PAVING WORK UNDERWAY — Workmen for Carl Goodwin and Sons of Allegan will soon be averaging nearly 3,000 feet of paving a day on the M-21 bypass. Work started July 23 approximately 200 feet east of the present M-21 and US-31 intersection. The bypass will be used as the northbound lane to a point just east of the Black River bridge where the road will merge with the present road and be used for two-way traffic. The entire paving program covering some nine miles is expected to be completed within two months. The photograph shows part of the road already laid and looks east where the new road starts to curve away from the present M-21 which is at left.

Yes, July Was Cool, But Only Bit Under Normal

If you thought July was a cool month, you were right. It was.

But actually it was only 1.3 degrees lower than average, according to records compiled by Charles A. Steketee of Hope College. The average temperature for the month was 70.4 degrees. Moreover, it failed to hit 90 for the entire period, although it hit 89 twice.

But what it lacked in heat, it made up in rain. The month's total was 3.38 inches or .87 inch above normal. July was in direct contrast to hot, dry June when the temperature was 5.8 degrees above normal and the rainfall amounted to only .44 inch or 2.42 inches below normal.

During July, it rained 15 days which is quite a record. But the amount was far from setting a record. In 1955 the rainfall was 4.37 inches and in 1952 it was 5.26 inches.

July was full of thunderstorms, and thunder was recorded on 11 different days. Fog was reported only one day.

Most persons will recall the July heat last year when the average was 6.6 degrees above normal and Holland had 90-degree-or-better weather for 16 of the 31 days. Technically, the average was 7.9 degrees cooler than last July, and that's quite a spread.

Average temperature was 70.4 compared with 78.3 in 1955, 70.9 in 1954, 73.6 in 1953 and 74.8 in 1952. Maximum was 89, compared with 96 in 1955, 91 in 1954, 93 in 1953 and 95 in 1952. Minimum was 48, compared with 55 in 1955, 47 in 1954, 48 in 1953 and 48 in 1952.

Average maximum was 79.8 compared with 90 in 1955, 81.9 in 1954, 84.6 in 1953 and 85.6 in 1952. Average minimum was 60.9, compared with 66.5 in 1955, 59.9 in 1954, 62.5 in 1953 and 64 in 1952.

Precipitation amounted to 3.38 inches, compared with 4.37 inches in 1955, 4.34 inches in 1954, 2.62 inches in 1953 and 5.26 inches in 1952. Rain fell on 15 days, compared with nine days in 1955, eight days in 1954, 10 days in 1953, and 12 days in 1952. Greatest amount of precipitation in a 24-hour period was 1.67 inches in 1956, 2.88 inches in 1955, 1.32 inches in 1954, .94 inch in 1953 and 1.58 inches in 1952.

Two Injured as Furnace Nine Wins

Holland Furnace stepped out of the Recreation B Softball league Wednesday night and stopped the Douglas Athletic Club, 8-1.

But the win may be costly for future league play as two Furnace players were injured.

John Tjalma was hit by a ball in practice and suffered a broken bone in his jaw. Terry Mokma broke a bone in his foot sliding into second base. Length of time the two will be out has not been determined.

Tjalma played with the injury and slumped out a homer and aided in breaking a five-game winning streak for the Douglas club.

Ray Morren was the winning pitcher. The Furnace hasn't committed an error this season in running up an 8-1 record.

Car Demolished in Crash In Spring Lake Township

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — State police planned to question George Ives, 46, Grand Rapids, Tuesday about an accident in which Ives' 1956 car was demolished at 3:15 p.m. Monday in Spring Lake township.

The driver apparently lost control and his car sideswiped a tree whereupon the driver slammed on the brakes and ran headon into a second tree. The driver and a companion were given a lift to Muskegon where both refused medical aid and got out at Occidental Hotel.

A check on the license revealed Ives as the owner of the car, and Mrs. Ives told state police today her husband had suffered two fractured ribs and a bump on the head causing a slight concussion.

The crash occurred just west of 14th St. in Spring Lake township.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH — Mr. and Mrs. Silas De Graaf, of 17 1/2 West 14th St. and their 17-month-old baby, Steven, were thrown from their car (above) Sunday afternoon following a two-car collision at 16th St. and Riley Ave. Mrs. De Graaf, 20, an expectant mother, remained in Holland Hospital Monday in "fairly good" condition. She received a broken collar bone and multiple cuts and bruises. Her husband and baby were treated for bruises and released. Driver of the second car, Jack Mullins, Jr., 19, Grand Rapids, was not injured. Ottawa County deputies said the two cars were total losses. Deputy Bud Gysen, (right) looks at the De Graaf vehicle after it rolled into the upside down position. (Sentinel photo)

Zeeland Council Accepts Only Bid To Improve BPW

Group Gets $490,000 Bonds to Finance New Generator for City

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland City Council Monday night accepted the only bid submitted for the $490,000 worth of bonds to finance improvements to the city electric power system.

The vote was 4-1, with Mayor Robert De Bruyn casting the negative vote.

The passage of the issue pledges the revenue of the electric plant in case of default. Richard Wallace, a representative of Braun, Bosworth and Co. of Detroit, manager of the syndicate which purchased the bonds said that in case the plant should become unable to continue its payments, Council would be obligated to raise the power rates until the payments could be met.

In case the difficulty persisted, the bondholders could appoint a receiver to control the operation of the plant to put it on a paying basis. Wallace made it clear that only the revenue, and not the building or the equipment, and not the full faith and credit of the City of Zeeland was pledged.

The purchasing syndicate, besides Braun, Bosworth and Co., consists of Kenower, MacArthur and Co. of Detroit, Walter J. Wade, Ind., of Grand Rapids, McDonald, Moore and Co. of Detroit and the First of Michigan Co. of Detroit.

The syndicate will pay the par value of the bonds plus a premium of $88.20. The premium payment cuts the percentage of interest paid from three and one-half percent to 3.4983 per cent.

According to Wallace, the bonds will mature serially, some each year. A graduated scale of payment has been set which allows Zeeland to increase its ability to pay as the amount of payments rises.

The bonds will be dated, Wallace said, April 1, 1956. The first payment of $10,000 will be due on July 1, 1957. The July 1, 1958 payment will be $15,000. The table of amounts due on July 1 of each year:

1959-61, $20,000; 1962-65, $25,000; 1966-69, $30,000; 1970-72, $35,000; 1973-74, $40,000.

Under the agreement the last 11 payments are optional. In other words, the city may call back the bonds at any time after 1963, but not before that time.

The move to accept the bid was made by Alderman Boonstra, with Alderman Staal's support. Voting affirmative were Aldermen Boonstra, Staal, Hoogland and Van Eenennaam. Aldermen Klaver and Kooyser were absent.

The mayor said he voted against the acceptance because he felt that more time should have been taken in a survey of the actual needs of the city. He pointed out that there is a low cash balance in the electric department and that the department has had to borrow funds from the water department.

Before the vote, De Bruyn told the council "there are disadvantages and precarious things" involved in the acceptance.

Elmer Hartgerink, president of the Board of Public Works, answered that "obviously there are hazards, but, after consideration the board feels that we should go ahead with the plan." He also expressed hope that the new engine to be purchased and the possibility of using natural gas rather than fuel oil for fuel would enable the department to build up its surplus.

Hartgerink said that much of the cause of the low cash balance was due to improvement of the system of distributing power. The mayor

Don Baker Awarded Plaque at Convention

At the 40th annual convention of the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation held in Minneapolis, Minn., last week, Don Baker of Holland was named one of three salesmen chosen as "the most courteous and outstanding" at the show.

Engraved plaques were awarded to the three men from the 2,000 salesmen at the convention at the closing banquet.

Both William L. Baker, Sr., and his son, Don, are employed by the same poultry equipment company in Morley, Mich. The Baker home is at 1819 South Shore Dr.

Holland Woman Found Dead In Lake Michigan

The body of Mrs. Abraham Peters, 79, route 4, Tuesday was found floating in Lake Michigan approximately one-half way between the former Getz farm and Tennessee Beach on Lake Shore Ave.

Her body was recovered from the water by a grandson and Dr. William Westrate who lives in a cottage next to the Peters' residence. The discovery was made at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Ottawa County deputies said they believe Mrs. Peters wandered down to the lake sometime during the night for a walk. They said her bed had not been slept in.

Deputies found a cane normally used by Mrs. Peters at the top of a flight of steps leading to the water front. A flashlight and purse belonging to Mrs. Peters was lying in a boat drawn up on the beach.

Deputies said Mrs. Peters apparently was walking down the beach along the waterline when she toppled into the lake. The water had cut back the beach at that point leaving a ridge approximately a foot and a half high with a direct drop into the water.

Dr. Westrate said the aged Mrs. Peters suffered a stroke last winter.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Frances) Jellema, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Vernon (Ann) Roeloff, Appleton, Wis.; six sons, Arthur Jr., Holland; Theodore J., Lamont, Mich.; John, Pikeville, Ky.; Abraham Jr., Coco, Fla.; Leo, Grand Rapids and Dr. Eugene, Racine, Wis.

Mother, Child Injured

A Lansing and her two-year-old son escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when they fell from a moving car on M-40 south of Hamilton. Mrs. Helen Caesar, 33, and Bruce, 2, were treated at Holland Hospital for multiple cuts and bruises and released. The two struck the pavement when a door opened as the car rounded a curve.

answered that much of the cash had gone into repairs for breakdowns. City Superintendent L. A. Sears estimated that the cost of the last breakdown had been $4,500.

The meeting, attended by members of the purchasing syndicate and the BPW, was called by De Bruyn who said he felt that the meeting Friday had been illegal. That meeting had been held at 8 a.m., with a quorum arriving at 8:25 a.m. The method of calling the meeting caused De Bruyn to question its legality. Notices of the meeting had been put on the doors of council members the night before, De Bruyn said.

At that time, the council had accepted the bid by a similar 4-1 vote, and the mayor then contacted the syndicate representatives and asked them to be present at Monday's meeting.

City Engineer Presented With Lounge Chair on Retirement After 46 Years

Jacob Zuidema, who retired officially Wednesday as city engineer after more than 46 years in the employ of Holland city, could relax today in his new lounge chair, a gift from the city presented at Wednesday night's council meeting in appreciation of his outstanding contribution through the years.

The presentation, the last item on a fairly short agenda, followed a tribute to the retiring officer from Mayor Robert Visscher, read by City Clerk Clarence Grevenoged.

The mayor's tribute pointed out that Holland had a population of 10,400 when Jake first entered the city's employ as assistant engineer March 10, 1910. The interurban ran down Eighth St., one of three paved streets in the city. That paved thoroughfare was busy with horse traffic since at the time. There were no storm sewers and what sanitary sewers existed were all north 19th St. That was natural. Very few persons lived south of 19th St.

The street department in those days consisted of Jake and two regular maintenance men. Other labor was employed as needed at 50 cents an hour for a team of horses, wagon and driver. City Hall was just being built and the engineer's office was over what is now Peck's drug store. Some board sidewalks were being replaced with concrete.

Jake became city engineer in 1915 succeeding Henry Nabershuis, and continued in that position except for a two-year period, 1916-1918, when Carl Bowen was city engineer. In 1917 the city bought a touring car for the engineer. Up to that time he had carried his transit and tripod on a bicycle. In 1920 Jake got full credentials as a registered civil engineer and surveyor.

Street paving with asphalt began in 1921, and in 1923 the Pine Ave. storm sewer was constructed as the beginning of a complete storm sewer system. The depression years, 1933 to 1936, saw a big street paving program with relief labor doing a good share of the job under Jake's supervision.

Not until 1940 was there any office staff. Jake was timekeeper, engineer and supervisor, working in the field during the day, designing and drafting at night, and keeping books on weekends.

In 1941, the department became mechanized for plowing sidewalks. Up to that time the work had been done by horses. Holland today has one of the most effective snow removal programs in the state.

Today, the 30 employees of the street department use 11 trucks, a bulldozer front-end loader, a power roller street cleaner and street flushers, a leaf blower, a snowplow and five sidewalk snowplows, caring for some 50 miles of paved streets and 100 miles of sidewalks. Few cities can boast a more complete or better engineering program, yet it has been accomplished with limited funds.

During the busy years, Mr. and Mrs. Zuidema reared and educated two sons and a daughter. Both sons are now physicians and the daughter took nursing training. The family has been active in Third Reformed Church which Jake served several years as a consistory member. Jake's energies also extended to the business world. He currently is president of the Ottawa County Savings and Loan Association. This year his name was included in the 1956 edition of "Who's Who in the Midwest."

The mayor's message concluded: "Jake's retirement thus marks the culmination of a truly remarkable career in public service—one in which all the people of Holland join in an expression of thanks for work well done. As a man, a citizen, an engineer and a public servant, Jake's career will stand as an example and challenge to all who follow."

Jake will not be lost to the city in his retirement. He has been retained as a consulting engineer and will give whatever time he feels he can give to the city. Thus, the city will continue to benefit from his prodigious memory, which is a storehouse of factual information. For instance, Jake easily recalls that the original survey prior to 1910 on the east side of Central Ave., south from 16th midway between 19th and 20th was off so that abutting lots lack 1 to 4 1/2 feet of standard depth.

Jake's response to the tribute and presentation was quiet, gracious and somewhat hesitant. "I'm almost speechless, but I must say that I have enjoyed the work throughout the years and certainly appreciate the fine cooperation of this Council and all city officials as well as previous councils. And any praise for keeping the streets clean summer and winter must be shared with the men in the department who have cooperated wonderfully throughout the years."

Driver Charged After Accident

Norval Dale Steele, 31, of Banks, Ala., paid a fine of $20 and costs of $4.30 in Justice Egbert Boes Zeeland court after his car was involved in an accident with another at South State St. and M-21 in Zeeland Monday.

The driver of the other car, Erwin Dale South of route 3, Holland, was going south on State St. when Steele's car collided with his.

Steele was charged with running a red light, causing a property damage accident. Damage to Steele's 1956 model car was estimated by police at $400 and to South's 1952 model at $500.

Child Hit by Auto

Two-year-old Douglas Marlink of 368 West 19th St., Thursday night received a slight concussion and bruises were he was hit by a car in front of his home. Driver of the car was Evelyn Meyers, 30, of 593 East Eighth St. City police said the child was playing in front of his home and ran across the street where he was struck. His condition is good at Holland Hospital.

Youth Leads State Police On Wild Ride on M-50

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — For giving state police a 105-mile-an-hour chase on M-50 Sunday afternoon, Loren J. Brown, 17, on leave from the U. S. Navy, was assessed $65 fine and $4.90 costs in Justice F. J. Workman's court Monday.

Brown, who is attached to the USS Diamond Head at Todd shipyards at Brooklyn, N. Y., had been visiting his father in Standaale and had transported a party from South Bend, Ind., to Grand Rapids. He was to pick them up at 6 p.m. Sunday but in the meantime met up with four youths and took them for a fast ride on M-50. State police intervened and speeds went up to 105 miles an hour before the chase ended in Tallmadge township.

He waived examination on the charge and was held in lieu of $3,000 bond to appear in Circuit Court Oct. 8.

Cornelissen was arrested at 7 this morning. Holland police officers wish to thank "several good citizens" for aiding in the arrest.

Most of the money was recovered.

Cornelissen was paroled from Jackson where he served a 5 to 7 1/2-year term for car theft, plus added time for escaping in 1952.

Local Man Held On Larceny Count

Holland Family Finds Lots to Do On Ship While Crossing Atlantic

(Karel - Mari Kleinheksel currently is on a European tour with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Kleinheksel. The following is the first of a series of dispatches. The Kleinheksels visited Europe two years ago also. — Editor)

By Karel - Mari Kleinheksel

"Getting there is half the fun," or so says Harvey S. Olsen in his book on traveling, "Aboard and Abroad."

We all began to wonder about this statement however, as we lay in a thick blanket of fog just off the coast of Labrador, on our third day out board the R. M. S. Ivernia!

The 21,717 - ton ship Ivernia (the R. M. S. stands for Royal Mail Ship) sailed on July 20 from Montreal, with landing scheduled for July 26 at Liverpool, England.

During that first day aboard, we could see both banks of the St. Lawrence River. We steamed past Quebec at about 6 p.m. that day, and all during the night, lights from tiny villages along the river were visible on our port side. It's hard to imagine now the people living in those small settlements spend their long, ice-locked winters.

Second day on board is always a good time to get acquainted with fellow passengers. There are only about 80 first - class travelers aboard, with the remaining 800 traveling tourist class. Although the English people are rumored as being an unfriendly lot, and the great majority of the first class group is British, we all seem to be getting along very well.

And this is about the time to speak of the food aboard the Ivernia. We were all prepared to suffer through meals made up primarily of mutton or kippers or bubble and squeak, but we have found the only things that are going to suffer are our waistlines!

Breakfasts are beautiful, with every kind of food imaginable offered, including of course, the kippers. Luncheons and dinners are six and seven course affairs, with both a fish and meat course. The food is cooked to order, and hard to resist. In fact, we've been assured that each of us will gain at least a "stone," or 14 pounds, on this trip!

We also discovered that dishes not on the menu could be had for the asking, so we have put our imaginations to work on desserts. So far, crepes suzettes, baked Alaska and cherries jubilee have been dealt with, and we've about run out of ideas.

Our third day was the unlucky one as far as captain, crew and passengers were concerned. The ship was trying for a record crossing, but the fog that we ran into during the night brought us to a full stop and ended hopes for the record.

Since the fog had come up in the part of our course that lay between Newfoundland and Labrador, there was some danger of running into an iceberg.

The Ivernia is equipped with radar, but because the bergs often have underwater ledges that extend out for several hundred feet and cannot be detected by radar, we had to "lay-to" or come to a stop for 24 hours.

Passengers sighted only one iceberg, on the following day when the weather had cleared. The berg was 12 miles away and looked like a lovely crystal palace with the sun shining on it. But no matter how beautiful icebergs look in the sunshine, it gives one an eerie feeling to be surrounded by them in the fog, especially when the ship's engines are idle. At least we knew what to do in case there was a collision.

Being so far north does have its advantages, however. We have wonderfully long days, and as long as it stays light no one seems to get sleepy. There was a large group out on deck last night at 11 p.m. We were all assembled to watch the sunset.

Although you'd think there would be too much spare time on a crossing like this, the hours seem to fly. Deck tennis, shuffleboard and table tennis tournaments are scheduled for the voyage, and so far competition has been keen. The pitch and roll of the ship just adds to the sport, although some of the contestants have dropped out and taken to their bunks with the dramatic pills within arms reach.

Even though there are a few passengers, there will be plenty on hand this evening for the farewell captain's dinner, always held on the next - to - the - last night on board.

Fancy hats and balloons will decorate the dining rooms, and of course, there will be all sorts of special dishes for the occasion.

Following dinner, a dance and fancy hat contest is planned. Or, if one prefers to sit quietly for a time, there is another new film being shown at the full - sized "cinema" on board.

The days and nights on shipboard have been full of things to do, but everyone is getting anxious to see the harbor at Liverpool. For many, like us, it will mean the beginning of a continental tour. Others will be arriving at home after a visit in the States or Canada, and many will be finding a new home in England.

Our tour will start in Scotland, a land of lakes and moors. And so it will be a farewell to the Ivernia on Friday and off to Scotland.

A flavorful substitute for vinegar in potato salad is the brine left from a jar of sweet pickles.

Rotary Luncheon Features Speaker

J. T. Wilkinson, regional chief of the Department of Conservation for the State of Michigan, was guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Thursday at The Castle.

Stating that a conservation program involves much more than fish and game, Wilkinson said that conservation means using our world wisely, with the proper use of water, soil and plants. Statistics show that if the useful soil of the world was divided, each person would receive a plot about the size of a city lot. This fact illustrates the importance of soil conservation, Wilkinson said.

Public education on conservation is essential, he said, and schools and colleges are now offering courses on it. Conservation and good citizenship go hand in hand, and the department is too small to deal with this problem alone.

The speaker was introduced by program chairman, Fred Coleman.

FOUR WEEK LEAVE

Yesterday Harold E. Stassen stated "punish me if you wish." According to the information from Washington Stassen said he had "expected" to bring down the wrath of the GOP organization leaders on his head when he set out to disrupt their "well-laid plans for a cut and dried convention."

He is also quoted as saying he is ready to accept political "punishment," but he will continue to warn his party that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's "name" will detract millions of votes from the GOP ticket fall.

In the speech, prepared for delivery to the National Press club, Stassen said that in all the "barage of high level criticism" that high level Republicans have fired at him, "no one has denied" his basic premise that Nixon would be a liability to the ticket if renominated as President Eisenhower's running mate.

Time will tell just what will happen. There are many people talking about the GOP politics up and down the country. There are many opinions concerning Stassen and Nixon. August is the month that the Republicans assembled in convention in California will need to come up with the answer.

We are of the opinion that Nixon will win out and remain the vice president running with our President Eisenhower.

United Press Washington Staff Correspondent Lyle Wilson writes in his column that announcement came one week after Stassen called on Vice President Richard M. Nixon to withdraw his candidacy for renomination. Stassen said he was not actually outside the official Eisenhower family, but merely would not be drawing a government salary until August 27, four days after the Republican National Convention is scheduled to end.

There are many stories concerning Stassen the cabinet member by invitation. In our fast changing world of today we have many problems and if you have ideas that you would like to write us about please sign your name and address. Hold your letters below three hundred words.

A Call to Christian Living
1 Peter 4:1-11

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

This is a good lesson for our times. We covet ease and comfort and dislike self sacrifice and self denial. The Christian life calls for crossbearing which is not easy.

I. It costs to be a Christian. However, it is worth the cost. Most of us have a Christian background but the Christians to whom Peter wrote did not have that. Furthermore they did not have as many fellow Christians to fellowship with as we have. The Christians of the early church broke many ties in order to become believers and many lost old friends because of their new mode of life. They were called upon to suffer. Peter encouraged them by directing their minds to Christ urging them to fortify themselves with the same mind he had. It was the aim of Christ always to please God—not himself. Christians should not live in obedience to the flesh but aim to do the will of God. There are two ways of living. The pagan way is to yield to the physical appetites; the Christian way is to do the will of God. Today many follow the pagan pattern because it is easy and popular.

The former friends of these early Christians looked upon them as strange persons. Modern pagans think that consecrated Christians who observe the Lord's Day, who do not attend wild parties, who refuse intoxicating liquor, who believe in unselfish living and who the Lord are a bit queer. Today there is a lowering of moral standards and much of it is due to the use of liquor. Many crimes can be attributed to the use of liquor and many car accidents take place because of drinking. But to denounce the liquor traffic and social drinking is unfashionable. Some who stand up against liquor are ridiculed by those who use it. Pagans try to defend their vices and their mode of life.

II. God will judge us all. The fact of judgment is overlooked and ignored by millions. It is not popular to speak of a God who judges—God loves too much to pass judgments upon people! It is old-fashioned to speak about the wrath of God; it is far more popular to speak about the love of God. The Gentiles who in those days lived immoral lives and the pagans of today who mar their lives by unclean living all will have to meet their Judge and give an account of how they lived.

III. Sane and sober living pays in the end. Peter urged believers to be "sober and watch unto prayer" that is to be "calm, self-controlled, men of prayer." Jesus commanded his disciples to watch and to pray—and that order is still in force and to do it, is best. It certainly is commendable to live in the consciousness of God.

The Bible puts much emphasis upon love. The word love is used many times in the Bible. The more Christians love, the more Christlike they will live and the less they show the spirit of the world. Love shows itself. It knows how to meet situations. One way they, in those times, could show love was to practice the grace of hospitality cheerfully. The public inns in those days were objectionable. Opportunities to show hospitality are still offered us. Some church members have large and beautiful homes but they use them only for self. They could use their homes for the Lord and his work but they will not do—it involves too much work. There are other opportunities offered to those who love to manifest their love to God and their fellow believers. Love ministers—and lovers have open eyes and see opportunities to minister.

1. Christ set us an example in suffering.
2. They who have the mind of Christ face suffering in the right way.
3. Some Christians are still ridiculed by pagans.
4. The world needs Christians who dare to be different.
5. Love covers a multitude of sins.
6. We are here to serve—not to be served.

Altars of Inspiration
Genesis 8:20-22, 22:9-11, Hebrews 13:10-13

by Darrell Franken

To the leader: Where do you receive your greatest inspiration? In other words, what is it that causes you to think of high ideals, great things you can do for others, and worthy deeds you can perform for Christ? Do books make you think about righteous living? Do people you meet inspire you to "love God above all others and your fellow men as yourselves?" Do your personal accomplishments spur you on to greater activity in Christ's church? Or do you get your greatest inspiration from your personal communion with God?

Preparation
Old Testament people received a great deal of inspiration and blessing from sacrificing on the altars they constructed. You as a leader can do something to recall the significance of altars. For a change, and to emphasize the symbolic value of an altar why not set up an altar in the front of your society meeting room. All you need is a table, white table cloth, two candles and a cross. This will help set the tone and atmosphere of the meeting.

Suggested Leaders' Talk
Begin by pointing to the altar and ask some questions to stimulate their thinking. You might ask questions like: Does this altar mean anything to you? What does it make you think of? What would Christianity be without altars? Is it good to have something like this to remind us of Christ's sacrifice? (The members need not answer these questions. This is only a way to get them to think with you.)

Next, be prepared to tell about the altars which are mentioned in the scripture passages cited above.

Altars of Inspiration

1. Noah's Altar (Genesis 8:20-22). Here you could either read the scripture again or tell the story. Noah's altar was not like the altar we have before us. The altar he made was built out of stone, and was used for sacrificing animals. For more material on this and the following ideas see the Christian Endeavor World.

2. Abraham's altar (Genesis 22:9-11). Here again you can either read or tell the story. Like the altar Noah made, this altar was also of stone. It too was probably not very beautiful, but it served a purpose. What is impressive about this altar is the faith that was necessary to build it, for Abraham had been commanded by God to sacrifice his son upon it.

3. Jacob's Altar (Genesis 35:6-7). Note here that the altar was built after Jacob met God. Have we built our altars of thanksgiving after we meet God?

4. Our Altar (Hebrews 13:10-13). This passage needs considerable explanation to be understood. But it does indicate that Christ is our altar. And if we put ourselves at his disposal, He is very pleased and we are greatly blessed.

Conclusion: The first three altars are visible, just as the one with the cross and the candles. (Point to or look to the altar you have constructed.) This altar we have made of wood. It is covered in white and on it now are the symbol of that great sacrifice which Jesus made. But let us remember that we also need an altar in our heart which makes us remember the sacrifice which Jesus made.

Navy Orders Boat Back for Inquiry

More trouble looms for the skipper of the PCE 877 who was ordered back to Great Lakes, Ill., with his boat Sunday to face a court of inquiry into the grounding in Holland Harbor Friday.

The vessel had originally early Monday with open house scheduled Saturday and Sunday from 10 to 5 p.m.

Orders arrived late Saturday forcing the boat to pull out 24 hours ahead of schedule.

The boat became stuck in the sand and mud in Lake Macatawa 100 yards off the Harrington Coal Docks early Friday afternoon. It was finally freed at 11 p.m. Friday by the Coast Guard cutter Woodbine.

Most of the 70 reservists and crew members went on liberty when it finally docked. The change in orders caught many of the crew at their homes and at least four men missed the boat which sailed at noon Sunday.

One crew member was left behind to pick up the late arrivals and advise prospective visitors of the change in plans.

Following the incident Lt. (jg) Robert A. Owen said the boat hit the sand bar because "the sand is piled up farther north in the channel than indicated on the chart."

CHICAGO — Navy authorities reported Monday that "not even the paint was scratched" when a naval reserve training ship ran aground at the Holland, Mich., harbor last Friday.

The informal inquiry, required by Navy regulations, revealed that authorities had suspected, that "sitting up" common in inland harbors was responsible for the mishap.

The ship was returned to the Great Lakes Naval Training Center here, and divers went down to examine the 185-foot hull of the patrol craft. They reported "not even the paint was scratched."

The ship is one of seven used for training naval reservists on the Great Lakes.

Pilot Maneuvers Plane Down on Lakewood Blvd.

A Pontiac pilot and a passenger are lucky to be alive today after they safely crash-landed their plane on Lakewood Blvd. Sunday afternoon when the ship developed trouble.

The pilot, Ben Mercado, said a bolt in the elevator came loose shortly after he took off from Park Township airport at 1:30 p.m. Mercado said the plane began vibrating, throwing the ship around the sky.

He aimed the plane toward Lakewood Blvd., cut the engine and started to glide down. Meanwhile, Dog Warden and Deputy Richard Bell was talking to a farmer on Lakewood Blvd., near 168th Ave., in response to a complaint.

Someone yelled "duck." Bell glanced skyward, saw the plane and hit the ground. Bell said the wheels of the plane missed him and his car "by inches."

Mercado's single-engine Stinson rolled nearly 1,000 feet before it came to a stop.

Fortunately there were no cars on the stretch of Lakewood Blvd. which is normally crowded with heavy traffic: moving to Lake Michigan.

Dozens of residents saw the plane come down on the road and within minutes a small traffic jam developed, further hampered by the plane sitting in the middle of the road.

Bell quickly borrowed a truck from a farmer and with the help of the crowd the plane was hoisted aboard the truck.

Bell led the way in his car and the caravan moved slowly down Lakewood Blvd. and back to the airport.

Mercado and his passenger, Harold Luttman, checked over the plane and said no damage resulted except for the lost bolt.

The pair decided to leave the ship at the airport and boarded a bus for their trip back to Pontiac.

Guidance Clinic Work Reviewed By van der Velde

"Mental illness can be cured! In fact, there is no area of human sickness which potentially offers a higher rate of recovery."

That was the theme of a discussion group attended by 25 interested Ottawa county citizens who gathered in the Eten House annex for dinner Friday evening, called by the Ottawa County Health Council.

Dr. O. van der Velde of Holland, chairman of the board of directors of the Muskegon Area Child Guidance Clinic, gave a brief history of the Muskegon clinic and its service in the six western Michigan counties. He related specifically its services in Ottawa county particularly during the last three years.

Dr. van der Velde said two years ago the demand for the service became so great in the county that branch offices of the clinic were established in Holland and Grand Haven with a well trained psychiatric social worker in charge. This made the services of the clinic more readily attainable for persons in the county.

In 1955, the Muskegon clinic treated 64 children from Ottawa county. In 1954 there were 86 cases involving 673 visits. In 1955, the first year the local offices were in operation, there were 147 cases involving 1,262 interviews. Dr. van der Velde said that while this shows that the service has grown it does not necessarily mean that mental illness is increasing in the county. He said it means that children with personality and behavior problems are being recognized and something is being done to cure them. Statistics show that the clinic cures 85 to 90 percent five-year cures.

The local report stated that Ottawa county had a waiting list of 26 children July 1, probably involving waits of five to six months. Early recognition and early treatment are paramount, and Dr. van der Velde pointed out that a waiting list indicates more professional help is needed. This was the conclusion of the group with full knowledge that more professional help means an increase in the budget.

So far it has cost the county an average of $65 per child, according to 1955 figures. During the same year it cost the state of Michigan $1,314 to maintain an adult for one year in a state mental institution.

The following groups were represented at the meeting: Board of Supervisors, Probate Court, Holland Community Chest, Tri-Cities Community Chest, Holland and Grand Haven public schools, County Community Health Council, Ottawa County Medical Society and the American Society of University Women.

Mrs. Wilver I. Drost, director of the Muskegon Clinic, answered many questions of the group.

He stripped down to his shorts, dived in and came up once calling for help. He failed to come up thereafter and dragging operations by the Coast Guard, Muskegon sheriff's department and the Fruitport fire department resulted in recovery of the body at 4:50 p.m. Coroner Basil Young of Muskegon county said Handte probably suffered a heart attack while in the water.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and lived in Grand Haven the last 30 years. He was employed by the Metal Stamping Co. of Ferryburg. He married the former Cally Kruithof Beach of Holland June 9, 1956.

Dutchmen Drop 5th Game In Second Half Play

SOUTH HAVEN (Special)—Holland's Flying Dutchmen absorbed their fifth straight loss in second round Southwestern Michigan Baseball League play here Saturday night as league leading South Haven stopped Holland, 7-3.

It was the fifth straight win for the Merchants, who have been untouchable at home this year. South Haven hasn't lost at home this season.

The Dutchmen, who now have dropped their last eight games, hope to snap the streak tonight against Fennville at Riverview Park. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Holland started strong against South Haven and pushed across two runs in the top of the first inning on singles by Norm Witteveen and Whitey Witteveen and a double by Bob Van Dyke.

Al Bronkhurst, Dutchmen manager, started on the mound for Holland and pitched shutout ball for the first two innings.

He was touched for a single run in the third on a combination of two singles and a double but again blanked the Merchants in the fourth.

Wally Wilt toiled on the mound for South Haven and after the first inning, although giving Holland two hits in both the third and fourth and single safeties in four other innings, was effective enough to keep Holland from threatening.

Holland lost its lead in the fifth as three runs scored on two singles, a double, a stolen base and a walk. The Merchants led 4-2 after five. Bronkhurst was relieved in the fifth by Morris Witteveen, who finished up the game.

South Haven scored two more runs in the seventh on three singles and a walk and in the eighth the final tally crossed on a combination of a hit, error and passed ball.

Bob Van Dyke scored Holland's last run in the seventh inning. He singled, stole second and came home when the second baseman let a grounder roll through his legs.

South Haven made 16 hits in the contest with McCoughan, Rodrick and L. Kriesten each getting three.

Holland hit safely 11 times and Max Doolittle, Whitey Witteveen and Bob Van Dyke each had two hits.

Norm Witteveen, Tony Wentzel, Morris Witteveen, Jim Bouws and Bronkhurst each had one safety. Line score:

Mobilgas, Raphael Win 1-Run Games In Softball Play

Two one-run decisions were recorded in City Softball League competition Tuesday night as Mobilgas Dealers won over Co. D, 3-2 and Raphael edged Fords, 4-3 at Van Tongeren Field.

The victories threw Raphael and Mobilgas into a three-way tie for fifth place with the Moose. All have 6-12 records.

The defeats kept the Fords in fourth with an 8-11 mark and buried the Guards deeper in the league cellar with a 6-14 record.

John Van Iwaarden won his own game in the opener, coming across with the winning run with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Van Iwaarden was safe on a fielder's choice, dashed around to third on Gord Sluiter's single and scored on a wild pitch by Co. D. hurler Harv Berens.

Both clubs had scored their other runs in two-run rallies.

The Guards put together three hits including a double by Jay Berens and singles by Orin Hall and Ron Nykamp for the two runs in the first inning.

Mobilgas made the best of one hit, a single by Rollie Frens, a hit batsman, two stolen bases, two errors and a fielder's choice to score its two runs in the fourth inning.

The winners made only four hits while the Guards collected six. Frens led the winners with two hits and Sluiter and Ron Bolhuis had one each.

Vern Boersen, Hall, J. Berens, Nykamp, Nutt Immink and Gene Immink each had hits for the Guards.

A three-run rally in the fifth inning, coupled with an earlier single run, was enough for Raphael to beat Fords.

Four singles, a fielder's choice and a wild pitch brought home the runs.

The Fords took a 3-0 lead in the third inning, sending three men home on only one hit. Aiding the scoring were two errors and a wild pitch.

Raphael came back in the bottom half of the third and scored its first run on a combination of an error, single, wild pitch and sacrifice.

The winners made seven hits off Howie Bosch and Fords hit safely four times off Ron Kalmink.

Rich Wolters paced the Raphael attack with a perfect night of three hits in three trips. Leroy Tooker, Stan Wlodarczyk, Gord Plagemars and Mel Koenes made the other hits.

Doc Overbeek had two hits for the losers with Wayne Hop and Vern Bloomers each had one.

Minister Takes School Position

ALLENDALE — The Rev. Raymond Schap, pastor of the Allendale Reformed Church for seven years, preached his farewell sermon Sunday. The family will be leaving shortly for Bellflower, Calif., where Rev. Schap will teach Bible in the Christian High School.

Rev. Schap, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Schap of 435 College Ave., Holland, was graduated from Hope College in 1932 and Western Theological Seminary in 1935. He and his brother, Theodore, who is now in Muskegon, took identical courses for 11 years in preparatory school, college and seminary. Both accepted calls to De Motte, Ind. Raymond to First Reformed Church and Theodore to the American Reformed Church. Raymond later served charges in Vriesland Reformed Church and Hope Reformed Church in Chicago.

While in DeMotte, a new church was built and the congregation grew from 30 to 80 families. This growth also was the case in Vriesland. In Allendale many new members were added. Sunday School attendance doubled and many improvements were made to church property.

In Allendale, Rev. Schap knew no denominational barriers and helped to make Allendale a better and growing community. He took an interest in getting a doctor to move to Allendale, in the consolidation of public schools, and in building a new school.

Mrs. Schap is the former Alberta Kloppears who was born in Coopersville. They have three children, Clinton, Alvin and Martha Jane. Both boys have been graduated from high school, and Martha Jane will enter the eighth grade at Bellflower next term. That school has 23 teachers.

PCE 877 Stuck In Lake Macatawa For Eight Hours

Hundreds Watch Show As Coast Guard Frees 186-Foot Vessel

The PCE 877 carrying 70 Navy reservists and crew members spent an embarrassing eight hours Friday stuck on a sand bar in Lake Macatawa before it was freed.

The ship was stuck in the sand and mud about a 100 yards off the Harrington Coal docks from 2:30 until nearly 11 p.m.

Two small boats from the Holland Coast Guard station made an initial attempt to move the vessel but without success.

Late in the afternoon help was requested from the cutter Woodbine which arrived at 8 p.m. from Grand Haven.

The word passed quickly that a Navy boat was stuck in the sand. In a few hours a traffic jam developed on land as hundreds came down to see the "show."

At the same time a traffic tieup was taking shape on the water as dozens of small boats cruised around the grounded Navy boat.

Meanwhile back on the beach wives and girl friends of the crew members settled down for a long wait.

Some residents brought picnic lunches and stayed in their cars while they watched the attempts of the Coast Guard to free their "fellow" sailors from the sand bar.

An eight-inch hawser between the two boats soon parted under the pressure as the Woodbine moved ahead with all engines at top power as the PCE 877 backed down with all engines in reverse. No luck.

On the second attempt 10-inch hawsers were used and slowly the PCE 877 was pulled off the sand bar.

Meanwhile back on the beach a cheer went up from the crowds as the 186-foot boat slid back into the channel and started for its berth at the city coal docks.

The skipper, Lt. (jg) Robert A. Owen said the boat came through the ordeal without damage. He said, "The sand is piled up farther north in the channel than indicated on the chart."

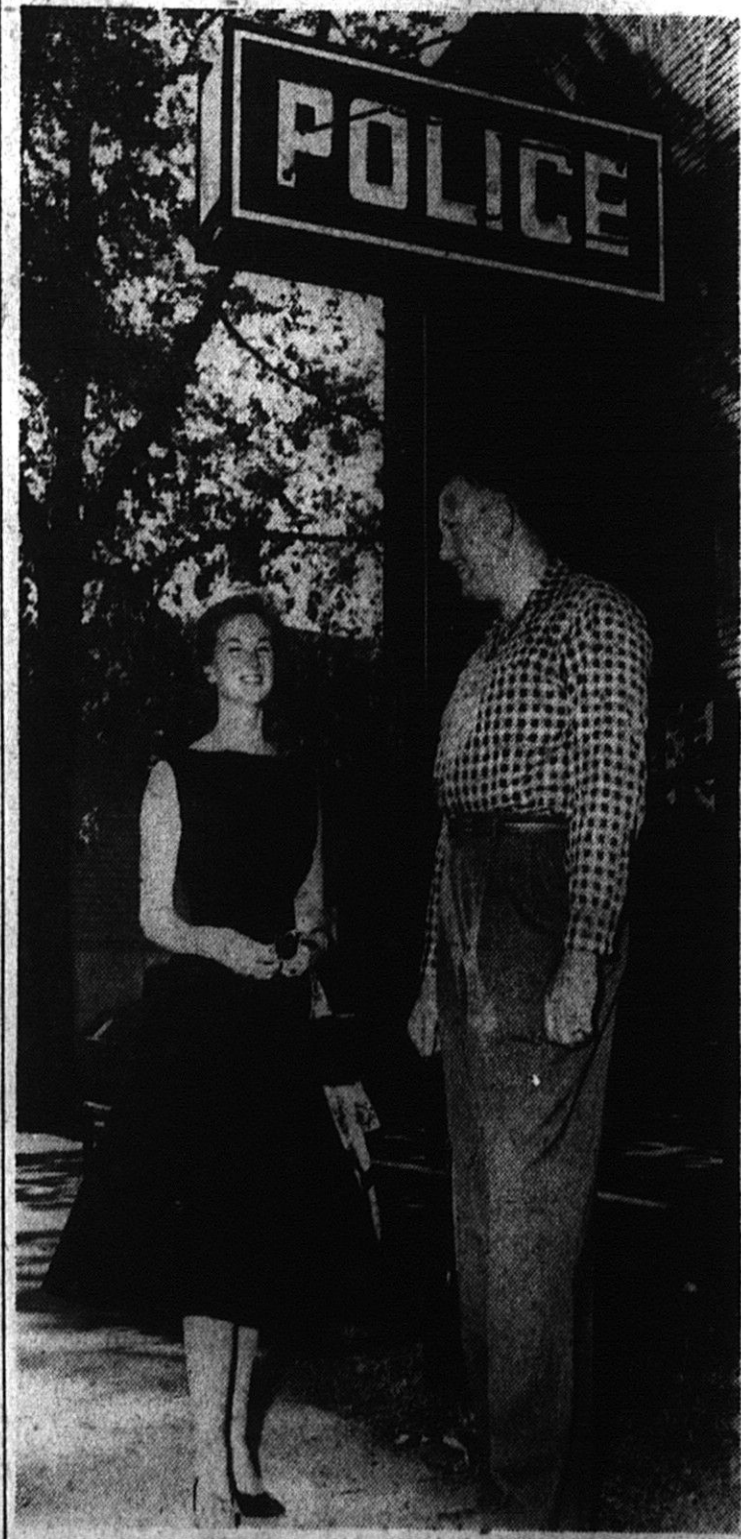

Finally at 11:30 p.m. the crew came ashore for their long-awaited liberty that had been scheduled to start at 3 p.m.

Owen said he was appreciative of the help given him by the Coast Guard in freeing his vessel.

Mrs. John Edward Naber

Miss Postmus Becomes Bride of John Naber

Milwood Christian Reformed Church in Kalamazoo was the scene of a wedding Friday at 8 p.m. when vows were spoken by Miss Nancy Ann Postmus of Kalamazoo and John Edward Naber of Holland. The Rev. Thomas Yff, former pastor of Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church, performed the ceremony before a setting of white gladioli, palms and candelabra.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Postmus of 130 East Maple St., Kalamazoo. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arend Naber of 185 East 18th St.

The bride chose a floor length gown of Schiffi embroidery and nylon tulle over taffeta. The gown featured an embroidered bodice designed with a portrait neckline edged in scallops and dainty short sleeves. A veil of pure silk illusion held a crown of orange blossoms and tucked illusion. The bride wore mits of nylon tulle with embroidered panels identical to the bodice. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible, white orchid and lilies-of-the-valley.

Arlene R. Vander Roest of Kalamazoo assisted as maid of honor. She wore a pastel green dress of frosted nylon over net and taffeta. The ballerina-length gown was decorated with white embroidered trim on the bodice and skirt and large taffeta bows in back. She wore a pastel green picture hat with a velvet band and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and yellow roses and baby gladioli blossoms.

The bridesmaids, Harlean Stremler and Marlene Bos, wore gowns of pastel pink and yellow, respectively, which were similar to the maid of honor's.

Ray Naber was best man and Roger Naber and William Postmus served as ushers.

The organist was Miss Janice Meyer. Robert V. Talsma was soloist.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Northern Michigan after a reception in the church parlors.

The bride is a graduate of Kalamazoo Christian High School and Calvin College. She is employed in the Kalamazoo City Clerk's office for the summer and plans to teach in the fall. The groom is a graduate of Holland Christian High School and Hope College. For the past two years he has been a teacher at Kalamazoo Christian High School. He has accepted the position of principal at Fremont Christian School for the coming year.

The newlyweds will reside at 210 East Pine St., Fremont.

IT'S BEEN SIXTY YEARS SINCE OTTAWA COUNTY HAS ASKED FOR ANY NEW BUILDINGS FOR ITS EXPANDING SERVICES

NOW WE HAVE TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT BECAUSE THE COUNTY HAS RUN OUT OF NOOKS AND CRANNIES

On Tuesday, August 7, you will have the opportunity to render yourself and your fellow citizens of Ottawa County a real service. You can vote "YES" on the County Proposal to provide some new and essential quarters for its expanding services.

This is the first time in more than a half century that the County has asked for any new buildings. The Board of Supervisors simply has no other choice, for the simple truth is that Ottawa County has run out of nooks and crannies in which to house its growing affairs.

There is no more room in the over-crowded County Building. There is nothing more that can be done with the County Jail; it has reached the point of being beyond repair. The County's Branch Offices at Holland's City Hall must be vacated; new quarters must be provided. Juvenile Detention facilities are non-existent; something must be done about it.

It's a big order, but by no means a burdensome job. And since all these problems must be met, it makes sense to lump them all into one project over a four-year period. The Board of Supervisors would readily appropriate the money for these needs, for all it requires is an extra mill on each dollar of equalized valuation, for four years, but the Law makes it necessary to ask the voters of the County to approve this appropriation.

Part of the money needed is already allocated - approximately $61,000.00 - and it needs only the approval of the voters to make it available for the expansion program.

So, you have two proposals to vote "YES" on at the August 7th Primary Election, — the one that makes the money now on hand legal to use, and the one that calls for an extra One Mill County Tax for four years only. To understand the One Mill amount, think of it as One Dollar per 1,000 of assessed valuation, — certainly a small amount for ALL FOUR of the necessary building projects. The only reason it can be so small is that there will be no interest to pay. This is strictly a pay-as-we-go program; it is not a bond issue involving financing charges.

Ottawa County Supervisors have a record of frugality and conservatism with public funds. They have studied every possible alternative, explored many stop-gap measures, in their efforts to solve these essential problems. They know, more than anyone, that there is no longer any other answer than the one now proposed. Ottawa County simply must put its physical house in order. The unanimous vote of the Supervisors in support of this program is your assurance that the need is genuine and critical, — and that it can no longer be put off to a future day.

HERE'S WHY WE HAVE TO CATCH UP WITH THE TIMES

The Case For A New Annex To The County Building

Back in 1893, when Grover Cleveland sat in the White House and the country was hearing unbelievable tales about its first horseless carriage, Ottawa County built itself a new County Building on the Courthouse Square in Grand Haven. It was a beauty, and it was wonderfully large and commodious. You can see from its spacious lobbies, boulevard-like corridors, massive open stairways, and ceilings higher than a step-ladder's reach, how impressive it must have been to all of Ottawa County's 36,000 citizens.

There was no thought in those days of the offices of the Clerk, Treasurer, and Register of Deeds being as busy as bee hives. Nor did anyone think that the halls, vaults, and cubby holes of the imposing County Building would have to be opened up to such unheard of departments as Health, Education, Agriculture, Welfare, Social Aid, and so forth. They couldn't foresee the heavy work load of the Probate Court, — nor could they anticipate the new service needs of the growing population and changing times. It was a wonderful structure for its times, — but this is 1956, — 63 years later, — with a County population of 80,000, and rising steadily. Something has to give, — and the County Building has run out of capacity to give another inch.

A quick tour of the County Building is enough to show you how necessary it is to obtain more room for the overcrowded departments. The doubling up, and the congestion, with the clatter of typewriters destroying any quiet for conference or conversation, the stumbling over one another's desks, — all contributing to irritation and inefficiency. The citizens of Ottawa County cannot be satisfied with this kind of hodge-podge.

It just makes sense to relieve this situation by erecting a new building that can serve as an annex to the present County Building. The ground is available to build it on, and by so doing the old County Building can be brought back to its usefulness for some years to come. The new unit will be so designed and located as to form the beginning of what can ultimately be a whole new layout, if and when the present County Building outlives its usefulness.

You can have this new — and necessary — facility by voting "YES" on the small tax of One Mill for four years. Every dime of that amount will go into the building program; not a cent will go for interest or financing charges.

The Case For A New County Jail

Our present Ottawa County Jail was built in 1898, and, like the County Building, it was a very fine structure for its day. For many years it was rated well above average, but time and hard use have left their marks upon it, and today it is far below the average standards.

Inspectors find nothing good about the building. The old brick walls are crumbling, and it is far beyond repairing. It is completely obsolete in all respects, and it is "only a matter of a short time before we will have to condemn this institution", in the words of the State Inspector of Jails.

While the physical deterioration of the building is certainly the most urgent reason for rebuilding, there are many other conditions that drag the present Jail far below requirements.

All inmates in the cell block have access to the outside walls which are extremely vulnerable to any escape-minded convict. In addition, the windows in these outside walls are a constant invitation to the inmates for communicating with accomplices and obtaining contraband articles.

The only room the Sheriff has for his office, and for interrogation and consultation quarters, is a converted padded cell. There are no facilities for segregating hardened criminals from youthful first-offenders, or civil prisoners who are temporarily detained for minor offenses. There is no arrangement for segregating female prisoners from the male. There are no accommodations for mental cases, although from fifty to sixty such victims have to be held in the jail every year pending transfer to other institutions.

Sanitary conditions are woefully below par. There is no equipment for sterilizing dishes, clothing and bedding, — no laundry facilities. The kitchen can feed up to ten at a time, but no more.

In view of these intolerable conditions, and inasmuch as official condemnation is a foregone conclusion, it just makes good sense to correct the situation now. A new, modern County Jail to properly take care of up to 70 inmates (jammed full, the present jail holds 32) will be built out of the One Mill for Four Years program.

The Case For A Branch County Building In Holland For Social Welfare

For twenty years the City of Holland has been providing office space for the Ottawa County Welfare Department and its allied services. These offices in the City Hall have been rent-free, indicating the value that the City of Holland has placed upon this service.

Struggling with its own problems of growth and expansion in municipal services, the City of Holland has found it necessary to ask the County to vacate its City Hall quarters. This move has not come any too soon, for the congested conditions of the Welfare offices have been even more critical than those at the County Building.

Since 60% of the Welfare and Social Aid cases are in the southern half of the County, it just makes good sense for these departments to be headquartered in Holland. And it makes even more sense for these services to have their own building, where efficiency can be brought to bear on the increasing functions.

County officers, particularly the Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney, Probate Judge, have many occasions to be in Holland for the transaction of business, and they have had to shift for themselves in finding places to conduct their affairs. The proposed new building will also provide accommodations for these situations.

There is no room for delay in meeting this problem. The County must have its own quarters in Holland for meeting the needs of this populous area. The cost of this new building is included in the One Mill for Four Years proposal. It will be one of the finest investments the County can make in efficiency and service.

The Case For A Solution To The Juvenile Detention Problem

Ottawa County has never had its own Juvenile Detention Home, and therefore has never had the proper control over its Juvenile cases. It has been "boarding out" these juveniles in the Kent County Detention Home under circumstances that have been none too good.

In meeting its own Juvenile Detention problems, Kent County has had to serve notice on Ottawa County to look to other ways for accommodating its wayward minors, and for sheltering the children of broken homes. For similar reasons, Muskegon County is in no position to help out Ottawa County in opening up its facilities to our juveniles.

It is well that Ottawa County face up to this pressing problem, for it is not only a building that is involved, but the whole matter of a Juvenile program. A Juvenile Detention Home is not a jail where minors are committed for their offenses; it is a home for holding these juveniles in security while their cases are treated by the Probate Court. Many of them have committed no offense; they are the hapless victims of family disturbances. They should have care while in the Probate Court's custody, and our own Ottawa County Juvenile Detention Home is the answer.

The One Mill for Four Years will provide adequate facilities for juvenile detention under our own County supervision and control. Let us do the humane and legal thing by voting "YES" to the County's building proposals, so that we can take care of our own wayward and neglected children.

Instructions For Voting On The Voting Machine

1. Move the RED HANDLE to the Right.

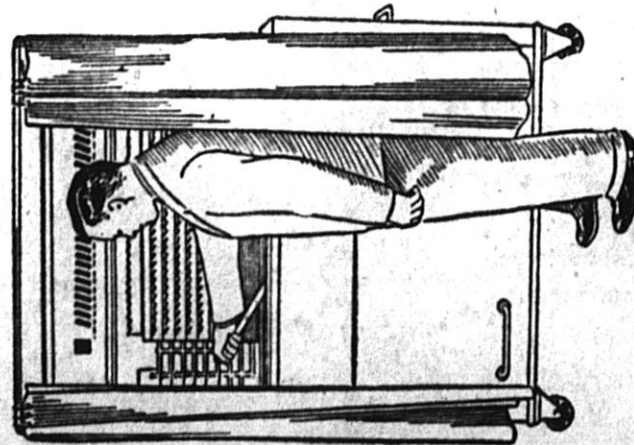

2. Turn the PRIMARY LEVER to your PARTY NAME and leave it there
The PRIMARY LEVERS are located on the lower right side of the machine. See illustration below.
At this election you can vote for the candidates in ONE PARTY ONLY to which you turn the primary lever.

3. Turn a VOTING LEVER DOWN Over each CANDIDATE or PROPOSAL of your choice.

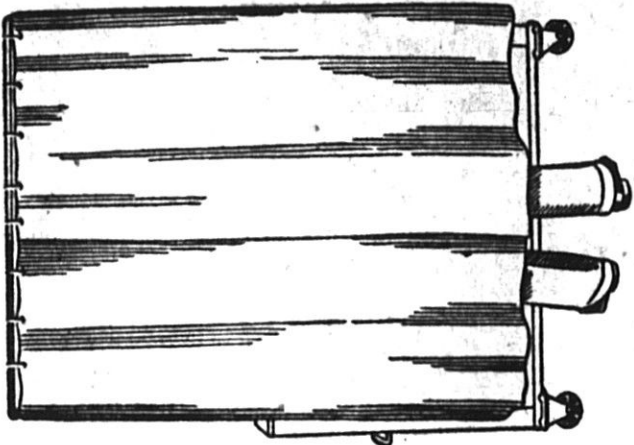

LEAVE VOTING LEVERS DOWN

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting levers for each office, so you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting lever is located just above the name; a voting lever must be turned over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave voting levers down. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle returns the voted voting levers to the unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

4. Move the RED HANDLE to the LEFT.
