Royal Hussar Band at Chautauqua

THE Royal Hussar Band, the big attraction for the afternoon and evening of the fourth day of the chautauqua, is under the personal direction of Charles W. Niles, composer, organizer and leader of military bands and recognized as one of the leading band directors in the country. Mr. Niles was the organizer and for years director of the famous Fifth United States Cavalry Band. As is characteristic of all the Niles Bands, the Royal Hussars form a military band with all the dash, spirit, thrill and delight that the term suggests. Their repertoire, however, includes many of the popular modern compositions and interpretations of great musical masters whose claim for fame does not lie in their composition of military selections. The band has been on the several circuits of the Lincoln Chautauqua system a number of seasons and has a ripe understanding of the demands of the chautauqua and has already shown extraordinary skill in meeting these demands. Don't miss this great chautauqua treat!

MAJOR McLEOD GIVES REMEDY FOR EXTERMINATION

HOLLAND BOYS MAY MEET THE WORST ENEMIES IN THE TRENCHES.

Sergeant Major McLeod, the shot-up hero who called "I want you," from posters all over the country, is in New York securing recruits for the British army. There is a bit of military information which Sergeant Major McLeod gives that is of interest to young Americans who will soon go to the trenches.

The chief annoyance of the soldier in the trenches is something not near so appalling as first thought as high-explosive shells. On the contrary, it is something so minute that it is hardly visible. The name of it is vermin. Here you have the prize vermin catching methods of the western front.

"Get a bag of salt from your company cook," he says, "go down to the bank of a river, or canal, peel your shirt off, turn it inside out, lay it down on the bank and sprinkle on all the salt it will hold. The vermin will eat the salt, it will make them very thirsty, and after a while they will have to go down to the river for a drink. And at that moment, grab your shirt and run."

SUMMER TAX CAMPAIGN COMES TO AN END

BUSY PERIOD IN CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE ENDS WITH $8,000 UNCOLLECTED

Treasurer and Clerk Work Far Into the Night to Clean the Decks After Big Day.

City Treasurer Appledorn and City Clerk Overweg heard the roosters sing their matins this morning when they closed their books for the mid-summer tax gathering campaign and made their way homeward for a little sleep after what was perhaps the most strenuous day ever put in in the city treasurer's office. Early this morning the city treasurer was on the job again to clear away the wreckage and to get things in shape for the post-tax gathering work.

Although everything has not been completely tabulated, rough figures totaled up this morning showed that there is the sum of about $8,000 still to be collected of the original sum which was in the neighborhood of $150,000. The amount in uncollected taxes each year is about the same, usually in the neighborhood of $5,000, and when the taxes of one or two concerns have been paid that will be settled up in a day or two, it is estimated that the unpaid amount will be about the same as usual.

Every effort will be made to get the unpaid taxes gathered in within a few days. All those who pay up before the first of September will have only four per cent added as a collection fee. Those who do not pay before September first will have the amounts reassessed against them for payment in December, and not only will the four per cent collection fee be added to it but four per cent interest will be added from September first until January 1.

WAS ACCUSED OF ENTICING A LITTLE GIRL IN HOTEL SAM-PLE ROOMS

Charles P. Jacobs, traveling salesman, charged with felonious assault was acquitted by the jury in circuit court Wednesday night after the 12 men had considered the case from 4:30 in the afternoon until ten o'clock at night. The accusation was made against Jacobs by a minor girl, who claimed that he had enticed her to the sample rooms of the Gildner hotel on the pretext of showing and giving her some beautiful finery and then acted improperly. The girl identified the defendant as the man in the case, but the counter evidence in his defense was so strong and the jury evidently accepted the theory of mistaken identity. Store proprietors and clerks in Grand Haven stores were called as witnesses by the defendant to prove an alibi as to the time set by the girl. Lillie, Lillie & Lillie and Charles E. Mismar defended Jacobs and Fred T. Miles conducted the prosecution.

MANY HOLLAND PEOPLE WERE DISAPPOINTED

THEY WENT TO MUSKEGON TO SEE SHAM BATTLE THAT DID NOT COME OFF.

Soldiers Refused to Fight Because They Had No Orders From Headquarters.

The celebration in Muskegon yesterday was a bitter disappointment to the hundreds of people from Holland and the surrounding vicinity that made the long trip to the sawdust city practically all the people from here went for was the much-advertised sham battle, but the battle failed to appear. The time for the big event of the day had been postponed by the Muskegon committee especially to accommodate the Holland visitors, but when the Holland visitors arrived they were told that the battle would not take place.

Two United States gun boats manned by 200 fighting men were on the scene and the troops were accompanied by a splendid military band. But the future "Sammies" refused to fight. And the reason given was that they had no orders to stage a battle. And since the first law of the soldier is to obey orders and not to make regulations for himself, there was nothing doing in the line of battle stuff.

How the mistake happened or who is to blame seems something of a mystery. It is probable that the local committee merely went ahead and advertised the sham battle assuming that the American soldiers were always ready to fight, not remembering that a soldier will not fight until he has received orders from headquarters.

But in spite of this disappointment, the Holland people who went to the celebration had a fine time. Some fifty auto loads of people from the city and from this part of Ottawa county attended, making a total well over the 300 mark. There were no mishaps except minor ones and the trip was a most enjoyable one.

The crowd that gathered in Muskegon was one of the largest that ever assembled there, and one Holland man declared that the number of automobiles was so large that they "looked like worms in a box."

Another thing that disappointed the local delegation was that instead of a hundred piece military band they found one of only 25 pieces and the number of soldiers was also much smaller than advertised. The delegation was to have been met at Muskegon Heights but no one appeared to meet them. But in spite of these drawbacks all declare they had a good time.

Charles Solms of Grand Haven attempted to part two fighting dogs yesterday and as a result of his efforts received several bites on his arms. One of the fighting animals, a bull dog, had to be choked before he would release his hold upon him. Charlie has had his wounds cauterized and looked after.

GETZ ANIMALS GO TO LINCOLN PARK

HOLLAND WAS OFFERED SOME OF THE ANIMALS IN CAGES
BUT DECLINED OFFER

Grand Rapids Also Gets Part of the Menagerie; So Does Moving Picture Firm.

Visitors at Lincoln Park in Chicago, if they watch carefully will no doubt see some of the Lakewood farm menagerie that is now in charge of St. DeFry, zoological expert in the park of that big city.

The camel, some of the monkeys, including the one that killed a man, the honey bears and the cinnamon bear and others are now despoiling in the big zoo at Lincoln Park.

Mr. Getz disposed of the eagles and other birds to the Selig Moving Picture Company who will use them in some of their feature film productions.

John Ball Park in Grand Rapids also contains an array of the smaller animals and bears, purchased by the Park Commissioners of that city. These have all been shipped and today the wild animal department, so pleasing to the many visitors at Lakewood is no more. Mr. Getz says that he offered Holland several of the smaller animals and also would give the city the use of the cages, but he says the authorities of Holland for some reason or other did not feel disposed or found that they could not afford to start a zoological garden in the local parks.

It certainly feels homesick in visiting Lakewood to find that this great animal kingdom, which has been so pleasing to the visitors, who came from all over the country, are no longer to be found at the beautiful Getz show place.

It apparently means that the Holland fair also will be minus the finest attraction that the spectators have ever been privileged to see at this or any other Michigan Fair. Repeatedly Mr. Getz has been asked to show at Grand Rapids, Detroit, Kalamazoo and other fairs about the state, but these offers with flattering money considerations attached were repeatedly turned down as the Holland project, which had no money to offer, was given the preference.

Mr. Getz disposed of the animals for practically nothing and has placed them where they will do the most good in a public way.

FATHER CHARGED WITH ABUSE UP- ON DAUGHTER

JURY DISAGREES IN INCEST CASE.

The trial of Charles Scott of Polkton, charged with incest upon his 15-year-old daughter, Marquerite Scott, came up yesterday. The daughter charges the father with repeated abuses of this kind for a year or more. The wife, however, stands rock-ribbed by the husband and after long deliberation the jury came out with a disagreement.

Prosecuting Attorney Fred T. Miles says the case will be retried.

Chief Blom is in Grand Rapids on business today.

HIGH SCHOOL LIKELY TO LOSE INSTRUCTOR

"JOCK" RIEMERSMA ALMOST CERTAIN TO BE CALLED TO THE COLORS

Holland High school is likely to lose a member of its faculty through the conscriptive draft. "Jock" Riemersma has been found by the examiners to be both physically fit and he has put in no claim for exemption, so that his name has been sent to the War Department among the others as a candidate for a position in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

Being passed by the draft board does not of course mean that it is absolutely certain a young man will be called to the service. The passage of the examination is not equivalent to an official call to duty. That formality will come later. But it is more than likely that the physically fit with no claim for exemption will go to camp, and Holland High school stands to lose one of its most popular faculty members.

ENDS LIFE BY OPENING GAS STOVE BURNERS

CHARLES ETHELSTON FOUND DEAD THIS AFTERNOON IN HOUSE AT 112 W. 9TH ST.

With his head resting on the gas stove in the kitchen, Charles Ethelston, of Douglas, was found dead Monday afternoon at 112 W. 9th St. The gas was streaming into the room from three burners in the stove and the dead man's head was directly over one of them from which he had been drinking in the gas.

It is supposed that Ethelston ended his life about Saturday afternoon or evening. Sunday morning one of the family of E. Warren, living next door rapped on the door, but receiving no response, decided that Ethelston had left for his home in Douglas. Monday afternoon the dead man's son, Dewey Ethelston, became suspicious owing to the fact that his father had not appeared for his work in the West Michigan Furniture factory and neither had he been in Douglas. He broke open the house and found the man dead.

Ethelston is 52 years old. He had been living at 112 West Twelfth street for a week living there alone. The house, formerly occupied by Barney Kieft, had been Ethelston's shelter for the week, altho he had made little or no attempt at making it homelike. About all it contains is a bed, a gas stove and a chair and table.

Although the definite reasons for the suicide are not known, it is believed that some slight domestic disagreement caused the man to take his life. His wife, who is an employee at the Douglas basket factory, was immediately notified by telephone and she hurried to Holland on the interurban.

Besides his wife, one small child and three grown children survive. Ethelston had been working in Holland before, boarding last winter with the Warrens next door to the house in which his body was found this afternoon. The Warrens and he were on friendly terms, and several times during the past week Mr. Warren visited him, spending some evenings with him in pleasant conversation. He had given no indications of despondency. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made. Coroner Cook was immediately called when the body was discovered.

KID SHOOTS SELF WITH A REVOLVER

Coopersville Observer—By the accidental discharge of a revolver in his own hands, Stewart Lillie shot himself in the leg, inflicting a flesh wound which will prevent him from playing in the flats, where the accident occurred, or anywhere else for a few weeks. He didn't realize he was hurt until nearly home, as he ran nearly the whole distance. "Auntie" Ballard is caring for him and Stewart has lost all love for firearms.

COOKING WITH THE BABY CAUSES ARREST IN ZEELAND

Dick Ver Hage, Saturday pleaded guilty before justice J. N. Clark to the charge of assault and battery preferred against him by Mrs. Fred C. Cook, who resides on McKinley street. It appears that while he was working near the Cook residence on July 30, he went there to secure a drink of water and became abusive in the opinion of Mrs. Cook. His admiration of her baby was offensive to her and he was ordered off the premises, and his tardiness to comply resulted in his arrest. Dick decided that to plead guilty to the charge was the shortest way out of the mess, so he manfully paid the five dollars which he was assessed besides the cost of the case.—Zeeland Record.

FISHING WITHOUT LICENSE MAKES RESORTER TROUBLE

Charles Marshall, resorter at Jenison Park was arrested Saturday for attempting to ship fish out of the state and also for fishing without a license. The man lives in Indianapolis, and seemed to be ignorant of the state game laws.

He paid $3.70 before Justice Kooyers and was warned to take out a license which cost him $1. This he did immediately.

HOLLAND MEN COMMISSIONED AS OFFICERS

THREE FROM THIS CITY AND ONE FROM ZEELAND WIN GOVERNMENT HONORS.

Three Holland men and one man from Zeeland have received their commissions as officers at the Fort Sheridan Officers' Training camp, their terms of office beginning on August 15. The three Holland men are Hoyt G. Post, Edward Eggleston and James Deto. The Zeeland man is Roy M. Heasley.

Eggleston has been appointed captain of the infantry section of the Officers' Reserve Corps, Mr. Deto second lieutenant of the same section, Mr. Post and Mr. Heasley both second lieutenant of the quartermaster's corps, national army.

Another name appearing in the list of men who received a commission is S. W. P. Stelinger of Detroit, husband of the late Hazel Van Landegend of this city, who was appointed captain of the infantry section of the sixth company.

Among the men whose names appear in the list of those who received commissions as first lieutenant in the medical reserve corps for the Michigan-Wisconsin division is Dr. George H. Thomas of this city. Two other Ottawa county doctors, Dr. A. Leenhouts and Dr. Joe DePree, have received their commissions as first lieutenants, but they have not yet been called by the government. But they are daily expecting a summons calling them to camp duty.

Another former local man has been nominated for a lieutenant's commission in the aviation service. He is Jack Zoerman, whose home formerly was in Graafschap and who is now a resident of Grand Rapids. Zoerman has passed the rigid tests at Rantoul, Ill., and has been accepted but he has not yet been told whether he will be sent over to France or whether he will be stationed in this country to instruct others.

1700 AT ONE DANCE IS SURE GOING SOME

The attendance at the "Night in Venice" spectacle at Saugatuck last week staged at the Big Pavilion was a record breaker. There were 1,700 paid admissions—a larger number than on any previous evening for the last four years. Every available spot on the dance floor of the large pavilion was occupied with a couple.

DOUGLAS MAN FLEECE OUT OF $100 AT JENISON PARK

Andrew Stankey, says the Douglas correspondent, went to Jenison Park, Sunday morning and remained until Monday morning, and when he returned he was minus $100, which was supposedly stolen from him.

The Holland authorities have been having their eye on a bunch of Chicago smooth men for the past week, but of late they seem to be lying low.

ALL-STAR TEAM TO REPRESENT HOLLAND

A team picked from the various league teams of Holland and including such well-known players, as Spriggs, Ashley, Woldring, Beintema, Ingham, Shaw, Doc Walsh and one or two others of similar caliber, is to represent Holland for the remainder of the season. It is not unlikely that a double-header will be scheduled by this team with the Zeeland Independents for Labor Day, a game in Zeeland in the morning, and one at Holland in the afternoon. Fans are promised some lively entertainment when the teams clash, since Holland will exert every effort to wipe out the sting of the 11-inning defeat on the Fourth. Babe Woldring and Carl Shaw will be the team's moundsmen with Spriggs working behind the bat.

PRICE OF WIVES IN CHINA RISES WITH H. C. OF L.

"The price of wives in China is going up with the cost of living," writes Dr. Bosch, a missionary of the Reformed church in Sio-khe hospital, China, and a graduate of Hope College. "The girls brot up by their own mothers," writes Dr. Bosch, "almost without exception are spoiled. To do away with this spoiled independent wife and also to save $200 people having a baby boy buy a baby girl for him. The price is only a few dollars. These girls, not loved by their own mothers, are seldom loved by those who are bringing them up. No wonder poor mothers, seeing their baby is a girl, kill her."

Dr. Bosch says about one-fourth of the men are unmarried and the prices of women are increasing.

WELL KNOWN ZEELAND MAN IS SEVENTY-NINE

The home of the Hon. C. Van Loo in Zeeland on Tuesday evening was the scene of a happy gathering when his four children with their respective families gathered there to congratulate the old gentleman upon the anniversary of the 79th mile stone of his journey thru life.

In his long and varied life there have been many experiences: years of hardship and years of plenty; years of sorrows and years of joy; years of strife and years of peace; and years of labor but no years of rest.

Sixty-nine years ago, at the age of ten, he came to Zeeland and has witnessed all the stages of its development. In the prime of life he gave four years of service to his country as a soldier in the army which fought for Lincoln, for the Union, for Freedom of his fellow-man—freedom of the world. He sincerely regrets that he is not able at this time to defend the liberty which he once helped to establish.

Those who were present at the happy gathering were very pleasantly entertained by reminiscences of former days, returning to their homes with a hope of meeting again next year to commemorate a similar event.

MAN ASKS FOR DIVORCE BUT WIFE GETS IT

RICHARD HOEDEMA MUST PAY $800 TO WIFE AND $25 EACH MONTH TO CHILD

Some time ago Richard Hoedema, husband of Anna Hoedema, formerly Miss Ver Hulst, living on West 14th street, filed a suit thru his attorney, John G. Anderson of Muskegon, in the Muskegon Circuit Court, asking for divorce. He claimed cruelty on the part of his wife in refusing to live with him.

Mrs. Anna Hoedema, upon hearing of the divorce suit, instituted a cross-bill, claiming cruelty and non-support. In the bill she asked for the custody of the child of 12.

Three weeks ago the case was tied before Judge Sullivan in Muskegon, and instead of giving Hoedema a decree the Judge this week decided that Mrs. Hoedema was entitled to a divorce from her husband, which he granted, giving the wife all the furniture, the custody of the child, compelled Mr. Hoedema to pay her $800 within a year. He further commanded him to pay $25 per month for the support of the child until it has reached the age of 14, and if then the child chooses to stay with the mother she may make application to the court for further support from Richard Hoedema.

Mrs. Hoedema was also allowed an attorney's fee and witnesses' fees and other expenses by the court.

Hoedema is at present employed at the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. at Muskegon.

The firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate are the attorneys for Mrs. Anna Hoedema.

BEAVERDAM CHURCH RESPONDS.

First to Contribute to Red Cross, Zeeland Chapter

The Zeeland chapter of the Red Cross has received a collection from the Christian Reformed church of Beaverdam amounting to $81.21. This is the first general collection taken in any church in that vicinity and the committee takes this opportunity of expressing their appreciation and thanks.

An important ruling by the food administration board and the federal reserve banks gives potatoes rank among the nonperishable farm products and authorizes the federal reserve banks to accept warehouse receipts in paper rediscounted by member banks. This ruling is especially important in Michigan with its great potato crop and will facilitate the marketing. Banks can lend money on potatoes in warehouses, taking receipts as security, and if further funds are needed the banks can rediscount with the federal reserve bank.

ZEELAND MAN IS ON FIRING LINE

Gerrit DeHaan, a Corporal of the 47th Company, son of Anne DeHaan of Zeeland, is with the first expedition of U. S. Marines to place the American flag on the firing line in France according to advices just made public.

The record of the Soldiers of the Sea has always been admirable; they sustain heroically today the finest traditions of the past, deserve the unquestioned confidence the nation reposes in them, and the Zeeland young man will doubtless be a credit to his country, his Corps, his home and himself.

RECEPTION GIVEN FOR DEPARTING MISSIONARIES

A reception was given Thursday evening in the First Reformed church in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. H. V. E. Stegeman who will soon leave for the foreign mission field. The Rev. H. J. Veldman presided over the meeting. After the reading of the scripture by the Rev. M. A. Stegeman of Cleveland, Ohio, brother of the missionary, and prayer by J. A. Wiltwink, short addresses were given by L. Schoon, the Rev. Mr. Vander Werf, Andrew Stekete, Jr., George Schuelling and Mrs. H. J. Veldman. Music was furnished by a ladies' double quartet and a glee club of the Young Men's Bible Class.

Mr. Schuelling made the presentation of a writing companion to Mr. Stegeman and Mrs. Veldman was chosen to present Mrs. Stegeman with a thermos outfit. After responses by Mr. and Mrs. Stegeman, and prayer by the Rev. G. Hondelink of Muskegon, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. V. E. Stegeman, who have been commissioned by the Reformed church to serve as missionaries in Japan, began their long journey to the orient Tuesday morning, leaving Holland on the Pere Marquette train that leaves here at 7:55 for Chicago. Their first stop-over after leaving Chicago will be Alden, Iowa, where they will take part in the Sioux County Mission Festival. Then they will go to Seattle, Washington, from which point they expect to sail.

The trip across the Pacific to Japan will be made in the steamship "Imaba Maru," of the Japan Mail Steamship line. Mr. and Mrs. Stegeman do not yet know where they will be stationed in Japan.

N. J. Whelan and family, formerly of Holland arrived safely in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, after making an auto trip of over 2,000 miles.

JOHN BARRETT STEALS FROM BOAT LARDER

WAS FINED $25.00 AND THE COSTS
BY JUDGE THOS. N.
ROBINSON

John Barrett, watchman on the Puritan was arrested on complaint of John Kress of the G. & M. Line on the charge of larceny.

A fireman had caught Barrett stealing soups and canned goods from the boat larder and then a trap was set for him, when the captain caught the man red-handed.

Barrett told Judge Robinson that he had been taking supplies about three times a week for the past two months and brought his thievings home to his family.

He was fined $25 with costs amounting in all to $28.60. The penalty could have been heavier, but the G. & M. Co. interceded for the man, asking clemency and stated that they did not wish to have the man jailed, thus taking away the support of his family.

Barrett seems to be penitent and very thankful he did not have to face a jail sentence.

Barrett is 42 years old and before going on the boat was a long-haired Holy Roller from the House of David.

Says Each Family Must Can More Than For Own Use

Miss Elizabeth L. Parker of East Lansing, a representative of the M. A. C. Extension Department, spent Saturday forenoon in Holland to collect data on what has been accomplished here in the line of public canning demonstrations. Miss Parker has been working in nearby counties, co-operating with the county agents in the food conservation movement in Michigan.

While in Holland Miss Parker declared that the food conservation program includes not only the canning of enough food by each family for its own use during the coming winter but the canning of a surplus from which others can be supplied.

"The woman who looks out only for her own needs," said Miss Parker, "is not living up to her full opportunities for patriotic service to the country. Many housewives tell me that they have always been in the habit of canning enough fruits and vegetables for use during the winter months and then they think that if they do the same this year they will be doing their duty."

"Such women should understand that if they do no more than that they will by no means be doing their duty. In order to be prepared as we should be each family should have a surplus. Then when next winter the pinch comes they will be prepared to help by turning their surplus on to the market."

"Many women of course do not care to go into canning as a commercial venture and they do not relish the idea of canning stuff to be sold next winter. But it is not for the profit there is in it that they should do it, but so that they can serve the country in this way. Success in this war will depend to a large extent on the food supply. The output of the canning factories must remain available for the government. Hence the people in general must put up enough to feed all the rest."

HOLLAND BEING AFFECTED BY THE I. W. W. MENACE

Although there have been no I. W. W. riots in Holland and although there is no prospect whatever that those troublesome agitators will ever get busy here, yet Holland has been affected by their operations in other parts of the state. As a result of the necessity that has arisen of being prepared to defend the state against disturbance seekers the state government has made a demand on the national government for all available rifles apportioned to this state, and the Holland Rifle club, as a result, will lose all the rifles that were given it by the Ordnance Department at Washington, with the exception of five which the local club will be allowed to retain.

This order came in a letter to Att. T. N. Robinson, secretary of the Holland Rifle Club, from the office of the Chief of Ordnance of the Supply Division of the War department. The letter reads: "Referring to the issue of arms to Home Guards in accordance with the Act approved June 14, 1917, and desiring to comply as far as possible with the wishes of the authorities of the State of Michigan, I am directed by the Chief of Ordnance to advise you that you will hold at the disposition of the governor of Michigan, the rifles and ammunition which have been issued to you by the United States Government, which equipment is to be used by the Governor of Michigan for purposes of public safety. You will be relieved from the responsibility for the material for which you can exhibit the Governor's receipt. The Governor has been requested to permit you to retain five of the rifles in your possession."

Respectfully,
J. R. HOOVER,
Lt., Ord., Dept., U. S. R.

AUTOMOBILE SMASHUP ON FIRST AVENUE

The auto of John Weersing, real estate dealer, and the machine of the First Avenue Meat Market came together and in a collision the meat man's machine got the worst of the argument. Marinus Dornbos was at the wheel in the First Ave. Market car and John Weersing who had several ladies aboard was driving his Ford, when at the corner of First avenue and Eighteenth street, the two met, resulting in $25 damage to the Dornbos car.

ARREST BAR TENDER FOR SELLING TO MINORS

MAN TRIED TO GRAB "SUDS"
AWAY FROM BOYS WHEN OFFICER APPEARS.

Deputy Sheriff Homkes arrested Joe Dumveld, bar tender at Stone's saloon on West Eighth street, Saturday night for selling to minors.

The officer had seen four young men enter the place and he believed two of them to be under age. The bar-keep had already placed the beer before them when the officer notified Dumveld, asking him if he considered the young men of age. The bar tender said he thought they were but tried to take the "suds" away from them according to the officer, but not before a majority of it had irrigated the alimentary canal of the two lads.

The boys stated that they were 21 and lived in Fennville. The officer made a hurried trip to the peach county and found that G. Russell and Larm Douman, the boys in question were 20 and 19 years old respectively.

The state law is very strict when it comes to selling liquor to minors. Not alone can the saloon man be held, but the minors themselves are subject to arrest, even for entering a place where liquor is sold.

Dumveld was bound over to circuit court where his trial will take place later.

RED CROSS WILL GIVE EXHIBIT SATURDAY

A public exhibit of the articles made by the Ottawa County Red Cross workers will be held at headquarters in the city hall Saturday afternoon and evening. An exhibit of this kind was planned some time ago when it was suggested that that would be a good method to arouse interest in the work among the people of the city. Many have only a vague idea of what is being done at the Red Cross headquarters and the exhibit will be for the purpose of giving all an opportunity to receive first hand information.

One sample of each article made will be hung on a line and members of the Red Cross will be present to explain the uses of the articles and how they were made by the women of this city.

The consignment of articles will be shipped as early next week as possible. Mrs. G. W. Browning, assisted by W. H. Wing and J. J. Cappon, is in charge of the packing and shipping. This is a big job since the greatest care must be taken to comply with all the government regulations that have been made to insure the safe arrival of the goods at headquarters. The lettering of the boxes is in charge of J. Van Tatenhove.

All churches, societies and individuals in this city and in the surrounding communities that have finished material on hand are being requested by the Red Cross to send them in before Saturday so that they can be included in the shipment next week. All the goods must be carefully laundered before they are sent and all who have articles on hand are requested to waste no time in turning them in.

Everybody, young and old, is cordially invited to come to the city hall Saturday afternoon and evening to see the exhibit which, it is promised will be a most interesting one.

Tells of Time When Holland Was Yet a Stage Coach Town

The following was clipped from a file copy of the Saugatuck Commercial-Record of Sept. 5, 1868, and shows that stage coaches were common in the colony at that time:

James R. Jenkins, stage proprietor of the route between Saugatuck and Holland, has lately repainted his coach. With three seats well cushioned and backed, newly painted and curtained, all in good style and well adapted to comfort, Mr. Jenkins makes tri-weekly trips to Holland and back. He is always ready to accommodate passengers by the way of conveying them to any point in and about the city. (De luxe transportation, indeed!)"

Another item deserving more than passing notice, especially considering the growth of what now is considered the Fruit Belt of Michigan, is one cut from the same paper published in 1868, where it reads:—

"The thriving village of Douglas, at the mouth of the Kalamazoo river, favorably situated for commercial purposes is bound at no distant day to become an important place. The location is healthy, being on an elevated piece of ground where refreshing breezes from the lake the warmest day in summer are cooling and invigorating. Some enterprising fruit growers have lately come into the place, arousing the slumbering energies of the older inhabitants and showing them with what success peaches, grapes, strawberries, and other delicate fruit can be cultivated in this locality. And not many years hence the tread of the iron horse shall resound in our midst. (What did the editor mean by "iron horse"—automobile!)"

GIVE FAREWELL PARTY

Event Thursday Night Was In Honor of Soldiers' on Furlough

A very pleasant farewell party was given Thursday evening at the home of Miss Ruby Speers, 21 East 12th St., in honor of Norman Cobb, Stanley Wall and Marshall Irving, the three Holland boys, who enlisted last spring and who are in the city now on furlough. The party was given by Misses Dorothy Dal, Marion Tilt and Ruby Speers. The three Holland boys returned to camp Saturday.

BUY A FACTORY IN GRAND RAPIDS

PETER VAN DOMMELEN AND H.
E. SHAW NOW OWNERS OF SNYDER CONCERN.

Peter Van Dommelen and H. E. Shaw, for many years with the Limbert Furniture company of Holland, have bought the Snyder Furniture factory in Grand Rapids and have already taken possession.

The factory is located at the northeast corner of Ionia avenue and Wealthy street and covers several lots, manufacturing high grade dining room furniture.

The plant was originally the Folding Chair and Table company and was bot by Charles Snyder 24 years ago. Since that time the plant has been greatly enlarged on account of increased business.

The new owners will continue the same line of manufacturing and further develop it. The capital stock has been increased from $25,000 to $50,750, which will enable the carrying out of plans contemplated.

The plant is one of the best equipped and with the latest build of machinery. The policy of the new concern will be to not only strengthen it in various lines, but maintain the high standard make of furniture.

H. E. Shaw started in the furniture business with P. Creque at the Kent Furniture company in 1892, remaining five years. Afterward he went with the John Widdicomb Furniture company when it was organized and was in its employ seven years. Mr. Shaw considers what training he received under Mr. Widdicomb invaluable in the furniture business. For the past 12 years he has been with the Charles P. Limbert Co. of Holland.

Upon Mr. Shaw's retiring from the C. P. Limbert company the employees and office force presented him with a very beautiful gift showing their appreciation, etc., during the years he was with them.

Peter Van Dommelen started in the furniture business with the Sligh Furniture company where he remained four years. Later he was associated with the Michigan Chair company, Stickley Brothers' company and the Grand Rapids Table company. For five years he was superintendent of the Phoenix Furniture company, and for the past eight years has been superintendent of the C. P. Limbert company.

Mrs. Clara Goodrich took three loads of corn to the Fennville Milling Co. Saturday and received a check for $431.53. The price paid was $2.25 per bushel. Any of our readers ever live in a place or at a period of time when prices beat this?

STORK BEATS DEATH BY TWO TO ONE

NATURAL GROWTH OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN IS VERY LARGE.

The complete returns for the year 1916 as compiled by the state vital statistician, William F. Petrie, show that during the year there were 87,059 births in the state and 45,106 deaths. The deaths of infants under one year totaled 8,111. According to the figures the infantile mortality for the state for the year was about ninety-three per thousand living births. The rate of infantile mortality is regarded as a most reliable test of the sanitary conditions of a district owing to the fact that migration does not greatly affect the result of this early age.

The Allegan county farm bureau is flooded with orders for Red Rock seed wheat. Agent Bentall has turned down requests for quotations on six carloads, and there are many other orders for lots of from one to 500 bushels. Many Michigan counties desire the supply and all the seed houses are frantic in their demands. A month from now there will not be a bushel of seed left. Allegan county farmers should move lively if they wish this seed. The state has sent out requests to look up and list all unsown fields to help out the supply. There are similar demands for the Rosen rye.

Three hundred additional men from the first district of Ottawa county will be called to report at the court house at Grand Haven next week for examination to fill the draft quota of 150 men from the district. The actual number of men required for the national army from that district is 136 men, but the government will require that ten per cent more than the quota be selected, and accepted by the local boards. That will make 600 men called to fill the quota.

Grand Haven Woman Dies While Son Is On Way to Camp

Following an illness of three weeks with Bright's disease and other complications, Mrs. Leendert Kammeraad, died Tuesday at her home in Grand Haven. Her death followed a few hours after her son Franz had marched away with the boys of Co. F. The young soldier was notified of the death of his mother when the troop train reached Big Rapids and the officers of the command arranged for his return to Grand Haven at once.

Mrs. Kammeraad was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aart Donker, old residents of Grand Haven, who came there from the Netherlands in 1865. They settled in the old Beech Tree section of the city, not far from the great Eagle Ottawa plant of today and were among the best known residents of the old-day town. Mrs. Kammeraad was five years of age when she came across the sea and has lived in Grand Haven ever since. She was 57 years of age at the time of her death.

Mrs. Kammeraad was married to Leendert Kammeraad twenty-five years ago. The latter, who died three years ago conducted a business at the corner of Washington and Seventh street for a quarter of a century. Mrs. Kammeraad, with her sons, has been conducting the business since her husband's death. Deceased is survived by six sons, to whom she was unusually devoted, viz. Aart, Franz, Cornelius, Peter, Henry and Leonard. Henry Donker of Wash the only surviving member of the old ington avenue is a brother and now pioneer family. The funeral will be held at 2:30 Friday afternoon with services at the home, corner Washington and Seventh street.

At Groeningen he met Miss Matilda Beeler, daughter of an aged minister, engaged in evangelistic work among the soldiers, and the romance culminated in their marriage. Dr. Pfanstiehl recently resigned his pulpit at Somerville, N. J., and will devote his years to giving lectures in this country and Europe after the war.

ZEELAND RED CROSS TO EXHIBIT HERE

Zeeland is to be represented in the Red Cross exhibit that will be held in the city hall Saturday afternoon and evening. The goods made in Zeeland will be exhibited on a separate table in the city hall.

The exhibit Saturday will be of things made so far by the local organization. These goods will be packed in large boxes and sent on to the district headquarters in Cleveland. After this shipment a change will be made in the packing and sending system. Instead of packing many different kinds of articles in one box all articles will be packed separately, so that one box will contain only body-binders, another only surgeons' coats, and so on. This is a new regulation that has just come from headquarters.

FAIR BOOK WILL BE READY SEPTEMBER 1

The annual premium list for the Holland Fair will be ready for distribution on Sept. 1, and Mr. Farmer, be sure and get your exhibits in shape as usual. The premium money with possibly few exceptions will be the same as was paid last year. Remember Holland will hold a fair and be sure to bring your entries the same as before.

The frequent and liberal exchange of books assures one of an efficient, satisfying new book service, giving one during the year the choice of all the current fiction. Besides this branch library, the local book store has their own library of 125 popular fiction.

GERMAN PASTOR FORWARDS CHECK TO RED CROSS

A check for $32 was received Saturday by the Grand Haven unit of the Red Cross from Rev. W. Koch, pastor of St. Paul's German Evangelical church of Grand Haven. HOLLAND HOST TO MEMBERS OF COUNTY "U."

Holland is to be the scene of another convention in the near future when the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union from all over Ottawa County will gather in this city to hold two sessions in the interest of that organization. Mrs. R. B. Champion is the president of the Ottawa W. C. T. U. and it is largely for that reason that the convention fell to this city.

The convention will be held on Thursday, August 23, in the First Reformed church. There will be two sessions, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. No evening meeting will be held. There are a number of local organizations in the county and it is expected that all will be well represented.

The morning session will be given over to business. In the afternoon the principal address will be delivered by Mrs. Frederick Perkins, the secretary of the National organization of the W. C. T. U. and the state organizer. Mrs. Perkins is a big figure in W. C. T. U. work and her address promises to be an interesting one.

The local speakers will include the president of the Ottawa County Organization, Mrs. John Weersing, Mrs. Charles S. Dutton and Mrs. Elizabeth Lillie of Coopersville.

A quartet will furnish music and a duet will be sung by William Brouwer and Miss Jennie Brouwer.

Plans are now being made for the entertainment of the guests of the day. The public is invited to attend the convention.

TEN ZEELAND MEN LEAVE FOR GRAYLING

Zeeland's quota of young men, who enlisted in the National Guard, left Tuesday with the other members of the Grand Rapids battalion for Grayling, where they are in camp. Altho the departure of the boys in khaki was not solemnized by any patriotic demonstrations in Zeeland, nevertheless the numerous honors in the form of farewell receptions which were tendered the boys, show that Zeeland is back of the enlisted men and will always think of them wherever they are stationed in the service of the government. The following ten men left the city and are now in Grayling: Gerrit Rozema, Theodore De Pree, George Meengs, John Slagh, oblie Beukema, Henry Boes, Henry Holstege, Gilbert Karsten, Jacob Barandse, and Jacob Den Herder. Den Herder was recently rejected on second examination because he had a stiff trigger finger. This patriotic youth had an operation performed on the finger and in a few days he successfully passed the examination and was glad to be able to be with his comrades in the service of his country.

SPARTA IS CERTAINLY DRY.

Sparta is dry in every sense of the word, for the population here looks with such disfavor upon liquor selling places that there was no profit for the remaining druggist here who paid his government license to sell liquors as drug stores usually do. This year Sparta is without an establishment that handles liquor.

SON OF FOUNDER OF HOLLAND, PASSES AWAY

BENJAMIN VAN RAALTE, SR.,
DIES ON ANNIVERSARY OF BEING MUSTERED INTO THE ARMY.

Shortly after retiring for the night Benjamin Van Raalte Sr., Tuesday night died at his home two miles east of the city. Mrs. Van Raalte discovered about 11:30 that something was wrong and when Benjamin Van Raalte, Jr., was called he found that his father was dead.

Mr. Van Raalte had not complained during the day of not being in his usual robust health and he went to bed at about eleven. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of his death and he passed away quietly in his sleep.

A peculiar coincidence is the fact that Tuesday was the fifty-fifth anniversary of Mr. Van Raalte being mustered into the service in Company I, 25th Michigan Infantry and it was on that anniversary that he was "mustered out."

Mr. Van Raalte was the only surviving son of Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, the founder of the Holland Colony in Michigan. He was born in Ommen, The Netherlands, in 1840, and in 1847 he came to America with his parents. Since his seventh year he has always lived either in Holland or Holland township.

In 1873 he was united in marriage to Miss Julia Gilmore. Her death occurred in 1910. In November, 1912, he was united in marriage to Miss Abbie Connel, of Grand Haven. Besides her, two children survive, Benjamin Van Raalte, Jr., of this city and Mrs. O. S. Reimold of Chicago. Mrs. C. V. R. Gilmore is a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Van Raalte's war record is a very good one. His old comrades in arms speak of his untiring energy and bravery and declare that he was always ready for duty no matter how difficult or dangerous it might be. When Company I was organized in 1862 he was among the first to enlist, when he was at the age of 22. He went with the company to Kalamazoo which was the rendezvous of the 25th Michigan Infantry, where it was mustered into the United States service on Sept. 23, 1862. He served during the war until the regiment was mustered out at Salisbury, N. C., on June 24, 1865.

Among the many incidents that make up the history of the regiment the following is told of Mr. Van Raalte. It is quoted from the volume that is dedicated to the 25th Michigan Infantry: "At Utty Creek, Georgia, the regiment lost two color bearers and the regimental colors were left on the field when the Union troops were driven back. Van Raalte, during the night crept through the confederate lines, secured the colors, which he brought back to the regiment, and carried them until the close of the war."

When the company was organized he was elected sergeant. He served as the second commander of the A. C. Van Raalte Post, G. A. R., named after his father, succeeding in command the late John Kramer. Until recently he attended all the encampments, both state and national, and on one or two occasions he was appointed aide de camp on the staff of a national commander. "All his life he was a true soldier, taking pride in keeping his military record clean," one of his comrades in arms said today when the news of his death spread.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 1:30 from the home.

AH, A MIRROR FOR THE BOYS.

A French plate mirror has been presented the Grand Rapids troops by Mrs. Helen Van Duren in honor of her son Charles S. Van Duren, of Company L, and other soldiers with whom she became acquainted through her work as instructor in the manual training department of the public schools. Mrs. Van Duren was formerly Miss Helen Pfanstiel of this city and many years ago was an instructor in Holland's public schools.

LOCAL NAMES IN MICHIGAN LISTS

A number of Holland and Ottawa county men appear in the lists of the Michigan companies. Following are the names of those from this city and other parts of the county and the companies they are in: Raymond Pyle, Holland, corporal in Company I; Ledyard W. Lindsay, Holland, private in Company I; Joe Nuismer, Jr., Lakewood Farm, private in Company M; John C. Slagh, Holland, private in Company L; Edward Glerum and John Glerum, Holland, private in Company L; Earl Nivison, Holland township, private in Company L; James Van Ry, Holland, private in Company L; Jacob A. Barense, Zeeland, private in Field Hospital No. 1.

TO MEET IN INTEREST OF THE RED CROSS

There will be a public meeting in the interest of the Red Cross next Friday evening in the Russcher church, a short distance south of the Ebenezer church east of Holland. The speakers will be Henry Geerrings of this city and the Rev. Mr. Strabbing of East Holland. Mrs. G. J. Van Duren of this city will give a talk on the work of women in helping the country in this war situation and in making the Red Cross a success. A good program of music will be furnished, and ice cream is to be served. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

W. BOSMAN RESCUES WO- MAN FROM DROWNING

FORMER HOLLAND MAN SAVES A RESORTER AT GRAND HAVEN.

The United States Coast Guard Station at Grand Haven was the scene of a thrilling rescue Sunday of a young woman by William Bosman, one of the city's prominent business men. Mrs. J. Love of Michigan City, who is spending the summer there, attempted to swim across the slide but became exhausted and apparently sank. Mr. Bosman brought her to shore before she sank for the second time. Mr. Bosman is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bosman of this city and was formerly in the dry cleaning business here. He is now conducting a similar establishment at the county seat.

Holland Has a Steeple Jack In George Bosman

Holland has a steeple jack as was demonstrated Sunday. The big one hundred and thirty-foot stack at the Aniline Co. needed immediate paint and repairs and the only time in which this was possible, owing to the heat from the boilers was on Sunday.

George Bosman, the local artist of paint and brush, volunteered to do the dangerous job. He made the ascent in six minutes and began the work of making necessary alterations at the top. At the noon hour the job was still far from completion and not being able to come down for the regular repast at a table with napkin trimmings, George sent down a rope with a message for food. His wife filled a basket of the best in the larder and the basket was soon hoisted to the elevated perch on the stack.

George claims that this meal came higher than any ever served at Delmonico's. Old man Hoover had no control over this sudden raise in food-stuffs.

GRAND HAVEN SAILOR TAKES LUDINGTON GIRL IN MARRIAGE

In the Ludington Chronicle of last week appeared an announcement of the marriage of Henry Vande Bosch, a well known Grand Haven young man, who for several years has been employed on the government dredge General Meade. The bride was Miss Margaret Leyton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Olsen of Ludington, and the nuptial ceremony was performed at St. Simon's parsonage in Ludington at 8:30 Saturday morning.

Mr. Vande Bosch is well known in their honeymoon at Pleasant Hill, Hamlin Lake, near Ludington.

Mr. Vande Bosch is well known in Holland and has many friends here.

CROSS ATLANTIC SAFE- LY; HOME TODAY

Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Yntema received a telegram Tuesday from their son Hessel announcing that he had arrived safely in New York. Mr. Yntema who has been spending three years at Oxford as Michigan's Rhodes Scholar, crossed the Atlantic on the Cunard steamer, "Aurania."

He is expected to arrive in Holland today. In view of the dangers attending the crossing of the Atlantic at present, the family was much relieved when the telegram announcing his safe arrival in this country came.

ALLEGAN HOME GUARDS TRAINING

The Allegan Home Guards are drilling two nights each week and are making good progress. Even in the hot weather of recent days the squad got out and went thru two hours' drill. Fifty and more men are taking part and getting the benefit. Major Mattingly this week made requisition for 50 rifles and expects them to be delivered soon. Then the manual of arms will be taught. There is no probability of a cessation of interest and the several squads about the county are doing equally well. The county will presently be able to make a showing that will be creditable. It is quite likely that there will be a gathering of the county battalion at fair time. The fair association has been requested by Governor Sleeper to provide a patriotic day and the officers are planning a notable program.

Young Hollander Anxious to Serve United States as a Soldier

"Do you suppose I want to hide behind the fact that I'm not a full-fledged citizen of this country?" said Gerrit Damveld of this city when it was represented to him that as a native of the Netherlands he could claim exemption from military service. "I'm going to fight for this country if they will take me and I'm going to do my best to pay back in some small measure what America has done for me."

Young Damveld is not yet naturalized but he has lived in America a number of years. He is a mouder, making very good wages but he is anxious and willing to give up this work and to go into the army or into any branch of the service where he may be most needed.

"America has done a great deal for me," the young man declared. "It has given me my chance and during the time I've been in this country I have learned to love it and have come to look upon it as my country. And if a man gets his living in a country and accepts it as his home he is indeed a poor specimen if he is not willing to fight for it if the country is in need. Instead of trying to get out of it, I am ready to offer myself and will put no obstacle in the way."

CONTRACTS MADE FOR CONCESSIONS

The annual meeting of the members and those interested in the school for Christian Instruction was held in the basement of the 14th St. Chr. Ref. church Monday night. Attendance was the biggest that ever attended these meetings. Annual reports were given by the officers which were all surprising to those present, especially the treasurer's report which showed a bank balance of nearly $1,100.

Mr. Heeringa, who has very faithfully taken care of the funds for the school for 15 years and who has asked to be relieved of this on account of his age and failing strength, was again elected as treasurer but again asked to be excused which was granted him. The Rev. Hoeksema, pastor of the 14th St. Chr. Ref. church is the new treasurer of the school. For the faithful services which Mr. Heeringa has given to the school the members unanimously decided to have him to be a Board Member for life as a token of appreciation.

No other changes were made on the Board. The Rev. M. Van Vessem of Zeeland made a few remarks which were appreciated by those present. The Educational Progress Club, consisting of fifty members, all graduates of the school, marched in a body to attend this meeting.

The Misses Wentzel played a piano-duet "Il Travatore." The Central avenue orchestra, as usual, was on hand and made the evening enjoyable.

GET NYACK READY

The pumping out of the old steamer Nyack at Muskegon is progressing rapidly and the boat is about three feet out of the water at the present time. The Nyack will be ready in a few days for towing to Sturgeon Bay where the work of converting her into a freight barge will be commenced.

The steamer sank at her dock in Muskegon some time ago.

WOMEN DOCTORS TO SERVE U. S.

By way of further recognition of women in the work of prosecuting the war the Council of National Defense has added to the general medical board a committee of women physicians, of which Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton of New York City, has been appointed chairman.

Need for utilizing the services of women physicians of the country has been more and more apparent to the council, as it is felt they can accomplish much in the way of anaesthesia laboratory work and sanitation. The medical board at present is engaged in formulating plans under which the new committee is to operate, and it is expected that these will be completed within a very short time.

The other members of the committee are Drs. Caroline M. Parnell, Caroline Towles, Florence N. Ward, Mary Lapham, Emma B. Cuddihart, Cornelia C. Brant, and Marion Craig Potter.

PEOPLE WILL DECIDE ON HOME GUARD

Whether or not Holland will have a home guard will depend on the decision of the people of the city. This conclusion was reached by the members of the War Committee when they met to discuss the need of such a home guard. R. B. Champion and Thos. N. Robinson were appointed as a committee some time ago to look into the matter and to report on the need of such an organization in this city. They made a formal report which was read to the War Committee, but it was not finally acted upon by reason of the fact that it was deemed wiser to present the whole matter to the public at a mass meeting and let the people decide.

Such a mass meeting will be called in the near future, the date not yet having been determined upon. The report will at that time be read.

Those present at the meeting of the War Committee were E. P. Davis, president, W. O. Van Eyck, Dr. A. Leenhouts, Hon. G. J. Diekema, Oscar Peterson and T. N. Robinson.

Man CRUSHED TO DEATH CEMENT WALK

CAVE-IN ON LAKE FRONT AT MACATAWA BRINGS DEATH TO RESORTER.

A horrible tragedy took place at 7:10 Thursday evening at Macatawa Park when 15 feet of lake front walk caved in a few yards south of the large bath-house, carrying with it an old gentleman and a lady who was accompanying him. The two were leisurely walking along the railing of the big cement walk and breakwater, watching with delight a beautiful sun-set, as the sun sank away into Lake Michigan, when without warning the walk upon which they were standing gave way and the big blocks folded themselves up, crushing the old gentleman to death and severely injuring the lady.

The man's name is Wm. Steufer, a banker of West Point, Neb., and the lady is his sister-in-law, named Mrs. D. C. Giffert, of 333 Benjamin Avenue, Grand Rapids.

The principals in the tragedy were near relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Huester and were guests at the "Sar Allice" cottage. Mr. Huester is the secretary and treasurer of the Grand Rapids Paper Box Co. and is well known among the businessmen of Holland.

Many witnessed the terrible catastrophe and the alarm was soon given. A rescuing party, headed by the Coast Guards, was instantly formed.

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan, of Elgin, Ill., and a little girl were the first to see what had happened, as they were but a few feet ahead Mr. Steufer and Mrs. Giffert. They say that they saw the big walk just sink away, and when they looked down they were on the edge of a yawning abyss, and the groaning and cries from those who had gone with it were terrible and never to be forgotten.

The accident happened at 7:10 in the evening and it was but a few minutes afterwards when the rescuing party, headed by Dr. J. A. Heasley and Wm. Huester of Grand Rapids was hard at work trying to remove the heavy concrete work from the bodies of the victims. Human hands could never raise them as the blocks in many instances were a foot and a half thick and were six to eight feet long. A large derrick and tackle was therefore quickly placed over the big hole and piece by piece the broken cement construction work was lifted from the bodies. The old gentleman's body was completely covered by the big blocks and when he was taken out of the death pit, life was extinct. Part of the lady's body was protruding from the debris and she was crying continuously, calling for assistance, until she finally lost consciousness. Soon she revived again, and, in a vain endeavor to help the rescuing party, she was pushing the sand that was caving in, away with her hands, in order that the work could go on faster. The strain was terrible, as the cave-in occurred at a little after 7 o'clock and not until 7:45 was the lady finally taken out and hurried to the "Sar Allice" cottage where she was a guest.

The body of Mr. Steufer was taken to the bath house awaiting the coming of the coroner, Dr. D. G. Cook. The man's body and face presented a terrible sight; death is supposed to have come instantly. Mr. Steufer is 72 years old and is a prominent banker in the West. Mrs. Steufer, the victim's wife, was only a few feet behind and when the crash came she uttered a scream and fainted.

Drs. G. H. Thomas and T. A. Boot were hurriedly called from Holland, and picking up the lungmotor at the police headquarters, they were on the scene of the tragedy fifteen minutes later. They did good work in rescuing but the pulmotor was not needed.

Coroner Cook who was quickly on the scene, immediately began selecting a jury. It was at first thought that a mistake had been made in calling the wrong coroner, as there was some doubt as to whether the accident took place in Allegan or Ottawa county.

Those acquainted with the county boundary lines, however, soon gave the desired information; the tragedy occurred not more than 100 feet from the Allegan County line. What is termed as Goldgate is said to be the boundary line between Allegan and Ottawa counties.

The jury drawn by Dr. D. G. Cook were the following: F. Tilt, I. Altman, J. B. Mulder, O. Smith, Henry Meppelink and Herman Zoerman.

The jury was sworn, reviewed the remains, got the details of the tragedy, and adjourned until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the inquest was held at the City Hall in Holland.

Seth Nibbelink of the Nibbelink Undertaking establishment, took charge of the remains of Mr. Steufer.

Notwithstanding the fact that when the Macatawa Resort Co., was putting in what appeared to be a walk and breakwater that not even the waters of wild Lake Michigan could budge, its calculation seems to have been wrong. It seems that all along the beach, the water has sucked the sand from the big Lake Front construction, leaving nothing but a shell, upheld by practically no supports and could either cave in thru its own weight or thru the least added pressure from above.

To what extent the long walk is hollow below is hard to conjecture. It may be entirely so or it may be so in spots; then again it may be so only under the two outside slabs. It is safer however, not to venture on the lake front walk until a thorough investigation is made. Steps will of course be taken to safeguard the public from any further danger. A thorough investigation to find out what portions of the walk are fit to be used by visitors, will be made.

WAS CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE SAYS THE JURY

Little interest was taken Monday in the meeting of the coroner's jury in regard to the tragedy that took the life Thursday evening of William S. Steufer, a banker of West Point, Neb., in a cave-in of the walk on the Lake Michigan front at Macatawa. There was not a spectator present and only principal witnesses, two attorneys, the coroner, the jury and the editor, constituted the gathering.

The first witness called was the Rev. C. L. Morgan of Elgin, Ill., who recited the story of the tragedy and the part he and others took in the rescue. He claimed that in this particular part of the walk he had noticed a gradual sagging from eight inches to a foot; that in several places on the lake front the walks were in dangerous condition; that he had seen Mr. Miller repeatedly about it. But Mr. Miller said that they had given enough toward the walk and they could not afford to spend more money on it.

Mr. Noble, the contractor practically reiterated the statement of Mr. Morgan, claiming that he had also talked to Mr. Miller asking for repairs. He also described why and how the lake front walk had become dangerous, stating that the piles had been sunk eight feet into the water while the inside wall was only placed to the water level and that the action of the water sucked the sand thru the crevices of the piling from under the walk leaving several hollow spots in many places where the sand formerly held up the walk.

It was claimed by both Mr. Morgan and Mr. Noble that many of the cottage owners had put up danger signs themselves but that none had been placed there by the park company.

Miss Dorothy Martindale was also called to the stand but could only repeat the story of the tragedy, as she saw it.

Possibly the most interesting witness was Swan Miller of the Macatawa Park Company. Mr. Miller practically admitted all that had been contended by the former witnesses, namely, the danger of the walk to pedestrians, also that signs were put up by the company only in so far as it covered their property. He contended that a space near the Bath House where the walk went down was fenced off with a rope and with lanterns at night as a warning to resorters that this part of the walk was unsafe. Aside from this strip the Resort Co. does not own a foot of ground on the lake front. Mr. Miller contended further that the company has no jurisdiction outside of police control over any of the walks that are laid in front of property owned by cottage owners at the park and this is especially stipulated in the charter of the company.

Mr. Miller also claimed that the Macatawa Resort Co. had nothing whatever to do with the construction of the Lake front walk, that they simply paid their donation asked for by a committee of cottage owners who had the entire matter in charge. The walk cost some $45,000 or $15 a foot and the understanding was that the cottage owners should pay $6; the Park Co. $6, and the woods cottagers, meaning those in the hills, $3.

A committee was then selected by the cottage owners to take charge of this work and they selected Mr. D. P. Perry who had personally given $5,000 to be used in experimenting in connection with the new sea wall, to carry out their instructions.

Mr. Diekema, who represented the Park Co. cited from the records of the company in supreme court from page 106, Sections 40 and 41 which read as follows:

"All new roads and highways shall be constructed within the Park at such places as the Board of Directors shall deem necessary, and they shall be under the exclusive control of the Board of Directors. The corporation cannot undertake to maintain such roads and highways up to any standard of safety or efficiency, and while it desires to safeguard those who use such roads and highways, it does not assume any responsibility for accidents which may happen thereon, or for injuries to persons or property."

"If the owners of any lots within the grounds of the corporation desire to construct any new roads or highways, or to raise the standard of those already constructed and desire to contribute to the cost thereof, the Board of Directors are authorized to co-operate with such cottagers upon such terms as the Board of Directors may prescribe."

Mr. Miller also claims that the records of the company will show that before the walk was built a resolution was passed which specifically states that while the company would donate toward the building of the walk they would take no hand in the construction of it.

The whole thing in a nutshell seems to hinge on who has jurisdiction over the lake front walks, the cottage owners or the resort company. Whose duty is it to repair these walks and keep them in passable condition? The resort company is not incorporated like a city and for that reason the contention is that the same rules do not apply.

Another fact mentioned by Mr. Diekema, which he contends goes to show that the construction and maintenance of the walk was not entered into by the resort company is a large copper plate, cemented in the sea wall and placed there after the work had been completed. This plate containing the names of D. P. Perry and other men of prominence who were fostering the work.

Judging from the verdict of the jury they had no doubt in the least that there was criminal negligence somewhere, and while their verdict was plain on that point the blame was not specifically placed against any company or person.

Should any damage suit result from the tragedy no doubt some fine legal points will come up and it seems that the courts will have to determine who owns, who maintains and who has jurisdiction over the walks on the lake Michigan front. The verdict of the jury follows:

Verdict of Jury

"We the coroner's jury in the case of Wm. Steufer find that Wm. Steufer came to his death on the evening of August 9th, at about 7 o'clock P. M. at the Macatawa Park, Lake Michigan front, due to a caving in of part of the cement walk, immediately south of the bath house. We as the coroner's jury find that the death of Wm. Steufer was due to criminal neglect on the part of the owners, or owner of said cement walk or drive."

Signed—

Fred Tilt,
I. Altman,
J. B. Mulder,
O. Smith,
Henry Meppelink,
Herman Zoerman."

CHURCH WANT SIX OF THEIR MEN IN CAMP CHRISTIAN REFORMED DENOMINATION SEEKS THAT MANY TO WORK AMONG SOLDIERS

Further steps have been taken toward providing the young men from the Christian Reformed denomination who go to the army camps with religious instruction by the ministers and lay religious workers from that denomination. The whole matter has been placed in the hands of an executive committee consisting of Rev. K. Bergsma, Rev. P. J. Hoekenga, Mr. R. VanNoord, Mr. T. Noordewier and Mr. G. J. Haan. This committee has primarily to look after the interests of the young men from Michigan and Wisconsin. As of these will be in one cantonment. Of the 17,450 families of the Christian Reformed church more than 10,000 live in one of these two states, so that the majority of the young men from that denomination who are called out to serve their country are grouped together. The committee is anxious, however, to serve also Christian Reformed people from other states in any way possible.

It is proposed to send at least six Christian Reformed religious workers, ministers and laymen, to the cantonment at Battle Creek. The expense of sending each one of these will be from $1500 to $2000, it is estimated, and it is proposed to collect money in the various churches in the denomination to secure this money, which would make an aggregate for the six workers of from $10,000 to $12,000.

The church papers of the Christian Reformed denomination are urging ministers who can possibly get away to secure a leave of absence from their congregations in order to engage in this work. The men who will enlist for this work would be stationed at the cantonment at Battle Creek for the present and would be expected to go with the boys to France when the camp is called to the front.

LITTLE FELLOW BREAKS ARM WALKS FOUR MILES TO DOCTOR

Francis Kelly, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, fell from a tree at the farm of Ernest Sillman in Grand Haven township a few days ago and suffered a broken arm. The little fellow walked all the way home, a distance of over four miles. Dr. DeWitt was called and the fracture was cared for. Francis was engaged in picking berries at the Sillman farm at the time.

OLD BALDHEAD WITNESSES A BIG DEMONSTRATION

THOUSANDS HEAR COMMUNITY CONCERT AT MACATAWA PARK.

Already early Friday afternoon small parties left on the Holland Interurban or by automobile for an afternoon and evening's recreation and incidentally to listen to the community concert of which Mayor Vandersluis is the leader.

At seven o'clock Superintendent Morgan of the Holland Interurban had nine extra coaches lined up on West Eighth St. to be used if necessary by the citizens of Holland. Besides the regulars the nine coaches were soon filled and standing room was at a premium. Notwithstanding this fact Mr. Morgan, who himself, was on the job, handled the crowd in excellent shape and without mishap.

Parking room at Macatawa was also at a premium and the Holland crowd together with the population of Holland's resorts represented a concourse of people never before seen at the foot of old Baldhead.

The big chorus was conveniently arranged on the large balcony of Hotel Macatawa with the surrounding hills acting as a sounding board and creating a natural amphitheater.

Unlike the evening when the chorus gave its first open concert on Hope College Campus, Friday evening was warm and balmy and the night was ideal for singing, which was proven by the excellent account the community chorus gave of itself.

When opening the program Mr. Vandersluis expressed his sympathy for the relatives of the persons who were injured and died in the awful tragedy of the day before and the Mayor said that had it been possible to cancel the day he gladly would have done so, but owing to the large number of people involved it was impossible to do so, however the program would be altered in some respects on account of it.

John Van Yven's orchestra opened the program after which the religious songs were sung, that played a very important part in the success of Holland's State Sunday school convention. In many instances patriotic songs were substituted for numbers that were eliminated in which the "fifty thousand people" according to the mayor, joined in.

The Hon. G. J. Diekema gave a fine talk in the middle of the program after which the hat was passed and many liberal donations placed therein. The fund no doubt will be started in order to keep up the Community Concert work in Holland.

Ann Arbor, Aug. 9—she stockinged co-ed has appeared on the University of Michigan campus. She wasn't bad looking and she was young, slender and attractive. On her feet she wore heel-less tennis shoes and what looked like flesh-colored stockings, except for the two mosquito bites mid-way from the shoe top to the bottom of her skirt, were not stockings at all. She didn't seem to attract much attention.

The conditions are exacting as he is not allowed to accept a ride or reach his destination in any other way except by walking every step. Should any person be able to prove that he has accepted a ride in a conveyance of any kind, such person will be given a reward of $50 and Robinson will be unceremoniously fired and will not be given pay for his trouble. But should he succeed in making the journey in the allotted time he will be given a snug sum of money besides his expenses. Party:—Hello Central, give me "One—Naught—Naught—Naught" I want to talk to my girl.
Central:—I wonder if she's as naughty as her number!

Stranger:—Hello information, I'm at the Pere Marquette Depot and want to get to the Knickerbocker Theater. Is it very far from here?
Information:—No, it's close, especially so, when you get inside.

Miss Vera Rich:—Hello, Miss Van Der Quilt, I heard you were engaged. Which suitor did you take, the baron or the count?
Miss Van Der Quilt:—I took the count.

Central (overhearing conversation)—So did Jack Johnson.

Frank:—Hello Chris, I thought I'd call you up tonight, somebody told me you were going to quit the company, and that you had accepted a new position.

Chris:—Yes, I'm going to be an insurance man.

Frank:—That's funny, the party told me you were going to accept a position as clerk on a submarine.

Chris:—I guess that party misconstrued my statement. I told him I was going to be an underwriter.

Party:—Can you please give the number of Van's Tobacco & Stogie Co.?
Central:—2-4-5.

Central:—What is your name, please?
Party:—Cornelius Cobb, but they call me Corn for short.

Central:—Oh, I see, Corn Cobb. I noticed your voice sounded rather husky.

Party:—I've always kept that name of Corn Cobb, because it's so easy to pronounce.

Central:—Yes, it's a pipe, isn't it?

Information:—Did you say that you wanted Dr. Leenhouts' residence?

Party:—Yes, try and get it for me as soon as possible.

Information (after party has waited ten minutes)—I called up the Real Estate Company, but they said it was not for sale.

Party:—Hello Information, I'd like to get the Down Town Garage.

Information:—So would I, wouldn't it make a lovely present?

Party:—Hello Information, will you please tell me how to spell the last part of Mr. De Pree's name? I don't know whether you spell it with an "A" or an "E". In fact I've found it a difficult name to spell.

Information:—Why, the last part of his name shouldn't be difficult to spell. I spell it with "E's" (with ease).

Author:—Hello Central, I've got a new riddle for you this morning, it deals with the study of grammar. "Give me a real long sentence containing but one short word."

Central:—"Life."
Author's Note:—I ought to get a life sentence for pulling a joke like that.

CAN'T TAKE PICTURES AT THE SOO

LOCAL PEOPLE FIND THAT OUT ON A RECENT AUTOMOBILE TRIP.

Three auto loads left Holland about two weeks ago and have returned after a trip up the Pike and returning thru the center of the state. The autos contained A. C. Keppel and family, Fred Boone and family, and Daniel TenCate and family. The trip to the Soo was uneventful but at the locks one of the ladies in the party was taking a snap shot of some steamers being sent thru the waterway when two soldiers quickly grabbed her preventing her from doing so and at the same time lecturing her for attempting it.

The party took the boat from Bay View to Mackinaw Island and then up St. Marie's river. In the St. Marie, the boat they were aboard of went slowly by one spot in the river and when the boat hands were asked why this was done they volunteered the information that two large freighters had come together during the winter, one loaded with wire and the other with lumber and they had sunk in mid stream with only a small part of the funnels sticking out of the water. The shipman said that divers were working in the hulls and for that reason no disturbance by other boats was possible and their boat practically drifted by the water-logged steamers. The party visited Sutton's Bay and several other places of interest. Mr. O. W. Dean of Benton Harbor and Miss Margaret Huntley, also accompanied the party.
