

Quite the Thing To Open Gardens To the Public

BIG MEN ARE SHARING THEIR FINE ESTATES WITH OTHERS

George Getz of Lakewood farm started a movement some years ago that has borne fruit as far as the public is concerned. It pleased him to throw his estate open to the general public and the results have been very gratifying judging from the thousands who never weary of coming again and again.

The spirit has also taken hold of others, it appears. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hutton of Sheldon Terrace, Grand Haven have opened their gardens to outside folks and while the Huttons have no wild animals to show, they sure have beautiful gardens and these are now open to visitors on Wednesday and Sunday afternoons and will remain open on these days until the frost this fall takes away their beauty.

These gardens are the largest in Grand Haven and compare favorably with many of the beautiful estates of Spring Lake. Last year the gardens were open to the public and each afternoon many enjoyed the flowers.

Then there is Doris Eugene Getz of Chicago who has a wonderful estate south of Castle Park on Lake Michigan. Many citizens go to see this garden spot and its castle like buildings. Here, too, can be found a deer park, a bear or two and other animals that are interesting. There also is an ideal bathing beach near on "Big Lake." The three places mentioned are so different one from the other but have their special points of interest that make a visit to any of all of them an afternoon of delight and a few hours well spent. The pleasing feature of it all is that these men are willing and glad to share their finest possessions, namely their home surroundings, with a public they do not even know, and that purely for the happiness it brings them.

George Getz expresses it all when an inquisitive questioner asked him why he did all this? "I do this because I like to see others happy, and that especially holds good for the children."

The public can show its appreciation by living up to the common sense rules exacted in order to make these visits possible. There will always be a few "kick over the traces" but you can attribute that to ignorance, ill-manners or down right meanness. We believe, however that 99% per cent of the visitors are fully appreciative.

ZEELAND HOSPITAL GETS FLORAL GIFTS

At the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Dr. Thomas G. Huijzen Memorial Hospital, Zeeland, it was reported that the Ladies' Literary Club had provided new plants and flowers for the hospital lawn for the summer, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wickers had also contributed plants for the large urns adorning the hospital steps.

ZEELAND LADY FRACTURES LEG

Mrs. John Roels of East Washington street, Zeeland, had the misfortune of fracturing her leg below the knee Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Roels were on the way home from a pleasure trip to Niagara Falls, and while at Grand Rapids, in alighting from the automobile, she fell to the pavement, breaking her leg. She was given first aid and brought to her home here the same evening.

MIKE HIRDES SHOWS SLIGHT GAIN

Mike Hirdes, who was dangerously injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago when his car left the road one mile north of Byron Center, is not much improved. Although he rests easier at this time, he still suffers a great deal and his case is not yet beyond the danger point. However, hopes are entertained for his recovery, barring any complications that may arise. Mr. Hirdes has many relatives and friends living in Holland.

HOLLAND MAN CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING TO DEFAUD INSURANCE CO.

James Sinke, 34, of Holland, was arrested Friday, according to word given out today by officials, charged with attempting to defraud an insurance company and is now out on $1,000 bonds awaiting examination, which he has demanded and which has been set for Tuesday, July 16 before Justice Albert Parsons of the law firm of Robinson & Parsons.

Officials charge he reported his car stolen when he had placed it in the hands of a friend to hold with the intent of defrauding the insurance company.

Sinke notified police on April 19 that some one had stolen his car from Central Ave., Holland, where he said it had been parked. He purchased the car from the Holland Motor company. It was insured against theft.

The insurance company withheld payment of the policy pending further investigation. With the aid of Grand Rapids police it was found that a car answering the description of the Sinke car was being used by a young man named Nelson Hand of Muskegon Heights. The car was left at a garage one night and Hand was arrested. He is being held in Grand Haven after making a confession to the prosecuting attorney's office.

This was Justice Parsons' first case since his election this spring. Mathew Korkiewicz, Marine, Ottawa county, suffered severe lacerations about a hand Tuesday from a hay fork. Buttrworth hospital attendants reported it necessary to amputate a finger.

FORMER HOPE PROFESSOR REARING PATRIOTIC FAMILY

SI Heemstra, formerly on the faculty of Hope College, announces the birth of a daughter, Nancy Jane, at St. Mary's hospital on July 4, further stating that Mrs. Heemstra is doing well, as is the little one.

Theodore H. Heemstra was born two years before on Washington's birthday, while the family was still living in Holland.

Mr. Heemstra, who for a time was with the Bell Telephone Co., has now taken a responsible position with the General Motor Co. at Grand Rapids. Mr. Heemstra resigned his position at Hope College last year. While a student at the local institution he excelled in oratory and graduated with honors. He was the first editor and manager of what is known as the "Tattler," issued annually by Hope College Alumni Association. He was also one of the heads managing the large missionary pageant put on by the Reformed church at the fairgrounds during the three hundredth anniversary of the church.

BORN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

John J. Hopkins, 115 West 16th St., quietly celebrated with his children on the Fourth of July, the occasion being his 76th birthday.

Another birthday on the Fourth was that of Mrs. Henry Geerlings, West 14th St., who was born on Independence day. She is the oldest daughter of Mrs. L. Mulder, publisher of De Groot. Mrs. Geerling had nothing on her husband, however, who was born on the 29th of February and belongs to the leap year brigade.

WONDER WHY?

Allegan city is making desperate effort to get road work started in that county and a conference was held with state authorities about different road and "bee lines" but not the "Big Bee Line" that Holland has wanted for so long via Hamilton to Allegan. Allegan authorities never seem to become excited about that particular "bee line." We sometimes wonder why?

SCOUTS FROM KENTUCKY PASS THROUGH CITY

A blue truck filled with happy Boy Scouts passed through Holland Wednesday morning coming home from Northport, Mich., and going to Louisville, Ky., the home of the troop after a two weeks camping trip made under the scout master, George Palst. The boys were tanned from two weeks in the open making their own camp at night. The boys said they were in love with Michigan in the summer.

GETZ GIVES INFORMAL DINNER TO RAILROAD OFFICIALS

George Getz of Lakewood Farm gave an informal dinner Monday evening to the new Pere Marquette railroad officials comprising a party of 15. In reality they were the officials of the new Van Swieringen interests embracing a combination of other railroads. In the party was also Frank A. Alfred, former president of the Pere Marquette, now vice-president of the other systems also.

The party came on a private car that arrived at 5 o'clock and departed late in the night. There was a dinner at 6 o'clock and an interesting program during the evening. Others in the party were Mayor Ernest C. Brooks and G. J. Diekema of Holland, Senator Arthur H. Vanden Berg and former Senator William Alden Smith. The party was purely social and had no particular significance in a business way aside from the fact that these men will surely remember Holland and Lakewood Farm.

At the dinner the host, Mr. Getz, Mayor Brooks, Messrs. Diekema, Smith and Vanden Berg gave short talks. Mr. Getz had automobiles ready at the Pere Marquette depot to take the party to and from his home.

ISSUES PROGRESS EDITION

On Wednesday, July 10, the Holland Evening Sentinel issued a Holland Progress edition comprising 24 pages. The issue reflects the industrial and commercial growth of Holland and pictures the possibilities of its future development. The first page is embellished with the image of Mercury, emblematic of speed in the air. The fast locomotive, the speeding automobile, the rushing motor-cycle and the buzzing airplane are all depicted on the page over a caption that reads, Time, Energy and Distance. The edition contains write-ups of different business firms, manufacturing establishments, banks, etc.

It is a very creditable issue and we congratulate Charles French, better known to us as "Dad" on his enterprise in creating an issue of that kind.

ORATORICAL CONTEST WILL BE ANNUAL EVENT

The Ottawa County Sunday School executive committee met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schuiling, 78 East 20th street. They decided to continue the oratorical contest, which proved a big success this year, and make it an annual event.

The invitation extended by Grand Haven to have the annual convention which is to be held in October there, was accepted and further plans for the convention were made.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The board of public works will hold their annual picnic for the employees this evening.

Why Are Perch So Small of Late Years?

JAN METZELAAR WANTS PERCH STOMACHS SENT TO HIM

Why do perch in many of the inland lakes of the state fail to reach a more satisfactory size? The fish division of the conservation department will endeavor to secure data that may help answer this question through a study of the food habits and checking the rate of growth of specimens taken from various localities.

These studies are to be made by Jan Metzelaar, biologist of the fish division, and sportsmen are requested to aid in this work by saving the fresh stomachs of perch and sending them to Mr. Metzelaar at the University Museum, Ann Arbor. Jars to contain the stomachs of the perch will be furnished to those willing to co-operate with the department. Stomachs taken from perch caught not more than six days apart may be put into the same jar, and the size of each fish in inches, date taken, and the name of lake or water where taken should also accompany the perch stomachs.

Jan Metzelaar says of the perch situation of the inland lakes—"In a great many good and fair lakes the perch do not attain a very large size; the males start to spawn when scarcely five inches in length, they seem to make a very fair start in their growth the first year and then slow down. We would like to know the rate of growth of these perch, but the trouble is that perch scales are exceedingly hard to read, much harder than the average trout or salmon; the year rings do not stand out very clearly and are open to different interpretations.

"The same lakes from which we get complaints that the perch are 'too small' are often exceedingly rich in small perch; in fact it often looks as if there was an over-abundance of these little perch of 3 to 4 inches long, competing for food. This might be linked up again with a comparative scarcity of larger predatory fish.

"Now I want perch stomachs in order to approach the problem from another angle. The trout fishermen have provided hundreds of trout stomachs. I shall need literally thousands of perch stomachs, with accurate records of name of lake, county, depth, date, and length of perch."

HOLD HOLLAND FISH CLUB IN HIGH ESTEEM

Just look at this from the Grand Rapids Press: In connection with the trout of the fish refuge plan this spring it is worthy of attention that the Holland Fish and Game club again distinguished itself by its excellent work in supporting the conservation department and protecting refuges on Black Lake. Probably in no other section of Michigan has the refuge plan worked as effectively as there, largely owing to the vigilance of the Holland sportsmen.

Whatever is done in the conservation field at Holland is done in like manner. If Michigan's outdoors ever stood in need of aid it needs today a revival of just such courageous alert and unselfish sportsmen's clubs in every community as the Holland Fish and Game club. Conservation has no better friend than organizations of that sort.

The sportsmen of Michigan have made a mistake in thinking their wishes safe out of their own hands and in permitting their organizations to fall to pieces and die out. Our hat is off to the Holland club and we wish every county in the state could have the benefits of its matchless services.

TAKES 65 HOLLAND MEN TO GRAYLING

Capt. Henry A. Geerds, Lieut. Oscar Johnson and Lieut. John Bremer will accompany a full unit of 65 men of Company D, 126th infantry, to Camp Grayling today, Friday evening, for a stay of 15 days. It will be Capt. Geerds' fifteenth consecutive year at the annual meet. Geerds has been captain of the Holland unit since its organization. Last year Holland Co. D won the state prize for being the best all-round company in Michigan.

Plan to Beautify City of Zeeland with Tulips

It appears that our neighbor Zeeland will follow Holland with a tulip planting, judging from the following printed in the Zeeland Record:

"At a meeting of the park board held Monday evening it was decided to co-operate with Holland in planting tulips this fall, provided enough persons will order them to make a reasonable showing. Many Zeeland people who saw the tulips in bloom in Holland this spring expressed the opinion that they would like to see the same thing in Zeeland. Holland attracted many people from all parts of the state and it has been a great advertisement for the city.

"The orders must be in this month as they are imported direct from The Netherlands and must be here in time for fall planting. The park board is co-operating with the people by ordering several thousand for the city parks.

"There are eight colors available, all maturing at the same time. Tall varieties: red, black, blood red, rose, pink; medium varieties: lavender, golden yellow, lilac. The bulbs are offered at $1.00 per hundred, which is an extremely low price. It is understood, however, that they are to be used to beautify the city and not for commercial purposes. Orders can be left at the offices of the city clerk any time from July 15 to July 20."

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. Bill Van Putten's beautiful black mare — Lucy — has a fine colt by a full-blooded Hambletonian stallion. Note: Dr. Van Putten was the pioneer race horse man of Holland. His stables were located where the old West Michigan Laundry buildings, on west 8th St., are still located. The celebrated "Mutt" and "Mama" boys were from the doctors' stables. Dr. Van Putten conducted a drug store in what is now the Geerds Electric Co. Store on River Ave.

We learn from reliable sources that all rooms of the hotels located in towns of northern Michigan have been engaged by gentlemen and their families from New Orleans and other Southern cities, at high prices. It would seem that Holland might see the possibilities of this beautiful lake and take steps to bring some of these summer travelers to this vicinity. But surely if we aim to have them here, we must provide for their keep. Steps toward building a hotel at the mouth of the harbor, it seems would prove profitable in time and Holland tradesmen and Holland as a city would no doubt benefit. Let's bear it in mind.

We notice an article in De Groot that the first steps have been taken to inaugurate a secession movement in the First Reformed (Dutch) church in this city. The article relates to some parties — evidently church members — complained of being unable to affiliate any longer with members of the Reformed church of America, since they had seen the so-called "exposition of the order." Thus the "true harbor" of the secession is beginning to crop out. It is evidently the "rule of ruin" policy and we shall diligently watch to see how many blessings this movement will receive. Must the dial of progress be shoved back 25 years in this Colony? Note: The secession in question was a break-up in the First Ref. church, now the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church. The result was the reorganization of the Reformed congregation here and the building of a new church, now the First Reformed. The church property was a bone of contention in the courts for several years and often strife was so intense and feeling ran so high that the doors of the "big pillar" church were nailed up and the members stood guard.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The stores of Anthony De Kruijff, Rief & Vanden Bosch, De Jonge & De Pree of Zeeland were entered and robbed of cash and merchandise, amounting in all to several hundred dollars.

There are sixty names on the saloon "liquor black list" and three of these are women. These names will be posted in the several saloons in the city and no liquor may be sold to them according to the police department.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Jacob Heeringa has purchased of Jacob Derks, 91 feet of Eighth St. property near Columbia Ave., paying $20.00 per front foot for it. Note: This afterward became the site of the Michigan Tea Rusk building and just now this building is being converted into a garage for the Buick Agency.

McKinley, the famous Holland horse stepped a mile in 2:12 at Grand Rapids on the Fourth of July.

The Vaudie-Ribs Combination Co. was down for a special act at Jensen Electric Park on the glorious Fourth. Vaudie, the romantic hero, after a thrilling attempt to unfurl the flag on the upper deck of the steamer Post Boy, gracefully fell into the inviting waters of Black Lake. Instantly, and to the accompaniment of the cheering multitude, Harry Nies, the "dare-devil" friend of this combination, plunged fearlessly after the white-haired and peach-cheeked immerse, who was spouting like a whale and showing "toe-head-top-knot" at regular intervals when he came to the surface for renewed breath. Harry the daimless supported the hero in seeming accident, but in reality a high dive stunt, until Ribs and Fritz hove in sight with the life boat and brought all to safety. During the thrilling rescue the crowd stood spell-bound. However, when Vaudie laughed in delight after the saving, they saw it was one of those Vaudie-Ribs jokes and all shouted in merriment although there was considerable seriousness a few moments before. Surely the Vaudie-Ribs Combination can deliver some extremely funny goods sometimes. Note: This Vaudie is our own Vaudie Vanderberg of the Vanderberg Oil Co., still smooth, "Vaudie" at all, at least his "dad and mama" baptized him John. The Vaudie-Ribs Combination Co. did painting and sign work when at work. Ribs was a partner in the combination. His real name was Leon Reeve. He was called "Ribs" because he was so very tall and so extremely thin. Vaudie and Ribs had a Mutt and Jeff aspect, but all the same Holland loved the pair in spite of their unusual and unexpected stunts.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT TRINITY CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Next Sunday evening special music will be rendered in connection with the evening service in Trinity church. The Reformed Church in America supports a mission school for colored children in Brewton, Ala. Prof. Dooley, the principal of the school, is in these parts with a number of scholars from the school who sing and play. Sunday evening they will sing some Negro spirituals and besides play several instrumental numbers. The singers and players appeared at the meeting of the General Synod and made a fine impression. During the past few weeks they have toured in the West and sang and played in a number of the Reformed churches there. Sunday evening they will appear for the first time in a church in Holland. Prof. Dooley will make a few remarks about the work.

The bills are considerably smaller and the tellers of the banks say they will be easier to handle and that it will be easier to detect counterfeit, as the backs of the bills are all alike and the face of the bills alike except for the pictures of the presidents which appear on the various denominations.

SPOONING OUT CONSCIENCE MONEY

Rather an interesting little incident was brought to the attention of the Holland City News from one closely identified with an exclusive boarding house in Holland when a package came from Tacoma, Washington, addressed to the person in question. When the package was opened it contained a teaspoon, around which a crisp $2 bill was wrapped, and in it was an unsigned note in what appeared to be a lady's hand writing stating that the spoon had been stolen by her two summers before and this was the recompense and she further referred to a verse from the Bible: St. Luke 10:8, which reads as follows "And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you."

Apparently the writer did just that and went beyond the biblical stipulation and violated the eighth commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

AMERICA IS STILL NOT POOR

Half of the people of the United States have radios and telephones in their homes and motor cars in their garages; there are nearly twenty million depositors in saving banks and nearly ten million in building and loan associations, the depositors usually being the head of the family. This is in addition to the millions of depositors in the other banking institutions of the country. More than a hundred million life insurance policies are in force in the United States, of which more than three-fourths are industrial policies. Most figures showing the distribution of wealth in the United States give us an erroneous impression for the reason that they ignore the fact that for every individual holder of property there are usually several dependents of the holder, who are counted by the statisticians as possessing no property.

The population of all the farms in the United States is less than 100,000, and has been gradually declining for a number of years. In other words there are less than a hundred thousand people in the United States so beaten in the race of life that they are willing to go into the farms, and the population of these institutions is confined almost entirely to those recruited from the aged infirm and to the feeble minded.

HOLLAND SOON WILL HAVE THREE MORE MILES PAVING

Holland paving projects, covering a distance of nearly three miles, are well under way and will be completed by next fall. Tenth street, the principal street in this year's program, already is about half finished and this part has been opened to traffic.

If the present rate is continued, it will be only a few years when all streets will be paved. Holland now has about 30 miles of paved streets. The first street was paved about 30 years ago.

HOLLAND WILL BE REPRESENTED IN HORSESHOE CONTEST

Holland men will enter the regional horseshoe throwers' contest to be held in August at Grand Rapids.

Each city in Western Michigan will have representatives in the district meet at which time the best player from each town will be selected to compete in the state meet, which will probably be held in Iowa.

Allegan County Agent J. F. Farrell has received twin Indian boys 4 months old from Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, and is offering them for adoption provided they are not separated. The mother died and the father deserted them. If the twins are adopted and their education provided for it will mean they will not have to be sent to the state school at Coldwater and when 12 years old sent to a government Indian school.

The twins have been named after the last two presidential candidates, Alfred and Herbert.

Meaning none other than Alice White, First National-Vitaphone star whose latest talking, singing and dancing offering, "Broadway Babies" comes to the Holland Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in an all-talking picture of merit.

Miss White is energetic and effervescent personified. She has been termed the Apostle of It, the Tired Business Man's Joy, and Exposition A in the Exposition of Jazz.

In "Broadway Babies," another story of the Great White Way and life behind the scenes, Miss White has an ideal vehicle for her talents, it is declared. She plays one of a trio of hoofers—the others being Sally Eilers and Marion Byron—who try to lick the Big Town. Their experiences make up a story that has much interest and will appeal to everyone.

"Broadway Babies" is intended for entertainment purposes only and will be welcome to local theatregoers who like their screen stories full of ginger and pep.

"That is a very fine statue over there," he said, "but why put it immediately beneath the kitchen sink?"

"Sh!" whispered the host. "That isn't a statue; it's a plumber."

HOLLAND STEEPLE-JACK PAINTS FENNVILLE STANDPIPE

Fennville Herald—The big steel tank of the Fennville water works system is being given a coat of paint, in accordance with recent action taken by the village council. The work is being done by George Kelly of Holland, whose work as he swings from a seat suspended high in the air, is watched with interest by many residents.

The water tank is a conspicuous landmark of Fennville and is visible for miles around in every direction. It was erected in 1913. The tower with the tank, is 100 feet in height, and the tank that surmounts it has a capacity of 40,000 gallons. The pump by which it is kept filled with water has a capacity of 287 gallons per minute.

A tank similar to Fennville's was erected last spring in Douglas. It also is 100 feet high but according to figures of the builders, holds 75,000 gallons. On the sides of the tank is painted the name of the village, and it has been suggested that it wouldn't be a bad idea to have the name Fennville in large letters on the tank here.

HOLLAND IN NEXT FEW YEARS EXPECTS ALL MICHIGAN TO SIT UP, TAKE NOTICE

Grand Rapids Press.—Tulip week in Holland will be given more extensive consideration next year owing to the success attending the innovation here last spring. The park board already is laying plans for the importation of another large consignment of bulbs from The Netherlands in time for fall planting.

The first consignment of 250,000 bulbs received here last fall was sold very quickly and people who watched the development of the project have become so enthused over the launching of a permanent tulip week in Holland that the next consignment when placed on sale will not go a-begging.

Officials in charge of the project are convinced that within the next two or three years virtually every property owner in this city will devote some portion of his front lawn or curb to the raising of tulips, thereby making tulip week an event of statewide attention.

Young Men Successful When They Take the Reins

Dick Van Raalte One of Those Who Has Been Outstanding in This Respect

Grand Rapids Herald.—The young men are coming along in the furniture industry just as they are in all other lines of endeavor. It is one of the things which keeps the old world moving because if the youngsters were unable or unwilling to accept the responsibilities of leadership, all progress would soon be stopped.

One of the splendid examples of the young man grabbing the tiller and successfully steering the ship through the rocks and shoals of the industrial sea is D. B. K. Van Raalte, who grabbed the tiller of the Charles S. Limbert company a few years ago and has brought it along to outstanding success.

Dick Van Raalte isn't much on conversation, but he's mighty long on common sense and that Dutch characteristic of conservation and thoroughness which keeps things on an even keel and does its work well. His employment of "Van Raalte Craftsmen," by which is meant those fine Dutch cabinet makers and carvers whose skill has been handed down to them through generations has become a trade mark for well built furniture. No line of dining room furniture surpasses the Limbert line in its class and each market sees something new and worth while added to keep the line at the high pitch of quality and steadfastness which has characterized it since Dick Van Raalte took the tiller.

The Limbert line is always to be found on the eighth floor of the Pantlind Exhibition building and Dick is almost always on the job ready to assist the dealer with any problem which may be troubling him and to iron out any misunderstandings which may have arisen. Dick is one of the young men who has come along and brought his line along with him.

HAMILTON

The Tigers met and defeated the fast Caledonia team last Tuesday evening in a twilight game by the score of 10 to 9. It was a very interesting game for the spectators with the lead going from one team to the other several times. The outcome was uncertain until the last man drove out a two-bagger for the winning score. The visitors were jubilant when they succeeded in counting four times at the start as a result of errors, while they held the locals to a lone score. It was evident that the crowd, felt better after the boys had blanked the visitors in the next frame and by hard hitting tied the score. For good measure the Tigers took the lead in the third and added another run in the fourth, holding the Caledonia boys by fast playing in the field. However, the crafty Caledonians again took the lead by scoring three times in quick succession. But again by hard hitting the Tigers regained the lead, bringing in an equal number of scores and compelling the visitors to call upon a relief pitcher. The greatest excitement came in the last inning when the visitors tied the score. Rich Wentzel took the place of Callahan on the mound and prevented further scoring. Two hits by the Tigers in their half of the last inning finished the game. Callahan pitched a splendid game for the Tigers, but seemed to lose control near the end. The boys showed the need of more practice in fielding and their only salvation last Tuesday was the fact that every man on the team seemed to be able to hit when hits were needed.

Rev. M. A. Stegeman and family of Hospers, Iowa, visited at the First Reformed parsonage last week Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The Kings Daughters Society of First church met at Geo. Kapers on Monday, where they held a very interesting meeting. Tim Mosier, Hamilton's ace angler, and Leo Reuschlein of Holland motored to the northern part of the state last week on a fishing expedition. They returned Friday evening with a large string of bass and pike. Most of us would feel rather proud if we could show a string with large pike and bass. Tim, however, was not exactly satisfied, but that may be due to the fact that he usually brings home a large string when fishing near home. Cheer up, Tim, maybe it will be better next time.

Rich Wentzel, however, pitched a steady and heady game despite an eight inning rally on the part of the visitors. In the afternoon with two substitutes they were defeated by their old rivals, the Boters of Holland, at Overisel. The score in this game was 8 to 3. No One Blamed For "Big Lake" Tragedy On 4th

TEN WERE SUCKED IN
BY UNDERTOW AND DRAGGED
OUT IN BIG LAKE

All Bodies Have Been Recovered
Since This Terrible Independence
Day Tragedy

On the Fourth of July, a holiday for thousands at Grand Haven, proved to be a day of terror and of mourning in at least ten families of Grand Rapids, Detroit and Kent county. Nearly 50,000 came to Highland Park oval to celebrate National Independence Day. At the first streak of dawn there was a lowering sky over Lake Michigan that in the early morning broke into a veritable hurricane, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain. The sky soon cleared but a stiff wind from the northwest increasing, it seemed, every minute, soon lashed the waters of Lake Michigan into a churning, seething rolling mass and when the Fourth of July celebrations came, combers rolled in on the oval beach at least 15 feet high at times.

The lake looked forbidding indeed and to those who live on the lake shore it was a well known fact that the big lake was in its most treacherous mood but there were thousands from inland who, it appears, were not familiar with the dangers that an angry Lake Michigan carries with it. But the result was that ten persons, some while bathing ventured out too far and the treacherous undertow dragged them out from the beaches into whirlpools of turning, foaming water against which even the most expert swimmer could not cope.

Despite warning of the dangers of the sea which continued running after the morning rain, vacationists ventured into the water where they were tossed about dangerously by the huge waves and then, weary from the battle, many were pulled under to their death by the mighty suction. A dozen or more were saved, after much work by rescue boats and lifeguards when the waters had been cheated of their prey.

Among the ten drowned was Miss Mildred Fifield, 16 years old, living in Grand Rapids, who was walking on the lighthouse pier when an unusually heavy breaker swept entirely over the pier, dragging her into Lake Michigan where her body was later recovered.

Those who were drowned were: Miss Mildred Fifield, age 16, Julius Tisch, age 20, Leonard Kellogg, age 20, Frank Petrowski, age 40, Walter Schwartz, age 19, John Giddings, age 21, all of Grand Rapids, Robert Schindler, age 20, Alpine township, Kent county, Carl Rohloff, age 21, Walker township, and Rudolph Pitulak, age 22, and Erwin Pitulak, age 17, both of Detroit.

Of the ten drowned on July 4 one are now missing. The last to be recovered was Erwin Pitulak, brother of Rudolph Pitulak, whose body was found two days before. The body was discovered by H. Ponstein, fisherman, in shallow water just off the beach about four miles north of the Grand Haven piers. It is believed to have been caught in one of the pound nets and held fast until Tuesday night, when a strong north wind may have freed it and washed it toward shore.

United States Engineer L. W. Goddard gives some conception of the power of Lake Michigan waves when he says: "The big lake is like a water bottle. Pressure at one point may force up the level at some other point. A low atmospheric pressure or a heavy wind may do this. The waves themselves have a tremendous power."

"Most accidents occur to those unfamiliar with the lake, who take chances which would be avoided by experienced persons," he said. Mr. Goddard stated he did not believe the general high lake levels this year had any particular bearing on the matter. He recalled several incidents where lake waves or undertows had taken lives in past years, showing that even experienced men sometimes were caught unaware.

Soon after the tragedy Coroner Van Zantwick called for a coroner's jury, who Monday rendered a verdict as follows: "After due deliberation we find that Rudolph Pitulak came to his death by accidental drowning on July 4 in Lake Michigan just off the state park oval at Grand Haven."

"We further find that the caretaker at the park and his assistants and lifeguards on duty did all in their power by warning of the dangers of going in bathing on account of the high seas running and the dangerous undertow."

While making no written recommendations relative to remedial steps which might be taken by officials to prevent recurrence of the catastrophe, jurors unhesitatingly voiced approval of future plans of William H. Loutit, Grand Haven, chairman of the state conservation commission; P. H. Hoffmaster of Lansing, state superintendent of park, and Capt. William Preston of the U. S. Coast Guard station which were presented in informal, open discussion to jurors, witnesses and spectators.

The coroner's jury was composed of the following Grand Haven men: John J. Bolt, Edward F. Moll, John W. Verhockes, A. W. Elliott, E. Lyman and A. W. Koolman. Capt. Preston of the coast guard estimated that bodies found Monday were from 1,000 to 1,500 feet from where they went down.

Watchers on the pier saw the body of Pitulak floating on the beach side of the south pier near the end of the pier and notified coast guard men, who went out and it in about 9:30.

The body of Giddings was washed so near the shore at a point between the pier and the oval that guardsmen waded in and brought it ashore. The bodies were said to show no bruises or other marks. Never in the history of Lake Michigan has the undertow been as treacherous as this season, especially to those unfamiliar with the undertow.

SECOND TRAGEDY IN FIFIELD FAMILY

Death has taken toll in the Fifield family during the year. Miss Mildred Fifield, age 16, was swept from the pier at Grand Haven into Lake Michigan and was drowned on July 4, and her father, Charles E. Fifield, foreman of the Consumers Power Co., was electrocuted last September. The widow and mother, Mrs. Margaretta E. Fifield, and one daughter, June, eight years old, survive.

The coroner's jury was composed of the following Grand Haven men: John J. Bolt, Edward F. Moll, John W. Verhockes, A. W. Elliott, E. Lyman and A. W. Koolman. Capt. Preston of the coast guard estimated that bodies found Monday were from 1,000 to 1,500 feet from where they went down.

Never in the history of Lake Michigan has the undertow been as treacherous as this season, especially to those unfamiliar with the undertow.

Always dangerous, when a sea is rolling, the undertow today has taken on increased dangers due to the high waters, and the tricks that it has played with the waves bottom. Calm today the lake is inviting to even the most timid swimmer, but tomorrow with a sea rolling it carries hidden dangers even to an experienced swimmer who is unfamiliar with the undertow.

But every day, and especially Sunday and holidays, hundreds visit lake Michigan who are unfamiliar with the lake. They know nothing of the undertow. They wade or swim out and finally the undertow catches them and they go down or are swept far out from shore. Once in the grip of the undertow fright adds to their dangers.

The undertow is the backwash of the sea after it strikes the shore. Watching and backing the waves as they roll toward the shore, the inexperienced swimmer pays little attention to the undertow which catches him unexpectedly and knocks him off his feet. But that is not all. Those familiar with the lake say that the high water and the storms have resulted in treacherous holes being found near shore. They are new formations which only add to the dangers of those unexperienced with the ways of Lake Michigan.

But the waters look so inviting and so safe that frequently even a warning from officials, guards and others carries no great weight with the bathers. Then they are caught in the undertow and frequently carried to their death, as was the case at Grand Haven July 4.

Out of his experience as a coast guardman at Cape Cod on the Atlantic coast, where undertows such as sucked 10 young persons to their deaths in the waters of Lake Michigan here Thursday are the rule, and not the exception, W. M. Wolff, of Grand Haven, commander of the 10th district United States Coast guard suggests that numerous life preservers, with 300 feet of rope attached, might prevent a recurrence of such a tragedy.

"There were many times during my period of service on the Atlantic ocean when it was impossible to launch a boat to rescue work," Capt. Wolff said. "The surf would be running high and a strong undertow would sometimes carry the swimmers out into the ocean."

"It was then that the guards would jump into the life preservers and be carried out into the sea. Two or three swimmers would grab onto the life preservers and then all would be pulled back to shore by means of the rope. This action would be repeated until all had been saved," he said.

Capt. Wolff said that he had not much experience with the undertow of Lake Michigan but believed the method might have been employed to save lives Thursday.

"Residents of the eastern states, especially along the seaboard respect big resort hotels' post warnings on the power of the ocean's undertow," the captain said today. "Many of the days when the coast guard advises against swimming and rarely do they indulge in the pastime in the face of this advice."

"Here it seems different. It is evident that the people of the midwest do not understand the work and purpose of the coast guard as well."

Commander Wolff re-affirmed his belief today in the ability of Captain Preston of the Grand Haven coast guard to cope with any water disasters which come under his jurisdiction.

"There isn't an officer in the entire 10th district who is better qualified to handle such cases than is Capt. Preston. You can rest assured that he did everything possible Thursday. He is fearless and would gladly dive into any water anytime to save a life. Prompt service by his men saved the lives of the three men who were swept into the channel. In the case of the girl, his men had no chance. She was swept from the pier and was not seen again until her body was recovered."

Worst Tragedy Since Going Down Of Alpena

THEN 82 PERSONS PERISHED
WHEN BIG SIDE WHEELER
WENT DOWN OFF THIS PORT

Not since 1880 when the steamer Alpena went down between Grand Haven and Holland has this city witnessed such a tragic occurrence as was enacted on the beach of Grand Haven state park Thursday. Eighty-two persons, including the crew and all of the passengers, went down with the Alpena on Oct. 16-1880. The boat had left Grand Haven harbor the night before, never to be seen or heard of again except through the evidence of the human and material wreckage which was strewn along the shore.

Seven years before that, on Sept. 16, 1873, another terrible lake tragedy was enacted out beyond the Grand Haven piers when the steamer Ironside, succumbed to the lashings of the storm and went down within sight of the hundreds who lined the shores.

This boat, with a crew of 33 and 19 passengers, had left Milwaukee on Sunday night, Sept. 15. The next morning at 7 a.m. it appeared off the Grand Haven harbor. So high was the sea that it made no attempt to enter the comparatively narrow mouth of the Grand river but waited outside for the wind to subside. At 10 o'clock, the smoke no longer came from the stacks and at 11 o'clock the life boats began to be lowered into the turbulent seas.

Some of these lifeboat passengers reached the shore but most of them did not. Most of the crew and passengers went to watery graves, their bodies never to be seen again.

These were boat disasters. They are hardly comparable with the tragedy Thursday which occurred too close to the beach yet it was the same angry waters that precipitated it all. Man through his inventive genius has conquered most of the elements but every now and then, through tragedies such as are described above, he finds that a power, much greater than his own, controls the waters of the sea, the bowels of the earth and the winds of the air.

Seeing in the Gazette a note that an ancestor of Fred M. Moore fought with the states in the Revolutionary war, Geo. Terry of Jackson, formerly of Allegan, said: "I can best the best. Both of my grandfathers fought in the war of 1812, one on one side, the other on the other side." This gives Mr. Terry a good record on both sides of the Atlantic. — Allegan Gazette.

HAMILTON OIL WELL IS OF INTEREST TO PEOPLE

Allegan Gazette.—After encountering a number of difficulties on the start the oil drillers on the Hamilton farm near Chicago now seem to be making fair progress, having attained a depth of about eight hundred feet up to early Tuesday evening.

The first obstacle met by them was quicksand when they started to drive a well for their water supply. This so interfered that they were unable to get enough water and had to send to Grand Rapids for pipe which they used to lay to a creek of several hundred feet distance from which they pumped water for a time. They next encountered a large rock which they were unable to penetrate owing to the fact that they were not squarely on the top of same but to one edge, and slid off. After going down beyond this they found that their pipe to a perpendicular position, but were going down at an angle. This necessitated the pulling up their outfit and moving the entire rig a short distance to a new location.

No sooner had they started to drill in this new location than the creek went dry, and it was necessary to have Frank Weber sink a well for them for their water supply. Again they started drilling, when they encountered more quicksand, which necessitated their driving their casing 22 feet. This required from thirty-five to forty strokes for each inch of gain.

The drilling is now progressing and each night, two crews of two men each, working twelve-hour shifts, changing crews at noon and midnight. These men are all experienced oil drillers, having worked in the Muskegon field before coming to Allegan.

Seems Macatawa is Coming Back; Is Very Active

BOATING AND BUILDING CAMPAIGN OPENS SEASON'S WORK

From many sources are heard the vague whispers that Boating as a year-around sport is staging a strong comeback. In all fields of this ancient and honorable pastime one may now see plain evidences of its popularity. Cabin Cruisers are becoming plentiful, as are also the graceful and dashing sailboats. Last season saw an extensive entertainment along this line at Macatawa. This year will witness a similar program, according to present preparations on the part of the local association and of the Chicago Yacht Clubs.

In the latter part of July the Chicago Motor-Boat Club plans to send up about fifty power boats. Events in the nature of a Regatta will be planned for their entertainment. In August the Chicago Yacht Club will arrange for races here among her sailing enthusiasts. These races have become such an annual event that the summer would not be complete for the local resorters if they were not staged.

Last week Macatawa was busy with a convention at the Hotel, of the Guarantee Life Insurance Co., of Davenport, Iowa. Mr. J. E. Walker, their Iowa State president, was in charge.

REV. HOEKSEMA ON A TRIP TO NETHERLANDS

New Holland Church Holds First Service Sunday

The first services of a newly organized church were held Sunday. It is called the Protestant Reformed church and was founded in Holland Wednesday, July 3.

The church is one of the denomination founded by Rev. Henry Hoeksema, a former pastor of the 14th Street Christian Reformed church, Holland. It has secured a temporary location in a store building at 9 East 16th street and services were held at 10 and 7:30 o'clock Sunday. Leonard Vermeer, a candidate for the ministry, is the preacher for the present. He is a student of Rev. Hoeksema in Grand Rapids.

There are more churches of the new denomination than there are pastors to fill the pulpits, a leader in the new church said today. For that reason it probably will be necessary for the time being to supply the pulpits of the Holland church with students of Rev. Hoeksema.

A regular church organization has been effected, with two elders and two deacons. P. Bareman and D. A. Klomprens are the elders and Peter Schipper and Henry DeGoede are deacons. The church plans to erect a permanent building after the organization has been completed and a regular pastor has been called.

The new church is described by local leaders as similar to the Christian Reformed church.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelley of Fenton, Brazil, South America, who have been visiting with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Vander Veen, have gone to San Francisco, Calif., where they will make their future home.

DAILY AIRPLANE DELIVERY TO SAUGATUCK

The Chicago Daily News Bellanca monoplane made its first appearance at Saugatuck carrying late news and market edition of the Chicago Daily News. This is a daily service rendered during summer months, to residents and resorters of lake shore towns. Landing is made at Benton Harbor, South Haven and Saugatuck.

RURAL CARRIERS HOLD MEETING IN ALLEGAN

The annual business meeting of the Allegan County Rural Carriers association was held in Allegan last Saturday. A pot-luck supper was enjoyed and officers were elected as follows: President, Mr. Maud of Plainville, re-elected; secretary and treasurer, Clarence White of Bravo. The Ladies' Auxiliary chose Mrs. Ina White of Bravo as president and Mrs. Jeanette Kooker of Hamilton as secretary-treasurer. OTTAWA COUNTY FARMER IS FINED FOR SELLING POISONED MILK

That milk cans should be used for milk only was impressed upon Harm Sietsema, a dairy farmer near Allendale. Sietsema was fined $25 for selling milk containing arsenate of lead.

This negligence was discovered at the receiving plant and the milk dumped in the sewer. Sietsema's explanation was that he had forgotten to remove the arsenate of lead after returning from the field where the can had been used in spraying work.

T. H. Broughton, director of the bureau of dairying, state department of agriculture, was in charge of the prosecution.

TO ALLEGAN COUNTY BEEKEEPERS

The next demonstration meeting for Allegan county beekeepers will be held at the F. R. Atwood farm, three miles northwest of Fennville at 9:30 a. m. on the forenoon of Friday, July 19th. At this meeting Mr. J. C. Kremer, Extension Specialist in Apiculture will give a demonstration in re-queening a colony of bees.

SOUTH BLENDON CHURCH CALLS WISCONSIN PASTOR

The Reformed church at South Blendon has extended a call to Rev. John Wolterink of Baldwin, Wis., to fill the vacancy left by Rev. John Vander Beek, now pastor of Sixth Reformed church, Holland. The South Blendon church has been without a regular pastor since May.

Rev. J. Minnema of Vriesland Reformed church has received a call from the Reformed church at North Holland, which has been without a pastor since this spring when Rev. Arthur Maatman accepted the call to become pastor of Ninth Reformed church, Grand Rapids.

The cards are to be attached to the bags which the local chapter packs each year for the men in the insular service in the old corners of the world.

Ottawa county will pack 70 of the bags, 40 of which are to be furnished by South Ottawa county. The name of the Ottawa County Red Cross will be printed on the back of the cards. The bags are to be at San Francisco by the first of September.

BOYS ON PROBATION HERE GET SIMILAR TERM IN HOLLAND

Cleon Miner, 15, and Allen Goniwell, 17, of Allegan, who went their way into the clemency of probation when they were arraigned in circuit court here on charges of breaking and entering an oil station at Corin last week Tuesday were placed on another year's probation in court at Holland, where they admitted breaking into a garage and carrying away various things.

Because Goniwell has no parents and Miner only a hardworking mother and since they had not been in trouble before the court was lenient. A set of burglar tools, a pistol and a revolver were taken from the Miner boy by Deputy Sheriff Martin King.

PLANTS DISTRIBUTED AS HOLLAND'S GIFTS

The annual free distribution of plants was set for Saturday morning and many persons took advantage of the occasion to beautify their gardens without expense. The plants were raised in hotbeds in the city's greenhouses and represented the surplus after the beds in the city parks had been filled. About 30,000 plants, representing eight or more varieties, were passed out by Park Commissioner John Van Bragt.

WAS GRAVE DIGGER FOR 42 YEARS

John Plasman of Overisel village, now seventy-eight years old, has for forty-two years been sexton of the town's cemetery. He began with salary of $100 per year which was gradually advanced to $300. One of his duties was to ring the church bell three times daily to indicate time. So he reckons that he has rung it 45,933 times. In all that time he was absent from duty only about twenty days and that because of sickness.

PROPOSED STADIUM FOR HOLLAND HIGH RECEIVES SETBACK

The proposed stadium for Holland high school received a setback when the city council voted against closing 23d street, as was requested by the board of education.

The board of education planned to use the two blocks belonging to the school board as the location of the new athletic field and stadium, it being a piece of property already paid for and one of the few available plots of ground left within reasonable distance of the high school.

The formal request was made to the council and soon afterwards a petition signed by a number of the property owners in that vicinity protested, saying it would hurt the property value and be undesirable in a residence district. The vote stood 9 against 2 on the project.

Objections have been raised to the suggestion that the new proposed stadium be built on 6th street west of the city power plant because of its proximity to the sewage disposal plant and the cost of draining the low grounds. Just what the next move will be remains to be seen. The Holland Metropolitan club is backing the stadium together with many leading citizens and high school athletic organizations.

EZEKIEL TEACHES PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 22:1-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Every one of us shall give an account of himself to God.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Ezekiel's Message of Warning.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ezekiel's Message of Warning.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Does God Take Note of My Life?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Individual Accountability to God.

I. Ezekiel's Responsibility (vv. 1-9).

The commission of the prophet is now renewed. Hitherto his utterances were mainly of a threatening character, having as their objective the turning of the people from their wicked ways. They refused to heed the prophet's words, the result of which was the falling of God's judgment upon them in their complete captivity and the destruction of Jerusalem. When it became clear that the people would not heed God's warnings through the prophet, the prophet was to be silent—dumb. This tragic situation was portrayed through the death of Ezekiel's wife. Awful as this blow was, he was to desist from weeping, showing that even natural sorrow was not to be expressed at the time of God's awful judgment.

After the renewal of the prophet's commission, his messages were mainly consolatory. His responsibility is set forth under the figure of a watchman. God gave him this position. Every minister and every Sunday school teacher is a watchman. Indeed, upon every believer has been imposed certain responsibilities. Every disciple of Christ is a warning to sinners. Two things are required of a watchman.

1. To hear the word at God's mouth (v. 7).
The source of the message of every minister and Sunday school teacher is God's Holy Word. As the prophet did not originate his message, but received it at God's mouth, so should it be with every minister.

2. To sound the warning (v. 7).
After hearing God's message he was to proclaim it to the people. The watchman's duty is both to hear and to speak. The people are to be warned of the impending danger. Failure to sound the alarm makes the watchman guilty of the blood of the sinner (v. 8). After the warning is sounded the sinner carries his own guilt (v. 9).

II. God's Attitude Toward the Sinner (vv. 10-11).

God has declared in His Word that unfaithfulness on the part of His people would cause them to "perish among the heathen," that they would "plunge away in their iniquity" (Lev. 23:38, 39).

In view of this pronouncement, some were disposed to say that their case was hopeless. To meet this attitude of despair, the prophet assured them God had no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that His sincere desire was for the wicked to turn from his way and live. Regardless of what their past had been He assured them that the future was bright, but God's command and plea is, "Turn ye from your evil ways, for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" No one need despair because of sin, for God's grace is greater than human sin.

III. The Sinner's Personal Responsibility (vv. 12-20).
God has created the members of the race as volitional beings, possessing freedom of choice. They have moral discernment, enabling them to distinguish between right and wrong. The following principles govern the sinner and the watchman:

1. Past righteousness will not avail for present sins (v. 12).

When a righteous man turns to do iniquity, his past seeming righteousness will be of no avail.

2. Past sins do not make impossible present acceptance with God (vv. 12-14).

By virtue of the law of habit, every sinful act makes it harder for the sinner to repent, but God's mercy and enabling grace are that if the sinner repents, God will forgive and restore.

3. Restitution required (vv. 15, 16).

The proof of penitence is that so far as possible the sinner make amends for wrongs done. There is no merit in the act of restitution, but such act helps the individual to overcome his besetting sin.

4. God's ways are equal (vv. 17, 20).

God holds man responsible for his own deeds. The child is not condemned because of the deeds of its father. This does not do away with the law of heredity. Regardless of what one's past has been God's grace in Jesus Christ blots out his record and he stands accepted in the Beloved.
