Incident to the trip here this week of the revenue cutter Tuscarora was a rush on the part of some of the owners of steamers to see that their equipment was up to the letter of the law. But these revenue men are very strict and demanded that a few changes be made in some instances. The Tuscarora is in command of Lieut. F. A. Lewis, as her regular commander, Capt. W. A. We were all greatly surprised to hear that Henry Garbrecht, one of West Olive's best young men, died in Chicago of diphtheria July 9. The funeral was held at the M. E. church, Rev. Rork officiating and interment took place in the Olive cemetery. Deceased was 21 years old and has been a resident of West Olive practically all his life, residing on his father's farm one mile west from the village. About seven years ago he joined the Methodist church and since then it can truly be said that he has been leading a Christian life. The idea of him being taken away in the springtime of life with prospects of doing a great deal of good work in behalf of Christianity is enough to bring sadness to every heart. It was however, the will of God, who created all things.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Holland People.

One kidney remedy never fails. Holland people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Holland testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. D. Van Houten, of 287 West 13th street, says: 'I had constant heavy aching pain through the loins, in the muscles of my back and under the shoulder blades. My back tired easily from exertion and if I stooped or lifted anything heavy, sharp twinges caught me in the region of my kidneys. I could not rest comfortably in any position and when I first got up mornings I felt as tired and worn out as I was the night previous. I tried a great many remedies, but if any of them benefited me it was very temporary. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and went to J. O. Doeburg's drug store and got a box. I did not take them long before I noticed an improvement which steadily continued until I was in good health.'

Russia and Self Government.

Russia faces another crisis. It is nothing new for this condition of affairs to prevail as turmoil would mean loneliness in the land of the great white czar. Nevertheless the men who hold the reins of government over there can be excused if they are somewhat perturbed; for a crisis of this kind, when the people face the rulers, is of the worst.

It means unutterable woe to the countless thousands of lowly serfs, the struggling peasants and the laborers. Not only is their means of obtaining a livelihood made hard and insecure, but life itself hangs in the balance. Life is balanced against the saber, the gnatling gun, and the Cossack blood hungerers and into the scales on either side one man can cast the deciding atom that will sway the scales. This man is the imperial dictator. His will is law. And there lies the trouble. In the man. He is not of the right fibre. Were his ideas conceived in broadness, were his mandates carried out with firmness, had he the moral courage to act as conscience says is right, to temper justice with mercy, to break away from tyranny, then would days of brightness dawn for Russia. That is the great trouble with these countries where the right of succession determines who shall fill the throne instead of leaving the question to the people. Give us in free America the rule of the people. It is good enough for us. The people of Russia are arousing to a realization that they need the same thing to secure liberty and happiness. That is why tyrants tremble. For they fear that the time is coming when the people of Russia will stand forth boldly for the right of self government. Speed the day.

Holland Secures Hot Air Foundry.

Another industry will be established in this city, G. C. Bowman, A. H. Landwehr and J. P. Kolla of Ohio, having made arrangements with the bonus fund committee for the establishment of a foundry for the manufacture of hot air furnaces.

A three-acre site in the Prospect Park addition, near the Pere Marquette railway, north of Twenty-second street, will be given by the city, this being the only inducement offered. The company is capitalized at $50,000 and $12,000 of this amount will be subscribed by local citizens.

Mr. Kolla has patented important improvements to hot air furnaces and the factory will manufacture this patented article. At first 30 men will be employed and the number will be increased later.

The main building will be 50x100 feet, with a brick and concrete foundation. Mr. Bowman will move here August 1 to take charge of the building operations and the contract will be let soon after his arrival.

The factory will be ready for business late in the fall.

Venetian Night will be Grand.

Venetian Night, which will be celebrated on Macatawa bay next Thursday evening, August 2, promises to eclipse all similar events of previous years. Over 300 boats, including the yachts taking part in the regatta program, the launches owned in and about Macatawa park and Otawata Beach, and representatives of the various yacht clubs from White Lake to Michigan City, will be fantastically decorated. The spectacle of these pleasure craft in the procession around the bay will be wonderfully effective.

In the middle of the bay will tower a pyramid of red, white and blue lights, forming a center around which will revolve this gorgeous marine pageant. The hotels, cottages and docks will blaze with thousands of lights, while the bay will be encircled by an unbroken string of huge Japanese lanterns.

On Baldhead peak a fort will be erected, where the cannon will boom the signal for the fireworks display. At this signal from every point in the lake, from the scows anchored around the bay, from the boats and docks, will come a sudden red flare, which marks the opening of this display. Following the red flare will be the bombardment of rockets, candles, fireworks, balloons, bombs, batteries and other novelties.

During this exhibition the yachts taking part in the procession will be steadily moving about the bay over a serpentine route around the stationery sailboats.

Bands will be stationed at different points in Jenison park and will furnish music for the spectators throughout the illumination program. The "Night in Venice" has become an annual affair on Macatawa bay. Last year's event was witnessed by thousands of spectators. This year the management expects even a larger attendance than heretofore.

Experimenting With Lake Shore Cattle.

Prof. Clinton D. Smith, director of the Experiment Station and dean of special courses at the M. A. C. college was in West Olive last week and continued the study and experiments on cattle for the disease that is affecting the cattle of the lake shore district. The same disease exists in Grand Traverse, northern Kalkaska and Antrim, as well as other counties of that section of Michigan. It is there known as "the Grand Traverse disease." The same identical disease exists in Florida and Alabama and in some sections of the south cattle will scarcely live at all and those that do are thin and scrawny. The U. S. government has appropriated funds to study the disease and some of this fund has been secured by the Agricultural College and will be used for experiments in the Ottawa county region where the "lake shore disease" has been so fatal.

Mr. Smith says that everything has been studied in connection with the efforts to find the cause of the disease among cattle in Grand Haven and Olive townships. Air, water and feed are the three principal elements connected with the keeping of cattle, and they have been gone into thoroughly. He places most stress upon the water conditions. This will be thoroughly studied. Perhaps this water or some substance of the soil affects the native grasses. But the fact that horses and other stock is not affected is a puzzle and Mr. Smith admits it.

Mr. Smith says that he will at once commence a series of experiments at the very base of the trouble. He will divide cattle into four lots. No. 1 will be fed with feed imported from away and water shipped from Lansing. No. 2 will be confined in an outside pen as will No. 1, but will be fed with native grain and hay. No. 3 will be allowed to feed over cultivated fields. No. 4 will be allowed to graze wild. It is to be hoped that from these experiments some discovery will be made. The matter is one of vital concern to every local farmer. It is a peculiar fact that the disease exists in districts where the soil is light and sandy in nature.

Old Settlers Meeting.

The Lord willing, we hope to have our yearly meeting and picnic on August 1st, in our park at Zeeland. Our morning meeting will be held in the chapel of the First Reformed church. This is for hearing reports and the election of officers. After this is over with, picnic in the park. At 1:30 o'clock there will be speeches, singing and music.

Punish San Francisco's Vultures.

Earthquakes are dreadful visitants. Earthquakes accompanied by uncontrollable fires are worse. San Francisco had both. Now it is facing another calamity. The latest calamity is the band of merciless bloodsuckers who are trying to fatten upon misfortune. In the fancied security founded upon the thought that the inhabitants of the stricken city are too bowed down with woe, too fraught with the great cares that attend the rehabilitation of the city to watch them, a coterie of scoundrels into whose care was placed the distribution of the supplies for the needy, betrayed the trust reposed in them, bartered the stores donated and pocketed the gains.

Cormorants like that infest every community and they should be put to utter rout. But it is difficult to get at them, for they get in their deadly execution only in the stress of great public peril. The next best thing to knowing who such people are and punishing them is to make an object lesson out of those who are found out by smiting them with swift, certain and ample punishment. It will be a warning to others and a blessing to the nation if the San Francisco vultures are meted out a heaping measure of chastisement.

Captain Austin Harrington was Watched.

Capt. Austin Harrington was watched Monday night. He was at Macatawa Park and upon invitation of E. C. Westerveld and Fred K. Colby went to partake of a quiet little lunch. In the course of the evening Mr. Westerveld arose and in behalf of the Macatawa Park association said a few words indicative of the excellent work done by Capt. Harrington while he was in charge of the company's business at the park. In closing he presented the captain with a gold watch. The watch is a handsome one, solid gold and fitted with the celebrated "Vanguard" movement. On the back of it is engraved a representation of a ferry steamer and on the inside of the case is engraved the names of Messrs Colby and Westerveld and the date of the presentation.

For 25 years Capt. Harrington has served faithfully the park association, as purser, as hotel clerk, as keeper of boat livery, as captain of the ferry steamers and as superintendent of the steamers and boat liveries. He resigned last year so that he could devote more time to his coal business and the token of appreciation received Monday is greatly valued.

Capt. Harrington likes to be "watched."

Delegates Will Go On Special Train.

Tickets are good for return on either of the regular trains tomorrow afternoon or tomorrow evening.

When the Holland Juniors changed their name to the Interurbans they seemed to run into a streak of hard luck. Accidents happened with such frequency that soon nearly every member of the team was on the crippled list and the pitching staff was nothing but a weird dream. The consequence was that the team ran into a series of defeats that were simply staggering. To drive away the hoodoo the team was reorganized this week and strengthened in several particulars. The lineup now is composed of Ossignac, Fik, Woldering, Becker, Van Ry, Shaw, Hadden, Lievense, Scherhorn, Westerhof and Knutson. The boys are sanguine that better results may be expected in the future.

Think They Have Located Steamer Michigan.

The searching party that is after the steamer Michigan was encouraged at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon by the catching of its sweeping cables in what may be the submerged wreck. Between the tugs cables two miles long in all have been run, and with these the bottom of the lake has been swept in the hope that they may catch in some part of the wreck, and secure a hold strong enough to support the strain of the tow that will pull the steamer nearer to shore. Up to Saturday nothing had been found that encouraged the searchers to believe that their efforts were to be successful. In the afternoon, however, one of the cables caught in some obstacle on the bottom. The rope resisted the efforts to release it, and when the party found that it had become fast, they cut the cable and moored a buoy to mark the spot for the work which will begin this week.

Determining the location of the wreck was no easy task. Reports made at the time of the steamer's loss gave uncertain directions as to the spot where it occurred. Several mariners declared they knew the place, but the best guide was the discovery made by a fisherman a few days ago. His nets became fouled on the bottom, and in grappling for them he brought up a piece of a boat's cabin with the word "Michigan" on it.

Another attempt was made Tuesday to see whether the obstruction caught Saturday was the Michigan, but the sea rolled too heavily to permit the tugs to work to advantage and they returned to port.

Prosecuting Attorney Pagelson deeming it advisable to keep him longer in confinement, as he was not sure when the witness could be secured. Sas was brought from Grand Haven by Sheriff Woodbury. He can be placed in custody upon the same charge at any time. It was suspected that Sas had sent threatening letters to John Lankhorst but as Lankhorst continued to receive letters after Sas was jailed the affair is shrouded in mystery. Lankhorst is in a very uneasy frame of mind as he dreads the next move of his secret foe.

RUSSIA'S TASTE OF SELF-RULE BRIEF

CZAR DISSOLVES DOUMA AND CONDITIONS OF REPRESSION ARE RESTORED.

PARLIAMENT ATTEMPTS TO MEET IN FINLAND

Governor General Forbids Gathering and Body Adjourns, After Adopting Proclamation of Protest—Country on Verge of Revolt.

The result of the Russian government's action in ordering the dissolution of parliament has apparently restored all the conditions of repression, wholesale arrests and reliance on a display of military force that obtained before the people had their brief taste of representative government. In St. Petersburg itself there was little surprise indication of trouble in the face of the strong force of troops, but there were many arrests Sunday night.

The most important development of Monday took place at Viborg, Finland, whither members of parliament had fled to continue their sessions formally dissolved at St. Petersburg. The members had been frantically at work on their manifesto to the people, anticipating the possible arrival of troops, when the assembly was informed that the governor general of Viborg to close the meeting of members of parliament, using military force if necessary. The governor general added that such meetings could not be held in Finland. Previously during the session the radicals had supported the group of toll who urged that the members of parliament should place themselves at the head of a revolution. At the last the constitutional democrats joined the radicals and the douma adopted a hastily prepared proclamation protesting against the dissolution of parliament. The assemblage then adjourned.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The council of ministers has recommended the emperor to issue a ukase proroguing the council of the empire, or upper house of parliament.

Douma Is Dissolved.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The czar issued a ukase Sunday morning dissolving the parliament and placing St. Petersburg under martial law. The ukase calls for a new parliament to meet March 5, 1907.

Another ukase issued by the czar relieved M. Goremykin of the premiership and appointed M. Stolypin his successor. The latter retains his present post of minister of the interior. M. Stchinsky, minister of agriculture, has resigned.

The government's midnight coup d'etat is already having the effect of uniting all the discordant elements of the opposition, and it requires little perspicacity to see that an era of repression and all it entails will drive liberal and revolutionist alike to support the most desperate measures.

Signs of Trouble Apparent.

Although minor rioting continued in the outskirts throughout the night, St. Petersburg was superficially quiet Monday morning, but ominous forebodings of a coming storm are apparent on every hand. A newspaper correspondent made a tour of the city early in the morning. At every block he encountered reinforced patrols, saw excited groups on corners, and met half a dozen squads of gendarmes with drawn swords escorting little bands of arrested persons to prison. During the night over 1,000 arrests of workmen agitators and revolutionary suspects were made. The railroads leading out of the city have been placed under martial law, and the gendarmes search the passengers and baggage on all trains for arms and political documents. Systematic military requisitions for political agitators and especially members of the proletariat organizations are in full swing.

Soldiers Guard Tauride Palace.

Not only the Tauride palace but the gates of the park leading to it are closed, and the surrounding streets are alive with gendarmes and secret police. In the courtyard of a neighboring barracks of one of the guard regiments the correspondent saw two companies drawn up in marching order, and shortly afterward he met a travel-stained detachment of gray cuirassiers galloping in from Krasnoye Selo camp.

Army of 60,000 in Capital.

With the regular garrison there are now more than 60,000 troops massed in the city, including 40 battalions of infantry, practically the entire cavalry of the guard, a division of infantry of the guard, a field battery, four other batteries and four companies of machine guns.

Upon all the dead walls are posted proclamations of the prefect of police ordering all proprietors of houses, porters and door guardians to obey and aid the police in case of disorders, prohibiting meetings, public or private, without permission; prohibiting the collecting of money for illegal purposes, the distribution of proclamations, the raising of flags and singing in the streets.

The hall of the Economic society, as well as other halls where assemblages have been frequent, are closed and under guard. A meeting of engineers was broken up at two o'clock this morning and a score of prisoners were arrested.

The prefect of police placed police officers in the newspaper offices Sunday night to see that they did not transgress the limits of the law, under threat of confiscation of their issues. This accounts for the comparative mildness of the press comments Monday morning. Even so the edition of the Rech was seized soon after it left the press.

Revolt Facing Country.

The dissolution of the Russian douma by the imperial ukase brings Russia face to face with what may prove to be the most stupendous revolution in history. The emperor's autocratic act also rings down the curtain, temporarily at least, on the late stand and one of the most interesting attempts in history to give a nation a form of representative government.

Judged by its positive achievements the douma will not rank high as a law-making assemblage, but as giving voice to a people's sense of wrongs, its brief existence has proved of momentous importance. The circumscribed nature of the douma's proceedings and the dearth of legislation that might be of benefit to Russia may be attributed to two causes: The lack of harmony among the strangely diverse elements that went to make up the body and the fundamental law by which the emperor limited the matters that might be considered by the parliament.

The world's youngest parliament was opened by the emperor on May 10 of this year. It may be said that friction began to develop almost from the first. Not long after the opening the emperor refused to receive an address from the president of the douma. The premier read the emperor's reply on May 26, and the independent spirit and temper of the representative body was manifested on that occasion. The constitutional democrats were strongly in the majority at the opening, but when bitter debates over the agrarian and Jewish questions developed new groups like the "Group of Toll" were formed and the overwhelming strength of the constitutional democrats began to dwindle. The more radical elements showed a growing spirit of intolerance, and even the moderate and conciliatory statements of the emperor's ministers were often greeted with derision. The emperor's advisers urged that the douma was simply a forum for the promulgation of revolutionary doctrines.

The breach began to widen and it was apparent that a crisis was inevitable. It came when the parliament attempted to counteract an appeal to the peasants from the crown by an appeal to the country to stand by parliament on the question of the expropriation of church and state lands. The dissolution of parliament followed.

The douma's only piece of legislation that has become a law is a bill appropriating $7,500,000 for the relief of famine stricken peasants.

Factory Blown Up.

Berlin, July 23.—The Vossische Zeitung Monday afternoon published a dispatch from Katowitz, Prussian Silesia, announcing that the Singer sewing machine factories at Sosnowice and Bendzin were blown up by bombs at about the same time Monday. At Sosnowice six persons were severely wounded and at Bendzin four were badly hurt. Sosnowice and Bendzin are in Russian Poland, near the Silesian border. They are factory towns, five miles apart, with a population of about 20,000 people each.

Rioting in Kharkoff.

Kharkoff, Russia, July 23.—The news of the dissolution of parliament has been followed by much rioting in this city. The excitement was increased by the escape of 40 prominent politicians, who had been thrown into prison on Saturday night. Twenty persons were killed and wounded in the effort for their recapture. The mob threw stones at the police and soldiery, and many were wounded.

Quiet at St. Petersburg.

Washington, July 23.—Mr. Meyer, the American ambassador to Russia, sent a long dispatch to the state department Monday concerning the situation in St. Petersburg. State department officials refuse to discuss the report further than to say that the dispatch said perfect quiet prevailed in St. Petersburg Sunday.

Death of Irwin Miller.

Springfield, O., July 23.—Irwin Miller, a son of the late Associate Justice S. H. Miller, of the United States supreme court, died Sunday, aged 46 years. He was a native of Keokuk, Ia., and a graduate of Cornell university. In 1889 he was secretary and disbursing officer to the Sioux Indian commission which negotiated the purchase of millions of acres from the Indians. He was a judge of awards at the Chicago world's fair.

Thank Roosevelt and Diaz.

Washington, July 23.—The state department has dispatches from President Escalon of Salvador, President Cabrera of Guatemala and President Bonilla of Honduras, in which they offer their sincere thanks to President Roosevelt and President Diaz of Mexico for their kind offices in making peace possible between the warring Central American republics.

SAILORS DO GOOD SHOOTING

Wonderful Improvement Made in the Navy in the Course of a Few Years.

"The criterion of target practice is the actual number of hits per minute," says Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. "Many ships now average between 75 and 90 per cent. of hits with all their main-battery guns, whereas in former days the percentage was rarely over 40, even though firing slowly at a target more than seven times as large as the present one. Then the target was 100 feet long and 25 feet high; to-day it is 21 feet long and 12 feet high. This increase in hitting ability is due to the assiduous training in the target practices which have been carried out under the new system adopted and also to improvement in ordnance. Going back to 1898, when the navy was using black powder and when sights and other parts of the equipment were poorly developed our firing was both slow and inaccurate. At that time it was considered satisfactory if a 12-inch gun fired one shot in five minutes. But with each subsequent improvement in ordnance the rapidity was somewhat increased, and by carrying out systematic target practice the present striking efficiency has been attained. For example, the heavy turret guns that were but a few years ago allowed five minutes in which to fire a shot, have recently fired three shots and made three hits in one minute.—Harper's Weekly.

LABOR NEEDED IN MEXICO.

Men Who Can Cultivate Land Are in Great Demand in That Republic.

Mexico is agitated over the subject of immigration. The newspapers deal with the matter quite generally, and many public men have discussed it. It is argued that immigrants from cities are not desirable, as what Mexico needs is men to cultivate the land. It is said the cities in Mexico, like those in other countries, have a superabundance of the element which would be contributed by immigrants from foreign cities.

A year ago a big Japanese company brought 1,000 men from Japanese cities to Boleo for mining purposes. As the Japanese had no experience in mining they were of no use, and had to be shipped home at the expense of the steamship company, which experiment, the Mexican Investor says, cost the company about $100,000. Another Japanese immigration company shipped a large number of Japanese laborers from towns to the isthmus of Tehuantepec to work for the planters there, but they proved a failure, and had to be shipped home. For that reason Mexicans say they do not want men from cities.

Simple Explanation.

Mike and Pat worked for a wealthy farmer. They planned to turn burglars and steal the money which the farmer had hid in one of the rooms of his house. They waited until midnight, then started to do the job.

In order to get the money they had to pass the farmer's bedroom. Mike says: "I'll go first, and if it's all right you can follow and do just the same as I."

Mike started to pass the room. Just as he got opposite the door the floor creaked. This awoke the farmer, who called out: "Who's there?"

Mike answered with a "meow" (imitating a cat). The farmer's wife being awake, too, said: "Oh, John, it's the cat," and all was quiet.

Now Pat started to pass the door, and as he got opposite it the floor creaked again. The farmer called out again, louder than before: "Who's there?"

Pat answered: "Another cat."

They Made Literature.

The architect—and his still more important colleague, the stonecutter—wrought their ambition into stately piles, their soaring fancy into daring flying buttresses, their grim humor into grinning gargoyles, their romanticism into flowery cornices and vine-twined pillars. Architecture then was literature writ in marble. But in these latter times the architect is the lackey of wealth. He bends above his drawing-board, not for fame, but for gain. What might have remained through the ages the noblest of arts has been prostituted to the aggrandizement of the commercially successful and the hereditarily fortunate. Art? Pah? Greed in granite!—N. Y. Press.

Defective Life-Line.

Among physicians a story is now going the rounds, which is imported from Boston. In one of the hospitals there it is credibly reported the following correspondence between a nurse in a ward and a physician took place. The physician was at dinner, and just at the start received from the nurse the following note: "Patient sinking, is very low."

On the back of the paper the young physician wrote back: "Throw out the life-line."

Just at the close of the dinner the same note came back with the additional scrawl: "As directed, threw out the life-line, was too short. He sank."

His Reason.

"My dear Mr. Magnate, why don't you see that fellow who is openly accusing you and your trust of using corrupt methods in business?"

"My dear sir, I would not dignify the fellow's charges with a reply."

"No; I suppose a reply wouldn't answer."

How to Keep Perfect Teeth.

It is easy when you know how to keep the teeth perfect. Just brush them up and down after every meal, using plenty of good tooth powder. Don't scrub them sideways, that simply cleans the surface and hurts the gums but does not dislodge the food between the teeth, which, decomposing, causes decay, the origin of all tooth troubles.

In addition to personally cleansing the teeth let us examine them at least twice each year.

BADGER JUSTICE ADMITS LETTERS

SUPREME COURT MEMBER ASKED FOR COMMISSION ON INSURANCE.

Acknowledges in Absence of Company Representative He Sought to Secure Agent's Allowance for Collection of Premium on His Policy.

Milwaukee, July 21.—Justice Roulet D. Marshall, of the supreme court of Wisconsin, is the high court official referred to in Thursday's proceedings of the Wisconsin legislative life investigating committee.

The original correspondence was produced by Mr. Albright late Friday. The letters soliciting the commission for collection, dated Madison, October 3, 1902, is as follows:

"Gentlemen—I hold policy No. 232, 009 in your company, on which there falls due, the 18th day of this month the annual premium of $671.40. I am not at present advised as to whether I will be obliged to remit to the principal office. Not knowing that you have any agent in this city, and supposing that if you have such agent he has no claims upon you for a percentage for the collection of my premium, I suggest that you send my receipt to the First National bank of Madison, Wis., with a draft attached for the $671.40 and instructions to deliver the receipt upon payment of the draft on or before the due date of the premium, and that in such case you permit the bank to take the usual agent's commission for the collection, with permission to pay the same to me.
My policy came from an agent entirely outside of my circle of business acquaintances. I see no reason, myself, why I cannot be permitted to make the payment in the manner suggested, but if there are reasons, of course you will write me suggesting where to send the money."

Agent Scores Judge.

The above letter from Justice Marshall was referred by the home office of the insurance company to State Manager Albright, of Wisconsin, who,
in turn, wrote to his superior office,
on October 16, as follows:

"I am to-day in receipt of yours of the 3d, enclosing a letter from a judge of the supreme court of Wisconsin, Hon. R. D. Marshall, asking that you grant him a rebate upon his renewal premium. When a judge of the supreme court of this state makes an appeal for a rebate and does it direct to the home office, is it not time that there be some elevation in the moral conscience of the people in high places before we can hope for much change for the better among the rank and file on the rebate question? This gives you an idea of some of the difficulties we are obliged to contend with in this state."

Mr. Albright also wrote to the justice informing him that rebating was forbidden by law in Wisconsin.

Nothing to Prevent Payment.
The final answer of Justice Marshall was written to Mr. Albright as follows:

"Here is the draft for payment on my policy. I am not unacquainted with the law to which you refer. On reflection you will probably see that there is nothing in the law to prevent your company from paying to any bank any collection charges you see fit. I do not take your letter very seriously. It would not be out of place for your company to establish an agency outside of Milwaukee.
Send receipt to Madison, Wis."

"I wrote the letters which were read before the life insurance investigating commission Thursday," said Justice R. D. Marshall, over the long-distance telephone from his farm in Kilbourne, late Friday afternoon.

"I wrote, as the letters will show, that the company had no local agent in Madison, that I did not know where to send the money for the premium, and submitted to the general office of the company the propriety of allowing me to pay the premium into the bank and receive the usual agent's collection fee back, suggesting that they so direct the bank if it seemed proper to them.

"They evidently did not deem it proper and I sent the money in full.
That is all there is to it."

PRESIDENT BOOSTS SHORTER WORKDAY

FEDERAL OFFICERS TO COMPEL CONTRACTORS TO OBSERVE EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

Mr. Roosevelt Issues Order Looking to Enforcement of Provisions of Enactment of 1902 by Employees of the Government.

Washington, July 20.—Action of the greatest importance in labor circles is contemplated in a direction given by the president to officers in charge of public works at the instance of Secretary Taft. This is to employ the government's own officers to direct and punish violations of the law of 1902, providing except that in case of emergency, work upon government buildings, ships and other properties shall be limited to eight hours each day for each workman.

An effort was made by the forces or organized labor during the last session of congress to secure legislation to this end, but so effective was the opposition of the great contracting firms that adjournment was had without any action upon the pending bill, though the house committee on labor consumed many hours in listening to powerful arguments on either side of the question.

Reverses Old Practice.

Heretofore it has been the practice of executive officers, when complaint was made by labor unions that the eight-hour law was being violated by contractors building ships, constructing public buildings, engaged in river and harbor works and other public enterprises, to reply that it was not their business; that the law was binding upon the contractors, and that if the labor unions felt aggrieved and knew of violations of the law they should proceed themselves legally against the offenders.

Must Report Violations.

The labor unions asserted that it was almost impossible for them to secure the necessary evidence and that they had not the money to engage in a legal struggle with powerful moneyed interests. Under the president's direction every government officer in charge of or inspecting a public work in progress is to be directed to promptly report to the department of justice any violations by contractors of the eight-hour law, and prosecutions initiated by and at the expense of the government is to follow.

LOOK FOR GREAT HARVEST

Country Merchants Place Large Orders for Staples to Supply Fall and Winter Demand.

New York, July 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Exceptionally encouraging reports for this time of the year are received regarding trade, industry and transportation, but there is no response in the market for securities. The best news of the past week comes from agricultural sections where progress is fully maintained, harvesting of winter wheat promising a larger yield than expected; and of good quality, while corn and oats exceed anticipations. As results on the farms become assured there is a growth of confidence that brings out large orders for fall and winter delivery of all staples.

HELENA MAN MURDERS WIFE

Believing His Spouse Unfaithful Bookkeeper Kills Her and Endeavors to End His Life.

Helena, Mont., July 23.—Charles D. Schmidt, an assistant bookkeeper for the Helena Water Works company, Sunday afternoon shot and killed his wife and tried to kill himself.

It is said that Schmidt discovered a letter implicating his wife with a man at Fort Assiniboine.

The doctors says Schmidt will recover, although his left arm is practically shot away and he has a serious wound in the breast. Schmidt is about 27 years of age and his wife was 18.

LADY CURZON PASSES AWAY

Former Vicerine of India Dies in London of Old Ailment Aggravated by Sultry Weather.

London, July 19.—Lady Curzon of Kedleston, wife of the former viceroy of India, who has been ill for some days, died at 5:40 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Her illness was recently made more serious by the hot weather in England.

She suffered from acute peritonitis—which almost caused her death in September, 1904.

Her husband, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, recently dropped all political engagements to stay at her bedside.

ARKANSAS IS AFTER TRUSTS

Attorney General Sues Cotton Seed Oil Mills for Alleged Violation of the Anti-Trust Laws

Little Rock, Ark., July 19.—Suit was entered Wednesday against the five cottonseed mills of this city by Attorney General Rogers and Prosecuting Attorney Rohofon, charging them with being members of a combine in violation of the anti-trust law and alleging restraint of trade. The suits ask judgment in the sum of $5,000 per day, aggregating $130,000 against each company and asking also the revocation of their charters in this state.

Additional Local.

The Rev. J. P. Winter, of Orange City, has declined the call to the Second church of Muskegon.

It is thought that De Los Lamb, the man who was burned to death in a barn near Saugatuck last Thursday morning was the man who terrorized the residents of Virginia Park a couple of weeks ago.

Hog cholera has almost completely destroyed Geo. Borek's fine herd of Chester White hogs. The disease appeared among the hogs a few days ago and in four days Mr. Borek has lost 14 old hogs and over 30 young ones. His loss will be over $200 as his herd was one of the best in the county and all the stock was registered.

The fisherman at the old harbor at Saugatuck have become very much agitated on account of scows being unloaded in the old mouth of the river. This action of the Dredge Co. may result in legal action for damages as the fishermen contend that the government has no right to interfere with their right to a livelihood.

Speaking of modern progress, it may surprise some of the young people of our day to know that only 29 years ago candles were still used for lighting railway coaches. Conductor Dick Wren says that he was on a run between Big Rapids and Holland at that time, and that the ladies' coach was lighted by three sperm candles. The drip from the candles was saved in those days, being found very desirable as a lubricant for car axles in case of getting a hot box. —Pentwater News.

W. E. Gage of Memphis, Tenn., has brought here from Memphis a new motor boat which is the fastest ever seen here and has been giving all the boats an exhibition of what is possible in modern types of motor craft. She is 37 feet long, 5 feet beam and has 20-horse power four-cylinder engines, built by the Lamb Boat & Engine company of Clinton, Iowa. The boat makes 15 miles an hour. She came from Memphis by the Mississippi river as far as Cairo, Ill.

Jacob Lokker, treasurer of the Memorial Day and Good Roads celebration funds, has submitted a report showing that for the Memorial Day fund the city appropriated $100, that there was a balance due from last year of $23.62 and that the deficit this year was $8.28. This $8.28 was taken from the Good Roads fund to balance the Memorial Day fund. For the Good Roads celebration the total amount collected was $203.00 and the balance left after the celebration was $60.82. In concluding his report Mr. Lokker says: "By mutual consent of the committee and a majority of the subscribers to this fund the balance of $60.82 was donated to the Citizens' band to be used for the purpose of building a grand stand in Centennial park. These reports show that both the Memorial Day and Good Roads funds are balanced."

A bill of complaint against Grace church of Charlotte and Akeley institute of Grand Haven has been filed by Bishop George D. Gillespie. The petition asks for a construction of the will of John H. Markham, who died last January. Markham left $2,045.44 to Grace church of Charlotte, and if that were not in existence, to the Akeley institute at Grand Haven. This money was deposited in a Grand Haven bank and left in trust with Bishop Gillespie. The bishop now finds that Grace church has never been regularly incorporated, although a mission church was established under that name some time ago. Now both beneficiaries claim the money and Bishop Gillespie asks the court to decide the matter for him.

It looks now as if the Holland and Zeeland people who invested in the National Supply company of Lansing will not be such heavy losers after all. The liabilities of the company have mounted to the sum of $173,149.23. The schedule in which it is shown that the above sum is owing 600 creditors, has been sent to Harlow P. Davock, referee in bankruptcy, by the attorney for the stockholders, who are making the effort to save the business. This, they believe, they are in a fair way to accomplish, inasmuch as one-half of the creditors in number and two-thirds in the amount of the claims, and more, have agreed to a settlement at 25 per cent. Under the laws, they can now require all creditors to settle at that figure. It is expected the referee in bankruptcy will call a meeting of creditors for about August 6, when a trustee will be named to succeed the temporary receiver. A statement was filed with the schedule of liabilities showing that there are quick tangible assets of $45,000 to $50,000.

F. W. Jackson has sold his house and lot on State street to Mr. Johnson of Chicago, who came here to work in the Bush & Lane piano factory.

Diver Thomas Mahon of Grand Haven is one of the busiest men connected with the government harbor work this summer. Besides doing the submarine work, Mr. Mahon is looking after the operations below the surface at Muskegon and Grand Haven harbors. At these three harbors extensive repairs are being made and the diver's presence is constantly in demand.

John Buchanan of this city and Martin Buchanan of Benton Harbor went to Montague Sunday to attend the funeral of their brother Edward Buchanan, who died from the effects of an overdose of belladonna taken by mistake. Deceased was a member of the Illinois sharpshooters during the civil war. His age was 72 years.

During the next few weeks until the height of the excursion season is passed the Graham & Morton steamers will go to Chicago via St. Joseph every Sunday. The Holland will leave Holland as usual at 9 a. m., reaching St. Joe at 1:30. The Puritan will leave Chicago at 10 a. m., and leave St. Joseph for Holland at 3 p. m. The rate for the round trip from Holland is 50 cents.

Mail carriers take notice.—Owing to the activity of some St. Louis, Mo., letter carriers in flirting with girls on their routes, Postmaster Wyman issued an order against flirting after dismissing Fred Medderhof from the service as a warning. Medderhof, it appears, carried his demonstrations so far that several women and girls complained to the postoffice. This order does not apply to the Holland carriers for they never flirt.

Auditor General Bradley has announced that all money belonging to the primary school fund in the hands of the state treasurer October 1 will be apportioned November 10, which means that the school districts of the state will each receive from $6 to $10 for each person of school age now enrolled in the district, and the larger amount probably will be close to the per capita apportionment.

The Ottawa County Medical association held its fourth annual picnic at Castle park Tuesday. A banquet was given at which Dr. C. P. Brown of Spring Lake officiated as toastmaster. Sometimes you need furniture. Sometimes you are hard up financially and a little leeway in the time of making payments would be of great assistance to you. Therefore it is to your advantage to call at Jas. A. Brouwer's store on River street and inquire as to their system of weekly or monthly payments. You will find that it is the real thing in the way of a business accommodation, and that you can have an attractively furnished house without having the financial burden bear heavily. According to the ad, this week things are humming at the big store and it will be to your advantage to call.

Work has finally been begun on the new railroad which is to connect Douglas with South Haven. At a meeting of the village board of Douglas it was decided that it would be best to have the track laid on Center street instead of the street further north and as Mr. Applegate was satisfied with the new plan the work has been begun in front of the drug store. According to the terms of the franchise they have 40 days from the 2nd of July to finish a mile of road. As there will be no power house by that time some other motive power will have to be used in place of electricity. Holland is interested in this line for if it is constructed Holland will be in closer touch with South Haven and the cities south of it.

A representative of the Modern Woodmen was in Fennville recently, looking up the evidence regarding the death of Manley Bushee, on whose life the society had an insurance of $2,000. Trouble in settling the claim arises over the theory of the defense set up by the attorneys of Fred Sessions, who claim that Bushee's death was not due to the knife wound made by Sessions, but that it was the result of his drunken condition and from falling out of his wagon and striking on his head, previous to the fight. Should such a theory be sustained, the Modern Woodmen would be released from any liability on the policy. The agent went from here to Allegan to consult Dr. Rowe, who held the autopsy.
