One Killed, Trio Burned As Bolt Hits Tent at Oval

Three Fires, Other Damage Caused by Storm in Local Area

A severe electrical storm, the second one this month, which struck Holland and vicinity late Tuesday night, resulted in the death of a Holland youth, when he was hit by lightning, and caused at least three fires and other damage to property.

Victim of the lightning was Robert Wayne Wise, 16, son of Mrs. Fred Wise, 101 East 25th St., who had gone to Holland State park with three companions on an overnight camping trip. He was struck about 11:30 p.m.

His three companions were knocked to the ground and suffered leg burns. They were Harlan Bouman, 108 East 25th St., Harvey Lugten, 296 West 19th St., and Donald Van Wynen, 87 East 23rd St.

When the storm struck the state park, Wise, Lugten and Bouman attempted to hold onto the tent while Van Wynen gathered up their belongings. The tent had been pitched inside the trailer camp oval near the bathroom toward the north end of the park.

According to information obtained by Coroner Gilbert Vandewater, Deputy Sheriff Edward Brouwer and Lester Beeve who probed the tragedy, Wise was holding onto the tent pole which was capped with a metal fixture when the bolt struck.

Bouman, Lugten and Van Wynen were treated for their burns by a local physician and a Grand Rapids doctor who chanced to be at the park.

Bernard Van Zanten, 13 West 26th St., who was occupying the adjoining tent, told investigators he saw the bolt strike the tent pole.

Holland coast guardsmen responded to a call from the park and spent more than an hour applying artificial respiration but their efforts to revive Wise proved futile. Later, the body was removed to the Nibbelink-Notier funeral home.

Wise was born in Holland April 22, 1926, to Fred and Jeanette Wise. He attended public schools and would have been a junior in Holland high school when the fall term opens.

His father was killed instantly Oct. 28, 1927, when he was electrocuted while working on a power line pole on College Ave., between Sixth and Seventh Sts., while employed as a lineman for the board of public works.

Wise had been employed under Leon Moody, local playground director, as assistant playground instructor at Longfellow school, supervising boys in their baseball and softball games.

He also worked week-ends at the Meeneys service station, 16th St. and River Ave. Mr. Moody described Wise as a good worker, a good student and an able athlete in school sports.

Besides the mother, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Tim Smith, Mrs. Marvin Ver Hoef; four brothers, Harold J., Fred, Jr., and Kenneth Wise, all of Holland, and John Wise, stationed at Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex.; and the grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Vander Warf, Holland.

The storm blew down from 12 to 15 miles in the state park area. Many of the campers took refuge in the pavilion and were given hot coffee, chocolate and doughnuts throughout the night. The bathhouses were open to the campers as everything was soaked.

Fire, resulting from lightning striking the Lakeside resort at Jensen park which is operated by Melvin H. Koop, damaged two upper story bedrooms. The bolt stopped the clock at 11:50 p.m. and knocked Mr. Koop out of bed.

Fire Chief Andrew Klompars explained that the late arrival of the firemen was due to the fact that they were halted in Montello park to fight another house fire, and thinking this was the fire to which they had been called, returned to Holland after bringing the blaze under control.

This fire damaged the home of Mrs. Mary Wolbert, Homestead Ave. and 19th St., in Montello park. Lightning struck the southwest corner of the home, causing fire damage to the roof and scorching the attic.

Firemen also received a third alarm shortly after midnight from the vicinity of the Chris-Craft Corp. plant, west of Holland, but later were advised their services were not needed. It was reported that lightning struck a home, but the name of the owner could not be learned.

Lightning struck a chimney at the home of Elmer J. Schepers, 501 Michigan Ave. during the storm. There was no resulting damage except several bricks were knocked out of the chimney by the bolt.

Also struck by lightning was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mulder 192 West 21st St. A hole was ripped in the siding near the roof and the house's electrical system was damaged, but no fire resulted.

Plane in Crash In North Ottawa

Muskegon Pilot and Passenger Not Hurt As Craft Hits Wires

Grand Haven, July 30 (Special)—An airplane accident occurred about 7:10 p.m. Sunday when a plane piloted by Charles Dear of Muskegon was forced down in a field about one-fourth mile east of US-31 on the Muskegon-Ottawa county road in Ottawa county.

Dear, a member of the civil air patrol, said his plane experienced motor trouble. As he attempted to land, the plane struck two power lines along the railroad, running beside the field, which spun the machine around, damaged its landing gear and broke the propeller blade.

Dear and his passenger, Zig Smith, were uninjured. The plane was owned by Smith's brother, Roy Smith of Fruitport. Dear said this was his first accident in five or six years of flying.

State police responded and had an ambulance in waiting until it was determined no one was injured.

Trio Seized for Plant Inquiries

Two Blind Men, Driver Freed After They Tell Police of Music Aims

After being questioned by a deputy sheriff and local police this morning, two blind men and their 18-year-old chauffeur who said they were from Terre Haute and Indianapolis, Ind., were released and ordered to leave town.

The trio was picked up about 6 a.m. yesterday at Kollen park by Willis G. Hopp, chief of plant guards at Western Machine Tool works, and turned over to authorities. Hopp followed the men in their car to the park after they had driven past the plant.

Search for the trio had been under way since Tuesday after officials received reports of their suspicious actions. They are reported to have made inquiries about the local plants engaged in war work, whether the areas about the plants were fenced in and whether employees parked their cars inside or outside.

The two blind men explained to officials that they were musicians and were endeavoring to locate the best places to play their accordions to pick up some money. Guards at various plants had been notified to be on the lookout for the car, bearing Indiana license plates.

Detroit Resorter Dies of Attack

Woman Driver Hurt Slightly When Hit By Abandoned Car

Four persons narrowly escaped serious injuries about 7:45 p.m. Wednesday by abandoning the car in which they were riding after it became stalled on the Pere Marquette track at the Eighth St. crossing and was struck by a train. Miss Betty Van Klink, 32, 390 West 20th St., driver of the car, was injured when she was struck by the car after it had been hit by the engine. She was treated in Holland hospital for abrasions on her face, left hand and elbow and for a minor chest injury on the left side. Later she was released.

Other occupants of the car, according to a police report, were Jack Van Dorple, 13, 390 West 20th St., Irvin Smith, 13, East Eighth St., and Bobby Koolman of Grand Rapids.

Miss Van Klink had gone with Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Van Dorple, and his cousin, Bobby, to get Irwin, also a cousin and son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, and were returning to the Van Dorple residence to practice on music for a picnic when the car stalled on the crossing. The Koolman boy has been visiting at the Van Dorple home. Miss Van Klink, a sister of Mrs. Van Dorple, resides with the Van Dories.

Miss Van Klink was driving the car west on Eighth St. and the train was northbound. Police listed H. Brown as the engineer and J. A. Ackershoek as conductor.

The officers were informed the train was traveling between 15 and 18 miles per hour.

The automobile was thrown 52 feet from the point of impact. Miss Van Klink who was driving the car of Lester Van Dorple abandoned the car on the right side.

Police said the left side of the car was badly damaged.

Varano, Who Helped Defend Pearl Harbor, Comes Home on Furlough

The James Varano family, 175 West 22nd St., was especially happy today.

Frank, the 23-year-old son who helped defend Pearl harbor when the Japanese sneaked in last Dec. 7, was home on furlough.

Tragic suspense had gripped the family on that unforgettable Sunday in December. Days of anxiety had followed until it was learned that Frank was unharmed.

Most of that was forgotten Tuesday night when he arrived for a 10-day rest from war duties. It was the first time he had been home since November, 1940, during training at Great Lakes Naval Training station as a naval radio operator. He enlisted in October, 1940, and in April, 1941, went to San Diego, Calif., for his first assignment to a ship.

Varano's radio work aboard ship enables him to know things about which the average seaman is ignorant. And so he is reticent about any information that might be of aid to the Axis.

Until he landed at a west coast port recently, he had been at sea continually since the attack on Pearl harbor.

He hasn't a lot to say about the actual battle at Hawaii, although he is convinced that "the Japs, and not the United States, were defeated." The Japanese, he explained, attacked as though they "were really scared by what they were doing." If the United States should ever stoop to such an assault on Japan, he added, it at least would be an all-out blast.

During the battle, Varano was assigned to "sky control" in which he was a lookout on a ship, directing gunfire against the Japanese planes. He saw numerous Tokyo planes plunge in flames into the harbor near his ship. Some of the crew on his ship suffered minor injuries, he said.

But war also has its funny side—at least for radio operators, he continued. The propaganda broadcasts from Tokyo are always "good for a laugh." While at sea he often tunes in and copies the coded messages which Tokyo beams to news service listening posts around the world. The exaggerations of victory claims and the attempts to justify various Japanese actions are better than outright jokes, he said.

Parents Receive First Word From Daughter

Grand Haven, July 30 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brouwer, 511 Howard St., received their first direct word from Mr. Brouwer's daughter, Mrs. James Percival Whitham, who is being returned to the United States with her eight-month-old son from Hong Kong, in a cable today from Lorenzo, Marques, Portuguese, East Africa.

Mrs. Whitham reported she was well and that her son "is thriving." She did not give any other details and the Brouwers are not certain where she will be landed.

Mrs. Whitham and her son were held in Stanley prison at Hong Kong after the city fell and no word has been received of Mr. Whitham, in civil life the representative of an insurance company. He was a member of the Hong Kong volunteers.

Mr. and Mrs. Brouwer have word that a son, Radioman First Class Robert Brouwer, has been assigned to duty in Alaska.

Former Athlete At Hope Enlists

Detroit, July 30 (Special)—Jack Baas, Hope college basketball and tennis player for the last two seasons, was enlisted this week for flight training in the U. S. naval reserve.

Baas, who played baseball and tennis as well as basketball before he went to Hope in 1940, has been placed on inactive duty awaiting call to a class at the navy's pre-flight school at the University of Iowa.

He will get three months' physical and ground school training at Iowa before transferring to a naval reserve aviation base and subsequent advanced training at Pensacola, Fla., or Corpus Christi, Texas. Upon graduation, from the navy's flight training he will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. marine corps reserve or as an ensign in the U. S. naval reserve.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baas, Grand Rapids. He was a student two years at Grand Rapids Junior and was graduated from Hope last June. Baas won letters in baseball and basketball at Hope and was a member of Blue Key, national senior men's honor fraternity.

Allegan Draft Board Gets Big August Call

Allegan, July 30—A tentative quota of 250 selectees has been received by the Allegan county selective board for August and represents the boards second, largest quota. The May quota was over 300.

Lowell Wilson, chief clerk of the board, reports that the nearing exhaustion of single men will probably necessitate the induction of some married men to meet the large assignments.

Frank Varano

said. Some of the voice broadcasts beamed to the United States open with American jazz music.

As radio operator, Varano intercepts military broadcasts of the enemy, joins in radio direction finding in attempts to locate sources of enemy broadcasts at sea and does regular reception and transmission.

Completely loyal to his country, Varano defends the war department's delay in releasing reports on battles and like information for publication.

"The news is released only when it will be of least advantage to the enemy," he said. "This requires more time than some impatient persons think necessary. If the enemy knew in time about American losses at sea, say, they would be able to reform their forces and attack again before damaged U. S. ships could reach port."

"The Pacific is a whole of a big ocean, and it takes a long time for ships to reach port and be shaped up for further action."

Varano, who was born here and was graduated from Holland high school, has three brothers and six sisters. One brother, Mick, is a chemist in a war plant in Meadville, Pa., and is scheduled to enter the army soon. Two of his sisters, Janet and Karene, are working in Washington, D. C.

Old Phonograph Records Sought

Local Drive Planned By Legion Auxiliary To End on August 5

The Holland American Legion auxiliary today announced plans for a drive in Holland to gather old phonograph records which will provide record manufacturers with materials for the making of new records to provide entertainment for the nation's armed forces.

The local drive which will continue through Aug. 5 is part of a nation-wide campaign which is being conducted by the Legion auxiliary.

Persons having old phonograph records who wish to donate them are asked to contact Mrs. John Kobes or Mrs. John Riemersma. The records may be left at their homes or will be called for.

The old records are to be transformed into new recordings of today's popular songs and classical music for the country's fighting men. American entertainers will make the recordings which will thus provide music in the army camps, on the ships and at overseas stations.

A national goal of 37,500,000 old records has been set.

Members of the Junior Shards and Flats, local music club for boys and girls of school age, are participating in a nation-wide program for the salvage of old phonograph records, under sponsorship of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

An effort is being made to collect as many used records, both cracked and in good condition, as possible, from this community. Usable records will be saved for the Federation War service program, and old and cracked records will be sold for scrap and the money obtained used to purchase new records for the armed forces under auspices of "Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc."

Any member of the local club will call for records, or they may be taken to the home of Mrs. Harold J. Karsten, 210 West 11th St. Mrs. Karsten is sponsor of the Junior organization. Officers of the club are: president, Mary Jean Van Appleton; vice-president, Maurice Schepers; secretary, Carol Prigge; treasurer, David Karsten.

Extra Sugar for Canning Will Be Issued in Ottawa

New Registration Is Scheduled in August At Various Centers

Grand Haven, July 30 (Special)—The Ottawa county rationing board has made arrangements for distribution of sugar in greater amounts for canning in those cases where justified.

The last "sugar for canning" registration was held June 8 and 11 and in some localities June 11 and 18 and was held in conformity with and according to instructions from the state board. However, they were not followed in all counties and created an unfavorable situation.

Application blanks will be available at grocery stores, if the applicant does not receive one by mail. The registration centers will be at:

Allendale school, Aug. 11 and 12; Conklin fire barn, Aug. 11 and 12; Coopersville high school, Aug. 11 and 12; court house at Grand Haven, Aug. 10, 11, 12, and 13; John Good Co. store in Holland, Aug. 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14; Hudsonville high school, Aug. 11 and 12; Zeeland high school, Aug. 11 and 12.

Instructions to the applicant follow:

1. Fill in the names of each stamp book owner in the family and insert the number of the book after each name.

2. State the number of quarts of fruit canned in 1941, or estimate amount to be canned this year.

3. Give exact number of pounds of sugar allotted the family unit on previous canning sugar registration in June.

4. Deliver application to nearest rationing board. If unable to deliver, mail to court house, Grand Haven. Purchase certificates will be mailed to you. Bring copy of sugar certificates issued at previous registration in June.

Each family unit will be allowed one pound of sugar for every four quarts of fruit to be canned, plus one pound per person per year for preserves or jams. It is understood this sugar allowance is only for bona-fide canning in 1942. Using canning sugar for other purposes is an offense subject to punishment.

Federal inspectors will check later in many cases to determine if actual canning was done.

The number of pounds of sugar allotted on any previous application will be deducted from present requests. Those having on hand sufficient sugar to take care of 1942 canning, need not send in another application.

Date Set for Visit Of Dutch Group

Fliers Scheduled to Land in Grand Rapids, Come Here in Autos

Mayor Henry Geerlings reported today that he has made arrangements with Second Lieut. Clifford K. Jaffe, acting public relations officer at the army air forces technical school at Scott field, Ill., for a group of Dutch naval air force members to come to Holland Thursday, Aug. 6.

Upon receiving word late Tuesday that a party of 15 planned to visit Holland tomorrow, Mayor Geerlings contacted Jaffe by long distance telephone this forenoon with a request that they postpone their visit for a week.

This group of Dutch fliers had planned to visit Holland last Thursday but their trip was canceled because of the inability to obtain a plane.

Under new arrangements the group will arrive at the Grand Rapids airport because Park township airport is not large enough for the plane to land here. They will be met in Grand Rapids by a delegation headed by Mayor Geerlings.

The trip will be made to Holland in automobiles. Mayor Geerlings is arranging their transportation. They will be guests of the Holland Rotary club at its luncheon meeting at the Macatawa Bay Yacht club. The Holland Chamber of Commerce will sponsor their appearance at the luncheon.

Man of Three Rivers Is Killed at Work Atop North River Ave. Pole

William Lou Rouse, 38, 113 Armitage St., Three Rivers, a linesman for the Clifton Engineering Co. of that city and father of six children, was killed almost instantly about 3:45 p.m. Monday when he was electrocuted while working atop a 60-foot power line pole on the northeast corner of Second St. and River Ave.

It is believed that Rouse came in contact with a power line carrying 2,400 volts as there were burns on both arms and on his right leg. Following an investigation, Coroner Gilbert Vandewater returned a verdict of accidental death.

The engineering firm had entered into a contract with the board of public works to construct a power line to the Holland Furnace Co.'s No. 5 plant on the North side and began work on the project Monday afternoon. Rouse had been in the employ of the Clifton Engineering Co. for the past four years.

Working on the pole with him was Paul Morgan, 35, also of Three Rivers. Other members of the crew were William A. Seals, foreman, Harold Johnson, Robert Taylor, Ned Wordelman and Guy Snow, all of Three Rivers.

According to Coroner Vandewater, Morgan said he heard a sizzling noise and asked Rouse, "What's the matter, did you get it?" Morgan quoted Rouse as replying, "I got it," then slumped but was prevented from falling by his safety belt.

Efforts to revive him proved futile. Board of public works officials reported that all lines about the pole had been covered with rubber blankets and insulating hose and that Rouse was wearing rubber gloves.

Abe Nauta, public works superintendent, Charles Vos, assistant superintendent, and a local physician were summoned immediately to the scene. As soon as Rouse's body had been lowered to the ground by a rope, Mr. Vos immediately started artificial respiration until police officers arrived with their res

Are Photos of Same Local Soldier?

This MAY be Pvt. Cornelius Prince in Australia

Pvt. Cornelius Prince of Holland who is in foreign service apparently has been "in the news" in all parts of the country.

The two-column, syndicated picture (furnished through courtesy of the Muskegon Chronicle) was merely identified as that of an American soldier on sentry duty "somewhere in Australia" who was being tempted by the young lady to leave his post and go for a scooter ride, but Mr. and Mrs. John R. Van Til, route 4, Holland, feel certain that the picture is of Mrs. Van Til's brother, Cornelius.

If it isn't, they say, it's a picture of "his identical twin."

Pvt. Prince left Holland for induction into the army Oct. 15, 1941, and was reported leaving for foreign service about March 15 of this year. Relatives here have now received word of his arrival in New Caledonia, an island of the French possessions, but they believe he may have been transferred there from Australia.

Prince was born in Hawarden, Ia., July 3, 1919, and is a graduate of Holland Christian high school. He was employed by Holland Precision Parts prior to his induction. Prince received preliminary training at Fort Sill, Okla., and Fort Bragg, N. C.

No Extra Sugar For Threshers

Possibilities of farmers receiving an extra allotment of sugar for threshers were remote today, according to John J. Good, local rationing chairman who conferred with county and state officials of the office of price administration after several queries had been received.

The reciprocal system used by local farmers during threshing season comes under the same heading as visitors, an official of the district office in Grand Rapids said Thursday. The farmer's wife must either save her sugar for this contingency or have the threshers bring their own, he pointed out.

The OPA had recently issued a bulletin stating that the farmer who hires a number of threshers or farm hands for a considerable length of time may receive one-half pound of sugar per week for each helper, but under this system the farm hands must turn in their ration books to the farmer and these stamps are not used. Under no conditions should canning sugar be used for this purpose, the Grand Rapids official stated definitely.

Then, as Now, Hope College Was Active in War Aid

World war days of 25 years ago in Holland are depicted in the three above pictures which belong to Dr. Edward D. Dimment, Hope college professor of economics.

In 1917, Dr. Dimment recalls, when the United States began to sell Liberty bonds to the public, a group of Hope college students made a canvass of the city, taking applications for bonds.

The young women students organized the "Patriotic league" and set up a booth on Eighth St. where the Westrate Dry Goods store is now located. At that time, a vacant lot occupied the site and a billboard in the background, covering the entire front of the vacant lot was covered with large war posters. The booth displayed posters and the college emblem and can be seen in the lower picture.

In the picture which shows the booth and the league in action, Miss Esther Mulder of Holland is seen taking an application from Miss Ann E. Hunt and in the window to the left Miss Kloote of Grand Rapids is giving details about the bonds to a passerby.

All applications were turned over to the banks of the city for delivery to the U. S. treasurer. No record was kept of the total amount sold but the "Patriotic league" served for the duration and the booth was open every day and on Tuesday and Saturday nights.

While the girls were engaged in this work, the men students were going about with other "Forty Minute men" promoting the sale of bonds through the county or were carrying on drills on the campus which are shown in the other two pictures.

They were equipped only with material from Carnegie gymnasium or "hoofing" under the direction of officers from the members of the national guards who resided in Holland. Out of such drills on the campuses of the country, the military training units known as the Students Army Training corps were organized by the war department and a full complement of trainees with barracks, mess halls and complete infantry equipment under the command of First Lieut. Jacobsen and two second lieutenants was enlisted, serving from September, 1918, to January, 1919.

Your Country and Mine — Save It. Keep It.

A campaign for the Republican nomination for Congressman is on and you are entitled to a frank, concise, unequivocal statement as to my position.

Eighty-five percent of our people, including those of Michigan, were opposed to the war. So was I. I did my utmost to keep us out of the war. But I spoke and voted for national defense, as witness my vote on the $4,000,000,000 appropriation for that purpose.

The man who says that I was opposed "to strengthening our national defense prior to Pearl Harbor," who says that I made "continual attacks upon our Allies," either does not know the facts or ignorantly or willfully misstates them. Don't forget that.

The statement that I have criticized President Roosevelt's policies is true, and who hasn't criticized his handling of the sit-down strike, the labor problem, the fraud and graft in war contracts, the regulation and persecution of business, the unfair and arbitrary enforcement of the rationing program? Committees of both House and Senate, controlled by Democrats, have done the same.

The President and Henderson are now having trouble over price-fixing. As early as November, 1940, foreseeing the danger of inflation, the injustice of profiteering, I introduced a bill which was entitled—"To provide for the common defense, render more effective the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, prevent profiteering, stabilize prices, raise revenue, minimize the increase in the public debt, insure a contribution from, and the participation of, all citizens in the national-defense program."

It would have fixed a price ceiling for merchandise, farm products and wages. It proposed simple, easily-enforceable, effective price control. Now, almost two years later, the President is getting around to the same idea. Under it, all citizens would have contributed to the national defense program. I was on the job. I have always been on the job.

Get this other point straight—once for all. Never have I criticized the experts of the Army, the Navy or the Air Force, in their handling of the war.

You know that I have never been afraid of the political gangsters in Washington—or elsewhere, for that matter. If nominated and elected, my first thought will always be of, all my efforts devoted to the support of the men who, on land, sea and in the air, are fighting our battle and mine.

This is my country. It is my country; your Government; my Government. Let us serve, save and keep it.

House at Macks Landing Burns

Fennville, July 30 (Special)—The large farm house on the Nelson Vickery farm at Macks Landing, five miles northwest of Fennville, was destroyed by fire Saturday noon.

The place was occupied by David McClements, who held a life lease, and his companion, Chris Carstenson. The house was well ablaze and the roof almost ready to cave in when a passer-by, Clarence Heinen, stopped to notify McClements, who was in the house alone at the time. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The blazing wood shingles were easily carried by the high wind and the Macks Landing school across the road, was twice set afire and the Lowell Martin barn set once. These were extinguished by the local fire department.

All the household goods were destroyed except two chairs and a mattress, as well as most of the personal items. All of Carstenson's belongings were lost, including more than $25 in money.

Four hours later the fire department was called to extinguish a field fire, also set by the flying embers.

Rotarians Hear Dancy Talk of War Situation

Capt. S. N. Dancy of Chicago, president of the Citizens Foundation, Inc., of Chicago and one of the organizers of the American Legion, was the featured speaker at a regular meeting of the Holland Rotary club in the Castle last Thursday noon.

Addressing club members and their guests on America's place in the fight for Christian principles, Capt. Dancy stressed the battle between the yellow and white races at the present time. He pointed out that the fight put up by Britain and Russia had kept the war from our own land to date. The early aviation work of General William Mitchell in trying to secure an air force for America and the excellent work of General Douglas MacArthur in the Pacific region were lauded by Capt. Dancy.

Among Washington officials of whom the captain spoke very highly, were Donald Nelson who has the confidence of businessmen and Elmer Davis who is the best equipped man in this country for his position in news dissemination.

Supreme command is needed today, Capt. Dancy said. We need an appointment similar to that of General Foch in 1918 for the most successful action, he said, relating how the Allies made advances when Foch took command in the other war.

In conclusion, Capt. Dancy used the quotation from General Washington, "Put None but Americans on Guard," which is essential today.

Among the guests were W. K. von Weiler, attache of the Dutch legation, Detroit; Henry Ketel, E. P. Stephan, Willard Wichers, Clyde Geerlings, Mr. Bohannon, Stuart Boyd, Jay Petter, William Arendshorst, all of Holland; Jack Armstrong, of Detroit, and Maurice Flood, of Pittsburgh.

KEEP THE TELEPHONE HIGHWAYS CLEAR FOR VICTORY!

TELEPHONE lines today are crowded as never before. And Long Distance lines between all Michigan points and war production centers are carrying some of the heaviest traffic in the country.

War calls must go through promptly. In normal times we'd enlarge the telephone system to handle the increased load. We can't today, because the materials required for sufficient telephone expansion are even more urgently needed on the fighting fronts.

What we must do is make the most efficient use of the facilities we now have—with your help. Here are three simple ways in which you can help keep the words of war moving:

1. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls.
2. Keep your conversations as brief as you can.
3. When possible, give the number of the distant telephone you are calling.

FUMBLING DEMOCRACIES

Except for Douglas MacArthur,
the democracies in this war have not produced a military leader who is in any true sense master of the situation. During this period of participation France fumbled to develop a leader but she fell before a leader could show himself; her military leaders were no more than stuffed shirts whose incompetence ended in defeat. For three years now England has been fumbling for a leader—a true leader who really leads, who is not a mere official leader. Politically England did develop a true leader in Churchill, but in a military sense England is still groping.

And so is America. We have not yet found our man—a man who will really win battles, who will bring results. The chances are that we will have to experiment with, and discard, many a general and admiral before the man appears who can do the job that obviously must be done.

There is nothing new in this;
fumbling for a true leader is always the fate of a democracy in war. War is not the true business of the democratic way of life, and as a result democracies are almost invariably inept in the early stages of a major war.
They have to learn the business of killing at a frightful cost to themselves.

Our own Civil war furnishes the perfect parallel. During the first two years Lincoln and the country as a whole gave their faith to McClellan. He was not a stuffed shirt; he could at least organize an army. But he could not win battles; and he had to be discarded. Throughout the weary months of those first two years and on into the third, the Union cause was entrusted to general after general. Many of them were almost tragically incompetent, and thousands of men died because of their inaction.
A true leader, even Meade, who won the battle of Gettysburg,
was not the true leader the North needed; he did not have imagination enough to pursue and destroy Lee's army when he had the chance to end the war at a single stroke.

But then Grant rose above the crowd of generals. He had been a good-for-nothing and a failure
in many ways, but he could fight.
And Lincoln had by that time learned to give his confidence to anyone who could win battles.
During the first two years Grant was hardly more than a nobody,
but the democracy learned,
through sweat and tears, to recognize the man who could really fight.

And this is likely to be the case in this war. No one except MacArthur has yet appeared as a leader. It is not at all unlikely that some one else than Mac-Arthur will be the true military hero of this war. When democracies wage war it is seldom that an early hero, especially in a long war, is the hero at the finish.
Chances are that someone who is now completely unknown will be the general of this conflict.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Prof. Edward C. Lindeman, of the New York School of Social Work says, "There is a definite 'back to religion' trend in the field of social science today. Social workers, for instance, are paying more attention to the religious implications of their jobs.
If the Protestant churches hope to have a say in the post-war reconstruction period, they must take immediate steps to reclaim their lost sheep."

And thinking of the sort of reconstruction needed for the war and the reconstruction, he asks, "What other fields of endeavor have produced such men as Berggrun, Von Galen, Niemöller?"

Every effort needs to be made to cause the church to be recognized as an important factor by increasing its power. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Abram—A Pioneer in Faith

Genesis 12:1-9; Hebrews 11:8-12

By Henry Geerlings

It is not hard to regard Abraham as one of the greatest men of all time. He was not a great scholar. He was not a great general. He was not a great ruler.
He was a great man in the realm of faith. Some people may think that to be great here is not really to be great. But men of faith have led the world in human progress and have blessed it with imperishable ideals.

Abraham certainly is great because of what his faith implies and what it accomplished. It surely is no mean honor to be the religious progenitor of Jews, Christians and Mohammedans. It is no small thing to be the founder of a race. It is no mere incident or happening to be a pathfinder in the realm of religious ideas. It is no simple achievement to lay hold upon an idea that has been a boon to all who have come under its sway.

It is somewhat difficult to account for this man of the far-away past. That a man of so much potential greatness should have come out of paganism seems strange. Of course he was in the midst of a flourishing civilization for that day. Doubtless he had some means of culture. Perhaps there were schools that might correspond to what we call colleges and universities. It may be that Abraham was to some extent a cultivated man. Certainly he could not be a child of his day
and not be touched by the moulding and making influences of his day. But the wonder of him is his idea of one God. How did he get it? Where did he get it? It is barely possible that there were a few others who were in possession of his thought, but how did it come? Some think it came to him by divine revelation. Perhaps so, but how did that come? The wonder that he had it is not diminished at all by any explanation we may offer as to the how of his getting it. He was brought up in the midst of paganism.

There was in his city a great temple dedicated to the worship of the moon god. Whether he ever participated in this worship
we do not know. What influence this religion had upon him we can not tell. But the marvel of the whole situation is that this man in the midst of these idolatrous surroundings had deep in his soul
the conviction that there is but one God.

Now this holder of this sublime idea, this idea that held within its bosom potential civilizations and priceless cultures and the highest ethical and spiritual influences, believed he had a call to leave his home country and go into one of which he knew nothing.
Migrations in that day were numerous and popular. Peoples were on the move. They were motivated by a variety of considerations. Evidently like all moving people in all the generations of men they wanted to improve their worldly condition.
There was better land in the unknown. There were more advantages across the river. They felt the call of the faraway. But here was a man who felt the call to move, but not because primarily he felt that he could improve his material condition. He thought he heard the voice of God in his soul calling him to the task of starting a new civilization. While it is true that Abraham was rewarded with an abundance of this world's goods becoming one of the richest men of his day, yet
this did not induce him to leave home for a new one. He went out west for a conviction. He went west for an ideal. He went west for the might be a trail in the history of religion in the world.
He went west that he might give to the world and preserve for it
the fact that there is but one true God and on that idea depend the welfare and the advancement of the peoples of the earth to real happiness and true greatness. He was indeed a pathfinder in the realm of the soul's highest interest. Therefore he stands forth in true greatness. He made a great sacrifice for an ideal. The value of a sacrifice is to be measured in terms of the value of the thing for which the sacrifice is made.

We are making progress today only by the leadership and our following of our ideals. Never before in the history of the world has there been such material progress, but that is worse than nothing in the end, if we make no spiritual progress. Let us have captains of industry who will lead us into new fields of achievement, but in the name of all that is good let us have idealists who will lead our souls onward toward the promised land of imperishable values. Let the God who saves dominate.

Sligh, Bradford Fight For Lead In MBYC Races

Regular Races, Dances Are Popular Events; Muskegon Regatta Soon

Judd Bradford and Bob Sligh are battling for the lead in the crescent class of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club races following results of the regular week-end racing events. Bradford leads the Saturday series by one point and Sligh leads the Sunday series by one point.

Winning skippers in the crescent class Saturday were Judd Bradford, first; Bob Sligh, second; Dick Sligh, third and Lew Withy, fourth. In crescent races Sunday Bob Sligh came in first. Other positions were Judd Bradford, second; Betty Arnold, third and Dick Sligh, fourth.

In the Lawley class on Saturday Jim White was first, Peter Van Domelen, III, second; Bill Brace, third and Frank Fulke, fourth. Sunday races found Fulke on top, White, second; Brace, third and Van Domelen, fourth.

Lew Withy, Sr., captured first place in the National one design race Sunday and Seymour Padnos came in second. Louis Brooks was third and Mike Keeler, fourth.

A 22-square meter race scheduled for Sunday on the outside course was called off when a heavy haze settled over the lake and the boats were unable to locate the second buoy.

Several local boats are expected to enter the annual regatta of the Western Michigan Yacht association to be held at the Muskegon Yacht club, Aug. 7, 8 and 9, a major event of the yachting season. Larger boats will enter the race from Macatawa to Muskegon on Aug. 7, the opening feature of the regatta. Many of the smaller Crescents from the local club are expected to go to Muskegon to participate in other regatta events.

On Saturday evening of last week the club held another formal dinner dance for members and their guests. Because of the popularity of these affairs Mrs. William P. Telling of Holland, social chairman, has announced they will continue having them every Saturday during the season. On Friday evenings informal junior dances will be held.

The water ski troupe which is such an attraction for the cottagers on Macatawa lake, appeared over the week-end at the Great Lakes Naval Training station to give an exhibition for the boys in training. They held an exhibition there the last week-end in June which was so enthusiastically received that they were invited back. The troupe is composed of Charles R. Sligh, Jr., and William Telling, both of Holland, and G. Mortimer Roberts and Lieut. George M. Good, both of Grand Rapids. Mr. Sligh's son, Charles, accompanied the troupe. They gave shows Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Many Enjoy Gala Barn Dance at C.P.

Livestock running wild about the dance floor and guests attired in hayseed costumes featuring straw hats, checked shirts, overalls, corn-cob pipes, sunbonnets and gay aprons combined to create a real farmlike atmosphere for the big barn dance on Castle park's outdoor dance dune Saturday night. General hilarity and good fun prevailed as the "farmers" danced to the rhythms of Joe De Vries' orchestra.

A novel twist was the seating arrangements—bales of hay around the dancing circle served as chairs on which guests could sit out dances. Ducks and goats wandered amiably about as the party progressed. Even the hand-shell housing Joe "Whaddy Know, Joe" De Vries and his country tuneesters had a newly thatched roof for the gala occasion.

Holding a prominent place in the decorations was a butter churn at which Miss Evelyn Van Eenennaam presided as "chief churner." Following the party the butter was sold to guests who report it "very good." The butter milk was given to those of the dancers who consider it a delicacy.

The largest crowd of the season attended the barn dance, colorful entertainment feature which won't be soon forgotten.

First white men to settle in Arkansas were French traders who, in 1686, established a post now marked by a state park.

Ex-Hope Student Receives 'Wings'

Grand Haven, July 30 (Special).—Second Lieut. Wallace Riemersma, after ten months of what he says was unusually rigorous training, received his "wings" from the naval air station school at Corpus Christi, Texas, and is now on leave, visiting his mother, Mrs. Henrietta Riemersma of Holland, who is staying in Grand Haven at the home of her parents, 1150 Columbus St., for a few weeks. Lieut. Riemersma is to report at San Diego, Calif., air base Aug. 8 and will receive about 100 hours of advanced gunnery and then be ready to take to the air against the enemy. He will probably fly one of the new Grumman fighters.

Five years ago Lieut. Riemersma thrilled football fans with his ball carrying as a halfback on the Grand Haven high school team and soon will show his skill against his country's enemies as a U.S. marine corps fighter pilot. He was born in Grand Haven June 5, 1918, where he lived most of his life, was graduated in 1937 from the Grand Haven high school where he starred in football and played basketball. He attended Hope college for two years, and was a member of the varsity football team in his sophomore year, and also played basketball there. He is recalled as one of the most promising halfbacks in the M. I. A. A. conference of that year—1940.

He enlisted in the naval air corps last year but was not called immediately and during the summer of 1941 until he was called in to service Aug. 20, was a Grand Haven city police motorcycle officer. Later he shifted from the naval air corps to the marines, selected because of his early record in the service.

His brother, Corp. Clifford Riemersma, is in the coast artillery at McCord, Wash., not far from Tacoma. Their mother usually resides with another son, Gerald, two miles east of Holland.

Local Men in the Armed Forces

Norman Buurman, first class private, and George H. Buurman, a sergeant, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buurman of 187 East 11th St., left with Co. D of the National Guard in October, 1940, for active training in Louisiana.

They were stationed for a time at Camp Beauregard and then transferred to Camp Livingston, La. At the beginning of this year the division moved to Fort Devens, Mass., then to San Francisco, Calif., and finally to Australia. The twins were born Dec. 12, 1919, and attended Holland high school. George was formerly employed by General Motors in Grand Rapids and Norman worked in a foundry.

With reservations for the benefit party at the Macatawa Bay Yacht club on Wednesday, Aug. 5, now pouring in, indications are that the affair will be one of the important social events of the summer. The dessert-bridge, to begin at 2 p.m., is sponsored by a group of local women who will purchase gifts for the Holland men in service with funds raised from the party.

All ticket reservations and special donations may be made with Mrs. Phillips Brooks, ticket chairman, and members of her committee, including Mesdames T. P. Cheff, Edgar P. Landwehr, H. S. Maentz, Larry Kolb, Henry Carley, Willis Diekmann, Henry Geerts and Chester Van Tongeren.

Prizes for the party have been donated by local merchants, including the Seven-up Bottling Co., Carley Amusement Co., Dutch Mill restaurant, Jean's Novelty shop, DeFouw Electric Co., Down Town IGA, Model Drug store, Fris Book store, Floraine Beauty Salon, and Ireal Dry Cleaners. Tickets were donated by Steketee-Van Huis.

Those arranging tables for bridge are asked to bring their own playing cards. A meeting of the committee will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Yacht club.

War Workers at Local Plants Use Share-Ride Plan

Drivers Who Qualify May Purchase Grade Two or Recap Tires

Leading defense industries in Holland are cooperating with the OPA in organizing the Labor-management transportation plan in which defense workers may obtain grade two tires or recapped tires for their cars, it was revealed here by John J. Good, local rationing chairman.

This transportation plan, he explained, is only for workers who live two miles or more from their factory. The driver applying for tires must have three other employees from the same factory who also live two or more miles from their work as riders in his car.

Committees which are being appointed in each of the factories will consider applications made by the workers and after this application is given approval by the committee, the workers fill out the regulation application for tires or recaps. The local war price and rationing board will act upon it and the general procedure is followed.

Mr. Good said the quota for second-line tires for Ottawa county is very low. He also pointed out that if the present tire or tires can be recapped, new tires will not be allowed the applicant.

Each defense firm has an average of three members on the committee. Among the firms co-operating in the plan are Armour Leather Co., Baker Furniture, Inc., Chris-Craft Corp., H. J. Heinz Co., Holland Furnace Co., Holland Hilt Co., Holland Precision Parts, Inc., Holland-Racine Shoes, Inc., Sligh-Lowry Co., the Western Machine works and the Charles R. Sligh Co.

This means that persons employed in industries engaged in non-essential war production and employing less than 100 workers will not be able to obtain tires through the rationing board and that persons employed in war production plants will not be able to obtain tires unless they can produce proof that they actually participating in an accepted "swap-rule" program.

The new policy emphasizes that any person employed in a plant engaged in war production work and who are otherwise eligible to obtain second-line tires must prove to the satisfaction of the local price and rationing board that he is a bona fide participant in a continuing ride arrangement with fellow employees.

Become Unit of Military Police

Guards at Two Local Plants Are Sworn In By Air Force Officer

Added precautions to protect local plants which are engaged in filling war orders for the U. S. army air forces were taken Monday when plant guards of two places were sworn in as a civilian auxiliary to the military police "to protect war materials, war premises, and war utilities against all enemies, foreign and domestic."

The guards involved in this new arrangement include six at the municipal power plant and four at the Holland Precision parts plant. It is in keeping with a war department ruling.

Lieut. J. N. Failing of Detroit, with the U. S. army air forces, came to Holland to swear in the guards as auxiliary military police. He also obtained signed agreements from them and read them the articles of war and general orders and regulations concerning their duties as guards.

In their agreements the guards agreed to "faithfully discharge" their duties and will obey any orders issued in connection therewith by the president of the United States, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, and his duly authorized officers. They also agreed to be subject to military law during their period of employment as plant guards.

"In order that the existing military forces of the United States may be most effectively employed in combat activity against enemies of the United States, the United States approves employment of certain guards as a civilian auxiliary to the military police for the purpose of guarding and protecting war materials, war premises and war utilities from injury or destruction by the enemy, or otherwise, including the making of arrests, as peace officers, for violations of federal laws, as well as for violations of orders and regulations issued by the military authority," the instructions read.

The orders provided that only persons physically fit, well trained in use of arms and in duties incident to their positions and of unquestionable loyalty to the United States may be employed as guards. They also provide that the guard force will be drilled and instructed with a view of supplementing the army in resisting attacks on war materials, war premises and war utilities which they have been assigned to guard.
