Council Approves New Pay Plan for City Employees

Some Already at Top;
Plan Calls for Outlay
For $11,130 This Year

Most city employees received pay increases effective July 1 according to action taken Wednesday night by City Council which approved a new classification schedule which has been under study for several months.

The increase amounts to $11,130.39 for the fiscal year 1954-55, according to City Manager H. C. McClintock who explained that the Municipal Personnel Service had classified all positions in the various departments. Many already are at the top of the pay scales and will receive no increases.

McClintock also explained that appointive city officers and department heads will be reviewed annually for possible merit increases and other employees will be reviewed every six months until employees reach the top of the pay scale.

Councilman Lavern Rudolph hailed the move as one of the biggest improvements in city government this year and said employees can now feel they are on a sane pay plan. Vote was unanimous.

Council also decided to give further study to the possibilities of landscaping the municipal parking lot at Civic Center. The city manager submitted a sketch drawn by Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg calling for 12 areas of two parking stalls each which would break up the "sea of asphalt." Such "islands" would be planted with shrubs and perennials rather than grass which would require considerably more care. Should such a plan be adopted a few water lines would have to be laid, McClintock pointed out.

He also read a letter from a representative of Kingscott and Associates, building architects, pointing out that the parking needs in this case were of primary importance. "We are always sympathetic to beauty, but in this case parking space is more necessary than the esthetic landscaping," the letter read. Statistics were quoted on utilization of parking space compared with building attendance.

Consideration also was given to an island walkway for safety's sake. Councilman Robert Visscher, Council's representative on the planning commission, said the commission was meeting tonight and could discuss the parking question.

Current drawings on parking utilization all call for "head-in" parking in stalls 10 by 20 feet, not angle parking. This arrangement allows the greatest possible number of cars to be parked in an area such as this.

Mayor Harry Harrington said Civic Center is nearing completion and would soon be ready for dedication, and appointed the following committee to map plans for the dedication and open house: the president of Hope college, the president of Inter-City Council, president of the Chamber of Commerce, superintendents of the public and Christian schools, president of the Ministerial association and one alderman.

Council approved purchase of a 10,000-gallon underground gasoline storage tank from Owosso Tank Co. for $792, the low bid submitted.

City Manager McClintock reported that the 1954 paving resurfacing program costs were considerably below estimates and recommended that the contract with the Michigan Colprovia Co. be extended to include the resurfacing of the following streets with 11-inch asphalt wearing surface: 22nd St. from State to Michigan; 21st St. from Columbia to Central; 23rd St. from State to Central; 11th St. from Pine to Van Raalte. Estimate of such work was listed at $150,500. Council approved.

McClintock also reported on a petition requesting paving of West 30th St. from Central to Michigan Aves. and recommended that Council authorize construction of the necessary storm sewer and direct the city manager to submit further reports as required by charter.

Other petitions requesting paving of 31st St. from Central to Michigan and Pine Ave. from 31st to 32nd Sts. also were referred to the city manager. A petition requesting construction of a sanitary sewer to service properties at 332, 351, 367 and 374 West 31st St. and 363 West 32nd St. also was referred to the city manager.

Applications for licenses to construct sidewalks were okayed for two petitioners, Bronkema and Derks, and Gerrit De Leeuw.

Chapter 14, Disable American Veterans, was granted permission to sell forget-me-nots in Holland for a 24-hour period beginning 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 27.

Bike Rider Injured

Seven-year-old Richard Bonge, 243 West 21st St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bonge, was treated at Holland Hospital for bruises after a bicycle he was riding and a car driven by Evert Westing, 70, of 219 East 14th St. collided at 16th St. and Columbia Ave. at 12:30 p.m. today.

TANKER-CAR COLLIDE—A loaded oil tanker clipped the left rear of the above car on new US-31 and the intersection of James St., north of Holland Wednesday morning. bruises at Holland Hospital and released. Driver of the tanker was James McGoldrick, route 1, Fennville, who was traveling south on US-31. Voters Approve Hospital Addition By Wide Margin

Holland property owners voted overwhelmingly in Tuesday's primary election to bond the city for $500,000 to build an addition to Holland Hospital. The vote was 1,958 to 416. It was an almost 5 to 1 victory.

The half-million dollars will be the city's share in the new addition which will cost an estimated $1,100,000. The remainder will be financed by federal funds and by a fund campaign in surrounding townships. It will boost the hospital to a 125-bed capacity compared with the current 72-bed capacity.

Vote by wards follows:

	Yes	No
1.	154	47
2.	297	75
3.	220	58
4.	415	85
5.	396	85
6.	476	66

Tuesday's hospital vote nearly paralleled the results of the telephone poll campaign carried on early this summer by Hospital Auxiliary members to sample opinion among local property owners whether they would be in favor of bonding the city for $500,000 for a new hospital addition, provided approximately 40 percent will be financed by federal funds.

Of persons contacted, 80.2 percent gave an outright yes, 3.7 percent registered no and 16.1 percent were undecided. A total of 16.5 percent of the 1,376 names could not be reached.

The city bond issue calls for an estimated $2 per thousand dollar valuation for a period of 15 years.

Plans for the hospital addition are being drawn by H. E. Beyster and Associates of Detroit who were retained last month by the Hospital board. Rough drawings are expected to be submitted by Sept. 1, preliminary plans by Oct. 1 and final plans and specifications ready for bids by Feb. 1. Contracts probably will be let on March 1, and construction should start shortly thereafter. Construction is expected to take a year to a year and a half.

John F. Donnelly, president of the Hospital board, said today, "We're certainly very pleased with the large majority and hope that the plans that develop will more than justify the confidence the voters have placed in us."

Jesieks Go to Court On Rezoning Problems

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The case of Adolph W., Harold F. and Donald E. Jesiek, doing business as Jesiek Brothers Shipyard at Macatawa Park in Holland, seeking a zoning change against Park Township was heard in Ottawa Circuit Court Wednesday before Judge Raymond L. Smith without a jury. The court took the case under advisement and will render a decision later.

Plaintiffs are seeking permission to construct a one-story building on four lots they own which under the 1946 zoning ordinance have been classed as residential property. The Jesieks contend the property should not be classed as residential property and are asking the court to have the plot rezoned and classed as industrial.

Dick Nieuwma, Nick Stielstra and Simon Sybesma, members of the Park Township board, are defendants in the case.

Ottawa deputies who investigated said damage to the '51 model Arendson car was $300 and to the '51 model Prys car $50.

Bussard Protests Use Of Park for Prison Farm

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Prosecutor James W. Bussard has written a letter to the Kent County Board of Supervisors protesting the use of Aman Park in Ottawa county for housing prisoners from Kent county jail. The park is owned by Kent county but lies in Ottawa county.

Prosecutor Bussard, who said he has received petitions from more than 100 Ottawa residents protesting such use of the property, is asking the Kent board to reconsider its plan to the end of keeping Kent prisoners within the county of Kent, and if any such work farm is to be established that it be confined to the county of Kent.

He added that the complaints he has received are not directed against the use of prison labor and management. There will be stops at the Gordon Babbitt, Leo Tucker and Roy Van Dragt orchards.

Local Bus Crash Victim In Good Condition Today

Joyce Van Liere, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Liere of 26 Gordon St., is in good condition in a hospital at Sudbury, Mass., following a bus accident Tuesday in which 19 persons were injured, three of them seriously.

Joyce's mother talked with a nurse at the hospital Wednesday and learned Joyce was treated for head injuries and was in good condition. Joyce's words were, "I'll keep me in bed until tomorrow, I'll be mad." There was no indication Wednesday when she would be discharged, but it probably will be soon.

The accident occurred during a heavy rainstorm Tuesday afternoon. The sight-seeing bus went out of control, went across a four-lane highway and hit a tree and a ditch.

The nurse told Mrs. Van Liere Joyce did not want her mother informed Tuesday night "because she didn't want her to stay up and worry all night."

Coast Guardsmen stopped the boat, got the man into the fresh air and took the craft to the Coast Guard Station where they called an ambulance. Also aboard the boat was his wife, Genevieve, their 11-year-old son, Paul, and Jack Burnett, 14.

Council Working On New Ordinance For Water Supply

Extensive Plans Will Provide Pipeline
From Lake Michigan

City Council Wednesday night set certain machinery in motion for the Board of Public Works to proceed with providing a new water supply system for Holland city at an estimated cost of $2,998,000.

Specifically, Council had two readings of a new ordinance which provided for improving, enlarging and extending the city's water supply and for the issuance of bonds therefor, and then laid the matter on the table until the regular meeting Aug. 18.

Plans call for laying a 36-inch pipeline from Holland city to Lake Michigan, and building a pumping station and filtration plant on property in the vicinity of Tunnel Park.

Council also considered a bill of complaint by Walter E. Anderson of Muskegon petitioning that the zoning ordinance be declared void insofar as it affects the Anderson property on River Ave. and 13th St., where Anderson seeks to build a filling station on property currently zoned B residential. The petition also asks that the city of Holland be permanently enjoined from enforcing or attempting to enforce the zoning ordinance, and that plaintiff be granted other and further relief as shall appear equitable and proper.

The petition was referred to City Attorney James E. Townsend who will investigate the matter and file an answer.

The Anderson property contains two dilapidated houses which have been condemned as fire hazards in Circuit Court action. Holland's appeal board previously had denied Anderson's request for rezoning to allow construction of a filling station.

In other business, Council granted permission to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to place a nativity scene in Centennial Park during the Christmas season. The communication said the members have pledged themselves to raise funds with which to purchase the scene. Details will be worked out with the city manager and park superintendent.

Jaycee President Arthur Schwartz who was present with briefly on the plans. Mayor Harry Harrington commended the organization for its efforts and for being a "live" organization.

Fourteen residents of the 18th and 19th St. area where the closing of part of an alley running from River to Pine Aves. has been under consideration visited the meeting and several voiced opinions against closing. Councilman Robert Visscher, who is Council's representative on the planning commission reiterated the commission's view that whole alleys, not just a part, should be vacated.

Since this particular alley is used at both ends and closing it would involve hardship to a few property owners, Council denied the original petition to close part of the alley. No public hearing was called.

Because city workers are unable to lay a sewer line on 16th St. from Fairbanks Ave. to the new GE plant east of the city, Council authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for the work.

Council voted to purchase the property of Mrs. C. N. Wagner at 53 West 12th St. for $8,000. This house is the second house west of the Mathilda Vander Woude property which Council obtained some weeks ago. The Vander Woude property adjoins the city hall parking lot on 12th St.

Council also canvassed the city vote on the hospital addition in Tuesday's primary election, listing the vote favoring the $500,000 bond issue at 1,958 to 416. The necessary resolutions were adopted.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood presented a letter from Dr. G. H. Mennenga together with a copy of his letter to the Michigan Highway commission in which he suggested that for various reasons a caution light at 19th St. and Michigan Ave. would be preferable to a stop light.

Two letters filing claims against the city were referred to the city attorney and the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. One came from Mrs. Henry E. Rademacher, route 2, Twin Lake, Mich., for $20 damage to a car fender, and the other from Clarence William Rankin of 317 Union St., Grand Rapids, seeking $300 for injuries received at a crosswalk sign on East Eighth St.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Jule De Puydt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacques, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bouillon, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lugten and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wolke.

DOLLS AND ANIMALS — Here's an example of the things that kept Summer Playschool directors hopping during the four-week session that ended Friday. One of the centers holding a doll and stuffed animal show was Longfellow School. Some of the best entries were brought by Debbie Ridenaar and Doug Komphais (standing) and Linda Van Duren (with panda), Mrs. Lester Douma and Sheryl Volkema. (Sentinel photo)

Velderman Loses One-Hit Contest To Main Auto, 1-0

Case Velderman experienced what all pitchers fear Friday night in City Softball League. Hurling for North End Velderman allowed just one hit. But that hit was key to a Main Auto run, and Velderman's mates couldn't score on four hits. So it was Main Auto 1-0.

Bareman Service hurler Joe Berens also turned in a fine pitching performance, but he won as he shut out Vandenberg Buick, 4-0.

Lone score of the second contest came in the fourth inning when LeRoy Tucker slammed out a single to left field. Tucker went to second on a fielder's choice, to third on a sacrifice and scored on an infield out. That was it.

Velderman banged out a single in the fourth and George Moomey followed it right up but North End just couldn't push across a score. Only other North End hits were singles, one by Bill Zych in the third and the other by Ted Bos in the sixth.

Jas Ebels was on the mound for the winners striking out seven men.

Things were tight in the second contest until the fifth inning when singles by Louie Altena and Bob Altena accounted for one Bareman run.

The lone run primed the pump and in the seventh Bareman exploded for three runs behind triples by Lou Borgman and Ted Schreuer and a double by Bob Altena.

In the meantime Vandenberg managed to get only two measly singles—one in the first by Justin Vander Zwaag and the other in the sixth by Al Doezeman.

Schreuer had a triple and single in three trips while Lou Altena and Lou Borgman had two for four.

Berens was winning pitcher. Bob Fortney was touched for eight hits in losing.

Action tonight pits VFW and Hulst Bros. in a postponed encounter. Game time is 7 p.m.

Barbara Tanis Feted At Luncheon at MBYC

Mrs. R. A. Boersma and Mrs. L. H. Kolb entertained at a luncheon and personal shower for Miss Barbara Tanis at Macatawa Bay Yacht Club Wednesday. There were 28 guests present.

Miss Tanis will be married Aug. 28 in Hope Church to Jack Glupker.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Tanis, South Shore Dr. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. G. J. Glupker and the late G. J. Glupker.

From doll shows to Kollen Park outings, Holland's Summer Playschool closed shop Friday and finished another four-week session that saw almost 1,500 children enrolled at some time or another.

"We've had a big year," said Recreation Director Joe Moran. "And it's been a huge success."

Attractive Mrs. Lester Douma, who directed the operations at Longfellow School with Ron Bos, agreed.

"They sure keep you going," she admitted, as scores of bustling children scampered around her. "I think they lie awake nights trying to think of things to stump us. But it's been fun."

Right at that time, Mrs. Douma was in the midst of running a doll and stuffed animal show that drew almost 50 entries of all kinds and descriptions. There was competition, but everyone got a prize—a piece of circus candy.

Meanwhile, Bos was out on the playground umpiring a fiercely-battled softball game. Just a few yards away, a few others were playing table tennis. And inside the gym, while the doll and animal show was in progress, a few eager boys were rushing the season by playing some basketball.

That's the way it was for the two directors and two junior assistants all around the city—in four school centers.

At Washington there were Mrs. Clarence Wagner and Russ Hornbaker. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Norlin were at Van Raalte while Russ Welch and Mrs. Barbara Ambellas handled Lincoln School activities.

All kinds of activities were held—every sport imaginable along with ceramics and handicraft, baton twirling contests and dress-up shows, picnics and peanut scrambles.

Each school put out a mimeographed newspaper during the session—with Lincoln School's sheet rating perhaps the most appropriate. Over there, the kids named it "Lincoln Jabber."

When it was all over Friday, the directors may have been happy for a little rest, but they certainly could feel a sense of accomplishment.

You just don't attract that many kids without a lot of work, effort and plenty of "things to do."

It was Sharp's third win of the campaign and he was backed up by the two-hit performances of Jerry Rice and Don Overway. Carl De Jonge was tagged with the loss for the Stars.

Community Ambassador Vividly Describes Bull Fight in Madrid

by K. Don Jacobusse

Holland's Community Ambassador MADRID, Spain — Today my brother, Fernando, and I are at the famous Madrid Plaza de Toros. Madrid is to bullfighting what Holland is to the Dutch Dance.

There are about 20,000 people here today already watching the large doors for the entrance of the two "Alfajillos." Here they come, their horses charging to beneath the box of the president of the bull-fight.

They're dressed all in black, but for large white collars, and a red and yellow plume in their hats. After saluting the president, they receive the key and now they open the doors for the entrance of the Cuadril.

The procession of Matadors, Banderillas, Picadores, and Capates is parading directly in front of our seats. They leave now, while the president waves his white handkerchief; a bugle sounds and the first black, charging, bull emerges from beneath the stands. Today there are six bulls.

We are sitting in the section called "Sun and Shade." The time the fifth bull is here, we're in all shade, for it's about 7:30. The bull ferociously coming at us has enormous, powerful shoulders; he throws them first at one Capote and then at another. The three or four Capotes have large, yellow backed rose colored capes they flash at the bull and when he runs at them, they wave them over his head and behind him so the bull rears about and recharges. The bull has charged now about six times and again the President waves his white handkerchief and the bugle sounds.

Now the saddled Picadores come out. From fear, the horses hug the side of the ring, but now one is out toward the center. The bull charges at it and gets the long wooden spear like shaft into him about an inch. The guard on the "Vara" the Picador carries, keeps it from entering farther.

The bull is enraged and strikes again and again at the padded horse. But look—he's putting his head low—and the horse is over on its side! Quickly the Capote draws the bull away to another Picador and again the bull is maddened by a second jab.

The president's signal comes; again and the picadores are replaced by the Banderillas. One of these slender men is dancing out to the center of the ring, leaving up and down and calling to the now enraged bull.

The bull tears at the Banderilla, but he jumps aside, and in so doing places two long darts in the bull's back. It takes a great speed, accuracy, and agility to place the two-foot long colored darts in the bull's back. They must place the darts so that they stay and our Banderilla has done a good job. Again and again the bull charges, and the Banderilla has placed five out of six darts. The crowd wildly cheers our gay little Banderilla.

But the roar is stopped short as at the president's sign, brings another step in motion—the Matador strides into the ring. All of the men are dressed similarly in brightly colored, sparkling, embroidered suits. All have pink hose to the knees, knee length jackets. The Matador walks to the box of his sweetheart now, and hands her his round black hat and strolls to the center of the ring with red cape and sword.

Three and four times the bull charges the Matador's cape and each time gets closer to the Matador. As he skins the Matador the crowd screams in one accord "Olay" for each charge of the bull. Then the bull gives a long, low muffled snort, paws the ground, and charges again, catching the cape in his horns. With a new cape the Matador faces the bull, lifts the sword above his head, plunges at the bull, and drives the sword into it, straight and clean. After the bull falls the crowd goes wild over the swift, clean, fight.

They're standing now, waving handkerchiefs madly and throwing hats and wine-skins into the ring at the Matador as he parades around. The bull is dragged out to be used for meat for the poor of Madrid.

Ernest Hemingway entitles a true follow of the bullas, an "Aficionado!" Before long, I think I'll be one.

2 Pitchers Work To Gain No-Hitter

ZEELAND (Special) — Jason (Wheel) Ebels and Al Stephenson combined to hurl the Zeeland Merchants out of the "B" league softball collar at Zeeland Legion Field Wednesday night with a 3-0, no-hit victory over Suburban Motors.

Five hitless innings by Ebels and two by Stephenson pushed the Motors down into the cellar spot vacated by the Merchants.

Another Wednesday night shut-out was registered by Zutphen, S-C, in blanking Harlem behind the two hit pitching of Lloyd Browner.

Thursday night, the Jenison Merchants assured themselves of a tie for the "B" league title with an 11-5 win over Forest Grove. One more victory for Jenison will give the Merchants the crown.

In a junior league contest, Zeeland State Bank-Van Eenennaam romped over Pikaart-Nykamp, 13-2.

Dutch Mayor Says Fight With Sea is Just Begun

"In America your Mississippi River overflows and you have a week long emergency and a regular crop the next year; our emergency lasted for eight months and regular crops are five to seven years away."

This was Jonkheer Rene J. Q. H. Roell's cryptic way of describing the devastation that swept the islands of Schouwen Duiveland, The Netherlands, in the spring of 1953, but that still plagues the country.

"In one night we lost 800 persons on the islands, 1,800 were drowned in The Netherlands, most of the cattle were killed, our houses flooded and the islands submerged," Roell, mayor of Haamstede, said.

"For a short time we had the attention of the world. Money and supplies poured in and everything was on an emergency basis."

But that was more than a year ago—and by now the floods have almost been forgotten, except by the thousands of persons still trying to make a living on the ravaged land.

"It wasn't until November that we could get the breaks in the dikes repaired," said Roell. The tremendous currents had ripped holes 120 feet deep and 500 yards wide.

"You could bring a fleet of Missouri class battleships through these openings," added the mayor. Many of the more than 500 breaks were that size, and required construction of first an inner dike to stop the flow of water before the main dike could be rebuilt.

Land-hungry Holland even has to bring rock and stones by rail from Germany and Switzerland to fill in the dikes.

Not until the last breach was closed could pumping operations begin. All this time, for eight months, the salt water had covered the formerly fertile land.

"It was then that our real work began," says Roell.

Every living thing had been killed by the salt. The land was one fourth salt on almost the whole island. Grass, trees and bushes were gone.

Farmers immediately began putting gypsum on the soil—a process that takes at least five to seven years. In the meantime the fields yield nothing.

Even the traditional chickens, which could always be seen scampering around a Dutch farm, have disappeared. "There's nothing for them to eat," explains Roell.

And still the terror of the sea remains. The dikes are weak in many places and so imminent is the danger that round-the-clock watches are maintained.

"A whole network of rescue equipment is now kept in constant readiness," said Roell.

"We're a long way from Feb. 1, 1953, but the fight is a long way from being won," he concluded.

Chix, Sox Run Up Big Light Bill, Tie

ZEELAND (Special) — Mighty high light bill those Zeeland Chix ran up at the Athletic Field Friday night.

The Chix and the Grand Rapids Black Sox slugged it out for more than four hours until 11:45 when the rain squall broke it up. And even then, nothing was settled since the game was all tied up at 11-11 at the end of 11 innings.

Zeeland could pride itself on making a tremendous comeback, however. Trailing 11-3 going into the eighth, the Chix scored four runs in both the eighth and ninth frames to tie the contest and send it into extra innings.

Ron Klamt's bases-loaded double was the key blow in the ninth inning rally and the Black Sox pitcher cooperated when he followed by yielding two straight walks for another run. Klamt scored on the tying run on an outfield fly by Gene Talamo.

Manager Marinus Scheele used three Chix pitchers in the long struggle. Mary Warner started and was relieved by Jerry Zerrig who preceded "Ham" McCullen.

Several Arraigned In Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN, (Special) — Russell E. McClellan, 44, route 1, Grand Haven, was attempting to raise enough money to pay a $100 fine and $5.50 costs rather than serve 25 days in the county jail, imposed by Municipal Judge Louis H. Osterhaus Friday afternoon on a drunk driving charge.

McClellan had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was arrested by officers of the sheriff's department July 25 on US-31 in Grand Haven Township.

A charge of furnishing beer to two minors, to which he also pleaded not guilty, was dismissed.

Three persons were arraigned in Municipal Court Friday noon on a charge of simple larceny. Aubrey Dale Siewert, 25, and Norman Harris Corlew, 23, both of Muskegon, each paid $15 fine and $7.50 costs, plus restitution, and Darwin C. William, 26, Comstock Park, was assessed $15 fine, $12.10 costs and restitution. The trio was arrested by city police alleging they took some seat cushions from the Voshel Boat Livery on Grand River just north of the city on or about July 11. They rented a boat about 8:30 p.m. and three cushions. When they returned the boat at 10:30 p.m. they loaded the cushions in their car and took off. Two of the cushions were returned and restitution was ordered for the one not returned.

Morris Brown, 27, Grand Haven, waived examination Friday afternoon in Municipal Court on a charge of larceny from a dwelling and, unable to furnish $500 bond, is confined in the Ottawa County jail awaiting arraignment in Circuit Court Aug. 6.

On Monday, July 26, Brown allegedly took a 1½ horsepower outboard motor, 55 foot electric extension cord and a fishing rod from a garage attached to the dwelling of Mrs. Myrtle Olson in Spring Lake Township.

Brown is also awaiting trial in Municipal Court on a charge of assault and battery, placed against him by city police upon complaint of Peter DeCook, which allegedly took place at the latter's home at 101 Franklin St. Investigation was by deputy sheriffs James Brooke and Al Hilbrand.

Driver Issued Ticket Following Collision

Two late model cars were damaged when they collided on River Ave. just north of Eighth St., shortly after 1 p.m. Friday.

Involved were cars driven by Rufus James Schult, 67, Estera Lee, Fla., and Alyda Karsten, 44, of 185 Cambridge Rd. Both cars were southbound on River Ave. when the Schult vehicle crashed into the rear of Mrs. Karsten's car.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the '51 model Schult car and to Mrs. Karsten's '54 model car at $75. Police issued Schult a summons for failure to keep an assured clear distance ahead.

COLONIALISM IS OBSOLETE

What has happened in Indo-China, and what is about to happen in French North Africa, shows once and for all that colonialism is obsolete in the modern world.

For, basically, Communism did not drive the French out of the Indochina delta. It was colonialism that did it. Communism, as usual, merely took advantage of a situation that had been developing for years, even decades.

In North Africa today, the indications are that the French government will anticipate the Communists and will give the self-government to the colonials there that they are clamoring for. If not, it seems sure that the French will eventually be driven out.

The story has been the same for Britain. Winston Churchill protested toward the end of the war
that he was unwilling to preside over the dissolution of his Majesty's empire. But Churchill is as powerless against the irresistible drift as anybody else. Today colonialism is dead in India, to say nothing of other British colonies;
and where it isn't dead, it is dying.

So recent as the early years of the present century colonialism was almost a religion in Britain. Kipling was the high priest of that religion, with his injunction to "take up the white man's burden."

The theory was that London had a duty to govern the "lesser breeds"—for their own good. That whole theory has been exploded as a theory, and it will soon be completely obsolete as a fact.

In these days when the Reds are harping on "American imperialism," it is reassuring to remember that we as a people took the lead in the battle against colonialism.
At the very moment when Kipling was preaching the doctrine of the "white man's burden," we were setting Cuba free and were giving assurances to the Filipinos that our occupation of those islands was temporary. And later we made good on that promise. We have made our share of mistakes, but the Red charges of "American imperialism" are obviously ridiculous in the face of the sober historical facts.

In general colonialism is not dead, but it is dying. Some governments, like that of the Netherlands, are enlightened enough to act in time, as the Dutch did in the East Indies. Some others wait until, like the French in Indochina, they are blasted out.

Eventually Russia will have to face this fact. It is unthinkable that the satellite countries, which are modern colonies, will be content to remain colonies. What do you think? Write us 300 words.

Sunday School Lesson

August 8 1954
Choosing the Best
6:25-33; Philippians 1:9-11 4:8
By Henry Geerlings

In the previous lessons we have been studying the principle of Christian growth and how it is promoted. We saw it was enlarged by Bible study, which brought to us the necessary food for our spiritual life. It was promoted by prayer and meditation, which brought us into the presence of God. We saw, too, that worship and fellowship are necessary elements in the growth and development of the Christian life.

They develop both the Godward and manward sides of our being.
Today our lesson is about choosing the best. This brings us out to the large world of varied forces and interests that impinge upon our souls.

One does not have to be a particularly wise person to see the tremendous effects that men's choices have upon themselves and society at large. The miseries that we see all around us were caused by the choices that men made.
And likewise the good and ameliorating forces that we see at work are the results of choices made by others. This function of choosing makes for joy or sorrow,
for life or death.

This power of free will or choice is the glory of God's created rational beings. It prevents them from being automatons or as an animal ruled by an inexorable instinct. It is by also exercising this privilege of choice that one can cut himself out from all regenerating agencies and descend into all kinds of sin against God and his fellows. And by the exercise of choice in the right direction men can deliver themselves from the worst and vilest sins and become new creatures in Christ. The power or privilege to choose for oneself is a great and a dangerous gift.

In choosing the best Christ tells us what our first choice should be. It is the kingdom of God and his righteousness. When the Lord said this He was on the right side of the cross. He was speaking to His own people in the language they could understand. It was a call to the people to make a definite decision for God. Moses had made that plea in his day. Joshua made the same plea at the close of his life. Still later Elijah made this plea to a people who had gone off into idolatry. As a matter of fact this is a plea that has to be made to every generation that is born into the world. No one is born at the first birth into the kingdom.

When we come to years of understanding we must make a decision for ourselves whether we will serve the Lord or not.

Accepting Christ as our personal Savior is our first and best choice. But as we continue to live the Christian life, we will find that we have many other choices to make. We will find many interests and forces around us seeking to enslave us and to gain our support. The world itself will always be in evidence at every turn. It will try to have us to be conformed to its spirit and standards.

While Christians are in the world they are not of the world.
We owe the world nothing. Christ has redeemed us from it and in Him all our needs are provided for. When He tells us to take no thought for our lives He is not telling us to be careless, irresponsible or indifferent as to our everyday lives that would be contrary to the direct teaching of the Scriptures. We are to live and labor and be independent and provide for those who are dependent upon us. That is a Christian duty.

There is a choice that our Lord calls to our attention. That is regard to treasures. We are commanded not to lay up treasures upon the earth. These are perishable and temporal. We will leave them all behind when we leave this world. Our Lord is not telling us that we are not to be provident and to lay up funds for our future needs. The book of Proverbs especially cas-tigates the improvident. But he tells us not to pile up earthly riches. He is telling us that there are other kinds of riches. There are heavenly riches which are eternal and indestructible. We are not compelled to do the one or the other. We are to make our own decision in the light of the truth which our Lord has given.

In living out the Christian life
the apostle Paul placed before the Galatians. That is of living according to the flesh or the Spirit.
They were seeking to live under the Law and not under the Spirit.
Paul shows the results which are the works of the flesh on the one hand and the fruit of the Spirit on the other.

South Blendon Clinches Tie for 'A' League Title

ZEELAND (Special)—South
Blendon's crack softball team assured itself of at least a tie for the Zeeland "A" league title Monday night as ace Lum Veldman pitched a two-hit, 2-0 victory over Suburban Motors.

Saturday night, South Blendon
clipped Hudsonville Produce, 5-2,
as the Grand Rapids Cardinals defeated the Grand Rapids Red-wings in a girls contest that pitted
the bottom teams in the league.

North Hudsonville upset Grandville, 10-4, Friday night in a "B" league game, while Holland VFW dropped a 5-4 decision to Zeeland Coliseum. Another "B" league contest Monday night saw Zutphen blank Grandville, 7-0.

Negligent Homicide Examination Postponed

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The preliminary examination of Charles Westra, 18, 821 Burton St.
S.E., Grand Rapids, on a charge of negligent homicide, scheduled to be heard in Municipal Court in Grand Haven Friday afternoon, has been postponed until Aug. 27
at 2 p.m.

The charge against Westra resulted from an accident on M-50
a mile and a half east of the Grand River bridge May 20, 1954, when Mrs. Raymond (Phyllis) Fish, 18, of Grand Rapids, was fatally injured. Others injured were Anzela Palazzola, 21, and Miss Wanda Barretta, 17, both of Grand Rapids.

Sheriff's officers investigated and Prosecutor James W. Busard authorized the warrant July 12.

It doesn't take long when talking to Mrs. William Arnold, Macatawna resorter for the past 20 years, to see why her husband, if he's at all like her, should be a lieutenant general in the Army and commanding general of United States forces in Austria.

The fast smile and the equally fast answers indicate a woman who understands her role as the wife of a man holding one of the most important positions in Europe today.

Although General Arnold was unable to take the aerial outing, Mrs. Arnold snatched a few days to fly back for a brief respite from a host of duties.

And what duties they are. She practically has a "second front" all to her own. While stationed in Turkey for three years, and now in Austria, Mrs. Arnold gets hundreds of letters from persons seeking her help for everything from Salzburg festival tickets to winter clothes for poor children.

So capably did the attractive woman handle them, that just prior to leaving Turkey last year
one of the high points in her life was reached.

By direct order of Pope Pious XII, Mrs. Arnold was awarded a Papal Lady—the highest award a woman can receive in the Roman Catholic Church.

Although she served as president of the Women's Club in Turkey, an organization of 160 wives of military personnel, and fulfilled the usual round of diplomatic and military luncheons and dinners, Mrs. Arnold is faced with a much bigger challenge in Austria.

Austria suffered much in the past war, and was little more than a pawn in postwar politics.
American prestige was rising, but when General Arnold took over last spring things really took a turn for the better.

A strict disciplinarian who hates red tape, General Arnold took personal charge of complaints from civilians, urged troops to dress in civilian clothes when possible, and eliminated all the braggadocio of an "occupation" army.

Things went so well that even the hostile Austrian press has swung around to backing Arnold's efforts. Recent quick action in aiding during the Alpine floods is expected to help relations even more.

And all this time, quietly working in the background, Mrs. Arnold does the thousand and one things that fall to her. When queried about how it feels to be the wife of a man with such responsibility, Mrs. Arnold is quick to reply that "I have a responsibility of my own."

She certainly does. Austria looms now as one of the strongest outposts of the free world.
America has poured almost $40 million into the country; and it has brought results.

Large military encampments stand in Salzburg and Linz, minutes away from Russian troops.
Assuming responsibility for American forces in this strategic area is General Arnold. At his side, handling her different, but equal tasks, is Papal Lady "Lib" Arnold.

Many August Vacationers Arrive at Local Resorts

An influx of August vacationers has given added impetus to resort activity in Holland area.

Beach and water sports still head the list of popular activities, although resort spots offer a wide variety of features, from dramatic productions and pageants to dances and reptile collections.

Maple Shade Resort
The beach is still the favorite spot of vacationers at Maple Shade Resort at Port Sheldon. Shuffleboard and tennis are in full swing, with the large number of children here this week. Men at the resort have taken advantage of the perch run with reports of good catches.

Newly-arrived guests are Mr.
and Mrs. Henry Larsen and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fanlon and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tuuk,
Linda and Jimmy; Mr. and Mrs.
J. Terwiel, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur have been asked to come back again tonight. They not only teach a variety of dances, but give a magnificent floor show. Many folks outside of the resort are coming to tonight's party.

Holland's sharp young fisherman, Peter Veen, who is bell hopping at the Inn, is acting as unofficial fishing guide to guests. One of

(As Tuesday's primary election nears, we ask you to read the following editorial reprinted from the Milwaukee Journal.—Editor)

There's an eternal subject that can't be repeated too many times: If you don't vote, don't take an interest in government, don't keep posted on local affairs, you haven't any right to kick much about the kind of government you get.

Every now and again someone thinks of a new way of saying that. There was a school meeting recently at Monona village, a suburb of Madison, at which only a relative handful of citizens showed up. In the Suburbanite, a local paper, came this statement following the meeting—one every Milwaukeean and Wisconsinite ought to pin in his hat:

"We, the forty-odd persons who attended the annual All-School meeting, wish to thank those of you who didn't for the extreme confidence you placed in us."

"As your unelected, unsolicited representatives we selected the majority of the members who will comprise the school board next year, we determined who is to serve on the audit committee and we decided to spend $181,196.77 of your money. On a pro rata basis, each person there was entrusted with something over $4,500."

"If this neither worries nor frightens you, think for a moment of some of the things for which we might have voted. We could have lowered the teachers salaries to a point where none would have worked, or raised them to a point where you couldn't have afforded them. We might have voted that those who attended the meeting had sufficiently fulfilled their obligations and need not pay their share of the school expense. We had the votes."

Pretty clever, isn't it? And a pretty telling reprimand to those who didn't fulfill their obligations as citizens, whose apathy left their voice in their community go by default. Read it over again — if you're like most people it applies to you.

Mrs. Irene A. Doust of route 4, Ottawa Beach, has found a box containing a valuable contact lens. She has advertised in the Lost and Found column and still no one claimed the lens. It all leads her to believe that some one from out of town lost them near the beach. There were no marks to identify them and no one can use them except the owner. So if you hear of anyone that lost a pair, Mrs. Doust would like to know.

Employees of The Sentinel had a dandy treat Friday from the boss. Some cheese W. A. Butler purchased for the personnel June 8 in the Netherlands arrived — and it was mighty tasty.

The cheese was ordered from T. W. Bruyn, Havenar 119, Broek in Waterland, Holland.

As someone remarked, it came on a perfect—"meatless Friday."

Little things mean a lot... Board members of Resthaven Patrons, Inc., wanted the youngsters of Lawndale Ct. to know that their contribution of $1.11 towards the new Resthaven building is one of those "big little" things that's not soon forgotten.

The Rev. Paul Hinkamp, secretary of the board, expressed thanks to the children through a letter to Joan Geuder, one of the group which staged a circus, then decided to give the profits to "Restroom" Haven.

The letter stated "It was very kind of you to bring the six dimes, nine nickels and six pennies for our new Resthaven building from the neighborhood children of Lawndale Ct. It is good to know that even some children have thought of the needs of older people and have given the proceeds of a summer activity to this fund. We hope that others will do likewise."

"You will be glad to know that contracts for the new Resthaven were let today (July 23) and construction should begin within ten days. When the building is finished we want you and your little friends to come and see it and help cheer up the residents. Thanks again and God bless you all."

Ottawa Farm News

Richard Machiele

County Agricultural Agent

With wheat harvest almost completed we are getting some reports on yields. Bill Antonides of Allendale who grew a field of certified Genesee tells me that his yield ran close to 58 bushels to the acre. This seed will be for sale as certified seed this season. Bernard Ter Haar also grew a field of Genesee wheat, one year away from certification. He tells me this field also out-yielded the Yorkwin on his farm. There will also be some seed wheat available at Ter Haar's. Genesee is a white winter wheat with good stiffness of straw and resistant to loose smut.

Leyton Nelson of the Farm College, called attention to one Crops Department, Michigan State other variety in which some folks might be interested, especially those who have trouble with lodging. This is a white wheat called Cornell 595 in the 1954 trials in Michigan. This variety stands up better than any other variety in these trials. The yields however were slightly less than the Genesee and Yorkwin.

I have had a lot of calls this past week on nut grass. This grass shows up in cultivated fields during exceptionally wet periods. It can be identified by the small bulb attached to the roots. The best control we know for this is cultivation. It is not difficult to exterminate because the small bulb is easily detached from the roots during cultivation. We are going to do some experimental work this year by using chemicals on this grass. Dr. Grigsby at Ichnia State College states that MH-40 might control it. Will have more definite information sometime in the future.

Early this spring we reported that a new grass killer had some promise. This killer has been tried by a few farmers in the county. Harvey Smith located north and west of Zeeland tried it on one of his fields and reports are that it did almost a 100 percent job in killing grass grass. One advantage in using MH 40 is that it does not leave the ground sterile as some of the other grass killers do. By the end of the growing season we will know definitely whether all the grass was killed. However, it looks promising to date.

I noticed a good many hay fields this past year had a lot of Yellow Rocket in them. This is a plant that looks almost like the Mustard, but comes early in the season. We are looking for five or six locations in the county to try some control work with this weed. If you have been bothered in the past and would like to have a trial on your farm, please let us know as soon as possible. It is necessary that the application will be made this fall. Folks at Michigan State College who are putting on this trial are primarily interested in the control in alfalfa fields.

Grain storage time is here. Here are some suggestions for control insects in our stored grains. Be sure grain is stored with less than 14 percent moisture. Clean your bins well using a spray of either Methoxychlor or DDT. Never store grain in old bins that have not been cleaned and sprayed. You can use a preventive material mixed in with your grain before storage. There are some commercial materials made up of a combination of pyrethrum - piperonyl butoxide (this practice is not as well established in Michigan as it should be.) Remember this: is a protectant and not to be used after insects are in the grain. Wheat and other grains should be inspected at least once each month. If weevil and other insects appear, fumigate.

Walther Leaguers Hear Report on Convention

August meeting of the Walther League was held Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church. Donna Hoogerhyde led devotions and Ann Freeman gave a topic on prayer. Joan Kilian was appointed chairman of the membership committee with Joan Ruddick and Dale Conklin assisting.

Nancy Francis and Nancy Hansen provided refreshments. A report was read on the 62nd annual international Walther League convention held at Long Beach, Calif., in July. The convention voted establishment of $10,000 for carpentry assignments in New Guinea, and an $88,000 budget was adopted. The Rev. Adalbert R. Kramann, Chicago pastor, was honored for long-term league service, and he with Dr. Samuel J. Roth, a Detroit educator, retired from board membership.

At a talent event emceed by film star Richard Denning, the Walther Leaguers heard Forrest Taylor, the Granda Fisher of "This is the Life" tell them "as you go back to your home, take to your Fellow Lutherans the hope that comes from Granda Fisher's heart, that we will continue to bring Christian growth and faith to every corner of the earth."

Nelson Leigh, who portrays Pastor Martin on the Missouri Synod television series, also spoke. A telegram from New York Governor Dewey commended the league for its evangelism program and called the work a bulwark against juvenile delinquency.

Vets Outfit Hulst But Lose Tilt, 4-1

Chalk up another one for Hulst Bros.

The league leading nine got fewer hits than VFW Saturday night in City Softball League play but they got 'em when they counted to win 4-1.

Key to the Hulst attack in the fourth inning was a home run by third baseman Al Velthuis with two on. Dale Hulst and Bob York had singled, setting up the play.

VFW struck back in the fifth inning when Jay Hoffman singled an scored on John Wolters double to center field.

Hulst picked up another run in the seventh. Lavern Zoerhoff got on base when hit by a pitched ball, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Ron Weatherbee's single.

Action started out fast in the first inning when Vets pulled one of two Hulst runners.

VFW got the singles, but at the wrong time. Two of them in a row to Hank Pince and Larry Tebbets gave the Vets a scoring chance that fizzled in the second frame.

Al Rosch was tagged for six hits in winning. Al Kraal gave up Five safeties in absorbing the loss.

Pleads Innocent To Assault Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Hunter S. Robbins of Spring Lake appeared before Justice Frederick J. Workman of Spring Lake July 28 and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of assault and battery, and posted $25 bond for trial, date for which has not been set.

Complaint against Robbins was made by Robert Seaberg of Grand Haven, alleging the offense occurred on Cutler St. in Spring Lake at 10:15 p.m. July 23, when Seaberg was getting night crawlers. Robbins felt that because he has been keeping up the grass to the street apparently no one had a right to trespass on the property, which is a part of Cutler St. and therefore, approached Seaberg with Robbins' dog.

The dog made a pass toward Seaberg, who had a tire iron in his car and was going to use it as the dog jumped him. Seaberg claims Robbins then struck him in the face, grabbed him around the neck and was going to choke him, that Seaberg got away, left his car parked on the street and from a public telephone booth in Spring Lake called the Spring Lake village officer.

The charge against Robbins is taken under the village ordinance and will be prosecuted by Harvey L. Scholten, Spring Lake Village attorney. Robbins is being represented by Louis H. Osterhaus, Grand Haven.

Castle Parkers Present Capers

A large crowd filled the Amphitheater at Castle Park Friday evening when guests, Castle Parkers, waiters and waitresses presented the third annual Castle Capers.

Theme of the year's Capers was television programs and a cutting from the musical comedy "Oklahoma."

Buffalo Bob and the western cinema was the first number of the revue. A takeoff on Howdy Doody featured Ralph Banks, Ellie Casper, a girls can-can and members of the play class. An original western produced and written by Carter Ratcliff highlighted the first attraction. Half pint cowboys, dressed in full western garb ran all over the stage until the dangerous "villain" was captured.

A takeoff on Liberace was performed by Scrib Mantle who played "The Beer Barrel Polka" by candlelight.

Jacque Brown did the first commercial, assisted by a girls chorus.

Twenty Questions was played with Jules Goebel as quizmaster and two groups of Castle Parkers for panelists.

A Grand Old Opera skit with a real mountain band highlighted another portion of the program.

Backward step, a takeoff on chlorophyll chewing gum commercials, was done by Mr. and Mrs. Grinnell Burke.

A record imitation of the hearings featuring Skip Kelly, Mike Breamer, and Alfred Curtenius. Lessons from Great Lovers was the Pixies' contribution to the revue; a series of sketches on wooing men, present and past, was presented.

Arthur Murray Presents was danced by Austin Brown with unusual changes of pace. A cutting of "Oklahoma" was the final and outstanding number on the Capers. Curley was Jim Brading; Laurey, Margaret Ann Kesterson; Aunt Ellie, Ellie Casper; Ado Annie, Sally Brown; dancer, Collette Curtenius. An Oklahoma chorus and ensemble provided backing.

Producer for the capers was Amby Holford. Production staff included Mrs. DeDe Burke, Marian Ratcliff, Bill Acott, Jim Benedict, Cynthia Laing and Bill Butler.

Keep Trees, Shrubs Neat by Pruning Now

Now is the time to prune low, troublesome tree branches and seed heads on flowering shrubs. That's a suggestion from Joseph Cox, Michigan State College extension landscape specialist.

The low-priced evergreens, which are forest trees, will grow open and scraggly if they are not pruned consistently, according to Cox. You should head back the alternate leader shoots and remove injured branches in order to do a good pruning job.

For high quality, spreading evergreens, Cox suggests cutting back about half the growth made this year if plants are to stay young and compact.

Grandstanding...

Happy teammates crowded around George Zuverink to congratulate him on winning a 4-2 verdict over the Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of a doubleheader at Briggs Stadium Thursday afternoon.

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn had just made a brilliant backhand stab of a stinging line drive and turned it into a double play to end the game.

"I'm sure glad that double play ball," big George said as he took off his cap and settled his 195 pounds on the bench in the Tiger dugout. His mates went on into the locker room for a brief respite before the second game. "It's awfully warm out there," George said. "But I feel real good."

And he had good reason to feel that way. George had just chalked up his sixth victory against five setbacks. In doing so he pitched 112 times, serving up 40 balls 72 strikes along the way. He walked just two men, struck out four and hit one with a pitched ball. The Holland right-hander allowed seven hits and faced a total of 1 A's.

Add to that the fact he knocked in the third Tiger run with a nifty squeeze bunt in the fifth and you have a true "George Zuverink" victory.

George confided that he threw mostly sinkers and quite a few curves at the Philadelphia batters. And he was keeping them low and outside for the most part—forcing the opposition to ground out. After Detroit came from behind to take a 3-2 lead in the fifth, George seemed to get new life and was burning a few fast ones in there.

"Schoolboy Rowe (coach) is teaching me a screwball and I used it once during the game," George said. "But they quickly told me not to experiment any more with it until I get a little better."

"I'm also working with Teddy Gray on a fork ball," he added. In describing the squeeze play in the fifth, when he brought Frank Bolling home from third with a perfect bunt down the first base line, George said, "It was a high, outside pitch, but I had to hit it because the squeeze was on all the way."

George was through for the day after his victory. His mates, meanwhile, gulped cold lemonade and munched sandwiches, lolled around a bit, and scrambled back to the field for the second game. The big fella was going to change to his street clothes and go home to baby-sit while his wife did the shopping. He has rented a house on Grand River, about six miles from the stadium. His wife and daughter did not attend Thursday's game, but watched on television. His wife and daughter plan to come to Holland State Park and live in a trailer for a week or so the last of August.

George has his eye aimed at 12 victories this season. "I never felt better in my life, both physically and mentally. They're sure good to me here."

He'll be out there throwing today and trying out his screwball and new fork ball. On days when he is going to pitch, he gets to the park about noon, or 12:15. Other days it's about 11:45.

Let's Plant Beauty--Two Hydrangeas In Blossom Distinguished Plantings

In a row of homes distinguished for their foundation plantings, that of John Van Tatenhove, 132 East 30th Street, stands out because of two magnificent hydrangeas heavily laden with blue and pink blooms. They point up beautifully the charm that may be given a place by one distinctive feature. Junipers, yews and Anthony Waterer spirea will be interspersed with color of late chrysanthemums.

A garden of roses and annuals and two gay plant boxes on the terrace make a colorful setting for the home of Louis Stetekee, 122 East 30th. A few doors west at 106, the James Townsends have made an interesting use of roses, planted before the white board fence which borders their entrance walk.

The Holland Heights area with its many new homes and gardens in the making attracts us again. This time to visit the John De Vries home at 870 Woodbridge Road.

Red leaved Carmine crab is a striking note as a specimen tree in the front lawn. An unusually colorful border has been created by featuring contrast in color in shrubs as well as in flowers. Golden Japanese yew, barberry, the gradually bronzing foliage of Eonymus alatus, Anthony Waterer spirea, arbutus, Koltwitzia and imported Weigela. Pee Gee Hydrangea, and forsythia form the background for dwarf marigolds, white and Fire Chief petunias and spikes of red celosia (cockscomb). Bridal wreath, Golden Shrub, and variegated Weigela in the back border are fronted by gladioli, Dahlias, floribunda roses, chrysanthemums, and azaleas.

An outdoor living area is being developed here, part of which will later be screened. A setting of Japanese flowering trees makes a nice spot for the picnic table and fireplace. A rock garden planted with portulaca, petunias, and sweet alyssum is a center of interest.

Dutchmen Blanked By GR Jervis, 8-0

A five-hitter by Grand Rapids Jervis' Jack Rumohr and nine errors by Holland were more than enough to send Dutchmanpitcher Lou Humbert down to defeat, 8-0, at Riverview Park Thursday night.

Not only did RRumohr keep the Dutchmen handcuffed by allowing them no more than one hit in any inning, but he rammed a home run into the left-field stands with two on in the eighth inning to knock Humbert out of the box.

Before that, Humbert had survived both errors and Jervis hits fairly well. Grand Rapids finally got a run in the fifth on a triple and sacrifice after being hitless for the first four innings.

Humbert had the distinction of surviving four hits without a run in the sixth. Grand Rapids' Carlsson doubled to left, but was caught by Bob Van Dyke trying to make third. The next batter, single, but Humbert picked him off first, then allowed two more hits before getting the last man on a pop-up.

Two hits and two errors gave Jervis a pair of runs in the seventh and they picked up four in the eighth on a walk, three errors and Rumohr's home run blast. A triple and fly ball made the final tally in the ninth.

Wednesday night, the Dutchmen murdered Cedar Springs in a league encounter. It was a score-keeper's nightmare as Holland led, 33-0, when the game was finally called at the end of six innings.

During that time, Jim Boeve pitched three-hit ball and even Manager Russ Woldring got into the slaughter by slamming out three hits. The win gave Holland a 2-2 second-half league mark and cemented third place for the Dutchmen.

Escapes Injuries — GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Donald Khodl, 20, route 1, Grand Haven, escaped injuries when his 1952 model car rolled over and was completely demolished on M-50 in Robinson township at 11:40 p.m. Sunday. State police who charged him with reckless driving said he lost control of his car and went off the road before rolling over.

BONNIE BAZAN really gets around these days, thanks to the 'kids' in the neighborhood at Ottawa Beach. The four-year-old girl is a muscular dystrophy victim and has only strength to wheel her chair on flat, smooth surfaces. But the kids, Craig and Bruce Baker, spend lots of time pushing her, and brother Rollin Jr., (left) joins in on the big cement area near their home. (Sentinel photo)

Dystrophy Victim May Be National Poster Model

A little summer visitor to Holland may be the nation-wide Muscular Dystrophy Association of America poster model. And what really makes her eyes light up, she may get to meet comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Four-year-old Bonnie Bazan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Bazan of Ottawa Beach, has been nominated by the Kent County chapter of the MDAA for the honor.

A cute photo of her in her wheelchair has been sent to the national association for judging. Decision of judging on background, interest and ability to travel will be announced Sept. 1, prior to the nation-wide campaign in November.

Bonnie, who also prides herself on being the official mascot of the Grand Rapids Chicks baseball team, is one of 50 local persons and some 200,000 in the country afflicted with the dread disease.

Fatal in 99 percent of the cases, more than 65 percent of the cases involve attacks on the muscular system that renders the victim practically useless.

Now four years old and 53 pounds, Bonnie is unable to move her body. She sits continuously in a wheelchair, in which she can't shift her weight.

About a dozen times a night Mrs. Bazan is called to her bedside to move her a bit, or turn her over. Bonnie can do none of these things herself.

Doctors at Mayo Clinic have said only about one in five of Bonnie's body cells is active. She has the power of a six-month-old child. The Bazans illustrate her strength by pointing out that a small water tumbler, if full, is too much for the child to hold.

First indication the Bazans had that something was wrong was when Bonnie failed to sit up at 12 months. Doctors said she was probably normal but when she still couldn't sit up at 18 months, they took further examinations and diagnosed it as muscular dystrophy.

Since then Bonnie has been a regular patient at Mary Free Bed Guild nursery in Grand Rapids, and next year will transfer to Eastern Orthopedic hospital.

Great caution must be used to keep her from getting a cold, because undeveloped chest muscles make it impossible to cough out phlegm, and she would probably choke.

There is no known cure for muscular dystrophy. Victims usually live to their early teens, although adults have contracted it in later life. Several new drugs, notably Rubratone, and use of vitamin B12 regularly help to keep the children going.

Lacking strength and hardly able to move Bonnie depends upon her brother, Rollin, Jr., and the kids of the neighborhood to get around. But six-year-old Rollin is a cerebral palsy victim and hampered by steel braces on his legs.

The other Bazan children, Barbara, 14, and Bruce 18, help entertain Bonnie when they're not in school.

Sunday's attendance was 17,000—compared to a crowd for the past few weeks of 25,000 on Sunday. About 9,500 visited the park Friday with 10,000 attending Saturday.

Park Manager Clare Broad said that swimming was prohibited after noon Saturday because of one of the worst undertows all season. Sunday, the rampaging water was calm again as the effects of Friday night's rough squall wore off.

For the week, 86,500 persons were recorded and 292 camping permits were issued. Both trailer and tent spaces are available at present.

County Group Studying Needs Of Mentally Retarded Children

PROBLEMS OF MENTALLY RETARDED CHILDREN are being extensively studied by a county-wide group of parents and friends of such children, organized as the Ottawa Association for Retarded Children. Although much work has been done toward solving the problems, the association hopes to carry out a program which would enable them to fulfill practically all needs of retarded children in this area. Pictured conferring on plans for a meeting Thursday night are President Victor Van Oosterhout, Mrs. Ruth Mueller, seated; Mrs. William Venema, standing at right; and Mrs. J. I. Holmes.

The Ottawa Association for Retarded Children, a county-wide group of parents and friends of mentally retarded children, has undertaken a study of the problems of retarded children in Ottawa County.

In helping to solve this great problem, the association has set up far-reaching goals which ultimately would fulfill needs of the retarded children in this area.

The tragedy of having a child—for whom one has hoped and planned—be a retardate may bring great problems into the life of parents, association members point out. Some parents refuse to believe it, others hide their children away and many emotional licks result.

While society cannot make these afflicted children normal, it can help to improve the situation. Relatives, friends and neighbors can help by realizing that brain injury or retardation is no disgrace—it may happen in the best of families. A kindly and intelligent attitude does much to make life easier for parents, brothers and sisters of the retarded child.

Common causes of mental retardation are glandular deficiencies, cerebral palsy, hydrocephalus, accidents and others. The problem is increasing, as often modern drugs, oxygen and transfusions save a life, but damage to the brain remains, for brain cells do not replace themselves.

Parents of the Ottawa Association have set up recreational programs in various parts of the county for retarded children. These include picnics, parties, movies, singing games and other activities, under direction of Mrs. Arnold Meinel and Mrs. Guy Beitenwerf, Grand Haven; Mrs. Forest Koning

Three Youngsters Admit Burglaries

A series of break-ins were cleared up today when three youngsters admitted the burglaries after questioning by Holland police and Ottawa County deputies.

The trio of brothers ranging in age from 10 to 12 admitted taking a variety of items ranging from a wrist watch to fishing rods in the break-ins during the past three months.

The theft of the wrist watch puzzled police. Officers said they weren't sure where the watch was taken and the youths weren't sure themselves. The watch contained engraving on the inside inscribed, "To Wayne from Dad—54". Anyone knowing who the watch belongs to is asked to contact Holland police.

The following places were entered and various items taken: Roels Produce, West Eighth St., $9 in cash; Don Winter residence, 89 West 11th St., $31 in cash in two trips; James Brooks residence, 86 West 11th St., an undetermined amount of money; Washington School, several pens and small items on several occasions; Cal Nordhoff home, 253 East 11th St., $4 in bills, a cast iron piggy bank and a large jackknife.

In addition the boys took a case of soft drinks from Riverview Park, drank the pop and sold the bottles. Several weeks ago during a Sunday School session the boys stole the teacher's purse and removed some money.

A half dozen fishing rods were also taken when Bill Vander Schel's fishing shanty and a rowboat from near the Harrington Coal Docks.

DOUGLAS KUIPER

Brave Youngster Loses Battle Against Disease

JAMESTOWN (Special) — A heroic struggle for life ended quietly Saturday for 10-year-old Douglas Kuiper.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kuiper of Jamestown.

The plucky red-haired youngster had been waging a valiant fight to survive ever since he first became ill in November, 1930. A short time later doctors amputated one leg in hopes of arresting his trouble.

He quickly adapted himself to his artificial leg and was able to get along quite well. But disease continued to take its toll on the small body.

Despite pain which was always with Douglas he never complained. Time and time again he would tell his mother, Mrs. Jerry Kuiper, not to work to hard.

When friends would drop in and chat with Douglas the answer was always the same when asked how he felt, "Okay, feel pretty good."

During the past few months the boy was confined to bed. He was forced to lie on two large pillows to ease the constant pain and help him breathe.

Dougie was frequently mentioned on Jean Hill's Storyland program on WHTC. Last summer the boy made a trip to the station and appeared on the program.

Doctors were amazed at the boy's struggle to live. They didn't expect him to last a year after his first illness. The boy up until a few months ago didn't know the seriousness of his illness.

A little girl visiting Dougie told him. After that the youngster seemed to sense that he was slowly dying despite the efforts of doctors across the country.

Parents and friends began maintaining an around the clock watch on Douglas when his condition took a turn for the worse last month.

One night as his mother sat beside his bed he turned to her and said, "Don't worry about me, Mommie. When I get to heaven, I won't have this pain. Jesus will take care of me."

At 8:30 Saturday Dougie's pain stopped. The fight to live that showed scores of neighbors and friends what courage is, had ended. The boy died quietly in his own bed at home.

Surviving besides the parents are a brother, Terry Conrad, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Osterbaan of Holland. The body was taken to the Intema Funeral Home in Zeeland.

Umpire Cracked With Bat; Holland In 2nd All Alone

Holland's Flying Dutchmen were in second place all alone in the Southwestern Baseball League today as the result of an 8-7 comeback win over the league-leading Grand Haven Athletics at River-view Park Monday night.

Tension was high for the crucial contest with the Grand Haven crew and it reached a peak in the sixth inning when Athletic second baseman Jack Westerhof cracked Umpire Ned Stuits over the head with a baseball bat and sent Stuits from the game with blood streaming from the wound.

Stuits said this morning that a doctor had called the injury a "hairline fracture" but that stitches were not required to close the wound.

Westerhof was questioned by Holland police following the game and released. The battle between the two started after Westerhof disagreed with Stuits' foul-ball call of his drive down the third base line.

The Dutchmen rallied in the eighth to give the Athletics their first defeat of the second half. Trailing 6-4, Holland used three hits, a walk and a fielder's choice to score four runs and take an 8-6 lead with Paul Mack's base-clearing pinch-hit triple the big blow.

Grand Haven wasn't through, though. Manager Nick Marod came in himself as a pinch-hitter in the top of the ninth with first baseman "Waggy" Waggonmaker on base with a walk. Marod clouted a triple into center field and probably would have had an inside-the-park home run if he hadn't slipped coming around third, but he was nailed at the plate as the Dutchmen halted the potential tying run.

Jerry Prince started for the Dutchmen and was relieved in the sixth by Jack Kempker who received credit for the win. Loren Cook went all the way for Grand Haven.

The Dutchmen picked up three runs in the first on a walk to Lou Humbert, doubles by Ron Fortney and Bob Van Dyke and a pair of wild pitches, but Grand Haven had already picked up two runs on three hits and the Athletics tied the game with a run in the third.

Prince aided his own cause with an inside-the-park home run into center in the fifth, but he went behind again in the bottom half by yielding three hits and another pair of runs.

Grand Haven stretched its lead to 6-4 in the seventh on two Dutchman errors. The Athletics outlived the Dutchmen, 11-8, and played errorless ball, but still lost to make their second-half record 3-2. The Dutchmen now stand at 3-2.

Holland will play host to the Fennville Merchants Thursday night.

The linescore:
Grand Haven — 201 020 011-7-11-0
