Council to Buy 80,000 Bulbs From Dutch Firm

Considers Resolution From Chamber About Speed Limits on US-31

Tulip Time which was at its height two months ago is never very far away from official work of Holland city, and Wednesday night City Council awarded a contract to Doornbosch Bros., Inc. of the Netherlands for it low bid on 80,000 tulip bulbs for planting here next fall.

The low bid was $2,653. Several other bids also were entered by domestic and foreign growers. The Doornbosch bid follows Park St. Dick Smallegange's listed varieties, but several bidders were unable to include 1,000 General Eisenhower bulbs, a newer variety developed recently, and one which bloomed beautifully here last May.

In other business, Council considered a resolution passed by the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce directed to the State Highway department urging that the highway department reconsider the method used in determining safe speed limits, that the department consider conditions in the areas abutting US-31, and that said highway department be urged to set speed limits in said areas as recommended by the city manager in his letter to Ralph Shoemaker, district traffic engineer, dated June 30.

City Manager H. C. McClintock said he had requested a traffic survey of River and Michigan Aves., and wrote to Shoemaker that it was the opinion of City Council and officials that limits as now posted are too high. His letter recommended 25 miles an hour on Michigan Ave. from 19th to 28th Sts., and 30 miles from 28th to 32nd Sts., a reduction of five miles from the present speed limits. His letter also requested a longer speed transition zone south of 32nd St. The resolution was filed.

Council voted 5-2 to approve City Attorney James E. Townsend's recommendation to express confidence in the Michigan Public Service Commission relative to the increase in telephone rates as requested by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Townsend said there likely is justification for some increase in rates, but pointed to the highly complex and complicated field of utilities and said he as a city attorney could not begin to know all the problems involved in a rate study. City Manager McClintock in supporting Townsend's stand said the commission has many experts in the field and expressed confidence that the commission would do a thorough investigation before making any decisions.

A. G. Sall, manager of the local telephone office, explained operations of the Michigan Bell, pointing to the vast increase in service and the company's inability to keep up with the demand, particularly in providing better service for those who want it and are willing to pay for it. He said there are 11,650 customers today compared with 8,500 in 1946, and 1,000 customers would like better service.

Councilman Holwerda agreed the Michigan Bell might be entitled to some increase but questioned how much. Then in a heated statement he said he resented having a utility pressure officials at the grass-roots level and he would protest an increase on general principles. Sall replied he had been invited to appear before Council after Council has tabled the MPSC communication two weeks earlier because of lack of adequate information.

Following the dinner, group singing was directed by Mrs. Hazel Howard, accompanied by Mrs. Norma Greisbach from Muskegon. Members of the Holland Chapter entertained by presenting "An Old Fashioned Album" with 18 members participating. Bugs Blitz Area; Should Go Soon

Been bothered with little black bugs today? Swarms of gnats hit Holland area Wednesday and today, but health authorities said the threat would be of short duration, and probably will be over in a day or so.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have, director of the Ottawa County Department of Health, said the gnats are associated with oak trees. Aside from their bites and general nuisance the gnats do not convey any disease.

Hunter Hering, supervisor of the State Bureau of Marketing and Research, happened to be in Holland today. He said the gnats are technically identified as the oak thrip.

Both men recommended the use of ordinary fly or mosquito repellents as being the most effective in combating the nuisance. Hering said a bug bomb perhaps would do as good a job as anything.

Richard Machiele, Ottawa Agricultural agent, said the small bugs are moving out of grain fields at this time of year and should be gone within a day or so if the warm weather holds.

However, he added that if the weather turns cool, "we can expect to have them around for about 10 days."

Life cycle of the tiny gnats is two weeks and they last longer in cool weather, Machiele said.

He advised housewives to use DDT bombs or any repellent and concentrate on screens and doorways.

The gnats were first noticed in the area a day or so ago, and by this morning telephone calls came with startling regularity to police headquarters along with some to The Sentinel office.

Asked about possibilities of plane spraying, Dr. Ten Have said such a measure would not be effective on the tiny gnats. He said they are not new to Western Michigan, but the onslaught this week was heavier than any other time.

Screens offer no protection for the tiny bugs. About the only thing a person can do is spray the critters and hope they'll all die off soon.

The gnats were particularly thick in some resort areas. One woman was almost hysterical when she called police headquarters. "They're crawling all over my baby and all over the walls, and I don't know what to do," she said.

Local Man Dies Of Injuries From Two-Car Crash

Accident Occurs On Gravel Road East of Grand Rapids

John Schaap, 60, route 5, Holland, one of the original owners of Elm Valley Milk Co., was fatally injured in a two-car crash Saturday afternoon on a narrow gravel road east of Grand Rapids near Ada.

The accident occurred about 1:35 p.m. on Spaulding Ave. about three-quarters of a mile south of M-21. Cars were driven by Schaap's son, Laverne, 26, and by Kirk Mills, 42-year-old Grand Rapids man.

Kent county sheriff's officers said the crash occurred at the crest of a steep hill, the vehicles meeting almost head-on with major damage to left fronts of both cars.

All occupants were taken to Blodgett Hospital where Schaap died of chest injuries at 5:15 p.m. His son was treated for arm and face lacerations and was released the same afternoon.

Mills received face and scalp lacerations, and his wife, Edith, 39, received cuts and lacerations. Both remained in the hospital.

Schaap disposed of his interests in the milk plant some years ago and returned to farming on route 5. A few years ago he became active in landscaping, operating with his two sons, Laverne and Dale. Mr. and Mrs. Schaap marked their 37th wedding anniversary last June 29.

Schaap, a son of the late Otto Schaap and Alice Dalman Schaap, was active in the work of Ebenezer Church.

Surviving are the wife, Hattie; four sons, Otto, Oliver, Laverne and Dale Schaap; two daughters, Mrs. Harvey Vredevel and Mrs. Donald Mulder, all of Holland and vicinity; 11 grandchildren; three brothers, Henry, William and Arthur Schaap, and two sisters, Mrs. John Geerlings and Mrs. Reanus Ryzenga of Holland.

Huge Crowds Visit Holland State Park

An estimated 50,000 persons took advantage of ideal summer temperatures to visit Holland State Park during the last week.

Sunday's crowd numbered 14,000 with 10,000 stopping at the park on Saturday. Park Manager Clare Broad said some tent spaces are now open but with more than 220 trailers waiting in line this morning he predicted all available trailer spaces will be filled by early this evening.

Park authorities began a crackdown during the week-end on drivers who violate speeding and parking restrictions. More than 20 persons were issued tickets on charges ranging from reckless driving to parking on traveled part of the highway.

Officials said a few persons were endangering the lives of thousands of pleasure seeking vacationists and residents by driving recklessly through the crowded park area or otherwise driving without due regard to the pedestrian.

Gables School District Must Repair or Rebuild

GOBLES—New life was injected into a proposal authorizing a $300,000 school building program here this week when Michigan State Police fire bureau officials found 13 deficiencies that must be corrected before the old school can reopen in the fall.

Local voters now have the choice of repairing the old structure, erected in 1908, at a cost of $53,000 or passing a proposal authorizing a $300,000 building program.

Balloting on the bond issue was originally scheduled June 9 but was put off until July 13 to allow more time for backers to present the complete picture to voters.

Grandstanding...

By Woody Guernsey
Detroit last in the semi-finals of the Stanley Cup last spring because the opposing goal was really phenomenal; television won't hurt if you've got a winner, and can't help a loser; good college hockey players never make the big leagues because most of them were sent to school in the first place by managers who felt they wouldn't be pros, and Ted Lindsay is a real gentleman. . . . except when he's on the ice.

These are some of the tidbits gleaned from a long conversation with Jack Adams, manager of the Detroit Redwings, and Ted Lindsay, Redwing captain at a gathering at the VFW post 2144 Thursday night.

The two were on a tour of Michigan during which they hoped to plant what is called "the world's fastest sport" a little more firmly in the public eye. As Adams said, "We don't want the Redwings to be just a Detroit team, we want them to be a Michigan team, and we want you people in the state to come down to some of the games." To this end, Adams revealed that he is trying to persuade the Redwing management to schedule some Sunday afternoon games.

The two showed color-films of the Redwing's loss to Boston in the upset semi-finals of the Stanley Cup, and then staged a question and answer period dealing with hockey facts—from farm systems to rule changes.

Lindsay said goalie Sugar Jim Henry was the main thorn in the Bruin's surprising showing, but that he was injured as the finals began, opening the way for an easy sweep by Montreal.

It was surprising to watch Lindsay as he spoke. He weighs 163, stands about five-nine, and when he's on the ice resembles a fighting cock, with a notorious temper and a reputation for being eager to tear into anything that moves. But off the ice he is quiet-spoken, handsome man with a shy grin who probably wouldn't stand out in a crowd of two.

He just took out his citizenship papers Wednesday, after 10 years of playing hockey on a permanent visa, and he said it felt real good.

Knee-high by the Fourth of July was almost an understatement when describing cornfields this year. Near perfect growing conditions have stimulated the stalks this season and many are well above waist high in Holland and vicinity. From left to right: Robert Piers, Jerry Zoerman and Pamela Zoerman provide a good example as they stand near stalks on the Art Zoerman farm, route 6, Holland.

Prompt Surgery Can Prevent Tree 'Suicide'

Some trees are their own hangman. They strangle themselves with their own roots.

Many street trees as well as fine lawn specimens commit suicide every year. Tree owners often are unaware of the tragedies slowly taking place.

These arboreal deaths can be averted, if surgery is given in time, according to W. Havnes, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Har-kari is noticeably common among Norway maples. But red maples, sugar maples, elms, oaks, horsechestnuts, plane-trees and many others may die by their own hand, or rather, roots, too.

Unfortunately, tree lovers do not spot abnormalities because frequently the girdling, or strangling, roots are out of sight, below the ground surface. The strangling roots wrap themselves around the trunk or other roots and exert gradually increasing pressure as they grow in diameter. The victim finally expires if circulation is greatly impeded or stopped entirely.

There are usually indications of the trouble, although the only proof positive is root examination. Weak tree top growth, poor bark development or pronounced swelling at the trunk base sometimes are clues.

Tree doctors can rectify the condition by cutting off offending roots, if called in time.

The annual Stegeman family reunion was held the Fourth at the Manley Stegeman home. Seventy relatives were present to partake of a potluck dinner.

Misses Joyce Schepers and Mary Ann Stegeman attended a beach party Monday evening at Ottawa Beach for members of the Golden Chain CE Union.

Norman and Junior Avink sang two duets at the Sunday evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vander Wal and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brink and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vander Wal and Carol and Lester Vander Wal were supper guests on the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Buffinga and family at Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Van Harn and Willard Lee spent from last week Wednesday evening to Monday evening at Ottawa Beach in their house trailer. Preston Vrugink spent Sunday and Monday there.

Miss Evelyn Veltema visited Mr. and Mrs. George Zuverink and Jackie Sunday at their home in Zeeland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kort are staying in Bauer this week with their grandsons, James and Loren Brandt, while their parents are away on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wabeke and children of Hudsonville spent Sunday evening with Ma and Mrs. Justin Wabeke and boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nyhuis accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vriesenga of Grand Rapids enjoyed a motor trip during last week to northern Michigan visiting Mackinac Island, the Locks and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bosscher of Grand Rapids spent last Saturday and Sunday with the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Ligteneberg and Jackie.

Mr. and Mrs. John Poskey and Mrs. Allie Nieuwenhouse visited Mr. and Mrs. John Kort Sunday evening following the church service.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Stegeman attended the Bytwork family reunion at the Albert Bytwork home near Hudsonville last Saturday evening.

He is married to an American girl, and has even been tapped for service in Uncle Sam's army but a perforated ear-drum, possibly from the bitter tirades leveled his way by opposing players, made him 4-F.

With Ted's reputation, several of those present found him the natural one to answer one of hockey fandom's biggest questions: Are the fights on the ice real or staged? Ted had a superb answer which he offered slowly, but effectively—

Just because you the public going into the building is paying my salary I won't take a punch in the nose from anybody, just for your $240. . . . you see?"

On the Redwing farm club system, Adams explained they have scouts all through Canada, who turn in the names of likely prospects, who are then brought to Detroit, looked over, and if promising, farmed out. The Wings have six junior teams, ages 16-20, and clubs in Edmonton and St. Louis for boys just about ready for the National League. The farm system has paid off for the Wings too, because in addition to bringing Detroit a flock of titles it has scattered throughout the N. H. L. 96 players who have been developed by Detroit.

But Adams still is not satisfied. His next project is to turn out some American-born skaters, and to this end he has turned Olympia over to the Detroit City Recreation Department for a type of "sandlot" hockey Friday nights and Saturday mornings. "Every kid handles a baseball and a football," Adams complained, "but how many ever handle a puck." The program is making good progress, he says, and in eight years the kids that are 10 now may be taking some of the glory away from the Canadians.

To the non-flying person Frank Young virtually seems to be tempting fate each time he lifts his light plane into the air and zooms at tree-top level spraying trees and crops. Young says it is just like any other job except you're usually only allowed one mistake. His work takes him to virtually every state in the union. He sprays trees in Michigan, sugar cane in Louisiana, rice in California and cotton in Mississippi. During his stay in Michigan, Young sprayed about 1,100 acres of trees to kill European Shootmoths, an insect that hits red and scotch pine, destroying their appearance. Born in Rockford, Young was a pilot with the Ferry Command during World War II flying practically every type of cargo plane ever built. From Michigan he moved south where he is under contract to spray cotton fields. Flying a little above his usual height for crop spraying Young pilots his plane between two trees as he unleashes streams of mosquito killing DDT from two long pipes running the length of the wings.

They Planted Beauty—Garden Can Be Fine Relaxation for Working Person

Though some feel that a garden requires too much time, Miss Dorothy Pieters, a journalist who commutes to Grand Rapids daily, finds relaxation and enjoyment in the evening in maintaining a delightful garden spot back of her home at 44 East 15th St., where she lives with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Pieters. Her garden carries color from the first crocus through snowdrops, chionodoxa, tulips, hyacinth, and narcissi to June's biennials, foxgloves and canterbury bells, roses and lilies. Last week there was a pretty grouping of liliun candidum (Madonna lily) and delphinium bellamora and belladonna. This week exotie Enchantment lily is at its height.

The phlox Miss Lingard, Mary Louise, and Daily Sketch have opened and will give color for a long time; other phlox varieties in this garden are Apple Blossom, Rosy Blue, Starlight, Zeppelin, Salmon Beauty, Bright Eyes and Flash. Gossamer Gypsophila Bristol Fairy and the fairly new G. repens Rosy Veil supply airiness for the Pieters' table arrangements.

Floribunda roses here include Fashion, Vogue, and Roseleaf; among her hybrid tea roses are Helen Traubel, Peace and Miranda. Of interest to beginning gardeners would be Miss Pieters' choice in a decumbent rose, the Mabelle Stearnes, as this rose is not troubled with black spot, mildew, or other rose troubles.

Many well-kept lawns framed in neat shrubbery please the eye on the Waverly Road between Eighth and 16th Sts. Most colorful is the yard of the John Van Kampens, Sr., near 16th, who bordered their new home with the bright floribunda cameo rose, buddleias, barberry and other shrubbery. Blaze climber gayly invites one through a trellised side entrance, while neatly kept borders of annuals, perennials, and hybrid tea roses surround the entire property.

Mrs. Van Kampen delights in her roses, all types of which she keeps blooming through the summer by keeping the old blooms cut off. Rich clay soil, well worked, no doubt contributes too to the fine condition of the bushes and their heavy blooming.

A New Yorker rose tree is her special joy. It is strong, full of new growth, and bursting with buds and large red blossoms. It will bloom until frost when they will protect it through the winter with a thick coat of leaves and straw held around it with wire netting. Mrs. Van Kampen, too, is a busy woman, but finds time for her garden because it makes life much richer for her.

Mrs. Van Kampen's roses are in full bloom, and she is enjoying the sight of them. She says that the roses are very beautiful and that she is very proud of them.

Woman Relieved After Paying 'Mistake' Debt

Gerrit Koop, proprietor of Koop's grocery store in Borculo, was flabbergasted Saturday morning when an unidentified woman walked into the store, emphatically placed a $5 bill on the counter and remarked, "Now I feel better."

In explanation, the woman told Koop that some 20 years ago or more she received in the mail a package of towels which she had not ordered from the store, then owned by the late Henry Koop, the present owner's father.

The woman said she had every good intention of returning the package but somehow never got around to it. In the course of time, the matter slipped her mind. Now—when the towels have probably long since worn out—the woman said her conscience has been bothering her.

She hoped the $5 would square things.

Ticketed For Faulty Brakes After Mishap

Crosswell B. King, 40, of 574 West 20th St., was ticketed by police for having defective brakes on his car and no operator's license after his car left the road and struck a tree stump near 23rd St. and Graafschap Rd., late Saturday afternoon.

According to police, King was driving west on 23rd St., when his car went off the road, struck a tree stump, and ended up some 27 feet from the edge of the road.

King was not injured. Damage to his '41 model car was minor, police said. Ottawa County Deputy Nelson Lucas investigated.

Merchants Blast Flying Dutchmen In 12-3 Conquest

South Haven's Merchants put together five hits to score seven runs in the fourth inning Saturday night and were never headed as the Holland Flying Dutchmen absorbed a 12-3 shellacking at South Haven.

In five of the nine innings, the Merchants didn't get a hit, but they used their 10 satellites very effectively in the other four. Meanwhile the Dutchmen were collecting nine hits, but were finding it difficult to garner more than one per inning.

Only in the first did the Dutchmen get more than one hit. Three consecutive doubles by Terry Burns, Frank Woldarzyk, and Tony Wentzel gave Holland a quick, 2-0 edge in the initial stanza.

Wentzel tripled in the third came in on an infield out, and the Dutchmen had a three-run bulge, but the Merchants got the counter back on a triple and long fly.

The triple was only a storm warning for the horrendous fourth. Eleven Merchants paraded to the plate in that inning and teed off on pitcher Lou Humbert for five hits and seven runs. Two walks along the way were also a contributing factor and South Haven led, 8-3.

Clare Van Liere came on in the fifth for Holland. He got through the fifth and sixth unscathed, but the Merchants used two doubles, a triple and an error to touch him for more runs in the eighth. That gave South Haven its final winning margin.

Tonight the Dutchmen will see more league action when the Grand Rapids Black Sox invade Riverview Park at 8 p.m.

City League Ends In Tie as Bareman Loses to Hulst, 2-1

Fourth-place Hulst Brothers upset Bareman Service, 2-1, Saturday night in the replay of a postponed game to knock Bareman's into a first-place tie with Main Auto for the first-half title.

Idle for 10 days, City League teams will swing back into action as they start the second half at Van Tongeren Field tonight. A playoff will probably be staged between Bareman and Main Auto sometime in the near future to determine the sole first-half champion.

At the same time, Hulst gained a third-place knot with VFW. Both teams show 9-5 slates. Finishing out the standards are North End, Barber, Fords, Moose and North Holland.

Dale Hulst limited Bareman to only three hits, while his teammates were using four hits to produce single runs in the first and sixth. Joe Berens hurled good ball for the losers, but it just wasn't enough.

Hulst's first tally came in the first inning when Kearney Zoerhof singled to left, was sacrificed along by Bernie Greiving, and was driven home on Bud Hulst's single to right.

Bareman came back to tie it up in the third as Berens slammed out a double into right field to score Bob Borgman, who had entered the basespaths on an error, and was sacrificed to second.

Berens might have fared better if it hadn't been for his own wild pitch. Bud Hulst was on third in the sixth when Berens let loose with the errant toss and the run proved to be the winner.

Hulst had slammed out his second hit, got to second on an error, and moved to third on an infield out.

Hulst forced two batters to pop up to the infield with a man on second to sew up the victory in the seventh.

In the other game of the evening, North End clipped Ionia State Hospital, 4-1 as Casey Velderman pitched a five-hitter.

Legion Squad Dumped Again by Grand Rapids

Holland's American Legion baseball squad was beaten for the second straight time Friday night by the Grand Rapids outfit, which took the district crown with a 7-4 victory.

Earlier, Holland had lost, 5-0, and there was never much doubt about Friday's contest either. Holland only scored a single run, that coming in the fourth on errors, until the final seventh stanza when Bob Van Dyke poled a long homer with two on to make the score close.

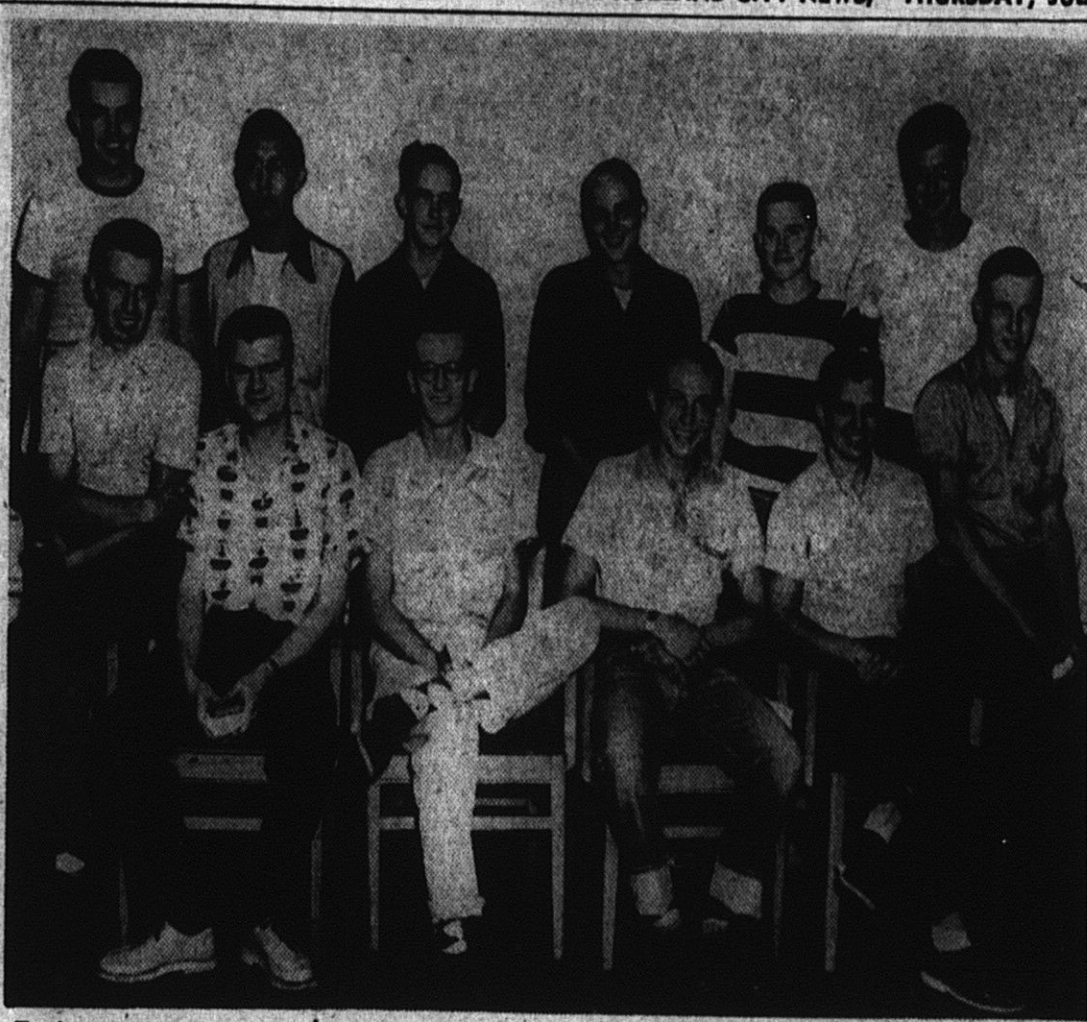

Grand Rapids tallied three times in the first, once in the second, twice in the third, and once again in the fifth.

Well-Liked Allegan City Employee Retires After 28 Years of Work

ALLEGAN (Special)—A lank, friendly fellow whose attitude toward police work was "This is going to hurt me more than it does you of a stern parent, retired from city employe last week.

After 28 years of holding anywhere from one to three city jobs at the same time, Oscar Lemon wound up his labors for Allegan without fuss or fanfare at age of 66.

Down through the years, generations of Alleganites have known him as nice guy, whether he was serving as police chief, street commissioner, dog warden, handy man—or all four at the same time.

Born on a farm in Cheshire, Oscar's farming career was called to a halt by World War I. After the war, farming held no charms for him and he worked for a railroad, a contractor, and an iron foundry before taking over as police chief in 1925.

In those days the job also included street work, for a combined take-home pay of $25. The tools of his two trades were represented by an ancient Fordson grader and a .32 revolver, used mostly for shooting stray dogs.

Those were the days of prohibition and small town bank robberies. He recalls the day a Detroit hoodlum came to town intent on robbing the bank's assets. He and a state trooper scoured the town for the bandit in an Overland touring car. When caught, the bandit was found to have a lengthy police record.

Later, Oscar had the job of night patrolman. Then he was made street commissioner without police chores. In 1945 he began the street department job he held at retirement.

And ever since 1927 he has been an active member of Allegan's volunteer fire department. In addition, he's been active in Scouting and is a charter member of the Allegan American Legion post.

As a policeman, he is remembered for the fairness and impartiality with which he handled his job. As street commissioner, he was credited with being the first city employee to put sand on Allegan's "seven icy hills" which in bad weather were once apt to isolate the town.

In other city jobs, he seemed to typify the old saw that many feel is sort of old fashioned now—"a servant of the people."

Although he's no longer on the city payroll, Lemon is far from retired. On a recent day he mowed four lawns and did a host of other yard work.

In fact it appears that this father to eight children and grandfather to seven more is just about as busy as ever.

Dr. Vanden Berg served as pastor of the Second Reformed Church for 13 years from 1926 to 1939 when he left Zeeland to become pastor of the Reformed church in Pella, Iowa. Dr. Vanden Berg conducted the evening service at the Second Reformed church.

Special music at the Second Reformed Church morning services was provided by the Zeeland, Literary Club Chorus. They sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "We Shall See His Lovely Face." Mrs. Stanley De Pree was accompanist.

B. J. Berghorst sang at the evening service "How Can I Help But Sing."

The Temple hymn sung and radio rally held at Lawrence Park on Sunday evening after the local church services was well attended. The choir of the Fourth Reformed Church, Holland, sang selections and Conrad De Maar of Grand Rapids was song leader. The message was presented by the Rev. Henry Bast, radio minister of Reformed Church.

The annual Peter Huyser family reunion will be held at Kollen Park, Holland, on Saturday, July 18, beginning at 5 p.m. Melvin Huyser is president.

Last Wednesday 75 children of Zeeland area were given a treat by the Zeeland Kiwanis Club in recognition of safety patrol work during the past year. They left Zeeland in three buses at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning for Chicago where Chicago police met them at the city limits and escorted the buses to the White Sox stadium where they witnessed the White Sox-Detroit Tigers game. After the game they were guests of the Kiwanis Club at a dinner in Chicago. Arrangements were made by Chief Police James Flint. About 25 adults accompanied the children on the trip.

Jan Van Peursem furnished special music at the First Reformed Church morning service singing "Remember Now Thy Creator" Adams.

The Golden Chain C. E. Chorus, directed by Mrs. L. Meengs sang at the evening service "King All Glorious," Vail; "Open Our Eyes" McFarlane." This chorus was recently formed to sing at the State C. E. convention. Members of the choir are Thelma Voorhorst and Gerrie Nykerk of Overisel; Eleanor De Klein, Marian Brower, Dale Ver Meer, and Roger Brower of Forest Grove, Joanne Vrugink, Shirley Vrugink, Fred La Huis, and Junior Avink of South Blendon; Dorothy Vereeke, Shirley Vereeke, Delores Hecku, Harriet Vereeke and Harvey Van Farow of Beaverdam; Jerene Timmer of Vriesland; Joe Dalman of Hudsonville; Ed Velning of Holland; Carol Bolman, John Bolman, Betty Zwijghuizen, Eleanor Pul, Shirley Walters, Lois Lamar, Gary Dykstra, Ken Evink, John Zwijghuizen, and Gerald Pyle of Zeeland.

Dickerson-Ossewaarde Ceremony Performed

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Miss Pauline Joyce Ossewaarde and Garth Dickinson Hole were united in marriage last Monday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Hole, 1126 Park St.

The bride is the daughter of Ernest Ossewaarde of Zeeland. The wedding was performed by Dr. Erwin Boldrey, retired Methodist minister, in a single ring ceremony before an improvised altar of lilies and mums backed by palms and flanked by tall tapers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white shantung waltz-length gown, fashioned with tiny black and white checked bow at the neck, and a full shirred skirt. She carried yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

She was attended by Mrs. Marilyn Dickerson, as matron of honor, and Miss Helene Rozema as bridesmaid. The groom was assisted by Jack Dickerson as best man and Gordon Green as usher.

Following the ceremony a supper for 24 members of the immediate family was served at the Hole home, with Dr. Franklin Kieft and Miss Charlotte Ann Kieft assisting with the arrangements.

Miss Ossewaarde attended Holland and Zeeland schools. Her husband, a graduate of Grand Haven High School, is now employed at the Dake Engine Co. The newlyweds are at home at 301 South Fifth St., Grand Haven.

Pratt and Norris Team for Victory In Double Play

Second-seeded Jim Farrell of Kalamazoo smashed a blazing second-set rally by third-seeded Tom Belton of Lansing and squeezed through the third set to win the singles crown in the Southwest Michigan Closed Tennis Tournament at Castle Park Sunday afternoon. Thirty minutes later Farrell teamed with Bud Donnelly of Kalamazoo and they bowed to the first-seeded team of Rex Norris and Eric Pratt in the doubles finals.

The turning-point in Farrell's strong finish came in the sixth game of the third set, with Farrell ahead three games to two, when the loser served three double-faults. But earlier in the set it was apparent which way the decision would fall when Farrell, behind two games to one, broke Belton's service.

In the second set Farrell eased up slightly, while Belton suddenly found the game that had carried him into the finals, including a semi-final win over first seeded Rex Norris. Throughout the match both boys played generally brilliant, but at times erratic, tennis.

Farrell won the match on a mistake while, caught in the back court when Belton trying for a short angle shot, drove the ball into the net from three feet away.

The first game indicated the closeness of the match, with the score five times at deuce, Farrell finally took it, and broke Belton's service in the next game, using placements that fell within inches of the baselines. Farrell won the next three games, again breaking Belton's serve, relying on rifle-shot drives that nipped the lines and failed to rise. But he also mixed in job sequences that drove Belton back, leaving him open for short angle shots off the side of the net.

Belton won his next serve for his only game before Farrell took the last one.

Farrell's greatest asset was his tremendous serve. It frequently missed, but when it was good it was almost a sure point. Several times he ached Belton, or if Belton returned, Farrell was covered on his way to the net where he played a fine game.

Farrell also took into the game a blazing backhand, which he hit with a body-twist that made it impossible to tell where the ball was going.

In the second set Belton took the first three and last three games, twice breaking Farrell's service, while Farrell took the middle game. Farrell lost several vital inches of accuracy on his baseline shots and Belton gained those same vital inches, evening the match at set apiece.

In the last set Belton won the first two games, breaking Farrell's service, before Farrell recovered to take the next five, breaking Belton's serve twice.

For the first half of the set Farrell still was troubled by some loose play, while Belton had better luck putting away the lob that had bothered him before.

But the tide had turned, and although Belton won two more games, Farrell wrapped up the last one on a nice volley for the crown.

In the doubles finals Norris and Eric Pratt, of Lansing, two cagey court veterans, had too much know-how for Donnelly and Farrell, team-mates at Western College in Kalamazoo. Both teams played fine power tennis, but the older pair smashed and thought their way to a 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 win.

The play featured several beautiful volleys, along with Farrell's rifle serve, but experience made the difference.

In gaining the finals Farrell had defeated Dick Prakkens of Lansing, 6-4, 6-2, in a steady game, while Belton rolled past Norris, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, on a shadow dappled court Saturday afternoon. Again it was youth and power against experience, but with both players in their third match of the day, youth counted. Norris, usually invincible in a steady, waiting game, was beaten by Belton using the same strategy.

Earlier, Donnelly had spanked Bud Donnelly 6-3, 8-6, and Tom Leafstrand of Muskegon, the southpaw with the two-handed backhand, 6-2, 8-6. Belton also counted victories over John De Vos in three gruelling set 6-8, 6-1, 8-6.

In the doubles semi-finals, Norris and Pratt defeated Belton and Dave Brogan of Lansing 6-2, 6-3, while Donnelly and Farrell took De Vos and Holland's Dave Moran 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Earlier, Donnelly and Farrell defeated J. G. Fulley and Jim Buck of Muskegon, 6-5, 6-2, Moran and De Vos beat the Holland pair of Pete Paulus and Warren Exo, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1. Norris and Pratt bounced Ken Kimble and Norb Reens of Grand Rapids 6-2, 7-5, Belton and Brogan took Strong and Gasseler, 6-2, 6-2.

Allegan Ends Up Year With Funds in Black

ALLEGAN (Special)—The city of Allegan ended its 1952-53 fiscal year July 1 with all departmental funds "well in the black" according to City Manager P. H. Beauvais.

But Beauvais warned that the $98,975 cash balance wouldn't last long after bond and interest payments start falling due this month.

In the water department, bond and interest payments will siphon off $4,757 of the $5,600 cash balance. Other July 1 balances were: Electric department, $69,450; Sewer department, $2,425 and General Fund, $21,500.

Former Holland Girl Married

Of interest to Holland friends is announcement of the marriage of Miss Genevieve Ooms, formerly of Holland, and Gordon Lee Sneltselaar. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Ooms of Bellflower, Calif., former Holland residents. Mr. Sneltselaar's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Sneltselaar of Des Moines, Iowa.

The ceremony took place June 26 in Community Presbyterian Church of Bellflower, with the Rev. Robert Burns reading the double ring service.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Marilyn Mortensen. The groom, who is serving in the U. S. Marine Corps, was attended by Wayne Deannema of Chicago as best man. Ushers were Stanley Folia of Bellflower and Wayne Kain of Van Nuys.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church social hall after the ceremony.

The newlyweds are living in Bellflower, where the bride is employed at the Bellflower branch of the California bank. The groom, a Marine corporal, is stationed at Camp Pendleton.

The Ooms family moved to California in 1946. Mrs. Ooms, the former Helen Olgers, taught here at Lakeview and East 24th St. schools and now is teaching in Bellflower public schools. Mr. Ooms is in real estate business.

Their daughter was graduated with honors in 1952 from Excelsior High School and received a scholarship to George Peppardine University.

Jim Farrell of Kalamazoo receives the singles trophy of the Southwest Michigan Closed Men's Tournament at Castle Park Sunday from Walter Herschede, member of the Castle Park tennis tournament committee. Farrell defeated Tim Belton of Lansing in the finals, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4.

Dykema Brings Singles Crown Back to Holland

Paul Dykema brought the state under-15 singles crown back to Holland this year, equalling Hank Vlascher's feat of last year, with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 win over Gerald Duble of Hamtramck.

Playing in Kalamazoo's Stowe stadium, Duble's entire strategy was based in trying to draw Dyke to the net with short drop-shots, a Hamtramck specialty, and then pass or lob over him. But Paul countered with backhand slices that were potent enough so that Duble could not handle the ball as he pleased.

Duble drives well from either side, but Dykema is steady enough to win a baseline game, so the Hamtramck star apparently decided to work on his relative slowness. But Dyke ruined that strategy, and his deep shots were on the corners and the lines.

In the junior division, Mark Jaffe of Bay City won the state crown 6-3, 6-3, 7-9, 6-1, defeating Jim Fowler of Kalamazoo. Jaffe had a wide variety of shots, and used them all well in racking up the victory.

Dykema and Lester Overway were beaten in an erratic match, 6-1, 6-3, by Duble and Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck in the under 15 doubles semi-finals. The Holland girls in the tournament failed to reach the final rounds of play, with most of their troubles bearing a Hamtramck label.

Linda Kalkman in the under 15 group managed to beat Judy Filcik of Hamtramck, 6-3, 6-1, but lost to Hamtramck's young star Gwen McEvans, 6-2, 6-2. McEvans then bounced Roxanne Rudolph, 6-4, 6-1. Joyce Walters defeated Carol Robbins of Battle Creek, 6-2, 6-2, but fell to Sue Hodgeman, number one from Kalamazoo, 6-4, 6-2.

In the doubles Alice Brink and Nancy Moran lost to first-seeded Joyce Piniewski and Phyllis Faganck of Hamtramck by a Whitewash 6-0, 6-0. Piniewski and Faganck later beat Jean Martin and Joyce Alverston of Muskegon, 6-0, 6-1 after the Muskegon duo had taken Laurel Paffie and Janet Van Wingen of Grand Rapids, 6-1, 6-0.

Kalkman and Walters lost to Sandra Sabo and Charlot Heuser of Grand Rapids 6-2, 6-0, and Judy Bos and Sally Houtama, after a first-round bye, fell to Piniewski and McEvans, 6-0, 6-0. Mary Bosch and Joan Disbrow were dropped by Judy Falkick and Judy Mascor of Grand Rapids, 6-1, 6-1, and Linda Raven and Suzanne De Pree were beaten by Suzanne Macarthur and Nancy Foote, of Grand Rapids, 6-4, 6-1.

Boat Goes Down In Lake Michigan

One boat was sunk and two others badly damaged in accidents during the week-end.

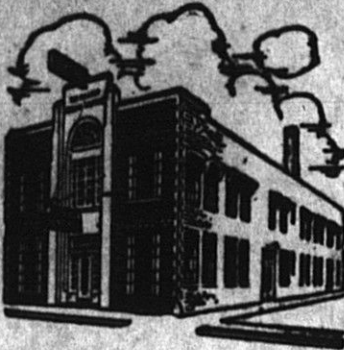

The 22-foot motorboat, "Marilyn," owned by Robert Brogger of Grand Rapids, sank at 11 p.m. Saturday night after striking a floating log. The accident occurred three miles south and one and a half miles off shore from Holland harbor.

Brogger was rescued from the water by a nearby boat, the "Sea Gull." He was not injured.

At 4 a.m. Sunday a 26-foot cruiser operated by James Nies ran into a concrete sea wall near Castle Park punching a large hole in the boat's side.

TOM CLARK'S BOBE

Just because a man puts on the robe of a supreme court justice is no proof that he has become more than a man. Yet that is the theory on which Justice Clark refused the invitation of the judiciary committee of the house to testify in regard to cases that came before him when he was attorney general.

For political reasons the committee has decided not to subpoena Justice Clark, but it would like very much to get information from Clark that only he can furnish, and that the American people, who are represented by the committee, need to find out who is to blame for grave irregularities that have cost the people millions of dollars.

Neither the committee nor anyone else holds that Justice Clark is himself guilty of irregularities.
But both the committee and the American people have a right to expect that Clark will do all in his power to get at the facts. Instead he hides behind a theory that the judiciary should be "independent" and that asking him to testify voluntarily or on subpoena is an invasion of the dignity of the supreme court.

But supreme court justices are only men, like any of the rest of us. They should be protected in their judicial deliberations against public pressures, but nothing of that sort is involved in this case; Justice Clark's acts as a supreme court justice are not in question, only his acts before he became a justice.

If he has nothing to hide, it is hard to see why he should not only be willing to testify but why he should not be anxious to do so.
Not a few good average Americans will remain suspicious, and it would seem that any man placed in such a position would welcome the opportunity to present the facts.

Such things can best be understood on a local basis. If, just as an illustration, Circuit Judge Smith or U. S. Attorney Miles should be asked by a responsible committee to clear up incidents that had happened before they ascended the bench, and should refuse to do so on the plea that the request was an "invasion of judicial independence," many citizens would develop the suspicion that they had something discreditable to hide. And such a suspicion would just not be unfair or unreasonable. The two local men used for illustration would have too much good sense to follow such a course.

A judge or a supreme court justice has a right to be protected against popular prejudices or emotions. But their robes give them no right to be considered sacred personages. They are only men, even the supreme court justices.
Under their robes they wear pants like any American male.

One World in Christ
Ephesians 2:13-22
By Henry Georlings

The idea of one world has been in our thinking very conspicuously in this century of history. The United Nations has become the symbol of the idea. Earlier in the century the League of Nations attempted, although with failure, the task of consolidating an international governing body of the world.
It will be necessary to let history write the accomplishments of the United Nations.

One obvious limitation, however, marks this organization as destined to be somewhat less than the moral force that many expect, which is the fact that its constituent members have not enough spiritual unity to give God and prayer a place in its councils. As long as the head of the moral order is thus disparaged we will do well not to stake too much confidence in it.

Certainly the passage assigned for study refers to a more spiritual body, and to a different basis of unity than is possible by the U.N. charter. It is true that the passage speaks of the breaking down of the wall of enmity between the Jews and the nations, but that accomplishment is described as coming about through common faith in Christ. The church and not a union of nations is described.

The Bible does not permit us to hope for a union of all nations in Christ, as a development of the present historic order. Rather, it will continue, nation will rise against nation, and conflict will grow increasingly godless until Christ returns to earth again. This will be followed by His judgment of the nations and the establishment of His kingdom.

The world into which Christianity first came was like our own. The more we know of the conditions of the first century of the Roman Empire, the more striking grows the parallel between them and those in which we live. The background of the apostolic age, across which the New Testament characters move, almost seem to be the twentieth century. Its broad outlines are familiar enough. Like ours, into which the new faith came, it was crushing people by its complexity. It was a war weary world, baffled in its attempts at reconstruction, dazed by vast and bewildering transitions. Established social conditions were collapsing. The profiteer was entering society. The old regime could no longer be taken for granted. Political groupings were shifting and breaking up. Old ties and loyalties were being snapped, and the individual was left spiritually homeless in a cosmopolitan civilization.
Externally brilliant, it was morally rotten. Wealth and elegance scarcely drew a veil over cruelty and vice.

It is doubtless true that the first generation lived their lives under the urgent sense of an imminent return of Christ, and the sudden, rolling up of the civilization of the world. All serious minded people were awed with a sense of solemnity at the present condition of the world. Events have converged to a common crisis.
Something has happened that has brought all the world to a standstill. There seems to be a consciousness among all sorts of people that we have reached the end of a period, that we stand at the dawn of a new day.

Nobody can gauge exactly the immediate issues of present conditions, but there is a feeling everywhere that a long stretch has been accomplished and that a new epoch is about to begin. Looking at life from whatever standpoint we choose we see that people are conscious of a crisis, a challenge, a future filled with momentous things. It is not simply that a war came and made a change in the world. The war itself was rather a product than the cause of this world consciousness.

The exaltation of Christ is the basis for unity. The same mighty power which God wrought in Christ, when He raised Him from the dead, and set Him at His own right hand in the heavenly places is available to believers today and is ready to achieve the fulfillment of His holy purposes as they relate to life in today's world. This exaltation of Christ was so complete, so triumphant, that all things were put under His feet, so that He was given to be the head over all things to the church. The mutual past experiences of the grace of God in the lives of believers, whether Jew or Gentile, offer added grounds for belief in working out God's purposes.

As a final ground for the unity of all things in Christ, the apostle points out that both the Jew and the Gentile have been unified in Christ. Calling attention to the former estate of the Gentiles, Paul shows that in Christ there is a distinctly new relationship whereby both have access by one spirit into the Father. This new man is a man of peace because the middle wall of partition between the Jew and the Gentile has been broken down by Christ.

This spiritual unification of all men in Christ affords us the only workable basis for brotherhood and peace. It provides men, irrespective of race or station, with a common ground on which to stand in their varied relationships in life.
It endows them with a new affection, with an expulsive power that is great enough to push completely out of the way all divisive elements that might mar the bonds of fellowship and peace.

Shown here is a section of the basement of the Municipal Recreation Building—a basement which will eventually contain game rooms for children and adults. "Construction is proceeding on schedule," superintendent Harvey Zoet said, "so the building should be completed by April, 1954." Zoet added that 18 men and two pumps and one bulldozer are presently at work, with the pumps being used to drain water from the basement floor. Zoet expects structural steel to arrive soon, and then erection of girders will commence.

Wendell Kollen and Roger Gunneman were leaders at the Christian Endeavor meeting in the Reformed Church last week Tuesday evening. They discussed the topic

14-Year-Old Boy Seeks $10,000 for Beating

GRAND HAVEN (Special) —
Suit has been started in Circuit Court by 14-year-old Allan P.
Hill of Holland by his next friend and mother, Dorothy Hill, against Joseph and Clark Field, Macata-wa summer residents, seeking $10,000 damages as the result of an alleged assault which occurred July 1 when Hill was employed by Hotel Macatawa as a parking lot attendant.

The declaration alleges that the Field brothers allegedly beat up Hill at 12:15 a.m., rendering him unconscious. The declaration also alleges that Hill was taken to a hospital for treatment after suffering a brain concussion, permanent impairment to his hearing and severe head and face injuries.

Ottawa Will Get
More Polio Funds

LANSING — Checks totaling $37,150 from the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation's epidemic aid fund were on their way Monday to 11 Michigan county chapters, it was announced by Paul D. Bag-well, East Lansing, state March of Dimes campaign chairman.

The allocations include Allegan $18,575, Bay $3,000, Dickinson $4-300, Gratiot $2,500, Hillsdale $5,000, Isosco $5,900, Kent $22,000, Menominee $5,300, Montcalm $4,575, Ottawa $8,000, and Van Buren $8,000.

Bagwell said that since January 1 foundation chapters in 33 counties have received epidemic aid funds totaling $437,975 from the parent organization. The allocations represent funds over and above the money retained by county chapters to fight polio which was raised in the 1953
March of Dimes campaign.

Bagwell said only two states in the nation, California and Minnesota, have received more than Michigan from the national foundation's epidemic aid fund.
"While Michigan made an outstanding contribution to the fight against polio in the January March of Dimes, it is becoming apparent every cent raised will be badly needed," Bagwell said. Michigan residents contributed $2,084,391 to the fund this year.

The emergency aid funds are used to pay medical and hospital expenses of patients stricken with infantile paralysis.

Fake Advertising Scheme Nipped
In Allegan and Money Returned

ALLEGAN (Special) — A long list of Allegan merchants had an unexpected visitor Tuesday.

It was Police Chief Howard Falk and he kept busy most of the day returning money the merchants had "contributed" for advertising in an unauthorized scheme in which the Allegan Health Center was the unwitting goat.

The money was ordered returned after Municipal Judge Ervin Andrews accepted a guilty plea from George Chapin, 65, route 1, Coloma, for soliciting advertising without a city itinerant peddler's license. Judge Andrews fined him $50 and costs and ordered him to make complete restitution of the $365 he had collected.

Chapin, doing business as the Hospital Equipment Bureau, of St.
Joseph, first approached hospital officials a month ago and obtained an agreement to accept small packets of stationery upon which would be printed small ads. The stationery, he said, would be supplied free to patients.

A few days later, he had established an office in the local hotel and was soliciting and selling ads form $15 to $35 each. He had collected a total of $365 when two hospital board directors—E. W.
DeLano and V. C. Olcott — got wind of the scheme. They objected strongly to the fact that Chapin was intimating his project had the hospital's full endorsement.

Delano signed a complaint and Chapin was arrested by city police just as he was putting his luggage in his car and preparing to leave town.

Grandstanding...

By Woody Guernsey

Now that the Castle Park tennis tourney is over, a bundle of American beauty rackets or some such to the people who were responsible for its success. Dick Steketee and Castle Park Pro Alonzo Stagg, chairman of the tennis committee, did a fine job, and the players were unanimously enthusiastic about the whole set-up.

Kalamazoo's Jim Farrell, singles champ, commented as he was dressing after his last match, "It's a great tournament. And what a spot to hold one." He nodded towards the lake, "Run down and take a dip after a match, and the girls make it kind of hard to concentrate." This last referring to the working girls who spent their off hours gathered along the sidelines. Then he grinned, "It's sort of inspiring, though."

Jim, incidentally, is playing number-one on the Western Michigan College freshman team, with his doubles partner in the tournament, Bud Donnelly, playing behind him. Jim spent two years at Notre Dame, but illness and loss of credits in transfer gives him two more years of eligibility at Western.

He beat Tom Belton, MSC No. 2 man, in a tremendous match Sunday afternoon, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4. Farrell got a big break when Belton double-faulted three times in the sixth game of the third set, but he remembered when he beat Belton the previous week-end in Kalamazoo in the State Men's tourney, 7-4, 10-8, the Lansing boy double-faulted a lot there, too.

It's a little surprising, because Farrell has a serve that practically tears down the net when it misses, and tears holes in the court when it's good. As a matter of fact, his second serve was about equal to Belton's first, and he rarely double-faulted. "That serve comes in handy," he admitted, "Got me some points when I needed 'em."

The service so impressed some of the players along the sidelines—losers in earlier matches—that they commenced a discussion on how many points they might manage on it. "Close your eyes and swing," was one comment. Another boy suggested a waiting game—waiting for Farrell to double-fault.

Jim revealed his strategy in taking Belton was continual shots to his backhand, rushing the net, and putting on the pressure. Belton tried the net too, for a while, but Farrell lobbed him back and put the returns off to the side of the net. Then Belton moved moved back and turned to a deep game.

The only sign of emotion from either boy came on next to set point, when Belton had Farrell flat-footed in back-court, tried to drop a short shot over the net, and missed by inches. He slammed his racket to the clay and walked around it three times.

But to wander back to the opening thought, the players liked the courts, although a few had trouble with a tendency to slide, and decided the facilities were fine. Dick Steketee revealed they hope to turn the tournament shortly into one that will draw from the whole state with an entry of 64, rather than this year's 32. And from their job of putting on this one, they may well do it. They drew a good average, midwestern field, and a lot of the boys will be back.

The only weak angle in the managing of the tournament was in the matter of scheduling the matches and keeping to the schedule. The opening round was set to start at 10 a.m. Friday, and they were put in a hole at the beginning when some of the players failed to show on time. But from then on the timing was still rather loose. Some veterans of the tournament trail suggested the system of awarding a forfeit after 15 minutes past match time, together with scheduling some of the first round matches a little later on opening day. Then the players would be there, whereas this year some of those who came in Thursday night to be safe, couldn't get down to business until three or four hours after their specified time.

But this is one of the things that comes with experience, and one mistake among all the angles that make up a big league tennis tournament is really a fine record. A lot of tennis fans, on the court and off, will be waiting for Castle Park time to roll around next summer.

Swim Program Still Has A Few Vacancies

The Red Cross sponsored Recreation Department swimming program which began at Port Sheldon Monday morning with roughly 350 children taking part still has a few vacancies in some of the classes, according to Recreation Director Joe Moran.

In the first session, July 13 to 31, there is room for a half-dozen in the 4 p.m. advanced class. In the second period, August 3 to 21, the 1 and 4 p.m. beginners' classes have a few vacancies, as does the 3 p.m. swimmers' class.

The junior and senior life-saving classes, meeting at 4 p.m. each have only four or five registrants, with room for about 11 more children per class. All the other classes in both periods are full, with attendance running between 80 and 90 in a class.

Castle Players Star in Comedy

The Castle Park Players opened the season Friday night, with a play-reading of Noel Coward's light comedy, "Present Laughter."

The audience was delighted by the near professional performance of the competent cast. The play, first produced in 1946, revolves about the popular actor, Garry Essendine, his wife, partners and numerous admirers.

Miss Carol Plamondon, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brown, directed the Castle Park production. Miss Plamondon, a television actress, revealed her extensive theater background by her able direction and by her outstanding performance of the amusingly acid secretary.

Gil Carter effectively portrayed the superbly egotistical Garry Essendine. Well known to Castle Park audiences, Mr. Carter made the egocentric, but charming, Garry completely realistic and in several scenes cleverly revealed to the audience the underlying depth and strength of character.

Mrs. Austin Brown as Liz Essendine, Garry's estranged wife, gave a superior performance and made a stunning stage appearance. Lovely Gayle Yanson, house guest of Miss Sue Elliott, brought to the ingenue part a refreshing charm and intensity. An excellent sense of timing gave her performance a professional polish.

Mrs. Robert Carr made an alluring vixen, while Gene Patton and Arnold Moore handled their roles as Garry's partners in an admirably competent manner. Greatly appreciated by the audience was Bill Hamilton's zestful portrayal of an eccentric young playwright. Mrs. Ambrose Holford as the Swedish maid and Phil Harold as the cockney butler added much with their fine comedy sense and excellent dialect mastery. As the gushy Lady Saltburn, Mrs. J. B. Costen gave a memorable performance.

The play moved quickly for a script-in-hand performance; only a few times did the dialogue become rather wordy. No curtains were used, and the minor scene changes were quickly effected by Mrs. Holford in her role as the maid.

The natural beauty of the outdoor amphitheater was enhanced by the simple, but attractive, stage setting created and designed by Gene Patton. Incidental music and props were handled by stage manager Sue Elliott.

Zuidema Quits Grid Post At Kalamazoo Central

KALAMAZOO (Special)—Fred (Dutch) Zuidema, head football coach at Kalamazoo Central High School, has asked to be relieved of his duties on the gridiron.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Loy Norrix made the announcement and added that Zuidema would remain as athletic director. Dr. Norrix said an attempt would be made to find a replacement and make a recommendation at the board of education meeting on July 20.

Zuidema has been a coach of Central high teams since 1926 and a teacher in physical education. He took over as head coach in 1939. Zuidema coached one Southwestern Conference co-champion in the 4-year period, his 1949 team that tied with Muskegon.

Oldsters Testify To Mooi Quality

Do you know where the largest and oldest roofing firm in this section of the country is located? Do you know how long this firm has been serving this community? Your dad will just naturally tell you that the above description exactly fits a progressive firm named the Geo. Mooi Roofing Company, located in Holland at 29 East Sixth St.

Your granddad will verify dad's opinion, for he can remember back to the time almost 50 years ago when specialized roofing had its beginning in Holland with the organization of the Mooi Roofing Co. He could go on to tell you that its small beginning in 1904 was a far cry from today's modern offices and well stocked warehouses. Also the methods and equipment used in early application procedures differed from today's almost as much as their original horse-drawn "roofing wagon" differs from the modern, specially fitted trucks that you see on the streets in this area every day.

But probably what granddad would say instead is "They did a good job on my roof! You can count on Mooi's for a good job!" Your dad will say the same about the one he bought. Why don't you put your confidence in the firm that has been satisfying your family since before you can remember?

The same qualities that made her "the name in roofing" over the years, will put more years into the roof that you select at Geo. Mooi Roofing Co. today. Call 3826 for an appointment.

Progress Parade Opens Thursday

The General Motors Parade of Progress will open in Grand Rapids on Thursday, July 16, Henry Ter Haar, GM Community Relations chairman for this area, announced today.

Local dealers of General Motors cars include the Henry Ter Haar Motor Sales; Ter Haar Auto Co., Vandenberg Buick, Inc., and Robt. DeNooyer Chevrolet, Inc.

The parade is a traveling educational exhibit telling of the vital role of research and engineering in American life, he pointed out. The event which is free to the public will be held at John Ball Park in Grand Rapids from July 16 through July 21 (except Sunday). Exhibits will be open to the public from 2 to 10 p.m.

"Visitors will see some two dozen major exhibits. They also will see a special stage show demonstrating the miracles of science, presented six to eight times a day in the Parade's own 'big top,' the Aerodome," he said. The Aerodome seats about 1,250 people and is built with an aluminum frame and has no poles to block the view of the stage show. The tent's fireproof canvas is suspended from the frame.

Now on a nationwide tour, the parade travels in a caravan of 44 vehicles, including 12 specially-styled Futur liners. The Futur liners are 33 feet long and have 16-foot side panels that open to form stages. Exhibits are animated and cover subjects ranging from refrigeration to jet power.

In the 40-minute stage show, parade lecturers put on a dramatic exhibition of modern science in electronics, chemistry and transportation.

VOLLEYS FROM AMBUSH

Two little girls walked into Holland Hospital the other day and solemnly handed an envelope to the office girl. On the envelope was printed in pencil in painstaking lower elementary fashion, "To the Holland Hospital." And below were the names, Carole Piers and Shirley Den Bleyker.

Inside the envelope was one nickel and six pennies. Envelope and contents were duly turned over to Director Fred Burd who said he'd put it into the gifts and bequests fund. "No sum is too large or too small for our fund," he said.

It's nice to have Junius B. Wood back in Holland for the summer. Junius spends most of the year in Washington, D.C.

But there was a difference this time. Junius has hair on his usually shaved pate.

"There's been a change of administration," he explained.

Did you know that Joe Shashaguy, the good natured building inspector, is a ladies aid charter member? Joe has boasted of that distinction on several occasions.

This is how it happened. Many years ago when Joe's wife's mother lived in that village, there was something of a controversy between two churches. That's probably nothing new in any age, but Joe was instrumental in helping one church get some property and get going.

Out of gratitude, the Ladies Aid society made him a charter member. Or so he says.

Those lilies you see blooming these days are really honest-to-goodness Easter lilies.

It's a little trick of thrifty housewives who plant their Easter lilies in their gardens at the right time, and then the lilies bloom, again and again.

Such lilies are in bloom in the gardens of Mrs. Frank Aman, 23rd and Van Raalte; Mrs. Ed Prins, 96 East 18th St.; Mrs. Leon Nykamp, 289 East 16th St., and many other places.

People are still chuckling over the "dress rehearsal" they saw at the Red Barn Theater in Douglas Thursday night. That was when Director Jim Webster closed the ticket office and invited all visitors to be his guests at the rehearsal because the play wasn't in shape.

The cast was well selected, and it was only lack of practice and failure to know lines that brought all the complications. The director's pertinent comments at the end of each scene were more dramatic than some of the acting.

For free, it was a great show, even though the cast ran through two acts. Had the guests paid, they might have been annoyed.

The play in question was "The Milky Way," a hilarious comedy about a milk man who turns fighter. Conspicuous among the props was an autographed picture of Rocky Marciano, the kind treasured by local youngsters who bought them at his training camp north of Holland last spring.

Wotsis we hear about a local girl who painted the garage bright purple instead of light blue because she's colorblind? Yep, it's really supposed to have happened.

That confab of the World War I band musicians in Holland earlier this week really was something. Seven members of the old 80th Field Artillery band spent three days in Holland for a reunion, spending much of the time at the Harold J. Karsten home. Some of the stories were pretty good.

"That was one time that the men did all the talking," Harold said. "The women just listened."

Remember that nasty truck accident near Canandaigua, N.Y., in which a couple of Hope college students were killed last September? Ethel Smith, one of the passengers who was badly injured, wrote Public Relations Director Clyde Geerlings a short time ago that she has completely recovered and walks without a limp. She will come to Holland in the fall to enter the freshman class. This time she's coming by train.

Daffynitions from the Pontiac Press:

Tavern: A place where you should not stand up while the room is in motion.

Diamond: A baseball ground; hence a fellow must have one if he wants a girl to play ball with him.

Rattle: What some drivers can detect in their car quicker than in their head.

Bathing suit: An article of apparel that doesn't lie—but may exaggerate.

Drowning Victim's Parents Will Sue

ALLEGAN (Special)—Leo W. Hoffman, Allegan attorney said Friday that the parents of a 15-year-old Kalamazoo boy who drowned July 3 as a result of a motor boat collision at Eagle Lake had retained him to file suit for $15,000 damages against John Karol, 36, of route 1, Blomington.

Karol was the operator of a speedboat in which James Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Palmer, of Kalamazoo, was riding with a friend, Daniel Plante, also of Kalamazoo. Palmer was badly injured by the crash and sank immediately to the bottom of the deep lake. Although Coroner William Ten Brink, Hamilton, gave accidental drowning as the cause of death, he also reported that Palmer had suffered a severe blow on the head and had lacerations on his face and neck.

Karol was taken before Justice of the peace Otto Schmitz, Allegan, where he pleaded guilty to careless operation of a motorboat and was fined $25.00 and $9.80 costs.

It was the second boat tragedy Karol had been involved in in less than a year. Last fall, while he and a friend and an Indian guide were hunting in Canada, their boat capsized on a lake and the three struck out for shore. He was the only member of the party to reach the shore. His companions' bodies were not recovered until spring.

Damages Sought For Fallen Tree

ALLEGAN (Special)—City officials have been notified by attorneys for Miss Leta Leicht and Jerry Beatty that they intend to file a claim for damages to the house owned by Miss Leicht and occupied by the Beattys caused by a huge elm tree which fell on the house during the June 27 windstorm.

Attorney Leo W. Hoffman said the claim for damages would be based on the fact that the tree's supporting roots were chopped out to make way for the paving of North St. six years ago.

The tree, located on city property between the street and sidewalk, caused an estimated $4,000 damage when it fell on the house at 168 North St.

It took city street department workers nearly a week to remove the tree from the house. The upper part was taken down, limb by limb and extreme care was necessary to prevent the tree from getting off balance and rolling off the steep roof.

Flying Dutchmen Beat Watervliet In Loose Game

Holland's Flying Dutchmen made each one of their eleven hits count for a run as they trounced Watervliet 11-8, at Riverview Park Thursday night in a game that saw a total of 23 walks issued by both pitchers.

Holland jumped to a quick five-run lead in the first inning and fought off several Watervliet rallies during the rest of the loosely played affair. The Dutchmen used four hits to bag their first cluster, and didn't touch the plate again until the fourth, when they combined one hit with four walks and an error for four runs, driving the losing pitcher, Jack North, to the showers. Three hits in the seventh produced two more runs, and closed the Dutchmen scoring, although they wasted two hits in the eighth.

Watervliet received a free run in the second, before definitely earning three in the fourth on three triples and two singles, with Dutchmen pitcher Roger Eggers lucky to get out of the inning as cheaply as he did. A pair of fifth inning singles netted three runs, and the losers were through, except for a last-gasp triple in the ninth that brought in a run.

Every man in the Dutchmen lineup collected at least one hit except Frank Wlodarczyk, the catcher. Bob Van Dyke led the attack with three hits, and Clare Van Lier and Terry Burns had two each. Morrie Witteveen, Lou Humbert, Stan Wlodarczyk and Eggers contributed one each.

For Watervliet it was Ray Wilson and John Hauff with two each and Rich Morlock, Al Ziebart, Bill Hayes and Jack North with singles.

Eggers walked eleven and fanned the same number, while Watervliet pitchers issued 12 free passes and struck out 11.

Chris-Craft Takes First-Half Crown

Chris-Craft's powerful diamond squad nailed down the first-half championship Thursday night in the Holland Recreation League by rolling over Woodruff Service, 32-2. Matt Numikoski pitched for the boatmen as they racked up their fifth straight victory without a defeat.

National Guard clinched second by virtue of its 10-1 win over Sixth Reformed. Ken Ver Hoeven had a shutout until the seventh when Sixth scored its lone run. Both teams collected only three hits as walks proved to be the winning factor for National Guard.

In the third game, Holland Hitch swamped the Young Calvinists, 19-4. The losers used three hurlers in an effort to jam Hitch's attack while Bruce Ming went all the way for the winners.

Final first-half standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Chris Craft	5	0	1.000
National Guard	4	1	.800
Holland Hitch	3	2	.600
Sixth Reformed	2	3	.400

Holland's football team picked up plenty of yardage Saturday, but they were down under the water as several members of the squad worked to ready an area at Port Sheldon for Red Cross swimming instruction which started Monday. A mechanical water driver was used to fashion holes in the wet lake bottom in order that the poles could be driven in. After that, a small dock was scheduled to be installed. Supervising the work was Holland High Coach Ned Stuits, who will serve as an instructor in the program. In the foreground (left to right) are Chuck Rubbel, Ron Van Dyke, Terry Otting, Stuits, Co-Capt. Blaine Timmer, and Bobbie De Boer. Back of the boat (left to right) are Co-Capt. Holland Gridders Help Prepare Swimming Area

More than 500 Holland-area kids started swimming lessons Monday with an area at Port Sheldon all ready through the efforts of Assistant Football Coach Ned Stuits and several members of his Holland High School grid squad.

The group worked all day Saturday plus a few evenings last week clearing a large section of beach and getting the waterfront set for the first invasion this morning.

The gridders set up a "buddy" board which will contain hooks for tags used for number identification when the Red Cross sponsored program gets into full swing.

Biggest task came Saturday when a water driver had to be used for drilling holes in the lake bottom. Poles were installed for the purpose of holding a small dock.

Four instructors and three aides will give the swimming instruction. Heading the group is Stuits with Johnny Criner, Marion De Vries and Carolyn Alexander. Aides include Chuck Rubbel, Bobbie De Boer and Nancy Barkwell.

The gigantic phase of Holland's growing Recreation program is divided into two parts. Both sections are slated to run for three weeks, with the first part scheduled for completion July 31. The second portion will begin August 3 and run through August 21.

With enrollment for the first part jammed to the faculty's limit, and the second portion filling up rapidly well over a thousand kids will receive swimming instruction.

Morning lessons are given to children from outlying areas including Waukazoo, Beechwood, and Zeeland, while over 300 youngsters from in and around Holland take part in the afternoon sessions.

Despite the overflow of kids, the instructors are happy to see a large enrollment. After all, they're working under the theory that "A kid taught to swim may be a life saved-someday."

Eggers' Pinch-Hit Double Salvages Win for Reimink

Pinch-hitting strategy paid heavy dividends for the Holland Flying Dutchmen Monday night at Riverview Park as Rog Eggers slammed out a two-run double in the bottom of the ninth and scored the winning counter moments later to give Holland a 4-3 decision over the league-leading Grand Rapids Black Sox.

The Dutchmen were down, 3-1, as the ninth opened despite Carl Reimink's superb, five-hit hurling. Bob Van Dyke and Alden Klomparsen collected singles to give Elmer Van Wieren had sent the Sox right fielder all the way back to the fence for a leaping catch on the stanza.

Then Reimink was due at the plate. He was having a bad night with two strikeouts and an infield out in three times at bat. Manager Loran Wenzel called on Eggers and the hard-working hurler responded with his sharp drive to left.

But the game still wasn't won. That was left up to center fielder Terry Burns as he poked out a single into center after Eggers had moved to third on Ron Fortney's infield out.

Reimink, starting his first game for the Dutchmen this season, was extremely steady all evening. Never did the Sox collect more than one safety in an inning and two of their three runs were aided by errors.

Dutchmen batters touched Sox hurler Lou Irwin for 10 hits, but never seemed to get them at the right time. After a three-hit outburst in the second that produced a single counter, Holland was held scoreless until the winning ninth.

Morrie Witteveen doubled in the second and came home on Van Dyke's single into right. Klomparsen followed with another single, but both men were stranded on the sacks as Reimink went down swinging.

The Sox scored first in their half of the second when Miller got to first on an infield error, was sacrificed to second, and scored on veteran Ev Robinson's single.

Another error put Montgomery on first in the sixth. He stole second, and came around on two infield outs to give the Sox a 2-1 lead.

Montgomery scored again in the eighth when he walked and tallied the final Sox run on Miller's sharp drive into right.

Wenzel took over the catching post for Frank Wlodarczyk in the ninth after the latter was tossed out by the umpire in the eighth on a disputed play at second.

Leading the Dutchmen offensive attack were Burns, Witteveen, Van Dyke, and Klomparsen, who all collected two hits apiece.

The loss was the second in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league for the Black Sox and tightened up the race considerably. The Sox still lead the league with 4-2, but things could change a lot by the time first-half action is wound up at the end of this week.

All teams must play eight games to finish the first half. On

He attended public schools in Calumet and was graduated from the school of economics with an A.B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1926. Three years later he received a degree in naval architecture from the school of naval architecture and marine engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

To Wed in Fall

Miss Henrietta Vegter of Zeeland, announces the engagement of her daughter, Henrietta, to Clifford S. Prins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Prins of route 2. They are planning a fall wedding.

that basis, the Dutchmen conceivably could capture a share of the title. Grand Rapids must play the rampaging Grand Haven Athletics tonight plus a make-up with Zeeland's Chix later in the week.

The Dutchmen now stand at 4-3, and all other teams in the league also show three losses. A 5-3 record could very possibly be tops if the Sox get bumped again.

A group of klompen dancers and their chaperones line up before the Holland Furnace Co. land cruiser prior to their departure for Chicago early Thursday morning. The group put on a show before more than 20,000 enthusiastic Lion club members at the Chicago Stadium. On the return trip the bus was gutted by fire just south of Holland, but all the passengers were evacuated without injury. Left to right are Barbara Van Putten, Mary Lou Van Dyke, Mrs. William Appledorn, Mrs. A. E. Hildebrand, Rolfe DeWeerd, Ernest Post, Jean Kromann, Sallie Copeland, Jo Ann Van Naarden, Mary Gronberg, Jill Crawford, Carol Harrington, Ann Appledorn, Cynthia Schasp, Selma Newhouse, and Sonny Bowman. Mary Sanger was not present when the photograph was taken.

Klompers Dancers Safe As Fire Sweeps Bus

A quick thinking bus driver averted what might have been a disaster early last Friday when the Holland Furnace Co. land cruiser caught fire on US-31 near the Starlite theater south of Holland.

The bus was carrying 14 klompen dancers and four adults on the return trip from Chicago where they had performed before the International Lions Club Convention. The mishap occurred at 3 a.m. last Friday. The driver, Johnny Koppelaar, 29, of 88 West 32nd St. said the engine quit just as he rounded a curve. He coasted to a stop on the shoulder of the road. He asked Sallie Hildebrand, sitting up front, to go back to the other passengers and tell them he was stopping because the engine was causing a little trouble, but not mentioning the fire.

Miss Hildebrand advised the others of the trouble as the bus came to a halt. Koppelaar opened the door and asked the passengers to get out and take their packages with them.

The evacuation was smooth and without difficulty. Not until the passengers were out of the bus did they know of the fire.

By this time several trucks had stopped and with Koppelaar attempted to put out the fire which was then confined to the engine. Others had gone to call the fire department.

Through a mix-up in finding a fire department to answer the call there was some delay before the Graafschap department was contacted. They arrived immediately with six men after the call was placed, and put out the fire.

The fire gutted the entire interior of the bus, burning everything to the outside steel shell.

One suitcase was slightly damaged and three Dutch costumes were destroyed in the blaze.

Mrs. A. E. Hildebrand, one of the passengers, said the bus driver was extremely calm and cool in ordering the evacuation without alarming the passengers.

Holland Furnace Co. officials said the bus had received a new coat of paint two days ago and the entire interior had been refinished six months ago. The loss was believed covered by insurance.

While in Chicago the girls had danced at the Chicago Stadium at 8:30 p.m. before more than 20,000 convention visitors. The klompen dancers were interrupted by applause several times and received a loud ovation at the conclusion of their performance.

Former Local Man Given New Post

Martha L. Bekken, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bekken of Holland, has been appointed to a new position.

Bekken, who has been personnel director of the Miller-Davis Co. in Grand Rapids, has been named to fill the newly-created post of administrator for the Construction Industry Fund Administration, Inc. The organization is a joint group of representatives from five building industry groups to administer health and welfare group funds contributed by employers in lower Michigan.

Permanent headquarters will be established in Lansing and Bekken will report there Monday. He plans to move his family there soon. The Bekkens have one son. The new program is believed to be unique in Michigan industry, although similar groups have been formed before in major city areas of the nation. It is composed of both employers and employees of the five building industry groups and has been set up to take care of contributions of employers to health and welfare benefits to construction workers and families. About 10,000 tradesmen will be covered.

Employers already have started contributions to the fund on the basis of five cents per employee per hour worked. Consolidation of groups will give several advantages in cheaper insurance rates, lower administrative costs and coverage of workers changing jobs inside the area covered. Metropolitan Detroit and Flint are expected, but most of the rest of the Lower Peninsula is included.

At the coronation of the late King George he received his medal for her work with the Nigerian schools.

Two Hospitalized After Accident

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Two persons were hospitalized as the result of an accident on US-16 in Crockery township at 10:50 a.m. Monday.

A car driven by Mrs. Egar A. Brightwell, 24, Whitehall, crashed into the rear of a 1951 station wagon driven by George Lambert, 48, route 1, Grand Haven, who had stopped for information.

The impact slipped over the station wagon and it came to rest on its roof. Mrs. Brightwell's 1941 car also was considerably damaged. Both cars went about 60 feet before stopping on the right shoulder of the road.

Lambert was taken to Municipal Hospital for treatment of forehead and leg bruises. Mrs. Brightwell received deep lacerations on the face, neck and head and a bruised left arm. She was taken to the Osteopathic Hospital in Muskegon.

State police are investigating. Mrs. Brightwell, who had left Detroit at 5:30 this morning, told officers she was blinded.

New Uniforms Ordered for HHS

Lokker-Rutgers Co., local representatives of the H. E. Weiman and Sons uniform company of Philadelphia, has been awarded the contract for new band uniforms for Holland High School.

Executive committee and several members of the Holland Band and Orchestra Boosters Club met with Arthur C. Hills, band director, on Monday night to make final decisions on the bids. All bids received which met specifications of 16-ounce material and desired style were within one dollar of each other, the committee said.

The new uniforms will be made of gray all wool whipcord with red trim and white braid. The "versatility coat"—latest thing in uniforms—features a V-shaped button-on piece. The double-breasted coat can be worn with or without the extra piece. The sleeve emblem will be a Dutch windmill and a two-tone arm cord will be used for accent. The cap will be adorned with a six-inch plume.

Delivery of the outfits is scheduled about Sept. 10—a full week before the first high school football game. The Boosters Club said that although all the money is not yet raised, the uniforms had to be ordered now to assure early fall delivery. The club is planning its second project for Friday night to raise funds.

Every senior band member must be at rehearsal Thursday night to be measured for the new outfits. Lokker-Rutgers has handled the last two uniform purchases for Holland High—including the maroon ones purchased 20 years ago and now used by the Junior High band, and the navy blue ones obtained eight years ago for the senior band.

Investigate Break-In At Outdoor Theater

A break-in at the Starlite theater on US-31, south of Holland, sometime Sunday netted thieves a large quantity of cigarettes and chewing gum.

Allegan County Deputy Henry Bowman reported the break-in occurred sometime between 2:30 a.m. Sunday morning and 8 p.m. Sunday evening. The doors to the ticket booth, projection booth and concession stand were smashed.

Bowman said it appears the thieves used a crow bar to gain entrance to each structure. He said they appeared to know exactly what they were looking for and were thorough in their search for saleable items and cash. No money was reported missing, however.

Bowman and South Haven State Police were continuing their investigation today.

Grandstanding...

By Woody Guernsey
A local boy continues to make good in a big way down in Indianapolis. George Zuverink of Holland, mound mainstay for the Indians who currently leads the American Association, stands eighth among the American Association pitchers. As of last Wednesday he carried a nine won, four lost record. The Indians as of today were one and a half games ahead of the pack. George leads AA pitchers with 21 games pitched, has worked 107 innings, and has 50 strikeouts.

Also diamond-wise, Grand Rapids' entry in the American Legion Baseball Tournament, which eliminated its Holland counterpart in the district playoffs last week by 5-0 and 7-4 margins, beat Kalamazoo 6-4 in Battle Creek Tuesday.

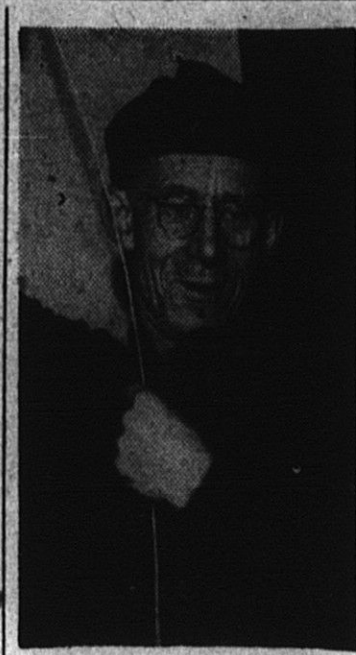

The Maroons are engaged in their 19th straight trip to the zone finals—this year on decisions over Battle Creek and Marshall. Jack Rumor, who tossed a two-hitter at Holland in their first game, had the nod against Kalamazoo. Incidentally, Gordon Carlson, the boy who blasted two home runs off the house opposite the center-field flagpole at Riverview Park and finished up with a triple that frightened the left field grandstand, also in that first game, chipped in with another one Friday night at Grand Rapids.

Speaking of names, there's a little town around here, don't remember exactly which one, that must have some frightened men. Seems they've got a girls' softball league, which in itself isn't so unique, but the names are. These gals are clustered in squads bearing the tender titles of Vampires, Simonettes, Mobsters, Sockettes, and Vips—"Very Important Players"—presumably. Powerful girls, too, apparently, with a total of 71 runs in a recent doubleheader. Seems like a woman's place is more at bat than at home.

Recreation Director Joe Moran estimated recently that there are at least 200 boys under the age of 18 playing some form of organized ball in and around town, plus another 200 over 18 in the various men's leagues. But the thing that has baseball and softball followers puzzled is why this player interest isn't reflected in fan interest. Crowds out to see the Dutchmen, admittedly not league leaders but playing some good baseball, amount to around 300 per game. Attendance for the Chix at Zeeland, who've moved in and around the top of the Southwest Michigan Baseball League, is not too red hot. And there are nights at Van Tongeren field when the players for the twin-bill equal or surpass the fans in the stands.

Holland is a fine sports town, but the situation has got players and officials wondering "How Come?" It's been suggested maybe radio and TV, or the beaches, or movies, or maybe it's just a reproduction of the attendance lag that has hit organized baseball all over, from the major leagues to a little ball club down in the Ozarks that had to forfeit a game because it didn't have enough baseballs on hand to meet the league requirement on the number of balls needed to start a game.

Former Armory Custodian Dies

Henry J. (Peenie) Rowan, 68-year-old former custodian of Holland Armory, died early Monday in his home at 682 Butternut Dr., after a long illness.

He became custodian when Holland Armory was constructed in 1924 and served in that capacity until illness forced his retirement in December, 1949. He was bedridden since April and critically ill the last few weeks.

During his 25 years as Armory caretaker, he perhaps witnessed more basketball games than any other person in Holland. Holland High School started scheduling its games there in 1926 and soon afterwards Holland Christian and Hope College also used the facilities.

He recalled the lowest scoring game he ever saw was one Holland High won from Ottawa Hills many years ago. At that time Milton (Bud) Hinga was the high school coach and the local team won 6-4 in the tightest defensive battle ever witnessed in Holland.

A veteran of World War I, Rowan was active in the work of Co. D. of the National Guard throughout the years. During World War II, he held the rank of major with the local company of the Michigan State Troops.

Surviving are the wife, the former Cora Meyer; a son, William F.; three daughters, Mrs. James C. Klinge of Holland, Mrs. Leland B. Dodge of Bothell, Wash.; and Barbara at home; two grandchildren; a brother, Nicholas, and a sister, Mrs. Hilda De Vries, both of Holland; two half-brothers, John and Gerrit De Witt, and a half-sister, Mrs. Catherine Klomp of Holland.

Flint Youth Fined On Beer-in-Car Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Reginald R. Fortune, 19, Flint, was attempting to raise enough money to pay a $35 fine and $6.95 costs rather than serve 30 days in jail on a charge of having beer in his car.

Thomas E. Bolen, 22, Grand Rapids, charged with failure to have his car under control on July 4 on Harbor Ave., paid $25 fine and $4.80 costs.

The above were arrested by city police and both appeared in Justice T. A. Husted's court here Monday.

Ottawa Woman Fatally Injured In 2-Car Crash

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Kathryn Brandt, 78, of Forest Grove, was fatally injured at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday when a car driven by Henry Meyer, 77, collided with one driven by Lloyd D. Bakker, 20, route 2, Holland.

The crash occurred at the intersection of 28th St. and Port Sheldon Rd., a mile north of Hudsonville.

Miss Brandt died at 8 p.m. in St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids. Meyer, a farm employee of Miss Brandt, was badly injured and was in critical condition today in the hospital. Bakker was less seriously injured, receiving a cut on the right arm and other hurts.

Deputy Al Hilbrand said Meyer, who was driving Miss Brandt's '39 model car, apparently did not stop for the stop street. The car was badly damaged on the right side and the Bakker car in the front. Sheriff's officers were to confer with Prosecutor James Bussard to determine whether any charges would be placed.

Miss Brandt is survived by a brother, Albert Brandt of Zion, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Lutz of Detroit and Mrs. A. B. Pryor of Roger, Ark.

Funeral services were tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday in Forest Grove Church. The body was taken to Baron Funeral Home in Zeeland.
