Council Business Routine, But It Involves Money

Two BPW Power Plant Requests Approved; Road Improvements OK

Most of the business which confronted Common Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night was of a routine nature, but in the course of an hour-long meeting council gave the go-ahead signal for spending a fairly large amount of money.

It approved two Board of Public Works requests, one of $50,100 for piling for the new addition to the James De Young power plant, and the other of $2,776 for a 200 horsepower motor from Electric Motor Service to be used with the boiler feed pump recently authorized.

Other BPW requests approved included purchase of a coupe from Decker Chevrolet at a net cost of $791.70 and two Ford 1 ton pickup trucks from R. E. Barber at a net cost of $1,800.

Council approved a request from the park and cemetery board for an appropriation of $900 to cover fencing and material in exchange for a four-foot strip of land from Louis Por to enable the board to widen the roadway at the east border of the cemetery.

Clerk Clarence Grevengeod was granted authority to transfer amounts necessary to cover increases in salaries and wages from the contingency item in the general fund to the various funds as follows: street fund, $3,025; police, $1,650; fire, $1,085; park, $1,135; cemetery, $975; welfare, $50; total, $8,030.

With no objections filed, council okayed improvements to Ottawa Ave. from 16th to 24th Sts. on Fairbanks Ave. from 4th to 8th Sts. and on Lincoln Ave. from 16th to 24th Sts. The Ottawa Ave. and Fairbanks Ave. projects call for a two-inch wearing surface of bituminous concrete on the gravelled roadbed already prepared, and the Lincoln Ave. called for laying a seal coat on the gravel road, already prepared.

Council okayed two estimates of $7,936.78 each for sanitary sewers in 20th and 31st Sts. between Maple and River Aves. Aug. 16 was set as date for public hearing. Approval also was given for the Annual Settlement to be published in customary manner at the earliest convenience. This is according to charter.

The street department was granted permission to secure bids for a 5 to 8-ton roller. The department also was given permission to purchase quantities of pipe in assorted size from T. Keppel and Sons.

Council accepted John Reimink's low bid of $728 to redecorate the city hall lobby.

Claims and accounts totaled $27,158.06. Other claims were hospital, $19,468.12; library board, $420.24; park and cemetery, $2,502.56; Board of Public Works, $87,483.83. The city treasurer, BPWC collections of $44,952.38, miscellaneous collections of $20,991.29, and city and school taxes of $127,809.17. The clerk was given authority to issue a warrant for the payment of taxes collected for the board of education in the total amount of $77,778.61.

Council also is considering the city's part in a proposed port of authority for Lake Macatawa, in which the city would share with Holland and Park townships. Ald. Robert Visser, who represents council on the commission, explained that boat owners, water skiers, property owners and others interested had attended a meeting and all were working on suggested rules for governing activity on Lake Macatawa. A harbor master has been suggested, his salary to be paid largely by fines levied against offenders.

Jeep Mystery Solved By Owner

Jack Browne of Milwaukee, Wis., was left holding a tow bill Monday and Holland state park rangers along with Deputy Clayton Forry wrote the end to a perplexing mystery.

The mystery started Sunday night when a jeep entered Holland state park and ran through the sand, up onto some big rocks until its right front wheel rested on the retaining wall, two-feet from the channel.

The driver quickly got out and got into another car that drove away.

Rangers called Forry and after investigation all opinioned that the jeep might have been stolen. Observers at the scene said they had seen a jeep, similar to the one that was left high and dry, on a boat at Saugatuck.

Forry checked with Saugatuck police late Sunday night and Monday received a call from Browne, owner of the yacht "Morning Star."

Browne said he just drove it up to the retaining wall and planned to load it onto his yacht later Sunday night.

Officers told him the jeep was towed into Holland and that he would have to pay the bill before he could get it back.

Recruiting Story Getting Brighter

Two Holland men left last week for Air Force duty in a local reflection of the stepped-up recruiting picture in Western Michigan. James Hillebrands, 155 East Fourth St., and Herman Kaamersaad, 450 West 18th St., left for Detroit July 12 for physical examinations and other processing before induction into the Air Force.

Pending outcome of the Detroit tests, the two recruits were to go to Lackland Air Force base at San Antonio, Tex., for training. Hillebrands was graduated from Holland high school in June, and Kaamersaad is a 1949 graduate.

Both Army and Navy recruiting in West Michigan has stepped up the last week due to the first selective service call, service recruiters said here Friday.

Chief E. D. Bell, of the Muskegon Naval recruiting station, and Sgt. Dick Flint, of the Grand Rapids Army-Air Force recruiting station, each made this statement while on regular weekly calls in Holland.

Sgt. Flint said that 17 men were inducted from Grand Rapids last week, which is a higher number than usual.

Chief Bell estimated that recruiting has increased 300 per cent in the Muskegon office.

Both recruiters report that most of the new servicemen are 1-A in the draft, and sign up for the apparent benefits of volunteering.

Chief Bell is at Holland post office each Monday and Friday. Sgt. Flint makes the Holland run each Friday.

United Press reported today that a Defense department spokesman insists that present programs for increasing the strength of the armed forces include no plans for calling up the National Guard or reserve units.

President Truman told his news conference Thursday that the guard-reserve question is under study but no decision has been reached.

About 49,000 miles of casing are needed yearly for frankfurters produced in the U.S. The first flying machine had no carburetor. Gas was dripped into cylinders.

New Officer Assigned To Naval Reserve Unit

Holland's Navy reserve unit received confirmation this week of the assignment of Lt. JG William Brace, Jr., to its staff as publicity and acting communications officer.

Lt. Brace is the fourth reserve officer from the area assigned to the Holland unit. Other officers are Lt. Cmdr. H. Hopper, executive and training officer, Lt. R. Craig Trueblood, commanding officer and area recruiting and training officer, and Ens. Robert E. Freers, communications officer. Lt. Brace began his duties this week. He will aid the commanding officer in launching a recruiting program designed to strengthen the unit's personnel from 20 to 30 men. Reserve units strive for one officer for each 10 enlisted men, plus one administrative officer, he pointed out.

Because Ens. Freers is not available as communications officer due to civilian night work, Lt. Brace will assume these duties for the present.

Holland's National Guard company was "frozen" Wednesday along with guard units throughout Michigan on orders of Commanding Officer Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland.

The freeze order means that no further resignations from the company will be accepted except in cases of "extreme necessity in view of the international situation."

Co. D of the 126th Infantry regiment has a complement of 111 enlisted men and three officers. Capt. Russell Kemper is commanding officer. That's just one enlisted man short of the company's authorized quota.

There also are three first battalion officers in Holland. They are Maj. Bill Sikkel and Capt. Robert Kow and Burrell De Young.

All equipment is in A-1 condition as the company gets ready for the annual summer encampment at Grayling from Aug. 11 to 26.

Local Boy Drowns In Lake Macatawa Near Waukazoo

Seven-Year-Old Falls Off Dock; Was Only Child

The Holland area has recorded its first drowning of 1950. Victim of the Sunday evening tragedy was seven-year-old Gary Allen Hoving, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Hoving of route 4, Chippewa.

The drowning occurred in front of the Dr. H. P. Harms residence at Waukazoo, where the Hovings were visiting. According to accounts, the boy fell off the Harms dock into seven feet of water at about 8 p.m.

A short while later his parents began looking for him in the vicinity of the Harms home. After many calls, they turned the search toward the water.

The Coast Guard was called and began dragging the vicinity of the dock. Meanwhile, Peter Van Domelen III came to the scene and started diving. He came up with the missing boy after his first dive into seven feet of water near the dock.

That was at 8:55 p.m.

Three Holland police officers and Deputies Clayton Forry and Jim Flint along with the boy's parents and Coast Guardsmen worked on the boy for three hours in an effort to revive him. Police used the resuscitator.

Coast Guardsmen who applied artificial respiration and massaged the young boy were Keller Harmon, John Berkholder and Richard Rossier, all of the local station. Bill Lowry, Jr., also helped.

According to accounts, the boy came into the Harms home for a drink of water shortly before he was missing.

He was born March 11, 1943. He would have entered the fourth grade at Lakewood school next fall.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his maternal grandfather, Henry Van Ark, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoving.

Kletz Fascinates History Students

A traditional Holland coffee kletz, this time featuring vet boilen and Dutch Twin cookies, highlighted the local stop-over Thursday for a group of 25 history students of Central Michigan college who are on a travel-study tour of Michigan directed by Dr. Roland H. Maybee, who taught in Holland high school several years ago.

Arriving by bus a half hour ahead of schedule the students gathered in the GAR room where they were greeted by Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen. They were given brief insights into Holland's early history when Louis Mulder spoke of the early Indian settlements, P. T. Moerdyke on the early Dutch settlements and George Cook on early government.

City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod also welcomed the group and distributed booklets on city government. Willard C. Wichers took charge of local arrangements. Packets containing a welcome miniature pair of wooden shoes of the Chamber of Commerce and other historical materials were distributed through courtesy of the Netherlands Information bureau.

After the kletz, the students toured Netherlands Museum and saw a part of Holland.

Charmed by the traditional Dutch hospitality, the visitors mixed freely with local folk and spent an enjoyable time.

"If this is a true sample of your hospitality, we'll probably all come back here for teaching jobs," one student said.

John Witherspoon was the only clergyman to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Two Local Men Fighting Near Korean Battleline

One Holland man is in the thick of fighting around the South Korean city of Taejon and another is aboard an American light cruiser that has been bombarding North Korean supply lines as part of the allied sea offensive.

Robert F. Smith, 24, son of Fred H. Smith, Sr., of 523 136th Ave. is with the 34th Infantry regiment that was forced out of Taejon early today. The regiment is part of Gen. MacArthur's Eighth Army.

Jerry Telgenhoff, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard H. Telgenhoff of 59 West 19th St., is aboard the light cruiser U. S. S. Juneau which recently figured in the news when it bombarded North Korean supply lines along the coast area of Korea.

Smith last heard from his son on June 10. At that time he was stationed in Kyushu, Japan. The father is trying to locate his son to inform him of the death of Mrs. Smith which occurred last Thursday. Two queries by the International Red Cross have failed to locate Robert so far. The Salvation Army also is trying to locate him.

Smith was in the Navy during World War II and after tours of duty at Great Lakes Training station, Sampson, N. Y., and California, he served overseas a short while before VJ day.

After one year of civilian life, he re-enlisted, this time in the Army. He has been overseas for two years.

Telgenhoff enlisted in the Navy after he was graduated from Holland high school in 1948. He is a radio man aboard the cruiser.

His parents last heard from him on July 5 at which time he was unable to give his whereabouts because of security reasons.

Local Boy Saves Girl Near Pier

Seven-year-old Sharon Huff and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Huff of 41 East 22nd St., are mighty thankful here for the quick thinking of Bob De Neff, 14.

Bob is credited with saving Sharon from drowning Tuesday when she fell from the Macatawa breakwater while fishing with her mother and some friends. Sharon toppled into the water when she shifted position to sit with her feet over the edge, "like the big kids do."

After going down twice, Bob managed to reach her extended hand by lying on his stomach on the pier. "If I couldn't have reached her, I would have jumped in for her," said Bob, who is known to be an excellent swimmer. His uncle, Jay De Neff, helped pull the youngster to the pier. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley De Neff, 371 West 18th St.

The child was unharmed, probably because she remembered to keep her mouth closed and tried to paddle around a bit, even though she can't swim, her mother said.

"Anyway, she didn't want to go home, and within an hour, she was back to fishing."

Among local persons attending were Charles R. Sligh, Harold Cobb Klassen, William H. Vande Water, Orle A. Bishop, W. H. Stolz, Henry Ter Haar, John Van Vleet, Neal Steketee, John Van Hula, Don Jesiek and Don Crawford.

Falling Tree Damages Houses

A falling tree inflicted considerable damage to two houses on West Ninth St. Wednesday during the height of the heavy rainstorm that flooded Holland and vicinity.

The large maple tree fell at 5 p.m. between the houses at 64 and 70 West Ninth St. The butt of the tree crashed into the house owned by Mrs. Pearl Fuller at 64 West Ninth and pushed in a wall about two to three inches.

Plaster littered the floors inside the Fuller house. Damage will run into "several hundred dollars," early reports today said.

The top of the tree came down on the roof of the G. W. Van Zoeren home at 70 West Ninth. Extent of damage to the roof was pending removal of the large tree. Workmen were busy early this afternoon on the job.

It was found today that two other trees in the line of five trees on the Van Zoeren property were hollow in the center and were to be removed along with the fallen tree. The discovery led workers to believe that the fallen tree also might have been hollow.

Through 5 p.m. Wednesday, a total of .97 inches of rain deluged Holland. The torrents poured down during the peak of "home from work" traffic.

The car landed in a swamp off the shoulder of the highway. Hutton was not injured. Sheriff's officers investigated.

Starlings Plague Lawndale Court Section Again

Area Residents Request Common Council's Aid In Eradicating Pests

The starlings are plaguing Holland again.

And residents in the vicinity of Lawndale court, Elmdale court and Central Ave. would like Common Council to do something about it.

And so council considered the problem at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Councilmen agreed that swarms of starlings were quite a nuisance, but were at a loss to decide on an effective way to eradicate them. In past years, policemen have shot the birds and got rid of dozens of the pests, but such practices usually serve only to send the swarms to a different location.

City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod dug up an old letter from an exterminator's firm in Saginaw offering estimates on eradicating such pests.

The petition finally was referred to the civic improvements committee.

In other business, Clerk Grevengeod presented a letter from the bureau of census informing Mayor Harry Harrington that the count as of April 1, 1950, indicates Holland's population to be 15,742. The clerk was authorized to mail cards to all Holland homes to pick up any residents who have not been included in the census.

Council will send a representative of the street department, the city inspector and a council member to attend a demonstration of sanitary land fill method of garbage disposal at Jackson July 28.

The ordinance committee will take under advisement the question of codification of the ordinances which matter had been postponed until such time as a decision had been made on the charter. The budget provides a sufficient amount to care for the codification.

The clerk presented a quit claim deed from Raven, Kramer and Raven, deeding certain land in the vicinity of Harrison and 31st Sts. to the city of Holland for street purposes. The deed, which has been approved by the city attorney and city engineer, was accepted and ordered recorded. The street committee will investigate the matter of graveling the new streets.

Ald. John Van Eerden reported that the Holland Furnace Co. had been consulted on blacktopping its parking lot, and work is scheduled to get under way about Aug. 1.

Council approved Mayor Harrington's appointment of John W. De Vries as a member of the board of examiners (heating). Oaths of office were received from the following: Peter Kromann, board of appeals; Harold Klassen, associate member of library board; Ed Van Spyker and Robert Wilson, board of examiners; Edward Dimmet, sinking fund commission.

Applications to construct sidewalks from Drost and Van Voort, 305 East 11th St., and Five Star Lumber Co., 430 West 21st St., were approved. An application for a license to conduct an ice cream parlor by Max E. Hoke and Herbert A. Tansil, doing business as Spudnut shop, 32 West Eighth St., was approved, pending approval of the city inspector.

Requests for sidewalks on East 14th St. between Lincoln and Fairbanks Aves. were referred to the sidewalk committee. The latter committee reported considerable sidewalk repair work under way.

All council members were present. Mayor Harrington presided and Ald. John Beltman gave the invocation.

Burt De Haan, of 234 West 19th St., in a parked car, was listed as witness. ## Dr. Gouloze Receives Degree in Netherlands

The following account of the presentation of a doctor of theology degree to Dr. William Gouloze of Holland at ceremonies in Free University in Amsterdam was prepared by Peter Veltman of Holland, who has been studying at the University of Amsterdam. Veltman and his family were scheduled to leave the Netherlands last Tuesday.

By Peter Veltman
Amsterdam—Several Americans were present Friday (June 30) when Dr. William Gouloze of Holland received a Doctor of Theology degree here in Amsterdam.

For Dr. Gouloze's friends, the ceremony was one of great interest and one the like of which they as Americans will probably never again witness. For Dr. Gouloze, it was an achievement—following a period of some 12 years of study and waiting, a period of desperate illness and miraculous cure, and a period marred by World War II.

I suppose when I get back home I ought to write a book, "I Was a Paranymp." This would be practical for anyone who goes to Europe must write a book to defray expenses of his stay. The book might also have an appeal because few if any Americans would know what the title means and curiosity might trick them into buying it.

Two paranymps are required for a ceremony of this kind. They assist the candidate from the start of his ordeal of defending his thesis to the finish. Dressed in formal attire, even as the candidate himself, one stands to the candidate's left, the other to his right, both facing the audience. I was one.

Shortly before 11 a.m., we three were called by the pedel (secretary) of the university in a room where the jury of professors met to judge Dr. Gouloze's competency in defending his thesis.

Then the procession, paranymps last, went into a large auditorium in the AMVJ (YMCA) building. Dr. Gouloze was challenged on several of the 17 debatable propositions in his thesis, and it was soon before the pedel announced the defense was completed. After considerable more ceremony, Dr. J. Waterink, under whose direction Dr. Gouloze had worked, addressed Dr. Gouloze and called attention to the close bond between The Netherlands and America. Coffee and cake were served later in another room and it was here that the above picture was taken for The Sentinel.

Dr. Gouloze's thesis, "Pastoral Psychology," is being circulated in Europe and America and is hailed as a needed and novel contribution to the field of psychology applied in pastoral theology in America.

In published form, the thesis is dedicated to Eighth Reformed church of Grand Rapids where Dr. Gouloze was pastor from 1931-39.

Lakeshore Players Preparing New Show

South Haven—The Lakeshore Players are looking forward to their second production two weeks hence, following a successful presentation of their first play, "Kiss and Tell," presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights in South Haven high school.

The next play will be Noel Soward's glib sophisticated comedy, "Hay Fever," which sets the stage for a week-end in the country with the "pottiest people this side of bedlam." The play will be presented July 26, 27 and 28.

Directed by Karl Genus who has been with Kalamazoo Civic theater three years, "Kiss and Tell" was well received by South Havenites and the resorters who dot Lake Michigan shores in that area. Top role of Corliss Archers was taken by Carla Newman, South Haven girl who is a sophomore at Western Michigan college. Strong support was given by her mother, Muriel Genus, wife of the director who has had wide experience in television, radio and movies. Stealing the show at times was 13-year-old Allan Payson in an abominable younger brother role.

Allegan Veteran Housing Project Still Unsettled

Allegan (Special)—The city of Allegan was back where it started on its vets' housing project today, after coming close to a settlement of a perplexing problem.

After owner of land, leased for a temporary housing project in 1946, notified the city they considered they owned the buildings, the city went to court for a decision on ownership. The city was given the 10-unit project by the federal government last January.

This week, when the owners, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connell offered the city a new proposition, the council signed the agreement at a specially-called meeting Wednesday evening.

But the O'Connells returned the paper unsigned after consulting their attorney, City Manager Philip Beauvais explained to the council.

The agreement had called for the city's leasing the property at the rate of $50 per month the first year, which amounts to 20 per cent of its gross income from the units. The lease would be automatically extended from year to year for a payment of 20 per cent of rentals payable monthly.

The city also agreed to extend sewer and water lines to the end of Vernon St. and was allowed six months to move the buildings in the event of termination of the lease.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Brenner of Newaygo were visitors at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Brenner and sons, Leo and Bernard and daughter, Miss Delores Brenner.

Mighty Triple By Schrotenboer Gains Victory

Clyde O'Connor Wins In Hotly Contested, High-Scoring Tussle

A dramatic 10th inning triple by Gene Schrotenboer gave the Holland Flying Dutchmen a hard-fought 9-8 victory over a plucky band of Zeeland Chix at Riverview park Thursday night.

The game was hotly contested with the bitter rivalry demonstrated the fans and players alike. The wintry-like weather kept the crowd down somewhat although it was one of the best throngs of the season thus far.

The two teams fought tooth and nail through the regulation nine frames until the lanky Schrotenboer delivered his anti-climatic blow. Lou Borgman opened the inning with a walk off loser Hardy Ensing. Frank Wlodarczyk fouled to third. But then Schrotenboer picked off a pitch to his liking and lined a drive over the center-fielder's head for the victory.

Big Clyde O'Connor, third Dutchman pitcher, who worked four and one-third innings of fine relief ball, was the deserving winner.

Lou Humbert and Marv Warner were the opening pitchers but neither was around after the sixth inning.

The Chix drew first blood with a pair of runs in their third. Kelly Roelofs worked Humbert for a walk. Jack Sheridan sacrificed and Howie De Young was an easy out at first. Gus Walters also walked. Don Wyngarden then singled to center scoring Roelofs, and when the wild Humbert walked Harry Brenner and hit Sherwin Lousma, Walters also crossed.

An infield hit by Ron Appledorn, a walk to Borgman, Wlodarczyk's getting hit by a pitch and Schrotenboer's walk gave the locals a cheap tally in the third.

The Dutchmen chased Warner with a five-run cannonade in the fifth. Fortney led off with a single to center, Appledorn sacrificed but was safe on Harry Brenner's error at first. Borgman forced him at second.

Borgman stole second and came around on Wlodarczyk's hit to left. Schrotenboer smacked a single to center and George Czernik walked to load the sacks. Whitey Witteveen, with portside Ensing on the mound for the Chix, reached out and punched a single to right scoring Wlodarczyk and Schrotenboer.

Czernik and Witteveen worked a double steal with the former scoring from third.

Jim Hagadone came in to pitch for the Dutchmen in the fourth after Humbert got into trouble on hits by Walters and Wyngarden. A freak double play pulled him out of the potential rally.

The battling Chix came back in their fifth to send the young Hagadone to cover with a six-run outburst. Johnny Raterink led off with a single to center. Ensing struck out.

But Roelofs was safe on a fielders choice. Sheridan clunked a single to left. De Young drew a pass to force Raterink across. Gus Walters was safe when Borgman dropped the ball at second on a force play. Roelofs and Sheridan both crossing. Wyngarden boomed a single to center scoring De Young. Wyngarden tallied on Lousma's single to center.

O'Connor had to be called in and he responded by striking out Raterink to end the rally.

Then the Dutchmen went to work. They garnered two runs to tie in the seventh on a double to left by Czernik, Witteveen's walk, an error and a double steal by Witteveen and Jack Van Dorpe, who had gotten on through the error.

O'Connor had to be called in then on in. Ensing matched the big right hander until the eventual 10th.

The Chix outdid the Dutchmen 11 to 10, with Wyngarden the big gun with four. Lousma was right behind with three.

Fortney, Witteveen and Schrotenboer each had two for the Dutchmen.

The game took a long three-hours and 20 minutes.

Natalie G. Bosman To Teach in Japan

A Holland woman, Miss Natalie G. Bosman, will leave Holland about Aug. 1 for Japan where she has accepted a position with the Department of Civilian Personnel, U.S. Army, to teach in the Army Dependents school, Miss Bosman's tour of duty has been designated for one year in Yokohama.

Miss Bosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bosman, 30 East 13th St., will go to Seattle, Wash., and after a minimum of four days at that port, will embark upon an Army transport for Yokohama. The trans-oceanic trip will last 12 days.

The Army maintains schools for children of its personnel in various sectors of Japan, including Tokyo, Yokohama, Sendai, Kyoto and other major towns. Teachers and principals for the schools are thoroughly screened for aptitude and are brought to Japan from the United States under Civil Service plans. The curriculum is comparable to that taught in accredited schools in the States.

Miss Bosman is a graduate of Holland high school and received her A. B. degree from Hope college in 1946. She was majored in French and English. She has taught in Plainville high school since 1946 and will be on leave of absence from that school while overseas.

The Korean War has not changed Miss Bosman's plans. She has received assurance of her welfare from Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago where she underwent extensive processing for the position.

An ardent color photographer, Miss Bosman expects her year overseas to be valuable as the Army provides a variety of opportunity for both educational and cultural advantages.

Fords in Feature Softball Victory

Barber Fords, behind the smooth four-hit twirling of Harv Vander Veen, shut out the Moose club 7-0 in the feature softball contest at the Fourth St. diamond Thursday evening.

Pitching mattered little in the high-scoring opener, as Maple Avenue church blasted out a 16-15 slugfest win over Wierda Upholstery.

Ford went to work on loser Fred Handweg early, scoring three runs in the first on a like number of hits. As far as Vander Veen's pitching went, the game was over.

But the Barber boys added one in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Chet Johnson enjoyed a perfect day with three hits.

Jason De Vries had two for the losers.

Jason Roels, had the biggest hitting night this year in softball fare with five hits including a bases-loaded home run, but it wasn't good enough as Maple Avenue took advantage of the breaks to score the win.

Cornerstone Opened in Parke, Davis Remodeling

Usually a cornerstone is not disturbed or opened until persons involved in laying it are long since dead, but here's a case in which contents of such a cornerstone are brought to light while many of the principals are still living.

It happened a few days ago while workmen were remodeling a building for Parke, Davis and Co. at the old Armour Leather plant on the north side. A list of names of employees at the tannery 37 years ago was uncovered.

The list, written in ink on company stationery, was put into the cornerstone when a building was erected July 5, 1913. It was brought to the Sentinel by Ald. Bert Hulzena who said it was about the only thing found in the stone. Although water-stained, the paper was in fair condition and the writing legible.

J. J. Good was superintendent of the plant at the time. John Harmsen was clerk, John De Ridder, engineer, and J. M. Mulder, millwright.

Other employees listed are J. Hoogstrat, J. Hyde, T. Minor, C. Kelley, M. Hilart, J. Palco, J. Kolean, J. Schultz, C. Riemersma, P. Hales, P. De Vries, F. Gage, S. Jike, W. McFall, J. Van Slooten, William Costello, William Wilshire, P. Wettonice, J. Stitz, J. Tibbets, J. Christell, N. Hansen, H. Van Norden, H. Plakke, C. Ritsma, J. M. H. Smith, M. Palco, M. Satack, Ed Schultz, G. Hlirate, D. Van Der Vos, J. Kolean, P. Plakke, H. Holleboom, Dick Van Bemmel.

JUST A "CHILDISH PRANK"

A Grand Rapids murderer named Albert Powell, now serving a life
term in Southern Michigan prison, has filed a petition with Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor for a trial on the murder charge to which he originally pleaded guilty. He naturally does not like life in prison, where he has been consigned since 1938, and he would very much like his freedom. In his petition for a trial he asserted that the murder to which he pleaded guilty was "just a childish prank" and that he had "no malice against the deceased."

It would be interesting to know what the family of Marjorie Lind-hout thinks about the case. Lind-hout was a Grand Rapids confectioner who was shot down in the so-called "childish prank."
The fact that there was "no malice"
in the killing did not do him much good; he is just as dead as he would have been if he had been shot down with malice aforethought. His family has been suffering for 12 years because of that "no malice" murder, suffering in all sorts of ways that the childish prankster can probably not even understand. Of course life in prison is not pleasant, but neither is the life of a pauper,
and children whose breadwinner is suddenly taken away from them. They have more right to be considered than the person who engaged in so dangerous a childish prank.

Moreover, such "childish pranks"
are becoming so common that even the least suggestion that American justice condones them is thoroughly dangerous. Young fellows who go about with loaded guns, even though they don't intend to use them and have no malice toward their possible victims, should be made to understand that they will meet with no sympathy from society if their "pranks" are translated into unintended murder. Such people belong behind the bars, and once put there they should remain where they are.

The main defense that the Grand Rapids murderer appears to depend on for regaining his freedom is that he was "sentenced immediately" after he pleaded guilty on April 11, 1938. A curious theory has grown up in Michigan justice since that time that quick sentences have the smelly illegality about them. But why shouldn't a "childish prankster" be sentenced without delay? There is no doubt that he was guilty of the "prank"; he confessed fully. That being the case, what more is there to say? What good would a long drawn out trial do?

Sunday School
Lesson

July 23, 1950
Samuel, The Upright Judge
I Samuel 7:3-6, 15-16; 12:1-5
By Henry Geerlings

Hannah had taken Samuel while a small boy to the tabernacle at Shiloh and left him there under the care of Eli, who was now growing old. The early chapters of the book give the reader the impression that many of the men and women responsible for the care of the tabernacle and its services were corrupt; but Samuel escaped this evil influence, no doubt, because Eli, seeing that his own sons were unfit to serve in this holy place, gave special care to the lad who had been committed to his charge. He grew in spiritual sensitiveness and understanding even as he grew in physical stature.

Whatever Samuel did he had been taught to do as unto the Lord. If he carried the sacred vessels, or filled the lamp with oil, or opened or shut the doors, or helped to keep the temple clean,
he felt he was serving Jehovah.
He was taught that the building in which he served was filled with the divine presence.

It was thus that he ministered unto the Lord. We are given the impression that Eli looked after him and gave him personal attention. The capability and alertness of the growing boy must have gained for him the interest of the aged priest.

God had not been speaking
much to the people in those days,
for the reason that the priests and other reputed religious leaders who should have been in close communion with Him and received messages from him loved the world beyond anything else.
They were not interested in what he had to say. God may speak, but if there is no open and receptive ear there can be no hearing.
Worldliness had replaced religion and the holy thoughts of God were put out of the minds of those who had been specially designated to keep religion pure and to communicate to the people the messages God would reveal.

We do not know Samuel's age
when he began living at the tabernacle. We have no record of what he studied or how well he learned. All we know is that he had certain duties assigned him which were regarded as work for Jehovah. He was under Eli's directions. This aged priest was a noble man, worthy of being the instructor of this promising child.
The fact is cited that Jehovah was not revealing Himself frequently in any open manner at that time.

Israel was in a bad way morally and religiously. The influence of Shiloh as a center of divine worship had been waning. The priest was not esteemed as an authoritative representative of Jehovah. Accordingly, Samuel was not being trained to expect any direct word from Jehovah. Samuel and Eli, it appears, had different sleeping rooms. A lamp was kept burning in the tabernacle throughout the night. It probably went out toward morning. The ark of God was in its place in the tabernacle. In this environment Samuel lived as a child. What disposition he showed; what warnings he needed, what urging he received, we are not told. All we have is a record of his childhood.

While Eli and Samuel slept, Jehovah spoke to Samuel. It was a strange voice the child heard, but he supposed that Eli was asking for something to be done for him.
Obediently Samuel went hurriedly to his old teacher and announced himself. But Eli had not called him. A second time Samuel heard his name called and was sure that Eli had called. As obedient as before he ran to Eli and offered to do whatever Eli might ask.

He was amazed to have Eli declare that he had not spoken. It was not surprising that the boy did not think of Jehovah or suspect that he was being called by Him. He neither knew Jehovah nor was His word yet made known to him.

He was to lead a new movement. The world is always in need of some one who is willing and capable to lead us in an advance.
The world is never so good that it might not be better. Of all the effective reforms, Samuel was to call attention to the fact that religion was primarily an inner culture and not outward forms.
There is always danger that beautiful forms will eventually develop into forms only.

Forms and rites are means to an end. They are stepping stones to fellowship with God and should not take the place of that inner attitude of reverence and worship. Frequently people are opposed to forms because they are not familiar with the symbolical meaning of them. They substitute
the symbol for the reality.
If church members are called upon to use the symbolical forms, great effort should be put forth to show the inner meaning of these forms. Samuel emphasized that religion was a matter of the heart and life and that rites and forms were only aids to religion.
Samuel is looked upon as an inspired prophet and an incorruptible judge. Rarely do we find a person who can satisfy the religious needs of people and at the same time guide their political destinies. When such a leader is found his worth is incalculable.
Such leaders deserve encouragement.

The reforms carried on by Samuel eventually came to fruition after a considerable period of time. At social progress is slow.
Hasty reforms have not been

State Approves
$61,000 Loan for Allegan County

Allegan (Special)—Allegan county got approval on $61,000 of its proposed loan and a hint of "maybe" on the remaining $30,000
it expects to borrow this year.

The municipal finance commission at Lansing Friday informed County Treasurer James Boyce
that it had approved the $91,000 loan, since it is within the legal limits of the county's borrowing ability, but was withholding authority to borrow the last $30,000 for a later review.

The move was interpreted by County Prosecutor Chester Ray as a wait and see attitude on the commission's part until the state commission finishes the equalization, now going on in the county.
The report is due for the October supervisors' meeting when the board must accept it as a new equalization figure to work from.
"Apparently the municipal finance commission is withholding approval on the final $30,000 until the October budget is adopted by the board, and to assess the county's ability to repay the loan as determined from the budget and from the new equalization
by the state tax commission," Ray said.

The board last spring adopted a budget including $75,000 for anticipated repayment of a loan for this year. In June, the treasurer told the board requirements would run $16,000 more to operate the county the remainder of 1950.

New Addition Will Add 200 Persons To Local Payroll

Holland Laborers; Contractor to Use Begin Immediately

The Chris-Craft Corp. has announced plans for an expansion program in excess of $100,000 at its Holland factory that, when completed, will provide employment for an additional 200 persons. Harry Coll, general manager, revealed the plans to Holland Chamber of Commerce President Henry S. Maentz.

The new 88 by 600-foot addition will be attached to the east side of the present factory building at 100 Craft Ave. The addition, plus the present plant, will give the boat building firm an overall floor area in excess of 117,000 square feet.

General contract has been awarded to Owen Ames Kimball Co. of Grand Rapids and work will begin immediately, Coll said. It is scheduled to be completed Nov. 15, 1950.

Local labor will be utilized for construction work. "We have enjoyed our labor associations in Holland and hope that with the addition to our capacity, we will continue to enjoy the same association as in the past," Coll said.

The new construction will be all steel construction with 24-inch steel eyebeams supported by "H" steel columns. Outside construction will be cement block and mortar with all-steel window frames.

The addition will house three new assembly lines and increase local factory output 50 per cent. The present factory includes six assembly lines that turn out 28 to 34 foot Chris-Crafts. The addition will enable the factory to make boats up to 50 feet long.

J. W. Smith is president of the corporation and Harsen Smith is vice president and general manager. Coll is manager of the Holland and Grand Rapids factories and Russell Fredricks is assistant manager of the Holland factory.

The Holland factory was erected in 1939 and the first boat was shipped from the factory early in 1940. Initially the firm employed 108 persons. However, that figure increased with the output until the present figure stands at 400.

During World War II, the Holland factory manufactured 36-foot Navy picket boats and 36-foot boat landing crafts. In 1942, the Holland plant was awarded a Navy "E" burgee for production efficiency. Besides the Holland factory, the Chris-Craft corporation has factories in Grand Rapids, Cadillac, Algonac, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Caruthersville, Mo.

The firm makes outboard motors at its Grand Rapids factory. At the present time, floor space at the Grand Rapids branch is being increased from 30,000 to 60,000 feet.

Mercury Down, But Humidity Up

The temperature was down but humidity was up Monday as local residents went about their work in a clammy 70-degree atmosphere.

And predictions offered little change after an 85-degree high Sunday. They called for thunder-showers late Monday. Warm and humid weather Tuesday.

Rainfall during the week-end measured .85 inch. Rain totaling .18 inch fell Sunday morning and .67 Sunday night.

The high humidity here was part of a blanket of muggy air which enveloped the east after a week-end of floods, tornadoes and hailstorms in the midwest.

Steffens Notches 1st Round Title; Big Game Tonight

Steffens Food Market proved too much for Central Avenue church class C softball champion-ship at the Fourth St. diamond.

But the grip of playing two games in one night plus some superb pitching by J. Kloosterman of Zion Lutheran vanquished Steffens in a regularly scheduled game 2-0.

The new champs played the role of opportunists in the Central game. They tallied one run in the first, on one hit and a pair of errors.

They got three in the second on the safety and two more bobbles. And they capped the scoring with one in the fourth on two bingles and another Central mis-play.

Central could do little with Preston Bos, getting but four hits. Don De Vries pounded a homer for the losers.

In the second contest, the one run scored by Zion in the third was all Kloosterman needed as he struck out nine. He had a no-hitter working in the fifth when Ike Huyser touched him for an infield hit.

Lightning Snaps Phone Toll Cable

A heavy rain which yielded 1.31 inches descended on Holland Monday, accompanied by a brief electrical storm which scored a direct hit on a telephone toll cable east of Holland just before 5 p.m. knocking out all circuits to Grand Rapids.

Telephone employees worked through the night to repair the serious break and by 5 a.m. today enough circuits were back in service for limited business. Several calls were routed around Kalamazoo and Detroit.

Other storm damage put about 150 customers out of service in the local area, according to A. G. Sall, local telephone manager. Most of the service was restored today.

Mending a cable break such as resulted from Monday's storm is a complicated process. It involves matching each of the 204 wires in the cable on one side with the corresponding wires in the other side, and splicing can't make a mistake or somebody will be receiving wrong calls.

Two circuits were damaged in Pine creek and one circuit at 22nd and College. All service was expected to be restored by tonight.

Elsewhere on the weather front, the mercury stood at 71 degrees at 11 a.m. today. Predictions called for fair and pleasant today with a high of 81, and little change Wednesday.

Bases On Balls Beat Dutchmen In Lansing Tilt

The base on balls, which has proved disastrous for many a baseball team, was exactly that for the Holland Flying Dutchmen Saturday as they dropped a 12-6 decision to the Lansing All-Stars at Lansing.

Lefty Van Wieren just couldn't locate the plate in the five innings he worked and the All-Stars rode to victory via the walk method.

The Lansing crew wasted no time counting two runs in the first on a homer by Petroff with a mate aboard.

A double by Ron Fortney and a single by Lou Borgman was good for one run in the first.

Lansing scored two in its second, on one hit and a pair of costly walks.

Hits by Gene Schrotenboer, George Czerkies, Van Wieren and Fortney and a walk to Ron Appleborn gave the Dutchmen a three-run rally in their second and a 4-2 lead.

Two walks were instrumental in tying the score in the second. Frank Wlodarczyk's double and Czerkies' single gave the Dutchmen a short-lived lead in the third.

Three more walks and one single netted Lansing three runs in their fourth, and it was all they needed.

They scored two in the fifth chasing Van Wieren and bringing Wlodarczyk to the scene in a relief role. An error by Czerkies cost the Dutchmen three runs in the eighth.

The Dutchmen pounded out 16 hits to their opponents 10 but couldn't overcome costly bases on balls. Bob Fox, who relieved starter Meyer in the third, was the winning hurler.

Seven men in the Dutchmen lineup got two hits apiece.

Corn Needs More Nitrogen in July

Give your corn a "second helping" of nitrogen if you want good yields, says James Porter, soils specialist at Michigan State college.

For a 60 bushel per acre yield, corn needs 95 pounds of nitrogen per acre, he states.

Good insurance that there will be enough nitrogen for this large requirement is plowing under of manure or a green manure crop. Ten tons of manure contains about 100 pounds of nitrogen. Sweet clover plowed under in May will provide about 90 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Good alfalfa or clover plowed under supplies large amounts of nitrogen.

Where neither manure or legume green manure have been plowed under corn will usually show a lack of nitrogen by the last cultivation. First symptoms appear on the leaves at the base of the corn stalks—sometimes called "firing." The leaves turn yellow, first at the tips, and the yellowing proceeds toward the stalk. The middle vein of the leaf turns yellow most rapidly.

Treatment to make up this shortage is a sidedressing along the row with 200 pounds of sulphate of ammonia or 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

Graafschap

After the supper, each child five years and under received a gift. After the games a short business meeting of the Graafschap Civic club was held. This meeting was followed by a program arranged by Mrs. Jim Genzink, Mrs. Jake Den Bleyker, and Mrs. Charles Remink. A quartet, Clare Elders, Gerald Mannes, Andy Blystra, and Don Blaauw, opened the program with several selections. The little children sang two songs. The program was brought to a close with a movie, shown by Gerald Mannes. Ice cream cones were served. The picnic was sponsored by the Graafschap civic club.

2 Retail Store Fires Call Out City Firemen

Two fires at retail stores were reported Tuesday night, with only minor damage resulting.

A cigaret in an awning at Draper's market on Washington St. called the fire fighters at 10:30 p.m. Damage was one burned awning.

Leaping Fish Assaults Man, But Man Is Winnah!

Here's a fish story to end all fish stories.

Ben Lemmen, who lives on the north shore of Lake Macatawa, was fishing from a boat in front of his home Tuesday evening when a 26-inch pike leaped out of the water right into his face, bruising his lips.

What's more, Lemmen has the 34-pound fish and four witnesses to prove it.

At first, Lemmen didn't know what hit him, but there was the big fish flopping in the bottom of the boat. He had just rowed his boat about 30 feet away from his dock to do a bit of fishing with his wife and their 11-year-old daughter, Doreen. His son, Leonard, and a neighbor, Al Tapley, were fishing nearby.

The sudden assault by the fish caused Lemmen to lose an oar. It was recovered by a neighbor roused by the commotion. After deciding the cut on his lower lip was not serious, Lemmen continued fishing.

Having a pike leap so high was a new experience for seasoned fishermen in that area. Lemmen had moved to his lakefront home at 616 Lawn Ave. only six months ago, and since then has done a lot of fishing with his neighbors. He said the water was particularly quiet at the time, but still can't account for the mighty leap.

As soon as the story of the leaping fish spread throughout the neighborhood, everybody got out fishing tackle and fished from boats and docks.

But nobody had any success. The pike weren't biting—or leaping.

Paging . . . Richest Man in Town; Postmaster Has Letter for You

Paging... the richest man in town.

Postmaster Harry Kramer received a letter addressed to such a person from an 18-year-old Dutch youth Tuesday. The writer, one Rudi van der Pol of Amsterdam, said the receiver would undoubtedly think it impudent of him to write thus, but the reason was so important he likely would be forgiven.

Rudi wrote in part: "Now that it is expected that within a short time the Russians will occupy Western Europe, much people try to leave their country. Most of them are farmers and artisans."

"My father, who is an editor of one of the biggest newspapers of Holland, has tried several times to go with his family to the United States, but up till now he has not had any success."

"As there is no time to be lost I think the only possibility is to ask if you would help us. My family consists of father, mother and two sons including myself and we are all able and willing to work."

"I send you this letter by air mail because no time is to be lost. Thanking you in anticipation and awaiting your reply as soon as possible, I beg to remain, dear sir, yours faithfully, Rudi van der Pol."

Postmaster Kramer was at a loss to know to whom to deliver the letter.

One thing certain, the reporter on whose desk it finally landed doesn't qualify.

Chamber Warns Of Photographers

"Something for nothing generally is worth nothing," opined W. H. Vande Water, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, in warning Holland residents to deal with care with itinerant or unknown commercial photographers.

Vande Water issued his statement after both chamber and police officials received numerous calls concerning soliciting by out-of-town photographers.

There seems to be almost unceasing effort on the part of itinerant photographers to tell the public they can get a photograph or picture frame for nothing, Vande Water said.

"Usually they will not even take your picture until you've agreed to buy additional prints," he added.

The best policy is to deal with a concern you know, Chamber officials stated.

A cargo vessel, in one year, can carry as much wheat across the Atlantic as could be grown on 20,000 acres of land.

Potato Growers, Packers to Study Mutual Problems

Price Support Program, Marketing Agreement to Be Aired at Meeting

Two important matters will face Michigan potato growers and packers when they meet on the Michigan State college campus on Monday, July 24, at 1 p.m. They will hear a discussion of the potato marketing agreement and price support programs and decide whether or not they should form a state association.

The meeting is a result of a recent session called by Dean E. L. Anthony of the school of agriculture at Michigan State college. Potato raising is the only major Michigan agricultural industry for which there is no organization that is representative of the growers and processors.

At the request of a group of growers, Dean Anthony named a committee of seven men who met at Cadillac to discuss the possibilities of such a statewide meeting.

Serving with Baldwin on the committee were: Clarence Perkins, McBride; Theron Munro, Essexville; Floyd Jenkins, Kalkaska; D. J. Wood, Newberry; Fred Dunn, Detroit and Fred P. Hibst, Cadillac.

Kris Bemis of the United Fruit and Vegetable Co., Washington, D. C., will be the main speaker and will discuss the pros and cons of the potato marketing agreement and the price support program. Bemis is a Michigan State college graduate and was formerly in the potato business in the state.

At the meeting a consensus of growers will be taken to determine whether or not the growers or growers and processors desire to organize an association.

The meeting will be held in MSC's Fairchild theatre.

Artificial Breeders Co-op Is Aiding Young Farmers

Encouragement to young farmers building future dairy herds is being given by the Michigan Artificial Breeders' co-operative, according to Franklin Helm, president, and A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State college and secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The new policy calls for one complimentary service on a dairy calf, owned by a bona fide 4-H club member or FFA member. Conditions required are that the animal, if registered, be registered in the name of the boy or girl owner, or if grade that ownership be in the name of the 4-H club or FFA member.

Officials of the farmer-owned organization believe that this service will allow well over 2,000 animals to be bred on a complimentary basis, providing local 4-H club leaders and district 4-H club agents counteract requests.

Care Is Important In Barley Harvest

Barley growers who expect to sell their surplus grain on the open market should exercise care in harvesting and threshing, says F. E. Decker, head of the Michigan State college farm crops department.

Harvesting should be done when the grain is dry and ripe. Skinned and broken kernels lower quality, Decker advises.

Four points should be followed for improved barley quality. 1. When cut with a binder or windrower, straw should be fully yellowed and grain fully mature. 2. When grain is threshed, moisture content should be down to 14 per cent. 3. Adjust machine to prevent cracked or skinned kernels. 4. Avoid mixture with other grains in storing.

Alexander Hamilton was 30 years old and James Madison was 36 when they helped to draft the U.S. Constitution.

Care Avoids Farm Accidents

Careless use of high speed farm equipment, especially at harvest time, is the main cause of farm accidents, according to L. R. Arnold Ottawa county agricultural agent. Harvesting time is the season safety must be practiced.

Putting your harvesting equipment in good condition is the first thing any farmer can do to prevent accidents, the agent points out. Seats, controls, steps, and other features should be in good condition before the harvest rush gets underway.

In connection with Farm Safety Week, which will be July 23 through 29, the National Safety council recommends the following rules be followed:

Always stop all machinery before oiling, adjusting, or unclogging; Avoid wearing sloppy or ragged clothing; always operate tractors at a safe speed and use extra precautions on highways; small children are definitely out of place around harvesting machinery; remember to look both ways as you approach a highway and cross with care, and on a highway obey the signs and rules of the road and don't forget to use headlights and tail lights at night.

Pullorum Disease Program Gaining

The program to eliminate pullorum disease in chickens and turkeys in Michigan is gaining great headway according to H. C. Zindel, Michigan State college poultry extension specialist.

Flock testing under the national programs in Michigan showed but one per cent of nearly three-quarters of a million chickens tested in 1950 as pullorum reactors. In 1947, the figure was 2.9 per cent and in 1948 it was 2.1 per cent.

In turkeys, the per centage of pullorum reactors dropped from 2.8 per cent in 1948 to 1.4 per cent in 1950.

Survivability reports received from co-operating Michigan hatcheries this year show only 2.3 per cent of nearly two million chicks sold had failed to survive the first 14 days after hatching. Pullorum takes its biggest death toll the first few days after chicks are hatched.

Now Is Time to Plan Winter's Cover Crops

Right now is the time to make plans for next winter's cover crops states A. D. Morley, Allegan county agricultural agent. Sweet clover and domestic rye grass seeded in the corn field at the last cultivation will keep the soil from eroding next fall, winter and spring, will provide pasture this fall and next spring and furnish an excellent green manuring crop to plow down next spring. Morley believes that the small amount of work and cost of seed is more than worth the effort. A soil well covered is money in the soil bank.
