Man Slain While Family At Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK—A South Bend, Ind., laundry owner was found slain at his home early Friday while his wife and four of their six children were vacationing aboard their yacht moored at Saugatuck.

Saugatuck police notified Mrs. Thomas W. Schultz aboard the yacht "Misty" at the Singapore Yacht Club at 4:45 a.m. to contact South Bend police.

Her husband, Thomas, 40, owner of a dry cleaning, laundry and towel service firm, had been shot to death in their $75,000 ranch home in an exclusive South Bend residential district.

According to Ralph Kaye, Michigan City, Ind., commodore of the Singapore Yacht Club, Mrs. John Schultz and the children left immediately for South Bend. The family had been active in the yacht club for many years. Mr. Schultz had been in Saugatuck earlier in the week.

The body was found by Schultz's son, Robert, 17, when he returned home about 4:30 a.m. after working at his father's plant. Schultz had been shot in the head by a .38 caliber gun. The weapon was not recovered.

Detectives said Robert had left home at 12:15 a.m. to go to the plant at his father's request to supervise repairs on a boiler. He had asked his father to leave the door unlocked because he had no key.

Early police investigation provided no clues or suspects. Robbery was ruled out because there was no money taken, the house was not ransacked and there was no sign of a struggle.

A daughter, Suzanne Schultz, was staying with friends in South Bend.

Man Pulled From Water, Dies Later

Jerry Dittmar, 55, of Grand Rapids, sales manager for a bakery firm, died Friday at Holland Hospital where he was taken after falling from the north breakwater at Holland State Park Thursday.

Hospital officials said an autopsy was scheduled.

Dittmar had been listed in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit until he died at 11:22 a.m. He had been semi-conscious.

State Park officials said Dittmar hit the side of his head when he fell from the lower section of the breakwater into Lake Michigan at about 3:15 p.m. He was taken unconscious from the water by a boy who was not identified.

Lifeguard Theodore Etheridge, 20, of Grand Rapids, revived Dittmar with mouth to mouth aid. He said Dittmar was bleeding from the mouth and appeared to have gone into shock. Dittmar was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Youth Who Pulled Man From Water Is Identified

The youth who pulled Jerry Dittmar, 55, of Grand Rapids, from Lake Michigan after the man fell from the north breakwater at Holland State Park Thursday has been identified as Paul Thomas, 16, of Western Springs, Ill.

Dittmar, a bakery firm sales manager, died at Holland Hospital Friday of skull fractures.

Thomas, who was vacationing with his family at nearby Eagle Crest, heard screams of youngsters who said a man had fallen into the water.

Paul searched the waters and found Dittmar unconscious and with the help of passersby pulled Dittmar from the water and began efforts to revive him.

State park lifeguard Theodore Etheridge, 20, of Grand Rapids, arrived at the scene and continued the resuscitation efforts. Paul returned home after he saw Dittmar was returning to consciousness.

Paul's father, William Thomas, said his son had given him his name to someone at the scene but in the excitement apparently it was forgotten.

Holland firemen were summoned to extinguish the fire which started when a short developed in the switch box.

Industrial Park Gets Top Rating

Southside Industrial Center, HEDCOR's 400-acre industrial park, this week received a rating of "Class A" from the Michigan State Department of Commerce.

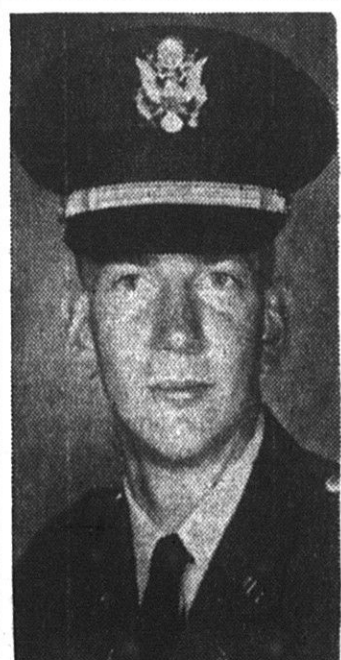

Reviewed recently by representatives of the state's Office of Economic Expansion, the C & O Railroad and Consumers Power Company, Southside received the top rating in the Industrial Park Classification Program initiated last year and the first of its kind in the nation.

The voluntary program was inaugurated by the state to meet a long time need for setting the standards for industrial park developments, the Commerce Department said.

Southside is one of only 26 parks in the state to receive the "A" rating. Parks which meet basic qualifications but have fewer advantages of lesser quality facilities may receive "B" or "C" ratings.

Factors considered in evaluation include: sewers, water, grading and clearing, streets, restrictive covenants, rail, soil tests, flood conditions, gas, airport, highways, truck, occupant services, and community services.

John Van Dyke Jr., president of HEDCOR since 1964, succeeded Clarence Jalving, the corporation's first president. Since 1965, 19 firms have located in the Southside area and three more recently have purchased sites on which they will build facilities. Seven firms have expanded their buildings during the same period and two more have plans to expand within the next few months.

Traffic Crash In Jenison Kills Woman

JENISON — Nancy Noe, 22, of 743 Fuller Ave., Grand Rapids, was injured fatally Sunday in a two-car accident at M-21 and Main St., in Georgetown Township at 9:34 a.m. She was Ottawa county's 17th traffic death of the year.

Ottawa sheriff's deputies said she was a passenger in a car driven by David Campbell, 23, of Philadelphia, Pa. who was treated at Grand Rapids' Butterworth hospital for lacerations and released.

Miss Noe died in the hospital at 12:22 a.m. of head and chest injuries.

Deputies said the Campbell auto, eastbound on M-21, apparently pulled into the path of a car operated by Wayne Matthisse, 25, of Hudsonville, heading north on Main. Matthisse, alone in the car, sought treatment for bumps and bruises.

The Campbell auto was struck broadside in the mishap which remained under investigation.

MAGGOT MAZE — Pictured from left to right are . . . maggots? Well, maggots magnified at 500 times their normal size that is. Those apparent stones next to them are actually grains of sand. The maggots it appears come as a dividend with our alewives. This sample was brought in last Thursday afternoon from Ottawa Beach. By Friday morning there was only the slightest trace of their remains — thanks to mosquito control spray and the local park station. According to District 12 park supervisor Norman MacDonald the maggot situation is negligible and by no means unhealthy. The maggots were found by Percival Zimmer of Holland. (Sentinel photo)

Supervisor Reports Maggots 'Negligible'

Maggots, which have been sighted on Ottawa beach, do not pose a health problem, according to Norman MacDonald, District 12 park supervisor from Plainwell.

MacDonald reported that the County Health Department in Grand Haven has investigated the maggot situation and says the problem is negligible — certainly not of any significance.

What brought the maggots? The Park Supervisor reports that flies lay their eggs on alewives floating out in the water. Eventually these fish are washed on shore and begin to deteriorate. With deterioration of the fish the eggs are then hatched. The result is maggots or larvae. The problem then, says MacDonald, is not really the maggots but the alewives. "And at present there seems to be little we can do about the alewives," he said.

The maggots, which were brought to the attention of The Sentinel last week by Percival Zimmer of 525 Riley St. can and have been exterminated.

A park station crew went over the beach Friday where maggots were present and used, a mosquito control spray and their beach cleaner to handle the situation. The District 12 Supervisor said however this is quite a common occurrence and is treated regularly by the park station crew. He added that the treatment is actually more psychological than anything else, and that such maggots are not unhealthy as such.

MacDonald pointed out that the only health problem would be if the maggots were allowed to hatch — which they're not. When the fish do wash up on shore a park crew is sent there to clean them up.

But as MacDonald indicated, they have to wait until the fish are washed ashore before they can do anything, and by that time the flies have already laid their eggs.

The problem can't be bad, as park sources noted, or the public would have complained about it, they said. One source went so far as to say that the maggots are harmless — that they wouldn't harm a youngster even if he ate a handful of them.

MacDonald reported that the local park station has the matter "well under control."

Couple Starts Damage Suit

GRAND HAVEN—Leroy Vermeer and wife Margaret of Grand Haven Friday started a damage suit in Ottawa Circuit Court, the result of a personal injury traffic accident in Grand Haven March 27, 1969.

The couple seeks damages totaling $35,000 from Lonnie Rhoades of Spring Lake. The plaintiffs claim Mrs. Vermeer was riding in a 1968 sedan, driving south on Griffin street, and Lonnie Rhoades was driving a 1962 car west on Waverly avenue. The cars collided and the plaintiffs claim Lonnie Rhoades was negligent as Griffin is a through street at this location.

Mrs. Vermeer claims she suffered injuries and seeks $25,000 damages and Mr. Vermeer seeks $10,000 damages.

Nelda Van Duren, 27, of 1000 Bluebell Dr., suffered minor injuries at 2:10 a.m. today when the car she was driving went out of control and overturned along South Shore Dr. at First Ave.

Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said she told them a car from the opposite direction was approaching on her side of the road and she veered off the right side where she lost control of the car as she attempted to return to the pavement.

Deputies said they had no description of the other car and continued their investigation.

Amaya's laurel as runner-up in doubles in the Louisville tournament marks the highlight of three successive weeks of top-notch tournament competition. Two weeks ago he won the boys 18 and under singles title at the Michigan State Closed tourney in Grand Rapids, and last week he notched fifth in boys 16 singles at the Western Closed Championships in Libertyville, Ill.

City's Sewage Plans Continue

GRAND HAVEN — Federal county building in Grand Haven authorities Tuesday denied a request by the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners that a sewage treatment expansion program at Holland be delayed and ordered the project to proceed.

Commissioners had requested federal funds be deferred to await results of a study of a spray-irrigation concept of sewage treatment in the Holland area.

The Chicago Federal grant office wrote that any addition that Holland City planned at its existing plant could be utilized later in an area waste-disposal program in South Ottawa County.

On June 23 the board had authorized chairman William L. Kennedy to ask James McDonald, regional construction grant program director at Chicago, to temporarily withhold matching Federal funds which had been approved for the Holland project.

Supt. Guy Bell of the Holland Board of Public Works and Kennedy both received letters from McDonald Tuesday informing them that the Holland project can be resumed as planned.

A meeting Tuesday at the county building in Grand Haven had been called by the board and was attended by 50 persons, including county board members, city officials from Holland and Zeeland, township board members from the Holland area and other interested persons.

Representatives from Holland included Bell, Henry S. Maentz Sr., president of the BPW, councilmen Donald Oosterbaan, Robert Dykstra, Elmer Wissink and L. W. Lamb Jr., and city attorney Gordon Cunningham, deputy attorney William Coupe and city manager William Bopf.

The meeting was called in an effort to discuss a request by the Holland City Council that the board withdraw its request authorized at the June 23 meeting. Holland officials were informed that they may proceed with their project and the sale of bonds will be held as scheduled on Aug. 5.

Voters approved a $1,230,000 bond issue for providing secondary sewage treatment and phosphate removal at its present sewage plant. Federal and state grants covering 55 per cent of the cost of the project had also been approved.

Volleyballs From Ambush

Have you noticed the new "no smoking" signs in elevators? They read: "Smoking prohibited by law. Violators subject to fine of $50 or 90-day imprisonment."

In the Sentinel elevator, under "90 - day imprisonment" some wag had written "or cancer."

The Holland chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, has received a letter of thanks from Carl B. Strange, community relations director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health for arranging to have a number of boys and girls of the Muskegon Regional Mental Retardation Center attend the Tulip Time Parade of Quartets in Holland Civic Center.

"The reports I have received from this event have been appreciative and hopeful. Our residents enjoyed the program immensely and our supervisors hope that a similar opportunity will be provided at the next Holland Tulip Time festival," the director wrote.

He added that one of the major goals at the center is to nurture the development of the highest potential of every resident and expressed gratitude for the organization's community involvement.

H. P. Kleis, of 265 Columbia Ave., has come across an old clipping (probably from the Holland City News) containing a picture of Holland's first band taken shortly after the big fire of 1871.

The leader of the band, with flowing beard, was William J. Scott, hotel keeper. Others in the picture are John Grotenhuis, a Civil War veteran; John Roost, one-time Holland mayor and state legislator; Al Hunter, one of the founders of Wolverine Electric Light Plant which later merged with the Board of Public Works; Otto Breyman, local jeweler.

Others included John Kramer, a Civil War veteran and father of Otto P. Kramer; Peter Gunst who played the bass drum and Walter Heald, son of an implement dealer.

The picture was taken on Eighth St. and the background shows where fire had swept through the area, leaving heaps of ruins, litter and ashes.

Jack Kole, former Sentinel employee who is chief of the Washington bureau for the Milwaukee Journal, enjoyed the fireworks at the July 4 celebration in Washington, but the tear gas was something else.

Jack, 36, former Zeeland resident, his wife and their five children including two sets of twins, were on the fringe of the crowd on the mall (Bob Hope and other performers looked like dolls on the distant stage) when suddenly there was an ominous stirring ahead of them and a woman said, "Oh no, it's tear gas."

And tear gas it was, and they all scrambled to their feet and walked away quickly. Amazingly, almost no one among the thousands hurrying away seemed to panic.

"Don't run — walk," a calm voice said. Someone else said, "Don't rub your eyes. Put a shirt over your nose."

Jack had tasted tear gas several times previously at protest marches but it was the first time for his family.

Police Chief Jerry Wilson contended later that the gas was thrown by dissidents. Pointing to empty canisters to reporters, he said: "This is not our flavor."

None of this activity stopped Bob Hope's show, and by the time the Koles reached Constitution Ave., the fireworks were about to begin and they were great.

Jack was particularly proud of his smallest twins who held

LOTS OF BOTTLES—Cases of empty bottles were being removed from an overturned trailer truck at M-21 and U.S.-31 interchange before attempts were to be made to right the vehicle which failed to negotiate a curve on an exit ramp at 4:57 a.m. today. Truck driver Earl Wittwer, 50, of Verne, Ind., was not injured. Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said the truck apparently was traveling too fast and skidded 134 feet after overturning. Holland Township firemen were called to stand by after diesel fuel spilled from the truck. The truck was from the B and L Freight Co., Newark, Ohio, and was coming off a U.S.-31 ramp onto M-21 (Sentinel photo) their red sweaters over their noses and did not whimper despite the terrifying experience.

Later they watched a television commentator describe the event. "It was a typically American Fourth of July celebration," he said.

Jack added, "Next year, we can do without the tear gas, thank you."

A color picture of the float entered in Tulip Time parades by Holland area unions appears in the June 25 edition of The Machinist, published by the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

The labor float this year had a patriotic motif in red, white and blue, and was graced by pretty girls wearing formals.

Chester Harmsen, representative for IAM district 97 said a voluntary donation of 15 cents from each member of affiliated unions financed the float. Girls on the float were Cindy Roper, Nancy Lokker, Linda Dethmers, Linnea Bekken and Linda Hulst.

Harmsen had the job of driving the car that pulled the float.

An article in the Muskegon Chronicle by a Muskegon journalism student at Michigan State University who interviewed State Rep. Edgar Geerlings proved to be an enlightening experience for a student with preconceived ideas about The Establishment.

The student really didn't believe so-called channels of communication really existed in The Establishment and was overwhelmed when the representative asked her to join him on the house floor and interview him between official business. The 4½-hour session provided plenty of animated conversation on a variety of topics including constituents' views, particularly with regard for campus unrest.

The girl student learned too that petitions have little real impact because many people do not know what they are signing, and a much better way to express one's feeling is to write a letter about personal views. These are carefully studied by public servants and all attempts to send personal answers.

The city hostess welcomed several new families to Holland during June.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leuser of Hillsdale, Ill., are living in an apartment at 505 West 30th St. They are retired.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dyer of Reed City are living in an apartment at 78 East Eighth St. Mr. Dyer operates a Zephyr station.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Arnold and three children of Detroit have purchased a home at 260 Roosevelt. Mr. Arnold is sales manager for the River Queen Boat Line.

Would you believe . . . ? That a girl wearing cotton stockings never sees a mouse.

That women's intuition often gets the credit that belongs to eavesdropping.

That many a child is spoiled because you can't spank a grandmother.

That what melts in the mouth also bulges in the mirror.

The world has trouble spots in spots it never even used to have spots.

Ottawa County 4-H News

By Willis S. Boss
On Thursday afternoon, July 23 at the Berlin fairgrounds 4-H will be conducting a bicycle trail ride starting at 1 p.m.

This is designed for boys and girls who participated in the bicycle safety program at the Coopersville and Conklin Schools this spring. The trail ride will be laid out to cover several phases of the fair grounds and also give members an opportunity to ride around the race track. Each member who participates will receive a ribbon and a free ticket for one of the midway rides. Thursday, July 23 is also children's day at the Marne Fair and there will also be a place to park and store your bike while visiting the grounds.

The Berlin Fair will be held from July 20 through July 25. Monday is entry day and exhibits will be brought in from 1 to 8 p.m. Foods, flowers, vegetables and crops will be judged from 1 to 6 p.m. on Monday as they are brought in. Clothing, crafts and other projects will be judged starting 9 a.m. on Tuesday morning. Tuesday, July 21 will also be the day we will judge livestock and dairy with the dairy show going on in the dairy barn. Wednesday, July 22 will be horse judging day and it will be conducted in two rings, one for horses and one for ponies. The second week of camp was completed on July 9. This was an all girls' week. The counselors were: Krystal Avink and Janice Klein, supervisor counsels: Marlene Van Dis, Barbara Schrotenboer, Rosemary Laug, Ann Dietrich, Hyla Carpenter, Julie Kishman, Marie Burger and Cindy Stroven. On July 7 the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners and the heads of the various departments in the county offices were invited to a pork chop barbecue and enjoyed this along with the 4-H campers through the courtesy of an anonymous donor. This week we are completing our third week of camp. We are appreciative to the staff and members who have helped in making these events occasions for campers to remember as an outdoor experience of learning and fun.

The week of July 19 to 25 is set up as National Farm Safety Week. President Richard Nixon issued a proclamation urging people traveling on the road and those driving tractors to be especially aware during National Safety Week and have set aside the week of July 19 as a reminder to everyone. With our modern machines, we have also increased the number of accidents and we would urge people to be alerted to the agriculture way of life.

"AN OBJECT LESSON"

There is little doubt that Detroit is in bad shape financially, but the suggestion by Councilman David Eberhard that the city install equipment to collect a 25-cent toll from all who enter the city puts the situation in perspective. It sounds as if the city has come to the point of begging for a little money to keep the outfit going.

Detroit has been cutting its payroll by dropping scores of employees and cutting budgets in all areas. But the situation is such that Eberhard says something drastic must be done.

All this may not be as some reports indicate. Cities are similar to large corporations, both tend to build up large structures and added cost, and these suddenly come to light when the cash flow is cut off. A large corporation is a good example. The board chairman in a recent statement said the company had been going over its structure getting it back into an efficient organization. The overlapping, the swollen administrative structure, the lack of control over expenditures, these all had to be brought under control. And, said the chairman, we have brought these under control and now expect to show a small profit.

Over long periods of time cities can build up huge structures that impede the efficiency of the organization and pyramid the costs of operation. Politicians, like huge corporations, are hesitant to do something about this situation. It is only lack of money that finally forces a change in tactic. And it is precisely this lack of money that may be a blessing, for it means that finally the structure must be brought under control.

It would be well if other segments of our government would have the courage to take a look at their own expenditures now while the situation is still solvent. But it would be somewhat naive and certainly over-optimistic to expect that this will be done. Maybe we need the blessing of an empty treasury to get things back into shape. It is the hard way, but historically it seems to be the only way.

Sunday School Lesson

The Problem of Sin
Gen. 3:1-5

By C. P. Dame

Genesis 3 is one of the most important chapters of the Bible. It tells the sad story of man's fall into sin. The gospel is the good news that God made provision for man's redemption from sin through Jesus Christ.

I. Temptation has a long history. The first human couple lived in a perfect society. Their physical needs were supplied in the garden, their social needs they gained from each other and their spiritual needs were satisfied in their fellowship with God. How long this perfect situation prevailed we do not know—but it ended.

Satan, as a serpent tempted Eve. He asked, "Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" The question suggested doubt. Eve should have walked away but called and answered and that gave Satan the opportunity to contradict God. Eve faced the choice—believe God or Satan. God said disobedience would result in death. Satan said disobedience would bring a fuller life. No doubt there was a struggle in Eve's mind. As Eve looked at the fruit she was impressed by three things—the fruit was good for food, it was good to look at, and it would make one wise. Food, beauty and wisdom appeal and she yielded.

Eve took. Achan (Joshua 7:21) said, "I saw—I coveted—I took." She took for herself and gave to her husband—the deceived woman became a deceiver. Sinners want companions. Sins spill over into the lives of others. The couple sinned against God by breaking his commandment. People today are tempted, some yield and obey Satan, some refuse and obey God.

II. God seeks sinners. The couple became conscious of being naked. The Bible teaches that the couple was ashamed because both felt guilty of sinning. Guilt brings separation. It separates a person from God. God sought the guilty pair in hiding and found them and called them and called to Adam, "Where art thou?" Why didn't God call Eve? God has been seeking sinners ever since the first couple disobeyed. The New Testament portrays a seeking God. How does God seek today? III. Punishment follows sin. Adam was the head of the family and God called him to give account. In an unmanly way he blamed his wife. Many husbands have done that since. Eve blamed the serpent. Sinning together did not make the couple more loving. For years sin has created tensions in families.

The man, the woman and the serpent were punished. Sin still has consequences whether people believe it or not. The situation in which the couple had plunged themselves was not hopeless. God in the words, "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel" gave a promise which gave hope. The promise was fulfilled in Christ.

Court Ruling To Add School Costs

School officials were awaiting further clarification on a state Supreme Court ruling that public schools are to provide free textbooks and supplies to students.

"It was kind of a blow," said Holland Superintendent Don Ihman. He estimated the additional cost to meet provisions of the ruling between $70,000 and $80,000 or an additional 2/3 of a mill in school taxes for the district.

Holland now sells books to junior and senior high students in school operated book stores. A recently passed millage election provides for elimination of fees in the elementary grades, Ihman said.

Holland has about 2,500 students in grades seven through 12.

West Ottawa school superintendent Lloyd Van Raalte estimated the ruling could cost his district an additional $25,000 or $35,000 to supply books and materials.

"It will cost us, but it will take a little while to figure out how much," said Van Raalte today. West Ottawa now rents textbooks to the 965 students in grades seven through nine and sells books in school operated store to the 840 senior high students.

Van Raalte said the board has been studying the past month a project to abolish material fees and indicated the high court ruling may come up for discussion at a regular school board meeting tonight.

Ray Lokers, superintendent of Zeeland public schools, said students are now furnished textbooks free of charge but that materials are purchased. He estimated an additional cost of $6,000 to $7,000 to comply with the court decision.

Lokers said tuition students from outside the Zeeland school district pay for their books and speculated the sending district may have to include the cost in tuition increases.

The school heads said they were waiting for clarification on the ruling from state school officials.

After 45 Years Absence Friends Reunited in Japan

A friendship that began 45 years ago on a baseball diamond came full circle this year when Ken Peirce of Holland was reunited with his old friend Jun Ishii of Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Peirce took a "sentimental journey" to Tokyo and the Orient in a 45-day cruise on the Lurline. Meeting the ship in Yokohama was Mr. Ishii and Naoyas Nabeshima, a member of the Senior Golf Society of Japan and team captain of the group that played in the Gleneagles, Scotland tournament in June, 1969.

At the Gleneagle tourney, Ken Peirce, who was playing in the tourney, asked Nabe if it was possible to locate an old friend who played baseball in 1920 with the Waseda University team when Peirce was pitcher for the University of Chicago team. After graduation Ishii went to Seattle.

Waseda and the U of C played a home and home series. In 1925 when the U of C team was on tour in Tokyo, Osaka, Kyoto and Korea, Ishii managed the team. He was also a golfer until an accident to his right arm prevented him from playing.

Ishii who makes bats and d balls told Peirce he was getting white after Peirce had mentioned Ishii getting bald. They both decided their accents were good and they sang some U of C songs to prove it.

What started the whole thing was a copy of the Hochi Shim-bun newspaper of April 14, 1970 sent to Peirce by Nabe. On the front page was a picture of Peirce, Nabeshima and Ishii along with a story in Japanese. It showed the three men standing in front of the ship when it docked in Yokohama. It took quite a while to get a translation of the copy.

Emiko Miyaji, who was in Holland with the Hope College Japanese student group, finally put the story together with help from Peirce.

Rotary Hears Miles Talk On Oriental Trip

Entitling his travelogue "Tai Pan Revisited" Circuit Judge Wendell A. Miles described his 20,000-mile-long trip to Japan, Expo, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Hawaii at the Thursday noon meeting of the Holland Rotary Club at the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club.

Miles and his wife Mariette took the Michigan State Bar tour in May.

He described the fantastic economic progress of the Japanese people who now produce the third highest GNP (gross national product) in the world. "Everyone moves in Japan on the double, the construction workers, the rice plantation workers and the clerks in stores. Every golf game has as its purpose the closing of a business transaction," he said.

He described the ride on the famed bullet train — a 300-mile ride from Tokyo, the world's largest city, to Osaka, the headquarters for "Expo" in 3 hours and 10 minutes.

"Expo," Asia's first World's Fair, draws from 220,000 to 400,000 people a day. People stand and wait three hours to get into the American Pavilion. And another three hours to get in to the Russian Pavilion.

Russia has gone "all out" to overwhelm. Their display, which includes much of what Russia intends, expects and hopes to accomplish is truly stupendous. But the American pavilion captivates the Japanese people with wall sized color movies of the 1969 World Series. The focal point of every Japanese visit to the fair is a look at the American moon rocks there's just nothing to compete with it," Miles said.

Miles described the strange feeling at looking down while flying over DaNang, Vietnam and Cambodia from 37,000 feet and realizing that Americans were in fierce war below.

He described the Siamese (Thai) people as intensely pro-American while preserving a nationalistic outlook. While in Bangkok the Miles had a guide who had formerly worked as an interpreter for a University of Michigan professor for over a year in Burma and Thailand.

UNIVERSAL COMEDY — Though only two are visible, four Japanese students perform this skit from the No Theatre in which another pair of actors, hidden in coats behind the principals, use their hands to perform such feats as lighting a cigarette, powdering a nose or, as above, to eat cake. The story, of two young people meeting for the first time after their marriage is arranged by the traditional Japanese go-between, adds to the slapstick sight gags which the audience is evidently enjoying.

Holland Hosts Enjoy Japanese Student Fete

The Holland hosts for the Japanese students spending a month at Hope College were introduced to the young men and women who will be their guests for ten days at the sixth annual Japanese Night at Marigold Lodge, Tuesday.

The lawn in front of the lodge formed a stage for a program by the students which included some beautiful folk songs and some equally beautiful contemporary popular music with a recognizable western "beat." The group also gave a demonstration of Japanese cheer-leading, in which the leader gives a dramatic pantomime of how the crowd expects to have the team deal with the opposition: a classical comic bit from the No Theater, and solo and ensemble dancing to the music of the samisen.

The program was narrated by one of the students in perfect English and the entire performance was a blend of Japanese ceremony and formality with endearing frantic touches in scene shifts and the hunting of props.

Inside the lodge, the students demonstrated flower arrangements, using the fresh flowers from the Marigold lodge beds; the art of paper folding called "origami" which fascinated children, especially, and calligraphy, the rendering of brush work Japanese characters.

The traditional Japanese tea ceremony was also exhibited and there was a slide presentation of Expo '70 color photos, with narration by the students.

In between, the families who will entertain the students located and visited with the young men and women who will be living in their homes from Aug. 1 through 11.

The area residents who are opening their homes and their visitors include the following: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barkema, 638 Brookside, Kazuki Itoh, Mr. and Mrs. Vearly Coffman, 27 North Division, Hideharu Aragane; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Conklin, 384 West 18th St., the Misses Kikuyo Shibakawa and Sadako Takebe; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coughenour, 13935 Ridgewood, Miss Kyoko Ishida.
