County Roads All Inspected By New Head

COMMISSIONER VER DUIN
MAKES TOUR TO DETER-MINE NECESSARY WORK TO BE DONE.

William Ver Duin, new county road commissioner, in company with Carl Bowen, county engineer, toured 177 miles of county and township roads yesterday in order that the new commissioner might get accurate knowledge of the projects and maintenance work which is being carried on by the local commission.

Among the projects pointed to were the retread work in many of the villages including Conklin, Coopersville, Marne, Lamont, Forest Grove, Eastmanville, Zeeland and Waukegan.

The gravel pits were visited and Tunnel park on Lake Michigan. The county is maintaining 460 miles of township roads with improvement limited to sections where there are poor roads leading to small communities. The road commission is staying well within the appropriations for this service and if there is any balance left at the end of the season, further improvements will be made.

Due to the lack of funds the scraping on the county roads has been reduced about 60 per cent; the county is unable to cut brush and weeds at the roadsides; there is no money for dust laying and all of the funds are being used for highways that are the most heavily traveled.

The grading projects viewed were the extension of the Lake-west road between US-31 and M-21 and the Bauer-Allen road. William Connelly, who resigned his post from the commission, recently, will continue to be in the office until the end of this week, he stated today. He was retained two weeks by the board of supervisors to complete work on the refunding plan for general and covert road bonds.

STARTED RAILROADING IN HOLLAND AS TICKET AGENT

The Grand Rapids newspapers have made a great deal of the fiftieth anniversary of George Hunt's service as a railroad man, and the official and dignitaries of the Pere Marquette railroad gave a dinner in his honor in recognition of his fifty years of service. The spread was an elaborate one held at the Peninsula club.

Grand Rapids papers give a long list of names of those in attendance, including E. B. Rich, Holland agent, and W. T. Evans, general agent, also of Holland. Men were present from different parts of the country to honor Holland's George. George first started in the railroading business in Holland in 1883 as a young man. That was when the depot was still between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Your editor remembers one thing about George. He was the best dresser in Holland in those early days. His custom here was Charles Thew, who later became an attorney, who settled in Allegan. Both men, generally seen in fact so much so that they attracted the attention of the citizenry in those days. Even to this day George keeps up this correct dress, however, today a cane is added.

When Mr. Hunt started as a ticket agent here was the Chicago and West Michigan road, later the Pere Marquette. He married a Holland girl, Miss Kate Herold, a very attractive young lady, who lived on Graves Place. The Herold family was one of the oldest in the city and their large home was the center of society in the earlier days. Mr. Herold conducted a shoe store in a wooden building across from where Warm Friend Tavern is now located. The Herold family has been largely connected with the shoe and leather industry in Holland, Grand Rapids and the south.

For many years the Hunt family lived on East Fourteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt have two daughters and one son. All attended and graduated from our public schools and Harold at one time was mayor of the student body and received exceptional honors in oratory. Today he is superintendent of the St. John, Michigan, schools and a high official in the Rotary club of Michigan.

Mr. Hunt was born in New York and at the age of 5 moved with his parents to Allegan, where he graduated from the high school. He married Miss Herold in 1890 in Holland. The affair was an elaborate one.

Mr. Hunt was the company's first agent at Traverse City. Later he served in various freight traffic positions and 13 years ago became the Chicago-Petoskey division freight agent with offices in Grand Rapids. His first job with the road was at Holland in 1883.

At the dinner at Grand Rapids a sizable purse was presented Mr. Hunt by R. P. Patterson, freight traffic manager, of Detroit. Lee Wood, chief clerk of division freight agent's office, offered on behalf of the office staff a basket of mixed flowers.

Telegrams of tribute were received from friends in all parts of the country, including many prominent railroad men. Mr. Hunt expressed his appreciation of the banquet and gifts, and spoke briefly of his various experiences as freight agent in Grand Rapids. He does not expect to retire for many years, he said.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Beeve of Holland road No. 7, on July 11, a son, Alvin Jay.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY— BUY NOW

The man with money can make money right now. He cannot make as much money today as he could a month ago. However, if he buys now he will be able to get considerably more for his money than he will either one month, two months or three months hence. If ever there was a time to spend for the necessities of life, that time is now. A person who cannot see the rising market from week to week must have poor business judgment or is blind to it all.

Your dollar still has wonderful purchasing power. If you have money it is good advice to buy now while you can get merchandise about as cheap as at any time in the history of the nation.

We should like to bring a thought to citizens of Holland and vicinity—Buy in Holland if you believe in this beautiful city. Every dollar spent at home means a dollar that builds at home. Holland merchants have everything any other city has and you do not have to travel afar to see the merchandise you contemplate buying. You are dealing with merchants whom you know; their establishments are right here; you have a chance for a come-back should there be one and you will find courteous adjustments on that score.

If you have money look about you and see what your most urgent needs are. Tabulate your necessities in home and home surroundings, in offices, in shops and factories, in wearing apparel and other personal needs.

Now is the time to buy for now is the time to save and that is going to be true whether you buy a garden rake, a piece of furniture or an automobile. Do not buy foolishly but buy methodically, having in mind those items you have been wishing for and know you will need in the near future.

We know and feel that there will be a brighter complex in Holland's business, commercial and industrial skies, soon, knowing of some certain developments that cannot be given publicity at this time. But that is aside from the question. Selfishly speaking "Now is the time to buy" and by so doing you help Holland, you help industry, you help credit and you help yourselves.

Holland's foundation is solid. Together we have the background of the greatest little city in Michigan if we only use our heads, eliminate jealousy, and make use of the resources and tools we have on hand.

Let's not be individualists but work co-operatively, largely effacing our direct personal interests.

Let's believe in Holland. That means, let's believe in ourselves.

ZEELAND BOYS EARN $1,011 ON FARM PROJECTS

The various projects completed thus far this year by the boys of the Zeeland High school under the Smith-Hughes agricultural department have netted more than $1,000 income.

Fifteen boys completed 23 projects, including cucumbers, gardens, fruits, alfalfa, celery, poultry and hatching eggs. The total cost of the projects was $2,210.43. The income, besides labor, was $3,118.03. The boys paid themselves $103.95, leaving a total project income of $1,011.56. The average income of each pupil for his project was $67.43. The average time spent by each pupil was 118 hours, making the earning power of each student 57 cents an hour. Besides the projects already completed twenty others are being carried out by 17 pupils this summer. The local school receives $500 federal aid and $295 state aid in connection with the operation of a Smith-Hughes department. Otto Pino is the instructor in the agricultural department.

SPRING LAKE COUNTRY CLUB ADDS 32 MEMBERS

There were 32 new members added to the Spring Lake Country club this spring, it was reported at the meeting of the board of governors last night. The dues were decreased to $25 with no initiation fees and the green fees have been reduced to 75 cents per day, any day in the week with 50c for those playing any day after 4 p. m.

The financial statement of the club was read and discussed and the directors were well pleased with the report. Club expense has been reduced commensurate with the revenue and the club is not embarrassed in any way. The directors have made great efforts to keep the standards of the course up to par. The number of outsiders playing there this year is indicative of the good condition of the greens and fairways.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND NATIONAL W.C.T.U. MEET

Mrs. Margaret Markham and Mrs. E. J. Leddick represented the local W. C. T. U. at the fifty-fifth annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union held recently in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Markham stated that the organization would continue its fight against liquor.

A splendid address was given at the convention by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, retiring national president.

News Story Bring Memories of Old Holland Interurban

Daughter of Railroad Builder Honored

Miss Margaret Humphrey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Humphrey of Ironwood, Mich., has received the degree of master of arts June 6 at Columbia university, New York. Miss Humphrey's father, who now practices law in Ironwood, was a former Allegan resident. Her grandfather was Probate Judge Humphrey who served in Allegan county many years ago.

Miss Humphrey attended the Ironwood public schools, graduating from the Luther L. Wright high school and later from Ward-Belmont at Nashville, Tenn. She received her bachelors degree at the University of Wisconsin and then taught for three years in the domestic science department at the Luther L. Wright high school. She has been elected to the faculty of Cornell university for the coming year.

The Humphreys were very closely identified with Holland. Charles Humphrey secured the first interurban franchise between Holland, Macatawa and Saugatuck, built the road and called it the Holland and Lake Michigan. Later the road was built to Zeeland, then through to Grand Rapids. Judge Humphrey built the large residence on the south side of Macatawa drive near Sunny Crest school for girls near Lugers Crossing.

The Holland Interurban was one of the best assets the city had. Headquarters were here; the car shops were just west of the city, and through this means of transportation hundreds of picnics were brought to this vicinity. Upward of 60 families were brought to Holland, who found employment on the road and the Holland Interurban was one of the largest taxpayers the city had on its books.

Then entered the auto-exit interurban — junk!

In connection with this story it is not out of place to show the first Holland interurban car to take passengers to Macatawa on July 4, 1898.

The immaculately dressed gentleman in the foreground is Charles Humphrey of Ironwood, Michigan, who was the promoter of the road. The conductor hanging on at the front is Henry Zwemer, today a local garage man. The man with his arms folded, wearing a white cap and sitting at ease is Henry Kraker. The three ladies standing to the right of Mr. Zwemer are the Rooks sisters of Zeeland. They were former bookkeepers at Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. The third lady is Mrs. Dick Boonstra of Zeeland.

The motorman on the second car is Ed Westfall and the conductor is Peter Steketee. The baby in arms is James Humphrey Mills, son of Harry Mills of this city. The youngster is well protected in the arms of an eastern capitalist, Mr. Cochran, who helped finance the road. The baby is now an accountant with the General Motors Company. The motorman on the first car is Mike Lessel-young.

With the reorganization of the road a few years later Jack Busby and Strathairn Henry of Detroit became the heads of the organization and Charles Floyd, who at one time was office boy, later became superintendent of the line.

Harry Mills of Holland installed the first power house machinery at Virginia Park, which today has been turned into a Community hall. Our present city inspector, Henry Bosch, and your editor were among those who made the trial run on the first car to go out the night before this picture was taken.

Did You Notice and Why?

Warm Friend Tavern is somewhat of a managerie. You would hardly think so by looking at it, but you glance sharply at the Dutch ornate decorations at the front porch and you will see what appears like two bears standing on their hind legs. These are not bears but two wolverines. Well, that is the extent of the zoo at the Tavern.

To look for the oldest house in the city would be like looking for a needle in the haystack. Well, we will tell you where it is. You follow West Seventh Street straight on through the swamp until you get to the West Michigan Furniture factory warehouses. You cannot miss it — a very old little hut surrounded by a high fence, a creaking gate but with a well kept vegetable garden. For the past 50 years Gerit Hesselink has lived in it. The house is at least 80 years old and looks it. Some 8 years ago the oldest house burned on East Eighth Street. It was just across from Klomprens Coal Co., where "Andy Klomp" has his offices. It was the clearing house for the Hollanders who "klomped in fresh or green from the Netherlands." Most of them were assigned to farms from that house.

DISCONTINUE TUITION

The voters of the Peach Plains school, district No. 1, voted to discontinue the payment of tuition for students wishing to attend high school. There will be a nine months' school year. The officers of the school board were reduced 50 per cent in salaries. A. P. Schultz was elected director. There were forty present at the school meeting.

City Inspector Henry S. Bosch has issued a warning against poison ivy which is prevalent along the sides of Twenty-fourth street near the W. E. Dunn Manufacturing company. Warning signs have been placed along these places designating them as dangerous.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Ottawa county circuit court jurors on this vicinity were Peter Slooter, Holland; J. Witterdink, Jr., Holland township; T. M. Webster, Olive; Martin Elzinga, Zeeland; Grand Haven had one woman juror, Ruth Browner — so you see "there is nothing new under the sun."

At least 5,000 pounds of fish were caught in Black Lake Friday and Saturday. The fish were mostly large lake perch and "lake herrings." Large strings of sunfish and bass were caught in "Pine Bay" near "Point Superior." Note: How the writer got the weight of those fish seems rather "fishy." However, there were many fish caught in those days, the yellow bellied, broad "sunfish" being about the most common at this end of the lake, especially near the river's mouth and the log boom between Puggers mill — the site of the West Michigan Furniture factory — and Joe Fixer's stove mill — now the site of the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. Today this sewer and silt filled sink hole has killed all fish life at the head of the lake.

But for the prompt action of a brave young girl last Monday any other conflagration. The large square house on the corner of 12th and Maple Sts., known as the Jan Trimpe home, was discovered to be on fire on the roof. Miss Maggie Pluggier, who lives next door, saw the flames and instead of giving an alarm, she hastened to place a ladder in position against the house and with a pail of water she ascended to the roof and extinguished the fire before much damage was done. A wind storm broke shortly after Miss Pluggier had made this perilous climb and undoubtedly prevented what might have turned out to be a fire of considerable magnitude. The News wishes to state that praise is due the young woman for her prompt and very commendable action. Note: Miss Pluggier was the daughter of one of our pioneer manufacturers and merchants. He conducted the Pluggier saw and flour mills, together with the company's store. Miss Pluggier later became the wife of George P. Hummer, then a superintendent in Holland's schools. Later he built in West Michigan Furniture factory and became manager. Mr. Hummer was both alderman and mayor of Holland some years ago. Mrs. Charles Kirchen, West 12th St., is a daughter and Mrs. Fred Pantlind of Grand Rapids was the oldest daughter. Maple St. is mentioned — in those days there were no avenues. About 20 years ago the streets east and west remained narrow, but those running north and south were designated as avenues. The item mentions that Miss Pluggier did not turn in an alarm — that was impossible for she would have been compelled to run "cross lots" to the fire engine house at the northwest corner of Centennial park and ring the fire bell, the long "bell-cord" always being available on the outside. The owners of nearly every house in the city had a home-made ladder standing against the house, generally in the rear obscured. Business places, too, were so provided. These were about as common as picket fences. The ladders were a sort of "first aid" in case of fire.

HEARING FOR TWO DRIVERS TO BE HELD TODAY

A representative of the state department of public safety will conduct a hearing at the local police headquarters this Friday morning to determine whether automobile driving permits of P. A. Brinkman, who resides on Graafschap road near Holland, and Mrs. Driy, "Holland," should be revoked. Brinkman faces a charge of leaving the scene of an accident in connection with a mishap in which two children were struck by a car here in May and is scheduled to appear at the September term of circuit court.

Mrs. Driy, who was brought to the attention of police when she fainted while walking on Eighth street this spring, is believed to be subject to recurrences of such spells and the hearing is merely to determine her condition and the advisability of permitting her to operate an automobile. Chief of Police Peter A. Lievense explained.

SHIPS 20,000 WORMS ON A SINGLE ORDER

Apparently California is not the only state in which the raising of bait worms has proved a remunerative undertaking and one which finds a wide outlet for its product. Charles Welborn, Jr., of Arlington, Kan., has developed the raising of worms for bait into a big industry. Welborn supplies bait companies from coast to coast and has shipped at many as 20,000 worms on a single order.

Holland Elects Good Citizens On School Board

FORMER MAYOR RECEIVES
HIGHEST NUMBER OF VOTES; WILLIAM
ARENDHORST IS RE-ELECTED

Although the school election Monday was not fraught with any excitement, the vote indicates that there was a great deal of interest with 1,569 votes cast at the polls in the city hall, which was one less than last year.

Ten candidates were qualified and their names appeared upon the ballot. Of these ten former Mayor Ernest C. Brooks received the highest number of votes, namely 594. William Arendshorst, the only retiring candidate to run again, received 576 and John Orlert, local grocer, received 562.

There were three candidates from local colleges, namely Prof. Egbert Winter, Prof. Albert E. Lampen of Hope college and Prof. John R. Mulder of the Western Theological seminary.

R. P. Leestma was a former school teacher, and at one time a candidate for county school commission. Peter J. Zalsman, who failed to secure the election, was a protégé of the Taxpayers' league, Chester Van Tongeren is the maker of those wonderful Dutch toys so prominent at Tulp Time.

On the whole nearly every man was well qualified and the men chosen are especially well fitted to serve on Holland's school board. The result of the election follows:

Ernest C. Brooks 594, William Arendshorst 576, John Orlert 562, John R. Mulder 552, Ren P. Leestma 501, Albert E. Lampen 479, P. J. Zalsman 471, Russell Burton 452, Egbert Winter 238, Chester Van Tongeren 153, Blank 129.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Visser and son, Frank, are spending the week-end in Chicago.

under the age of 13 years. He also ordered the arrest of any one caught placing torpedos or explosives on Holland interurbans since the mayor took drastic steps since so many accidents had occurred on previous Independence Day celebration. The practice of explosives on tracks was a bad practice here, often causing women passengers to faint. Sometimes the tracks were covered with powder for half a block and the detonation when an electric car "touched it off" was terrific.

Miss Georgia Sullivan, age 12, was drowned at the foot of 16th St. near the "flea houses." She and her twin sister and Nellie Tubbergen were bathing and the little one stepped into a hole and sank from sight. John Wendel, "Sammy" Ming, Nick Whelan and Ben Mulder started to dive for the body but were unsuccessful since the little girl was found later in about 16 feet of water and some distance from the spot where she had sank. Holland life savers came from the station but Vander Bee and Al Finch with grappling hooks brought the body to the surface after three hours of effort.

Johannes De Kooyer, well known farmer, was struck and instantly killed by a "flyer" of the Holland interurban "flyer" at the station where Harry Vis, Peter Konolje and John Butler of Zeeland, who told DeKooyer the car was a limited and did not stop but the man continued to remain on the track to wave and it meant his death. The car hurled the man through the air, his body striking the "way station," breaking several heavy boards in the sides of the building.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Private Louis B. Dalman writes a letter from Camp Meigs, Washington, D. C. He tells of hard training and drilling and courses of study preparatory to being sent across to France. Note: Louis has gone through the several offices of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion, and is now the commander. Esther Fortune also writes an interesting letter from France to her mother. Earl Niven-son to his sister Alta.

The Holland City News devotes a half column to the marriage of Miss Hazel Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Clements of Holland, to Dr. Paul H. Isherwood of Chicago, Ill., with Rev. John E. Kuizenga officiating. Frank De Moen Kleinhekel sang immediately after the ceremony "in his usual artistic way." The wedding march was played by Miss Edna Clark. The bride — the article states — "was most attractive in her traveling suit of navy blue and a smart hat of tan and taupe straw. She carried a most gorgeous bouquet of pink Killarney roses and white swansons bordered with maiden hair fern."

Andrew Klomprens, the swift representative of the Holland Furnace Co., was going after new furnace prospects so fast that speed cut Bontekoe put a crimp in his energy. Usual fine.

Klaas Prins, who was employed at the Du Me store for the last 16 years, has taken a position with the P. B. Borer Clothing Co. He was the window trimmer at Du Me. Note: Klaas is still at "Dick's" store and can be called a veteran merchant with 31 years in his credit.

Holland Plants Go Modern With Excellent Taste

DUTCH WOOD CRAFT SHOPS EXHIBITING LINES OF INTERESTING FURNITURE

Grand Rapids Herald—The Dutch Wood Craft Shops and the Holland Furniture company, affiliated firms with showrooms on the fourth and fifth floors of the Pantlind Exhibition building, have "gone modern" in a big way—one might add—in a good way.

A complete transformation has been achieved in the line, which includes a bedroom grouping which the Holland company manufactured to be used in furnishing the Masonic house at A Century of Progress exhibition in Chicago.

Using Haskellite Product Not only in the design of the furniture but in the background and tasteful choice of accessories has the contemporary manner been achieved.

The firms are the sole licensed manufacturers of furniture using Haskellite product, made by alternating light and dark thin layers of wood to form a board of any desired thickness. The material is used very successfully for end pieces where a modified trimming is desired.

Of special note in the exhibit was the remarkable woods used. A twentieth century dining room grouping in American walnut had harmonizing chocolate corduroy chair covers and a notable restraint in the use of contrast and ornament.

Darker Woods Popular Many light woods have been used and, while they serve admirably as media for the modern trend in design, the suites in darker woods were in many respects more popular.

A new wood shown in the line this market was termed "Tasmania," which representatives explained, is a trade name for Tasmanian oak which lacks the characteristics of the American variety and takes a pleasing finish.

Probably the outstanding wood used in the exhibit is called "Dyed Beech," which is said to be produced by placing certain minerals adjoining the roots of the beech tree. In taking the moisture from the ground the tree absorbs the mineral dyes which blend permanently into the grain of the wood. Numerous colors can be produced by the process.

ZEELAND HOSPITAL TO MAKE REQUEST FOR PUBLIC GIFTS

(Zeeland Record)

At a recent board meeting of the Dr. Thomas G. Huizenga Memorial Hospital association, Zeeland, plans were discussed for making a public appeal for voluntary contributions of hospital funds.

Nothing definite has yet been done but it is probable that within the next week some plan will be announced in which the public will be asked to take part.

In past years combined drives have been made for funds to support various welfare projects, but it is probable this will not be done now. The hospital is in need of $1,000 up and it seems to be the purpose of those in control to make the hospital drive on its own merits. The sum is not great and it is believed enough public spirited people can be found to make it possible for the hospital to continue in its mission of mercy.

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH COMING TO GRAND RAPIDS

On Saturday, July 22, the tremendous Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey combined circus will be in Grand Rapids. It is their golden jubilee and it will undoubtedly be the greatest show ever seen in Michigan.

One of the crowning features besides the regular show will be a pageant of oriental splendor. It will be one of the highlights of the circus.

The golden jubilee five-ring, four-stage program features displays in units of fifty with the stars of all lands competing in the air, rings and hippodrome track and on the stages. There are more than 800 performers. The circus bears on its four long trains of 100 double-length steel railroad cars over 1,600 people, 50 elephants, 1,000 menagerie animals and 700 horses.

Vying with the resplendent impressiveness of The Durbur is the most unusual and weird importation that even The Greatest Show on Earth ever brought out of the orient—the Royal Pading giraffe-neck women from Burma. These strange oriental women, with their incredibly long necks encircled with brass and copper rings, carrying 60 pounds of copper ornaments on their arms and legs, are unbelievably aloof from all mankind. They are like no other racial group in all the teeming East. The rings, soldered upon their necks, are constantly superimposed from infancy until maturity, until these sloe-eyed oriental beauties resemble nothing so much as the giraffe. Never was so sensational a feature exhibited in the main performance of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus.

Nature at Best In Warm July —Enjoy It

THIS MONTH IS TIME FOR THE OUT-OF-DOORS

July is the month for fishing trips, for vacations, and for outdoor enjoyment. This is the month when it is legal to catch fish anywhere, and Nature herself is at her best. Every tree and shrub is in full foliage. The tall weeds have attained their full height. All the busy world of furs and feathers is enjoying the midsummer month.

Indians called July the "thunder moon," for this is the month of electrical storms, and campers who go far from home must be prepared for the worst.

There is much to see during July. Tadpoles of frogs and toads are changing into adult form and coming out onto the land. Most of our native birds have already nested. The awkward fledglings are everywhere. The goldfinch is one exception. It is just beginning to work on its nest. And by the time its young are hatching, the thistle seeds will be ripe—just in time to feed the hungry nestlings. Other seed-eating birds feed their young on insects.

Young woodchucks begin to come out of their holes this month, and are beginning to eat solid food. For a while, they will not go far from the burrow. Meanwhile, the adults are beginning to put on a layer of fat for winter. The black bear, too, is enjoying himself and you may find him in a wild berry patch, where he feeds on the luscious fruit.

July has its share of wildflowers, too. In the marshlands you find the small yellow swamp buttercup, the shrubby cinquefoil with its clear yellow blossoms, the swamp dogwood, or kinkinnick, with its dull reddish leaves, and its compact flat clusters of white flowers. In the dense woods you will find the Indian pipe, that ghostly white flower that is after all a ghoulish parasite that preys on the juices of other plants. You will find also the pine-sap, close kinsman of the Indian pipe, with its tawny or reddish flowers.

STORY OF A FISH TAGGED No. 41 JUST 28 YEARS AGO

The 75-pound sturgeon bearing the number 41 branded upon its back, which was taken from the Manistee River late in April by conservation officers and has since been kept at the Paris Fish Hatchery in the hope that someone might identify it, has done quite a lot of growing and quite a lot of traveling since it was so marked, according to a report recently received by the Conservation Department. Charles Trost, now a resident of Mt. Clemens, claims to have taken the sturgeon in a net in Lake St. Clair 28 years ago, branded the fish with the number 41 to indicate its weight in pounds at that time and returned it to the lake. If this is the case the sturgeon has added 84 pounds to its weight in the 28 years and had migrated a considerable distance, from Lake St. Clair to Lake Michigan, before entering the river from which it was taken this spring.

Indian Lore and Pioneer Complex in Local Resort Publicity

Your editor has been called upon as a member of the Tourist and Resort committee of Holland to write articles of publicity—stress—our local and especially our resort possibilities.

The first article which will be published in Chicago and St. Louis papers and possibly others in the south within the next few days, starts with an Indian pioneer complex showing what this humble beginning has brought forth up to the present day. We also publish this article in the Holland City News as is seen below:

It is a far cry from the time—when good old Father Marquette and his five Indian guides skirted the shores of Lake Michigan in a primitive canoe—to the present day. He was the first white man to behold what is today Holland's unexcelled resort district. Many years later, in 1847 to be exact, two intrepid government agents slipped their birch bark through a rivulet connecting Macatawa Bay with Lake Michigan.

On a beautiful Sunday morning they paddled slowly over the placid waters of Black Lake, bordered with a fringe of shady, virgin forests. They skirted an Indian village up to the first white settlement. There they found a stump-filled street lined with improvised log huts, quickly constructed to afford shelter. They found the streets deserted and the homes empty. They were filled with fear believing that the pioneers and their families had been massacred by the neighboring Indians.

The two men had come to these unsettled parts as surveyors and their arrival was for the purpose of interviewing Dr. Van Raalte, the founder of Holland, who had already been in touch with government authorities to launch a harbor project.

The surveyors began a search through the forests, hoping to find some sign of life. They were rewarded when they heard music, old Dutch psalms, which sounded very strange to their ears. They followed the sound and broke into a clearing where they found Dr. Van Raalte preaching to his little band from a stump, the remains of a tree recently cut. Around him were gathered all the villagers together with several peaceful Indians, and it was a happy meeting in nature's beautiful amphitheater when the surveyors and Holland's first settlers met on that ideal Sunday morning. This was eighty-six years ago.

Since that time Holland has developed into a city of 18,000 with a permanent summer resort population of 6,000. The city itself with its wonderful park system is considered the most beautiful in Michigan. It is the center of culture because of its superior educational facilities through its colleges and schools. It is a city 100 per cent paved and has possibly more beautiful homes than any city of its size in the state. Although the city proper is a veritable resort, its environs embrace at least twelve square miles of resort district.

Holland's resorts do not show a "hot dog" complex. Like the city, these are high-class and appealing to our best citizenry. It is located in the heart of the peach belt. It is the Michigan center for dairy and poultry. But what is more, it has all the attributes that enter into the making of a real worthwhile resort. It can boast of ten miles of Lake Michigan bathing beach as fine as nature could possibly make. Its golf courses are both "sporty" and beautiful and in this nature has also played an important part. Its waters are filled with fish, constantly replenished by the Michigan conservation department, augmented with supplies from our own fish propagating ponds, millions being planted every year.

Concrete highways finger out from the city to all the show places. Included in these are the natural amphitheater at Castle Park, the Indian trails at Waukago, the harbor, the life guards and station and fishing from the piers at Macatawa. Other show places are the large concrete oval and Tunnel park with extensive bathing beaches, Lakewood farm and gardens containing the largest private zoo in the United States. This show place is nationally known and is owned by Mr. George Getz of Chicago.

Black lake is noted for its wonderful yacht course and many regattas are staged here annually. For fishing and boating these waters are unexcelled with plenty of docking facilities for cruiser service.

Every highway out of Holland is a scenic drive, the beauty of which surpasses description. The hotel and tourist home accommodations are of a high order and the cuisine is in keeping with establishments of that nature.

Holland and vicinity is very much flower minded. It is the city that annually stages a ten-day Tulip Festival, which has become nationally known and has been lauded by the entire metropolitan press. Four million tulips nodded their dainty heads in the breezes during last May's festival and this riot of color over the tulip lands was augmented when the entire populace, during that period at least, donned the colorful dress worn in the provinces of the "land of dykes," from which our forefathers came.

Holland has much to show you. Holland and its resorts are high lights in the "Playground of America."

Holland, Michigan, located on U.S. 31, bids you welcome.

State Fishing Laws Changed; Worth Knowing

PIKE NO LONGER TO BE PROTECTED BY STATE

Michigan's fishing season on inland lakes has been extended for one month, by a law passed by the 1933 legislature and signed by the governor. Formerly, the season closed March 31. Next year it will close April 30. This will mean that grass pike, wall eyed pike, muskellunge and yellow perch are deprived of a closed season in "pike" lakes, where the season opens again May 1.

The legislature also placed a minimum size limit of 10 inches on land locked salmon, a species now included in the list of game fish. The new law restores the minimum size limit of six inches for yellow perch, rock bass and calico bass. The limit was restored at the suggestion of the Fish Division, which discovered that small fish were being wasted—either left in boats or on the ice in winter. White bass have been taken from the game fish list, which will henceforth permit their sale. Grass pike, however, have been placed on the list of game fish and may no longer be sold.

Anglers who fish from boats may now use two rods and lines, with not more than four hooks on the total lines. Ice fishing is limited to not more than five lines with one hook each, except that smelt fishermen may use any number of hooks on a single line, in recognized smelt waters. The spearing season in the Lower Peninsula has been extended to include March 1 to May 15, making it uniform throughout the state. The Director of Conservation is empowered to designate the counties, streams or portions of streams where artificial lights may be used with spears in season. The new law also permits the use of trammel nets not over 12 feet long in parts of the Tittabawassee River and its tributaries below the dams at Sanford, Mt. Pleasant and St. Louis for taking carp, suckers, redear, mullet, dogfish and other nongame fish. The daily limit is 100 fish.

Those who seek to take fish by means of dynamite will henceforth be subject to a minimum penalty of $50 with a minimum prison sentence of 30 days. Mackinac trout may be caught without daily limit, while the law also legalizes the use of dipnets, not exceeding nine feet square and without sides, for taking minnows in the Great Lakes or connecting waters.

HOGARTH ORDERS ALL PARKS OPEN TILL FUNDS END

All state parks will remain open "as long as the money lasts," and possibly all season, George R. Hogarth, state conservation director, announced today. The legislature reduced the state park appropriation from more than $90,000 to $58,000. An order once was issued to close 80 of the parks because of a lack of funds, but it was rescinded. Hogarth said he conferred with Gov. C. M. Comstock and it was decided to keep all parks open until funds are exhausted. He estimated the amount available will permit operation until Aug. 10. At that time the governor and Hogarth hope to be able to divert funds to cover the balance of the season.

Protests against closing any of the parks came from all sections of the state.

PIONEER LOG CABIN ON FORESTRY SITE

The 40-acre farm on the north side of Lakewood Blvd., donated by Albert C. Keppel to the board of education for reforestation by the biology department of Holland High school, now marks the site of a log cabin after the model used by pioneers in primitive years. The cabin features a massive fireplace and chimney built of field stone. Interior furnishings will be made by the manual training department of the Holland schools. The first section of reforestation was completed last spring and the work will be continued over a period of 10 years.

BEDDING MAKERS END HOLLAND CONVENTION

The fourth annual convention of the Master Bedding Makers of America came to a close here tonight with a barbecue at Castle park. Reports of members of the association, established four years ago under the leadership of Charles D. Carr company of Holland, told of a business revival throughout the country. Sessions at the Warm Friend Tavern today were devoted to discussion of business policies and programs. About 75 persons, who came from all sections of the country attended the convention. A number of delegates are expected to remain in Holland tomorrow while others go to the fair in Chicago, where the association has an exhibit.

NEW DEPOSITS MADE IN BANK AT HOLLAND

Although $121,000 has been available for withdrawal from the newly reorganized Peoples State bank since the institution resumed business less than two weeks ago, less than 50 per cent of the amount has been withdrawn and of that a portion has been redeposited in new accounts by former depositors.

Depositors who have not complied with the request to call for the percentage of their deposits and their memorandum and trust certificates are urged to do so as soon as possible to mark that phase of reorganization. These amounts can be entered as new deposits.

Since the reopening of the bank about 180 new savings accounts and 174 new commercial accounts have been listed.—Grand Rapids Press.

Welfare Committee reported having examined claims in the sum of $3336.25 for Work Relief payrolls during June, and $3491.44 for direct relief for the past two weeks, and recommended payment thereof. (Said claims on file in Clerk's office for public inspection.)

Committee on Claims and Accounts reported having examined claims in the sum of $2074.78 for regular claims, and recommended payment thereof. (Said claims on file in Clerk's office for public inspection.)

The Ordinance Committee read for a first and second time an ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance to Regulate the Use of Radios for Public Broadcasting of Radio Programs and Advertising." The Committee recommended that the matter of passing the ordinance be referred until the next regular meeting of the Council.

The Committee on Ordinances also reported progress in the matter of presenting an ordinance embracing a Building Code for the City of Holland. Mayor Bosch urged the Committee to get the matter in shape so that it could be passed at the next regular meeting of the Council.

Reports of Special Committees

Mayor Bosch called upon Carl Bowen, County Engineer, who was present, to address the Council on the matter of a Work Relief Project. Mr. Bowen stated that he was not here for the purpose of discussing any particular project but that his interests were in securing such work for Ottawa County that would enable those who are most vitally interested to put to work as many men as possible. Mr. Bowen stated that the State of Michigan would receive from the Federal Government approximately $12,000,000 for strictly highway construction. He further stated that an amount of approximately $190,000,000 would be available to Michigan for other Public Works projects, this amount to be on a 30-70 basis; viz: 30 per cent of the cost of a project could be a direct grant and the other 70 per cent would have to be on a self-liquidating basis. Mr. Bowen further stated that his only thought in proposing the Lake Shore Road was due to the fact that this road would be constructed through sandy country which would enable them to carry on the work during the winter months when ordinary road work cannot be done.

Council deferred going into the matter in detail and no action was taken on the proposition at this time.

Ald. Kleis reported having taken up with Mr. Rooks the matter of his Garage on E. 15th St., being a nuisance in the neighborhood. He stated that he had been promised by Mr. Rooks that from now on practically all of this noise would be eliminated. It was further reported that Mr. Rooks was agreeable to putting in an eaves trough on the north side of his building in order to eliminate the water running on to the property adjoining in the rear. Mr. Kleis further reported that Mr. Rooks had agreed to make an effort to find some other location in order that he might be in a position to handle his business which now is growing very rapidly. Mr. Kleis further stated that he would continue to work with Mr. Rooks in getting the matter straightened out and having this nuisance eliminated.

Ald. Huyser reported for the information of the Council that he had made a detailed study on the Annual Library Report, and that he was very well pleased with the accomplishments of the past year. He further reported that the Library Board was now making preparations to have all the Book Stands available to the public so that all book lovers could have direct access to these several stands and select their own books.

Ald. Prins reported on behalf of the Special Committee appointed at the last meeting to investigate the matter of securing Governmental aid in developing our harbor; and that the Committee had made the trip to Detroit and received valuable information. It was further reported that considerable detail would be necessary in order to accomplish the desired results, and

On motion of Ald. Prins, seconded by Kleis,

Referred to Harbor Board.

Carried.

The claims approved by the Hospital Board in the sum of $2617.79; Library Board, $157.51; Park and Cemetery Board, $617.40; Police and Fire Board, $788.31; B. P. W., $7500.86, were ordered certified to the Council for payment. (Said claims on file in Clerk's office for public inspection.)

Allowed and checks to be released when funds are available.

B. P. W. reported the collection of $5661.00; City Treasurer, $13,405.31.

Holland, Mich., July 1, 1933.

The Common Council met in special session pursuant to call by Aids. Prins, Kleis and Brieve.

Present: Mayor Bosch, Aids. Prins, Kleis, Brieve, Wolman, Van Zoeren, DeCook, Habing, Steffens, Jonkman, Huyser, Van Lente and the Clerk.

Mayor stated that since the last special meeting of the Council when the Lake Shore Road project was approved there had been considerable agitation in regard to the advisability with going ahead with such a project.

The Mayor then called upon Ald. Van Zoeren to read again the resolution that was adopted at the special meeting held June 29, 1933.

After reading such resolution which approved the Lake Shore Road Project between Ottawa Beach and Grand Haven, it was moved by Ald. Prins, seconded by Ald. Kleis,

That the Common Council rescind their previous action in adopting such resolution.

Resolution by Ald. Prins follows:

Since Holland is planning a program of work relief and apparently made a start at Wednesday's special meeting of the council and a tentative plan was then introduced, I feel that at this special meeting I would like to introduce more potent and more necessary projects that have been proposed up to this time.

Holland should plan a program of work relief of its own before entering into a very doubtful project. Under the Federal Public Works program $3,300,000,000 will be available and under the unemployment relief program $500,000,000 will be available of which Holland will receive its share first by showing the need and second by showing the value of the work if completed. With many factories idle and many on our welfare list the need is apparent.

Now for the value of the work. M-21 is planned from Fairbanks Avenue to Seventeenth Street. US-31 from East Shore Garage to Holland.

M-40 from Allegan to Holland.

On all these projects blue-prints and other necessary planning work have been made and are available.

An approach to Holland over the old interurban right-of-way from M-21 to Sixth Street would divert heavy traffic from Eighth Street to the street in question, which is very desirable.

Aside from the projects having to do with our traffic facilities it would be well to consider our school necessities. A building program long contemplated by the Board of Education but owing to financial stress has not been advanced, would be well to look into at this time when the feasibility of such a program relating to welfare aid might be seriously considered.

Our dock proposition of self-liquidating RFC proposal is well under way.

We are presenting several projects here and if only a part of these could be made possible through Federal aid as the government proposes and if we can all get together and decide as one city we will go a long way toward solving our unemployment relief program. It has been our indecision and the lack of full co-operation and thorough understanding that has brought failure to many a project in Holland. But on this I believe we should have the fullest understanding and unanimous co-operation.

Do not let ourselves be diverted from a worthwhile program and be made to appear at loggerheads with ourselves, which can easily be overcome through more thorough co-operation.

Do not let others step in and tell us what we want. It is a well known fact that we have decided several years ago just what roads we need most at this time. Let us finish that program first and see that those highways are properly taken care of for at least these are the paramount projects indicative of Holland's crying needs at this time.

The new proposed road along the lake will only be used at the most three months in a year to any great extent. The argument that (quote) "if we do not get it now we may never get it" is no good. That improvement is of no real value to Holland and cannot compare with the other program I have mentioned in this communication.

You might as well ask the government to build another Angel's flight up the side of Mt. Baldhead in advance this proposition. Here, too, we have a beautiful view from the top.

If the only projects we can think of is some worthless road like the Lake Shore or Pigeon River road while other projects are more meritorious and an immediate need, then the government will feel we are a brainless lot and we are liable not to get anything and that would be deplorable.

Carried.

Several members of the Council then entered into a discussion on other road projects in the vicinity of Holland which they considered of greater benefit to the City of Holland than the Lake Shore Road project.

It was recommended that M-40, between Holland and Allegan, be paved.

Mayor Bosch also recommended that M-39, between Holland and Lansing, be considered as a worthy project. This road would run east on 32nd St., if constructed as now proposed.

City Engineer Zuidema explained to the Council the work that has already been done with the Kent and Allegan County officials in adopting this project which would be known as M-39.

On motion of Ald. Kleis, seconded by Prins,

RESOLVED, that the City Engineer continue his negotiations with the Allegan and Kent County officials in an effort to secure favorable action on M-39.

Carried.

their daughter, Miss Gladys Boeve, became the bride of Glenn Fyne, son of Coopersville. Rev. J. Scortinghuis, pastor of Ebenezer Reformed church, performed the double ring ceremony before an arch of palms, hydrangea and roses. Preceding the ceremony Jack Bos sang "Rose in Bud" and "O Promise Me." Miss Harriet Boeve, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" as the wedding march. The bride looked beautiful in a gown of blue chiffon with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bride and groom were unattended. Little Norma Wyngarden, who was flower girl, wore a charming yellow frock. Dale Boeve, nephew of the bride, who was dressed in green, carried the rings in a lily. Following the ceremony a two-course supper was served, after which the newlyweds left on a trip to the East. After September 15 they will reside at Coopersville, where Mr. Fyne is a teacher in the high school. Mrs. Fyne attended Hope High school and Western State Teachers' college at Kalamazoo. The bridegroom, born in Overisel, is a graduate of Holland Christian High school and Calvin college, Grand Rapids.

At an official board meeting of the Ottawa County Women's Christian Temperance Union recently in Grand Haven, it was decided to hold an all-day convention on August 24 at the Baptist church in Spring Lake. Mrs. W. Van Dyke, president of the local W. C. T. U., attended the meeting. Among the principal numbers to be on the program in August are a playlet under the direction of Mrs. Nina B. Daugherty of Holland, to be given in the afternoon. The evening session will feature a gold medal contest. Miss Margaret Bilt of Spring Lake, president of the county association, is in charge of arrangements for the all-day meeting.

Approximately 40 members of the Senior Christian Endeavor society of Sixth Reformed church attended the beach party at Tunnel park Friday evening. A baseball game was played, the team headed by Wilbur Prince being the winner. Jacob Van Voorst was captain of the other team. Swimming was also enjoyed, after which a wienner roast was held.

Members of the Metropolitan club, its auxiliary and their families enjoyed their annual picnic at Tunnel park Monday evening. Approximately 125 were present. Supper was served by the auxiliary members with Mrs. Sam Plagenhoef, chairman, in charge. Peter J. Bontekoe, chairman of the sports committee, in behalf of the Metropolitan club, police, firemen and the women's auxiliary, wishes to thank the merchants who donated prizes presented to winners in the games.

During the hot days of last week the youngsters on the South Side found much amusement in Triangle park at the top of Marshall St. hill. Tiny tots and up to seven-year-olds were splashing and swimming in the big fountain basin. The older residents nearby got about as much pleasure in watching the antics of these children enjoying the cool bath.—Allegan Gazette.

It is hollyhock time again and in back yards and borders these brilliant and abounding flowers are brightening the scenery. Were they not so common everywhere people would rave about their beauty. The price of milk was increased from six to eight cents a quart in Holland today. The special rates given the city welfare department were advanced from four and one-half cents to six cents a quart, it was reported. Prices for cream were not increased. Increases in cost of food purchased for cows by farmers who supply milk to local dairies, advance in butterfat prices and higher costs of equipment for milk dealers were given as reasons for the boost in milk prices here. Butterfat rates have advanced to 12 cents a pound and food prices in some instances have been doubled since last September when the price of milk was lowered to six cents a quart, it was said.

Spring Lake is faced with a possible lawsuit over a claim against the village by Roelof Mink, who alleges $400 due him in connection with a property deal consummated by the village during the sewer expansion in 1926. The letter demanding the payment was read before the city council last night and there was considerable discussion. No action was taken but Louis Osterhaus, the village attorney, will be consulted. Mink is represented by a Muskegon attorney. The property was sold to the village by Henry Vander Wall for $400. Mink held two mortgages against the parcel of land of which the sewer right-of-way was a part. He later foreclosed. He claims title to the land under the foreclosure and is asking the village to pay him $400 to retain possession of the right-of-way.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

NO MATTER what the calendar or the thermometer says, July and August, specifically, the week-end of the Fourth through Labor Day, are summer. And summer is vacation time, out-of-door time, picnic time for the whole family.

This summer many of us are planning to visit the Century of Progress in Chicago. Older folk who can remember the Fair of forty years ago will be interested in comparisons, younger folk will find it something to marvel at and remember for forty years.

The presence of icy cold watermelon on our tables also shows us that summer is here. Since watermelon is an outstanding value in the stores this week-end there is no reason why all of us should not enjoy this refreshing fruit.

Following are three Sunday Dinner Menus at different cost levels prepared by the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

What Will

About It?

H. L. CRAWFORD is one of the most successful merchants in the Middle West. He has built a business in his town that has made him famous—and a mighty substantial citizen!

How did he do it? Well, Crawford is a "born salesman." He knows that if he wants to sell goods he's got to find buyers. And he must persuade folks to come back, again and again.

One of the most forceful things he does is to place in every parcel that leaves his store, a folder or booklet offering an attractive bargain. This enclosure is always an effective piece of advertising, and it gets results.
