YOUTH WILL BE SENTENCED FOR ALLEGAN DEATH

Oil Field Worker Is Found Guilty by Jury After Three-Day Trial

Man Convicted in Order
Forgery Also to Face
Judge Soon

Allegan, July 27 (Special) — Found guilty by an Allegan circuit court jury Wednesday afternoon of a charge of manslaughter, Lyle Connor, 23, of Bradford, Pa., an Allegan oil field worker, will be sentenced Wednesday, Aug. 2, by Judge Fred T. Miles.

The charge resulted from the death of Mrs. John Coleman, 63, of Allegan county, killed last May 22 when she was struck by Connor's car on a residential street here while allegedly racing down a hill with another car.

Connor's trial opened Monday before a jury which received the case Wednesday forenoon. After receiving additional instructions from the court, the jury returned its verdict about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

In another case, Herman Bouwman, 34, Allegan, was convicted of passing a forged county drain order by a jury in Allegan county circuit court Wednesday afternoon. He will be sentenced by Judge Fred T. Miles Wednesday, Aug. 2.

Bouwman, who earlier in the spring served a county jail sentence for theft of automobile parts from the county road commission garage, was alleged to have stolen drain order blanks from the courthouse while working there during his jail incarceration. He cashed an order for $4.95 at a local store.

TWO ARE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Fennville, July 27 (Special) — While driving to Holland Tuesday noon Ned Roberts and Clyde McKellips, both about 23, were injured when their car struck a culvert near the Bergholt farm, one mile north of Fennville, and rolled over three times.

Roberts was driving the car, which they had borrowed from the Andrew Vander Vliet garage. His injuries consisted of a scalp laceration which required stitches.

McKellips was thrown to the road, some distance from the car. They were taken to the local doctor's office by the Bergholt brothers, who heard the crash. McKellips was found to be suffering of a brain concussion and was removed by ambulance to Douglas hospital.

The car was completely wrecked and the culvert was moved some distance by the impact.

McKellips is employed by Earl Green on whose farm he is raising sweet corn on shares and they were en route to Holland to get a car that had been repaired prior to a trip Wednesday to the Muskegon market with his sweet corn. Roberts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Huyser.

ALLEGAN WORKER IS CRUSHED BY TRUCK

Allegan, July 27 (Special) — Farry Jewett, 55, Allegan, was in Allegan General hospital, suffering of severe chest injuries and several broken ribs received Wednesday noon when he was crushed between the corner of a pick-up truck and the storage building of the K & S Fibre Products Co. Jewett and Aaron Walters, who was driving the truck, were loading a gasoline pump and engine onto the truck. Walters moved the truck ahead, but as he shifted gears it slipped back and caught Jewett, who at that moment stepped from the building.

Jewett's condition, while serious, was not considered critical today.

Don Van Lente Signs Again With White Sox

The season for picking Holland's ball players for chances on big league teams is under way.

One local player was signed by Doug Minor, White Sox scout, and another was under consideration today after the scout looked over Holland's 1939 aggregation in action against the Detroit Clowns Monday.

Minor signed Don Van Lente for duty with Richmond in the Piedmont league next spring. Van Lente was with the White Sox in the East Texas league this year, after signing with Minor last fall, but he came home early this summer and rejoined the Dutchmen.

The Piedmont league is in class F and the East Texas league is in class C.

NO VILLAGE JAIL BUT LAW IS MAINTAINED

Coopersville, July 27—Marshall Ted Eistedt hoped today that residents of this village won't assume that open season on violations has been declared just because the jail has been abandoned.

It's not far to the Grand Haven county jail, he pointed out, and that's where violators of local ordinances will be taken if their offenses are sufficiently grave.

The cell block, which was torn out of the southwest corner of the village hall, had not been used since Marshall Eistedt took over his new duties. Warnings thus far, he said, have been sufficient to bring violators back in line.

However, the lawfulness of residents did not cause the removal of the cell. Officials feared a fire hazard, created by the housing of fire trucks, with their large gasoline tanks, in the same part of the building. Had a prisoner been confined at the outbreak of a fire, he likely would have been burned to death.

RELIEF EXPOSE SPEEDED HATCH BILL -- HOFFMAN

Allegan Solon Also Points to Public Demand for Probe of NLRB

Cites Republican Unity in Clean-Politics, Wagner
Sift Action

Washington, July 27—Passage of the Hatch bill, making it an offense for executive officers other than the president and a certain few to use federal money for political purposes or for themselves to engage in political activities, was speeded by the disclosure of widespread use for political purposes of money appropriated for relief in New Mexico, Kentucky, Tennessee and Pennsylvania, it was pointed out by Cong. Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan, Mich.

"For years it has been customary for the administration to pack national conventions with federal officeholders," he said. "The bill also was aimed at this practice."

"As part of a 13-hour continuous, tumultuous session, the house, by a vote of 242 to 133, over the bitterest kind of opposition from the administration and a little group of radicals, passed the Hatch bill."

Commenting on the Wagner act, coalition, the closed shop and neutrality, he added: "An illustration of the truth of my contention that, when the people in unmistakable terms make known their wishes, congressmen jump through a hoop, was given at this same 13-hour session."

For weeks, senate and house labor committees have been hearing witnesses as to the desirability of amending the NLRB, commonly known as the Wagner law. It became evident that these committees, although taking testimony day after day for months, did not intend to report out any amendment to the law. Every public poll showed a demand, running sometimes as high as 70 per cent of the voters, for a change ranging from complete repeal to amendments in procedure.

Congressmen knew the law should be amended. Their mail was filled with protests against its unfairness. Unable to induce the labor committees to act or to explain to their constituents why they themselves did not do anything after so long a relay and tied down by house procedure, their resentment burst forth and, by a vote of 254 to 134, instructed the speaker to appoint a special committee to investigate the activities of the labor board.

"At times during the last two sessions, as on the 'death sentence' and the 'supreme court' legislation, there was a coalition of Democrats and Republicans, but on the Hatch and Wagner law actions last week, the Republican membership for the first time was united 100 per cent, functioning smoothly, with precision and intelligently."

"Republicans did little talking on either issue, but by every parliamentary procedure they aided (and all but six of the elected Republicans were present and voting, three having died and three being absent attending funerals) those conservative Democrats who joined with them, and the result was a solid attack which swept on to victory in spite of the whole power of the administration and of the radicals."

"CIO now demands that no one shall work in a General Motors plant, help make a General Motors car, unless he joins the CIO. If General Motors agrees to that and throws out of employment all the men who will not join the CIO, how would General Motors like it if the farmers whose boys were denied employment in its factories and all the rest of us refused to buy any car made by General Motors? Think it over, Mr. Knudsen, and all General Motors executives."

"Unless the president changes his mind again, he will not ask congress to return in special session to give him further powers to declare aggressor nations and meddle in foreign affairs. He was very angry because the senate, by its action in refusing to repeal the neutrality law, indicated that it did not want him to join in the game of world power politics, and announced that he intended 'to take it to the people,' but he has since, according to his latest statements, decided to let the matter rest."

License Examinations Are Now Offered Daily

LISTS OTTAWA CRIPPLE FUNDS

Judge Vande Water Shows
Extent of Cut in Aid
by New Law

Grand Haven, July 27 (Special) —Miss Cora Vande Water, judge of the Ottawa probate court, has revealed that Ottawa county will receive $5,664 for hospitalization of afflicted children and $3,400 for treatment of crippled children during the ensuing year from the state government as a result of the 1939 act No. 162 which limits the probate courts in their administration of hospital services for both afflicted and crippled children.

Miss Vande Water said that for the year ending June 30, 1938, there was expended by the state for Ottawa county's afflicted children $7,409.94. The new appropriation is $1,745.94 less than that of last year.

During the past year, the state paid $10,759.93 for Ottawa county's crippled children patients, she stated. Next year's allotment is $7,399.93.

A total of 103 afflicted children and 98 crippled children were assisted in Ottawa county during the past year. Under the new arrangement, the new monthly grants will amount to but $455.22 for afflicted children and $273.17 for crippled children, she reported.

"This means that only the worst of what have been considered emergency cases can, in the future, be approved. It must be definitely understood, because this law has now taken effect, that bills contracted for hospitalization (Continued on next page)

The two were seated in the coupon room just to the right of the bank vault at the rear of the lobby. Noticing her father's sudden illness, Miss Keppel called to Clarence Jalving, cashier, who came to his assistance.

When Mr. Jalving reached the room, Mr. Keppel was gasping for breath. The bank cashier took the elderly man in his arms and he died before a physician who had been called could reach the bank.

Later his body was carried out of the room by Mr. Jalving, Gary Jalving and Ben Timmer, bank employees.

Mr. Keppel had suffered a heart attack last spring and was confined to his bed for several weeks. His health the past month or six weeks had improved to such an extent that he was able to go outdoors.

He apparently was in normal health when he arose on Wednesday. Mr. Keppel and his daughter had been driven downtown about 10 a.m. by another daughter, Mrs. Clarence Samuelson of Traverse (Continued on next page)

LOCAL COUPLE ASKS DAMAGES

Judgments totaling $5,500 are asked in two damage suits filed Wednesday in Muskegon circuit court by Benjamin Van Eyck and his wife, Nancy Van Eyck, 84 West Seventh St., against Robert C. Lentz, a Muskegon oil promoter and contractor.

The suits are an outgrowth of an automobile accident at Washington Ave. and 18th St., in Holland, Sept. 6, 1938. A car owned by Benjamin Van Eyck, and driven by his son, Marvin, was traveling on Washington Ave. and was involved in a collision with the machine driven by Mr. Lentz on 18th St., plaintiffs set forth.

Mrs. Van Eyck, mother of the driver, was in the back seat and a trailer with produce was attached to the rear. The weather was damp and streets were made slippery by rain and the Van Eyck car was traveling at about 15 miles an hour, plaintiffs allege. They claim the Lentz car was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Mr. Van Eyck seeks to recover $500 for damage to the car, medical expenses for his wife and loss of the produce. Mrs. Van Eyck seeks $5,000 for personal injuries.

Plaintiffs seek to have the jury award them $5,500 in damages.

A complete crew for the trip has not been named. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, John Flaherty of Battle Creek and Morris Higgins of Jackson will be on board.

Mr. Cameron is sanitary engineer for Jackson city, and Flaherty and Higgins are newspapermen. On the trip to Port Clinton, Francis Flaherty, Dr. Harvey Hansen and Oliver Claggett, all of Battle Creek, will be on board. The Camerons will meet the boat at Port Clinton.

DUTCHMEN WIN IN 8-2 CONTEST AT LOCAL PARK

Whip Detroit Clowns in Third Straight Win in Two Weeks

Bob Vanden Berg Pitches Victory for Holland Over Invaders

Holland stretched the season's second winning streak to three games Monday night in an 8-2 victory over the clowning ball players from Detroit.

Bob Vanden Berg, Dutchman hurler, set down the Detroit Clowns with only four hits and two runs while the locals were gathering 12 hits and eight runs for the third consecutive bacon of the current run.

The season's second largest crowd attended the game, and found the clown-suited ball players an entertaining lot. Only the attendance at the Dutchman-House of David game a week ago surpassed the crowd of more than 1,000 Monday.

For the second game in a row, De Neff led the hitting. In the past two games he has taken six hits in eight times at bat. Against the Clowns he went to first on an error in the first frame, but during the rest of the game he hit a single, a double and a triple.

Neifert also got a triple. Woldring and Keuken each got two hits in four times at bat.

Vanden Berg pitched a standout game. He struck out seven batters, walked three, and allowed but four hits. Gore and Goetz pitched for the Clowns. Until the seventh, Gore struck out four men, walked two and allowed eight hits. Goetz struck out two batters, walked none and gave four hits.

Goetz has been under contract with the St. Louis Cardinals for the past three years, but has not yet had his chance.

In a free hitting ball game, packed with fielding thrills, Holland's Flying Dutchmen took their second victory in a row last week by setting down the Toledo Luckeys Friday night, 11-7.

The Dutchmen, at full strength, started off to make Friday's game a one-sided affair, and until the Luckeys got to Lefty Van Wieren for hits in the fourth and sixth frames, it looked very much like it.

While the Toledo boys were going down in order in the first three innings, Holland's leadoff man, De Neff, drew a hit to center field in the first. Neifert sacrificed and Driscoll doubled, scoring DeNeff.

There was no scoring in the second, but De Neff led off again in the third, and pasted a single into right field. Neifert went to first, and Driscoll drew his second hit—a single to right field to score DeNeff. Neifert went to third on a passed ball, and scored on a catcher's error.

One of the longest home runs ever hit in the Holland park scored a pair of Toledo runs to make the score 3-2 in the fourth inning. R. Snyder drove the leather over the roof of the outfield grandstand to score Peer, who had gone to first on a single to left field.

Holland got out of danger in the last of the frame when Neifert scored both Wenzel and Van Wieren on a single over the third baseman's head.

Holland picked up three more runs on successive singles by De Witt, Woldring, Van Lente and Keuken in the fifth inning, and led 8-2 when the visitors made their greatest threat in the sixth.

Lefty Van Wieren, who pitched despite an infected eye, set the invaders down in the first eight innings with 10 hits. He let one man to first on a walk, and fanned six batters. The Toledo team had three men left on bases.

Schinder pitched for Toledo until the sixth frame, allowing 10 of 13 Holland hits for the game, walking five and striking out four. L. Snyder replaced him in the sixth. Sanders taking Snyder's place at third. He allowed three hits, walked two, fanned none.

Holland batters left five men on bases. Ken Vanden Berg replaced Driscoll at right field when he took over the mound for Van Wieren in the ninth.

DeNeff led the Holland hitters, he got three successive singles, and had a record of three out of four at bat. Keuken, DeWitt and Driscoll besides DeNeff, each got two hits.

Mr. Keppel was a life-long resident of Holland, having been born here Aug. 4, 1869, to Mr. and Mrs. Teunis Keppel. He was the youngest son in the family.

His parents were among the first families to come to Holland after its founding in 1847. In 1863, Mr. Keppel's father, founded the building materials business of T. Keppel's Sons which is still in operation at 63 East Eighth St.

He attended school until he was 12 years old when he quit school to go to work for his father. Mr. Keppel held the distinction of delivering the first load of coal in Holland.

He continued in the coal and building materials business until his retirement in 1932. At the time of his retirement, coal dealers of Holland and Zeeland tendered him an appreciation banquet and presented him with a valuable cane as a token of their esteem.

Mr. Keppel was a director of the Peoples State bank. He also was a director of this bank for several years before its reorganization. He became director of the new organization three years ago when Edgar Landwehr retired and moved to the east. He had been reelected to the board at subsequent annual meetings of the bank stockholders.

He also was a former director of the Charles Karr Co., now the Spring Air Products, Inc., and was a director of the Plainwell Paper Co.

He was a member of the Holland Exchange club and took an active part of its activities. He had been chairman of the Goodfellow's foundation since its organization three years ago for the purpose of taking the responsibility of custody, control and spending of the funds which are raised each year for the improvement of the health of the needy children in Holland.

Until his marriage, Mr. Keppel was a member of Ninth Street Christian Reformed church, Ninth St. and College Ave. He recalled on many instances that his father assisted in building that church, he having brought the pillars to Holland from Port Sheldon. Following his marriage he became a member of Hope Reformed church.

Mr. Keppel, on June 7, 1893, married Miss Cornelia De Vries in Grand Rapids. She lived in the red brick house on the old Zeeland road near the Black river bridge.

For a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Keppel have made their home at 85 East 10th St.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Cornelia Keppel, he is survived by four daughters, Miss Ruth Keppel, at home; Mrs. T. L. Kennedy of Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. William Votruba of Traverse City and Mrs. Clarence Samuelson of Traverse City; one sister, Mrs. John Stout-hammer of Milwaukee, Wis.; and three grandchildren, Arthur Keppel, Clotting of State College, Pa.; William Keppel Votruba and Evelyn K. Votruba, both of Traverse City.

A daughter, Mrs. Arthur Clotting died 10 years ago at State College, Pa. A brother, Bastian Keppel, a Holland resident, succumbed a few years ago.

A few years ago Mr. Keppel purchased a tract of land on Lakewood Blvd. and presented the Albert Keppel School of Forestry Preserve to the city school system. Miss Lida Rogers has been actively engaged in planting the land with trees of various varieties.

Mr. Keppel also planned the log cabin which is located on the grounds, it being designed like the first log cabin in Holland. Mr. Keppel planned the cabin from memory of this first one as described by his father. Under his supervision the cabin was built by members of the Exchange club.

CRIPPLE SUM

(Continued from page one) In excess of the allotment must be paid by the county treasurer, and Ottawa county has made no appropriation of funds to be used for this purpose," Miss Vande Water stated.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, Michigan spent $1,497,573.98 for hospitalization of afflicted children but under the new act only $500,000 will be available for the ensuing year. The state expended $688,719.45 for crippled children hospitalization last year but only $300,000 will be available now.

The act provides that the crippled children's commission shall divide the appropriated money among the counties and prohibits the auditor general from paying any bill in excess of the appropriated amount for any of the counties.

"The cooperation of the doctors, hospital, supervisors and all taxpayers is asked," said Miss Vande Water. "Without their support, assistance would necessarily be denied many needy cases. You can readily see that many of the cases which have heretofore been treated at state expense must now be turned down. Naturally, that will not be pleasant in a great many cases but the probate court must act according to the law.

"At a state conference June 28, an effort was made to work out a plan whereby this important work could be carried out but the general conclusion of the conference was that only a small fraction of the service rendered in the past could be continued.

Holland Furnace Picnic Is Featured by Contests, Entertainment

Gerrit Jaarda Is Given Award for Length of His Services

Approximately 2,500 persons spent an active day at Tunnel park Saturday when the Holland Furnace Co. entertained its employees and their families at an annual picnic. The weather was ideal and the five-minute shower late in the day was just enough to settle the dust after a full program of active sports.

A kitten ball game between two all star teams started the day's activities at 9 a.m., captained by Chink Roberts and Simon Stool. The former team won the match by a score of 9 to 0 with Russ Woldring hurling a two-hit game for the winners.

The second event was a softball contest between two girl teams captained by Audrey Beckman and Thelma Harmsen. The Harmsen team won by a score of 11 to 10.

The greased pig contest, always an outstanding sports feature at the furnace picnics, was won in the morning by Herman Stool and Bud Slag. The pig in the afternoon contest was captured by Bert Bouwman.

Numerous contests for all ages were included in the morning and afternoon programs. All prizes were cash with the exception of the pigs, chickens and canteen tickets.

A basket picnic was held at noon with the company furnishing soft drinks, coffee, ice cream, lemonade and other confectionery. From 1:30 to 3 p.m. a feature program was presented on the specially constructed platform in the grove by a group of the Vaudeville Booking Agency of Chicago.

The program consisted of a comedy bicycle act, Jimmy the wonder monkey, Gasca brothers aerial act, Mann brothers rope and juggling act, Noble trio acrobats, and Zuzi-clown, comedy and wrestling act.

The prize for the largest family went to Martin Glass, employed in the foundry, who was present with his wife and 12 children.

The big tug-of-war was won decisively by the foundry group which pulled against a group from all the other departments.

Gerrit Jaarda who has been in the continuous employ of the company since February, 1914, was presented with a portable radio in recognition of the length of his service. This award is given annually to employees next in line and present at the picnic. British Sensations

Stars of London, the Twelve Apostles will appear at the Ionia Free Fair, August 14 to 19, this year with the repertoire that captivated British stage enthusiasts. Ottipoby Talks at Youth Meeting at Saugatuck

The Rev. (Chief) James C. Ottipoby, one of the two ordained American Indian ministers of the Reformed Church in America, gave the address at the worship service Sunday night at the Westminster Lodge Youth conference at Saugatuck.

Rev. Ottipoby is from the Winnebago mission, Nebraska, where he has a pastorate. He chose for his subject "Jesus as a guide becomes Our Leader and Friend." He pointed out that young people must endeavor to find Jesus and walk with Him to get sustenance and support. He brought out that young people should set their eyes on one solid object and drive toward it and will, thus, go in a straight course. He illustrated this by his father who had been a farmer. He set his course on a definite object when he plowed the first furrow and thus made it straight for the rest to pattern by.

"We of today have nothing definite. If we set our eyes on Jesus Christ our course will be straight," he said.

Chief Ottipoby emphasized the factor of service. He said that the Indian has given up religion for Jesus Christ and religion is the most precious thing a man possesses. "If the Indian has made that sacrifice, then what have 'we' who have been brought up in Christian atmosphere to sacrifice."

The conference opened Saturday with the all-high record of 186 delegates for the Reformed church conferences held throughout the country. Faculty attendance raised the total to 200. New Brunswick, the preceding conference, formerly held the record with 175 attending.

Delegates are from Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan. Grand Rapids led the list with 48, Kalamazoo followed with 33 and Holland was third with 31. Muskegon sent 13, Grand Haven 12, and Milwaukee, Wis., 10. Zealand is represented by 13, six of whom came part time. Coopersville and Roseland, Chicago tied with four apiece. Among others represented were: Mt. Greenwood, Ill., Spring Lake, Central park, Byron Center, Decatur, Atwood, Oakdale park, South Barwood and Ottawa Center.

Saturday night the conference opened officially with a dinner at 6 p.m. after an afternoon of registration. After supper, the Rev. Nicholas Gosselink gathered together a group of those who had brought their instruments and organized a band to play at the devotions which he conducted. The service was mainly that of song and scripture.

Sunday morning before the church service, Rev. Gosselink collected a group of the young people and organized a choir that sang at the service at 10 a.m. The Rev. James Z. Nettings opened the service with song. Dr. Raymond B. Drukker was the speaker, and chose for his text, "Holding Life Together," taken from the Scripture passage, "By Him All Things Are Possible."

Kleis' new course record is two strokes lower than the previous record of 68 which has been standing for the past three years. The former course record was established by Mel Borders, Kansas City attorney, who scored three 68's that year.

Witnesses to Kleis' new record were Vince Fox, Joe Chamberlain and Jerry Smith.

THE SMOKE AND THE FIRE

The mere fact that a house of representatives that is overwhelmingly Democratic voted 253 to 135 to investigate the methods of the NLRB seems to indicate that there is so much smoke there must be some fire somewhere.

For the national labor relations board is of course a Democratic creation, and the Democrats might be expected to rally to its defense along partisan lines. That the Republicans should vote for the probe is understandable; that's politics. But when Democrats themselves overwhelm the administration efforts to save the NLRB from being investigated, it surely means that the stench is so strong that it cannot be decently ignored.

Although the NLRB was the creation of the Democratic party in the execution of the Wagner act, American business is bi-partisan, and it is American business that is said to have been hit by the alleged unfair practices of the board. Democrats in congress are responsive to business as are Republicans, and it may be taken for granted that business interests in many parts of the country put the heat on the Democratic as well as on the Republican members. The mere vote on the investigation seems to prove that.

Every effort will of course be made to reduce the investigation to a state of innocuous desuetude. That is only to be expected, almost inevitable. Politics are politics, and the administration would be more than human if it did not attempt to draw the teeth out of the investigation. Under similar conditions if the Republicans were in power, they would do the same thing.

But if nothing else is gained by the investigation, even if the board should be covered with a coat of whitewash an inch thick, this will have been gained: that the members of the board themselves will finally be convinced that the distrust they have aroused among the American people is strong and widespread. They can no longer pretend that it is merely a partisan matter; the very size of the vote in congress can't help proving to them that they are on the spot in earnest.

That is as it should be. If the board has been slandered, let that fact be brought out. But it is not reasonable to believe that the vast majority of the American people—as shown by the vote of their representatives in congress—could be all wrong in their suspicions and distrust and the board completely right. The mere vote to stage the investigation is a wholesome check on arbitrary action by the board.

Some folks seem to feel lately, in spite of the popular jokes about Fort Knox, that the gold buried there may yet save democracy.

A Life of Obedience
2 Chronicles 17:1-6, 9-12

By Henry Geerlings

The rule of Solomon concluded the existence of the united kingdom. The first part of his administration was very commendable. It was marked by wise decisions, outward prosperity, peace with practically all of the surrounding nations and a considerable measure of loyalty to Jehovah. But with his death came a change in the policy of the nation, and this maladministration began with his son Rehoboam who with a hot head and absolute lack of foresight refused to lessen the financial burdens resting upon the people. The result was a most unfortunate split between the tribes of the north and the tribes of the south.

The relationship between the two was a strained one most of the time. Very frequently they were at war with each other, each trying to gain some advantage over the other. Jehoshaphat was well aware of that situation and proceeded to make strong defensive preparations. Ahab ruled the northern kingdom at this time. He was a skillful leader and fighter. The boundary line between the two kingdoms did not long remain the same. Sometimes one kingdom would take some land and fortification from the other, and then again that kingdom would lose to the other. In this case Jehoshaphat strengthened those cities with armed detachments, which Ahab had taken from the northern kingdom.

Though he started his reign under trying conditions he conducted himself very kingly. At heart he was a man of peace. He did not care for military affairs but the bitter enmity of Israel against Judah had to be dealt with and the defense methods had to be provided.

He had one supreme aim and that was the general welfare of the people. It may seem strange that a busy king should decide that religious education was very important. To him it meant national strength. It would mean intelligent conforming to the laws of God if the people were educated in the word of God. So he planned a course to be followed. In it he prescribed what was to be taught, who was to be taught and who was to teach. This was an orderly arrangement. It suggested some careful planning. A school was established in Judah under government supervision and expense. The people were willing to be taught.

Judah's rise to power at this time was noted by neighboring nations. Wars were suppressed, out of fear that Judah's God would be too strong for any of the kingdoms of the land. It was thought prudent to solicit the favor of Jehoshaphat, to buy his good will. Munificent gifts were brought by different peoples. The king became a man of wealth and influence. He had the means at hand to carry on extensive building operations. His success was notable. The reason is not far to find. He diligently sought to uphold God in his kingdom and the result was that both king and people were richly blessed.

It is very fitting that we should make definite efforts to do the will of God. His commandments have proved valid and helpful throughout history. Whenever and wherever people have sought to know and to do the will of God, they profited in experiencing peace, prosperity, and happiness. Those who remain loyal to God will never regret it. He has made abundant promises and has never failed.

Obedience to God results in a high degree of personal satisfaction. Man has a conscience. It points him to the right and directs him away from the wrong. The experience of life is that obedience to the voice of God in the soul of man leads to an inner satisfaction which is not provided by any other means in life.

The goodness of God toward us should prompt us to obey him out of gratitude. We are surrounded upon every hand with his blessings. In spite of the many disappointments and adversities, and difficulties we can still be grateful. The many gifts we daily receive should lead us to a life of thankfulness.

Few things in life give such inspiration as the motive to do the will of God. All of us need a stimulus strong enough to call forth the best that is in us. We need a goal. We need an objective. We need a center about which to focus our thought and activities. This we can find in the ideal to do the will of God.

TRUCK STRUCK BY P.M. TRAIN

Grand Haven, July 27 (Special)—Two Muskegon men had narrow escapes from death or serious injury about 9:30 p.m. Sunday in an accident which occurred one and one-half miles south of West Olive on US-31 when the front end of a tractor and trailer in which they were riding was struck by a Pere Marquette passenger train.

Schillaci was said to have fainted while driving and to have fallen over on Biel. The truck continued down the road, turned to the left, went down through a ditch and stopped on the railroad tracks. About two minutes later, the passenger train passed.

Both men were still in the cab at the time but neither of them was hurt. Schillaci was unable to continue on his way and a relief driver was summoned from Muskegon.

Mrs. Virginia Tuttle, 19, route 1, Spring Lake, was taken to Hackley hospital in Muskegon Saturday night as the result of an accident which occurred two miles north of the Ottawa-Muskegon county line on US-31 where the car driven by her husband, Leon, 22, was struck by another car, driven by Stanley Charters, 23, 401 Sheldon road, Grand Haven.

Must Turn in Half-Year Plates for New Ones

Alex Van Zanten, manager of the Holland auto license bureau, has pointed out that motorists who are arranging to purchase 1939 license plates, now being offered for half price, must bring their half-year plates with them when they come to the license bureau.

Mr. Van Zanten said it is essential they bring half-year plates in order to obtain the full year plates.

The license branch manager also urged owners of trucks who are now purchasing full-year plates for half-price to bring their previous registration with them. Mr. Van Zanten pointed out that these stubs contain the weights of the owner's truck and if this stub is not presented it will be necessary for truck owners to have their vehicles weighed again.

Mr. Van Zanten also is requesting weighmasters to use full-year blanks instead of half-year blanks when making returns on weights of trucks.

Man is not the creature of circumstances. Circumstances are the creatures of man.—Disraeli.

National Guards Home After Summer Training

Company D Arrives in City After Two Week's at Camp Grayling

Holland's national guardmen returned on Saturday, bringing with them approximately $1,600 which represented their pay, after spending the past two weeks in training at Camp Grayling.

They left camp at 7 p.m. Friday, after boarding the train 15 minutes earlier, and arrived in Holland at 4:30 a.m. today.

All supplies were unloaded and placed in the armory by 6:30 a.m. Prior to leaving camp, the guardmen packed their belongings, tore down the tents and received their pay.

As the train pulled out of camp the conductor informed the guardmen that they would pass through a forest fire in about 10 minutes. He warned that all windows should be shut as the train would pass directly through the center of the fire.

The men all looked forward eagerly to what they thought would be a new experience. When at last they arrived at the place of the fire, the men were somewhat disappointed as it was nothing more than a grass fire which was practically under control at the time.

However, the guardmen were glad that there had been no serious damage as they had seen enough timber that had been gutted by previous fires. The remainder of the trip passed without incident.

The food at camp this year was good and plentiful. Statistics for the entire camp for the 15-day period disclosed the following amount of food was consumed: Thirty-five tons of potatoes, 25½ tons of beef, 5,520 dozens of eggs, eight and one-half tons of sugar, four tons of coffee and 28½ tons of bread. One meal of chicken required two and one-half tons; one meal of lake trout filets took two tons; and three meals of ham required three and one-fourth tons.

It also was shown that each man was furnished with three pounds of onions and two and one-half pounds of sausage. The average cost of feeding one man for one day was estimated at 51½ cents.

On two different occasions, men of Company D were given pie for dessert which was made by Pvt. Gerald Watson who worked in a bakery for a time.

PASTOR STATES HUMAN NATURE IS MAIN FACTOR

Tells Rotarians One Group Most Be Led by Those Who Know How

Dr. Vance Warns That U.S. Now Has Setup for Dictatorship

"If someone came to the United States and asked for a setup in which to start a dictatorship, he could find no better than we have today," Dr. Joseph Vance, pastor of First Presbyterian church of Detroit, told members of the Rotary club last Thursday at their meeting in the Warm Friend tavern.

Dr. Vance, who has spent summers here for the "past third of a century," is staying at Castle park. His talk to Rotarians was arranged by Carter Brown, co-owner of the Castle.

Following Dr. Vance's talk, Orrie Van Tol, visiting Rotarian from Grand Haven, sang two numbers, accompanied by Willis Diekmann of the local club.

Dr. Vance discussed the viewpoint on modern problems.

"It is common to hear students say that the period through which we are passing is a new epoch. You can't tell much, but the view from which you study the times will make a difference," he said. "What you see, it probably will be."

The economist looks at the world as a struggle, and a death struggle, but the analysis from this point of view is a surface analysis.

"We must recognize that accumulation of wealth is the cause of envy, but I can't see that the world would be much better off for swapping capitalism for communism or communism for capitalism."

He told Rotarians that a group of men once approached a minister and said that the solution to all the world's problems was the equitable distribution of all the wealth. The minister pointed out that a certain group would be able to hold it only a few months before losing it all, and he asked the men what their solution was for that group.

"We'll give them to you," he was answered.

When the minister asked why he should be given the group, the men were forced to admit that in the religion of Jesus, Dr. Vance said.

"The solution is to resort to something by which you can change these people," he said. "So long as human nature is what it is, whether one is living under an aristocracy, a dictatorship or a democracy, the setup is the same. There are those who must be led by those who know how to lead."

"If someone sought a setup for dictatorship, he could find no better than we have today. There is a rift between the men who can think, and the men who do things. The men who think in terms of the golden rule, must put themselves in the place of those who don't."

'Cannon Report' Explained

Here's the "cannon report" which, being in the category of a left-handed monkey-wrench, are difficult to locate. When Pvt. Robert Jesiek of Company D, Holland's national guard unit which returned home last Saturday after a two-week training period at Camp Grayling, was sent after a "cannon report" at camp he actually returned with one. It was not a noise, but a map of the tactical situation as seen through the eyes of a quick-witted guardsman.

MILES TO RULE IN DOG DISPUTE

Otsego Man Seeks Hounds Which City Seized as Menace

Allegan, July 27 (Special) — "Dog days" will be marked on the Allegan county circuit calendar in the near future when Judge Fred T. Miles will be called upon to settle the argument between Silas Cooley, a resident of Otsego, and the Otsego city fathers.

The difference of opinion is over three hound dogs owned by Cooley, upon which he sets a $150 valuation and which were taken over by the city when Cooley failed to heed an order of the city that the dogs be removed from his premises before June 28. The city stated in their order to Cooley that the dogs constituted a nuisance and a menace to the public health.

Cooley claims that upon receipt of the order he called on the mayor and was told upon investigation that there seemed to be no reason for the order, which he then disregarded. The dogs were taken June 28. On June 30, Cooley through his attorney obtained an injunction from Judge Miles whereby the city was kept from disposing of the dogs and was to be required to show cause for the order.

In its answer, filed last week, the city stated that there was no cancellation of the order as claimed by Cooley and that, besides the three hounds which Cooley claimed were properly licensed and in a licensed kennel, the plaintiff had at various times kept as many as 11 or 12 dogs confined in a small space near Main St., to the discomfort of the citizens.

Holland Boats Will Participate in Venetian Night Parade of G.H. Fete

Grand Haven, July 27 (Special) — Holland boat owners will be among the participants at the Venetian night parade of 150 or more cruisers and sailboats at the third annual U.S. Coast Guard Water fete. The parade will be held Aug. 4 as the climax to the big birthday party which celebrates the 149th anniversary of the founding of the coast guard service.

As the Venetian night parade will be held on the opening day of the regatta of the West Michigan Yachting association, boats from all the seven clubs are expected to be here with the majority lined up in the parade. Holland, with the reestablishment of its yacht club, is expected to take a prominent part.

Irving Quimby and Noel Carpenter, who for the last two years have organized this water parade, will be at the helm again and they are confident there will be more boats entered than any previous year.

Commodore Tom Luce of the West Michigan Cruising club, newly organized this year, is supporting the program and expects to have some of the finest cruisers on the east shore of Lake Michigan lined up that night.

Flares in red and green, as have been used for the past two years, will line the north shore of the river and arrangements are being made to secure additional lighting such as a giant anchor on Dewey hill, outlined with colored lights, searchlights from various stations and lights from the coast guard fleet to be anchored in the harbor.

A feature this year will be the summer school orchestra that will be placed on a barge to play while the boats move along the river from Zarets boat works in Spring Lake into Lake Michigan and return.

WARNING IS GIVEN ABOUT QUARANTINES

A charge of violating quarantine laws was dismissed by Justice Raymond L. Smith July 20 against Mrs. Henry Israels, 324 West 12th St.

Mrs. Israels had pleaded not guilty on her arraignment and her trial had been set but, Dr. William M. Tappan, city health officer, said he had requested Justice Smith to dismiss the charge because of circumstances.

Dr. Tappan reported that the Israel home had been quarantined July 6 because of the illness of Betty Israels, 3, of whooping cough. The arrest was made after it was alleged that Mrs. Israels had visited a home on West Seventh St. and had taken her daughter with her.

The health officer reported that he had been advised of the violation of the quarantine laws by other persons and that those found doing so will be prosecuted in court. He said the quarantine violations have been more prevalent in the homes where the contagions are not regarded as serious.

Dr. Tappan pointed out that when a home is quarantined, occupants are expected to observe the quarantine as long as the quarantine card is posted and that those who are ill may not be taken off the premises unless authority is given by the health officer.

'Fire Fever' Strikes Residents of Holland

"Let's go to the fire" fever appears to have hit Holland residents "in a big way."

On last Thursday an alarm was sounded and fire trucks went "screaming" along Eighth St. and down River Ave. to the Colonial theater. Almost as quickly as the fire trucks arrived, River Ave. and intersecting streets in that vicinity were choked with cars.

Reports were, that because of the dense traffic, trucks from the No. 2 engine house on East Eighth St. experienced difficulty in reaching the scene. On the return to their stations, trucks had to fall in line and travel with the traffic.

However, the fire was not serious. An automobile parked near the theater had caught fire from a shortcircuit in a wiring. Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., did not learn the name of the car's owner. He reported the damage was slight.

This was the second time last week that a traffic jam resulted after fire trucks responded to alarms. The other occurred on July 18 when an alarm was turned in from the Louis Padnos warehouse on North River Ave.

TELLS OF GERMANY TO G.R. ROTARIANS

Grand Rapids, July 27 — Julius B. Wood, retired foreign newspaper reporter, who resides at Waukazoo near Holland, told members of the Grand Rapids Rotary club at a luncheon meeting last Thursday that the German people have only an effectively "controlled story" of the outside world and believe that they must accept privations and inconveniences equivalent to wartime experiences to regain their place in the world.

The nation, he declared, is now actually on a war basis, though it is not so described by the Germans. Butter, margarine, coffee and eggs are all hard to obtain, he said, not so much for the tourist staying in hotels, but for anyone who tries to buy these supplies in a store. Butter is sold by ounces, coffee goes only to old and favored customers and eggs are kept out of sight in the stores, sold only to certain customers.

Among the largest necklaces in the world are immense ones made of strands of roots and cane worn by women of Angola, West Africa.

PLAY BEGINS IN MACATAWA NET MEET DIVISIONS

First Matches Indicate Variety of Talent in Annual Tourney

Roland Fend Threat to Older Veterans at Resort Courts

As early matches in the second annual Macatawa open tennis tournament were played Saturday morning, members of the resort gallery were shown the prospects of the meet, which in its infancy has reached importance in Western Michigan.

Eleven year old Dick Unversagt of Evansville, Ind., defeated Edgar Orr of Grand Rapids in the first bracket of the junior match, and in the first match of the senior singles Gordon Pleune, Hope college No. 1 man for the past two years, wiped up with Bud George of Castle Park in two sets.

The two matches indicated the wide variety of talent on display this week in the tournament, which is being sponsored by Joe Mullen, St. Louis, Mo., resort at Macatawa.

A glance at the entries are indication enough to the tennis enthusiast of these parts that the tournament has attracted no little talent this season.

Last year's champions, Paul Stagg, son of the famed coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, in the singles, and Al Joldersma and Bob Vegter, Holland boys, in the doubles, head the list.

Seeded players in the meet follow: In the men's open tournament, players were Paul Stagg, Springfield, Mass.; Roland Fend, Kalamazoo; Gordon Pleune, Grand Rapids; Bill Arendshorst, Holland; Joe Mullen, St. Louis, Mo.; Rudy Craven, Sewanee, N. C.; Bob Herschel, Waukegan; and Bill DeGroot, Holland; seeded in that order.

Fend, Mullen, Dick Stokettes of Grand Rapids, and Sandy Schmid of St. Louis, Mo. were seeded in that order in the junior singles.

Teams of Al Joldersma and Bob Vegter of Holland, Mullen and Stagg, DeGroot and Arendshorst, and Herschel and Fend were seeded in that order in the doubles.

Women seeded in their singles tournament were Mrs. W. H. Arnold of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Paul Stagg of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Joan Wisniewski of Holland, and Miss Emilie Schneider of Saugeen.

Several matches were played in the first and second rounds of the tournament this week.

In the men's division, Paul Stagg drew a bye in the first round, defeated Camburn, 6-3, 6-1, in the second, and beat Craven, 6-1, 6-0 in the third to advance farthest in the meet.

Other first round matches were: Camburn, bye; Craven, bye; Mullen d. Woltman, 6-2, 6-4; Tipton d. Hollander, 6-0, 6-2; Fend d. Conger, 6-3, 6-3; and Tappan d. Shopoff, 6-3, 6-3.

In the second round, after having byes in the first, Craven d. Allen, 6-1, 6-0; Joldersma d. Herschel, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; Pleune d. George, 6-0, 6-1; and DeGroot d. Schmid, 6-4, 6-2.

CASTLE BOYS WILL MAKE CANOE JAUNT ON AU SABLE RIVER

A canoe trip on the Au Sable river near Grayling will be taken by older boys of Castle park early in August. It was announced this week as preliminary plans were made for the annual trip.

The group, which will be determined by a series of tests for the boys, will leave here July 31, returning to Castle park Aug. 4 or 5. The tests are not competitive, but merely requirements for members of the trip.

Definite plans have not yet been made by Jay Van Hoven, life guard; Jerry Breen, play instructor; and Carter P. Brown of the Castle, who will accompany the boys on the river trip.

Last year the boys spent a week on the Muskegon river.

Younger members of the Castle park play classes are working diligently to pass beginners and swimmers tests to the life guard. Beginners tests, requiring students to swim 50 feet, were passed by Peggy Hibbard, Judy Pittman, Callie Costen, and Ann Bennett.

Swimmers tests, require the candidate to tread water for 30 seconds, to float motionless, to do a plain front or racing dive, to swim 100 yards—using the sides stroke and one other standard stroke, to witness a demonstration of artificial respiration, to swim 50 feet on the back, using only legs, and to surface dive in six to eight feet of water. They were passed by Bill Costen and Phil Goodspeed last week.

Members of the play classes of the park took their lunch on a hike to Gilligan lake near the Castle last week.

Junior boys of the Castle classes lost two games to Holland Saturday morning. Both games were lost, 11-7. Bob Stokette pitcher for the Castle boys, and Roy Zwemer got two circuit outs.

FRANKLIN C. CAPPON

Franklin "Capple" Cappon, who is remembered by local sportsmen as Holland's greatest contribution to University athletics, is stopping in the old home town this week, before returning to Princeton, N. J., preparatory to resuming duties for fall and winter at Princeton University.

Cappon is backfield coach of the Princeton football team, and head cage coach at the eastern school. He arrived here last Friday, and is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riemersma of this city.

The former local athlete, who served for a number of years after his graduation at the University of Michigan as head basketball coach and assistant football mentor, took over his duties at Princeton last Sept. 1. He joined Tad Weiman there. Weiman was a fellow member of the Michigan coaching staff several years ago.

Cappon commented on his basketball prospects for next winter. "They will be fair," he said. He said that he lost his best two boys through graduation, but that freshmen looked good last year.

In his eastern league, Princeton won six and lost six games during the season. A better than .500 average was taken for the season, considering the entire schedule.

PLAY CENTERS HAVE TOURNEY

A city playground tennis tournament was slated to start here Wednesday on the 21st St. courts under the direction of Gordon Pleune, former Hope college student.

The tournament entries include players in boys, and girls' divisions for children who are under 15 years of age.

The new tournament follows the completion of smaller tournaments at all four playground centers in the city last week. Mr. Pleune has been conducting tennis classes during July, and the tournaments were all held under his supervision.

Five champions were determined last week on the city courts at both 21st St. and 13th St. in playground center tourneys. Four boys' meets and one girls' tournament were held. Winners were given new tennis balls by Leon N. Moody, city playground director.

Earl Borr won the Lincoln school title by defeating Gerry Groeters. According to Pleune, several boys showed fine form during the matches which were played at the 13th St. courts. Paul Klomparsen, Jack Tirrell and Bill Bos, although defeated, showed promise. Klomparsen lost a tough match to the champion in an early round. In an early match, Borr defeated Tirrell, the favorite, in an upset victory, 0-6, 6-2, 6-2. Groeters, a finalist, defeated "Pee Wee" Fraam, 6-0, 6-1.

Jerry Heerspink won the Van Raalte school tournament. The Van Raalte playground showed the greatest interest in the meet, having 32 boys and girls enrolled for tennis lessons. Heerspink defeated Don Van Ingen, Dewey Baker and Denny Kimber. All three of the defeated boys are playing their first year of tennis and are progressing. Pleune said. Kimber showed promise in beating Marvin Freestone and Robert Lemmen, but he lost, 6-3, 6-4, in the finals.

The Washington school grounds tourney, although having few entries, produced good tennis in the final rounds. Gene Barnes defeated Bob Beckfort, 6-1, 6-2 in the finals to win. Beckfort polished off Bob Bore in the semi-final, but Barnes' harder driving game was too much for him. According to Pleune, young Barnes is one of the best of the city's young players, and is expected to make a strong bid in the city meet this week.

Longfellow's winner was Bill Barnes, who defeated Roger Kole, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 to win in a hard final match.

The only girls' tournament of the city was held at the Van Raalte school ground. Isla Vander Heuvel defeated Gertrude Heerspink, Betty Vander Wege and Arlene Slander. Miss Vander Heuvel was not extended in winning, but will meet strong competition in the city meet.

One of the best of the girls' matches was an early round match when Sylvia DeBoe lost to Arlene Eilander, 3-6, 6-4, 11-13.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEF SOUGHT

No trace of the automobile of Martin Jipping, Sr., route 2, Holland, nor a 20-year-old youth of Flint who was alleged to have stolen the car, had been found Wednesday, it was reported.

The car was stolen Monday morning in Hudsonville. Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta reported today that the youth recently underwent an operation in Holland hospital and was released Sunday.

Jipping is confined in the hospital with a broken back suffered when he fell while working at a home in East Holland. Last Sunday, his son, Martin, Jr., went to the hospital to visit his father.

At the same time, he made his acquaintance with the suspect who told Martin, Jr., that he was a construction foreman on a project at Hudsonville and that if he would go to Hudsonville Monday morning he would give him a job.

Young Jipping went to Hudsonville and located the suspect who told him that he had expected a load of structural steel that day but that it had failed to arrive. He told young Jipping that he would go to a nearby telephone to make a call to learn about the delay.

He left with the Jipping car and that was the last seen of him and the car. Deputy Sheriff Van Etta called Flint police and was advised that they knew the youth but that he had failed to show up in Flint.

HUDSONVILLE IS GUARDING TANK AFTER THREATS

Racketeers Said to Have Attempted to Force 'Protection'

Armed Men Are Stationed Day and Night Around Water Project

Hudsonville, July 27—Citizens of this small Ottawa county village have been somewhat excited by reports that labor racketeers had threatened progress in the construction of a water storage tank here.

For the past few weeks, this village has been engaged in installing its own water system. Wells have been drilled, mains laid along the city streets and a contract let for the construction of the storage tank.

The contract was awarded some time ago to the Richard Moon Construction Co. of Kokomo, Ind., and the company sent its own crew of union laborers into Hudsonville to carry out the work. Approximately six men were employed on the project.

According to reports given to Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta of Holland, five unidentified men visited the project Thursday, July 20, and suggested that the workers should join their protective organization to safeguard them from any harm that might befall them while they were at work on the project.

It was not learned what organization the five men represented but the men were described as being "rough looking." The group said that they would return later and that if the men did not pay protection money to their organization "that something might happen to them."

The group of men even suggested that acid might be dropped accidentally on the hoisting ropes causing it to break when put into use and possibly injuring some of the workers.

The sheriff's department and prosecutor's office were notified of the incident and they authorized the placing of armed guards about the tank 24 hours a day. Floodlights have been installed about the tank and orders have been given the guards to shoot any suspicious persons.

TALE FAILS TO AVERT CHARGE

Youth Says He Lost Keys When Found on Second Floor Porch

Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta was inclined to doubt the story of William Wertz, 20, of Grand Rapids, that he was looking for the keys to his suitcase when he was found hiding on a second floor porch at the home of Hub Boone, just east of Holland.

Wertz waived examination before Justice John Gallien on his arraignment Saturday afternoon on a charge of attempted breaking and entering in the nighttime and was bound over to the September term of Ottawa circuit court.

Unable to provide $500 bond, Wertz was ordered held in jail at Grand Haven.

Mr. Boone found the youth hiding on the second story porch after he and his wife had returned home about 10 p.m. Friday and heard a noise. At first Mr. Boone thought it was a cat but investigation revealed Wertz in hiding.

Deputy Van Etta reported that Wertz had informed Mr. Boone he was walking through the rear yard at the Boone home, swinging the keys of his suitcase around his finger when they flew off and he thought they landed on the second story porch, which necessitated his climbing up there.

He left an address with Mr. Boone as to where the keys should be sent and was allowed to go on his way. Later Deputy Van Etta and Deputy William Kruithof were called.

They found that an attempt had been made to pry open some windows of the home on the lower floor. A search for Wertz revealed him prowling around the Ralph Gunn gasoline filling station east of Holland.

Wertz was searched and the missing keys were found in his pants pocket. Officer Van Etta said. The suitcase also was found lying in a ditch at the junction of M-21 and the Waverly road and it was unlocked.

Deputy Van Etta said the youth later admitted he broke into the Boone home to find something to eat since he had not eaten in two days. The officer also doubted this story as food was found in the youth's pockets.

Wertz told the officer that he left a CCC camp in Wisconsin July 19 and was en route home. Deputy Van Etta said a CCC winter overcoat and other CCC clothing together with phonograph records and other articles, were found in the suitcase.

Former Summer Visitor Succumbs in Oklahoma

Word has been received here of the death on July 20 in Tulsa, Okla., of Mrs. Nettie Wing Smith, for many years a summer visitor in Holland and adjacent resorts. She had been ill for a year and a half. Her body was taken to Jackson, Mich., where burial services were held Monday.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Judge Charles Howard Smith, law partner of the late Charles Townsend of Jackson. For a number of years Judge Smith held an important post in the Philippines, and at that time Mrs. Smith travelled extensively in the Orient, later becoming a popular lecturer on countries of the far east.
