Death Enters Family Circle Twice In Day

HOLLAND IS SHOCKED TO HEAR OF THE PASSING OF MRS. JOHN KOLLA AND SON-IN-LAW, A. H. LANDWEHR

Funeral of Mrs. Kolla This Friday Afternoon; Mr. Landwehr Saturday Afternoon from Hazelbank

The many friends, business associates and employees of the Holland Furnace Co. and citizens in the City of Holland in general were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Caroline Kolla, wife of the late John P. Kolla, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at Hazelbank, Holland. Just twelve hours later a phone call from Ann Arbor from Mercywood Sanitarium announced that A. H. Landwehr, one of the founders of the Holland Furnace Co. and son-in-law of Mrs. Kolla, passed away today, Thursday, at 4:00 a. m.

The funeral of Mrs. Kolla will be held this Friday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. from the beautiful Kolla home at Hazelbank on Pine Creek Bay. Dr. Paul P. Cheff of Sydney, Nebraska, former Pastor of Hope Church of Holland, will officiate at the funeral rites.

The following day, Saturday, at 4:00 o'clock, the funeral of Mr. Landwehr, son of P. Theodore Cheff, is general manager of the Holland Furnace Co. will be in charge of the funeral services of Mr. A. H. Landwehr at the Landwehr Hazelbank home. Interment for both Mrs. Kolla and Mr. Landwehr will take place in the Kolla-Landwehr family plot. Nibelink-Notter Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Caroline Kolla was born in 1863 at Luxemburg, Germany, and was 74 years of age. She came to America at the age of fourteen, and her maiden name was Caroline Mediner. She married the sweetheart of her girlhood days three years later. Mr. and Mrs. Kolla made the onward march through life together. From their youth, existence was a struggle, for even in the "old country" the lot of Mr. Kolla was hard one.

After that Mrs. Kolla came to Holland when the Holland Furnace Co. was founded more than 30 years ago—and a modest beginning it was—she was not contented to look after her home duties alone but took a deep interest in the new Holland enterprise at the very beginning. When her husband, "J.P." laid the first mold for a heating unit, the loving Mrs. Kolla was there smiling encouragement. She saw the first molten iron run from the cupola in the small Holland plant and saw it poured into the mold which shaped the first Holland Furnace.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kolla came to Holland when the Holland Furnace Co. was founded more than 30 years ago—and a modest beginning it was—she was not contented to look after her home duties alone but took a deep interest in the new Holland enterprise at the very beginning. When her husband, "J.P." laid the first mold for a heating unit, the loving Mrs. Kolla was there smiling encouragement. She saw the first molten iron run from the cupola in the small Holland plant and saw it poured into the mold which shaped the first Holland Furnace.

After that she watched her son-in-law, A. H. Landwehr, whose death she also chronicle here, set about to sell these heating units. With her sunny disposition she radiated a fine spirit and good will and her great love for her husband and family have been reflected in the efforts brought forth by that family in helping to establish an enterprise that is known throughout the civilized world.

Mrs. Kolla, withal, was modest and self-effacing and had full confidence in the ability of her late husband and her son-in-law, A. H. Landwehr. Notwithstanding, she always had a desire to carry on wherever she was able to take part in the development of the Holland Furnace Co. Since the death of her husband she had become more prominent among the employees and repeatedly was guest of honor at the annual company's relief society picnic and kindred functions.

In several instances these meetings were memorable, for the gatherings were never closed unless this sweet lady of high character was remembered with flowers and other tokens of esteem. One occasion she never did forget. This was when the societies of the organization presented her with a statuette of a "foundryman," which was in loving memory of her late husband. Mrs. Kolla was "one of the old school," a high type of womanhood, who left her impression for good wherever she dwelled.

Mrs. Kolla often took tours with her husband to the different branches of the company throughout the nation, of which there are more than 400. She was especially popular with the entire office staff and she made frequent visits to this beautiful structure and passed the time of day with the large force employed there.

Mrs. Kolla thought a great deal of this community, and her many charities were well known. When Holland Hospital was established, both Mr. and Mrs. Kolla contributed liberally towards the equipment. She had been a member of Hope Church for a great many years and she was actively affiliated with church work in this congregation. She was a member of the Woman's Literary Club almost from the time when she arrived in Holland.

Mrs. Kolla had been in California for the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Louise Landwehr, and had returned late in April. For the past two months she had been ill and this illness resulted in her death at Bloodett Hospital, Grand Rapids.

The survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Louise Landwehr, Mrs. P. Theodore Cheff, both of Hazelbank, Holland; and four grandchildren, Mrs. L. H. Kolla, Miss Norma Landwehr, and Edgar Phillip Landwehr of Holland, and Miss Donna Landwehr of New York City.

Mr. August H. Landwehr, whose death took place today at Ann Arbor, was 57 years old. Holland has every reason to feel grateful to him, since nearly 25 years of his dynamic life in connection with the establishment of the Holland Furnace Co. until a few years ago, has been reflected strongly in Holland's development. The success of the Holland Furnace Co. has meant a great deal to this community directly and indirectly. It has meant tremendous building development, not alone at the plant, but the installation of furnaces have had great bearing on the building of new homes in this city and vicinity.

One of the most beautiful office buildings erected in this nation today stands as a monument both to Mr. Landwehr and to Mrs. Kolla and their associates.

It is evident that Mr. Landwehr's great success became nationally known way back in 1915, when the "Golden Rule" magazine, a nationally known publication, published several pages, telling of the romance of "The Holland." In this magazine a fine picture of Mr. Landwehr appears as treasurer and general manager of the Holland Furnace Co. The portrayal of the efforts of the young American with nothing to back him but energy, grit, honesty, and a willingness to work, paint a vivid picture of the young man who through perseverance has made good.

The "Golden Rule" magazine says: "August H. Landwehr was born March 3, 1880, at New Melle, near St. Louis, Missouri. He is son of Herman J. Landwehr, who was for more than twenty-five years a prominent mason contractor in New Melle, and of Mary (Buescher) Landwehr. Both parents are of German ancestry and natives of Hanover.

"Young Landwehr received his early education in the public schools of New Melle, following with a commercial course at the Gen. City Business College, of Quincy, Illinois. But he early showed evidence of possessing qualities of initiative and leadership by going into his father's business and going into his further education to the actual school of life.

"He tackled his first job when he was sixteen years of age. It was with the publishing house of E. R. Dumont & Co. of St. Louis. Although fitted, by his business college education, to fill a pretty good position, he chose to start as office boy at five dollars a week, because he wanted to start at the very bottom so he could learn the whole business.

"Within two weeks he was assistant to the shipping clerk. A little later his boss, at his suggestion, advanced the shipping clerk to assistant bookkeeper and gave young Landwehr charge of the shipping room. In the next few months he had held, successively, nearly all the positions in that office.

Starts Sunday Song Festival In Zeeland Park

MANY CHURCH PEOPLE JOINED TO SING SACRED HYMNS THERE LAST SUNDAY NITE

AUGUST H. LANDWEHR

A new venture was tried out with considerable success at Zeeland on last Sunday evening immediately following the evening services in the churches, when more than one hundred persons gathered at the Church Street city park for a special song service.

The movement was started by a committee composed of members of the several churches of Zeeland as a diversion for those who usually linger about while after leaving church.

Mayor Gerrit Yntema opened the song festival, stating the purpose and presented Mr. Ted Moerdyk, who was the conductor in the song festival on this occasion. John Shadyba played the trumpet. Several sacred hymns were sung before Mr. Moerdyk dismissed the gathering.

This song festival will be held each Sunday evening immediately following the evening church services weather permitting of course. Next Sunday evening there will be better light and a larger seating capacity. The accommodations for seats was not large because the group was much larger last Sunday than had been anticipated.

It is also planned to get more brass instruments and a quartette to lead the singing, and sheets containing the song to be sung will probably be distributed among the audience.

If the singing proves a success next Sunday evening it will indicate that Zeeland folk desire this religious innovation and it is possible that the festival will be held at the Lawrence Street park where the facilities are better. There is the shell and the oval shaped general hundred persons, with the necessary lighting. This will eliminate the need to lug seats for the occasion every week for Sunday night festivals.

All Zeeland citizens interested in joining the song festival are invited to attend at the Church Street park, at the band stand, immediately following the evening church services, probably at about 8:45.

The program for the placing of the keystone in the Memorial Chimes Tower in Restlawn Cemetery on the old Zeeland Road, east of Holland, will be held Friday evening at 7:30 P. M., July 16th.

The public is invited to attend. The tower is being built from split field stone and from the appearance at the present time will be a very beautiful structure.

The first floor will be used for the office and studio. The second floor will contain the broadcasting equipment. The sound equipment will be installed on the third floor. The equipment will be the National Sound System.

preparation, the two families moved to Holland, Michigan, where, in August, 1906, was organized the Holland Furnace Co. Mr. Kolla assuming charge of its manufacturing and production and Mr. Landwehr going on the road as salesman.

The "Golden Rule" continues like an Aladdin story with several more pages telling of the success of this great enterprise, which from a humble beginning, with a capitalization of $50,000, has become a gigantic organization, whose manufactured products total annually in the millions of dollars. The growth of the Holland Furnace Co. since it is inception in a one-story building, 50 by 75 feet, is too well known to Holland to need any detailed resume here.

Mr. Landwehr's connection with this "Warm Friend" establishment led to other community developments aside from heating units. It meant the building of beautiful Warm Friend Tavern. It re-established for a time the Holland Maid washing machine on the north side. He was a potent figure in the Chas. E. Limbert Furnace Co. where he was also president. He also gave a great deal of encouragement to Holland Hospital. For many years he was vice president of the Holland City State Bank and a director in the De Pree Chemical Co. He was one of the organizers of the Holland Country Club and he took a deep interest in the Holland Fish and Game Club.

During the World War he was chairman of the Liberty Loan drive and was officially recognized by the U. S. Government because of successful planning of Liberty Bond campaigns.

That humble beginning of John P. Kolla and A. H. Landwehr, building of heating units, has not only developed into the large Holland plant but also a second plant at Cedar Rapids and a third at Bethlehem, Pa. Besides these, the nation is dotted with nearly 500 branch offices where the Holland product is sold and installed. Altogether this institution gives gainful employment to more than 5,000 employees.

Mr. Landwehr was a beneficent man and his benefactions to others will never be known, but that they were many and quietly given is a well known fact. The writer has never known Mr. Landwehr to become angry. He said at one time, "I never allow it to get the best of me." If he had a temper, he surely knew how to curb it, and he will always be known to Holland and his intimate friends as a man with a loving disposition, a man of high character, a man of sterling honesty, and a man with a "big," benevolent heart.

The survivors of Mr. Landwehr are the widow, Mrs. Louise Landwehr; two sons, Edgar Landwehr of Holland; and two daughters, Miss Norma Landwehr of Holland and Miss Donna Landwehr of New York City.

The covered pier from Fixter's stove factory dock out into the bay, which the Chicago and West Michigan R. R. has been building, is now completed and ready to dock pleasure steamers plying between Holland and Macatawa, Shady Side and Ottawa Beach. Note:—This dock has long since fallen in decay. It was the dock that the C. and W. M., now Pere Marquette, used to unload passengers on. The railroad conducted excursions from as far south as Chicago and intermediate points, and Petoskey north and intermediate points to Holland. Long excursion trains switched from the Holland depot to this dock at the foot of Fifth Street on River Avenue and the passengers were given a transfer for the passenger boats—then the Macatawa and the Queen of the Lakes, the latter being a side-wheeler. After the excursionists had completed their picnic for the day at the resorts, the steamers would take them back to Holland where their train was waiting on the side track at River and 5th Streets. Steamboats were for trade up an end to this, however. Later the railroad built a line from Waverly to Ottawa Beach, and instead of using boats the trains were hauled almost to Lake Michigan. At Ottawa Beach there was a regular switch yard and a depot and a train shed used during the summer season of course. The new highway to Ottawa Beach, passing the present airport is largely built over the old railroad bed. Then the Holland-Grand Rapids Interurban came and put an end to both railroad and steamboat trade. Then the "Iron Horse" came and "a car in nearly every family" saw the end of the Holland Interurban. Nevertheless those "steamboat and Interurban days" were happy resort periods. Not nearly as rushing and strenuous as today.

Belin Bosman of Holland township school district No. 5 was awarded first honors for Ottawa County. His examination as an eighth grader was so satisfactory that he was awarded a free trip to the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Sept. 1 to 10. The school is taught by Anthony Mulder. The state awards this trip to students from rural schools from 83 counties and is considered an educational advantage, thus interesting youth in agriculture.

A new $200,000 swing bridge will span Grand River between Grand Haven and Ferrysburg and will accommodate all travel going to Muskegon and North over the "West Michigan Pike" now US31. Locally it will benefit Ferrysburg and Spring Lake, a few miles out from the "county seat." The bridge is to be 565 feet long with a 212-foot swing. The city of Grand Haven will pay half and the State of Michigan the other half. Note:—Well, the bridge has long since been built and has been a great convenience to the motor traveling public.

Miss Anna De Haan and Ralph Ten Have of Zeeland were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, Martin De Haan. Mr. Ten Have is taking a medical course at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Note:—He is now head of the Ottawa County Health unit and has been doing fine work.

The steamer "City of Grand Rapids" left Holland dock right after the commencement of Hope on Thursday, crowded with students westward bound. They went as far as Chicago by boat from where they took trains for their respective homes.

A denorable lack of interest was evident at the Holland School Caucus held to name six highest candidates whose names will be printed on the ballot to be voted July 10. In all only 46 votes were cast. The count was as follows: Henry Winter, 32; George Mooi, 31; Dr. A. Leenhouts, 24; James DeYoung, 14; Simon Klevn, 7; J. H. Van Lente, 30. Of the above names only four remained—James De Young and Simon Klevn not being candidates stated that since they were already members of the Board of Public Works, they felt their duty was there and asked that their name be not placed on the Board of Education ballot. At the election the vote was also very light. Henry Winter, George Mooi and Dr. A. Leenhouts were elected. Note:—Today there are no more school caucuses. Now candidates

Holland Girl To Go Toward Top Of World

MISS ELLA H. BRINK HAS GONE ON A TRIP TO ALASKA

Early in the week Miss Ella H. Brink, a graduate from Holland High School and associated with her father in the Henry Brink Book Store, took the train from Chicago for an extended trip, in which she will see the beauty spots of America and the United States' most Northern possession, namely, Alaska. Miss Brink booked her trip with the Annual Christian Fellowship Alaska Tour, this organization having put on its fifth annual trip, under the leadership of John W. Lane, associate editor of the "Sunday School Times," and Rev. David Wagoner, who will also accompany the party on the trip. The tour will last for twenty-two days and the distance covered will be approximately 8,000 miles.

The start was made from Chicago on the C.B. & Q. Railroad and the upper Mississippi district is traveled to St. Paul and Minneapolis. There will be a stop at Mandan, N. Dakota. Then the Northern Pacific Railroad will take the party to the Montana Rockies, Yellowstone National Park and stop-overs will be had at Billings, Livingston and Butte, Montana, and possibly some others where scenic beauties abound.

The trip will continue through the state of Idaho to Spokane, the Yokima Valley and Seattle, Washington. A wonderful part of the trip is the boat ride of ten days on the steamer, "Alaska," sailing North over Puget Sound. In this trip, the Holland girl will be privileged to view the Cascade Mountains on the East, and the Olympic Range on the West. She will visit the king of all mountains in the West, namely, snow cap, Mt. Rainier, the mecca for mountain climbers; also Mt. Baker, which towers its head skyward within range of vision near the San Juan Islands, bordering the oceanway to Alaska.

They will arrive at Ketchikan, Alaska, which is headquarters for salmon and halibut fisheries, an industry famous for its 26 large canneries. Undoubtedly when the party arrives in Alaska many places of interest will be visited and the party will have some idea as to what Klondike looked like during the gold rush. They will come at a time when Alaska is "blooming like the rose." They may go thinking of snow and ice and perpetual winter, but the fact is that Alaska has its farmers, its trucksters, its florists, and grows things like they do anywhere else, only the seasons are shorter. They may be able to visit the great Yukon, Alaska's "father of waters," and the great White Horse Falls. There are so many interesting things to see in Alaska that it would be difficult to enumerate all of them. The contrast in the way of living is altogether different in Alaska in the Arctic zone than in the United States in the temperate zone.

On the return trip the steamer will again take them to Seattle and a side trip will be made over the Canadian-Pacific, when several cities and places of interest in Canada will be visited. At Vancouver, British Columbia, a stop-over will also be made. The party will return to Chicago the first week in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Brink took their daughter as far as Chicago, incident to making the trip, and while there they visited Mr. Brink's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wezeman of Cicero. At this place there was a small family gathering, since Mrs. H. J. Reynen of Orange City, Ia., and Everett Brink of R.R. No. 3, Holland and Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Brink and daughter of Roseland, Ill., were present. The three brothers and two sisters spent a very enjoyable day before the daughter and niece made her departure toward the "top of the world," namely, Alaska.

Wishing their names placed on the school board ballot must file petitions the same as in regular city primaries. There is a "dead line" after which no more petitions can be filed. Those candidates who get "under the wire" in time, their names will appear on the ballot to be voted for.

GO TO MEXICO BY AUTO RETURN BY TRAIN

The Misses Mabel De Jonge of Zeeland and Lillian Van Dyke of Holland are nearing the land of perpetual summer. They left a few days ago by automobile for old Mexico where they expect to visit Missionaries Rev. and Mrs. John R. Kemper at Tapachula, Chiapas, for about ten days. Their return trip will be made by train with a stopover at San Antonio, Texas, where they will visit friends. The trip is made to deliver the automobile to the Kempers in anticipation of their furlough trip to Michigan this summer when they will visit friends in Zeeland and Holland and visit different churches in their denomination.

500 VOTES CAST IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Monday, the annual school election occurred at the City Hall from 2:00 o'clock p. m. to 8:00 o'clock p. m. Approximately 500 votes were cast not including the blanks. In a city where more than 6,000 votes are registered and every eligible voter can vote whether they hold property or not, would indicate that only a small percentage, less than 10%, took interest enough in the election to go a few blocks to cast their vote for offices that are so important. One reason might have been that every name on the ballot represented a man who is thoroughly qualified, and although three of them could be elected any of the five are high-classed men who would be able to take charge of school affairs with credit to the city.

The three men elected are: Prof. Albert E. Lampen of Hope College, who had the highest vote, 2 less than 500; Cornelius J. De Koster came next with 387; and third was William Arendshorst with 330. Mr. Arendshorst started a comeback, defeating M. Everett Dick by the narrow margin of 15 votes. Volney R. Hungerford was fifth with 296 votes.

HOLLAND MAN MEETS TERRIBLE DEATH BY BURNING

The funeral services for Henry Kalmink, aged 42, who died in Holland Hospital Tuesday as the result of terrible burns received when he fell into a liquor extract vat, will be held this Friday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. from the home at 92 West 16th St. and at 2:00 o'clock from the Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church. Burial will be in the Kalmink family plot in the Kalmink Cemetery.

The accident occurred at the Armour Leather Co. plant on the north side Monday. Kalmink was working at a repair job over a vat of hot tanning extract, and as far as can be ascertained the board on which he was standing broke and Kalmink fell into the large vat containing 500 gallons of liquid which was being heated. It is stated that Mr. Kalmink fell in such a manner that even his head was submerged. The unfortunate man was terribly burned about the lower part of his body, although the head suffered less burns, the physician said.

Mr. Kalmink was rushed to Holland Hospital where he was given all the attention medical skill could give in alleviating his suffering. At the hospital the clothing was removed and it was evident that major and minor burns practically covered the entire body. Kalmink was terribly shocked and physicians gave him sedatives to quiet the nerves.

Harry Gahagan of the north side plant describes the tank as being 8 by 8 feet with a 6-foot depth. The tank contained a tanning extract which is made from quebracho wood imported from South America. The vat was about one-half full and was in the process of being heated for tanning purposes.

Mr. Gahagan stated that the temperature of the extract was between 140 and 146 degrees, Fahrenheit, and was not boiling since it does not boil until it reaches 208, Fahrenheit, at 500 feet above sea level.

With the assistance of Gerrit VandenBrink, a fellow worker, 70 East 17th St., Mr. Kalmink was able to remove himself from the vat. Mr. VandenBrink was assisting the plant machinist when the accident occurred.

Mr. Kalmink did mechanical work at the tannery and was repairing a shaft near the tank when the accident occurred. An ambulance was rushed to the north side tannery and took Mr. Kalmink to Holland Hospital with all possible speed. It is said the man suffered very little pain, but the terrible shock and recurring shocks finally ended in his death the next day at noon. The remains were taken to the Landend Funeral Home on West 16th St.

Mr. Kalmink is survived by the widow, Mrs. Sena Kalmink; also two sons, Howard J., and Junior Robert both at home; the mother, Mrs. Henry Kalmink, of East Saugetuck; three brothers, Steve of Grand Rapids; George and Harry both of Holland; four sisters, Mrs. George Pieper and Mrs. Henry Kool, both of East Saugetuck; Mrs. Herman Gerritsen and Mrs. John Brat, both of Holland.

He was married Oct. 23, 1920, at East Saugetuck to Sena Ortmann. Mr. Kalmink was a member of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church and was a deacon at the time of his death.

Mr. Kalmink was born in East Saugetuck, but moved to Holland some twenty years ago and had been employed at the tannery most of this time. He was a faithful member of the staff and was popular with his fellow workmen.

Rev. John De Haan, a former Holland pastor, now of Broadway Christian Reformed Church, Grand Rapids, will officiate.

Trinity Reformed Church Sunday School held a picnic at Tunnel Park attended by 125 persons. Tunnel Park is again becoming the popular place for picnics for those who want to take a dip in Lake Michigan.

A meeting has been called for Saturday by C. C. Wood of Waukazo representing the Waukazo Association at Waukazo Inn at 2:00 o'clock. Policies for the season will be under discussion.

Additional parking space has been secured at Ottawa Beach for campers besides spots available at the oval, which, although enlarged, is already over-taxed. The new camping grounds is where the Ottawa Beach hotel stood, which was burned some 12 years ago. The Holland State Bank owns this property and have allowed campers and trailers to use this property as a tourist camp. It is a very nice place facing Lake Macatawa, with a fine view of the channel and harbor lights.

A building program has been going on at Castle Park, supervised by Carter Brown, and one of the projects is what is called the "Dance Dune." Mr. Brown, being a Southerner, has given the architecture a Southern "smack." It has been built as a replica of a Southern manor house. Mr. Brown also followed this plan when he reconstructed the annex to the Castle. The new store is being constructed of rough boarding trimmed in white. The broad verandas will overlook the lake and the open air dance floor. The "Dance Dune" is also provided with a kitchen and undoubtedly will be a popular place for buffet suppers in the future. It also contains an ice cream bar, which will be a mecca for the younger folk. The old store, which has been at the Castle, will now be at the "Dance Dune" and the "hub bub" caused by shopping will not be heard at the hotel proper, where quiet and rest are preferred.

The manager, Sylvester Paulus, of Waukazo Inn, tells of a new play house for the children at this popular resort. The front awning conveys a rustic appearance, but inside the room, one finds paneled walls looking like unfinished white pine panelling. A ping-pong table, and furniture made for the room are included and are finished to fit the scheme of decoration. Each day, Miss Eleanor Westburg, of Chicago will conduct a story hour for children in the room. The play house from the outside has been given the impression of a tepee with a large awning of that shape. The room itself is called the "TP." Besides the new play room for the younger children, a badminton court is being constructed near the grounds of the Inn, joining three others in the resort area as centers for the newly popular sport here.

Mrs. John Eschbacher, 326 West 13th St., stricken ill Sunday at her home by infection of the sinus, remained in Holland hospital today. Reports were that her condition was unchanged. It was reported she was still suffering from hemorrhages of the sinus.

Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Mulder are at their summer home at Maple Beach. Mr. Mulder was formerly editor of the Holland Evening Sentinel and is now on the faculty at Kalamazoo College. Mr. Mulder is the author of many books and contributes to many newspapers, reviewing books, giving history of authors and their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glanton of Holland, J. Van Eenennaam of Zeeland, have gone to their Lake Michigan homes near Holland.

Robert Burton, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burton, who suffered severe body bruises and lacerations Friday when he was dragged from a car, is in an improved condition. He is able to be "up and around."

Mrs. J. De Boer, 306 West 16th St., made application for a building permit with City Clerk Oscar Peterson, Monday, for permission to remodel a garage into a double garage and move the building over one foot at an estimated cost of $220. The new building will be 18 by 20 feet.

GERRIT BUIS ON HIS WAY TO NETHERLANDS

As a surprise for Gerrit Buis who left on Tuesday for a trip to the Netherlands, Switzerland and Germany, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Eaton, entertained informally at their Waukazo home. Supper was served out-of-doors, a feature being the dessert of ice cream, which was served in the form of tiny boats. The guests were yachting caps in honor of the occasion. Group pictures were taken of the guests. Mr. Buis, well-known Holland business man, sailed from New York on the Aquitania, returning later in the summer on the Queen Mary. Mr. Buis has made several trips to the Netherlands, often taking Mrs. Buis with him. The faithful family has also went, but this time Gerrit is taking the trip alone.

Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Buis, Mr. and Mrs. William Buis and daughter, Mary Lou, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Tom White, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Klomprens, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Klomprens, Mr. and Mrs. William Bos, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Mr. and Mrs. John Dykema, Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carley.

ZEELAND EDITOR IS AGAIN MEMBER OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

At Monday night's school caucus, which is an equivalent to an election, held in the gymnasium of the Zeeland High School, Adrian Van Koevering, proprietor and editor of the Zeeland Record, was re-elected. The other candidate was David Van Ommen, Mr. Van Koevering, when the ballots were counted, had 112 votes and his opponent, 71, or a majority of 41.

The City of Zeeland was making no mistake in re-electing Mr. Van Koevering for that office. He is one of the best informed school men in Ottawa County. He has made school work a special study, and he is well acquainted with school taxation; and what is more, he knows school law. No one realizes that better than the Tax Allocation Commission of Ottawa County, where Mr. Van Koevering has been named Chairman unanimously since it was inaugurated four years ago. The editor of the News, being a member of the commission, knows the qualifications of Mr. Van Koevering and often goes to him for guidance in these vexing county school taxation measures.

At the school election William D. Van Loo was named the chairman and Charles Waldo, secretary. The members of the board were granted compensation for each meeting attended at $5.00 per meeting. It was also decided to purchase property adjoining the school grounds on Centennial St. to be turned into a playground. The space for adequate playground has been quite curtailed. The financial report of the school was read by Treasurer, Adrian Van Koevering, showing receipts, $83,123.12; expenditures, $61,896.75; and balance, $21,226.37.

It was decided that the school period would be of ten months' duration.

These test miles are preliminary to the finals to select the best Tenth district crew to meet the champions of the Eleventh district in the Coast Guard Water Fete here Aug. 3, 4, and 5. A $200 prize has been posted by coast guard headquarters in Washington.

Applications for marriage licenses have been filed at the county clerk's office by Hio Hial Wilson, 23, Spring Lake and Margery Michael, 16, Spring Lake; Ralph Van Dyke, 24, Chicago Heights and Frieda DeBoer, 21, Zeeland.

HOLLIS BAKER TELLS OF HIS EUROPEAN TRIP

A descriptive talk on his recent trip through European countries was given at a meeting of the Holland Rotary Club Thursday noon by Hollis Baker, a member of the local club, and president of the Baker Furniture Co. Mr. Baker and his family sailed from New York on the Hamburg, last January, and have been away for six months.

Antique furniture and old glass were Mr. Baker's major interest while abroad. Referring to the King Edward-Wallis Simpson affair, Mr. Baker quoted an English chauffeur as saying that the "former king was well-liked, but most of the people thought he had let them down."

While he was at Mt. Vesuvius, Mr. Baker saw a volcanic eruption, and witnessed the people moulding ash trays and other articles from hot lava.

Old Holland was characterized by Mr. Baker as "the happiest and most prosperous country in Europe. Dutch homes and buildings are well-kept, and the Dutch are happy people, enjoying many night clubs, and being especially fond of Sunday evening dancing."

"The coronation is a great show because of what it means," he said, and described it as being "a marvelous demonstration of the strength of the British empire."

Some of the stops made on the way were at Halifax, where a cargo of apples was unloaded; in England, where they stayed at a hotel, which had belonged to an uncle of Anne, wife of Henry VIII; at Brussels, "the greatest place for pickpockets in the world," where the Baker car, and at Austria, where an "air of pessimism was constantly prevalent."

Before Mr. Baker's address, Neal Van Sooy, a visiting Rotarian from Azusa, California, gave a brief talk on the International Rotary convention at Nice, Italy, as per request of Rotarian president, M. W. Berg.

Mr. Van Sooy is a former resident of Holland, living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer A. Van Sooy, 20 years ago. Mr. Van Sooy is editor and publisher of the Azusa, California Herald, and lecturer in journalism at Stanford University.

Other visiting Rotarians were Edward Bartow of Iowa City, Ia.; M. Z. Albers of Eldora, Ill.; Robert Koelberg, Jr., of Fort Wayne, Indiana; S. H. Bolinger of Shreveport, La.; William Praken of Highland Park, Leonard Fels of Louisville, Ky.; and C. A. Fruzee of Springfield, La.

HOLLAND SCOUTS FROM WASHINGTON NOW TURN TO CAMPING

The Holland Boy Scouts who returned Saturday from the national jamboree in Washington related that the "klompen" taken by the Holland dance team were in great demand by many from other states who never saw a wooden shoe before.

Upon his return Scout Executive M. P. Russell, Holland, began immediate preparations for the opening of Camp Ottawa at Newaygo. Preliminary arrangements have been made by Preston Vankolken, Holland, who is serving as cook and first aid instructor. He is assisted by Lloyd Brown of Coopersville as camp manager and Jack Barndse, Jr., Holland, as assistant camp attendant.

Other camp aids will be W. Preston Bilz, Spring Lake, as waterfront director, who also attended the jamboree, and several scoutmasters. The camp period opened Saturday, but the new mess hall will not be entirely ready for the contingent of campers. The $3,000 building will be one of the most modern camp buildings in Newaygo county. The camp will operate for seven weeks.

MARION L. KLAASEN, JAMES ZWEMER TO WED

(Grand Rapids Press) Of interest to friends in Grand Rapids is the announcement of the approaching marriage of Marion Louise Klaasen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klaasen of Lake Macatawa, former residents of this city, and James Zwemer, 11 in Holland.

The news was made known at a tea given by her mother Thursday at the Warm Friend tavern, Holland. About 40 guests attended.

Mrs. J. S. McCrath, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Arie Weller presided at the tea urns.

Miss Klaasen has been teaching in Battle Creek the last two years. Mr. Zwemer is a chemist in St. Louis, Mo., where the couple will reside.

Ottawa county received one of the highest awards possible Tuesday when William M. Connelly, manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, received the certificate of award for "meritorious achievement in the 1936 interchamber rural health conservation contest conducted by the United States Chamber of Commerce in 1936 in conjunction with the American Public Health association."

A total of 1,000 possible points was listed for various types of health work. Ottawa county got 742 or a C class grading.

The awarding of the health certificate is especially valuable to Ottawa, Connelly stated, as many resorters study health charts before visiting a summer place.

HOLLAND HOST TO C.E. CONVENTION GROUP

Pennsylvania's delegation to the 36th International Christian Endeavor convention, which was concluded Tuesday night, after a six-day session in Grand Rapids, were guests of the city of Holland, Monday afternoon. The group consisting of approximately 125 people were escorted on a tour of the city by the Rev. H. D. Terkurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. Later they went to Ottawa Beach for a swim.

After a supper in Trinity Reformed church they returned to Grand Rapids. Several thousand convention delegates visited Ottawa Beach Wednesday. Sandwiches were furnished by the Grand Rapids city union and drinks were donated by the Holland union.

The Holland delegation won first prize of $15 for the best costume group of Michigan at the big International convention parade Saturday afternoon in which 5,000 delegates paraded under a blistering sun. Holland's float which drew many cheers and commendations was arranged with a Dutch windmill, a windmill with grass, flowers, a bird bath and streamers. Five little girls in this city in Dutch costume were on the float.

The Holland delegation also wearing Dutch costumes were led by Misses Lois and Virginia Potter who improvised a klompen dance as the march progressed.

Georgia was awarded grand prize in the float division with its gleaming white float of native cotton bearing King Cotton with his court and distributing along the line as souvenirs paper-wrapped cotton balls. Grand prize in the costume division went to Kentucky with the men dressed as the old Kentucky colonels and the women with long dresses and sun bonnets.

A total of 45,000 persons witnessed the parade which took 53 minutes to pass a given point. Despite the temperature which was much hotter on the line of march than the official 94 degrees, none of the paraders dropped out. Police reported two spectators overcome by the heat.

Choice of the 1939 International Christian Endeavor convention is left to the executive committee of the International society. Invitations have been extended by San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Denver.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

July 18, 1937.
God Encourages a Leader—Exodus 3:13-16; 4:10-16; 5:1.

Henry Geerlings

It is a far cry from Moses—the baby, to Moses—the commissioned emancipator. A great many things can happen in a stretch of eighty years. Most men in this day have made their names in that time. Moses had his to make. At eighty his great career begins. We know little about him during these four score years. It would seem to all human understanding and vision that this man was going to miss trouble and opens a road to himself that but for a waiting and discouraged God would have led to obscurity permanently. This man with a royal bringing up and a university education emerges into the limelight with tumultuous energy and a tremendous self-assertion. His training and environment had not robbed him of his race consciousness and his glowing and intense sympathy for his Hebrew brethren. He was no snob. Their burdens became the burdens of his heart. He suffered with them. He resented the injustice of their lot. His righteous indignation erupted when he saw an Egyptian strike a Hebrew. He could not restrain himself. He had not yet learned self-control. He knocked the Egyptian down and thus sent him on a long journey never to return. He hid his body in the sand and thus thought to cover up his deed. But it was known. There had been spying eyes as he found out the next day. Then he saw two of his brethren quarrelling and he rebuked them in the wrong. But he came back at Moses with the sneering and alarming question. Do you mean to murder me as you did the Egyptian. The news of his deed came to the ears of Pharaoh and he tried to kill Moses. Not even the fact that he was the adopted son of the princess could secure protection from the wrath of the murderous and vengeful ruler. Moses fled. He gave up everything. He found a home and a wife and an occupation in the country far from the fierce light blazes upon the throne. This cultured man became a shepherd. Of course that was no disgrace, but it looked as if this potential giant were doing the task that anyone of a thousand lesser men might have done acceptably. It looked as if all the training and culture this man had were to be lost to the world. It is not absolutely necessary for a man to be brought up in kings' houses in order to shepherd sheep. Such a man could do it well. The Son of God washed feet well. There is no honest task beneath any man's no matter what his talents and training are. But there are some tasks which only men with great and well trained minds and big souls can do, with true and enduring success.

But the forty years of Moses' life with the sheep in the country were not empty and vain years. They were years of growth. They were years when he learned a great deal about himself and how to conquer himself. He lived in the great open spaces of the world and he heard voices that many men in the rust and riot of things do not hear. He talked with God during these obscure years and he lived in the heart of great intimacies of spiritual fellowship. He was learning many of the challenging secrets of life. He was achieving a poise of soul and he was getting ready, all unconsciously to himself, for the days when he must be able to keep his head when others lost theirs. Some men go to school to God in the city and others to school to God in the country and both get a good training for the duties to which they are called. The second forty years of Moses' life were not last years because they were quiet and obscure years, but they were seasoning years.

God knew his man. He knew how seasoned he was. He knew what abilities lay unused and untried in his great soul. He came to this young man of eighty and asked him to go down to Egypt to become the human emancipator of God's people. He was overwhelmed with the greatness of the task and he was smitten into the dust with a sense of his own unfitness for the undertaking. God proposed and Moses declined. Moses pleaded a lack of eloquence as a reason why he should be let off. Moses was sure that eloquence would be required to move the mind and heart of the potentate of Egypt. But there are several kinds of eloquence. There is an eloquence of a burning heart. There is an eloquence of a soul that is passionate for justice and brotherhood and truth. There is an eloquence of the will and the face that are set toward winning a great cause. Sometimes men are eloquent when they don't say a word. They look eloquence and they act eloquence and their commanding personalities radiate eloquence. God made Moses eloquent enough. Moses' love for his people and for the cause of freedom made him eloquent. God made him eloquent by building into his soul a sense of the divine presence and of the fact that God was using him for a great humanitarian cause. It is rather a stupid man whose soul cannot be set on fire with a burning interest in something everlastingly worthwhile.

Holland Truck Lines Effected By The Strike

THREE TRUCK ASSOCIATIONS HERE HAVE NOT MOVED ANY TRUCKS TODAY

At midnight last night a strike of some 50,000 truck drivers and helpers was effected, involving some 75 different companies who do business within Michigan. The strike call by the Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen, and Helpers' Union. Trucks which were loaded before the midnight deadline were permitted to leave their terminals for their destination. Orders were issued for all drivers on the highway at midnight to drive their trucks to the nearest terminal and stop working. It is understood that the union is seeking an increase to 55¢ an hour for dockmen, 60¢ for city drivers and 65¢ for highway drivers.

Holland was effected, according to Gerrit Scholten of the Associated Truck Lines, and all the trucks were left in the garage and not a wheel turned. The Vyn trucks, who have headquarters in Grand Haven and a branch in Holland, which is in charge of "Bernie" Rosendahl, Holland, having an electrically-lighted baseball field, is attracting attention even at this early date. It was quite a remarkable sight on the first night, when the Holland Flying Dutchmen and the Zeeland team crossed bats under the floodlights. A sizeable crowd was present and undoubtedly the baseball fans will come out in still larger numbers as night game schedules are made.

On Tuesday night another floodlight game was played, with a good attendance. The same Holland team then played the Borneo Zulu Cannibals, and figuratively speaking, the stated that their trucks, too, were stopped, that at least twelve trucks come into Holland daily with freight.

The Allegan-Kalamazoo association official in Holland, when interviewed, did not know what effect it would have on the Holland situation, since none of the trucks had arrived this morning.

The Holland Motor Express, Grand Rapids Motor Express, the Citizens Transfer Co. and the Rooks Transfer Co. have not as yet been effected by the strike, it is stated.

The strike effects only those truck lines doing business within the state. Truck lines, taking care of the inter-state trucking and going with their freight beyond the borders, have not been effected up to this time.

Mr. Gerrit Scholten of the Associated Truck Lines, stated that between 25 and 30 men, who make their homes in Holland, will be effected by the strike. Undoubtedly the only available way to ship freight, bulk or package, will be by train or bus, or in emergency, by private car.

Negotiations began several months ago and came to a "head" Monday when union representatives and a delegation of operators representing 86 trucking companies in the state met in a Lansing hotel.

When preliminary negotiations failed the union called a one-day "holiday" for Tuesday. The move was averted by a resumption of negotiations today.

A conference scheduled for Wednesday morning was postponed to await a decision by the public utilities commission on a request by the truck operators for an upward revision of small lot motor freight rates.

It appears that milk and perishable freight will not be interfered with, which includes retail deliveries, food stuffs, milk, fuel, ice, and such necessities, which will be immediately imperative need. The only delivery to stores will be goods delivered as perishable, such as foods. Whether there will be any change in this policy is not yet made clear.

Miss Margaret Anderson of Grand Haven, who was sent to the Detroit House of Correction after having served for a month, being found guilty of disorderly incidents in connection with the Grand Haven Kiddie Kover strike, was released a few days ago and is back in Grand Haven.

The commissioner said Judge Fred T. Miles of the Ottawa circuit court had concurred in the parole. He said the court wrote a letter explaining that normally a young woman with no previous police record would not have been sent to a penal institution under the circumstances but that the attitude Miss Anderson showed in court had indicated severe punishment would be needed. The court said it would concur if that attitude had changed, which the News verified in a telephone call to Judge Miles.

Parole Commissioner, Hilner Gelein, said he was satisfied there was no need for further punishment of the young woman.

In Miss Anderson's case it is understood that she was convicted on a contempt of court charge early in the strike, that Judge Miles was then lenient and suspended sentence on her promise that there would be no recurrence of the violation. Then came the last charge when she was convicted with Cleatus Trinker and Russell Van Straat of Grand Haven on charges that they assaulted a special officer on guard at the plant at the Kiddie Kover. Trinker was sentenced to six months to two years and Van Straat one to two years in the Ionia reformatory.

The supreme court has granted them permission to appeal their convictions, on motion made by their attorney, Charles Misner. Miss Anderson was imprisoned since June 10. She came home from Detroit on the bus and was met by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Anderson. Miss Anderson said she had spent the time at Plymouth doing a number of things including sewing and assisting in other ways. She lived in one of the cottages with 30 others and said that her experience was not so bad.

Since the incarceration of Miss Anderson, a Detroit weekly publication has been publishing stories, including statements that Miss Anderson was placed with "drunks" upon her admission to the penal institution, where she had been sentenced for six months. When this story came out in print, Judge Miles sought information on the treatment of Miss Anderson. Judge Miles, it will be remembered, has always taken a deep interest in offenders he has sentenced, and repeatedly he has gone to the several penal institutions and has called on them for one reason only—to help them and encourage them for the future.

Judge Miles, in getting information as this relates to Miss Anderson, shows that the story circulated was entirely without foundation.

Statements were secured from Miss Caroline Parker, president of the Detroit House of Correction commission, and from Matilda Seale, the cottage matron on duty the night Miss Anderson was admitted, denying such a condition.

Miss Parker wrote that there were no "drunks" in the hospital nor were there any disturbances of any kind. "Our procedure is to put every new woman committed to the institution into a single room in the hospital, segregating her from all other inmates until she has been examined by the institutional physician who is on duty every day.

"I might add for your information that we never have noisy 'drunks' in the women's division. Such cases are usually kept in the county jail."

Miss Parker continued that she interviewed Miss Anderson in the sewing room and was told by the girl that everyone had been most kind to her, and that her quarters were satisfactory. She reported she found the room spotlessly clean.

"It is gratifying to know that some of our judges are interested in the conditions prevailing in the penal institutions of the state. I hope Judge Miles will visit the Detroit House of Correction," Miss Parker stated.

Local Shop Has Surprise Line At Exposition

Holland Furniture Co. and Dutch
Woodcraft Replicas Enthusie
Grand Rapids Furniture
Market Buyers

The "Daily Artisan Record," a furniture publication giving furniture news for the benefit of buyers from abroad who attend the Grand Rapids Furniture exposition which includes the Furniture Market says some fine things about the Holland Furniture Co. and Dutch Woodcraft lines. This publication edited by experienced furniture men speaks especially of the "Calvert Group" which it took more than a year to plan and prepare. Every piece in that particular group of furniture has an interesting history the paper says—but let them tell it:

(Daily Artisan-Record)

The Holland Furniture company and the Dutch Woodcraft company, showing in the Waters-Klingman building, have presented what is perhaps the biggest surprise of the present market.

Always makers of adequate period and smart Modern furniture, they have come to market this summer with a group of seventy-five authentic reproductions of early American mahogany furniture which ranks with the finest custom-made furniture in the country. They call it the Calvert Group.

The pieces are described as early American, ranging from Sheraton through Empire to Victorian. The greater number of the pieces are of the type that is usually called Federal American. Replica is a better word for them than reproduction, for they are every one exact copies of original pieces, and they have been made by the same methods that were used in the originals, machine work being substituted for hand work only in instances in which it was actually an improvement. Photographs of the originals from which the pieces were taken hang on the wall of the room which has been set aside in their show-rooms for the exhibition of this new line.

A group of leading decorators and authorities on antiques spent more than a year traveling over the New England states and as far south as Baltimore collecting these pieces for reproduction. Wherever possible the piece of furniture was purchased. When this was not possible, which happened rarely, for they must have been fortunate enough to be present at the breaking up of some grand old homes, they took photographs and made scale drawings and detail drawings, from which to work.

In copying these pieces, Mr. E. P. Stephan, of the Holland Furniture company, said that it was necessary to buy special knives for some of the carvings and moldings.

The display includes dining room, bedroom and living room pieces, all of solid mahogany, and covered with the finest mahogany veneers. Even feet and posts which today, when made of solid mahogany, are not veneered, have been covered with veneers to match the veneer of panels. Especially interesting are the unusual moldings used on many of the pieces, and the hardware, all of which is hand made.

An Empire sleigh bed is one of the highlights of the exhibition in which every piece is worthy of study, a serpentine front dresser from Pennsylvania, an Empire chest, an Empire buffet, an intricately designed tambour secretary, an escrutoire from Baltimore, a large round pedestal table, and many other pieces are in the group.

Mr. Stephan of the Holland Furniture company and Mr. E. David Boyd of the Dutch Woodcraft company express the belief that the showing is unique in its magnitude, its fidelity to detail, and the grade of pieces chosen for reproduction. The manner in which the originals were acquired, almost exclusively from private homes, makes it improbable that any of these pieces have ever hitherto been reproduced.

The Grand Rapids Press also gives a review of the Holland Furniture Co. and the Dutch Woodcraft Shops of Zeeland. Besides giving some history of the line, this news-

Bathing At Macatawa 50 Years Ago

This picture shows Macatawa bathing beach 50 years ago. It is evident that there are only one or two cottages and only a two-inch plank to the beach, without any board walk or concrete on the lake front. You note the three bathing beauties, who have just come out of the surf. They are covered up from head to foot, and even they feel "giddy," judging from the way they are holding one another, undoubtedly full of giggles, self-conscious as to what the rest of the on-lookers would say. The dress of some of the women on the beach seems to hark back to "bustle days" and that derby hat is surely the most prominent object on the rather diminutive man.

beach visitors did not know that laying out in the sun is a health remedy. Today the less on and the more sun is a hard and fast rule on the beaches, and umbrellas are seldom seen anymore, although it is said that the parasols are coming back.

The picture also shows considerable driftwood of saw mill days.

Bathing 35 Years Ago

Above is a picture taken some 35 years ago, before Holland had a new lighthouse and an extended pier with breakwaters, which is evident in the background of the picture. This picture is a little more daring, 15 years later, for there are a few bare legs in evidence.

There is a cover-up in the balance of the bathing suit, but it indicates that more sensible bathing outfits were beginning to be thought of. Bathing suits such as are seen in the top picture were almost impossible to swim in and in an undertow it would spell tragedy.

H. J. HEINZ CO. MOVED DISTRICT OFFICE TO HOLLAND

The district office of the H. J. Heinz Co., maintained in Grand Rapids for over 30 years for the purpose of supervising the growing of pickles in central and western Michigan, has been moved to Holland, it was made known Tuesday. The change was made in order that the office can be of better service to the growers as well as the manufacturing plant. C. A. Barton, district manager, and E. M. Wright, office manager, are making plans to move to Holland for permanent residence here.

paper states that the display in a separate exhibition room of colonial design is actually kept locked up and the key is turned over only for bonafide space buyers or an occasional scribe.

But, manufacturers, designers and "visitors," who happen to "crash" the gate of the market, generally haven't had so much as a glimpse of the exhibit. The Press describes the exhibit quite minutely and close the article as follows: "The reception of this group has amazed us," E. P. Stephan, manager of the Holland Furniture Co., declared. "It has given us one of the finest markets in our history."

All pieces in the group are made of American mahogany.

BUYS COTTAGE AT "MAC"

Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeRuif of Grand Rapids, have purchased Cedar lodge, at Macatawa and had Miss Dorothy Park of Grand Rapids and Eugene Jensen of Grandville as their guests last week-end.

The annual meeting of the Macatawa Cottage Owners association, at which officers and trustees will be elected and activities will be planned for the season, will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of the Macatawa hotel. Walter Brooks of Grand Rapids, is secretary and called the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Decker, of Grand Rapids, have taken half of the Doll House at Macatawa for the season. Mr. and Mrs. William Telling of Holland are occupying the other half. Mrs. Telling is the former Miss Mary Alice Sherwood of Grand Rapids. Mr. Telling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Telling, Sunset Terrace, Park road Holland.

Homer Rodeheaver, nationally known chorus director and revivalist, was the guest of Mel Trotter during the past week at Macatawa. Miss Mildred Zeilstra, of Grand Rapids, is the guest of Miss Thelma Trotter. Miss Iva and Miss Ethel Livingston and Mrs. S. M. Livingston were guests of the Trotters last week-end. Mr. "Mel" Trotter heads the Grand Rapids City Mission and his brother George directs the Holland Mission.

OLDEST 89 AND YOUNGEST 6 WEEKS ATTEND PARTY

The annual Cook reunion was held July 4 at the home of Herman H. Cook on the Lugers road with about 60 attending. Relatives were present from Miami, Fla., Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Zeeland and Holland. The oldest member attending was John Van Oss, 89, of Castle Park. The youngest member was Jack Owen Cook, six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook of Kalamazoo. Herman Van Oss was reelected president and Herman C. Cook was reelected secretary and treasurer.

RECEIVES CALL TO ANOTHER FIELD

The Rev. Mr. Howard Ammi Smith, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Saugatuck, received notice that he was transferred to the Davidsburg Methodist church. This announcement came as a complete surprise to both the Saugatuck church and Mr. Smith. His many friends, both within the church and without, deeply regret to see him leave. They will, however, be happy to know that the change is quite an advancement for Mr. Smith, the Davidsburg church being much larger than the Saugatuck church.

BUILDING IN HOLLAND GOES STEADILY ON

The following applications for building permits were filed, Wednesday, with City Clerk Oscar Peterson in the city hall: Louis Poppema to construct a new front porch, 8 x 14 feet, $150; Mrs. Anna Kammeraad, 224 West 17th st., repair front porch, $45; Mrs. De Boer, 251 Columbia ave., re-roof residence with asphalt roofing, $110; A. Martin, 178 West Eighth st., re-roof home with asphalt roofing, $112.

Augmented by three large building permits issued for the Holland plant of the H. J. Heinz Co., the value of building permits in Holland took a decided jump during June with the result that the total value of the permits for the first six months of the current year now surpasses the value of those issued throughout 1936. For the first six months of the year, the amount of the value of the building permits reaches $217,451 which is $34,717.50 above the banner year of 1936, amounting to $182,733.50. The three permits issued to the Heinz company call for the construction of a new $100,000 building, now in the process of construction on West 16th st., and repairs to buildings amounting to $3,800. One application calls for repairs of $1,550 and the other for $2,250.

OPENS HOLLAND OFFICE

Byron Deputte, head timekeeper and compensation adjuster for the Ottawa, Allegan and Barry county WPA projects, established his office in the postoffice building, Holland.

Most Folk Fish During July Figures Show

This Month Offers Opportunities to Nature Lovers.

More people go fishing in July than in any other month of the year. For this reason, it is quite appropriate to nickname this month "the fishing moon," as the Indians at one time called it "the thunder-moon." Every lake and stream in Michigan is open to fishing. Vacations are the order of the day. The two combine to make the fishing rod the popular key to a day's fun.

If you go fishing in July, have an eye for things other than grasshoppers for bait. July is the month of insects. Insect troubadours strike up a chorus to tell us that mid-summer has truly arrived. These singers of the night are no vocalists. Instead they are instrumentalists, making their music by fling or rasping their wings and legs.

Great for Young Birds
July is a great month for young birds. They are beginning to like the feel of their wings and are flying a lot better than they did in June. The young of the blue herons are beginning to fish for themselves and are scattering over the country. Young terns are very self-reliant. They run about, but swim and hide in moments of danger. Their self-reliance ends when it comes to food. They are glad to accept the minnows brought by their parents. Most of the birds have nested by this time, except the goldfinch, which does not usually begin making its nest until early July. The goldfinch feeds its young mainly on weed seeds rather than insects, hence it seems reasonable to suppose the nesting is deferred until there is a plentiful supply of seeds available.

Woodchucks Out
In the woods, the young woodchucks are beginning to shift for themselves. Young cottontail rabbits are running about along the road sides. Deer fawns may be seen in the northern forests, their milk-white spots growing dimmer as the month progresses. If you come upon a bear cub, don't mistake it for a huge porcupine. The she-bear will be nearby and she is likely to resent interference with her young.

Be sure to look out for butterflies this month. They are flitting and drifting about everywhere, beautiful and carefree, a fitting symbol of summer vacation. You should learn to identify at least a few: the mourning dove, the small yellow tiger swallowtail, the small yellow cabbage butterfly, the painted beauty, the red admiral, the common wood-nymph, the black swallowtail, the monarch and the viceroy.

SAUGATUCK ENJOYS LARGEST BUSINESS EVER

(Saugatuck Commercial Record)

The three-day holiday over the last week-end brought to Saugatuck the largest crowd that has ever been here in a Fourth of July. All accommodations for visitors were taken and some were turned away for lack of sleeping rooms. The crowd began coming Friday night and continued until Monday morning. If the business keeps up at the present rate this season will be the best one Saugatuck has ever enjoyed.

BREAKS ARM THROUGH BEAM IN BARN

Peter De Witt of Townline, near Zeeland, had the misfortune of fracturing an arm when he was brushed off a load of hay by a beam when entering his barn. De Witt's landing on the barn floor was anything but gentle. He was hurried to a doctor who reduced the fracture.

40,000 TO OTTAWA BEACH ON SUNDAY

Carl VanWeelden, superintendent of the state park at Ottawa Beach, Holland, reported Sunday's attendance was more than 40,000, bringing the total for the last week to more than 195,000. More than 100 camping permits were issued and more than 100 trailers have been in the park in the week's hot period.

Bathing At The Holland Resorts Today

The picture above is more up-to-date. It pictures the splendid bathing beach at Ottawa Beach and was taken some two years ago. These are sensible clothing, and gives a bather free use of the limbs and undoubtedly that has been one reason why most of those who visit the beaches regularly have become good swimmers. Surely no one could learn to swim laden down with water-soaked dresses, stockings and slippers as is shown in the first picture.

This year undoubtedly, bathing suits are even more daring in rare instances, but we believe the picture above shows bathing outfits that are safe and sane, although possibly would not get the approval of the grandmas of 50 years ago. Anyway, the three pictures are conclusive evidence that there has been an evolution in bathing suits at the Holland resorts during the last half century.

A number of old former residents of Gibson, southwest of Holland, came home over the Fourth to call on former friends and relatives. They included Mr. and Mrs. John Kemer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Boyce of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boyce of Indiana, Miss J. The case of Sophie Tanis against Jacob Eding, Harry Brower, and Harry H. Vredevelde, which has gone to the supreme court of this state twice, came back from that court with verdict of the jury in the final trial affirmed and the judgment in the amount of 4,127 allowed Miss Tanis is affirmed. In the first trial, brought for damages sustained when she was struck and severely injured by an automobile in Hamilton, Miss Tanis was allowed $6,147. The case was appealed and sent to the supreme court. That court sent it back for a new trial. The second trial resulted in the four-thousand-dollar verdict. The case was just tried before Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland in the Allegan court.

Charles Welch, plaintiff in a suit against the Citizens Mutual Automobile insurance company, was awarded $1,470 damages by jury in circuit court Allegan before Judge Miles. Welch also named Irving Wolbrink defendant in the suit which was the result of an automobile accident in September of 1935 near Fennville. Welch had been walking on M-89 about a mile from Fennville when a car driven by Wolbrink struck him causing severe injuries. In addition to the judgment Welch had previously received approximately $600.

Albert Prangu, age 56, Fennville, charged with driving an automobile while drunk, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay a fifty-dollar fine, costs, and to serve five days in the county jail. Unless fine and costs are paid he will be required to serve sixty additional days.

Eason Wells has sold his farm on Hutchins lake, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Park of Millington, who have taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Wells living in the nearby cottage of Mabel Oaks Turrell. The farm was first bought from the state by Mr. Wells' father Elisha Wells, in 1858, who cleared the land. When a log-chain used in clearing would break Mr. Wells would carry it on his shoulder and walk to the nearest blacksmith shop, Allegan, a distance of twenty miles.

G. Ramp, 24, Fennville, arrested on charge of being drunk and disorderly, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay a dollar fine together with costs. The fine and costs were paid.

Jay E. Burch, of Fennville, was appointed by the council at the regular monthly meeting to be village clerk, succeeding Geo. Ellis Bule, who resigned on account of having recently purchased the McCarty filling station at Glenn where he will live.

Through cooperation of the Allegan common council and the state highway department, maximum speed limits on state highways within the city limits of Allegan were raised Thursday on all trunk lines outside the business district. The new limits are designed to provide reasonable traffic regulations for those passing through the city without unduly stopping the flow of traffic.

HOLLAND AND OTTAWA COUNTY 4-H MEMBERS TAKE HONORS AT SUMMER PROGRAM RECENTLY

Ottawa county 4-H club members who went to Michigan State college, July 6-10, received several fine honors which continues the Ottawa county rating as being one of the most important counties in the state in 4-H work.

Raymond Lamb of Beachwood school, Holland and Allan Hambleton of Coopersville were initiated into the state service club. Shirley Garton of Marne was chosen to represent Ottawa county in the style revue at the Detroit State fair. Charlotte Bahr, Conklin, and John Bagli, Beachwood school, were placed on the state honor roll and Jerry Hackett, Marne, received a scholarship to Michigan State college for outstanding work in handicraft.

The 22 delegates spent a part of the time on educational projects. One day was spent in a tour of the college. Another day was taken up by a trip to the state capitol at Lansing. There were pleasing programs every night.

The 4-H program is divided into two divisions—a summer program and a winter program. Outstanding members were selected to attend the camp. A delegate is allowed for every 50 who finishes the winter programs and every 25 who complete the summer work. There were over 900 in the county who finished projects in 1936. Selection as a delegate to this camp is regarded as a high honor and the trip is a spur during the year to attain high rank in the work of the 4-H classes.

DORNBOS SMOKE HOUSE GOES UP IN SMOKE

Damage estimated at about $15,000 was done to H. J. Dornbos and Brother fish smoking and packing plant at Grand Haven in the most severe fire at the county seat in more than a year. The blaze originated in the smoking room which was in full operation with 5,000 pounds of whitefish chubs being smoked. The fish are a total loss.

The smoke house in the plant located on Munro street, had been in operation since 6 a. m. with John Naerabou, veteran smoker, in charge. Mr. Naerabou saw the flames shooting up about 8:15 a. m. and the fire department was called. The fire had gained headway in the frail structure and it was three hours before it was extinguished.

Besides damaging the smoke house to such an extent that the oven must be rebuilt, a member of the firm said the fire spread to a storage house, destroying containers for smoked fish. A pipe line from the ice plant was severed, sending ammonia fumes through the burning building for a time but the ice plant was saved.

The fire, first since a disastrous blaze 18 years ago, comes at the height of the fish smoking season. Later news developed today showing that seven of the 12 smoking ovens in the H. J. Dornbos and Brother fish smoking and packing plant which was partially destroyed by fire, were back in operation today although members of the firm said the fire spread to a storage house, destroying containers for smoked fish. A pipe line from the ice plant was severed, sending ammonia fumes through the burning building for a time but the ice plant was saved.

SECOND SUICIDE AT ZEELAND BECAUSE OF DEMENTED CONDITION

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Hartgerink, 52, wife of John A. Hartgerink, 125 West McKinley St., Zeeland were held Wednesday, at 1:30 p. m., from the Baron Funeral home and at 2 p. m. from Second Reformed church in Zeeland. The Rev. Richard J. Vandenberg, pastor of the church, and the Rev. G. Tyse of Holland were in charge of the services. Burial was in North Holland cemetery. The body of Mrs. Hartgerink was discovered Sunday morning about 8:55 a. m., in Black River near Scholten's bridge on the old Zeeland-Holland road, by three young boys living in that neighborhood. Following investigation by Coroner Gilbert Vande Water a verdict was returned of suicide while mentally deranged. The woman had returned to her home, Friday from Cuterville.

Mrs. Hartgerink was born in Holland township August 2, 1884, to Gerrit and Gezeena Frantzen Broer. She was a devout member of Second Reformed church in Zeeland, secretary of the Ladies Mission Society of the church and member of the Adult Bible class. This is the second suicide to take place at Zeeland within the week because of a demented condition, the first being William Vanden Bosch, who shot himself with a rifle. The funeral of Mr. Vanden Bosch was held Saturday.

THE INSTALLATION OF NEW HAMILTON PASTOR AN OUTSTANDING EVENT

A welcome reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. H. Van't Kerkhof last week Wednesday evening at the First Reformed church of Hamilton upon their arrival from Byron Center to assume the duties of the local pastorate. A large audience greeted them and an interesting program was presented in their behalf with Mr. John Brink, Sr., vice president of the consistory presiding. He also read scripture and Mr. H. H. Nyenhuis offered the invocation. This was followed by brief speeches from the various organizations of the church. Mr. Brink speaking for the consistory. Mr. George Broer for the Sunday School, Mrs. John Kronemeyer for the Ladies Missionary Society, Miss Josephine Bolks for the Women's Church League, Miss Julia Bultman for the Christian Endeavor Society, Miss Mildred Kaper for the King's Daughters Missionary Society. Rev. I. Scherpenisse of the American Reformed church brought greetings, and the church janitor, Mr. Sherman De Boer, made a few humorous remarks. Rev. and Mrs. Van't Kerkhof fittingly responded to the speeches. Musical numbers included vocal selections by the Junior Girls' Choir, a male quartette composed of Messrs. H. H. Nyenhuis, Justin Roelofs, John Elzinga and Benj. Rankers; and the Gospel Trio, Arthur Hoffman, Lawrence Lohman and G. Van De Riet with Miss Julia Bultman presiding at the organ. After the program, a social session was enjoyed when new acquaintances were formed and refreshments were served.

OTTAWA COUNTY BUILDING AND LOAN PAYS DIVIDEND

A dividend at the rate of 3 percent per annum on all classes of shares for the last six months was voted by the Board of Directors of the Ottawa County Building and Loan Association at its monthly meeting last Saturday.

In addition to the declaration of the dividend, which will distribute a large sum of money among a large group of depositors, a very good substantial sum was added to the surplus and reserve accounts from the earnings of the six months period, according to the statement of Ernest V. Hartman, Secretary of the Association.

During the last six months the Association has made substantial progress in every phase of its activity. The financial statement of June 30th showed an increase of $19,000 in assets over the corresponding period a year ago. The mortgage-loan department reported the granting of $16,175.00 in new loans on homes during the six months period which is a very large increase over the first six months of 1936.

The new liberalized loan plan, in use at the present time by the Association has attracted a large number of people interested in Home ownership. Through membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis, and through its access to Federal funds, the Ottawa County Building and Loan Association has plenty of money available for loans on Holland homes.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

VEGETABLES are becoming increasingly plentiful and cheap while meat prices continue to rise sharply. Vegetable plates which are garnished with or include such foods as bacon, potted or savory meats, eggs, cheese or fish are more than acceptable to the average family.

Mid-summer fruits are fast becoming plentiful, including new cooking apples, melons, peaches, pears, plums and grapes at the early summer fruits gradually disappear.

Fish, small fowl, broilers and the forequarter cuts of lamb and veal are the best meat values. Eggs are reasonable. Be sure to keep them cold at this season to maintain their good quality. Seasonable foods make up the following menus.
