City GOP Caucus Attracts Largest Crowd in Years

The largest number to attend a political caucus in Holland in recent history gathered in the Warm Friend Tavern Friday night to nominate delegates for the city's six precincts to the county Republican convention.

Names of nominees for the 51 county delegate positions allotted Holland city will be printed on gummed stickers which can be put on a special ballot for county delegates when voters enter the voting booths in the Aug. 5 primaries. Voters are reminded that pasting a sticker on a ballot is not enough. A cross must be put before each name.

Heretofore, county delegates were selected mainly through a few scattered write-in votes, the result of efforts of a few party leaders working in each ward. Write-in votes are still allowed, but the stickers will assure a more representative poll of the party in each precinct.

Delegates named in the Aug. 5 primary will serve two years and will be entitled to attend all county conventions. The next county convention is scheduled Aug. 12, one week after the primaries. At this convention, delegates to the state convention will be held later will be selected. The state convention will nominate candidates for the four state offices, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor general and attorney general. Only candidates for governor and lieutenant governor appear on the primary ballot.

Bruce M. Raymond, co-chairman of the Ottawa county Republican committee, presided at Friday's caucus and Mrs. Alice East served as secretary. Each precinct held its own caucus to name nominees for the ballot. About 60 persons were present.

Under Adoiment

Grand Haven (Special)—Circuit Court has taken under advisement the Ristau custody case after a two-day hearing on a petition of Marjorie Ristau of Muskegon seeking custody of seven-year-old Ronald Mack Ristau, currently in the care of his father, Frank Ristau of Holland. Mrs. Bertha Ristau of Muskegon, mother of Frank, testified this morning that she assists her son in caring for the child.

A startling sight on Lake Macatawa yesterday was a revolutionary new type of sailboat riding on two hulls and carrying 146½ square feet of red and white candy-striped sails. The catamaran type sailboat was undergoing tests before departing for Chicago early this morning. The 16-foot cat-boats dubbed the Lear-Cat after William P. Lear, of Grand Rapids, who manufactured the boat at his Santa Monica, Calif., plant, was attempting to be the first of its type to make the lake crossing. The two twin hulls draw only 4½ inches of water with the mid section acting as an airfoil which tends to lift the boat out of the water. The picture above shows the water flowing underneath the mid-section during a test run in Lake Macatawa Wednesday afternoon. Aboard, left to right, are Jay Freer and boat designer Francis (Skip) Creger. During the tests, the boat was outtraced by many craft on Lake Macatawa. (Sentinel photo)

Twin-Hulled Sailboat Attempts Lake Crossing

A 16-foot, twin-hulled catamaran sailboat that combines modern principles of aircraft design and construction, cleared the channel at Lake Macatawa bound for Chicago at 5:15 a.m. this morning.

The revolutionary catamaran is the first of its type to attempt the lake crossing. Aboard are boat designer Francis (Skip) Creger and Jay Freer, an associate. Freer, acts as airline pilot for Lear Inc., builders of the catboat. Named the Lear-Cat, the sailboat has a beam of 7½ feet and a draft of only 4½ inches. It displaces 350 pounds and carries 146½ square feet of sail on its 26½ foot main and jib.

The two hulls are joined by a wing section which tends to lift the boat out of the water on an air cushion as speed increases. Creger estimated the boat would average 8 knots per hour and take about 15 hours to go to Chicago.

The boat was built at the Lear Inc. plant in Santa Monica, Calif., and flown to Grand Rapids where it was assembled. From Grand Rapids it was trucked to Holland where Creger and Freer tested the boat in Macatawa Bay and Lake Michigan prior to departure early this morning.

The only navigating instruments aboard are a compass and a radio receiver. Creger said that with good winds he expected no difficulty in making the crossing. Bearing him out in his confidence was the fact the two men were carrying only sandwiches and a thermos of coffee.

The boat caused quite a flurry of attention when it tied up overnight at the slip leased by the Tony Butterfield water ski school, in front of Hotel Macatawa. Several bystanders shook their heads after looking at the boat and thought of the long sail to Chicago.

Creger, a naval architectural graduate from Northwestern university has spent the last 7½ years in the Hawaiian islands experimenting with various types of catamarans. He said the present 16-foot boat now is in commercial production as well as a 18-footer and a 35-foot custom built cat-boat. The latter will sleep four, and contains a galley and toilet facilities plus having lots of head room in the cabin.

Lowry and Sligh Are New Owners Of Lith-I-Bar Co.

O. W. Lowry and Charles R. Sligh, Jr., today announced that negotiations have been completed whereby they have acquired full ownership of The Lith-I-Bar company of Holland.

The company was founded in 1945 by the late Frank Milewski, who was drowned a year ago. It originally was established to manufacture a highly specialized machine for production of concrete joists.

Subsequently, the company started manufacturing machines for high-speed automatic production of concrete block and other masonry units, which have been marketed under the name of Lith-I-Bar Block.

The business met with rapid success and its machines are being sold and installed throughout the United States and in Central and South America.

In a statement to The Sentinel, Lowry said, "Although Mr. Sligh and I are newcomers in this industry, we know that it has tremendous possibilities, as has been shown by the way the business expanded in the few short years under management of Mr. Milewski. We propose to keep this as a Holland industry, and to work with the present personnel in carrying it forward."

At present the company has 60 employees. The factory is located on West 15th St., in buildings formerly occupied by the Lakeshore Sugar Co. Offices are on the second floor of The Sentinel building.

New officers are: Lowry, president; Sligh, vice president and treasurer, and Marvin C. Lindeman, secretary.

Last Holland Hope In Singles Play Topped Wednesday

Holland's last hopes in the singles division of the National Junior and Boys' tennis tourney at Stowe Stadium in Kalamazoo were lost Wednesday as Henry Viascher was dropped by 6th-seeded John Cranston of San Marino, Calif., 6-2, 6-4.

In Junior doubles play Viascher and Bill Japinga are the only remaining Holland entries after Wednesday's defeat of Dave Moran who had teamed with Jim Fowler of Kalamazoo. Moran-Fowler were eliminated by a top-flight duo from Virginia, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5, after they had blown a match point in the third set. Viascher-Japinga are scheduled to play Petra-Barney this afternoon.

Holland's young Paul Dykema was defeated Wednesday by Donald Bell of Bethesda, Md., 6-1, 6-0, in a third round match.

Joe Moran, director of the local contingent, reported that he is well satisfied with the showing of the boys, and that this is far and away the best group ever to represent Holland, at a national tourney.

Meanwhile, in Kalamazoo the field was narrowed yesterday to 16 boys in each division as play entered the fourth round. Twenty of the 32 survivors were seeded players, with 11 of the seeding already sidelined.

Not a single Michigan player was left, a testimony to the states' short playing season. Thirty-seven of the original 224 original entries were state players.

By-Pass Viaduct Contract Awarded To Allegan Firm

Lansing—Allegan contractors Carl Goodwin and Sons were awarded the low-bid contract to construct a grade separation one-half mile south of the south-east Holland city limits yesterday in Lansing.

The grade separation, which will carry the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad over the southern section of the US-31 by pass route, will cost $199,458, according to State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

It will include two spans, 44-feet, eight inches wide and two spans 54-feet, four inches wide. The work also will include construction of the new reinforced concrete and steel underpass railroad grade separation structure, construction of an embankment for a temporary run-around track and .156 miles of approach grading.

Completion date for the project is July 31, 1953.

Contacted in Allegan this morning, the Goodwin firm said work will begin in about a month when bonds, etc., are approved. A company spokesman said some local men will be employed on the job for general work.

It was one of 32 road construction contracts totaling more than $7.8 million awarded by the state highway department yesterday. It represents an all-time record for a single day.

Ziegler said Michigan's highway building program is shifting into high gear with more than $10.2 million worth of orders given to low-bidding contractors this month.

This brings the over-all building program to a grand total of $50 million since last September, an 11-month total which is twice the $25 million program of 1950, Ziegler said.

The state, counties and municipalities are involved in highway construction with passage of the 1951 "highway reform legislation" which split revenues from gas and weight taxes into 44 per cent for state, 39 per cent for counties and 17 per cent for municipalities.

For the first 12 months of the increased weight and gas taxes, more than $124 million was collected to finance highway construction, Ziegler said.

Goodwin also was low bidder at $688,096, along with Louis Garavaglia, Centerline, for 6,491 miles of concrete paving on M-140 south from Waterford.

Holland Construction Co., was awarded a $42,207 contract for 2,399 miles of aggregate surfacing on the Edwardsburg-Dowagiac road north from M-60.

One of the six occupants in the Castaneda car was injured. Olivia Gayta, of 195 East 17th St., was treated in Holland hospital for injuries to her head and right side.

Driver of the truck was Fred Arnoldick, 41, of 29 East 29th St. The truck was not damaged. Castaneda was driving a '50 model owned by Henry Mendoza of 65 East Seventh St. Both the right and left sides were damaged to the extent of about $200. City police investigated.

Fleet of Ships Merely Navy Training Vessels

Holland Coast Guard has received many queries concerning the small fleet of boats seen frequently off the Lake Michigan shore, and reported off Saugatuck the last few days. They are destroyer escorts operating out of the Great Lakes Naval training station and manned by naval reservists who are fulfilling the required two weeks summer training.

The boats anchored off Saugatuck bay Wednesday night and some of the men were given liberty later in the evening.

Culprits Sought in New Break-Ins in Holland

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today urged local residents to take special care at night after two more cases of break-ins were reported to police.

Fred Stam told police $30 had been taken from his room at 153 College Ave., and Gunnard Bjork, of 210 Maple Ave., reported that the screens of his home had been cut.

Several other minor break-ins and thefts plus some serious vandalism occurred last week in the area.

"Notify the police immediately if you hear any suspicious noises like people breaking in," the chief said.

Local State Park Is Popular Place During Week-End

Large crowds continued to converge on Holland State park during the week-end, bringing a week-end total of 26,287 and boosting the week's total to 55,530.

All park facilities were taxed to the utmost for the week-end, particularly all parking space and tables. Water temperature was around 74 degrees and bathing and beach activities provided the main diversion.

Park Manager Clare Broad pressed all park rangers into service. The mechanical counter revealed 5,208 visitors on Friday, 10,696 for Saturday and 12,383 for Sunday.

Park officers have found it necessary to issue some tickets for parking violations and to station more officers on traffic. They also enlisted the co-operation of parents of youths riding motor scooters. These youthful riders often speed around the oval resulting in a hazard for the safety of small children. Many often ride double, which is contrary to park rules.

One car driver was given a ticket as the result of a week-end accident. A car driven by Erna Edith Kahn, Grand Haven, hit a parked car and then slid into the car of Ken De Jong of Zeeland, a park ranger, whose car was considerably damaged. Mrs. Kahn was charged with failure to observe a safe distance ahead.

Park officers also are discouraging "table hogs" as best they can. Very often, picnickers arrive at the park and "save" a table by putting their picnic gear on it. Other picnickers are inconvenienced later, and when the opinion of officers is asked, officers invariably tell the picnickers to remove the baskets, use the table and put baskets back when they are through. If any arguments transpire, the instructions are to call a ranger.

South Haven state police said the youth had defective vision and was not wearing his glasses at the time of the accident. He had gone to a store across the road from his home and on the return walked into the side of the truck. He received a skull fracture and internal injuries and was taken to South Haven hospital in an ambulance.

He was a stepson of George Bunjee, route 1, Fennville.

Zeeland Couples Feted On 25th Anniversaries

Zeeland (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. John Alting and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Van Doorn of Zeeland were honored at a dinner party Tuesday evening at the Hub restaurant. The occasion was celebration of their 25th wedding anniversaries.

A brief program was given with Tom Wyngarden as spokesman. Remarks also were given by Harry Derks, Adrian Wiersma, Sybrand Schipper and Albert G. Pyle. A gift was presented to both couples.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Adrian De Pree, Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wyngarden, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Derks, Mr. and Mrs. Sybrand Schipper, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Meengra, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Wiersma, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Vande Luyster, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butters, Mr. and Mrs. William Staal, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mulder and the honored guests.

Some of the best registered retriever dogs in the United States were in Holland recently to show off their talents at the home of Edgar Landwehr, 98 South Division Ave.

Landwehr owns 15 registered retriever dogs and enters them in registered American Kennel club field trials throughout the United States. Billy Wunderlich of Winona, Minn., trains and keeps Landwehr's dogs at his Big Tail Kennels in Winona.

Wunderlich is one of just six registered retriever trainers in this country.

The Minnesota man brought four of Landwehr's dogs to Holland for an exhibition and also brought the 1952 national golden retriever champion "Lucky," owned by Maland Wallace, St. Louis, Mo.

Guests at the Landwehr home for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. John Romadka and children from Waukegan, Wis., who brought four of their prize dogs along. Romadka is a veteran retriever owner and was one of three judges at the national field trials at Seattle, Wash., last fall.

To show off the dogs, in the field, Landwehr went out about 100 yards and threw up a pigeon. Another pigeon was thrown out about 50 yards to the left of Wunderlich. The selected dog would "heel" (stand quietly beside) Wunderlich.

On a signal and a direction point the dog would dash out and retrieve the bird, then heel again. Wunderlich did the same in the direction of the other bird and the dog would repeat, each time giving the bird up to Wunderlich when it returned.

Each of the dogs—Golden and Labrador retrievers—would do the same. Then birds were placed in the tall brush via a truck and the dogs were not allowed to peek. When they were heeled and shown the direction they dashed out and retrieved the birds.

While showing off the dogs on blinds, Wunderlich would blow a whistle if the dog went off course. Immediately the dog would stop, face Wunderlich and wait for a wave of the arm to the left or right, depending on the direction of the bird. Then the alert dog would follow directions until the scent was picked up.

Then the exhibition moved to the edge of Pine Creek bay, in front of the Landwehr home. Taped ducks were used and dogs would follow points into the water to retrieve the birds.

To show off the swimming ability of the dogs, Wunderlich ordered a boat to place a duck in the deep weeds way across the bay. He then pointed a prize black Labrador named "Bandit" in that direction.

After several whistles and direction waves from Wunderlich, Bandit located the bird and brought it to shore.

Wunderlich will take the dogs on the field trial circuit beginning in August and hopes to qualify most of them for the national trials.

Holland Woman Sues Contractor

Allegan (Special)—Carl Goodwin and Sons, Allegan highway contractors, have been named in a suit asking $20,000 for damages by Mrs. Doris Vanderwall, Holland.

Rotarians Hear State Officer

Don Weeks, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, spoke at the Holland Rotary club on the subject "Building Industrial Health in Your Community." Thursday noon at Castle park. In the absence of President Robert Wolbrink, Vice-President Harold Ramsey presided.

Weeks commended the community of Holland for not only being a fine place in which to live but a fine place in which to do business. The problem of first importance with which the Department of Economic Development concerns itself is the promotion of a good economic climate for industries already within the State. In addition they seek to interest other industries in locating in Michigan.

He urged the community of Holland, as he would every community in the state, to be alert constantly to improving its own economic climate. A fair tax assessment and a right attitude on the part of those residing in the community are contributing factors.

Visiting Rotarians included William Warner from Trenton, N. J.; Dr. John Visser, Detroit; David Vaughn, South Bend; Lucius Sayre, Tryon, N. C.; William Feltrow, London, Ohio; J. G. Quick, Pittsburgh; Dr. William Pierce, Lima, Ohio; Ray Eusden, Newton, Mass., and Edward Bartow, Iowa City.

Martin Outlines His Platform In Holland Talk

Auditor General John B. Martin, candidate for the GOP nomination for the U. S. Senate, summed up his platform in a few brief words by calling "present taxes too high, morals too low, federal payrolls too big, Communists too many and present foreign policy a masterpiece of confusion."

Speaking before the Holland Kiwanis club and guests in the Warm Friend Tavern Monday evening, Martin warned of the ever present danger the Communist party poses. He called the "Russian members of the diplomatic corps in this nation outright spies" for their country.

"If Russia keeps acting like it is now, we won't be able to solve the Korean situation in Korea alone," he said. "We must continue our talks with them in hopes for a settlement. But, when we reach the point where we have strength enough to tell them 'we'll put an atomic bomb down in Russia if we can't get together' then I believe they'll stop and listen to us."

"If we don't stop the Communists, they're going to stop us by destroying this country," he said. In answer to a question, Martin said this country probably will reach the point where it can wield a "big stick" within the next 18 to 24 months. "Our problem now," he said, "is to hope that Russia doesn't reach its peak before we do."

Martin endorsed a flexible program of farm price support but took exception to direct subsidies, both for farm prices and for soil conservation methods. Under the latter arrangement, the farmer receives federal subsidies if he conforms to governmental methods of soil conservation. Martin labeled this an insult to the good farmer who would go ahead and adopt good conservation methods anyway.

After his introduction by Kiwanis President Jack Plewes, Martin called attention to State Senator Clyde Geerlings, sitting in the audience, and praised his work in the legislature.

A semi loaded with miscellaneous freight overturned when the load shifted at Jipping's corner on M-40 a mile south of the city limits at 7:45 p.m. Monday.

The tractor and trailer were damaged to the extent of $700 to $800, but the driver, Clarence Stout of Twin Lake near Muskegon, was not injured. The semi, headed south, turned over on its right side onto the intersection, causing traffic to be routed to a single lane for 4 1/2 hours before the vehicle was unloaded and righted. It is owned by Wolverine Express.

Deputy Earle Tellman, who directed traffic and investigated the crash, also called the Graafschap fire department to stand by in case of fire since considerable gasoline was spilled. There was no fire.

It was two hours before a wrecker from Muskegon arrived. The entire load which contained some heavy machines had to be unloaded. Regular traffic resumed at 12:15 a.m.

NO SHIRT-TAIL RIDER—FRED M. ALGER

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural. Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first. Both have proven themselves good and able administrators, Ike in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II. Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorship, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression, Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

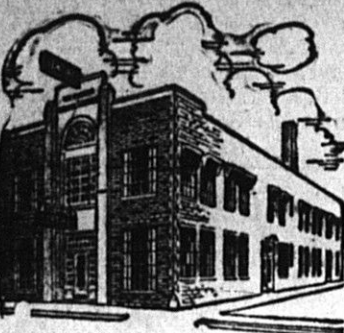

They understand each other. It's a pair that can't be beat.

For Michigan and the nation, it's

THE POLITICS OF RELUCTANCE

The case of Adlai Stevenson represented a fascinating display of human nature in politics. There can be no doubt that Stevenson's reluctance was his most compelling political asset. It is human to want what you can't have, and a thousand arguments in favor of the Stevenson candidacy would have been less persuasive for the average Democratic delegate than the repeated "no" of the Illinois governor.

There are suspicious souls who suggest that the whole thing was a deep-laid scheme on the part of Stevenson to win the nomination.
They think that Stevenson is a better psychologist than most public men and that he adopted this means of winning votes.

The only trouble with that theory is that nothing is harder to fake than the appearance of sincerity.
In theory a policy of reluctance would be excellent politics, but a public man would have to be a far greater psychologist than even the greatest public men are, to put on such an act and put it over.
Average people may not be able to look through a stone wall, but they almost invariably feel the difference between sincerity and an act.

If Stevenson had not been genuinely reluctant he would never have succeeded in persuading the rank and file of his party that he did not want the nomination. To fool all the people for any length of time is humanly impossible. But the fact that the Illinois governor held back was certainly the source of his greatest appeal to the people of his party.

In the very nature of things such an attitude must be rare. Most public men are so eager to win
the greatest political prize on earth
that they leave no stone unturned
to make themselves seem available. While few public men can imitate Stevenson, many might make themselves more attractive to their electorate if they thought less about themselves and their political assets.

Most politicians in both parties are not political enough. They fail to reckon with that human trait that makes people want what it is hard to get. By throwing themselves at the voters of their party they cheapen themselves. An attitude of restraint is good politics in the long run. But that takes a little more character and self-restraint than some candidates possess.

College Request
Denied by Board

A request from Hope college to use the second floor of the house
at 66 East 12th St. for apartments was denied at a meeting of the Board of Appeals Tuesday night
in the council chambers.

The board voted to turn down the request because of insufficient land surrounding the house for a three family dwelling under the zoning ordinance. Several objections to the proposed plan were read at the 7 p.m. meeting.

In other action the board deferred for further consideration an appeal from Western Foundry Co.
to build an addition to the plant
at Fairbanks Ave. and Eighth St.
Residents living in the area registered objections against the proposed addition at Tuesday's meeting.

Sunday School
Lesson

August 3, 1932
Samuel, Judge and Prophet
1 Samuel 7: 5-17

By Henry Geerlings
What is a revival? We hear of a revival in business, and that means that more business is being done because of better conditions and larger investments and greater returns. Then there is a revival in education. This takes different paths, each having more persons who are more devoted to having more pupils devoted to facilities for learning.

Revival in the church suggests that more members are more heartily engaged in carrying out the program of the church particularly in evangelism. This lesson is about spiritual revival as it applies to a nation. The process of this revival starts with and works through the individuals, for after all it is the composite of the individuals that makes any large scale movement possible. The word revival is not to indicate only the high pressure methods of former years, still practiced in scattered places. It must mean more machinery and method.

The lesson story faces the fact that conditions of the times, a weakened spiritual life following Eli's failure as a spiritual leader, and the personal element enter into the need of a spiritual revival and the meeting of the need. The leader had much to do with it, but the people contributed their part in making the revival possible in the sense that those retaining the spiritual helped reach those who were unconcerned.

Samuel had qualifications for heading a spiritual revival and seeing it through. He had a deep sense of spiritual life. He was awake for the need for revival in Israel. He believed that a revival was possible and that he could bring one about. Best of all he was aware of the necessary steps to achieve a spiritual revival in the nation.

It was one thing to persuade the people to want to get back into the favor with God, and be allied with Him. It was another thing to keep them in that state of mind. The tendency to return to idolatry would be strong, if there was any evidence of idolatry allowed to remain. So, to stop it, the idols were thrown out. The sight of an idol would turn the mind and heart of some into wrong paths. This removal must be by the people themselves, since an outward deed is proof of a heart decision.

The people were to put away
their idols, utterly destroy them.
On the principle that pulling weeds is not enough, but the weeded ground must be cultivated and reseeded, Samuel called for more than stopping idolatry. He demanded that the heart be right with God, and service of God be pursued. Only thus could they rise to the conviction of God. Only thus could they live up to the First and Second commandments.

The second step in having a spiritual revival was to seek the help of God. There must be a united people. The assembled people led Samuel lead. He suggested prayer. He was the one doing the praying, but the people were to make this prayer their own as we are supposed to do when the minister says "Let us pray." There was a liturgical form followed in pouring out water before God.
Then there was the confession of sin against God.

Israel was earnestly seeking the help of God. In this quest they were intensified by the sudden activity of the Philistines. There is no letup in dangers when a spiritual revival is planned. So there was a call for ceaseless prayer, this time an urgent request to Samuel by the people. It was an emergency prayer and God answered it in a remarkable way.
The spiritual revival was making headway through God's unfailing
help.

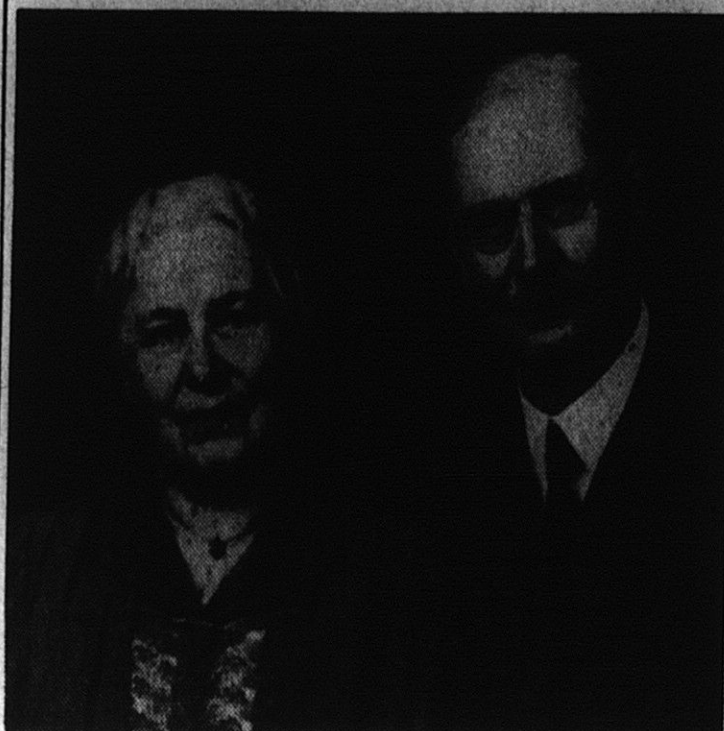

This was part of the revival.
The acknowledgement of God as its source, the public declaration of crediting God with helping them was a vital step. It made them stronger to stand for God.
He was worthy of remembering.
The Ebenezer kept them from forgetting this. Thus they were in line for larger blessings. Their prosperity was linked with the spiritual revival. There were the individual's obligation, the congregation's part, and God's response, as they were renewed in life, faith, zeal and service.

Any revival that is to accomplish its purpose must begin with the people who are called the children of God. That has always been the case and must continue to be. Jesus was never greatly alarmed about the number and strength of the men of the world.
What did concern Him was the state of mind and heart of His disciples. If He can keep His own true to Himself He can count on the conquest of the world in due course.

History tells us that every revival that has begun with a few choice spirits giving themselves to Bible reading and prayer for a new passion in the work of God will succeed. It is not probable the practice will be changed. It is generally expressed in the phrase
"Calling upon the Lord." This can be done by individuals and others who are not able to get to the house of worship very often. We have little idea how this practice
can put new power into the program of the church.

Notice to Politicians:
No Signs on Trees, Poles

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today warned politicians that it is unlawful to place signs on trees,
poles, utility poles or other public property along streets and highways.

Placing such placards and signs is contrary to chapters 44 of the city ordinances, he said. The only exception is for notices of registration, election or legal notices,
in which case the signs must be pasted. No tacks, nails or metal fasteners are allowed.

Chief Van Hoff said all signs
which have been put up contrary to the ordinance must come down.

Primary Election
Throughout State

Just one week from today on Tuesday, Aug. 5, voters in Holland will join those from all over Michigan in casting their votes in the state and county primaries.

Voting machines on a county-wide basis will be used for the first time in Ottawa county in the Aug. 5 primaries, and officials are busily engaged in educating the populace on voting machine techniques.

Already 90 persons have applied for absent voter ballots in Holland city, according to City Clerk Clarence Greengood. Deadline for applying for absent voter ballots is Saturday at 2 p.m. The ballots must be returned before polls close Tuesday at 8 p.m. They may be returned to the city clerk's office well in advance of the 8 p.m. deadline, or may be taken to the voting precincts on Tuesday by some relative or friend.

City Clerk Greengood said all voting machines have been set up for the primaries with the exception of two machines now in use for exhibition purposes. One is at First National bank and the other in the city treasurer's office on the first floor of City Hall. Demonstrations at the bank are in charge of the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary during banking hours.

Besides voting for state and county officers on the voting machines, Holland voters also will elect 18 Democrats and 51 Republicans as delegates to the county conventions. These delegates will be elected on special ballots,
the Republicans on one side and the Democrats on the other. Holland city Republicans held a caucus
Friday night to nominate delegates for each ward, and these nominations will appear on special stickers available to voters outside the polls.

Holland city's 51 Republican delegates are allocated as follows: First ward, 6; second ward, 10; third ward, 9; fourth ward, 8; fifth ward, 9; sixth ward, 9. The city's 18 Democratic delegates are allocated as follows: First ward, 5; second ward, 3; third ward, 2;
fourth ward, 3; fifth ward, 2;
sixth ward, 3.

In Tuesday's primaries, the voter may vote only for one party,
since the primary election is only a nominating procedure. Split ballots are allowed in the November election.

Here are the simple instructions
for voting by machine:

1. Move red handle to the right,
closing the curtain.
2. Turn primary lever to party name and leave it there.
3. Turn voting lever down over name of each candidate and leave voting levers down.
4. Move red handle to the left, recording vote and opening the curtain.

Snafu Pairs Holland Community Ambassador With German Fraulein

By Guy Vander Jagt
Your Community Ambassador
Bonn, Germany (Special) — "Expect the Unexpected" is the motto of the Experiment in International Living under whose auspices I am spending the summer in Europe, and my first five minutes in Bonn, Germany, vividly demonstrated the appropriateness of the three-word slogan.

Ten days ago as my train sped toward Bonn I anxiously anticipated my first meeting with a young man, selected by the experiment to share his home with me and to be my daily companion for three months. Even though I had been warned to "Expect the Unexpected," all of my carefully memorized German greetings vanished under the spell of the surprise standing on the station platform. I muttered "Auf Wiedersehen"—My brother's name was Elizabeth.

Yes, a secretarial error has matched me with a 19-year-old, blue-eyed German fraulein. But we have hit it off splendidly, and what seemed to be a catastrophic blunder has become a most fortunate mistake. At present we are convinced that the slipshod secretary ought to be in line for a promotion.

Lisi, as she is affectionately called by the family, is an integral part of the closely knit Wullenweber family. Karl, a 20-year-old university student, is preparing for an architectural career, and 15-year-old Angela studies home economics at a nearby parochial school.

Five daily meals keeps Mama Wullenweber busy in the kitchen while Papa Wullenweber, the head of the family, works long hours in Bonn's department of finance.

The trip to the Wullenweber home through the Netherlands and northern Germany was delightful. Although life in Holland, Mich., had partially prepared me for the Netherlands, the overall impression could not be fully anticipated. Many of you who have seen old Holland know the futility of trying to paint a word picture of the quaint beauty in the Netherlands.

Herds of Holstein cattle grazing in neat green fields; the world famous windmills; endless swarms of bicycles zipping along narrow cobblestone streets; boats gliding through the center of town on picturesque canals blend into a never-to-be-forgotten picture.

The train trip from Rotterdam to Bonn provided a splendid capsule-like contrast between Germany and Holland. As soon as we crossed the German border the view from the train window was decidedly different. The neat patterns of orchards and farms were replaced by the smokestacks of factories.

Although there is little waste in Germany, the occasional unused strips of land are in marked contrast to Holland where every possible inch is cultivated, even the few yards between the railroad bed and the fences.

Holland has succeeded in erasing the most drastic of the war wounds. Germany, on the other hand, even seven years after the war, is a land of ruins and reconstruction. As our train passed through Cologne, we saw block after block of nothing but rubble and destruction. The realization that if there were another war, atomic bombs would make "Colognes" of many American cities sent shivers up and down my spine.

The German people, unlike many Americans, are scarcely conscious of the pressing possibility of a third world war—or if they are, this terrifying prospect is pushed from their thoughts.

One sees only negligible military preparations, only an occasional American jet plane as a reminder of the current arms race. The other night Lisi helped me to appreciate the German reluctance to contemplate another war. For two hours she had been telling me in graphic terms about the family's and Bonn's misery during air raid attacks. I could not help commenting, "It is hard to believe the world is ready to do this all over again."

Lisi appeared frightened and she said emphatically, "Oh, no, that cannot be. We could not stand it again. That would be the end."

But Germany, inconsistent as it seems, is terrified with the Russian menace, and the people are very grateful to General Eisenhower for his efforts to build a bulwark against communism. In fact, like would pick up many votes if Germany was allowed to vote in the fall elections. His popularity is so widespread among the German people that they are confident America will choose Eisenhower for its next president.

In my next letter I'll give you an inside view of life in a German family.

Brooks Checks Report Of People Changing View

Allegan (Special)—State Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks of Holland, said that it had been reported to him that Allegan area residents "have changed their minds about the undesirability of having a conservation-corrections work camp at Lake Allegan."

In identical letters he asked State Senator Edward Hutchinson, Fennville, and Rep. Ben E. Lohman, Hamilton, to check this report with local newspapers, Chambers of Commerce and service clubs.

Although workmen have almost completed tearing down about half the buildings at the Lake Allegan camp, Brooks indicated "we are leaving enough there to operate an honor prisoner camp if the people want one."

Fair Premiums At Record High

Allegan (Special)—Exhibitors and contestants at Allegan county's centennial fair, Sept. 8-15, will compete for more than $30,000 in prizes and premiums, according to Fair Secretary James Snow.

Snow said it was the biggest prize list in the history of the 100-year-old fair. Prizes for the three-day harness racing program will account for more than $14,000 and some $1,410 will go to winners in the national heavy-weight team pulling contest which will be held at the fair this year.

He also announced that plants and flowers would again be exhibited for premiums this year. In recent years, this division has been omitted for lack of space. With only a month remaining for fair week preparations, committee members were hard at work this week. Among newcomers to the staff are four new exhibit superintendents. James Chestnut will have charge of cattle and swine exhibits; Robert Immink, poultry; Jack Dendel, pomology department; and Mrs. Edwin Morton, plants and flowers.

Duck Case Will Continue Aug. 28

Grand Haven (Special)—Ottawa county's celebrated duck case, after three days of testimony before Circuit Court Judge Raymond L. Smith, has been continued until Aug. 28.

Plaintiffs in the case are Roy H. Barker and his wife who are seeking to enjoin John A. Pawdzik from continuing raising and housing ducks in a manner which affects the rights of plaintiffs in the enjoyment of their property and home. The wife wants to have the court order Pawdzik to operate the farm business so that it does not constitute a menace.

Plaintiffs completed their proofs Monday at 3:40 p.m. However, their counsel was given the right to further cross-examine the defendant.

Last witnesses called were the plaintiffs themselves. Mrs. Barker kept a diary recently so she was able to testify as to the facts as they have existed and when asked by defense counsel what kind of noises the ducks made, gave a continuous number of "quacks" testifying that was the best way she could explain the sound.

All persons involved live in Spring Lake township.

VOLLEYS FROM AMBUSH

Observant citizens who goggled at an automobile with New York state license plates Number "1" on Holland's streets this week should not conclude that Thomas E. Dewey, governor of the Empire state and Republican king maker, was visiting this city.

Governors always have first pick at "I-got-a-drag" tags but New York and other states that put political favors above economy — Michigan once did — also issue individual tags to drivers with a pull.

This impressive figure "1" was preceded by the initials "ND" for the "News of the Day" automobile fleet of the Hearst newsreel corporation. It carried Ariel L. Vargas and wife with their accumulated paraphernalia. As a photographer he has covered the world and was director of the company's New York City office until retiring to a farm in Norwich, Conn., a month ago.

The Vargases were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Junius B. Wood, longtime friends at Waukazoo.

There's an interesting little bet going on between two brothers who have cottages at General Park, and some longtimers around here may be able to come up with the answer.

The two brothers, Dr. A. W. Brookstra, now of Chicago, and C. L. Brookstra of Davenport, Iowa, have a wager on the old interurban line to Macatawa. They remembered when the interurban made its turn at Macatawa right in front of the hotel.

But as events developed, the hotel objected and demanded a certain sum of money for that privilege. Whereupon one night the interurban ripped off its tracks and rerouted the turn in front of the garage at Macatawa.

Now the point of debate is "When did this happen?" Dr. Brookstra thinks it was 1915.

Len Van Regenmortel and Judge Cross didn't know exactly. Do you?

One of the pithiest comments to come out of the Republican convention was voiced by Dr. Lester J. Kuypers at a meeting of the Board of Education last week.

Said the doc: "They don't have to talk to me about preachers being long-winded any more!"

Kuypers, as a faculty member at Western Theological seminary, teaches preachers how to preach.

Holland received a nice plug in a good will bulletin issued a week or so ago by the Department of Michigan, United Spanish War Veterans.

It read in part: "Despite the sudden heat wave starting June 14 and lasting until the encampment at charming 'Tulip Capital' city Holland was over, the several hundreds of comrades and sisters who attended the 49th annual USWW encampment were charmed with the clean, wholesome city and its warm hearted hospitable people. It was the first veterans' convention ever entertained there and the citizens seemed to enjoy us as much as we did them."

"The Holland Evening Sentinel were generous with their coverage of our meetings. Pictures, stories and proceedings profuse and nothing overlooked. From the memorial service in the world famous Hope college chapel, the joint meeting in Holland theater, the get-together dinner in the Warm Friend hotel, the regular meetings in VFW hall and Salvation Army citadel, and the grand ball and program in the beautifully decorated Armory, to the concluding installation of officers, there was not a hitch. Comrades and sisters departed happy and delighted, declaring it one of the best encampments in a long list of successful meetings over the years."

From the Chet Van Tongerens, currently visiting in Oxford, England, comes a group of English clippings with a lot of interesting bits of news.

One cut feature was about three little old ladies who were haled into court because they had taken a half dozen tulips from some nursery gardens. Horrified at finding themselves in dire peril of six months imprisonment under a 90-year-old larceny act, the little old ladies said they had rescued the flower garden visitors had looted the flower garden following a rumor that the owner was giving them away. The charge was dismissed.

There were several stories about the record-breaking speed of the new United States superliner which clipped 10 hours and two minutes from the Queen Mary's mark. Considerable space was devoted to the snake dances, the way hundreds of people on the breakwater were soaked by life tenders' hoses and the general merriment aboard.

Other stories concerned developments at the Republican convention in the United States as of July 8, particularly the Taft-Eisenhower vote on some amendment. There also was a feature on whether American women's clubs would make an issue of a divorced president, should Adlai Stevenson receive the Democratic nomination.

A sharp question-and-answer column brought snappy answers to a letter whether a man could afford to buy a television set on a salary of 10 pounds a week. One answer branded the question as "the most measly-mouthed balderdash I have ever read." Another advised him to sell the TV and emigrate.

The Sentinel also received an 18-page letter from Mrs. Van Tongeren concerning their visit to the Netherlands. It described in detail the houses, food, flower market, shops, government buildings, hotels and the children in Dutch costume. From the account, we may conclude the Van Tongerens enjoyed their stay in the Netherlands.

Remember that lonesome duck on the east end that cried a couple of weeks ago when her chicken companion got shooed back into a run with dozens of others?

After weeks of tramping the neighborhood with the duck, the chicken wouldn't give the duck a tumble and the duck practically quacked her heart out.

But it's turning out that the duck is just as fickle as the chicken. When the chicken finally did consent to join the duck again in the native habitat in the Leon Nykamp yard, the duck got temperamental and returned to the 80-odd young chickens at the Henry Van Voorst home.

Now the duck has set up house-keeping with all the chickens and seems to be having a wonderful time!

Latest comment from a tired TV viewer of the conventions: "Never before has so little been said by so many."

Driver, Her Passenger Injured in Collision

A truck, driven by Carl L. Vander Laan, 16, Coopersville, owned by Lisle Kirkbride, also of Coopersville, was attempting to make a left hand turn onto the Eastmanville road and struck a car driven by Mrs. Robert Page, 40, Muskegon Heights, causing the car to spin around and skid into the driveway of a gas station on the southeast corner of the intersection.

Mrs. Page received scalp lacerations and her companion, Mrs. Charles Hascher, 49, Muskegon Heights, received a fractured collar bone. State police cited the 16-year-old driver with having no chauffeur's license and making an improper left hand turn.

Chicago-Mackinac Yachting Classic Is Rugged Grind

The 333-mile Chicago to Mackinac, longest fresh water yachting race in the world, is a tough grind for crewmen aboard the boats.

For instance, the yachts in this year's classic that ended July 21 and 22 had to buck 65-mile-an-hour gales early Monday morning and many lost sails. There were other times the boats didn't have any wind and were calmed.

Chester Kramer, former Holland harbormaster, crewed aboard Charles Phelps' Corvette, sailing out of Macatawa Bay Yacht club.

The Corvette finished 10th in the class C division. She crossed the finish line Monday evening at 5:15 p.m. and the Whisper IV, owned by Hollis Baker, Sr., and also out of MBYC, crossed 20 minutes later at 5:35 p.m. The Bagheera from St. Joseph and flying MBYC colors, crossed at 6:15 and the last local yacht to finish was Carke Field's Reverie, which crossed the line early Tuesday morning.

Corrected time for the Corvette was 51:30. About midnight Sunday, she was caught in a squall off Frankfort, Kramer said. The crewmen changed tack about four times and then made a straight run to Manitou Passage, about 23 miles north of Frankfort.

At 5:20 Monday morning, she passed the north Manitou Passage light and ran along under a strong southwest wind at about 25 miles an hour. She passed Grey's reef light about 2 p.m. Monday and rounded No. 5 buoy and headed up the Straits of Mackinac 30 minutes later. From there to the island the Corvette had a boat-for-boat race with the Capri from Chicago but lost out by nine minutes.

The local yacht was 34th across the finish line of 57 yachts entered.

Members of the crew included besides Kramer, Charles Phelps, skipper, his father Arthur Phelps, cook, and Carl Thompson, Carol Boerman, Jack Leighton and Jack Longren.

Dutchmen Defeat Zeeland in Game At Riverview Park

Willie Rink Credited With Victory; Runs Scored on Misplays

Holland made it three out of four Monday night at Riverview park as they topped the Zeeland Chix 5-2 in a Southwestern Michigan league game.

Collecting three runs in the fourth they pulled ahead and insured the win with one run each in the sixth and seventh.

Holland's first three runs came when Tony Wentzel went to first on a fielder's choice, Whitey Witteveen singled, Butts Kool got on first and Wentzel scored on an infield error. Another infield error brought in Witteveen and Kool. Zeeland's two runs both came in the third inning when Roelofs singled and Louwsma made it two on with a fielder's choice. Then big Lum Veldman stepped to the plate and doubled both the runs in.

Hitting honors for the Dutch were scattered with Lou Humbert, Loren Wenzel, Zeke Piersma, Witteveen and Don Van Lente all hitting safely.

For Zeeland Veldman had the best night at the plate with two hits, one the two-run double in the third. De Jonge also had three hits, all singles.

Willie Rink gave up seven hits in going the distance for the locals, while Marinus Scheele pitched five-hit ball before being relieved by Gene Talsma in the eighth inning.

Pelon Sunoco Downs Skippers

In the first game at Van Tongeren field Tuesday night Pelon Sunoco, currently in the league cellar, played good softball to down Skippers 6-1. Skippers, only a half game out of first place, could collect just one run in the fifth, while Sunoco got three in the third, one in the fourth, and two in the fifth.

Harry De Neff scored three runs with a third inning homer for Sunoco. In the fourth Will De Neff hit a triple before scoring on an infield error. Case Velderman opened the fifth inning scoring with a home run. Vern Vande Water then hit a double, went to third on an error, and scored on Harry De Neff's single.

Skippers lone run came in the fifth when Herb Colton went to first on a fielder's choice, second on a single, third on another fielder's choice, and was forced in on a walk to Ken Bauman.

Sixth-Inning Rally Is Holland Margin Over Visiting VFW

For five innings in softball at Van Tongeren field Saturday night it looked like the Holland All Stars would never hit Sturgis' pitcher Phil Clippell. Facing only 14 batters in these innings his inside and outside hooks combined with a sharp rise to keep the Holland squad guessing. But a rally in the fifth and a four-run sixth gave the locals a 7-6 win over the Sturgis VFW.

In the preliminary game Hulst Brothers topped Central Ave. 5-1.

Holland's rally started with walks going to Walt Woldarczyk and Lou Alena. A single by Bob Vork loaded the bases with two of them scoring on Roger Schut's single. Vork then scored on a fly to left field.

Holland's big sixth started with an error, followed by Vork's double scoring one, a single by Schut scoring Vork and another error allowing Schut to score. Then a game winning single by Guite Van Langeveld, allowed the final tally to score.

Holland's three pitchers each gave up two runs. Jas. Ebels went four innings before giving way to Schut who was replaced with Norm Boeve in the seventh.

Sturgis collected two runs each in the second, fifth and seventh. Standout on the squad was pitcher Phil Clippell who held the Dutch scoreless for five innings. Jim Avery hit safely twice, once a homer. Four other VFW batters hit safely with doubles going to Floyd Veasy and Gene Crane.

Bill De Boer and Mel Vande Water, managing the All-Stars, used almost the whole squad in winning, with hitting honors going to Bob Vork for his double and to Schut with two singles. Bill Franka, Guite Van Langeveld and Woldarczyk all collected singles.

All-Star pitching allowed only six hits for six runs with Schut getting the win and Clippell gave up seven hits for seven runs in losing.

In the first game Hulst scoring was scattered with one in the first two in the third and two in the sixth. Roy Lieffers hit a home run for the winners. Bob Vork was the winning pitcher.

Don Ver Beek hit a homer for the losers in the fourth inning. Al Van Iwaarden was charged with the loss.

SAMPLE BALLOT-Primary Election August 5, 1952, Ottawa County, Michigan

Instructions for Voting On the Voting Machine

1. Move the RED HANDLE to the RIGHT.
2. Turn the PRIMARY LEVER to your PARTY NAME and leave it there.
The PRIMARY LEVELS are located on the lower right hand side of the machine. See illustration below. At this election you can vote for the candidates in ONE PARTY ONLY to which you turn the primary levers.
3. Turn a VOTING LEVER DOWN OVER THE NAME of each CANDIDATE of your choice.

LEAVE VOTING LEVERS DOWN

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting levers for each office, you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting lever is located just above the name; a voting lever must be turned over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave voting levers down. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle returns the voted voting levers to the unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.
