BOMB ATTEMPT IN MUSKEGON IS PROBED BY F.B.I.

Unidentified Man Loses Explosive When He Flees Plant

Stranger at Foundry Runs When Frightened by Backfire

Muskegon, August 1 — Federal agents and local police investigated here what may have been an attempted bombing of the huge Campbell, Wyant and Cannon foundry, which is filling national defense orders.

A bomb, dropped accidentally from the pocket of an unidentified man seen on the plant grounds started the inquiry. State police attempted to block all roads when the man, challenged by a Muskegon Heights grocer, fled in his car.

The unlighted bomb contained 38 ounces of dynamite blasting powder and also was equipped with a three-minute fuse and a dynamite cap, police said. The fuse was loaded with giant powder, ordinarily used in touching off such charges.

Threats to bomb the plant reportedly were received by company officials two weeks ago. Since that time all persons admitted to the grounds had been placed under close scrutiny by guards.

The unidentified bomber was not within the foundry grounds.

Albert Koglin, Muskegon Heights grocer, who was in the vicinity of the plant inspecting some lumber, told police that when he stepped on the starter of his car, the machine backfired twice. He reported seeing the would-be bomber running and noted that something had dropped from his pocket.

Investigation revealed it to be the bomb. Koglin said the bomber wore light colored clothing and a dark hat and was of medium stature.

The grocer, officers said, picked up the red colored object the stranger dropped and took it to a Campbell-Wyant watchman. Officers were immediately summoned.

The explosive was in a metal container resembling a standard size dry cell battery. The bottom of the cylinder was sealed and it was equipped with two fuses and an unexploded cap. A mining engineer, who examined the instrument, said the fuses could touch off an explosion within three minutes after they were lighted.

Campbell, Wyant and Cannon is said to be the largest greyiron foundry in the world and it was reported the foundry has been making up quantities of shell cases, at least for experimental purposes, during the last several weeks. The foundry also is an important producer of motor blocks and camshafts for the automobile trade.

Koglin recalled to officers that some time ago he had been in a tavern across from the foundry and had overheard two men, conversing in a foreign tongue familiar to Koglin, say they intended to blow up the foundry. Koglin said that the man who dropped the bomb at the rear of the foundry late Monday was not a party to the tavern conversation, however.

Koglin said that at the time he overheard the tavern conversation he made an attempt to contact the sheriff's office but was unsuccessful. Then thinking it probably was only idle talk, he said, he decided to do nothing more about it.

PARASITES AID COUNTY FRUIT

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 — A total of 4,600 parasites for use in destroying the oriental peach moth which has gained a strong foothold in Ottawa county orchards has been imported by L. R. Arnold, agricultural agent, for 17 Ottawa growers.

Because spraying is ineffective in curbing the spread of the moth, the parasites have been imported for the past two years. Encouraging results are reported. With the parasites multiplying rapidly, Mr. Arnold is hopeful that the moths will be brought under full control within a few years. They also have been introduced into Allegan and Kent counties.

A small, reddish-colored insect resembling a mosquito or fly, the parasite attacks the moths during the summer when three to five generations of the pests are hatched.

The parasites are dropped in the trees, where the moths have laid eggs in the outer twigs and green branches. During June and July, the moths deposit eggs at such locations, killing the tender offshoots back for a depth of three or four inches. After the twigs have hardened in August and September, the moths lay eggs in green branches, the larvae penetrating to the pit.

Mr. Arnold warned growers to inspect other twigs of their trees for signs of the moth.

SIX INJURED IN AUTO CRASHES

Five Persons Hurt in One Mishap on Lakewood Boulevard

At least six persons suffered injuries in three automobile accidents which occurred over the week-end in or near Holland.

Five persons were injured in an accident about 7:45 p.m. Saturday between cars driven by Frank Weener, route 4, Holland, and Herman S. Walters, 289 East 13th St. on Lakewood Blvd., one mile west of US-21.

Mr. Walters suffered a bruised right knee cap. His wife received general body bruises and fainted following the accident. Herman Walters, Jr., 14, was confined to his home recovering from a slight brain concussion. Chrystal Mae, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walters, suffered facial cuts which required five stitches to close and other minor cuts and injuries.

Mrs. Weener was treated by a local physician who removed two slivers of glass from her right eye, the glass entering the eye when her glasses broke. She also had a cut over the right eye. Mr. Weener and their three children, Miss Myrtle, 18, Earl, 16, and Jay, 12 escaped injuries although they were shaken.

The accident occurred when Mr. Walters' east bound Lakewood Blvd., sought to make a left turn into a driveway at the place where a new home is being built by Dr. J. S. Shouba, 44 West 17th St. Mr. Weener was west bound on Lakewood Blvd.

The Weener car struck the Walters' vehicle broadside, knocking it over on the side of the embankment. Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta investigated.

Miss Bernice Jacobs, 19, 563 College Ave., local police said, suffered head injuries in a collision of cars driven by her father, William H. Jacobs, 55, and Lena D. Cochran, 50, route 4, Holland, at 24th and State St. about 2 p.m. Saturday.

Police were informed that Jacobs was driving his car southeast on State St. and the Cochran car was being driven west on 24th St.

Ernest T. Sigler, of Chicago, escaped injuries about 1:15 a.m. Sunday when his car failed to negotiate the sharp curve at the east edge of Holland. Sigler was entering Eighth St. off M-21 and his car tore down several retaining posts and a road sign, Deputy Van Etta reported.

Seeks Possession of Property in Court Suit

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 (Special) — Suit has been started in circuit court by John Prawdick and Anna Prawdick of Grand Rapids, against the Stuart Point Club and Andy Rice, Jr., asking for $1,000 judgement and a permanent injunction, restraining defendants from operating the business and interfering with his possession of the premises.

The plaintiffs claim that on May 5, 1937, they entered into a lease of the premises with the club for the purpose of dispensing food and drinks and that they were occupied until the fall of 1939 during which time plaintiffs were to be paid $100 per month as rental for one year with an option for renewal of another year.

The plaintiffs claim the lease has expired and the club is in arrears in rental payments. They also claim the club has relinquished possession of the premises and that since the fall of 1939, it has been occupied by the plaintiffs.

BLAZES, OTHER LOSSES CAUSED BY STORM HERE

Livestock and Poultry Are Killed by Fires in Rural Areas

Trees and Tents Blown Down at Oval; Phone Lines Harmed

A severe electrical storm struck Thursday night and early Friday morning.

At least three fires were started when lightning struck barns and other buildings and caused considerable damage. One residence on east 32nd St. was struck by lightning but no fire resulted.

The first storm hit Holland and vicinity about 8 p.m. Thursday and was followed by a second one about 2:45 a.m. Friday. It seemed to come from the northwest following a shift of Thursday's winds which were from the south and southwest.

Relief from the heat wave did not come until a new season's mark had been established in Holland. The maximum temperature for the 24 hours, ending 7 p.m. Thursday, was 98 and was recorded between 5 and 5:30 p.m. The minimum was 78.

A large chicken coop, brooder house and a garage, belonging to Burt Scholten, residing on Hulzenga hill on the Old Zealand road were destroyed by fire about 9:45 p.m. Thursday after being struck by lightning.

Holland firemen responded to an alarm when the fire threatened the Scholten home and spent 45 minutes there.

The heat from the fire scorched the paint on the rear side of the home and the front end of the fire truck also was scorched, having been parked too close to the fire.

Mr. Scholten has estimated his damage at $900, practically covered by insurance.

Included in the loss were 148 chickens, but Mr. Scholten reported that 400 chickens had been saved.

His automobile escaped damage by being pushed from the garage before it was destroyed by fire.

A large barn, 90 by 44 feet, with sheds on both sides, was completely destroyed by fire on the farm of G. F. Meiste, located two and one-half miles east of East Saugatuck Christian Reformed church.

The fire broke out about 3 a.m. after lightning had struck the building. Mr. Meiste saw the lightning strike and by the time he ran to the house to telephone for aid and then return, the barn was a mass of flames.

Included in the loss were six head of cattle, two veal calves, two sets of harness and farm machinery. Mr. Meiste also had recently finished threshing operations and his entire wheat crop together with his hay crop were lost.

Mr. Meiste was unable to estimate his loss but it was reported he carried insurance to cover part of the damage.

Reports were that another fire occurred near East Saugatuck and one at Saugatuck.

One cow and two heifers, belonging to Ray Koetsier, residing three-fourths mile southeast of Holland, were electrocuted when lightning struck the tree under which the animals were standing during the storm early Thursday night.

The home of John Steggerda on East 32nd St. was reported to have been struck by lightning Thursday night but there was no resulting fire.

A large tree in front of the home of Rufus Cramer, 89 West Eighth St., was struck and damaged by lightning.

Lightning set off the burglar alarm at the Security Sportswear Co. plant at 276 West 13th St., this morning and it rang for several hours as police were unable to contact the company officials, two of whom were in Chicago.

The local office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported more than 100 telephones were put out of order by the electrical storm. The most serious damage occurred on route 4, northwest of Holland.

The board of public works reported that lines near 17th St. and Pine Ave., 18th St. and Pine Ave., and near the West Michigan Laundry were damaged. A number of transformer fuses were burned out by lightning.

A large tree in the yard at the Holland coast guard station was blown over. Some 10 tents and six trees were blown over in Holland state park. One tree barely missed striking a tent.

The storm sent about 300 campers scrambling to the pavilion for protection from the storm.

Braving the storm from about 8 to 11 p.m. a crew from the coast guard station went to the aid of a sailboat but upon arrival they found it riding out the storm. The boat whose name was not learned continued on its way to Lake Michigan.

Members of the crew were Capt. Charles Bontekoe, Surmen Forrest, Flaucher, Roy N. Wood and John Brockett and Machinist Emmett O. Foster.

The coast guardsmen also went to the aid of a cabin cruiser near Tunnel park prior to the storm and aided it in reaching port.

In connection with his visit to Holland, the Chamber of Commerce will give a banquet in his honor in the Warm Friend tavern. Directors at their July meeting voted unanimously to hold the banquet.

The banquet will be held at noon as it will be impossible for Mr. Heinz to remain for an evening affair, Mr. Stephan said. All Chamber of Commerce members will be invited to attend.

STOLEN SLOOP IS RECOVERED

Ownership Is Established After Craft Is Towed to Port Here

The return to its rightful owners of a 30-foot auxiliary sloop stolen recently in Chicago, was reported today by Capt. Charles Bontekoe, officer in charge of the Holland coast guard station.

The boat was the property of Richard Jacobs and Lyman Grover of Evanston, Ill., who came here for their boat after receiving word that it was in possession of the local coast guardsmen.

Captain Bontekoe explained that a week ago coast guardsmen went to the aid of the sloop after it was almost forced up against the breakwater and towed it to the coast guard station. Two young men, who identified themselves as Jack Wilson and Alfred Larsen, 268 Madison St., Chicago, were aboard the craft.

They told Captain Bontekoe they had left Chicago for a trip across the lake but had been caught in a lake storm and lost part of the mainsail. The two young men tied up the boat near the coast guard station and left after advising Captain Bontekoe they would come to Holland for "something to eat" and attempt to buy a new sail.

However, they failed to return. Neither of the two men had certificates of award which prevented Captain Bontekoe from checking their ownership of the boat.

A week ago Friday, Captain Bontekoe received a notice through the mail, advising him of the theft of a sloop in Chicago. A check of the numbers on the sloop with those given on the circular revealed that the boat picked up the previous day by coast guardsmen was the stolen one.

Jacobs and Grover, upon arrival at the coast guard station Wednesday, produced the necessary certificate of award and personal credentials to prove they were the owners of the boat and it was turned over to them.

ENLISTMENT IN GUARD HERE TO END ON MONDAY

Recruiting in Advance of Wisconsin Maneuvers Is Extended

Holland Unit Will Take Part in Festival at Grand Haven

An extension in the time limit for enlisting recruits with Company D, Holland's national guard unit, to enable the new recruits to participate in the three week's maneuvers at Camp McCord, Sparta, Wis., beginning Aug. 11, was announced this week at Holland armory.

Young men who desire to enlist with the national guards have until next Monday night to file their enlistment papers. Application may be made at Holland armory at any time until next Monday night.

It was pointed out that four men are enlisted with Company D who have wives and children as dependants and it is a desire that these four men be replaced before the unit leaves for camp in August.

An appeal was made by national guard officers to the young men of Holland to enlist with the national guard. It was also pointed out that if congress passes the military conscription bill these young men will be drafted into military service.

By enlisting now, it was said, these local young men will be able to enter the unit made up entirely of local men while if they wait for the draft to become effective, it is likely that they will be sent to units made up of enlistments from strangers.

Company D is looking forward to receiving three new lieutenants in the near future. A request has been made to Col. William Haze, commanding officer of the 126th infantry, for several promotions in the local company.

Capt. Lester Crane, captain in the reserve corps, will be attached to Company D during the maneuvers at Camp McCord. First Lieut. Peter Tuinman of Holland will be attached to Company H of Iowa during the encampment.

Holland's national guardsmen also will participate in the U. S. coast guard water fete at Grand Haven Saturday. They will make the trip to Grand Haven in private cars and will take eight machine guns with them.

The majority of these guns will be mounted on coast guard boats as Company D will be a part of the landing force in the sham battle to be held there that day. The guardsmen will also participate in the parade at 1 p.m. and supper will be served them in Grand Haven armory.

During Monday night's drill at Holland armory, new clothing was issued to guardsmen in connection with the Grand Haven program and also for the maneuvers at Camp McCord.

Major Henry A. Geerds of Holland made his weekly trip to Grand Rapids Monday night to attend an officers' conference. He reported that all arrangements have been completed for the maneuvers at the summer camp.

Undoubtedly Parker will be returned to Grand Haven and sentenced for violation of his probation which would have expired this coming Saturday and Hosler will be charged with entering without breaking in connection with the Ferrysburg crime as it has been indicated that Muskegon Heights police will release the two boys to Ottawa county officials.

Hearing on Fair Gaming Adjourned to August 13

Six Witnesses Testify in Case Against Deputy of Hudsonville

Zeeland, Aug. 1 (Special)—Evidence which sought to show that John De Vree, 60, deputy sheriff of Hudsonville, had neglected his duties by permitting gambling at the 1939 Hudsonville fair was presented at a hearing Tuesday afternoon before Justice Jarret N. Clark.

At the conclusion of the testimony, defense counsel moved for dismissal of the case but Justice Clark announced he would withhold a decision on the motion. He instructed Prosecutor Elbert Parsons and defense counsel to submit briefs on the question.

The case was adjourned until Tuesday, Aug. 13, at 2 p.m. when the justice will present his rulings. De Vree's former bond of $500 was continued.

The charge against De Vree results from a one-man grand jury investigation into alleged gambling at the Hudsonville fair on Sept. 9, 1939, after the prosecutor had warned officials of the fair and deputy sheriffs on Sept. 8 that gambling at the fair would not be permitted.

Six witnesses were called Tuesday. They were William Whitman of Riverdale who operated a concession at the fair; William Vander Laan, president of the Hudsonville Fair association; William Gill; state police officer stationed at Grand Haven; Sheriff Frank Van Etta; Prosecutor Parsons; and John Galien, former justice of peace at Holland. The defense offered no testimony.

Hobbies Display Interests Many

Several hundred persons attended the hobby mart held at the Waukazon home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wood Wednesday afternoon. Gaily colored sun umbrellas dotted the lawn, where the work of local artisans and craftsmen was on display. A fortune telling booth was an added attraction. Music entertained the guests in the home, where refreshments were served.

In an improvised gallery in the garage the painters had their display. Olga De Lin showed oil paintings of still life and landscapes. Verne C. Hohl's display consisted of a series of Dutch water colors and two character studies in oil. Hazel Underhill, Verne Chapman, and Raoul Johnson exhibited landscapes and still life in oil. Block printed books, plates, and a dupe painting were the work of A. C. Yost. Ernest Wainwright's pastels and sculptured horse and Peter Kolan's water colors completed the local artists' work.

Several resorts took advantage of the gallery. Among them were Gladys and Bud Burman of Chicago and Lakewood farm, who had oils and water colors in the show. Jean Jennings of Waukazon had two charcoal sketches. Ed Dwight of Cincinnati and Waukazon had several oils and Huldah Mason, formerly of Holland, showed oil paintings.

Dody Vischer had a display of her own including pencil sketches, clay modeling, etchings and oils. She further demonstrated her versatility by doing charcoal or chalk portraits of the spectators. Under a large umbrella on a long table were the products of Helen Wood's hobby—handtooled leather buttons and belts, hand woven towels, scarfs, and painted wall hangings and many other decorated novelties. In the house her assortment of bells created considerable comment.

Always a favorite, Mrs. Chester Ver Meulen's character dolls formed an interesting spot in the exhibit. Mrs. S. R. Perry of Macatawa with beads, shells, buttons and boxes, put together with putty, made attractive jewelry boxes, candy and tobacco jars and picture frames.

Handwoven rugs, mats and wall hangings of original design were Mrs. Jens Jensen's contribution to the hobby mart.

Gerard Hanchett, Monte Emmons and Beverly Standish, the latter from Saugatuck, furnished music for the occasion.

Members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter D.A.R., had a display of baked goods.

Daniel Ten Cate was in White hall Wednesday afternoon on business.

Donald Jay Barkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barkel of 36 East 27th St., underwent a tonsillectomy Monday.

Royal neighbors will meet to night at 8 p.m.

Scott-Lugers employees and their families were entertained with a pot-luck supper at the Kooker cottage at Ventura beach Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Kooker were host and hostess.

WARNING AGAINST WEEVILS IS GIVEN

Grand Haven, Aug. 1—L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, is urging farmers to take precautionary steps at this time to safeguard against damage from grain infesting weevils.

The new wheat crop will soon be in bins, he said, and the grain may be subject to attack from weevil, thus resulting in great damage.

"One can now take steps which may help prevent damage. First of all, the bin should be thoroughly cleaned. Sweep and burn or otherwise destroy the last remnants. Scrub the inside with one pound of lye in five gallons of water."

"While the bins are empty, repair knotholes and rat holes and line the bin with red rosin paper or tin. Lining the bin permits good fumigation later, if an infestation develops. It is impossible to fumigate a bin which is not tight," Mr. Arnold said.

EIGHT HUNDRED DEAD AS HEAT WAVE ENDS

Cooling winds from the north-west billowed toward the Atlantic coast today to bring relief to thousands who had sweltered 12 days in abnormal summer temperatures. The U. S. weather bureau reported that temperatures were at almost normal levels all through the nation.

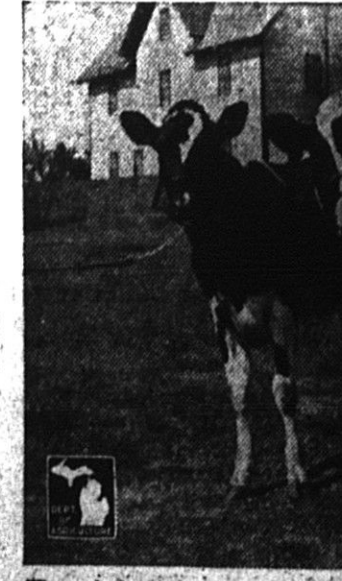

The wave of intense heat had taken almost 800 lives and caused unestimated damage to crops, particularly to the corn and forage crops in the central and western states.

The New England sea coast was lashed by a freak wind, lightning and rain storm which caused almost $1,500,000 damage but brought relief after the second hottest day of the year.

When these young cattle turned their heads so aptly toward the camera, Ona Weg displayed a distinct question mark on her face in white and on Ona Iris' face also appears a question mark in white, but on close inspection one will notice a distinct outline of a man's hand in black inside the question mark. These two heifers are the property of the Traverse City State hospital.

Nearly Fourth of Every Dollar Earned in U.S. Goes for Taxes

Few people realize just how much money is collected in taxes in this country by the various governmental units. Each year more taxes are added as more and more services are demanded of government.

Almost 25 per cent out of every dollar earned in the United States now goes to the tax collector. Tax experts and statisticians estimate that nearly 70 per cent of all taxes collected in this country at present find their way into the price of things we buy.

In order to bring to light some of these so-called "hidden taxes," Monsanto Magazine, published by Monsanto Chemical Co., made a survey in a typical American town of the purchases made by middle-class citizens in their customary manner of living. This is what the survey, published in the May (1940) issue, revealed:

Out of every $1 spent for new automobiles, 15c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for furniture, 13c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for rent, 25c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for wallpaper, 10c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for movie tickets, 12c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for insurance, 3c is tax.
Out of every 10c package of cigarettes, 7.4c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for women's clothing, 10c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for men's clothing 12c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for shoes, 7c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for electricity, 12c is tax; for gas, 15 cents.
Out of every $1 spent for bus fare, 6c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for meat, 8c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for sugar, 18c is tax; for matches, 13c; for soap, 5c; for beer, 34c; for vegetables, 9c; for canned goods, 8c; for cocoa, 20 cents.

Out of every $1 spent for proprietary medicine, beauty preparations, or shaving cream, 20c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for bread, 15c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for diamond rings, 17c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for railroad fare, 11c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for guns and shells, 20c is tax.
Out of every $1 paid on telephone bills, 15c is tax.
Out of every $1 spent for milk and dairy products, 10c is tax.

TESTIMONY FINISHED IN ACCOUNTING CASE

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 (Special) —Testimony in the accounting case of Alys Kraker vs. the Crampton Manufacturing Co. of Holland was completed Friday about 3:30 p.m.

Miss Kraker testified she had made monthly reports to the officers of the company showing amounts due her, which defendant claims their records do not show and, therefore, deny. As these company records were not available at the trial Friday, defense counsel has agreed to show plaintiffs counsel their records, substantiating their claim that Miss Kraker's reports did not include such amounts owing, which records will be submitted to plaintiffs counsel on Monday, after which it will be determined whether the parties desire to submit additional testimony in the case. If no further testimony is necessary, briefs are to be submitted to the court in ten days, after which a decision will be rendered.

Miss Kraker is asking 3,500 shares of stock at a par value of $1 per share plus $1,123 from the Crampton Manufacturing Co. for services.

LETTER TELLS OF LIFE IN ROTTERDAM

Henry Groeneveld, route 5, Holland, is in receipt of a letter from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Groeneveld, who reside on a farm, seven miles south of Rotterdam, The Netherlands, advising him that his parents, four brothers and three sisters are all right.

This is the first letter Mr. Groeneveld has received from relatives since German invasion of The Netherlands last May. His four brothers, John, Arle, Bastian and William, served in the Dutch army, the letter advises, and escaped injuries in the resulting warfare.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Groeneveld were forced to leave their farm as the first firing line was within a short distance from the house and the big guns of the Germans were one and one-half miles away. They have since returned to their farm home.

The letter also describes the "terrible conditions" existing in Rotterdam due to the German bombardment of the city. Because of the heavy bombing which leveled practically all buildings in Rotterdam, one can gain an unobstructed view from one end of Rotterdam to the other. The letter sets out that a large number of homes were burned, entire families died and all bridges were destroyed in the bombardment.

Henry Groeneveld has been in this country 18 years and is an employee of the Bay View Furniture Co.

THE MATCHED TEAM

In the now almost forgotten days before the advent of the tractor every farmer's ambition was to have a well matched team.
Not merely in color and poundage
but in temperament and ability.
Such a team was supposed to get much farther along than two much better horses unevenly matched.

The fact must have struck many Americans that there is at present in the White House such a well matched team. The Roosevelts appear to despise the horse-and-buggy days, and hence they may not appreciate the ancient wisdom of the farmer's desire for a matched team. But the native sense of the public can see in the pair in the White House a nice matching of temperaments.

This was strikingly illustrated
during the recent Democratic convention.
The president had his heart
set on Wallace for vice-president.
Even he understood that even delegates who were eating out of his hand (and who looked for their pay checks for the next four years from him) would resist it if he made a direct personal campaign for the secretary of agriculture.
So when the going got rough, his other self—namely his Eleanor—made a flying visit to Chicago, appeared dramatically before the convention and sought to shame the wobbling delegates into submission.

The scheme worked—as all the schemes of this perfectly matched pair in the White House seem to work. They are both suave and smooth—smooth almost to the point of oiliness. They both have excellent radio voices, and both deal in platitudes as a matter of policy, knowing that platitudes are the best fodder for voters; and it is of course voters that both of them are after.

Neither one of them wanted to remain in the White House! Oh no, the president was anxious and eager to retire to Hyde Park, and Eleanor said again and again in her numerous speeches that she was hankering for private life. But there they are in the White House co-ordinating their domestic plans to remain there—perhaps indefinitely.

And both of them are perfect in pretending that it is all for the good of the country. They say it without so much as a smile. They don't even wink at each other when they are saying it. They understand perfectly what such assertions, if made seriously enough and often enough, will do to the voters.
And this perfectly matched team is of course after voters now and all the time. Perhaps never before in American history have the people of this country seen such even pulling for a given purpose
by a president and his wife.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Albert Einstein, a lover of freedom, was disappointed when the German revolution silenced the editors, the university teachers, the public press, the individual writers and literary guides. He says, "Only the Church stood squarely across the path of Hitler's campaign for suppressing the truth.
I never had any special interest in the Church before but now
I feel great admiration and affection, because the Church alone has had the courage and persistence to stand for intellectual truth and moral freedom. I am forced to confess that what I once despised I now praise unreservedly."

Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Bulldog Is Recovered
When Police Halt Truck

Holland police recovered a bulldog, valued at $250, here Monday night when they stopped a motor transport truck at the request of state police at South Haven.

State police advised local police the truck was headed in this direction. The dog was the property of Wilfred Harmon, route 3, Benton Harbor, and Mr. Harmon
later came to Holland to claim the dog.

The two truck drivers were later released. Acting Police Jacob Van Hoff reported it was his understanding no charges were to be filed against the men as they had found the dog running along the highway and had not actually stolen
it.

The Two Ways
Psalm 1; Matthew 7: 24-27

By Henry Geerlings

The Bible is full of dramatic choices. There was the sad choice of Esau who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage. In contrast with this, there was the magnificent courage and foresight of Moses who chose rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. What could be more significant and far-reaching than that occasion when Solomon asked what he wished most, chose not fame, not wealth, not honor, but wisdom which would enable him to govern his people aright. One might go on indefinitely but choices lead invariably in one of two directions. One group could express themselves in the language of King Saul. "I have played the fool and erred exceedingly." The other group would be with another Saul of later times. "I have fought a good fight."

Every one knows that there are two ways which he may make a choice. There are only two and whether he will or not, he must take one of them. He has no minute to lose. Unless he makes a choice he will be forced into the one or the other.

We are continually choosing ways we shall take. In the course of time, we find ourselves taking these ways without being conscious of making any choice whatsoever.
When we take a particular course a few times, we find ourselves going the same way without any thought. This becomes what we call a habit. In the beginning, however, we choose very definitely the one way as over against the other.

For most of us, life is little more than a bundle of habits.
We speak as we learn to speak and think as we learn to think.
If at any time there is only one course that we can take, a choice is hardly necessary. We do choose however where there are two or more ways open to us. We weigh the reasons for taking one course over against the reasons for taking some other course. We decide in favor of the one that seems best to satisfy us.

The first Psalm forms a prologue to the Psalter and may have been written or selected as a preface for the first group of Psalms which were attributed to David. This Psalm is a declaration of faith, the faith that it is well with the righteous and ill with the wicked. Doubts and questions may be expressed in other Psalms, in the book of Job, and in the prophets, but here is a ringing declaration of faith in Jehovah's government of the world.

The words of Christ at the end of his well known sermon from a conclusion that points to two ways, one he approved and the other he condemned. So much is this conclusion like the truth in the first Psalm that we are sure that the man's nature and experiences do not change much with passing centuries. In both we have one of two ways specified as being chosen by the individual. We are always on the move. We cannot be static. Our privilege of choice includes taking one way or the other. This choosing must be done, for no one can travel two ways at the same time.

The word blessed is one of the gracious words of the religious vocabulary. It is a word with a great history in the religious experience of men. One would not wish to change it permanently for any other.
In this Psalm, we have the Old Testament portrait of a happy man. He and his way of life are marked by certain abstinences and avoidances. At first sight this seems disappointing. To begin with negatives and refusals does not seem promising in pursuit of so positive a thing as happiness.

But it betrays a consummate knowledge of life and the point for us is that happiness is not to be drifted into, but whoever would be happy must count upon meeting certain sure antagonisms, and must brace himself to meet and defeat them. Like every other worthy thing, happiness is to be fought for. And when it is gained it is a victory. It is the beatitude not of the slack but of the determined. Behind the serenity of the saints is the struggle of soul. This is how the world is built—the best things do not fall into our hands and remain there unchallenged.
There is always a lion in the path of the delectable fields.

The second passage in the lesson emphasizes the fact that goodness must be practiced under trying conditions. Things are never ideal for the practice of virtue.
There are always hindrances within us and around us. This is suggested in one aspect of the parable of the two houses, for the good house had no ideal treatment according to it. Both houses received exactly the same buffeting, and life presents no special privileges for the godly. Disaster is common disaster. The wise man's house was rained on, blown on, flooded. The point was that it stood the strain. The other house fell. The happiness of the wise builder lasted on. He had been happy building his house, and was happy to see it tested, happy to find that it stood the shocks.

Goodness then is no guarantee of outward peace; but it is a guarantee of lasting peace, which the world cannot give nor take away.

st northwest of here.

Specifications, according to Weston, call for a new $20,000 building to be located in section 34 of Heath township, west of M-40, a little south of Dunningville. As soon as the details were arranged bids will be submitted.

The change in location of the monitoring station which now is located north of Chicago is sought because of the vast amount of electrical interference in the Chicago area.

Primary purpose of the station is to check radio station wave lengths and to protect shipping.
Until the new station can be built a temporary location will be selected. The great lakes monitoring station is one of eight similar stations in the United States.

Plans call for an annual payroll of from $25,000 to $30,000, with nine radio men, two clerks and a mobile unit to be attached to the station.

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

SINCE the expenditure for a meal is based on the cost of the meat, housewives this week will be pleased to learn that beef, lamb, and fresh pork cuts are all fractionally lower. This week might be an ideal time to plan to have roast on Sunday, especially as Sunday roasts can be utilized in so many different ways later in the week.

When shopping for Sunday, the housewife will find that fresh fruit and vegetable departments offer many excellent choices. The variety is almost unlimited, and their prices at this season of the year are at their lowest point. Cherries, cantaloupes, peaches, and watermelons are all very low in price, and can be served either in their natural state, or in fruit compotes.

DAVIDITES HELD TO LONE HIT AS DUTCH WIN, 10-0

Van Wieren Hurls Entire Route; Locals Score in Two Innings

The Holland Flying Dutchmen, by shutting out the House of David's home team, 10-0, at Riverpark Monday night, again proved that when they win they really win.

Lefty Van Wieren in going all nine rounds for the Hollanders allowed only one hit and that to Manager Deal who singled to right field in the first of the eighth. Fine fielding of five of the seven outfield flies by Lloyd Driscoll saved many would-be hits.

Wagner started for the David's but was driven to the showers after giving up five walks, four hits and six runs in pitching to 13 men. Pallas who pitched for one of the David's visiting teams when they were here before, then took over. The Hollanders hammered him for six more hits, making a total of ten, walked four times and struck out five times.

Van Wieren walked only one, but struck out 11, and retired the side in the third unassisted. He made five consecutive strikeouts and gave Benton Harbor only 28 chances at bat.

Batting all the way around in the second, the Dutchmen scored six runs, four men scoring after walks.

Two singles to center and a couple of shortstop errors in the fourth netted the winners four more runs after which there was no scoring and the game moved uneventfully.

A third baseman's error and a wild pitch in the eighth placed David's on second and third with no one down. Lefty fanned the first two and Driscoll obliged with the last one.

Manager Benny Batema's men left seven on base this time. The visitors, who went three up and three down in the first six and ninth innings, left three on base.

Ken Vanden Berg again led batting averages with three hits in four trips to the plate.

In the second inning, Van Lente got his sixth consecutive walk in two games and stole second. Van Wieren also walked and went to second on Harry De Neff's single which brought in Van Lente. Ev De Neff walked and went to second on Wagner's wild pitch which sent Van Wieren home and H. De Neff to third. Elmer Van Wieren walked for the first filling of the bags and both of the De Neffs scored on De Witt's single to center. Driscoll, who was caught stealing second for the third out, had singled, driving in De Witt.

The winners pounded center field in the fourth with two singles and a double. Elmer Van Wieren walked and De Witt got on on an error. Driscoll and finally Vanden Berg singled to put across three runs. Vanden Berg came in on Wenzel's double.

WAIVES HEARING ON STATUTORY CHARGE

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 (Special)—Dean D. Denslow, 18, of Newaygo, waived examination to a statutory charge when arraigned on Tuesday before Justice George V. Hoffer and his case was bound over to the September term of Ottawa circuit court.

His bond was set at $2,500 but he was unable to provide it. The alleged offense occurred in Polkton township, the complaining witness being a 14-year-old girl. State Trooper Sam Seneni arrested Denslow.

Paul Casanova, 45, route 1, Grand Haven, a Mexican, paid costs of $7.85 and was sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail after pleading guilty before Justice Hoffer on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested Monday afternoon by Trooper Sam Seneni after his car crashed into a guard rail at Pottawatomie bayou in Grand Haven township. Casanova had obtained a beginner's permit last week which entitled him to drive a car when someone else was with him but state police said he was alone when the accident occurred and that he had not obtained his driver's license.

New Groningen School Reunion Is Today

Thursday, Aug. 1, marks the ninth annual reunion of the New Groningen school. There will be an afternoon meeting at the school and the evening meeting will be held in Zeeland City park. A program will be presented at each session.

The committee in charge is John A. Hartgerink, president; Jacob Geerts, vice-president; Mrs. Kate De Boer, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Helen Schaap, secretary-treasurer.

The school organization dates back to the spring of 1847 when several families, including John Roberts, J. H. Stigink, H. Wassink, H. Jekel, Henry Ten Have and Klaas Boer arrived at Groningen. They were the fore-runners of the colonists who came the same fall under the leadership of the Rev. C. Vander Meulen and James Van de Luyt.

The first New Groningen settlement was in the neighborhood of the present cemetery and was located on a road running about east and west which was at that time the main road from Holland to Zeeland and beyond.

When high water washed out the bridges, this road was related and the so-called Scholten's bridge was built. The town thrived wonderfully after the changing of the road.

The early settlers soon built a small school house a short distance southwest of the present cemetery, with A. J. Hillebrands as teacher. This building was destroyed by fire and another was built near New Groningen which was a larger building, a combination school house and dwelling house for the teacher, with a hearth between the two sections. Mr. Hillebrands was the teacher for many years in this private school. This building also was destroyed by fire.

On May 23, 1853, a meeting to organize a public school was held at Robbers' sawmill. Andrew Stoketee was chairman and district No. 2 of Holland township was organized.

The first school building was built on a three cornered lot opposite the present store at a cost of $100. In 1854 T. C. Kenworthy was engaged as teacher for four months. In 1855 the census roll was 85, in 1856 it reached 105 and in 1857 it was 115.

In 1862 a contract was let to enlarge the building for $80. In 1867 a wing was added at a cost of $300. In 1881 a new building of brick was erected at a contract price of $1,230.

From 1867 to 1870 there were two schools in New Groningen, there also being a so-called "select" school. In 1870, Mr. Hillebrands succeeded in uniting the two.

Mr. Hillebrands taught 12 years in the public school and several years in the private schools and Miss M. Grottrupp taught 14 years. Of the school board members Hendrick Van Eek served 19 years, John P. Hartgerink 22 years and Egbert Boone 21 years.

BEAN BEETLES ARE IN COUNTY

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 — L. R. Arnold, agriculture agent, reports the presence of the Mexican bean beetle in Ottawa county. The beetle, a comparatively new insect to northern growers, is a very destructive insect to the bean plant. Its presence was discovered on two farms in the southern part of the county.

The beetle is a ladybird about 1/4 inch long. The larva or feeding form attains a length of 1/2 inch. It is elliptical in form, yellowish in body color, and is covered with spines. These larvae are to be found on under side of the leaf of the bean plant. Other plants are also attacked.

An arsenate spray cannot be used due to injury of the bean plant. Dusting with derris or pyrethrin will destroy the larvae but the underside of leaf must be dusted. It requires about 20 pounds of dust to an acre of beans. Three or four applications may be needed. Derris may be applied as a spray. Two pounds of derris containing 4 per cent rotenone should be mixed with 50 gallons of water.

The teachers included John Boer, Thomas C. Kenworthy, Cornelius Doosburg, A. J. Hillebrands, James Brandt, R. A. Hyma, N. W. Bacon, H. R. Boynton, Benjamin Neerken, Albert T. CASTLE AWAITS BIGGEST HORSE SHOW IN YEARS

Hobo Hop on Dance Dune Proves Successful And Draws Many

"Better than ever," is the forecast committee members are making about the coming Holland-Castle Park horse show. It's to be Wednesday, August 28, they decided at last week's meeting and will include a morning, as well as the usual afternoon show, to accommodate two new classes.

First of these will feature Tennessee walking horses, shown at the typical "running walk" developed by plantation owners who spent most of each day in the saddle. Because of increasing interest in horse breeding in this section, the committee has also decided to add a colt class this year, including yearlings through yearlings.

All the regular classes for hunters, three and five gaited horses and children's horsemanship which give this show a wide annual appeal to amateur horsemen all over the state are also being placed on the schedule. That busy Wednesday will begin at 10 a.m. with children's and hunters' horsemanship and junior hunter events filling out the morning menu. The rest of the show will follow at 2 p.m. and there'll be the annual dance honoring visiting riders on the Castle park dance dune that evening.

This eighteenth annual Holland-Castle park show will be held at Castle park again this year, and again proceeds will go to the Crippled Children's fund of Holland Rotary club. Early entries fore-shadow the largest show yet, with more than last year's record-breaking 80 horses participating. Main reason for this attention is the strictly amateur standing of owners, riders and judges, giving owner a chance to meet owner on a sporting equal footing.

Members of this year's senior committee include Charles Kirchen, P. T. Cheff, William Eaton, James Nibbelink, Carter Brown, Mrs. Roy Noble and Mrs. James Getz. Junior members are Peggy Kirchen, Betty Jean McLean, Phil Frye, Jane Hibbard, Mary Goelitz, Duncan Forbes, Carter Wilkie Brown and Peggy Miller, publicity.

The Castle park jungle must have been chafed up on preferred lists of every cashless wayfarer between South and Grand Havens. Saturday night. Even the stars looked mildly astonished at the motley crew a Hobo Hop called forth to the dance dune.

With much more energy than is usually accorded hoboes, co-chairmen Jane Hibbard and Marilyn Frye had transported a hay-stack for atmosphere, and tied lots of red bandannas to crooked sticks. They superintended the youngsters.

In "Musical Crates," a not-too-distant cousin to Going to Jerusalem; Les and Kay Schaeffer supervised the grand march, and Austin Brown led a tramp's version of the Big Apple.

Then the grown-ups began to arrive, some clinging jauntily to such shreds of gentility as mis-fitting full dress coats and derbies; others frankly tattered and soiled. The "Chick" Porters and daughter, Puddy, definitely belonged to the latter school of thought. George Wilson and Homer Robertson, two very feminine bums, danced together under a battered umbrella. A "hat dance" was just another term for the popularity of girls in patched dresses or blue jeans and torn skirts. A second Big Apple was led by Bill Walters.

Next Monday the big week canoe trip which Castle park boys look forward to all summer will begin. About a dozen are expected to make the trip down the AuSable and Big Manistee.

One-day trips for both boys and girls were being planned for this week by Jerry Breen Saturday. There is to be sailing every day except on the days when the canoe trips are taken. The over-night trip on the Kalamazoo for boys last week was postponed because of hot weather.

About a dozen members of the new junior life saving class are expected to complete their tests this week.

Nearly 30 girls went on the hike to Green mountain Wednesday returning Thursday. They cooked their own meals and had campfires and played games on the mountain. Supplies were taken down in a rowboat but the girls carried their own blankets.

Girls who made the trip are Blair Butler, Joy Blossom, Callie Costen, Peggy Hibbard, Sally Frost, Jeanne Elliott, Mary Goodspeed, Sally Collins, Judy Frost, Elaine Feight, Janet Campbell, Bonnie Dhu Chark, Martha Campbell, Jessica Venell, Jean Feight, Betty Lindon, Puddy Porter, Margot Allen, Mary Pat Hadley, Jean Steketee, Judy Butler, Sally Robertson, Suey Goelitz and Mary Dean Nobel.

Mary Goelitz, Jane Hibbard and Kay Schaeffer accompanied the girls.

Rain last week Friday occasioned an indoor track meet in the playhouse with all the boys and girls in the play classes taking part. It was a close meet too, with the red team winning with 32 points, the whites following with 30 and the blues coming in close behind with a 29.

Boys have also made tom toms out of wooden salad bowls and rowed on rainy days.

In the future, rainy days will be happy ones for Castle youngsters

If the first successful indoor meet is any indication, Jean Elliott led the winning team, Peggy Hibbard, the reds, and Bill Costen, the whites. Each group was required to make up a song and a yell on which it was judged.

Other events which counted for points were the "javelin throw"—throwing soda straws, "shot put"—tossing stones into a can, "hammer throw"—a nail-pounding contest, "relay" carrying a penny on a narrow stick, "hurdles"—a string chewing contest, "broad jump"—a marble flipping contest, "discus throw"—flipping playing cards, and the "100-yard dash"—each contestant required to go a certain distance stepping only on the two pieces of cardboard which were provided.

In the tennis tournament, Bob Steketee and Dick Needham are to meet this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the boys' singles finals. Jean Costen defeated Mary Dean Nobel 6-4, 6-2 for the girls' championship.

Austin Brown beat Platt Nobel 6-3, 6-3 for third place consolation honors. Sally Robertson and Joy Blossom will bring up the last two places in the girls' tournament. Blue, red, yellow and white ribbons for first, second, third and fourth places respectively are being awarded these finalists.

The vesper committee has announced the programs of the remaining vesper services all but one of which will be held in the amphitheater beginning at 7:45 p.m. The annual sing with Walter Gielow as leader will be held Sept. 1 in front of the Castle.

The Rt. Rev. Lewis B. Whittemore, Episcopal bishop of Western Michigan directed the vesper services last Sunday.

This coming Sunday, Dr. Joseph Vance of Detroit and Castle park will direct them.

Rev. Peter H. Pleune of the Highland Presbyterian church of Louisville will direct the August 11 services. A musical service will be held August 25.

YOUTHS BLAMED FOR FENNIVILLE BREAKIN

Fennville, Aug. 1 (Special) — The Charles King drug store was entered some time during Tuesday night by way of the front door.

Loss was limited to pennies from stamp box and tins, soft drinks, and possibly a flashlight. Sheriff Fred Miller of Allegan who investigated, indicated that perfect fingerprints had been found on the glass of the door which had been broken. It was believed the plan was to make a small opening and reach through to unlock the door. When unable to do this because of a combination double lock, the thief or thieves removed enough glass to crawl through.

Sheriff Miller believed it to be the work of one or more youths who were acquainted with the location of the stamp box. Only pennies were taken. Although no complete check had been made, the flashlight case had been tampered with, and two empty bottles indicated the molesters had paused for refreshment.

OTTAWA ROAD CASE HEARD BY SANFORD

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 (Special) — In a case heard in circuit court Wednesday before Judge Joseph F. Sanford of Muskegon, Port Sheldon township asked for specific performance of an oral contract from Lillie M. Roberts.

The township claims the defendant agreed to give it a road four rods wide off the north end of what was formerly the Clearwater Beach plat in Port Sheldon township after the township had withdrawn its objection to vacation of this plat. The township also claims it has fully performed its part by withdrawing the objection but that the defendant has refused to give the road to the township.

Vacation proceedings were held in March, 1926, and a few years ago the township began to improve this proposed road when the defendant, in 1934, placed a fence across it and claimed the township had no right on the property. Defendant claims, even though they agreed to do this, that because the township waited too long, before any steps were taken to lay out and improve this highway, it is guilty of neglect. Briefs are to be filed.

To Dedicate Memorial at Mackinac Isle Saturday

Mackinaw Island, Aug. 1 (Special)—A certain Philadelphia woman visiting on Mackinaw island the other day asked, "Why don't more people in the east know about this beautiful resort?"

She was surprised by the spirited answer of Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., son of Senator Vandenberg, "It's more amazing that more Michigan folk really know little about it."

Even those who think they know are apt to be full of misconceptions about the historic site where the Great Lakes meet.

There's the fallacy that there is only one hotel, the Grand, where "they say" the rooms are $10 a day (there are 16 hotels on the island and even at the Grand all the rooms are not governor's suites).

There's little known, too, about the old Mackinac fort. One Michigan writer, Katherine Doyle, fired with the determination that every Michigan school child shall know the Mackinac chapter of Michigan's history is here writing a textbook that reads like a romance of those days when the hill top fort was used for protection against the Indians and later to battle the British. (School children make pilgrimages to Washington, why not to Mackinaw island?)

Then when one has seen the old fort, founded in 1780, and spent an afternoon on the largest hotel porch in the world, that is not all. A walk down Market St. should not be missed. On it is the old round-down Astor house recalling fur trading days with the Indians. The entire street, with its Biddle house and the corner house where occurred the accident that made Dr. Beaumont internationally famous as an authority on digestion. Horse drawn carriages still pass down this historic street, which should challenge some wealthy person to restore it just as the Rockefellers recreated Williamsburg in Virginia.

Even less is known about the government of the island. The city, which occupies but about 15 percent of the acreage, has a mayor, Robert Doud. He is appointed by the governor. The five-man commission serves without salary. From time to time they occupy the scattered houses along the bluff where the governor's summer residence stands—empty.

As to politics—it's Democratic. Although Gov. Frank Fitzgerald managed to win by one vote in 1938. Maybe that is the most salient reason why the Republican commission is dedicating a memorial garden in front of the residence Saturday.

The Fitzgerald dedication is not an excuse for a Republican political rally. Commissioner "Bill" Doyle, who originated the plan, saw to that by inviting all the state officers—Democrats and Republicans. The other commissioners are in hearty agreement. They are the hosts—Joseph H. Thompson, chairman, Ypsilanti; Washburne Wright, Bloomfield Hills; Manfred Burleigh, Detroit and Clarkson; and Louis P. Simon, Kalamazoo.

Impishly, "Bill" has planned some entertainment for the week-end to prove that politics makes strange bedfellows. The governor's suite at the Grand will be jointly shared—for the three hours Governor Dickinson is on the island—and by the present Republican governor and Democratic candidate, Murray D. Van Wagoner, "Les" Butler, the Republican state

OIL IS SPILLED IN G.H. CRASH

Grand Haven, Aug. 1 (Special)—Three thousand, three hundred and sixty gallons of crude oil were spilled over Grand Haven streets at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday when an oil transport truck overturned at the intersection of Fulton and Beech Tree Sts. after the brakes on the truck failed to hold.

Claude Bowers, 30, 415 Park Ave., Lincoln Park, Mich., was driving the truck east on Fulton St. and was attempting to turn south on Beech Tree St. The tractor and trailer was owned by William McCarthy, Grand Rapids but had been leased to the Old Dutch Refinery Co.

The oil had been loaded here for delivery at Paw Paw. Bowers told Grand Haven police the brakes were working when he stopped at Seventh and Fulton Sts. for the traffic signal but when he went to slow down for the next intersection, they failed to take hold.

The momentum caused the tractor and trailer to overturn. The large tank broke loose from the chassis and landed on the curb with part of it hanging over the curb and the top side down.

The crude oil leaked out of the tank, ran into the sewers and over the street in that vicinity. Various city departments were called and the fire chief responded to a call.

The sewage disposal plant was notified of a possible hazard to the machinery at the plant. The Ottawa county road commission sent a crew of workers to gravel the street due to its slippery condition.

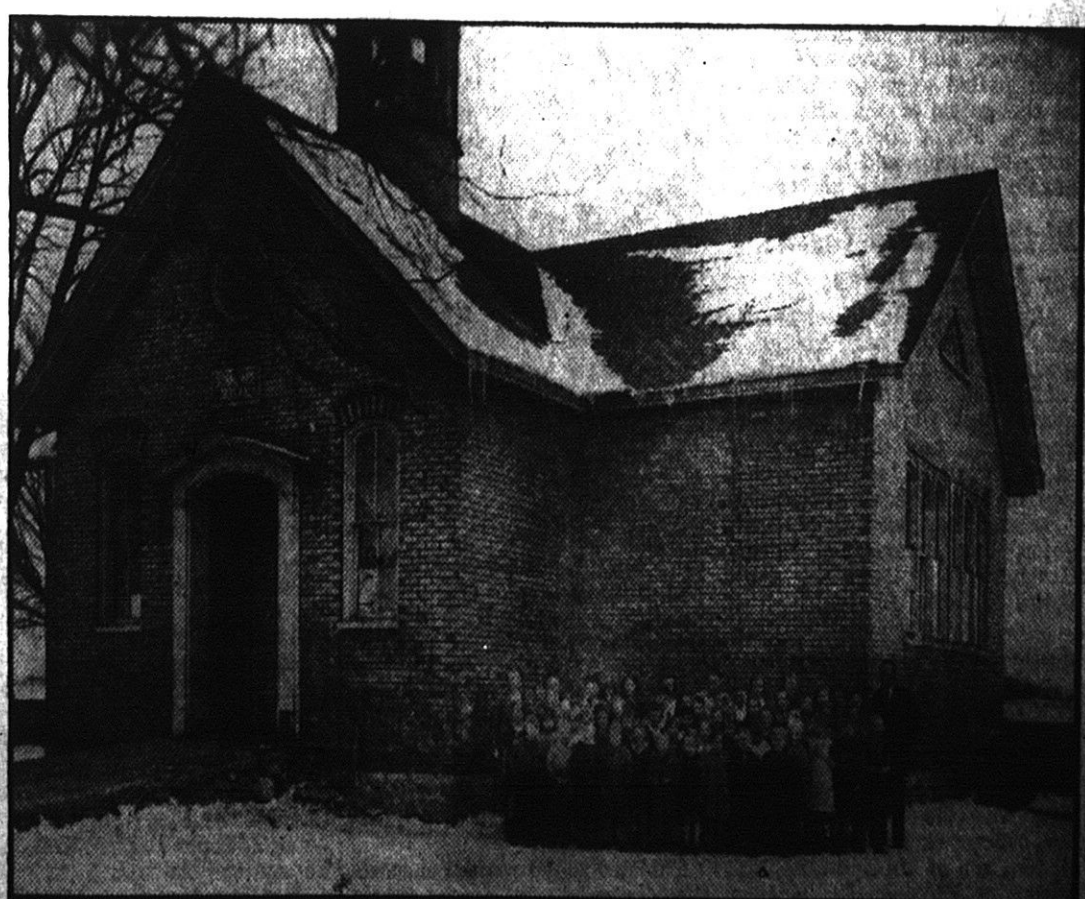

Bowers was given a summons to appear at police headquarters Thursday morning when a charge will be determined after a further investigation.

Day's Thought

There are those who say that the will of God is needlessly hard and painful, or at least disagreeable. That much is admitted. Whoever achieved the higher and better things in politics, in education, in the professions, in music, in athletics, without inviting some of the most painful experiences. Hardships cast their shadows over the path of progress in every field. If this is true in religion it is no exception. To expect an exception here is to misunderstand the principles and the program of our faith. Religion that is without cross bearing is no religion at all.

EAST KEYED TO WAR THREATS

Flipse in Rotary Address Says West's Attitude Is Contrast

Dr. M. Eugene Flipse of Community church of Douglaston, N.Y., who has spent almost 20 summers at Eagle Crest, spoke to the Holland Rotary club at its luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern last Thursday on the rambling observations he has made traveling and speaking not only in the east but here and in Europe.

"It's amazing what a difference 1,000 miles will make," he said. The war situation is much more pressing than we now realize, he stated, but as yet, the mid-west is just as unconscious of the war as it was in 1916 and 1917. From his home window, Dr. Flipse contrasted the largest anti-aircraft post in the country and also sees many of the large boats which later are sunk, sail out of the harbor, Queen's county, where he lives is thoroughly organized on a "catastrophe basis" and doctors, public officials and all other responsible men are organized and "have their place picked out," he explained. These "catastrophe units" are ready for action all along the coast, he said in comparing that section of the country with this. While the refugee problem is the "real" problem in the east, it has not reached here yet, he said, adding that this may be good or may not be good.

He also discussed the changes, that have taken place especially in transportation since he first began vacationing in Holland. He recalled the days when an interurban ran between Holland and Grand Rapids and two boats ran between Holland and Chicago. Formerly the trip from New York required two nights on the road, but "now we don't even think about it." Despite changes, however, he pointed out that Holland had retained its individuality and some assets which can never be taken away.

He also touched upon his experiences in Europe in 1935 when he served the American church at The Hague. He told of a trip with a quartermaster and a cabinet officer to inspect the Dutch water defenses from the Zuider see to the Rhine river five years ago. Even at that time, he said the army officer thought the defenses could hold but the cabinet officer predicted that they could not hold more than a week without powerful outside forces to help.

The next day, he said, still emphasizing that this was five years ago, he took a trip with the Germans down their roads and saw thousands of boys marching under the direction of the military.

RARE BOOK IS GIVEN TO LOCAL MUSEUM

The Netherlands museum has acquired a rare and interesting Dutch book entitled "Geestelick Roer van't Coopmanschip" (The Spiritual Rudder of the Merchant Ship) by Gottfried Udemans, minister at Zurich. The work, in pocket size, was published in 1638, just one year after the well-known Dutch Staten-Bybel made its first appearance.

Although intended primarily as a moral handbook for merchants and sailors, it throws much interesting light on the great Dutch East and West Indies company, during the springtime of the Netherlands' golden age. The little Netherlands with its powerful fleet cleared the sea of pirates as well as of Spaniards and built up a vast trade with the Indies.

The book was presented to the museum by Henry Van Til, 35 East 20th St.

Steffens Lose Heavily to Cascos at Allegan

The Cascos with B. Irey not only pitching a one-hit game but also socking out a homer and two doubles, gave the local Steffens team their worst defeat in three years at Allegan last Thursday to the tune of 16-2.

Further damage was added to the local club when Pres Bos, their ace hurler, injured a muscle in his side which may keep him out of the lineup for some time.

Corky Weener is expected to hurl for the Hollanders tonight with Tony Bouwman behind the plate when they travel to Douglas to meet the Douglas A. C.'s under the lights at 8 p.m.

Holland jumped into a two-run lead in the second inning on a hit by Kolean and walks to Zyck and Russelada. Bos' injury slowed up the third inning and Cascos began hitting and the local defense began falling apart. Five runs scored for the winners in that inning.

Runless in the first two innings, the Cascos built up their lead on hits, walks and errors in the next four.

Former Holland Player Made History With Lone Triple Play

It was just 31 years ago on July 20 that Neal Ball as Cleveland shortstop, once star pitcher with the Holland Independents, made an unassisted triple play against Boston which has gone down in the history of baseball.

Ball pitched for the Holland Independents in 1901-02-03 when they with Ionia and Greenville were tops in the Michigan league.

He made his unassisted triple play by catching a line drive, touching second which a runner had just left and tagging another runner as he came down from first to second.

Ball came here from Kalamazoo where Cornelius Vander Meulen saw him play and afterwards recommended him to Con De Pree, who was manager of the Holland Independents. While here he played every position on the team but was especially outstanding as a pitcher and although it was his pitching ability that got him into the major leagues, he never pitched there.

He went from here to Cedar Rapids, Ia., and then to Boston with the Bees and to New York with the Yanks playing shortstop.

His rapid road to fame began when the Holland team as champions of the Michigan league were invited to play the All-Americans composed of the best players of the day, at Grand Rapids. That day the nationally-known players defeated Holland 2-1 only after ten innings of play. Ball had pitched himself into the American league.

The triple play was only a climax to the success he enjoyed in the major league.

He also had a chance to score an unassisted triple play when playing once for Holland. Again he caught a liner at second and touched that base which the runner had just left but instead of running over to third which the runner had left and was already home, he tossed the ball to the third baseman.

Jim De Pree of the Independents also made a world's record at that time which as far as is known, has not been equaled—that of making 22 put-outs in nine innings. This means that of the 27 outs, all but five of them were at first base. De Pree still remembers that game with Paw Paw back in 1902 when Ball shut them out 9-0. He received 11 assists from the pitcher, two from the catcher, six from second base, two from third base and one from short.
