Arts, Crafts Show Slated On Aug. 18

The Fourth Annual Tulip City Outdoor Arts and Crafts Show is scheduled to be held in Centennial Park, Saturday Aug. 18 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The show is co-sponsored by the Holland Recreation Department and the Holland Friends of Art. Friends of Art President Jim Symons and Recreation Director Joe Moran are acting as co-chairmen.

Preliminary interest indicates that this year's show will have an excellent variety of arts and crafts. Pre-registration of artists has been the heaviest in the history of the event.

Cooperation by Park Superintendent Jacob DeGraaf, has enabled the staging of the show in beautiful Centennial Park, offering a cool heavily shaded haven to combat the summer heat.

Display spaces will be allotted to participating artists along the sidewalks and paths of the park where the usual "keep off the grass" practice will be abandoned for the day.

Viewers will be able to stroll around the paths and grassy areas among the trees and view hundreds of pieces of original arts and crafts which can often be purchased at real bargains.

According to co-chairman Moran the show should be the best one to date and local residents will be able to spend a profitable hour or more viewing the many worthwhile arts and crafts.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department Office.

Plan Volunteer Project To Aid Public Schools

A new volunteer project is being planned jointly by the Holland Public Schools and the Voluntary Action Center for E. E. Fell Junior High School.

The project will be called the SPACE Program, SPACE standing for School Partners and Community Educators, a name chosen to emphasize the partnership between the school and community in the education of young people.

The program is an outgrowth of the junior high school curriculum workshop conducted earlier this summer under the supervision of Dr. Philip Schoo, school curriculum director. Representatives of the VAC met with the workshop to discuss the benefits of a school volunteer program. James Zeedyk, assistant principal at E. E. Fell will supervise the volunteers.

Both Pancik, VAC volunteer specialist, emphasizes that the SPACE Program is the first of its kind in Holland, in that it involves the recruitment of volunteers to work in the schools during the school day. She will conduct initial interviews, screening and training of the volunteers.

The list of volunteer tasks to be done at the school includes: Persons with a background in college math to work in the Math Media Center. This involves individual work with students, using games and special projects to reinforce math skills. The center is open the entire school day under the supervision of a teacher in the math department.

One or two volunteers to work every day for about an hour as accompanists for the junior high choruses. Special qualifications include: keyboard dexterity which shows ability to play in synopated rhythms and in a variety of keys; sight reading; playing of individual voice parts; ability to improvise on the accompaniment when changes are made for the chorus; ability to follow gestures of the director.

One or two volunteers to work with educationally impaired students in the resource room helping with regular assignments made in the classroom. This also includes reading to the student, drill and assistance in library research.

The resource room will be ready in October and volunteers will work once or twice a week for one or two hour time periods.

In the Science Department, persons skilled in the use of microscopes will assist in preparation of slides and focusing.

The microscope units are taught during two weeks of the first semester and one week of the second semester, making this a short-term volunteer assignment.

The Media Center (library) requires volunteers to do clerical work, shelving of books

ALLEGAN — County Commissioners Tuesday rejected a list of 11 sites suggested by the city of Allegan as locations for expansion of county facilities.

Commissioners voted 11 to one, with James Rolfe of Allegan, dissenting, to proceed with plans to construct a $750,000 office building north of Allegan.

Revenue sharing chairman Phillip Quade offered a resolution calling for the county to build a facility for the social services and health departments at the old county farm property 4 1/2 miles north of Allegan.

The 220-acre site already contains a 60-bed medical care facility and a juvenile detention home.

A Holland firm, Lamar Construction Co., was awarded a bid to construct an animal shelter building on the Dumont Lake property. The bid was $48,377 which prompted one commissioner to recall it was $5,000 more than the total cost to build and furnish the old court house which was used from 1890 until 1961.

The site for the dog pound will be determined by a committee with representatives of the Allegan township board.

The board approved a $500 pay hike for command officers of the sheriff's department.

The commissioners adopted a resolution offered by commissioner Kenneth Rynbrandt of Salem who wanted to make economic development of the county a main topic for discussion at the September commissioners meeting.

Rynbrandt urged Allegan County residents interested in pushing economic development to express their ideas through their county commissioners.

ZEELAND — The Zeeland Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday ratified a contract with teachers that sets the starting salary for a teacher with a bachelors degree at $8,400.

The contract calls for a top scale of $12,600 for a bachelors degree in 11 steps while the range for a teacher with a masters degree is $8,904 to $13,356 in 11 steps. Teachers ratified the contract earlier.

ZEELAND — City Council Monday set Sept. 4 for two public hearings on rezoning requests.

Sligh Furniture Co. asked property on the southeast corner of Washington and Maple be rezoned to allow a professional office for the Ottawa County Mental Health Department. The area is zoned industrial.

First Michigan Bank & Trust Co. requested property at the southwest intersection of East Main and Sanford be rezoned to allow a drive-in banking facility.

LANSING — Gov. William G. Milliken Thursday named members to three state boards and commissions.

Named to the State Fire Safety Board were Lee A. Trumble of East Lansing, and Lloyd H. Van Raalte of Holland. Trumble starts a new term on the board while Van Raalte has been on the board since 1966.

Holland City Manager William L. Bopf wants the county to pay $30,000 over the 50-50 city-county base for the four-lane bridge that separates Holland Township from the City of Holland. The bridge was resurfaced last week, but needs major reconstruction.

Ron Bakker of the County Road Commission wants to remove the two existing sidewalks on the bridge and add a lane for vehicles turning west on Howard Ave. from the bridge. Holland representatives want just four lanes.

Bakker suggested that a detailed study by an engineer determine the lane controversy. River Ave. is one of the busiest roads in the county, carrying 26,000 cars daily. Commissioners William Kennedy of Allegan and Eunice Bareham of Spring Lake both said a county policy on bridge projects should be formulated.

The matter of the bridge was referred back to the development committee to review before a decision is made. An answer is expected by the September meeting of the board.

FENNIVILLE — Melvin Holt-slaw, 13, of 55th St., suffered minor injuries in a car-bicycle accident Friday at 4:45 p.m. along M-89 at 55th St. east of here. He was treated in Douglas Community hospital and released.

Allegan County sheriff's deputies said the youth was riding with other bicyclists west along M-89 and a car driven by Robert Leasingham, 56, of South Haven, traveling in the same direction, slowed down when Holt-slaw apparently swerved into the path of the car.

Plans are being made for Holland's eighth annual ox roast to be held Saturday, Sept. 22, at Windmill Island, sponsored jointly by the city and Hope College.

The price of admission again will include the first home game of Hope College's football season at Riverview Park. Hope will play Concordia College of River Forest, Ill.

Because of the huge success of last year's ox roast, the ticket sale is being boosted to 4,500, compared with a complete sell-out of 4,000 last year. Price will be $2 for adults, $1.50 for children under eight, and a discount price of $1.50 for senior citizens. More than 600 senior citizens took advantage of discount prices last year when Holland marked its 125th anniversary.

Tickets will go on sale Aug. 27.

The menu will follow the format of other years with roast beef sandwiches, cole slaw, baked beans, relishes, potato chips, brownies and coffee, or cold drinks. The Hope College food service will oversee preparation and serving, and leading citizens of the city and college will be in the serving lines.

Serving tents will be arranged for, plus canopies from the cemetery department. The park department will provide picnic tables. It is expected the popular German band which performed at previous ox roasts will be on hand.

Shuttle buses will transport picnicers from the Windmill Island gate to the island proper.

In case of rain, box lunches will be available at Windmill Island and rain checks will allow subsequent visits to Windmill Island during the remainder of the 1973 season which ends late in October.

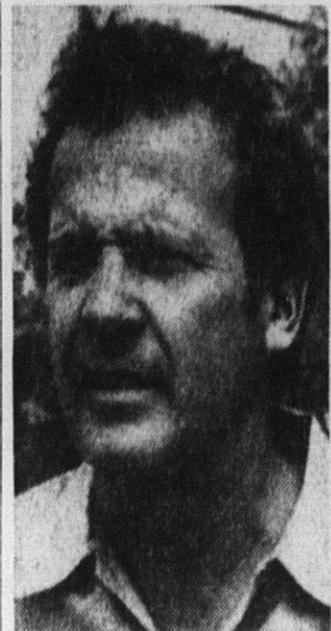

Arrangements are being made for donated items, traffic control and cleanup.

Serving on the ox roast committee are Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr., Jacob De Graaf, John Fonger, Jaap de Bloet, William L. Bopf, Terry Hofmeyer, Tom Renner, Dave Van Dellen, Jess Newkirk, Nelson Bosman and Dick Machiele.

DOUGLAS — R. J. Peterson, president of Tower Marine, has been named chairman of a campaign to raise funds for the expansion of Community Hospital, it was announced by the hospital directors.

the hospital into full compliance with state standards.

Th program calls for additions to the maternity wing, enlarging the emergency department, overhauling the electrical and ventilating system and exterior remodeling. Cost of the project was estimated at $381,000.

Peterson said he was confident the people of the area will support their hospital in its effort to continue to serve the local residents.

Peterson attended Prudue University and majored in mechanical engineering. He and his wife Diane and son Matthew live on Riverside Dr., in Saugatuck.

Mortar Crew Has Language of Own

GRAYLING — "Hang it! On my command! Fire!"

That's a type of jargon which is quite familiar at Camp Grayling this week as Army National Guardsmen from western Michigan complete the second week of their annual training drill with the 38th Infantry Division.

The phrase "hang it" means to tube a mortar shell over the tube in preparation for firing. Then, on the command "fire," the shell is dropped down the smooth bore tube and catapulted several thousand meters down range.

This week, guardsmen of the 3rd Battalion, 126th Infantry, with headquarters in Wyoming and units in Grand Haven, Ionia, Holland and Big Rapids, are practicing firing their 81 millimeter mortars on Camp Grayling's mortar ranges. Despite the fact the guardsmen receive only limited actual firing of their tubes each year, their accuracy is amazingly good.

After a few orientation rounds, they usually home-in on the down range targets consisting of old car bodies which are painted white for identification purposes.

Last week, the men of the 3rd Battalion participated in a battalion scale automobile operation, the largest training exercise of its type ever conducted at the northern Michigan military post.

The 3rd Battalion, part of the 46th Infantry Brigade, 38th Infantry Division, is commanded by Lt. Col. John F. Lesky of Ionia. The brigade is commanded by Col. Charles E. Lamoreaux of Grand Rapids.

A record number of guardsmen at one time, more than 14 thousand men of the 38th Infantry Division, with units in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio are in training at Camp Grayling. The training concludes Friday with movement to home stations on Saturday.

ZEELAND — Summer property tax collections in Zeeland reached 90.1 per cent Monday, it was reported today. The deadline for paying the taxes without a penalty was last Wednesday. Unpaid taxes now carry a 2 1/2 per cent penalty.

Officials said the 90.1 per cent levy of $1,093,129. The levy includes funds for school operations, city operations and special assessments.

CONKLIN — Eugene Preston, 40, of Sparta, lost his left hand at the wrist in a mishap Monday at 10:40 a.m. at the Conklin Farm Supplies where he was working on a farm combine. Ottawa County deputies said a blade on the combine struck him and amputated the left hand. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids for treatment.

Zeeland Man Heads New GE Plant

General Electric's Hermetic Motor Products Department is building a new plant in Kentucky and a Zeeland man was named to head the new facility, it was announced by William C. Dutton, general manager of the department headquartered in Holland.

A Leroy Rediger, a 36-year veteran with GE, was named manager of the facility in Scottsville, Ky., which is expected to employ about 230 persons during the first year of operation. A warehouse is expected to open in October with manufacturing to begin next spring.

Dutton said GE intends to

A. Leroy Rediger

"maintain a full and stable level of employment in Holland, consistent with customer requirements for our motors."

The Holland plant employs about 1,400 persons.

Dutton emphasized that the Holland operation would continue as a substantial producer of hermetic motors.

He said Scottsville was selected for a new plant because of its nearness to the growing number of GE customers in the southeast region of the country. He noted the new facility reflects increasing demand for the department's products.

GE is a world leader of hermetic motors and has production facilities in Tiffin, Ohio; Fort Wayne, Ind., and Singapore as well as in Holland.

Issue Wins By 794-Vote Margin

Beelen and Peerbolt
In 5th Ward Runoff
In November Vote

Holland's one-way street system will remain in operation, following a public vote Tuesday in which voters approved the issue by a 794-vote margin.

The vote was 3,187 to 2,393, roughly a 3-2 majority in an issue which generated considerable emotionalism in the concluding weeks.

Tuesday's turnout of 5,604, roughly 40 per cent of the total registered vote of 13,836, was generally considered a good turnout for a single issue in a summer vote.

Fifth ward voters also cast votes for councilmen in which Kenneth Beelen, local builder, outpolled incumbent Morris Peerbolt, 639 to 347. The third candidate, Bernard Lemmen, received 177 votes. The names of Beelen and Peerbolt will appear on the November ballot when the entire city votes on all councilman posts. Beelen led in all three precincts in the ward.

Election boards in the city's 17 precincts proved particularly efficient Tuesday night, and all votes were reported to the city clerk's office by 8:20 p.m.

Mrs. William Westrate Jr., who initiated the petition drive that brought about the one-way street vote, said, "The public has spoken. We did all we could do in trying to bring the issue to the public."

She said in another five years the "people might have a different feeling on the one-way system, especially if traffic continues to build along Seventh and Ninth Sts.

City manager William L. Bopf said he was "gratified that the citizens of Holland supported the one-way street system. We feel that it is a good decision for the total community."

Bopf said the city would proceed with plans to improve the one-way system and the beautification program for the business district.

Vote by precincts on the one-way street system follows:

| 1-1 | 92 | 92 |

Meiste-Scholten Vows Are Spoken Wednesday

United in marriage Wednesday evening in Graafschap Christian Reformed Church were Miss Elaine Joy Scholten and Calvin James Meiste. They solemnized their wedding vows before the Rev. Bernard Den Ouden while music was provided by Mrs. Steven Stam, organist; Jon Mulder, soloist, and Robert Schutter, trumpeter.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Scholten, 4343 61st St., and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Justin Meiste, 419 West 48th St.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an empire waisted gown of white organza over satin with an A-line style with lace bodice and upper sleeves and a stand-up collar. The dress yoke and lower sleeves were of transparent organza. Her three tiered veil fell from a lace cap to a chapel-length train and was edged with lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, white baby's breath with white and pink daisies.

Mrs. Jay Meiste, matron of honor, was dressed in a gown of pink flocked material featuring a high waist, cuffed long sleeves, a stand-up collar and a lace and satin ribbon trimmed waistline. She carried a white basket with assorted summer flowers.

Similarly attired were the bridesmaids with Miss Jayne Steenwyk in mint green and Miss Jan Hulst in yellow. The bride's and attendants' dresses were made by Mrs. Lloyd Scholten.

Jay Meiste attended the groom as best man while Larry Teusink and Wayne Scholten were ushers.

Presiding as master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception in the Holland Christian High School were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Scholten. Ken Scholten and Miss Sharon Hulst were at the punch bowl while David Scholten and Miss Kristi Scholten were at the guest book. Arranging the gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Veltman, Al

James Dyas' Red Barn Theatre's production of "Applause" is certainly one of the most entertaining theatrical experiences of the 1973 Michigan summer stock season.

While G. Richard Guenther's extraordinary and functional scenery and lighting captured the difficult, sophisticated air of the contemporary New York show-biz scene, Sharon Dail Matia's costuming, a creation of more than 60 detailed ensembles, complemented a true professional company at the height of their summer's work.

But the applause belonged to the leading ladies, Elizabeth Lowry and Leta Anderson, who, with their beautiful, aging star, Margo Channing.

Her song at the end of act I, "Welcome to the Theatre," sums up the evening of almost magic theatre that brought the enthusiastic opening night audience back from intermission anticipating the resolution of the leading lady's plight.

They were ready to applaud some more.

As the cunning understudy, Eve, Leta Anderson is charming with a subtle transition from feigned innocence to a sharply opportunistic young actress on the make.

Her vitality and obviously professional experience lent energy and polish to a company that has worked long and hard to produce its finest moments of the summer.

Acting honors are also in order for Michael Salvador's portrayal of Duane, the star's hairdresser. As friend and foil to the leading lady, Salvador creates a beautifully loyal character, faithful to his eccentric performer even as the upstart, Eve, nearly takes over his job.

'Applause' Is Red Barn's Best Show of Summer

By Dan Hungerford
James Dyas' Red Barn Theatre's production of "Applause" is certainly one of the most entertaining theatrical experiences of the 1973 Michigan summer stock season.

While G. Richard Guenther's extraordinary and functional scenery and lighting captured the difficult, sophisticated air of the contemporary New York show-biz scene, Sharon Dail Matia's costuming, a creation of more than 60 detailed ensembles, complemented a true professional company at the height of their summer's work.

But the applause belonged to the leading ladies, Elizabeth Lowry and Leta Anderson

THE END OF THE WORLD?

The predictions are dire. The papers are filled with reports and guesses; television screens show apocalyptic evidence that it is almost upon us. Table talk is by no means reassuring. A feeling of inescapable doom prevails. Only if unusual measures are taken will we escape the inevitable. Morality in many quarters is breaking down because of the basic shift in our living conditions. The whole world seems to be in for a major change.

And what is it all about? The impending beef shortage. That's what's going to happen. That's what's got everybody acting as though the world is coming to a speedy end. That's what's got people rustling cattle, hoarding for the freezer and appealing to government to change the regulations. That's what has us all appealing to mysterious forces like supply and demand to prevent the cataclysm.

As though going without beef were the end of the world. It's just that in this country we're a little meat crazy; we have the notion that lots of meat makes strong men, that beef every day is what has made this country what it is. Beef is the American way. We just don't know how little meat people in other parts of the world get to eat, and we don't know how healthy they stay without it. Fact is, we would be better off with less meat than we've been habituated to eat. It's not the end of the world. But it may be the end of a habit.

The Great Commandment
Deuteronomy 6:4-5;
Mark 12:28-34; Romans 13:8-10
By C. P. Dame

God wants first place in our lives or no place at all. This truth deserves to be stated over and over again seeing that some like to give a parttime and a fractional self to God.

I. God wants number one place in a person's life. The word "love" appears several times in the three passages which compose the lesson text — one from Deuteronomy, written by Moses, another from Mark's gospel and the third from Romans written by Paul. In order to love a person it is necessary to know him. God has revealed Himself so that people may love Him. Verse four is the famous "Shema" which the Jews still recite. The word "shema" means to hear and hearing is important. Moses taught Israel that, "The Lord our God is one Lord." There is but one God and hence He only, deserves man's worship and service. This calls for love with a person's personality and powers. Deuteronomy says more about love between God and man than any of the other books of Moses.

II. Jesus agreed with Moses. The story related by Mark tells of an incident that took place on Tuesday of Holy Week. The Lord's enemies tried to trap Him but He silences them by His knowledge. A scribe who had heard the conversation asked Jesus, "Which is the first commandment of all?" Jesus quoted Deuteronomy 6:4-5 and Leviticus 19:18 and welded the two together and introduced a new thought, to love God and to love man go together, both are of equal value. To love thy neighbor means to do him good at every opportunity.

The scribe praised Jesus for His answer, asserting that there is but one God whom we should love with all our being and our neighbor as ourselves and then added that love "is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices." Jesus complimented the open-minded scribe and said that he was not far from the kingdom of God. Some are outside the kingdom, some are in, some are outside but near — however still outside. Nearness is not enough.

III. Love fulfills the law. In Romans 13 Paul writes about our obligations to the government and then adds a few words about our obligation to meet the debt we all have, to love one another. Paul quotes five commandments and adds, "and if there be any other commandment, all are fulfilled by love." Love restrains and constrains, it is active, it does not cancel the commandments but leads to their fulfillment. The world needs Christian love which reveals itself in service to God and man.

NOSE Tips by Leo Martonosi

A Christian man, Bill De Boer, is one of the finest persons this writer has ever met in our four years of living in this fine city.

When someone talks fast pitch softball, they talk about Lum Veldman and Al Kraai and others in the past and Ozzie Alyworth, Bob Ebels and others, but no one is more familiar than "Bookie" De Boer, who has been keeping scores of various sports in Holland for more than 35 years.

De Boer got his nickname of "Bookie" back in the fourth grade and doesn't recall to this day why he got the name which is he is probably better known than William, Bill or De Boer. Maybe he was a book worm in school? We don't know but we do know that he is a book worm in his old scorebook.

"Bookie" cut his fingers in keeping score for the old Flying Dutchmen baseball team. He also kept statistics in football and basketball for many years for WHTC.

This is the first year that fast pitch has been played at the Maplewood No. 1 diamond and at first Bill didn't like the idea of leaving old Van Tongeren Field.

"I missed the fellowship of Ted Wierda, Norm Dunn and John Riemersma at Van Tongeren but on occasion they get over to Maplewood to see me," said De Boer.

"Bookie" now likes working at Maplewood where he has made many new friends particularly in Tim Brinkman, who runs the scoreboard and Rick Dornbos, who shags balls.

"Those two guys really keep things interesting at the old park," De Boer insisted. "But they're really great kids."

De Boer, a 1933 graduate of Holland High, said that today's players on the whole aren't as good as ones in the past.

"This is more noticeable among pitchers," De Boer explained. "We just aren't developing fast pitch hurlers like we did in the past."

"Lum Veldman and Jason Ebels were probably the two best pitchers I ever seen," smiled De Boer. Lum and Al Kraai were two of the best pitchers also."

"Bookie" never played any sports in high school but was a sandlot catcher and said the highlight of his catching experience was catching ex-major league hurler George Zuverink.

"That was just a great big thrill for me," said De Boer. De Boer, who is married and has one daughter living in California, admits that not too many wives would probably put up with him keeping score on the average of five night a week.

Sure he likes the small fee he gets for it but insiders will tell you that Bill keeps score not for the money but for the sure enjoyment of watching softball and the fellowship of it.

"It gives me a chance to meet a lot of people and I like people," De Boer commented.

Fast pitch Director Bert Bruursema said, "Bill De Boer is a very reliable and dependable person and does a great job. Whenever you need someone in the pinch, he's always there, ready to do the job."

At times De Boer has even helped out Bruursema by filling in as an umpire.

"I don't mind working the bases but I don't want to have to get behind the plate," cracked De Boer, who is 60.

Russ Vande Poel, who was business manager for the old Flying Dutchmen echoed, "Bill was very helpful to us and he has always been an old sports bug."

One of De Boer's closest friends is Norm Japinga, who for many years was director of the fast pitch league.

Japinga stated, "He's just a wonderful person. It's hard to find a man like him that is so dedicated. I just don't know what softball would have done without him. When I was director, he was like an assistant."

Just last week we took "Bookie" to a Cub game and he was just like a little kid who was attending his first big league game. But that's what kind of a person he is.

It was the first time that Bill had seen the Cubs play in Wrigley Field since the last year the great Stan "the Man Musial played.

Fire Ruins TV Set, Damages Wall of Room

Mrs. Betty Shinsky returned to her home at 171 Elberdine St. Tuesday at 4:04 p.m. and discovered a small fire in the living room near a television set. Holland township firemen were called and extinguished the flames.

Ottawa County deputies said fire damage was confined to the wall area behind the television set and the set itself. Smoke and water damage was reported elsewhere in the house. Damage estimates were not available.

John Riemersma also attended the contest with us. It was the first time that John had seen the Cubs in action since 1946, a year after they won their last National League pennant.

When Bill De Boer does retire from working for the city, we know he isn't about to give up his job as head scorekeeper and announcer.

It just wouldn't be the same if he did.

CAKE BREAK — James Brooks, board member of First Michigan Bank and Trust Co., serves a piece of chocolate cake to Sue Kalkman, receptionist at the bank's main office in Zeeland. Bank President Robert Den Herder, initiator of the program to serve cake to the employees for every million dollars in footings attained, looks on. Brooks, President of Brooks Products Inc., also served 7-Up last Friday for the $110 million celebration.

They Eat Cake At 1st Michigan

Weight watching isn't easy for employees of First Michigan Bank and Trust Co.

As the bank's footings go, so go the calories. And recently both are soaring.

Initiated in the fall of 1970 by Bank President Robert Den Herder as an administrative "thank you," the bank purchases a huge sheet cake for the 150 employees for each million dollars reached.

Designed to keep employees alert to the bank's growth, the cakes are ordered by secretaries who frequently specify green frosting (symbolizing "go ahead"). Occasionally brownies are ordered for variety.

The token incentive plan has surged from $70 million at the start to $110 million in less than four years. An accurate "cake history" is recorded with space allotted for each million up to $200 million, a visible testimony to the confident and optimistic staff.

At each $5 million plateau, one of the bank's director's purchases the cake.

For the $100 million mark attained in April this year in addition to the cake, Den Herder treated all employees to dinner and entertainment at Clearbrook Inn.

Along with the cakes the bank sponsors a monetary incentive program with tangible remuneration and trophies for bringing in additional accounts.

Customers frequently stop bank officers in Zeeland where the main office is located (there are eight branch offices) to check the latest growth figures. But the bank's biggest boosters are naturally, the Zeeland Bakeries.

GOthic COTTAGE RESTORED — Lorene and John Schaberg of Kalamazoo, summer residents of Saugatuck for many years, have restored this lovely old home at 3440 Holland Rd., to a perfect setting for their unusual antiques. The Schabergs also have a Gothic Cottage in

Rare Charm Seen In Gothic Cottage

By Lorraine Hohl

Combining handsome antiques with unusual hangings can make a special corner of new as well as older homes as many homemakers are discovering. At the Gothic Cottage on Holland St., at the entrance to Saugatuck, Lorene Schaberg and her husband, John, have made this happy combination with some real dramatic effects.

The Schabergs, who have a summer cottage next to the shop and have summered there for many years, have extensively remodeled and repaired the antique shop that the late James Wallace started from an old L-shaped farmhouse. He found an old barn or garage and added to that a hexagonal glassed-in area for what is called "the potting shed" which contains plants and unusual containers. One of the conversation pieces is a towel Portuguese bird cage.

Some Chinese screens, one lacquered and another of carved ivory panels in burl ash and teak are used effectively with silk Tabriz Orientals as wall hangings. One lovely Soumak Oriental is used also as a wall hanging.

Gay buckets, barrels and pots are used around the house filled with colorful geraniums, petunias, begonias and other leafy plants and bushes.

The Schabergs also have a shop in Kalamazoo, recently named a historical site with a marker at the 1852 Gothic Cottage. Lorene Schaberg has a deft touch with her antiques. She uses them in a special setting for each one giving visitors to the shop an idea of how an antique table, chest, screen or other item would look in a home setting.

To many, an antique shop is filled with dusty, rusty old relics that are for display or collections only. To Lorene Schaberg, antiques are to be lived with and enjoyed as a part of everyday living.

Ted Bergsma's Mother, 97, Dies

GRAND RAPIDS — Mrs. Hatie Bergsma, 97, former resident of Ellsworth, died early today in Crestview Nursing Home, here.

Surviving are four sons, Gerit and John of Wyoming, Ralph of Milford and Ted of Zeeland; two daughters, Mrs. Elmer Klooster of Wyoming and Mrs. Peter Drenth of Ellsworth; 16 grandchildren; 37 great-grandchildren; five great-great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Grace Roelofs of Zeeland.

at the center is an English Regency rent table. Oriental rugs are seen throughout the rooms which give visitors an idea of how these antiques would look in their homes. All four of the rooms the Schabergs have decorated show a deft touch in the use of these rare pieces. (Sentinel photo)

County Board Adds Three To Committee

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Board of Commissioners increased its improvement committee membership by three to include three members from the eastern part of the county, Raymond Vander Laan of Hudsonville, Kenneth Northouse of Jenison and Fred C. Fritz of Conklin.

A recent space and needs study presented by the West Michigan Regional Shoreline Planning Commission shows that no county facility exists in the east part of the county, and the board agreed to add the three members to the committee in order to determine needs and wishes of the eastern area. The West Michigan commission was also given authorization to continue a shoreline planning and zoning study, contingent upon the townships entering into a contract to pay 10 per cent of the costs.

The Road Commission was authorized to spend $9,000 for further improvements at Camp Kirk and also agreed to pay $351 from the improvement fund to Nietring Excavating of Grand Haven for cleanup of the county property at the old Erickson Grocery site on Franklin St. near the county building.

The development committee will study a request from the Michigan Gas Utilities Development Co. to lease county property for exploration.

Commissioners also approved a motion that would provide for county participation in improvements of county secondary roads, if county property abuts the road. The county share would be determined by the percentage of their property abutting the road, and would be allocated when requested by townships and local property owners.

Delarosa Demands Exam in Robbery

Humberto Rene Delarosa, 40, of Chicago, demanded examination in Holland District Court Monday to a charge of armed robbery in connection with a holdup Sunday at the Columbia Ave. One Stop.

Delarosa was remanded to the Ottawa County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. No date was set for examination.

He was accused in the $600 robbery of the store Sunday and was arrested minutes later by Holland police who pursued the getaway car to 19th St. and Columbia Ave. where it stopped and three subjects fled on foot.

Delarosa was the only one arrested. The other two subjects made their escape. The car was stolen earlier in the day from 13th St. and Washington Blvd., police said.

Tom Sasamoto is the best golfer in the city. If you don't believe it, check out his record.

During the past 12 years, Sasamoto has won 10 club championships at the American Legion, and finished second twice.

...leaving Holland

California. A farewell dinner will be held at the American Legion Tuesday, Aug. 8.

"No question about it, Tom was the best player in the city," said Legion golf pro Duane Vandenberg. "We're going to all miss him. He was not only a great player but a real gentleman."

The 43-year-old Sasamoto holds the course record at the Legion with a fantastic 62 which bettered the previous best of 63 for the par 70 course, set in 1957 by golfing great Julius Boros.

Sasamoto set the mark in 1960 in a championship flight match with Ted Yamaoka. He also registered an eight-under-par 62 in 1962 and called this his "best game" ever.

200-meter freestyle relay: 14 and under, (2), Doyle, Koning, Sligh, Ringelberg.

"I'm more proud of my 1962 feat," insisted Sasamoto. "I had five chip-ins that day and that is hard to match."

In 1960 Sasamoto recorded 10 birdies to set the mark and that's pretty noteworthy too.

Sasamoto, a consistent golfer, says his best score of this summer was 65 and his worst 77.

"The strongest part of my game was my chip-ins and putting but lately I have been disappointed in my putting. I must be losing my touch," he said laughing.

Sasamoto, who attended high school in Japan, and never knew what a golf club looked like until he came to Holland 25 years ago, said that Wyand Vandenberg taught him more about golf than anyone.

"He was just a wonderful man," stated Sasamoto. "His son Duane is a great teacher too. One of the best around."

Sasamoto, who has played on almost every golf course in Western Michigan, said that Grand Haven was "the best" and "the toughest" of them all.

"That place is really a challenge but so is the back nine at Clearbrook Inn," cracked Sasamoto. "The Legion is a nice course but it isn't as tough as Clearbrook."

A great golfer himself, Sasamoto said that Chuck Steeno and Al Dimavicus of Grand Rapids were the "two finest" golfers he has ever played against.

For a man, who never touched a golf ball of knew what a golf club looked like before coming to Holland, Tom Sasamoto has come a long way in this exciting sport.

Flying Dutchman to Be Tough
It may sound like it's a little early to start talking football but the always enthusiastic Hope College football Coach Ray Smith, is all fired up and ready to go, as he hopes to win the first outright Dutchmen MIAA championship in 20 years this fall.

"That's our goal this year," said Smith in a recent interview. "It's not going to be easy because I honestly feel that all the teams in the league have a chance of going all the way. This is the best balanced league since I have been here."

Smith who is in his fourth year at the helm of the Flying Dutchmen, has compiled a 15-11 overall record.

The aggressive Smith feels that this year's freshmen class is the "best ever."

"Potentially, I would have to rate them the best," stated Smith. "We also have two fine transfers that should really help us this fall."

The two newcomers Smith is referring to are Grand Rapids JC transfers, Ray Lutke of Zeeland and Randy Vander Veen of Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills.

Lutke was considered the best defensive lineman at JC while Vander Veen is a strong defensive back candidate.

"We feel very fortunate to get those two guys," said Smith.

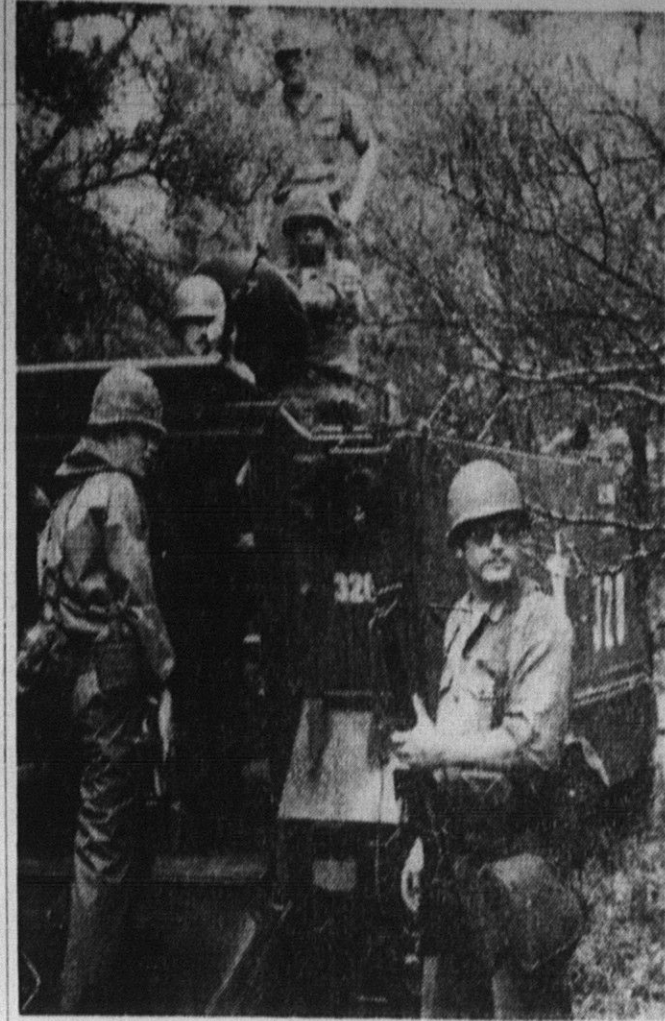

Of the 38 newcomers this fall, some of the other standouts include defensive back Dick Wood of Holland, Bob Coleman, halfback-quarterback of Grand Haven, Matt Kramer, fullback-linebacker from Lake Odessa, Duff De Swaan, tight end from Wyoming Park and Class C all-state kicker Mike Durham of Eau Claire.

Some of the others that Smith pointed out were Tom Richards, a 6 foot 220-pound tackle from Greenbelt, Maryland, who was named 1971 player of the year in the Washington area, Jeff Schmidt, a 6 foot five-inch tackle from Chesla, another big tackle Murrie Terpstra, 6 foot 2-inch, 220 pounder from Grandville, end Dave Tetter of Columbus and Hudsonville's fine fullback-linebacker Lou Ten Have.

"We're starting to get some players in, not just numbers," commented Smith.

Old reliables, co-captains Bob Lamer and Gerrit Crandall will welcome the whole squad on Tuesday, Aug. 22.

When you talk with Ray Smith at Hope College, you can't help but think football, even though baseball is at its peak of the season.

Guardsmen In Giant Air Operation

CAMP GRAYLING—Holland's National Guardsmen were among the first in the state to take part in a battalion-wide airborne operation as part of their National Guard summer training.

The entire 3rd Battalion of the 126th Infantry was involved in the large scale airborne operation last week. The airlift used "Huey" helicopters to transport ground forces to an area of operations and remove the ground forces after completion of the mission.

The 3rd Battalion is headquartered at Wyoming with units in Holland, Grand Haven, Ionia and Big Rapids.

The airborne operation began Wednesday, Aug. 1, when about half the men were airlifted 15 miles to the area of operations. Heavy fog resulted in low ceiling and limited visibility which prevented airlifting of the balance of the infantrymen who were transported by truck.

The landing was "hot" under simulated tactical conditions where an aggressor force of infantrymen from Saginaw provided small arms fire with blank ammunition and simulated mortar fire with smoke grenades as the helicopters landed.

During the airborne operation, the battalion was supported

Asks Ad Hoc Committee To Study Blood

GRAND HAVEN — William F. C. Herbst, United Way director for Greater Holland and the Tri-Cities Area as well as field representative for Michigan United Way, appeared before the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners Monday.

Herbst requested that an ad hoc committee be formed to work with the board's financial committee, in view of a recent plea by two Red Cross representatives last month that the Board of Commissioners allocate $8,000 to the Red Cross to make up a deficit in the county's blood program.

Herbst stated, "If I had given the report on the blood bank, I would have said, 'Why not pick up the expense for the whole county?'" It is his contention that if the board pays $8,000 to put the blood bank in the black, then several other United Fund Agencies will request the commission to do the same.

He advanced the idea of the ad hoc committee to talk over such financial requests with members of the board.

Conductor Jan Verbuggen Leads Hilversum Police Band in Concert at Holland High School

Dutch Love of Band Music Proves Contagious Here

Everybody had a wonderful time. The Excelsior Police Band of Hilversum, the Netherlands, is not a professional organization, but the members love their music, love to share it, and it all proved contagious to the audience of some 200 Thursday night in the Holland High School Performing Arts Center.

To Carl Dephouse, local band director for public schools, went the honor of directing the Dutch band in its opening salute, "The Star Spangled Banner" and the Dutch national anthem, "Wilhelmus van Nassouwe." Dephouse has assisted the local police department in arranging housing for the police band for four days in Holland.

Jan Verbuggen, band director and the only member who is a professional musician and not a police officer, led his 40-piece band in a program of mostly Dutch compositions, laced with many folk tunes familiar to local ears.

Among the fascinating titles were "The Happy Copper," Beckers, "James Last in Wooden shoes," Everaarts, "Tulips From Amsterdam," Arnic (with audience joining in singing the English translation), and "Love Holland," Schootemeyer.

Dramatic touches were added when band members donned Russian tunics for the Russian medley "Where the Volga Flows" which included the familiar strains of "Lara's Tune" from Doctor Zhivago, and a few members in Latin American ruffled sleeved blouses and big hats for a Jamaican folk suite.

Particularly enjoyable was the "fun" presentation by the Boer (farmer) Band at intermission in which selected band members donned Dutch costumes and wooden shoes to play folk tunes led by a woman police officer using a wooden spoon for baton.

William B. Draisma, chief of the traffic police in Hilversum, served as master of ceremonies. Dephouse presented a ceremonial pair of wooden shoes to Director Verbuggen and Holland Police Chief Charles Lindstrom as well as a booklet containing pictures of all local police to be presented to the police commissioner in Hilversum, the radio-television capital of the Netherlands.

It was most evident that the Dutch musicians were enjoying their stay in Holland and were eager to share remembrances of a happy visit. A plaque was presented to Dephouse and gifts for a number of local officers were presented along with a picture of the Hilversum town hall a modern structure, and a record of chime selections emanating there.

On the stage were colorful standards, bell-like trappings used in parades reminiscent of "noisy" instruments used by the Turks in winning battles back in 1654. American and Dutch flags also were prominently displayed.

Another Rattlesnake Killed By Holland Man

Port Sheldon Township Constable Roland Wolters, 4890 Butternut Dr. didn't expect to kill his fourth rattlesnake Tuesday night but that's just what happened.

While stopping at Port Sheldon on Lake Shore Dr. at 10:30 p.m. to check the tires on his cruiser, a 32-inch rattlesnake launched onto Wolters' high boots.

"He left marks in the boot and I was just fortunate that I had high tops on," Wolters said. The snake had 16 rattlers.

After the rattlesnake decided to let go of his boot, Wolters quickly moved to the trunk to get a jack handle which he eventually made the kill with. "I was afraid to use my gun because it might have bounced off something and hit some houses or people that lived near by," Wolters explained.

Wolters reported that this is the fourth rattlesnake that he has killed in the area in the past nine years.

Are they that common in this area? "They sure are," insisted Wolters, "especially near the Pigeon River, east of US-31 in Port Sheldon Township."

Cars driven by Louis Alexander Van Ingen, 71, of 2476 Thomas, and Ricardo Manuel Alfaro, 18, of Douglas, collided Friday at 6:33 p.m. at Lincoln Ave. and 13th St. Van Ingen was northbound on Lincoln while Alfaro was heading east on 13th St.

Guardsmen Finish Week In Field

CAMP GRAYLING — Drizzle, fog and cool temperatures hampered an airborne operation with helicopters this week but tested the flexibility of the exercise during the first week of summer encampment for National Guardsmen from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

A spokesman said part of Co. B from Holland was able to be transported to the field by helicopter as planned but a delay in the airborne movement caused by fog forced others in the company to make the trip by truck.

Temperatures during the week ranged from the low 40s to the mid 60s. The first week of training ended Friday when the guardsmen returned to the Grayling campsites from the airborne field exercise.

Combined arms training this week teamed the Holland infantry unit with an armored unit from Cadillac. The infantrymen were transported in the armored unit's personnel carriers to an objective where they deployed to assault an objective in combination with supporting armor.

The training includes some 16,000 guardsmen in the 38th Division from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

After a weekend of free time, Company B is to return to the training Monday to engage in river crossings, opposing forces training and tactical unit training, all on the company level.

Holland guardsmen are to leave Grayling Saturday, Aug. 11 at about 6 a.m. for the return trip home by convoy.

Recent Accidents

Sylvia Bakker, 19, of 14200 James St., escaped serious injuries when the car she was driving south along 144th Ave. north of Port Sheldon St. in Port Sheldon township went out of control and rolled over at 10:44 p.m. Thursday. She was treated in Holland Hospital and released.
