The warm weather of the latter part of July had a very good effect on the summer resort business and the hotels are all doing a rushing trade. Though the season will be shorter than usual on account of the cold weather it bids fair to be profitable for those interested in summer resort ventures.

The remains of Capt. Charles Storing, who died last Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Smith of Chicago, were brought to this city for burial, the funeral taking place last Sunday morning from the home of J. H. Nibbelink, Rev. J. T. Bergen officiating. Capt. Twice requested to make his sermon brief, Rev. Henry Gillingham, pastor of the Atlantic Methodist church of Atlantic, a village near Houghton, preached one of the shortest sermons on record last Sunday evening. When he arose to announce his text, he remarked that he had twice been asked to make his sermon short on account of the heat and he would try and do so. If this would seem too long, he would stop with the next. Then he delivered this sermon: "Text: Luke, 16:24. And he cried and said: 'Father Abraham have mercy on me and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.' Three persons—Abraham, Dives, Lazarus. It was hot where Dives was. He did not like it. He wanted to get out. So do we. Let us pray."

Five freight cars were derailed at Waverly Wednesday and piled up in a heap scattering their loads of iron, hides, merchandise and furniture along the track. The accident was caused by a defective frog while the train was going towards Muskegon on the north Y. The main line was blocked all day and other trains had to pass through Waverly on the side tracks.

The revenue cutter Dorothea failed to answer to her helm while entering the harbor last Friday afternoon and running against the south pier tore away a portion of the pier and damaged the steel trestle, leading to the light house. The steamer backed into the lake and it was found that her steering gear was out of order. The Dorothea is used as a training ship for the Indiana naval reserves.

A trolley wire and a telephone wire engaged in a rubbing match last Sunday morning and so disastrous was the consequences upon the telephone wire that 400 phones were burned out on the Citizens company line. Manager Orr lost no time in putting a large force of men to work and in a comparatively short time had everything in running order. Besides causing the employees of the central office and the patrons considerable annoyance the accident proved quite expensive to the company.

The annual outing of the teachers and pupils of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed Sunday school was held at Macatawa Park Tuesday. Over 400 merry young people crowded special cars on the G. R. H. & L. M. railway and enjoyed a ride to the resorts. The cars were held on Eighth street long enough for Paul Koster to take a photograph. A. C. Rink and I. Marsille headed the first car and Rev. K. He is the guest of Mishawauke Ochtering here, and in an interview expressed his astonishment at the reports which reached this country relative to Queen Wilhelmina. He says she was ill, but declares all the press dispatches detailing her alleged cruel treatment from her consort as glaring fabrications of press correspondents. Father Korst is acquainted with the royal family, visited the sick queen at her Het Loo palace, Amsterdam, and seems to be in a position to speak authoritatively concerning the sensational rumors reaching America on the subject of disgraceful incidents in the royal family, and alleged discord between the queen and her consort.

He has also put in a stock of the celebrated Morgan & Wright tires and can put them on any kind of a wagon. It will pay you to consult him when in need of anything in his line as he has experienced workmen and guarantees satisfaction.

Those wishing to see the Northwestern regatta at Grand Haven and Spring Lake will have a fine opportunity to do so tomorrow as the steamer Post Boy will run an excursion from the resorts to Grand Haven. Steamer will leave Macatawa Park at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. It is the intention of Capt. Harrington to follow the contestants over the course thus giving all passengers on the Post Boy a chance to see the races at close quarters. Fare for the round trip, 50 cents.

The steamer Puritan of the Graham & Morton line while going to Chicago from Holland collided with the schooner Eliza Williams Wednesday morning. It was a glancing blow in which the schooner's jibboom was torn off and her head gear carried away. The Puritan stopped long enough to be told by the captain of the schooner that he was in no danger of sinking. Capt. Boswell says that no lights were displayed on the schooner, hence the collision. Some of the forward railing of the Puritan was damaged but nobody was hurt and the schooner declined assistance.

The Rev. Bense H. Joldersma, who came to Grand Rapids from Maryland last winter to accept the position of pastor of Grace Reformed church has received an urgent call from Hope college to become the educational agent of that institution. The position is one of great importance. Mr. Joldersma is now seriously considering the call but has as yet reached no decision and the people of Grace church are unanimous in their desire to have their pastor remain with them. The Rev. Joldersma is an active worker in his denomination. He will take his vacation the second week in August, when he will take a trip through the northern part of the state.—G. R. Herald.

The Rev. Henry Beets, pastor of the LaGrave St. Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids, who recently went to the Netherlands on a holiday vacation, gave himself up to authorities upon his arrival in his native land, because when a mere boy he had skipped the country and came to America to avoid a draft in the army. His wife received the good news Tuesday that he had stood a trial before a board of magistrates and had received a full pardon. It was given on account of his extreme youth at the time he left the country and because his eyesight was defective at the time anyway. The fact that he had voluntarily returned was also taken into consideration. For the past few years the longing to see his native land has been growing upon him, and he finally made up his mind to stand the consequences and make the trip. The news of his pardon was received with joy by his many friends on this side of the water.

Judge Seaman, in the United States court at Milwaukee held that a transportation company is liable for throwing overboard a cargo of lumber or other material in a storm, even though it be to save the boat and the lives of the crew. The case in point was the suit of the South Arm Lumber company against the owners of the steamer Wolverine, from which vessel a cargo of shingles was jettisoned.

The Ludington harbor tug Sport is something of a family affair, being manned by a crew of three brothers, Ed, Frank and Trifley Moran, captain, fireman and engineer respectively. The Sport is a plucky little boat in a sea and it is a pretty sight to watch the Moran brothers pick up a vessel out side in rough weather. As may be imagined this is a feat sometimes accompanied by considerable danger but the Sport crew has never met with an accident while taking a vessel's tow line in the open sea. In performing the delicate operation not one word or signal is ever passed by the members of the tug crew. The skipper stands by his wheel, the engineer with his hand on the throttle and the fireman has his position aft where the vessel's line is taken the instant the tug comes alongside, and is quickly made fast. To accomplish this feat without the aid of signal bells or orders from the captain requires quick action and unerring judgement.—Ludington Record.

ALARM WHISTLES WARN THE FARMERS.

Rain and Hail Cause Great Damage in Two Illinois Counties—Much Stock Drowned—Mississippi Flood Reaches Its Maximum—Cloudburst in Iowa.

Springfield, Ill., July 25.—A portion of Lacy levee, at Havana, was washed away at noon Wednesday by flood waters of the Illinois river, and 12,000 acres of land, 5,000 of which were under cultivation, are now inundated by water varying in depth from five to ten feet. Lacy levee protected lands just south of Havana. Just previous to the breaking of the levee, the surface of the water stood at 19 feet and one inch above low water mark, and the water is still rising. Workmen struggled for hours in an endeavor to protect the levee. Alarm whistles sounded a warning to the farmers in the flooded district. No fatalities have been reported.

most disastrous rain and hailstorms that ever visited this section swept over the southern part of Whiteside and the northern portion of Bureau counties, Ill., just east of this city. The banks of the Hennepin canal were overflowed, the water carrying away the houses of John Norton and Frank Jones. Hundreds of head of horses, cattle and hogs were drowned. Fields of corn and small grain were totally destroyed by hail. Although the loss cannot be accurately estimated, it will doubtless amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Mississippi Flood. Keokuk, Ia., July 25.—The Mississippi flood reached its maximum throughout the district on the Missouri side and the crest was at Hannibal at noon Wednesday, when the stage was at a standstill. The river fell four inches at Quincy and ten inches at Keokuk. The commissioners for Illinois levees report them in good condition and the protected country of many square miles safe. The farmers of the flooded territory are scattering to the cities for work at any kind of employment, some as far north as Dubuque. Hundreds are in a pitiable condition of abject poverty. It will require two weeks to uncover the ground.

A Cloudburst. Waterloo, Ia., July 25.—A cloudburst at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon did $50,000 damage and drove 20 families from their homes. At one time the business streets of the town were under from two to three feet of water, and hardly a basement in the city escaped being flooded. Dryrun creek became a torrent and for the second time this year overflowed. No lives were lost, but three people narrowly escaped drowning.

LOSS IN THE PHILIPPINES

The First Compilation Showing the Casualties Among Troops in the Archipelago.

TOTAL NUMBER OF ENGAGEMENTS 2,381

Only in a Very Few Instances Were the American Troops Forced to Surrender—Average Strength of the Army Was 40,000—Deaths from All Causes 4,155.

Washington, 24.—The casualties in the American army in the Philippines from February 4, 1899, the opening of hostilities by the insurgents, until April 30, 1902, which date is given as that of the virtual ending of the insurrection, have been made public by Maj. James Parker, of the adjutant general's office, being the first compilation of the sort relating to the warfare in the archipelago.

Losses from All Causes.

The losses from all causes are given as follows: Killed or died of wounds, 69 officers and 936 enlisted men; deaths from disease, 47 officers and 2,335 enlisted men; deaths from accidents, 6 officers and 125 enlisted men; drowned, 6 officers and 257 enlisted men; suicide, 10 officers and 72 enlisted men; murdered, 1 officer and 91 enlisted men; total deaths, 129 officers and 4,015 enlisted men; wounded, 190 officers and 2,707 enlisted men, a total of 2,897; killed and wounded and deaths other than by disease, 282 officers and 4,188 enlisted men; total, 4,470.

Percentage Lost in Action.

A large proportion of the deaths by drowning occurred in action or in active operations against the enemy. Maj. Parker makes the percentage of killed and wounded to the strength of the army 9.7.

There were 2,561 engagements with the enemy, more or less serious. The larger proportion of these fights were attacks from ambush on the American troops or skirmishes in which only small detachments took part.

Very Few Surrenders.

"In almost no case in these engagements," says Maj. Parker, "did American troops surrender or have to retreat, or have to leave their dead and wounded in the possession of the enemy, notwithstanding that in many cases the percentage of loss was high."

The number of troops that had been transported to the Philippines and had arrived there up to July 16 last was 4,135 officers and 123,803 men. The average strength, taken from monthly returns for the period of the insurrection, was approximately 40,000.

School Teachers Murdered.

France, Berea, O.; missing from Cebu, were murdered by Ladrone; bodies recovered. The leader of the murderers killed; eight others captured by the constabulary."

Army Post.

Washington, July 24.—Reports have reached the war department that excellent progress is making on the Manila post. Congress appropriated $500,000 early in the year, and 1,800 acres of land on the Pasig river has been acquired for the post. The tract is about three miles long and one mile wide. Roads have been graded and macadamized from the river to the new buildings, and work on the latter is being pushed rapidly.

They find that the explosion was caused by some person or persons, to the jury unknown, taking into room No. 2, sixth right heading, where gas was known to exist, an open lamp, using the same in direct violation of the mine rules and regulations of the Cambria Steel company.

Reassign the Army.

Lake George, N. Y., July 29.—Edwin Burritt Smith, Carl Schurz, Moorfield Storey, Herbert Welsh and Charles Francis Adams, constituting a committee appointed by the anti-imperialists to investigate conditions in the Philippines, in a communication to the president revive the charges of army cruelty in the Philippines and urge action to bring offenders to justice.

Capetown, July 27.—In a recent speech at Paarl, Cape Colony, Gen. Botha said that all of South Africa was under one flag, but that the Boers had not been vanquished. Democratic County Discon Convention.

The democratic county convention will be held in Grand Haven last Monday, B. Waters of Spring Lake wasirman and M. G. Manting of Holland secretary.
The main contest was over the report of the committee on resolutions. There was a long discussion on the merits of the section pledging the support of the Ottawa delegation to the state convention to Sligh for Governor. Wm. H. Loutit led in the opposition to that section.
During the spirited debate Geo. P. Hummer was called upon to give his ideas. Mr. Hummer said that he thought that Chas. R. Sligh being a neighboring democrat should be given the vote of confidence of the convention, and while he was not arbitrary, seemed very much inclined toward Sligh. His little speech had its effect and assisted the supporters of the committee on resolutions.
After the resolutions affairs had been put away, the ghost of free silver made its appearance in the person of Jesse Crofoot of Jamestown, who offered a resolution in behalf of the democrats of that township, reaffirming and expressing confidence in the Kansas City platform. Mr. Crofoot's resolution was very unfavorably received and he met with no support.
Mr. W. Phillips made a motion that the nomination of a county ticket be deferred until some later time, his argument being that there would be a better representation, and the party would be able to cope with the Republican nominees. L. H. Sanford and others opposed this motion and Mr. Phillips finally withdrew it.
Upon motion of Mr. Watson a committee was appointed with a representative from each district to confer for fifteen minutes, in order to arrive upon a good strong ticket. The motion prevailed and a recess was taken. The following county ticket was put in nomination:

Probate Judge—Wm. N. Angel, Grand Haven.
Sheriff—Fred Kamferbeek, Holland.
Clerk—John Higgins, Georgetown.
Treasurer—Byron W. Parks, Grand Haven.
Register—Johannes Dykema, Holland.
Prosecuting Attorney—John C. Post, Holland.
School Commissioner—Lawrence J. VandenBerg, Grand Haven.
Court Commissioners—C. T. Pagelson, Grand Haven; Guy Little Cooper, Holland.
Coroners—P. Palmer, Grand Haven; H. J. Feppen, Jamestown.
Surveyor—G. J. Hesselink, Holland Town.
Representatives to the state legislature were nominated by respective districts as follows:
1st district—W. O. Van Eyck, Holland.
2nd district—Albert H. Bosch, Jamestown.

After The Naval Training Station.

Pursuant to a call issued by Mayor DeRoo a public meeting of citizens was held in the G. A. R. hall last Monday evening to discuss the idea of endeavoring to have the U. S. government establish the naval training station for the Great Lakes at Holland. Mayor DeRoo was chairman of the meeting and G. Van Schelven was secretary. The secretary read the following extract from the naval appropriation bill for the purpose of showing the scope of the project:
"The secretary of the navy is hereby directed to appoint a board, composed of naval officers, whose duty it shall be to select on the Great Lakes a suitable site for an additional naval training station, and, having selected such a site, if upon private lands, to estimate its value and ascertain as nearly as practicable, the cost for which it can be purchased or acquired and of their proceedings and actions to make full and detailed report to the secretary, who shall transmit such report with his recommendations thereon to congress for its action."

The following communication from Congressman William Alden Smith, written July 25, was also read by Secretary Van Schelven: "Some time ago I suggested to the secretary of the navy the desirability of the east shore of Lake Michigan as a suitable place for the establishment of a new naval training station. The secretary of the navy advised me that the matter was in the hands of H. C. Taylor, rear admiral of the United States navy, and president of the board. I am this morning in receipt of a letter from Rear Admiral Taylor saying that he would be glad to consider sites on the east shore of Lake Michigan at Holland or Grand Haven and that the board of which he is president will visit such sites as are offered on their trip to the lakes in the early part of August. It will be readily seen that a naval training station of this character, would be of the highest importance to the community favored and I would suggest that if you desire to tender a site, the matter to be taken up formally and presented to Rear Admiral Taylor."

Additional information was furnished by the following communication from Rear Admiral Taylor addressed to Simon Kleyn, who is now in Washington and who was directed by Hon. G. J. Diekema to obtain from department officials all information possible:
"Your letter of the 21st instant to the Honorable the Secretary of the navy has been referred to me, as president of the board to examine sites for the proposed naval training station on the Great Lakes, as authorized by recent act of congress, and in reply to your inquiry I beg to say that the cost of the station has been fixed by law. The size of the training stations in use at present varies from about 100 to 150 acres. The board has been authorized to select a site, and if such site is upon private land to estimate its value, and ascertain as nearly as practicable the cost for which it can be purchased. The board has not formulated any requirements for the station. It is not essential that there should be an organization of the naval reserves in the vicinity of same. The board expects to visit the lakes in the early part of August."
After a short discussion a committee of five consisting of C. J. DeRoo, G. J. Diekema, George P. Hummer, G. Van Schelven and J. C. Post was appointed to investigate available sites and to arrange for a visit of the official board to this city. Holland has unsurpassed advantages to offer the government and a better place for the station cannot be found on the chain of lakes.

Lewellyn C. Dutton Drowned in Lake Michigan.

Lewellyn C. Dutton, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dutton, was drowned in Lake Michigan last Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock.
With his two brothers, Henry and John, he was in bathing at Chicago Beach about 1/2 of a mile south of the pier. The boys could not swim and disappeared in the shallow water until Lewellyn walked towards the end of the small pier extending into the lake and looked into the clear water. The bottom did not seem far away and the boy, undoubtedly miscalculating the depth, jumped off the pier. The water was about ten feet deep and Henry and John were horrified to see Lewellyn, after his first appearance on the surface, struggle vainly for an instant and then sink from sight. They could do nothing to aid him although Henry tried to get a plank to him before he sank. Then Henry, after admonishing his younger brother to watch and to be ready to render aid in case their unfortunate brother should arise again to the surface, ran to the life saving station for assistance. The crew hurried to the scene and soon brought the body to the surface. They tried to restore animation to the lifeless body but it was of no avail as the boy had been under water about 1/2 of an hour.

Undertaker Nibbelink brought the body to the home of the parents in this city and the funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. J. T. Bergen officiating. The pallbearers were George Deming, George Bosman, John Vaupell, Hans Olsen, John DeVries and Sears McLean, schoolmates of the deceased.
The death of Lewellyn brings sorrow to many homes in this city as the boy was well known and had a large number of friends. The blow is doubly hard upon the family circle to which he belonged for his father is very ill, being afflicted with a malady that has confined him to his home for several months.

Mediums Should Beware of Widows.

"Here is some one," said the medium, "who wishes to talk to Mrs. Sadie Pringle. Will the lady, if there through a person in the audience, please rise?"
An anxious looking little woman stood up.
"It is a man's voice I hear," the medium went on, "Are you a widow, Mrs. Pringle?"
"Ye-es" she replied, rather timidly and sat down.
"Yes," the medium continued, "it would have been unnecessary for me to ask you that if I had waited a moment. The person at my side says he has a message for you. He says he is your husband, and is very happy. He is often by your bed at night and—"
"Beg your pardon," Mrs. Pringle said, rising again. "I'm not the kind of a widow you think, and the man that was my husband is sitting back of that third post over there, looking far from happy."
The seance then broke up in a general row.

Jacob Jacobs Cuts His Throat With Razor.

Jacob Jacobs, for many years a resident of Holland township cut his throat with a razor at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Bor, three miles southeast of the city last night at 8:30.
He retired at that time and when his aged wife went to his room a half hour after she saw him lying on his face on the floor. She shook him and receiving no response became alarmed and sent for her son-in-law who was in the pasture at the time. Mr. Bor found that the old man was covered with blood that came from a gash in the throat. He was still breathing. After summoning some of the neighbors, Mr. Bor came to Holland for a doctor, but before his return with the physician Mr. Jacobs passed away.
Mr. Jacobs was so nearly blind that he was scarcely able to distinguish daylight from dark and this affliction caused despondency that made death seem welcome. He tried to cut his throat with a jack knife last spring.
Besides his wife, who is 72 years of age, deceased leaves two daughters and one son. Coroner Mastenbroek impannelled a coroners jury consisting of Arthur Van Duren, J. Lokker, Jerry Leapple, R. Zeeryp, Seth Nibbelink and N. J. Whelan, and this morning after viewing the remains and hearing the testimony of Henry Bor the jury adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Hon. Luke Lugers Not A Candidate.

Hon. Luke Lugers has announced his withdrawal from the race for a third term in the state legislature in the following letter dated June 18:
"To the voters of the First Legislative District of Ottawa county, Michigan: By this I wish to inform my friends and constituents that I am not a candidate for re-election as a member to the next legislature.
I am very thankful for the cordial support and confidence vested in me during my two terms of office, and I can assure you that I highly appreciate it, and shall be ready at all times to help to hold up the banner of righteousness, honesty, integrity and republican principles. Trusting and hoping that some day we shall be able to stand shoulder to shoulder to fight, and conquer all bloodshed, bribery and all political corruption of every name and nature, and that the office seek the man and not the man the office.
Having expressed myself to my friends when asked whether I wanted a 3rd term, my answer has invariably been that I was ready to step aside for any good republican that wanted the office and as I am informed that there are others that are very anxious to fill the place, so I am perfectly willing to clear the track.
In politics as ever, and ever ready to help a good cause along,
Sincerely yours,
L. LUGERS."
Mr. Lugers has represented the first district in the state legislature for two terms. He has been faithful to the interests of his constituents and has a good record as a legislator.

Died At His Child's Grave.

While listening to the last sad words of the clergyman at the grave of his infant daughter, Marius Van deLuyster of Grand Rapids dropped dead from an attack of heart failure in Zeeland Monday morning.

Mr. Van de Luyster had been a resident of Western Michigan nearly all his life and was a veteran of the Civil war, having been a member of Watson post, G. A. R., of Grand Rapids, and served with Company L of the Twenty fifth Michigan Infantry. The baby that died last Saturday was the youngest of a family of eleven living children, and with Mrs. Van de Luyster the deceased went to Zeeland Monday morning with the remains of the little one, to have them interred in the cemetery of that town, which was founded by the father of Mr. Van de Luyster. The ceremonies at the grave were only partly started, when the father staggered and fell into the arms of friends and died almost instantly.

Mr. Van de Luyster was employed in the factory of the Economical Dye company. He had been married twice and was about 65 years of age. As a result of a former marriage three daughters and two sons, all grown up, survive the father, and there are five small children, the issue of his second marriage.

Mr. Van de Luyster lived in Zeeland until ten years ago. He was well known in Holland and some of his relatives live here.

The management of the base ball association has decided to put an end to the practice of jumping the fence, and sneaking into the grounds without paying, which has been quite generally indulged in in the past by persons who can well afford to pay for seeing the games. One young man was arrested Tuesday and was brought before Justice McBride, who, after warning him that a repetition of the offense would mean a fine and imprisonment in the county jail, allowed him to go on suspended sentence. The management has also decided to insist upon the right given them by the law to keep all persons a distance of ten feet from the fence and all who in the past have clung to the outside of the fence and watched or who have perched upon wagons close to the fence will if they repeat the offense be forced to leave or to submit to arrest.

"81 to 50 cents that you don't solve Jas. A. Brouwer's 20th century puzzle," is the remark that you hear among betting men nowadays. The people are all talking about the puzzle and great curiosity is aroused regarding its solution. It is apparently very simple but is liable to prove baffling to those who have not a lucky streak in their make up. It was patented by the inventor of the old 13 block puzzle and bids fair to acquire as wide a fame. Mr. Brouwer will give a $5 rocker to the first person that solves the puzzle and there promises to be brisk competition for the prize.

TALKS TO THE SOLDIERS.

President Roosevelt Visits Camp of the New Jersey National Guard at Sea Girt.

RECEIVES A MOST HEARTY WELCOME.

In His Address to the Troops He Points Out the Value to the Country of Their Service—Thanks Volunteers for Safety of the Nation and Deserving of Government Aid.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 25.—No president ever received a more sincere, heartfelt and patriotic welcome than that accorded Thursday to President Roosevelt by the people of New Jersey. From the time he landed on New Jersey soil at the Atlantic Highlands pier at 1:35 Thursday afternoon until he left in his launch for the war yacht Mayflower, anchored several miles off the pier, at 3:15, he was the recipient of a continuous ovation. The president, on invitation of Gov. Franklin Murphy, extended through Senator Kean, visited the encampment of the Second brigade of the national guard of the state at Sea Girt. Accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Emlen Roosevelt, Miss Christine Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary Loebe, the president left Sagamore Hill at 7 o'clock Thursday morning and boarded the Mayflower, his official naval vessel, from a launch.

A Warm Welcome.

The run to within sight of Atlantic Highlands was made by the Mayflower in five hours, but the vessel came to anchor there, as the water was too shallow to admit of her approaching the pier. Just as she anchored the president stepped ashore, with Secretary of War D. H. Porter, ambassador to the United States, Gen. Leonard Wood in the lead, and the rest of the party. As the president stepped ashore, the Mayflower fired a salute of 21 guns. The president responded by dipping his hat to the troops.

John L. and people greeted the president at the Sea Girt station. The president was escorted in a motorcade to the governor's cottage, where he was met by the military encampment. As he arrived at the cottage a president's salute of 21 guns was fired. After a brief rest and an informal reception at the cottage President Roosevelt and Gov. Murphy and staff reviewed the troops in camp, the president being mounted on a magnificent chestnut bay which he sat perfectly. At the conclusion of the review Mr. Roosevelt was escorted to a stand adjoining the parade ground and there addressed the assembled troops and the multitude which had gathered and which numbered by this time nearly 15,000. The president said in part:

The President's Address.
"I think that our people have not always appreciated the debt they were under to the national guard. A man who goes into the national guard and does his duty faithfully and courageously, puts the whole country under an obligation to him. Always in our history it has been the case, as it will be in the future, that if war should arise, it is to be met mainly by the citizen soldiers—the volunteer soldier. We have, in the regular army, officers and men who are trained in the type of soldiering that we had in it, an army which I believe, for its size, is unequalled. Then, I think, we have the national guard, the citizen soldier, who is the backbone of our defense. I am sure that, in the future, the great bulk of our troops must come from the ranks of the citizen soldiers; and in forming those ranks the good done by the presence of men who have served faithfully in the national guard cannot be overestimated. Those men are ready. They know what is expected of them. They train others to do the work that is needed. And, another thing, ladies and gentlemen, the same qualities that make a man a success, that makes him do his duty decently and honestly in a national guard regiment, are fundamentally the qualities that he needs to make him a good citizen in private life."

"Just as it is in the army, so it is in citizenship. If you are content to go through life waiting for a chance to be a hero you may wait and the chance may not come. The way to be a good citizen is to do well the ordinary, every-day, humdrum work that comes to citizenship. Don't you think so? I am sure you do. The man who wants to wait until a battle comes is not likely to be the good fighter; and the citizen who waits for heroic times is likely to be a mighty bad one."

"I plead with you to do your duty as national guardsmen and as citizens. Do your duty day by day—the common, ordinary duties which, when done, make in their sum, the citizenship of the nation."

At 3:15 the presidential party returned to the Mayflower and started for home.

A Terrible Deed.

Woodfield, O., July 28.—Mrs. Everett Spencer, aged 19, Sunday morning killed her husband, aged 21, and then killed herself. She shot her husband while he was asleep and then used the same weapon on herself. They had been married less than two months and were both well connected. It is thought that she was temporarily deranged.

To Fight a Judge.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28.—Impeachment proceedings will be instituted by the United States Mine Workers of America against federal Judge Jackson, who issued an injunction against West Virginia strikers and sent five agitators to jail for alleged violation of his order.

Burned to Death.

Xenia, O., July 25.—A Pan-Handle limited train was wrecked near this city and three passengers were burned to death in a sleeping car and the engineer and fireman were killed.

OUTLOOK FOR CROPS.

Fine Yield of Corn Promised in Western States—Condition of Other Cereals Favorable.

Washington, July 30.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows:

The corn crop has experienced another week of exceptionally favorable conditions over much the greater part of the principal corn area, the least favorable reports being received from southeastern Missouri and southern Illinois, where the crop is being injured by drought. A fine yield is promised in Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and over much the greater part of Missouri, Illinois and Ohio. In Iowa, where the crop has suffered much in previous weeks from heavy rains and lack of cultivation, corn is improving, and in the early fields is earing heavily. In the middle Atlantic states and to the southward of the Ohio river corn has suffered much from drought in sections, especially the early planted.

Showers have prevented the completion of winter wheat harvest in the lake region, New England and the northern portion of the middle Atlantic states, where damage to wheat in shock is quite extensively reported; elsewhere harvesting is completed except on the Pacific coast, where it is progressing rapidly in Oregon and has begun in Washington.

Late spring wheat needs rain in portions of South Dakota, and rust is appearing in North Dakota, but on the whole its condition is very promising.

Oat harvesting is progressing under difficulties in the upper Mississippi valley and lake region, where the crop is badly lodged and fields in some sections are too wet for reapers. Notwithstanding these adverse conditions the general outlook for a large yield is favorable.

As a rule the general outlook for apples continues unpromising, although in some sections a good crop is promised. The most favorable reports are received from New England, eastern and northern New York, Michigan and portions of Illinois, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The bulk of a good hay crop has been secured in the states of the central valleys. In the lake region and northern portion of the middle Atlantic states haying continues, but has been considerably delayed by rains and much has been damaged.

GUILTY OF CONTEMPT.

Judge Jackson in West Virginia Sentences Miners Who Refused to Obey Court Injunction.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 25.—Judge John Jay Jackson in the federal court here sentenced to terms of imprisonment of from 60 to 90 days six leaders of the striking miners who were cited for contempt of court in violating the injunction recently issued by him on application of the Fairmont Coal company.

In delivering his opinion Judge Jackson said he recognized the right of laborers to form unions and to quit at any time unless bound by contract. He strongly censured the accused unionists, characterizing them as "a professional set of agitators, organizers and walking delegates," whose "mission is to foment trouble," and gave from the bench a general defense of the use of the writ of injunction in strike cases.

"Mother" Jones was held equally guilty, with her associates, but in her case judgment was suspended, Judge Jackson declaring that "as she was posing as a martyr, he would not send her to jail or allow her to force her way into jail."

Cyclone in California.

San Francisco, July 30.—A special from Tucson, Ariz., says that a cyclone visited the gulf of California on Thursday night, wrecking vessels and damaging many buildings in the coast cities. The wires have been down and news of the disaster has just been received. At Guaymas five vessels in the bay were dashed ashore and sunk. Two of them, El Luella and El Graviña, were large steamers engaged in coastwise trade.

Liberty for Spalding.

Chicago, July 30.—Judge Dunne, on petition of Attorney W. G. Anderson, representing former banker Charles W. Spalding, issued a writ of habeas corpus, returnable Friday, and Jailer Whitman, armed with the writ, left at 11:15 a. m. for Joliet, accompanied by Attorney Anderson, Mrs. Spalding and other friends of the imprisoned banker.

Stoned to Death.

Santa Fe, N. M., July 30.—Alejandro Seba was stoned to death here Tuesday. Luis Romero had returned home unexpectedly and found Seba in company with his wife. After stoning Seba to death, Romero and his relatives dragged the body 300 yards through wire fences and over stones to the murdered man's home. Then Romero surrendered.

Earthquake Shock.

Omaha, Neb., July 29.—An earthquake shock so severe as to cause consternation in many places is reported from towns in Nebraska, western Iowa and South Dakota. The disturbance occurred shortly before one o'clock Monday afternoon and lasted from 10 to 15 seconds.

Fire in an Iowa Town.

Waterloo, Ia., July 28.—Waterloo suffered a loss of $100,000 by a fire which started in the basement of the United States express office. Two firemen were badly hurt while fighting the flames, one of them fatally.

Two Are Dead.

Canal Dover, O., July 25.—Joseph Vender and Mrs. Charlotte Fondries, both of Wainwright, a small village near here, are dead as the result of eating poisonous plants which they mistook for mushrooms.

Victim of Blood Poisoning.

Mattoon, Ill., July 28.—A week ago, while mowing his lawn, Walter Kilner, a wealthy retired business man of this city, cut his finger with a blade of grass. Blood poisoning set in, and he died Sunday in great agony.

Electrocuted.

Danmora, N. Y., July 30.—George D. Middleton was electrocuted at Clinton prison for the murder of his wife in 1901.

RIVERS IN TEXAS RAGING

Every Stream in the State Is Higher Than for Many Years and the Rains Continue.

PROPERTY LOSS WILL BE VERY HEAVY.

Hundreds of Acres of Land Are Under Water and Crops Are Ruined—Flood Warnings Are Sent Out—Late Reports Indicate That the Worst Is Yet to Come.

Dallas, Tex., July 30.—The flood situation was nowhere improved in south Texas Tuesday, while in many places it was worse and the area of destruction was greater. The San Marcos river overflowed at San Marcos and destroyed much property. The Brazos continues to rise. One life was lost in the flood.

Damage at San Marcos.

San Marcos experienced the most destructive flood ever known there. The water went three feet higher than the record in the great flood of six years ago. Property losses will amount to thousands of dollars.

At Upland G. Smith, a blacksmith, was drowned in Plum creek. The stream is a mile wide at Lockhart.

Advices from Cameron say that hundreds of acres of fine cotton are under water from the overflow of the Brazos and other streams. Fifteen inches of rain have fallen at Palestine in three days, causing several wash-outs on the International & Great Northern road.

Streets Flooded.

At Texarkana torrents of rain fell and the streets were flooded and traffic suspended. Water was spread over a foot deep in the Western Union telegraph office.

At Brenham over eight inches of rain fell in eight hours—the heaviest known there—and crops are said to be ruined.

Hundreds of acres of valuable cotton lands are under water along Chambers creek near the Corsicana, with little chance of saving anything.

Loss Will Be Heavy.

Houston, Tex., July 30.—The flood situation continues to grow worse. Sunday night's reports were encouraging from all points on the Brazos river, which is the stream that is causing the most trouble. On Monday more rain fell along the entire length of the river and in many places the lowlands were flooded. Heavier rains than have yet fallen were reported Tuesday from practically the whole of the Brazos valley. There is no way of even approximating the damage at this time, but it will reach into hundreds of thousands.

Railroad and wagon bridges have been washed out all over the country. Every stream in the state has more water than for years. In the cattle country creeks which have had no water in them for 20 years are bankful.

Flood Warnings Sent Out.

Galveston, Tex., July 30.—The United States weather bureau has sent flood warnings to all points along the Brazos river below Waco. Late reports indicate that the worst is yet to come, and that unless the rains cease the damage will be fearful. The Santa Fe railroad is suffering considerable damage and all trains on the main line are delayed.

LAST CHANCE GONE.

Action of Cuban Cabinet Prevents the United States from Securing a Coaling Station.

Washington, July 30.—Probably the last chance the navy department had to secure a coaling or naval station in Havana harbor has been lost by the action of the Cuban cabinet in authorizing the lease of the arsenal grounds. This was the site of the projected United States naval station, for which it was admirably adapted by its position and depth of water. News of the Cuban cabinet's action has just reached here. Nothing is expected to be done respecting the acquisition of sites for naval or coaling stations elsewhere on the islands until next winter.

Dutch Minister Pardoned.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 30.—Rev. Henry Beets, pastor of the Lagrange Street Reformed church, of this city, and one of the most popular of the local Holland ministers, left here last June to visit his childhood home and relatives. On arriving he gave himself up to the authorities to answer for leaving Holland when a boy to escape service in the army. His wife has received word from him that he has stood trial and been pardoned because of his youth at the time of his departure.

Funeral of Mr. Rothschild.

Chicago, July 30.—The funeral of Abram M. Rothschild, the merchant who committed suicide, took place at noon Wednesday at the family residence, 3725 Michigan avenue. In accordance with the wishes of the family the obsequies were strictly private. Services were held at noon, Dr. Joseph Stolz, rabbi of Israel Temple, officiating, and only relatives, personal friends and business associates of the deceased being present.

Smuggled Chinamen Caught.

El Paso, Tex., July 30.—A prairie schooner, loaded with six smuggled Chinamen, piloted into this country from Mexico by an American, has been captured near Douglas, Ariz., by custom guards. The driver of the wagon escaped, but the Chinamen are in custody.

Seed Corn For Next Season.

As the season advances evidence accumulates in support of our position that seed corn will be scarce next year. In some of the corn states there will be more or less corn which, if husked and carefully husked, will grow. Much of the corn is late and comparatively immature, and the moisture must be removed before freezing weather arrives. But large sections will produce no corn suitable for seed. The supply for these must come from outside or from last year's crop. Look out for your seed this fall, advises New England Homestead.

News and Notes.

F. H. Taylor, a Nebraskan, is announced as the chief in charge of agricultural interests for the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

The agricultural department of the St. Louis exposition will have the largest of all the buildings, covering more than thirty-two acres and having a perimeter of more than a mile.

"Insecticides and Fungicides," farmers' bulletin No. 146, concerns the chemical composition and effectiveness of certain preparations and contains information of interest in anticipation of the annual warfare on bugs and plant diseases.

The Barry gold medals for new and valuable fruits were awarded by the Western New York Horticultural society to the originators of the Perfection currant and the Charlton grape.

In English experiments it has been noted that the number of small potatoes increases with the number of stems that a potato produces and varieties with strongest stalks were the best drought resisters.

FARM & GARDEN

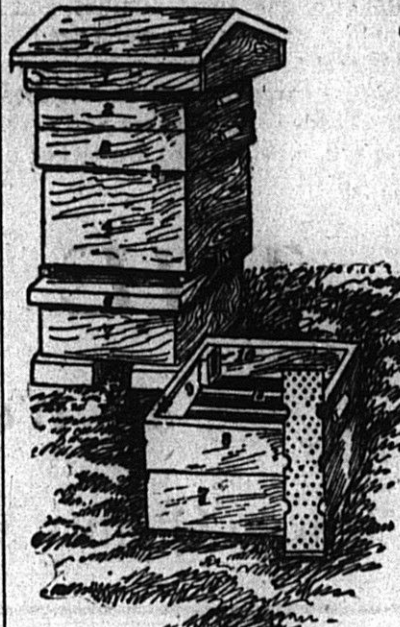

IN THE APIARY.

Arrangement of a Hive For the Production of Comb Honey.

The illustration, originally presented in The Farmer's Advocate, shows the system of comb honey production followed by a successful Canadian apiarist, the principal points of which are as follows:

1 represents the cover, beneath which is a cushion two inches thick of soft, fine hay, and beneath this is a cotton cloth of hard white cotton duck, which rests on the sections.

2, 2 are section supers, one-quarter inch deeper than the sections used.

COMB HONEY HIVE.

Mr. Pettit's are seventeen and one-eighth inches square, inside measurement, each holding thirty-six sections.

3, queen bar of excluder, which covers the brood chamber, admitting only worker bees to the supers.

4, brood chamber.

5, wedges of wood one inch deep in front, gradually tapering to a point at the back. These are used in summer to allow ventilation, and they also raise the front of the hive so as to induce the bees to go up the sidewalls of the hive and the brood combs near the back of the hive.

6, floor projects three and a half inches in front of the brood chamber.

7, 7, stand of two six inch boards and two seven inch. This rests on bricks, as shown.

8, comb honey supers, same as 2.

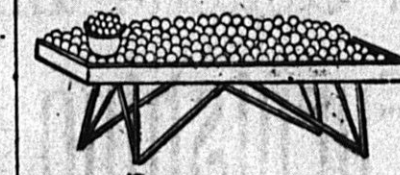

9, 9, divider set on two of the sides of the super, as shown in position. It is one-eighth of an inch thick and has three-eighth inch holes, through which the bees pass to the sections.

10, section in position, resting on T-tins 12 and against a divider. The section is filled with light foundation of good quality within three-sixteenths of an inch of the bottom. With sections fitted with foundation in this way the bees fill them evenly.

11, bee space of five-sixteenths of an inch, created by six blocks numbered 13 on divider No. 9. The advantage of this extra bee space at the sides of the super is to allow for a double quantity of bees to keep up necessary animal heat, which is advantageous to the finishing up and capping the combs in the sections.

A Convenient Assorting Table.

The cut, from Ohio Farmer, shows an assorting table for fruit or roots, which is about 3 by 12 feet and nearly 3 feet high, with a four inch rim all around so as to hold about six bushels of apples or potatoes and bring them right up so that the men can stand up straight in sorting. Speaking of assorting potatoes in the cellar, a correspondent says in reference to this table: With a wire scoop shovel we scoop them up from the cement bottomed cellar, leaving all dirt and dust on the floor to be swept up and taken out. The table stands in a good light, and the sorting is far more rapid, easy and accurate than when you kneel down and sort from the big pile. The legs should be well braced both lengthwise and crosswise. We have two of these tables, and they are a great help and a great saving of back ache and knee ache in assorting several thousand bushels of apples and potatoes in the course of a year.

The Cornstalk Disease Again.

The stalk feeding season leads Iowa Homestead to comment on the cornstalk disease, with the following summing up of the situation: "All the theories of disease heretofore propounded fail to work out and explain the cases that are found in practice, and they are consequently worthless. It is one of the diseases of which as yet we can only say we don't know what causes them. Deaths occur in some fields and none in others. Corn fodder that is cut up and fed in that form has never caused a case of stalk disease so far as we know. If one will turn cattle into stalkfields, he must take the risk as to results, for no prevention is known, and no cure has been discovered for the disease when it once attacks an animal."

ALFALFA AS FERTILIZER.

It Also Improves Tilth of Soil and Drives Out Weeds.

The great value of alfalfa as a feeding stuff, especially in the western and southern states, is well understood. This has been established by long practical experience and by the scientific investigations of a number of the experiment stations. These investigations have not only demonstrated its value as a feed for all kinds of stock, including pigs and poultry, but have shown the stage of growth at which the plant contains the greatest amount of nutritive material and the best ways of curing and ensiling the crop.

The value of alfalfa as a fertilizer has perhaps not received so much attention, although a number of stations have investigated this phase of the subject. Professor Ruffum of the Wyoming station has shown that the crop is especially valuable for increasing the nitrogen of soils of the arid or semiarid region, for improving the tilth and for destroying weeds by crowding them out.

In experiments at this station it was found that land which had previously been in alfalfa produced $8 to $12 more value in wheat, $16 worth more of oats and $16 worth more of potatoes per acre than land which had grown potatoes and grain before, and these "increases of yield and value were produced with absolutely no cost for fertilizing the land." The results were obtained on land which had been in alfalfa five years, the crop being cut for hay each year, leaving nothing but the stubble and roots in the soil.

According to analyses reported by the Colorado station, a ton of alfalfa hay contains 44 pounds of nitrogen, 8.27 pounds of phosphoric acid, 50.95 pounds of potash and 40 pounds of lime. Alfalfa is a leguminous plant and is therefore able to draw the larger part of its nitrogen from the air, thus causing an actual increase of nitrogen in the soil.

It can readily be seen from the above figures that if the alfalfa is turned under a considerable increase in the available fertility will result, but even if the crop is removed the soil is improved in tilth and fertility by the shading of the ground and the decay of the large, deep growing roots of the plant, as was demonstrated in the experiments above referred to.

AS TO GROWING RYE.

A Friendly Crop That Works For the Farmer During the Winter.

If you have an old timothy sod or a field with perhaps no sod that is to go into corn next spring, with a lot of cows or cattle roaming over it, tramping the life out of it and hunting for an allegation of grass upon it for their sustenance, remove the cattle and plow the field and prepare the soil nicely and sow two bushels of rye to the acre.

The ground should be compacted with a fine, shallow seed bed and the whole operation of the seeding done well.

The rye will appreciate and pay for two or three hundred pounds of fertilizer of rock and potash to the acre. After the ground has settled in the fall and while frozen during the winter a coat of manure will benefit the rye. Save the manure and make the land richer for the next crop.

If the rye makes a heavy fall or early winter growth, if so desired it may be pastured when the ground is not wet, although I never recommend pasturing anything but the pasture. As soon in the spring as the rye is big enough to cut for feed it is old enough, and cutting may begin very early in May for silage and be profitably fed to all farm stock. What has not been used for silage cut just at or before the rye is blooming and make into hay.

Cure in windrows and cocks and get from an acre two to five tons of hay that is highly relished by the stock and in feeding value very much superior to timothy. Every ton of this hay that displaces a ton of timothy in feeding represents a ton of timothy for sale at next spring's good prices, and the better quality of the rye hay fully pays for the cost of its production.

The rye will be removed from the ground in ample time for planting corn on the same land and the corn be rather better than otherwise for the friendly crop that worked and saved during the winter, concludes a writer in Farm Journal.

Colony Poultry House.

This is an excellent colony house for hens or growing chickens. The construction appears plainly in the cut, from The Farm Journal. There is a closely protected room for roosting and laying, if used for hens, but one instantly accessible. Eggs can be gathered from the outside through the openings at the end. The space behind the netting and below the second floor gives protected space for the fowls or chicks during a storm or shower. For chicks a roost can be placed in both compartments above, the doors being left open and netting placed across the front. This gives protection and ventilation also. The height in front is four and a half feet.

FROST AND FERTILITY.

Resistant Effect of Vigorous Growth in a Variety of Plants.

In a recent visit to a large nursery I saw two striking examples of the effect of vigorous vegetable growth in counteracting frost, says a writer in Rural New Yorker. Part of a field of cowpeas planted as a cover crop was green and making some growth, while in the other part but few living plants could be seen, nearly all having been killed by a recent heavy frost. The nurseryman told me that the space covered by green peas had been heavily manured just before planting time and that the rest of the field had received no enrichment.

The second illustration was even more marked. A large block of young apples, two years from the graft, had on one side several acres of rather weak growing trees. On these were few fresh green leaves, nearly all having been browned by frost. On the remainder of the block the trees had made a good summer growth and were full of vigor. The foliage of these was green and almost unharmed, especially on the strong growing upper shoots. In this case the less vigorous plants were on land from which trees had been removed but two years previous and which had not recovered from the depletion of fertility by this former crop. The more fertile part had gone through the usual nurseryman's rotation of several years without trees. In both instances the land was flat, where elevation or air drainage could have had no effect and where there were no forests or water or changes in soil or other apparent factors that could have brought about the differences mentioned. A number of similar examples along the same line which have come under my observation could be given.

I call to mind a field of celery at Kalamazoo in which soil fertility seemed to offset a hard frost. In a forestry experiment in Utah I noticed two successive seasons that the upper leaves and shoots, which we usually speak of as "tender tips" and which of course are best nourished and most vigorous, kept green after the lower leaves were badly frost-bitten. Winter killing of grains is most common on poor soils. Vitality in plants varies with the fertility of the soil.

BARLEY FOR FEED.

Much Used on the Pacific Coast For Horses—Not Good For Hard Work.

Except on the Pacific coast, barley is not extensively used as a feed in the United States, doubtless owing to the fact that it is in such demand for brewing purposes that it is high in price. Wherever it is grown it is frequently possible to secure at a low cost grain which is off color owing to rain or fog during harvest and which for this or some other reason is unfit for brewing, but valuable as feed. The barley grown on the Pacific coast is extensively used in the feeding of horses. Its use for this purpose is old in other countries. The Arabs fed their horses unground barley, and it is used successfully by the Berbers of north Africa. In Europe its value is generally recognized. Barley may be fed whole to horses having good teeth and not required to do severe work. Since ground barley, like wheat, forms a pasty mass when mixed with saliva, it is regarded as more satisfactory to crush than to grind it if for any reason it is considered undesirable to feed the grain whole. In composition barley resembles oats and other cereal grains quite closely.

The North Dakota station has recently studied the value of barley as a feed for work horses and mules. For some months this grain was fed with timothy hay to three horses and two mules. The mules did not eat the barley with marked relish at any time, but for two months, during which time they were performing light work, they ate enough to keep them in condition. The work was then increased, but they would not eat a correspondingly greater quantity of barley and soon began to refuse it altogether for a day or so at a time. The mules were then given oats on alternate months. This grain was eaten with relish, and gains in weight were made. Although the trial lasted nine months the mules persistently refused barley.

This trial indicates that horses, when taxed to the limit by hard work, can not be supported upon barley quite so well as upon oats and that it is worth slightly less per pound than oats with stock which is given a medium amount of work. It indicates further that mules take less kindly to barley than do horses and that horses which are inclined to be "dainty" eaters will not eat barley so readily as oats.

One Way to Pasture Sorghum.

On July 1 at the Kansas station twenty-seven milk cows were given all the alfalfa hay they would eat and then turned into a sorghum field of 6.7 acres for fourteen minutes. The sorghum was from eighteen to twenty-four inches high. The next day they remained thirty minutes, the third day forty-five minutes, and so on, increasing fifteen minutes daily until they reached an hour and thirty minutes, when they were left to run at will. During this transition period the cows were given all the alfalfa hay needed to keep up the normal flow of milk. Cattle should have their stomachs so well filled that they feel completely satisfied before touching the green sorghum and then be allowed to eat only a few minutes at a time until they are accustomed to it.

A Wrinkle in Planting.

A Kansas man puts in a field of soy beans on one side of his wheat and flax on the other side as a protection from chinch bugs. The hogs do not attack either of these crops, and the flax ground can be plowed in August and put in wheat again.

Yacht Race From Chicago To Macatawa.

The annual 100-mile crossing race of the Chicago yachtsmen to Macatawa bay, given under the joint auspices this year of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club and the Columbia Yacht club of Chicago, will start from Chicago Saturday afternoon, the yachts being expected to finish the race some time Sunday. About forty yachts of the Columbia and Lake Michigan Yacht clubs of Chicago are entered in the race, for which the principal prize is the silver Waukago cup, offered by J. C. Everett of Chicago and J. C. Post of Holland for classes 1A and 2A, cabin sloops, cutters and cats, the big fellows of the lakes. The preparatory gun for this class will be fired at 5:05 p. m.

There are also several Milwaukee boats entered for the 100-mile cruise. The Chicago Yacht club on account of local jealousy, will not take part in the race, the start for its annual cruise to Mackinac having been set for the day before the Macatawa race. Most of the yachts which make the cruise will remain over the annual races of the Lake Michigan Yachting association at Macatawa the following Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Among the entries of the Columbia Yacht club in the Waukago cup class are the Siren, which will start scratch, and the Neva, Veacador, Vallan, Iroquois, Josephine, Widsath and Martha B. which are rated in order on time allowance.

TOWN AND COUNTRY FOLK.

Their Respective Peculiarities Become Less Accentuated Through Intimate Association.

From an editorial article in Century with this title we take these extracts concerning the relations of city and village people:

"This is the time of year when the little American village has put on its best bib and tucker, for company is expected. The interplay of influence between city folk and villagers has begun again, with that freedom of exchange which helps to mutual respect and aids in giving solidarity to the American character. Not that either class has entire understanding of the other, or is likely to give up its cherished preconceptions or customs. The fads and follies of the citizen are respected with quiet tolerance and some wonder as part of the bargain, while, on the other hand, the countryman comes in occasionally for a good-humored but not less superior sort of criticism for his slowness in 'catching on.' Nevertheless, when the summer is over, the horizons of both have been expanded wholesomely, and they find much more in common than either would have thought possible—a palpable benefit which is in proportion to their open-mindedness and good will. Their little prejudices have been found to be but skin deep, while often lasting bonds of sympathy and even of friendship have been formed.

"At no point are summer visitors and their hosts more united than in common admiration of 'our village.' It is made more attractive because visitors are expected, and it is selected by them because it is attractive. All through the winter they have been thinking of the long, well-watered, and shady street of ancestral elms, or the tidy gardens of flowers, or the far sea views from piazzas covered with honeysuckle or crimson ramblers. Many a weary woman has been helped through the winter 'season' by visions of summer evenings—a supper with the freshest berries, the hottest of toast, and the neatest of linen, followed by the cheer of lamps and the fellowship of books which there is plenty of time to read. The hostess in the small town has learned her business, and has added to the gaiety of at least one nation. On her part, the loneliness of the winter life makes her look forward with social expectation to the return of 'the boarders,' with their music and their genial talk, even their troublesome children. She has made several improvements in the place due to suggestions of last year, and she anticipates the pleasure with which they will be greeted. And yet neither hostess nor guest is apt to realize to the full the value of both of this interchange of friendly life. It is going on, as these lines are read, in thousands of households, and it has no rival in civilizing influence in our American life."

Holland Defeated Big Rapids Giants.

The game last Saturday between Holland and the Columbia Giants, the aggregation of colored men doing business under the Big Rapids banner, was one of the best games ever seen on the local diamond—and the best of it all was that Holland won, distancing the $1,000 beauties by a score of 2 to 1. Karsten, who pitched for Holland, had the swarthy gentlemen from the southland completely at his mercy and their efforts to find his curves were ludicrous. They made but five hits off his delivery but could not turn them into more than one run as the Holland team backed Karsten like big leaguers, playing an errorless game.

The pyrotechnics of the game were Tibald's hollow of the arm trick that he learned in 1847 when Spaulding's team played the first settlers of Holland, Karsten's fine backup of the home plate, and the cornering of a Giant between third and second.

Holland's first score was made in the third inning by Jim DeFree who hit safely, stole and then scored on a passed ball. The second was made by Ball on his walk, Tibald's hit, Karsten's bunt and a wild throw.

500 fans saw the game and they declare it was the best they ever witnessed. "Tards" VerSchure umpired in a manner that did not admit of question.

Holland, 5; Ionia 2.

Ionia, fresh from its victory over Grand Rapids, came to Holland Tuesday to try and displace Holland from the top of the percentage column but the efforts of the resubstituted visitors were fruitless and the Holland boys took them into camp by a score of 5 to 2. Ball was in the box for Holland and pitched a superb game outclassing Rapp, the Ionia pitcher.

All of Holland's runs were made by timely hitting. Tibald and Ball found a spot on the outside of the fence on which they landed the ball for home runs. Root was the cannon cracker of the occasion and his fine work in center field made bleachers and grand stand noisy with exultant shouts of "Root, Root, Root." He pulled down six high fliers and covered over an acre of ground.

Dickerson Tells What He Will Do.

Dickerson, the mighty wielder of the magic pen that makes the sporting news of the Grand Rapids Post famous throughout the state; Dickerson, the man that avers that the independent ball players have the swelled head; Dickerson, the man that gave Dirty Bill Smink a pair of black eyes and since doing so has travelled to the Pacific coast on his shape with a view of annihilating Jim Jeffries; Dickerson, the exalted, the wonderful, the invincible Dickerson, was in town Wednesday. He came here to read the riot act to everyone in general and to the editor of the News in particular. He has not slept well since the News was issued last week because that paper said what he thought were real mean things about him and he came here to wipe from the face of the earth the paper and all connected therewith. But it is not likely that the trouble will end in anything more serious than a duel with pencils at twenty paces. Dickerson said he would settle matters with the editor at a future date as he wished to confine his attention at present to the ball game to be played between his team and Holland August 8. He spoke as follows regarding the game:

"Wait until we get at that bunch of wooden shoe wonders. We won't do a thing to them. Why the town will look like a black burying picnic in a colored graveyard. The idea of that bunch beating us. They have no more license to do it than the 'Mud Hens' from the 'Swamp league.' I have just nine men and everyone of them came from the Pop Corn league and that is where you get the cracker jacks. Those with sympathetic natures may already begin buying the crepe for Manager DeFree. I feel sorry for you fellows for it is a nice town and the fans applaud the good plays of visitors but sympathy will be laid aside next week and a certain little city on Black lake will be wiped off the map, (that is the base ball map.)"

The files of the News tells of a wonderful base ball game played in Zealand back in the eighties. The Black Diamonds of this city went there to meet another club and defeated it by a score of 100 to 1 in a game played in the forenoon. The Zealandites were undaunted and hustled together a club of grown men for an afternoon game. The second game ended in a fight with the score 56 to 0 in favor of Holland. Of course this was before the days of Marshal and Karsten or there would have been different.

When Dickerson was in town Wednesday Con DeFree accused him of being older than Tibald. To this he replied as follows:

"I object decidedly to the statement that Grandpa Tibald is several years my junior. I acknowledge to having played in the abolitionist league back in 57 and in Grant's league that won the rebellion pennant but at that time I was a youngster while Bill Tibald then known as 'Dad' was captaining the team and playing right field. Sporting writers then spoke of his great work back in the Valley Forge campaign and of his one handed throws. I used to then respect his grey hairs and it is more than I can bear to say he is younger than me. But then that will have nothing to do with us when we get at Holland and if something does not happen—by the beard of our prophet the moon will never shire again."

Down at Holland they have the champion guardian of a ball ground. He is hot after the kids from noon till after the game and any youngster who can beat him is awarded a medal. He carries a long whip and when a kid starts to climb into the grounds the kid's eyes shift from the man to his whip and back with lightning speed. He always attracts more attention than the ball players. There is one strong argument that wins a ball player to the small towns and when it comes to hiring a young player who has no martial entanglements it cannot be excelled. The argument is that a ball player is ace high with the young ladies. This is said to be especially so in Big Rapids and that is why "Rowdy" Mason liked to play there.—Grand Rapids Herald.

Joyner Tells Tony Giants Will Win.

The Chicago Union-Giants will try to do what their colored brothers failed to do last Saturday afternoon. Tomorrow they will try to defeat Holland and incidentally to obliterate the memory of the tie game that Holland treated them to the last time they played here.

Bill Joyner, the boss jollier and star coacher of the world, said to Tony Van der Hill last Saturday when he was here waiting for the Chicago boat after the Giant's victory of Fennville: "Dey'll be nofin to it child. We smuver you to death next Saturday shure as I's blacker than you." Tony says he has a presentiment that Joyner's words are not true and as Tony is good at the prophecy game the chances look good for Holland tomorrow. The record of the Holland boys shows that they are as fast as the Giants and they have more than a look-in to win tomorrow.

Holland Defeated Buckner And Greenville.

The Wooden Shoe brigade, conspicuous in uniforms set off by wide brimmed straw hats and wooden shoes, marched fiercely to the Greenville diamond yesterday afternoon and after holding a powwow around the home plate squared away at the Implement company representatives led by the famous Buckner.

In the minds of Gov. Bliss and the 1200 spectators there was but one team on the diamond and that was Holland's. So far did Ball outshine Buckner that the colored gentleman was invisible and when Greenville was in the field all the rooters could see was a dark shadow in the pitcher's box. From the delivery of this shadow the Holland boys secured 12 hits winning the game in a walk by a score of 5 to 1. Ball allowed but 5 hits and kept them so well scattered that Greenville would not have seen the home plate had not Fairfield been injured by a hot grounder. This injury and a little hard luck made it possible for Buckner to lug the solitary tally across the plate. Marshall made a home run that will have a place in the history of Greenville forever. Ball was struck in the head while sliding to second in the sixth but he pluckily stayed in the game and pitched shut-out ball every minute of the time.

Sporting News

The Chicago Union-Giants defeated Fennville Saturday by a score of 10 to 1. Can they do the same to Holland,

The Chicago Union-Giants were here Tuesday on their way from Chicago to Allegan. They announced that they trounced the Columbia Giants, now known as the Big Rapids $1,000 beauties, at Chicago Sunday to the tune of 7 to 3 for the colored championship of the world and that they were ready to give Holland a dose of the same medicine tomorrow afternoon.

To-day the Holland club plays the Twin City club at Saugatuck and a couple of car loads of fans will go down to root for the boys. The Twin City club has been greatly strengthened and will make a desperate effort win.
