THE MARKETS.

Wheat 48 cents.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Van Putten Friday—a daughter.
More census items: Charlotte 4,351, Coldwater 5,264, Flint 10,422, Hillsdale 4,121.
The sailing-yacht Bon Ami went from here to Saugatuck, where she was hauled out and re-caulked.
Peaches are ripe and if you want to see a big lot of them go to South Haven next Tuesday afternoon, on the Stmr. Music.
C. Blom Jr. has the agency for the sale of the Minnesota flour known as "Pillsbury's Best XXXX." See adv. in another column.
Mrs. Jan Hoekstra, aged 62 years, died Sunday afternoon. The funeral took place Tuesday, from the residence on Thirteenth street.
Saturday evening there will be a free dance in the casino at Ottawa Beach. The stmr. Music will leave Bradshaw's dock at 7:30 p. m., and remain until after the dance.
M. Notjer has bought out the grocery stock of Fred Zalsman, and the latter will now open a new stock in the Vennema building, Eighth street, lately occupied by Dr. Schouten.
The prompt application of burdock leaves in the case of the nine-year old son of M. B. Fooks of the Lake Shore, who was bitten by a snake on entering a chicken coop, is said to have saved that boy's life.
The agitation of removing county seats seems to be contagious. No sooner has Berrien county passed through the ordeal, with success, but what Van Buren county has caught the infection and a movement is said to be in foot to remove the county seat from Paw Paw to Hartford.
County Supt. Diekema visited the infirmary Monday, and reports an increase of inmates, the present number being 38. The crops on the farm look good. Hay is very good. Wheat fair. The superintendents have been compelled to place two iron cells upon the premises, to be used for an occasional unwieldy inmate.
John Reed and John Wilson, apparently tramps, if nothing worse, were sent to the county jail Thursday on a 15 days sentence each, for "picking up" a chisel that belonged to Bernardus Riksen, who resides on the Zeeland road. The Johnnies sold the chisel to a carpenter that works on Prof. Yntema's new residence for a quarter, and this led to their arrest.
The new board of directors of the O. C. B. & L. Association organized Tuesday by electing the following officers:
President—George Ballard. Vice President—B. J. Scott. Secretary—C. A. Stevenson. Assistant Secretary—M. L. Thurber. Treasurer—C. Ver Schure. Attorney—C. A. Stevenson. Consulting Attorney—G. J. Diekema.
Dr. F. J. Schouten has moved into his new drug store in the First Ward, and once more feels at home. If some more of the First Ward businessmen would imitate the doctor in this respect and replace their old rookeries with more modern buildings, the First Ward would soon assume a different aspect. Will Van der Veere is about to follow suit, and the excavation is made for a new two-story brick meat market, adjoining his present one.
"A Chicago man has bought 60 acres of land in Robinson township, this county, for $50,000, and will establish a dairy and stock farm."
The above item is making the rounds in the state press. True, the township of Robinson, the poorest town in the county, is experiencing some new growth, but the absurdity of the above figures will be best realized when it is considered that the entire real estate valuation of the township last year did not exceed $75,000.
Shade trees are a source of never failing enjoyment to dwellers in a town and no town can be beautiful without them. How refreshing their shade in summer, and the dreariness of winter is rendered less desolate by their presence. A shaded avenue is a much more desirable place of residence than one which lacks this adornment. Property is more valuable of this street and houses will command a higher rent or price. The dwellings are more pretentious, the lawns are green and smoothly shaven, and beds of flowers and bunches of scrubby bear witness to the friendly rivalry among the dwellers to excel in the beautiful. In some places a bounty of fifty cents is paid by the towns for each and every shade tree planted.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Louis P. Ernst has been re-engaged as principal of the Coopersville school.

Fruitport has nearly doubled in population since 1890, and now has 1,443 people within its boundaries.

Coopersville Observer: Benjamin Lillie and wife, of New Liberia, La., are expected in town to-day, to remain about a month to visit friends and relatives.

The Buss machine works at Benton Harbor will not run for some time. The reason for shutting down is said to be a shortage of fuel. Fifty men are thrown out of employment.

Prof. H. Dosker has bought a frontage on Thirteenth street, west of J. C. Post, and architect Price is drawing the plans for a fine residence, to be completed this fall. Plans will be ready next week.

The blackberry crop in Ottawa and Muskegon counties has commenced to ripen. This is ten days earlier than usual and is due to the extremely hot and dry time. Rain is needed badly to swell the berries to their usual size.

Benton Harbor shipped the first peaches on the 13th, and South Haven on the 15th. Judging from the reports all along the fruit belt, the further south this year the larger the crop. This is charged up as one of the effects of that cold snap.

Zeeland Expositor: After a two week's absence the EXPOSITOR comes to you under a new management. Mr. Potts will for the present, at least, retain an active as well as a financial interest in its welfare. It is rumored that Zeeland will indulge in the luxury of two newspapers.

Dr. Amos Barlow, secretary and state superintendent of the Children's Home Society, St. Joseph, passed through the city Monday, on his way home from Zeeland, where he spent Sunday in placing the object and work of the Society before the people, with such success that in due course of time a local board will be organized there. The doctor informs us that since the society was organized 113 abandoned children have been received and, with the exception of 5, been placed in good, christian homes.

The old idea of raising a mound over the graves in cemeteries has given place to another. In modern cemeteries the graves are left flat, as the burial place is usually marked by a head stone. The old idea of raising the graves was for the purpose of marking the place of burial. Leaving the graves flat is better because it gives the cemetery a more uniform appearance, and then there is not so much difficulty in keeping graves and shrubs green, as the soil does not dry out as it does when it is raised in a mound.—Ex.

Allegan Gazette—Rev. W. P. Law has tendered his resignation as rector of the Episcopal church, to take effect Sept. 1. He will at that date become general missionary of that denomination for this diocese, with residence at either Grand Rapids or Holland. During Mr. Law's pastorate of nearly seven years, his church has prospered in membership and otherwise, and his removal from our village will be regretted by many others besides his flock. He has at all times shown himself to be a courteous gentleman as well as an exemplary Christian worker.

We are now in the Dogs Days and will be until the 11th of August. They get their name from the fact that Sirius, the brightest star in the constellation of the Great Dog, and called the Dog Star, on these days rises and sets with the sun. You can see Sirius any winter night. It is a beautiful bluish star as bright as Jupiter, and rises soon after Orion, the great giant who has stars for a belt and stars for a sword. The ancients who did not know enough to discover that the world was round, took notice that the days when the dog star kept pace with the sun they had the greatest heat, and they thought, therefore, that this star produced it.—Ex.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence, they are then responsible.

CONCERNING DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS:

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can have arrested any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and to send a postal notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine.

Long May It Wave!

It may not have been generally realized that on the Fourth of July of this year a new star was added to the galaxy of stars in the bluefield of the national flag, to represent the young state of Idaho, admitted July 3, 1894. It is generally understood that a new star is added with the admission of each state, but it is not, perhaps, so generally known that the addition is not made until the Fourth day of July following the act of admission. The law provides that "On the admission of a new state to the union one star shall be added to the union of the flag; and such addition shall take effect on the Fourth day of July then next succeeding such admission." Thus, though Idaho was admitted on July 3, 1894, it was too late to formally and officially add the forty-fourth star to the flag until the Fourth of July just passed. In this connection it may not be amiss to state that the stars when properly placed on the blue field are now arranged in six rows, the top and bottom rows containing eight stars and the four intervening rows seven stars each, thus making forty-four. This arrangement was arrived at by agreement of the war and navy departments.

The next star to be added, the forty-fifth, will be for Utah. It is conceded that the proposed constitution will be ratified by its people at the November election in 1895.

This table shows the dates of the admission of the states that were not included in the formation of the Union:

The Late Geo. W. Curtis on the Puritan.

At Edgehill, the Cavalier fought for privilege; the Puritan for the people. The struggle was fierce and long, and when the smoke of battle rolled away Puritanism remained bivouacked upon the field. But its complete victory was reserved for another country and another continent.

The old Puritanism was doubtless gloomy and severe—the tree that bore the rosy and delicate fruit of American liberty was knotted and gnarled. The Puritan policy at home defended civil and religious liberty against despotism mitred as a Bishop and crowned as a King. Across the sea it planted the rocks of New England with the seed of popular liberty and equal rights. The harvest is as vigorous as the soil, for freedom is a rude plant and loves the cooler latitudes.

In the auspicious air of a new continent the Puritan spirit became modified and enlarged. Out of strength came forth sweetness. Government by church members became government by the people. John Pym became James Otis. The larger and generous Puritanism of America inspired a revolution. They were Puritan guns whose echo is endless upon Bunker Hill. It was the Puritan spirit that spoke in Declaration of Independence. It was the Puritan will that shook the hand of the Cavalier Burgoyne from the Hudson. It was the Puritan idea that Cornwallis surrendered to at Yorktown, and eighty-three years later it was the Cavalier who again surrendered to the Puritan under the Appomattox apple tree.

Those stern, sad men in peaked hats, who prayed in camp and dispensed love-locks, and at whom fribbles in politics laugh and sneer to-day, were the indomitable vanguard of moral and political freedom. If they snuffed in prayer, they smote in fight; if they sang through their noses, the hymn they chanted was liberty; if they aimed at a divine monarchy, they have founded the freest, the most enlightened, the most prosperous, the most powerful republic in history.

Henry Ward Beecher on Monopolies.

The power is tending from the individual to the corporation. I can remember when there were 10,000 looms in private houses in New England; now there are none, and all textile fabrics are made in factories. The individual become powerless before the gigantic monopolies created by force of wealth.

Suppose a man wishes to invest $100,000 in oil refining, the Standard Oil company says to him: "Sell out to us" or "divide your profits with us. If you don't, we will crush you. If he says this is a free country, they reply it is as free for the corporation as for the individual. The Standard Oil company is like twenty Egyptian pyramids in a bunch, each with a Pharaoh on it. It is the most gigantic combination on the face of the earth, and it is not a whit better because one of the best men in it is a leading member of a Baptist church in Brooklyn.

There are five or ten men who control 10,000 miles of railroad in the lines of travel and transportation, and so have billions upon billions of property under their authority, and a clutch on the very throat of commerce. Out from New York run three or four roads, which are undeveloped dangers to the very existence of uncorrupt central government. There is a many mouthed lion and a real peril.

But good will come out of all this. The danger will be overruled for good combination in manufacturing means cheaper fabrics, if steamship companies and railroads will distribute them cheaply. Commerce will be a winged lion when the perils are overruled, and the honey will remain.

As to the labor troubles, men are not to be trodden down like grass. The organization of labor is widespread, and wages formerly discussed at one end are now talked over at both. Pauses in work occur, strikes and riots. Millions are not to be controlled at the will of ten or twenty.

The laboring men are at school, studying political economy. They are learning how to give up a part of liberty, so as to enjoy fully the rest. Calculators, reasoners and philosophers are developing among them. It is full of future benefit, and the evils are mere trifles.

Once during the argument in a lawsuit, in which Lincoln represented one party, the lawyer on the other side was a glib talker, but not reckoned as deeply profound or much of a thinker. He would say anything to a jury which happened to enter his head. Lincoln, in his address to the jury, referring to this said: "My friend on the other side is all right, or would be all right, were it not for the peculiarity I am about to chronicle. His habit—of which you have witnessed a very painful specimen in his argument to you in this case—of reckless assertions and statements without grounds, need not be imputed to him as a moral fault, or as telling of a moral blemish. He can't help it. For reasons which, gentlemen of the jury, you and I have not time to study here, as deplorable as they are surprising, the oratory of the gentleman completely suspends all action of his mind. The moment he begins to talk, his mental operations cease. I never knew of but one thing which compared with my friend in this particular. That was a small steamboat. Back in the days when I performed my part as a keel boatman I made the acquaintance of a trilling little steamboat which used to bustle and puff and wheeze about the Sanzamon river. It had a five-foot boiler and seven-foot whistle, and every time it whistled it stopped."

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly every thing ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this Remedy. J. L. Marlow, M. D., Tamaroa, Ill. For sale by Heber Walsh, Druggist.

HIS VISIT OUT SHORT.

An Indianapolis Lady's Solitude for the Cleanliness of Her Friends.

A certain lady of this city, who had never been used to the luxury of life until after her husband made a large sum of money in the real estate business, moved into an elegant house which had, among other conveniences, a fine bathroom, says the Indianapolis Sentinel. It was her pride, and every visitor was informed about the bathroom. Guests who came from a distance were greeted with: "Now, I know you are tired and dusty after your long journey; just go right up to the bathroom and you can have a refreshing bath at once." This worked well in most cases, but one day she made a mistake. She went to the door one warm summer afternoon to find a young gentleman friend of her husband's from Louisville, and she took it for granted that he was going to stay all night. So her first words after shaking hands with him were: "Now, you are tired and dusty after your journey; just go right up to the bathroom; a bath will refresh you so."

In vain the young man tried to expostulate; she had him by the arm and started him up the stairway before he could get in a word. In half an hour he came down and took up his hat and stick. "I thank you very much," he said, "I enjoyed the bath very much." Then he started for the door. "Why, where are you going?" asked the hostess. "To catch my train," he answered; "I only had forty minutes to stay and my bath took half an hour, so I must hustle now to catch the Chicago train." This cured the lady of showing off her bathroom.

COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON.

How the Chinese Workmen Cut Up, Prepare and Can the Fish.

"On a recent trip to the Pacific coast," said Walter Stedman, a New York drummer, to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, "I paid a visit to one of the large canning factories in Oregon, where the Columbia river salmon are packed and shipped all over the country. It was a novel sight to me, and one in which I took a great deal of interest. The fish are caught in nets and carried in boats to the factory, where they are thrown upon a stage and lie in heaps, a thousand or so in a pile. You can see huge fish among them that weigh from thirty to sixty pounds. One Chinaman will seize a salmon, and with a dextrous blow of a big knife, sever its head with one stroke; another workman then grabs it and slashes off the fins and disembowels it. It is then thrown into a vat, where the blood soaks out, and I tell you they bleed like a stuck pig. After repeated washings the fish is cut into chunks, plunged into brine and stuffed into cans, the bones first being removed. The tops of the cans, which have a small hole in them, are then soldered on, and five or six hundred of them at a time are plunged into boiling water, where they remain until the heat has expelled all the air. Then the lid is soldered up and the salmon is ready for market."

Big Waterworks Projects Afloat.

A plan for supplying Paris with water from Lake Neuchatel is under consideration by the municipality. It involves the building of an aqueduct 300 miles in length and at an estimated cost of $60,000,000. An earlier plan proposed to use Lake Geneva as a source of supply, the estimated cost being $100,000,000. The engineer of the Neuchatel plan proposes to tunnel the Jura mountains, and give a head of 394 feet in Paris. One of the greatest engineering works of modern times is the artificial lake impounding the waters of the River Vyrnwy, in Montgomeryshire, to supply Liverpool, sixty-eight miles distant. The lake has a storage capacity of 1,500,000,000 gallons, and power is given to supply water over a certain belt of country on each side of the line. Liverpool is thus placed on an equality, as to water supply, with Glasgow, which has laid Lock Katrine under contribution, and with Manchester, which is doing the same with Thirlmere.

Bursting the Bag.

"One form of amusement that children have now that they didn't use to have when I was a boy," said Mr. Bozelle, "is the fun of bursting the bag. Nowadays many things come from the grocer and elsewhere in paper bags, and 'let me bust the bag' is a familiar household request. The youngster takes the empty bag and with his thumb and forefinger around the open end of it he forms a neck with an opening through which he may inflate it. Then with a sudden whack he brings the bag down upon the other hand and explodes it with a report whose loudness is determined by the size of the bag, the fullness of its inflation, the tightness of the grip around its closed neck, and the force of the blow. The modern small boy ought to be grateful for this continuous domestic Fourth of July, one of many privileges that he enjoys that were quite unknown to his fathers."

A German Joke.

The following fraud upon an insurance company, which we find in the Deutsche Tabak-Zeitung, is certainly just a little too good to be true: "A cunning fellow, who wanted to smoke the best cigars at the cheapest possible cost, bought one thousand cigars of the highest quality and corresponding price, and immediately insured the whole stock. When he had smoked the last of them, he demanded seven hundred and fifty marks from the insurance company on the ground that the whole of his insured stock, ten boxes of cigars, had been consumed by fire! The Solomonian court decided in favor of the plaintiff. The company then brought an action of conspiracy against the smoker, accusing him of having intentionally put fire to his own cigars and deliberately destroyed his property. Hereupon the same wise court condemned the insured smoker to three months' imprisonment."

The Famous Macard Murder Trial Ended.

Macard and Frame Sent to Prison for Life—William H. Thacker Gets a Life Sentence at Frankfort for Poisoning His Wife.

MRS. M'KINDRICK'S MURDER AVENGED.

GRAND RAPIDS, July 24.—The Macard murder trial went to the jury at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and in an hour returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The courtroom was crowded to its fullest capacity, and though the verdict gave general satisfaction and was expected, there was no demonstration beyond an audible sigh from all parts of the courtroom. Macard took the verdict with the same coolness which has marked his conduct throughout and neither his mother nor relatives showed emotion.

Judge Burlingame on Monday morning sentenced Macard to life imprisonment at Jackson. An immense crowd was in the court room and corridors and cheered the sentence. Macard was white through fear, and told the judge he had not expected a verdict of murder in the first degree. The judge said no one else was surprised at the verdict.

Frame Sentenced for Life.

GRAND RAPIDS, July 25.—On Tuesday Henry Frame, the accomplice of Charles Macard in the murder of Mrs. McKendrick, and who confessed his participation in the crime and implicated Macard pleaded guilty of murder in the first degree and the court had no other alternative than to give him a life sentence.

Life Sentence for a Wife Poisoner.

FRANKFORT, July 25.—The trial of William H. Thacker for poisoning his wife was brought to a close Tuesday morning by a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Thacker was sentenced to a life term in state's prison. Great interest was taken in this case throughout this part of the state from Thacker's prominence, socially and politically. Public opinion generally commends the verdict.

BACK TO PRISON.

"Black Bart" Transferred from the Asylum to the Penitentiary.

IONIA, July 24.—Reinmund Holzhey, alias "Black Bart," known as the upper peninsula bandit, who has been in the Ionia asylum as dangerously and criminally insane since November 23, 1891, was returned to Marquette prison Monday night by Superintendent O. R. Long, of the asylum. Holzhey was sentenced to Marquette in 1889 for killing an Illinois banker who was in a held-up stage. While in prison he attempted to kill a keeper, but was prevented from doing so by having his hand shot off by the prison warden. While at Ionia his record has been good, and his mind has been sufficiently restored so that he can be returned to his prison cell.

Thirty Houses, Constituting Mosstown, and Worth $10,000, Are Burned.

MANISTEE, July 23.—The little village of Mosstown, a suburb of Manistee, containing thirty houses, was entirely consumed by fire at noon Sunday. The loss is estimated at $10,000, with partial insurance. The fire caught from a barn in which children had been playing while their parents were at church. Nine children were barely saved from a burning building in which they had been locked.

A Farmer Loses Heavily by Fire.

CASSOPOLIS, July 22.—Five barns belonging to Charles Merritt in Porter township burned Friday night. Forty acres of wheat, thirty acres of hay and two years' wool clip were consumed. The cause was lightning. The wind changing saved the house. The loss is $8,000; insured in the Cass County Farmers' Mutual.

Will Be Given Battle Flags.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The president having several days ago affixed his signature to the bill donating to the state of Michigan the flags of the Twenty-second infantry, Senator McMillan telegraphed to Gov. Rich asking him to request the secretary of war to deliver the flags to the senator himself.

Organizer Notton Arrested.

IRONWOOD, July 24.—Organizer A. M. Notton, who came here to manage the strike of the Gogebic mine employes, has been arrested on a capias charging him with slander. Bail was fixed at $3,000, which he was unable to procure, and he was taken to jail. All mines are now working with small forces.

MECCA OF FURNITUREMEN.

Buyers from All Parts of the United States Gather at Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS, July 23.—The regular semi-annual furniture sale opened at Grand Rapids soon after the Fourth and reached its height during the past week. Representatives of nearly all the large furniture houses in the United States have been here during the past twenty days inspecting the new designs and placing their fall orders. The hotels are still crowded and quite a number of buyers will arrive during the coming week, which will close the season. The attendance of buyers has been larger than ever before, but from the west the number is smaller. The purchases have been more liberal than six or twelve months ago and a fair fall's work for the factories is assured. Carload prices range about 25 per cent. less than a year ago as the result of cheaper labor and material. The cheaper grades are also more in demand.

Summary of Several Interesting Events on the Turf.

DETROIT, July 22.—Saturday was the closing day of the races at the Grosjean track. In the 2:12 trot, which was unfinished on Friday, Ryland T., who had won one heat, was distanced in the first mile. The latter team won the first heat in 2:20 1/4—the best time of the race—while the winning team won the second, fourth and fifth heats, their best time being 2:23 1/4.

WILL NOT RETURN TO WORK. Gladstone Dockmen Refuse to Settle the Strike, But Trouble No One.

GLADSTONE, July 24.—The strike of the flour and coal dockmen here has assumed an interesting attitude. The men are still out, although Superintendent and Roadmaster Burke has labored hard to get them to go to work. The company requires the men to renounce the American Railway union before it will take them on. The strikers meet in the Regan Pannel building daily and at the close of the meetings disperse to their homes, not even hanging around the saloons. The situation here is becoming interesting from the fact that nearly all the men are without money and are in arrears for their board. Unless the strikers return to work in a day or two the company will open boarding cars and bring in labor from Minneapolis.

REMORSE CAUSED SUICIDE.

Self-Murder of a Rich Michigan Man Arrested for Abusing His Son.

Republican Senatorial Convention.

The Republican Convention for the Twenty-third Senatorial District of Michigan, composed of the counties of Muskegon and Ottawa, will be held at the council chamber in the city hall at Muskegon, on Wednesday, August 8th, 1894, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for state senator, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The counties comprising the said district will be entitled to representation as follows:

Muskegon county, 13.
Ottawa county, 14.

Dr. J. E. POST,
J. B. PERHAM,
E. D. PRESCOTT,
Committee.

Dated July 25, 1894.

Convention of Ottawa County Republicans.

The fact that only one convention was to be held this year, for the selection of delegates and the nomination of the county officers, brought out a large attendance, Wednesday, the delegates from the several towns and cities being nearly all full in numbers.

By direction of the county committee, chairman Geo. D. Turner called Hon. C. Van Loo of Zeeland to the chair, and A. Lahuis was elected temporary secretary. After the usual acknowledgment of thanks for the undesired and unsought honor the chair expressed congratulations that amid the universal distress the advent of a new administration had wrought a marvelous change in the political aspect. There was a silver lining to the clouds. In these days of destruction and of riot the general supremacy of the government had been brought out and acknowledged as it never had before. This was worth all it had cost. In the U. S. Senate one of the foremost leaders of the Democratic party, Senator Gorman, has partially succeeded in placing that body upon the platform of protection. The people rejoiced that there is still a Republican party and a coming election. This party has ever been on the side of human toil and labor as against any combined aggregation of brain and capital. Therefore let this convention see to it that the men we send out to-day are men that look towards that idea.

The speaker's remarks were received with demonstrations of hearty approval.

On motion of W. I. Lillie a committee of three was appointed on credentials, permanent organization and order of business. As such, the chair appointed Messrs. Lillie, Alward and Perham.

On motion of Geo. A. Farr a committee of three was appointed on resolutions. As such, the chair appointed Messrs. Diekema, Watson and Dr. Brown.

A recess was then taken until 1:00 P. M.

Upon re-convening, the committee reported the following as entitled to seats in the convention:

Allendale—George Latham, J. Phillips, F. J. Fox, J. O. Stone, John Lockhart.

Grand Haven city—B. Pelgrim, Henry Pelgrim, A. Kiel, Joseph Koelsa, Walter L. Lillie, Geo. A. Farr, Charles Finley, Cha's E. Soule, C. Bos, A. Vinkens, J. Verhoeks, Silas M. Wright, H. G. Nichols, F. Smith, Herman Nyland.
Holland city—G. J. Van Duren, P. H. McBride, Ed. Vanpelt, W. H. Beach, H. R. Doesburg, G. J. Diekema, O. E. Yates, B. A. Mulder, A. Visscher, J. Lokker, S. Kley, L. Mulder, G. Van Schelven, F. Van Ry, John Kerkhof, I. Marsilje.

The committee further recommended the usual order of business and that the temporary organization be made permanent, all of which was adopted.

Mr. Diekema, in behalf of the committee on resolutions, presented the following:

The Republicans of the county of Ottawa in convention assembled submit the following platform of principles:

I. We lament the fact that at the time of the holding of this convention our factories and furnaces are idle, our avenues of trade have been closed, the business of the whole country has been paralyzed, and armies of honest laborers are clamoring for employment to keep themselves and families from starvation. But we recognize in this condition the fulfillment of the prophetic words uttered by the Hon. James G. Blaine, when the Democratic party first proposed to substitute free trade for protection. When through President and Congress, the Democratic party assailed the McKinley tariff law, it paralyzed industry, pauperized labor, and turned the high tide of national prosperity into business stagnation, riot and bloodshed. We therefore pledge ourselves anew to the doctrine of a protective tariff.

II. We believe that the Republican party is the only political organization, that can successfully settle the great contest between capital and labor, because that party always has been and still is dedicated to the elevation—material, mental and moral—of the laborer. We believe that while a protective tariff shields the industries of the country from ruinous foreign competition, it should be supplemented by stringent laws regulating immigration; for a promiscuous influx of foreigners has become a menace to the country and threatens to degrade American labor. We believe that government was instituted to protect the weak against the strong; to substitute right for might; and that therefore this country ought to so regulate all corporations and combinations as to protect the interests of labor. And finally, that the interference of any man or set of men with the right of any individual to labor and to enjoy the results of his labor must be resisted at any cost.

III. We denounce the present Democratic Congress for the scandalous manner in which it has allowed trusts and combinations to formulate its proposed tariff legislation; and we lament the fact that in his foreign policy with Hawaii the President of the United States has caused the patriotic American to blush with shame.

IV. We recognize in the Hon. John T. Rich an able, fearless, and patriotic Governor, whose administration we heartily endorse, and hereby instruct our delegates to the state convention to vote as a unit for his re-nomination and to use all honorable means to accomplish that result.

V. We recognize the great importance of being represented in the Congress of the Nation, by an able, patriotic and earnest Republican, who will stand four square to every wind that would blow ill to country, home or labor, and fearlessly oppose all attacks, from within and from without, upon the industries, prosperity, and financial and political integrity of the country; and believing that we have such a man in the Hon. Geo. A. Farr, we hereby instruct our delegates to the congressional convention to vote for him as a unit and to use all proper means for his nomination.

The resolutions were favorably received and the mention of the names of Blaine, Rich and Farr, especially brought out spontaneous response.

Mr. Lillie opposed any instruction to the delegates to vote for Rich or Farr, and moved to strike out that part of the resolutions.

Mr. Sheldon supported this, and stated he done so in behalf of other citizens of Ottawa county that might be available candidates, among them Mr. Diekema.

Mr. Diekema defended the report. A delegate cannot be instructed after he is nominated. Hence we give notice now to all such as cannot carry out the instructions of the convention to keep off the delegation.

The amendment was lost and the report was adopted with an overwhelming vote.

Judge Soule moved the appointment of a committee of six for each representative district to place in nomination delegates for the state, congressional and senatorial conventions.—Lost.

The following delegates were thereupon elected, by acclamation:

To the state convention—

As the name of W. I. Lillie was presented as a delegate to the congressional convention Mr. Farr moved that it be substituted by that of J. Vaupell, which motion, after a somewhat animated discussion, prevailed.

The nominating of a county ticket was readily disposed of. All of the incumbents having served only one term, and having served that term satisfactorily to the people, it was evident that renominations would be in order all along the line. The entire ticket, as it appears at the head of our columns, was nominated by acclamation, except the clerk, on which one ballot was ordered, resulting as follows: W. D. Welles 27, Geo. D. Turner 92.

Before dividing into district conventions the following new county committee was appointed:

Allendale—Boscoe Cooley.
Blondon—D. H. Grow.
Chester—Dr. M. Coburn.
Crookery—Ed. A. Brown.
Georgetown—C. K. Hoyt.
Grand Haven—H. G. Koppel.
Holland—W. Diekema.
Jamestown—Henry Bosch.

Polkton—Benj. E. Norton.
Robinson—Chas. H. Clark.
Spring Lake—C. P. Brown.
Tallmadge—Egbert Lyb.
Wright—H. E. Shuster.

Grand Haven City—B. Pelgrim, Jos. Koelsa, Chas. Findley, H. D. Nichols.
Holland City—Wm. H. Beach, F. Van Ry, G. Van Schelven, L. Mulder, J. Kerkhof.

The convention directed the committee to elect its own chairman and secretary.

In the First District convention G. J. Diekema was made chairman and G. Van Schelven secretary.

The contest was somewhat of a three-cornered one, and it required six ballots to arrive at a choice:

1st ballot—Norrington 25, Marsilje 21, Bilz 6, Pruim 1, Norton 1.
2nd ballot—Marsilje 26, Norrington 25, Bilz 5.
3d ballot—Marsilje 27, Norrington 25, Bilz 4.
4th ballot—Marsilje 26, Norrington 25, Bilz 4.
5th ballot—Marsilje 27, Norrington 23, Bilz 6.
6th ballot—Marsilje 33, Norrington 12, Bilz 7, McBride 1, Diekema 1.

On motion of Mr. Norrington the nomination of I. Marsilje was made unanimous.

Second district.—S. A. Sheldon, chairman; C. Den Herder, secretary.

Before any ballot was taken Colon C. Lillie of Polkton and C. Van Loo of Zeeland indulged in a brief but earnest review of the incidents connected with the late election of county school commissioner, which election resulted in the defeat of the former.

One ballot was sufficient, resulting as follows: C. K. Hoyt 39, C. Van Loo 16, R. Alward 6.

The Lincoln Club in Grand Rapids has taken hold of the arrangements for the holding of the Republican State Convention in that city next week, and assigned the details to the following committees:

McKinley on the Tariff.

A tariff levied exclusively for revenue encourages foreign importation—that is what it is made for, and when such a tariff is levied on articles the like of which we produce at home it discourages our own producers by depriving them of the home market which justly belongs to them.

A revenue tariff encourages no home enterprises; it supplies employment to no American workingman; it takes employment from him because in the encouragement of foreign importations it diminishes the demand for American products. To the extent that it diminishes the demand for American produce, it diminishes the demand for the American producer.

The use of a foreign article, which a Democratic revenue tariff encourages, means less use or no use of a like domestic article. So long as labor is cheaper in Europe and conditions are lower there than here, a free trade or revenue tariff upon competing goods tends either to destroy domestic production or to level labor and every other condition to a foreign standard.

A revenue tariff is an enemy to the American ship, the American workman, to American prosperity, and American industrial independence. It has not a single element of patriotism. It has no national spirit or instinct. To supply the needs of the Treasury is the chief and exclusive concern. It has no other. It is a sure precursor to national poverty, national bankruptcy, and individual distress. It is the forerunner of hard times. It is without a single worthy triumph. The years in which it has been tried in the United States excite neither our respect nor pride. It has furnished no inspiring page in our history. It record has been one of deficient revenues, greater bonded indebtedness, and universal want among the people.

The prevailing widespread distress emphasizes the necessity of enlightened public policy and wise statesmanship. The indifference which has been too prevalent for many years has given place to a deep and absorbing interest in public affairs. The masses of the people are considering economic questions more earnestly than ever before, and are aroused to their importance as affecting their own individual happiness and prosperity. To wisely guide them calls for the exercise of the highest wisdom, coolest judgment, and the purest patriotism.

An immense mass of rich gold ore has been discovered on the California side of the Colorado river, where the water course is crossed by the Southern Pacific railroad. The different grades of ore run all the way from $250 to $44,000 per ton. The property is described as a huge quarry, extending to unknown depths, and running from one rib of the mountain to another more than a mile away. It includes claims, which are estimated to contain gold to give an annual output of $2,500,000 for a century. The ore is stated to be the most favorable for pulverization and exceptionally free, requiring the most simple and least expensive process for extracting the gold.

Some people are so superstitious as to believe it an omen of ill-luck to be struck by lightning on Monday, or to take hold of a circular saw on Tuesday, or to tumble down stairs with a coal shuttle on Wednesday, or to be hit by a base ball bat on Thursday, or to fall overboard on Friday.

BROWN GOT THE MONUMENT.

And as He Had Been a Good Fellow, the Boys Said He Deserved It.

At a little settlement on the Indian river, Florida, before the railroad was built, lived a penniless, good hearted fellow of the name of John Brown. When Brown got any money he would divide it to the last cent with his friends among the boys, and of course the boys liked him. One day the boys found Brown dead in the woods. They dug him a grave, rolled him in a horse blanket and let him down in it and then drank several bottles of east coast bitters to his health and expressed the hope that whatever new climate he was in he would be healthy.

Some time later than that a stranger came among them. He died and, as the weather was too warm to ship his body off, he was buried next to Brown. A week or two passed and the relatives of the deceased stranger sent down money to erect a monument over the grave of the stranger.

The boys took the thing in hand and discussed it pro and con. They came to the conclusion that Brown was a "durned" sight better fellow in every way than the stranger and more entitled to a monument, so one night they went out and swapped the men from one grave to the other. As a result Brown, the ac-dorned fellow, lies beneath a handsome marble monument and the rich stranger lies in an unmarked grave.

SHARPS ON THE DEEP.

Poker Players Who Swindle Ocean Travelers.

The Atlantic steamers are a fruitful field for the crooked poker players. Here is a specimen of the way this game is worked: A well-known New Yorker told the story, but stipulated that the name of the victim was to be suppressed.

"A certain New York millionaire," he said, "who is known to be more or less susceptible to the blandishments of women, was crossing the Atlantic alone on a Cunarder. A lovely woman made his acquaintance, which, you know, is the easiest thing in the world on ship-board. They became very friendly and she introduced him to her husband. I don't know whether he was really her husband, but he passed as such for that trip, at all events.

"This husband" was one of the complacent sort. He offered no objection when the millionaire flirted desperately with his wife.

"The millionaire, thinking it would pay him to stand in with the husband," willingly acquiesced when a game of poker was suggested. Of course, the husband had a few friends, who were also in the game.

"Well, they used to play every night on that trip and a large part of the day. The susceptible millionaire dropped a pile of mo'ney—how much I don't know—but he paid very dearly for his susceptibility that trip."

TOOK A MEAN ADVANTAGE.

The Engaged Man Insisted on Kissing His Fiancee in a Street Car.

A young man and a young woman changed from a Belt line to a Fourteenth street car at the avenue, Washington, and sat in one of the seats in the first car. He was carrying an overcoat and a satchel and was evidently going away. She wore a shirt waist and a dark skirt, as if starting out on a shopping expedition. Just before they reached Sixth street he leaned over her and said, quietly, so quietly that only the Post reporter back of them could hear: "I am going to kiss you good-by when I leave the car."

"Oh! please don't," she said, appealingly; "not before all these people."

But he was decided and said, persistently: "Yes I shall; so raise your veil. If you try to resist people will see it and wonder about it, and they will look at you all the way up-town after I get off."

She glanced up shyly and then slowly raised her veil. He bent over her and kissed her and no one in the car looked up. A few people wondered why she was so anxious to show the diamond ring on her left hand, but nobody but the reporter appreciated the fact that she was trying to justify the kissing by means of an engagement ring.

BRITISH "DRUMMERS."

Some Minor Differences from the American Commercial Traveler.

The commercial traveler in England is little different from his American brother, pursuing the same line of policy in "getting there" so far as securing trade is concerned, says Hardware. His invariable rule, however, is that his first price given to a local merchant is his last and only one. There is no going in the morning with an offer, and then in the afternoon with an extra inducement to make the trade. This being the invariable rule, it saves much labor and apprehension in the mind of the buyer that he has not done so well as he could have done with more diplomacy.

Everything is done for the comfort of the traveler, and at the hotels a special department called the commercial room is set apart for his exclusive use. In this room smoking is prohibited until nine p. m., a place being devoted to that purpose at other times. The traveler takes his meals in the commercial room, the dinner being a set affair in which all travelers in the house generally participate. The oldest man is at the head of the table, and is called the president; while at the foot is the youngest man, and he is termed vice president.

Wilhelm's Title.

The actual title of Wilhelm II. is "German Emperor," and not "Emperor of Germany." The German empire is a confederacy consisting of four kingdoms, seven principalities and four free cities. Within its own limits each state is a sovereign, except as to its army and its power of coining money and imposing duties, in which matters the imperial government controls, as well as in all international matters.

World's Fair Highest Award.

Whether Pasteur and Koch's peculiar modes of treatment will ultimately prevail or not, their theory of blood-contamination is the correct one, though not original. It was on this theory that Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass., nearly fifty years ago, formulated Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The first Monday in December, is Labor Day and in behalf of the Grand Rapids committee on celebration a circular has been issued stating: "We intend to have a larger celebration than ever—last year's wasn't a 'drop in the bucket' to the preparations being made this year for an imposing display. The parade will be larger, more varied and impressive than any ever seen in this city, and will contain probably upward of 10,000 persons. Many new features will be seen this year, most important of which will be a large number of floats supplied by employees of union labor, manufacturers and others. Noted speakers will be present, an elegant Souvenir Programme will be distributed free, and sundry features for the entertainment of visitors, not yet arranged, will make the 3rd of September (Labor Day) the grandest gala day Grand Rapids and vicinity have ever seen." Hopes are entertained of having Dabs there that day.

Of all the cities in Michigan in the past few years Holland stands foremost in its increased population, and while we all feel a justifiable pride in that fact, we must not overlook also our advancement in other lines. In no one direction have we made more decided progress than in the mercantile way. Our stores are putting on an air of city life that is gratifying. Especially is this noticeable in the dry-goods establishment of C. L. Streng & Son, who came here less than a year and a half ago, comparative strangers, and have by their straightforward metropolitan business ways established a trade that is phenomenal. When they announce a sale every dry-goods purchaser looks forward to it, knowing their advertisements are always lived up to. One look into their store at their regular Saturday night sales would dispel any doubt as to the present or future prosperity of our city.

Cargoes of sawdust are being shipped regularly from the mill of C. L. King & Co., to Chicago and Pullman, to be utilized largely in the manufacture of porous brick.

Capt. Pfanstiehl is again enjoying fairly good health and busying himself in promoting the material prosperity of our city. He has more than one project in view which, if realized, will no doubt reflect favorably upon his reputation as a hustler.

C. F. Pritchard, of Decatur, Mich., is again in the city on his regular visit, and will remain for one or two weeks, to accommodate parties that desire to have their planes tuned. Orders should be left at the music store of H. Meyer & Son, River street.

At a meeting of the consistory of the Third Ref. church held Monday evening, the question whether or not to change the Sunday services from Holland to English received most earnest consideration. No final conclusion however was arrived at.

Resort Notes.

On Wednesday these were quite a large excursion at the resorts from towns on the Valley branch of the Michigan Central, and on Sunday next large crowds are expected from New Buffalo, Allegan, Lake View, Howard City, Lansing and other cities on the D. L. & N. C. J. & M., and C. & W. M.

Southern resorters are beginning to find out where there is a comfortable place to spend the summer. On the hotel registers this week can be found the names of J. W. McMahon, Carlisle, Ky., and A. L. Caultel of Jacksonville, Florida. An effort is to be made next year to bring more of the southern people to this section of the country.

Macatawa Bay has quite a fleet of steam and naptha launches. Among these are the Spray, Sparta, Partner, Dark, and Eagle Laura. Some other new improved and speedy ones have recently been brought in.

Charlie Eckert of Grand Rapids has become a favorite at the resorts. He is one of Mrs. Ryder's guests.

Among the names to be found on the register at Macatawa Park there are F. S. Gould, Chicago; Prof. N. X. Ornes, Indianapolis; John B. Scully and wife, Chicago; Miss K. M. Whipple and W. T. Carlisle of Chicago.

F. J. Dettenthaler, his daughter Miss Margaret, and Molly Schneidbower, of Chicago, have been spending the week at Macatawa.

Prof. Graham Taylor, who preached in Hope Church Sunday morning, was unexpectedly called to Chicago on Sunday night, otherwise those at the park would have been allowed the privilege of listening to one of his interesting addresses in the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly Allen and Mrs. N. B. Merriman, of Kalamazoo, are pleasantly located in the Lamos cottage at Macatawa Park. They have been regular patrons of the park for five years or more, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the pleasantest retreat that can be found in the State of Michigan.

Mrs. J. Noordewier, of Kelloggsville, Mich., accompanied by her daughter, has rooms at the Macatawa Park Hotel.

C. W. Crawford and family, Wm. Wear, George W. Walker and family, Howard A. Hill and family, Henry Robson and family are all guests at the Ottawa Beach Hotel. The former is well known in railroad circles and the others can claim recognition among the Board of Trade men.

Misses R. F. and R. F. Petterbone of Chicago with their families are spending the heated season with Mrs. Ryder at the Macatawa Park Hotel.

The Lizzie Walsh seems to be giving entire satisfaction as a ferry boat this year and aims to accommodate those who wish to pass to and fro between the various resorts.

Prof. Carman of Chicago and Prof. Chas. B. Scott, now lecturing at the Kindergarten College, Chicago, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Charles Scott, at Macatawa Park.

The Kalamazoo contingent at Ottawa Beach is represented by Mrs. L. Stern, Miss Florence Stern, Mrs. J. B. Lehman, Mrs. Abdell, and Mrs. Roscabam.

On Thursday Macatawa Park looked like the Fourth of July. The Hope church Sunday school picnic took down a big crowd of people from Holland, the stmr. City of Kalamazoo brought 400 excursionists from South Haven, the stmr. Bon Ami arrived with 200 people from Ganges pier, and the usual big crowd came by rail. The weather was delightful, bathing fine and every body had a good time. The scene at the Park during the afternoon with all the steamers, launches, sail and row boats moving around was beautiful, and in the evening the stmr. City or Holland, Bradshaw and Music, all lighted by electricity, and all at the Park at the same time, made another fine sight.

You can save six cents a can by using the new Horsford's Baking Powder, because it requires less quantity than any other.

In addition to lots of pleasant people at the Park, there are a few as mean men as wear clothes. Harry Post discovered one of these creatures while fishing on the pier Thursday. A well dressed man was fishing there, who had nearly a whole perch for bait. He said to Harry: "Little boy, cut up that bait for me," and Harry, good naturedly, did so.

"Now, put a piece of bait on my hook."

This was done, twice, by the boy for the man. Harry pulled up his own line and found his bait gone. He had no more, so he asked the "gentleman" if he could have a piece of bait he had cut for him. To this the man replied:

"No, not a bit of it, I may need it all myself."

Prof. Graham Taylor and family are delighted with life at Macatawa Park. Several friends from Chicago have visited him, and his brother and family also came from Chicago the other morning on the stmr. Glenn. Prof. Taylor went to Bay View Saturday for a few days, as he is a speaker at the Assembly there.

Every cottage at Macatawa Park is occupied and the hotel full of guests. The actual population there is now about 850, exclusive of 800 to 900 visitors every day.

Ashante Sacrifices.

"The most savage and horrible of all the barbarous customs of the Ashantes in Africa," says Prof. W. G. Steadman, of Washington, "is that of celebrating the death of a king or great noble by a sacrifice of other lives; indeed, almost all of their anniversary rites are attended by a holocaust of human beings. They believe that when a king or a noble dies he must have wives and slaves in the next world, just as he had in this, and in order that these may not be wanting, the simple expedient is resorted to of killing his wives and slaves and sending them after him. Rude and bloody ceremonies mark the practice of this custom, which are continued for about a week. Strange to say, numerous volunteers are always found who are not only ready, but anxious, to be offered up in honor of a dead king."

A Card.

We wish to express our deepest and most sincere thanks to each and every one who have so kindly and willingly assisted us during the sickness and burial of our loved one; also to the choir for their sweet, melodious singing.

MR. AND MRS. N. ERSKINE and Daughter, Holland, Mich., July 25, 1894.

A Wonderful Invention.

The latest and most remarkable improvement in food products is the new Horsford's Baking Powder, which has attained such enormous sales in this vicinity during the past few months, and which promises to displace the old-fashioned kinds because of the greatly superior results obtained by its use. This powder excels in three important particulars, viz.: baking strength, healthfulness and purity. One-and-a-half teaspoonsful will produce better results than two full teaspoonsful of the best of other kinds. All other baking powders are composed of either alum or cream of tartar, both of which leave a physis in the bread, while this powder is strictly a pure phosphate powder, and is of itself a natural healthful article of food, beneficial to all. Every ingredient is strictly pure. It contains no alum, cream tartar or ammonia.

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. ## OUR NEIGHBORS.

Grand Haven.

Ex-Alderman Joseph L. Jackson's residence was burned Sunday afternoon. Loss $1,800; insured for $700.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greengood are visiting in Holland and Ventura.

Rev. W. H. Frieling of Spring Lake has been placed on the retired list, and will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday, July 29.

Tribune: Dennis O'Brien, who was injured in a runaway accident in Holland, was brought to this city, and taken to the home of his son, Jerry O'Brien, where he will be cared for. Mrs. O'Brien is at her home in Olive. Both are said to be in a critical condition.

Miss Susie Balgooyen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Balgooyen, went to Holland Tuesday to visit her grandparents.

The D. & M. are said to contemplate laying a spur from Ferrysburg to Hackley Park.

The scheme has been revived, of building a system of electric railways between Spring Lake, this city and Highland Park, and for the necessary power to run the plant, it is proposed to utilize the water that runs from Crocker creek into Grand River.

Lake Shore.

N. W. Ogden and B. Van Raalte of Holland visited the state military museum while at Lansing, last week, and took a look at the old battle flags and other relics of the war. They report crops to be very poor out that way, except wheat, which is middling good.

Corn and potatoes are very good along the shore, in fact a great deal better than east of Holland.

Mrs. Cochran is no better. Dr. Mabbs is treating her at present.

Henry Mulder has entered into partnership with Ogden on a new traction Heber engine, which they bought of B. Van Raalte. Ogden puts his plain engine on H. Goodin's machine.

John Johnson and wife of Grand Rapids visited John Cochran's family last Sabbath.

Dell Dolph is working on J. F. Joselyn's machine near Robinson.

The binders are tying up grain here at 75c. per acre. John Cochran put the price down to that, and others have to do the same, or lay up.

Will Depledge has a very sick child, their little girl.

Allegan County.

Allegan will be bonded for a new water system.

Fire is reported to have done considerable damage to the muck lands near the west town line of Manlius township, south of Kalamazoo river.

Fennville Herald: In his efforts to get the republican nomination for register of deeds E. D. Nash of Clyde does not lack for company. Wm. Dunn of Ganges, H. J. Klomparsen of Fillmore, Lyman Lilly of Hopkins, "Jack" Crispe of Gun Plains, and R. C. Harmon of Cheshire are all after the "plum," with several other townships yet to hear from. There are ten in all.

The new building for the Allegan Gazette is completed.

Port Sheldon.

Some miscreant, or other set fire to the grass on the bluffs on Saturday or Sunday, and for several days in succession nearly everyone has been fighting fires. It spread all over the hills, from Port Sheldon bridge to Lake Michigan, and along the Lake to the late residence of Chas. Owens. J. H. Davis had great difficulty in saving the house on his land near the creek bridge. The grass and brush, which had accumulated for the last five years, was so dry and the fire ran so fast that it was impossible to stop it. Sunday the wind blew a gale from the south west, which spread the flames north and toward the Grand Haven road. Monday the wind changed to the north-west and sent them in another direction, so that it was a hard matter to prevent them from getting across the Lake Shore road into the woods of H. J. Davis. Tuesday the wind blew a perfect gale from the south and south-west, and people living in the direction of the smoke could not bear to be outdoors for two or three miles from the fire. Ever since I have been in Michigan these periodical fires take place at the dryest time of the year, when the berry pickers are out in full force; so if you would kindly warn all those pickers that are found setting fires on other people's land that we have resolved to prosecute them to the full extent of the law, you will do your readers in this vicinity a great favor.

Levy J. Paxson and wife, nee Klyne, are here, spending their honeymoon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Klyne, near the bridge.

Mr. Bourton, of Chicago, was here at the funeral of his nephew, J. Cook. He returned on Thursday night's boat.

Douglas.

B. F. Williams of Douglas is about to attempt a plan of irrigating his fruit farm east of that village. He is putting in a steam pump and will make a thorough trial of the plan, obtaining the water from a creek that traverses the farm. His operations will be followed with much interest, and if his plan of irrigation proves successful without too great a cost of installation there will be dozens of farmers ready to adopt it. A long dry spell when orchards and small fruit most need rain has come to be a pretty reasonable certainty of late years, and any system of irrigation if only moderately successful would be of incalculable benefit to the fruit farmers of this region.—Commercial.

The Adventist gospel boat "Morning Star" which has been building at Allegan during the past spring is now at Douglas, and has been an object of much curiosity to many visitors. She is modeled after the Mississippi river steamers, and is quite nicely and comfortably finished, having kitchen, dining, bath and staterooms, besides the main cabin, pilot house and engine room. The boat is supplied with both hot and cold water throughout, and has an ice chest that will hold a ton of ice at a time. The upper deck will be used for holding religious services and will be arranged to seat 220 persons. The engines were built specially for the boat. They furnish thirty-five horse power and are connected with the wheel by means of belts. The craft will have a complete library and a first class printing outfit, and at Chicago a dynamo will be put in to furnish electric light. The craft will be taken in tow by one of the lake steamers for Chicago, and if she passes inspection and is given a permit to ply on government waters she will then be taken to Green Bay, Wis., where she will enter the Fox river and traverse that stream until the canal which connects it with the Wisconsin river is reached. The route will then be through the canal and down the Wisconsin to the Mississippi. The object of the expedition is to carry the gospel to the colored people below Mason and Dixon's line. The missionaries on board are young men of ability, filled with an earnest desire to do some good in the world.

Capt. Brittain has purchased the interest of the other owners in the tug Browne and is now sole proprietor. The hull is of no value, but the boiler and engine are serviceable.

Muskegon County.

The bar association of this city held an important meeting last week in the circuit court room. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the matter of rearranging the court room in the new county court house. A number of the attorneys expressed themselves as to the best way of arranging the room. The idea in the minds of all was to bring the judge, witnesses, jury and all the attaches of the court closer, together that each might more readily catch the words. On motion, a committee was appointed to confer with the committee on court house and grounds regarding the desired changes. Judge Russell wished some action taken regarding the heating of the court room that a greater degree of heat might be obtained next winter.

The county officials have their drag net out and are serving quite a number of warrants on those who were present as spectators at the prize fight which took place in a barn in Fruitport township some weeks ago.

Sheriff Smith and Deputy Sheriff Collins were in Grand Rapids on a still hunt for the four men who hired two teams at Muskegon Wednesday morning and abandoned them in that city the same day the Grand Haven postoffice was robbed of $675 worth of stamps. The Muskegon officials believe that the Muskegon horse thieves drove to Grand Haven, robbed the postoffice there and then drove through to Grand Rapids. One horse has since died from the effects of hard driving. Some think that the robbers are still in Grand Rapids.

Zeeland.

Rev. Kreulins' son, of Kalamazoo, is spending a few weeks with his parents.

Miss Margaret Baert spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. J. G. Huisenga. To Mr. and Mrs. Chris Don Herder—a bouncing boy.

Rev. P. Moerfijk of Chicago occupied the pulpit of the First Ref. church all day Sunday. His brother will occupy the same next Sunday.

M. Oostebaan and family of Muskegon, are visiting a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bouwma.

After a two weeks' nap the Zeeland Expositor has renewed its appearance, and we are happy to note the marked improvement under the management of its new editor, Mr. Lewis W. Hartwick. Mr. Hartwick has moved his family from Shelby and will make his home here. We extend to him a cordial welcome, with the best wishes for his future success.

A. De Kruij and wife royally entertained a large party of friends, Monday evening.

J. Kloosterman and wife of Grand Rapids are spending a few days with their parents, just outside the village.

Abe Fox, the barber, is enjoying a week's vacation. Geo. Baert is filling his place in the shop.

Mr. Covey, who has been visiting a few weeks with Mr. De Kruij, has a gain returned to his home at Greenville.

L. W. Hartwick and wife made a short visit to Hart this week.

Jan Ver Hage's barn, one of the largest, if not the largest, in the township, burned to the ground Thursday. The fire started about 11 a. m. It originated from the sparks of a threshing machine engine, and in a little while the whole structure was wrapped in flames. Its contents, 400 bu. of wheat and 200 tons of hay, were also consumed. The Zeeland fire engine was called for, and sent down, and rendered as much assistance as possible, although the water supply was very limited. The house was saved. This fire, so early in the threshing season, will be a good lesson to many, to be careful and always have a sufficient amount of water on hand in case of an emergency. Mr. Ver Hage carried no insurance.

Mrs. Ed. Vereke is very low and not expected to live long.

Miss Christina Van Eenenaan and Dena Katter returned Tuesday from a week's visit in Chicago.

Mrs. M. Grinewid died Friday afternoon at a very advanced age.

AN ESCAPE FROM HOUNDS.

Undesirable Experience of a Boy Turned by a Hunter's Pack.

A small boy playing the part of the fox in an exciting chase on the Cedar Hollow hills near Phoenixville, Pa., says the Philadelphia Record, narrowly escaped being torn to pieces by a pack of hounds the other day. The dogs had not enjoyed a run for weeks, and their owner decided to give them a little exercise. Taking a bag from the box in which he keeps several foxes, and which the Reynards slept upon, he gave it to a boy. He told the lad to drag the heavily-scented bag across the hills, and he would turn loose the hounds. The boy had a long start and had disappeared beyond the brow of a distant knoll when the owner released the eager dogs. Around they circled until one of them struck the trail, and away they dashed in pursuit of the bogus fox.

Instantly a great fear seized the hunter. It dawned upon him that if the hounds overtook the lad they would tear him to pieces. Without longer hesitating he rushed to the stable, bridled a horse and galloped in pursuit of the baying hounds. They had a good start, and the owner knew that the boy's life depended upon whether the hounds or the horsemen reached him first. In no real fox chase did the veteran hunter ever ride more furiously.

It was a long, hard gallop, but he had told the boy where to drag the bag, and by a short cut reached him ahead of the hounds. The dogs were close upon him and running madly. The owner seized the astonished boy and lifted him upon the horse beyond the reach of the hounds, which he could even then hardly prevent from tearing the boy to pieces.

STOPPED SMOKING TO SAVE.

But the Procedure Didn't Pan Out as Profitably as He Had Expected.

Xerxes Jones determined to quit smoking, says the Philadelphia Call—not, you know, that it had any baneful influence upon his health, but solely for the reason that he didn't feel justified in spending twenty-five cents a day for the weedy luxury. Jones had a good disposition and began his new scheme on Sunday.

"Seeing I've quit smoking, I'll put an extra quarter in the collection box to-day," he mused, and in the money went.

Monday, just to please his little wife, good Jones bought a forty-cent box of mixtures and handed it over with the remark: "No, my dear, it's no extravagance. Just about what I saved on cigars to-day, and we both can enjoy this after tea." Tuesday Jones bought a fifty-cent toy for his little boy out of the cash saved by abstinence from tobacco. Wednesday he changed his dining place down town from a twenty-five-cent to a fifty-cent table d'hôte, feeling justified in spending the extra quarter saved on cigars.

Apparently forgetting this Thursday, the reformer remarked to himself: "There's that new umbrella my wife's been talking about. I'll buy that and charge it up to two weeks' savings on smoke." Friday a new dinner set was purchased to please the wife of his heart, and set over against twenty weeks' savings from tobacco, and Saturday Xerxes Jones spent twenty-five cents for cigars, having lost six days of his luxury, and figured up that he had saved on the wrong side of his books just about thirty-eight dollars and ninety cents.

LOST AND FOUND.

A Remarkable Experience in the Life of an Eminent Lawyer.

One of the most remarkable stories of losing and finding is the following: It seems that a certain eminent English lawyer was on a visit at Minto in the lifetime of the second earl of that name, and a day or two before the hearing of an important case, in which he had been retained as counsel. He had brought with him a bundle of papers connected with the suit in question, and these he took up with him to his bedroom. On the following day the packet could nowhere be found. Careful search was, of course, made, but quite in vain, and eventually the advocate had to go into court without it.

Years passed without any tidings of the missing bundle, till the gentleman chanced to be once more a guest at Minto, and occupying the same bedroom. The morning after his arrival he awoke to see the long-lost papers lying on the dressing table. The presumption is, that on the first occasion he hid them in his sleep, and on the second visit he found them in his sleep; but where he hid them and found them has never been discovered.

How Cloves Grow.

The small evergreen tree from which cloves are taken was originally a native of the Spice Islands, but it is now cultivated in warm climates in all parts of the world. The clove of commerce is the unopened flower of the tree. They are quite small, but grow in large clusters among the branches. After gathering, the buds are smoked by a wood fire and dried in the sun. Both the taste and smell of the cloves depend on the quantity of oil they contain. Sometimes the oil is separated from the cloves before they are sold, and the odor and taste are inconsequence much weakened. If you desire to know something of the form of the bud in the natural state soak a few cloves for a short time in hot water. The petals of the flower will soften and readily unroll.

Photographs of "Lip-Speech."

What is regarded as the greatest triumph of the photographer was the recent successful experiment by Prof. Damsen, of Berlin, in taking photographs of "lip-speech." By making successive negatives of the movements of the lips of a rapid talker he managed to arrange photographs printed from them in such a manner that deaf mutes who were familiar with "lip speech" could plainly interpret every word that the speaker had uttered.
