Robert Henke of Chicago was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Officer Keift for being drunk. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice Post yesterday morning and was fined $5 which he paid.

The consistory of the North street Christian Reformed church of Zeeland has formed the following trio and this evening a congregational meeting will be held to select a pastor: Revs. J. Manni of East Saugatuck, J. Smitter of Muskegon and C. DeLeeuw of Chicago.

James Graves of Grand Rapids was arraigned for the second time before Justice Post last Friday on a drunk charge and was given a 30-day layoff at the county seat. P.
Nagman who appeared before Justice Miles also on a drunk charge paid a fine of $9 and the same day James Reeves paid $5 to Justice Miles for the same reason.

The life savers were called out Friday afternoon to aid the racing scow Invader, owned by L. Blake, which went over in the bay just east of Ottawa Beach. The boat righted itself before the crew reached it, but filled with water and was towed to Ottawa Beach by a passing launch.
This is the second time within a week that the crew has gone out to aid the Invader.

Sometime between Saturday evening and Sunday morning a burglar or burglars broke into Jas. A. Brou-wer's furniture store and secured 13 cents in pennies from the cash drawer. The police were notified and after making a careful examination it was decided that the work was that of an amateur. A skeleton key had been used. Entrance was gained through the rear door. The desks were ransacked and an attempt had been made to open the safe. Matches were strewn about the floor of the store.

The photographers of this city are up in arms over the work of the photographic canvassers who infest Holland, and in addition to injuring the business of the local picture takers, also obtain money and photographs from the residents who never receive the enlarged picture ordered or the photographs they gave the canvasser. The photographers got together on the proposition and Monday night petitioned the council to enact an ordinance prohibiting this canvassing. The matter was referred to a committee.

Holland is at present a missionary center, representatives from all parts of the globe being here on their furlough, which occurs every eight years. The number includes Rev. and Mrs. John J. Banninga and Rev. W. F. Farrar of India, Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Warnshuis, Rev. H. P.
Boot and Rev. John A. Otte and family of China, Rev. H. V. Peeke and family and Rev. O. A. Oltmans and family of Japan, Rev. and Mrs.
W. Hazenburgh of Africa and Rev.
James E. Moerdyke of Arabia. With the exception of Mr. Farrar all the missionaries are graduates of Hope college.

It is proposed to form an automobile stock company in this city and last evening the promoters of the new company held a conference with the Holland board of trade to perfect plans for a building site. The man who is chiefly responsible for the new enterprise is Charles Boyden, a young man from Grand Haven. He recently perfected an automobile gasoline engine which, it is claimed, will solve the gasoline engine problem. The machine he has built has been put to rigid tests and proved entirely satisfactory. W. J. Jackson, associated with the Chicago stove manufacturers, Sexton & Cribben, has interested himself in Boyden's car and has active plans under way for the stock company for its manufacture. The cars will be of the four cylinder type, both touring and runabout, with power of the 30-60 type.

A general clearance sale of all summer goods at John Vandersluis Cost cuts no figure. The goods must be turned into cash. See his
adv. in this issue.

A list of qualified teachers of Holland and vicinity will be found on page 2 of this issue. A teaching personnel of as high a standing as this list indicates, speaks well for the public school system of this county.

The newsboys of Mrs. L. Fris-news depot enjoyed an outing to Alpena Beach yesterday. They went out on a hayrack twenty-four strong and had a hilarious time from start to finish. In the course of the day they chose sides for a ball game and the contest was such a close one that it was necessary to play ten innings.

Sunday Officer Samuel Meeuwse-spied an automobile that was exceeding the speed limit. The officer kept on the lookout for the machine, which bore the number 2177. Monday Meeuwse saw the machine again and he instantly arrested the chauffeur S. B. Spinck who doled out $9 to Justice Miles.

The horse of Wm. Van Zoeren of Vriesland was frightened by an automobile occupied by Mrs. G. F.
Davidson and four children Monday.
In the resulting runaway damage was done to the amount of $30. The machine did not stop, but word was sent to Zeeland by telephone, where Mrs. Davidson was arrested and paid the damage.

Congressman's Diekema's automobile went up in smoke while making a run from Grand Rapids to Holland. The machine was driven by Mr. Diekema's son and when half the distance had been covered a threatened explosion caused the occupants to leap from the car, which was soon enveloped in flames and burned. The blaze was due to a leak in the gasoline pipe.

W. Buell, Will Donnelly, Edward Schnie and E. R. Danielson narrowly escaped drowning while fishing off Superior Point Tuesday.
Their boat was capsized by the swells from the steamer Holland as she passed the point. Buell and Donnelly were unable to swim, but the other two boys managed to assist them to shore, which they reached in an exhausted condition.

Mayor DePree, City Clerk Heck and six members of the Zeeland common council went to Grand Haven Tuesday and that afternoon met the Grand Haven council. The object of the visit was an inspection of the new Grand Haven sewer system.
Zeeland expects soon to install a complete system of sewers and at the same time hopes to pave the business street. They were shown everything that was to be shown about the new system and Resident Engineer McKenzie gave them an interesting little talk concerning the system. The meeting was held in the council room and the party was taken for an inspection of some of the work.

Frank Mooney, a reporter for the Holland Daily Sentinel, is an enthusiastic base ball player and plays with the Bush & Lane team. At the Merchant's Picnic last week his team was shut out by the Holland Interurbans by a 9 to 0 score. It so happened that Mooney sold tickets for that game, and he sold one to S. S.
Shackleton, the editor of the Sentinel. Now Shackleton did not think the game was worth fifteen cents and felt that he had been defrauded out of his money. Saturday night he deducted fifteen cents from the reporter's check and pinned the base ball ticket to it for compensation.
Now who was "stung," Shackleton,
Mooney or both?

Albertus Raak of Zeeland was found guilty in circuit court of being one of the parties that robbed the peddling wagon of Mr. Wiersma last January. The case has aroused more than ordinary interest in Zeeland. Raak has been in trouble before and served several years for his connection with former robberies.
Henry Wierda, who is serving time for his connection with the same robbery of which Raak has been found guilty, was present as a witness against Raak. The evidence that he brought out against Raak made the latter vindictive and in the examination that followed many things leaked out. They told of their part in robbing the hardware store of C. Ver Hage of Zeeland several years ago of $75 worth of knives, razors and revolvers. Raak told where the goods were hidden and Sheriff Woodbury recovered $25 worth of the plunder.

The Frank Morley apple crop at Fennville, estimated at from 1,300 to 1,500 barrels has been sold to George Middendorf of Chicago at a private price, said to be less than $2,000.

Fennville will receive its annual visit of Uncle Tom, Little Eva, Mark, Miss Ophelia, bloodhounds & Co., one week from Monday, when the John F. Stowe railroad show is to appear here. The big tent will no doubt be packed, as this play seems to lose none of its drawing power.— Fennville Herald.

The Probate court of Ottawa county has jurisdiction over all dependant, neglected and delinquent children and any one desiring to adopt a child will confer a favor by advising the judge of probate in Grand Haven. Two boy babies are now at his disposal, who need the care of good mothers who will adopt them.

Don Wurzburg son of F. A. Wurzburg of Grand Rapids, dove into the channel of the lake at Ottawa Beach and recovered a valuable watch which a guest of the hotel Ottawa had dropped into the water. The woman was so pleased that she insisted that the boy accept $25 as a reward.

Capt. Charles Morton, superintendent of the twelfth life saving district has received reports from Lake Michigan stations, which show that 56 wrecks, casualties to vessels and answers to calls, have taken place at the stations in this district since June 18. From this report it would hardly appear that the life savers had nothing to do.

C. Blom, Sr., has sold his residence on the corner of Eleventh and Pine streets to Mannes Boone of this city, consideration $5000. He intends building a double store, two stories, on River street and use the second story for a home. He has already started to tear down the old Rose Bud sample rooms which will be the building site for one of the blocks.

You're surely not selfish enough to plan to go to the Holland fair without the good wife? The work can be arranged in some way so that you can both get away and have a good time together. Why not renew the old courting days during the brief playspell and let her see that the hard work of the farm has not driven from mind and heart the old love and sentiment. Plan far enough ahead as the fair comes September 29 and 30 and October 1 and 2.

Distilling the peppermint crop is now in progress and, so far, all reports point to a very light yield.
From one eight acre field only 14 pounds of oil were secured—about five percent of a good crop—and we have yet to hear of a good yield.
With the acreage less than 25 per cent of former years and the yield per acre exceedingly low, the market ought to take a jump, but the price still remains close to $1.30 per pound.—Fennville Herald.

Harry McFall of this city is the son of evil fortune. About six weeks ago while working at the Holland Shoe factory he had his thumb smashed in the machine he was running which gave him an undesirable lay off for a while. A couple of weeks after that he was on Black Lake with some other young men when a storm came up, capsized the boat and they escaped drowning by a narrow margin. And now he is in trouble once more. While riding his bicycle at a high speed clip on a gravel road he was thrown off and shot along the gravel for several yards. This last stunt took off most of the skin from the palms of his hands, his knees and injured his hip seriously.

About fifty men and women who are interested in the local option movement in Ottawa county attended a preliminary meeting in the supervisors' room at the court house Grand Haven. All of the delegates were enthusiastic and there were a number of rattling speeches. Hub Harrington was present with representatives from Holland and other portions of the county. Senator Lugers was also one of the prominent figures at the meeting. Plans for putting the local option question to a vote in the spring were discussed. P. H.
Benjamin of this city presided at the meeting, and a number of Grand Haven men were on hand. The prime movers are confident that they can carry the county at next spring's election.

Theatre for Holland

Holland is to have a real, up to date theatre at last. Since the Holland Lyceum Opera House burned down seven years ago, some dozen different attempts have been made to form stock companies for the erection of a theater, but the easy accessibility of Grand Rapids theaters with their high class shows has discouraged the attempts.

But last winter James Price built a large auditorium on Sixteenth street. He had in mind all the time to use it for theatrical purposes when the demand for shows here should warrant it.

Plans are now complete to convert it into a theatre which will be known as Price's Theatre. Mr.
Price expects to have it completed by the first of October ready for use. He is now negotiating with opera managements to book attractions for the opening weeks, and expects to get a large number of prominent plays here during the winter. In addition to the plays booked in advance, Price's Theater will be a good jumping off place for shows on their way to Grand Rapids.

A fine new stage will be built as wide as the stage of the Grand at Grand Rapids. It will be 22 feet deep and the stage front will be of modern pressed steel with a proscenium arch, and stage exits on each side. There will be a full equipment of stage scenery and all the modern conveniences of a theater. The Advertising drop curtain is a beautiful street scene.
In addition to this curtain there will be an asbestos curtains and six other curtains. Several of the business men in this city are interested in the project.

Sensational Runaway

An accident that might have resulted in a tragedy occurred on 8th street near Central Avenue just before dinner today. Macatawa Interurban car No. 3 ran into the wagon of Peter J. Smith of North Holland and one of the front wheels broke off, throwing Mr. Smith out of the wagon. Smith's two little daughters were with him on the wagon which was loaded with lumber. The horses took fright, broke away and Smith was dragged along for several rods when the lines broke. One of the little girls fell off immediately but the other stuck bravely to the wagon to the finish.

The horses were caught by Herman Damsion beyond the West Michigan laundry. It was one of the most sensational runaways that has happened in the city for a long time and it seems nothing short of a miracle to the crowd that witnessed it that nobody was hurt.

Surprise for Diemer Case

A surprise developed in the case of Wm. Delmer, charged with shooting and wounding Officer Koeman, in circuit court yesterday afternoon at Grand Haven. Diemer was tried on the charge of assault with intent to murder and the trial had progressed nearly to the finish. All of the testimony had been submitted and the attorneys were ready to submit their arguments to the jury.

During the recess, however, a conference took place and it was decided to accept a plea of assault and battery from Diemer.

When court was called again Diemer appeared before the judge and a plea of guilty was registered.
He was ordered to appear tomorrow for sentence.

The case has occupied the greater part of two days and a jury composed principally of extra talismen were serving because the regular panel was practically exhausted by challenges.

With the settlement of the Diemer case, the criminal calendar closes for the August term, and the issue of fact jury cases were taken up today.

The Holland Independents will play the Ceresotas of Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon at the Nineteenth street diamond.

Saugatuck

Grandma Porter who is past 90 years came over in George Dutcher's automobile to attend the morning services at the Cong'l church last Sunday and had the pleasure of meeting old friends as well as hearing her grandson, David Plummer of Evanston sing a beautiful solo which was greatly appreciated by all present.

An interview with Dr. Pear reveals the fact that five horses in this vicinity have been overcome with the heat to a greater or less extent and a peculiar fact of the case is that in all of the doctor's practice here he has never had a case of this kind before although he has treated many such cases while practicing in Chicago. The horses affected belong to Eaton near Pullman, J. Williams, Douglas, Rexford, Ganges, Stafford, south of Fennville and F. Wade, Douglas. In the latter case the heat had affected the horse and then pneumonia set in as a result of standing in a draft. The doctor does not think that any of the horses will die.

J. D. Colby, who is living on Mrs. Davis' farm for the season, has named the place Three Twins and says his three grand children, Stella, Frances, and Arthur are the twins. They enjoy the country and get out under the sign and holler as the electric cars go past. The name of the place is taken from a play which has had a long run at Power's Opera House, Chicago with which the children's fathers are connected.

According to the reports of hotels and resorts as well as those of the postoffice and electric R. R. there are more resorters here this year than at any time in the history of the town.

Banker's Joke on a Baron.

Baron Edward Rothschild tells the following good story on himself: He happened to stop at a new hotel in Geneva where he was not personally known. When asked to register, he explained to the hotel keeper that he preferred not to be known, since the publication of his name would cause him to be inundated with begging letters and foolish business propositions. Mine host pleaded police regulations but finally compromised, allowing the baron to inscribe himself as "R. de Paris."

"Imagine my surprise," says Baron Rothschild, "when the next day, I found the following name recorded beneath my own: 'O de Cologne' " "Baron oppenheimer, the Cologne banker, arriving an hour after me had recognized my scrawl and claimed the same privilege as I had demanded."—London Times.

A Good Thing

Dr. F. W. Shumway, secretary of the Michigan department of health, well known in this city, is sending out warnings against promiscuous expectorating. The warnings are being sent out on large posters and a request is made to have them placed in offices, shops, factories and wherever labor is employed.

Dr. Shumway's card warns against spitting on floors, sidewalks or in public places. It states it is a filthy, unnecessary habit and breeds disease. It further states that if you must spit spit in the gutter, or better still spit in a cup. If you spit on the floor the other fellow will do the same, you may not have a disease, but the other fellow may and you not know it. The card advises persons to avoid people who spit in the office or shop, because they are a source of infection. Certain germs, like tuberculosis and pneumonia spread through the medium of the sputum, the germ thrown in this way becomes dry, and is taken up in the atmosphere and inhaled into the lungs, thus transplanting the disease.

Thousands of germs are thrown out every time you spit. Between 2,500 and 3,000 persons die every year in Michigan from tuberculosis, between 3,000 and 4,000 from pneumonia. Both ailments are often spread through sputum.

If spitting could be abolished, tuberculosis, pneumonia and kindred diseases would be practically unknown.

Pure air, pure water and sunshine, will help you to keep well, so don't abuse them by spitting in public places.

Persons who desire cards may have them by advising the secretary.

Fast Ones

Those who predicted big things for that trim little pacer, Neil Ball, named after the popular former Holland ball player, can now say, "I told you so."

Yes, indeed Neil has shown his mettle and under the skillful hand of Hub Boone was driven to victory in three straight first heats in the 2:13 pace in the short Ship meet at Flint yesterday and Neil Ball put it all over the favorite, I. X. L.

While Neil has been far from slow in the earlier part of the season he has never shown such magnificent form as he has during the past few days. There was simply nothing to it at Flint yesterday and Neil Ball put it all over the favorite, I. X. L.

Fruit Growers Angry

About 20 years ago the fruit growers of this section organized the Fennville Fruit Shippers Association, says the Fennville Herald, to try and escape from the greed of the express companies in shipping their fruit. They were highly successful and built up a big business, saving the growers many thousands of dollars and improving the roads with the profits of the business. Recent freezes have reduced shipments so that the Pere Marquette has made an excuse to try and force us back to the old plan of 20 years ago. After much persuasion, Division Supt. Ensel, this year promised to draw the association fruit on a train which would leave here at 3:05 in the afternoon. Even at this early hour of departure the association might do a good business now in apples and later in peaches. But the car has been going at from one to two o'clock and we are now told that it will go "not earlier than one o'clock."

Agent Du Vall this week found a rule which he thought would stop the association from shipping their fruit as has been done in the past 20 years, but has not attempted to enforce this rule. Apples cannot profitably be shipped at the high rates of the express company, and several large loads that were brought to this station this week were drawn back to the lake boats, as soon as the poor service of the Pere Marquette was discovered. Such "bum" service is depriving the

P. M. of many cars of freight at this station and is also driving away from Fennville much trade, which business men can ill afford to lose. It is time for the business men to join with the fruit growers and demand that such changes be made as will give us the rights and privileges that have been ours for many years.

Sentiment is general that, if the express office cannot be conducted in connection with the freight business without swallowing that business, the change better commence there.

Complaint Was Wrong

In the case of the People vs. John Vos, the young Holland man arrested on the charge of burglarizing a freight car, a singular turn has taken place. Three of his younger companions, Williams, De Koeper and Draly, plead guilty to the charge in Probate court a few days ago.

Prosecuting Attorney Coburn had the jury drawn in the Vos case Saturday morning. The witnesses for the prosecution were all on hand and were called to the stand. Toward the end of the afternoon Coburn told the court that he had submitted his case.

All eyes were then turned on Attorney Mc Bride, as the case looked "bad" for the young man. Slowly the attorney arose to his feet and moved that the case be quashed. He then showed the judge that an error had been made in making out the warrant for Vos' arrest. Who's freight car is it that it is alleged Vos broke into is not given and it is held by the court that the car might have been owned by Vos. Coburn was snorting mad and had Vos rearrested as soon as the court had dismissed the case.

In the minds of local attorneys Vos should be free as the case was tried before a jury and the judge dismissed it. A rehearing will be given Vos.

Pe gen Preaches Sermon.

The death and funeral services of the late Senator William B. Allison of Dubuque, Ia., hold more than ordinary interest to the people of this city. Senator Allison was one of the first trustees of the Northwestern Classical Academy, at Orange City, Ia., a denominational institution under the control of the Reformed church of America which has sent many of its graduates to Hope College. The funeral services which will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the late residence of the dead senator will be conducted by Rev. J. T. Bergen, for many years pastor of Hope church and professor of Ethics and evidences at Hope college, and now pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, at Dubuque, of which church Senator Allison was a member. Dr. Bergen will also officiate at the grave in Linwood cemetery.

Arrangements are under way for the suspension of business in the city during the time of the funeral. Flags are at half-mast on all public buildings. Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in from public men in all parts of the country. Senator William Alden Smith expects to attend the funeral. He is a member of the select committee appointed by Vice-Pres. Fairbanks to represent the senate at the funeral bier.

"The nation loses a stalwart patriot," said Senator Smith yesterday, "in the sad death of Iowa's grand old man. No stronger figure has left the senate in a score of years. His span of service to party and to people embraces nearly 50 years of constructive statesmanship, and in the prosperity and the progress of the American people from the days of the Civil war down to the present hour, no leader has played a stronger part. In the senate he was a sane leader whose sterling integrity was never questioned, whose rich experience was ever utilized whose splendid governmental wisdom was always honored, and whose kindly spirit was sincerely beloved."

ALL WRONG.

The Mistake is Made by Many Holland Citizens,

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidneyache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A Holland resident tells you how.

J. W. Flieman, wagon maker and painter, 83 River street, Holland, Mich. says: "I suffered a great deal from dull pains in the small of my back and at times, sharp, shooting twinges would dart through my loins. Sometimes I could hardly stoop or lift anything and if I sat down in a chair, it was only with great difficulty that I was able to arise as my muscles and joints were so stiff. I consulted physicians and they told me that I had lumbago, but after using their remedies and finding that they were not helping me, I decided to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. I procured a box at H. R. Doesburg's drug store and after using them a short time all my troubles disappeared and I was positively cured. This occurred over four years ago and I can conscientiously say I have not suffered the slightest symptom of kidney trouble since that time. I have recommended Doan's Kidney pills to a great many people and will continue to do so."

For Sale by all Dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve Wins

Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than one half of a 25c box won the day for me by affecting a perfect cure." Sold under guarantee at Walsh Drug Co.'s drug store.

The Best Pills Ever Sold.

Prevention of Tuberculosis

In another column of this paper will be found the substance of placards sent out by Dr. F. W. Shumway, secretary of the Michigan department of health, in regard to spitting in public places. Read these hints by Dr. Shumway and then read them again, and by all means remember them. If you read nothing else in this paper than this single item, you will be benefitted perhaps more than anyone can realize.

The fight against tuberculosis is on in earnest, and this disease, that is now claiming from 2500 to 3000 victims annually in Michigan alone, is going to be wiped out. This may seem a sweeping statement but the victory over tuberculosis is bound to come. The only question is. Will it come within the next twenty-five years or will the final triumph of science and education over this disease be delayed for another half century?

Every man, woman and child each day answers this question—but especially every man and boy. Everytime you spit on the sidewalk, on the floor of the office, factory or store, how do you know that you are not bringing into some home the tragedy of wasting flesh and haggard look, which in its infinite sadness excites the helpless pity of all who see dear ones taken away by it? It seems unnecessary perhaps to keep insisting on this point. But it is demonstrated every day that the plea not to spit on sidewalk or floor must be reiterated again and again. Men, who consider themselves up-to-date and who wish others to consider them gentlemen in the ordinary affairs of life, will spit on sidewalk or floor with a sublime indifference to the selfish vileness of it. If each time a man or a boy spits on the sidewalk, he could see with his mind's eye the wasted form of a brother-man or sister-woman in this army of three thousand who are in the clutches of tuberculosis, would he persist in his vileness?

Several years ago a law was passed and posted up in all the public places in Holland, making spitting on the sidewalk a crime punishable by a fine of from $5 to $50. No arrest was ever made on this charge, as far as we know, although the law is being violated every day. Evidently the police looks upon it as a minor offence, and that the posters against expectorating on the walks is just a bluff, which anyone who is too careless, or too vile or too selfish to give the matter a thought may disobey with impunity. But who is the greater criminal, the man who gets drunk and steals another man's dollars, or the man who helps to bring death to 3000 homes in one state each year? Yet the former is fined his $5 and costs almost every day in the year, while the latter goes on unmolested in his criminal work of destruction of human life year after year. There will always be some people too selfish to consider the rights of others, and such people, who cannot be reached by any other means, ought to be reached by the law. It is incumbent upon the police department of this city and every other city to help reduce the death rate due to this disease.

Although a man may imagine that he has married an angel he should see that she stay near the ground while testing her wings.

People are Queer Aren't They?

It is a fact that a stranger, or resident of another place, can come into a town and make a success of a scheme, that, if worked in the same manner by a resident of the town, would result in dismal failure.

People are outrageously jealous of one another in a community where everyone has known all the rest for years, and know all about their neighbor's affairs—perhaps better than own—and when it comes to a speculative deal of any character one man would deny himself some prospective convenience and pleasure if by buying of his acquaintance he was satisfied in his mind his friend would make a good "wad" out of the deal. But he would deal with strangers and feel satisfied.

This same jealous spirit governs people in common every day trade and leads them to patronize and encourage agents or to send to Grand Rapids and Chicago or elsewhere for goods rather than purchase of their old home dealer, because the profits of the home dealer are known or believed by the purchaser to be large, when the stranger's profits over in Chicago or Grand Rapids or somewhere else, is an unknown quantity, which is the charm that draws trade.

We not alone see this in business but also in public life. How often has it not been demonstrated that when one of our townsmen who has possibly been born in the city, who has helped bear the burdens of a growing town, will be thrust aside for a practical stranger in our midst whom the public does not know and who is an unknown quantity. But he is "carried around on a shingle" by the public, not because of love for him, but on account of jealousy of the man we know.

Now That School Will Start Soon

Every member of this community and especially every parent should take a deep interest in the public school. It is not enough to pay your tax without complaining, or to know that the teachers are qualified, nor is it even enough to keep your children in school regularly. If you are really interested in the subject as you should, visit the school regularly and persistently. Few people have any idea what an incentive it is to both teacher and scholars to know that parents and outsiders are taking a lively interest in their work. We believe the "little folks" at school appreciate such interest more, perhaps, than the larger ones. Still the effect is not lost on any of them, and we hope every parent will take a hint from this and place the public school on their visiting list. By the time this vacation closes, make this resolution.

During the storm of Thursday last the residence of E. VanderVeen of this city was struck by lightning. The current evidently struck the chimney of the main building; dividing ran off at extreme opposite corners. One current entered the kitchen, playing mischief with door and window casings, emerging near the pump. A large family were in the house at the time, nearly all in the kitchen, yet strange to relate not one of them was hurt save a slight burn on the cheek of one of the children.

WHAT YOU SAW 30 YEARS AGO

Columbia Fire Engine Co. No. 2 turned out on Monday evening with commendable spirit to test the coupling on the fire hydrant on the corner of River and Ninth streets. They succeeded in doing it and pumped water out of it, showing the well to be in good condition. It is thus proven that all the trouble heretofore experienced to couple on that well was the fault of not holding the suction hose perfectly square, to give the threads of the screw a chance to catch. Eagle No. 1 ought to practice the drill of coupling on that well also.

Several people wondered where our marshal was for the last five days, and yesterday morning he put in an appearance. Upon inquiry we find that he was after a stolen horse and the thief, and he succeeded in capturing both. The horse is the one stolen from the pasture of M. Van Tubergen and the man that took the horse covered his tracks so well that it required considerable search to uncover him. The man taken by Marshal Vrupell goes by the name of Izaak Naeije and was traced to and taken at Watervliet, a town situated between South Haven and St. Joseph, and brought to this city.

The many friends of Mrs. Clara E. Gee in this city were very much shocked when the particulars of her death at Grand Rapids reached here Friday evening, to learn that it was caused by suicide. It is claimed that lately she had overworked herself and that business troubles were preying upon her mind. It is also true that she had been sick in bed for a few days. On Friday morning her mother, Mrs. Piper, was absent from the room for a short time and when she returned her daughter was not there. She searched for her and finding the cover of the cistern misplaced looked in and saw the dead body of her daughter. Efforts were made to return life, but in vain. The following note was found near the cistern, pinned to the house:

"Dear Mother—Look with love and pity on the body of your maniac daughter. You and Arthur must pray earnestly for my forgiveness. I wish you and Arthur to not mourn for me. I am not worthy. I pray he may be the same Christian I started him out to be. My diamonds give to Carrie and Hattie and they may select. My will is not quite as I wished it but you use all you wish as long as you live. I mount these little steps leading to the cistern and on the top make my last prayer, asking God for all pardon.
Love and Kisses,
Your Disgraced Daughter."

Capt. Philip of the battleship Texas, in an interview as to how he came to ask his men to acknowledge the Almighty for the victory at Santiago, made the following statement:

"I was on deck watching the Vizcaya's flag falling. We ceased firing at once. Suddenly the flash of the explosion on the Vizcaya appeared. In the glare of it I saw legs and arms of sailors flying in the air. The Texas' men cheered. They were not cheering because of the havoc on the Vizcaya, but because of the Texas' victory. They were not thinking of the victims. I raised my hand and said, 'Don't cheer, they are dying.'"

"What was your motive—reverence simply, or human sympathy?" the captain was asked.

"Of reverence for Spaniards I never had a great deal. To tell the truth, I disliked them. My fore fathers were Dutch and I inherited, perhaps, their resentment against Philip II. and the Duke of Alva. Yes, my father was a Dutch physician in New York. It wasn't reverence for the dead but sympathy for the dying that impelled me to stop the cheering on the Texas. Of course I wanted the Vizcaya to be undone, and since it could not be accomplished in any other way, the Vizcaya's sailors had to be killed. But aren't Spaniards fellow beings after all?"

"That is Christianlike, is it soldierlike?" Capt. Philip was asked. "It is Christianlike and paganlike also, I think," Capt. Philip replied. "Therefore, it must be soldierlike. I am a Christian, but not dogmatic, not even sectarian. I have no philosophy of life other than it is better to be too indulgent than to be too strictly just."

"It is said that you are superstitious about Sunday," he was told.

"Superstitious, no; observant, yes," the captain said. "The man who fired the first shot on Sunday was always beaten. When we had a conference about a bombardment in Cuba, and I objected, Sampson said that he lost track of days and dates, but a young captain rose and said, 'How about Manila, Captain Philip?' I replied, 'At Manila Montejó fired the first shot.' This is the truth. I won my point on that conference."

Capt. Philip is a man of science, a lawyer, an electrician, an engineer, a linguist. He knows thoroughly, practically, a great variety of things that are not within the attributes of an officer of the navy.

Changes at the Life Saving Station

H. J. Cox of the Chicago Weather bureau, spent Monday at the life saving station with Capt. and Mrs. Van Weelden. Mr. Cox has about decided to install a steel tower at the station for the display of the weather signals by means of colored lanterns. Heretofore the signal flags have been flown from the flag staff in front of the station. The tower will probably be erected by next season.

The station is also to have a new surf boat this year. Captain Van Weelden hopes that the plans for a new boat house on the Ottawa Beach shore may be carried out. This boat house if built will be placed near the bath houses and will contain a surf boat and beach apparatus. This would greatly facilitate the answering of calls on the north shore.

Council Proceedings

At the meeting of the council Monday night the laying of a sewer on VanRaalle avenue came up again. A committee of the council of which Ald. Jellema was chairman had met with a committee of the board of education. Ald. Jellema reported that the board of education felt that they did not have money for an improvement of this nature and that the board thought the property owners along VanRaalle avenue should pay their share toward the construction of the sewer. After a lengthy discussion Ald. Jellema was instructed to take the matter up with the board of supervisors.

On motion of Ald. Damstra it was ordered that a cement sidewalk be laid in front of the Bouwman property on West Eighth street. A petition presented by the people living near the Tea Rusk company that this company be ordered to stop burning soft coal on account of the resulting smoke nuisance, was placed in the hands of the alderman from the first ward.

E. A. Holkeboer was awarded the contract to construct the State and Twenty Sixth streets culverts. His bid was $144. The improvement at State street will cost $73 and the one on Twenty-Sixth street $71.

The culvert on River street between Sixteenth and Nineteenth streets and the crossing at Fifteenth street was ordered built after much discussion that extended over several weeks. This culvert will practically obviate the danger of children drowning there. The city clerk will advertise for sealed proposals for the improvement.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF AGONY.

Will You Continue to Suffer From Catarrh in the Face of This Testimony?

"I suffered for 15 years with catarrhal troubles so bad that I had to leave the sea. I could not lie down at night to sleep, on account of the constant catarrhal dropping. I went to two different hospitals for treatment but without any lasting benefit. I was constantly raising yellow and green phlegm, and the trouble was so unbearable and nauseating that I was ashamed to go out in company. I have used only two bottles of Hyomei and have been cured by the remedy. It has made full and complete recovery. Capt. Willnef.

Hyomei is a dry, healing, antiseptic air, extracted from the Eucalyptus groves of Australia. It is a pleasure to use Hyomei, because you do not take it into the stomach; you simply breathe in this germ-killing air, and relief is immediate, and complete recovery comes in a few days. Hyomei outfit, including an inhaler that will last a life time, costs $1.00. It does not cure your catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, coughs or colds. Walsh Drug Co., will give you your money back.

His Finish Is Delayed

You can't sometimes always tell what will happen. We hear that a man with Rev. as a prefix to his name tried to commit suicide over to the lake the other day. He went to the store and bought a rope, a can of oil, a box of matches, a dose of arsenic and a revolver. Then he got into his boat, pushed it out from the shore, paddled down to where a limb hung over; then he got up in the bow of the boat and tied one end of the rope to the limb and the other about his neck, saturated his clothing with oil and set it on fire, took a dose of arsenic, put the muzzle of the revolver against his temple and pulled the trigger. But the bullet glanced and cut the rope above him and he fell kerwallow into the lake. The water put the fire out and he got strangled and coughed up the arsenic. The water was not deep enough to drown him so he waded out and declared himself a candidate for office.

Hans Dykhuus For Sheriff

Hans Dykhuus, who is in the race for sheriff on the Republican ticket, has an enviable record to fall back upon as an assurance of his qualification for that office. Mr. Dykhuus is still a young man, and in the capacity of deputy sheriff, has already made himself feared by the lawless element throughout the county, so that many an older man might be proud of his record.

Mr. Dykhuus celebrated his thirtieth birthday last week. He was born in Montague, Muskegon County, Michigan in 1878. In 1899 he moved to Holland with his parents where he has lived ever since, with the exception of four years spent in Grand Haven, while his father Henry Dykhuus was sheriff. When the war with Spain broke out in 1898 Mr. Dykhuus enlisted and was in the American training camp from August 1 to October 27 and only the speedy end of hostilities prevented him from going to the front.

Mr. Dykhuus is possessed of rare personal bravery that eminently qualifies him for the office of Sheriff of Ottawa County. His courage has been tried repeatedly, and he was always found to be "Hans on the spot."

Five years ago, Dec. 15, 1903, while Henry Dykhuus, the father of the candidate, was sheriff, William Wilson, a prisoner at the county jail, created a disturbance that came near ending in a tragedy. In a desperate attempt to escape from jail he shot and wounded the sheriff with a revolver that had been smuggled in to him. Wilson would doubtless have good his escape if Hans Dykhuus, made dressed as he was only in undershirt, trousers and light slippers, had not rushed after him into a blind ing storm. Mr. Dykhuus opened fire on the jail breaker and for several minutes, the two engaged in a desperate gun battle. The young deputy perched upon his man and landed him back into his old cell.

On another occasion Mr. Dykhuus demonstrated his courage when a raid was made on a notorious road house of a man named Heisterkamp. This man, who in physical strength, was far superior to the young deputy, threatened him when the raid was made, and to intimidate him Mr. Dykhuus shot to one side of him. But this kind of treatment, though repeated, failed to give the desired result, and when the struggle with the big, burly fellow became too hot Dykhuus had to resort to shooting his man through the foot and so land him in the county jail.

A young man with such a record as a deputy bids fair to make an excellent Sheriff for Ottawa County.

Heap Little Man.

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]

Joe was a street gamblin' who joined us at the close of the civil war and marched with us to the Indian country. He was ragged and dirty and wicked-tougher than any bumster the war produced. We all tried to make him better, but failed. He was taken in hand by General Custer, but with no better luck.

Joe was allowed to hang out with us and make the long journey to Fort Leavenworth in our company. Some of the officers tried to bounce him, but we of the rank and file helped him to get through. He wasn't old enough to enlist, there was no show for him as a bugler, and when we finally started across the plains he was ordered to remain behind. We bade him goodbye, but three days afterward he overtook us, having a mule of his own. He was also armed with a serviceable revolver. The officers shut their eyes to his presence for three or four days, and then he was ordered back with some newspaper men and others. He then did a thing to show that he was utterly without fear. Instead of going back in company he went ahead all alone. For two days he kept ahead of the command and then rode back to report a force of Indians gathered to dispute our progress. He brought in an Indian arrow in his saddle and another in his mule's rump as proofs that he had been to the front. His information was acted on, and it was through it that we gave the Sioux a good tanning.

Joe's display of pluck made him solid, so to say. He was permitted to hang about camp, and the company tailor fixed him up a uniform. Thereafter he was one of us in a way, and he paid for his rations ten times over by serving the officers. When kindly spoken to there was nothing he wouldn't do to oblige. When ordered to do anything he was as stubborn as a mule. More than a dozen times he went on scouts all alone, and twice he brought in the ponies and weapons of Indians he killed. It was for this that the Kaw Indian scouts we had with us named him Heap Little Man. There wasn't a trooper in the brigade that wouldn't have contributed money to send the boy back east into good hands, but he wouldn't hear of it. He could neither read nor write, but he knew the value of silver and paper money and said that was enough for him.

The boy had a good voice for singing and had remembered the airs and words of a score of songs, but when out of camp and on the march he never sang but one song, and that only the chorus of "John Brown's Body." He'd sing that over and over until some of the officers came along and bade him hush. The rest of us might turn out for boots and saddles at midnight, cursing the weather and the order, but Joe would turn out singing that chorus. We'd go into a fight cheering, but he never cheered. Instead you'd hear his shrill voice piping—

"Glory, glory, halleluliah!
"Glory, glory, halleluliah!
"Glory, glory, halleluliah!
As we go marching on."

We tried to keep him out of the fights, but it was no use. He would disobey orders or break away from his guards, and when he mixed in he went straight to the front. He had a score to be proud of, but no one ever heard him brag. He fought because fighting was a part of his programme. When complimented on his bravery he gave no thanks in reply.

When we started on that winter Wichita campaign Joe was with us. We started out in a snowstorm, with the band playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and Heap Little Man singing the old chorus. Military history will tell you that the camps of the Indians along the Wichita were located before midnight and that Custer's command had to wait hours for breakfast. The snow was two feet deep and the night freezing cold, but every trooper had to dismount and stand by his horse. No moving—no talking. Joe stood next to me, and I do not think he shivered once. Over and over again in a whisper he sang his chorus and now and then let up to say that he hoped there were at least 5,000 Indians in the camp and that we should have a good fight of it. I don't think there was a man or officer there that night that took things as coolly as that kid. He was the first one mounted as the whispered order came along, and the band had scarcely struck up "Garry Owen" as we charged than he followed it with his slogan: We made a complete surprise, but the Indians rallied after a bit and put up a stiff defense. When it was over and we were ordered into line for roll call Joe was missed. His name was not on the roll, but we looked around in vain. Then he and others were sought for. The fight had raged up and down the stream for two miles, but we found Joe within half a mile of where the headquarters flag had been set up and where the fight had been the hottest. He was lying in the snow with his dead mule not far away. Around him were the dead bodies of three buck Indians and a squaw. The latter had a rifle in her hands and had fought as well as the men. Joe had three wounds and was dying, but had not lost consciousness. As we lifted him up he smiled and called us by name and asked how the fight had gone. Then his bloody lips parted, and, trying to wave his hand, he sang for the last time on earth, and he sang it to the tears of his comrades:

HOW WOMEN WASTE MONEY.

Some of the Common Outlets For Fast Disappearing Incomes.

The woman with a small income must guard herself at every turn against wasting money, so that when the time comes she may not lack for necessary things. There is a great deal in knowing how to buy. I have known two women to have the same income, and yet one got twice as much out of it as the other.

Take the matter of dress, for instance. One of the easiest places to waste money is at the fancy neckwear counter. You pay all kinds of prices for fluffy creations that do not outlast the day and which cost the price of a serviceable blouse.

The practical woman never buys any separate frills of any sort. Her belts are sewed to her dress. They are usually of the same material. Her collars (unless of the stiff variety) also are sewed to her waists and laundered with them. She wears serviceable shoes and plain and not flimsy openwork stockings, and she always looks neat and well put together. No chiffon ruffles for her or floating veil ends, picturesque, but perishable.

And then take housekeeping matters. Buying in large quantities is a waste of money, because the more material you have on hand the more you are likely to use. And yet this wholesale way of stocking up the larder is recommended by so called economists. Making soap at home is poor economy, and so is baking puddings and beans, which requires the gas stove for many hours. These things are much cheaper bought at the bakery.

Ordering by telephone is a great extravagance, and giving your orders to the man who calls is almost as bad. The thing to do is to go to the store and see them cut the meat and select the vegetables.

Not knowing current prices of things is fatal to the young housekeeper. Walking to save car fare is foolish. It doesn't save shoes.

Neglecting to take a cab when it rains and you have a nice dress on is also foolish. You certainly spoil more than the price of the cab ride.

Engaging a cheap maid is a great waste of time and money. She will smash and waste more than the difference in wages.

The sideboard holds silver and candles with green shades. A green shaded light hangs over the oak dining table. The seats of the chairs are in green leather, and the carpet carries out the same tones in green and buff.

Masons' Picnic.

The second annual picnic of the Bricklayers, Plasterers and Masons Union No. 19, together with the mason's helpers was held at Jenison Park today. Members of the Union with their families and picnic baskets took the 9:30 car and spent a delightful day at the pretty resort on the bay. Everybody had a jolly good time and the day was crowded with games and sports of all kinds.

The base ball game played by the Masons vs. Masons' Tenders resulted in a victory for the masons the score being 6 to 5. The masons again won out in the tug-of-war pulling the tenders all over the grounds and winning the prize, a box of Queen Louise cigars donated by H. Van Tongeren. A prize for the oldest lady at the picnic was awarded Mrs. H. O. Bliss who received a pound box of candy. John Smith aged 82 was given a brick trowel and was also elected an honorary member of the local union. Johannes Steggerda the next in age received a plaster's trowel.

The Perfect Silo

Because it has all the Points to be perfect. It is built of Cement and Steel, therefore cannot rot, cannot burn down, cannot dry out, needs no paint, needs no guy wires.

All these six points are a draw-back on the wooden silo, while the cement silo has nothing against it. It is the same as if you would put your winter's supply of pickles, beans or sauerkraut in a stone crock, which the cement silo represents, while the wooden silo is like a tub or barrel.

When the wooden silo man starts to build a silo he does not start with wood, but with cement, which he admits is better. Why not keep at it that way and have a silo that will last for all time, while the life time of a wooden silo is but ten years on an average.

I will build cement silos cheaper than you can get a wooden silo put up for as the wooden-silo-man does not furnish the base, nor the roof, nor the labor to put it up.

I will give you full instructions how to build a cement silo yourself. moulds to make the blocks, the steel door frame and bands, the wooden doors and the roof.

NO ONE DEFENDS KEYES.

"Boxer" Senator, Whose Record Warner Attacked, Is Without a Defender.

The utter defenselessness of the "boxer" senators in a primary campaign was never better illustrated than by the recent attack made by Governor Warner upon "Boxer" Senator Keyes of the Barry-Eaton district for his misrepresentation of his constituents on every important issue before the last legislature. To date not a single voice in defense of "Boxer" Keyes has been heard, not even that of Dr. J. B. Bradley, who lives in Keyes' district and whose personal friend and supporter Keyes is. This is especially noteworthy, since Governor Warner concluded his arraignment of Senator Keyes with a challenge directed at Bradley to come out in defense of Keyes' course in the senate if he dared.

The attack upon Keyes and the challenge to the opposition to defend him if it dares constitutes the greatest coup de etat of the campaign. It puts Warner's principal opponent, Bradley, in a most uncomfortable and trying position. The latter dare not go to his friend's support and defense, since that involves a defense of Keyes' course in the legislature, where he worked and voted against policies which have the well nigh universal support of public opinion in Michigan. On the other hand, he cannot join Warner in denouncing Keyes' record without laying himself open to the charge of political ingratitude, since Bradley was chiefly responsible for Keyes' election to the senate. Such a course would also still further alienate from him practically the only organized support he is receiving, that of the "boxer" element in Michigan. Warner certainly has put Bradley in a bad hole, from which escape seems impossible.

As the campaign progresses Warner is demonstrating more and more his skill and astuteness as a political leader. He not only champions policies which are popular with the masses, but he has so managed his campaign as to emphasize the weakness and vulnerability of his opponent. So successful has he been in this feature of his campaign and so so unpopular have the "boxer" element become that even the single newspaper of influence in the state actively opposing Warner's renomination has been compelled to turn its back upon the "boxers" and join the governor in denouncing them.

EFFECT OF PRIMARY REFORM.

Brings Candidate in Close Touch With the Voter.

Not the least important result of primary reform in Michigan is the necessity under which candidates are put to get into close touch with the common people. Any system of making nominations which makes necessary such a tour of the state as that now being made by Governor Warner cannot help but bring fruit in the form of better legislation, more representative public service and a higher standard of duty. Villages and hamlets which never before entertained a state official of high or low degree are now visited by the governor, who thus has an opportunity of meeting the people, of presenting his views and of getting into close touch with the thought and sentiment of the state as a whole.

This practice not only helps the public servant to better perform his duties, but helps in a large and useful way the citizen and voter to perform his. Instead of delegating all of his powers in the selection of his candidates to a few delegates, the voter is required under the new system, if he would exercise his franchise intelligently, to familiarize himself with the candidates and the policies for which they stand, and effort which cannot help but result in an improved and more enlightened citizenship. Whereas hitherto a few leaders selected not only his candidates but his platform as well, this year the voter has a final voice in the selection of both. Evidence is not lacking that the people of Michigan fully realize this added responsibility which has been put upon them, an indication of this being the eagerness and interest shown in the campaign now in progress for the Republican nomination and the wide discussion of the principles involved.

It is because Governor Warner stands forth as the principal champion for a comprehensive and adequate primary election law that he today is practically the conceded victor in the race. It is because the people of Michigan at large naturally would intrust their cause to the hands of the man who has already valiantly fought for their interests, rather than to a set of men who have persistently opposed the popular will, that Fred M. Warner is today the people's candidate and a certain winner on September 1.

The truth is, as Governor Warner in his campaign speeches points out, the direct nomination of candidates will result in the destruction not only of the third term tradition but the two term tradition as well. In other words, with the choice lying directly in the hands of the people, they will refuse to nominate a bad official for a second term just as quickly as they will insist upon a third term for a good official when his services or unfinished work on hand makes this advisable.

HAS SAVED THOUSANDS

Operation of Binder Twine Plant in Jackson a Big Success.

Twine Sold Cheaper in Michigan This Year Than at Any Previous Season For Fifteen Years.

Jackson, Mich.—The binder twine plant at Jackson prison, which has just completed its first year's work, has made good every promise made by Governor Warner when he recommended and induced the legislature to provide for installing the plant. It has made good in three ways: It has reduced the cost of binder twine to every farmer in the state; it will yield a profit this first season, which shows the future possibilities of the plant to take care of a goodly portion of the expense of maintaining the prison, and it furnishes an income to those prisoners employed in the plant who have families to support which will go far towards relieving misery in many homes and instill new manhood in the convicts.

Those familiar with the history of the binder twine bill when it was before the legislature will recall that it was long doubtful whether the governor would have a chance to sign the bill. The "boxers" were opposed to the bill. There were mysterious moves which retarded the passage of the measure. Nothing definite came to the surface, but there were occurrences which recalled to many how corporations had in the past killed bills which the people wanted, but which the corporations did not.

A visit to the plant to watch the seventy convicts employed at the machines manufacturing binder twine will cause anyone not familiar with the process of making cordage to consider it wonderful. Warden Armstrong has not only improved prison management at Jackson since his appointment, but in tackling this new thing in prison economics he has made it a success the first year. It opens the way to the use of convicts to combat other trusts. The legislature appropriated $50,000 to equip the plant and $125,000 for the revolving fund with which to buy raw material. The plant was started last April and has manufactured 1,100,000 pounds, or 550 tons, this season so far. The full capacity of the plant, if there was sufficient money in the revolving fund to buy the raw material required, is 4,000,000 pounds a year. This is about one-third the binding twine required in the state to tie up the crops each year.

How Twine Is Sold.

There was careful consideration at the starting of the plant as to what was the best manner of handling the output to give the widest distribution over the state and place the twine in the farmers' hands with the least additional cost to them beyond the price at the prison. After ascertaining how the twine is disposed of in other states, Governor Warner and the prison board decided the twine could be best and most fairly distributed by contracts with the Grange and Gleaners, the two big farmers' organizations of the state. The Grange, however, had contracted for a supply for its members, and so the output was placed in the hands of the Gleaners for distribution, with the proviso, however, that the twine was to be sold to any farmer at the same price it was sold to members. In this way the farmers have been saved the middleman's profit, and it has worked out admirably, so far as is known everybody being supplied who has made application and with no bad features, such as some farmers getting the bulk of the twine and others being refused any.

Two Cents Less Than Trust Price.

The price of the twine this season has been $7.95 per hundred, cash, or $8.20 for payment Oct. 1. This price is two cents a pound less than the price fixed by the trust for its twine, which means much to the farmers who have used the state twine. It has forced the trust price down to every farmer in the state, for the trust has sold twine a cent cheaper this year than last. Twine has sold for a lower price this year than in fifteen years. Warden Armstrong says the raw material costs a cent less this year than last, but judging by previous operations it is fair to say that the trust and not the farmers of Michigan would have profited by this decrease in the cost had it not been for the competition of the state plant, and Governor Warner says that in thus forcing the trust to treat the people fairly he believes the plant has paid for itself.

Warner Says Lesson Is Valuable.

"We had so much trouble inducing certain legislators to allow the establishment of the plant," says the governor, "that I feel the lesson it has given the people of the state as to what can be accomplished along these lines by proper investments will open the way for easier victories for the people in the future when questions between them and the big corporations come before the legislature."

The plant finished the season the first of July. It was shut down for two weeks and started on next season's supply. The people of the state who go to Jackson should not fail to go to the prison and see the plant being operated, for it is a most interesting process to watch.

LOCAL

Miss Clara B. Pound, assistant superintendent of Hackley hospital, Muskegon and Claud W. Pound conductor on the Milwaukee Northern Ry., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Pound, 318 Maple street.

W. J. Hawthorne Cooper, of Muskegon who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pelgrim, Jr., returned home Friday. He is professor in English and Elocution at Park College, Mo. While attending Hope college several years ago he was a prominent elocutionist and conducted regular classes here.

Fire originating from an unknown cause about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon partly destroyed the building in the rear of the Model laundry on East Eighth street occupied by J. Molegraaf. Prompt action of the fire companies saved the building from destruction. The loss is estimated at $150 and is partially covered by insurance. The building is owned by H. Prakken and B. Hill.

The annual premium list of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Fair association came out today. The book is full of detailed information in regard to the fair that will be held Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1 and 2. The races will be of unusual interest this year from the fact that the popular horses of the Boone stables, which are making a hit on all the race tracks of the state, will be entered. Neil Ball, Sadie Brooks and Jessie James will be at the big show. A purse of $1,200 is offered for races.

The homecoming guests enjoyed carriage and auto rides to the many beautiful scenes about the old town Thursday, went to the big dam and the factories and then by the steamer Mildred to Cook park, where a picnic and general good time was provided with addresses after dinner by R. L. Newham and Senator Russell and many others. The first Venetian display given Wednesday night by Allegan was gorgeous and delighted hundreds of people. The soldiers reunion was addressed Thursday by Senator Russell of Grand Rapids and department Commander C. E. Foote.

Roy Hunt, a young lad who has been in trouble before, was found spending money too lavishly Monday night by Officer Kieft. He was sent home by the officer and Tuesday morning Officer Meeuwse went to the lad's home to investigate the matter. It developed in the confession that followed that the money had been stolen out of the pockets of a pair of trousers belonging to Harry Mills, and employee of the Holland-Manistee Brick Co. The boy took $12 in all, $7 of which had already been spent when he was caught. Young Hunt will be handed over to Judge Kirby for punishment or correction.

The Socialists of Michigan are displaying unusual activity in the preliminaries incident to the primaries, Sept. 1, and although A. M. Sturton, of Hancock, apparently has a clear field for gubernatorial aspirations, a quintet of candidates for the lieutenant governorship have announced themselves. Petitions are being circulated in behalf of the respective candidates to be filed with the secretary of state on August 16. As each candidate needs only 117 signatures to be accorded a place on the ticket at the primaries, it is a foregone conclusion that all the names will be entered. The candidates aspiring to the office of lieutenant governor are J. J. Spouse of Saginaw, Francis Kulp, Battle Creek; Vernon F. King, Holland; James Hoogerhyde, Grand Rapids; and Franz Kranz, South Haven.

Run Over by P. M.

Garrat Maatman, 70 years old, who lived in Grand Rapids for many years with his family, later moving to Hudsonville where he has remained for 15 years, was killed Thursday afternoon by the northbound Pere Marquette flyer a mile south of this village.

Maatman had been to Hudsonville on an errand and it is said drank some. When a mile down the tracks to the home of Fred Yonkers, where he has been making his home since his wife died several years ago, he sat down between the rails, and was in a sitting position when the locomotive struck him. The body was nearly cut in two, then dragged for a distance and finally thrown to one side.

Sherman Morrell, a farmer met Maatman on the tracks 20 minutes before the accident, and states that the old man had been drinking. Sleepiness came over him and he dropped down on the tracks.

Maatman has but one surviving child, a daughter, Mrs. John Smeelink, 257 Grandville avenue, Grand Rapids, who went to Hudsonville to take the body to Holland for burial where the body of his wife lies.

Eleven grand children survive, eight of them children of the living daughter, Mrs. Smeelink, while three are children of his son, Garrat Maatman, who was killed six years ago in the East Paris railway wreck in which 11 lives were lost. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from Dykstra's undertaking rooms, Rev. Manni of East Saugatuck officiating.

Notes of Sport

After the show at the Superba Attraction Co.'s tent at Saugatuck last Friday evening the wrestling match between P. L. Ream and Fred Merrill drew a large crowd of over 150 spectators who watched the athletes wrestle over an hour before Ream put his opponent on his back and then as Merrill claimed to have hurt his foot the match was called a draw by Referee W. Silcox who declared all bets off. At the time of the contest the weight of both men was taken and Merrill weighed 168 and Ream 162.

Pullmah who has the record of defeating all the leading teams in this part of the state, came to Douglas last Saturday and was defeated 28 to 2. They put up the poorest game seen here this season both their pitchers were easy marks and their fielding was wretched.

The Holland Interurbans defeated the United Commercial Travelers of Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon at Jenison Park by a score of 11 to 10. At the beginning of the Ninth the score stood 10 to 8 against the Interurbans but hard hitting and an error or two by the visitors changed the defeat into victory.

The Independents Saturday afternoon beat the All Stars of Grand Rapids by the wide margin of 9 to 2 on the Nineteenth street diamond. The game though slow added another scalp to the string of victories of this fast Holland team.

Neil Ball, the popular horse owned by the Boone Bros., is making a record on the track this season. In three first straight heats in the 2:13 pace in the short Ship meet at Flint last week, this Holland horse was driven to victory by Hub Boone. Neil Ball eclipsed the favorite of the track I. X. L. to the great admiration of its owners and the Holland people who witnessed the race.

Jessie James at Grand Rapids

The pennant of victory today flies from the Boone Bros., racing stable at Comstock Park after the first day's event in the Furniture City Driving club's week of sport and it is Jessie James, the lanky pacer who made it possible for that self same victory.

It was in the 2:13 pace that Jesse came home a winner and it was not because he had no opposition for he had plenty of that, eleven fast nags starting. Despite the event being in the 2:13 class it did not prevent Driver Johnny Boone sending his horse under the wire in 2:09½, which is considered a mighty fine race.

In the first heat Jesse James got away in fourth position but like a piece of perfect working machinery he forged himself to the lead in short order and held it to the last inch. Although given a stiff brush by three or four fast ones the big pacer made it three straight heats and there is joy in the Boone camp and the many friends of the boys are mighty pleased.

Holland has for many years occupied a prominent position in the racing game, is known the country over as the home of the best nags that ever drew a sulky, and it is the Boone's which have made this possible.

The "Young Idea" in the Chr. Ref. Church

A prominent pastor in the Christian Reformed church of Muskegon says that there is trouble brewing for the state alliance board of the Young Peoples' societies of the Christian Reformed churches of Michigan when they meet for their annual convention in Holland next week.

The state alliance was formed three years ago in Grand Rapids at the East Street Reformed church and is still but a temporary organization. Rev. John Droen of that church is the president and will call the board to order at the Holland meeting.

It appears from the story that the young people of the different churches about the state have framed a constitution which they intend their delegates to the board meeting next week shall adopt. On the other hand the ministers have been in control of the organization ever since it was organized, and all of the officers, it is said are now ministers.

This feature of the organization it is said, has raised much dissension among the members who desire that the reins of government be taken from the ministers and placed in the hands of the lay members themselves so that the organization may be controlled by them. The ministers have framed a constitution, it is said, and will try to have it adopted by the board, but it will be vigorously opposed it is alleged, as will also any effort to reelect any minister to an office.

While there is no talk of disruption, it is said that the fight may be bitterly prosecuted.

At the Holland meeting an effort will also be made to widen the alliance from state to national scope.

To Appoint Cadet

The Fifth Congressional district of Michigan is entitled to the appointment of a cadet of the United States Military Academy, who must report at Columbus Barracks, Ohio, for examination on the second Tuesday of January, A. D. 1909, and who, if found to possess the necessary qualifications will be admitted to the Academy on March 1, 1909.

The person selected must be an actual resident of the district, not under the age of 17 or over 22 years of age on date of admission, and not less than five feet four inches in height at the age of 17, or less than five feet five inches in height at the age of 18 and upwards.

The district is also entitled to the appointment of a midshipman, who must report for examination either in April or June, 1909. The minimum age for admission to the Naval Academy is 16 years, and the maximum age is 20 years.

One principal and two alternates will be recommended for the former, and one principal and three alternates for the latter place.

I have received applications from a number of young men who desire these appointments, and in order that all may have an equal chance, I have concluded to hold a competitive examination at the Lincoln Club rooms in the city of Grand Rapids, on Saturday, August 22nd, A. D., 1908 at 10 o'clock a. m., Prof. James Sutphen of Holland, Prof. Arthur Throop, of Grandville, and Prof. Henry H. Lowrey, of Ionia, have been selected as examiners. Gerrit J. Diekema, M. C. Dated August 10, A. D., 1908.

Christian School Flourishes

The annual meeting of the Society for Christian Instruction was held Monday night in the basement of the Fourteenth Street Reformed church. G. W. Mokma presided and addresses were delivered by Rev. A. Kelzer, Rev. J. Robert and others. The report of the secretary showed that the school supported by the society, is in a flourishing condition. During the year the school enrollment reached about 450 and a corps of eight teachers were employed besides Principal B. Stegink.

The report of the treasurer was very gratifying. In spite of the financial stringency all the running expenses of the school had been paid, the small adverse balance being wiped out before the close of the meeting. The report showed that nearly $5,000 had been paid out for teachers salaries, fire escapes and other expenses which sum was raised entirely by tuition fees and voluntary contributions. Of the many contributions large and small reported during the meeting those deserving more than passing mention are a gift by K. Schadelee of $50 and the donation of a building lot in Prospect Park by J. W. Bosman.

As trustees for three years the following were elected: G. Blok, A. C. Rinck, J. Heeringa and Rev. J. Bolt.

The meeting was largely attended and was enthusiastic, showing that the cause of Christian instruction is growing in the hearts of the people.
