Rites Saturday For Ottawa Victim Of Electrocution

Grand Haven (Special)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Floyd Arthur Brown, 37, route 2, Coopersville, who was electrocuted shortly before noon Wednesday while repairing storm-damaged wires for the Public Works department.

Private services will be held at 1:30 p.m. from the Throop funeral home in Coopersville followed by public services at 2 p.m. from Coopersville Reformed church with the Rev. G. J. Rozeboom officiating. Burial will be in Coopersville cemetery under auspices of the Allendale Amvets of which the deceased was a member.

It was first believed Brown may have taken hold of a live wire, but examination revealed that burns were confined to his back and shoulders. Since his shirt was wet from dripping trees, it made a direct contact for the 2300-volt temporary wire which fell on him or he backed into it.

The accident occurred on Sherman St. in the 100-block. Brown was taken to Municipal hospital.

He was born Sept. 6, 1914, in Davis Junction, Ill., and after a short time moved with his parents to Sycamore, Ill. The family came to the Coopersville area in 1924.

Brown was a member of the football and track teams of Coopersville high school from which he was graduated in 1932. He served in the medical corps of the U. S. Army and was overseas in Korea during World War II. He was discharged April 13, 1946. Shortly afterwards, he became employed by the Grand Haven public works department.

While in the service, he married the former Ruth Bredeweg in 1944. Surviving are the wife, a four-year-old son, Roger Dale; his father, Edward Brown of Coopersville; three brothers, Ralph, of Grand Rapids, a twin brother, Lloyd of Grand Haven who is a teacher in Peach Plains school, and Kenneth, serving with the U. S. Marines.

Steel Strike Hits Allegan Factory

Allegan (Special)—Some 200 employees of Blood Brothers Machine company, Allegan's principal industry, have been laid off, the direct result of the national steel strike.

While the plant itself has not been short of steel, officials said, the company's customers have none and consequently there is no demand for the universal joints which are produced here.

Men are being laid off in accordance with the company-union contract which follows the seniority rule.

Preparation for the reduction of the working force were made well in advance. Lists were posted showing on which day the laid-off men were to report to the unemployment insurance office in Kalamazoo.

Robert Gibson, president of the UAW-CIO Local here, emphasized the fact that laid-off workers must report to the company personnel office during their sixth month of layoff to perpetuate their seniority, in case the layoff lasts that long.

The first of 31 harbor tugboats being constructed for the U.S. Navy by the Roamer Boat Co., south of the city limits on US-31, rolled off production lines early this week. The 23-ton tug now is undergoing final tests before being launched at Macatawa Bay at 1 p.m. Aug. 4. Scheduled to christen the boat is Mrs. F. F. Agens, wife of Navy Captain Agens, superintendent of shipbuilding for the 9th Naval District. The 45-foot tug, part of a $1.4 million contract awarded to Roamer early this year, will undergo trial runs in Lake Macatawa on Aug. 7, company president Robert Linn said. Then, the boat will proceed under its own power to Joliet, Ill., thence down the Mississippi by barge to New Orleans where it will be turned over to the Navy. The tug will eventually be assigned to the Army Transportation Corp. Above picture shows the tug resting on a flatcar before receiving a coat of black paint and additional outfitting. City Police Return With Pistol Trophy

The Holland police department today had on exhibit for one month the class B trophy of the Michigan Law Enforcement Pistol tournament which a three-man team won Wednesday at the Grand Rapids pistol range.

Forming the winning team which scored 969 were Clarence Van Langevelde, 318, Gilbert Tors, 302, and Ike De Kraker, 349. Holland's first team consisting of Dennis Ende, Ernie Bear and Ralph Woldring scored an even higher total but qualified for class A competition and were edged out by the Rockford team.

Ralph Woldring of Holland was one of three winning top individual scores for the day with 373 out of a possible 400. Other sharpshooters were Rawson Weaver with 383 and Samuel Johnson with 381, both of Grand Rapids.

A Muskegon police team won the class C trophy. Such meets are held every month and teams cannot claim trophies twice in a row. Wednesday's meet was the largest yet held by the association with 21 teams entered, representing police, sheriff, conservation departments and the FBI.

Several state police and county sheriff departments were unable to participate because of a search for two escaped inmates of the Ionia reformatory.

Park Workers Remove Debris From Big Storm

Park department workers today were completing certain clean-up jobs about the city resulting from uprooted trees and other damage in Wednesday's fierce wind and rainstorm.

Most of the debris was cleared today and branches were being removed from some of the larger trees that were felled by the wind. The bigger task of removing stubborn stumps and replacing torn-up sidewalks will take perhaps another two weeks.

In addition to the Dick Jager barn where the roof blew off Wednesday morning, two other barns in the East Saugatuck area had roofs blown off. The barns were on the farms of Milo Schrotenboer and Tom Hulst, both on Lincoln Ave. several miles south of Holland. All three barns were hit the same way, the roofs off and the north sides down. In one case, the roof came to rest 300 feet from the barn.

City GOP Caucus Set for Friday

Holland city Republicans interested in becoming county delegates or who want to know more about the procedure of electing delegates to state and national conventions are invited to attend a Republican caucus Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Friday's caucus is for the purpose of nominating 51 delegates from Holland city to the county convention. These nominees will be voted upon at the Aug. 5 primary election, and the delegates elected by each precinct will serve for two years.

There are 204 eligible delegates to Ottawa county Republican conventions. It is the county conventions that name the delegates to the state conventions and, once in four years, to the national convention.

Persons voting in the Aug. 5 primary will carry a special ballot into the voting machines for county delegates. Plans are under way to submit a proposal at the November election whereby names of county delegate nominees will hereafter appear on the voting machines.

Holland city's 51 delegates are divided as follows: First ward, 6; second ward, 10; third, 9; fourth, 8; fifth, 9; sixth, 9.

Duck Case Begins In Circuit Court

Grand Haven (Special)—Today the case brought by Roy H. Barber and wife, Claudia, of Spring Lake township against John A. Pradzick, also of Spring Lake township, was commenced before Judge Raymond L. Smith, without a jury.

The declaration filed alleges that defendant raises thousands and tens of thousands of ducks on big property, which are permitted access to Spring Lake waters in which they swim and spend a lot of their time, and that the odor and stench of the ducks and the manner in which they are kept constitutes a nuisance and keeps other people from enjoying their own property.

Plaintiffs are asking the court to order defendant from continuing the raising and housing of the ducks in the manner which adversely affects the rights of plaintiffs in the enjoyment of their home and property, and that the court require defendant to operate and conduct his duck farm business so that it does not constitute a nuisance.

The case was first expected to last two days but it is now anticipated it will continue longer than that.

Walvoord will officiate and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon from 4 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. this evening.

Absentee Ballots Now Available From City Clerk

Absent voter ballots now are available at the office of City Clerk Clarence Greengood, it was announced today.

Voters who will not be in the city for the primary election Aug. 5 may call at the clerk's office for a ballot, or may even fill out such a ballot there and complete the entire operation in a single visit.

Greengood also announced that a limited number of sample ballots for the Aug. 5 primary are available at his office. These large yellow sheets show the front of a voting machine with all the levers and names in the proper places. It also gives simple instructions for voting on the machines.

In the primary election, there are four steps to be followed:

1. Move red handle to the right, closing curtain and making machine ready for voting.
2. Turn the primary lever at lower right to your party name (Republican or Democratic) and leave it there. A voter cannot split a ticket in a Michigan primary.
3. Turn voting lever down over the name of each candidate of your choice. Leave voting levers down.
4. Move red handle to the left. This records the vote and opens the curtain.

Perhaps the most confusing entry on the board is the double entry for U. S. senate. One is for the full six-year term and lists four Republicans and two Democrats. The other is for the short term or that period from the November election to the time senators take office in January, and lists two Republicans and one Democrat. The "short term" results from the fact that Gov. Williams appointed Blair Body as U. S. senator to serve until the next regular election, not until the end of the term.

Grand Haven (Special)—Mrs. Herman (Ida) Teunis, 81, of 203 Alden St., Spring Lake, died at Municipal hospital Tuesday after a two-month illness. She was taken to the hospital Sunday noon.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in Spring Lake Presbyterian church with the Rev. Roy Marshall officiating. Burial will be in Spring Lake cemetery.

There Was Snafu; It's Quack Grass

Allegan (Special)—Alleganites are wondering what the Secretary of Agriculture would say to the postmaster general if he knew about the front lawn at the Allegan post office.

It seems that the lawn, which was planted with shade-loving fescue grass last year, died out when shade trees were removed and the parking paved.

Custodian Arthur Phillips got together with Postmaster Clare Macomber and they decided to order for grass which would thrive in the sun. The requisition was filled out, the seed arrived from Washington and planted last fall.

This spring Phillips was happy to see the grass come up, hardy and green. But doubt entered his mind as the grass grew.

Soil Conservation expert Ed Brandeberry confirmed his fears this week when he looked at the lawn.

"Yep," said Brandeberry, "it's a quack grass—or its second cousin, Bermuda grass."

Quack grass is listed by the state as a noxious weed—as any home gardener will testify—and sale of it is punishable by stiff fines.

Court Changes Custody Of Four Minor Children

Grand Haven (Special)—Gene Sadowski of Spring Lake township was awarded custody of his four minor children, after a hearing before Judge Raymond L. Smith in Ottawa Circuit Court Wednesday afternoon.

According to a divorce decree granted Sadowski's former wife, Evelyn, who resides in Coopersville, Nov. 21, 1950, custody of the children was awarded to her and the father was ordered to pay $25 a week alimony for the support of the children.

The hearing was for change of custody.

Despite a sharp drop in the humid temperatures of the past week, the water temperature at Holland State park remained at a high 75 degrees today, two degrees below the high this year of 77 recorded Wednesday. The high water temperature brought out many swimmers who insisted on going into the water disregarding posted no swimming signs and verbal warnings of park officials and lifeguards yesterday. Park Manager Clara Broad urged residents to stay out of the water, whenever the red warning flag is flying. He said it would have been near impossible to rescue anyone in Wednesday's turbulent waters if they had been in trouble. The above photograph shows a lifeguard calling swimmers out of the water. The posted sign in the foreground called attention to the dangerous condition of the water. (Sentinel photo)

Visitor Rescues Woman From Deep Lake Water

Gene Irwin from St. Louis, Mo., rescued an unidentified woman from the deep water near Ottawa beach in Lake Michigan Tuesday afternoon. Irwin, his wife, children, sister-in-law and her children are vacationing at The Mooring.

The Irwins were sitting on the beach and heard a woman scream for help. The woman, it seems, had slipped off an inner tube and into deep water. Irwin immediately went to the rescue and brought the woman to safety.

State Fire Chiefs End Convention

Fire chiefs from all over Michigan left for their homes Wednesday after adjourning their three-day convention at Ottawa beach. New officers were installed at the closing meeting.

Chief Ray Hall of Benton Harbor is the new president succeeding Charles Crozier of Battle Creek. Chief Philip Eckhout of St. Clair Shores was advanced to first vice president from second vice president, succeeding Hall. Chief Robert McAllister of Plymouth is the new second vice president succeeding Eckhout.

Chief Frank Ford of Highland Park was re-elected secretary and Chief C. T. Walcott of Trenton was re-elected treasurer. Chief J. S. Trudell of Bay City was named to the board of directors. Chief William L. Sporrer of Menominee and Chief Frank McKim of Alpena will continue as directors.

Convention highlight Tuesday night was a banquet in the Warm Friend Tavern where all men delegates and guests were ordered to appear without coats and ties. Dr. I. J. Lubbers, president of Hope college, delivered the main address—a typical hot weather talk, fairly brief and full of humor. Entertainment was provided by Harry and Chita van Pelt of the Netherlands, billed as a Dutch Treat team.

Retiring President Charles Crozier who served as toastmaster was presented with a gold wrist watch from the group for his work as state president the past year. Presentation speech was made by Arnold L. Renner, chief of the fire marshals' division, Michigan State Police, who also presented a fire chief's badge to Gerald Holder, manager of the Warm Friend Tavern, for his fine work in caring for convention guests. Renner also lauded Holland Chief Andrew Klompars for his contributions as local host, and stamped the 1952 convention as one of the most successful on record.

Joseph Childs, newly appointed state police commissioner, spoke briefly.

Today's program included an address by George Robinson, assistant chief engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, New York, and a panel on fire inspections with Max White of the Department of Public Instruction as moderator. Participating were Chief Frank Burns of Grand Rapids, Chief Henry L. Kanar of Hamtramck, Chief Calvin Johnson of Flint and Chief Walter L. Zimmer of Niles.

Holland Stars Bow Out In Western Tourney

Champaign, Ill. (Special)—Holland's last hopes in the Western open junior and boys tennis tournament went by the boards yesterday as both local doubles teams went down to defeat.

Dave Moran, teaming with Pedro Yanez, of El Monte, Calif., in junior play, lost to Bill Cranston and Jim Reed, 6-4, 6-0.

In boys play, the last remaining local team, Paul Dykema and Les Overway bowed to Dale Janta and Rigm, 6-2, 6-2.

Christian School Construction Set To Begin Soon

Construction of the Holland Christian high school addition will begin within a few days, Supt. Bert P. Bos announced this week. The new building will be erected on the south side of 20th street, behind the present building.

Bos also announced that the board was planning appropriate cornerstone laying ceremonies later in the summer. The ceremony will replace the annual Christian school rally program.

The appointment of two new teachers also was confirmed by the board at its last meeting. Both new teachers will be on the Central Ave. grade school faculty. Miss Fannie Lammers of Sheldon, Iowa, will teach the sixth grade while Mrs. Margaret Hanko of Palos Heights, Ill. will teach a combination of third and fourth grades. Miss Lammers received her teacher training at Northwestern Junior college of Orange City, Iowa and Mrs. Hanko at Central college of Pella, Iowa.

At least three teachers should be hired before school begins in September, Bos reported. There are still openings in the junior high, grade school and for one full time or two part time teachers to assist the teaching principals.

In a detailed enrollment report, the superintendent pointed out the various problems involved in the increasing influx of students. He said he anticipated enrollment in the grade schools alone to exceed the 1,100 mark, compared to a 608 mark in 1946.

Local Youth Was Convention Clerk

Dick McClintock, son of City Manager and Mrs. H. C. McClintock and Hope college student, had the privilege of attending the recent Republican convention and at the same time was able to see many of the inner workings of the important delegation at the big show in Chicago.

Dick was a clerk in the Michigan delegation's mail room in the Congress hotel and his duties included seeing to it that delegates received the many letters and telegrams from folks back home while they were in Chicago.

Dick's day began at 8:30 a.m. and lasted until 2 p.m. each afternoon. He got the mail and sorted it for each delegate. All told, between 4,000 and 5,000 pieces of mail had to be sorted daily.

Most of the Michigan mail was addressed to then National Committeeman Arthur Summerfield, Senator Homer Ferguson and state GOP Chairman Owen J. Cleary.

Dick attended the delegation breakfast the morning Gov. Earl Warren of California spoke to the group and on another occasion saw Sen. Taft.

He attended most convention sessions, sitting in the gallery. He sat on the center aisle of the convention floor the night Dwight D. Eisenhower gave his nomination acceptance speech.

McClintock wrote Summerfield early this year inquiring about employment at the convention. The Flint man notified him about a week before the convention opening that the mail clerk job was available.

"It was certainly a worth-while experience," Dick said.

Former Holland Man Dies at Vets Facility

John F. (Weikman) Jones, 61, died Sunday afternoon at Michigan Veterans facility, Grand Rapids. His home address was 7221 Grandville Ave., S. W., Grand Rapids.

Mr. Jones was born in Holland and left here at the age of 24. He lived in Muskegon for some time before going to Grand Rapids. He was a veteran of World War I. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert Houtman and Mrs. Edna Denhoff, both of Muskegon; a son, Jesse, of Lapeer; six grandchildren, and a brother, William Lawrence of Muskegon.

Captain Thomas Connolly, USN, enjoys a rest with his two children, eight-year-old Thomas Jr. and five-year-old Susan before leaving for his new assignment at the desert Naval base at Inyo-Kern, Calif. Connolly, his wife, Margaret, and their two children are spending the summer at the home of his in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hagy on South Shore Dr. The Connolly family has managed to find their way back to Holland for a summer vacation no matter where the captain happens to be stationed. (Sentinel photo) during World War II, Connolly and his family have enjoyed a pleasant vacation at his in-laws' home at 1717 South Shore Dr., during each of the past 13 years.

Connolly is enroute to the desert navy base at Inyo-Kern, Calif., where he will serve as experimental officer at the ordnance testing grounds for rockets and guided missiles. He said the use of rockets and guided missiles will be a "formidable way of conducting warfare and it'll be plenty rough on the planes."

"People speak of a future war as a 'push button war.' We've only got the 'push button' now but no one can tell what the future will bring in new developments," Connolly said. "We are well aware," he continued, "that Russia is proceeding with technological developments of rockets and missiles and we are also preparing for anything."

Connolly spoke of the uncertainty facing us when he said that "if war comes, we don't know how it will be fought. Because of this uncertainty we must be prepared." Of the bickering within the armed forces, he said that unification has worked with all branches of the service united in their work. Some squabbles do remain but they are honest professional differences of opinion, he said.

The major portion of Connolly's service in World War II was spent as commanding officer of patrol bombing squadron VPB-13 which served in the Central Pacific taking part in the battles of Midway, Marshall Islands and Gilbert Islands. He left for overseas duty in June, 1942 and returned in July, 1944.

During the past six years Connolly has been flying test planes from Patuxent River, Md. He spent six months from October, 1951 to April, 1952 aboard the aircraft carrier Midway in the Mediterranean flying North American Savages. The plane is powered by two piston driven engines with jet assistance.

For his service in World War II Connolly received three Distinguished Flying Crosses, three Air Medals, and wears the Asiatic Pacific ribbon and the American Defense ribbon.

Connolly graduated from the Naval academy at Annapolis in 1933. He was immediately assigned to duty aboard the light cruiser USS Cincinnati. The class of '33 was unique in that only 50 per cent of the 435 graduates were commissioned because of the lack of funds during the depression years. However, he said, a large part of the men not commissioned, later were offered the opportunity to accept a commission and most of them did.

Following duty aboard the cruiser, Connolly went to Pensacola in 1935 and received his pilot wings in 1936. He's been flying planes of all types since then ranging from the PB2Y's during the war to the North American Savages. The Savage is the Navy's new carrier based bomber capable of long range and can carry a heavy bomb load.

He is also the co-author of a text book on aeronautical engineering which has been adopted by over 30 colleges and universities.

Connolly was scheduled to leave for California this week-end but his wife, the former Margaret Hagy, and their two children, Thomas, Jr., 8, and Susan, 5, were expected to remain in Holland for the summer joining Connolly at Inyo-Kern early in the fall.

Divorce Decree

Local Legion Club Loses in Finals Of District Meet

The Holland American Legion baseball team lost out in the battle for the fifth district trophy Saturday by dropping two games to Sunset Gardens of Grand Rapids, 3-1 and 2-0.

The Dutchmen had defeated the same Grand Rapids crew the week before and needed only one victory to win the double-elimination tourney. But the bugaboo of weak hitting hampered Holland, so Grand Rapids will oppose Kalamazoo in zone competition beginning Tuesday morning.

Base hits were scarce Saturday as a total of just seven safeties were recorded by both clubs in the two games, played as a morning-afternoon affair at the 22nd St. and Pine Ave. diamond.

Holland collected only one hit in the first game when a single by Bill Fortney drove in Bill Sandahl who had reached base when hit by a pitch, and then stole his way around to third. The lone Dutch tally came in the fourth frame after the visitors had built up a 3-0 lead, mainly on a two-run homer by Bill Sweerle that sailed into 21st St. Only one other bingle came off the hurling of George Pierson, who was charged with the loss. Jack Rumohr was the winning pitcher.

The second game was just a little more tense. Each team made only two safeties, and two unearned runs proved the downfall of Holland pitcher Jerry Victor, who pitched no-hit ball until the fifth frame. Then after two were down, a throwing error by Victor set up the two runs. This was followed by singles by Terry Entrench and Rumohr to push home the two runs and the district title.

Only blows for Holland came off the bat of Bob Van Dyke, who lined out two singles in three times at bat. Twice, Holland runners were picked off base to hamper the Dutch scoring attempt. Sweerle was the winning pitcher.

The two games were played before a small but enthusiastic crowd at the playground diamond. Ned Stuits, Russ Woldring and Clare Van Lier were in charge of the team sponsored by Memorial post No. 188.

Come heat or humidity, here's one sure way to beat hot weather. At least, that's what John Shashaguy (left) and Charles Vander Hill say as they jump off a dock at Kollen park. Lake Macatawa isn't always so calm, but the placid surface, on this photo is just right for swimming. Today's temperatures, though warm, were slightly more welcome than the humid atmosphere of Friday accompanied by showers throughout the day which yielded 1.87 inches rain. (Sentinel photo)

by Dick Millman

The Holland representative in the American Legion baseball tournament certainly deserved better fate than a runner-up position for the district crown.

In general the boys played good ball while losing a doubleheader to Grand Rapids Saturday. The pitching was outstanding for both clubs, and as a result hitting fell down. Saturday's results were in strict contrast to the 9-8 slugfest between the same two teams a week before.

Coach Ned Stuits admonished a bunch of boys who took over the field for a scrimmage session after Saturday's nightcap: "Boys, just learn to hit. If you can hit, they'll find a place for you to play. Learn to hit first, and then learn how to throw and catch." Obviously, the coach's mind was on the base hits that he was waiting for all afternoon.

But regardless, everyone seemed to have a good time at the tournament. It was the first time since about 1938, our old-time informants tell us, that a Holland team has entered the Legion tourney. This year's Legion program in Holland is the first in about five years, they tell us.

It would be difficult to say who was more tense during the games and who was most disappointed after the games—the players or the members of sponsoring Legion post benches and the backstop. We'll vote for the Legionnaires, who really seemed wrapped up in the proceedings.

A United Press dispatch from Grand Rapids tells us that Don Eaddy, former Ottawa Hills star athlete who was just short of a sensation at the University of Michigan as a freshman last year, has decided to pass up professional baseball offers to continue his education at Michigan.

The report says that the White Sox, Cleveland and Red Sox are among the professional clubs on Eaddy's trail. He hit .357 for the Wolverines from his third position last spring, and currently is a member of the Grand Rapids Black Sox in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league, where he reportedly is clipping away at a merry 381 pace.

"I'm going back to Michigan next fall, and for at least another year before I consider professional baseball," Eaddy was quoted.

New Rules Govern Use, Occupancy Of County Parks

New Regulations Affect Tunnel Park at Holland And North Shore Park

A set of new rules and regulations governing use and occupancy of all Ottawa county parks has been compiled by the Ottawa County Road commission, aided by Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles.

The new regulations are effective July 21 and will be posted at the two parks maintained by the county, Tunnel park north of Holland and North Shore park north of Grand Haven.

One of the main reasons for adopting new clear-cut rules is to discourage rowdiness at county parks, particularly the problem after midnight when parties descend on the county parks after state parks are closed.

In compiling the new regulations, Prosecutor Miles did not include such obvious rules on disorderly conduct which are included in the state law. The new rules follow:

- It shall be unlawful:
1. To enter, use or occupy county park areas for any purpose when parks are posted against such entry, use or occupancy as determined by the Ottawa County Road commission.
2. To dispense or consume any alcoholic beverages (including beer and wine) at any time.
3. To engage in hunting or trapping at any time.
4. To allow animals to run at large.
5. To guide or permit horses on any area except driveways and roadways.
6. To change clothes in cars or any place other than the area designated for that purpose.
7. To operate any vehicle in excess of 15 miles per hour at any time.
8. To remain on the premises after 12 midnight, or such other time as designated by the Road commission.
9. To engage in commercial activities without obtaining a permit from the Road commission or its authorized agent to do so.
10. To utilize public address systems without obtaining permission from the Road commission or its authorized agent, or to make loud noises or produce loud noises with instruments such as radios, phonographs and other such equipment which would disturb or tend to disturb others making proper use and enjoyment of the premises.
11. To leave unburied refuse and rubbish, including tin cans, bottles and fish offal, or to fail to deposit same in garbage cans or other receptacles which are made available for doing so.
12. To build a fire without permission from the Road commission or its authorized agent at this park.
13. To post, place, or erect signs, or to place or distribute advertising material without permission.
14. To remove, destroy, or mutilate or deface posters, notices, signs or markers of the road commission or its agents.

Our ship the SS Waterman, a 9,126 ton former victory ship, was recently rebuilt in Holland for trans-Atlantic service. The ship is stocked with enough coffee to supply one man with five cups daily for 1,000 years. Our lettuce supply is measured in tons of tons, and there are 160,000 of water stored in huge tanks. The crew is Dutch. I have had some interesting talks with the ship's officers. They have all heard of and are very much interested in the little Holland in the United States. Our table and room stewards are tiny obliging Indonesians whom we call the "little men."

My home for the past week has been a crowded, cluttered dormitory far below the water line. The aisles between the rows of bunks are so narrow that two-way traffic is impossible. When you add the pitching and rolling of the ship to the sardine-like arrangement, you have an inkling of the extreme difficulty which we have in maneuvering in our "rooms."

There are 800 students on board the SS Waterman, which is a special student ship contracted by the National Student association to transport American students to Europe for the summer months. Both American and European lecturers, professors and journalists have been given reduced rates in return for which they conduct special preparatory classes. Each day there are lectures ranging from "Existentialism in French Literature" to "How to See a European Museum." Special language classes are conducted daily, and in the dining halls there are tables where only French or German or Dutch is spoken. It's amazing how rapidly one learns when the incentive for study is so real and immediate. In fact, there's as much study on the boat as there is in Hope's library during exam week.

Let's you get the mistaken impression that we are a group of bespectacled intellectuals, we should perhaps tell you about all the fun we have been having on the Waterman. With 800 typical American college students on board, life has been anything but dull. A Leiden music group gives daily concerts in addition to the ship's usual movies, deck games, bridge, table tennis, and other diversions. There are folk singing and dancing, amateur shows, plays, dramatic readings and that most pleasant of all activities, simply standing in the bow, awed by the beauty and vastness of the ocean around you.

You might be interested in a few unusual highlights about life in the Waterman. It is somewhat startling to find cheese and cold cuts on the breakfast menu, and the three dinner-time deserts amaze even our healthy American appetites. The captain's dinner, which added a second main course of roast beef to delicious fried sole, had all of us puzzling over which of the seven forks and 10 knives we were expected to use next. There was the excitement of sighting a school of flying porpoises off the starboard of cheering the news of Eisenhower's nomination, of seeing the S. United States on her return voyage, of sleeping under a star-studded sky, and of straining our eyes for the white cliffs of Dover.

Tomorrow morning we land at Rotterdam at 5 a.m. Although the ocean voyage has been delightful, we are more than a little breathless in anticipation of the experience that awaits us. My next letter will tell you of our trip through Holland to Bonn and will introduce you to my German family.

Friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony in which caps and certificates were presented to four new volunteers from Ottawa county, four from Calhoun county and five from Jackson county.

The exercises were opened with an organ prelude by one of the patients. The Rev. Elton Holthrop, chaplain of the VA hospital, gave the invocation. Mrs. George Bender, volunteer field consultant of the midwestern area, presided.

Presiding officers for the capping service were the Gray Lady chairmen of the three counties. They are Mrs. Martin Miller of Calhoun, Mrs. G. E. Bacon of Jackson and Mrs. A. W. Tahany of Ottawa county.

The group of Ottawa county included Mrs. C. L. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Walter Van Bemmelen, Mrs. John W. Van Putten and Mrs. Edward Vanden Bout.

Following the chapel exercises, members of the Red Cross staff, volunteers and guests attended a reception in the music room.

Miss Jacob Weller of 562 Elm Dr., Central Park, was hostess at a bridal shower at her home Saturday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Coby Van den Tooren. Miss Van den Tooren will become the bride of Henry Vanden Broek on Aug. 2.

Gifts were presented to the bride-elect and the evening was spent socially. A two-course lunch was served.

Invited were Mrs. Maria Van den Broek and daughter, Dana, Mrs. J. Van Grondelle, Mrs. Bert Kruijswyk, Mrs. B. Laverman, Mrs. John Koning, Mrs. J. Ellerbroek, Mrs. G. Lucas, Mrs. Berend Weller, Mrs. Henry Weller, Sr., Mrs. Peter Weller, Mrs. Ed Wouters and Mrs. Henry Woudstra.

Grand Haven Teacher Going to Netherlands

Grand Haven (Special) — Sandrene Schutt, who teaches English and Bible literature at Grand Haven high school, has been granted a year's leave of absence to teach in the Netherlands, participating in the Fulbright education exchange program for teachers. In exchange the local high school will receive Johan Boswinkle of Emmen, the Netherlands.

Miss Schutt will sail from New York Aug. 16 on the Holland-American steamer "Westerdam," the transportation arranged by the U. S. education foundation. She is one of 15 teachers selected by the board of foreign scholarships to teach in the Netherlands. Beginning Sept. 1, she will teach English at Christlyk gymnasium and Christlyk lyceum at The Hague.

Miss Schutt's interest in the teacher exchange program stems from a communication from Washington in October, 1950, in which Dean John Hollenbach of Hope college had recommended her as an exchange teacher to the Netherlands where her parents were born and where she has relatives living. Miss Schutt learned to speak, read and write the Dutch language from her mother.

Miss Schutt received an A. B. degree from Hope college and later taught English there for a time. She received an M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. During the summer of 1930 she visited the Netherlands during an eight weeks' visit to Europe.

She has been active in the Michigan Education association and is currently chairman of region 4, which includes 14 western Michigan counties. It was her duty this year with the aid of a planning committee to set up the program for the fall convention in Grand Rapids Oct. 23 and 24. In her absence, John Dyksterhouse, second vice-president of Plainwell, will preside.

Until she finds permanent living quarters, Miss Schutt's address will be U. S. Educational Foundation, Bezuidehout 18, The Hague, the Netherlands, and she has said mail from her friends will be most welcome.

Community Ambassador Sends Word Of First Leg of European Journey

(Following is a dispatch from Guy Vander Jagt, Hope student who was selected as Holland's community ambassador to Europe this summer.)

By Guy Vander Jagt
English Channel Aboard SS Waterman, July 13—As we sighted the white cliffs of Dover early this afternoon, we realized that this first lap of a highly exciting trip was almost over—exciting in the first place, because we are traveling on a student ship, not a luxury liner, exciting in the second place, because the purpose of our trip is unique.

The particular group of which I am a member has Bonn, Germany as its destination. We are one of 44 groups which are visiting 17 foreign lands this summer under the auspices of the experiment in international living.

Our group of four men, six women and a leader has drawn up this tentative schedule: Three weeks with our individual German families, two weeks on a bicycling trip with our German "brothers and sisters," and a free week to travel where we please.

After more than 20 years of making friends abroad, the experience feels the best way to learn about a foreign land is to become an integral part of a foreign family, adapting oneself to another way of life, and thus learning their way of life from the inside out. At this stage of the game we're all mighty anxious to meet the German family we will be living with for a month.

Our ship the SS Waterman, a 9,126 ton former victory ship, was recently rebuilt in Holland for trans-Atlantic service. The ship is stocked with enough coffee to supply one man with five cups daily for 1,000 years. Our lettuce supply is measured in tons of tons, and there are 160,000 of water stored in huge tanks. The crew is Dutch. I have had some interesting talks with the ship's officers. They have all heard of and are very much interested in the little Holland in the United States. Our table and room stewards are tiny obliging Indonesians whom we call the "little men."

My home for the past week has been a crowded, cluttered dormitory far below the water line. The aisles between the rows of bunks are so narrow that two-way traffic is impossible. When you add the pitching and rolling of the ship to the sardine-like arrangement, you have an inkling of the extreme difficulty which we have in maneuvering in our "rooms."

There are 800 students on board the SS Waterman, which is a special student ship contracted by the National Student association to transport American students to Europe for the summer months. Both American and European lecturers, professors and journalists have been given reduced rates in return for which they conduct special preparatory classes. Each day there are lectures ranging from "Existentialism in French Literature" to "How to See a European Museum." Special language classes are conducted daily, and in the dining halls there are tables where only French or German or Dutch is spoken. It's amazing how rapidly one learns when the incentive for study is so real and immediate. In fact, there's as much study on the boat as there is in Hope's library during exam week.

Let's you get the mistaken impression that we are a group of bespectacled intellectuals, we should perhaps tell you about all the fun we have been having on the Waterman. With 800 typical American college students on board, life has been anything but dull. A Leiden music group gives daily concerts in addition to the ship's usual movies, deck games, bridge, table tennis, and other diversions. There are folk singing and dancing, amateur shows, plays, dramatic readings and that most pleasant of all activities, simply standing in the bow, awed by the beauty and vastness of the ocean around you.

You might be interested in a few unusual highlights about life in the Waterman. It is somewhat startling to find cheese and cold cuts on the breakfast menu, and the three dinner-time deserts amaze even our healthy American appetites. The captain's dinner, which added a second main course of roast beef to delicious fried sole, had all of us puzzling over which of the seven forks and 10 knives we were expected to use next. There was the excitement of sighting a school of flying porpoises off the starboard of cheering the news of Eisenhower's nomination, of seeing the S. United States on her return voyage, of sleeping under a star-studded sky, and of straining our eyes for the white cliffs of Dover.

Tomorrow morning we land at Rotterdam at 5 a.m. Although the ocean voyage has been delightful, we are more than a little breathless in anticipation of the experience that awaits us. My next letter will tell you of our trip through Holland to Bonn and will introduce you to my German family.

Friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony in which caps and certificates were presented to four new volunteers from Ottawa county, four from Calhoun county and five from Jackson county.

The exercises were opened with an organ prelude by one of the patients. The Rev. Elton Holthrop, chaplain of the VA hospital, gave the invocation. Mrs. George Bender, volunteer field consultant of the midwestern area, presided.

Presiding officers for the capping service were the Gray Lady chairmen of the three counties. They are Mrs. Martin Miller of Calhoun, Mrs. G. E. Bacon of Jackson and Mrs. A. W. Tahany of Ottawa county.

The group of Ottawa county included Mrs. C. L. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Walter Van Bemmelen, Mrs. John W. Van Putten and Mrs. Edward Vanden Bout.

Following the chapel exercises, members of the Red Cross staff, volunteers and guests attended a reception in the music room.

Miss Jacob Weller of 562 Elm Dr., Central Park, was hostess at a bridal shower at her home Saturday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Coby Van den Tooren. Miss Van den Tooren will become the bride of Henry Vanden Broek on Aug. 2.

Gifts were presented to the bride-elect and the evening was spent socially. A two-course lunch was served.

Invited were Mrs. Maria Van den Broek and daughter, Dana, Mrs. J. Van Grondelle, Mrs. Bert Kruijswyk, Mrs. B. Laverman, Mrs. John Koning, Mrs. J. Ellerbroek, Mrs. G. Lucas, Mrs. Berend Weller, Mrs. Henry Weller, Sr., Mrs. Peter Weller, Mrs. Ed Wouters and Mrs. Henry Woudstra.

South Olive Christian Reformed church was the scene of a lovely wedding July 15 evening when Miss Dorene Gladys Weener and Sherwin Elroy Terpstra were married in double ring rites by the Rev. Titus Heyboer. The church was decorated with palms, ferns, candelabra and bouquets of gladioli and lilies, which formed a setting for the ceremony. White satin bows marked the pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weener of Crisp and Mr. and Mrs. Gerben Terpstra of Borculo.

Nuptial music was played by Miss Marian Nienhuis, organist. The soloist, Don Bolhuis, cousin of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A colonial style gown of white nylon marquisette and Chantilly lace was chosen by the bride. The gown was fashioned with sweetheart neckline accented by wide shirred lace, a basque bodice with long tapering sleeves and a full ruffled skirt with a wide cascade of ruffled lace down the front and bordering the train. A lace cap held her fingertip veil of imported illusion. Her cascade bouquet of yellow roses, lilies and baby's-breath, was centered with a lavender orchid. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl choker.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Hazel Weener. The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Howard Weener, was bridesmaid. Otto Terpstra, brother of the groom, was best man and Howard Weener, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Roger and Gordon Terpstra, brothers of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore identical gowns of net over taffeta in orchid and yellow, respectively. The gowns had lace bodices and full skirts and were topped with short lace boleros. They wore gladioli headpieces and carried cascade bouquets of gladioli.

The mother of the bride chose an orchid nylon dress with white accessories and had a yellow rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a midnight blue sheer dress, white accessories and white rose corsage.

About 100 guests attended the reception in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weener, uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies. Misses Janet Vander Zwaag and Gloria Veele served at the punch bowl and Miss Delores Veldheer and Sherwin Hop arranged the gifts. Serving were the Misses Arlene Lankheet, Arvilla Mostara, Dorothy Starr, Helen Jongekrijg and Mrs. Al Bosch and Mrs. Don Dekker.

The couple left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan and Niagara Falls. For going away the bride wore a yellow summer suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return, they will live at Crisp.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Terpstra are employed at Holland-Racine Shoes, Inc.

Reapportionment Bills Explained By Sen. Geerlings

"Reapportionment" was the subject of a speech given by State Sen. Clyde Geerlings at a luncheon meeting of Holland Rotary club Thursday at Castle Park.

Presented by program chairman Robert Kouw, Sen. Geerlings explained the present organization of the legislature as having 32 senators and 100 representatives, the senatorial districts being set up on a geographical basis while districts from which representatives are elected to the House are based on population. Kent county, however, has two senators with a population of approximately 300,000. Oakland with 400,000 people shares one senator with Washtenaw, and Macomb with 200,000 shares one with Lapeer and St. Clair.

Two alternative proposals will be presented to the voters in the November election. The CIO proposal is sponsored by the Committee for Representative Government and would divide the state into

AN "OPEN" CONVENTION

The Democratic national convention in Chicago has been widely advertised as an "open" convention. And as compared with the gathering of the Republicans it is of course wide "open." In the latter the choice had narrowed down to Eisenhower and Taft, with a "dark horse" as a rather remote possibility. In the Democratic race this week there are so many candidates entering that it is almost impossible to find enough starting posts for them all.

In terms of ideal political processes, not in terms of political necessities, that is of course as it should be. Originally the theory was that the members of a national political party should gather together to decide on a candidate. The theory also was that those delegates would select the ablest man in their party after careful consideration and argument.

The theory further was that even the humblest citizen in the party, provided he was a man of ability and integrity, should be considered for the high place. The choice of a nominee for the presidency, in either party, was meant to be made through democratic processes with a small "d."

How far practice has departed from theory any citizen knows who reads a newspaper or owns a radio. There has not been a truly "open" convention in either major party, or in any splinter party, in a century and a half. Some conventions have been a trifle more "open" than others, but not one of them can be truly described as "wide open," although that term is being applied to the present Democratic gathering.

Normally the Democratic convention might have been expected this year to be less "open" than that of the Republicans. The convention in the party actually in power is usually more tightly controlled from above than the gathering of those on the political outside. Ordinarily a president holds the reins and cracks the whip. He has it in his power either to renominate himself or to dictate the nominee. But for public consumption at least President Truman has repeatedly let it be known that he would refuse to assert this presidential power over the convention of his party. So the convention has the appearance at least of being "open." How close that appearance is to reality will appear as the week advances.

At the annual school meeting held Monday evening, Fred Veneberg was elected moderator to replace Albert Meengs whose term expired. Plans are complete for the school reunion to be held this week Saturday, July 26. Officers are president, John Bangert; vice president, John Jojensma, both of Holland; treasurer, Lawrence Dams of Zeeland; secretary, Mrs. Jake Jacobsen, and corresponding secretary, Markus Vinkemulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dirks of Beechwood were recent visitors at the home of their uncle, Berend Bartels.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Geldersma of Grand Haven were entertained at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Bakker Sunday evening.

Oliver Banks has returned to his home after spending five weeks with relatives and friends in Indiana. While there he also visited a nephew and wife, who sometime back purchased the Greenfield school in their area and remodeled it into a modern home. It is a unique coincidence that Mr. Banks attended this school when he was a small boy, about 60 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Veneklaassen and Mrs. Herman Looman of Zeeland spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harm Looman.

God Prepares a Leader
I Samuel 1:20, 24-28; 3:1, 16
By Henry Gearlings

No matter how great a man becomes he was once a child, dependent on the help of others. This was true of Samuel, and fortunately we have a brief story of his childhood. While it does not tell us much, it is sufficient to give us a background of his first steps toward God and of his first conscious response to him. It was his mother's wish and will that he should be consecrated to the service of Jehovah as soon as he could be given over to the care of persons outside of his home.

The church of the day was the school into which he was ushered to remain there until old enough and qualified to take up public work under the direction of God. Samuel had a wonderful career, but it is not certain that his childhood had something to contribute to making him a notable leader in Israel.

We do not know his age when he began living in the tabernacle. We have no record of what he studied, or how well he learned. All we know is that he had certain duties assigned him which were regarded as work for Jehovah. He was under Eli's directions. This aged priest was a noble man, worthy of being the instructor of this promising child.

The fact is cited that Jehovah was not revealing Himself frequently in any open manner at that time. Israel was in a bad way morally and religiously. The influence of Shiloh as a center of divine worship had been waning. The priest was not esteemed as an authoritative representative of Jehovah. Accordingly Samuel was not being trained to expect any direct word from Jehovah.

Samuel and Eli, it appears, had different sleeping rooms. A lamp was kept burning in the tabernacle through the night. It probably went out toward morning. The ark of God was in its place in the tabernacle. In this environment Samuel lived as a child. What disposition he showed, what warnings he needed, what urging he received, we are not told. All we have of his record as a child is crowded in a few verses.

While Eli and Samuel slept, Jehovah spoke to Samuel. It was a strange voice the child heard, but he supposed that Eli was asking for something to be done for him. Obediently Samuel went hurriedly to his old teacher and announced himself. But Eli had not called and, supposing that the boy had been dreaming, sent him back to bed. A second time Samuel heard his name called and he was sure that Eli had called. As obedient as before, he ran to Eli and offered to do whatever Eli might ask, but was amazed to have Eli declare that he had not spoken Samuel's name.

It was not surprising that the boy did not think of Jehovah or suspect that he was being called by Him. He neither knew Jehovah nor was Jehovah's word yet made known to him. This was to come later. In fact it came before dawn, for Eli discovered that the voice Samuel had been hearing was Jehovah's and it was clear to him that Jehovah had some definite thing to say to the boy. So he gave Samuel instruction as to what reply he was to make when the voice came again.

Samuel was ready for the next call. He had been told what reply to make. So Samuel heard the voice of Jehovah and put himself in readiness to receive directions from Jehovah. What followed immediately is a vital part of the record. It should be read and its relation to Samuel's future career should be noted. So we learn that very early in his life began the course of Samuel to usefulness.

Having godly parents and the best possible early training it was no wonder God issued a call to Samuel and that he was able to understand it. It was going hard with the nation in those days. Only a few sought the Lord and put themselves where He could use them. But God has a way of raising up a man for the times. And the heart of Samuel was good soil in which to sow the seed of better days. And when he knew what it was all about he responded to the call as the plant does to the sun. He was not disobedient.

It may not always be easy to recognize the call of God, but when we do we should answer it promptly. If we do this for a few times we shall have less difficulty recognizing His voice. Even blind people come to know one voice from another. They can greet a dozen and more persons and call them by name after hearing them speak. There may be impulses which we think come from God, but we learn later on that they do not. But if we cultivate the habit of hearing God we shall not often be mistaken.

The feeling of security brings a sense of comfort. We love to take our stand on a foundation that cannot be shaken. When other things give way God can be depended on. Mr. Coolidge, just before his death, said that while the years ahead of us look dark we have God left and we can trust Him. If we can feel His strong and steady hand upon us we need have no fear. He has promised to be round about us. When the eternal hills have been dissolved He will remain. He is our unfailing refuge and shelter. In a world that changes from day to day He does not change.

State Fire Chiefs Descend on City For Convention

Memorial Service Opens 27th Annual Conclave In Hotel Monday

A lot of visiting firemen descended on Holland Monday.

They were a special kind of firemen—all chiefs—who came here for the 27th annual convention of the Michigan State Fire Chiefs. Holland Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen is serving as host for the three-day event.

The program opened officially with a memorial service at 11 a.m. in the Tulip room of the Warm Friend Tavern, a traditional opening with recognition to fire chiefs who died during the past year.

The general meeting opened at 1:30 p.m. with opening remarks by Charles Crozier of Battle Creek, president of the state association, short talk by Fire Chief Klomparsen of Holland and an official welcome by Mayor Harry Harrington.

Two lectures, one on radio-active materials by Dr. Thomas H. Osgood of Michigan State college and other storage of liquefied petroleum gases by Jack Thursday of Cities Service Oil Co., were scheduled for later afternoon. A picnic tonight and lectures, discussions and business meetings Tuesday and Wednesday round out the program. Dr. I. J. Lubbers of Hope college will deliver an address at the main banquet in the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope church, took charge of the memorial service this morning, assisted by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow at the piano and Paul Kranendonk as soloist.

Using as his topic, "Guardians of the Community," Dr. de Velder referred to that period in every boy's life when he wants to be a fireman—he is full of hero worship, excitement, courage and bravery, and the boy has an instinctive recognition of the real service rendered in time of emergency.

"As we grow older, we have a growing appreciation of the importance of community protection, not only to uphold the laws but to guard against disaster. We have seen great development in fire protection from the oldtime bucket brigade to the latest in new fire fighting equipment, and we pay tribute today to groups such as these men dedicated to the best in service as guardians of the community," Dr. de Velder said.

Special tribute was paid to two retired fire chiefs who have died since the last convention, Ernie Wilson of Alpena and W. P. Weeks of Battle Creek.

In his welcome speech this afternoon, Mayor Harrington said, "We recognize that you fire chiefs are in charge of one of the most important branches of community service. We look to you and the men under your supervision with confidence and trust as guardians of our safety and security."

"Fire is a demon and a friend. Uncontrolled, it causes death and destruction. Controlled it serves us as an indispensable friend and agent. I believe the public is aware of these facts and appreciates them. Our own chief Klomparsen has done marvelous work and accomplished great results with systematic inspection and prevention efforts."

"Holland has had its catastrophes and its fire department its casualties. I remember one time a truck tipped over and killed the driver. I read about the great fire 81 years ago next Oct. 8 when simultaneously with the great Chicago fire Holland turned to ashes with the loss of 224 houses and 76 business places.

"In these days of confusion and strife we all must do our part to preserve the American way of life. Freedom is everybody's job. What tomorrow's picture will be composed of is to be determined by each of us. Tomorrow will be exactly what we make it. We owe to our citizenship more than just doing our regular duties and we must follow more than our regular vocations."

About 50 chiefs arrived in Holland Sunday, and the total including chiefs and their wives and some families is expected to reach 200. Most delegates are staying in the Warm Friend Tavern and in local motels.

Elizabeth Koeman, 83, Dies at Sister's Home

Elizabeth Koeman, 83, died early Tuesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cornelius Boven, route 6.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ben Reimink of Hamilton; five brothers, Cornelius, Jacob, Louis and Abe Koeman of Holland and Andrew Koeman of Zeeland; two sisters, Mrs. Gerrit Schurman of Holland and Mrs. Boven; eight grandchildren, and six great grandchildren.

New Motion on File

Grand Haven (Special)—Defense attorneys Monday filed a motion for a judgment of no cause of action in the Circuit Court case of Justin Branderhorst of Overland versus William E. Koelman of Holland, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury which July 10 ruled $4,570 in favor of the plaintiff. The case involved an automobile accident May 28, 1951, at 16th St. and Lincoln Ave. in Holland, in which Branderhorst was injured. When the verdict was announced July 10, the court ordered a stay of proceedings of 20 days.

Fire Chiefs Convention Moves Into Second Day

Michigan fire chiefs moved into their second day of convention activities at the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday following an eventful first-day opening Monday which highlighted a picnic at the Holland Furnace grounds for delegates and their guests.

By Monday night, 193 persons had registered and by noon Tuesday the number had passed the 200-mark. Monday's arrivals included 73 fire chiefs from all over Michigan, 14 associate members, 12 sustaining members, 61 women guests and 33 non members.

Tuesday's program included four addresses and discussion periods. Monsignor Charles Keating, chaplain of the Lansing fire and police departments, spoke on "Improve Your Personal Public Relations." John Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, talked on "Asphyxiation of Administration." Arnold C. Renner, chief of the first marshal division, Michigan State police, spoke on "New Legislation Affecting the Fire Service," and James McElroy, fire protection engineer, talked on "What's Burning."

The convention opened Monday morning with a memorial service in charge of Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope church. Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen of Holland, who is serving as host, and Mayor Harry Harrington gave welcomes at the afternoon session.

Monday night was regarded as "fun night" for the delegates, and after the picnic at the Holland Furnace grounds the visiting firemen opened a few sires and roused the town on a warm night. There were no fires, but at least 50 persons called police headquarters.

Anthony Koolker

Local Pianist Wins Acclaim

A Holland pianist was highly acclaimed by critics after his concert appearance Friday evening at the Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester, N. Y.

Anthony Koolker, a member of the Hope college music faculty, appeared with Edward Preodor, violinist, who is associate professor and orchestra director at the University of Florida.

A highlight of the program was Mozart's "Sonata for Violin and Piano in B flat major, K 378." One Rochester critic stated that "Mr. Preodor and Anthony Koolker, who was at the piano, played the Sonata in perfect accord and brought delight in its proclamation."

Another said of the same number: "Here the piano collaboration of Anthony Koolker was on the superb side for the two instruments are kept constantly on the alert, requiring just as skillful a pianist as a violinist. What a joy it is to listen to such a collaboration as Koolker, whose professional career has included accompanying such artists as Albert Spalding."

Fee for Divorce To Be Returned

Grand Haven (Special)—Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Tuesday ordered John F. Frederick, Muskegon attorney, to repay $1,400 less credit for special work not to exceed $50 to Mrs. Esther Vandenberg who petitioned the court for the return of fees in connection with the divorce case of William C. Vandenberg, Jr., vs. Esther Vandenberg.

When the Vandeborgs were divorced last Dec. 19, plaintiff agreed to pay Mrs. Vandenberg's attorney $2,000 as attorney's fees for services rendered in the case. After the decree was signed, plaintiff's attorney handed Frederick a check for $3,000 which was the cash payment provision under the settlement decree.

The same day, Mrs. Vandenberg claims her attorney, who had been a close friend of the Vandeborgs for years, informed her she owed him an additional $2,000 but under the circumstances would settle for $1,400, provided she would tell her ex-husband she paid the attorney $2,000. She then endorsed the $3,000 check, paid the attorney $1,400 and deposited the remainder in her account.

She later filed a petition for the return of the $1,400. Frederick claimed the amount for services apart from the divorce action.

Erratic Pitching Gives Dutchmen Their Big Chance

A beautiful slow-breaking drop and listless bats had the Holland Flying Dutchmen trailing 4-2 going into the bottom half of the seventh inning Monday night at Riverview park, but a spirited rally gave them four runs and the final 6-4 decision.

The slow breaking drop belonged to South Haven pitcher Bud Bowie who gave up only two hits in the first five innings. The drop, coming in about waist high and then going down, constantly sent Dutchmen players into a useless swing in the early innings.

But all this changed in the sixth when Holland began to catch on to the drop and collected three hits and two runs. Butts Kool got to first on a fielder's choice, Tony Wentzel singled, and Whitey Witteven brought them both around with a single over first base. This still wasn't enough so in the seventh with two out, Carl Reimink beat out a single down the third base line. Lou Humbert and Kool walked off new pitcher Jack Turner.

Plagued with wildness, Turner, threw several into the dust before Reimink took advantage of one to steal home. Don Piersma drew a walk before Wentzel pounded out a two-run over second base. The final Dutch score came on a bit of head work from the Holland bench. The strategists sent Wentzel in a futile attempt to steal second. Meantime Piersma had time to score from third before the out was made.

South Haven scored three of its runs in the fourth with another coming in the seventh.

For the Dutchmen hitting honors go to Wentzel for his game winning single in the seventh, but Spike Van Eyk got a solid double and Humbert, Kool, Witteven and Reimink all collected important singles. For South Haven Walker and Barnes both had two hits.

Carl Reimink, who relieved Clare Van Lier midway in the fourth, pitched four hit ball to claim the victory while Bowie was the loser.

Van Wynen Writes From Netherlands

Gilbert Van Wynen of Holland, local chairman of the Youth for Christ program, has been overwhelmed by the courtesies extended him in the Netherlands where he is currently spending three months assisting in evangelistic work in Zeist in the southern part of the Netherlands.

In a letter to Willard C. Wichers, Van Wynen wrote he was enjoying his stay there. "The work I came to do is richly blessed by our precious Lord. Not immense audiences thus far, but some 10 or 12 whom we might personally deal with as they come to us after the meetings. It's a Catholic section of Zeist, a town of 45,000 only 30 minutes by bus from Utrecht," he wrote.

"Here in Zeist is a flag pole which holds flags of a single color in holders about a foot apart circling and ascending the pole some 40 feet high. It's used only on great occasions. The last time was when Eisenhower visited Zeist. One man told me I resembled Truman and they might put the flags up for me!"

"Hospitality is truly wonderful, and the flowers are gorgeous. Bicycles are super plentiful—yes, I'm learning to maneuver one too through this heavy traffic, but still prefer my car at home. I smiled the other day when I

Rites Saturday For Man Killed In M-21 Crash

Funeral services were held Saturday for Titus W. Van Hattma, 76-year-old life-long Vriesland resident, who was fatally injured in a two-car crash about 12:15 p.m. July 17 on M-21 just east of the Gordon St. junction about 2 1/2 miles east of Holland.

Van Hattma, who was driving west on the highway, died in Holland hospital at 1:15 p.m. without regaining consciousness.

The other driver, 53-year-old Thaddeus C. Jones of Muskegon, was in fairly good condition today in Holland hospital where he is under treatment for a dislocated right hip and other bruises. Jones works for Army ordinance in Muskegon out of the Detroit office. His wife arrived in Holland Thursday night from Muskegon.

Both cars are a total loss, sheriff's officers said. The westbound Van Hattma car, a '48 model, apparently went out of control and went into the path of the eastbound Jones car. The Jones car, a '50 model, plowed broadside into the right side of the Van Hattma car. Officers said the crash occurred in the eastbound lane.

A witness to the accident was Norman Zimmerman, of 97 West 12th St., driving directly behind Jones. Zimmerman took to the right shoulder to avoid the wrecked cars.

Another witness was Jack Vandenberg, owner of Vandenberg Shellene, who saw the crash from his store and immediately called ambulances.

and other fractures in the crash. Van Hattma was born in Vriesland, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Van Hattma. Until he retired, he was field representative of the Lake Shore Sugar Co. of Holland, and before that he operated a grain elevator in Vriesland. He was a member of Vriesland Reformed church.

Surviving are the wife, Emma; two daughters, Mrs. Randall M. Daane of Plymouth and Mrs. Wilard C. Wichers of Holland; five grandchildren, one great grandchild, and a brother, Henry of Vriesland.

Jay L. De Koning Named President Of School Board

Jay L. De Koning, a trustee of the Board of Education for eight years, was elected president of the board at a reorganization meeting of the body Friday night in the administration building at 14th St. and Pine Ave.

Attending their first board meeting were the two new trustees elected in Monday's annual election, Wendell A. Miles and Alvin J. Cook. E. V. Hartman, who was re-elected to another term Monday, also was present. As president, he presided at the first part of the meeting in which the major portion of business was transacted.

Mrs. John K. Winter was elected vice president, succeeding De Koning, and Mrs. Kenneth De Pree was re-elected secretary of the board.

The board also approved the appointment of three new teachers for the coming school year. Mrs. Ruby Vande Water Wolters of Holland, who formerly taught in the public schools four years, will return next term to teach a class in later elementary in Longfellow school. Because of a heavy enrollment of 50 or more in the fifth grade, arrangements have been made to move the library back into the basement and reinstate a class room on the first floor.

Hugo E. Siehr of Saginaw has been engaged to teach high school English. He is a graduate of Milwaukee high school, received a B. S. degree from the University of Wisconsin and a master's degree from Marquette university. He has had 14 years of experience teaching and business. He's married and has two children.

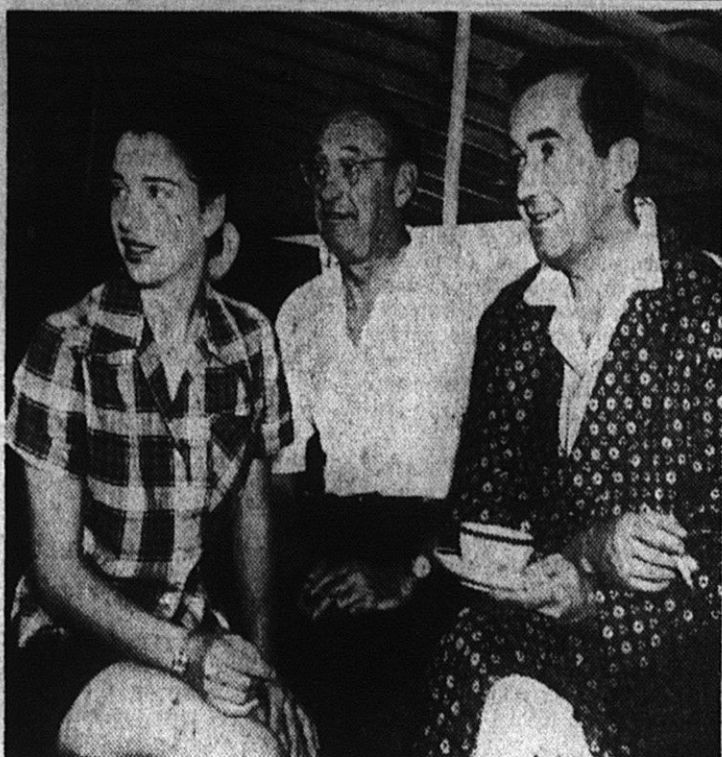

Harold B. Tregloan has been engaged to teach shop at Junior high school. A native of Stambaugh, Mich., he was graduated from Michigan State college in 1949 and has been teaching in Homer for three years. He is married and has two children.

The board also took action to sponsor a banquet for public school teachers next fall. Supt. Walter W. Scott explained plans for improving shower rooms at Junior high school, and plans for a storage building. The matter was referred to the buildings and grounds committee and the superintendent with instructions to advertise for bids.

Trustee C. J. De Koster, who is retiring after 21 years as a board member, gave the official report on Monday's election, which in addition to naming three trustees also approved a proposal whereby Holland becomes a third class school district under state law.

A communication from A. W. Hertel, chairman of the municipal recreation building committee, asking for suggestions for the proposed municipal building was referred to Supt. Scott and Trustee James Hallan. The letter explained ideas are sought from all persons and organizations interested in such a project so that preliminary plans may be drawn in time to submit the measure to public vote in the November election.

Claims and accounts for June totaled $55,662.53 of which teachers' salaries totaled $41,386.34.

Edward R. Murrow, (right) noted radio news commentator, looks out over Lake Macatawa from the 105-foot yacht "Sis" anchored in Macatawa harbor. With Murrow are ship owner and network official H. L. Atlas and his daughter, "Sis" Atlas. The ship arrived in Macatawa harbor at 2 a.m. Thursday after a six-hour trip from Chicago and was scheduled to depart back to Chicago this morning. Murrow, enjoying his first brief rest in five months, left Thursday afternoon from Holland by private plane for Chicago to make his nightly newscast. (Sentinel photo)

Murrow, on Vacation, Talks of Conventions

Edward R. Murrow, ace radio news commentator, paid the Holland area a brief visit Thursday when he cruised into Macatawa harbor aboard the 105-foot yacht "Sis."

Murrow, taking a brief rest between reporting the Republican and Democratic conventions plus his nightly radio newscasts, called the few hours visit, "as near to a holiday as I've seen in five months."

A chain smoker, Murrow lit one cigarette after another as he relaxed on the deck of the "Sis" in a lounge robe and pajamas. Sipping a cup of coffee he asked many questions about Holland, the city's population and seemed genuinely impressed with the area.

Talking in a slow, low voice so familiar to radio listeners, Murrow told of the myriad of details and manpower connected with covering the recent Republican convention. He said that CBS alone had over 300 men on the scene, both at the convention hall and at the headquarters of Eisenhower, Taft, Warren and Stassen.

He expressed concern whether the breach between the Eisenhower and Taft camps could be healed. Murrow said, "More down-right bitterness existed than I've ever seen before at any convention. This year, Taft and the old guard Republicans were fighting for their political lives."

This bitterness, Murrow continued, was quite apparent when Eisenhower made his acceptance speech. "Banks of delegate seats, formerly occupied by Taft backers, were empty. Perhaps they were tired of the long hours and went home. No one knows."

Comparing the Republican convention with the Democratic convention next week, Murrow said, the television and radio coverage of the coming convention will be much more difficult because of the large number of candidates, making it necessary to have TV cameras and radio mikes in each headquarters.

As for President Truman running again, Murrow said, "I'll believe he's draft-proof when the convention ends and if he stays neutral it looks like everyone will be nominated."

One thing many news men were trying to find out, he said, is who is going to sit with a direct telephone line to the White House. He explained by recalling the 1944 Democratic convention when Harry Hopkins had a direct phone line to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt relaying his wishes to the convention floor.

Murrow would not hazard a guess on whom the Democrats would nominate but seemed to feel that Estes Kefauver of Tennessee does not and would not have President Truman's backing. He also expressed doubt that Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois would be drafted to run for president.

Murrow flew back to Chicago by private plane Thursday afternoon to do his nightly radio broadcast. Also aboard the ship was owner and CBS president H. L. Atlas, his wife, a son, H. L. Atlas, Jr.; a daughter, "Sis" Atlas and Pat Greening.

Ibsen Play Is Well-Received
James Webster and his Saugatuck summer players have turned out another fine production, "A Doll's House," three-act play by Henrik Ibsen, opened last night to a nearly-filled house, at the Red Barn theater in Douglas.

In "A Doll's House," Ibsen is dealing with a 19th century social problem concerning the independence of woman, and in this production, he shows how at least one woman solves this problem.

The woman, Nora, wife of Torvald Helmer, is played by attractive Helen Erickson of Kalamazoo, who is well-known to Saugatuck audiences. Her young banker husband is portrayed by Ralph Miller, making his initial appearance in a Saugatuck summer production, who was favorably received.

Dick Banks takes the part of Dr. Rank, family physician and friend who reveals that he is in love with Nora. Charles Lynch portrays Nils Krogstad, a business friend of Torvald. Mrs. Dorothy Dalton takes the part of Christine Linde, a life-long friend of Nora, and former friend of Krogstad. Dorothy Brignall plays the maid.

Costumes are in keeping with the 19th century period, and the authentic set adds much to the production.

Jack Schouten Steps Down From Position at Hope

Hope college's "grand old-man" of athletics, Jack Schouten, a campus personage as a coach and trainer for 33 years, has decided to step down.

This news came with the announcement Friday that Lawrence J. Green of Pella, Iowa, has been engaged as an assistant professor of physical education at Hope.

Schouten, throughout his long tenure at Hope, treated hundreds of athletes for countless ailments. Not only the college players came under his tutelage, but often high school athletes and townspeople were assisted with treatment or advice on an injury.

A life-long resident of Holland, John H. L. Schouten began coaching Hope college baseball teams back in 1908. He came to Hope in 1919 as a full-time director of physical education, a post he has held until his retirement. During that time he served as coach in every sport at Hope, and Holland fans recall a Hope college athletic contest was not complete without Jack on the bench. All the time he has been at Hope, Schouten has served as trainer.

His coaching duties during the past few years have been confined to the baseball team, and this year marked his 33rd at the helm.

Schouten installed a men's physical education program at Hope making freshmen gymnasium classes required. He also instigated a physical education program for women.

In May 1949, Schouten was honored by the New York Hope college alumni chapter. He was presented with an inscribed portrait, on which a tribute was paid, describing him as an athletic director, and friend. The inscription, in part, reads, "your athletes, or your boys as you fondly call them, have carried your inspiration and sense of keen fair play into many realms, not only athletic but also professional and otherwise. These pleasant associations will be long cherished by all Hopeites".

At commencement in 1949, Schouten was further honored for exemplary service to Hope college. The board of trustees voted to set aside specific scholastic requirements and awarded Schouten an AB degree. His formal education was at the Hope college preparatory school. Also he had attended physical education classes in summer school at the University of Illinois, University of Michigan and Notre Dame University.

Throughout his career, Schouten has always maintained that a good athlete will be a good citizen.

VFW Overwhelms Pelon Sunoco With Hit Spree

While league-leader Skippers was idle both VFW and Main Auto climbed into a tie for first place in City league softball action at Van Tongeren field Monday night. VFW did it with a 15-0 triumph over Pelon Sunoco while Holland Moose was Main Auto's victim 4-3 in the second game.

In the 15 run fiasco Case Velderman of Sunoco held for two innings giving up only one run, before a four run third started the VFW scoring parade. VFW came back in the fifth with four more and finished it in the sixth with six runs.

Copping hitting honors for the Vets were Don Van Duren, Al Glupker, Roger Schutt and Guite Daining each with two. Daining had a homer. For the losers Ken Matchinsky collected two singles.

Roger Schutt pitched five-hit ball to get credit for the win while Velderman and De Neff were on the mound for Sunocos, the loss going to Velderman.

In the nightcap, Mel Koenes scored the last of the seventh to break the tie and give the Autos the 4-3 decision. The Autos had scored three runs in the first but followed with five hitless innings. Moose collected two hits in the second and one in the sixth to tie it up.

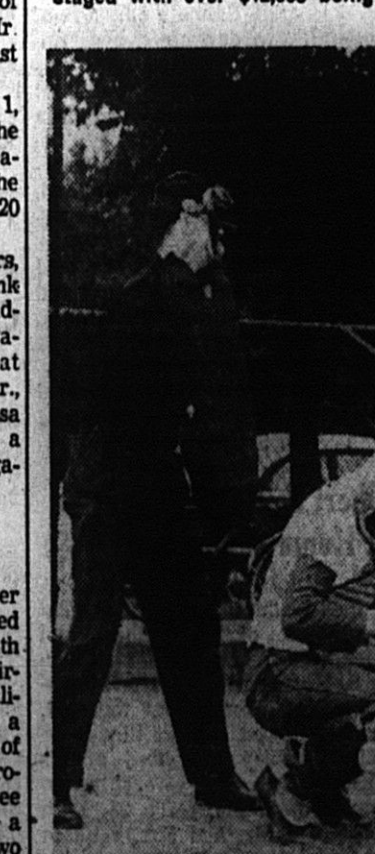

Jason Ebels stayed on the mound for the Autos to gain the win while Ed Stille went the distance for the losers.

Mel Koenes winning triple in the seventh won him top hitting honors while Ernie Prince got two singles. Gil Vanden Berg and Stu Baker each got doubles for Moose.

Mrs. Watson was charged with excessive speed.

Strong Wind Hinders Week-End Sailing Races

Saturday's threatening weather cut short the racing program on Lake Macatawa and a strong wind Sunday resulted in minor damage to three craft. One of the C boats tipped over, a Lawley 110 ripped a sail and a mast was broken on a Lightning.

Saturday's results: "C" boats—Craig Welch, first; Dick Schadelee, second; Jack Hobeck, third. Lawley 110's—Van Lare, first; Pete Sears, second; Jack van der Velde, third.

Lightnings—Sally Copeland, first; Caryl Curtis, second; Paul Harms, third.

Sunday's results: "C" boats—Hobeck, first; Welch, second; Schadelee, third. Lawley 110's—Bill Jesiek, first; van der Velde, second; Sears, third.

Zeeland Girls Win

Both games were high scoring routs in Zeeland girls softball Tuesday night as Bon Ton downed the Grand Rapids Independents 11-0, and Drenthe topped the Grand Rapids Redwings 15-2. In junior league softball Nykamp-Pikaart defeated De Bruyn by a narrow 5-4 margin.

Judging Contests Set

Grand Haven (Special) — Ottawa county judging contests for food and clothing projects will be held at Allendale school Tuesday, July 29. Girls 14 years of age and older are eligible to compete for the district contest. Younger girls from 10 to 14 may compete for county honors, according to Mrs. Grace Vander Kolk, county home demonstration agent.

First National Falls to Hilltop

One game was played last night in the American Legion-Recreation Department Baseball league and one contest was defaulted. The scheduled opener between Bowman's and Elzinga-Volkers was awarded to the Bowman club by virtue of forfeit when the Contractors failed to arrive with a necessary nine men to start the contest.

In the nightcap, Hilltop Farms had to go into extra innings to defeat the cellar dwelling First National Bank team.

The Bankers showed some real improvement over previous starts in being defeated by the score of 13-8. Trailing by three runs going into the last half of the seventh inning, they combined 4 hits, 2 walks and an error to knot the count at 8 all. A bit of erratic base running proved their downfall and, except for that, might easily have given them their first victory of the season.

Totals on the ball game showed the First National collecting 14 hits off the slants of Hilltop pitchers John Mulder and Ron Nykamp, while the Hilltoppers collected 15 safeties off Wiegierink and Ter Beek hurling for the Bankers.

Vander Sluis and Stegink led Banker hitters with three blows apiece, while Lenters led Hilltop hitters with three. Vance Bowman, Hilltop third baseman took distance honors with a long triple in the eighth inning.

Two games are scheduled to be played tonight. The first pits R. E. Barber's undefeated club against the H. E. Morse club in what should prove to be a real battle. The nightcap will match Holland Hitch against the Padnos Scrapers. Game time for the opener is 6 p.m.

Rink Pitches Three-Hitter To Top Chix

Things didn't look too good for the Flying Dutchmen in the first inning of the Dutchmen-Chix game at Zeeland Athletic field Thursday night. Holland went down in order with two strikeouts and an infield fly, and also Zeeland scored on a Dutch error.

But in the second inning the roof caved in on Zeeland as the Dutch scored six runs and went on to win 14-1 in the third game of the season between the traditional rivals.

In the big second Tony Wentzel walked, Whitey Witteveen singled to right, Butts Kool singled after having two beautiful bunts go foul by inches, Willie Rink hit a two-run single, Lou Humbert walked, stole second and third and scored when Chix pitcher Don Gilder was charged with a balk for a peculiar motion he uses in his windup.

Zeeland's only run came in the first inning when Lum Veldman got on base on an infield error, and scored on Gus Walters' single to right field.

Willie Rink deserves a lot of credit for his mound performance holding the Chix to three hits, all singles. In the hitting department it would be hard to single out any Dutch batter as the hitting was well split up. Kool led the squad with four hits, followed by Zeke Piersma, Ed Setter and Rink with three, and Loren Wenzel and Whitey Witteveen with two each. Walters, Boeve and Wiersma had singles for the losers. Don Gilder gave up 17 hits to absorb the loss while Rink was the winner.

Skippers Takes Softball Lead By Beating Hulst

Skippers went into a full game lead in the City softball league at Van Tongeren field Tuesday night with a 6-2 victory over Hulst Brothers. But it took an extra inning to do it as Hulst tied it up at two all in the last of the seventh.

In the first game of the evening Barber Ford downed Central Ave., 9-4.

Hulst opened scoring in the first inning when Bob Vork doubled, took third on a wild pitch, and came in on a single by Bob Berens. Hulst failed to score again until the seventh inning rally which saw Kearney Zoerhoff walk, go to second on a single by Vork, steal third and score on a long fly.

Skippers collected both their runs in the six on Fuzz Bouman's two-run single. In the eighth three singles and a walk combined with an infield error gave Skippers the four-run winning margin. Winning pitcher was Bub Hamming while Al Bosch went the distance for the losers. Both Bouman and Hamming had three hits for Skippers. Berens and Bob Vork got two for Hulst.

In the first game Ford Norm Boeve looked good as he held Central Ave. to four hits in winning 9-4. Garnering four runs in the second and five in the fourth, Fords were never threatened.

Fords hit safely 11 times, only one for extra bases. Rich Wolters hit a long triple into right field to score one run before coming home during the big fourth inning.

For Central Ave. it was a case of a bad night at the plate as they struck out five times and collected just four singles. Bob Altena hit safely twice to lead Central hitting.

Boeve's four hit pitching gained him the win while Matt Numikoski and Owen Aukeman were on the mound for the losers.

Telephone, Power Service Is Cut In Several Homes

Smith Chemical Co. Damage Estimated At Close to $15,000

Michigan's heat wave cracked with a vengeance Wednesday in the wake of a heavy wind and rainstorm which uprooted trees, snapped electrical wires, flattened a garage and tore into some roofs. The mercury dived from a high of 95 Tuesday to a reading of 77 at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Holland city fared better than some other Michigan localities, and loss here consisted mainly of a dozen large trees down, countless branches, about 500 homes without electricity for a time, about 300 phones out and considerable damage to an industrial plant north of the city.

Board of Public Works officials had a full crew out at 4 a.m. Workers said most of the trouble concerned broken primary wires—the dangerous kind that sputter and burn. Most breaks were caused by falling trees or branches. Power was curtailed on South Washington Ave., north of Holland in the Pine Creek area, 32nd St. in the Lincoln Ave. area, Paw Paw Dr. east of the city and scattered points in other areas. Workers hoped to have all repairs completed late today. All street lights were out for a time.

Lightning struck six places in Holland, putting 300 telephones out of service, but the telephone company expected all repairs would be completed soon. Considerable damage occurred in the New Richmond area when a large tree fell over all overhead wires leading to Chicago. A passing train hit some of the tangled wire, carrying the damage further down the line. All long distance calls were routed through Grand Rapids. Several circuits were out east toward Grand Rapids. Falling trees and branches caused other damage.

Fierce winds which hit a velocity of 80 miles an hour in some parts in Michigan were accompanied by rains. In Holland the rainfall amounted to .33 inch. Temperature of Lake Michigan water was 77 but no swimming was allowed Wednesday because of rough waters and a dangerous undertow. Waves continued to break over the pier.

Perhaps the greatest damage to any single place occurred at Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. a mile north of the Grand Haven bridge on James St. where parts of the roof were blown off and scattered over the main C & O tracks leading to Grand Haven and Muskegon.

Dick Miles, local manager, estimated damage to the building and contents at $15,000. Damage was confined to the north 80 feet of the 240-foot of the large factory which processes commercial fertilizer. Employees there believe the building was hit by a twister which lifted part of the roof on the top level, bounced it on and through lower level roofs and scattered lumber and shingles over a wide area.

Damage at this particular time poses quite a predicament since the bulk of delivery to the 175 wholesalers and dealers should be completed by Aug. 1. About 30 carloads of raw materials are in transit to the firm with no place to store it. Somewhat damaged by rain are large stores of red potash from Carlsbad, N. Mex.

The plant was built in 1925 and was taken over a few years later by Smith which now operates five plants.

In Zealand several trees were down and a boulevard pole in the downtown section was blown and smashed. A tree also fell over a truck at a garage on M-21.

Consumers Power Co. said large areas were out of service and crewmen have been at work since 3 a.m. Most damage was caused by falling trees heavy winds and lightning.

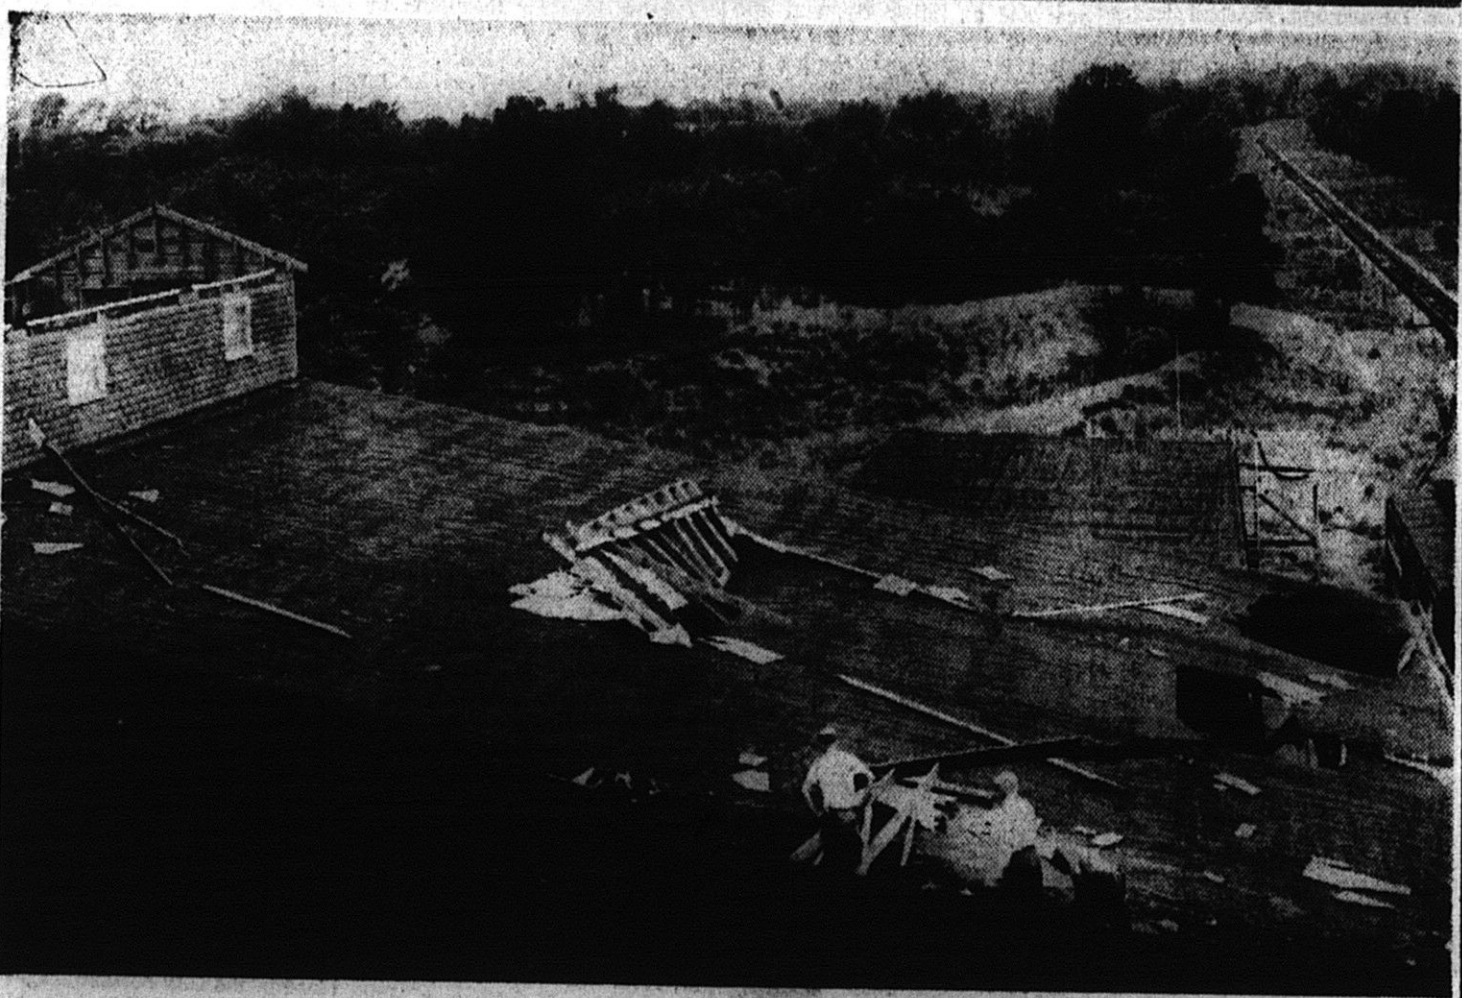

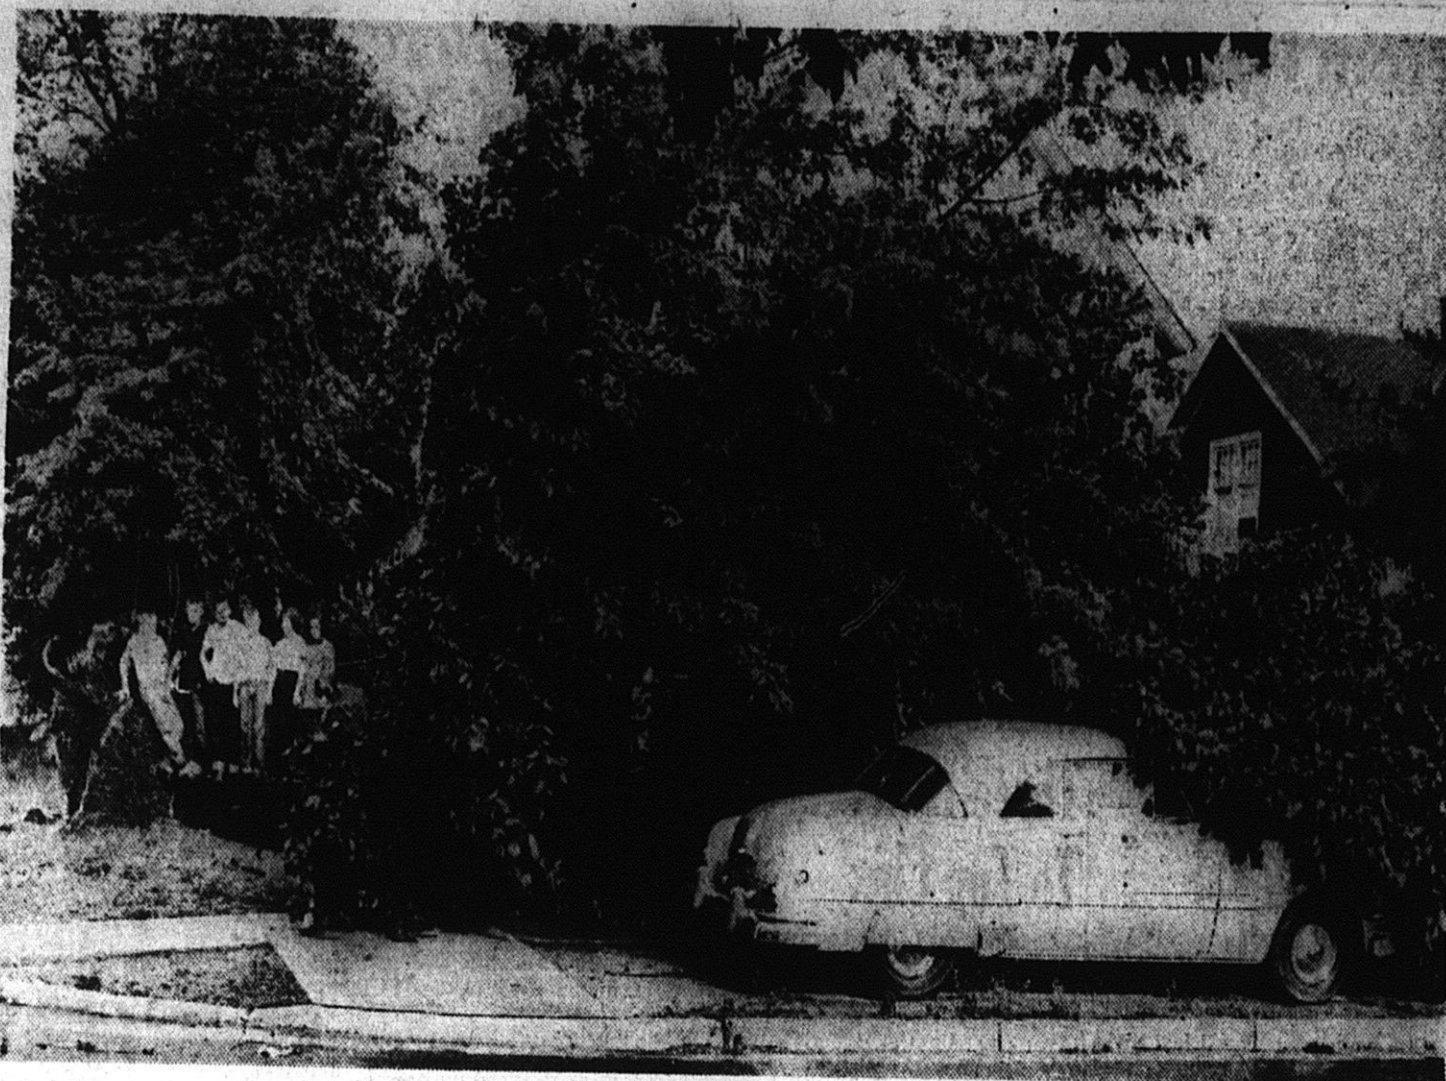

A large pear tree and apple tree were blown down at the Willis M. Osterhof home at 751 Central Ave. A window also was blown out in the home.

Park Supt. Dick Smullenburg said a dozen large trees or parts of trees were down in Holland and his crewmen were out at 5 a.m. to clear the damage. Most of the larger trees were cleared to the point of allowing traffic at 9 a.m. but Smullenburg said it would take perhaps two weeks before all the stumps can be removed. Some of the uprooted trees tore up new sidewalks. Hard maples seemed particularly susceptible to damage.

A large tree blew over US-31 about three miles north of Holland, causing the same type of detours which plagued many roads in the area today. Within a few hours, enough branches had been cut away to allow traffic to continue on the highway.

The cottage of Mrs. Gertrude Gogolin on Lake Michigan north of the Kitchen-Kupboard was badly damaged when a large tree near the landing fell, carrying two other trees with it across the cottage. All the wiring was knocked out. Next door, a big tree split and part of it fell over the porch of the Gabriel Mullins cottage.

The roof of a large barn on the Dick Jager farm in East Saugatuck blew off in the storm, causing the south end of the barn to buckle and part of the north wall to collapse. The barn was built eight or nine years ago after a previous barn was destroyed by fire. The farm is located about

The big windstorm accompanied by lightning and rain that swept Holland early Wednesday left in its wake many uprooted trees, broken branches, snapped wires and other damage. Representative of damage in Holland city is the uprooted tree (top) which narrowly missed the Clark Mack home at 28th St. and Central Ave. and just brushed Mack's new car parked in front of the house. The tree grazed the porch roof and broke off the car aerial. Lower picture shows some of the damage to the Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. where an upper level roof blew off, tearing holes into a lower level roof and scattered debris over the railroad tracks. Manager Dick Miles estimated damage to building and contents at $15,000. (Sentinel photos)

Hilaria Declared Official Winner In Class A Race

Mackinac Island—Hilaria from Macatawa Bay Yacht club Tuesday was declared winner of class A division of the annual Chicago to Mackinac yachting race with a corrected time of 41:59.20.

MBYC Commodore Hugh Schadele's 52-foot yawl was fourth across the finish line Monday shortly after noon and covered the grueling 333-mile course in an actual 46:43.13. The handicap led to the official corrected time.

The Hilaria will receive a flag and cup. First, second and third get cups.

Nick Geb's 34-foot yawl Fleetwood, with a handicap time of 13 hours and 45 minutes, scored the best time not only in its class C and D division but in the first division as well. Her corrected time was 37 hours, 42 minutes and 20 seconds.

Freebooter, owned by Pohn brothers of Chicago, first boat across the finish line, won the Royono trophy, but trailed far behind several other racers after corrected times were computed.

Tahuma, a class B yawl owned by P. C. McNulty of Milwaukee, won the Mackinac trophy with an elapsed time of 48 hours, 51 minutes and 19 seconds.

The Hilaria, Revenge, Whisper IV, Corvette all flying MBYC colors, crossed the finish line Monday from 12:28 p.m. until Monday night. The Revenge came in early Tuesday, O. W. Lowry, who crewed aboard the Hilaria, reported Tuesday that the Revenge lost six out of eight sails during the 65-mile-an-hour gale that produced bad squalls early Monday morning. Many other boats lost sails and masts, he said.

Last boat across the finish line was the Audax, formerly the Hostess, that came in at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Results order of finish were:

Class A—Hilaria (MBYC), Gentian, Vixen, Revenge and Bagheera both out of MBYC, were 14th and 15th respectively.

Class B—Tahuma, Vitesse, Gal O' Galee, Whisper IV was 12th.

Grand Haven Has Worst Windstorm In Recent Memory

Trees Are Uprooted, House trailers Tipped Early This Morning

Grand Haven (Special)—Trees were uprooted, branches torn off, large chunks of sidewalks pulled out, house trailers toppled over, telephone and power lines downed in this area early Wednesday during a wind and electrical rainstorm that many residents described as "the worst in recent memory."

The big cement block wall on the north side of Grand Haven Harbor Industries located on the channel at Water St., was blown out and will have to be replaced. Minor damage was reported to the inside of the building.

Considerable damage resulted to the Highland Park hotel when the eaves across the 200-foot front of the building facing the lake, were ripped off. Portions of the porch rail were torn out and pieces of lumber on the side of the building were blown out.

Several trailers parked at the state park were damaged. A trailer belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krueger of Grand Rapids, was turned on its side and the two occupants were forced to get out via an emergency exit on the side. Krueger received a severe arm cut and his wife was suffering from shock. Both were taken to Municipal hospital and he was released after treatment.

Another house trailer owned by Clarence DeKorte of Grand Rapids was turned around and faced in the opposite direction as was a 2,500-pound trailer which also was shoved over about 12 feet by the strong wind.

A car owned by Mrs. A. T. Celdernust of Jackson, parked along her trailer-tent at the state park, had its side bashed in.

Considerable damage was inflicted on the roof of Hio Dornbos' house when a tree fell on it. Trees were uprooted throughout the city and yards littered with broken branches.

George Koster of Spring Lake, narrowly escaped serious injury or possible death when he left his car to go to work during the storm just seconds before a large tree fell on the 1950 model and split the car wide open, lengthwise. Koster waited a few minutes in his car to see if the storm would subside, but decided to make a run for it to go to work at Spring Lake Bakery.

Ovens at Braak's Bakery, operated by electricity, had to be hand cranked to complete operations.

An abandoned eupolia at Lake Engine Co. was blown off the wedding department and in the process of falling cut off the power. Sections of the roof will have to be repaired. Power was restored at 8:30 this morning.

Fire Chief Henry Hoebeke reported no fires resulting from the storm but about 100 wires were down.

An unloaded scow of Construction Aggregates Co., which was anchored at its moorings, was blown up the river and against the north approach of the railroad bridge. The impact bent some of the fasteners that held the track to the road bed. This morning both the Grand Trunk and C&O Railroads had men working in an attempt to straighten out the track which workmen expected to have completed at noon. Freight service was delayed six to eight hours. The C&O chartered two buses from Muskegon to take Muskegon and Grand Haven passengers to Holland to make connections with the morning passenger train.

Passengers for Muskegon in Grand Haven on the morning train out of Chicago were sent by taxi service.

A couple at the state park was seen walking around what was left of their personal belongings after the storm lifted their tent right out of the ground.

Capt. Claude Raymond (left) and Sgt. M. E. Johnson, both of the state corrections department, look over reminder of the Lake Allegan Camp's earlier days. The boxes are leftovers from the time the camp was used to house German prisoners of war during World War II. Four buildings are being dismantled at the campsite and will be moved to Ludington where they will be used to house prisoner work gangs.

'Hard Luck' Camp in Allegan Being Dismantled for Use at Ludington

Allegan (Special)—Allegan's "hard-luck" camp, originally built as a permanent recreation spot that never quite came off, is disappearing.

With the razing of four buildings at the Lake Allegan Camp this week, Alleganites noted the passing of an era.

For 20 years, the campsite has been intended for children and grown-ups seeking outdoor fun. But a depression, a war and a pollution problem prevented any real development.

Fate of the remaining five buildings is still up in the air, according to officials of the state conservation and corrections departments.

Local sentiment cooled plans for a local prison camp last spring. But hopes of securing prison labor to do conservation work at Yankee Springs and the Allegan State Forest haven't been completely dashed by the dismantling of Camp Allegan.

"There'll be no decision until spring. But the rest of the buildings may be used in another prison camp, somewhere" said L. N. Jones, assistant director of the parks division.

Until some step is taken along that line, the camp still remains open to group use," he said.

While no one could say what will become of the last remains of Camp Allegan, there were definite intentions for the four buildings en route to Ludington.

Capt. Claude Raymond of the corrections department, who is in charge of maintaining and operating the state's eight existing prison camps, explained how this much of the Allegan camp will be re-created up north.

"Every stick will be used, from the section walls and siding to the shingles," Raymond explained. Once established, the prison camp at Hamlin lake will house ex-check forgers, alimony dodgers, and drunk drivers who are on their last step to freedom.

They'll work on the state's camps and forest sites under conservation department officers.

Capt. Raymond, who was the surveyor for the original Allegan camp in 1933, hates to see the place torn up.

It began as a camp for another type of man down on his luck. During the project of clearing Allegan state forest of its squatter's shacks and its hopeless farms, the resettlement administration established the camp for CCC men and boys who were doing the work. As Camp Lakeview, it closed in 1937 after the grubs' wasteland had been turned into a recreational spot for hunters, fishermen and campers.

Many organizations toyed with plans of converting the facilities for 200 people into a camp for under-privileged children, and for other community-type efforts. But money problems and the fact that Lake Allegan's pollution prevented water activities downed all these hopes.

After the place came under control of the conservation department, it became Camp Michigan, where young men were trained for vocational jobs and helped to find employment in the alphabet days.

It became a camp for German prisoners of war in 1945 to 1947, and a barbed wire enclosure occupied the campfire area.

Since then, the place has seen its greatest activity when Allegan high school seniors move in for a week each spring.
