrison received her sentence calmly.

Hottest of the Year.

Topeka, Kan., July 9.—Monday was a day of unprecedented temperatures in Kansas. In Topeka for two hours in the afternoon the mark reached was 104. In Marysville 108 degrees was the record. Fort Scott reports 106 degrees.

OUT ON PAROLE.

In the Interest of Science Gov. Shaw, of Iowa, Shows Leniency to "Damascus" Dawson.

Des Moines, Ia., July 6.—S. R. Dawson, who has served five years of a ten-year penitentiary sentence for shooting Walter Scott, his son-in-law, on Christmas night, 1895, has been paroled by Gov. Shaw. "Damascus" Dawson, as he is known, claims to have recovered the arts of making Damascus steel and of hardening copper. Capitalists who are interested in a company to develop Dawson's processes secured the evidence upon which he was paroled, as he had asserted that he would die with his secrets rather than reveal them while in prison. It was shown that Dawson was excited to the verge of insanity at the time of the shooting.

A FIEND CAPTURED.

Denver's "Jack the Ripper," Who Proves to Be a Demented Swede, Caught by the Police.

Denver, Col., July 9.—"Jack the Ripper" is caught. Almost red-handed with gore dripping from his clothes, his face bathed in blood and flourishing a sanguinary knife, Christ Jensen, a demented Swede, stands accused of assassinating two women and killing the innocent little daughter of Mrs. Carrie C. Kinport. Shortly after midnight Jensen entered the room, barred the door, assaulted the child and carried the mutilated body to a vacant lot, where he slashed the body with a knife. The police believe efforts will be made to lynch Jensen.

RETRIBUTION IS SWIFT.

Burglar Is Blown to Pieces by Dynamite While Preparing to Rob a Wisconsin Bank.

Dubuque, Ia., July 10.—A would-be bank burglar was literally blown to pieces Monday night at Benton, Wis., by the explosion of nitroglycerin, which he carried in his hip pocket. He was breaking into a creamery to get tools with which to force an entrance into the bank. As he was climbing through an opening into the creamery a trap door fell and struck him on the hip, exploding the nitroglycerin. The body was dismembered, the intestines, heart and other organs blown out and parts of the body were scattered all over the creamery.

DAWES WILL QUIT.

Comptroller of the Currency Tenders His Resignation to Make the Race for Senator.

Washington, July 6.—Mr. Charles G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, has tendered his resignation to the president, to take effect October 1, next. In answer to an inquiry, Mr. Dawes said:

"I have resigned because of my intention to be a candidate before the people of Illinois for the United States senate. It would not be possible for me, during the next year, to make a canvass for the senate and at the same time administer to my own satisfaction the important and responsible office I now hold. I am influenced solely in this action by what seems to me the plain proprieties of the situation."

Killed by the Cars.

St. Louis, July 8.—While sketching on the tracks of the Burlington railway, a mile and a half from Louisiana, Mo., Miss Eva M. Reed, assistant librarian of the Missouri botanical garden, and a well-known writer on botanical and geological subjects, was run over and instantly killed by a passenger train late Sunday afternoon. Miss Reed graduated from the Wisconsin university at Madison, Wis., and at the time of her death was studying for a degree from the Chicago university.

Seven Hurt.

Cincinnati, July 6.—Four men were fatally and three others seriously injured by a gas explosion in Pit No. 1, of the series of shafts of the new waterworks at Torrence road, late Friday afternoon. The explosion is supposed to be due to a small vein of gas that was struck in the excavation. All of the injured are badly burned and several were frightfully crushed.

Says It Is True.

Salem, Ill., July 9.—William J. Bryan confirms the story that emissaries of Aguinaldo tried to see him last fall to make an offer of $100,000 contribution to campaign fund. He says he refused to meet Filipino's representatives.

Four Negroes Hanged.

SCORNFUL BY THE BOERS.

Will Not Entertain Proposals for Peace Unless They Are Granted Complete Independence.

ISSUE PROCLAMATION TO THIS EFFECT.

Will Continue Fighting Until Their Demands Are Complied With—Have 13,000 Men in the Field—Burn a Town in Cape Colony—British Suppress Facts.

London, July 5.—In the course of a discussion in the house of commons relative to the continuance of the war and the nature of the settlement, Mr. Brodrick, secretary of state for war, announced that Gen. Kitchener a few days ago granted permission to Commandant Gen. Botha to send a cipher message to Mr. Kruger, and also allowed a reply to be sent in cipher. The result of the concession was a meeting at which De Wet, Botha and other Boer leaders issued a proclamation to the burghers declaring that nothing short of independence would satisfy Mr. Kruger, and that fighting would continue until that was accomplished.

Have 13,000 Men.

Dispatches from the front say the Boers still have 13,000 men in the field and declare that unless the war can be finished during the next two months the prospect is that it will continue for another year.

Burn a Town.

London, July 9.—A special dispatch from Cape Town says Scheepers' Boer command has entered Murraysburg, Cape Colony, and burned the public buildings and residences. The town was not garrisoned.

Boer Losses.

London, July 9.—The financial secretary of the war office, Lord Stanley, in the house of commons, in answer to a question, gave the total number of Boers killed, wounded or made prisoners from among the active commands recently as follows: March, 1,472; April, 2,434; May, 2,640; June, incomplete, 1,538.

Suppression of Facts.

London, July 9.—Military men have been shaking their heads ominously over the disclosures made by a special correspondent of the Daily Mail respecting the conduct of the war and the arbitrary suppression of facts by the press censors. They find evidence of what they have been suspecting for a long time, that Kitchener is not allowed to be as thorough and as ruthless as they think he ought to be, and that the government here insists on interfering with him for political reasons.

Indictment Sustained.

The radicals, on the other hand, assert that Campbell-Bannerman's indictment of the government for conducting a barbarous warfare is fully sustained by proofs that British columns are burning farms and devastating one district after another, and that Boer atrocities, such as the slaughter of wounded gunners by Boers at Vlakfontein, are natural sequels to Kitchener's drastic measures.

Took His Own Life.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 9.—Frederick D. White, only son of Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. Prolonged ill-health and a persistent and exhausting nervous disease are given as the only possible explanation of his act. Mr. White was 42 years of age, a lawyer by profession, and leaves a wife and one son.

Charged with Murder.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 9.—Charles Dunn, a well-to-do lumber mill owner, and 65 years old, was arrested at Huntington, ten miles north of this city, charged with the murder of ten-year-old Alice Cothrell. The little girl's dead body was found in a cistern under Dunn's house.

Deed of a Brute.

Williamston, W. Va., July 8.—Sylvester Green, of McDowell county, fatally stabbed his wife and beat out the brains of his child with a rock because the wife refused him money with which to gamble. Green escaped to Kentucky.

Seeks Indemnity.

Washington, July 10.—The Chinese government, through Minister Wu Ting-fang, has filed a claim for indemnity to the amount of a half million dollars on account of alleged outrageous treatment of Chinese at Butte, Mont.

Proposal Rejected.

Washington, July 10.—Russia has proposed to rescind its action in imposing additional duties on American goods if the United States will not collect countervailing duties on Russian sugar, but the proposal has been rejected.

Receipts Increase.

Washington, July 10.—The receipts of 50 of the largest post offices in the United States for the month of June were $3,905,433, against $3,695,647 for June of last year, a net increase of $209,786.

Millions for Art.

Paterson, N. J., July 6.—Jacob S. Rogers, the locomotive builder, bequeathed $8,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

The Buffalo Show.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 8.—The total attendance to date at the Pan-American exposition is 1,775,868.

DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price.

By dealers, agents, etc., and in a few instances as a premium for subscriptions to papers. Announcements of these comparatively worthless reprints are very misleading. They are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, while they are all Reprint Dictionaries, phototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which was sold for about $5.00, and which was much superior to these imitations, being a work of some merit instead of one.

Long Since Obsolete.

The Webster's Unabridged Dictionary published by our house is the only meritorious one of that name. It bears our imprint on the title-page and is protected by copyright from cheap imitations. As a dictionary for a lifetime will it not be better to purchase the LATEST AND BEST.

A Friend's Advice.

WILL OFTEN HELP YOU GREATLY. READ WHAT A HOLLAND CITIZEN SAYS.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Holland is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. Then the evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

Mrs. D. Van Houten, of 287 West 13th street says: "I had constant heavy aching pains through the loins, in the muscles of my back and under the shoulder blades. My back tired easily from exertion and if I stooped or lifted anything heavy sharp twinges caught me in the region of my kidneys. I could not rest comfortably in any position and when I first got up mornings I felt as tired and worn out as I was the night previous. I tried a great many remedies, but if any of them benefited me it was very temporary. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and went to J. O. Doesburg's drug store and got a box. I did not take them long before I noticed an improvement which steadily continued until I was in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

THE EXPERTS IN WAR.

Military Training Alone Not Calculated to Develop Originality of Thought.

The truth is that military men in England did not show themselves one whit more competent to estimate the military problems of the Boer war than civilians. They relied, like civilians, on tradition, and laughed at the idea that any such changes had taken place in the art of war as were predicted by theorists, who declared, among other things, that offensive warfare was much more difficult than formerly, says Jean de Bloch, in National Review. The cause of military blindness is in no way obscure. Military training is itself antagonistic to original thought. It is no wonder, therefore, that nowadays when rifles and artillery are a hundred times more powerful than before, when armies are five to ten times larger, and when railways have changed the whole art of war, that we find the system of instruction differing very little from that employed in the days of Napoleon, or, for the matter of that, in the days of Gustavus Adolphus. Yet even among military men themselves the more enlightened feel as many doubts as Marshal Saxe. That the methods to be adopted in the future wars are a matter of grave doubt has been declared by writers as eminent as von Rhone, Janson, Muller, Pellet-Narbonne and Skugarsky. It is expressed excellently in the words of Gen. Lutz: "Let the instructors first agree among themselves." Nor can soldiers nowadays claim that experience has given them a right to dictate to civilians. Nine out of ten "experienced" soldiers have at most shot or hunted savages, and the majority have seen no fighting at all.

AT A MEXICAN HOTEL.

Some of the Table D'elicateses That Are Served at the Several Meals.

The dining-room is scrupulously clean, and the mozos are in attendance in their spotless white blouses (which resemble our shirt waists, with the gathering string let out at the bottom), the corners tied in a hard knot in front below the waist, says a writer in the International Magazine. The first meal of the day is called desayuno, and consists usually of different kinds of bread, some very fancy and sweet, with coffee or chocolate, also fruit and eggs, if you desire them. After a very slow counter about the country on the back of a burro, through banana groves, to sugar plantations, etc., you return promptly at 12 o'clock, ready for your dinner (comida). This is a full course meal, beginning with soup and rice. All the dishes are novel and are generally liked. Some of them are rather hot, but after a few meals you find that your taste for chile carne has become cultivated, and you enjoy the piquancy of the delicacies set before you. I have learned to be very fond of the Mexican's favorites, such as chiles stuffed with cheese and roasted; very delicious combination of peas, pineapple and banana boiled together; meats dressed with chile; salad of the alligator pear (butter fruit); onions, tomato and chile, and the standby of all Mexicans, tortillas (corn cakes) and frijoles (beans). These last are always served after the meat courses. Then we have the dulces (preserved fruits) and coffee. The cena (supper) at seven is of the same number of courses as the dinner and very much like it.

THE OLD-FASHIONED BOY.

An Inquiry About a Missing Type Made at a Dinner of Old-Timers.

At a little dinner of a few old-timers in this city the other night, reports the New York Sun, one of the speakers said: "What has become of the old-fashioned boy? The one who looked like his father when his father carried the sort of pomposity which was like the divinity that hedged a king in the time when knighthood was in its break o' day. The boy who wore a hat which threatened to come down over his ears. The boy whose trousers were made over from his father's by his mother, or aunt, or grandmother. The boy whose hair had a cowlick in it, before, and was sheared off the same length behind. The boy who walked with both hands in the pockets of his trousers, and who expectorated between his teeth when his teeth were clamped together. The boy who wore boots, run down at the heels. The boy who never wore knickerbockers or a round-about coat. The boy whose chirography was shaped by the gymnastics of his tongue. The boy who believed his father was the greatest man in the world, and that he could have been president if he wanted to be. The boy who was his mother's man when the man was away from home."

Timber on Puget Sound.

Probably no place on earth will average acre for acre the timber that the Puget sound region can furnish. It is fir, cedar, spruce, hemlock and alder, as well as maple and other woods. Its Douglas fir—the most common variety—has been found superior to yellow pine and other woods heretofore used for car building.

Canada's Seacoast.

The eastern Canadian seacoast, from the Bay of Fundy to the Straits of Belle Isle, covers a distance of 5,000 miles, and British Columbia, with its multitude of bays and mountainous islands, has a seacoast of 7,100 miles and a salt water shoreline area, not including minor indentations, of 1,300 square miles.

BUREAU OF STANDARDIZATION

In Which Absolute Accuracy of Weights and Measures Will Be Striven For.

A million and a quarter of dollars has been recently appropriated for the establishment of a national bureau of standards for this government, and the work of designing a remarkable building for this new feature of the government service will be commenced at once, says the Patent Record of Washington. This is a marvelous structure. It will be a place where the noises and vibrations of the outside world will not be admitted under any pretense and an absolute unvarying temperature will prevail. It will be erected on a site to be selected some distance from the city, where there will be the least possibility of the disturbing influences from the outside world, and on a lot large enough to prevent the possibility of any other building within a distance of a quarter of a mile. There will be double walls, each on a separate foundation resting on the solid rock. The building, which will contain the power plant necessary for the operation of this novel department, will be located at least a thousand yards away. All these precautions are taken in the battle with the vulgar influences of the outside world. Many of the instruments will be placed so that it is impossible for any one to approach them within a distance of 20 or 30 feet. This is to prevent the temperature of a human body from affecting their delicate constitution. The windows will be fitted so that it will be readily possible to make the rooms absolutely dark, even on the brightest days. No particle of sunshine will penetrate the shutters.

There will be maintained in this building a standard of all measures of capacity and distance. Among other things the new department will establish a standard electric cell measuring standard volts and ample means of testing all thermometers.

WONDERFUL ICE CAVES.

One of Them Near Flagstaff, Arizona, Supplying Ice for Summer Use.

Several years ago a man who was wandering over the lava fields in the pine woods, nine miles from Flagstaff, discovered a narrow slit in the lava which appeared to lead into a lateral and much larger opening. The slit was wide enough for a man to squeeze his way into it. At the bottom, about 20 feet from the surface, a low chamber opened on one side which was found to extend about 300 feet. At the further end the roof was high enough for a man to stand erect. It was in the month of August; a large bank of ice was heaped against the farther wall, but the rest of the cavern seemed to be dry.

In the following March the cave was visited again and found to be as full of ice as it could hold. It is now a source of ice supply for the hot months of summer, says the New York Sun. The ice melts away as the summer advances, but early in the season there is a large amount, most of which is now utilized. The ice is split into large pieces, hauled to the surface with block and tackle and carried away by the cartload.

In this hollow under the ground the cold air settles in the winter months, producing temperatures below the freezing point. There are times during the winter when a good deal of water runs into the cave. This is frozen solid and as water continues to flow in it is added to the frozen mass until the cave is completely filled with ice.

SLANG FROM THE BENCH.

An Australian Jurist Is Betrayed in to the Use of a Prize Ring Expression.

Even jurists are not exempt from the prevailing custom of using slang in expressing their sentiments. Quite recently Sir John Madden, the chief justice and lieutenant governor of Victoria, New South Wales, angry at the absence of all the barristers in a libel case that was down for hearing, characterized the proceeding as a "fake." This is a piece of pugilistic slang and is understood to mean a make-believe fight, both boxers having previously agreed as to the final issue. Next morning the three leading barristers concerned appeared in court, explained their absence and indignantly repudiated any idea of a "fake." The chief justice then apologized, expressing his regret that he had permitted himself to use such a word, and adding that the bar would understand how such expressions sometimes slipped out without due regard to the surrounding circumstances. A bland assurance of his belief that the parties in the case were animated by the "fullest litigant animosity" raised a laugh and agreeably closed the incident.

Oldest Church in the Country.

The oldest Protestant church in the United States is St. Luke's, at Smithfield, Va., writes William E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald. St. Luke's was erected in 1632, and was restored in 1894 as nearly as possible to its original condition and appearance. It is a beautiful old structure, of early English Gothic, with multioned windows and a stately tower, and has been used for public worship almost continuously for 2 1/2 centuries. The original church erected on Jamestown island by the first English colonists in North America, under Capt. John Smith—the church in which Pocahontas was baptized and married—has all disappeared, except a picturesque, ivy-clad tower of black, surrounded by a grove of trees.

J. WISE'S BEE HIVE.

Address Delivered at Overisel Mich., July 4th, 1901 by Rev. John Van der Meulen.

Fellow Citizens: When I received the invitation to address you today, I was at first in doubt whether to accept it, not as having anything against you or your way of celebrating this joyful festival but I thought I was getting a little too old to speak upon occasions like the present. We are no longer able to make funny speeches. We have come to have a serious view of everything even of national affairs and such things as occur to our minds today, with reference to our country and our flag, and if we speak at all they must be a few words of truth and soberness.

The subject which occurred to my mind is "A Nation's Glory." All nations desire to become glorious and to have something in which they may glory. They see this in their flag, in their history, in their national character, in the place they occupy and the name they bear among the people of the world, and the question occurs to us, in what does a nation's glory consist? Does it consist in the extent of its territory, in the vast number of its citizens, or in its wealth or resources, does it consist in the size of its army or its fleet of battleships, or in the success with which it conducts its wars? Nay not so unless they be righteous wars, for "Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people."

When we look upon the flag that waves over us today, we find it to be a symbol of the cause of liberty. All nations have flags. The reason for this is that the nations mostly find their origin in some war, or struggle. Wars have often been the birth-throes of a nation, for all good things in this world arise out of struggle.

In that war a flag had to be carried by the armies to distinguish them from the foe. After the battles were all over and the nations existence permanently established, then those colors that had first been unfurled on the battle field remained as a symbol. They represent the national existence and remind forever of the struggle out of which it arose, the principles which the battles were fought for, and which now are embodied in the nations constitution.

So it was with our nation. The reason why the American colonies went to war with the mother country was not that that country had greatly oppressed them. The disagreement was upon this question, whether the mother country had a right to tax the colonies. The 13 colonies contended for the principle that there should be no taxation without representation. This principle was involved in the tax upon tea and the stamp act or tax upon paper. The burdens of this were not very onerous nor the proceeds of much consequence to England no more than are the proceeds to us of the tariff on Porto Rico. It was for the principle only that England contended. For this the colonies declared their independence, and asserted the great doctrine that God has created all men free and equal, and that consequently a nation, however great, has not the right before God, the judge of all, to assert its supremacy or exercise dominion over another nation however small, and treat them as though they were inferiors, by imposing taxes upon them, thus taking away their property without their consent, that is, without their having voted these taxes themselves, without having a share in the representative government.

For these principles our forefathers went to war with the mightiest nation upon earth and prolonged the struggle for years, and the God of righteousness, in view of their just cause, was mercifully pleased to give them the victory.

Now we do not think that the nation to which we belong in its dealings with others has always acted in accordance with these principles, nor that she is acting in accordance with them now. You need not fear that I shall enter the field of politics today, I know that this is not an occasion for partisan politics. I do not lay blame upon any one for the political party he belongs to, or account of the ticket he voted for at the last general election. The result of that election, the overwhelming majority with which the present administration was returned, shows in our opinion that the American people, divided as they might be on some questions, determined that they would not endorse any candidate or party whose platform did not contain sound financial business principles and whose record did not give a fair promise that such principles would be carried out. The platform and the presidential candidate who were outvoted did not ring soundly as to this question and the Americans are a people of business capacity and recoiled with horror from the prospect of having the country precipitated into financial ruin, discredit, or uncertainty. In that I think the nation was right and therefore I do not blame those who voted to obtain that result, and if some have voted for the defeated ticket we would not undertake to disapprove of them for they probably saw some faults in the policy of the administration, enough to make them decide as they did and for that they had their conscientious reasons.

Without entering therefore into any of the political issues that have been already presented to us, we would only say that in such issues as the American people shall still be called upon to decide let voters old and young and young men when they become of age see to it that they maintain the cause of righteousness at the ballot box, whatever their present political affiliations may be and under whatever party name the cause of right shall in the future be presented. If it be better to be right than to be president then surely it must also be better to be right than to be either a Republican or a Democrat for "righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people."

Against this last named sentiment some are disposed to demur as too sweeping and they would limit it in this way, to any people except ourselves. We admit the student of history will say that the opium war has been and still is a disgrace to England as well as the unjust war she is waging now. We say that it is a disgrace to France that her courts went back upon the cause of justice in the Dreyfus trial. But while such are a reproach to these nations, some seem to think that does not affect America. Our country, they think, is so great that it can accomplish anything. It can make the wrong to be right or what amounts to the same make it good in the end. Do you mean to say that it is disloyal to say that there is any reproach for America? Is she infallible? But the old books say, "Sin is a reproach to any people, and that book never tells a lie."

But we do not stand here as pessimists. We do not despair of a flag expressive of the noblest idea that was ever emblazoned upon any mere political symbol. For its old associations, history and significance it is still dear to us, we remember that merely human symbols almost always represent the imperfect. When our banner was first hoisted to the breeze even then there were some features of our social and political system which in the eyes of the world put a stain upon it. Slavery was then inherent in our institutions and before the eyes of the world these stains were removed and the symbol of our liberty was set to float again in the view of all as a pure and spotless escutcheon, not a single star erased but afterwards several added into its blue field. Oh what rapture thrilled our hearts as we beheld the lustrous folds of our almost immaculate banner waving over us, how gay we became in those days, how we sang, "Our army and navy forever" with boyish enthusiasm.

Remembering that history we need not despair that other stains may not still be cleaned away out of liberty's own banner. We should however be careful how we incur such stains, because the process of washing them out is sometimes costly. When Columbia washes her robes and Irons them she may have to use something stronger than soap and a pretty hot flat iron. Flags are sometimes washed in blood, start not friends, we are not the ones that can wash our flag. This can only be done by a higher hand, by God himself, and he makes it costly to the nation that has incurred the necessity. As the inspired poetess has said:

"Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord,
He is tramping out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored,
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible swift sword,
His truth is marching on.
He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat,
He is sitting out the heart of men before his judgment seat,
Oh be swift my soul to answer him be jubilant my feet.
Our God is marching on."

Our own eyes may not have seen the vision of the glory, but the ears of the nation have heard thy voice, Julia Ward Stowe, and may their feet be jubilant and swift like those of the Winged Victory or like the feet of the soldiers in Bunyans Allegory that "scarce touched the ground"—so triumphantly they flew to the relief of the beleaguered town—to respond once more to the voice that spoke through thee. For if the fulfillment of that vision came not again and the trumpet sounding for the right should be silent or order a retreat if impurity should have taken such hold upon the fabric of our banner that it can no longer be removed then it must be consumed ignominiously with many other things of human renown in the conflagration of the great day.

For the present however we indulge the hope of milder remedies we have not lost confidence in the judgement of the people, whose political instinct or acumen has so often been proved to excel that of all other nations. In that respect we have often felt ourselves to be but learners, feeling the disadvantage of not being ourselves a native American and not having the heredity of political wisdom of the forefathers. For by the grace of God! we confess that our people has been gifted with a wonderfully balanced judgment in the decision of political issues. Only one general election can we remember when the nation seemed to have lost its head, and that was hardly a misfortune since it gave us for a second time in the presidential chair the magnificent character of Grover Cleveland. So greatly has God been with us, who never makes mistakes, so that we have the very strongest hopes yet we will say the certain belief that when these issues come fairly before the American people they will be rightly decided.

And so my friends we have come to Overisel again today, we were wondering as we were traveling along the road to this place where (by the way) that river was, the Ysel I mean over on the other side of which the province lies which you inhabit. The creek we crossed a couple of miles from this village seemed too insignificant for the high sounding name of that river renowned for its annual ice-floes. Or is your river, perhaps like that water in which some nervous people wash their hands with invisible soap in a imperceptible water?

We were here to speak to you before, and remember well the last time how anxious we were that our address might be suitable. We determined to make it as dry as possible, and yet it was not dry enough for some one was said to have laughed at some of the things said in it and the fault was said to have been in the speech. In the present occasion we have been more careful and determined to exclude the suggestion of any liquid except only a little of the Ysel water. We begin to see where the Ysel is. It flows underground and you pump or draw it up in buckets. You drink water out of your own river you do not go wandering about to other places on the 4th of July to drink strange water as the Israelites went to Egypt to drink of the waters of Sabor, you drink the water of your own stream and mingle it with lemon juice and sugar to turn into ice cold lemonade and you are right. The waters of your own river are as good as any and we feel happy to enjoy the refreshing source with you today.

Lured by the sweet foreign shore,
Worn and weary long the golden ore,
But with us the golden ore,
Home joys that never leave a sting behind.

But to resume we concluded to reduce the matter of drying up our speech to a certainty by putting one single spark of heaven's own truth into it and that not only dried it up by its fervor but seemed to shiver it up like a burning scroll.

Speaking of heavenly fire we heard the other day that the lightning had struck into one of your barns and burned it up. (Het hemel vuur was in de schuur geslagen.) That was a destructive work for this terrible and beautiful agent to perform, but there is another kind of (hemel vuur) that sometimes does it work of earth, we mean true love which like the lightning is no respecter of persons. It sweeps all distinctions, and strikes where it pleases. This kind of lightning that flashes from the eyes of these beautiful maidens and handsome boys when they come together on a day like this, is not destructive, it melts the hearts into one and does it so that they feel happy over the result. Some fire of heavenly origin is needed to strongly weld the marriage bond so that it shall hold through all the wear and tear, the struggle and temptation of mortal life. It does not destroy but builds up the houses and it is a mercy of God that a little was left us of the bliss of paradise. "Some flowers ye still inherit" be thankful ye sons and daughters of men.

If a still higher love should send its influences down more powerfully that will effect still greater triumphs. You have got over many things already the period of hardships, the log houses, bad roads, and malarious swamps but there are things you still need to overcome and if you obtained more of that fire I speak of it would lift you over them. Who knows but that in some places it might bring dissenting communities together. Strike two churches into one. One can never tell what heavenly fire will not do. And we believe to express the wish of all pious hearts that it may be so and that united as we are today in this festival so united in all things politics and religion we may serve well our country and our God."

THE FRENCH-IRISH.

Many of Them Have Been Titled and Prominent Personages in the History of France.

France, with its MacMahons, O'Neills, O'Connors and Nugents, possesses many Irish names. The Boulangier movement introduced to us Count Dillon, in whose gardens the Floquet duel was fought. Most of the Franco-Irish, though 200 years may have passed since their ancestors left our shores, have preserved a great affection for Ireland, and each St. Patrick's day sees a certain number of them united to celebrate the feast of Ireland's patron saint. I had the pleasure of being present at one of these "dinners de St. Patrice," under the presidency of Vicomte O'Neill de Tyrone, a charming nobleman, who claims descent from Owen Roe O'Neill, says a writer in Gentleman's Magazine.

Among Irish names in France I may mention Crebillon de Ballyhogue, MacGuckin de Slane, Mahon de Monaghan, O'Quin d'Etcheperre (formerly mayor of Pau), Harty de Pierrebouge, Harden-Hickey (who shows his Irish origin by editing the principal comic paper in Paris, the Triboulet). There are a few names with the prefix "O," and it is hard to know how they came by it. There is a Baron O'Tard de la Grange and a Comtesse O'Pole; and I have also seen in a list of students O'Diette and O'Lanyer. These are to be distinguished, of course, from such names of guerre as O'Monroy, O'Diu, O'Squarr, etc. Your average Frenchman takes the bearer of a name with an "O" or "Mac" as a noble.

HOW FLIES MULTIPLY.

Their Increase Limited Only by the Amount of Food Accessible to Them.

Fly time is here, and the English scientists, through their eminent Lancet, have been giving some timely thought to the infliction, and warning people against the pestilence. It is admitted that disease is carried by them, and the public is warned to destroy flies.

Flies multiply at a prodigious rate. Given a temperature sufficiently high to hatch the eggs, their numbers are only limited by the amount of food available for them. Linnæus is credited with the saying that three meat flies, by reason of their rapid multiplication, would consume a dead horse quicker than would a lion, and the fact that certain diptera having some outward resemblance to the honey bee lay their eggs in the dead carcasses of animals probably led Samson and Virgil to make erroneous statements with regard to the genesis of honey and the manufacture of bees.

In three weeks it seems probable that a female fly might have some 25,000,000 descendants in the course of a hot summer. Other varieties of flies multiply still more rapidly.

As flies multiply upon and in organic refuse of every kind, it is obvious that the sooner such refuse is placed where it cannot serve for the feeding and hatching of flies the more likely is the plague of flies to be lessened.

WELSH TONGUE IN AMERICA.

Expectations Are That It Will Go Down Through Passing of Old Promoters.

As far as this country and the Welsh are concerned it looks dark and hopeless. From a quarter to a half century ago there arose a large number of literary men and poets in the United States who served the Welsh newspapers and periodicals well and faithfully. Although some of them could speak English, Welsh and Welsh literature was their pleasure, which they sought, night and day, says Y Drych, of Utica.

That class of Welshmen is passing away, one by one, and none with literary tendencies arises to take their place and continue the progress of Welsh literature. We can say without any doubt that the vast majority of the contributors to the Drych to-day are 40 years of age and upward, and many of the best are over 50. There are but a few young who are treading in the footsteps of the fathers. The vast majority of young Welsh people stand at the dividing line between Welsh and English, and are rapidly going over to the latter, to be separated completely in language and spirit from the civilization of the fathers. And many of the fathers, who are faithful to the Welsh, and earnest in speech in its behalf, are bringing up their children in a manner entirely un-Welsh.

So, the expectations are that Welsh will go down in the United States when the fathers and mothers go the way of all the earth, for a crop of anything cannot be expected where there has been no sowing. Many hope and expect the old language to live by miracle, as it were, by Divine interference in its behalf, without realizing the natural fact that the Welsh must be planted and watered before progress may be expected. The Drych, like Apollon, week after week, continues the watering process, but what has not been planted cannot be watered, for there is no Paul a planting.
