Holland's C. of C. To Be Guided By Mr. Connelly

MAYOR AND COMMON COUNCIL BACK HOLLAND'S BUSINESS ORGANIZATION WITH FUNDS

Pretentious Campaign for 1,000 Members Is Now in Progress.

Friday was a "red letter day" in the history of this city. The mayor and common council showed wonderful co-operation when they were made aware of the fact that William Connelly of Grand Haven and Spring Lake was prevailed upon to become managing director of Holland's reorganized Association of Commerce.

It surely was a public spirited gesture when they unanimously voted to give the Chamber of Commerce $300 a month for one year to help aid the organization in promoting industrial and commercial activities so sorely needed at this time.

At the special common council meeting last Friday Alderman Henry Prins submitted the resolution which City Attorney Lokker stated is in full accord with the state law—that the common council can contribute funds towards the upbuilding of its industrial structure.

A special meeting was called by Mayor Bosch, who, in a message, set forth clearly and concisely why he asked the city of Holland to take this step. The message printed elsewhere on this page is self-explanatory and gives many interesting facts.

The common council unanimously concurred in the message of the mayor and the resolution to follow introduced by Alderman Prins and supported by Alderman Kleis.

City Attorney Clarence Lokker was loud in his praises of Mr. Connelly, stating that no city in Michigan will now have a better Chamber of Commerce director than has Holland. He stated that he had been in contact with Mr. Connelly in many ways, officially and otherwise, and found him one of the most able officials he has met in a long time. He stated that Mr. Connelly has a broad conception of the needs of a city and his activities in north Ottawa county gave ample proof of his efficiency.

The mayor then called upon several men who had much to do with Mr. Connelly's coming here and asked them for a few words. All expressed their fullest appreciation that the "city fathers" had seen their way clear to help a project through which if successful every citizen benefits. These men felt that for several years back these industrial problems had been placed upon the shoulders of a few and at this time it was so burdensome that all should contribute. Apparently the state legislature some time ago felt the same way since they made provisions in the law to cover a case of this kind.

The men who spoke at the council meeting were Arthur W. Wrieden, president of the Chamber of Commerce; William C. Vandenberg, Audie Vandenberg, Andrew Klomparsen and Ben A. Mulder.

One new feature that has been very gratifying is that the city of Holland will be officially active on the board of the Chamber of Commerce. The resolution provides that the mayor, the city attorney and the city clerk shall be members of the board of directors and will have an official voice in all transactions together with the regularly constituted board elected by the Chamber each year. That will put the city of Holland in direct touch with all matters pertaining to the city industrially and otherwise and that is as it should be.

Grand Haven is rather upset about Connelly's going, judging from editorials and news articles in the Grand Haven Tribune, in which it is set forth that Mr. Connelly has had considerable to do with the industrial development there.

Here are a few paragraphs from a news story:

"The example of unified effort to revive the business interests of Holland by securing a man of the caliber of William M. Connelly to head the Chamber of Commerce, the generous appropriation of $3,600 per year by the council and the co-ordination of the two bodies, was brought before the city council last night by J. Edgar Lee, president of the Chamber of Commerce."

"Grand Haven has taken some heavy blows within the past few weeks, namely the loss of the car ferries, state police post, weather bureau and it is high time that leaders of this community pull together to keep this city on the map, he told the council."

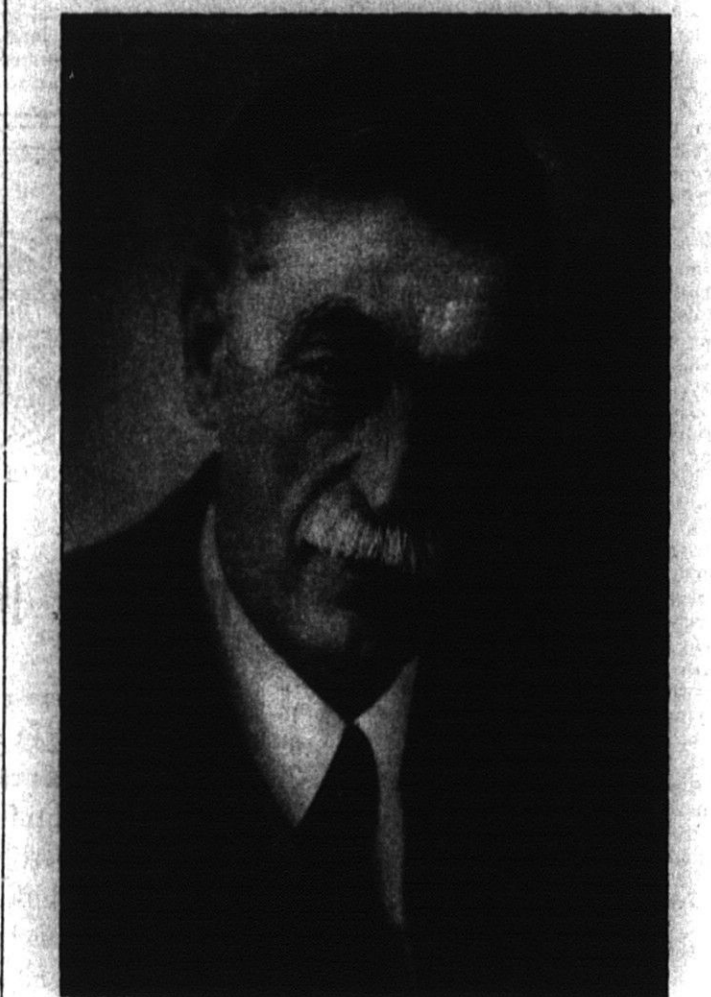

"We must have money to do it and we want the financial backing of the council and local citizens to carry on the Chamber of Commerce which has brought thousands of dollars into this community in the past, to carry on a work which is absolutely essential at this time," he emphasized.

Those in charge of the C. of C. campaign are Wm. C. Vandenberg, Andrew Klomparsen, Dick Borer and Abdo Stephan.

The amount of welfare paid out by the city of Holland during the past two weeks is $3,918.40, of which the highest was groceries, $2,025.67; next was milk, $858.36; then was medical, $336.47; and shoes, $121.69.

There are 442 active cases and thus far 166 have voluntarily withdrawn. The number of active cases two months ago was 561, a falling off of 119.

Mayor Bosch Gives Very Important Message on Industrial Welfare.

Mayor Nicodemus Bosch

MAYOR BOSCH GIVES VERY IMPORTANT MESSAGE AT SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Below will be found a message issued by Mayor Nicodemus Bosch that will have much to do with the betterment of Holland's industrial and welfare situation. The common council in turn stood "four-square" for this message as well as for a resolution carrying with it the giving of funds to aid a real worthwhile Association of Commerce. The message follows:

Fellow Members of the Common Council:

I have called you this evening in special session on a matter that I believe needs urgent attention especially at this time. With no reflection upon any of our civic organizations and their efforts, which has brought a measure of success, I believe the time is now ripe to get behind wholeheartedly and foster financially and morally a real live constructive Association of Commerce.

The hour is here to think of action in our industrial situation. Other cities throughout the state and nation and some not far from Holland are setting their industrial house in order. I sincerely hope and believe that the long-looked-for trend upward is close at hand and there never was a time when Holland should be prepared to take advantage of the opportunities that the new era of better times will bring.

Industrially Holland has been rather hard hit, but I believe that with the right spirit, with the co-operation of every one and with a real live man at the head of an Association of Commerce, a man who has made industrial problems a study—undoubtedly several of Holland's idle plants will soon be filled and what that would mean to Holland is not difficult to conjecture.

The opening of one plant would alleviate the taxpayers of paying thousands of dollars for welfare alone, not taking in consideration the taxes such a plant would pay in due course into the city treasury. The building of one highway in or near Holland would likewise give much labor and added avenues and convenient traffic in and out of the city.

Through an able Association of Commerce working together with the Common Council and the Holland Harbor board, our maritime possibilities are limitless. A plan is now on foot whereby the United States government with certain stipulations and regulations through a self-liquidating plan will aid Holland and its environs through dockage, dredging and shipbuilding projects, having in mind the putting to work of idle men. The St. Lawrence waterway, which has been promulgated for the past ten years, may be looked upon by some with skepticism because of the long delay but that this great waterway is to become a fact, of that there is no question. There are many obstacles to overcome in the way of treaties between countries, opposition from eastern sources, etc., but the United States government is pledged to build that waterway and if you watch the daily press closely you will notice that there is activity in every harbor board, in every lake port city on Lake Michigan. I am pleased to state that our own harbor board has not overlooked this situation.

Busy factories and a busy harbor will soon eliminate the tremendous expense that Holland is shouldering from week to week in the way of welfare and by the same token this new industrial and commercial life will add materially to the city treasury in the way of taxes. And what is more, it will enable the idle to pay their share towards the city's upkeep as they have always done faithfully before this stressful period, in fact a large majority of them are hoping and praying that this day may not be far distant.

Energetic and loyal citizens in Holland for the past two weeks have been working on plans, ways and means, and have been casting around for a man who is eminently fitted to be the moving spirit in placing Holland in a more enviable position industrially and commercially and this man has been persuaded to come to Holland and all he asks for is the fullest co-operation of our mayor and common council, of our civic bodies and of every citizen. He wants them to forget petty differences and work together in one common cause and that is to get Holland back to where it was six years ago and then to keep on building. Holland has the resources, the location, the environment and the will to work. That is self-evident for without these attributes what we have here would never have been created.

I might go on indefinitely in giving an inventory of our avenues of strength but you know these as well as I do. Just now we must make preparations through a proper business organization. Every lake port city has been doing just that for the past year or more and I believe that Holland is just awakening to the real situation. The cities that are ready are the ones to benefit because of their preparedness.

I believe it is the duty of this council to go on record pledging both moral and financial support to a real worthwhile Association of Commerce. If but one new institution were brought here or a single idle factory opened up again, Holland would derive far more direct benefits than the financial aid given such an organization.

I wish to say in closing that I will give my hearty personal co-operation to such an organization and I feel it is my duty to the city of Holland to co-operate as a public official. I sincerely hope that the aldermen here assembled as an official body will stand by this urgent necessity at this time. The time for action has never been more auspicious and at the same time more urgent.

Finally, receiving our financial aid which will make possible an able head to our Association of Commerce, we challenge that body to make a real worthwhile showing. The success or failure of this body will be laid at their door.

I would suggest that this civic organization be reorganized commensurate with the extensive plans that are contemplated and on such a basis that every citizen will be pleased to subscribe and feel themselves a part of a movement that will honestly promulgate Holland's civic welfare, first and always.

NICODEMUS BOSCH, Mayor.

6,300 DOG FISH IN SINGLE SCHOOL

When Roy Buzzard, Kent county conservation officer, saw a small black bass moving along the shallow shore water of Sand Lake, he knew what to do. He took a small dipnet and captured the dog fish fry, while the adult male swam away. Buzzard counted the fry and found there were 153 ounces. The entire school weighed 41 ounces, which amounted to 6,300 small dog fish. Whenever possible sportsmen should net such schools of small dog fish, since dog fish are destructive to desirable game fish. They should be careful, however, they are netting dog fish and not black bass.

HOLLAND MAN HONORED BY GOVERNOR COMSTOCK

Governor Comstock yesterday appointed five new members to the board of governors of the Michigan soldiers' home at Grand Rapids. One of the members is Benjamin L. Hamm of Holland, a Spanish war veteran, who has always been prominent in military circles here.

Mr. Hamm is a salesman for the Michigan Paper Company of Kalamazoo.

Did You Notice and Why?

Do you know that from the Christian High school under State street on the east side of River street, turning on the north side of Fifteenth street west, there is a creek running. The concrete sidewalk is built over this creek. This creek has its source at the watershed of Holland hospital hill. The creek takes a winding course through the tannery property with an outlet into Black lake near Pine avenue. The creek was the only supply of water fifty years ago running through a large vegetable and flower garden, extending nearly the entire block from Pine avenue to River avenue on both Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. It was called the Van Hereween gardens. It was surrounded by a tall fence eight feet high. There was a large white gate on Thirteenth street—the only entrance. All of Holland folk wanting vegetables, fruits or flowers went to the gardens armed with a large market basket. Customers paid for the vegetables and fruits but generally a bouquet of flowers went with it. The old gardener was a fine gentleman and to my "kid eyes" this place looked like a paradise. The brook bubbled more than it does today for there was more water. Then it was the only outlet for surface water which now is being taken away by storm sewers. When the old gardener died the garden was divided into building lots, today occupied by Kolyns, Post, Kollen, Dimment homes and the Grace Episcopal church parsonage on Thirteenth street, and the Bosmans, Robins, Browning, Dregman, Stegeman and Karsten homes on Fourteenth street.

FIFTY YEARS AGO COLUMN

The 50 years ago column had to be omitted this week because of the Chamber of Commerce campaign, which is of vital importance to Holland just now. The column will again appear without fail next week—as well as other features held over. We are sorry but Holland needs a little boosting just at present.

Dogs Are to Have a Death Warrant Holiday

Michigan's dogs, and that includes canines in Holland and Ottawa county, no longer need cringe at sight of a sheriff. The dog law adopted in 1919 said, "The sheriff shall also kill, upon complaint of the prosecuting attorney, any dog that is in the habit of running at large unaccompanied by owner or his agent." This provision was repealed by the 1933 legislature.

Other changes in the dog law are: The age limit for registering dogs is increased from four to six months; license fees are reduced from two and four dollars to one and two dollars if secured before June 1. County boards of supervisors are empowered to reduce these fees in certain circumstances; fees of township treasurers are reduced from 15 to 10 cents per dog while those of township supervisors or dog wardens are reduced from 20 to 10 cents per dog. Boards of supervisors are also given power to appoint county dog wardens, if desired.

EDITORIAL

(Grand Haven Tribune)

Holland, in common with most American cities, has suffered an industrial decline as a result of the depression, but our county neighbors have refused to become discouraged. In fact conditions in Holland have resulted in bringing city groups into harmony, the council there voting unanimously to appropriate $3,600 for industrial revival purposes which will be carried forward jointly by the council and the Chamber of Commerce. Of considerable interest to Grand Haven people is the announcement that William Connelly of Spring Lake will be executive director of Holland's civic attempt to restore employment to the idle workers.

Mr. Connelly is constructive in his thinking and action. Spring Lake will testify to his civic vision, and for many years to come will point with pride at the real estate developments for which he was chiefly responsible. So also will Ottawa county appreciate more and more his services on the road commission, which have brought to the whole area a network of highways adequate to the heavy summer traffic. Holland knew what it was doing when engaging Mr. Connelly, and it seems almost a certainty that within a year his labor to rebuild Holland industry will bear fruit.

Many in Grand Haven will regret that Mr. Connelly has decided to devote his time to another city, particularly when this city is in a sense a competitor. Loss of him has brought comment similar to that prompted by the removal of the car ferries and our weather bureau and police post. The fear is expressed that unless Grand Haven takes united action in the immediate future, these losses will be followed by others, leaving us high and dry and partially deserted while other communities are forging ahead.

However, we should wish Mr. Connelly every success, and be glad that he will continue his work in the county at least. His objective has always been to build up Western Michigan as a whole. It may be that his work in Holland will hasten realization of his dream.

All that remains for Grand Haven to do is to forget what is past and support a leadership that proposes to do as Holland and other cities are doing—bring the various civic interests together under a common flag of progress. We know that several members of our council are deeply concerned over the city's future and are eager to work out a plan of co-operation. We know also that several of our leaders are busy today drafting ideas which they hope will be acceptable to all interests. We are getting a belated start, perhaps, but that we are on the way cannot be questioned. When people all over the community are showing concern over the adversities of the past few months, personal and industrial and civic, and are asking each other "What shall we do?" there can be but one result:

Sooner or later Grand Haven will join her various organizations together, spend money as Holland and other cities have to revive local industry, and engage an able leader to see the plans through.

Our final words relative to this all-important civic action, are: Why wait? The time is certainly ripe to do something.

HOLLAND'S CHANCE

The securing of William M. Connelly as director of our Chamber of Commerce, we believe, is one of the greatest steps Holland has taken in years. The city at the present time is facing a real problem. For obvious reasons our industrial complex has not been very rearing during the past three years. Holland has had its welfare problem because of idle hands and while this situation has been alleviated in a measure, we are far from "out of the woods" and the few months to another winter have a way of "flying by" fast.

Men who have a closer insight and first-hand knowledge more so than the "man in the street" have realized for some months that the solution to our gravest problem is to start the wheels of industry and to promote the avenues of commerce.

Holland is equipped with the best factory buildings well provided with tools. All we need is activity there. Holland has a harbor and shipping possibilities that are most ideal and through the R. F. C. there is a chance to develop these soon. It is needless to go into detail in this editorial. Our Mayor in a message in this issue clearly sets forth why the City of Holland is aiding this project.

You can rest assured that our enterprising city officials would never have lent their aid to a project of this kind—which can be legally done under the state law—were it not that a man of the Connelly type had been chosen. The Mayor and Common council have seen the workings of Mr. Connelly. In their official capacity they have been in close contact with him on roads, on supervisor activities and in many other capacities in which city and county were forced to collaborate jointly. They know from these contacts what a thorough, precise, far sighted, untiring man they had to deal with.

We in Holland have often been envious that north Ottawa possessed a "Bill" Connelly. The suggestion of his name for this position was only by accident in a group of a half dozen men but it took like a "wild fire" although this group was not even aware that Mr. Connelly's services could be secured.

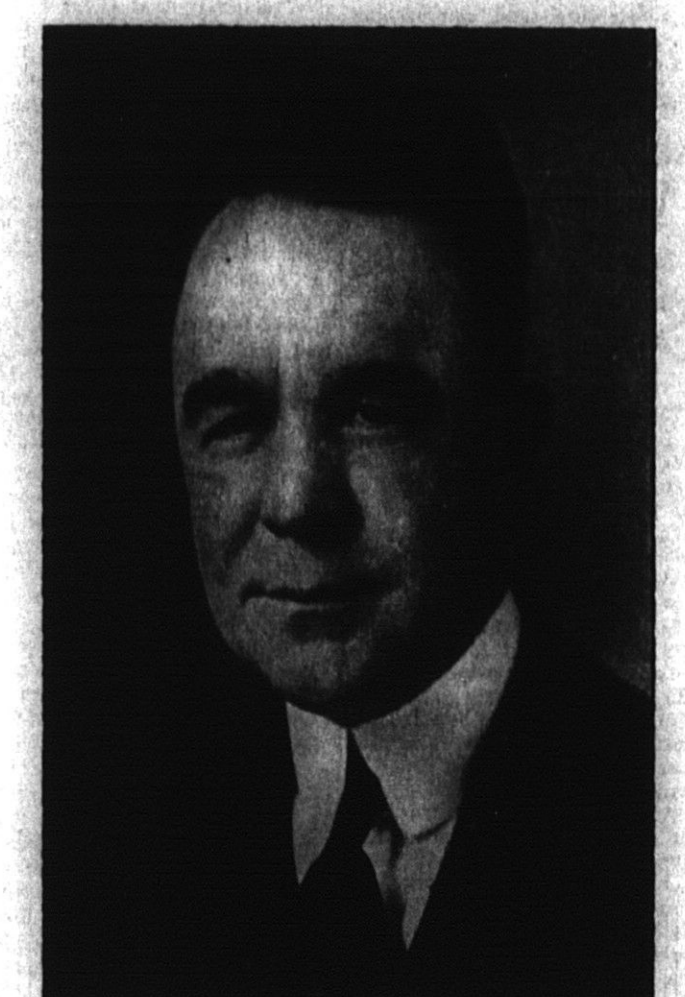

Besides being an able man, Mr. Connelly is well and favorably known at Lansing and at Washington. He has acquaintanceship with nationally known engineers and road and harbor builders. He has an intimate acquaintance with nearly every Board of Supervisors in western Michigan through his road work. To them "Concrete Connelly" is a name to conjure with. He has a nation-wide reputation because he suggested that concrete was the only serviceable material with which to build trunk lines and what the result has been is evident throughout the nation.

Holland should be congratulated for being far sighted enough to secure the services of Mr. Connelly and to those who may be skeptical as to whether our industrial situation will be improved because of his presence here, we would like to quote from the Grand Haven Tribune where that publication says, amongst other fine things, as follows:

"He was at one time head of the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce and during that period a large factory expansion occurred here."

The Holland City News not only welcomes Mr. Connelly, but judging from the enthusiasm expressed by our leading citizens since the announcement of his coming was made, "Bill" Connelly will be mighty welcome here not alone, but will receive the whole-hearted co-operation from a citizenry confident that Holland's industrial and commercial affairs are now in safe hands.

"Bill" Connelly Appears Before Common Council

William Connelly

The real highlight at the common council meeting last evening was the appearance of Mr. William M. Connelly, Holland's new director of the Association of Commerce. The council room was well filled with friends and citizens who gave the man from Spring Lake a royal welcome.

Mayor Bosch pleasantly introduced Mr. Connelly as a man who really did not need an introduction to Holland. He also thanked the men from this city who made it possible for Mr. Connelly to come here and stated that while the Chamber of Commerce has brought some failures there were also successes. The mayor said that he was extremely pleased, knowing Mr. Connelly as he did, that he had been chosen to conduct the industrial and commercial affairs of the city and he asked that the fullest co-operation be given Mr. Connelly and undoubtedly then gratifying results would follow.

Mr. Connelly, when he arose to speak, caused a ripple of laughter when he referred to the speed in which a council meeting was conducted under the guidance of a hard-boiled mayor, and even the mayor could not refrain from a broad grin.

Mr. Connelly said in part as follows:

"I hardly feel that I came here to become acquainted but rather to become better acquainted. I have the reputation of working fast but it hardly seems very high speed when in twenty years I have traveled only twenty miles from Grand Haven to Holland."

"There is something quite unusual about my coming to Grand Haven. My 'better half' and myself went on a belated honeymoon and of course that had to be to Niagara Falls. I had a few days left and had heard of Waukazoo and its virgin forests and intended to take a trip down there. I landed in Grand Haven and the first man I met was Bill Van Dreezer, the restaurateur, who said, 'Why don't you go to a real lake, Spring Lake?' Well, I did visit Spring Lake and established Arbutus Bank, where my home is located. You know my real estate activities when I first came here and my other activities for I never left Ottawa county after that."

"It would be rather presumptuous on my part to map out plans hurriedly now, as far as Holland is concerned, and to make any promises. I prefer to have actions speak and accomplishments tell the story."

"Mrs. Connelly and myself hope to cast our lot with you for I think a great deal of Holland, its environs, its possibilities, and especially its spirit. What induced me to come here more than any one thing was the spirit I speak of. For the first time this year I held our beautiful Tulip Festival with millions of tulips and colorful parades. These were marvelous. I also knew of your industrial plight and your banking situation. I then thought of the state of

COUNCIL NOTES

The council meeting opened with prayer by Rev. John Vanderbeek, pastor of Sixth Reformed church, after which the aldermen saluted the flag.

The Seventh Day Adventists asked to be allowed to put a gospel tent near Eighteenth and Harrison avenue for a few weeks, where nightly services will be held. This was granted.

The mayor and aldermen became wrathful when the "steenth" request came in for the rezoning of River avenue to accommodate the John Knapp building. This time the request was only to open up the block between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets instead of the full length, apparently to accommodate this building. The mayor was so upset about this repeated request which has been turned down just as repeatedly that he mind I would be in under similar conditions. I was simply astonished that in spite of all these reverses its citizenry could muster up enough courage to stage such an unusual, unique and worthwhile demonstration. I said to Judge Cross from whose office window I beheld these demonstrations, 'A city with such people is bound to succeed and through their courage can overcome most any obstacle.'

"Therefore, when several of your town folks approached me I began to think seriously about coming and when I felt that they seriously wanted me in Holland, I made up my mind that there was a real worthwhile job, although not an easy one, in Holland, Michigan, my destination twenty years ago before I was temporarily sidetracked. (Laughter.)

"The serious part of a Chamber of Commerce is to make good and if you give me the Tulip Time spirit the results are inevitable. I am already in touch with the requirements of harbor development through the R. F. C. I am personally acquainted with one of the most able lake engineers in this part of the country. His ability has been shown at Muskegon, which has turned out to be an important terminal in lake traffic. He has personally promised to give me aid here at Holland. We are in the path of the eastern-western hook-up in the way of lake traffic and what took place in Muskegon is the first realization of how Holland will benefit through its position on the Great Lakes. Car ferry transportation is not a dream, I feel, but is inevitable."

"Of course, with the government all plans must be practical. Just now projects that are worthwhile must be quickly presented, the paramount reason being to give the maximum amount of labor."

"Under the Industrial Recovery Act, the decentralization of industry will take place. This will give smaller industries in the smaller cities a chance to get a fair share of production and the small plants in a short time will 'have their day', which will bring a little more sunshine in their affairs. Industry, too, is prone to leave the larger centers for smaller communities and in that Holland should also materially benefit."

"I wish to say here that I am going to give the best that I am in and sincerely hope to be with you by August 1 and together we will lay the foundation for a greater development in this city and vicinity."

"In closing I wish to say that I was extremely pleased to see this meeting opened with prayer by my good old friend, Rev. Vanderbeek. This is a grave situation in which the happiness and hopes of our citizens lie in the balance and we surely need divine guidance at this time."

On page 4 of this section a brief program, laid out by Mr. Connelly, appears.

told the clerk to file the matter until Alderman Jonkman insisted it should take the regular course and go to the appeal board. The aldermen voted this request down, however, feeling that this matter had given enough trouble covering a period of more than two years.

Grocer Henry Vander Warf "on the hill" sent in a communication objecting to officers coming there and stopping horseshoe throwing after 10 o'clock at night. He said the playground was next to his home and he was not annoyed by the innocent play. His communication brought a gale of laughter when he stated that the complaint must have come from a "crab" who had forgotten that he was young once himself.

Alderman Jonkman presented a resolution demanding that trucks be routed through the city on certain streets. He read a half dozen of these streets and what turns should be made in completing the route but Mayor Bosch stated it was too involved for the aldermen

Man and Woman Stage Holdup At Fennville

TAKE $2,000 FROM OLD STATE BANK BUT FAIL TO MAKE GETAWAY

Man Is Badly Wounded As Well As Are Several Deputies.

One minute after 8 o'clock yesterday morning Officer Peter Bontekoe of the Holland police department received a call that the Fennville bank had been robbed and asking for officers. A few minutes afterwards a police car was filled with machine guns, rifles, tear gas guns and a part of the new equipment installed here since the local bank robbery staged last September.

It took the officers just twenty minutes to get to Fennville but shortly before their arrival one of the bandits was shot by Allegan officers and severely wounded.

The hold-up was staged by Ed Austin, aged 46, and his wife, who lived near Bravo some four miles from Fennville.

The Austins, who 13 months ago moved from Detroit to a farm 8 miles southwest of Fennville, near the Orr school, came to Fennville about 4 a. m. While his wife waited in their car in a side street at the rear of the bank, Austin jimmied a window and hid inside. At 7 a. m., Austin covered DeWitt Steenberg, janitor of the bank, when Steenberg arrived for work. Steenberg came in the front door, only to be forced into the wash room, tied hand and foot, and warned to keep quiet.

Then Austin hid again. At 7:50 a. m., Marvin Hutchinson, assistant cashier, arrived. He went about his usual work, while waiting for the time lock to open the vault doors at 8 o'clock.

At 8 the vault doors clicked and Hutchinson swung open the door. Austin stepped out of hiding and demanded money.

Hutchinson, noting that Austin was a small man, attempted to grapple with the bandit, but was felled with a blackjack. Austin ran into the vault, picked up two packages of currency and ran out of the bank through the rear door to the east, which his wife started south on a side street.

Hutchinson, still dazed, staggered to his feet and ran to the front door, shouting that the bank had been robbed. He caught sight to comprehend off hand and he stated that the city engineer should draw a map of just what streets trucks should take. Undoubtedly trucks will be routed largely over the trunk lines through the city maintained by the state.

Hucksters will receive a reduction in licenses from $25 to $15. This resolution was presented by Alderman Steffens of the Fourth ward.

Alderman Huyser also brought in a report on pool room licenses and these were also reduced, the first table being taxed $25 a year and every additional table $2 a year instead of $5 as heretofore.

Attorney Clarence Lokker brought in a report relative to the Bailey Dry Cleaner case in which William Snyder of Grand Rapids was arrested for violating the dry cleaning ordinance. Mr. Lokker stated that he felt all the time that the ordinance would not "hold water" since there had been several adverse decisions in the lower as well as the supreme court. It is held that an exhibitor tax or license fee brings about restrained trade and Justice Elbern Parsons so held in trying the case early in the week. Mr. Parsons declared the law unconstitutional. Snyder refused to pay the license fees of $25 a month or $200 a year, asserting it excessive, but made no protest for the required $2,000 bond.

Alderman Huyser, chairman of the ordinance committee, brought up the ordinance regulating radios and radio advertising for advertising purposes on the streets of Holland or in front of places of business. The ordinance was unanimously passed and appears on page three of this issue.

A RESORT OPPORTUNITY

(Grand Rapids Press)

Decision of the board of education to postpone the opening of Grand Rapids public schools to September 18 extends the summer vacation period for parents and children alike by two weeks. Probably other western Michigan cities and villages will follow a similar course in many instances. This opens up an opportunity for tourist and resort interests such as they never before had.

Labor Day and the beginning of the school year have marked the close of the resort season in the past. Return of children to school generally has necessitated the return of parents also. As a result resort proprietors have not deemed it profitable to continue operation after that date, even though a few season's-end stragglers remained.

This year it is probable there will be many more who will plan to extend their residence in the resort country. Cottages will be kept open longer and tourist trips will be extended. Many late summer trips, in fact, may be planned by those who wish to avoid the heat of midsummer. In addition the trek of world's fair crowds will continue throughout the fall.

With these favorable circumstances at hand it would seem that it would not be amiss to plan some major resortland attraction for September.

BEES AND GOLFERS DON'T MIX

Charlotte Tribune—An unusual incident which nearly wrecked the ladies' nerves occurred on the golf course Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Milton Krieg and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wagner, of Rochester and their caddies were approaching number eight green. A swarm of bees came directly around them covering them so they all had to lie flat on the ground, expecting every minute for them to light, but fortunately the bees passed on a few rods before lighting. It was a pretty lively spot for a short time and approaching players could not imagine what all the disturbance was about.

Kalamazoo River Wall-Eye Pike Now Running

ANGLERS ARE MAKING GOOD CATCHES ON WORMS; MUST SHUN SNAGS

The fishing for wall-eyed pike in the Kalamazoo river at Saugatuck has presented Zeeland fishermen with a great deal of sport so far this year. The season on wall-eyes in the Kalamazoo began considerably earlier than usual this year, says Bill Vande Water, Zeeland, in the Grand Rapids Press.

Local anglers who fish the Kalamazoo use the old fashioned variety of garden worms for bait. The greater number they can hang onto a No. 2 hook the better. They start fishing near the village of Saugatuck and float down the river with the current.

A short casting pole, a pole used for ice fishing or just a line dropped over the side of the boat usually does the needed work. The more experienced fisherman keeps his bait moving all the time. The sinker placed at the end of the line is allowed to strike bottom. The best type of sinker is pear-shaped, as these do not snag as often as the long or square type. The hook is placed about six inches above the sinker. This method saves nerves and hooks because of the many snags in the Kalamazoo river. Many of the old timers use a two-stranded gut leader about three feet long. The leader affords the fish more play and it is an experienced fisherman who can land a wall-eye without the use of landing net or gaff hoop if a long leader is used.

During the month of August the wall-eyes will hit spinners if conditions are the same as in 1932. Another sport afforded at Saugatuck is to visit the deserted pier at the mouth of the river and cast for pike. This sport is becoming better every year.

If one is not interested in catching wall-eyes he can fish for channel catfish or panfish which are abundant in the river.

Four-Legged Duck

A four-legged duck was hatched on a farm near McColl, S. C., recently, but did not live long to make use of its extra traveling equipment. On land, the second pair of legs proved useful to their possessor, but the duck was drowned during its first aquatic venture. Its legs became entangled and it was unable to keep afloat.

Zeeland Woman Proves To Be Apt Detective

SPOTS COUNTERFEIT BILL UPON THE INSTANT AND GUIDES POLICE TO ARRESTS

Mrs. Evert A. Kloosterman, one time a resident of Zeeland, exhibited her wit and sense of detecting the spurious when she became the chief detective that landed two counterfeit agents safely behind prison bars.

Mrs. S. u s a n Kloosterman, together with her husband, operates a bakery at Beloit, Wisconsin, while at the retail counter of her store a man came in and bought a cake for which she charged him 32 cents. He offered her a $5 bill which she accepted and handed him the change.

She became suspicious of the bill at once and started an investigation which in ten minutes proved to her that it was counterfeit. She immediately called the police headquarters and informed them with complete description of the man. Then she set out with a ten-year old daughter to locate her quarry, and in another ten minutes had sent her little girls to the nearest telephone to direct police officers where they could locate the man while she remained on guard.

When arrested the man gave his name as B. Rothberg of Chicago, and he informed police where his partner, Harry Schatz, also of Chicago, could be arrested. Schatz was arrested in his auto and was taken to police headquarters where $125 in $5 counterfeit bills were found on Rothberg and Schatz, while about $350 in genuine money was found secreted in the machine. Another partner, who name Rothberg said was Klassberg, escaped.

It developed that Schatz was a distributing agent for a counterfeit ring and had hired Rothberg and Klassberg to peddle the counterfeit bills paying them $1 out of every $5 bill disposed of. Counterfeit $10 bills have made their appearance in this section of western Michigan recently and a sharp lookout should be kept by them. They are quite readily detected through the difference in the quality of the paper from the genuine and they are likely to be less worn. If convinced of their being bogus call the police immediately; if not certain take it to the bank or some person who is likely to know; compare it with another genuine bill to detect it. But be sure to get the culprits in the hands of the police before they get away.

Mr. and Mrs. Kloosterman have lived in Beloit, Wisconsin, many years. As a young man, Mr. Kloosterman left here, having been born in the Kloosterman homestead two miles north of Zeeland, now occupied by his brother, Henry Kloosterman. Mrs. T. Van Den Brink and Mrs. D. J. Vander Kooi, both of Zeeland, are sisters of Mr. Kloosterman. Mrs. Kloosterman, before her marriage, was Miss Susan Steigenga, daughter of S. Steigenga of North Holland, Michigan, and first lived at Adrian, Michigan.

PLANT BUREAU HEAD FORMER SAUGATUCK BOY

Dr. William A. Taylor, a former Saugatuck lad, whose father, Rev. J. T. Taylor, was one of the first pastors of the Congregational church here, is now chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry at Washington, D. C. He has just passed his 70th birthday, which age would mean his retirement. President Roosevelt has issued executive order exempting Mr. Taylor from compulsory retirement as he has been in the department of agriculture since 1891 and is declared to be a leading authority on the growing, shipping and storage of fruits. He began his work in a fruit tree nursery here when a young man.

MINNOW LAWS ARE CHANGED, LICENSE LOW

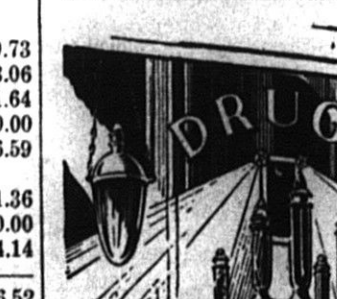

While the commercial minnow license has been reduced in cost from $10 to $3 a year, the number of those required to have such a license has been greatly increased through 1933 legislative action, the department of conservation has announced.

The reduction in fee has been given immediate effect and the commercial minnow licenses are now being sold at the new rate. Under the new commercial minnow law a license must be obtained by anyone selling, giving, furnishing or offering to sell, give or furnish any live minnows taken from public waters. A license permits the sale of minnows at but one place of business and permits the use of one crew in the field for the taking of minnows. An additional license is required for every additional place of business where minnows are sold or for each additional field crew.

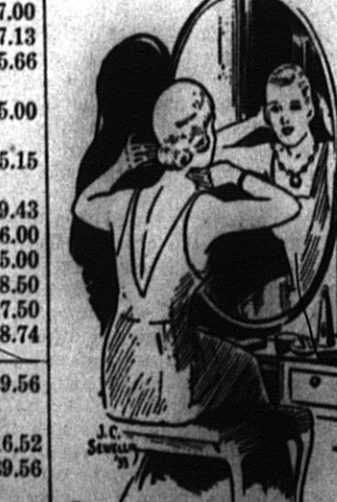

NIGHT CERESUS BLOOMS IN SPRING LAKE GARDEN

Grand Haven Tribune—Four huge blooming cereuses, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ryder of Spring Lake, opened last night for the few short hours that is given these exquisite blooms to last, and attracted a number of neighbors and friends who wished to see the plant. There are two more buds which are expected to open tonight. The fact that the plant had four blossoms at one time is considered very unusual. The blossoms open late in the evening and close at daybreak, never to open again.

SCHROTENBOER REUNION BRINGS OUT SOME INTERESTING STORIES

The Schrotenboers, who held their reunion a short time ago at Jenison Park caused several pioneer stories to be told not yet published.

Many have claimed as being the first white child born in Graafschap, but it would seem that Zwaantje Schrotenboer who later became the wife of Mr. Henry Lubbers, was the first "pale face" as the Indians would say, to see the light of day in that community, the date of her birth being October 10, 1847. She was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Schrotenboer, and was born on what is now known as the Peter Schrotenboer farm.

Another interesting incident is told of how Mrs. Johannes Schrotenboer, who arrived here in the year of 1847, met up with a wolf in the woods surrounding the vicinity. Mrs. Schrotenboer was on the way to town when she met the hungry animal and she clucked him to death, and thus a little "Red Riding Hood" story was averted. This same lady was also an expert at killing rattlesnakes and there were plenty of them in the dense foliage along the paths these brave pioneer women had to take.

Another story is told of the prophecy of one of the Schrotenboers long since passed away, who prophesied long before the event of the automobile that "the horses would be extinct and that horseless wagons would traverse the highways." He augmented this by saying that men would fly through the air "like birds." His own children lived to see that day.

The reunion is being held annually, the committee deciding to hold the reunion at the same place next year, the date to be announced later.

It is also planned to assemble as complete a family history as possible so that this can be put into book form. With that in view the executive committee has sent out questionnaires to each family, which is expected to return them to the president, Mr. L. Tinhoft.

Mr. Tinhoft states that if there are any of the Schrotenboer family who have not received one of these questionnaires, they can have one by calling at his home at 123 East Twenty-third street.

The usual program of sports was indulged in amid much laughter at the expense of the participants.

Three hundred descendants of the Schrotenboer family attended the reunion held last week, Thursday. Dinner was served at 12:30 o'clock, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: L. Tinhoft, president; Henry Schrotenboer, vice president; George Schrotenboer, secretary; Mrs. Ray Nykamp, assistant secretary, and Bert Siebelink, treasurer. Others to serve on the executive committee are John Schrotenboer, Mrs. George Tinhoft, both of Holland, and Mrs. Fredricka of Muskegon. The reunion next year will again be held at Jenison Park. Immediately following the business session, the afternoon was turned over to the sports committee. The following received prizes: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hulst and eight children of East Saugatuck, for having the largest family at the reunion; Mrs. Gerrit John Linters of East Saugatuck, 82, for being the oldest present; Rotha June, three weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Alofs of rural route No. 6, Holland for being the youngest present, and Mrs. James W. Stuart of Hebron, Nebraska, for coming the longest distance. Other prize winners were Sylvia Elaine Nykamp, Julius Den Bleyker, Sarah Bos, Harold and Julius Hulst, Susan Grissen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bouma, John Alofs, Mrs. John Jipping and G. J. Prais.

Would Build Two Score of Tourist Cabins

EARL WILSON TELLS COUNCIL OF DESIRE TO CONSTRUCT 45 MODEL CABINS NEAR THE OVAL

A summer tourist cabin project was presented to the city council at the regular meeting last night by Earl Wilson, in charge of the concession at the Oval at Grand Haven wherein he proposes to build a group of cabins on property leased on the river front known as the Monroe property.

The plan as presented before the city contained 45 model cabins of the type that is being used in the most modern cabin groups with cement roads leading to each cabin and a parking place nearby.

Mr. Wilson explained there was no such accommodation in this vicinity and he knows, from inquiries received at the Oval, that there is a demand for this over-night housing which has become very popular with the tourists all over the country.

He stated that he had leased the property from Mr. Monroe providing Grand Haven would grant the building of that type of cabin and considers the location an ideal one. The present plan would call for an investment of about $14,000, he said, which would probably be handled through a corporation. He proposed to get a part of it under way, if not the whole project, as soon as he can get the necessary permission. He has had the project in mind for the past three years and believes that it will be an asset to the resort area, and will bring hundreds of people there for short stays.

Each cabin is to be built of wood, in an attractive style and furnished with necessities for over night stays.

MICHIGAN HAS NEW FROG LAW NOW ON BOOKS

Michigan has a new "frog" law. The law adopted by the 1933 legislature does not change the dates of the open season for taking frogs and does not require a license for taking them, but it recognizes a minor industry—that of frog propagation, and it liberalizes the old regulations relative to possession of frogs during the closed season.

The director of conservation has been authorized to issue revocable permits for the propagation, sale and possession of frogs or parts of frogs when propagated and reared under prescribed rules and regulations. A $5 permit fee is charged. The director is also empowered to issue revocable permits for taking frogs at any time for scientific, educational or experimental purposes. A $1 fee is charged.

Frogs imported from outside the state may be bought, possessed or sold at any time during the closed season if proof of their origin is furnished. Frogs that have been legally obtained may also be bought, sold or had in possession in a preserved condition at any time of the year providing they are of the non-edible variety.

ONE MAN BURIES POPULATION OF A CITY

William H. VandeWater, resident of Holland fifty years, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday anniversary last week with a family reunion.

A distinctive feature is recorded in the VandeWater family. He is the father of 14 children—6 sons and 8 daughters—and outside of the deaths of 2 wives, not a death has occurred in the circle of children in more than 60 years.

VandeWater also achieved a record as grave digger. When he retired a few years ago he had completed a service of 27 years as sexton of Pilgrim Home cemetery. He dug approximately 2,500 graves.

REFORMED CHURCH 1933 REPORT SHOWS LOSS

Preliminary statistical summary of the Reformed Church in America for 1933 show slight losses as compared with 1932.

Number of families, placed at 86,121, shows a decrease of 525, while the total number of communicants enrolled at 158,552 is smaller by 1,646. Bible school enrollment at 145,183 is less by 852.

Number received on confession was 5,498, a loss of 1,363, and on certificate, 3,225, a loss of 406. Total contributions footed $3,776,331, a loss of $795,559 as compared with 1932. Congregational expenses were $567,593, less than in 1932.

DEER WAS SEEN IN SPRING LAKE TOWNSHIP THIS WEEK

A fawn was seen recently north of the McMann school on the farm of Albert Rands in Spring Lake township. Early in the morning Mr. and Mrs. Rands, their daughter, Myrtle, and George Henderson saw what at first they believed to be a calf. The animal made several long leaps, one of which took it over a five-foot fence, and they were certain then it was a deer as it disappeared in the nearby woods. Deer have been seen on occasions in this county but it is rare. It is believed there may be others in the section as the animal seemed too young to have wandered very far.

SALE OF GASOLINE SHOWS BETTER TIMES

A perceptible increase in the consumption of gasoline in Michigan is shown by gasoline tax collections of the Department of State. Reports of the May gasoline sale show a tax increase of $62,000 over May of the year previous. This represents approximately 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline. May is the first month of 1933 to show an increase in gasoline usage over the corresponding month in 1932.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kammeraad and daughter, Elvina, left Tuesday on a two weeks' trip through Wisconsin and Illinois en route to Chicago, where they will visit the world's fair.

The third alarm Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock sent the firemen to the corner of Van Raalte avenue and Twenty-fourth street where grass was afire. It was said the flames got beyond control while the grass was being burned by boys.

PRIVATE SHOOTING PRESERVE ACT MAY GO ON BALLOT

Possibility that voters in 1934 may pass upon a bill seeking repeal of the private shooting preserve act, is seen in the request of the Department of State for information regarding initiatory legislation. The request was received immediately after the governor announced his intention of vetoing the private shooting preserve act, which he did. In order to place such a request on the ballot, petitions embodying the proposal and bearing 129,000 signatures, must be filed with the department at least 10 days before either a regular or special session of the legislature.

Let us have a vote on it. The principal is all wrong. Holland Fish and Game Club was unanimous against the private shooting act.

ROBBERS RAIDING ALLEGAN COUNTY

The Shiffert department store of Fennville was entered Sunday by way of a rear window and all the cash from the cash register and a quantity of tobacco taken.

Largest Egg

The largest egg known relative to the size of the bird that produces it is that of the New Zealand kiwi. This bird, scarcely as large as an ordinary fowl, lays an egg little smaller than that of the emu, a large ostrich-like bird found in Australia. The cuckoo lays the smallest egg of any bird for its size.

Beer

Some wag has played a dirty trick on the Lake county road commission. For several years signs have warned motorists to slow down for the deer runway which crosses M-37 in the L Lakes tract. The sign read, "Slow, Deer Runway." The wit in question went to all the trouble of taking black paint and a brush and revising the sign to read, "Slow, Beer Runway," which serves as a warning ad for the Bitely and Baldwin beer dealers.

TWO DUTCH COLONIES USE SAME PORTRAIT OF WILLIAM OF ORANGE

The portrait of William of Orange has appeared on the stamps of two Dutch colonies, Curacao and the Dutch East Indies. In both cases the portrait used is that which appeared on the six-cent of the mother country. The value is six cents for Curacao and 12½ for the Dutch Indies. In both cases, the color is orange.

It is reported that all German stamps bearing the portrait of von Hindenburg are to be issued in new colors.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

WE, as Americans, do not realize how fortunate we are to have all the peaches we can eat without straining our food budgets. Frequently in England they cost a shilling apiece.

This week ushers in the real peach season and it is the time to enjoy them in all the variety of ways in which they can be served: whole, sliced, in tart or pie, shortcake, gelatin desserts and ice cream. The woman who likes to can her own peaches can also begin to do so either this week or next. Pickled whole peaches, like watermelon rind, are delicious. Use vinegar, sugar and a bag of whole pickling spice.

There is little difference in cost between good home made jellies and those you can buy. If you prefer to make your own, currants are here to open the jelly season and their season is short.

Here are the Quaker Maid Kitchen dinner menus.

Fish License Law Gives Wives Break

Husbands are worth at least 50 cents to Michigan wives who go fishing this summer. According to the new fishing license law passed by the 1933 legislature, a single fishing license, costing 50 cents, is enough for both man and wife. If the angler has taken out a trout license earlier in the season, it is sufficient for the wife to carry the number of her husband's license. If the husband is taking out a new license, he will receive an extra stub. He carries the license and his wife carries the stub. Unmarried women over 18 will have to take out separate licenses.

Got a Very Big Trout

Lawrence Nichols, of Allegan county, started to Swan creek in that county last Sunday in quest of the wily trout and was more than ordinarily successful, bringing home with him one twenty-two-inch German brown trout and five other trout, each ten inches in length, some brook and some German browns among the lot. The big fish, he has reason to believe, is the largest taken from that stream this season. It weighed three and a half pounds and with its bright red and brown spots was a thing of beauty. Mr. Nichols is a great lover of the out-of-doors and its creatures. On his fishing trip last Sunday he saw tracks at the water's edge of what he thought must have been a very large deer and some weeks ago he and his son came upon a doe which probably had her young near, as she stood her ground when the fishermen appeared. The fawns were not in sight however.

INFORMATION FROM LANSING WORTH WHILE KNOWING

The alphabetical system of distributing automobile license plates to the various counties will be continued in 1934, it was announced by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald. The same letters will be assigned in 1934 as in 1933.

More than 1,000 applications for positions with the Department of State or with the Sales Tax Commission, of which he is a member, have been received by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald within the last week. Mr. Fitzgerald is the only elective Republican state official now in office and a large majority of the applicants were state employees who had been discharged from other departments on July 1. During the last two-year period the Department of State operated at a cost approximately $200,000 below the amount allowed by the legislature. Still further economies are being planned and instead of increasing the number of employees in the department, personnel is to be reduced and still greater use made of the staggered system of part-time employment.

While $30 a month pensions for most Michigan residents over 70 years of age, will become part of Michigan's laws within a short time, the method of providing funds for payment of the pensions is still doubtful. The governor has announced that he will sign the bill as passed by the legislature but efforts will be made to provide some new method of raising funds. The act now calls for a $2 head tax upon every Michigan resident over 21.

BOYS HAVE WONDERFUL TIME AT WORLD'S FAIR

The young men you see in this picture from left to right are Nevin Van Anrooy, Casper Schregardus and Alfred Morris, all of Holland. They have just returned from Chicago, where they attended the great Century of Progress exposition on the lake front. They were the three from this city who were prize winners among 150 other boys from this state in the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. contest.

The young lads reported a wonderful time as the guests of the A. & P., the trip taking up the greater part of eight days, six of which were spent in Chicago and at the world's fair. The officials of this company having this trip in charge showed these young men the time of their lives and there was not a dull moment during the entire trip.

They saw the fair as no one else could see it and what is more they saw Chicago, the second largest city in the United States. Most of them had never been to the metropolis of the middle west and surprises after surprises were in store for them.

Officials of the company, together with every member of the concern, having nothing but the highest praise for the thousands upon thousands of boy contestants, their parents, relatives and their friends who made competition keen and interesting throughout the six weeks' period of vote getting. These votes were given with purchases at A. & P. food stores in the lower peninsula of the state of Michigan.

Accompanying the boys were Lt. Jack Rohr as their leader; Dr. O. Marcotte, A. & P. representative; Mr. W. W. Brockway, WJR representative; Mr. Stanley Boynton and nurse, Miss Mildred Snell, with troop leaders, L. A. Richter, W. F. Church, H. Dunn and Arthur Ringus.

The entire 150 from Michigan saw this "wonderland" at Chicago and from the time they returned they were being entertained by the A. & P. and the outing did not cost them a penny, the trip being their reward as prize winners.

ZEELAND OFFICER SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

William Glurum, one of Zeeland's efficient speed officers, died early Tuesday as the result of an automobile accident on June 29, when he, with a light Ford, chased a speeder on M-31 east of the city. He nearly got the speeder but in telling him to stop the fenders of the two cars locked and the light Ford was overturned and the officer was rendered unconscious and taken to Zeeland hospital, where after weeks of suffering he finally succumbed to his injuries.

The speeder was C. Edwards of Battle Creek, who was arrested later by Officer Fred Bosma and Undersheriff Ed Ryzena.

Edwards was arraigned before Justice H. Huxtable on three counts, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to give aid at the scene of the accident.

Just what the status of the case will be now since the death of Mr. Glurum is a matter for the prosecutor.

A coroner's inquest was called by Gilbert Vande Water of Holland and will be held at the Zeeland city hall on July 28.

The funeral services will be held today, Friday, at 1:30 from the home and at 2:30 from the Third Christian Reformed church of Zeeland. Rev. Jabay officiating. Burial will take place in Zeeland cemetery.

HOLLAND WILL ASK GOVERNMENT HELP TO BUILD SCHOOL

The board of education at its annual election Tuesday evening re-elected Fred Beuwkes president, and Henry Geerlings secretary. William Arendshorst was elected vice president, succeeding James A. Brouwer, who failed to qualify for re-election at the recent election. John Olet and Earnest C. Brooks were received as new members. Geerlings is the oldest member of the board, having served 37 years as member and 20 years as secretary.

The Holland school board will investigate the possibility of getting funds under the self-liquidating division of the federal program to construct a previously planned addition to the high school building. Tuition for nonresident students amounts to between $8,000 and $9,000 annually, and it was thought that this might place the construction in a classification as self-liquidating.

The building has been over crowded for several years. Work on an addition would provide jobs for between 50 and 60 men for five months.

On self-liquidating projects, it has been understood here that the government will donate 30 per cent of the total amount needed and will lend the remaining 70 per cent on liberal terms.

Trustees Earnest C. Brooks, William Arendshorst and Andrew Klomparsen were appointed on a committee to look into the matter. It was reported that $10,144.60, of which $6,269.60 was in school board scrip and $3,875 was in cash, had been collected as school taxes by the city treasurer.

The committee on schools and Supt. E. E. Fell were given the matter of re-considering the plan to close Froebel school No. 2 next year in the program of economy. Closing of the school would make transfer of the part-time classes to the Froebel No. 1 building necessary and this situation has given rise to some complaint, it was said.

Among those from Holland who recently attended the world's fair in Chicago are Miss Dorothy Haan, Miss Ruth Nibbelink, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boone and daughter, Helen, and son, Junior; Edwin Berkel, Donald Timmer, Robert Evenhuis, Joe Heerspink, John Vogelsang, Jr., Henry Ten Hoor, Fredrick Ver Hoef and Leonard Vogelsang.

CONNELLY MAPS OUT HOLLAND PROGRAM

William M. Connelly, the new Chamber of Commerce industrial director, in a concise statement, gives a resume of a tentative program he suggested. Undoubtedly Mr. Connelly will have a great many more suggestions to make but these show that the new head of the Chamber of Commerce is alert and knows Holland's needs.

The suggestions follow:

- 1—A new industrial development.
- 2—A convention bureau.
- 3—A port development.
- 4—A drive for improvement and enlargement of the resort area.
- 5—An expansion of the Tulip Week idea.

Elaborating on these ideas a bit, I would say that this is the time for all small towns to make their drive for new industries. The decentralization of industry has been recommended by the president and is being recognized by many manufacturers as essential to the future welfare of their existence.

The City of Holland is indeed fortunate in having such an excellent hotel and many other facilities for the enjoyment of visitors, all of which is a first essential to procuring conventions. It is my opinion that Holland could be made a very popular convention town with proper and well directed efforts and at least an average of one good convention per week landed in your hotel.

Regarding the development of your port, many things enter into this. It is true that there will be a big development in car ferry operations when the national plan for trunk line railroads is completed. Muskegon, Grand Haven and Holland are in a very direct line for this development. One essential to secure government funds for harbor development is tonnage. It is my opinion that Holland can get this tonnage by well directed and intelligent effort if certain connections are worked out in Milwaukee, which at this time are somewhat encouraging. A large amount of shipping in and out of your port would bring subsidiary enterprises such as shipyards and outfitting establishments. There is also, of course, the prospect of Industrial Recovery Act funds where public necessity can be shown.

There is no city better located than Holland as a center of summer resort activities and there is much to be done to revamp some of your resort areas. It is my opinion that your Tulip Week idea is susceptible to considerable expansion. I think it is possible to bring representatives of the various bulb and seed houses to Holland during that time and have an exhibit hall for that purpose, the sale of space in which might be a source of considerable revenue towards refinancing the costs of the Tulip Week festivities. I would also think that endeavor should be made to have the state convention of Garden clubs held at Holland simultaneously with the Tulip Week.

This may sound like a very ambitious program, but it is like the one proposed by our new president. He says that if it is only carried out 50 per cent it will make a prosperity the country has never known before. I hope he is right and I hope I am right in what I have outlined.

of the car as it swung west on a back street.

Then he saw Kenneth Jackson, 32, garage proprietor and member of the village council, who organized the vigilantes at Fennville.

Jackson, who is an expert rifle and pistol shot, ran into his garage for his shotgun and climbed into his own car with Russell McKellips, 22, an employee, at the wheel.

Kellips' head was struck, possibly causing a skull fracture. Unable to continue driving, McKellips pulled off to the side of the road.

In a car following them, however, were James Michin, G. Shoe-maker and Iva Wade. They took up the chase, firing until they flattened the rear tires.

About three miles west on M-89 Austin turned his car into an orchard owned by Elmer Paine on the old LaDick farm, and drove back from the road about one-half mile and stopped the car. Michin fired several shots over the car in an effort to induce the couple to surrender. Austin stepped from the car with his rifle and Michin fired one shot, which hit him in the shoulder. Austin dropped his gun and gave up.

In the meantime this village was on the move. More than 100 men armed had been started west, the state police from Paw Paw were on hand, as was Sheriff Fred Miller of Allegan and Chief of Police Peter Lievens of Holland, together with Officers Ben Kolkman, Dave O'Connor and Jack Van Hoff of Holland. Dr. R. J. Walker of Saugatuck dressed the wounds of the posse, and then turned his attention to Austin, who was brought back to town on a small truck.

The stolen money was found in the car and was restored to the bank. Mrs. Austin was taken to the Allegan county jail by Undersheriff Claude Gibson, L. R. Brady, conservator of Fruitgrowers' State bank, Saugatuck, and C. W. Parish, Saugatuck druggist.

Austin was taken to the Memorial hospital in Allegan, where he is held under guard. Antitetanus injections were given him. Physicians reported his condition as just fair. He was suffering from loss of blood and shock and his physical condition generally was not good.

McKellips was struck just above the left eye by a bullet which followed the skull around, coming to rest just underneath the skin at the back of the head. The bullet was removed and he will be taken to Kalamazoo as soon as possible for X-ray pictures to determine if he has a skull fracture. He was resting easily late last night.

Store Robbery
at Grand Haven
Seems StrangeMAN POSES AS INSURANCE
INSPECTOR IN PREVIOUS ROBBERY

An attempt to rob Kieft Bros. Clothing Store at Grand Haven in the early morning was frustrated by the city police and although the bandits got away in a high-powered car, their evident plan of cleaning out the store was prevented and thus the clothing merchant was saved from loss of possibly several hundreds of dollars.

There were apparently two men, one stationed in the car, while the other jimmied the lock. When the one spied the officers a signal was given and the other man jumped into the car and drove off at a furious pace out Washington street to U.S.-31 toward Holland. The local policemen followed in the city car. They pushed the car to 75 miles but the bandit car easily pulled away.

The officers returned to the store and found the lock broken in the same way as the lock on the Style Shop two years ago, when that store was robbed of about $2,500 worth of merchandise.

Officers Kinkema and VanTol were driving through the alley back of the Kieft store on their rounds about 4:00 a. m. They drove out on Third street and then to Washington street. They noticed the car parked in front of the Kieft store and thought at first that it was probably one of the owners going fishing or making an early morning start of some kind.

As the police car drove down Washington street the other car dashed away and the local men followed it as they realized they had come upon an attempted robbery. They noticed the license plates were from Wayne county and the back end of the car seemed to be full of articles of some kind. The officers suspected that a previous haul had been made somewhere.

This is the first attempt at a robbery of the kind since the state police post here has been abandoned. Undoubtedly the work was one of experts, said Chief Lawrence DeWitt, and they were aware that the state police were not within reaching distance.

P. C. Kieft and his brother, Wilford Kieft, owners, recalled that about 12 years ago, almost to the day, they were robbed of $2,500 worth of merchandise. The two brothers had just started in business then and carried no insurance and the loss was a bad blow to these beginners. A truck was then backed up to the rear windows and the goods were taken out through a window.

Mr. Kieft recalled that a few days before an uncouth man came into the store, saying he was an insurance inspector. He busied himself in the rear of the building for some time. He believed the man was making plans of the rear entrance and other details that contributed to the almost complete cleanout of the store at that time.

Of the July application $10,500 will be spent in Holland.

EIGHT BLIND ANGLERS
CATCH PLENTY OF FISH

Eight blind anglers and their guide will return to their homes at Grand Rapids Monday after an unusual week-end fishing trip. Their expedition was arranged by Miss Roberta A. Griffith, secretary of the Association for the Blind, who was convinced that anyone who once could fish could continue to do so after he had lost his sight. Miss Griffith reported Sunday that the trip was a success, the blind fishermen not only making a good catch, but baiting their own hooks and removing their fish from the hooks without help.

Mayor Heap of Grand Haven Is
Again Free ManJUDGE MILES RELEASES HIM
FROM JAIL AFTER A MONTH
BEHIND THE BARS

Mayor Lionel Heap of Grand Haven, held in the county jail since June 5 on a body execution, was released by Sheriff Ben Rosema at 2 p. m. Saturday. The news that the city official was to be freed was first learned when Judge F. T. Miles of Holland, judge of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, filed a decree at the county clerk's office with William Wilds.

Mr. Heap has been incarcerated since June 5, 1933, and his release was affected following a petition made by him in circuit court wherein he declared his full financial position, showing that he has no property or assets from which the judgment of nearly $8,000 held by his sister-in-law, Edna M. Heap, might be collected.

In the decree Judge Miles says "Had the petitioner offered to come into court and reveal all of his assets before the execution was issued and had he done so in the beginning as he now has, there would have been no reason for the issuance of the body execution which sent him to jail for a month."

Mr. Heap noted with interest that the supervisors of Muskegon county had raised the cost of keeping a civil prisoner from 50 cents per day to $3.00. He asked the Ottawa county board to fix the cost at $4.12, at the last meeting he attended which was not done.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT
HOLLAND SUGAR COMPANY

There is much activity in evidence at the Holland plant of the Lake Shore Sugar company. A mechanical unloading device is being installed for handling beets delivered to the plant by wagons and trucks. This power driven machinery dumps the beets out of the wagon or truck and by means of a large belt conveys them into the storage yard of the plant. A load of beets is unloaded in two or three minutes with this equipment. This up-to-date equipment supplants forking the beets by hand into the bins from the wagon.

Coal for the campaign is coming in daily in carload lots. Other supplies are also being received.

The plant is rapidly being put in condition with an increased crew of workers.

The beets are developing satisfactorily and the outlook is for a good harvest this fall—which reminds us, we will soon be asking for beet sugar and getting it.

BLACKSTONE COMING TO HOLLAND THEATER

Blackstone and his big necromantic extravaganza is announced as the headline attraction at the Holland theater, matinee and night Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 24, 25 and 26. The favorite now-see-it-now-you-don't man promises to disclose a program of many new and intriguing features. For his tour of the varieties he has culled the most imposing of the spectacular illusions shown in his road show.

"Blown Into Eternity" is credited with being the most pretentious of the many mystifying exhibits. The illusion is based on an incident of the Sepoy mutiny in India. Blackstone is fastened to the mouth of a cannon with yards of hempen thongs. His captors ignite the lethal weapon. Comes a blinding flash—an ear-racking detonation—the figure at the cannon's mouth collapses—and in a trice at the opposite side of the stage is Blackstone himself.

The Blackstone program runs nearly an hour in itself. Among the highlights of his contributions may be included "Butterflies of the World," "Rainbow Waters," "The Ghost Handkerchief," "Duck Inn," "Fiesta of Flowers," "Mystic Glass of Ostris," "The Animated Flat Boxes," "A Modern Fairy Tale," "Flight of the Ring," "Girls from Nowhere," "A Child's Dream of Toyland" and "The Tramp and the Bear."

Supplementing his regular program the master magician will stage several special events. At the Monday, July 24, matinee the kiddies will have their innings. Many rabbits will be materialized by the mystery man and presented to his little admirers in the audience. Tuesday, July 25, will be Spook Night. At this time Blackstone will expose the charlatanism of spiritualists. Wednesday, July 26, at the evening performance, he agrees to escape from a steel boiler after having been welded in by the employees of Benjamin Balduz Boiler company.

The large committee now working untiringly in order to put over a 1,000 membership in the new Association of Commerce, is reporting much enthusiasm, new hope and many willing contributions in pledges to the new "set-up" for a greater Holland, industrially and commercially.

There are few turn downs among the citizens asked and many former members are taking more pledges than they held before in the old organization.

A spirit of optimism has taken the city by storm since the announcement of "Bill" Connelly's coming was made.

TEACHER IS CLEARED OF BEATING SCHOOL BOY

A verdict of no cause for action was returned Saturday in circuit court, Allegan, in a damage suit against Mrs. Gertrude Trigg, rural school teacher, who was accused by Clifford Kelley of having beaten his son, Burton, 9 years old. Kelley charged that Mrs. Trigg beat and kicked the child, causing a hernia. Bowen Talks
On County's
Welfare Work

HOLLAND ROAD PROJECT INCLUDED IN LIST OF LABOR PROJECTS FOR WELFARE

Carl T. Bowen, chairman of the county welfare board, addressed the Rotarians at Grand Haven, telling of the welfare work which has been done for the last two years in Ottawa county. At the time Governor Brucker in October, 1931, asked for welfare committees in each county, Mr. Bowen was made chairman of the committee in this county.

During 1931 and 1932 out of funds furnished by the state highway department and the county road commission, 1,000 men were employed who received $47,000. Of this, $5,200 was paid to welfare workers from Grand Haven. Of the men employed during this time 11 per cent of the total in the county were from Grand Haven. This compares with 15 per cent of population in Grand Haven and 13 1/2 per cent of the county valuation so those receiving help from Grand Haven were less than the average throughout the county.

Late in 1932 the RFC made available funds for welfare work. No application was made from Grand Haven until May, 1933, when they asked for $5,000. On May 19, they received of the amount $5,064.54. This loan is made payable over a five-year period, from the amount received from delinquent taxes. The four units in the county consisting of Grand Haven City, Holland City and Holland and Park townships total welfare for May was $20,500.45. Of the amount under congressional relief act grants Grand Haven received in May $2,568.01 and in June $4,883.51.

In April the supervisors reorganized the welfare committee but retained Mr. Bowen as chairman of the committee.

The loans to be Ottawa county previous to April were $50,000. In April, $15,000; May, $20,400; June, $18,000. The loans and grants to Grand Haven City to date were $24,448, grants $7,446.82. In Ottawa county during May, 1,400 families, consisting of 6,300 persons, received relief, an average of $3.25; in June, 870 families, 3,955 persons, an average of $4.94. This represented a decrease during June of 37 per cent of families but an increase of 50 per cent in cost per person. This is accounted for by the fact that those who were off the relief entirely had previously been getting less help than the ones who remained on and the fact that the soldiers' relief funds were exhausted and the Red Cross goods and flour were not available. In July the application from the four units mentioned above were $17,500 for the county of which Grand Haven is $5,000.

Mr. Bowen referred to the provision under the national industrial recovery act which made available $127,000 for Michigan highways. The state highway commissioner is the administrator of this fund in Michigan.

Ottawa county applied for four projects: Repaving through the village of Spring Lake; widening the grade on trunk line No. 15 east from Nunica to Marne; resurfacing the pavement on trunk line No. 31 running south from West Olive 1 1/2 miles and rebuilding the road on M-21 across the Vriesland sink hole about one-half mile in length.

Mr. Bowen also spoke of the project of a road between the cities of Holland and Grand Haven along the lake shore for county welfare and unemployment relief. Some of the reasons advanced for this road are as follows:

- 1—The communities directly connected by this project are now securing $20,000 per month federal funds for welfare relief.
- 2—It is the best project in the county to employ labor.
- 3—Can be started at once.
- 4—Work can be carried on in winter due to sandy soil.
- 5—It is a feeder system to federal highways.
- 6—It is a much needed project and a permanent improvement.
- 7—Connects Ottawa county's largest centers of unemployment.
- 8—Joins two Michigan state parks and a county park and Gets zoo.
- 9—Is part of the Michigan scenic highway system.
- 10—The resort traffic to the Holland and Grand Haven state parks creates congestion on parts of US-31 between Holland and Grand Haven.
- 11—The county and cities have paid over $270,000 for paving the 10 miles of road which now connects the two state parks to US-31.
- 12—About half of this project would serve as part of a future relocation of US-31 between Holland and Grand Haven.
- 13—Ottawa county has spent over $1,000,000 on the construction of state trunk lines in Ottawa county.
- 14—Will provide work for 600 men—two-day week, for thirty weeks.

THREE FIRE ALARMS WITHIN TWO DAYS

The Holland fire department was called out three times within two days. On Sunday morning at 11:45 o'clock the firemen were called to the residence of Mrs. Martha C. Robbins, 93 West Fourteenth street. Food on a stove became ignited but no damage was caused by the fire.

At 9:40 o'clock Sunday evening the fire department was called to the Bolhuis Lumber and Mfg Co., whose sheds were threatened when grass on East Eighteenth street near the buildings caught fire. It is believed that sparks from a switch engine which passed shortly before the blaze started was responsible for the fire. The blaze was extinguished and no damage was caused.

ACCIDENT CAUSES AMPUTATION OF LEG

Urs Von Ins, 30, of Holland route 4, who sustained injuries on June 4 when he was crushed between a house and a car he had cranked, had his left leg amputated at Holland hospital. He was reported to be making satisfactory recovery after the operation. Gangrene developed which made necessary the amputation of his leg about six inches below the knee.

Interest in Universal

Language Not Lasting
Johann M. Schleyer invented a universal language in 1870 which he called Volapuk, meaning world-speech. He taught it in Paris in 1880. It created much interest and for a time was in commercial correspondence. Its adoption in diplomacy and science was urged but it failed to last and now is a thing of the past.

Its roots are principally borrowed from the Latin, German and English. The orthography is strictly phonetic. The alphabet had 27 letters, 8 vowels and 19 consonants. Each letter had but one sound. Consonants were sounded as in English except the letters c and j; g was hard and h aspirate. The accent was invariably on the last syllable. There was only one conjugation and no irregular verbs. All the word forms and inflections were regular. The letter w became v, and the letter l was substituted for the letter r. Almost all the words were of one syllable. Nouns had one declension and four cases. Adjectives were formed by adding ik to the substantive, and adverbs by adding the letter o to the adjective. For example the word fam, which in Volapuk was glory; famik, glorious; and famiko, gloriously.

Period of Pueblo Home

Revealed by Tree Rings

An ancient tragedy resulted in the discovery by a Smithsonian institution expedition of what is probably the oldest known inhabited site north of Mexico which can be positively dated, says the Pathfinder Magazine. More than 1,000 years ago an early American's family fled from its burning home and lost everything. The fire which destroyed the home for the family preserved it for posterity. Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, Jr., institution archeologist, found the charred remains of the home while excavating an ancient site on a low mesa overlooking the Puerco river valley in eastern Arizona. The flames caused the roof to cave in, plowing down all the household equipment, including clay pots and corn grinding utensils, just as the family had left them. Some of the timbers, the archeologist reported, were charred but not destroyed and thus preserved from rotting. The ancient tree rings on these timbers are still clear. By checking them with the Douglass tree-ring calendar the building was dated exactly at 700 A. D. This old structure was of the pit house type and dates from the Pueblo I period.

Looks Bad, Smells Bad

An Algerian centipede, recently received at the London zoo, is a horrid-looking creature, nearly 6 inches in length, with a narrow, worm-like body divided into about 10 or 12 rings, or portions, to each of which is attached a pair of legs of bright orange-yellow. It has two small black horns on its head. Not only has the centipede more than 20 legs, each one of which leaves a poisonous trail behind it as it passes over human skin, but it is also armed with fangs just as sharp as those of the scorpion. If it is attacked this hateful creature puts out an evil-smelling fluid as a protection. In the tropics centipedes grow much bigger, and are as dangerous as certain poisonous snakes.

Screach Owl's "Spell"

In neglected orchards, and often close to the cities, you will find the screach owl. It rarely stirs abroad before dark, being a nocturnal bird, whose silent ghostly flight may account somewhat for the superstitions that surround it. In Louisiana, folks call it the shivering owl, and in Mississippi, the superstitions among the darkies turn their pockets inside out to avert its evil spell when they hear its quavering voice. In South Carolina a piece of iron is tossed into the fire to effect the same release from the "spell."

Dormouse a European

Although the white-footed mouse of the United States is sometimes termed the dormouse, the true dormouse are inhabitants only of the Old world. The dormouse is a sort of cross between the real mouse and the squirrel. It seems to have characteristics of both. It usually lives in trees and bushes and feeds freely on berries and nuts. It is thoughtful of the future, like the squirrel, and lays up a good store of food for the winter and then curls up to sleep during the cold months. On warm days during the winter the dormouse wakes up, eats a bit and then goes back to sleep.

"Feuchtwanger's Cents"

The "Feuchtwanger nickel cents" are well known to coin collectors. Doctor Feuchtwanger was a chemist whose specialty was metal experiments. He tried to persuade the government to adopt nickel for coinage purposes, but officials would not listen to him. So in 1837, at his own expense, he put thousands of nickel cents and three-cent pieces into circulation to prove their utility. Twenty years later nickel was adopted for coinage purposes.

John Woldring is spending a week's vacation in the northern part of Michigan.

SENATOR VANDENBERG ADDRESSES LEGIONNAIRES

Approximately 250 delegates were in Holland Friday evening to attend the rally of the 26 American Legion posts of the Fifth district, including Ottawa and Kent counties.

Alfred C. Joldersma of Holland was endorsed by the district for another term as state finance officer of the Legion at the opening session of the rally in the city hall at 6 o'clock.

Following the business session a parade was staged on the main streets of Holland in which the Legion bands of Holland, Zeeland and Casnovia took part.

A dinner was served to the delegates at the Virginia Park community clubhouse by the Legion auxiliary.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in his address to the delegates, described the dangers of dictatorship, and the battle of congress to write into "new deal" legislation definite limits which even the "most hard-boiled top sergeant" could not overstep.

The senator dwelt particularly upon the economy bill, in its relation to veterans' benefits, tracing its course from its inception as the result of the "most terrifying situation" of crumbling credits, closing banks and mounting federal deficits which confronted President Roosevelt at his inauguration.

The senator launched a bitter attack upon the proposal that the president be authorized to declare an embargo upon arms shipments to any nation. This, he said, amounted to nothing short of giving the president the right of effecting a one-man declaration of war.

His new attitude toward cash payment of the bonus, Senator Vandenberg explained, is in no wise due to any lessened objections to the idea of uncontrolled inflation, or printing press money.

"But the situation," the speaker insisted, "is now totally different. Congress has authorized the issuance of greenbacks to the extent of $3,000,000 to pay the maturing obligations of the government only. Even with those limitations I seriously doubt the wisdom of the experiment."

"But that has been done, and cannot be undone. So I say, pay the adjusted compensation certificates at par now, for the following reasons:

"Payment for the retirement of these greenbacks is $40,000,000 a year less than the budget item for retiring compensation certificates, and the government would balance the budget just that much quicker."

"Payment of the bonus would take every veteran off the relief rolls of his community for at least a year."

"Payment of other obligations would constitute a violation of the word of the United States, for every government bond reads 'payable in gold,' and these greenbacks are not backed by gold."

Senator Vandenberg concluded his address with what he termed "a boast" of his authorship of the federal bank deposit insurance plan which becomes effective on January 1.

When dogs cannot or do not pay their poll tax they are shot. What will be done with the thousands who will not pay their $2 tax for poor relief? That will be the situation. Will anybody pay the tax for them or go to jail for them in case the tax is not collectible as it surely will be? Reports from about the state are that it is surprising how many people find themselves eligible to the $30 per month benefit. Chances are that there will be scamps calling and claiming to be collectors of the $2 tax. Don't be fooled by such. The tax collector will be persons you know and will have proofs of their right to call.—Allegan Gazette.

Nels Hemwall of Chicago, who was recently married, brought his bride to visit at the home of his brother, George Hemwall, at Gibson. His many friends in this community were invited to attend a supper Saturday evening given at the pavilion at Rest-U-Well Camp. The tables and dining room were profusely decorated with roses and greenery. Besides the delicious supper the guests enjoyed music and dancing until a late hour. Mr. Hemwall is an old friend to the people of Gibson and everyone joined in wishing him and his bride much happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bertien of Chicago spent the past week visiting friends in Gibson and at Goshorn Lake.

Inspector Walters of the post office department was in Allegan late last week making preparations for building that post office that Allegan does not need. In the present furor for spending money it seems to have been determined to build it anyhow.—Allegan Gazette.

About 11 o'clock Sunday night the sheriff of Allegan county investigated a catastrophe which happened about one-half mile north of Hamilton. A car driven by Harry McGarry, who is said to be employed in Allegan, collided with a car driven by Max Hicks, who is with the Allegan Gas and Oil company. Again both cars were badly damaged and one of two little girls who were in the car with Mr. Hicks suffered lacerations about the face. It is alleged that McGarry's car was over on the left of the highway and had crowded the Hicks car off the road.

The report of the prosecuting attorney of Allegan county to the office of the attorney general for the six months ended June 30, 1933, shows a total of 128 cases prosecuted, of which ninety-nine were convictions, eight acquittals, eight dismissed on payment of costs, twelve dropped on motion of the prosecutor, and one dropped on examination. It is interesting to note that of the total number of cases prosecuted fourteen were for assault and battery, thirty-five for theft in its various criminal forms, and thirteen offenses caused by liquor.

The marriage of Miss Marie Lovelidge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lovelidge of Fennville, to Mr. Eugene R. Wallace of Chicago has been announced by the bride's parents, the ceremony having taken place on Wednesday, July 5th, at Crown Point, Indiana. Mr. Wallace is employed by the General Electric X-Ray company in Chicago. Mrs. Wallace graduated in the class of 1928, Fennville High school, and from the Ravenswood hospital, Chicago, with the nurses' training class of 1933. She is a charming and talented young woman, with a large circle of friends.

Welborne S. Luna, prosecuting attorney, reports that the necessary fifteen farmers have signed the petition for the appointment of a conciliation commissioner for Allegan county in connection with the amendment to the federal bankruptcy act. Upon proper petition under this act farmers may be granted an extension of time in which to pay their obligations. The petition has been sent to Judge Raymond in Grand Rapids and it is expected the appointment will be made reasonably soon.

A good crop of hay in Allegan county has been secured by the farmers particularly alfalfa, but the condition of other grains is not favorable. Wheat is "spotted"—that is, is poor in places. This is attributed to water standing upon it in the spring. Oats and barley suffered also from the excess of rain preventing so early sowing as is necessary to these two crops. Corn, however, is doing exceptionally well. It has plenty of moisture and warmth and is stretching up most vigorously.

Slight damage was done to wild life in the section between Perch lake and Kalamazoo river north-east of Fennville when a heavy fire raged over a square mile of the territory recently. The fire was put out by local people.

Infant baptism was administered at Ebenezer church to the following little ones: Elaine Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lemmen; Marcia Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Slooten; and Carol June, daughter of Mrs. C. Vandenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Sluyter of Fillmore were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Runderman of Drenthe over the week-end.

Authorities were without clues today in a hunt for yeggs who entered the Sheriff Department store, Fennville, early yesterday morning. The intruders made off with money which had been left in a cash register when the store was closed late Saturday night. A quantity of tobacco also was stolen.

The local baseball teams were more successful this week. The Independents were at Wayland and played a 1-to-1 tie game, which was called on account of darkness. It was a well pitched and well played game. Richard Wentzel, local hurler, was in his splendid old-time form. Hamilton's counter came in the fourth inning on a hit by R. Wentzel followed by a double from the bat of Duff Danglemond. Wayland tied the score in the seventh and threatened to add another when a fast double play, Wentzel to Freeman to Callahan, retired the side.

The Merchants defeated the Allegan Cardinals at Allegan by a score of 9 to 6, but were defeated by the Virginia Park aggregation, 10 to 2. The locals led until the last inning, 2 to 0, when the Hubs got to the delivery and obtained 10 runs. These teams are now on even terms. Both have won two games. Undoubtedly the deciding game will be played in the near future. Both teams are made up of youngsters, but are able to play fast and smart baseball.

Genevieve Kooiker of Western State was home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kooiker, during the past week.

Another automobile accident took place in this town last Monday. It was a case of a third car causing two others to collide. The accident took place at the corner of Main and Madison in front of the bank building. According to the witnesses of the accident the collision resulted from an attempt to avoid hitting the car which attempted to turn to the left between the two approaching. Both cars were badly damaged, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. Well, if we would do as some folks these days we might consider this a put-up job was much as it was a local man who caused the mixup and escaped while two outside cars were damaged. Now it is evident that we have a dangerous corner for strangers and it might be well to put some kind of a signal.

Dr. J. L. Wierda of Philadelphia was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Hamelink last week.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Vermeer and daughters, Marguerite and Helen, of Sheldon, Iowa, and Rev. and Mrs. John W. Brink and children, Gertrude and Willard of Boyden, Iowa, visited the Roggen family Tuesday evening.

More than 100 ladies gathered at the First Reformed church last Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Church league. Invitations had been extended to the societies of the Overisel and Second Hamilton churches. Mrs. Veenschoten gave an interesting address and sang two solos in her usual inspiring manner. evening, 4 to 0. Russ Sakkers, Booster southpaw, pitched two-hit ball in besting Larry Hyma in a mound duel. Les Van Dorpel got a pair of singles for the Mossers, and Sakkers held the remaining Mosser players hitless. Neal Uema pounded out a double with two aboard in the fifth, and Garry Batema and De Witt followed with doubles in the sixth for the Booster runs.

The winner in the singles will be awarded a silver trophy, and the doubles champions will receive medals.

Unless beaten in the next five games by second-division teams, the Allen Radios will be the new champion of the city soft ball league.
