GRAHAM & MORTON TO GIVE LOOP THE LOOP EXCURSION

PRICE ON BOAT AND CAR TO BE
65 CENTS

The old G. & M. is making us think of yesteryear, when cheap excursions were the order of the day.

Tomorrow an excursion is to be given on the steamer "City of Saugatuck" at a round trip fare of 50c. But the transportation company holds out another inducement, beginning next week Friday.

Many of the excursionists wish to stay for the dance at the big pavilion at night or possibly desire to stay over until a later period. Passengers will be privileged to do so by adding 15c to the round trip ticket or 65c in all. That being the case the passenger with the 65c ticket can return home on any interurban car including the last one leaving Saugatuck at midnight.

The Graham & Morton Company call this a loop-the-loop excursion and no doubt it is going to prove popular. But understand this does not supplant the 50c round trip excursion. Passengers can during the month of August take the round trip by boat every Friday for 50c.

They can take this same excursion every Friday, go by boat and come back by interurban by paying the 15 cents extra.

GRAND HAVEN FISH TUG DORNBOS OF GRAND HAVEN SOLD

WILL BE TAKEN TO THE AT-LANTIC SEABOARD

This morning the tug Urger, formerly the Dornbos of Grand Haven, steamed out of the harbor what in all probability will be the last time. News of its sale by the Michigan Materials Co. to the H. F. Weills Co. of New York City was made public today. The purchase price was not made known but it is reported in the neighborhood of $15,000. Others say the value of the tug is in the neighborhood of $12,000.

The Urger or Dornbos as it is better known, was built by Johnston Bros. in 1901, being of all steel construction. The Ferrysburg concern built her for the Wm. Ver Duin Co. who operated her for 17 years in the fishing trade out of the Grand Haven port.

HOLLAND OUT-STRIPS GR. RAPIDS IN AMOUNT OF FIRE LOSSES

A GLARING DIFFERENCE IS
LOSS REPORT

The fire loss report of 1921 for the city of Grand Rapids as given in the Grand Rapids paper again shows that Holland has a fire department to be proud of and should have nothing but the best equipment to fight fires with.

Quite an illuminating article in the Grand Rapids Press tells of the fire loss in our neighboring city. The article might be used as a basis for comparison between Holland and the loss sustained during the year by the Furniture City. Here is the article: "Grand Rapids fire loss in 1921 was slightly higher than usual, according to figures on the commission on statistics for the national board of underwriters, received in Grand Rapids Saturday. Chief cause for the slight increase per capita to $3.95, is the Reynolds fire of last August.

During the fiscal year 1,045 fire alarms were turned in to the department. Fifty-five were false alarms, the remaining 990 being actual fires. Of these 990 fires 983 were confined to the building in which the fire originated. In no case did a fire spread beyond immediately adjacent buildings.

The value of property in buildings burned or partially burned during the year was $13,268,242, insurance carried on buildings and contents amounting to $9,530,216. Losses amounted to $545,396, various insurance companies bearing $534,581 of this total.

Grand Rapids is supposed to be ten times as large as Holland. That being the case it has a population of approximately 140,000. Holland's fire loss for the past five years according to Chief Blom's report has been as follows:

1917.....	$ 4,630.00
1918.....	5,561.00
1919.....	5,290.00
1920.....	23,222.00
1921.....	5,550.00

Total.....$44,253.00

In one year Holland's fire loss based upon an average taken over the past five years would be $8,856.00. In order to be in the same class with Holland the Grand Rapids fire loss should be $88,560.00 figuring population ten times as large. The above named report given by the Grand Rapids papers tell a different story.

VRIESLAND MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING KILLED

While escorting two girls home from a C. E. meeting, Mr. Hungerink of Vriesland, miraculously escaped being killed or seriously injured when a west bound interurban car traveling at a fast rate of speed, crashed into his automobile. The car was stalled on the track and the occupants saw the car coming, but Hungerink was just too late to escape being hit by the oncoming car, which smashed the radiator, windshield, and one side of the automobile.

Hungerink thought that the car would stop at the Vriesland station but contrary to his expectations it kept on coming, as it was a thru interurban. It is phenomenal that no one was injured and the auto is not damaged beyond repair.

The interurban stopped for at least a half hour, the crew taking the names of witnesses and finding out details of the accident.

FARMERS' MEET- INGS ARE TO BE HELD NEAR HOLLAND

County Farm Agent C. P. Milham sends this paper the following announcement:

"Will you please inform your readers of the following meetings for the purpose of informing farmers of the correct fertilizers to use. Thousands of dollars in Ottawa county are wasted yearly because of the use of wrong kind of fertilizer. A demonstration and lecture will be given by myself on the home mixing of fertilizer at the following meetings at the request of farmers to be held in the Co-operative Elevator buildings:

August 8—8 a. m., Harlem. 1:30 p. m., Zeeland; 3:30 p. m., Holland.
August 11—10 a. m., Vriesland; 1:30 p. m., Jamestown; 3:30 p. m., Hudsonville.

August 12—10 a. m., Conklin; 1:30 p. m., Berlin; 3:30 p. m., Coopersville.

The farmers' picnic is to be held August 9th at Boynton's Grove, one mile northwest of Jenison. Granges Gleaners and Farm Bureaus are uniting in making the picnic a large one. Dr. Eben Mumford and Mrs. Louise H. Campbell of M. A. C. will give short addresses. A horseshoe pitching tournament to decide the county championship will be staged. Entries may be made by city and village people who are adept at throwing horse shoes. The prize winners in the county contest will receive nickel-plated shoes. The north side of the river plays indoor baseball against the south side. An eight month-old heifer from the Ohler herd at Jenison will be given away, the drawing to take place at the close of the speaking program.

HOLLAND MAY HAVE NEW BOAT TO MILWAUKEE

ONE BOAT MAY LEAVE THIS PORT; ANOTHER LEAVE
GRAND HAVEN

The Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce is negotiating with U. J. McCann of the McCann Transportation Co. endeavoring to get a boat line between Grand Haven and Milwaukee. Merchants have been soliciting package freight going the Milwaukee way to see whether the volume is great enough to warrant a boat line.

Mr. McCann also has his eye upon Holland he says and as he has two boats he may run one out of Holland harbor and another out of the Grand Haven harbor.

The freight carriers are of the latest construction, capable of carrying between two and three carloads of freight.

Mr. McCann points out that the establishment of a boat line would be an excellent thing for truck gardeners in the vicinity of Holland and Grand Haven, giving them an extra market at Milwaukee which up to this time has been closed to them.

C. P. Milham, farm agent pointed out that last year canners in Holland and Grand Rapids were paying $1 per measure for strawberries while by shipping to Milwaukee and Chicago a price of $1.65 to $2.25 could be secured. This is a great gain and growers secured its benefit by trucking their goods over the excellent roads to Grand Haven and shipping them there on the Goodrich and the Grand Trunk boats. Carload shipments were necessary on the ferries as they have no space for package shipments. All of this additional trade helps the cities as it brings people to the city. More of this sort of trade would be secured if a fruit and package boat line were running out of here for the west shore.

APPLE ORCHARD 45 YEARS OLD HAS BEEN REVIVED AGAIN

HORTICULTURALISTS MEET
STILL HOLDS SWAY IN FENN-
VILLE, SAUGATUCK AND DOUGLAS

Our neighboring towns through the Michigan Fruit Belt are surely having the time of their life with the horticultural society meet and the number in attendance has more than doubled since the first day.

Yesterday was apple day and surely there were apples in abundance. Apples to right of them apples to the left of them—apples all over the countryside, greeted members of the Michigan State Horticultural society on the second day of their annual tour of the fruit growing sections of Michigan. A bumper late crop to follow the plethora of the summer variety, was indicated in practically every section visited.

Leading fruit growers of western Michigan, augmented by many additional visitors from other parts of the state, brought the number taking part in the tour up to more than 400. The largest number of automobiles counted in line at any one time was 97. Joining the party were W. P. Hartman, head of the state bureau of foods and standards, and W. C. Geagley, state analyst of Lansing. Both President James Nichol of the Michigan state farm bureau, who has a fruit farm near, and Vice-President W. L. Noon of Jackson, in charge of the membership drive beginning in Allegan county were in the party.

Mr. Nichol, who also is president of the Federated Fruit Growers, with which the North American Fruit exchange recently was amalgamated, is enthusiastic over the prospects of the great fruit co-operative organization.

Before leaving Fennville an inspection was made of the Fennville Canning company's plant. The next stop was at Thomas Smith's farm near Fennville, managed by Julius Firch, which has 75 acres of fruit lands, including an apple orchard of old trees, thousands of crabapple trees and a large vineyard where 100 per cent rot control is claimed for the grapes.

"Never in the 15 years I have been connected with the Douglas Basket company has there been such a demand for containers," said James Wark president of that concern. "We have accepted no orders outside of the Michigan Fruit Belt, but we are behind. One hundred and forty men and women are employed in the factory, the daily schedule being 8000 dozen bushel baskets with covers, 2000 berry crates, 2000 12-quart, 6000 4-quart and 4000 2-quart, or pony baskets. The plant is open only during the fruit season and will turn out 40,000 dozen bushel baskets. The growers watched every process of the basket making.

A 45-year-old apple orchard, barren until 1915 and brought into production by use of fertilizer, together with pruning and cultivation, attracted much attention. It is on the Taylor & Jager farm on the banks of Lake Michigan.

More than 350 lunches were served to members of the party by the ladies of the Ganges church at the Allegan Co. park on the lake front. All enjoyed the hour's pause there.

A check strip of untreated trees on the farm of Thofas Gooding, the president of the Fennville Fruit Exchange, showed the value of acids phosphate and nitrate. Other places visited were the Wade & Wade orchards.

STATE WILL START WORK ON GRAND HA- VEN BRIDGE SOON

NEW FLOOR AND NEW HEAVY
STRINGERS WILL SUPPLANT
OLD ONES

In a letter from the state highway department stating that they were going ahead with the repairing of the Grand Haven bridge across Black river, Frank F. Rogers, state road commissioner, has issued orders to place new planing for floors, and new stringers on the bridge.

Orders have been issued to have the work carried out at once through the agency of the Grand Rapids office. Mr. Foster, district engineer will make arrangements to get work under way as per detailed instructions forwarded to him.

The city some weeks ago requested the state highway department to repair the bridge since it was in an unsafe condition to take care of the heavy traffic that goes over north River avenue and the bridge every day.

Sometime ago the common council by resolution decided to go 50-50 with the state and place the bridge in better condition.

JACOB LOKKER BUILDING NEW $9,000.00 RESIDENCE

OCCUPIES THE SITE OF OLD
HOLLAND LAND MARK

Jacob Lokker, for years one of Holland's leading clothing merchants has a beautiful home well under way that will stand him about $9,000.00 when completed.

The beautiful new home supplanted one of Holland's oldest land marks, that in the earlier days had the appearance of an old fortress.

The house that has recently been razed for the Lokker residence is the George Sipp residence on West 12th street, and is believed to be the oldest house in Holland. The building dates back to the days before the big fire, which destroyed a large part of Holland, 52 years ago. It was the only house for a long time west of Pine avenue, which is now in the heart of the city.

The house was built by George Sipp, who was one of the first Holland city clerks, and for a long time was used as a polling place by the citizens in the west end of the town. It was situated at the edge of a big swamp, so that in order to reach the building, the voters must needs hop from log to log in crossing the bog. Many are the tales that the old timers tell of those unlucky enough to fall into the slimy muck of Tannery Creek as the place was called. The swamp has been filled in and is now the site of most of the beautiful homes in Holland.

NORTH OTTAWA COUNTY BANKS FOLLOW HOLLAND

As has already been stated in this paper the Holland City bank, the First State bank and the Peoples' bank of Holland have offered the following prizes to the boy or girl placing in the stock judging contests to be held at the time of the Holland fair. This contest is open to boys and girls from Ottawa and Allegan counties. The first prize is $20, the second $15 and the third prize $10.

At the Berlin or Marne Fair, the prizes offered by the Berlin State bank, the Coopersville State bank and the Peoples' Savings bank of Coopersville are first $15, second $10 and third $5. This contest is open to Ottawa and Kent county boys and girls. C. P. Milham, agricultural agent of Ottawa county will be in charge of the contests at both places.

The contest is open to boys and girls between the ages of ten and 18 years inclusive, who have not been enrolled for any course in an agricultural college or school for any term, long or short. All entries must be placed with Mr. Milham before the first of September. No entry fee is required and free admission will be given each entrant for the day of the judging, September 26, at three in the afternoon.

WE ARE NOT SUPER- STITIOUS BUT—

It will be remembered that when the change in seasons took place on June 21, the wind was in a North-easterly direction switching to the Northwest and with but one exception the wind has been in a northerly direction from that day to this.

Observers of the weather say that in the last four years this phenomena has prevailed.

The writer has taken pains to make observations during the change of seasons for the last two years and with every change of season the prevailing wind at the time of the change has not failed to be the prevailing wind during the greater part of the season.

The 22nd of last December for instance the wind was due south and Holland's winter was even finer than California's winter was last year.

We are not superstitious, but the outcome of the blowing winds the last few years to conform with the weather saying surely is a coincidence.

The hearing of the 7th street paving project has been postponed until the next regular meeting of the council, August 16.

The members of the W. R. C. are requested to meet Friday afternoon at 1:30 in the city hall.

MRS. J. C. EVERETT OF WAUKAZOO HOLDING CHAUTAUQUAS

Mrs. J. C. Everett of Waukazoo, wife of Judge Everett is a great believer in chautauqua work and for the edification of guests at her home and at the resort, she has planned a "one day a week" chautauqua.

At 10:30 o'clock every Thursday morning the veranda of her beautiful cottage is the mecca for those guests who wish to listen to good food for thought.

Thursday forenoon Dr. J. B. Nykerk opened the series with a talk on Tennyson and his offerings were well received by those present.

Dr. John E. Kuizenga of the Western Theological Seminary is to follow with a series of three lectures beginning August 3rd. His first lecture will be on the subject "My Point of View" which will be followed in succession by two others just as popular.

Prof. Wynand Wichers of Hope College will wind up the course the later part of August.

These new innovations at the Judge's popular resort are creating much favorable comment, and these treats are very much appreciated by guests of the Everetts.

HOLLAND INTERURBAN SAYS IT CAN'T PAVE AT GRANDVILLE

The citizens of Grandville have been put out for sometime over the fact that the Holland Interurban, a division of the Michigan R'y Co., does not pave between the track in that village, a distance of about a quarter of a mile. The railway has placed a hard gravel surface between the tracks which does not inconvenience motorists much, however the Grandvilleites want the pavement and want it about as bad as they have been wanting car owners to go through their town at 12 miles an hour, which is three miles slower than the state law requires. Anyhow a mass meeting was held Saturday with all sorts of speakers present.

Grandville has been trying to eject the Holland Interurban from its borders thru the courts and the interurban may decide to go around the village before they get through.

The gravel in question occupies space between the double tracks of the Michigan R'y Co. and about a foot on each side. Under the terms of the franchise the railroad company must pay for the paving of this strip. It declares itself unable to do so, however, and the strip remains unpaved.

The Michigan R'y Co. can either live up to the terms of their franchise and pave that strip or they can tear out their tracks. If they don't do the right thing we don't want them here," declared Henry Preston, president of the village. "They have dilly-dallied along for four years now with promises and it remains unpaved and a menace. Now they can either do one thing or the other. They won't get any different franchise or different terms as long as I am president of this town.

"What will the hundreds do who live here and work in Grand Rapids if they tear up the tracks and go around the town?" he asked.

Alvah W. Brown, county road commissioners spoke at some length on the question.

"The interurban company says its cannot afford to pay for the paving between the tracks, and it seems we must believe them," he said. "All over this country railroads are in a bad way financially. We can hardly question its statement when it is willing to open its books for inspection. There are several things that might happen. You might have the tracks put on a different street, but it will cost over $8,000 to make the change. You might grant a new franchise for a single track which would halve the paving they would have to do. The county, state and village would then pave the remainder. You might make them tear out the tracks and circle around the town. I believe the granting of a new franchise calling for a single track would be the best remedy," says Mr. Brown.

GRAND HAVEN GAS COMPANY HITS BOTTOM OF COAL BIN

"We have coal enough on hand to carry us approximately 20 days," This was the statement of F. E. Mason, manager of the Grand Haven Gas Co. today in connection with the serious fuel situation, resulting from the rail and coal strikes. Mr. Mason stated however that every effort was being made and would continue to be made to avoid closing down the gas plant. However he believes the people should be informed as to the situation in order that they may be prepared in case the coal supply fails.

Manager Mason received a letter from W. E. Moes, president of the company operating the Grand Haven plant in which the chief executive frankly outlines the serious situation.

WATCH YOUR STEP GIRLS; SHOES RE- VEAL CHARACTER

Detroit News—Women in other places when buying shoes may try to pinch their feet into shoes too stiff but not in Detroit, according to John Hodge, manager of a downtown shoe store.

"Nine out of every ten women in Detroit are just as sensible as men in getting sane, comfortable fit, and the idea that they argue with shoe clerks and insist on small sizes is all bunk," said Hodge.

Another shoe store manager also agreed with Hodge, but stated his estimate of 90 per cent was a little too high.

"I should say that about 75 per cent of the women now have gotten away from the old idea of torturing their feet with small sizes just because they think it looks chic," he asserted.

"But about 25 per cent are still clinging to the old tradition, and all the talking and diplomatic advice we can give them does no good. It only makes them indignant."

"Lately older women are going in strong for the prettier, classier type of shoes that the flappers wear."

"That is because the clothes of grandmas are very much nowadays, like the clothes of granddaughter, and the present styles and lengths of skirts of women of all ages require classy, chic footwear."

Another shoe salesman, an analyst of character, said your feet tell what you are, and whether they are encased in pumps, oxfords, brogues or high-buttoned shoes, they give you away. Some of his conclusions are: Nervous temperamental, fidgety folks choose shoes of soft leathers.

When a woman of about 40 insists on a stumpy toe, flat-heeled shoe, it is a sign she is trying to look boyish, youthful or efficient, usually all three.

Women are more conscious of their feet than men and are hard to sell shoes, as a rule.

Many flappers aren't particular. They will rush into a store, hurry through a fitting and sometimes take the first pair of shoes they try on even if they are too big for them.

"The Fifteen Terrible"

A city in New York state had a tough gang known as the "Fifteen Terrible." They had spent all told, some fifty-two years in jail, and it cost the county $49,000 to arrest, convict and keep them. That was bad. The Salvation Army went after these men and reclaimed them at a total cost of $250 for lodgings, meals and transportation. That was good. The ringleader gave $300 to the cause thus enabling the Army to show a net profit of $42 on the deal.

MOONSHINE IS CAUSE OF WORK FOR OFFICERS

Last week Prosecutor Fred T. Miles reported a much less number of cases than during the previous week. Of the matter that claimed his attention, moonshine was either a direct or indirect cause of the action in all but one. A vigorous campaign is being conducted against the liquor traffic and from time to time Federal enforcement officers come into the locality and conduct raids in cooperation with the county officers. The report submitted as to actions taken, follows:

July 24, two examinations were held before Justice Lillie of Grand Haven: first, the People vs. Mary Spievak, charged with violation of the Prohibition law. Testimony of Jack Spangler and Ernest H. Hyde were taken and the justice found there was probable cause for holding Mrs. Spievak to trial in the circuit court.

Second, examination in the case of George Woodhouse of Spring Lake, charged with violation of the Prohibition law. The testimony of Ernest H. Hyde and Jack Spangler were taken and the justice was satisfied that there was reasonable cause to hold defendant to the Circuit Court for trial at the August term.

July 25 the Prosecutor was engaged in securing title to two pieces of land between Zeeland and Vriesland. The two parties were unwilling to sell to the road commissioners for the amount which the road commissioners deemed proper to pay. The road commissioners have thus far procured the entire route between Hudsonville and Zeeland without any condemnation proceedings whatever. The only condemnation proceedings necessary on the entire route from Zeeland to Jenison was one case last summer between Hudsonville and Jenison. This was handled by the prosecutor. All condemnation proceedings for roads have been handled through his office.

July 26, at the request of Coroner Boer of Grand Haven, Mr. Miles attended the inquest in Tallmadge township, relative to the death of Mr. and Mrs. Barks and examined the witnesses in behalf of the People. The testimony of a number of witnesses was taken, and their evidence would indicate that the fatal car was being driven at an excessive rate of speed just prior to the accident. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death caused by the reckless driving. The driver, Paul Davis is still at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids, and it is reported he is unconscious part of the time. It is possible that he will not recover.

Thursday and Friday preparation was being made for cases that will be tried at the August term. Indications are now that the largest number of cases under the Prohibition law that have ever been tried at a single term of court in Ottawa county will be tried at this August term. The sheriff's office and the Prosecutor are making a determined effort to stamp out the moonshine business in Ottawa county.

PROMINENT HOLLAND MAN PASSES AWAY AT OLIVE

John Owens, well known in this city and a prominent Mason in Unity Lodge F. & A. M., died at the Owens homestead at 11 o'clock Saturday.

Quite a coincidence is the fact that Mrs. Owens passed away on the 29th of October last year, and Mr. Owens died on the 29th of July this year.

Mr. Owens has been a member of the local lodge of Masons for the past fifty years and on the day of that 50th anniversary the Holland order awarded him a life membership.

He was also a member of the Knight Templars of Grand Rapids and with others he aided materially in bringing about the building of the temple now in construction on West Tenth street in this city.

He had always hoped to live to see the day when a Masonic temple might be built in Holland and his hopes were partially realized when he participated in the functions that had to do with the laying of the cornerstone last year and he also saw the building near completion.

Mr. Owens is a prominent figure in Olive township having been supervisor a number of years. He was a life-long republican and served on the republican county committee for upwards of thirty years.

Mr. Owens was 75 years old at the time of his death and was born in Canada, coming to Olive in the early pioneer days.

The funeral was held at the old homestead in Olive township at one o'clock (standard time) Tuesday, and members of the local lodge of Masons assisted by members of the Grand Rapids Commandry Knight Templars took charge of the funeral services.

Rev. G. B. Fleming of the M. E. church of this city officiated. Interment took place in the Olive cemetery, where his remains will be placed beside those of his wife who passed away less than a year before.

Mr. Owens is survived by four children: Mrs. Belt Welton of Holland, Mrs. Guy Pixley of Grand Rapids, William Owens of Olive and Mrs. John Bishop of Noorveloos.

WIFE OF FORMER AL- DERMAN DIES SUNDAY

One of the pioneers, the wife of Mr. George Dalman, passed away early Sunday morning at her home 46 E. 13th Street, aged 67 years and three months.

Mrs. Dalman was well known in Holland, a woman with a beautiful Christian character, always ready to extend sympathy to anyone. After six and one-half weeks of patient suffering, she departed leaving to mourn their loss three sons and three daughters. She is survived by her husband, Mrs. John Van Zomeren, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. G. W. Gee of Madison, Mo., Mrs. Jacob Zuidema, George, Gerrit, and Ben of Holland.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the home, 46 E. 13th Street.

Gone, but not forgotten;
Gone, in peace reposed;
A noble soul has passed beyond,
A noble life has closed.

On God's great scroll of honor
That marks the good in life,
Is writ, in flaming letters,
Our mother dear, and wife,
Husband and Children.

HOLLAND GOOSE-EGGS HASTINGS SATURDAY; SCORE 5 TO 0

Stegerda was in rare form Saturday and easily defeated Hastings in the second game of the series 5 to 0. For five innings the visitors did not get a hit but during the last four innings secured seven, probably due to "Stegg" easing up a little with the game on ice. Besides letting the visitors down with so few scattered hits, "Stegg" also fanned ten batters. His support was glib-edged: M. Hoover B. Batema, and Carl Shaw especially contributing several hard fielding chances.

The local batters were also busy with the stick in the second and fifth innings. Only 8 hits were registered off "Lefty" Ward, but they came when needed. Woldring led off the second inning with a single and scored on Shaw's double who in turn scored on M. Hoover's hit over third base. B. Batema led off the third with a safety and got as far as 3rd base on a sacrifice and an error and scored on Woldring's long fly to center. B. Batema again led off in the fifth with a single and scored on a double and a single by Woldring and Jappinga. A box of cigars offered by Jack Post of the Palace Billiard Parlors for the best batting average was split between Woldring, Jappinga and B. Batema.

Holland looked like a real ball team Saturday all because we were winning. Good baseball, however was played both games and large crowds attended. Coxey Smith batted for M. Hoover in the ninth and was greeted with loud applause as he stepped to the plate after being out of the game for three weeks on account of an injured shoulder which he received on July 4. He will undoubtedly appear in his regular position from now on.

The fans went almost wild to hear that South Haven is coming to play here Thursday at 5:30. Stegerda will take the mound against these rivals and it is determined to defeat them this time. The rest of the team are with him in this—not only Thursday, but as are determined to defeat them Friday at South Haven. Some real pitcher will be imported to take care of Friday's game. Saturday the Postum Cereals will come for the second game of the season. The West Michigan team and Holland Shoes will clash in the preliminary to this game. The preliminary will begin at one o'clock. They will play for the city championship prize of $50 which is offered by the Independent club.

J. P. MCCARTHY EXPIRES AFTER SWIM IN LAKE MICHIGAN

James P. McCarthy, 51, died Saturday night in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, Ill., as a result of infection in one ear, due to getting water in it six weeks ago while he was swimming in Lake Michigan at Macatawa.

The trouble developed while Mr. McCarthy was at his summer home at Macatawa park. It was thought to be trivial at first, but infection was discovered and he went to Holland hospital. Mr. McCarthy failed to improve and was then taken to the Presbyterian hospital in the city of Chicago for medical treatment by the most skilled surgeons of that city. Nine operations were performed but they could not save him. Mr. McCarthy was a resident of Syracuse, N. Y. for a number of years.

Prior to leaving that city 20 years ago Mr. McCarthy was connected with the Pullman Co. at the New York Central station. He then went to Boston, Mass., and was engaged in business there and in other parts of New England. About 20 years ago he became a traveling expert machinist in the employ of the American Laundry Machinery Co. of Cincinnati, O., being connected with its Chicago office.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eva Jester McCarthy, formerly of Philadelphia, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. Naomi Weizer and Miss Aileen McCarthy, both of Macatawa; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. McCarthy of No. 204 Waverly Ave., Syracuse; three sisters, Mrs. M. O'Donnell, Mrs. F. P. Cannon and Miss Stella McCarthy all of Syracuse and two brothers, J. E. and D. T. McCarthy both of Springfield, Mass.

The body was taken to Syracuse for burial.

CALLS RUSH COAST GUARD STATION AT ONE MAN PLACE

The Coast Guard station at Pentwater from which a full crew was removed on July 1, 1922, had a real rush of business Monday when three calls were answered by the one man who happened to be on duty there in 15 minutes. At 4:20 the first call was turned in from a party who was hurt on the pier and in a few minutes another call came in from a boat containing two girls which had overturned, following this rescue a call was answered from up the beach where a boy was reported to be drowning, he was saved and the guard returned having a hot afternoon. But one man was on duty at the time the other having had leave of absence. Need for a full crew at one station between Muskegon and Ludington is felt and some time ago agitation was started to secure this.

Miss Dora Vonger of Zeeland was married to Mr. Gerrit Wolbert, living south of Holland Thursday evening, Rev. J. H. Oostendorp officiating. The newly married couple will make their home in Holland. The young lady employees of the VanEenemam Cigar factory gave a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Vonger a few days before the marriage occurred.

FORD RETAIL SALES MAKE NEW RECORD

Company Reports Total Sales Have Reached 5,709 Machines a Day

Retail sales of Ford cars, trucks and tractors established a new high record during June, when according to a statement issued from the Ford factory at Detroit, an average of 5,709 machines were sold daily.

Ford sales have been showing a constant increase each month this year; June being the highest in the history of the company with a total of 148,439 cars, trucks and tractors. Of this number 6,054 were sold by the Ford Company of Canada and 9,435 by the various European Ford companies and South American branches, reaching purchasers in practically every civilized country in the world.

With the closing of business for June, Ford records disclosed the fact that total sales for the first six months of 1922 were well over the half million mark, the exact figures being 652,261. This is also a new high record as it is considerably in advance of any previous half year period.

July Ford sales are expected to equal and probably eclipse June. The estimated output of cars, trucks and tractors has been placed at 151,767, although dealers have requisitioned more than 200,000.

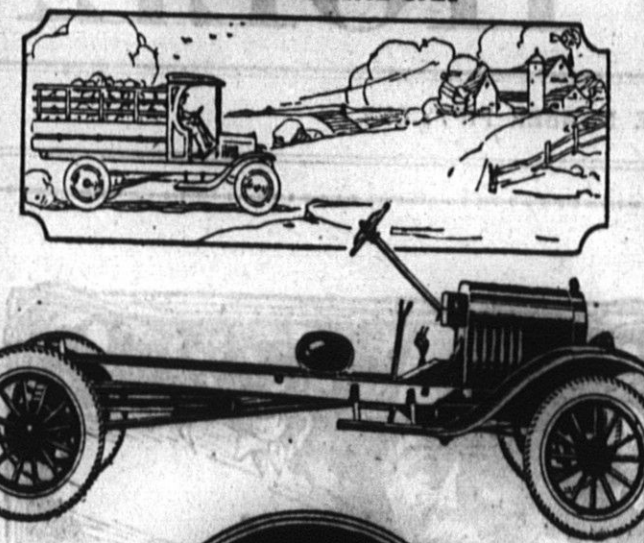

Ford officials state that every attempt has been made to supply their dealers with sufficient cars to fill orders, but that for the past three months, prompt deliveries have been impossible with some of the types. The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been especially hard to meet, due to the ever increasing popularity of the coupe and sedan for all year around use.

A reflection of general business is seen in the record of Ford truck sales, which show an increase of 84 per cent over last year. Merchants and farmers alike have come to recognize the utility of the motor truck in cutting transportation costs and speeding up deliveries, and the fact that they are buying nearly twice as many now as a year ago clearly points to better business conditions.

At the present time, Ford is employing 75,000 men in Detroit.

CUT THE NERVE TO THE HEART

Health Talk No. 28

By JOHN DE JONGE, D. C.

Cut the nerve leading to the heart. Immediately the heart stops beating and death ensues. Pinch the nerve that runs from the spinal nerve opening in the backbone and you will have "dis-ease". You will have heart disease of more or less severity, depending upon how badly the nerve is squeezed.

Take the pressure off the nerve and you restore normal communication between brain and heart, and the heart once more rights itself and beats normally. The cause of the heart trouble has been removed. This very thing is being accomplished day after day by chiropractors throughout the country. The chiropractor locates the spinal subluxation that is causing the pressure on the spinal nerve and by his skill in giving chiropractic spinal adjustments restores the alignment of the offending spinal bone and with pressure off, Nature makes the restoration to normal.

Had Leakage of the Heart Stopped

"I had leakage of the heart for a number of years. I had difficulty breathing. By putting your ear over the region of my heart you could hear a low whistling sound due to the leakage. I tried everything and spent lots of money without results until I tried chiropractic. The adjustments stopped the whistling and I now feel in excellent health."—Albert Kutz, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1093H.

HOLLAND CONTRACTOR STARTS ON NEW GRAND HAVEN BRIDGE

Construction work on the new $200,000 Grand Haven-Spring Lake Ferrybridge has actually begun and for more than a week the Wm. Van Anrooy, a pile driver which has been secured to pound in the big supporting stakes has been tied up at the site of the proposed structure on the Ferrysburg side. The crew of the Van Anrooy have set up a small tent which is merely a passageway to the large worker's shack which it is expected will be eventually repaired there.

C. J. McLean, state engineer who will have charge of building the bridge in representing the state and the city of Grand Haven has also been at the county seat for quite a time, drawing up his plans and making drafts for the work. He has made his headquarters with the road commission at the county court house.

The representative of the Baer Construction Co., J. H. Baer, of Port Huron, which is to do the actual work on the structure arrived and has begun organizing his details. Mr. Baer is making rapid progress in getting his plans made. He has established temporary headquarters and the near future will open an office. A barge to be used in the construction work is being repaired and put into shape and within a very short time will join the pile driver and other equipment which is already on the scene. A journey north of Muskegon was made in search of suitable piles and it is said that these are now available.

Wm. M. Connelly of Spring Lake, Manager Paul Taylor and Carl T. Bowen, formerly city engineer of Holland, now of the road commission returned from Lansing where they were in conference with state officials regarding filing on the new bridge. Satisfactory results were obtained by the men who returned with an assurance that the work would be pushed.

HOLLAND BUSINESS MAN HAS RARE CURRENCY AND COIN COLLECTION

A Holland business man who prefers not to have his name made known probably has the oldest and most valuable collection of Continental currency in Western Michigan.

The collection comprises 12 pieces of paper money, printed on heavy brown paper, bearing the dates of 1774 to 1780. The certificates include a $5 note, dated Feb. 26, 1777; a $1 note, dated April 10, 1774; a shilling, bearing the proclamation by a law of the colony of New Jersey, passed in the 14th year of the reign of his majesty, King George III, dated March 25, 1776; a $1 note, state of Massachusetts Bay, with a hole punched in it, showing the interest to have been paid, dated May 5, 1780; a $4 note, dated Nov. 29, 1775; a fourpence note, issued by the general assembly commonwealth of Pennsylvania, passed March 20, 1777 and dated April 10, 1777; a $2 note issued by the United colonies, dated May 9, 1776; a $7 note passed by the congress at Philadelphia, dated May 9, 1776; a $30 note issued by Philadelphia congress, dated Sept. 26, 1778; a $20 note issued by the state of North Carolina, dated Aug. 8, 1778; a 4-shilling note, which bears the inscription, "pay on demand by the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York, at the office of chamberlain of said city, pursuant to a vote of said mayor, aldermen and commonalty of this date, Jan. 6, 1776." This note contains the words, "New York Water Works;" an $8-note, issued by the congress at Baltimore, dated Feb. 26, 1777.

The collection is yellow with age and wonderfully well preserved. The $20 note contains the threat "Death to Counterfeit." The notes entitle bearer to receive an equal number of Spanish milled dollars or the value in gold or silver, equivalent to the amount specified.

This same man also has some rare Dutch coins. These are made of copper with the coat of arms of each province of the Netherlands on the face and the name of the province with the year of coinage on the other side. The coins are about 20 in number and are well preserved. The provinces represented in the collection are Zeelandia, Hollandia, West Frisia, Groningen en Ommen, Overijssel, Stad Utrecht, Darentia and D. Gelria. The dates run from 1619 to 1794.

This collector also has a well preserved collection of fractional currency circulated during the Civil war and upward of 500 large U. S. copper pennies bearing dates as far back as 1793 and running almost consecutively until the year their coinage ceased.

The Odd Fellows of Holland entertained 300 delegates from Grand Haven, Coopersville, Nunica, Marne, Conklin, Hudsonville and Glenn Saturday night with a banquet served by the Rebekah.

Henry Kraker, as toastmaster presided and introduced C. A. Bigge, who in turn delivered the welcoming address. Readings by Sheriff Delbert Fortney and Bill E. Vander Hart, were enjoyed and Rev. Fleming then delighted the audience with a vocal solo. A whistling solo by young Mitchell and a violin solo by Alderman J. A. Drinkwater followed. A farce by Carl Coleman and Henry Vander Warf brought much laughter from the visitors.

Mr. Moss and his quartet of Grand Haven also rendered delightful selections. Ex-State Senator Martin of Fruitport delivered the address of the evening.

The banquet was held mainly to promote harmony and good fellow ship throughout the county.

ANNA KUIITE OF ZEE- LAND WILL ASK FOR NATURALIZAT'N PAPERS

On August 8, at the county court house, 22 aliens will assemble in the court room to go thru the examinations and to have the hearings which will enable them to become citizens of the U. S. of America. Among this number is one woman, the second one to take the oath of allegiance in this country.

The examiner will be in Grand Haven on the day named and the various questions will be put to the candidates for the high honor of American citizenship. Those vouching for the candidates will also appear at this time and will be tested as to their qualifications.

Circuit court will open the first Monday in August, the seventh day of the month and from advance indications the promise is for quite a big session. Prosecutor Miles reports more liquor cases than ever before since the fall term of 1919.

The names of the aliens who hope to be qualified to become naturalized during the opening session are: Herman Minuth, Derk W. Baker, Arthur Fisher, Frank Gryzball of Grand Haven; Joseph Volovliek, Gerrit Greenhof and Lucas Greenhof of West Olive; Jacob De Boni, Eeltje and Frank Roeda, Frank Feekema, Jan H. Walbrink, Will Ten Brink, Gerrit Te Nyenhuis, George Branderhorst, Joseph Slaver and Cornelius Vryhof of Holland, John and Ben Bruins of Hudsonville, Cornelius Bruins also of Hudsonville, Anna F. L. Kuite of Zeeland.

Miss Kuite is the only woman to apply for the naturalization test during this term. She has been a resident of Zeeland for a number of years.

FORMER EDITOR OF THE HOPE COLLEGE ANCHOR BUYS CAFE

Peter H. De Vries who graduated with honors from Hope College in June and who last year was editor of Hope College Anchor, has purchased the interest in the cafe of J. O. Duke, located at 47 East 8th St. Mr. Duke has been conducting the restaurant for the greater part of a year and was doing a nice business.

Mr. De Vries states that he will retain the chef that Mr. Duke had who it is stated is a very efficient man in fixing up delicate dishes.

The place will also be redecorated and fixed up generally. Mr. De Vries took charge Tuesday morning.

PLAYFUL KIDS PUT DUMMY ON THE ROAD "FOR FUN"

One traveler and possibly more who have not been heard from were shocked and had bad dreams of robbers and highwaymen Saturday night when going along the Fruitport road for in a secluded spot the prone figure of a woman greeted the traveler as his headlamps shot around the bend and onto the hidden stretch.

One motorist in journeying from Fruitport toward a summer home on Spring Lake was on the verge of having a complete breakdown when on rounding the bend a figure which bore all the resemblance that could have been asked to a badly injured woman confronted him. After a cursory investigation in which the instinct of caution played a prominent part the autoist turned tail and fled back from whence he came, going to his destination by another route. It was feared by the driver that the incident was a ruse to draw him to the spot in order that a holdup might be staged. This form of holdup is said to be very popular in California and other western states.

In the morning a prominent Spring Lake resident and the motorist returned to the spot only to find a broken windshield with no other traces but later it was learned that the ones responsible for the midnight apparition were "kids" summer residents on the lake, who were out for fun and took this way of having it. The "woman" was a stuffed dummy.

FURNITURE MAN TO ESTABLISH HOSPITAL IN GRAND RAPIDS

Establishment of a children's hospital to be erected in the north end of Grand Rapids next year as a memorial to his parents was announced Tuesday by Charles B. Sligh, president of the Sligh Furniture Co. and a well known philanthropist.

Mr. Sligh Monday completed the purchase of 15 acres at Knapp-st. and Monroe-av., Grand Rapids, on the northern border of the city, opposite the new park land recently acquired by that city. On this site will be erected the new children's hospital, which will provide accommodations for about 100 little patients and will be known as the Sligh Memorial hospital. The entire project, including grounds and buildings, will cost about $300,000 Mr. Sligh says.

Mr. Sligh is well known in Holland having spoken before the Exchange club last year. He will also be remembered as a candidate for congress in the fifth district on several occasions.

MR. AND MRS. J. P. KOLLA RETURN FROM FRANCE

Surely Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kolla were royally received by the employees of Holland Furniture Co., upon their return from the European trip. Mrs. Oscar Nystrom intercepted the couple upon their arrival in Grand Rapids and took the happy pair to Holland.

Instead of taking them directly to their home, Mrs. Nystrom piloted her car to the Holland Furniture Co. offices, where Mr. and Mrs. Kolla found upon their arrival more than 300 employees of the company gathered on the lawn and cheering them with welcome.

The American Legion band was present which added zest to the surprised welcome while the young ladies of the institution gathered about Mrs. Kolla and presented her with a beautiful basket of roses as a welcome home token.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolla have taken three months for their European tour, visiting France, Holland, Germany, Luxembourg, and Switzerland.

Altho a delightful trip was experienced the Kollas are glad to get back home and Mr. Kolla is energetic and full of pep, ready to get back in the business again.

In giving a report of the trip Mr. Charles Kerr of the Furnace Company contributes the following:

"They both seem glad to get back, particularly Mrs. Kolla. J. P. is so terribly full of pep, you know, and naturally wanted to make the most of the time. He says that his wife has been a grand good sport right straight through the trip, however. And she really doesn't look any the worse for wear. As for Mr. Kolla, himself, he is fatter and rosier than ever before in his life. 'How could I help it,' he says, 'they gave us such beautiful receptions.'"

"Just what there is back of that word 'beautiful' is a question. We suspect he may have reference to France's famous refreshments for he does say that things have a juiciness about them over there. One doesn't drink as much water there as one does here, it seems, for they insist upon giving one all sorts of other things to quench the thirst."

"But Mr. Kolla claims that it is largely a state of mind that has caused him to grow more fleshy. There has been nothing to worry about—none of the little daily exasperations that he meets in his superintending of the great Holland Furnace Organization."

"In place of the business problems, for the last ten weeks he has been having one great big frolic, and quite a lot of it with boyhood friends whom he has not seen for forty years. Some of them have become mayors of their cities, other heads of the police (not an unfortunate combination of friends for a man who is celebrating) and some, of course, are still doing the daily work that they were doing as boys, just as we would expect."

"But regardless of the station in life that each had earned, they all got together and had glorious reunions for old-time's sake, and all in honor of our good friends whom we honor, too."

"Among the mementos that Mr. Kolla brought with him is a hand-made cane which these boyhood chums in Hayange, Lorraine, made especially for him. When he thanked them for it he says he told them that he would enjoy carrying it, altho he honestly hoped he never would be absolutely dependent upon it for support. Guess he would have been one memento short if those Frenchmen had seen him go up steps in his customary way, two and three at a jump."

"One of the most interesting features of the Kolla tour was their visit with the de Wendels at Paris and also at their wonderful chateau in Lorraine. Mr. Kolla worked in the de Wendel mines and blast furnaces as a young man before coming to America. He was just one of thousands of workmen then, and wholly unknown to the owners of these vast interests—the largest of all European iron works."

"Mr. Kolla gives much credit to the de Wendels for his start in iron work and for his inspiration and ambition to succeed when he came to the new country. As a result, it is only natural that these Carnegies of Europe are just as much interested in Mr. Kolla and the Holland Furnace Company, as he is in them."

"Through Mr. Kolla's connection with the de Wendel estate he found himself in touch with the genuine regard of the 'higher-ups' for American policies of today. Mr. Kolla said that in France there is but one feeling toward this country and that is most kindly and friendly. People there look upon us as the French of the new world and upon themselves as Americans of the old."

"Even in Germany, the ill-will toward Americans, Mr. Kolla reports, is going very fast, for all the Germans, even the bolshevian inclined, realize that their country's revival depends much upon the world trade and especially American trade."

"All of the countries we visited, Mr. Kolla says, 'Are coming back in fine shape in spite of their handicaps; but if Americans just go on being true to American traditions, we'll get further and further ahead of them all, every year the world remains in existence.'"

"This was an unusually interesting year for Mr. and Mrs. Kolla to take their trip. There is the rebuilding of devastated regions which is always interesting, and at the same time the world-famous Passion Play at Oberammergau. Thousands of Americans as well as travelers from every country on earth are taking in this wonderful reproduction and impersonation of Bible Life. Mr. and Mrs. Kolla say that it is truly grand and they wish every person in Holland could see it. The sincerity in the acting and the utter simplicity and purity of the whole thing, they say, makes it easily the most impressive performance they ever saw."

SHERIFF FORTNEY SAYS HE HAS FULL RIGHT TO DISCHARGE JOHNSON

What promised to develop into a lively squabble involving Oscar Johnson, deputy sheriff of Holland and Delbert Fortney, sheriff of Ottawa county, brought about because of the discharge of Deputy Johnson, has proven a "dud" so to speak. Apparently the two men thought better of the matter after a sober second thought and the demand of Mr. Johnson to have Mr. Fortney "lay his cards on the table" has brought the following communication sent in by Mr. Fortney and which is self-explanatory:

"The people of Ottawa county must believe once and for all that when I discharged Johnson, I knew absolutely what I was doing. In a personal interview with him I gave him my reasons for his dismissal. I am sure they are entirely satisfactory to Mr. Johnson."

"The law on dismissal of a deputy sheriff is very clear. The sheriff appoints his deputies 'at his pleasure,' he may discharge them at his pleasure. There is no argument on this point, regardless of what he may say."

"I do not make appointments and then break them. I do not take a man into the public service one minute and kick him out the next. I have never been guilty of such an act in my life, and the people of Ottawa county know it. If I ask for the resignation of a member of my force there is abundant reason for it."

"But I shall not make my reasons for his dismissal public at this time. When the matter reaches the stage that the public demands to know the cause, rest assured the public shall know. And with this phase of the proposition Mr. Johnson is as fully acquainted as I am."

"Don't misunderstand me; I am not attempting to conceal from the public what the public is entitled to know. I am holding a public office, and as such it is open to the people of the county, every bit of it. But I do not feel that there is as yet sufficient necessity for my injuring Mr. Johnson by divulging the cause of his discharge."

This accounts for my waiting several days before making any answer whatever to the statement and what I say now is with the same consideration and deliberation that I gave Mr. Johnson in the beginning and still give him, for that matter."

"When it becomes necessary to 'lay the cards on the table' none need have the slightest doubt but that I will do so. But the situation will have to be vastly more urgent than it appears to me now."

JUST A SNAPPING TURTLE Story Given by Story Loon in the Detroit News

Most of us know the snapping turtle by name rather than by sight or by actual contact, by hearsay rather than by association of any kind. He is the villain of turtle land, the superbulldog of the testudo, the submarine of finfamy. His carapace is ample, his plastron small; his claws are long and formidable. When danger comes he does not depend for protection upon his shell and plastron like others of his kind, but depends absolutely upon his mighty jaws. His head is diamond shaped, his eyes are small and wicked, his maxillary muscles are iron-bound, his grip is death to his foe; no hope here for his victims. Even after the head has been cut off the jaws must be pried apart to release the unfortunate object.

Our northern snapper may possibly weigh as much as 40 pounds; the southern representative has been known to weigh over 140 pounds. In large cities you may buy them at 20 cents a pound if you wish to indulge in an excellent soup.

A while ago I beheld a near-tragedy in Palmer Park. Mr. Turtle is very fond of young ducks. A duckling about six weeks of age was attacked by a small turtle in the pond at the park. The turtle evidently was not large enough to pull his victim under, but he clung tenaciously, while the duckling uttered piteous cries as he swam and struggled vainly and purposelessly about the pond. The old ducks all added to the din, but kept away from the area of trouble. At last when the downy fellow was beginning to go under frequently a shot was fired, and Mr. Duck was freed. Whether Mr. Turtle was killed or injured the witnesses are unable to say.

To the onlookers it was a struggle of a merchantman against a submarine. Happily the merchantman lived to sail another day.

CONTRACTOR DYKE TELLS ALLEGAN PAPER OF SCHOOL BUILDING COSTS

Allegan Gazette—John D. Chubb of Chicago, architect for the local high school building, and Frank Dyke general contractor in the construction of the project were in the city last week conferring with the board of education respecting final settlements for the structure. It was clearly evident from both of these men prominent in the building trades that Allegan built its high school at a time when prices hit the bottom in the last decline. Mr. Dyke stated that on the building which he is now erecting in Grandville he is compelled to pay $1.35 per hour for bricklayers as against $1 paid last year; that flooring placed in the local building at $57 per thousand now costs $78, and that the biggest manufacturer of the brick had withdrawn quotations entirely. On practically all items entering into the erection of a building like increases have been made, and on account of the large amount of building in progress the country over together with the shortness of the supply, due to the business depression of a year ago, very little likelihood exists a decline, but rather an increase.

LIQUOR RAIDS TAKE UP MUCH OF THE OFFICERS' TIME

During the month of July Sheriff Fortney and deputies and officers were very busy rounding up law breakers and final records show that 47 arrests were made by the sheriff's department. Moonshine as usual was responsible for a preponderant number of arrests, there being 25 in all that could be traced to a liquor source. Common drunks also amounted to ten and violations of the prohibition laws such as moonshining and selling, illegal concoctions numbered fifteen.

The violations of the law that were taken care of by the sheriff's office are as follows: liquor law, 15; drunkenness, 10; petit larceny, 4; disorderly conduct, 5; speeding, 2; illegal cohabitation, 2; violation of fish and game law, 1; slander, 1; arrests for police of other cities, 3; contempt, 2; and indecent language, 2.

The fines and costs collected by the department totaled $225.80. Stolen goods recovered came up to $185 valuation. In enforcing the law throughout the county, the sheriff's force traveled 4,006 miles in the county machines, two new ones having been added. Fees for serving civil papers for attorneys amounted to $86.87. This is one of the duties of the department and constitutes not a small portion of its work.

Nine complete distillers' outfits equipped with everything from the big copper vat to the spiraled juice tube were corralled and put in the safe keeping of the authorities during the course of the month's raiding. Fifteen prisoners are being housed in the county jail or have sojourned within its walls to date during the month.

The vigilant work of the sheriff and his men in chasing and raiding moonshiners is especially worthy of note. Makers of the notorious fluid that burns out the lining of the stomach during its consumption are being dealt with without mercy and aside from being good guardians of the law, the sheriff's departments is likely to be responsible for much of the continued good health.

Fennville and Saugatuck for the past three days have been the hosts of more than 200 prominent fruit growers who are visiting many of the beautiful orchards thruout the Fruit Belt. Things horticultural are now looking at their best in this vicinity and a more opportune time could not have been selected for a meeting of the Michigan State society.

Prominent speakers on horticulture are present and demonstrations are made right on the farms by these men who have their subjects well in hand. Many questions are asked and answered. The big question pronounced Tuesday was "Why is the Dutchess Apple?"

This popular summer variety of apple is the most obvious thing thus far in the Fruit Belt. Extension specialists in the party say that the growers made the mistake of going into the variety too heavily a few years ago when demand was heavy. The result is an immense crop and a doubtful market.

The main party was late in arriving at the fruit farm of E. H. House one mile south of Saugatuck Tuesday and had lunch at the Graham Experiment station, because of the late arrival of some delegates and speakers.

It was brought out at one of the meetings that many fruit growers on well traveled roads, in an effort to find a market for summer varieties of apples, are offering them for sale on road stands. Other fruits and sweet cider have been added and are having a good sale. Growers say Mr. House has developed a big demand for sweet cider and fruits.

Shipping has just been started by the Fennville Fruit Exchange. Apples are in poor demand, but J. A. Barron, manager, believes shipments will reach eight or ten cars a day in the next month. He anticipates a good market for winter varieties. The exchange warehouse is considered the most modern in Michigan.

Former service men in the party no doubt were at home in the dormitory prepared by the Fennville Exchange. Long lines of army cots with army blankets gave accommodations to 40 Others in excess of the hotel capacity were taken into private hotels and homes. Supper was served in I. O. O. F. hall. The eastern part of the state is represented by O. I. Gregg, Wayne county agriculturist and a party of four. Macomb county has two prominent fruit growers, D. L. Carter and G. A. Pierce of Arcadia. Clinton has a party of 8 headed by H. V. Kittle, county agent. Oceana fruit growers in the party number 11 with county agent I. T. Picford. Kent is well represented County agent K. K. Vining, having assembled more than a score with all cars bearing Kent placards.

Wednesday will be a busy day with a number of fruit farms, fruit exchanges, canning factories and basket factories to visit.

Not a few of Holland's horticulturalists were at Fennville taking part in the annual tour of the best Michigan fruit district.

HOLLAND Y BUSY MENS' CLUB HELD FINE OUTING AT JENISON

The Holland "Y" Busy Men had their usual happy time at Jenison Park Monday night. More than 40 were in attendance in spite of the depletions caused by summer cottages and vacation period for some of the regulars. The number present and the weather conditions were just right for red hot contests in Volley Ball and Indoor. Dick VanTatenhove and Leonard DePree chose the sides for indoor and staged a strenuous affair that lasted till the call for mess brought it to an end. Eddie Stephan who was out of the games by reason of a severe ankle sprain, refereed till wild throws by the pitchers threatened to put one of his third legs out of business, then Will Stephan took his place. It was marked by all the features of regular big league affairs, airtight pitching, long hits, daring base running, etc. Accurate score-keeping was out of the question, but DePree's men who were winners declare the final score was not less than 30 to 20.

Fully half of the men present engaged in Volley Ball and the two courts were going full blast. D. Damstra and John Koopker captained opposing teams in court 1 the former winning the series, five games out of eight. In the other series Jalving's men won over Ayers four out of five games.

Next Monday evening the men are going to Fruitport, some 40 strong, at invitation of Grand Haven club. The Challenge Machinery Group of that place, it will be remembered, came down to Jenison Park a few weeks ago and incidentally captured the series in Volley ball three games out of five. And so Holland which has been uniformly successful against all Ottawa teams will be out to regain her shaken laurels. At a three-cornered meet held at Fruitport last Thursday in which Grand Haven, Spring Lake and Coopersville engaged, the former made a clean sweep of games with the other two. Holland will need to put forth her best playing.

No Success Without Honor.

The man without a code of honor is like a ship without a port, and is just as certain sooner or later to go to pieces on the rocks.

CORNERSTONE OF COUN- TRY CLUB HOUSE TO BE LAID AUGUST 11

A drawing of the new Holland Country Club House is on display in the show window of P. S. Boter & Co. and likewise a map of the golf grounds indicating the 18 hole golf course, tennis courts, croquet grounds, athletic field, etc.

Nine holes of the golf course are now under construction, the sprinkling system has been installed and in fact the fescue grass is making its appearance on at least four of the putting greens. Five more putting greens will be seeded this week and the fair greens after the 15th of August in time to get the fall rains.

Groundkeeper, George Wopple assures the club members that with favorable weather they will be playing on this part of the course by the last of September. Mr. Wopple is an experienced groundkeeper and the work done indicates that the Holland club was fortunate in securing his services.

The work on the club house is likewise progressing nicely. The excavation has been completed and the contractors are now pouring concrete for the foundation. The cornerstone will be laid Friday August 11, when the club also expects to hold a picnic on its grounds. Senator William Alden Smith has consented to be the principal speaker at the exercises. Those who have not as yet seen the country club property are invited to take a peep at the map in Boter's show window and thereby try to follow the course as it is laid out.

NEIL SANDY MIXED IN BOILER-PLATE JOKE

This paper a few days ago ran a boiler plate joke as a filler, such like the squibs as we editors always have handy to fill out a column quickly before going to press.

Here's the joke:—
"He Fooled 'Em"
"How'd you ever get that paint on your dress, Mrs. Mingus?"
"I was leaning over Sandy's fence."
"But Sandy has a sign up—WET PAINT."

"Yes, I saw that; but everybody knows what a liar he is."

It so happens that our congenial Neil Sandy the postman had been painting and sprucing up around his house generally and then took a trip north about as far as the Michigan Pike will go, but when he returned his friends at the postoffice sprung the boiler plate joke to his great surprise.

We wish to say however that our own Sandy is as truthful as George Washington and the Mrs. Mingus spoken of either lives in Chapultepec, somewhere in Mexico or found its origination in the minds of one of America's Mark Twains, who writes jokes for plate houses that are sent to us poor newspaper men.

The Sandy spoken of and our own Sandy are two different individuals.

HUCKLEBERRY GAINS IN FAVOR; FARMER MAKING MONEY

The huckleberry which furnished a staple article of summer diet, fresh and winter diet, dried, to the Indians in Chief Pontiac's time has become one of the valuable assets of Oakland county farms. Lucky is that farmer who possesses on his property one of the marshes formerly thought to be so much dead loss.

In present years the productive huckleberry marsh will bring in from $100 to $1,000, according to its size, without any work or effort on the part of the owners. All he has to do is to be at the gate when the city berry pickers arrive, charge them 75 cents or a dollar to get into the marsh for a day and open the gate.

The pickers do all the work in the usual marsh, with thick growth, more or less water and lots of mosquitoes, a bushel pick is a good day's work, and the usual motoring party of four rests content with one to two bushels. The farmer has received four dollars and gone about his other business.

A few professional pickers are able to take from two to three bushels of berries out of a marsh in a day. But the owners of marshes are getting wise to this opportunity of making more money and consequently many of them have adopted the "shares" plan. They let pickers in for half or a third of his pick, or they let him pick and sell him the berries at four to eight cents a quart.

On the latter basis, the product of the marsh mounts amazingly. Some of the marshes will produce hundreds of bushels of berries and in this section, unlike the northern Michigan swamps, very few berries go to waste. Pickers frequent them for a month to six weeks in summer, and get about all that are on the bushes. The farmer's family is able to take care of a good many bushels, too, as pickers, and a ready market prevails for the entire output, often without taking the fruit off the farm to make a sale.

But any city-dweller, who feels a hankering to pick huckle-berries, had best leave the white shoes and creased trousers at home. The picker who is not dressed for a rough and tumble day is in for an unpleasant surprise.

FARMERS' DAY AT COLLEGE TO BE A BIG EVENT

The fifth annual summer farmers' day will be held at the Michigan Agricultural College on Friday August 4 according to a bulletin received at the Ottawa County Farm Bureau office. C. P. Milham, farm agent, reports much interest in the affair among the agriculturalists of Ottawa and it is possible a good representation will attend. A touring party may be organized among the Ottawa county farmers.

The day will mark a chance for all interested in agriculture to see that big state institution where so many are sending their sons and daughters to be educated. During the morning there will be an opportunity to go to the experiment station plots to have interviews with department heads and specialists and for guests to see the extensive equipment at the college with which every phase of the scientific farming is capable of being taken care of.

The noon hour will be spent in get-together and eating of basket lunches on the campus. The M. A. C. campus which is said to be one of the finest campuses in the country and all who have seen others and them have seen it seem to agree

HOLLAND LANDS PAINTERS' CONVENTION FOR NEXT YEAR

Bert Slagh of Holland wires the Sentinel that the Holland delegation attending the convention of painters, from all over the state, were successful in landing the next convention for Holland.

Saginaw was a strong contender for the meet but apparently Mr. Slagh from this city pointed out the advantages of Holland with its beautiful resorts which makes it an ideal place to hold a summer convention. Mr. Slagh's argument carried considerable weight and when the vote was taken Holland won over the other cities.

The convention will be held at about this time next July and in the neighborhood of 200 delegates generally attend.

Wednesday night the delegates were given a banquet at Hotel Pantlind with Mr. Hutchins as the principal speaker. The delegates were also given an auto ride about the city and Reeds Lake where the convention winds up this afternoon.

Holland received the honor of being the youngest painter's organization present and also having the largest representation present in proportion to the size of the order.

Those attending the convention are Bert Slagh, Leonard Viesers, Wm. Dinkeloo, Bosch, and Estie, John Van Zanten, Wm. Selles, Frank Kammeraad, Oscar Vanden Berg, Henry Was, and Martinus De Boer.

The annual program of the Women's Literary Club has just been issued to the members and gives the week to week doings, covering the club year of 1922-1923.

The club was organized in 1898, incorporated in 1908, federated in 1905 and built its club house in 1913. The present membership is 223. The officers are: President, Mrs. C. J. Dregman; vice presidents, Mrs. G. J. Diekema, Mrs. J. C. Post; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Den Herder; treasurer, Mrs. James Ossewaarde; directors, Mrs. G. E. Kollen, Mrs. A. Leenhouts, Mrs. R. Grand Haven Tribune—Along with other plans to aid in the development of Grand Haven, the Chamber of Commerce is working with local shippers who send and receive goods from Milwaukee, in an effort to establish a package freighter service between here and the Wisconsin port. There has always been a certain amount of demand for Grand Haven-Milwaukee boat service but the passenger trade has always been cared for by the Grand Trunk ferries and recent effort to run a large passenger and freight boat has not proved to be a success.

A temporary restraining order establishing the status quo in the case of the Allegan County Gas company against the Michigan public utilities commission to determine whether the company can be refused a return on its investment, will be signed by District Judge C. W. Sessions, according to an announcement Friday following a hearing.

A cut was made in the company's rate from $2 to $1.75, following numerous complaints that it was not giving proper service.

A big day for the local Co. D. of the Michigan National Guard will be Monday August 7, when approximately 75 men will entrain for Camp Grayling, Michigan, the state camp for the M. N. G. At present the local company lacks three men of being the full strength, the state allowing an enlistment of 78 men. The enlistment period closes at the end of this month.

In Friday evening's game Holland scored enough runs in the first three innings to win an ordinary game but Brown a Michigan Agricultural College pitcher ace relieved Raush and held the locals safe for the remainder of the game. Popen weakened in the fifth and with two down and the tying runs on the sacks he was yanked in favor of Steggerda. Stegger without much warming up proceeded directly to give the visitors the game. He couldn't locate the plate and walked the first four that faced him forcing in three runs. Then two more singles gave Hastings a total of ten making the count 12 to 7. Hoover took up the mound in the sixth and was scored upon twice.

Holland started off in the first to sew up the game. With one down Spriggs tripped to the right field fence and came home on Hoover's single. In the second singles by M. Hoover, Shaw and B. Batema produced two more runs. In the 3rd two bases on balls with five hits sent across four more. Mr. Brown stepped in here and halted the locals for the remainder of the game. Both teams hit the ball hard, Hastings making 13 against Holland 13. Spriggs led the locals at bat with 4 out of 4, while Hines, Brown and Cherdy hit well for Hastings.

H. Tullsen in charge of the U. S. Weather Bureau at Grand Haven was suddenly taken ill Friday. He was taken to the Elizabeth Hatton hospital and he is believed to have been the victim of a light stroke.

HOPE CHURCH WAS OPENED AGAIN LAST SUNDAY

For one month Hope Church has been closed to the public and during that time the painters and decorators, the electricians and window men have been bringing about a transformation.

The entire interior has been redecorated in the most artistic manner and the wood work in the entire auditorium has been finished in Finnish oak, the artists being from the firm of J. Hoek & Son.

The organ loft has an altogether different appearance. The pews show the touch of the artist's brush and the large windows have been refinished with rose colored opalescent glass installed by the Donnelly-Kelly Glass Co.

A wonderful lighting system has been installed by the Geards Electric Co. called the ex-Ray indirect system diffusing the light in such a manner that no shadows are visible.

Many of the lights are hidden in the walls, and while no globes are discernable the light radiates thruout the auditorium just the same.

In the center of the auditorium a large stucco fixture has been installed which contains a beautiful indirect lighting system with a voltage of 1200 watts. The lights are controlled by switches which can give a tone of light shading in the building that has not before been attempted here. As many or as few of the lights can be turned on as desired by virtue of these switches.

Sometime ago a new vapor ventilating system was installed which is operated through the electric fan process, and the air in Hope church is pure at all times through this washed air system, so to speak. Those who have seen the interior since it was finished are not slow in stating that nothing in Western Michigan can surpass it for beauty. The church proper has a seating capacity of 700.

Not alone did several Holland people visit North Park, Grand Rapids, in order to take part in the annual mission rally of the Reformed church but there were many Holland speakers on the program. Dr. E. D. Dimment, president of Hope College was one of the principal speakers who spoke at length on the story, "The Soul of Hope College." The doctor pointed out that the graduates of Hope college, taken as one man would cover a period of 6,000 years and that the graduates who had gone out as missionaries, considered as one man, would cover a period of 1,000 years. He gave this estimate as a proof of the spiritual interests of the graduates.

President Dimment emphasized the necessity of higher education for missionaries, and stated that Hope college stressed this in its development of the soul of the individual.

Dr. A. Oltmans, president of the general synod spoke on his work in Japan, his subject being "Leprosy in Medical Status and Cure." He directed attention to the fact that leprosy is not as contagious as tuberculosis, is not inheritable and said that a cure has recently been discovered for it. He offered the opinion that the Japanese cannot do without Christianity and that its rapid progress among orientals necessitates the spreading of it.

The Rev. H. P. De Pree of Amoy, China told of the adoption by China of western military, business, social and religious standards. This new condition has offered a challenge to the missionary, since the native forces are outnumbered 8 to 1.

The Rev. H. V. S. Peeke of Tok'o Fu compared the difficulties confronting the missionary 50 years ago and today in Japan. The Japanese press has given much freedom to religious topics and the publishing of religious pamphlets and books.

Mr. Peeke said that some of the highest officials in the government champion Christianity and that Japan as a whole is not antagonistic to it.

A special quartet consisting of C. V. R. Gilmore, John and Gerrit Ter Beek and Willard Bloemendaal all of Holland rendered three interesting numbers much appreciated by those in attendance. and John N. Trompen of Grand Rapids gave a dinner in honor of the quartet at the hotel Pantlind afterward.

Rev. B. R. Van Zyl presided in the afternoon and Rev. J. G. Van Zomeren in the evening. The children's hour was in charge of Miss Jean Oltman and the Rev. Peeke. J. Eikenhout led the singing. A collection of $283 was taken and $100 was given for the canteen fund.

L. Den Houten, manager of the Holland branch of the Shiftlet, Cumber & Co., Investment Bankers, was called to Kalamazoo to attend a banquet given by that firm.

The banquet guests were the presidents, managers, sales managers and others connected with the Rickenbacker Motor corporation of Detroit, a company it will be remembered that was organized by the great flying ace of America who did such a wonderful work in France during the war.

Addresses were made by B. F. Everitt and W. J. Drumpelman who gave out the facts that the corporation named above had done next to the impossible feat of doing a gross business in the last six months in production of nearly $2,500,000.

Mr. Drumpelman dwelt upon the sales ability of the product after having stood the test of the best automobile critics in the country.

Representatives of the Shiftlet, Cumber & Co., agents for the above named product took this occasion to present to L. DenHouten of Holland, local manager a Rickenbacker Phaeton he being the winner of this prize for the reason that he sold the greatest number of shares in the Rickenbacker Corporation during a given period of time. Naturally the local man is elated over his success.

ENTRANCE TO GRANDSTAND AT THE FAIR CHANGED

Fair activities are starting early this year. The large posters will soon be up on the bill boards announcing the dates of the Holland Fair, September 12, 13, 14 and 15.

The fair premium lists will be mailed the forepart of the week, and every agriculturalist for miles around will be mailed one and those in the city who desire a list can secure one at Secretary Arendshort's office.

Some changes have been made in the grandstand. For instance the band stand in front of the grandstand has been lowered in order that the vision of those sitting in front of it will not be obscured as has been the case. Patrons of the grandstand can now look over the heads of the players without being interfered with.

The large entrance to the grandstand has also been changed. Before the crowd surging in during racing hours would stop at the landing for some time watching a race in progress, or some special attractions that were going on in front, unmindful of those behind them who wanted to get in. The result was a congestion that had to be cleared away from time to time in order to make room for others to take seats in the grandstand.

Knockdown bleachers have also been purchased that can be put up at will, much in the order of circus seats. Last year the recently built grandstand was built so large that the fair directors thought there would be plenty of room for some time to come.

However the very first year the stand was crowded to overflowing and seats were altogether too few. For that reason the bleachers have been purchased which will accommodate nearly a thousand more.

The Grandstand seats in the neighborhood of 2200 therefor with the added bleachers the seating capacity at the race track will be better than 3000.

There is to be a night fair as well as a day fair and Secretary Arendshort states the special attractions this year will surpass anything yet attempted at any Holland fair thus far, and these special features together with the other exhibits will be shown both day and evening on the dates of the fair.

SHOWER GIVEN IN HONOR OF MRS. C. KLOMPARENS

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Mrs. Cornelius Klompars, formerly Miss Chrystal Stevens at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Myron Stevens of West 11th street.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Will sweet, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Welton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamb, Mrs. C. Groenewold, Mrs. M. Lieveuse, Mrs. H. Sweet, Mrs. J. Stevens, Laura Lamb, Bertha Lieveuse, Luther Lamb, Olive Sweet, Helen, Beatrice and Mildred Stevens. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received. A dainty luncheon was served.

Bailey J. Locker of Lynchburg, Va. is taking charge personally of all the paving jobs in Holland for the Willite Construction Co.

K. B. Olsen who was recently promoted will have general charge of all the construction work in the state of Michigan, and naturally will come here from time to time to inspect the progress here.

The Willite Construction Co. was awarded the state job here on April 11th and began work here on May 1. It was awarded the city job on June 19th and started work on the 22nd, and today the Willite Co. has as much work done on the 19th street city job as it has on the 17th street and River avenue state job.

Inability for stone people to meet with the rigid requirements of the state highway department is said to be largely the cause of this delay. The state officials are very exacting which would have it appear that we are to have a mighty fine job.

However the contractors and city officials protested some weeks ago and the state sent down men to straighten matters out and the work is now going forward rapidly.

Notwithstanding the delay which naturally is annoying, when the highways are completed Holland will be able to boast of a wonderful set of avenues of travel in 17th and 19th streets and River avenue.

A visit to Holland was made a few days ago by Wm. Connelly, Ottawa county road commissioner, with a view to getting action under way to establish a state park here. Holland people have been wanting such a park for some time and as yet have taken no steps thus far to procure it, hence the visit of Mr. Connelly with the intention of lining up prominent men in the work of establishing one.

The city of Holland, it is pointed out, must first furnish an acceptable site either on Lake Michigan or Macatawa Bay and then the county must build a good highway to the site of the park. When this is done the work of making the designated area into a state park will be taken up. Mr. Connelly states that Holland has sites which would be excellent for state parks if they were only available.

Mr. Connelly believes that in the near future the obstacles which have been blocking the establishment of a state park at Holland will be cleared away and that with the passage of a short time such a recreation ground will be an entity in the downshore city.

The summer course at the Kalamazoo Normal closed this week with 218 graduates. Among the list are Miss Louise Andrews of Grand Haven who is one of but three graduates from the A. B. course. Minnie Van Allsburg of Coopersville from the Later Elementary and Florence Babcock of Spring Lake and Elsie Peets of Zeeland from the Limited. Judge of Probate James J. Danhof was in the city Thursday.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Every Farmer in Allegan County

Dear Sir:

We are about to Campaign for renewal of Allegan County Farm Bureau memberships. If you are one of us, we earnestly hope you will stand by your organization. If you are not a member, we urge you to join your strength with ours.

In this newspaper you will find much of interest about the Farm Bureau. We hope you will read it. You owe it to yourself to know the work and possibilities of the Farm Bureau.

In Allegan County the Farm Bureau has given you 11 successful co-operative associations. It has helped finance the work of the County Agricultural Agent and the Home Demonstration Agent. It has carried on great work in plant and live stock disease control, a dairy and alfalfa campaign, culled poultry, brought in better seeds, etc.

The State and National Farm Bureaus have successfully guarded your tax, freight rate and legislative interests at Lansing and Washington. The State Farm Bureau has built you successful co-operative seed, purchasing and grain marketing departments.

Big industrial and commercial interests show how necessary organization is today. Should not farmers be organized on an equality with those groups? To whom but ourselves can we look for protection of our interests and advancement of our business and home life?

Our Farm Bureau must have united farmer support to succeed. Failure to support the Farm Bureau now will halt the splendid progress we organized farmers are making. Such a halt would set us back a generation. You cannot ask your neighbors to carry your share of the Farm Bureau's great work. You should be a member of the Farm Bureau. If the Farm Bureau doesn't protect and represent your interests, who will?

Know the facts. Give them serious thought so that when a committee of Farm Bureau members calls on you next week you will be ready to join hands with them in the Farm Bureau--Allegan County, Mich., and throughout the nation--the largest and most powerful farmers' organization on earth. It is every farmer's organization.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES NICOL, Pres.

CHRISTIAN REFORMED CLASSES AT GRAND HAVEN TUESDAY

Tuesday the Muskegon church of the Christian Reformed held its summer gathering in the First Christian Reformed church at Grand Haven. The meeting was attended by 52 delegates representing 26 of the churches in western Michigan.

The district covered by the Muskegon classes extends from Grand Haven, the southern limit, as far north as Rudyard in the upper peninsula. At this session of the classes Rev. W. Borgman of Lucas presided and Rev. B. Zwaagman of Highlands acted as clerk.

Several matters of interest to the churches were on the program. In the morning session beginning at 9:15 two graduates of the seminary at Grand Rapids, who have accepted charges within the classis were examined preparatory to their ordination.

The men who were examined were Edward Boeve and J. C. Lyzenga, of Holland. Mr. Boeve has accepted a call of the neighboring church at Spring Lake and Mr. Lyzenga will go to a church at New Era.

The afternoon session was given over to routine business. At the evening session Rev. S. Dykstra of Baldwin, Wis., who has accepted the call to be home missionary in this classis, will be installed in his office. Rev. Borgman preached the installation sermon and Rev. Zwaagman read the form.

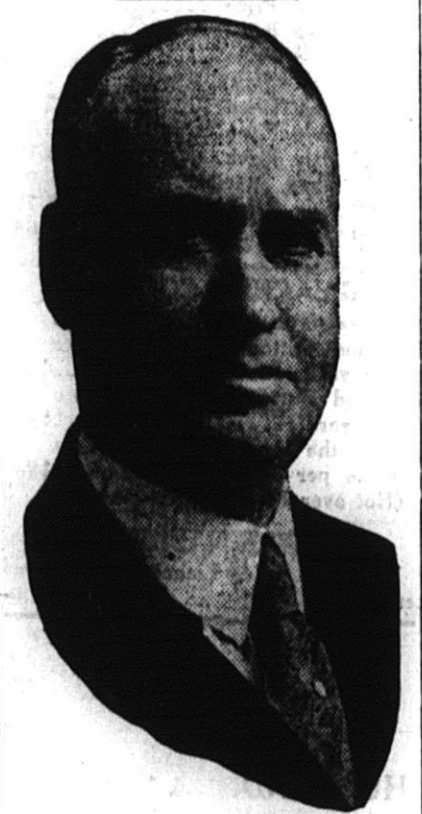

On Wednesday of this week the Christian Reformed churches of this vicinity will hold their annual mission festival at Fruitport. The main speakers will be Dr. Beets, missionary director of missions of the Christian Reformed church, Rev. J. Bolt and Mr. M. Vander Beek, missionaries among the Navajo Indians at Crown Point, New Mexico, and Rev. H. Mulder of Burton Heights Christian Reformed church at Grand Rapids.

He has formed a partnership with the Eagle Transfer Co., owned by Smith & Souter and the three trucks will now handle the business under one management.

HOLLAND MAN ASSOCIATED WITH NEW AUTOMOBILE CLUB

John Arendshorst of this city attended a meeting of the motorists association of Michigan held at the Paulton hotel, and he and William Connelly of Spring Lake were named among the directors of the new association.

The organization is known as the new Michigan State Club non-commercial association, and this club will see to it that the organization is not turned into a money making scheme for individuals, but that members of the association and the communities where these are located are benefited thereby.

"A club will soon be organized in Holland," said Mr. Arendshorst, "and will be an auxiliary to the state and national associations, and will receive the benefits that these organizations give both from a legal and general information standpoint."

"The first thing to be considered by these clubs in Michigan is the tax question. For instance the penny a gallon gasoline tax suggested will be gone into fully. Locally the Holland club will take up the question of establishing a tourist bureau of information and the keeping up of a tourist camp in or nearby Holland," said Mr. Arendshorst.

If the organization does these two things for the city its existence will be well worth while, for with its summer resorts and its West Michigan Pike combined with the Dixie Highway there is nothing that would be more timely and of more benefit to the resorters not alone, but to Holland as well.

Holland can't keep on taking without giving. We must have a bureau of information. We must have a camping grounds; we must have rest rooms; we must have closer co-operation with our tourist friends."

Mr. and Mrs. John Graham and children of Buffalo, N. Y., are the guests of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beiger at their cottage on Mishawaka Ave., 4-U-All. Mr. and Mrs. C. Roper and children from Mishawaka, Ind. are also the guests at the 4-U-All cottage.

Register of Deeds.

Something of a diversion in politics is before the voters of Allegan County, as a woman, for the first time, is a candidate for a place on the Republican ticket. The office of Register of Deeds is sought by (Mrs. E. C.) Estelle Rutgers Reid, who from past experience is qualified to fill same. Should not a woman have one place upon the ticket?

It was alleged that Linters had put around stories involving a local pastor but according to Holland attorneys had retracted these stories. Two young boys were assessed only the costs in the case. WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER FIFTY YEARS AGO

A son of George S. Harrington displayed the skill of being a good shot. Almost two years ago he killed a deer at the first shot, and this week he killed another at his second attempt. Mr. Harrington presented us with a choice piece of the venison. The deer were taken near the Harrington home south of the city. Note the young man is Austin Harrington, the local coal man. No wonder "Capt." has formed the habit of going north nearly every deer season and bringing back his quota allowed under the Michigan game laws.

We learn that E. Sawyer, living one mile south of this city had a valuable yoke of oxen stolen a few days since. Note—in those days and even up to thirty-five years ago, wood, hay and produce were drawn to Holland by ox team. From West Olive for instance the team would start to town in the morning and unload toward night and early the next morning would return home arriving late in the afternoon. A present-day truck could come unload and return in about an hour.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Greenbacks are steady in value, 97 cents in gold.

L. T. Kanters & Co. have removed their temperance restaurant from the basement of Kenyon's hall block to the first floor on the corner recently vacated by Dan Bertsch. Mr. Kanters will also begin keeping a newsstand, and have on hand all sort of periodicals. Note—The Kenyon Hall block was located on the site now occupied by the McBride block. It contained a bank and jewelry store offices and an opera house located on the third floor. It burned some forty years ago and the ruins were an eye-sore until the McBride block was built ten years later.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Cappon & Bertsch Leather Co. are erecting quite a large hide house on Ninth street just east of their engine house.

Last Thursday a fisherman at "mouth" caught a genuine silver eel which measured two feet and eight inches in length and weighed two pounds and a half. This eel is the first one caught in this lake and it surprised our citizens. Photographer Burgess leveled his "machine" at it and now exhibits a fine picture of fish in his gallery. Note—"Mouth" spoken of is Holland harbor. Folks didn't say they were going to Macatawa or the other resorts we might mention; but they would say we are going to the "mouth." Those were days when camp tents were stylish and cottages did not exist at Macatawa.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

This is to be the Third annual Holland fair. The officers elected are W. H. Beach, president, Otto Breyman, treasurer; Arend Visscher, secretary; M. D. Hollis, Marshal. June Davis, asst. Marshal. 1200 premium lists have been printed by the Holland City News and are being distributed. The superintendents of different departments are as follows: Cattle, Gardner Avery; Horses, D. B. K. Van Raalte; Sheep and Swine, John Snyder; Poultry, Millard Harrington; Agriculture, John A. Kooyers; Farm Implements, D. Bloemers; Pomological Dept., Isaac Marsilje; Floral Dept., Wm. Z. Bangs; Dept. of Woman's Work, Mrs. G. Van Schelven; Miscel Dept, Will Rogers. Note—The fair grounds was at that time located on what is now the Kollen Park, sites of the Holland Fuel Co., Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co., and Holland Shoe Co. up to 16th street.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Our visitors at the G. A. R. encampment at Washington returned during the week. John Kramer, Ben Van Raalte and C. Blom sr., came by the way of Gettysburg and spent a day in visiting that memorable battle field.

John Zwemer of Saugatuck moved to Holland Tuesday but left his 17 year old son Henry behind. Young Henry became rather careless when he picked up a loaded revolver, intending to blaze away at a cat that troubled the neighborhood. The result was a premature discharge, the ball lodging in Henry's thigh and grazing the bone.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Slagh on 13th street. Twelve bushels of pickles were received at the H. J. Heinz Co.'s new factory Monday. Otto Schaap of E. Holland was the first to respond.

The proprietors of the Model Meat market have dissolved partnership, Thos Price retiring.

First Mate Ed Kern was temporarily placed in command of the Steamer Soo City during the sickness and death of her captain Mr. Driscoll who passed away suddenly in Chicago. The flag on the steamer Soo City is at half mast until after the funeral. Capt. Pardee who has been in command of the City of Holland will be transferred to the "Soo".

G. Lemmen of Laketown delivered the first wheat to market this season at the Standard Roller Mills.

The second track of the Gr. Rapids & Lake Michigan R'y has been laid and the company is now able to give half hour service to the Furniture City.

The remains of Capt. Charles Storing who left Holland 16 years ago were brought to the city from Chicago. The captain in the early day commanded the Kate Howard sailing from this port.

Kathryn the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vander Veen fell from the veranda Tuesday and fractured her right arm. She was attended by Dr. D. G. Cook.

Lewellyn C. Dutton, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dutton, was drowned in Lake Michigan. With his two brothers, Henry and John, he went swimming to Chicago Beach, a mile south of the pier. A small dock extended out from that point and the clear water did not appear deep to the young man and he jumped off. The water proved beyond his depth. The two brothers did everything to save the other but to no avail. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, Rev. J. T. Bergen officiating. The pall bearers were school-mates of the unfortunate boy. These were Sears McLean, George Deming, John Vaupell, Hans Olsen, John De Vries.

Marinus Van de Luyster dropped dead at the grave of his child whose remains were being laid away in the Zeeland cemetery. The minister had just spoken the last sad words when Vander Luyster fell over and expired.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Rev. Paul P. Cheff of Forest Grove has received a call from the Reformed church of Milwaukee.

Holland's twenty-five added auto owners will have to get their licenses soon. The cost of the license has been reduced from $2 to $1 however the for a renewal for another year will be fifty cents. The sale of a machine does not transfer the license to another and another important change is the fact that a license number must now be placed in the front as well as in the rear of the automobile.

Robert Smith No. 1 at the Holland life saving station and well known for his bravery at the Argo wreck a couple of years ago and also for his good record as a surferman has requested and has been granted a transfer from the station here to the South Haven station. He will be under Capt. Frank E. Johnson, keeper at South Haven and formerly a member of the Holland crew under Capt. Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald W. Visscher of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Visscher leave on an extended trip through Europe. They will visit England, Scotland, Holland, France, Italy, Spain and the Northern portion of Africa.

At a meeting of the North Holland fire department held last week the following resolutions were adopted: first that the chief sleep with both eyes wide open and be ready at the first fire when the alarm is given; second, that every member of the company be prepared when the first alarm is given and bring with him a stepladder, an axe, two fountain syringes, 75 ft. of rope and one saw. Every member not complying with this resolution will be fined $25 and fired from the company. Thirdly, after the fire the chief must take all the members of the department to a restaurant and give them a square meal, to be charged to the village of North Holland.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Speed Cop Peter Bontekoe took a severe spill on Lincoln avenue chasing a Battle Creek speeder. In taking a header his head came within an ace of striking a telephone pole and he was twenty feet beyond where the officer had taken a tumble. During his fall he peeped up and got the number of the speeding car and arrested the man later.

Jenison Park Drug store was raided and the salesbook containing the number of liquor sales was seized by Deputy Dick Homkes.

PLAYING OF SOUTH HAVEN THURSDAY PUTS HOLLAND ON EDGE (SPRIGGS)

Not since the days of Neal Ball and his team has the city been excited over a coming game than it is right now over Thursday's twilight game with south Haven. Our resort neighbors are very boastful over the victories from Holland twice this year and are "Cock" sure of winning this game; also Friday when Holland plays at South Haven. Holland however knows and believes that they will be just about as sure as "Cox" was in his presidential race. The locals are bubbling over with enthusiasm and determination to administer a real beating in a friendly manner to the visitors. "Stegg" will be in fine fettle to pitch the game of his life. If nothing happens the visitors according to "Stegg" will be lucky to cross the platter. And all the fans are solidly behind the locals and would almost give their right hand to aid in the defeat. To encourage the local batters to do their utmost the Maatman-Boer Co., selling the Holland Shoes offer a $5 prize to the local player having the best batting average. If the local batters show any usual batting form Mr. Visiting Pitcher will think he is throwing a ball with a rubber string attached to it. he will come back as fast as he pitches them. Just notice how the batters are cracking the ball: G. Batema is leading with a Ty Cobb average of .402; followed by Smith 381; Hick Hoover, 377; Wol-dring, 374. Japinga 242; M. Hoover, 341; B. Batema, 326; Spriggs, 299; Shaw and Stegerda 173. Looks like the Detroit Tigers' batting averages. Be out tomorrow to watch the boys fatten their batting averages. Game starts at 5:30 sharp.
