Developers Plan Recreation Area

Plans for a $1 million year-around recreation and resort area in the Macatawa Hills area between 32nd St. and the Castle Park Rd. were made known Tuesday by Norman Archer and Donald Martin, two Detroit area businessmen.

The development, called the Carousel Mountain project, will include a ski area with a double chair lift and two T-bar lifts and a snow machine, a ski lodge, a "par three" (short hole) golf course, tennis courts, a swimming pool, and a year-around dining establishment atop one of the hills.

Also planned is the construction of 25 apartments to be rented in the area, and the developers have longer-range plans to develop homesites.

Archer said that most of the development, with the exception of the golf course, swimming pool and homesites, will be completed by late fall. They plan to open the facility to the public by Dec. 1, or "when the weather is cold enough."

Construction is going ahead on the ski areas. Some trees have been cleared for the lifts, and heavy earthmoving and construction equipment will be arriving in the next few days. When completed, Archer said, the ski runs will range from 1,500 to 2,700 feet.

He said sanction has been received for holding par circuit ski races in the area, and races will be scheduled for February. He said the races will be held in conjunction with a winter carnival, plans for which will be announced later. In addition to skiing, skating, ice-boating and a fishing derby are among the events which may be included in the winter carnival.

The golf course and swimming pool will be completed by this spring, Archer said, and the homesites are also expected to be available at that time.

The developers have acquired a large tract of land for the development, including a 50-acre area formerly owned by the Harrington Fuel Co. No lake frontage was involved in the purchases.

The area is located west of 66th St. and south of 147th Ave. in Laketown Township of Allegan County.

Archer owns three ski outlets in the Detroit area, and is also involved in light manufacturing. Martin is a manufacturer supplying automotive companies.

Dismiss Case Against Pair

GRAND HAVEN — Judge Raymond L. Smith granted a motion to dismiss charges against both defendants in a jury trial in Ottawa Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon. The case was that of Graden Benzing, Fruitport, against Justice of Peace Wilbur Koww of Holland township and Peter J. De Jonge, living near Holland.

Benzing had filed a suit in Circuit Court against Justice Koww and De Jonge charging false arrest. He claimed De Jonge, owner of a farm near Holland, had Benzing arrested for hunting and trespassing Dec. 13, 1962. Benzing was lodged in the county jail overnight.

Benzing denied the trespassing charge and sought a total of $21,000 in damages, exemplary and punitive, for the humiliation of the false arrest and imprisonment in the "drunk tank" cell at the jail.

The plaintiff had received a commission in the National Guard, he said, and on the day of his arrest had been alerted to command his troops. He was prevented from carrying out his duty by reason of what he charged was a false arrest. The arrest will make a bad mark on his military record, he claimed.

The trial had started here Tuesday and the plaintiff's proofs had been submitted when Judge Smith granted a motion to dismiss, filed by attorneys for both defendants.

Reaction on Downtown Plan Mixed

ALLEGAN — The city planning commission's proposal for rehabilitation of the central business district has met with a mixed reception.

At an informal public hearing on the plan for adding off street parking, improving access to the district and easing traffic congestion, straw votes showed:

Thirty-two landlords and business property tenants favored the plan and 15 voted against it.

Polled separately, 16 landlords indicated approval and 11 disapproval.

The informal hearing held Monday night in the Griswold Building attracted more than 100 residents.

Weldon Rumery served as moderator for the session in which the city's planning consultant, Scott Bagby, of Grand Rapids, and members of the planning commission outlined their plan for a $300,000 "revitalizing" of downtown Allegan.

Commission Member Richard Huff, recalling that merchants had originally urged the commission to give downtown problems "top priority," said the resolution which has been drawn up for presentation to City Council asks for establishment of a special assessment district.

The bounds of the assessment district were determined by scribing 300-foot arcs from the five free off-street parking lots included in the plan. If the plan is accepted, assessment would be determined on a "benefit" basis, with distance from parking, size and type of business being considered.

The ordinance called for in the resolution would allow for acquisition of necessary property through purchase, condemnation or gift and provide for financing through bond issues based on the special assessments or as general obligations of the city.

Bagby traced the history of cooperation between cities and business property owners on similar joint projects.

He said central business districts laid out in the horse-and-buggy era are faced with shopping center competition — must "compete or perish."

He said Allegan's central business district represented some 2 1/2 million dollars in property valuation and a half-million in personal property which will soon be "depreciating at the rate of 4 to 5 per cent a year" if steps are not taken to combat it. He said an investment of 1 per cent a year would maintain or increase present values.

Municipal improvements called for under the plan would encourage private remodeling in the downtown area, he said.

Answering questions from the floor, commission members said: The plan is designed to provide adequate parking for peak load periods.

That growth of the Allegan urban area had been in step with other Michigan areas, even though the population of the city itself has not increased in recent years.

The trading area doesn't stop at the city limits," Huff pointed out. That the cost of $1,500 per additional parking space was not high, but "actually a bargain in comparison with costs in other cities . . . because not too many existing buildings would have to be razed."

That one-way streets help, rather than hinder most types of businesses, since they allow the streets to carry three times as much traffic with fewer accidents and less congestion.

GRAND HAVEN — A. L. Edwards, superintendent of the Board of Public Works at Niles for nine years, has accepted a position as superintendent of the Board of Light and Power at Grand Haven.

He will resign his Niles position Aug. 17 and start his work here Aug. 19, according to James Levisky, president of the board. Edwards has been at Niles since 1954, before which for two years he was employed by the city of Holland where he supervised the building of the $2,500,000 expansion program of the Board of Public Works, and assisted in a water study and preliminary study of sewer facilities. He also at one time was employed as maintenance man for the Columbia Water and Light Department at Columbia, Mo.

He attended the University of Missouri and has done graduate work at Michigan State University. Henry Dirkse has been acting superintendent of Grand Haven's Light and Power plant and the distribution system since J. B. Sims, former superintendent, retired Feb. 1.

Miss Mary Slag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Slag, 81 West Ninth St., has returned home after spending five weeks at Northwestern University National High School Institute at Evanston, Ill. She took several courses in drama and received a Masque and Gavel award for outstanding work in the course. Miss Slag will be a senior in Holland High School this fall.

Hospital Contract Is Okayed

City Council Wednesday night unanimously approved a Hospital Board contract with the James A. Hamilton Association for building consultation on a proposed addition to the hospital.

The vote followed considerable discussion and Hospital Director Frederick S. Burd outlined developments in preliminary planning to bring Council up to date on hospital matters. Hamilton Associates had been retained for a preliminary study about a year ago and this study was submitted last spring along with preliminary plans for a $2 million hospital addition, plus general planning for a second large addition by 1980.

The next step last spring was to obtain funds for further consulting services and for hiring an architect, and with Council approval the Hospital Board sought a loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency. This $52,000 loan was approved only last week, and the Hospital Board sought Council approval for the present step before Aug. 15 so that a $750 credit (one year limit) might be exercised with Hamilton Associates.

John H. Van Dyke, Hospital Board president, told council the federal loan would have to be repaid once construction is started. He said the $52,000 would be working capital for architects and consultants until such a time as local financing is available. He said no decision has been made on this point, but added that the 1958 addition had been financed through a bond issue, fund campaigns and Gift-Burton funds.

Director Burd pointed to the need for immediate action since many hospital patients this summer have been in corridors pointing to an acute need for more beds.

Van Dyke said the Hospital Board would continue to work with City Council and the medical staff in planning for the hospital addition. The standing committee for hospital planning consists of Henry Steffens, chairman, Morris Peerbolt and Richard W. Smith.

In other business, Council reconsidered an application for a dance permit for the Oak Harbor Room of the Hotel Warm Friend after denying the request July 3. Vote was 7 to 2, with Henry Steffens and Eugene Vande Vusse dissenting.

City Clerk D. W. Schipper read a note from the Secretary of State setting a special election in the city Sept. 24, 1963, on the question of annexing a section of Federal district to the city. This election also will be held in Holland township. The city also will vote on a swimming pool proposition at the same time.

Council awarded a contract for resurfacing about 2 1/3 miles of city streets to the lowest of three bidders, West Shore Construction Co., for $30,452.50. This work will be completed in connection with the summer paving program.

On recommendation of City Manager Herb Holt, Council approved a building permit for Boeve

Oil Co. for a service station on the southeast corner of 32nd St. and US-31 business route.

The city manager also reported having obtained an option on the Cammenga property in the area of 26th St. and Graafschap Rd. to run 90 days from July 17 including a purchase price of $10,000 based on an appraisal by the city assessor. The land is being studied as possible site for a park development.

On request of the Kroger Co., Council deleted the south side of 31st St. from Maple to Michigan Aves. from the 1963 sidewalk program.

Mayor Nelson Bosman appointed Charles Shidler to the Traffic and Safety Commission to fill the unexpired term of Vern J. Schipper, said term to expire June 30, 1965. Council approved.

The Library Board reported receipt of $5,000 for books from an anonymous donor and $9 for books from the Aowaki Camp Fire group of Longfellow School. Council accepted with thanks.

Council also accepted an invitation from the Holland Jaycees to attend the HEDCOR chicken barbecue next Tuesday at Civic Center.

Council adopted a previously tabled resolution to give notice to Crampton Manufacturing Co. relative to property proposed for a truck route. This is in keeping with an agreement some years ago when the city closed Harrison Ave. and the company agreed to turn over property for a truck route when needed.

All Councilmen were present at the meeting which lasted an hour and 10 minutes. Mayor Bosman presided and Dr. J. T. Hoogstra of Prospect Park Christian Reformed Church gave the invocation.

Chamber to Elect Five Directors

Nominations have been made for candidates for the board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and Chamber members will elect five directors.

Deadline for balloting for directors is Sept. 10 at 5 p.m. The five elected will serve three-year terms.

Directors who are completing one year appointive terms and are eligible for election include Russell Bouws, Robert De Nooyer, J. H. Petter, Delwyn Van Tongeren and Herman Windemuller.

Others nominated included Percival Bailey, Rev. William Burd, Jack Daniels, William DuMond, Peter Elzinga, Dale Fris, Gerrard Haworth, Vernon Houting, Carl Johnson, Gerald Kruijff, Harry Nelis, Jr., William C. Vandenberg, Jr., Dale Van Lente, Paul Winchester and Windemuller.

The cost of approximately $120,000 is being borne jointly by the city of Holland and Ottawa County. City Manager Herb Holt said planning and engineering had been done by the Ottawa County Road Commission which had felt a 28-foot wide bridge would be sufficient for years to come.

Jongsma also urged another bridge across Black River—at perhaps Pine Ave., as something which would relieve traffic congestion on the present River Ave. bridge.

Holt felt another four-lane bridge either east or west of the present bridge would be a great aid to traffic, but he doubted cars would fall readily into a pattern of bypassing the River Ave. bridge as far east as 120th Ave.

There was some mention of the possibility of another truckline bridge for M-40 if and when it would terminate at Holland State Park instead of downtown Holland.

Councilman Harold Volkema said at the time Holland entered into an agreement with Ottawa County in financing the bridge on 120th Ave. there had been some question whether the city was justified in spending $60,000 on such a bridge. He felt there would be considerably more criticism if plans were to be changed to make the bridge larger. That seemed to conclude the bridge matter for the time being.

Councilman Richard W. Smith asked about the status of sewer service charges and moved that City Manager Herb Holt be directed to study the program, its profits or losses and submit a report to Council as early as possible. Smith expressed the hope that perhaps the service charge could be reduced.

A petition requesting sanitary sewer service in East 24th St. was referred to the city manager for report.

In acting on a previously tabled application for Walter Deitz for a permit to move a house and garage from 795 Lincoln Ave. to 180 East 32nd St., Council okayed the application by a vote of 7 to 2, with Morris Peerbolt and John Van Eerden dissenting.

An application from Herman Berens for a permit to move a house from 279 West 29th St. to 504 West 22nd St. was tabled until the next meeting.

Oaths of office were filed for Donald J. Van Ark and Hazen Van Kampen as members of the Traffic and Safety Commission.

Council granted a variance in curb cuts for Theisen-Clemmens Co. which requested a 40-foot cut on 32nd St. for a service station located at the northeast corner of 32nd St. and Michigan Ave. The request came in a letter from Lokker and Boler, attorneys.

Council granted permission to the local chapter of SPEBSQSA to hang cardboard street signs from flower basket brackets on Eighth St. next Oct. 11 and 12 renaming the street Harmony Lane for the two days of the Michigan District convention in Holland.

Mayor Nelson Bosman and Councilman Peerbolt were appointed official delegates from Holland to the Michigan Municipal League convention Sept. 5 through 7 at Mackinac Island. Because the meeting might interfere with the first meeting in September of City Council, the meeting was changed from Sept. 4 to Sept. 11.

An audit report from the Insurance Audit and Inspection Co. on the city's property and casualty insurance was referred to the city manager for study.

Claims were filed for Grace G. Guffy, Racine, Wis.; Richard K. Hunt, 33 Cherry St., and State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. All were referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney.

Ask Bridge On 120th Be Larger

City Council heard an argument Wednesday night on whether a 28-foot roadway is sufficient for the new bridge over Black River on 120th Ave., on which construction is scheduled to start next Monday.

Gerrit Jongsma, of 22 East 21st St., told Council he felt it should be a 40-foot roadway in view of the expanding population in this area.

The cost of approximately $120,000 is being borne jointly by the city of Holland and Ottawa County. City Manager Herb Holt said planning and engineering had been done by the Ottawa County Road Commission which had felt a 28-foot wide bridge would be sufficient for years to come.

Seventh Annual Village Square Attracts 6,000

For the first time in seven years, the Hope Village Square used its rain plan. In spite of the rain in the morning and the shower warnings for the evening the day was acclaimed as a success. More than 6,000 visitors, some from Florida, New Jersey and California shopped, visited, browsed and ate at the day-long celebration.

The chapel basement, music building and gym were the locations of the 20 different booths as the day's activities began at 9:30. By noon the luncheon, and most all of the booths were located on the Hope campus. Although rain plans had called for the chicken barbecue to be held in the gym it was served as planned on the athletic field. This again was a highlight of the day with more than 1,000 chicken halves roasted over charcoal on specially constructed pits. The barbecue was supervised by Richard Machiele, Ottawa County agricultural agent, and he was assisted by men from the various Reformed Churches of the area.

Proceeds from the seventh annual Village Square were most satisfactory with approximately a total of $10,500 received. However an accurate statement of profits awaits complete reports from all booths and projects, according to Mrs. L. W. Vanden Berg of Kalamazoo who is treasurer of this event. She was assisted during the day by members of the Holland Chapter of American Society of Women Accountants.

Local women serving on committees for the Square were Mrs. Charles Vander Beek, Mrs. Henry Ten Clay, Mrs. Willmur Masse-link, Mrs. Wayne Harrington, Mrs. Clarence Jalving, Mrs. George Dalman, Mrs. Willis Oosterhof, Mrs. Donald Thomas, Mrs. Jack Daniels, Mrs. John May, Mrs. D. Allegan Sets School Dates

ALLEGAN — School bells ringing here Thursday, Sept. 5, for the opening of the fall term should have a happy sound . . . not like the "deficit dirge" which sounded in recent years.

District voters last April 1 gave their approval of a special 4 mill extra operating fund which made it possible for the schools to maintain the status quo.

The millage vote had been turned down twice in 1962 elections, but was approved by a substantial majority this spring after a citizens' committee got to work to give voters the whole story.

There will be no frills in the 1963-64 school program here, but neither will there be any of the "cuts" which school officials had been contemplating in case the millage was not voted.

The extra money did not by any means bring an end to Superintendent L. E. White's problems, however. This past week he was out "teacher hunting," trying to fill his staff roster.

The deadline is very close. Teachers will gather at St. Mary's Lake Camp for their annual pre-school planning conference Sept. 2-3.

Advance registration for junior and senior high school students who either have not registered before or desire to change courses, is scheduled for August 28-30.

School enrollment and organization of class is set for Thursday and Friday, Sept. 5-6.

WHAT HAVE WE GOT TO SHOW FOR IT?

If there is one thing that the present Congress has made quite plain, it is its disillusionment with much of our foreign aid program.
Men from both parties have been outspoken in this matter. Recently the House gave point to its feeling by the passage of a resolution that would restrict the granting of further aid to Indonesia.

The United States has invested about a billion dollars in aid to Indonesia and has received in return little more than a polite brushoff and sometimes not even that. No doubt the House has in mind Sukarno's latest rebuff to the United States.

August 31 is the date of the inauguration of the first president of the newly formed country of Malaysia. This country will be made up of a union of Malay, Singapore, and British Borneo. Su-karno has opposed the formation of this union and mobilized his troops and held naval maneuvers off the Malay coast.

It is well known that the powerful Communist party of Indonesia is opposed to the union and has accused the United States of imperialism in helping to develop this country.

The entire attitude of Sukarno
has been sounding like a dictator, and as the House noted, we have had some experience before in trying to appease dictators. Su-karno threatened to break off talks with the representatives of the Philippines and Malaysia, a common device used by dictators to seek to gain further concessions.

One may well speculate whether our billion dollars hasn't helped to create another dictator instead of furthering the cause of democracy. We have alienated some very old and trusted allies through our backing of Sukarno. The fact that Congress is having some second thoughts on our policies, even to the extent of voting a directive to the administration, indicates that we can't be fooled
all the time.

People of The Covenant
Genesis 17:1-8
By C. P. Dame

The word "covenant" is becoming more popular again in the world of theology. Our lesson tells us of a covenant God made with Abraham. There is a difference between a promise and a covenant. One person can make a promise but it takes two to make a covenant.

I. God always takes the initiative. When Abraham was ninety-nine years old God revealed Himself to him again. God said to Abraham, "I am the Almighty God." Abraham had forgotten this fact.

God promised Abraham a son.
He was getting older and feared
the promise would not be fulfilled.
At the suggestion of Sarah, his wife, he took Hagar, an Egyptian maid as a second wife and she bore a son, who was named Ishmael.

God appeared to Abraham again
when Ishmael was thirteen years old and promised once more that he would be the father of many nations.

Those who know God are expected to reveal it. God told Abraham to walk before Him and to be perfect.

The more we learn about God
the more God expects of us. Nothing pleases God more than living in an upright manner in the midst of the godless. Worshipping God on Sunday should be followed by blameless living on Monday.

II. God has a covenant people.
Genesis 17 has been called, "The Covenant Chapter." It tells about the covenant God made with Abraham.

Before Isaac was born God told Abraham that he would have many descendants. History tells us that this promise was fulfilled — the Israelites, the Edomites, the Midianites, and the Arabs are all descendants of Abraham.

God made a covenant with Abraham, personally and with Israel the nation. The Israelites looked upon themselves as God's chosen people. The prophets denounced the nation for violating God's covenant. When the nation faced disasters the prophets said that God was punishing it for breaking the covenant.

Abraham's descendants are of two kinds—the physical and the spiritual. Christians are the spiritual descendants of Abraham—
read Galatians 3:8-9.

Christian people can claim the promises God made to Abraham,
who is the father of all believers.
The Jews who reject Jesus Christ are no longer in the covenant of God.

III. God's promises are conditional. God promised the land of Canaan to the Jews. Many of us believe that since Israel set at nought its part in the covenant therefore it has no special right to Canaan any more.

God told Abraham to do two things — the first was to walk blamelessly before Him. True believers should obey the Lord. The second thing God told Abraham to do—it is not mentioned in the lesson text but in the chapter—
to practice the rite of circumcision which became in Israel a spiritual rite which signified that children from the beginning to the end of life belonged to God.

The physical rite points to the necessity of spiritual renewal. We believe that infant baptism has taken the place of the Old Testament rite.

Pro Golfer Chi Chi Rodriguez Visits Here

DISCUSS GOLF SWING — Chi Chi Rodriguez,
(left), professional golfer from Dorado Beach,
Puerto Rico, explains his golf swing with his host Jay Van Ommen during a visit Tuesday at the Van Ommen home at 1400 Sunrise Dr. Rodriguez is visiting the Van Ommen this week before rejoining the pro golf tour. The Van Ommens met Rodriguez while they were vacationing in Puerto Rico this summer.

(Sentinel photo)

It was the powerful drives of 5'7½", 116-pound "Chi Chi" Rodriguez of Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico that sent Arnold Palmer on his "vacation" from the pro golf tour last May.

At least that's what Rodriguez
quipped while visiting with Mr.
and Mrs. Jay Van Ommen of 1400 Sunrise Dr. Rodriguez, who has been a pro golfer for the past five-and-a-half years, is spending this week with the Van Ommens prior to rejoining the pro golf tour.

Rodriguez said he was playing with Palmer while "Arnie's Army" followed in the final round of the Texas Open in San Antonio in May.

"He outscored me, but I was outdriving him," and "he decided to take a vacation," Rodriguez smiled. Palmer is regarded as one of the longest drivers in golf.

Rodriguez has also gained a reputation for his power despite his lack of size. His drives average about 270 yards.

But Chi Chi, whose name is Juan, isn't revealing the secret of his power. "I'll write about it in a book."

The Van Ommens met Rodriguez,
who is a pro at Dorado Beach,
while vacationing in Puerto Rico
last week. Rodriguez has been having trouble with his teeth and Mrs.
Van Ommen's brother, Dr. G. J.
Plasman, is a Grand Rapids dentist.

Rodriguez was invited to visit and Monday had his first appointment with Dr. Plasman. The Van Ommens saw Rodriguez and pro Doug Sanders play a match in Puerto Rico which will be shown on television next winter. Rodriguez consistently outdrove Sanders in the match.

Playing in 12 tournaments this year, Rodriguez finished in the money 11 times and his best finish was sixth in the Indianapolis Open.
He has made about $10,000 on the tour this year including $600 at the Masters in Augusta, Ga.

His last tourney was the Cleveland Open and he rejoins the tour next week in Hartford, Conn.

He has exhibitions scheduled in Vermont over the weekend.

Before leaving here Friday, Rodriguez plans several rounds at the American Legion Memorial Park
golf course which is located in front of the Van Ommen home.

On Tuesday afternoon, Rodriguez played 18 holes with Legion pro-Phil Weichman and Van Ommen and played 11 holes Monday.

The 27-year-old Rodriguez shot a par 72 when he was nine years old and since he lived near a golf course, he was a fore-caddy or ball marker at the course at age six and a caddy at nine. He entered the Army at 19 and turned pro
after his discharge.

Rodriguez picked up his nickname as a youngster. His baseball idol was a diminutive baseball player named "Chi Chi" Flores.

There are probably youngsters in Puerto Rico today who are also taking the nickname "Chi Chi" but their moniker is after national sports hero, Chi Chi Rodriguez.

Dr. D. Ivan Dykstra officiated at the double ring ceremony while Roger Rieberg was organist and Mrs. Roger Rieberg soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and white pompon mums and ferns. A candle tree in the center was flanked by two spiral candelabra.

Miss Dozeman wore a bell-shaped gown of organza over taffeta featuring a reembodyered Alencon plastron extending from neckline to hemline. A narrow cuff of the Alencon topped the bouffant chapel train.

She carried a crescent bouquet of white roses and daisies. A tiara of seed-pearls held her three-tiered veil.

A floor-length gown of cottillion blue silk organza over taffeta, styled with a scoop neckline and brief sleeves, was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Paul W. Dozeman, sister-in-law of the bride. The controlled bell-skirt was accented with a wattleu back. A headpiece of a matching blue cabbage rose with circle veil completed the outfit.

Holland Scouts to Camp 12 Days at Philmont

A group of 12 Holland Boy Scouts from Troop 74, sponsored by Hope Reformed Church, left Friday for 12 days of hiking and camping in the mountains of New Mexico at the Philmont Scout Ranch.

The group, accompanied by Scoutmaster Ray Wilkinson, Scout Executive Don Van Hoven of Zeeland and Herman Gast of Grand Rapids along with 20 other scouts from the Grand Valley Council, will make the trip by train.

Scouts attending from Holland will be John Millard, Paul Hillegonds, Gary Ferris, Tom Thornhill, Kurt Hopkins, Ray Miles, Loren Howard, Rick Munson, Tom Moore, Mark Wicks, Jay Fris and Bob Hickman. To be eligible to attend Philmont, Scouts must be 14 years or older and First Class Scouts.

Along the way they will spend Friday in Chicago visiting places of interest and then will board the train for Denver, Colo., and a trek through Rocky Mountain National Park.

The boys and their leaders will then head for Trinidad, Colo., where they will be picked up by the Philmont bus and transported to the camp.

During the 12 days camping, the group will be living on 60 miles of the 127,000 acres of the ranch. They will spend two days with archeologists on Indian diggings, will study nature and conservation and will visit a working gold mine.

Each person will carry enough equipment and food on their backs for the 12-day trek. The Holland group will be among 1,000 boys and leaders attending the ranch which annually is enjoyed by about 5,000 scouts.

The ranch is located near Cimarron, N. M. along the old Santa Fe train and Kit Carson, one time Indian agent and frontiersman, had a home on the ranch.

Besides serving as a summer camp for scouts and a volunteer training site for adult leaders and their families, the ranch is a working ranch raising cattle and buffalo for commercial purposes. There is also a varied amount of wild life on the ranch.

The scouts own and work the ranch and the upkeep on the ranch is paid in a novel arrangement. Wait Phillips, connected with a large oil company, had the late Dr. James E. West, former Chief Scout Executive as a guest during the 40's.

He offered the land to West but the executive told Phillips the scouts didn't have funds to operate such a ranch. As a result, Phillips gave the 46-story Phil-Tower office building in Tulsa, Okla. The rent the scouts receive from the building pays for the upkeep of the ranch.

After completing the camping, the Grand Valley scouts will spend a day and night at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., before returning to Michigan.

Grand Haven Slates Vote On Dancing

GRAND HAVEN — The City Council Monday night voted to call a special election Oct. 1 in an effort to settle the dance and tavern controversy which has been raging here for two years.

The council chamber was packed with a record crowd of 115 persons as Mayor William Creason read a statement from the Council that it had decided to hold an election as an advisory action, to sample the public's attitude on the question.

Police Chief Richard Klempel and City Manager R. V. Terrill have been in the center of the dancing controversy as both have recommended that a city dance permit be denied Jack Keeting, owner of the Snug Harbor, a tavern located on Water St. near the new Musical Fountain.

Chief Klempel has said that if the majority of the electors voting on the question are in favor of dancing in taverns and are in favor of the ordinance controlling dancing, he will in the future approve applications both to the city and to the state liquor control Commission.

If the majority favor repeal of the ordinance, the Council will remove the ordinance from the City Code, the mayor said.

One of the largest street improvement programs in many years was approved by the Council and Kenneth Roberts Construction Co. of Lansing was given the contract for two large projects and four smaller paving jobs.

The Lansing firm was low bidder at $107,594 and Reith-Riley Co. of Muskegon Heights will subcontract the recapping work. Widening of Columbus St. from Grand River east to US-31 is the largest of the six projects approved, costing $44,169 and Franklin St. will be widened and repaved from Grand River to Seventh St. at a cost of $40,108.

Manager George Hughes of the Grand Haven State Park discussed at length with the council several problems at the State Park. Council approved a proposal by Hughes to install an additional gravel driveway to accommodate the many cars and trailers awaiting permits at the park, near the manager's office, and Hughes was asked to leave the lights on in the rest buildings for the convenience of the public instead of turning them off at 10:15 p.m.

Castle's Interior Marked By Many Antique Objects

Antique-collecting is the hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Brown of Castle Park and they have used their collection to advantage in furnishing the interior of the Castle.

The lobby, in the newer wing of the resort, is done in "primitive early American," says Mrs. Brown noting that the wood beams are all old barn timbers. An old cradle used to hold firewood and a decorative cobbler's bench complement the rocking chairs and deacon benches (from old churches) in the room, and Paul Revere lanterns hang from the ceiling. A very old spinning wheel from Allegan which belonged to Mr. Brown's aunt, stands to one side. Mrs. Brown added that all the antiques in the room were collected from this part of Michigan.

One of the most interesting of the furnishings is a "water bench." Mrs. Brown explained that water benches were kept on the porches of farmhouses for the men to wash up when they came in from the fields. Bowls were kept on top of the bench (which resembles a sink) and pitchers of water were kept in cupboards beneath it. The Browns now use it when they serve buffet dinners at the Castle.

Just inside the dining room is a dough box, which at one time was used for making bread. It serves as a decorative piece now.

Not "antique" but of interest to visitors is the painting by Rein Vanderhill illustrating a windmill similar to that of "Project Windmill" with which Mr. Brown is actively concerned. The oblong cherry-wood table in front of the fireplace was carved by Mr. Brown.

In the old part of the Castle is the Victorian Parlor furnished entirely in the style of that period. The paintings in this room are by Wellington Jarrard Reynolds of the Art Institute of Chicago, and are mostly copies of portraits by the American artist Gilbert Stuart.

The Old Timers Room, the downstairs dining room named for the cottagers, also contains many interesting antiques. The old-fashioned square tie-brick on the floor is from Virginia and was fired in the same kiln as that used to make brick from the restoration of Williamsburg.

The pine paneling on the walls, more than 150 years old, came from a cottage Mr. Brown bought in North Carolina expressly for that purpose. Copper kettles and carved wooden pastry molds imported from the Netherlands decorate the walls. Most of the early American two-legged tables have been replaced with four-legged tables for comfort, but there are still a few in the room.

Other items of interest are a wooden butter churn and a large fireplace. The latter is used to grill meat for the Thursday night buffet dinners. Candle molds near the fireplace contain candles which Mr. Brown made from lamb tallow.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, featuring a Sabrina neckline enhanced by lace applique, and elbow-length sleeves. The domed-shaped skirt was of unpressed pleats and a band of silk peau-de-soie edged in lace applique circled the hemline. The gown featured a detachable train. The bride wore a pillbox hat from which flowed a fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a crescent cascade bouquet of stephanotis and a white orchid, mounted on a Bible.

Marian Dreyer served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Terri Bonner, Bonita Crosser, Mrs. William Hinds and Nancy Stout, all Alpha Xi Delta sorority sisters of the bride. They wore identical street-length sheath

Five years ago they were reassigned to the post he is now occupying at the Christian University in Japan. Dr. Kleinjans is presently the University's vice-president in charge of academic affairs. He and his family will return to Japan in September.

Miss Mary Helena Stekete, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stekete of Trenton, N.J., became the bride of 1st Lt. William Spencer Hall, USAF, son of Lt. Gen. William E. Hall, USAF Ret., of New York, and Mrs. Callaway Hall of Alexandria, Va., on July 27. The ceremony was performed at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, West Trenton, N.J., by the Rev. Joseph Mc Laughlin.

The bride is a granddaughter of Andrew Stekete of 84 West 14th St., Holland, and the late Mrs. Stekete.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk peau de soie fashioned with bell cross draped skirt. The fitted bodice was pearl embroidered and the full back skirt terminated in a chapel train. Her four tier formal length veil was held by a petal cap of pearl embroidered matching silk peau de soie. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid and baby ivy.

Miss Mary Frances Bonner of Mc Lean, Va., was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Judith La Mar of Trenton, N.J., Miss Jane Lawson and Miss Helena Hall, sister of the groom, of Alexandria, Va. They wore formal length gowns of French blue silk chiffon in a sheath style with matching satin cummerbunds and flowing panel backs. Their matching rose head pieces were held by small bouffant veils. They carried cascade bouquets of shades of blue delphinium, pink roses and carnations with white miniature carnations and baby ivy.

The best man was 1st Lt. Joseph Dargzi of East St. Louis, Ill. The ushers were Frank and William Hall of Alexandria, brothers of the groom and Andrew Stekete, brother of the bride of Trenton.

The reception was held at the Princeton Inn, Princeton, N.J., after which the couple left for Fort Worth, Tex., where Lt. Hall is presently stationed at Carswell Air Force Base. In September they will sail for England where Lt. Hall will do graduate study in mathematics and physics at Cambridge University.

Mrs. Hall is a graduate of the College of William and Mary in Alexandria, Va., and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Lt. Hall is a graduate of the University of Virginia and a member of Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society.

Gen. and Mrs. Hall entertained the bridal party and friends at a dinner party at the Glendale, Trenton, following the wedding rehearsal.

study committee. Dr. Mennenga will lead in the presentation.

"The Precious Church of Christ" was the morning sermon topic of the Rev. Adrian Newhouse, pastor at the First Reformed Church. Special music was provided by a trio from the First Christian Reformed Church, Mrs. L. De Kock, Mrs. J. De Kock and Mrs. S. Wassink. They sang "There's a Deep Settled Peace in My Soul" and "Surely Goodness and Mercy."

Rev. Newhouse's evening topic was "Moses—An Example" a trio composed of Judy, Jean and Jane Dykstra furnished music.

The Kum Dubl Klass of First Reformed Church had a potluck supper at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Van Eizenga on Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Adrian Newhouse and family are leaving for their vacation this week. During his absence the following ministers will conduct the worship services: Aug. 11, the Rev. R. Vande Bunte; Aug. 18, the Rev. B. White; Aug. 25, the Rev. E. Van Pernis and Sept. 1, the Rev. A. Rynbrandt. During his vacation, Rev. Newhouse will conduct a day of spiritual retreat meetings in connection with the opening of school at Annville, Ky.

Donald Hoeven, director of Camp Geneva, a midder in Western Seminary, was guest speaker at the morning and evening services in Faith Reformed Church.

The Rev. Gerard Van Groningen from Australia was guest minister at Third Christian Reformed Church.

The Rev. R. Schaaf from Reformed Bible Institute was guest minister at both services in Haven Christian Reformed Church.

Handicraft projects are proving popular with children enrolled in the summer recreation playground program this summer. Miss Mar-dee Van Kley of the playground staff reports.

About 40 children take part in handicraft work at the park each morning, and there are about 40 who are enrolled in an additional afternoon handicraft class.

The city's recently appointed Huizenga Park Development Committee held its first meeting Monday night, with Melvin Boonstra named as committee chairman.

The 13-man group is working on plans to develop and improve a 22-acre park site, a piece of property formerly owned by the Hu-zenga Gravel Co., located south of M-21 and east of 101st Ave. The land was purchased from William Huizenga by the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce in 1955, and the Chamber gave the land to the city for a park in 1957.

The committee plans to develop the land into a recreation park with baseball diamonds, and probably tennis courts and other sports fields eventually. One of the first improvements will probably be a shelter house with public toilet facilities. The committee will also investigate the possibility of building a swimming pool in the park.

At present a fund of $2,895 is available for improvements to the park site. That money is from receipts for gravel sold from the area since it came under city control.

Members of the committee include the City's Park Commission composed of Mayor Frank Hoogland, Evert Schrootenboer and Glenn Wyngarden; and the city council Public Property Commission composed of councilmen Howard Stephenson, Calvin Faber and Henry Lokers.

Others on the committee are Dick Ruch, Melvin Boonstra, Harvey Ten Harmsel, Larry Dickman, Nelson Van Koeveing, Justin Elhart and Irvin Smith.
