Charles disappeared very mysteriously from his place of business. A few hours later it was discovered that Hilgert had called for $500,000.... Twenty-five firemen entered the burning building of McKelvey Bros., at Pittsburgh, early Sunday morning, and ten of this number ascended to the second story, which they had barely reached when a side wall and the floor gave way. ### DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

A bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Leavenworth, Kansas, was passed by the Senate on the 24 inst. The time in which the Ute Commission shall complete its work was extended to Sept. 15, 1882. The Sundry Civil measure, the last of the long list of appropriation bills, was passed. A message was received from the House informing the Senate of the action of that body in passing the River and Harbor bill over the President's veto. The pending business was suspended and the veto message read. A vote was immediately taken on the question "Shall the bill pass, the objection of the President to the contrary notwithstanding?" The result was: yeas 41, nays 16. So the bill passed. The House, by a vote of yeas 122, nays 59, passed the River and Harbor bill over the President's veto. The House also passed a bill granting a pension of $37 a month to soldiers who lost an arm at the standard. Commander Sigbee and Joseph H. Hawley were authorized to receive decorations from foreign potentates.

The bill to establish diplomatic relations with Persia was passed by the Senate Aug. 4. The remainder of the day's session was devoted to a discussion of the tax-reduction measure. The House employed most of its time in going through the Sundry Civil bill as amended by the Senate, and refused to concur in all the important changes. The attempt to perpetuate the National Board of Health by aid of an appropriation was defeated after a bitter debate.

The Senate passed a number of bills at its session on the 3d inst., among them the following: Authorizing Government buildings at St. Joseph, Mo.; in relation to land patents in the Virginia military district of Ohio; to provide for deductions from the gross tonnage of vessels of the United States; extending to foreign steamships the provisions of the inspection laws now applicable to domestic vessels.

The last two measures Mr. Fry declared "the first guns fired in favor of a revival of American commerce." A long debate ensued on the Tax-reduction bill for the relief of banks, patent medicines and perfumes, but no result was reached. William Waldorf Astor was nominated by the President for Minister to Rome; Henry E. McCoy, United States Judge for the Northern district of Georgia; Oliver P. Shiras, United States Judge for the Northern district of Iowa; Wm. Lowber, of Pennsylvania, United States Consul at Florence. The House adopted a resolution providing for a sine-die adjournment on Saturday, and passed a bill to establish diplomatic relations with Persia by the aid of a Consul General, who shall receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

The Senate conferred on the Naval Appropriation bill reported an agreement on the 5th inst. The report was accepted and the bill passed. The sum of $33,000 was appropriated for the mileage of Senators who attended the session convened Oct. 10, 1881. The President sent in the following nominations: Joseph W. Johnston, of Virginia, Collector of Customs for the District of Newport News, Virginia; Joseph B. Mitchell, Surveyor of Customs for Yorktown, in the District of Newport News. In the House the Senate amendment to a joint resolution for the establishment of diplomatic relations with Persia was concurred in. The use of the rotunda and adjacent rooms in the Capitol was granted the Garfield Monument Committee of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland from Nov. 25 to Dec. 3. The Senate amendments to the bill relative to steam vessels were agreed to. A report from the Committee on Foreign Affairs detailed the reasons why no demand could be made on Shippard for his papers relative to the Peruvian claims. A message was received from the President regarding alleged American citizens imprisoned in Ireland. They are three in number, and have been offered freedom on condition of leaving the country. The Secretary of the Navy was instructed to institute an inquiry relative to the loss of the Jeannette. The conference report on the Sundry Civil bill was agreed to.

Bills were passed by the Senate, at its session on the 7th inst., to pension the widow of Gen. Ramey, to repeal the export tax on tobacco, to allow employes of the Senate an extra month's pay, to appropriate $60,000 to supply the deficiency in fees of District Attorneys, to convene a court of inquiry as to the loss of the Jeannette, to create a select committee upon American ship-building, and to bridge the Mississippi at the mouth of the Upper Iowa river. Mr. Brown offered a resolution of thanks to John F. Slater, of Connecticut, for donating $1,000,000 to the cause of education in the South. A resolution was adopted for an investigation into labor strikes. An attempt was made to secure a sine die adjournment, but it failed. The House did nothing except to linger out the day, in the hope that the Senate would adjourn.

BURGARS blew open the safe in the office of H. Barrows, at Armada, Macomb county, and stole $2,000. No clew to the rascals.

CHARLES WHITE, express driver at Battle Creek, killed himself with morphine because he was arrested on a charge of stealing a trunk.

At Marshall, William Conway, while putting out a light at the railroad semaphore, fell forty feet, breaking an arm and receiving bad internal injuries.

Mrs. CATHERINE KING, of East Saginaw, was relieved of a tape-worm 135 feet long and five-eighths of an inch wide. She had been ill eleven years.

AFTER a year or two fooling about the matter, the Sanilac county folks propose to do something to put a stop to the extensive cattle-stealing going on in that county.

ELI GALLOW, of Eagle, Eaton county, lost six acres of wheat in the field by fire on the 26th ult., caused by a spark from a passing railway train, the wheat being next to the track.

J. W. GRANVILLE, of Muskegon, found a cow in his parlor, looking at her reflection in the mirror. He got her out without damage, but the anti-cow party has an earnest recruit.

THE body of Fred Colvin, Captain of the schooner Clayton Belle, which was sunk on Lake Huron on April 12, was found floating down the St. Clair river, at Port Huron, the other day.

A COMPETITIVE examination will be held in Port Huron, Sept. 7, for the selection of a candidate to be appointed to a West Point cadetship from the old Seventh Congressional district.

JACOB KIRK, while shingling on a house-roof in North Branch, accidentally hit his head with the hammer, stunning him. He then rolled off the roof and broke his back, so that his lower half is paralyzed.

At Lakeside, Berrien county, a six-year-old girl named Newland was told by a little boy that he would cut off her hand if she would lay it on a block of wood. She did so, when he did cut off three fingers.

A TOTAL of 677 dogs have been impounded in Detroit during the last three months. Of these 645 have been drowned, 99 redeemed, 24 sold, 22 released, 6 sent to the medical colleges, 2 died, and 89 remain in the pound.

BIGLOW, the receiving teller of the National Bank of the Republic, at Washington, D. C., and who absconded in June, because of a deficit of $25,000 in his accounts, permitted himself to be arrested at Port Huron the other day.

ANDREW G. OLSON, of Whitehall, was convicted the third time of selling liquor without a bond filed with the County Treasurer, and sentenced to pay $100 fine, and imprisonment 90 days, but he appealed the case like the other two.

LAWRENCE & CHAFFIN, at Kalamazoo, are manufacturing the largest puddling machine in the world for the Chaffin pneumatic works at Chicago, for the manufacture of steel and iron by the new process directly from pig-iron.

THE new Women's Christian Temperance Union Hall at Manistee, built by R. G. Peters and dedicated in May last, caught fire from a defective furnace and was totally destroyed. Loss, $30,000; insured for $14,000. It will be rebuilt at once in a better manner than before.

CHARLOTTE REPUBLICAN: At Kalamazoo, as John Shaver's harvest hands were finishing up a piece of wheat, a rabbit started. The dog started after the rabbit; so did the binder; so did the driver; so did the horses; so did the reaper. The rabbit was killed, and the cost of repairing the reaper was about $20.

While George Thomas, of Eagle, Eaton county, was harvesting wheat with a self-binder, the machine suddenly caught fire from friction and burned, with about three-quarters of an acre of wheat. The fire originated underneath the binding apparatus, and before Mr. Thomas could get off the reaper and unhitch his team it was all in flames.

A MUSKIEON dog attacked a circular saw, which he thought was putting on too many airs, in a sawmill. The fight was lively for a few seconds; when the dog retired with one leg saved off, his throat cut, his nose split and his teeth all gone, and other injuries. He managed to crawl out of the mill and die; while the saw thoughtfully murmured "next!"

A young man named Lahart, of Bridgehampton, Sanilac county, was wounded in the hand by a revolver on the Fourth, the ball entering his hand in the palm and plowing a furrow the whole length of one finger. He was doing well, when he went to a logging bee and drank frequently of whisky. This increased the inflammation and lockjaw set in and killed him. So says the Bad Axe Tribune.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from Harrison, Clare county, says that it is now said upon good authority that the present track upon the Saginaw and Clare County railroad is to be replaced by steel rails, and that the road will then be extended on north from Harrison with the old rails to Roscommon or Cadillac. Harrison will then be a main line, and the vast farming region north opened up to settlers and close markets.

GRAND LEDGER Independent: On Tuesday last George Thomas, one of Eagle's prosperous farmers, had a remarkable experience. While harvesting his wheat with a McCormick self-binder, the machine suddenly caught fire from friction, and burned, with about three-quarters of an acre of wheat. The fire originated underneath the binding apparatus, and before Mr. Thomas could get off the reaper and unhitch his team it was all in flames.

CARSON CITY Record: A curious freak of nature has been reported to us as follows: One day this week a cat on the farm of C. R. Dickinson gave birth to five kittens, four of which have the left hind leg tied in a knot and grown fast to the right one, and, seemingly not satisfied with this, the whole five were joined together a la Siamese, so that in picking up one the whole five would be lifted together. The cat and her strange family is receiving much attention.

An effort will be made at the next session of the Legislature to procure an amendment to the city charter of Detroit providing that the liquor tax, which now goes into the contingent fund, and the surplus at the end of the year into the sinking fund, shall be paid into the general fund of the city. By this means, it is claimed, the taxpayers will be saved in the neighborhood of $100,000 direct taxation every year.

A STRANGE freak of vegetable growth has occurred on the farm of Louis Strutsenbergh, in the township of Grove, Crawford county, this season. He received a potato from "faderland," which he divided and planted carefully in five hills, marking the spots. No vines were sent up, and upon examination to see if the seed had decayed he was surprised to find that the root growth was excellent, each hill being well filled with excellent tubers.

BIG RAPIDS Herald: Charley Dunlap, aged 26 years, committed suicide near Andrew Wernette's farm, about three miles east of Mecosta, by stabbing himself on both sides of his throat and driving the knife in his right temple with a stone, also bunting his head against rocks and stamps, after which he beckoned to Mr. Wernette and several others to come and finish him, as he said he couldn't kill himself and that he must and would die. Drs. Young and Waller were summoned, and they removed him to George Sayles' restaurant in Mecosta, where he expired.

DETROIT Post: Geo. Gorton, of Rochester, Oakland county, father of the Rev. Jas. Gorton, of Charlotte, has just entered upon his 90th year. He draws a pension as a soldier of the War of 1812. He is of good health and well preserved for a man of his age; has always been a very hard worker, and very temperate, never having used tobacco or ardent spirits of any kind, and during most of his long life neither tea nor coffee. He has a sister living near him who is two years his senior, and both are striking evidences of long and prosperous lives as a reward of temperate and simple habits.

COON STORY by the Lakeview Enterprise: Mr. W. E. White, with his little boy, went into the woods to get a load of wood; while getting the wood the dog barked as if he had some game in view; the little boy went where the sound was and reported to his father that "Maj" had some bears up a tree; Mr. White did not think they were bears, but went and found a cluster of young coons up a small stub. Mr. White wished to capture them alive, but how to do this he did not know, having no bag; his ingenuity being put to a test, he concluded to use his shirt, which he did, securing two of the coons, but exposing his person to the merciless attacks of the blood-thirsty mosquitoes; but he "bagged 'em" and has the game to show for it.

A HORRIBLE murder was recently enacted at Manistee. Henry Weston, in company with a friend, left the main street for the wharf, to take the ferry-boat for his home. Just before getting on the boat Philip Hunter stepped from it, and, as the two men passed each other, it is said a word or two passed between them, when Hunter called to Weston to stop, and at the same moment pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired three shots, each taking effect in Weston's head, causing his instant death. One of the shots was fired after Weston fell and entered the back of his head. Hunter, after the shooting, wiped his revolver, put it in his pocket and went upon Main street, followed by a boy, who called Marshal Moran and pointed out Hunter as the murderer. "Yes," said Hunter, "I'm the man that did the shooting." Hunter was at once taken into custody and lodged in jail.

THE Ionia Sentinel is responsible for this bird story: It is perhaps not generally known that the city of Ionia has been invaded by the army worm. Hearing that they were at work on the prairie between the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee road and Grand river, we walked over there this forenoon to see. The story proves to be too true. The whole prairie looks as if it had been burned over. Millions of worms are at work, and almost every blade of grass has been attacked. They appeared some time last week on the piece of ground owned by the Hon. George W. Webber, and have been and appear to be still traveling westward. They had not reached the high-water road this morning, but were pushing on vigorously in that direction. Myriads of black-birds, yellow-birds and robins were hovering over the place most infested, evidently making a meal of the worms. Just in front of the right flank of the army of worms in a cornfield, and along the east fence, which separates it from the meadow, a line of blackbirds were stationed, in as good order as if marshaled for a fight, under a military leader. They would fly in a solid mass to the ground, as if attacking something, and then fall back to the position on the fence, from which they repeatedly advanced in a body. "Those birds," said John H. Welch, who was with us, "are protecting that corn." Surely enough, examination showed that the pestiferous insects had come up to the fence, but had not gone an inch beyond, and none could be seen on the corn. But a large number of dead worms could be seen on the ground where the birds had been cast of the fence. It is certain that the birds had made havoc with the worms, and it really looked as if they had a design in it to keep them out of the cornfield. Who will kill birds after observing such things as this?

Close Relations.

(Texas Situation.)

Bill Palmer is an old Austin boy of the most modern type, who always tells his parents just what he thinks about them, regardless of their feelings. Not long since he wanted to celebrate his birthday with some of his youthful companions, so that he applied to his father for an adequate appropriation. Colonel Palmer, who is a close relation of William's, seeing his penurious father, responded with a quarter of a dollar.

Billy looked at the quarter, sneered at it, and finally a id to the author of his existence.

"That's a mighty slim appropriation to celebrate the thirteenth birthday of an Austin boy on, but still I don't reproach you. You are not to blame for my birthday."

"What do you mean, sir?" whooped the now thoroughly aroused father.

"I mean just what I say. If mother hadn't married such a close relation as you are, I wouldn't never have had any birthday to celebrate, and I would be all the better off. She is the one who is to blame. She should have married a man of more liberal views, and then my father would have afforded me the means of celebrating my birthday in accordance with my social status."

THE WALKING HORSE.

How to Improve It.

The English has a saying: "A riding horse is not worth its corn if it cannot walk well." We condense some excellent "walking" talk from an English contemporary.

The walk is one of principal paces of a town hack, one of the greatest luxuries of a hard-working man, be he lawyer, doctor, artist, Judge, politician or city financier. A horse may be a very good hunter, yet a bad walker, but then he is only fit for the stable of a rich man. A hunter that can walk safely and fast home is a luxurious treasure.

The walk is the pace that may be vastly improved, without the rider having any of the natural and acquired talents of the professional horse-breaker. But he must have patience. "To make a hack walk well," says the author of "The Book of the Horse," "there is nothing more stupid than ill temper, the use of whip, and the abuse of spurs."

A hack to make a first-class walker must have the courageous temperament that never shies, when once settled down from early morn freshness, and also the natural form and action that make him carry his head in the right place, and step out of the ground.

Four miles an hour at a stretch, done in harmonious cadence at the first asking, without stumbling, dropping, shuffling or breaking, is very good work. To do five miles an hour in good form, is a very rare performance.

We are told that there are some horses that can walk six miles an hour with a light load, but have never seen anything like this. We were once riding a nearly-thoroughbred horse, over sixteen hands high, with the Wild Staghounds, and left off nine miles from the horse's stable. He did the distance and brought us back in time to dress for dinner, in an hour and twenty minutes. That is about five miles and one-third of a mile in an hour.

To improve the walk the first step is to sit down on the horse and ride at a sharp pace until he is settled, without fatiguing him. Then, if he is young, be content with the slowest pace of walking, as long as he does not break and jog. At every break he must be stopped firmly, collected, and made to begin again. This is best practiced in returning home to your hack's stable and corn. Of course, it is of no use to waste time over an aged hack whose habits are fixed, or a horse foaled to stumble all his life.

The young one must be firmly and tenderly held, so that he will be compelled to move each leg alternately and evenly. By a judicious, smooth, firm and even grasp of the reins, the curb-reins held very lightly, the horse's head will be drawn into the right place (provided always that it be properly put on his neck), and thus induce him to bring his hind legs under him in regular time, in support of his fore legs. While the reins restrain him, the spurs, gently used, urge him, and his corn invites him to step out his best. By these means, patiently practiced day after day, a really clever hack will get into the habit of walking at his best pace as soon as the rider mounts and indicates by the pressure of his legs that such is his pleasure.

Young horses and thoroughbreds drafted from the turf into hack or hunter stables should be often ridden across the deep furrows of plowed clay fields both at the walk and trot. Biding across turnips set on the ridge will improve the action of 4-year-olds both at the walk and trot, if their fore limbs are so made as to be capable of high, true action. Finally, with time and patience, most young horses' style and pace in walking can be greatly improved.

Be Staidless.

Whitefield was poor and in "service," but he managed to get an education; and both England and America have felt his power for good. William Harvey did not find out the circulation of the blood by a lucky accident. He was a hard student at home and abroad, and taught the doctrine to his classes for ten years before he published it to the world.

Young men ought to remember that there are still splendid services to be rendered. All the discoveries have not yet been made. The field is now the world, as it never was before. Education of the highest kind in physiology, mental philosophy, engineering, chemistry, is accessible as it never was before. An empire without the emperor has grown up on this continent, and much of the soil is yet without occupant and master. Other empires are open to educated ability, and will become more so every year. There is a legitimate sphere for splendid ambition.

Let our boys forgo the cost of tobacco and catch inspiration from the best books. Let them turn their backs on the tempting glass, and spend their money in stimulating the mind. Even fashion "parties" and pleasure may be put in the background, that the time and thought required for them may be given to getting that mental habit and furniture that will make its possessor a helper to his race, and a capable servant of that Greater Self, "Father of Lights," who has given us brain and heart, with capabilities, that we may be lights, benefactors and conquerors, on fields where no life is lost, and even the vanquished are gainers.

Dr. Hall on Conversation.

Keep clear of personalities in general conversation. Talk of things, objects, thoughts. The smallest minds occupy themselves with persons. Do not needlessly report ill of others. There are times when we are compelled to say, "I do not think Bouncer a true and honest man." But, when there is no need to express an opinion, let poor Bouncer swagger away. Others will take his measure, no doubt, and save you the trouble of analyzing him and instructing them. And, as far as possible, dwell on the good side of human beings.

There are family boards where a constant process of depreciating, assigning motives and cutting up of character goes forward. They are not pleasant places. One who is healthy does not wish to dine at a dissecting-table. There is evil enough in man, God knows. But it is not the mission of every young man and woman to detail and report it all. Keep the atmosphere as pure as possible, and fragrant with gentleness and charity.

Mozart's Feat.

A slovenly commonplace wife, low, disorderly connections, and reckless habits, reduced him to a system of constant overwork, and constant borrowing. One child after another was born and died, his wife was continually ill, symphonies had to be sold before they were written, usurers had to be resorted to, till came the catastrophe, which the father, its unwitting but original cause, was mercifully spared from witnessing. Mozart, whom the poor and anxious chapel-master of Salzburg had hoped to see "at the head of a comfortable Christian household,"—feverishly anxious to get eight pupils—writing a masterpiece, the "Zauberflöte," for a suburban theater of planks, owned by a harlequin—begins according to his own expression, to have the taste of death on his tongue; dies miserably and painfully, leaving only 60 florins to pay his debts, and is buried in the cheapest manner in the common ditch of the public cemetery without even a cross to distinguish his resting-place from that of the beggars around him. Mozart believed that he was being poisoned, as Pergolesi had believed himself to be when he too died young, in obscurity, and want; but what need could any of his enemies have to poison him? He could never have struggled out of the wreck of his fortune, of his career, and of his health. The story is a miserable one, and being that of the composer of "Don Giovanni" and the "Zauberflöte," contains a deep tragic interest for us; yet it is in reality the story of hundreds of other musicians of small or no gifts—and the only really strange circumstance is, that this commonplace tale of failure should be that of a man of genius like Mozart's. This anomaly we have partially explained by showing how his father arranged matters as if he had positively been planning an obscure and unsuccessful career for his son; the other half of the explanation must be sought for in Mozart's own character, which, compared with his genius, was almost as commonplace as his life, and which might like it, have been that of a mediocre artist.

She Wanted Comedy.

Three months ago when a new servant girl came to a Brush street family the mistress said she desired to post the girl in advance on one certain little point. She and her husband belonged to an amateur theatrical company, and in case Jane heard any racket around the house she must not imagine that they were quarreling. They would simply be rehearsing their parts. The "play" began on the third evening of the girl's engagement. The husband taunted his wife with extravagance, and she said he played poker for money, and chairs were upset and footstools kicked around and threats were made of going home to mother. Next morning the mistress said to the girl:

"Did you hear us playing our parts in the 'Wronged Wife' last night?"

"Yes'm."

"It was simply a rehearsal, you know, and you mustn't think strange of my throwing a vase at my husband and calling him a vile wretch."

Three or four nights after that the curtain went up on a play called: "The Jealous Husband," and Jane heard sob, sighs, protestations, threats and exclamations. "Coming Home Tight," and was mostly played in the front hall. Then followed "The Depths of Despair," "Threats of Divorce," and "Such a Wretch," until Jane was at last tired of having a private box and being the only audience. The other morning she appeared in the sitting-room with her hat on and her bundle under her arm and said:

"Please ma'am, but I'm going this morning."

"What, going away?"

"Yes'm."

"For what reason?"

"Please, ma'am, but I'm tired of tragedy. I'm a girl as naturally likes to see hugging and kissing and love-making on the stage, and when Marks the lawyer comes in on the what-do-you-call-it I'm sure to be tickled to death. I think I'll try some family where they rehearse comedy and have a deal of kissing, and perhaps I may come in as a sup and get a small share of it myself."

Crazy Office Beggars.

In a letter to the Philadelphia Times, Joe Howard maintains that persistent office-seeking unbalances active brains. "I can show you," he writes, fifty old cranks who have done nothing in ten or twenty years but beg and hunt and work for office. This is especially true of men who have had just a little taste of the pomp and circumstance, the profit and pay of office. That settles it. Never again can they do anything but work for office. They spend all they have saved, they borrow more, they mortgage their brains and would sell their souls if the devil would help them get what they want."

DR. WILLIAM PARKER, of New York, was induced to study medicine in rather an unusual way. When in his Freshman year at Harvard he "chum" met with an accident which required the services of a surgeon. The late Dr. John C. Warren, the famous Boston surgeon, was called, and his positiveness in the diagnosis and skill in the treatment of the injury so impressed young Parker that he resolved to devote his life to the study of medicine.

A MEETING of the Independent Union of Liquor Dealers was held last Wednesday in Detroit with closed doors, but in the evening a reporter interviewed its Secretary, Cornelius O'Dwyer, and from him learned that the meeting was held in the interest of more complete organization throughout the State. To this end printed copies of the proceedings of the National Conference of Liquor Dealers and Manufacturers of the United States, held in Chicago in May last, were ordered sent to all local organizations in Michigan, prominent dealers, etc., and also a circular letter, from which the following is an extract:

Two facts stare you in the face. The first is that in nearly every town, city and village in the State, the State temperance element has formed local organizations, whose sole aim it is to destroy your business by means of oppressive and prohibitory legislation; and that even the influence of Congress has been secured by them, as is proven by the appointment of the notorious investigating committee.

The second fact is that neither separate committees nor single towns can successfully fight the battle against prohibition, and that a State anti-prohibition organization has become a necessity. The formation of a protective league of brewers, liquor dealers and manufacturers of the whole United States requires both the personal co-operation and the financial support of all who are interested in the manufacture and sale of malt and alcoholic beverages. The Executive Committee can discuss all question of organization and mature proper plans for the successful working of such a gigantic enterprise; but its details and executions must be left to eminently competent persons and energetic managers and assistants. A successful agitation can only be brought about by flooding the country with campaign documents, emanating from the Central State Committee, and by personal interviews with the prominent business men, manufacturers and dealers in the several cities and towns.

There will be a State Conference held in Detroit, at the Arbeiter Hall, corner Russell and Catherine streets, Wednesday, September 13, 1882, opening at 9 o'clock in the afternoon, and continuing until all the business properly coming before it shall have been transacted, to which conference every town and village is entitled to one or more representatives. You are respectfully requested to have your town or village represented at this important conference, for among other interesting subjects which will be treated is that of sending delegates to the National Convention of Liquor Dealers, Brewers and Saloon-keepers, to be held in the city of Milwaukee, Wis., on Wednesday, October 4, 1882.

"What is it that you propose to do?" inquired the reporter.

"We propose to support for members of the Legislature only such men as will pledge themselves to repeal, or, at least, modify the present law. We do not think our business should be taxed any more than that of other traders. We are willing to give heavy bonds not to sell to intoxicated people or those who are in the habit of being intoxicated."

"And you propose to effect this at the polls this fall?"

"Yes. We shall lay aside our politics and work and vote for those who will assist us, and we can control enough votes to defeat any one who is opposed to us. There are thousands of us in the State, and we can each induce a few votes."—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Kate Alkina, a wealthy lady of Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "Rich food and high living, night parties, fashionable dressing and the general frivolity of high life, had been affecting my health quite seriously. I commenced using Brown's Iron Bitters, and now I am as lively as a young girl, and excel them all in endurance. It is more refreshing than champagne, and its strengthening effects are lasting."

PROHIBITION POLITICS.

The question of prohibitory legislation against the manufacture and the sale of liquor seems to be gaining in importance among the people of various Western states that have not hitherto been affected by it. Thus it has just played an important part in the Democratic State Convention of Indiana, and it threatens to injure the Democratic party in that State. In Ohio, on the other hand, it seems likely to diminish the strength of the Republican party and add to that of the Democrats. In Iowa a similar result is expected, and calculations are even made that in strong Republican States the Democrats may get the upper hand, for the first time, by reason of the temperance agitation. This seems to be a mistaken calculation when applied to large and populous States like Iowa and Kansas, with immense Republican majorities. It is highly probable that these majorities will be diminished, but there is no reason to expect that they will be diminished sufficiently to give those States to the Democrats.

But, whatever the temporary political results, the question of prohibition is one of the most interesting that can be raised. We do not ourselves believe in prohibitory legislation with a view to making men temperate and virtuous. All our ideas are opposed to the theory of paternal government, and we cannot see that the effect in Maine, where such legislation has long been in force, has been good enough to commend prohibition as a panacea for all the ills of intemperance.

Yet there is no doubt that these ills are as deadly as they are universal.—N. Y. Sun.

One must speak by the card in Massachusetts, even in the most insignificant matters. A gentleman recently went into a country postoffice in that State and asked for a three-cent postal stamp. The postmaster inquired, "Do you want a postal card?" "No, I asked for a three-cent stamp." "You said postal stamp." "Well, what if I did?" "Why, it isn't a postal stamp; it's postage stamp. True; postage stamp, because it pays the postage, and postal stamp because, like all other mail matter, it goes by post." With great vehemence the postmaster vociferated: "There's a right and a wrong; if 'tis right to say postage stamp, 'tis wrong to say postal stamp."

The Philadelphia medical man outruns all his brethren in the profession in upholding that article in the code of ethics which requires the doctor to "make sure of his pay." When he was applied to recently to attend a woman who had attempted to take her life by poison he refused to administer an antidote until the fee of $2 was forthcoming. For want of the antidote the woman died; but the physician did not waste his time and skill for nothing.

JOTTINGS.

RATHER COLD.

Don't forget the Muskegon excursion next Tuesday.

The Jolly Pathfinders contemplate paying this city a visit in the near future.

Mrs. Geo. McNutt and daughter, of Muskegon, are stopping at Macatawa Park.

A cold wave struck here last Tuesday afternoon and white vests and straw hats are at a discount.

Mr. Alex. Scott, son of the Rev. Dr. Scott, of this city, will start on a trip to Denver, Col., next Monday morning.

Dr. R. B. Best, has purchased a new and very fine buggy, and with the "Maiden horse" drawing it, presents a very gay appearance.

Rev. E. C. Oggel, of Chicago, is spending a few weeks in this city. Mr. Oggel will occupy the pulpit of the Third Ref. Church to-morrow morning.

Mr. F. O. Nye, has erected poles, and now has telephonic connection between his residence on Ninth street, and the Chicago and West Mich. Railway depot.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church, will give an ice cream social in the lecture room of the church, next Wednesday evening. All are invited.

CAPT. Cummins, of the steamer Douglas, reports having had very rough weather on Lake Michigan last Wednesday night. At about twelve o'clock he noticed that it was snowing.

Work on the new floating mill is progressing finely and the building will be all ready for sheeting this week. The millwrights are expected to commence their portion of the work by the 10th inst.

Last Wednesday the members of Columbia Fire Co., No. 2, with their families, went to Macatawa Park and enjoyed the day "picnicing." Owing to the cold weather the day was not as pleasant as it might have been.

The new postal route bill, which has passed both houses of congress, provides for a route from this city to Saugatuck and Douglas by way of Graafschap and Glibson. This will give the Saugatuck and Douglas people two mails daily.

SEVERAL Grand Rapids gentlemen have leased cottage sites at Macatawa Park and will erect cottages thereon next season. This speaks well for the park and we have no doubt but what the popularity of Macatawa Park will be at its height next year.

LAST Saturday a twelve year old son of Mr. G. Meibner, who lives about two miles north of this city, fell from the hay mow to the barn floor and dislocated the wrist and broke the two bones of the left forearm. Dr. R. B. Best attended and reports the patient as "doing nicely."

Rev. D. Van Pelt, of this city, has received and accepted a call to the Reformed Church of East New York, Long Island, in the suburbs of Brooklyn. Rev. Van Pelt has been the pastor of Hope Church for the past few years and has made many warm friends who are sorry to see him leave.

Mr. Wm. Baumgartel, who has been employed in the freight house of the Chicago and West Mich. Railway for some time past, has been appointed to fill the position of ticket agent in the place of Mr. H. C. Matrau. Mr. Baumgartel is well known to the business men and shippers of this city and we have no doubt but what he will fill the position as creditably as his predecessor.

LAST Tuesday, while in Grand Rapids, we met Mr. J. H. Eppink, County Treasurer of Allegan county, and a former resident of Graafschap, on his way to Cadillac, with a party of nine other gentlemen who were about to purchase lands from him. Mr. Eppink has a large reservation of lands near Cadillac, in Missaukee and Osceola counties, and is endeavoring to induce settlers to buy there. He is meeting with fair success, and from all reports, those who have bought are highly pleased with their purchase.

Mr. H. C. Matrau, who has been ticket agent for the Chicago and West Michigan Railway at this station for a number of years, resigned last week, and has accepted a position on the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad at Grand Rapids. On Monday evening, the members of Unity Lodge F. & A. M. of this city, tendered him a farewell supper. Speeches were made expressing regret at the loss of such a faithful officer and so good a citizen, and wishing him success in his new home. Mr. Matrau thanked the members for their kind appreciation of his labors, regretting the necessity that required him to sever the happy relations that he had sustained to this community for the past ten years. Mr. Matrau has won and will carry with him the best wishes of the entire populace of this city.

CONGRESS adjourned die die at three o'clock last Tuesday afternoon.

ABOUT forty persons went on the excursion to Chicago last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Sadie Blum and Miss Katie Jones, of Union City, are the guests of Mrs. G. W. Hopkins.

The party of "campers" from Allegan, who were camping out at Macatawa Park, broke camp this week and returned home.

Mr. J. Baisch and wife, of Grand Rapids, were in town last week. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hummel.

THE steamer Douglas will leave Harrington's Dock next Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock and will arrive in Muskegon at 10 o'clock; returning will leave Muskegon at 6 o'clock p. m., arriving here at 9 o'clock. Don't fail to go.

THE prospects for a good crop of corn are much better than they were a week ago. The rain and warm weather have caused corn to shoot up wonderfully, and if it should continue favorable our farmers will have fairly filled corn cribs this fall.

In the Circuit Court last Tuesday the case of the People vs. Peter to Vaarwerk, was called and the respondent not being in court, the bail was exonerated. Mr. T. Keppel and J. W. Bosman, of this city, were the bondsmen. The amount of the bail is $500.

Rev. Moto Ohgime, well known in this city and a graduate of Hope College, lectured before a large audience in Detroit last Tuesday evening. His subject was "Home Life in Japan." The proceeds were devoted to the procuring of new seats for the Reformed Church of that city.

THE following persons registered at the City Hotel this week, and visited the Park: John Brennan, M. T. Ryan, C. D. Van Heckle, Arthur Wood, wife and son, F. W. Morris, J. C. Barnes, I. O. Green, P. Echternoch, J. Van Steenel, G. Loodeboom, of Grand Rapids; Luman Jenison, Jenisonville; W. B. Catter and family, of Muskegon.

ALD. Reidsema of the Fourth Ward, publishes in De Groendoot of last Tuesday, a card in which he charges the city clerk with falsifying the council proceedings, at least that is what our limited knowledge of the Holland language allows us to infer. This is rather a damaging statement for Ald. Reidsema to make, and we feel confident that he is mistaken. Our readers will notice, by reading the proceedings of the Common Council in this week's issue, that the minutes of the two previous meetings were read and approved, and we are informed that there was not one dissenting vote.

GRAND HAVEN ITEMS.

THE Circuit Court is in session and busy with the criminal calendar. The suits for violation of the liquor law are set down for next Monday.

THE Chicago & West Mich. Railway Co's Depot, which burned a few weeks ago, has been rebuilt and will soon be ready for occupation.

Mr. Duncan Robertson is building steamer somewhat like the Henry Brower, but longer, for Capt. McCluer. The boat will run on the Fruitport route.

PRACHES are coming into market fast and notwithstanding the bad reports of last spring, are quite cheap, selling at the stores for 50 cents per basket.

THE frame of Boyden's new shingle mill is mostly up, and the work is being pushed as fast as possible, affording work for a large number of men.

COMPANY F 2nd Reg. M. S. Troops, left Wednesday morning on the Detroit Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railroad for Brighton, to take part in the annual drill and review.

THE weather in this vicinity has been rainy during the last fortnight and farmers are complaining that a great deal of the wheat is spoiling on the ground, they being unable to get it dry enough to put into stacks.

THE new Unitarian church is carpeted and has received its chairs which are very comfortable and elegant in appearance. The windows are of beautiful stained glass. This church when completed, will be one of the finest houses of worship in the Western part of the State.

PROF. J. H. Kleinschek, of Hope College, has gone on a tour through the West.

Mr. A. Houtcamp, of the Saugatuck Commercial, was in town last Tuesday with his family.

Mr. L. Van Patten, son of our banker, Mr. J. Van Patten, arrived home from Montgomery, Ala., last Wednesday evening.

PROSECUTING Attorney McBride, of Grand Haven, went to Muskegon last Sunday to assist in organizing a Citizen's League in that city.

LAST Monday evening Mrs. M. T. Ryan, of Allegan, while trolling in Macatawa Bay, succeeded in landing a fine muskallonge, weighing over thirty pounds.

THE Democratic Congressional Committee for this, the Fifth District, met last Tuesday afternoon in Grand Rapids, and issued a call for a district convention to be held in that city, on September 1st.

REPORTS from the township of Salem, say that serious damage has been done to the crops in that town by the recent heavy rains and consequent floods. A large portion of the wheat is still out, and some of the fields are entirely under water.

Mr. Garfield, brother of the deceased president, is building a fine house and barn on his farm in Jamestown. The means are furnished by Mrs. James A. Garfield. This certainly shows kindly regard for her husband's unfortunate relatives.

WE desire to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. W. C. Mellis and J. De Boer. They have embarked in a new enterprise and will push it. Just read the advertisement and consider whether it would not be profitable to go and see them.

STAR Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, of this city, have chartered the steamer Douglas, and will run an excursion to Muskegon next Tuesday. Everything will be done to make the trip as pleasant as possible, and it is expected that an unusual number of tickets will be sold. Fare, for round trip 75 cents, and $1.25 for gentleman and lady. Do not fail to purchase a ticket.

Mr. Hardacre, a prominent citizen of Cincinnati, Ohio, who spent a few weeks at Macatawa Park during the fore part of the season, has returned with his family and will stop at the Park House during a greater part of the remaining portion of this season. Mr. Hardacre speaks very highly of the picturesque and romantic scenery which abounds around the Park and he feels confident that a great many citizens of Cincinnati will visit and enjoy its attractions as a summer resort next season.

Mr. Jas. Koning, Sr., recently Superintendent of Fichter's Stave Factory and Jas. Koning Jr. employed until last Saturday as a clerk in the store of G. Van Patten & Sons, are now employed in the store of Mr. E. J. Harrington who is really fortunate in obtaining such valuable clerks. Mr. Harrington has also been making some very large additions to his stock of goods, while his prices remain as they always have been as low as the lowest. Just drop in, examine the goods, and see the new clerks.

Dr. Schouten's SPECIFIC FAMILY Remedies.

DR. SCHOUTEN'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF RHUBARB, is too well known to the public to need any recommendation. It is enough to say, as is proven by numerous testimonials, and hundreds besides who have used it, that it is exactly what is claimed for it. If you or your children are troubled with diarrhoea, one or two doses will convince you as to the merits of the preparation. In complaints of children it has no equal. It being a Tonic for the bowels, cures all these miserable complaints, when not of too old standing, with a few doses. It does not only check the Diarrhoea, but after being stopped, it moves the bowels naturally again.

ANTI-BILIOUS and EXPECTORANT PILLS. These Pills are rapidly taking the place of all others. They are composed of the most valuable tonic, alternative and cathartic properties known, and acting directly upon the liver, stomach and bowels, effectually purify the blood. Their action is mild, yet always cleansing, but never gripping or painful. If you use them once, you will always prefer them above all others.

"OLD ABE" BITTERS. These Bitters are an excellent Tonic and Appetizer, and are very popular with those who are acquainted with their virtues.

AROMATIC SPIRITS. This distilled liquid is a remedy for all kinds of pain, in young and old, and is an instant restorative for disordered stomachs after a debauch. It is taken from the Belgian Pharmacopoeia. The formula can be found on the bottles.

BALSAM LOCATELLI (Spilker Balsam.) This Balsam is a wonderful healer, and works like a charm in all kinds of wounds, cuts, bruises and burns.

IPECAC TROCHES. The great and well-known specific remedy—Ipecac—for croup, coughs and colds, influenza, etc., is the main feature of these Troches, and prepared in such a nice manner that they are craved for like Candy. The formula is on the box. See Pharmacopoeia Neerlandica.—This is an excellent remedy for hoarseness, and is highly recommended for public speakers.

DR. SCHOUTEN'S COUGH BALSAM. This is a valuable combination of expectorants and compounded in such a manner that old and young pronounce it palatable. In severe cases it is recommended to take a few of Dr. Schouten's Expectorant Pills, at night before retiring.

THE tail of a fashionable youth's coat is very, very short. But it is not "short," in a majority of cases, as the fashionable youth himself—by a handsome majority.—Norristown Herald.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS,
please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Indigestion and habitual costiveness arise from weakness of the nerves and muscles of the stomach. Due attention to the proper habit of life in connection with the timely use of Brown's Iron Bitters will strengthen the affected parts and quickly remove every symptom of the disorder.

This space is reserved for the Woman Christian Temperance Union.

W. G. T. Union.

Why he dropped his Sunday paper.

He was an upright business man. In his heart he believed the religion of Christ to be true. But he was very busy, and when Sunday came he was thoroughly tired. He had become interested, too, in his Sunday paper; so he gradually dropped off going to church. His wife went regularly, and sometimes the children. One morning, just after his wife had set out he was he was comfortably seated reading the money article, when he heard his boys talking in the next room. Said eight-year-old Willie, "When you grow up, shall you go to church as mother does, or stay at home like father?" "I shall do neither" said the older one, decidedly. "When I'm a man, I shall have my horses, and be on the road Sundays, and enjoy myself." The newspaper suddenly lost its attraction. Between the father and it there came a picture of his boys associating with loose men, and drifting into a godless, reckless life; and of himself looking on it in his old age as the fruit of his self-indulgence. Five minutes after, he was rapidly walking toward the church. When the service was over, his wife coming down the aisle, saw him waiting at the door. There was a questioning, glad surprise in her eyes; but he only remarked that he had taken a walk, and thought he would join her on the way home. Next Sunday, however the whole family were in their pew, and all the rest of the day there was a kind of peace about the house that reminded him of his boyhood days in his father's home. And who will say that he was less fitted for another week of business life by this share in the service of God's house, instead of "staying at home all Sunday to rest"?—S. S. Times.

Do not Despair.

Persons suffering from complicated disease that have a tendency to exhaust and weaken the brain and nervous system and themselves quickly cured, and perfect tone and real strength given to the affected parts, by making free use of Brown's Iron Bitters. It makes the old feel young, the young feel buoyant, and removes every symptom of illness from the human system. A trial bottle will convince you that it is the best tonic made.

The troubles in the Dunkard Church, which have been growing for some time, are taken into court at Chambersburg, Pa. The younger members, who wish to dress as other people do, to have musical instruments and the like, claim to be the real church, and ask the court to put them in possession of its property. A long and hot fight is expected.

Wm. McCartney, 88 Lloyd Street, Buffalo, N. Y., fell and sprained his ankle. His employer, H. Anderson, 94 Main Street, procured some Thomas' Electric Oil, and he says that a few applications enabled him to go to work as usual.

In good Spirit.

T. Walker, Cleveland, O., writes: "For the last twelve months I have suffered with lumbago and general debility. I commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters about six weeks ago, and now have great pleasure in stating that I have recovered my appetite, my complexion has grown ruddy, and feel better altogether." Price $1.00.

A Forlorn Hope.

O. J. Doesburg, formerly prop. of Holland City News, Mich., writes: "A bad cold settled on my side and back, kidney trouble, liver and rheumatism combined. I suffered terribly, though was obliged to move about and attend my business. I tried local doctors, but received no relief, and as a forlorn hope tried your Thomas' Electric Oil. I have only used half a fifty cent bottle, and feel as well as I ever did in my life."

A Marvelous Cure

For all bodily ailments, arising from impurity of blood, a torpid liver, irregularity of the bowels, indigestion, constipation, or disordered kidneys, is warranted in a free use of Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1.00.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing admired for its purity and rich perfume.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.
