Real Cool Kids— Some Days That Is

Children Receive Fluoride for Teeth At Area Schools

ZEELAND (Special)—After giving topioid fluoride treatments to 153 children at Montellow Park school in Holland during the latter part of June, operators have moved to Zeeland Lincoln elementary school where 290 youngsters will have their teeth treated for the prevention of cavities this month.

The treatments, sponsored by the Michigan State Department, are being given by Jack A. Lewis, a senior dental student at the University of Michigan, and his assistant, and Joy Hietbrink, a senior at Holland Christian High School.

Jack is one of about 40 dental and dental hygiene students from the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit who are giving treatments all over Michigan this summer.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John with many gifts.

Treatments in Zeeland will continue until the end of the month, when Jack and Joy will move to Beechwood school in Holland to treat 302 more boys and girls during August.

The children taking treatments were contacted and reservations were made during the school year. Treatments were recommended for children seven, 10, and 13 years old — about the second, fifth and eighth grades.

The cost for the four treatments is three dollars. At the first visit the teeth are cleaned and first fluoride applications are given. The remaining visits are all for further treatments, and usually are completed within a week.

Jack, who attended a two-week orientation course at the state health department in Lansing before starting the program, said that this type of precaution is best in places where the drinking water is not treated.

Equipment and the fluoride itself are furnished jointly by the state and county health departments, he said.

Since children had opportunity to make appointments during the school year, the schedule is filled, and no more appointments can be made.

Man Pleads Guilty As 2nd Offender

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Robert S. Hewitt, 51, of 221 Allegan St., Lansing, pleaded guilty in Circuit court Monday to a charge of drunk driving, second offense, and will return July 20 for sentence. Hewitt was arrested by sheriff's officers July 1 in Polkton township. His operator's license had been previously suspended.

Charles Benes, 20, and Merton Goldbert, 18, both of route 1, Grand Haven, who were found guilty at a non-jury trial June 29 of a rape charge, both were severely reprimanded by Judge Raymond L. Smith when they appeared for sentence this morning. "You will be faced with this for the rest of your lives," the judge told them.

He put both on probation for two years. In addition Benes must pay $200 costs and serve the next 60 days in jail. The sheriff was instructed that he may only be visited by members of his family and not by his friends. After the jail sentence he must observe a midnight curfew.

Goldberg's probation also lists $150 costs and a midnight curfew. Neither may leave the state without permission of the court.

Three Persons Injured In Two-Car Collision

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Three persons were injured Saturday afternoon in a two-car collision on M-50 and 188th St., midway between US-31 and the Lake Shore Rd.

Injured were Mrs. Cornelia Boldewick, 62, Grand Rapids, driver of one car, a passenger, Gretchen Boldewick, 26, and Harry Pelgrim, 71, route 2, Grand Haven, driver of the second car.

All received cuts and bruises. Pelgrim also received a possible neck injury. The three were taken to Municipal Hospital.

Ottawa County deputies said Mrs. Boldewick's '55 model car and Pelgrim's '50 model car were total losses.

The collision occurred at an open intersection. Deputies continued their investigation.

Breaks Leg in Fall

Paul Nienhuis, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nienhuis of 177 Fairbanks Ave., fractured his right leg when he fell from a boat Wednesday while fishing near Fairbanks Ave. He was taken to Holland Hospital and returned home today.

The Misses Minnie, Johanna, Anna and Sue Van Otterloo returned home Wednesday evening from Hancock, Minn., where they spent a week with their brothers.

Not many people go swimming in Lake Michigan when its temperature is only 59 degrees, but John Winter and Dave Milanowski, lifeguards at the Holland State Park, wade the length of the bathing area every morning, regardless of the water's coolness.

About 10 a.m., after they have cleaned the debris from the beach, Winter, a Holland youth and Milanowski, from Grand Rapids, take a special, tube-shaped thermometer and wander out about 100 feet from shore. They carry the thermometer well beneath the surface, in order to get the best idea of the temperature for the entire depth. It may be warmer or cooler at the surface or at the bottom, depending on the current.

While they're browsing around — sometimes it's a pleasure and sometimes it's torture — they check the depth of the water at the safety buoys and look for places where the waves have washed out deep holes.

When they find a hole deep enough to endanger the safety of bathers, the buoys are adjusted to keep swimmers away. That accounts for the sometimes irregular boundary line beyond which swimmers aren't supposed to go.

The undertow is another factor the guards have to gauge. They don't have any special instruments to measure the backwash of the waves, but if it can be felt at all, it's time to keep an eye on it. Generally, the undertow is checked several times a day.

Of course, Winter and Milanowski are getting paid for their chilly dips, and it's all part of their job, but it's still pretty nice for the rest of us to know how cold the lake is without having to find out the hard way.

Fish, Game Club Plans Big Picnic

The annual Holland Fish and Game club picnic will be held Saturday, at 2 p.m. at the club grounds, located on M-21, three miles east of Holland.

About 350 members and their families are expected to attend the annual event. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

Glenn Brower, general chairman, reported that all arrangements have been completed. The picnic was originally scheduled for June 23 but was postponed. A work bee will be held Friday night for members to get the grounds in tip-top shape, Brower said.

Contests for children and adults will be staged with prizes donated by Holland businessmen. Awards are now on display in the James A. Brower Co. window on River Ave.

The Holland Archery Club will put on a special marksmanship exhibition. This always has proved one of the picnic highlights.

Free pony rides for the children and movies, a casting contest and music are other picnic features.

Members must show membership cards at the entrance to be eligible for the prizes.

Margaret Carter, 40, Grand Rapids, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids with a broken collarbone and possible fractured ribs.

The driver, Reginald Carter, 47, Grand Rapids, escaped injury. Ottawa County deputies said Carter lost control of his car as it rounded a curve and it rolled over several times.

Reckless Driver Leads Zeeland Police 2 Miles

ZEELAND (Special)—Frank Bylsma, 51, of 505 Crofton St., S.W., Grand Rapids, was issued a summons for reckless driving last night after leading Zeeland police on a two-mile chase.

Police said that Bylsma came into town on M-21 at about 60 miles an hour, skidded through a red light after slamming on his brakes, and continued on at about 50 miles an hour. He was towing a boat trailer which bounced four feet in the air when it hit ruts in the road, police said.

When he finally stopped, near Sneller Hardware store, he told arresting officer Larry Veldheer that he hadn't heard the siren and thought the flashing red light meant only that the officer wanted to pass him.

Council Meets

Traffic schedules which were to be considered Wednesday at the special City Council meeting were adjourned indefinitely. It was a short meeting in terms of official record but councilmen informally discussed other matters for a considerable time.

Council Allows Erection of New Service Station

Many Sidewalks Are Ordered Constructed
Here This Summer

After considerable discussion, City Council Wednesday night voted 4 to 3 to allow erection of a filling station at 28th St. and Michigan Ave. by the Clark Oil Co. Casting dissenting votes were Councilmen Raymond Holwerda, Stanley Curtis and John Van Eerden.

A petition protesting another service station in the vicinity signed by several property owners also was read, and a few persons were present at the meeting. Only two spoke, Louis Robbert who was in favor of the station and Harold Essenburg who opposed the move.

The city manager's report revealed that the application had been reviewed by the building inspector, city engineer, fire chief and police chief and after some revisions, the plans met all requirements except for some reservation from the police chief regarding the Michigan Ave. location on US-31, stating that any driveway of any kind especially on trunk lines is bound to interfere to some extent with the safe movement of vehicular traffic.

Discussion brought out that a service station with proper curb cuts for drives and proper setbacks was perhaps no greater hazard to safety than a food drive-in or a store. A motion to table the application until next meeting lost 4 to 3.

With no discussion of any kind, Council granted a gas station license to the Speed-E Car Wash at River and Pine. Both these applications had been tabled from the previous meeting.

In other business, Mayor Robert Visscher appointed Donald Thomas, local bank official, as a member of the Library Board to succeed Mrs. Edward Donivan, long-time member and present president who had preferred retirement after several years of service on the board. Council concurred in the appointment.

The oath of office of Clarence J. Becker as a member of the Hospital Board was filed.

Council passed a resolution ordering that sidewalks be laid within 30 days at the following locations: East side Van Raalte, 24th to 30th; west side Washington, 23rd to 25th; west side Washington, 28th to 30th; west side Maple, 20th to 22nd; west side Pine, 29th to 31st; east side Central, 28th to 32nd; west side Elmdale Ct., 24th to 26th; west side State, 22nd to 23rd; north side 25th, Columbia to Lincoln; north side 26th, Michigan to Elmdale; north side 27th, Central to College; north side 28th, Michigan to Pine, south side 29th, Van Raalte to Wildwood Dr.; south side 30th, Maple to Pine; both sides 31st, Maple to Pine; both sides Michigan, 28th to 32nd.

The resolution provides that if walks are not constructed within 30 days that the city engineer is authorized to construct same with costs to be charged the owner or occupant in a manner provided by city charter. Persons living on these streets received courtesy notices early this year stating that such action probably would be taken this summer.

Council approved a recommendation of the park superintendent to purchase 114,000 tulip bulbs from Doornbosch Bulbs, Inc. The second lowest bidder. The bid was some $50 higher but was favored due to special services rendered in the certification of bulbs furnished in the past and advice given on bulb purchases. The Doornbosch bid, one of nine entered, called for an outlay of $3,550.

Council okayed purchase of two trucks for city departments, one for a dump truck with body and hoist for the street department from Muller Equipment Co. at a net price of $3,300, and the other for the cemetery department from De Nooyer Chevrolet, Inc., at a net price of $3,057.

Council received a communication from Elks lodge No. 1315 requesting that the fire escape at the rear of the Elks building at 210 Central Ave. be restored at its former location. Pete Botis and William Wood spoke for the Elks and asked that the fire escape be allowed to reach the ground. This overhanging fire escape had been ordered down by the city manager after it interfered somewhat with functions of the newly developed city parking lot, besides appearing to be unsafe. Details will be worked out with the city attorney and Peter Boter whom the Elks made it clear that they do not want to claim the property by adverse possession although the fire escape has encroached neighboring property for 27 years.

Letters from the Interstate Commerce Commission, Senators Potter and McNamara and Rep. Ford were presented in answer to Council's communications on the subject of free time allowed for freight cars in lake ports. The communication said the regulation which allows more time in ocean ports is intended to be in effect only so long as the car shortage exists.

Mayor Visscher presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and 10 minutes. Councilmen John Beltman and Bernice Bishop were absent. Councilman Robert Kouw gave the invocation.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. John (Jennie) Felder and Mrs. Arle (Aubra) Vuorens of Holland, Mrs. Adam (Nellie) Westmas of Detroit, Mrs. Henry (Anna) Van Lierop of Cincinnati and Mrs. Martin (Martha) Hoeksema of East William, N. Y.; three sons, Peter Koppenaal of Milwaukee, Bert and Leonard of Holland; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson Koppenaal of Elmhurst, Ill.; 25 grandchildren, and 35 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Dykstra Funeral Chapel with the Rev. John Hains officiating. Burial will be at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral chapel Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Zuverink has appeared in 36 games for the Orioles, more than any other relief pitcher in the majors. His record is 4-5.

New Scooter Law May Be Repealed By Legislature

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today joined police and safety officials all over the state in blasting a recently enacted law permitting minors 14 and 15 years old to obtain restricted operator permits for motor scooters and bikes.

The act may be changed or taken off the books during the special legislative sessions when lawmakers reconvene in Lansing July 17. Chief Van Hoff was one of the first to protest the law which enforcement officials feel was "sneaked in" and already in effect before police were aware of it.

Van Hoff said he had a great deal of sympathy for youngsters who would like to operate mechanical scooters. "It would be nice to give the kids what they want, but in the busy traffic today it just isn't safe to have 14-year-old youngsters operating such scooters on busy streets and highways. If youngsters were content to cruise at 20 miles an hour, the danger wouldn't be so great, but some of those bikes are capable of going 50 or 60 miles an hour."

In the current situation, Chief Van Hoff had warm praise for many parents who have been most cooperative in not allowing eager youngsters to buy scooters. He also pointed to two grim fatalities a few weeks ago in which a bicyclist and a motor scooter operator were killed in separate accidents a few minutes apart.

"After that happened, one father came to me and said his 14-year-old son no longer wanted a scooter," the chief said. So far, 50 to 60 restricted licenses have been issued out of Holland police headquarters.

"Whatever we do, we must remember safety comes first," the chief said.

In Grand Rapids, members of the Grand Rapids Safety Council attacked the new law and went on record as "greatly disturbed" by the law.

The Alpena Municipal Council recently asked Gov. G. Mennen Williams to amend or repeal the act during the special session, and Williams' office said it had received similar requests from several other Michigan cities requesting the law be amended or repealed.

Lansing police officials said they intend to abide by the law and issue licenses to all who pass the test, but said the act is a "bad rule and far from practical."

Lee C. Richardson, director of the secretary of state's driver and vehicle services division, said the traffic safety code exam is the same given to persons seeking automobile drivers licenses. He said the restricted permits do not allow "underage" minors to drive automobiles.

Since the law became effective April 12, a total of 1,417 permits have been issued to motor scooter operators, according to the secretary of state's office.

Court Officials Oppose New Motor Scooter Law

Juvenile agent Avery Baker today said the Michigan Juvenile Court officials went on record last month opposing the law which allows 14 and 15 year olds to operate motor scooters.

Baker said the group, which met in Jackson, sent Gov. G. Mennen Williams a lengthy telegram outlining their position but the wire was never acknowledged.

The Ottawa County court agent said that traffic violations involving minors have nearly doubled since the law was passed and the bulk of the increase dealt with minors.

The Holland Auxiliary Police also has passed a resolution asking repeal of the law. Copies will be sent to Williams and to State Sen. Clyde Geerlings and Rep. George Van Peursem.

South Olive Church Has Annual Picnic

South Olive Christian Reformed Church held its annual church and Sunday school picnic at Zeeland Park Friday evening. A large crowd attended the event, which was sponsored this year by the Sunday school.

After supper, sports were conducted including a softball game for the men and boys and contests for all ages.

Group singing and songs by children of the Sunday School opened the evening program. A film program, presented by Russ Sakkers, included a special film for the children and "This Amazing Universe."

Tornado Alert To Check Zeeland Disaster Fitness

Plan City Barricade;
First Aid Ready in
10 Minutes July 20

ZEELAND (Special)—The City of Zeeland will be barricaded for about a half an hour between 7 and 8 p.m. next week Friday evening when a tornado test alert will take place.

Civil Defense Director Peter Wothuis said today that police and police auxiliary units will block all entrances to the city while rescue and first aid workers see how fast they can assemble for duty. Wothuis said that the barricade will be used in event of any real disaster to prevent sight-seers and willing, but untrained personnel from flooding the area and interrupting rescue operations.

The alert coincides with the National Air Raid Alert all over the country.

It is hoped, he said, that the police will set up the blockades and that the First Aid Corps — 40 privately owned station wagons equipped with stretchers and blankets — will complete their initial assignments within 10 minutes. Twenty of the station wagons will report to each of the city's two funeral homes to await assignment.

About 150 members of the regular civil defense staffs — heavy equipment, transportation, and fire — will report to the City Hall.

Meanwhile, a police officer will remain with the department's short wave radio while another checks the co-ordination of activity in a police cruiser.

Two new portable communications systems recently purchased by the city will be in operation. The 6-meter systems were bought for the use of Civil Defense and the Red Cross to relieve the jammed police radio in case of emergency.

Wothuis said that he hopes his plan of separating police activities from other operations will enable his staff to work more effectively within the city.

Following the alert, Paul Johnson, Grand Rapids meteorologist will speak and show pictures on municipal safety at the City Hall.

New Arrivals Spur Resort Activity at Waukazoo Inn.

Waukazoo Inn, its guest season now in full swing, is the scene of varied resort activity this week, with a number of new arrivals on hand to take part.

Among the new arrivals at the Inn are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dinkel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klein, the Paul Schutte family, the William Mellas, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gerde and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crone, all of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Tina Proctor, Chicago Tribune fashion artist and fashion writer for the Chicago Magazine, spent the Fourth and the weekend at the Inn.

The Walters Marionettes gave their children's show, "Richard Brown and the Dragon," to a large group of delighted children Saturday night. Lots of parents were present, too, and were as thrilled with the production as the youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stockham of Birmingham, Ala., were guests of the Willis Diekmans for the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Potts of Evanston were entertained last week by Fred Hack of Waukazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gorr and their son Fred brought the Silver Dawn over from Chicago last weekend and spent several days visiting old friends at the Inn.

The first square dance of the season will be held Thursday night July 12. Square dancers from Holland will be welcome. A buffet dinner will precede the dancing. Bob Caskey of Grand Rapids will do the teaching and the calling.

Edwin Daly of Marshall, Ill., whose first book, "Some Must Watch," will be published by Scribners for an early winter release, has established his summer studio at Waukazoo. Daly, now a junior at Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, began his book while still in Marshall High School. He has been interested in writing since he was a child and was stimulated to try his hand seriously by the great success of Jimmie Jones (From Here to Eternity) of nearby Robinson, Ill. Daly spent considerable time at the same writing colony Jones did near Marshall, and it was here that the attention of publishers lighted on this teenager's ability. The result is the coming publication of his first novel.

Daly is now working on his second book, which he hopes to get well on its way in his Waukazoo studio this summer. An outstanding young man, he was one of Marshall High School's outstanding athletes and found time to do writing along with his homework.

Another writer at the Inn is Terry Dinkel of Cincinnati, Ohio, who has been writing poetry for magazines and newspapers for a long time. Her column of book reviews and poetry have achieved considerable praise from readers. Mrs. Dinkel's book of poetry, "Evening," has become a top seller in the poetry field. When the Cincinnati Times Star sealed its 200th anniversary issue (to be read in 2040 A. D.) in its new cornerstone in 1940, it selected her poem, "Cannon in the Sunset," as part of the historical issue. Mr. and Mrs. Dinkel are spending three weeks at Waukazoo.

Egyptians Tour Monitor Station

ALLEGAN (Special) — Two young Egyptian electrical engineers who will help direct the construction, operation and maintenance of their country's all new communications system, visited the Federal Communications Commission's monitoring station near here Thursday and Friday.

Galal Mohamed, 26, and Mohamed Hassan, 25, are members of a group of six engineers being groomed to take over all Egyptian radio, telephone and telegraph installations when the British Marconi Company leaves their country within the next year.

The six are all touring the United States under the International Cooperation Administration program, formerly known as "Point Four."

They have been in the United States for 10 months, most of which time was spent in the New York area. There next stop will be in Chicago where they will inspect that city's various communications firms. Within a month they will be returning to Egypt to start work on the monumental task of setting up a completely new radio, telephone and telegraph system which will be operated by the government.

Mohamed and Hassan both use the same word "wonderful" in describing their experiences in the United States, but both have the same, single reservation about the weather. But they got no arguments from Michigan residents when they complained that it was "too cold."

Breezes Bother Young Sailors

Frisky Fourth of July breezes kept Junior Macatawa Bay Yacht club skippers busy trying to keep afloat and the wind didn't give contestants much time to think about places in the three-race series.

Joey Good didn't let the wind bother him and came home first in the Nipper class ahead of Jim Spencer, Tommy Baker and Betsy Barkwell.

Paul Harms was first place winner in the Lightnings, with Jane Boyd second and the Marsijles third.

Jim Field provided the biggest thrill in the Wednesday racing as his Yellow Peril won the third race in the International 110's and copied the series in a closely-contested series. Jim Boyd finished second and John Beeman, third.

Races slated for last Sunday were called off but the Saturday tune-up events were held.

Jim Spencer placed first in the Nipper with Leslie Verdier, Betsy Barkwell and Timmy Walker finishing in that order.

John Beeman took the International 110 class with Jim Boyd coming in second and Karen Andreasen third.

The first regularly scheduled races of the season will be held Saturday.

Johnny Lujack, Family Vacation at Macatawa

Johnny Lujack, two-time All-American football quarterback while at Notre Dame University and winner of football's highest award, the Heisman trophy in 1947, is vacationing with his family this month at Macatawa Park.

The former All-American, his wife Pat, and three children, Mary Jane, 7, Jeff 3 and Carolyn, 2, arrived here earlier this week and plan to stay until Aug. 2.

Lujack, who coached the Notre Dame backfield in 1952-53 after four years in professional football with the Chicago Bears, is now a successful automobile dealer in Davenport, Iowa.

As far as football goes, he plans to see Notre Dame a few times this year. "We usually see about three or four a year," the personable Lujack said.

Looking trim, Lujack reported he is 198 pounds now, eight pounds over his professional playing weight. He's keeping in shape with a frequent round of golf and Friday broke 80 for the first time with a 79 at the American Legion Country Club.

Lujack quickly jumped on the bandwagon for Terry Brennan, now Irish coach.

"I was a junior when Terry was an 18-year-old sophomore starting halfback and he knew football then and was really dependable. He always came through. If Terry has as much success coaching as he did as a player he'll have no trouble being a great coach," Lujack said.

Lujack ran the straight T for Coach Frank Leahy at Notre Dame as a player and coached both straight and split-T for the Irish. Brennan also used both systems.

Asked about Jimmy Morse, the North Muskegon speedster, who will captain the Irish next year, Lujack predicted that Jim should have another great year. "He's another boy that made first string as a sophomore."

Lujack hasn't met Morse, but when told Morse was working as a life guard at Grand Haven State Park, said he hoped that the two get together during his stay here.

"Morse was a freshman when I was coaching but we didn't know too many of those boys," Lujack said.

As for the future, Lujack said "I'm doing okay in the automobile business and like it a lot. This is going to be my life."

Glancing over at little three-year-old Jeff, busy filling a pail with sand, "He's got the build for a football player and I hope he can play for Notre Dame."

CYPRUS

SELF-DETERMINATION

Those Americans who want our government to mix in the Cyprus dispute on the score of "self-determination" might profitably carry their argument to its logical conclusion. They want Washington to pressure England to get out of Cyprus because four million Cypriots want to unite with Greece.

But what about the one million Cypriots who want to stay under British rule or unite with Turkey? If self-determination works for a majority, why not for a minority?

Or suppose those American advocates of injecting the American government into a dispute that is none of America's business should turn the situation around. We here in America have a minority that is being given far worse treatment than either minority or majority in Cyprus — our sixteen million Negroes. Suppose England should try to tell Washington what it should do about that problem, what would the people who advise getting into the Cyprus dispute say? Their language would probably be unprintable.

Cyprus is England's problem and the problem of Cyprus. It is just none of our business. American Greeks may hold mass meetings and parades in which 25,000 take part advocating the union of Cyprus and Greece. That is their privilege, but the moment they try to pressure our government into dictating England's policy they are out of American political bounds.

If self-determination is to be the criterion in Cyprus, why shouldn't the one million Turks in the island demand that they have the right to set aside one fifth of the island for their own use, while four fifths should go to the Greek Cypriots? That is, if the present agitation should lead to separation.

But if that should be proposed, the Greek Cypriots would yell murder and injustice. Also, it would be of course not be very practical. A small island so divided would be in hot water politically, economically and in every other way. That kind of thing has been tried in the larger island of Ireland — with rather unhappy results. But logically there seems no reason why a fifth of the island's population should be put under the thumb of the other four fifths.

In any event, Cyprus is not our "baby," as the late President Roosevelt might have phrased it. We have troubles enough of our own, and American Greeks who are unwilling to confine themselves to those troubles might better return to Greece.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, July 15
by C. P. Dame
Jesus is the Saviour of Men
Hebrews 2:9-13; Hebrews 4:14-16;
Hebrews 5:7-9.

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

There are two ideas about Jesus. Some people think Jesus was an inspiring example, a wonderful teacher, and the greatest of men. Many people believe that Jesus is the Son of God, the Saviour of the world and this is the belief of the historic Christian Church.

I. Jesus is the suffering Saviour. The early church proclaimed the truth that Jesus is the Saviour of mankind. We have inherited this truth from the early church, but the members of the early church did not inherit this truth but reached it under the guidance of God's Spirit. They took the facts of his life—his miraculous birth, his miracles, his teaching, his death and resurrection and ascension and believed that God had sent him into the world to save mankind from sin.

The Son of God who was from all eternity became less than angels in order that he "by the grace of God should taste death for every man." It was due to the grace of God that Christ died for our sins. God made Jesus who is called in the text "the captain of his salvation" perfect, that is complete, through suffering. Jesus is the pioneer whom we follow safely. Believers are called the Lord's brethren. This word "brethren" suggests that Christ and those who believe in him are members of the same household. Christ is not ashamed to call us his brethren—he shows this by declaring God's name to the brethren and by trusting in God just as a helpless sinner does. Jesus Christ became like unto us in all things sin excepted.

II. Jesus is our Great High Priest. Our Lord holds three offices—he is our prophet, our priest and our king. The two functions of the priest are to make atonement for sin and to make intercession for sinners. On the cross Jesus made atonement for sin. That priestly function Jesus accomplished once and for all. Today Jesus is interceding for us. Seeing that Jesus became like unto us all and was tempted in all points in which we are tempted, he understands our needs and weaknesses and can help us in all of life's situations. Because we have a compassionate High Priest we should "come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need." A sinner may obtain mercy at the throne of grace—and it is mercy that he needs. We blunder when we neglect going to the throne of grace. Surely the Lord set a fine example for us by his prayer life. Jesus prayed much during his earthly life. In the garden he prayed "with strong crying and tears," that the cup might pass from him but it did not. The writer to the Hebrews says that Jesus was heard for his godly fear. The Lord received strength to endure the suffering in the garden and on the cross and through it learned obedience. Suffering does something to all of us and it did something to Christ. As a man Jesus learned through his ministry of suffering.

1. Jesus the Son of God became a man for our sakes.
2. Jesus became a man in order that he might die for man.

3. Through his death Jesus obtained our salvation.

4. It is encouraging to know that Jesus prays for us now.

5. Jesus is the Captain of our salvation and also our Elder Brother.

6. We do not go to the throne of grace enough.

The annual meeting of the Hamilton school was scheduled for Monday evening of this week, to conduct the usual business including election of officers and also to discuss expansion plans for the rural area. Local students for many years have attended Holland High School after eighth grade graduation, but with the fast growing census in that school, it has become necessary to face reconstruction of that system, as they may soon be unable to continue attendance there. Hamilton School was a ten grade school for several years, starting about the mid 1920's.

About 200 children were enrolled in the Vacation Day Bible school, sponsored by the local churches for children of this area, under direction of the Rev. Paul Veenstra and the Rev. N. Van Heukelom. Superintendents for the four departments were Mrs. M. Zoerhoff for the Beginners, who was assisted by teachers and helpers, Mrs. George Joostens, Mrs. Harlan Scholten, Mrs. Wayne Wolters, Joyce Oetman, Beverly Boerman, Sharon Wassink, Dawn Groenheide and Vivian Folkert. Haley, Mrs. Harvey Folkert, Mrs. Herman Nyboff, Mrs. John Spaken, Marjorie Bergman, Karen Folkert, Yvonne Douma, Edith Folkert and Jean Kaper. Telling the missionary story at the close of each day's session for these two groups was Mrs. H. D. Strabbing. The Junior department superintendent was Rev. Van Heukelom, who was assisted by Mrs. Addison Lohman, Mrs. Glenn Folkert, Mrs. Fred Billet, Mrs. Harvey Sprick and Mrs. Richard Elenbaas. The Rev. Veenstra conducted the Junior department with Mrs. Richard Brower, Mrs. Harvey Klein and Mrs. Harry Jipping as assistants. The theme for the school was "Adventuring with Christ" and last Friday evening a program was presented for parents and friends in the Reformed Church Auditorium. Each department depicted the work of their classes in song, the spoken word and by pantomime. Rev. Veenstra led in devotions and closing remarks and benediction were spoken by Rev. Van Heukelom. Pianists were Yvonne Douma and Maria Lugten. Display of work was viewed by those in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kool have begun construction of a new home, just off M-40 near the south side business district. Their present residence has been purchased by the Hamilton Farm Bureau Cooperative.

Miss Gladys Bultman, who has been ill for several months, was at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for a checkup during the past week and is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. The Rev. N. Van Heukelom is also attending as a counselor and teacher.

The Women's Church League July meeting was scheduled for this week Tuesday evening in the Reformed Church parlors, with Mrs. Ivan Deckert as guest speaker about her work in Africa. Mr. and Mrs. Deckert have been with relatives in this area and in the state of Kansas with Mr. Deckert's relatives for several weeks.

Christian Endeavor

July 15, 1956
By Raymond E. Weiss
David, Who Trusted God, and Later David
I Samuel 17:32-51

To the leader: This is a third in a series of topics. See the article for last week or the preceding week for help in the ways these topics may be developed and presented. Beyond all else a sincere and true trust in Himself is what the Lord desires. In examining the life of David and others who trusted God pray that God may lead all those at your meeting to a more real faith in Him and that any who have not yet trusted Christ as their Saviour may do so. For background study read I Sam. 16-1 Kings 2.

Possible outline for Leader's Use:

1. Reasons David might have given for not trusting God.

a. "I am a great warrior and am sufficient in my own strength."

Some people think that if they are big, strong, rich, beautiful or powerful they do not need God and that only the weaklings and sissies trust in God. David could have thought this for he was a greatly feared warrior, but he knew better.

He knew God. He realized that all that he had come from Him. He knew that he had not to acknowledge and trust God would be foolish.

b. "God has promised me the kingdom and yet here I have to flee for my life all of the time."

Some people turn from trusting God when things do not go the way they think they should. David trusted God so completely that he believed Him when he had hardships and trials.

2. David's Trust in God.

a. Incidents that show his trust.

(1) As a youth he believes God enough to trust Him to conquer the giant. (I Sam. 17:32-51). Read this passage and notice how sure of God David was. True faith is a faith that acts on what it knows. (James 2:17-23). David did not fear to go against Goliath because he trusted God. (2) David trusted God to work out what He had promised. (I Sam. 24:1-15, 26:1-25). Twice David had in his power to seemingly "help God along" in what He had promised, but he insisted in waiting for God's way and God's time.

b. Words that show his trust. (Psalm 23, Psalm 27, II Sam. 22).

You should read over these psalms of David and others and make note of the confidence he had in God according to his own testimony. Challenge the young people to consider if God is so real to them that expressions of faith such as these are natural to their thinking.

3. David falls, but he came back in faith.

(b) He falls in life (II Sam. 11:12-14). The Bible presents the whole life of a person, the good and the evil. David fell miserably just as we do in greater or lesser degrees. If we do we must come back, confessing our sin and God will forgive those who trust in Him (II Sam. 12:13, I Jn. 1:9).

We must remember also however that others are given opportunity to reproach our God when we who profess his name sin (II Sam. 12:14).

For others who trusted God, consider: David Brainard, missionary to the American Indians, Andrew Murray, Reformed Church minister in South Africa, the five missionaries who were recently killed in Ecuador.

Holland Legion Stars Take 2nd Straight District Title

Howard's Single Drives in Run For Nightcap Win

Joe Howard, Holland Legion All-Star shortstop, punched his first hit of the three-game series, a single to center field in the seventh inning of the nightcap Saturday at Riverview Park, to drive in the winning run and give the local Stars a 3-2 win over the Grand Rapids Legion Council All-Stars.

The win gives Holland the Fifth District title and sends the local nine into zone play at Battle Creek for the second straight year.

Howard's hit sent home pitcher Jim Kaat, who had been safe on an error with the run that broke a 2-2 tie and gave Kaat his second win over the Grand Rapids team.

Dave Klaver, center fielder, started out the seventh inning rally with a booming double and scored as catcher Jeff Altena, the most improved player on the club, came through with a single, moving Kaat to second.

Holland made its other run in the fifth inning. Altena singled, took second on a balk, went to third on a catcher's error and home on a wild pitch.

Grand Rapids made its two runs in the fourth inning combining two hits, a single and double, and two stolen bases, a walk and error for the tallies.

Kaat, who had allowed the Grand Rapids nine only two hits in winning the 5-0 shutout opener, was touched for 10 hits in the contest.

Holland made nine safeties with Howard, who came back in the ninth to get another single, husky Jim Kool and Altena all getting two.

Terry Otting, Ron Komejan and Klaver had the other local safeties. Dan Bos Holland rightfielder, helped the cause in the second game with two outstanding catches and a fine throw to the plate.

Grand Rapids had evened the series with a 13-3 victory in the first game Saturday.

Capitalizing on some timely hits, plus some bad fielding and mental lapses by the Holland team, the visitors coasted to victory.

Yeomans, a left hander, who was helped by Suttles in the ninth, never was in trouble. Holland made nine hits in the contest but left too many men stranded on base.

Grand Rapids made 11 hits off the slants of Tom Aye and Merle Dykema.

Kool and Bill Tornovich led Holland's attack with two hits each. Tornovich received a strained groin and was forced to leave the game.

The injury may prevent him from making the Battle Creek trip.

Holland, zone finalists last year, move into Battle Creek for zone play July 17, 18 and 19.

Manager Clare Van Liere will be drilling his lads this week to sharpen up hitting and work on fielding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Max Doolittle

Miss Elaine Joyce Bacheller, daughter of Mrs. E. J. Bacheller and the late Dr. E. J. Bacheller, and Ronald Max Doolittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Doolittle, spoke their marriage vows Saturday, June 20, at First Methodist Church.

A setting of palms, ferns, candelabra and baskets of madonna lilies formed the background for the double ring rites performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. John Hagans.

For her attendants the bride chose her cousin, Miss Karen Ho- man of Hesperia, as maid of honor and two sorority sisters, Miss Diantha Lundin of White Plains, N. Y., and Miss Suzanne Staigleder of Royal Oak, as bridesmaids, and Janice De Neff, cousin of the groom, as flower girl. Ronald Van Huis served as best man and John Teasink, Jr., and Morris Witteveen were ushers, David Homan of Hesperia, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her brother, C. C. Bacheller, the bride wore a gown designed by her mother. It was fashioned of white embroidered organdy over skirts of tulle and taffeta, and an empire bodice with an Italian neckline, long waist and full-length skirt, scalloped at the bottom. She wore mits, a pillbox headpiece matching the dress and a fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and lilies.

Identical waltz-length gowns of white organdy embroidered in blue were worn by the bridal attendants. Style features were scoop necklines and fitted bodices trimmed in blue velvet. They wore matching blue shoes and head- pieces of blue net and velvet.

The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of white and blue daisies and lilies.

The newlyweds will reside at 514 Lakewood following a northern wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a light beige linen suit with brown accessories.

The bride, a Holland High School graduate, will begin her senior year at the University of Michigan Education School in the fall. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta. The groom, also a Holland High School graduate, entered service following his freshman year at Hillsdale College. He will enter University of Michigan in the fall. At present he is employed at Hart and Cooley Mfg. Co.

Indicate what yardstick they are using. There are many such measures, and which one is used makes all the difference.

There is, most obviously, the yardstick of popularity. Michigan has produced a number of highly popular novelists and short story writers. I probably mentioned one in my 1939 article, Steward Edward White, whose books I greatly enjoyed. But popularity alone is unreliable, for the simple reason that what is popular today may be unsuited to the popular taste of a decade or half century hence. That apparently is beginning to prove true of Steward Edward White.

Another I must have mentioned (I do not have the article at hand) was Ring Lardner. He, too, was highly popular, and he was worn better than most. It seems likely that he will get a mention at least in future histories of American literature.

If the yardstick is comparison with the world's truly great novel- ists, the writers who have won a permanent place in literature—say Hawthorne and Melville and Thomas Mann and Dickens and Thackeray—then Michigan has of course produced no one.

But that is no reason for assuming that it will not do so. Few things are more unpredictable than literary greatness. A bare-footed boy who never goes to college or take a course in writing may be Michigan's candidate of 20 years hence.

Allegan County Children Urged to Get Polio Shots

Third doses will be given those children having received the first and second dose, if six or more months have elapsed since their last treat- ment.

Any pre-school child living in Allegan County and any school child attending school in Allegan County is eligible to attend this clinic free of charge, according to Dr. A. B. Mitchell, director of the Allegan County Health Department.

Seventh Alert Sounds Saturday for Holland

Tornado warnings were posted Saturday night until shortly before 11 p.m. in Holland for the seventh time since the destructive twister hit Hudsonville April 3.

Holland police, auxiliary officers and Allegan County deputies man- ned a lookout between Holland and Saugatuck while Ottawa County deputies began scanning the skies from the former Coast Guard tower on Lake Michigan.

Authorities said that while some residents may claim that too much emphasis is being put on the alerts twisters have either been sighted or have struck the ground during each warning period.

The alerts are put into effect only when the U. S. Weather Bureau posts warnings of possible tornado conditions.

Dog Notes

by Peter Boggs
Stopping A Dog Fight

I have received several letters asking how to stop a dog fight. If you are a novice and if your hands are not quick and sure, the wisest answer to "How shall I stop a dog fight?" is "DON'T!" Don't unless you want to risk being badly bitten.

Turning a hose on two fighting dogs or throwing a pail of cold water at them will usually put an end to the fracas. But, oftentimes, there is no water at hand.

If you are deft enough and strong enough to get each fighter by the scruff of the neck, tightening and twisting your double grip so as to shut off the air from the windpipe, most dogs will lose their holds, even if only momentarily. That is the split second of time in which you must pull them away from each other.

Not only part them; but KEEP them parted until both have had time to calm down. You can do much to aid this calming process by your own voice while you are holding them. If the owner of one of the dogs is present, make him take his dog by the collar or scruff of the neck and lead it away while you do the same with your dog.

Yes, all this advice is easier to give than to take. That I know from much experience.

Your Dog's Collar

You have a half-grown puppy. You buy a collar for him. It fits him—perhaps. But he keeps on growing. Did you ever stop to think how you would feel, at the age of twenty, if you were forced to wear a collar or a pair of shoes that fitted you when you were ten years old? Well, that is the way your dog feels if you have not the sense or the kindness to remember how fast he has been growing.

Every few weeks, examine your dog's collar to see if it needs to be let out a notch or so. If it presses into his throat, or if you cannot slide at least two of your fingers under it, the collar needs loosening. There is another angle to this—a collar which is too loose may easily be rubbed off by its wearer and be lost.

That is much less important than the danger that a too-loose collar may be caught in a twig or in an upthrust root, or a strand of barbed wire in the woods, and that the dog may remain imprisoned there until he dies of hunger and thirst or of strangulation.

Give Dog Cool Drink

Do you like a cool drink of fresh water in warm weather? Of course you do, and so does your dog. During these warm summer months be sure that your pet has a pan of fresh water available at all times. Change the water once or twice a day. When you are thirsty, don't you prefer a glass of fresh water to a glass that has been standing in the warm sun all day?

The Question Box

Question: Does a dog perspire any place on its body besides its tongue? —C. L. B.

Answer: Yes, on the nose and through the pads of their paws. Question: I have tried soaps and powders for fleas but cannot seem to rid my dog of them. What would you suggest? —L. K.

Answer: A proper flea powder secured from a veterinarian should rid your dog of fleas. Would suggest that you scrub his sleeping quarters with a strong disinfectant.

HOUSE MOVING DAY—Holland youngsters had a field day Tuesday as they watched a two-story frame home moved from 27 West 16th St. to the corner of 17th St. and Cleveland Ave. Dozens of children spent most of the day giving advice to the workmen who were forced to cut down many branches of overhanging trees. In some cases phone and power lines were lifted to allow the house to pass underneath. Traffic was routed away from 17th St. while the moving operation was in progress until late in the afternoon. The picture looks West on 17th St. between Van Ralte and Washington Aves. (Sentinel photo)

Dutch Paper Manufacturer Includes Holland in Tour of the United States

Emile Wesly, president and general manager of Wesley and Cies paper converting firm at Maastricht, the Netherlands, was busy reviewing his program for the next tour of paper plants when a Sentinel reporter met him in the lobby of the Warm Friend Tavern Saturday.

Wesly, a Rotarian who serves as chairman of the program committee of Rotary International, is in America to visit plants in which paper is manufactured into boxes, bags, etc. His brother, Frits, who is the engineer of the family firm, accompanies him to be more acquainted with engineering procedure.

"We have been received in a friendly and hospitable way everywhere," Wesly said. "We are much impressed by the kindness of the people we met." He believes, after spending only one month in the states, that the general impression in Europe toward Americans whose concern is supposed to be for the mighty dollar and movie stars is not fair.

"There should be more exchange with all peoples of the world for better understanding," Wesly said. He feels that there are plenty of Americans in Europe but few Europeans have the chance to come here because they cannot afford it.

There are some private and official organizations and foundations which help exchange students, scholars, experts, businessmen, but he feels that "families should invite visitors to live among them, and to be introduced directly to the real fascinating American life." This sort of relations, Wesly believes, would help the youth who will be the leaders of the coming generation to understand more about America. Those men of the future will one day decide peace and war and they ought to know more about American democracy.

"I like the people over here," he said, "but I wish that other people from different nations would be granted the opportunity to come and get a true impression of the real life and democratic principles."

Wesly realizes that the United States "is a very big country," and that Europe cannot challenge the American market, but European goods, however, are cheaper because of low wages. He feels that strikes in the field of industry will not lead in the long run to the welfare of both employers and employees.

"Higher wages means higher costs of living," the visitor said.

"Workers won't be better off by higher wages except if they can acquire it out of the net profits of the company where they are employed and not from the pockets of the consumer." He is glad that the workers' unions in Netherlands recognize this fact, and he is proud that they "had no strikes over 10 years since the second World War."

Wesly expresses his deep appreciation for the efforts of Willard C. Wichers, director of the Netherlands Information Service and his endeavors "to promote better understanding between the United States and the Netherlands."

Before Wesly leaves for his country Aug. 9, he will complete his tour of the United States as scheduled by the Information Service.

Wesly is also vice president of the Paper Converting Society of the Netherlands, a member of the board of Paper Bag Makers, and president of Pastry Boxes, a subsidiary of the Association of Paper Box Manufacturers.

Alvin J. Cook was elected vice president, succeeding Mrs. John K. Winter. Other officers named were Dr. Lester J. Kuyper, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Hornbaker, treasurer; and Edward Donivan, assistant treasurer, all re-elected.

Wendell A. Miles

In other business, the board approved contracts for seven new teachers. Natalie G. Bosman of Holland, a graduate of Hope College and Western Michigan College with 10 year teaching experience, will teach English in the high school. Arthur S. Johnson of University City, Mo., a graduate of Northern Illinois State Teachers College, will teach high school biology. He is married and has two children. He has had 1 1/2 years teaching experience.

Cecilia M. Witty of Gary, Ind., a graduate of Purdue University, will teach junior high home economics. She is married and has two children and has had no previous teaching experience. Alexander Mervin of Oxford, Mich., a graduate of Central Michigan College, will teach seventh grade instrumental music on a half-time basis, teaching the other half in Grand Haven. He is a brother of Bannister Mervin, Grand Haven band director. He is married and has three children.

Nelvie Jonker of Orange City, Ia., who was graduated this year from Hope College, will teach early elementary vocal music. She has had no previous teaching experience. Carl L. Selover of New Brunswick, N.J., a graduate of Hope College in 1950, will teach seventh grade at Thomas Jefferson school. He is married and has two children and has had six years' teaching experience.

Robert A. Van Dyke of Grand Rapids, a graduate of Hope College in 1951, will teach seventh grade at Washington. He is married and has two children and has had two years of teaching experience.

The recommendations were made by the teachers committee which also clarified a sick leave policy stating that when a teacher severs employment for one or more years, voluntarily or by request, accumulated sick leave terminates.

Supt. Walter W. Scott announced that with the seven new teachers, all positions are filled for the coming year with one or two exceptions. He also read letters from Mrs. Carol Gargano seeking a release of contract after her husband accepted a new radio position with the staff of WCLO at Jansville, Wis., and from Ruth Blekkink announcing her decision to retire.

The board approved appointment of a special committee to cooperate in a city annexation study with permission to spend up to $250. The subject was introduced by Hallan who said he had been approached by Mayor Robert Visscher to have the Board of Education cooperate in the annexation study to be guided by Michigan State University personnel.

Treasurer Dorothy Hornbaker presented her monthly financial report which this month incorporates totals of the fiscal year ending June 30. Balance on hand on that date lists $113,724.32, but she explained that some $99,000 already has been earmarked for the July and August teachers' payrolls which technically come under the 1955-56 year.

The general building and site fund has a balance of $64,095.13; the high school building and site fund, $279,289.19; the 1953 school bond building and site fund, $68,629.61. There also is a balance of $172,418.03 in the debt service fund.

Bills for the month of June totaled $70,862.76, of which the payroll amounted to $62,067.27. Detailed copies of the budget adopted June 25 also were distributed.

Supt. Scott took occasion to review accomplishments of the past five years, pointing out that it is only on a long-range view that an organization such as a board of education often can evaluate what it is trying to do. He pointed to the erection of two new elementary schools, new additions and general improvements; new and improved services such as a larger music program, introduction of foreign languages on the elementary level, a guidance program, the area school study and the curricular study.

He believes people generally are willing to pay a lot for education provided they get their money's worth, and he called for constant upgrading of standards to provide the mechanics for high achievement.

"Holland has always had a fine reputation for good schools, and we must make this even better by improving the quality of our teaching staff and reward highly successful teachers. In improving our standards, we must give consideration to gifted children, and must give some consideration to types of diplomas that are given to seniors on graduation day."

Instead of one standard diploma, Scott envisioned a special honors diploma, a college requirement diploma, a vocational diploma and perhaps a general diploma. "Education in 1985 certainly will have taken that direction," he said.

One surprising observation he made concerned teachers' salaries. Just five years ago, teachers were starting out with salaries of $2,500 and $2,700, reaching a maximum of $3,700. Starting next term, teachers will start out with a $3,800 minimum which is higher than the maximum of five years ago.

Scott also pointed to the soon-to-be-released report resulting from the area school study and said the board must assume the leadership for interpreting this report to the people, as well as planning for the necessary high school facilities needed in a few short years.

The meeting adjourned at 9:45 p.m. President Miles presided and also gave the invocation. Absent were Mrs. Winter, Bernard Arendshorst and Alvin Cook.

In case of rain, the Fest will be held at First Reformed Church.

It has been suggested that a community celebration, such as a Homecoming, could be staged in the downtown area, as was held several years ago, but this is still being investigated. Members of the committee are August Kasten, chairman, and John Bosch and Marvin Johnson.
