Several Crashes Occur Near City During Week-End

Bob Weller, 17, route 6, was to return home Monday from Holland hospital where he was treated for a four-inch laceration of the face, a possible fractured nose and cut to the left knee, following an accident Sunday night on South Shore drive a mile west of Central park.

Weller told sheriff's officers his car hit a water puddle after he was blinded by lights of an oncoming car. After getting back onto the road, water and mud on the windshield obscured the driver's vision and the car sideswiped an oncoming car driven by J. H. Sharp of Chicago.

Bonnie Klomparsen of 320 West 19th St., an occupant of the Weller car, received a cut to the left knee and was discharged from the hospital after treatment.

A car driven by Vance Crane, Jr., of Muskegon was demolished but no occupants were hurt Sunday when the driver failed to stop before entering US-31 from Butternut drive. Officers said the car rolled over, slid across the highway and hit a tree.

Officers also are investigating five mail boxes knocked down at the same corner although this did not occur during the Crane accident.

Cars driven by Russell Jappenga of Ann Arbor and Martin Venema of Sunset drive, Holland were involved in an accident Sunday night in front of Central park church. Jappenga was travelling north and the Venema car was pulling out of a parking space.

Four cars were involved in a pile-up during a rainstorm at 4:45 p.m. Sunday on US-31 near the Lakewood Blvd. intersection. An unidentified Illinois car stopped at the intersection, causing cars driven by Stanley Paul Wilcox and James M. Harney of Evanston, Ill., and Sherwood Lousma of Holland, to pile up. All drivers complained of oil on the highway. The three cars were damaged, the Lousma car the worst.

About the same time, cars driven by Mrs. Maxine Moyles Hollis, route 2, Hudsonville, and Edwin A. Smith of Evanston, Ill., collided on M-21 about three miles south of Grand Haven. Both cars were damaged but were able to proceed on their own power.

Late Friday night, cars driven by Donald Sheaffer, route 4, and John J. Hulst of 18 West 17th St., collided on M-21 a half mile east of Holland. Sheaffer was attempting a left turn into a service station.

Pageant Roles Assigned To Pioneer Descendants

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Vander Brook will enact the parts of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Van Raalte in the pageant, "The Past Is Prologue," it was announced by Clyde Geerlings, chairman of the talent committee.

Vander Brook is a direct descendant of Dr. Van Raalte. His great-grandmother was Mrs. Koppel, daughter of Dr. Van Raalte. Mrs. Vander Brook, the former Frances Hillebrands, also is a descendant of an early pioneer family, her great-grandfather being the first teacher at Groningen.

Schaafsma was born in Chicago and moved to Holland in 1937 when he accepted a teaching position in Junior high school. He also is a descendant of Dutch pioneer stock, his grandparents on both sides being among the Dutch who settled in Roseland in 1847.

The pageant, "The Past Is Prologue," is based on the history of Holland and will be presented three nights during Holland's Centennial celebration Aug. 13 through 16.

Another School Election Urged For Sinking Fund

Recommendation Comes From Citizens Group After Special Meeting

Another election to establish a sinking fund to replace and repair public schools in Holland was urged by Dr. Lester J. Kuyper who appeared before the Board of Education Monday night on behalf of the Citizens committee which has been instrumental in setting forth the needs of the schools before the public.

Dr. Kuyper said the Citizens committee, which met a week ago, recommends another election soon, possibly in the fall. It also recommends that sketches of proposed improvements be displayed prominently, and suggests that all civic groups, particularly PTAs, make October a month of study for school needs.

An election to raise local taxes five mills to establish such a sinking fund was lost in a special election last spring.

In other business, trustees approved the recent action of the buildings and grounds committee in hiring the External Chemical Co. of Dayton, Ohio, to eradicate termites in the subfloor of the Junior high school gymnasium. Funds for the contract bid of $1,368.50 were appropriated from the capital reserve fund. Termites were discovered when repairs were made to the subfloor.

The committee also reported that a representative of the state police fire division and Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen checked Freebel, Lincoln, Longfellow, Van Raalte and Holland high schools for fire hazards and written reports will be filed soon.

Supt. C. C. Crawford called attention to the school tax rate for operating expenses is set at $10.75 while the rate for debt service is $2.30 per thousand. Last year the rates were $10.99 for operation and $2.94 for debt service. This means a reduction in the school tax of 88 cents per $1,000, the lowest tax rate since 1938.

The annual report of the speech correction teacher, Mrs. Celeste Williams Van Zyl, reveals that of the 203 students under instruction, 170 were from the kindergarten through the sixth grade, 13 in the seventh and eighth grades, and 20 in the ninth through the 12th grades. The state Department of Public Instruction assumes full cost of this instruction.

The annual report of the orthopedic department, Eileen Granskog, instructor, and Dr. Frances Howell, physiotherapist, revealed that 21 pupils were enrolled the past year with nine receiving physiotherapy. Handicapped children included the following: poliomyelitis, 4; osteomyelitis (bone infection), 2; spastic (muscular contraction), 3; cardiac, 4; scoliosis (lateral spine curvature), 5; kyphosis (angular spine curvature), 1; imperfect posture, 11; pronated (flat) feet, 3; injuries, 2; congenital abnormalities, 3. The number of physiotherapy treatments given totaled 2,475.

Cost of this instruction is paid by the State Department of Public Instruction up to $200 per capita for resident children and $300 for non-resident children.

The waterfront program is under the leadership of Don Van Eoven of troop 40, Zeeland, as director of the waterfront. ## Summer Comes Back, But It's in No Hurry

Summer walked — not ran — back into Holland this morning. U.S. Weather bureau officials predict the pace will continue slow, but sure, for the next few days, and coolish nights will continue for the rest of the week. If the current trend of weather doesn't happen to suit all citizens, it is at least appreciated by grateful hayfever victims who haven't even begun to sniffle. Pollen count reported by stations throughout the state is still at zero.

Nature never ceases to amaze. Some local skygazer, report seeing northern lights last night. Others have lately observed a sun spot, one of the largest ever seen. It can be seen with the naked eye, they say.

Reuther Promises UAW Backing for Bohn Local Here

Den Uyl Says Firm Will Attend Meeting Called by Conciliator

Judge Fred T. Miles Wednesday delayed sentencing of Orville Gentry and Berle Van Dyke on contempt of court charges until Monday morning. Action was postponed on request of union attorneys, who said sentencing might impede negotiations in Detroit Friday arranged by federal conciliators in connection with the strike at Bohn Aluminum plant 11 called by Local 284 April 1.

Judge Miles, in agreeing to defer the sentences, pointedly told union attorneys that the case against the two men would not be dismissed "even though the strike were settled today."

Gentry and Van Dyke allegedly violated terms of a Circuit Court injunction July 8 when Gentry parked his car on railroad tracks near the plant, making it impossible to move a tank car. Van Dyke allegedly shouted vile and obscene names.

Meanwhile, in Detroit yesterday, UAW-CIO President Walter P. Reuther promised total resources of the international UAW-CIO in the local union's fight against the Holland plant.

He said the international union will continue to give full support to the strike of Local 284 against the Bohn Aluminum plant which he said started April 2 after prolonged efforts by the locals to win a wage increase and contract improvements.

The statement, telegraphed to The Sentinel by Clayton W. Fountain, of the UAW-CIO public relations department, continues:

"Since June 4, the local has been waging the strike under the handicap of an anti-labor injunction granted by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles. Two of the key leaders of the strike, who were convicted of violating the injunction because the trial judge held that the use of the word 'scab' was an obscenity, were to be sentenced today."

"Our people made every effort to resolve this dispute through 'give and take' around the bargaining table, but we got absolutely nowhere," Reuther declared.

"Management's efforts to wreck this local through the use of injunctions and other anti-labor devices will be met by the total resources of the international union — we are going to help our people in Holland to win this strike," the UAW-CIO president's statement concluded.

Simon Den Uyl, secretary-treasurer of the Bohn company, who was in Holland city, said he and Fred Eaton, another company official, will attend the meeting Friday at 10 a.m. in the federal conciliation office in Detroit, called by Leo Koton, commissioner of conciliation. Koton arranged the meeting after telephoning both Den Uyl and Ora Fox of Muskegon, business agent for Local 284.

Den Uyl also said the Holland plant has been hiring new employees and that about 125 are working regularly, of which 65 or 70 are regular production employees.

In Circuit Court at Grand Haven this morning, John P. Boeschstein, a union attorney, said he felt sentence should be deferred because the issue has already raised the "blood to the boiling point" and progress would be impeded if the sentence were "hanging over their heads."

Another union attorney, Patrick Ryan, who requested the delay Tuesday night, on query of Judge Miles, said he did not believe the "delay would make the court a party to the negotiations."

Ryan said in other cases of a similar nature where persons were cited for contempt and the strike settled, cases against such persons were dismissed. Miles replied, however, that regardless of the strike status, cases against the two men would not be dismissed.

New Mexico Ranch Beckons Local Scouts, Leader

Quartet Left Holland On High Adventure Trip Of Twenty-Eight Days

Making this trip are Duane Barney and Kenneth Boerma of troop 14, Spring Lake, and Donald Northuis of troop 6, Holland. Bill Vander Yacht, assistant Scoutmaster of troop 6, Holland, is serving as assistant leader on the trip.

This trip is organized and carried out in co-operation with the Southwest Michigan council with headquarters at St. Joseph. The party will travel by train to Raton, N.M., and then by bus through Cimarron to the Philmont Scout ranch. They will also visit the Indian pueblos at Taos, N.M.

The Philmont ranch consists of 129,000 acres in the northeast part of New Mexico, which was given to the Boy Scouts of America by Walter Phillips as a camp for Senior Scouts. The old Santa Fe Trail passes through this property and it abounds with traditions of the pioneers who opened up the far west.

The trip which the local Scouts are taking is the senior training program and covers 24 days of adventure and training in leadership, camping, hiking, packing, horsemanship and pioneering. This ranch-mountain-wilderness experience is conducted for units of three crews each, following the Scout method of "learning by doing" so that each Scout not only benefits personally but will be of increased value to his home unit.

The first day at Philmont is spent in organization, physical recheck, finding out the details of the ranch, its geography, its horses, its program and what can be made of it; lunch at the Chuck House at headquarters, then on to Rancho Rayado for the evening meal.

Primary orientation is offered at this base camp. Two days are given to horsemanship and riding. The first few meals are served in the Maxwell house, then follows practice in outdoor cooking, each crew serving the unit in turn and in meal planning. Other techniques brought out this first week are health, safety, sanitation, hiking, burro packing, back packing, trail first aid, axmanship, nature lore, so the Scout can hike through this Philmont wonderland with a confidence and an awareness of his surroundings and a knowledge of the wildlife neighbors he meets.

At week's end, leading burros packed with beds and chuck, accompanied by a Philmont guide, the wagon train sets out up-river; first night at Camp Abreu, then to Lookout Mountain camp. There are no roads here, only trails and all supplies must be brought to this camp on pack-mules.

Holland Trims Detroit Senators In Revenge Win

Skaalen Hurls Superbly In His First Start; Cannibals Play Here

Mike Skaalen turned in a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Senators in his first starting role for the Flying Dutchmen Thursday night to give the locals their 15th victory in 18 starts. A fourth inning error enabled Lloyd Driscoll to round the bases and score with the third and winning run.

Ev De Neff started the locals off on the right foot by rifling a single to right field. Van Lente forced De Neff at second in an attempt to sacrifice him to second. Wenzel advanced Van Lente to second on a blooper into right center field and Wolrding drove a solid single to score Van Lente giving the Hollanders a 1-0 lead.

Again in the second the locals bagged a run when "Mouse" Van Wieren poked a Texas League double to right field. Skaalen flled out to right field, and De Neff popped a hit over the second baseman's head sending Van Wieren to third. After De Neff stole second, the colored catcher let a fast ball bounce off his mitt and Van Wieren came charging home with the second Dutch run.

The Senators tied the count in the first of the fourth, by scoring two runs. But the locals got a break in the fourth which netted them their winning run. Driscoll drove a fly to right field which got past the right fielder. As the second baseman took the relay throw from right, he tossed wild to third and Driscoll romped home with the winning tally.

Skaalen pitched smart ball and several times pitched himself out of some tough spots. On one occasion men were on second and third with one out, but the big right-hander retired the side with no damage being done. It was Skaalen's first full game since he injured his pitching arm for Hope college this spring.

The locals face the powerful Zulu Cannibal Giants here Monday and travel to Dowagiac Saturday night of this week to face the Merchants there. Dowagiac is a team which plays the same caliber ball as the Dutch and battle many of the same teams.

Dutch Student Seeks Girl Correspondent

Another Dutch student, this time from Amsterdam, is anxious to correspond with a Holland girl whose ancestors emigrated from the Netherlands.

The latest request received at the consular office comes from Gustaaf de Gussinkio who read of Holland's centennial in the Dutch papers.

"I saw close-ups in the cinema. I heard the history of the founding of Holland by Dr. Van Raalte (of whom, my mother says, our family is distantly related), and then I got aware that in the midst of the USA there are people living who still maintain Dutch customs and habits, who have Dutch names, yes, who are proud to be Americans of Dutch origin," he wrote.

He said he would like to speak with his relatives here but since he does not know them by name or address and since "there is an ocean to be crossed," he concluded the best way he can learn about Holland, Mich., is by correspondence.

He listed his address as N. Z. Voorburgwall 66, Amsterdam-C (Holland).

The maid of honor wore a blue marquisette gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and blue larkspur. The bridesmaids wore orchid and yellow marquisette, respectively.

Volleyballs From Ambush

THE SENTINEL carried a story on presidential succession and the ink was scarcely dry before a youthful reader asked for more information. Incidentally, this young man, who didn't disclose his identity, is to be congratulated for his interest in public affairs. For his information, and others who care to know, here's how the new bill works:

Under the act, the Speaker would have to resign the speakership and his seat in the House to become President if both the President and Vice-President were unable to serve.

If the speaker is unable to qualify, or if there is no Speaker, the Senate President would succeed to the White House. The Senate President now is Arthur H. Vandenberg. After him in the succession line are the Secretaries of State, Treasury and War, the Attorney General, the Postmaster General, and the Secretaries of Navy, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Labor.

It is so seldom that the efforts of the local newspaper are mentioned in appreciative tones, that when someone voices a compliment, a warm glow pervades the news room for hours.

Such a gesture was made by James S. Hauck, publicity director of the American Cancer Society.

"We must hammer home the knowledge that from 30 to 50 percent of cancer's victims die needlessly. We must educate every man, woman and child that early recognition and prompt effective treatment will save human lives. To accomplish this vital job, the American Cancer Society has turned to the newspapers of America as the largest single force in the country for the dissemination of information."

He goes on in like vein, drawing a complete picture of the amount of space devoted by newspapers to the drive. It makes swell reading—for newsmen.

And speaking of something really special. How long has it been since you, dear reader, have taken a stroll through Centennial park?

If you haven't been there in the last few weeks, by all means go. The Ambusher has been walking, since his ancient car Odellia has been laid up for repairs. What an eyeopener it has been to stroll along some of Holland's shaded streets. And the park is spectacular.

Take a few minutes off and see it now. You'll be repaid many times over.

Sports is a wide field, but the Ambusher doesn't know exactly how big a scope it does cover. By the looks of a Sentinel sports writer, Kenny Zuverink recently, it must include a vast territory. The Ambusher got quite a chuckle when he saw Kenny "brushing up" on his sports when he participated in a lively game of "drop the handkerchief." That is what the Ambusher calls good coverage.

And speaking of sports, did you notice the intent look on Prof. Lampa's face in Friday's Sentinel? The photo was remarkable as a study in concentration.

From time to time the Ambusher has quoted famed American newsmen. This is a deliberate move to acquaint readers with the viewpoints of newsmen. Following is a quotation of Walter Williams, founder of the Missouri school of journalism:

"I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible... that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends."

Latest information was that Jim Klomprens was looking for the first mention of irrigation in the Bible. To save him time, here's the reference: IF Kings 3:16-17.

When a brief shower interrupted Cornelius vander Meulen's historical sketch at Zeeland's Centennial service Tuesday night, Dr. John E. Kuizenga who gave the main address quipped, "At least, vander Meulen's address wasn't dry!" Then he told the audience they might leave during his speech if they had to. He said, "If you are all gone by the time I finish, I will conclude I have delivered the most moving address of my career."

Fremont Hurler Blanks Holland In No Hitter

Dennis, crack twirler for the Fremont club of the Western Michigan softball league, hand-cuffed every Holland batter Wednesday July 16 when he pitched himself a 4-0, no-hit, no-run game. The Steffens Marketers took the opener of the "double-bill" with Harv Vander Veen gaining a 4-3 decision.

A two run plunge in the eighth inning gave the locals the winning margin after coming from behind 3-2. A single by Bouwman, a walk by Johnson and a long double by Prince gave the locals the necessary batting punch to win.

Fremont jumped on Vander Veen for three hits and a pair of runs in the opening inning and came back to make the count 3-0 in the third inning. For the remainder of the game Harv Vander Veen allowed but two hits and no runs.

Steffens slowly edged their way past Fremont when they got a single run in the fourth on singles by Bouwman and Steggerda with Johnson scoring after reaching base on an error. A double by Estensen in the seventh gave Steffens another run to make the score 3-2.

Bouwman singled to lead off the eighth and Johnson took first on four balls. Prince then came through with his game winning double to center which scored both runners to give the locals a 4-3 lead. Vander Veen walked one man in the ninth but a classy double play ended the tilt.

It was all Dennis in the second tilt at Riverview park as the Fremont tosser whiffed 17 local batters with the locals getting by only one inning without having at least one man fan. Fremont jumped on Pres Bos for two hits in the first, one in the second and one in the third, but no runs crossed the plate.

The Packers cut loose in the fifth with one run and came back to blast out three hits and three runs in the sixth to gain the winning margin. Only two Dutchmen reached first base during the entire contest, one on a walk and one on an error.

In the prelin contest the local Holland Racine Girls' softball team lost a tight 8-7 contest to the Grandville Girls. A six run outburst in the third inning gave Grandville a 7-1 lead. The locals roared back to make the count 7-2 in the fourth, 7-3 in the fifth and 7-7 in the seventh. With the score locked at 7-11 in the eighth, the Grandville females garnered one run on one hit to win the contest 8-7.

Steffens Market will face the league leading Allen Calculators at Ann and Turner Field in Grand Rapids Saturday night in another league contest. Cameron Baxter, should be ready to take to the hill Saturday in an attempt to notch another league win.

JUDGES WISE AND OTHERWISE

When judges are wise the people have cause to rejoice; when they are foolish greater harm is done than when just an average person shows himself lacking in good sense. Michigan had an illustration of both kinds within the same week.

U. S. District Judge Raymond
W. Starr had sentenced Ernest J.
Korbel of Shavehead Lake, Cass County, to pay a fine of $3,200 and to spend from six months to one year in prison for gross violation of the sugar ration law, one of some 40 cases of fraud in that line. The citizens of Korbel's community signed a petition for his release on the plea that he was needed at home; they called him a "community necessity." He repaired farm implements, repaired
plumbing, and kept a general store. The community told the judge they couldn't get on without him.

Judge Starr quite properly refused to lighten the sentence; and quite properly he rebuked the people of the community. There was no question of the man's guilt; his neighbors admitted that. If all criminals are to be let off because they are needed to some people, the whole system of justice would fall down. Then almost anyone could commit crime in the comfortable assurance that "community necessity" or "family necessity" or something else would save him from punishment. Judge Starr had good sense enough to see through the fallacy of the petition.

A case of a foolish judge—foolish from the angle of the interests of society—was Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, of Detroit, who in part blamed the Detroit Commonwealth bank in open court for the crime of embezzlement committed by an employee, Arthur A.
Craig. Craig was earning $250 a month, which the judge called starvation wages. He embezzled $2,500. The judge put him on two-year probation and then lectured the bank. "It seems," he said from the bench, "if they expect you to wear white shirts at work they ought to put you in the white shirt pay class."

With all due respect for the dignity and wisdom of the court, that is fallacious nonsense. The employee's pay may or may not have been too low. If it was, he had the same recourse that every free American citizen has—he could quit and get a better paying job.
To excuse so serious a crime as embezzlement on that score is certainly a disservice to society.

Wise judges and foolish judges

—we have both kinds. A person named to a judgeship remains just a man who wears pants. His dignified robe does not do much more than hide for a time his normal human frailties.

School Census

Lists Many Babies

An increase in children under one year of age provided the chief contrast in comparisons in the school census report submitted to the Board of Education Monday night.

There are 382 children under one year in Holland, compared with 251 in 1946, and 300 in 1945.
Total city census for those under 20 this year lists 4,899, compared with 4,859 in 1946 and 4,954
in 1945.

This year total is broken down
as follows: under 1, 382; age 1, 283; age 2, 295; age 3, 263; age
4, 321; age 5, 278; age 6, 227;
age 7, 232; age 8, 227; age 9, 208;
age 10, 209; age 11, 191; age 12,
201; age 13, 193; age 14, 194; age
15, 240; age 16, 244; age 17, 244;
age 18, 250; age 19, 247.

Children up to 5 years' total 1,514 and children 5 through 19
total 3,385.

Census did not reveal percentages attending public and parochial schools.

Lesson

July 27, 1947
Wisdom is the Principal Thing
Proverbs 1:1-7; 3:13-18; 9:9;
James 1-5

By Henry Geerlings

Solomon is generally credited with the authorship of a large portion of the Proverbs. He was a guide post, rather than an example. He pointed the way to wisdom, but in the latter part of his life he did not walk in it. It is impossible for a thoughtful person of any description to read the book of Proverbs without receiving profit. Presidents and kings, as well as those engaged in trade,
commerce, agriculture, and the humblest walks of life, may here read lessons of instruction for the regulation of their conduct in their respective circumstances. Fathers, mothers, wives, husbands, sons, daughters, masters and servants may here also learn their respective duties; and the most excellent rules are laid down, not only in reference to morality, but to civil policy and economy. Many motives are implied by the wise men to accomplish the end at which he aims;
motives derived from honor, interests, love, fear, natural affection, and godliness.

The principal object he has in view is, to inspire a deep reverence for God, fear of judgments and an ardent love for wisdom
and virtue. He exhibits injustice, impiety, profligacy, idleness, im-prudence, drunkenness and almost every vice, in such vivid colors,
as to render every man ashamed
of such sins who has any true
respect for his interests, honor, character, or health. And there is nothing so directly calculated to ruin young men, as bad company, debauchery, and irregular connections. Solomon labors to fortify his disciple with the most convincing reasons against all such vices.

Maxims to regulate life in all the conditions already mentioned, and to prevent the evils already described, are laid down so copiously, clearly, impressively, and in such variety, that every man wishes to be instructed may take what he chooses, and among multitudes, those which he likes best.

This lesson emphasizes the importance of wisdom, especially in its practical aspects. The Christian concept of the divine source of wisdom is especially pointed out in the verse from James. We should not forget that there is much room for growth in the attainment of true wisdom.

The word wisdom is characteristic of Hebrew literature. It appears hundreds of times in the Old Testament, less frequently in the New. Hebrew wise men were, as a rule, possessed of the best learning of their day, but their wisdom was not thought of as having been derived from books and classrooms. It was an endowment of insight, a quality of character.

Hebrew wise men were early in discovering that spiritual possessions and attainments are of more value than all else. Even if the wisdom to which the writer of the Proverbs refers had been nothing more than the learning one derives from going to school and reading books, his statement of values would have been justified.
In a land such as ours, from which illiteracy has been virtually banished, there is a fixed belief that education is a social necessity. With college enrollment higher than it has ever been before, there is a growing belief that what we used to call higher education ought to be the minimum requirement.

At no point are educators
more fully agreed than in their insistence upon the necessity for moral training. They are agreed also that the value of the training the teacher gives is limited by pupil response.

A Christian ought to strive to be an informed Christian. He should seek to acquire a knowledge of the Bible, of Christian doctrine, of church history, and the like, in order that he may love God with his mind as well as with his heart.

But a knowledge of facts alone is not enough. A person may know the facts but wisdom is more than knowing facts. Solomon did not ask for knowledge alone. He asked for an understanding heart that he might discern between good and bad. One may know the facts about the life of Christ and still not know Him as Lord and Savior.

No other generation has known as much as ours. Science has deluged the minds of men with facts. But men are no happier today than they were before. Just having facts is not enough. What does it profit a man if he knows all the facts in the world, and a not able to exercise judgment?

Never have men had such faith in their own wisdom as they have today. They have counted on science and education to save the world. But the plan has not worked. Science has not made men better. It has simply exchanged their spears for guns, their cannons for atomic bombs. A wicked man is still wicked whether he has a college degree or not. It becomes increasingly clear that man is not able to save himself.
We must realize with the Psalmist that the Lord is God; that He has made us. We are His people, and the sheep of His pasture.

The department of agriculture
estimates there are almost 500 million egg-laying hens in the United States.

Rice, first planted in Virginia in 1647, was a failure. It was not grown there successfully until 1694.

two of the Centennial pageant,
"The Past Is Prologue," according to Aid. William J. Meengs who is in charge of the scene.

Dick Zwiap will enact the role of Van Raalte and Jack Gras-meyer will play Dr. Scholte. Appointment of John K. Vander Broek as Dr. Van Raalte was announced previously.

Parts of seven students appearing in the scene will be taken by Wilbur Cobb, Jack Plewes, Bud
Larsen, Dr. Henry Masselink, Glenn Gold, Preston Ludens and Simon Borr.

The federal mint was established in 1792.

Centennial Pageant Has Prologue and 13 Scenes

"The Past Is Prologue," a spectacular historical pageant, will be presented in Riverview Park at 8:15 p.m. Aug. 12, 13 and 15, as part of Holland's Centennial celebration. This pageant is made up of a prologue and 13 big scenes, each of which is based on some important fact in the history of Holland. The entire cast of 545 men, women and children will be selected from among the citizens of Holland and the huge cast will be directed by Paul Hagen of the John Rogers Co. A resume of the various scenes in the pageant follows:

After a stirring prologue, Scene
one will establish the background of the colony in Michigan by showing the Rev. George Smith and Isaac Fairbanks at work among the Ottawa Indians who inhabited this area in 1847. Rev.
Smith was the missionary to the Indians and Fairbanks was the U. S. government farmer.

Scenes two, three and four are laid in the Netherlands and give some of the history back of the Dutch immigration to the Midwest. In the first of these scenes Dr. Van Raalte, Scholte and several other colonial leaders are seen as students in an old inn in the city of Leyden. Next the injustices brought about by the Napoleonic decree stating that no more than twenty people could congregate at one place for religious purposes and the way the Dutch flouted this decree and were punished is dramatically presented. In the fourth scene Dr. Van Raalte decides to lead his group to America.

The arrival of the first group
of Dutch settlers at Old Wing Mission, located a little southeast of Holland is the subject for scene
five. Here they are met by Rev.
Smith and Fairbanks. This is followed by a scene showing the arrival of the remainder of the original party and the first efforts to establish homes for all in the wilderness.

One of the first steps taken in the new colony was the establishment of a school and events in the days spent in this first school are the basis for scene eight. The fact that the Dutch were anxious to have their children, and themselves, learn the English language and American customs is brought out. Another important educational step, the founding of Hope college, is the theme of scene nine. Hope's first graduating class and the inauguration of its first president, Rev.
Phelps, are shown.

Just 50 years ago Holland celebrated its semi-centennial and a Gay Nineties scene based on the local celebration is the subject for scene ten.

The tableau of Iwo Jima shows Holland's contribution during the last two wars and this scene will be followed by one in which the Hollanders' contributions to peace
and culture are emphasized.

"The Past Is Prologue" will close with an impressive and spectacular grand finale.

Prof. A. E. Lampen was elected vice-president and John Olet was re-elected secretary.

The board approved the appointment of two new teachers for the coming year. They are Margaret E. Waltz of Grand Rapids, who will teach home economics, and Robert Van Voorhees of Marshall who will teach physics and photography and one class in American history.

Miss Waltz is a graduate of Davis Tech and Grand Rapids Junior college and received a B.S. degree from Michigan State college. She taught in Constantine High school one year and in Lowell High school three years.

Van Voorhees was graduated from Marshall High school and received a B.S. degree from Western Michigan college, also taking 16 hours of post-graduate work there. He taught at Pittsford High school for a half year and in Marshall High school for three years and spent 8½ months in the U.S. Army. He is married and has a child.

In his superintendent's report, Carroll C. Crawford asked help from the board in finding living quarters for new teachers next fall who include six single women and two men with families.

Crawford also reported that under the new state law, it is mandatory that the school system charge elementary non-resident children coming from districts in which the grade is closed a tuition charge of $50 per student. At present the tuition charge is $20 plus $5 for books and supplies. Closed grades, he explained, are those grades which are not in operation in rural schools.

He said during the past school year, the Holland schools enrolled 54 non-resident children from kindergarten through the eighth grade. These included 29 from districts where grades were not closed and 25 from districts in which the grades were closed.

The board voted to continue the tuition fee at $20 plus $5 for non-resident elementary students from districts where grades are not closed. It was pointed out that the system receives $97 in state aid for each non-resident pupil, the same as for resident pupils.

Claims and accounts for June totaled $32,092.05 of which $19,343.45 was for teachers' salaries. All trustees were present except E. V. Hartman and Harry Wieskamp.

Street Barrel Organ En Route Holland, Mich.

The street barrel organ which the people of Amsterdam are giving to Holland, Mich., is believed en route to this country at the moment, according to a letter received Monday by Mrs. Russell Reidsma from her father, Jacob Vander Meulen, of 222 West 17th St., who is visiting relatives in the Netherlands.

In a letter dated July 15, Vander Meulen said he and a cousin noticed a crated barrel organ on a truck, ready for shipment. On the crate in Dutch were the words, "From Amsterdam to Holland, Mich."

Vander Meulen, currently visiting relatives in Rotterdam, left here May 17 and expects to return about Aug. 22.

The barrel organ is an expression of gratitude from the people of Amsterdam to the people of Holland, Mich., for sending food and clothing in the postwar construction period.

Willard C. Wichers, Centennial chairman, helped select the barrel organ in Amsterdam one cold day early this year when he visited the Netherlands.

First known hydro-electric plant in the U. S. was constructed at Appleton, Wisconsin. Saccharin is 300 times sweeter than cane sugar.

Fennville School Gets Gift Toward Community House

Fennville, July 24 (Special) — Highlight of the annual meeting of the Fennville school district No. 2 fri., Manlius township, was a letter read by the secretary of the board of education which announced a gift to the district of $10,000 as a starter toward the erection of a Community House.

The gift was from Michigan Fruit Canners and was signed by M. C. Hutchinson, president of the company. It may be held in trust for six years giving time to raise other funds for the project.

Mr. Hutchinson said that a building 120 ft. by 120 ft. might be built just west of the school house, connected by a passageway but not a part of the present building. It could provide a large gymnasium, an auditorium to seat four or five hundred persons, a library, kitchen and a smaller hall. A separate building should house a heating plant to supply both buildings. Mr. Hutchinson cited the well-known Griswold auditorium in Allegan as his ideal for a Fennville Community House.

Such a building would relieve the load on the present building. The present gymnasium would be remodeled into classrooms and the furnace and boiler rooms made into shops, for which there has been urgent need for a number of years.

The cost of such a building in these times, Mr. Hutchinson could not estimate. At least $75,000 and probably more of which this gift would provide only a small item, would be needed but he thought that once started, other gifts would follow by individuals and business places.

He said no stipulation involved immediate action.

Because the bonds now amounting to $4,000 would be retired in two more years, it seemed that a levy of five mills for five years would not cause much inconvenience and might be possible, said secretary Erlwein.

The group present went on record as favoring a call for a special meeting to consider such a levy for a building fund.

The school population is showing growth which will soon seriously tax the facilities of the present plant, and repairs and remodeling would soon be necessary.

Routine business of the meeting comprised a report of finances by the secretary and treasurer. There is a balance on hand of $7,775.

Terms of president Ned Bale, trustee A. F. Coxford and treasurer John Andrews, the latter who had filled a vacancy this year, expired.

Mr. Coxford declined renomination and Mrs. D. H. Dickinson was unanimously elected in his place. Bale and Andrews were unanimously re-elected. Members holding over were secretary Clarence E. Erlwein and Walter A. Hicks.

At the organization meeting of the board, the current officers were selected president, Ned Bale; secretary, C. E. Erlwein and treasurer, John K. Andrews.

Pageant Chairmen Are Named Here

George A. Pelgrim of Holland has been appointed general chairman for Holland's Centennial pageant, "The Past Is Prologue." It was announced today by Cornelius vander Meulen, president of the Centennial commission.

Vander Meulen also announced that Dr. John Hollenbach, professor of English at Hope college, will assist Pelgrim as vice-chairman. The two men will co-ordinate the work of the committees in charge of the various units of the pageant which will be given on three nights of the celebration Aug. 13 through 16.

Pelgrim was born in Ottawa county, a descendant of an early pioneer family. During the 45 years he has been here, he has taken an active part in civic affairs. He has been president of the Bay View Furniture Co. for 28 years. His wife, the former Eva Leenhouts, is a direct descendant of the Vande Luyster family, one of the first to settle in Zeeland.

Dr. Hollenbach came to Holland in the fall of 1945, from Kirksville, Mo. He is a graduate of Muhlenberg college in Pennsylvania and received a doctor's degree in English from the University of Wisconsin. Before coming to Holland he served four years as professor of English at Kirksville Teachers' college in Kirksville, Mo.

Now we face the fact that 1937 rates won't work in 1947.

We don't like a rate increase any more than you do. We've waited until the last possible moment to ask for one. But that moment has now arrived.

There's a lot of work to be done and a lot of money to be spent to give more and better service to everybody who wants it. The money will have to come from investors. They will furnish it only if they can be sure of a fair return, which our present rates are simply too low to provide. A growing business, especially, has to earn a good return in order to attract the capital needed for growth.

Telephone rates are regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission, a body established by State law and appointed by the Governor. We're going to ask the Commission for a public hearing to review our proposed new schedule of rates. During the week of August 3, we'll publish details of the proposed rates throughout Michigan Bell territory. After that, we'll file a petition with the Public Service Commission.

Lump all our costs together and you'll find they've gone up much faster than our income. Since 1937, our income has gone up 141%. But costs have gone up 193%. And our return on investment has dropped more than a third.

Check Hazards for Farm Safety Week

"Watch Your Step" That advice, effectively used by railroads is being impressed upon rural families by 4-H club members as a slogan for National Farm Safety week, July 20-26.

The warning is given as a result of farm and home surveys which show that falls injure more farm people than any other type of accident. Falls on stairs and steps or from vehicles are the most common, many of which are due to carelessness and disorderly condition of stairways, workshops and barns.

Last year, 479 accidents on Michigan farms took the lives of 169 persons and painfully injured 310. Ninety per cent of the Michigan farm accidents reported during 1946 involved burns, machinery, falls, and livestock. The remaining 10 per cent were due to various causes, chief of which were falling objects, firearms, and hand tools.

Agriculture has more accidental work deaths per worker than any other major industry.

Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, urges farm families to observe farm safety week by making a check of safety hazards. A safety plan will bring safe living 52 weeks a year.

The list of classes scheduled for the morning program are: headline, horsemanship for children six years and under; water carrying race; 10 and under; horsemanship for children who haven't reached their 11th birthday; child's hunter; horsemanship, open to children who have not reached their 15th birthday.

Included in the jumping events will be novice jumping, enter Western horse or pony. Other afternoon events will be horsemanship classes for those who have not reached their 19th birthday, musical chairs, polo, pair class, Western horse or pony, pleasure horse and the championship class.

A new feature on the program will be the awarding of the new Carter P. Brown challenge trophy to the champion of the horsemanship classes.

Eight state capitals have populations ranging from 100,000 to 200,000 persons.

When is a rate increase a good thing for telephone users?

The right price is "the lowest possible price that will assure you of good quality." That's true of everything you buy, including telephone service.

So—answering the question above—a rate increase is a good thing for telephone users when it is needed to protect their interests from a service standpoint.

The last time there was an increase in telephone rates was 21 years ago. From 1926 until 1937, rates went down substantially. Since 1937, there have been still further local reductions in a number of exchanges and decreases in toll rates. Except for those further reductions, 1937 rates haven't changed, although the cost of most things—wages, taxes, supplies—has gone up.

Just since the war, wage adjustments alone have upped our costs $11,000,000 a year. This includes settlements reached during the recent strike.

Lump all our costs together and you'll find they've gone up much faster than our income. Since 1937, our income has gone up 141%. But costs have gone up 193%. And our return on investment has dropped more than a third.

NOTE: Where the term "Income" is used above, its meaning is the same as "Revenue" or "Gross Income." Where the term "Investment" is used, it means the original cost of the telephone property less the depreciation reserve accrued against the ultimate retirement of the property.

Holland Gains Close Decision At South Haven

Locals Take 4-2 Win In See-Saw Contest; Zuverink Wins Eighth

After trailing 1-0 for three full innings, at South Haven Tuesday night the Holland Flying Dutchmen finally pounded the opposing pitcher for eight hits and four runs to take a 4-2 win from the Merchants. George Zuverink allowed the Merchants only four scattered hits and came through with 14 strikeouts to win his eighth straight contest of the year.

In the very first inning South Haven registered a tally when an error in right field brought A. Wenban around to third where he scored on a single by Moore. With the Merchants leading 1-0, the locals got started in the fourth inning with a single by Ev De Neff, who got to third on an infield out, and scored on a wild pitch. Russ Woldring walked, took third on Harry De Neff's safety and scored on an outfield error.

The Merchants nearly tied the count in their half of the fourth but a bounce to Zuverink and a throw home caught A. Wenban, who had singled, attempting to score from third. The locals hit safely twice in the fifth but didn't score a run. South Haven tied the score in the sixth inning when two singles and two errors netted a run.

The Dutchmen went ahead in the seventh when Juke Van Huis led off with a single, took third on a hit by Van Wieren and crossed the plate on a single by Ev De Neff. In the eighth the locals added one run insurance to give them a 4-2 advantage. Zuverink's pitching grew stronger as the game progressed with all three South Haven batters striking out to end the game. The win was the 18th for the Hollanders. Juke Van Huis and Ev De Neff each counted two hits to lead the local offensive.

The Dutchmen will face the Dowagiac Merchants Thursday at Riverview park in attempt to notch their 19th victory in 22 starts.

Disabled Veterans Here Get Monthly Payments

World War II disabled veterans residing in Holland are awarded approximately $21,509 in government compensation each month, it was estimated today by national headquarters of the Disabled American Veterans in Cincinnati.

This estimate was based on a recent survey by the DAV which shows that the average monthly compensation being paid to veterans of World War II is $42.01. In an earlier estimate the DAV placed the number of World War II disabled veterans living in Holland at 512.

William E. Tate, National Director for Claims, said monthly compensation is awarded by the government for disabilities and handicaps incurred in the armed forces of the nation.

Pointing out that the present compensation average is far from adequate in maintaining a disabled veteran and his family, Tate said the DAV is urging Congress to enact a law which will provide dependency allowances for handicapped ex-servicemen.

The DAV has estimated the average compensation for veterans of World War I as $53.89.

Local Outfit Wins Thriller In Extra Innings

An eleventh inning home run by John Essenburg gave the Holland Steffens Market a 4-3 victory over the American Seaters of Grand Rapids at Riverview park Wednesday night. The locals had a 3-0 lead going into the ninth inning but the Seaters came through with a three run barrage which knotted the score and sent the contest into extra innings.

Neither team scored until the Dutchmen blasted four hits and a pair of runs off the offerings of John Stouten, in the third inning. Essenburg led off the inning with a single to left. Vander Veen followed suit with a similar blow. Crozier was then safe on a roller to the first baseman. With the bases loaded Eddie Hult beat out a slow roller to the pitcher scoring Essenburg from third with the first local tally. Tony Bouwman walked and Vander Veen was forced home with the second run of the inning.

Harv Vander Veen pitched steadily for the locals and allowed only four hits up to the ninth inning. Tony Bouwman led off the seventh for the locals with a triple to right field and scored a moment later when Johnson smashed a single to right.

Then with the locals out in third 3-0, the Seaters cut loose with a burst of batting power and knotted the count at 3-all in the first of the ninth. A single, a double and a triple combined with two local errors enabled the Seaters to even the count and send the game into extra innings.

With two out in the eleventh for Holland, John Essenburg stepped up to the plate and connected with a fast pitch offered by Rickers, who had relieved Stouten in the eighth. The ball soared high over the head of Erhardt the Seater left fielder and Essenburg romped home easily to end the game.

It was the third victory in four contests against the Seaters for the locals and gives Steffens sole possession of fifth place. The loss sent the American Seaters down to sixth spot in the league standings. Harv Vander Veen received credit for the victory as he pitched brilliant ball allowing only eight scattered hits. John Essenburg and Jim Crozier took batting honors with two hits each.

Water skiing tournaments date back to 1939 when Bruce Parker copped individual honors at Jones Beach L.I. He successfully defended his crown in 1940 with Sligh taking second. Sligh wrestled the crown from Parker in 1941 and held it until the meets were resumed last year. They had been cancelled during the war years.

Interest in the tournament is expected to run high with bleachers scheduled to be erected at Macatawa Park to accommodate the anticipated crowd. Besides the regular events, a new feature, called partnership riding, will be included in the three day events.
