The preliminary examination before Justice Pagelson at Grand Haven, of Norman Sweeney, the horse thief captured at Muskegon, has been continued to July 30, after the evidence of Lucius Jenison, whose team was stolen June 25, and several neighbors, had been given. William Boyd, a Chicago detective, arrived Tuesday morning, accompanied by Fred Raddatz and John and Henry Coburn, Illinois farmers. The farmers identified the team of horses found in Sweeney's possession in Muskegon, at the time of his arrest, as belonging to them. They were stolen July 3. The Grand Haven Leather Company also has placed an attachment upon the horses to secure the loss of 150 hides which they claim they have proof that Sweeney stole. Their security looks a little shaky now, as the Illinois farmers will probably take their horses home with them.

As the time for the annual fair draws near, people should begin preparations to make an exhibit. Evans on Ninth street, under the supervision of Dr. O. E. Yates, the company's surgeon of this point.

The lay-out at Waverley gives every indication that the arrangements for the handling of trains, passenger and freight, will be on a very extensive scale. The inconvenient feature of the present time-card, necessitating a change of cars at Waverley by passengers from Holland, is said to be only temporary, and will be remedied as soon as the heavy demand for passenger coaches at this season of the year is over, when a through coach will be started from the depot in this city.

Last week Messrs. Griffin, Henry, Nies and Cummings, of Saugatuck, concluded negotiations for the purchase of the propeller Saugatuck from Messrs. This boat was built with a special view to the fruit trade and was always very popular with the Saugatuck people.

Star of Bethlehem Chapter No. 40, O. E. S. of this city held a special meeting Thursday evening, to listen to an address by Mr. R. C. Hathaway on the work and scope of the Order. The lecture was highly instructive and was well received, and at its close those present further enjoyed the evening by a bountiful spread.

The Propeller Wisconsin, of the Milwaukee-Grand Haven line, left Grand Haven, Tuesday night, with a full crew and about 80 passengers. As she neared Milwaukee harbor a dense fog overhung the lake, and she went on the rocks at South Point, four miles south of Milwaukee, at the extreme end of the Bay. Luckily there was very little sea, and a small boat was sent ashore. The passengers were kept quiet by the captain and crew, assisted by some of the cooler passengers. The breeze freshening a trifle it was decided to take the passengers off the disabled steamer, and transfer them to a tug. This was done without accident by the life saving crew and at noon they were landed at the company's docks in Milwaukee. Many of the ladies were sick and not a few badly frightened, but none were injured in the least. It was at first thought that the steamer could not be released until she was unloaded. The revenue cutter Andy Johnson came to the rescue, however, and with the aid of five tugs the disabled steamer was pulled off shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and towed inside. The hull of the Wisconsin is of iron, and there is no telling how badly the bottom is injured. Vesselmen think the loss will be serious. Among the passengers on board the steamer was Chas. Mulder, of this city.

GREAT IS IRRIGATION.

DOING WONDERS FOR IDAHO'S CROPS.

A Wyoming Officer Loses a Big Reward and His Life—To Prevent Connection of the Government with Pinkertons—Noted Hotel Burned.

AT WASHINGTON.

On the 19th the House took up the World's Fair bill. It was referred to the Senate committee on the appropriation for the government exhibits $500,000 instead of $316,500. The House also disagreed to all the amendments to the paragraph relating to the appropriation for the World's Columbian Commission. It also disagreed to Mr. Atkinson's amendment prohibiting the sale of liquor by a vote of 41 to 189. The appropriation of $48,000 for bronze medals and diplomas was agreed to in committee of the whole. The House disagreed to the Senate amendment making an appropriation of $5,000,000 to the World's Fair by a vote of 78 yeas and 132 nays. On a viva voce vote the proposition to close the Fair on Sunday was carried—78 to 74.

A YEAR OF GREAT CROPS.

Irrigation Is Doing Wonders in the State of Idaho.

Never since the settlement of Idaho have there been such enormous crops as during the present season. The product of grass and grain has been wonderful. This is the result of a change in the climate, produced by the multiplication of irrigating canals, which moisten a great extent of country and create a humid atmosphere. It is believed by men of experience, who have lived on the arid belt for the last forty years, that the time is not far distant when lands lying far above where water can be directed will become arable. Formerly there were no rains in June. Last year there were two after the Fourth of July, and the rainy season this year has been unusually prolonged. Colorado had the same experience. If the grass crop has been large there is use for it, for the last two winters have been favorable for stock raising, and the number on hand is estimated at nearly double that of two years ago.

CATTLE THIEVES KILL AN OFFICER.

They Are Caught in Charge of Eighty Head of Stolen Stock.

Three officers of Fremont County, Wyoming, went into Jackson hole and found eighty head of stolen cattle in a corral, with brands freshly changed. Two men were in charge of the place. They readily surrendered to the visitors. One of the thieves was allowed to go into a room to get some clothing. He reappeared in an instant with a six-shooter and sent a bullet into the heart of one of the officers. This disconcerted the latter's companions, and in the melee both the outlaws escaped. The cattle belonged to the Booth & Carver Bear River ranch and there was a reward of $2,000 for the recovery of the property and the apprehension of the thieves.

DALTON'S CAMP DISCOVERED.

Train Robbers in the Mountains Near Adair—No Steps Taken to Capture Them.

The Dalton gang of outlaws who committed the train robbery near Adair, I. T., are still in the vicinity. Their camp, located about ten miles from town in the mountains near Grand River, was accidentally discovered by a resident of town while searching for stray horses. He was held up by his sentry, but when he explained his mission he was allowed to depart unmolested. It is supposed that the Daltons are delayed on account of some of their men being wounded, as they have made several trips into town for medicine. No effort is being made by the local authorities to effect their capture.

PANIC IN A LONG BRANCH HOTEL.

Terror-Stricken Guests Driven Out in Their Night Clothes.

The Atlantic Hotel, at Long Branch, N. J., was almost totally destroyed by fire. The guests, 303 in all, made their escape in their night clothes. A few of them were more or less hurt in the panic that ensued. Several who leaped from the windows and porches of the hotel were badly shaken up, and one, Mrs. Henry Englemann, of New York City, had her arm broken. Many of the others received scalp wounds. The origin of the fire is unknown. The Atlantic is one of the oldest hotels at Long Branch.

Lightning's Fatal Work.

The colored school in Brickhead village, Georgia, was stricken by lightning. The school was filled with pupils, fifty in number, and two teachers. The whole number sat paralyzed and unable to save themselves from danger. People rushed to the burning schoolhouse and began to drag out the pupils, the great majority of whom had been rendered unconscious by the stroke. One of the teachers, Miss Butler, will die. Sydney Stanfield and George Turner were killed outright. Two other pupils cannot live.

Pattison on the Scene.

Governor Pattison arrived at Homestead in a ditching rain. He got off at the station near the carriage works, instead of coming to the main station in the center of the town, and took the shortest cut to General Snowden's headquarters under an escort of cavalry. His coming was the signal for a salute of guns and he was loudly cheered on his way to the camp.

No Pinks for Uncle Sam.

In the House, Mr. O'Neill, of Missouri, offered an amendment making it unlawful for any government officer to contract with any person or corporation who employ Pinkertons or similar detectives; also prohibiting the employment of such guards by the government in the District of Columbia. This was agreed to by a vote of 116 to 22.

Thomas Cook Dead.

Thomas Cook, the head of the well-known firm of London excursion managers, is dead.

Corn and Cotton Under Water.

Terry, Miss, special: The crop prospects in this vicinity are growing worse every day. The constant rain has swollen small streams to such an extent that there are very few places that have not been inundated. The cotton cannot be seen at all, and most of the corn is over half way under water on plantations.

Explosion of a Threshing-machine Engine.

A threshing-machine engine exploded in the grain field of Thomas Gomer, near Sacramento, Cal., killing Joseph Sanders and John Merriam and terribly injuring three other men.

BIG GOLD FIND IN COLORADO.

There Are Millions in the Gulches of Park County.

Recent gold discoveries in Park County, the oldest mining county in Colorado, are destined to surpass all previous finds. The source of the placer gold produced in Tarryall Gulch, the leading gold-producing district of Park County, which has since 1865, when it was first discovered, been a mystery, has been located in the gulches of the Silverheal Mountains at the head of the gulch. A new camp of over 1,000 people has been established there within the past thirty days. The surrounding hills are black with prospectors. All the iron-stained porphyry found in these mountains is rich in gold, while the gravel is also rich. "There is $25,000,000 in coarse gold in the gulches around Tarryall," said W. F. Kendrick, one of Colorado's most prominent mining men, who has just returned to Denver from the new discoveries. "The gravel is twenty feet in depth, and is worth from 25 to 70 cents in gold per cubic yard. Beaver Creek Gulch, in this territory, is now turning out not less than $1,000 per day in gold." Many Denverites are daily leaving for the new discoveries in Park County.

EVADE THE RESTRICTION LAW.

Fraudulent Certificates Furnished to Chinamen at San Francisco.

The San Francisco Examiner charges that certificates of identification of Chinese who may wish to land in this country are being disposed of there in violation of the Chinese Restriction law. The Examiner states that it has in its possession a certificate purchased from Hy Chang, a Chinese lawyer of that city, who has been a student at both Yale and Columbia Colleges, and who agreed for the sum of $100 on the delivery of the certificate and $140 on the safe entry into this country of the Chinaman holding the certificate to procure complete identification under the terms of the law of any Chinese who might desire to land. In this case a mythical person was chosen by the examiner, which bears the seal of the Chinese Consulate, at Owyang Com Tong, an opium merchant, who was on his way to China, but who intended returning to the United States. Chang, in his negotiations with the newspaper representative, who concealed his identity, intimated that other Chinese and some of the customs officials were implicated in the transactions.

TO TAR AND FEATHER A JUDGE.

Chased by an Angry Crowd for a Decision to Exclude the Evidence.

An exciting scene was enacted in the Criminal Court at St. Joseph, Mo., during the trial of a seduction case. A lawyer named Thomas Winn, who had been elected special judge to try the case, sustained a demurrer to the evidence and discharged the defendant, a wealthy young farmer named Charles Farris, without giving the jury an opportunity to pass upon the merits of the case. The court-room was crowded, and as soon as the court's decision was announced the angry auditors made a rush for Winn, and had they reached him it was their intention to treat him to a coat of tar and feathers. Winn escaped through a back door and has not since been seen. Proceedings have already been commenced to disbar him from practicing at the Buchanan County bar. A party of farmers is still looking for Winn, and if found there is no telling what will be done with him.

THE STRIKE SPREADS.

Carnegie's Men at Pittsburgh Go Out Because a Conference Is Refused.

The employees in the upper and lower union mines of the Carnegie Company in Pittsburgh, Pa., quit work at noon Thursday, and the gas was turned off in the furnaces. The men in all the departments are out and the mills will be shut down. The men struck because the company refused to confer again with the Homestead men. It is the most remarkable iron strike on record, the firm having signed the Amalgamated scale for the ensuing year. The employees of the Keystone Bridge Company are non-union and will not strike unless forced to. Nothing has been heard from the Beaver Falls plant, but the men probably struck there also, as threatened.

FRUIT CANNERS IN A PANIC.

The Sudden Rise of Fruit on the Pacific Coast Causes a Sensation.

California fruit canners are almost in a panic over the rapid advance in price of all fruits and the prospect that the orchardists will repudiate their contracts. Three-quarters of the canners have contracts for apricots at 1 1/2 cents per pound, or $30 per ton, yet at present sales are quoted at 2 1/2, 3 1/2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

It Is Asiatic Cholera.

The report of the Spanish Medical Commission that was sent to Paris to inquire into the nature of the epidemic of so-called "cholera," has been received at Madrid. The report declares that the disease is Asiatic cholera. In consequence of the report the Government has ordered that precautions be immediately taken along the Pyrenean frontier to prevent the introduction of the disease into Spain.

Cincinnati Visited by a Storm.

A terrific storm of wind and rain passed over Cincinnati Friday afternoon. Several persons were injured, but only one seriously as far as known. The roof of the Veterinary Hospital on Main street was blown across that thoroughfare, crashing into the Banner brewery and causing some damage to that building. The damage to property throughout the city is estimated at $25,000.

Explosion of Naphtha.

Italian laborers employed in digging a sewer in Westport, Conn., were blown up by an explosion of a tank of naphtha and four were fatally injured. Their names are as follows: Giovanni, 35 years old, of Italy; Antonio, 30 years old, of Italy; and two others whose names were not given. The report of the explosion was terrific, and people in the village thought they had been shaken by an earthquake. Window glass in the vicinity was shattered, and the loss to property will be great.

Four Boys Lose Their Lives.

Four boys were drowned while swimming in the Manokin River, just in the rear of their residence, near Princess Anne, Md., Saturday. They were the sons of Christopher A. Ball, a thrifty farmer, and were aged 10, 12, 13 and 15 respectively. Three were recovered.

New York Stricken with Disease.

PLAY A WAITING GAME.

MANAGER FRICK HAS A PLAN OF HIS OWN.

Republicans Have Chosen Carter Chairman—The Strange Case of Alice Mitchell in Court—Big Store Foundry Burned—Edison's Latest Is a Terror.

Carter Is Chosen.

Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, has been chosen Chairman of the Republican National Committee. He is 38 years old, and was born in Scioto County, Ohio. He has resided in Montana for more than fifteen years, having gone to Helena when quite a lad. He was elected a delegate in Congress from that Territory to succeed Martin Maginnis, but before taking his seat was chosen a member, the Territory having been admitted as a State. He was a candidate for re-nomination when President Harrison appointed him Commissioner of the General Land Office, which position he has since occupied.

WILL PROSECUTE THE LEADERS.

Over Two Hundred Strikers to Be Proceeded Against.

A Pittsburgh dispatch says: The fact that no steps have so far been taken by the Carnegie company in the direction of instituting criminal proceedings against the Homestead men who were concerned in the attack upon the Pinkertons is not, so it is semi-officially stated, to be taken as an indication that the company proposes to remain inactive in the matter. The men who resisted the landing of the guards and who participated in their maltreatment after their surrender are to be prosecuted to the bitter end. The Carnegies are simply waiting to see what action, if any, the prosecuting authorities of Allegheny County propose to take in the premises, and if, after the lapse of what may be regarded as a reasonable period, there is no disposition on the part of these authorities to move in the matter, then Mr. Frick himself will take the initiative and warrants will be sworn out for the arrest of every man who is known to have been on the mill property at the time of the riot and the killing of the Pinkertons. Over two hundred names of such men are now in the possession of Knox & Reed, the attorneys for the company, to whom the entire matter has been referred for action. The specific charges to be made against the men who have been "spotted" is that of accessory to murder in the first degree.

ALICE MITCHELL ON TRIAL.

The Defense Prepared to Prove that Freda Ward's Slayer Is Insane.

At Memphis, Tenn., the trial of Alice Mitchell on her plea of present insanity was begun in the Criminal Court Monday morning in the presence of a large number of people. The defense holds that when Alice, 18 years old, manifested an aversion for men and loved a maiden 17 years old with the devotion and intensity of a man and prepared to marry her and planned to elope, she was crazy. The State will contend that Miss Mitchell did have a great regard for young men and will show that she not only flirted with the other sex but that she carried on a voluminous correspondence with men, some of them unknown. Jail life has agreed with Miss Mitchell, for when she raised her veil in the court-room she looked as fresh and plump as a well-fed country girl.

HORROR MAY KILL A GIRL.

Miss Wood, of the Black Hills, Saw Her Father and Lover Kill Each Other.

Wood's ranch, eight miles from Deadwood, S. D., was the scene of a double murder Monday. A young man named Goody had been keeping company with the daughter of L. Wood against the father's wishes. Goody went to the ranch and became involved in a quarrel with Wood. Suddenly Wood drew a revolver and shot Goody in the head and abdomen. As he felt Goody drew his revolver and shot Wood in the head. Wood lived two hours and Goody one hour. The girl saw the fight, and it is feared the sight will cause her death.

Naval War College Ready.

The new building known as the Naval War College, recently built on an island belonging to the Government in the harbor of Newport, R. I., has been reported by Capt. A. T. Mahan to be completed and in readiness for the reception of officers who may be sent there for instruction, and the Navy Department will, within a few days, order a number of available officers to the college for duty. It is the present intention of Secretary Tracy that the course of instruction at the war college shall be in the nature of what might be termed a post-graduate course for officers of the navy.

Big Fire in Montreal.

One of the biggest fires in Montreal, Quebec, for some time took place Monday afternoon. At the busiest time in the day Clendinning's mammoth stove and iron foundry on William street was discovered to be on fire. The building occupies the whole of one block extending from Colborne to Inspector streets, and comprises an iron foundry, molding premises, machine shops, pipe factory, and storerooms. The loss is $250,000.

Can Destroy Whole Towns.

A story is published to the effect that Edison has invented an electrical machine which will destroy whole towns at a distance of thirty miles from it, and has sold the invention to the German Government. A professor in the Paris University, it is said, wrote of the matter to Edison a short time ago and Edison replied that he was not animated in what he had done by any wish to aid the enemies of France.

Jealous Boys in Mortal Combat.

At Carbon Hill, Ala., Richard Smith, aged 16, was sitting Sunday night in the parlor of Mrs. Sparks' boarding-house chatting with the landlady's daughter, when Fred Kling, aged 17 years, strode in and swore at Smith, who ordered him out of the room. Kling knocked Smith down and was stabbed to the heart by the fallen man, dying instantly. Mrs. Sparks fainted at the sight and is in a dangerous condition. Smith was caught at Jasper.

Killed in a Fencing Match.

Professor Cortell, in fencing with Dr. C. C. Torrey, of Fall River, Mass., plunged his foil through the Doctor's mask, and the tip having broken off, the sharp pointed steel entered his eye. An hour later he died, and it is supposed the steel penetrated his brain. The two men met in a friendly bout in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Torrey was a leading physician and very popular. Cortell is Professor of Fencing in the Newport Naval School.

Fatally Hurt by a Bull.

Charles Rice, a wealthy stock-raiser of Crawfordville, Ind., was overtaken in his pasture by a bull, who knocked him down, goring him furiously. With a knife he succeeded in partially defending himself till aid arrived, and the animal was driven off with a knife sticking in his throat.

DANGERS OF IMPORTED DISEASE.

The Canadian Steamship Line Too Handy in Some Respects.

The Toronto medical health officers are complaining of a new danger from the importation of contagious diseases by the new Canadian steamship line from China and the East to British Columbia. Already there is a small epidemic of small-pox at Victoria, caused apparently through the absence of proper quarantine arrangements on the Canadian Pacific coast. Dr. Allen, Toronto's medical health officer, says this is a new danger we have to contend with. The first case of small-pox was imported to Victoria, B. C., three or four weeks ago, but it appears the other passengers on the steamer were not quarantined. Small-pox, cholera and leprosy, the Doctor said, constantly prevailed in the countries where the ship trade is, and it is even more important to have proper quarantine arrangements at Pacific than Atlantic ports.

THIRTY-TWO THOUGHT DROWNED.

The Tug Boat and Three Barges Missing at Lake Ontario Ports.

Oswego, N. Y., dispatch: Nothing has yet been heard from the tug boat and the barges Thurst D. Richards, C. Richardson and Winona, belonging to the Montreal Forwarding Company, with coal for Montreal, and it is feared that they foundered in the gale of Friday night, and that the crews, aggregating thirty-two men, have been drowned. The tug and barges were built for freighting on the St. Lawrence River, and were not calculated to contend with the severe storms of the lakes. The barges were loaded till their decks were within eight inches of the water. They were without a stitch of sail or compasses, and were unprepared to help themselves in case they should be cast adrift. They make but occasional trips on the lake, and heretofore have generally managed to sneak across in good weather.

Big Landslide in Colorado.

A mass of earth 300 feet wide is sliding down the side of Table Mountain, east of Golden, Colo., carrying with it an eight-room house, orchard and garden and the tracks of the Colorado Central Railroad. The slide is caused by water from the Church irrigating ditch penetrating the earth below. The ditch which doubtless goes, leaving several thousand acres of farm and garden lands without means of irrigation. Efforts are being made to save the railroad, but it will doubtless go into Clear Creek, as the track moved two feet in one day. The loss will be heavy, especially to farmers.

Soundly Whipped a Wife-Beater.

A mob broke into the jail at Fairbury, Neb., and took Simon Watson, the wife-beater, into the Court House yard. They stripped him to the waist, and then whipped him with cowhides until the blood ran down his back. After the whipping Watson was returned to his cell and the mob dispersed.

Fatal Explosion in a Mill.

A serious accident occurred at Baird's mill, near Kague Station, Fla., whereby two lives were lost and a number of people injured. The front of the boiler was blown out and the boiler thrown out of its bed twenty feet. Mr. Baird estimates his entire loss at about $800. No cause is known for the explosion.

The farm residence of John Steinbruner, near St. Joe, west of Celina, Ohio, was struck by lightning. The current passed down the brick chimney. Three children were severely shocked and are in a precarious condition. Considerable damage was done to the building.

Robbed the Mails.

Postoffice Inspector Dice has arrested Postmaster William G. Higginsbotham, of Huntsville, Mo., on the charge of robbing the mails. The Postmaster was caught by means of decoy letters. The amount of money secured is said to be small.

Thievish Tramps Wounded.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., ten tramps broke into a Delaware and Hudson railroad car and fitted themselves out with shoes. Watchman Mills came upon them and fired into the crowd, wounding two of the men so badly that they may die.

Killed by Lightning.

At Springfield, Ohio, James Maloney, aged 73 years, was struck by lightning and killed. He was pasturing his cows about 100 yards from the Lagoda avenue engine house, and when the rain commenced took shelter under the tree.

THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

WORK OF OUR NATIONAL LAW-MAKERS.

Proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives—Important Measures Discussed and Acted Upon—Gist of the Business.

The National Solons.

The silver question, which has been before the 11th Congress ever since last December was finally settled in the House the 18th. The bill itself was not voted upon, but on the test vote taken on the resolution reported from the Committee on Rules to take up the bill for consideration, free-silver coinage was defeated by a majority of 28. The Senate, by a vote of 51 to 47 approved the $5,000,000 appropriation in aid of the World's Fair. Attached to the appropriation is the following proviso: "That the appropriation provided for in this act shall be upon condition that the said World's Columbian Exposition shall be closed on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday." Another condition is as follows: "Provided the sale of intoxicating liquor on the Exposition grounds shall be prohibited, except for medical, botanical, or scientific purposes."

World's Fair legislation is again the property of the House. The Senate, on the 14th, passed the Sundry Civil bill with various amendments relating to the Exposition. Sunday closing is made final, but former action in prohibiting the sale of liquors on the grounds is reversed and that matter left entirely to the Exposition management. As the sundry civil bill came from the House it merely appropriated the remainder of the $1,500,000 provided for in the bill of the Fifty-first Congress for the running expenses of the Government exhibit and the National Commission, with a proviso that the Government exhibit should be closed Sunday. The Senate increased the amounts for these purposes by $500,000 and added the new propositions for souvenir coins and for payment of awards, making the total increase over the House in the neighborhood of $6,200,000. It also made the Sunday closing apply to the entire Exposition. The House was occupied in minor business.

On the 15th the field of operation of the World's Fair bill was removed from the Senate to the House, and the final termination of the controversy was brought in sight by an agreement of unanimous consent that a vote should be taken at 12 o'clock on the 19th on all the World's Fair propositions, including the $5,000,000 appropriation, the Sunday question, the liquor prohibition, and other amendments which may be offered. This applies to a vote of the Freemen question and cuts off the chance of filibustering which some have believed would threaten the bill during the last days of the session. At no time were there more than sixty or seventy members out of the total of 335 on the floor of the House, and by actual count there were just fifteen members on the Republican side and thirty-six on the Democratic at one time during the debate.

On the 16th the House resumed consideration of the World's Fair appropriation bill. Many long and ten minute speeches were made, some favoring and some opposing an appropriation. The chief points of difference, however, relate to Sunday closing. The session of the Senate was notable chiefly for an angry encounter between Senators Harris of Tennessee and Sanders of Montana. No business of importance was transacted.

MARKETS ARE ACTIVE.

The Crop Reports Stimulate Business Throughout the Country.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says that crop reports promise results not equal to last year's, which would be disastrous, but beyond expectations. With the decrease of only 6 per cent, the wheat yield would be far beyond the quantity consumed and exported in any year except the last, and nearly equal to last year's consumption and exports. The price dropped below 84 cents, but has since been stronger. Western receipts are large, 1,800,000 bushels in three days, and exports 771,000 bushels in the same time. Corn acreage shows a decrease of 4.4 per cent, and the price has dropped 3 1/2 cents during the week. Oats have also declined two cents, while hog products are stronger, pork 25 cents per barrel, and coffee and oil unchanged. The cotton reports show condition only 2 per cent. below last year, and on any estimate of acreage the yield, with the surplus still in sight, will more than meet all demand for the year.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

G. VAN SCHELVEN, Editor.

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1892.

Republican Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT—

Benjamin Harrison,
OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT—

Whitelaw Reid,
OF NEW YORK.

Republican State Convention.

The convention at Saginaw completed its labors at eight o'clock Thursday evening, and placed the following ticket in the field:

Governor—John T. Rich, of Lapeer.
Lieutenant Governor—J. W. Giddings, of Wexford.

Secretary of State—John W. Jochim of Marquette.

Treasurer—J. B. Bambitzer, of Houghton.

Auditor General—Stanley W. Turner, of Roscommon.

Attorney General—Gerrit J. Diekema, of Holland.

Commissioner of State Land Office—John T. Berry, of Otsego.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Henry R. Pattengill, of Lansing.

Member of State Board of Education—E. A. Wilson, of Van Buren.

It goes without saying, that while the ticket is being well received by the Republicans of Holland, the nomination of our townsman Gerrit J. Diekema is hailed with satisfaction by all.

It is a long while since Ottawa county has been honored by the nomination of one of its citizens for the head of one of the departments of state, and that this mark of distinction should have been reserved for one of our own citizens is especially gratifying to note.

The convention was presided over by Congressman Mark S. Brewer, and in the organization the Fifth district was represented by the following:

Vice president—C. E. Watkins, of Kent.

Ass't Sec'y—A. P. Loomis, of Ionia.

Perm. Org'n, etc.—G. W. McBride, of Ottawa.

Resolutions—J. C. Fitzgerald, of Kent.

Credentials—S. A. Watt, of Ionia.

The vote on governor stood—Rich 574, Pingree 2104, O'Donnell 5.

When it came to Attorney General Geo. A. Farr presented the name of G. J. Diekema. Judge R. R. Pealer of St. Joseph presented the name of B. T. Andrews of Three Rivers. William Alden Smith presented the name of Fred A. Maynard. Shiawassee presented the name of B. F. Huston of Tuscola. Mr. Joslin of Bay City presented James Van Kleeck of Bay City. Mr. Webster of Ionia presented W. W. Mitchell of Ionia. Erwin Palma, on behalf of Wayne county, endorsed James Van Kleeck. Alfred Milnes of Coldwater also endorsed Van Kleeck. F. E. Knappen of Kalamazoo seconded Maynard. D. P. Markey of West Branch warmly endorsed Diekema. The ballot was then taken. Kent voted Maynard 30; Diekema 14; Michell 1; Van Kleeck 2. Diekema led on the ballot. Van Kleeck being second, but the changes to Diekema came thick and he was finally nominated by acclamation. Ingham was first and Kent was the second to change, and she cast her 47 votes for Diekema.

Republican Club.

Pursuant to call a meeting was held in the rink, Wednesday evening, to take steps for the organization of a Republican campaign club.

The committee appointed for that purpose at the late city convention made their report, which was adopted, recommending the following for the permanent organization of the club:

President—John J. Cappon.
Vice presidents—First ward, J. B. Brown; second ward, R. N. De Merrell; third ward, G. Van Schelven; fourth ward, C. L. King.
Secretary and treasurer—H. Vanpeil.
Corr. sec'y—Geo. E. Kollen.

Executive committee—First ward, S. Klein, H. R. Doesburg; second ward, W. A. Holley, J. W. Reynolds; third ward, H. Geerlings, H. Kiekintveld; fourth ward, John Van Anrooy, Geo. Mc Connell.

The executive committee was directed to complete the draft of the constitution and by-laws of the club and present the same at the adjourned meeting.

A committee of four, one for each ward, was appointed to secure a full enrollment of membership. This committee consists of J. Lokker, J. B. Mulder, H. Kiekintveld, Johannes De Weerd.

The club adjourned until next Wednesday evening, 7:45 o'clock, at the rink, to receive the report of the committee on constitution and by-laws.

This meeting will be an important one, and several matters bearing directly upon the work and efficiency of the club in the coming campaign will be presented and discussed. Therefore it is urged upon all the members to be present, and let all those that have not yet joined in the good work be also present, and enroll their names as members of the organization.

The People's Party.

At the City convention of the People's party, Friday evening, the following were appointed delegates to the county convention, to be held at Coopersville, Tuesday, the 26th inst.:

First ward—J. R. Klein, Wm. Baumgartel, E. A. Reynolds.

Second ward—D. L. Boyd, David Bertach.

Third ward—Geo. Ballard, Ja's De Young, Martin Klein.

Fourth ward—David Cronin, Olef I. Hansen, J. A. Roost.

The sentiment in favor of a formal fusion with the Democrats, is not very pronounced, but it has been evident for weeks that the Coopersville convention will give the Democrats a liberal opportunity for "co-operation," by tendering them the opportunity to endorse their nominations. With that in view the People's party will be as inoffensive in their selection as possible, and give and take, as the assorted material on hand may dictate.

A ticket composed somewhat as follows may be anticipated:

Judge of Probate—George F. Richardson (author of the present tax-law).

The only thing that may prevent this nomination will be a reasonable assurance of something better, say the fusion tender of the position of congressman.

Sheriff—John D. Everhard, of Alledale, or perhaps some available man from Holland City.

Clerk—Harvey L. White (present incumbent).

Treasurer—Benona A. Blakeney (present incumbent).

Register of Deeds—Cha's W. Ingraham (present incumbent).

Prosecuting attorney—Peter J. Danhof (present incumbent), or D. F. Hunton, of Grand Haven.

County surveyor—G. J. Hesselink, of Holland town.

For representative in the state legislature Walter Phillips of Grand Haven town is an aspirant in the First district. Mr. Phillips being of Republican antecedents the nomination in the Second district will likely go to a People's man, who is still reliably Democratic.

The preference for state senator will be divided between Geo. F. Porter, of Chester, the present incumbent, and George D. Sanford, of Grand Haven.

An Unfortunate Plight.

Bram Van Vuren of this city again finds himself within the clutches of the law—this time, on a charge of rape.

Saturday last he managed to engage as his housekeeper Miss Adeline Sturton, aged 21 years, and in less than 24 hours thereafter the unfortunate girl was compelled to make Marshal Koppel the confidant of a sad experience.

The offender was promptly arrested, and is now in the county jail awaiting his examination before Justice Post, some time next week.

There are some features connected with this case which cannot but enlist sympathy in behalf of the complaining witness and the family to which she belongs. James Sturton, her father, with wife and three children were residents of Bornemouth, England.

Less than a year ago, by the representations of "Prophet Trowbridge," they were induced to come to this country and locate here. The young woman that so deplorably figured in the late adultery case for which the "Prophet" is now serving a term at Jackson, is also a daughter of Mr. Sturton, and the elder sister of Adeline.

The head of this family is a suspicious, devout "Bible Christian," or member of the "Church of God," as he delights to style it—a sect very near akin to the Seventh Day Advents. At Bornemouth he did what he could in his humble way to spread the doctrines of his sect, and was at times engaged in the peddling of tracts and books. By so doing his name got printed on a circular that fell into the hands of "Prophet" Trowbridge here, who thereupon mailed him a copy of one of his "works," the receipt whereof was in turn duly acknowledged by our "Bible Christian" in England. A correspondence ensued, and by a series of glittering misrepresentations Mr. Sturton was induced to leave England and become the neighbor of "Prophet" Trowbridge. If ever there was an instance of a guileless victim unwittingly walking into the web of his betrayer, surely it was in this case.

Upon the fatal termination of the Trowbridge acquaintanceship, the Sturton family moved into the city, where Mr. S. engaged in cobbling, a trade at which he is an expert. They reside on River street, and here it was where Bram Van Vuren arranged with the family that their second daughter, Adeline, should do the housework for himself and family.

Considering the character of the respondent, and his personal appearance, and the experience already had with "Prophet" Trowbridge, one is inclined to think that one precaution would have been exercised by the Sturtions before entrusting another female member of the family to a stranger.

As to the character of the respondent, we can say that he is no novice to the courts. Some years ago he served a three years' sentence at Jackson for burglarizing a shoe store in this city, and illegal fishing has been his main vocation since.

GREATEST LIVING HORSES.

They Will All Be at the Great Grand Rapids Races.

Nancy Hanks, 2:00, the greatest and fastest of all race mares, trotted a mile in Philadelphia the other day in 2:11 1/4. She is speedier this year than ever and when she trots against time, August 11 at Grand Rapids, the fastest mile ever trotted in the world may be expected.

Budd Doble, the king of reinsmen, has the great mare this season and is training her for her performance at Grand Rapids.

The Grand Rapids Horseman's association has put up $50,000 for the week of races, August 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, and these liberal purses have drawn all the greatest horses in the country. Besides a grand programme of regular races, which are already filled with the pick of horses in each class, the association have a special attraction for each day.

Tuesday, August 9, the first day, Hal Pointer and Direct, the two champions who are after the pacing crown, will pace a match race for a $5,000 purse, offered by the association. Arion, the champion two-year-old colt from California with a record of 2:10 1/4, who was recently bought by J. Malcomb Forbes from Senator Leland Stanford, of California, for $125,000, will also be exhibited that day going a fast mile.

Wednesday, August 10, the queen of the turf, Sunol, 2:08 1/4, will be shown, and if in condition will trot to lower the world's record, and Thursday, August 11, Nancy Hanks, the incomparable race mare, will attempt to reduce her own and Sunol's record.

Friday, August 12, is the greatest horse race ever seen on earth, a $10,000 stake race for stallions, with 16 horses in the race. These horses are all the greatest stallions now living, including Allerton, 2:09 1/4; Axtell, 2:12; Pat Downing, 2:13; Alfred G., 2:19 1/4; Nelson, 2:10; Delmarch, 2:11 1/4; McKinney, 2:12 1/4; Alvin, 2:14 1/4; Cheyenne, 2:15 1/4; Sprague Goldust, 2:16 1/4; Charleston, 2:15; Lombard, 2:16 1/4; Senator Conkling, 2:16 1/4; Bismont, 2:18 1/4; Incas, 2:14 1/4; Faustino, 2:14 1/4, etc.

Saturday, August 13, the famous trio team, Belle Hamlin, Justina and Globe, that have a record of 2:14, going three abreast, will appear, and either they or Belle Hamlin and Globe with a double team record of 2:12, will go to lower their record.

These races will not only be the greatest ever held in Michigan, but the greatest ever held in the country. All Michigan railroads will sell round trip tickets for one and one-third fare from all stations in Michigan to Grand Rapids during the week with a coupon ticket of admission to the races attached for which the price of admission will be added to the rate. Tickets are good to return on the day following the last day of the meeting of the races.

The speakers are all men of national reputation, and our readers can be sure of listening to excellent addresses during the entire session. The music will be under charge of Prof. Whitcomb of South Bend, Ind., who is well known as a thorough musician and leader.

Among the names on the programme are those of Ex-Rabbi Samuel Freuder, a Jew who has been converted to Christianity. He is a very fine speaker. Rev. Mrs. Drake, from Dakota, is very entertaining on the platform, and her address on the opening day will give a most interesting picture of Western life.

Miss Francis Griffin, is a lady speaker sent here by the National W. C. T. U. of Chicago, and she is highly recommended as a speaker.

Rev. Philip Krohn, D. D., of Chicago, is a gentleman who is widely known as a pulpit orator and also as a speaker upon War topics. He spent several months in Libby Prison, and his address on Grand Army day will be full of reminiscences of the war.

Rev. Henry Johnson, D. D., of South Bend is one of the speakers at the great Lakeside, Ohio, assembly. Dr. E. H. Pratt, of Chicago, is a very prominent man in his profession and an excellent speaker.

Rev. D. F. Bradley, D. D., is the popular pastor of the Park Congregational church of Grand Rapids. Revs. Earle, Breed, Williams, Harrison and Cramer are all prominent men in their several denominations.

To reach Macatawa Park by railroad consult time cards of C. & W. M. R'y Co. By steamboat from Chicago, steamer Chas. McVea leaves O'Connor's dock every Friday, Saturday, Monday and Wednesday at 8 o'clock p. m. Fare for round trip $3.00.

RESORT NOTES.

This is Mrs. Ryder's ninth consecutive season at the head of the Macatawa Park hotel, and each year she has added to the popularity of this resort. The hotel is nearly full.

While the visitors at Ottawa Beach are principally Grand Rapids people those at Macatawa are mainly from Indiana and Illinois and are spending the entire season at the park. Among the visitors are Mr. and Mrs. Lamos and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Maher and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Smith and family, all of Chicago; Mrs. Johnson and children, Mrs. Niblock and children, all of Brazil, Ind.; Mrs. L. Lebart and family, Mrs. A. F. France and family, Mrs. M. W. Mathews, Mrs. J. P. Creed and family, all of South Bend, Ind.; and Miss A. D. Porter of Indianapolis, Ind.

There are extensive improvements under way at the Park. The new water works machinery is expected soon and an electric light plant is being put in.

Fishing in Black lake and on the piers is excellent. The other day a large muskallunge was caught near the pier at Ottawa Beach. It was sent to Grand Rapids the same evening. White fishing is successful enough to be thoroughly enjoyable. The bass are of good size and bite freely.

Sunday was really a great day at the beach. Every room at the Hotel Ottawa was occupied. The morning was lovely. Directly after breakfast the hotel guests formed into congenial parties and either strolled over the walks and through the shady groves or went boating.

The members of the Michigan Woman's Press club enjoyed a charming ride on the little pleasure yacht Promise by invitation of John Mowatt and Addison A. Barber, owners of the Promise.

The steamer Lizzie Walsh is a favorite for lake trips and will carry parties as far as Saugatuck.

C. & W. M. trains are run so conveniently at present, that many Grand Rapids business men take advantage and regulate their daily trip by the time table, coming down at night and back on the early morning train. C. H. Leonard, Henry Spring, L. B. Stanton, H. N. Moore, George H. Long, J. H. Hoskens and others are among those who visit the Beach daily.

Mrs. T. J. Knapp of Grand Rapids and daughter, Miss Dora, are down for the summer and are pleasantly located in a cottage. L. B. Stanton's family are cottaging, so is Captain Moore's and George H. Long's.

A. B. Turner, the veteran newspaper man, has fitted out his naphtha launch, "The Eagle" and contemplates a trip up the lake with congenial company.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Leonard of Grand Rapids are at Jenison Park. Harrington's landing also has a goodly number of cottagers.

One meets various types of humanity at the resorts. There is the rich old man in rusty clothes and a disreputable hat. He is down for solid comfort and he gets it. Then there is the $10 per week clerk in an elegant suit of striped outing flannel with pale blue sash and tie, the color of his eyes. There is the madame with her flashing diamonds and trained gown and there is the bread and butter miss arrayed in a combination of colors patterned after the coat of Joseph of ancient lineage. The little girl encourages flattery from men of forty summers outings; madame exchanges sentimental phrases with callow youth; the $10 clerk poses as Liberty enlightening the world and the rich old man minds his own business strictly, thereby getting the peace of mind upon which his desires are set.

Then there are the cottages and the persons that spend the entire summer at the hotel. They comprise the families of leading business men, and their pretty daughters are noble types of true womanhood. Under the chaperonage of their mothers the young ladies gather in merry groups upon the broad verandas in the cool of the morning and evening and entertain their masculine visitors from the city. Care is flung to the wind and recreation is made the sole object. Down at the casino the band plays merrily and soon the young people leave the hotel for the casino, where dancing on the smooth maple floor is such a delight. Life at the beach is indeed very pleasant and happy are those that can snatch a few hours of it from time to time.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

IN NO MAN'S LAND.

Two shapes were walking on the strand
One starlight night in no man's land;
Two shapes that during mortal life
Gave hate for hate, in deadly strife.
They met. Swift forth their falcions flew;
Each pinned the other through and through;
But neither fell. Again they strove
For mastery, and madly drove
To right and left their falcions bright,
Nor sound nor cry profaned the night.
Through corslet, casque, and visor, too,
As through the air their swift blades flew;
Until, amazed, they stood agast,
And on the sands their weapons cast.
Then laughed they both at mortal strife,
The passing dream of earthly life.
And clasped each the other's hand,
They walk the shades of no man's land.
—James Clarence Harvey, in the Academy.

All's Well That Ends Well.

There is always a beginning to an end. What it was in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks-Brown I do not pretend to know. What I know most about is the end and the appendix. Of course all the differences leading up to the last act were thoroughly aired in court and in the newspapers; but it was the final act of brutality on Mr. Hicks-Brown's part that was especially dilated upon, and for weeks this "fiend in human form" was execrated by dames and damsels all over this broad land, and Mrs. Hicks-Brown was an object of heartfelt commiseration on all sides.

I am inclined to think that if Mr. Hicks-Brown had been more like the men who are held up as model husbands by the knowing members of certain ladies' societies, he and Mrs. Hicks-Brown—she whom only two short years since he had promised to love and cherish—would be living in peace and amity, to say nothing of conjugal happiness, even unto this day; and if Mrs. Hicks-Brown had been anything but the only child of a very rich and foolishly indulgent papa, things might have been different. But Mr. Hicks-Brown was just as much used to having his own way as was his pretty spouse; and the natural result was family rows, more or less insignificant in character. At first Mr. Hicks-Brown was inclined to give in, just as all dutiful husbands are; but he saw the shoals of trouble on to which this course was causing him to drift, and concluded, after mature consideration, that it was his will that should dominate in the Hicks-Brown family, and he fixed his plan of procedure and governed his actions accordingly. Mrs. Hicks-Brown, with feminine insight, perceived, at an early stage of the game, what her lord's intentions were; and, as she had always been accustomed to have her own way, she decided that it was too late to begin knocking under—and there you have what was presumably the beginning of the end.

It was a dog—not only a dog, but a young lady dog—not only a female canine, but what Mr. Hicks-Brown termed a "measly, doggasted pug"—that caused the climax. If there was any creature on earth that Mr. Hicks-Brown loathed and despised it was a pug, and especially one of the gentler sex, and his better half, aware of this antipathy, had, with characteristic feminine perversity, availed herself of the first opportunity to possess herself of one of those interesting animals, which speedily won, it seemed, first place in her affections and made Mr. Hicks-Brown's life miserable.

He stood it, however, as long as he could; but the end had to come. Mr. Hicks-Brown was an architect, and it came to pass that he had, on one occasion, been invited to prepare the plans for a public building. The plans were drawn and accepted by the committee, which, however, returned them to him for certain important alterations, and they were laid on the table in his den to be attended to when he returned home in the late afternoon of a certain day.

Now, it so happened that Vic, the pug aforementioned, was of an inquiring turn of mind, and she chose this very afternoon for an exploring tour in the upper part of the house.

When Mr. Hicks-Brown entered his den about 5 o'clock he saw at once that portions of his plans were missing, and, supposing that his wife had taken them to show some visitor, he hurried downstairs.

"Where are those plans?" he asked. "What plans, dear?" softly inquired Mrs. Hicks-Brown, sliding her caramel into one cheek and still keeping one eye on a particularly thrilling page of the yellow-back novel in her lap.

"What—what plans? Do you mean to say you didn't take those Calumet building plans from my table?" asked Mr. Hicks-Brown in some agitation. "Oh-h!" said his spouse, mildly surprised. "Why, it must have been those that Vic had."

"That—Vic—had!" howled Mr. Hicks-Brown. "And pray where are they now?"

"Don't get excited, dear. Were they anything in particular? Vic had some old, soiled pieces of cloth, playing with them awhile ago; but I supposed they were some you had thrown into the wastebasket, so I burned—Henry! What are you going to do?"

But Henry did not answer. He strode over to the cushion whereon the offending Vic was taking her afternoon siesta, gripped her firmly by the nape of the neck, and, despite his wife's hysterical protests, opened the door and kicked the howling animal into the street, and, not satisfied with this, when Mrs. Hicks-Brown would have rushed to rescue her pet, he took her by the shoulders and forced her into a chair, noting with grim satisfaction as he did so that a couple of street arabs were making off with Vic.

That day Mrs. Hicks-Brown went home to her mother, and two weeks later she was a member of the divorce colony in a western city, seeking freedom from matrimonial bonds on the ground of "cruel and inhuman treatment," which she expected the court, when her case was presented, to understand as having been applied to her instead of to Vic.

In the state where Mrs. Hicks-Brown sought her divorce, it takes only three months to establish a residence, and the legal formalities consume very little time; but, strange to say, Mrs. Hicks-Brown did not find it easy to pass the time. The first three or four weeks, in her flurried state of mind, she did not notice—but, after that, time passed very slowly, indeed. Strange as it may seem, life apart from Mr. Hicks-Brown was very, very dull—and lonely. Yes, she had been hasty—too hasty—but there was no turning back now. She had burned her bridges, and besides, had ever a Lovedale retraced a step once taken? No! And she held her pretty nose a little higher and tried to look haughtily don't-care-ish, all the time feeling very miserable, indeed.

Everything seemed to conspire to add to her load of sorrow. She was pointed out on the street as a "colonist"; and, although she met, through the pastor of the church she attended and at the home of her attorney, many of the nicest people in the city, she was almost entirely ignored in a social way and it galled her immeasurably. She, a Lovedale—yes, and a Hicks-Brown; for even if the man who had bestowed the last name on her did work for a living, it was a name to be proud of—to be ostracized by these insignificant country people, half the men among whom attended balls in Prince Albert or cut-away coats! The idea! As if she cared! And yet she did care, a great deal.

And Mr. Hicks-Brown? He was working away as though fighting time. He never gave himself a moment, if he could help it, for thought. Not a word had passed between him and the Lovedale family since the day his wife had flung herself out of the house and returned to her parents. He heard she had gone west for a divorce and it made him wince, but he shut his mouth more tightly and went at his work still harder. There were times when he had to think and they were not pleasant times. There was one in particular. A few months before he had begun to build, unknown to his wife, a handsome new house in her favorite suburb—and the time came for him to occupy it, and she was not there to enjoy it. His younger sister, an orphan, who had just finished school and had come to live with him, was delighted with every thing. She ran all over the house, fairly gushing with pleasure, and did not know that her brother, sitting amid the confusion of furniture in the front hall, was thinking of how much some one else would have been pleased. And there were two big tears on his cheeks when he remembered himself and arose to superintend the work of arranging furniture.

Everybody who reads the papers remembers the Hicks-Brown divorce trial—how the defendant paid no attention to the suit; how the judge, in granting a decree without alimony, scored the fair plaintiff for seeking a divorce on such trivial grounds, and assured her that he allowed a decree only because it was plain to be seen that it was a case of incompatibility; and how two days after receiving her decree, the plaintiff left suddenly, and everybody said, "I told you so—I knew she'd go as soon as she got it."

But everybody doesn't know that the reason she left so suddenly was that she received a telegram announcing her father's death, or that when she reached home she found that he had died a bankrupt.

Hicks-Brown knew it, and his heart ached with a longing to go to her aid—and then the Hicks-Brown pride came to the surface and his heart hardened with a cold snap and he bent himself to his work harder than ever. One morning, as he rode into town, Henry Hicks-Brown was thinking how lonely his sister must be, sometimes, out there in that slow little suburb, and an idea struck him. "By Jove!" he thought, "it's the very thing. There are lots of fine girls who would jump at the chance to be companion to so jolly a girl as Lot-tie." And he stopped at the Sol office and left a "Want" advertisement, which stated that a young lady desired a companion who was able to speak French and possessed sundry other accomplishments; must furnish best references; would receive liberal salary, etc. "Apply in person at residence, — Grove street."

Mabel Hicks-Brown, discussing ways and means with her mother at their stately-furnished breakfast table next morning, saw this advertisement. "It's the very thing, mamma, and I'm going to see about it to-day. Something must be done, and I am the one to do it, so—"

"But, Mabel, it seems so—so—why, the idea of—"

"There, there's no use saying a word, mamma. We can't be choosers any more."

And so it was settled. At 4 o'clock that afternoon Mabel Hicks-Brown rang the door of the house in Grove street indicated in the advertisement and was admitted by a trim maid, who seemed to know her errand, and ushered her into a pretty drawing room on the right.

Somewhat the room had a familiar look. At least there were things in it that seemed familiar. That picture in the dark corner—she must have seen it before. She rose to look at it, and as she did so, some one came hurriedly into the room. Turning, she stood face to face with Henry Hicks-Brown.

For a full half-minute they stood staring at each other, stunned. Then Mabel, weak from the strain of the weeks and months just passed, gave a shuddering sob and sank to the floor.

Ten minutes later she found herself upon the divan in the corner, with a pair of strong arms about her and a very dear face close to her own, while a deep, tremulous voice whispered: "Mabel, can't we—can't we make it all up? Tell me, little girl."

She told him, right then and there; and half an hour after that they stood in the study of the parsonage close by—Hicks-Brown would have it so—for all the world like a pair of elopers, and what had taken nearly five months to untie was retied in five minutes.

And that was the real end of the celebrated Hicks-Brown divorce case—the part that only a small minority of the newspaper-reading public knows about.—Argonaut.

London's Cabs and Cabmen.

London is so vast that it is difficult to realize the immensity of its every-day statistics. The capital contains sufficient cabmen, cabowners, and others engaged in the hackney carriage trade to populate a large town.

Here are the latest figures: 8,000 proprietors, 15,500 cabbdrivers, 4,000 washers, horsekeepers, and stable-helpers—total 23,100. It is estimated that the value of the 24,000 horses and the 11,500 licensed cabs employed, and the appliances, exceeds $5,000,000.—[New York Journal.

OLLA PODRIDA.

OFFICIAL SLANG.—Official slang and political slang have a tendency to use the fewest number of words to express an idea and the fewest number of syllables to make the word. There is the use of the word "made" instead of promoted, "broke" instead of dismissed from the service, "got at" to mean that some one has been successfully induced to do something, "pull" to signify influence, favoritism and official friendship; "pulled" to sum up what happens when a squad of policemen make a number of prisoners at once from the same place; "fell down" to show that there has been a final failure in what was undertaken. "Done up" in the sense of the demolition and crushing of some one. These are a few samples. A little thought will enable any one to add a number of others. They show the tendency of one class of public slang to brevity and sententiousness.

WOOD THAT SINKS IN WATER.—There are 413 species of trees found within the limit of the United States. Of these, sixteen, when perfectly seasoned, are so heavy that they sink in water. The heaviest is the black iron wood (Condalia ferrea), found only in Southern Florida, which is more than 30 per cent. heavier than water. Of the other fifteen, the best known is the Lignum vitae (Guaiacum sanctum), and the Mangrove (Rhizophora mangle). Texas and New Mexico, lands full of queer, creeping, crawling, walking and inanimate things, are the homes of a species of oak (Quercus grisea), which is about one and one-quarter times heavier than water and which, when green, will sink as quickly as a bar of iron. It grows only in mountainous regions, and has been found as far westward as the Colorado Desert, where it grows at an elevation of 10,000. All the species heavier than water belong in Florida or the arid South and Southwest.

CAPACITY OF THE EYE.—The capacity of the human eye for special training would appear to be even greater than that of the hand. A young woman employed in Burrelle's Bureau of Press Clippings tells us of a wonderful faculty she has acquired, which enables her to see certain names and subjects at a glance at the page of a newspaper. They are the names and subjects she is paid to look up through hundreds of newspapers every day. What the ordinary reader would have read column after column to find—and then might miss—she sees at what seems the merest casual glance at the sheet as soon as it is spread out before her. "They stand right out," she said laughingly, "just as if they were printed in bold black type and all the rest was small print. I couldn't help seeing them if I wanted to. When I begin to look up a new matter and drop an old one it bothers me a little—the latter by being in my mental way all the time and the former to be hunted—but in a few days one disappears and the other appears in some mysterious way. I can't tell how. I used to think bank cashiers and clerks were a remarkable set of people, but I now find that the eye is much quicker than the hand, and is susceptible of a higher training."

A LAKE OF BOILING WATER.—There is a lake of boiling water in the Island of Dominica, lying in the mountains behind Roseau, and in the valleys surrounding it are many solfatara, or volcanic sulphur vents. In fact, the boiling lake is little better than a crater filled with scalding water, constantly fed by mountain streams and through which pent-up gases find vent and are ejected. The temperature of the water on the margins of the lake ranges from 180 to 210 degrees Fahrenheit; in the middle, exactly over the gas vents, it is more than 300 degrees.

Where this action takes place the water rises two, three, and sometimes as high as four feet above the general level of the lake, the cone often dividing so that the orifices through which the gas escapes are legions in number. The commotion over the gas jets causes a violent disturbance of the lake, great waves of the boiling water continually lashing the shores, and though the cones appear to be the special vents, sulphurous vapors rise with equal density over its entire surface. Contrary to what one would naturally suppose, there seems to be no violent action of escaping gases, such as explosions and detonations.

The water is of a dark gray color, and, having been boiled over and over for thousands of years, has become thick and slimy with sulphur. "The Boiling Lake of Dominica" is justly reckoned as one of the greatest natural wonders of the world and is yearly visited by thousands of sightseers.

Rams in Naval Warfare.

Naval authorities assert that rams will be the most effective weapons in the naval conflicts of the future. In the building of every battleship nowadays much attention is given to making the stem as powerful as possible, in order that she may ram an adversary off effectively. Methods of conflict on the sea are reverting, curiously enough, to those practiced 2,000 years ago, when Rome was mistress of the waves. Then vessels of war were propelled by two or three banks of oars; now they are driven by two or three screws.

Then, as now, the most deadly blow was struck with the ram. Then, as now, the commanding officer stood in a "conning tower," directing the movements of the ship, issuing orders for the launching of missiles against the enemy, and at the critical moment "giving the stem" to an opposing craft. In order to conceive the power of the modern ram, imagine a ship weighing 5,000 tons driven at a speed of fifteen miles an hour against a floating antagonist.

"Is this a healthful portion of the State?" asked a traveler in Arkansas. "Well, I should say it is. There has been nobody hung about here in three months."

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

HE PORTRAYS THE ADVANTAGES OF THE CHRISTIAN.

Religion Never Was Designed to Make Our Pleasures Less—God Will Withhold No Good Thing from Those Who Love Him—The Infinite Father.

Our Possessions.

Dr. Talmage's preaching tour in England has been a continued series of unprecedented successes. The English people have assembled by thousands to hear the American preacher wherever he has preached. In Manchester the great Trade Hall was engaged for him. It holds 7,000 persons, but it would not contain a third of the people who tried to get in. The streets leading to the hall were jammed with a dense surging mass of humanity. After the service Dr. Talmage preached in the street to the crowd, which numbered fully 15,000. The sermon selected for this week is entitled "Our Possessions," from I Corinthians iii, 22, "All are yours."

The impression is abroad that religion puts a man on short allowance; that when the ship sailing heavenward comes to the shining wharf it will be found out that all the passengers had the hardest kind of sea fare; that the soldiers in Christ's army march most of the time with an empty haversack. In a word, that only those people have a good time in this world who take upon themselves no religious obligation.

I want to-day to find out whether this is so, and I am going to take account of stock; I am going to show what are the Christian's liabilities, and what is his income, and what are his warrant deeds, and what are his bonds and mortgages, and I shall find out before I finish just how much he is worth, and I shall spread before you the balance sheet in time to warn you all against the religion of Jesus Christ if indeed it be a failure, and in time for you all to accept it if indeed it be a success. I turn first to the assets, and I find there what seems to be a roll of government securities—the empire of heaven promising all things to the possessor. The three small words of my text are a warrant deed to the whole universe when it says, "All are yours."

In making an inventory of the Christian's possessions I remark, in the first place, that he owns this world. My text implies it, and the preceding verse asserts it—"whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas or the world." Now it would be an absurd thing to suppose that God would give to strangers privileges and advantages which he would deny his own children. If you have a large park, a grand mansion, beautiful fountains, strolling deer, and statuary, to whom will you give the first right to all these possessions? To outsiders? No, to your own children. You will say, "It will be very well for outsiders to come in and walk on these paths and enjoy this landscape, but the first right to my house, and the first right to my statutory, the first right to my gardens shall be in the possession of my own children."

Now, this world is God's park, and while he allows those who are not his children and who refuse his authority the privilege of walking through the gardens, the possession of all this grandeur of park and mansion is in the right of the Christian—the flowers, the diamonds, the silver, the gold, the morning brightness and the evening shadow. The Christian may not have the title deed to one acre of land as recorded in the Clerk's office, he may never have paid one dollar of taxes, but he can go up on a mountain and look off upon fifty miles of grain field and say, "All this is mine; my Father gave it me." "All are yours."

A lawyer is sometimes required to search titles, and the client who thinks he has a good right to an estate puts the papers in his hands, and the lawyer goes into the public records, and finds everything right for three or four or five years back; but after awhile he comes to a break in the title, to a deficit, to a diversion of the property; so he finds out that the man who supposed he owned it owns not an acre of the ground, while somebody else has the full right to the entire estate. Now, I examine the title to all earthly possessions. I go back a little way, and I find that men of the world—bad men, selfish men, wicked men—think they have a right to all these possessions; but I go farther back, and I trace the title from year to year, and from century to century, until I find the whole right vested in God. Now, to whom did he give it? To his own children! "All are yours."

The simple fact is that in the last days of the world all the architecture, all the cities, all the mountains, all the villages will be in the possession of the church of Christ. "The meek shall inherit the earth." Ships of Tarshish shall bring presents. "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." "All are yours." "But," you say, "what satisfaction is there in that when I haven't possession of them?" These things will come before the Supreme Judge of the Universe, and he will regulate the title, and he will eject these squatters upon the property that does not belong to them, and it shall be found that "All are yours."

So again, the refinements of life are the Christian's right. He has a right to as good apparel, to as beautiful adornments, to as commodious a residence as the worldling. Show me any passage in the Bible that tells the people of the world they have privileges, they have glittering spheres, they have beneficent apparel that are denied the Christian. There is no one who has so much right to laugh, none so much a right to everything that is beautiful and grand and sublime in life as the Christian. "All all yours." Can it be possible that one who is reckless and sinful, and has no treasures laid up in Heaven, is to be allowed pleasures which the sons and daughters of God, the owners of the whole universe, are denied?

So I remark that all the sweet sounds of the world are in the Christian's right. There are people who have an idea that instruments of music are inappropriate in the Christian's parlor. When did the house of sin or the theatrical get the right to music? They have no right to it. God, in my text, makes over to the Christian people all the pianos, all the harps, all the drums, all the cornets, all the organs. People of the world may borrow them, but they only borrow them; they have no right or title to them. God gave them to Christian people in my text when he said, "All are yours."

David no more certainly owned the harp with which he thrummed the praises of God than the church of Christ owns now all the chants, all anthems, all ivory keyboards, all organ diapasons, and God will gather up these sweet sounds after awhile, and he will mingle them in one great harmony, and the Mendelssohns, and the Beethovens, and the Mozarts of the earth will join their voices and their musical instruments, and soft south wind and loud lunged euroclydon will sweep the great organ pipes, and you shall see God's hand striking the keys and God's foot tramping the pedals in the great oratorio of the ages!

So all artistic and literary advantages are in the Christian's right. I do not care on whose wall the picture hangs or on whose pedestal the sculpture stands, it belongs to Christians. The Bierstrads and the churches are all working for us. "All are yours." The Luxembourg, the Louvre, all the galleries of Naples and Rome and Venice—they are all to come into the possession of the church of Jesus Christ. We may not now have them on our walls, but the time will come when the writ of ejectment will be served and the church will possess everything. All parks, all fish-ponds all colors, all harvests—all, "all are yours."

Secondly, I remark that the right to full temporal support is in the Christian's name. It is a great affair to feed the world. Just think of the fact that this morning sixteen hundred millions of our race breakfasted at God's table. The commissary department of a hundred thousand men in an army will engage scores of people; but just think of a commissary department of a world! Think of the gathering up from the rice swamps, and the tea fields, and the orchards, and the fisheries! No one but God could tell how many bushels it would take to feed five continents.

Then to clothe all these people—how many furs must be captured, and how much flax broken, and how much cotton picked. Just think of the infinite wardrobe where sixteen hundred millions of people get their clothes! God spreads the table first of all for his children. Of course that would be a very selfish man who would not allow other people to come and sit at his table sometimes, but first of all the right is given to Christian people, and therefore it is extremely folly for them ever to fret about food or raiment.

Who fed the whales sporting off Cape Hatteras this morning? Out of whose hand did the cormorant pick its food? Whose loom wove the butterfly's wing? Who hears the hawk's cry? If God takes care of a walrus, and a Siberian eagle, and a waip, will he not take care of you? Will a father have more regard for reptiles than for his sons and daughters? If God clothes the grizzly bear, and the panther, and the hyena, will he not clothe his own children? Come, then, this morning and get the key of the infinite storehouse. Come and get the key of the infinite wardrobe. Here they are—all the keys. "All are yours."

So all the vicissitudes of this life, so far as they have any religious profit, are in the right of the Christian. If you should stand among the Alleghany mountains, especially near what is called the "Horseshoe," you would find a train of cars almost doubling on itself, and sitting in the back car you see a locomotive coming as you look out of the window, and you think it is another train when it is only the front of the train in which you are riding, and sometimes you can hardly tell whether the train is going toward Pittsburgh or toward Philadelphia, but it is on the track and it will reach the depot for which it started and all the passengers will be discharged at the right place. Now there are a great many sharp curves in life.

Sometimes we seem to be going this way and sometimes we seem to be going that way, but if we are Christians we are on the right track and we are going to come out at the right place. Do not get worried, then, about the sharp curve. A sailing vessel starts from New York for Glasgow. Does it go in a straight line? Oh, no. It changes its tack every little while. Now you say, "This vessel instead of going to Glasgow must be going to Havre, or it is going to Hamburg, or it is going to Marseilles." No, no. It is going to Glasgow. And in this voyage of life we often have to change our tack. One storm blows us this way and another storm blows us that way, but he who holds the winds in his fist will bring us into a haven of everlasting rest just at the right time. Do not worry, then, if you have to change tack.

One of the best things that ever happened to Paul was being thrown off his horse. One of the best things that ever happened to Joseph was being thrown into the pit. The losing of his physical eyesight helped John Milton to see the battle of the angels. One of the best things that ever happened to Ignatius was being thrown to the wild beasts in the Coliseum, and while 80,000 people were jeering at his religion he walked up to the ferret of all the lions and looked him in the eye, as much as to say, "Here I am, ready to be devoured for Christ's sake." All things work together for your good. If you walk the desert the manna will fall and the sea will part.

If the feverish torch of sickness is kindled over your pillow, by its light you can read the promises. If the waves of trouble dash high above your grille, across the blast and across the surge you can hear the promise, "When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee." You never owned a glove, or a shoe, or a hat, or a coat more certainly than you own all the trets and annoyances and exasperations of this life, and they are bound to work out your eternal good. They are the saws, the hammers, the files by which you are to be hewn and cut and smoothed for your eternal well being.

Here is a vessel that goes along the coast; it hugs the coast. The captain of that vessel seems chiefly anxious to keep the point on his ship from being marred or the sails from being torn. When that vessel comes to port nobody looks on it with any interest. But here is a vessel that went across the sea with vast product and comes in with vast importation—sails patched, masts spliced, pumps all working to keep out the water; it has come through the hurricane which has sunk twenty steamers. The bronzed men are cheering among the rigging. Now the men-of-war anchored in the harbor boom forth their welcome through the portholes.

So there are some Christians who are having an easy time. It seems to them smooth sailing all the way. When they get into Heaven there will be no excitement. There will be very few people who will ever find out they are there. But those Christians who have gone through a hundred midnight hurricanes—storms to the right of them, storms to the left of them, storm all the way—when they come up the harbor of heaven all the redeemed will turn out to greet them and welcome.

I go further and tell you that the Christian owns not only this world, but he owns the next world. No chasin to be leaped, no desert to be crossed. There is the wall, there is the gate of Heaven. He owns all on this side. Now I am going to show you that he owns all on the other side. Death is not a ruffian that comes down to burn us out of house and home, destroying the house of the tabernacle so that we should be homeless forever. Oh, no! He is only a black messenger, who comes to tell us it is time to move; to tell us to get out of this hut and go up into the palace. The Christian owns all Heaven. "All are yours." Its palaces of beauty, its towers of strength, its castles of love. He will not wall in the eternal city as a foreigner in a strange city, but as a farmer walks over his own premises.

"All are yours." All the mansions yours. Angels your companions. Trees of life your shade. Hills of glory your lookout. Thrones of Heaven the place where you will shout the triumph. Jesus is yours. God is yours. You look up into the face of God and say "My father." You look up into the face of Jesus and say, "My brother." Walk out on the battlements of Heaven and look off upon the city of the sun. No tears. No sorrow. No death. No smoke of tolling warehouse curling on the air. No voice of blasphemy thrilling through that bright, clear Sabbath morning. No din of strife jarring the air. Then take out your deed, and remember that from throne to throne, and from wall to wall, and from horizon to horizon, "All are yours."

Then get up into the temple of the sun, worshippers in white, each with a palm branch, and from high gallery of that temple look down upon the thousands of thousands, and the ten thousand times ten thousand, and the one hundred and forty and four thousand, and the great "multitude that no man can number," and louder than the rush of the wheels, louder than the tramp of the redeemed, hear a voice saying, "All are yours!" See the great procession marching around the throne of God. Martyrs who went up on wings of flame. Invalids who went up from couches of distress. Tilters who went up from the workhouse and the factory and the mine. All the suffering and the bruised children of God. See the chariots of salvation; in them those who were, more than conquerors. See them marching around about the throne of God forever and forever, and know that "all are yours!"

O ye who have pains of body that exhaust your strength and wear out your patience, I hold before you this morning the land of eternal health and of imperishable beauty and "all is yours!" O ye who have hard work to get your daily bread, hard work to shelter your children from the storm, I lift before you the vision of that land where they never hunger, and they never thirst, and God feeds them, and robes cover them, and the warmth of eternal love fills them, and all that is yours!

O ye whose hearts are buried in the grave of your dead—O ye whose happiness went by long ago—O ye who mourn for countenances that never will light up and for eyes closed forever—sit no longer among the tombs, but look here! A home that shall never be broken up. Green fields never cleft of the grave. Ransomed one from you parted long ago now radiant with joy that shall never cease, and a love that shall never grow cold, and wearing garments that shall never wither, and know all that is yours. Yours the love. Yours the acclaim. Yours the transport. Yours the cry of the four and twenty elders. Yours the choir of cherubim. Yours the lamb that was slain.

In the vision of that glorious consummation I almost lose my foothold, and have to hold fast lest I be overborne by the glory. The vision rose before St. John on Patmos, and he saw Christ in a blood red garment, riding on a white horse, and all Heaven following Him on white horses. What a procession! Let Jesus ride. He walked the way footsore weary and faint. Now let Him ride. While horse of victory, tear on our cheek! Hosanna to the Son of David! Ride on, Jesus! Let all Heaven follow Him. These cavalry of God fought well and they fought triumphantly. Now let them be mounted. The pavements of gold ring under the flying hoofs. Swords sheathed and victories won, like conquerors they sit on their chargers. Ye mounted troops of God, ride on! ride on! ten thousand abreast, cavalcade after cavalcade. No blood dashed to the lips. No blood dripping from the fetlocks. No smoke of battle breathed from the nostril. The battle is ended—the victory won!

Oh, if there be any present who are yet enemies of the cross of Christ, I beseech them at once to be reconciled to God! Remember if you are not found among that white robed army who follow the Saviour in His victorious march your part must be with those concerning whom it is said, "The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from Heaven in flaming fire, taking vengeance on those that know not God, and obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of His power, when He shall come to be glorified in His saints, and to be admired in all them that believe."

Men of Weight.

A correspondent who noticed a paragraph in the New York Tribune, alluding to Daniel Lambert, an Englishman, who, at the time of his death, weighed 739 pounds, as probably the fattest man on record, sent to that office a printed death notice, in which a Mrs. Amelia Brooks, of St. Louis, is said to have weighed between 900 and 1,000 pounds. He also sent a newspaper clipping, copied from the West Tennessee Whig in 1866, announcing the death of Mr. Miles Darden at his residence near Lexington, and thus describing him: "The deceased was beyond all question the largest man in the world. His height was seven feet six inches—two inches higher than Porter, the celebrated Kentucky giant. His weight was a fraction over 1,000 pounds. It required seventeen men to put him in his coffin; took over a 100 feet to make his coffin. He measured around his waist six feet four inches."

The Philadelphia Ledger, after much thought, has come to the conclusion that sins of omission are the foundation of the sins of commission; "for," it says, "if all the world only did what duty demanded there would be neither time or inclination for ill-doing." That is, if we all did what we should we wouldn't do what we shouldn't! A solid chunk of wisdom.

The editor had evidently been putting on a new pair of stockings when he wrote: "We have just seen a new thing in shoes."

What Your Great Grandmother Did.

She hatched the flax and carded the wool, and wove the linen, and spun the tow, and made the clothes for her husband and ten children. She made butter and cheese, she dipped tallow candles, to light the house at night, and she cooked all the food for her household by an open fire place and a brick oven. Yes, and when she was forty years of age, she was already an old lady whose best days were over. Her shoulders were bent and her joints enlarged by hard work, and she wore spectacles and a cap.

Her great granddaughter, with all the modern conveniences for comfort, refinement and luxury, may be as charming and attractive as forty-five at twenty. Especially is this true if she preserves her health by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which wards off all female ailments and irregularities, cures them if they already exist, keeps the life current healthful and vigorous, and enables the woman of middle age to retain the freshness of girlhood upon brow and cheek, the light of youth in her eyes, and its elasticity in her step.

Go to your drug store, pay a dollar, get a bottle and try it—try a second, a third if necessary. Before the third one's been taken you'll know that there's a remedy to help you. Then you'll keep on and a cure'll come. But if you shouldn't feel the help, should be disappointed in the results—you'll find a guarantee printed on the bottle-wrapper that'll get your money back for you. Can you ask more!

Thousands of women have been benefited by Mrs. Finkham's advice, and cured by her remedies after all other treatment had failed. Lydia E. LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malaria, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try SSS. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever. J. A. RICK, Ottawa, Kan.

WHAT OF THE WEATHER

FOSTER'S FORECASTS TELL THE STORY.

The Weather Will Continue Very Warm—Drouth in the Cotton Belt—Winter Will Be Late and Fall Wheat Should Be Sown Late.

Meteorological Matters.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 17th to 21st, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 22d, cross the Western mountains by the close of the 23d, the great central valleys from 24th to 26th, and the Eastern States about the 27th.

The weather will continue to average very warm, and the principal storm waves and rainfalls will range northward. Portions of the cotton belt will suffer greatly from drouth, while in some of the Upper Mississippi Valley States excessive rains will occur.

A good stage of water for navigation purposes will continue in the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers.

In the Northern States the time for fall plowing is near at hand, and the ground is expected to be in good condition, with moisture sufficient to give fall sown crops a good start. Winter will come late, we will have a late fall, and the winter crops will make a large growth before the first of December, therefore where a large growth of fall wheat is not desired, it will be best to sow late.

In the Southern States the weather will be more favorable to winter gardening than last winter was.

Local Forecasts.

Weather changes move from west to east across the continent, and each local forecast is made for within 250 miles east and west of the magnetic meridian mentioned, and for all the country between 25 and 50 degrees of north latitude. These local weather changes will occur within twenty-four hours before or after sunset of the dates given:

The Earth's Geology.

If the atmosphere at one time contained all the carbon now stored away in the earth, it is claimed that plant life would then have grown 1,000 times more rapidly than now, because carbon, in the condition of carbonic acid, is the food of plants. That may be true, but I do not believe it.

The sunshine is necessary to the growth of plant life, but too much sunshine will kill the plant. Water is necessary to plant life, but too much water will destroy it. Carbonic acid is necessary to plant life, but let us increase the amount now in the atmosphere 1,000 times, and who will say that it would not destroy plant life?

The Upan valley in Java is not necessarily a desert, but as no vegetable grows there, it is believed that the carbonic acid, which is eighteen feet deep, is the cause of its bare fields.

Things are not what they seem. The beautiful evening star we see following the sun as it sinks in the west is as bright as any of the blazing orbs that are supposed to be on fire, but none of our astronomers hold that Venus is a burning world. In fact there is no proof that any of the planets contain more heat than does the earth, while it is well known that Jupiter and Saturn shine, to some extent, of their own light. In fact, the earth shines of its own light, and these lights will yet be recognized as of the same nature as the inherent light of Jupiter, Saturn and the sun.

Every astronomer declares that the moon is a burned out, dead body, devoid of water, and without an atmosphere, a cold and decaying world. But Prof. Proctor says that the moon has a perceptible influence on our magnetic needles, and as magnetism is the source of light and heat, the magnetism, light and heat of our earth are affected by the cold, dead moon.

Then it is not necessary that the sun be a hot body, for its magnetism is all sufficient to produce the light and heat in our atmosphere. The supposed inherent heat of the sun is what leads geologists to the theory that the earth was once a burning body, as the sun now is.

We cannot have a correct basis for weather changes (I'll arrive at a correct theory as to the physical forces and the building of a universe, and all my arguments on geology and physics astronomy are directed toward the overthrow of the false basis upon which these two sciences are placed. When I shall have shown the earth could not have come to its present condition along the lines pointed out by astronomers and geologists, I will then put forth the only true basis on which to build the sciences of physical astronomy, geology, and meteorology.

BLOWING UP BRIDGES.

WORK OF THE RIOTOUS IDAHO MINERS.

Troops Are Delayed—Threats of a Massacre of Non-Union Men if Soldiers Approach—Mines Charged with Dynamite and Fuses Attached.

Preparing to Fight.

A Boise City (Idaho) dispatch says: Gov. Willey has issued a proclamation placing Shoshone County under martial law. Word has been received that three companies of Federal troops from Missoula have arrived at Mullan. The other troops have not been heard from. Adjt. Gen. Curtis, who is in command for the State and who went to Coeur d'Alene in advance of the outbreak, has not been heard from and it is feared that he has fallen into the hands of the strikers. A dispatch to the Governor from Judge Heyburn at Spokane says that union men drove 132 non-union miners out, firing on them and killing two.

At Portland, Ore., the Union Pacific Company has received word from Coeur d'Alene that the Northern Pacific railroad bridge, together with several hundred feet of track, was blown up by strikers west of Mullan. The company is preparing to take all non-union men out of the mines to Tekoa. The union men assert that the moment troops appear on the scene they will blow up Bunker Hill, Sullivan, Sierra Nevada and Gem mines. The burning of the bridge near Mullan will hold troops there, unless they march on foot to Wallace and Wardner, a distance of about ten miles. It is now reported that the union men have taken Van B. Delashunt of Portland, William Sweeney and other mine owners and will hold them as hostages until the trouble is settled. It is reported that the telegraph wires to Wardner have been cut.

Superintendent Dickinson of the Northern Pacific telegraphed the Governor from Tacoma that their tracks and bridges have been destroyed in the vicinity of Mullan and Wallace, and that wires have been cut. They will hold the county responsible. Another message to the Governor says that several non-union men have been blown up and that the union men propose to fight the troops to the death.

A special train over the Union Pacific left Portland, bearing 200 troops of the Fourteenth Infantry from Van Couver, Washington, for Coeur d'Alene mines. A special train over the Union Pacific arrived at Pendleton, bearing troops from Idaho. Two companies have left Fort Sherman for the scene of the trouble. In all about 700 United States troops and militia are on their way to the mines.

Gen. Schofield has ordered additional troops to the Coeur d'Alene district four companies of infantry from Fort Spokane, Washington, a troop of cavalry and six companies of infantry from Vancouver barracks, Washington. These troops, with those previously ordered from Fort Sherman and Fort Missoula, will give Col. Cartin an active force of nearly 800 men.

WILL CLOSE SUNDAY.

The Senate Takes Decisive Action in the Matter.

The United Senate, by a vote of 51 to 14, has approved the $5,000,000 appropriation in aid of the World's Fair. Attached to the appropriation is the following important proviso:

"That the appropriation provided in this act shall be upon condition that the said World's Columbian Exposition shall be closed on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday."

Another condition of equal importance has been attached, although it is likely to be struck out on a reconsideration. It is as follows:

"Provided the sale of intoxicating liquor on the Exposition grounds shall be prohibited, except for medical, botanical, or scientific purposes."

The final contest on the World's Fair items came up in the Senate Wednesday afternoon as the climax to the three successive days of debate which have been given the subject. Through a fiction of the Senate the bill was not before the Senate itself, but before the "committee of the whole" for preliminary revision and amendments. It was in this committee of the whole that the important action was taken, so that there is still opportunity for change when the committee of the whole reports to the full Senate. The votes were so decisive, however, that there is no possibility of change upon the $5,000,000 appropriation or upon the Sunday question.

According to a Washington dispatch, there is a certainty that an effort will be made to strike out the liquor prohibition, and, as this was passed by only two majority, the prospects are that the prohibition will be eliminated. The two Illinois Senators who voted for the liquor prohibition have determined to change their votes, which is sufficient to change the narrow majority which was given on the first vote.

Femininities.

We hear of men sowing wild oats, but who ever heard of a woman sowing anything but tares.

Jay Gould's Friends.

He bore every evidence of the species tramp, and he was plodding his unsteady way up 17th street as aimlessly as a mariner without a compass. He had reached the corner of Champs when he was accosted by an ebony-hued polisher of kangaroo with:

"Shine, air, shine? A good shine for a nickel."

He paused in his amble, and gazing first at the bootblack with a look of withering scorn and then at a pair of ancient brogans, from which ten dirty toes protruded, said:

"Look ahere, young feller, I come tro' Peabody las' week, an' Jay Gould give me dem shoes, an' anybody wot knows Jay knows he don't wear no assine sale shoes. D'y'e tink I'd insult me old frien' Jay by gettin' a five-cent shine on dem? 'Sides, you're outta' de rates."

And he glided up the street, stopped a block above and cast a look of mingled indignation and contempt in the direction of the thoroughly squelched manipulator of the brush and dauber.—Denver Times.

Performed a Remarkable Feat.

A noble shepherd dog, the property of Joseph Langin, of 619 Souldard street, performed a remarkable feat the other afternoon that entitles it to wear a medal for bravery. The brave animal plunged from the foot of Souldard street into the raging torrent of the Mississippi, and seizing a drowning man by collar of his coat swam with him to the shore, thus saving him from certain death.

The rescued man was Joseph Reinert, 21 years of age, who resides in the same house with Langin. Reinert had been drinking hard and playing cards with Langin. Some words passed between them, and Reinert, who had become very morose, vowed that he would commit suicide. He left the house and ran down to the river. Langin followed, but by the time he arrived on the levee, Reinert had plunged into the water and was being swept rapidly from view. Langin was helpless to save him, as he could not swim, but his dog, who had followed behind, plunged in and reached Reinert just as he was disappearing.—St. Louis Republic.

Maternal Wiping of Boys' Noses.

Does a mother ever lose an opportunity to wipe her boy's nose? When she dresses him up and starts him to Sunday-school, the last thing she does after telling him to behave himself is to wipe his nose. When he speaks a place at school his mother is usually there, and after telling him not to be afraid she wipes his nose. When there is company, just before the boy appears in the room his mother disappears for a moment—she has been wiping his nose. Sometimes she looks for his own handkerchief for the purpose, with a view of discovering whether he has lost it, but as a rule she uses her apron. After the boy becomes 8 or 9 years old his mother often says, while rubbing his face with her apron: "You are becoming big enough to wipe your own nose." It is not known at what age mothers quit this habit, but it is known that boys feel very much more important when their mothers quit wiping their noses.—Atholion Globe.

Opening the Canal.

The most acceptable proposition that can be made to persons troubled with chronic constipation is to open that important canal—the bowels. That proposition can be carried out by the parties interested if they resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most effective, most genial alterative extant. It is the mistake of many otherwise sensible people, that they resort to drastic, or, in other words, violent purgatives. Without exaggeration, this is highly injurious, since such medicaments weaken the bowels besides convulsing both them and the stomach with pain. Relief sought from the Bitters comes freely enough, but they never produce pain, excessive action, or subsequent weakness of the bowels. Liver and kidney trouble, malaria, dyspepsia, lack of stamina and a tendency to rheumatism, are remedied by this pleasant substitute for drenching cathartics.

Columbian Tributes.

The United States will be foremost, but by no means alone, in celebrating the discovery of America by Columbus. The event will also be duly honored in the West Indies, South America and Spain; and the South American States propose to erect a monument to the great navigator on the summit of the "Sugarloaf," a granite peak near Rio Janeiro. The chief descendant of Columbus, the Duke of Veragua, a grandee of Spain, has offered a prize of $6,000 for the best history of his illustrious ancestor.

Gratitude.

A physician in this vicinity, says the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, was recently called to a family which he found in such destitute circumstances that he gave, in addition to his prescription, a five-dollar bill. Happening in the next day, he discovered that his gift had been thus spent: three dollars to the priest and two dollars to get another doctor.

This is the statement that one finds in every newspaper nowadays. It will be repeated a great many times during this heated term, because people will be so foolish as to drink too much ice water while they are overheated. Annual Report of the Superintendent of Public Schools.

To the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor herewith to submit to you the following annual report for the school year '91-'92:

Total enrollment in all departments..... 1,335

Number received by transfer..... 194

Net enrollment..... 1,141

Average number belonging..... 908

Per cent of attendance..... 93

Number belonging June 24, '92..... 955

Total tardiness..... 1,727

Number suspended..... 2

Number cases corporal punishment (reported)..... 39

Ditto by members of Board..... 89

Number of other visits..... 568

" " neither absent nor tardy..... 15

" " non-residents..... 15

The year just ended has been a decidedly successful one for all the departments of the schools. There has been an increase of enrollment of 126 over that of last year.

A new department was added—the Kindergarten. At first there was some feeling among patrons that this was a venture that would not prove successful. But we are happy to affirm that the results spoke for themselves, and long before the year closed the Kindergarten had satisfied many of the doubtful mind, and those most familiar with the work are gratified with general results.

We would suggest one thing that was lacking in this department, namely, a proper amount of assistance to the regular teacher. There should be at least one person to every thirty pupils to act as an assistant, and who could be a cadet in the schools. This assistance should be secured, if need be, by offering a slight remuneration. The best results desired make this indispensable.

The crowded condition of the rooms below the High School has been, especially in the spring term, a great hindrance to the best work. This has caused an unfortunate condition to appear in at least half of the rooms above referred to, namely the necessity of more than one grade, or part of grades, being seated in a single room. Had there been sufficient room capacity and another teacher employed at the beginning of the spring term, this unfortunate condition might have been largely avoided. This of course will remind you of the urgent need of more room being provided for the ensuing year.

The work in the High School has in the main been very gratifying. The total enrollment has reached 59, and there was an average number of 50 belonging. The per cent of attendance was 92. A deeper interest seems to have developed, and the prospects are very good for a continuance of success in that department.

All other departments have equally well struggled and won in the good fight for an education.

Respectfully submitted,
S. E. HIGGINS, Supt.

PETITIONS AND ACCOUNTS.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Holland.

GENTLEMEN:

Your petitioners respectfully request and petition your honorable body to extend the time for laying sidewalk along the east side of River street in front of lot 6 in block 40, until January 1st, 1893. This we request because in complying with the order to lay said sidewalk at the present time our plating mill will have to shut down, and part of the machinery therein moved, and during this present busy season it would put us to great expense and loss. And your petitioners will ever pray.

Dated this 19th day of July 1892.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The committee on poor reported, presenting the semi-monthly report of the director of the poor and old committee, recommending $23.50 for the support of the poor for the two weeks ending August 2nd, 1892, and a having rendered temporary aid to the amount of six dollars.

—Approved and warrants ordered issued on the city treasurer for the several amounts as recommended.

To the Honorable the Mayor and the Common Council of the City of Holland.

GENTLEMEN: Your committee on public health to whom was referred the resolution of M. Van Putten against the construction of a sewer along Market street, beg leave to report that they have had the same under careful consideration and find that the only ground of objection urged by said Van Putten is that the public health might be affected by the discharge at the outlet of said sewer.

Your committee find that the license granted by your honorable body carefully guards against any danger to the public health, and that if at any time the discharge is not properly taken care of the license granted can be revoked by your honorable body.

Your committee therefore recommend that the petition be not granted.

Sowing the Wind—Reaping the Whirlwind.

No one can read the frightful details of the first batch of reported with a week in Southern States, with six victims, without realizing the lamentable plight into which Southern courts have fallen, though Southerners have it in their power to establish any system of justice they please.

In Vicksburg two negroes were dragged from jail and thence from the court room and hanged, the local powers refusing to defend the poor wretches.

The victim of a mob in Clay County, Ala., "went the usual way," the dispatches laconically report; while in Jasper, Ala., 300 men and dogs pursued an untried and unconvicted Negro through the streets for blocks, until he fell riddled with bullets.

This lawlessness works woe to all concerned. Mobs provoke mobs, as illustrated in the restlessness of the negroes at Jacksonville, who are arming. Crime breeds crime, and violence will go on in cumulative ratio until reason and justice guide the actions of men. The men of the South are sowing the wind and will reap the whirlwind.
