Fair Horse Show Is To Be A Headliner

AT LEAST 200 ENTRIES WILL BE DISPLAYED FRIDAY.
YOUNGEST HORSEWOMAN
IN MICHIGAN TO APPEAR

The Holland Fair Friday besides giving the biggest race card is to stage its annual fancy horse show. Charles Kirchen, chairman of the committee, states that over 200 entries will be slated when the public exhibition is made on the tan-bank track in the oval in front of the grandstand Friday.

One special feature will be the exhibition of little Miss Pearl Banks of Grand Rapids, a little lass of five years old, who is said to be the best little horsewoman in Michigan if not in the United States. She has a pony of four years old named "Julia Queen." This pony is 34 inches high and it is said that the young lady can do stunts with that pony that will be difficult for an equestrienne to negotiate. Miss Pearl will be seen Friday afternoon in the big ring.

Besides the tan-bank track there is a hunting course extending the complete inside course of the race track. Horses will be seen jumping the hurdles in that course and the obstacles built on the course way are a stone wall, a rail fence, a hedge, a snake fence, a farm gate and kindred obstacles to make it interesting. The race will have all the thrills that might be expected during a fox hunt to hounds.

It is rather interesting how this horse show has grown. Eight years ago a dozen horses had been entered, today there are 200, and at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when the show opens entries will be found from the following stables: Lansing, Detroit, Toledo, Muskegon, Battle Creek, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Fennville, South Haven, and Chicago. Holland also has horses, namely those of Charles Kirchen and others. Carter Brown of Castle Park has a string of 15 from his stables. "Bill" Eaton of Waukegan has five string. Horses from the John Blodgett stables, M. R. Bissell stables, Edith Osterly stables, Robert McFarlan stables, horses from the Boot and Saddle Club of Grand Rapids, from the Long Beach stables at Gull Lake and many others are entered.

Dr. John Hutton of Michigan State College, the best judge of horse flesh in this state, is to be the judge.

The steeplechase, as has been mentioned before, is to be a real exciting event Friday afternoon. Such an event has never been staged in Holland before although many such events have been seen in movie pictures and nothing in horse racing can equal it.

The men backing the horse show and who will be in charge of the events Friday will be Dr. John Hutton of M.S.C., judge; committee: Charles Kirchen, chairman; William Eaton, Carter P. Brown and M. Jay Vandebunte. The veterinarian is Dr. Prince.

The prizes will be a first, second, third, and fourth, ranging from trophies to ribbons and ranging from $20 and $15, to $5. The classes are as follows:

1. Spoon and egg race, children under 10 years.
2. Five galloped open.
3. Lightweights hunters 50% performance, 50% conformation. Jumps 3 ft. 6 inches.
4. Pony class for children under 10 years, not over 14 hands.
5. Three galloped under 15.2 hands. Walk, trot, canter.
6. Horseman for children under 16 years. Rider to saddle and bridle and follow judge's directions.
7. Oat race for children under 10 years.
8. Heavy and medium weight hunters. Same as class 3.
9. Three galloped under 15.2 hands. Walk, trot, canter.
10. Parent and child. Scored on performance and adaptability. Children under 16 years.
11. Jumpers over 4 ft. Performance only to count.
12. Jumpers over low fence. Children under 14 years.
13. Hunters over outside course.

A GOLD-PLATED STOVE A UNIQUE FEATURE IN FAIR ART HALL

The Holland Gas Co. has a splendid display in the southeast corner of the Art Hall of the local fair. However there is one feature of real interest, namely a gold-plated stove. This famous Round Oak Gold Stove was built in 1893 as an exhibit for the Columbian World's Fair at Chicago, an exposition visited by hundreds of Holland people at the time. This stove is an exact duplicate of the original model from which the first Beckwith Stove was built in 1871. The stove attracted so much attention at the World's Fair in Chicago that it was sent to Paris for exhibition there. From Paris it started on its journey that has taken it to almost every civilized country on earth. It was exhibited at the Pan-American Exposition, St. Louis Fair and it has been in State Fairs in every state of the Union, as well as thousands of county and city fairs, both here and abroad. It is safe to say that no other stove was ever viewed by as many people as this one, and many have seen it who had never before seen a stove of any kind. Now it is at the Holland Fair in the Art Hall.

Robert Arendshorst, Frank Lokker and Jacob Lokker were guests of Julian Arendshorst at Eaglecrest on Lake Michigan for a few days.

HAVE A LOOK

at all the varied exhibits at the Fair this week. The Zeeland Art Studio Booth stands out conspicuously as one of the finest displays we have seen in photography, also portraits in oil and water colors. Be sure to look them over. Itc.

ART HALL EXHIBITS ARE MANY

The Holland Fair is well filled with a diversified lot of exhibits, many merchants participating. The State of Michigan has a fish aquarium and a fur exhibit. The Ottawa County Good Roads is displaying large map of all the trunk lines in the county, demonstrates how roads are built, what material enters in and a great deal of road information.

Canned goods, baked goods, fancy work, paintings and curios are also found in the art hall.

Among the merchants who are displaying are the Jas. A. Brouwer Furniture Co., De Vries & Dornbos, Chevrolet Sales & Service, the Harrington Coal Co., Geo. Mooi Roofing Co., The Holland Gas Co., Geo. Electric Co., Ter Haar Auto Co., Knoll Plumbing Co., Viscer-Brooks, Inc., Henry Brink Book store, Peoples State Bank, Versluis Studio, Vandenberg Bros. Oil Co., Western Stoker & Equipment Co., Jean's Style Shop, and the De Pree Hardware and Furniture Co. of Zeeland.

HOLLAND FAIR NOTES

The Forest Grove Calf club is exhibiting 16 head of Holsteins, which is proving a leading attraction. The club consists of 10 boys, with Arnold Nyenhuis, leader, and all members on the grounds. The Georgetown Calf club is showing several head of Jerseys by the Andre boys.

The cattle exhibit is one of the best ever shown. Leading exhibitors include: Michigan reformatory, Ionia, 14 head Holsteins, including a 2,650-pound bull; DeKleine brothers, Zeeland, 14 head of milking Shorthorns, including Fairfield Bess, weighing 1,800 pounds, and Walnut Ridge Lad, a bull, weighing 2,500 pounds; Nyenhuis brothers of Forest Grove, 30 head Holsteins, including a first grand champion bull, weighing 1,800 pounds; Shaw brothers of Middletown, 17 head Holsteins, including a large prize winning herd at Michigan's larger fairs last year; Schoenbrothers of Conklin, 8 Guernseys; Sommer brothers of Eau Claire, 14 head Aberdeen Angus; L. C. Kelly & Son of Marshall, 1 head Polled Shorthorn, including champion white bull, weighing 2,400 pounds; D. Frank Bricker of Hicksville, O., 18 head Herefords, including Royal Repeater, weighing 2,400 and grand champion winner at eight state fairs; Noyes L. Avery of Eastman, Pa., 17 head Guernseys; R. D. Bancroft of Alto, 17 head Island breed Jerseys.

L. C. Kelly & Son of Marshall has on exhibition 50 head of sheep and rams, four different breeds, including a ram weighing 300 pounds, which last year took 12 championships at all state fairs from Dakota to Louisiana. R. J. and C. A. Williams of Middletown is showing 37 head of Suffolk sheep and rams, including champion prize winners at Ionia fair. Baker brothers of Decatur has entered 27 sheep and rams, which won 16 ribbons and buck and grand championships at Canadian fairs. M. E. Moore of Mason is showing 46 head of Rambleys, Delaines and Marinos.

The school exhibit, both city, village and rural, surpasses that shown at previous fairs. Boys and Girls clubs of various places in the county have entered attractive displays in handicraft, clothing, and farm products.

Superintendents in various departments state these will be filled to capacity. These include rabbits, doves, pigeons, guinea pigs, poultry, fruit and flowers.

Many silver cups will be awarded in addition to other premiums. D. L. Mieras will judge the rabbit show and Prof. J. A. Davidson of Oeland and Dr. L. E. Heasley of Grand Rapids will judge the poultry and pet stock show.

POLICE AND FIRE BOARD EMPLOY EXTRA POLICEMAN DURING FAIR WEEK

The police and fire commissioners met Monday evening in their regular session at the city hall. It was decided to place an additional man on the Holland police force during the Holland-Zeeland fair to care for traffic. At the request of the state highway department the turtle at the intersection of River avenue and Eighth street will be removed as a "menace to traffic." In its stead a white diamond will be painted at the center of the two thoroughfares. It was also ordered that a white line be painted down the center of the bridge over the Black River at the north limits on US31.

The commissioners refused the request of the Miller-Jones shoe store for a permit to erect an electric sign 48 inches high inasmuch as the ordinance restricts electric signs to 36 inches.

The board ordered a wreath of flowers to be sent to John Luidens, member of the police and fire board, whose son drowned Saturday night in Goshorn Lake.

Fennville schools are in readiness for the opening of school Sept. 2. Supt. Arthur B. Dewey has been at the University of Michigan for a summer course this year. A large enrollment is expected. Keith R. Landsburg, instructor in manual training and agriculture, is busy getting displays ready for the Allegan county fair.

The Kleinkeskel families of this vicinity held their third annual reunion Saturday at Green Lake. About 115 were present. A basket dinner was enjoyed, followed by a program.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Lanting and Mrs. H. Hyink and daughters Nettie and Esther motored to Toronto, Canada, where they are attending the wedding of Mrs. Hyink's son, Joseph.

Companionship Broken Thru Grim Reaper

INTERESTING DETAILS IN
LIVES OF MR. VANDER HOOP
AND MR. KOLLEN

The picture accompanying this article is that of Mr. Bert Vander Hoop to the left and Mr. John Kollen of Holland, old pals in Overisel for a number of years. The picture was taken by Dr. A. J. Brouwer on the Vander Hoop farm in Oakland a few weeks before Mr. Vander Hoop passed away in his 93rd year. The two men had been pals for nearly three-quarters of a century and they made frequent visits one to the other. There are a great many interesting details in the lives of both Mr. Kollen and Mr. Vander Hoop. The latter was born on April 1, 1838 in the Netherlands and surely it was not April fool's day when the ripe old age of Mr. Vander Hoop is considered. When 19 years old he came to America and almost immediately volunteered as a soldier in the Union Army of the Civil War. He served fully three years and though a very modest man it is known by the entire countryside that he was a brave soldier, coming out of the conflict very much battle-scarred. In one of the skirmishes a bullet entered his leg and after he was released from the camp hospital he immediately went into battle again when a ball entered his back and this ball he carried until his dying day. After enlistment the boys went to camp at Kalamazoo and of the 1100 volunteers who left that camp only 90 returned, the rest having died in battle, of disease, or in southern prisons.

Mr. Vander Hoop was for 30 days at Fort Erie, a southern prison, fought seven days straight in the battle of Murfreesboro. He was also in the skirmishes at Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, under General Hooker and later at Missionary Ridge. He was in the buffer ranks in the battle of Chickamauga Creek. During the intervals of that battle Mr. Vander Hoop related a very interesting incident. The boys hadn't had very much to eat during several days since the enemy kept them busy, but during a lull in the battle they were getting ready a mess of beans. The beans were ready for consumption when suddenly General Bragg with a large army of Confederate soldiers appeared, far outnumbering the Union men. There was nothing left to do but make a hasty retreat, leaving the succulent beans behind. It was at that juncture that Vander Hoop was shot in the leg and but for the timely aid of the late James Fairbanks of Holland and John Hendrick Slotman of Overisel, Vander Hoop would either have been killed or would have been taken prisoner, but his two companions put their arms around him and hustled him along for six miles. Vander Hoop jumping along on one leg, sustained by his two comrades.

Although escaping from the enemy, hunger stalked after them and for days Mr. Vander Hoop lay weakened from loss of blood and lack of food. This was on September 19, 1863. One can imagine the appalling loss of life when 19,000 Union men were killed in the battle of Chickamauga alone and the Confederate loss was even greater.

Mr. Vander Hoop was also with General Sherman on his march to the sea and he was very reluctant in giving a detailed account of this march because of the awful sights that he saw and the devastation found on every hand.

Mr. Vander Hoop enlisted from Overisel township on the 27th day of December, 1861, in Company I of the 18th Michigan Infantry under Captain H. C. Stoughton of Osego, Mich., and on the 17th day of January, 1862, was duly mustered into the military service for a term of three years, period as private. While the 18th regiment was being recruited at Kalamazoo the citizens there, full of enthusiasm, presented the men with a set of colors. These were ordered direct from New York but before the colors arrived the regiment had left for the battle front in Kentucky. They were quickly sent to the southland and were presented to the regiment at Nashville, Tennessee. Large gold letters, "Sams-Cremont," were emblazoned upon the banners. In 1864 when the regiment returned the flags, tattered and torn, were duly returned to the donors. These have since been delivered in the care of Michigan's depository and can be seen with the other flags in the state capitol building. These flags went with the men of the regiment through the most severe battles and were splattered with human blood and riddled with bullets after passing through the bloody conflicts at Stone River, Perryville, Missionary Ridge and Chickamauga. Three of the color bearers fell with the

The newly appointed poundmaster had 20 cows to give breakfast to last Sunday morning. Most of these Holland cows were driven in from the public square and from 10th and 12th street. The News has called attention often to cows running at large in Holland hooking down picket fences and entering gardens through open gates. Well, cow owners can now pay the poundmaster and get their animals back.

The body of young Stimson who fell from the steamer Heath off this port was found on the beach at the harbor.

The store and postoffice of G. Mokema at Graafschap was entered and money and stamps amounting to $20.00 were taken.

A team of horses of E. Brink of Graafschap were stolen and it is believed that the burglars who entered the Mokema general store also stole the team of Brink's. Note: The Mokema in question later became cashier of the First State Bank of Holland.

The new building for the State Commercial & Savings Bank at Zeeland will be ready for occupancy in about a month.

Joshua Lehman of Grand Haven, is a very busy man preparing for the coming Ottawa County Sunday School Association rally at Highland Park where 2,000 will attend for a summer meet. The Highland Park electric road has prepared 2,200 special tickets for the visitors coming from different parts of the county. Mr. Lehman is secretary and treasurer of the association. Note: Mr. Lehman today is a candidate for county treasurer. Jamestown is in an epidemic of small pox. Two died within the week. Mr. Jennie Hilsey and a brother-in-law, George Hilsey, Mrs. Hilsey contracted the disease in Rockford, Mich., where there is a great deal of small pox.

Flags and over 50 per cent of the regiment never returned and many lie buried in southern soil.

In 1860 Mr. Vander Hoop joined the United Presbyterian church of Drenthe. After the Civil war, in 1867, he was made an elder of that congregation and from that period up to the time of his death he has served as an elder, almost uninterruptedly. He lived in Oakland, Overisel township, on a farm, ever since he came to America. Four daughters were born, two are still living. The sons are Egbert of Holland and Albert of Oakland. The daughters are Mrs. Tom Straatsma of Holland, and Mrs. Yonker living in Iowa.

Mr. John Kollen, who now lives on East Twelfth street and who is the president of the Old Gentlemen Club who meet every morning in Centennial Park and adjourn at intervals for the "Koffee Kletz." Mr. Kollen was born in 1839 in the Province of Overisel, Netherlands. At the age of 12 he immigrated with his widowed mother, two brothers and two sisters to Overisel, Michigan, where they eked out an existence on a farm that they had to clear by cutting a stumping virgin forests. This was in the year 1851.

Mr. Kollen, after pioneering with his parent for a few years, returned to the Netherlands for a visit in which some business matters also entered. He then met his first sweetheart and it was agreed between them that the young man should first become well established in primitive Michigan. "The country of opportunity," and he should then come for her. Of course the parents of the young Dutch lass knew nothing of these contemplated plans.

A correspondence was kept up and in 1867 it was agreed that Mr. Kollen would come for her and they were to be wed in Europe. So John set out and in a shrewd, business like way he secured an agency to take 50 or more immigrants back to him on the return trip. This supplied Mr. Kollen with some very needed funds for the coming year.

When Mr. Kollen came for the "long-lived" family, his mother, who died in Overisel 15 years ago, was 101 years old. Mr. Kollen is now in his ninety-second year. Mr. Kollen was the brother of the late G. J. Kollen, for many years president and builder of Hope college. He was the father of the late George E. Kollen, prominent attorney in this city while he lived. Mrs. Arnold Mulder, wife of the former editor of the Holland Evening Sentinel and now on the Kalamazoo College faculty, is also a daughter. Another daughter met a tragic death two years ago on a motor trip in Florida. Altogether there were two sons and four daughters.

Officially Mr. Kollen was Justice of Peace in Overisel for a number of years and held other positions of trust in that township. He was both a farmer and a general storekeeper at Overisel for a number of years. For the past quarter of a century he made his home in Holland and is interested in many local enterprises and is a director in the Holland City State bank.

Dingenes Brandt, 94, one of Holland's oldest citizens, is in failing health. Brandt, head of five generations, has lived in Holland and vicinity 60 years. He was crippled in an accident about 35 years ago when he lost both legs about 6 inches below the knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Yntema of Eaglecrest were in Chicago for a few days.

The ferry steamer Post Boy burned to the water's edge at Macatawa. The fire started in the boiler room of the craft. The steamer Harvey Watson tied up near the Post was in danger of being consumed but for Capt. Beckman and Mr. Young who cast off the line and took her to safety. Capt. Austin Harrington together with Beckman and Young succeeded in saving the boat houses in the vicinity. The men fastened a line to the burning ship and hauled her into mid-lake where no further damage could be done.

There is to be a band concert and a balloon ascension beside the picnic sports. Note: This was the last Farmers Picnic held by the Holland Interurban and the Business Men of Holland. Every one came by auto and rig and few took the street car. The street car officials did not take up enough fares to pay for the party. It was the beginning of the end of interurbans but they were "great old days."

GAME LAWS DISTRIBUTED AT FAIRGROUNDS

Conservation Officer Maurice Kuite is at the fairgrounds in charge of the State fur display and the fish aquarium and he is found in the south section of the art hall. All kinds of furs of Michigan animals and traps and guns taken from illegal trappers and hunters are also found there. Besides several tanks of fish which include small and big mouth bass, brown and rainbow trout and many other Michigan game fish.

Mr. Kuite has the revised game laws in short form and hunters and trappers and those interested can get them for the asking at the fairgrounds. Mr. Kuite also has several road maps that he is passing out for the Michigan Conservation department.

ter, who also passed away about two years ago.

One of the amusing incidents that might have proved serious to some of the immigrants, Mr. Kollen witnessed on the return trip. A few of the many immigrants on board, it seemed, had stowed away a boy who they had confined in a box and who they fed at intervals during the trip. An accident happened to the ship, however, and the immigrants who had the boy hidden became much alarmed since there was a shortage of food. Excitement among the foreigners for fear the ship authorities might find out about the boy. The break in the boat was soon repaired, however, which saved the day and with the immigrants all on short rations there was enough food remaining to save the lad until he was safely smuggled into America.

The first ocean trip was made in a combination steam and sail boat, the voyage lasting 30 days. The second crossing on a steamer took but 12 days, which shows the advancement of transportation even at an early period.

Mr. Kollen comes from a "long-lived" family. His mother, who died in Overisel 15 years ago, was 101 years old. Mr. Kollen is now in his ninety-second year. Mr. Kollen was the brother of the late G. ## Holland Girls Excel in Fair Spelling Bee

ALLEGAN COUNTY HAS BEST
SPELLEERS FROM RURAL DISTRICTS. HOLLAND FAIR CONTEST SHOWS

The Holland Fair on Tuesday staged its spelling contest in the grandstand with County School Commissioner Gerrit G. Groenewoud of Holland, Miss Lida Rogers of Holland High and Chris De Jonge, principal of the Zeeland public schools in charge.

There were first prizes for $10, $3, and three $1 prizes for all rural pupils who excelled and the same prizes were given in the village division and also in the city division.

All children of Ottawa and Allegan counties who were enrolled in the sixth, seventh, or eighth grade during the school year 1929-1930 were eligible to compete.

In the city division Holland excelled, taking every prize. According to a compilation given by School Commissioner Groenewoud the following is the result.

CITY DIVISION

- First, Gladys Haisma, $10.00. From the City Public Schools.
- Second, Mildred Walberg, $3.00. From Van Raalte School, Holland City. She also won a second prize of $3.00 as second highest among the ten highest, $3.00.
- Third Place, Eleanor Smith, Froebel School, Holland.
- Fourth Place, Mae Nagelkerk, Washington School.
- Fifth Place, Nelva Bos, Froebel School.

The Rural division show the following results:

RURAL DIVISION

Lois Vorhorst took the First Prize in the rural division and also First Place among the fifteen winners or the three divisions. She is from Allegan County. She won last year also. This year she received $10.00 and $5.00.

Thelma Rainey took second money in the rural division. She is from near Fennville, Allegan County.

The girls who won out in the third and fourth place of the rural division left without giving their names and without obtaining their prizes. If the young ladies will report, the prizes can be obtained at the Commissioner's office.

Fifth Place, Price $1.00. Howard Langeland, Allegan County.

The Village division was not represented and children in that division were compelled to forego the prize money.

The total amount of prizes offered was $64.00. County School Commissioner Groenewoud, who conducted this spelling contest, stated that the words which seemed hard for the pupils to spell were the following: axle, isthmus, bureau, lovable, knuckle, prairie, souvenir.

The contest was given before an audience of at least 4000 and it was one of the interesting features on the first day of the fair.

FEDERAL INSPECTOR IS STATIONED AT HOLLAND WHARVES

The U. S. department of Agriculture, Plant Quarantine and Administration Control is stationing men at every port along Lake Michigan for the purpose of intercepting all corn, thus preventing any infected corn from being carried interstate to destinations outside the quarantine area. The entire state of Michigan is quarantined and every effort is being made to keep the borer from being carried further west and to control the infected areas of Michigan.

R. J. McIntyre, government representative for district No. 7, will be at Holland which is the headquarters for that district which extends from Benton Harbor on the south to Whitehall on the north.

Roy McAllister of Howell, Mich., is stationed at the local docks, where he will inspect all baggage and freight crossing the lakes. The inspectors are as courteous as possible and ask the co-operation of the traveling public.

REV. EDWARD H. TANIS ACCEPTS CALL TO CITY

Grand Rapids Press—Rev. Edward H. Tanis, pastor of Bethel Reformed church, Holland, is to be the new pastor at Immanuel Reformed church in Grand Rapids. He will assume charge of his new pastorate in September. He succeeds Rev. Jacob G. Brouwer, who left Grand Rapids to accept a charge at First Reformed church, Chicago.

Mr. Tanis has been pastor of Bethel church the past five years, having accepted the call to this parish following his graduation from Western Theological school in 1925. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Hope college in 1922. During his pastorate in Holland a new church at a cost of about $35,000 was built and the church membership was greatly increased. He received the call to the Grand Rapids church about four weeks ago and after much consideration decided to accept this larger charge. His congregation at Holland made special efforts to retain him as pastor.

Mr. Tanis is the seventh minister of Holland to come to Grand Rapids churches within the past five years.

Minard Weis of Conklin, Ottawa county, arrested by county officers Sunday for driving his car while intoxicated, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $100 and costs of $11.45 and sent to jail for 10 days. His driver's license was revoked for 90 days.

We used to know a story about a man who was walking about town looking for a cut-rate postoffice, but we've forgotten the fellow's nationality.

FAIR ATTENDANCE IS GRATIFYING

Tuesday of every Holland fair is rather slim financially, never more than $50 or $75, but Tuesday this year, in spite of the fact that all children went in free, the financial result was indeed pleasing. $189.70 was taken in at the grandstand and at the gate $389.50 or a total of $579.20. Tuesday's concession percentages were practically nothing before but this year the amount is rather flattering although it is too early to give a full check-up but it is expected that the total receipts for the day will be well over $650, when these are added to the above amount. And just think of it, more than 5000 children were made happy, not paying a penny to get into the grounds and seeing all the attractions at a nickel each.

Yesterday was Holland Day and while it was too early to check up as the News goes to press at 7 o'clock, it is estimated that if there is no rain that the total receipts for Wednesday's day and night fair will be well up with last year. If that is the case, considering Tuesday's fine showing, the Holland fair thus far is ahead of the game over other years with Thursday and Friday to hear from.

The weather man says fair weather tomorrow so it seems that at least rain will not hinder the coming of fair patrons much as we need the precious showers.

The Holland City News comes out tonight instead of Thursday night as has been the custom in order to give the local exhibition a parting boost.

Green Stamps Young "Kids" Undoing

Sheriff Steketee's officers were called to the Spring Lake Country Club at about 6 p. m. Friday to investigate the loss of $40 from a pocketbook which had been left in a parked car. Mrs. Clyde Finsdale of Grand Rapids, who is spending the summer at Highland Park, was attending the golf tournament and she told the officers she had left her purse, containing about $40 in her car, which was locked. When asked why she left the purse in the car she said the money was missing.

With the money she had a book of green stamps which was also missing. It was the green stamps which gave the officers their clue. Some of the boys, who were serving as caddies at the club told the officers they had seen a boy with a book of such stamps. They questioned a number of the boys and finally secured a good description of the boy with the green stamps. None of the boys at the club knew his name, but they told the officers the youngster was a Grand Rapids kid who had hitch-hiked to Spring Lake to try to get a caddy job.

Notifying the police bureau at Grand Rapids, they received word during the evening that the detectives had found the boy being sought. The lad was found to be Edmund Kryszewski, 16 years, and he confessed to taking the money, although he insisted that the car was not locked. He was brought to Grand Haven by the sheriff's men and will be arraigned in juvenile court. The money was recovered from the boy's shoe by the detectives.

Local Police Commissioner Loses His Son

YOUNG HOLLAND LAD MEETS
UNTIMELY END IN GOSHORN LAKE

Death entered the family circle of Mr. John P. Luidens, police commissioner for the second time within two years when his son Bastian Harris met his tragic death Saturday night in Goshorn lake, three miles north of Saugatuck. The lad with other boys had hitchhiked to nearby the lake on US31 and were late in arriving at this small inland body of water known to be a dangerous place for swimming beginners to start and it appears that the young man was not a strong swimmer.

It seems that the lad and four companions from Holland started swimming at dusk and when the group were dressing and getting ready to go back home they missed young Luidens. They searched the vicinity and found only his clothing and then they gave the alarm.

The Holland coast guards, with Capt. Tuft in charge, were soon on the scene and Sheriff Teel of Allegan was also notified and came directly to Goshorn lake to give aid. Conservation officer Maurice Kuite, of Holland, also joined the searching party.

After dragging for five hours under difficulties their efforts were rewarded early Sunday morning when the body was recovered and taken to Holland.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the home, 294 College avenue, with Rev. Albertus Pieters of the Western Theological Seminary officiating. Public service was held in the First Reformed church with Rev. James Mayer, pastor, in charge.

Interment took place in the family plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery where the mother was buried two years ago.

Bastian Harris Luidens, had he lived, would have been a graduate from Holland High next June. The young man was active in church circles, was a member of the Christian Endeavor society and was also a member of the First Reformed church.

He is survived by his father and two sisters, Caroline and Marion Luidens, and three brothers, Robert, Preston and John P. Luidens, Jr.

Council Meeting Held Earlier Because of Fair

HOLLAND FURNACE CO. ASKS FOR SIDETRACK PRIVILEGES

The council meeting this week was called one night earlier in order that the gathering would not interfere with Wednesday, Holland day, at the Fair. Most of the city fathers had made arrangements to attend the local exhibition. The meeting was short and some interesting details were discussed including a sidetrack to the Holland Furnace Co., the discontinuance of a crossing man at the P. M. tracks on River avenue, and also the matter of the Holland Crystal Creamery, said by dwellers in that neighborhood to have become odorous.

Closing Black Lake to bathers also came up.

The complete council proceedings as compiled by City Clerk Oscar Peterson follows below:

Holland, Mich., August 19, 1930. The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Brooks, Alds. Kleis, Prins, Brieve, Wolman, Hyman, Vandenberg, Steffens, Habing, Postma, Jonkman and Thomson, and the Clerk.

Devotions were led by Ald. Kleis, Chaplain.

by ARTHUR BARNES

Mr. Coolidge Sees Hope
Hawks, Champion Flyer
Surprising Barbarians
Mr. Hoover Will Work

Mr. Coolidge, writing for a new paper syndicate, observes the educational effects of modern inventions. "Now all kinds of cars with people from all sections are circulating all over the country. Another important influence is the radio. A third is the motion picture. These influences have supplemented the schoolhouse in banishing ignorance."

On the other hand, these new inventions do not appear to have increased mental concentration. It is what the individual thinks in solitude, not what he gazes at in a crowd, that makes him worth while.

Milton, Roger Bacon in his blindness in prison, Bunyan in jail, Voltaire and Mirabeau in the prison of the Bastille, developed excellent ideas.

Life should not be spent with the radio turned on or the automobile engine "purring" always.

According to the police, Chinese "tong" men in New York are learning racketeer methods from the West. Gentlemen of one tong sometimes kill gentlemen of another tong, and hitherto each tong had done its own killing.

It isn't so among modern gangsters and racketeers. They hire somebody, usually a youthful cocaine victim, to do the killing, and put the doomed man "on the spot." The killer shoots, not knowing the name of his victim or why he is killed.

Following this excellent idea, New York's On Leon Tong hired two young white men to murder seven enemies of a rival tong. The white youths told the police. Three Chinese and one Filipino arrested, six guns, several hundred rounds of ammunition seized.

Robert Kronfeld, Austrian glider flyer, better his own world record, gliding 94 miles in a storm. Others feared to glide in such weather, but Kronfeld went up, "hooked on to a white cloud," as he put it, and, carried by the wind that carried the cloud, he went sweeping 94 miles over the mountains.

No wonder gliding attracts romantic youth! Who would have dreamed a few years ago, looking at the clouds, that a man would go up on a frail board, "hook on to one of the clouds and sail with it?"

Capitan Hawks is now the world's champion flyer, and has beaten all records across the continent westward and back again. Higher than Los Angeles to New York in 12½ hours, he beat Colonel Lindbergh's record by 2½ hours, and his engine was never "wide open" on the trip.

Describing how he "loped along at 250 miles an hour" between Albuquerque and Wichita before a tail wind, he said he hoped to make the crossing in shorter time later this fall when conditions are better. Three thousand miles in twelve and a half hours is not bad. At that rate of speed you could fly around the world in less than five days. Jules Verne never thought of that.

Having given the Afridis twenty-four hours' notice, the British air men bomb their defense towers and many houses, knocking them down as children would overturn a house of sand.

The barbarians were surprised to see how one small bomb could destroy what they considered "an im pregnable fortress."

What will happen to western civilization if the barbarians decide to build planes for their own use? What would happen if our highly civilized friends of Asia decide to stop fighting each other and attack through the air somebody in the West?

President Hoover gives up his western vacation trip, much needed, to remain in Washington for the rest of the hot season, directing the drought relief campaign.

The trip to the Glacier and Yellowstone national parks is postponed for a year.

There are two bad features to the drought. First, the lack of rain prevents the growth of crops; second, the lack of moisture encourages insect life, promoting diseases that destroy plants.

All countries except Russia, Italy and France, complain of unemployment. Canada is worried about 200,000 out of work. Their trouble is small compared with our idle 5,000,000. The worst is not the unemployment, but the fact that nobody, from the government down, knows what is the matter with the world.

On the Hudson, near Sing Sing prison, four persons in a sinking boat were in danger of drowning. Four convicts, sentenced to long terms, with many years of prison life ahead of them, asked for a chance to save those in danger, saying: "We will come back." The guards wisely consented. The convicts saved the four, and they did come back to serve out their terms.

There are thousands in prison that with a better chance in youth would have been useful men. There are thousands living in luxury that would be in prison if their childhood had been the same as the average convict's childhood.

Monseigneur Lavelle, acting double as an instructor of his superior, Cardinal Hayes of New York, renders public service by denouncing immorality in the Church.

AFRICA URGES U. S.
TO ENFORCE LAWS
TO SAVE WILD LIFE

Africa reaches across the sea to bring a message of conservation of wild life to the citizens of the U. S., according to announcement of the American Game Protective Association. Charles ("Bud") Cottar, Jr., big game hunter and guide of Nairobi, Kenya Colony, East Africa, called on Mr. Carlos Avery, president of the association, recently. He said that Africa is copying many of the better game conservation and restoration ideas of the U. S., and then putting them into better practice than has been done here.

"Because of our strict enforcement of the law and other conservation measures, Africa has stemmed the tide of slaughter that was fast depleting big game there. For the last five years, owing principally to the enforcement measures copied from the U. S., big game is holding its own, possibly increasing. For ten years prior to that it was decreasing rapidly," Mr. Cottar declared.

"One of the principal ideas copied from the U. S. was the prohibition of night hunting. At night big game seeks the water holes. There it was easily killed. Now the hunter must really hunt and it is not so easy to get within range of game in daylight. The effect of this measure is apparent.

"Our game departments are better organized, they are larger and they are spending more money each year to protect game; the colonies pay for the maintenance of these game departments.

"Better organization and enforcement of laws will do much toward restoring wild life," Mr. Cottar said.

Among the notables guided by Mr. Cottar in hunting expeditions were the Duke and Duchess of York, he said.

AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

Camera roller-coaster enabled Edgar MacGregor and Nick Grinde to obtain unusual football action talkies for "Good News," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen adaptation of the big musical comedy hit, which will open Monday at the Holland theatre, for three days, Aug. 25-26-27.

After rehearsing the plays of the game with members of the University of Southern California football squads, the directors followed the action with carpenters and built a board railway, from which cameras and microphones kept every play in close focus.

The plank camera route included sharp curves, rises and falls, which afforded youngsters in the neighborhood much joy when the film company departed, the roller-coaster furnishing unlimited potentialities to the juvenile minds.

Bessie Love has the leading role in the collegiate musical-movie and the supporting cast includes Mary Lawlor, Stanley Smith, Cliff (Ukelele Ike) Edwards, Gus Shy, Frank McGlynn, Dorothy McNulty, Billy Taft, Tom Jackson and Delmar Daves.

A farewell dinner was held at the Holland Country Club Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James De Pree, who will soon leave the city to make their home in South Bend, Indiana. Twenty-four guests were present. Bridge was enjoyed after the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. De Pree were presented with a beautiful gift.

The Monica Society will hold a baked goods sale in the De Vries and Dornbos store Saturday, August 23.

Waukazoo Girl IS RECOVERING

Miss Jeannette Doornhein is convalescing at her parents' summer home in Waukazoo. While taking a post-graduate course at the University of Chicago she was hit by an automobile and seriously injured. In an unconscious condition she was quickly carried into the University hospital, where an x-ray revealed a broken leg, a fractured vertebrae and a severe scalp wound with concussion of the brain. Her wonderful recovery was undoubtedly due to the splendid medical attention she received at this hospital from the best specialists in the middle west, who are on the hospital staff, and she will be able to resume her work this fall as art supervisor in the public schools of Belvidere, Illinois.

Miss Doornhein was the first baby born in Waukazoo, where she has spent every summer since her birth with the other members of her family. This outdoor life, resulting in good health, contributed largely to the quick recovery from her recent accident.

CRISP

The farm of J. Vander Zwaag yielded 1824 bushels of wheat after threshing. J. Diekema, who has been conducting a threshing outfit for 48 years did the work. Plowing for fall sowing of wheat has begun.

The rain of the forepart of last week did much for corn and potatoes but oh, we could stand so much more.

Farmers along the entire countryside are planning to go to the Holland Fair Thursday or Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hemmeke have been on a motoring trip around Lake Michigan. They report a most delightful trip.

Thoughtful juveniles at Crisp remembered Miss Merle Alma Hop on her seventh birthday. The party was planned by the mother, Mrs. Edward Hop. It was a happy afternoon of party games and outdoor frolics followed by refreshments and these were served by Mrs. Ed Hop, Miss Anna Geerts and Mrs. Maurice Luidens. Those young folks present were Marian and Josephine Slagh, Marian Jean Timmer, Mildred Van Den Zwaag, Mae Groenewoude, Geneva Diekema, Evelyn and Hermine Nienhuis, Jean Ruth Slagh, Alma Deane Brower, Esther Mae and Marian Nienhuis.

John Mrok, 13, narrowly escaped death Friday when he was accidentally shot by Earl DeKoeper, 13, the bullet passing through his shoulder. Mrok was rushed to Holland hospital where it was reported the wound was not serious. Mrok, DeKoeper, and Charles Driscoll, 10, were tramping through the woods on the north side when they spotted an automobile owned by Ralph Dekker. Peering into the machine they spotted a pistol. They began shooting at a tree and Mrok was shot.

The rural teachers of Allegan county will have their annual roundup meeting at the high school auditorium in Allegan Saturday, Aug. 30, at 1:30 p. m.

Peter Ruppe was buried Monday from Benson's chapel in Allegan. Burial in Hudson Corners cemetery.

The drilling of the oil well on the John M. Tobin farm, two miles north of Allegan, is being done with renewed vigor. The well is now nearly 1,200 feet and the drill has entered a red rock formation that the operator, H. P. Manion, believes is indicative of oil. This rock formation is reported to be at a higher point than at other places in the state.

HIGH PRICE OF POTATOES SEEN DUE TO DROUGHT

Potato prices in Michigan, this year, probably will be well above the five-year average in this state, Verne H. Church, federal agricultural statistician forecast today. Widespread drought has curtailed the crop not only in Michigan but throughout the country. An estimated nation-wide production of 373,000,000 bushels is forecast.

This is only 3 per cent greater than the short crop of last year and 5 per cent below the average of the previous five-year period. The estimate for Michigan is 25,037,000 bushels, or 88.5 per cent normal.

BEAVER COLONY IS FOUND IN STREAM NEAR ALLEGAN

Beavers have re-established themselves on a stream within seven miles of the city, according to John H. Killmaster, principal of the Allegan High School who recently discovered the colony.

The newcomers evidently have been on the stream only a short time. All cuttings are fresh, and no work has as yet been started to form a dam. Harry Plots, Allegan county conservation officer, is of the opinion the beavers found their way into this district by way of the Kalamazoo River, perhaps following the shore of Lake Michigan from some northern habitat to the mouth of that stream. Beavers have not been seen near there for 60 years.

MISS KRAMER TAKES PART IN RECITAL

Miss Gertrude Kramer gave a joint benefit recital with Edward Dwight Mosher, baritone soloist of Detroit, at Centerville, last week. The recital funds were for the First Methodist Church of that city. Miss Kramer rendered several solo numbers and accompanied Mr. Mosher in all of his selections.

Miss Kramer is one of Holland's leading musicians. She has been instructor in piano at the School of Music in New York for three years and in the fall will again take up work there. Early in her career, while she was in Holland, she studied under Mrs. Martha Robbins of this city. Later she attended the Columbia School of Music of Chicago for one year and studied piano under Harold Bauer's assistant at New York City for three years.

OAT YIELD PER ACRE IS HIGHEST IN HISTORY

The highest yield of oats in the history of the state was reported to the farm crops department of Michigan State College today. Ellis Aldrich, a farmer living near Fairgrove, in Tuscola county, harvested six acres of oats for a yield of 126 bushels an acre. The previous state record was 110 bushels made three years ago and the ten-year average yield for the state is 33 bushels.

NEW SURFACE CONDENSER IS BEING INSTALLED

Mr. Roy B. Champion, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, has announced that the new $28,000 surface condenser is being installed.

The condenser contains 1,666 tubes of seven-eighths inch brass tubing, which provides 6,850 square feet of condensing surface.

Two pumps, part of the regular condensing equipment, supply the machine with 7,450 gallons per minute which amounts to 3,278,000 gallons per day. This approximates the maximum water supplied to the city in one day.

Both pleaded guilty in circuit court and were sentenced by Judge Fred T. Miles. Smith stole an engine from a boat at Saugatuck and Porter violated his parole while a minor after having been convicted of breaking and entering.

FORMER GROCERY MAN PASSES AWAY

Henry J. Olert, 76, passed away Sunday morning at the Holland hospital after an illness of several months. He was born in Hanover, Germany, but has been a resident of Holland for more than 45 years. He was in the retail grocery business for a great many years and retired 12 years ago. He has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Peter Veltman, 229 West Twentieth street, for the past year.

The deceased is survived by four daughters and two sons. They are Mrs. Ben Veltman, Mrs. Peter Veltman, Mrs. Nelson Poel, Miss Ella Olert and John Olert of Holland and Rev. Frederick H. Olert of Paducah, Kentucky. One brother, Mr. F. H. Olert of Hanover, Germany, also survives.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Peter Veltman, 229 West Twentieth street, with Rev. Daniel Zwier officiating, and at 3:30 from the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, Rev. L. Veltkamp officiating. Interment took place in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

ZWEMER REUNION

Dr. S. M. Zwemer and family, who are here for the Pine Lodge conference, were honored at a family reunion Monday afternoon. The descendants of the Reverend Adrian Zwemer, pioneer dominie of this community and father of Dr. Zwemer, gathered at Tunnel Park at that time to honor Dr. Zwemer. A brief program was rendered and a bounteous supper was served. Sports and general visiting was also part of the program. Benjamin Neerken of Zeeland, the senior of the group, related early incidents in the Zwemer family history.

Dr. Zwemer is the only surviving son of "Domine Zwemer." He has served the church in the Mohammedan fields in Arabia and Egypt for many years, and now fills a chair in Princeton Theological Seminary. The surviving daughters are Miss Nellie Zwemer, Miss Henrietta Zwemer, Mrs. Benjamin Neerken of Zeeland, Mrs. Albert Strabbing of Holland and Mrs. Christine Joldersma of Grand Rapids.

Those present at the reunion were Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Zwemer and daughter Mary of Princeton, New Jersey; Misses Nelle and Henrietta Zwemer, Rev. and Mrs. Albert Strabbing, Mrs. Anna K. Zwemer and daughters, Dr. S. C. Nettinga and family, all of Holland; Mrs. Christine Joldersma of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Neerken and daughter Anna of Zeeland; Mr. and Mrs. John Van Huis and family of Macatawa and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strabbing and family of Hamilton.

GRAND HAVEN GROUP OF 350 AT PINE LODGE

Monday night was Grand Haven-Spring Lake night at the Pine Lodge Bible conference, being held for a period of 11 days on Black Lake. People from that community to the number of fully 350 motored to the conference grounds, with practically every evangelical church in Grand Haven and Spring Lake represented.

The music Monday night was furnished largely by musicians from the First Reformed church in that city. A quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Swart, Mrs. Sidney Justema and Orrie Wanaar sang, and a duet number was sung by Mrs. Van Doorne and Miss Van Doorne of Grand Haven.

An address was given by Rev. Samuel Zwemer, now of the faculty of Princeton Theological seminary, who for more than thirty years was a missionary in Arabia and Egypt, and served for years as the editor of "The Moslem World." Another interesting speaker was Rev. Clelland B. McAfee, one of the prominent clergymen in the Presbyterian church, who is perhaps one of the most popular conference speakers in the United States.

The Pine Lodge conference which is held at an attractive site on the shore of Black Lake, has proved very successful this year, and among the pleasant features are the Community Nights such as the one in which Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Zeeland, Holland, and other church people have participated in. Monday night was Grand Haven's night and the representation was large.

FIFTEEN CHILDREN ATTEND PARK WAY PLAY SCHOOL

The Park Way Play School came to a close last week after a six week's session. The school was in charge of Miss Margaret Van Leeuwen of Holland, who is a student at the National Kindergarten at Chicago. Miss Van Leeuwen was assisted by Miss Helen Johnson, a student of Hope College.

The program which was followed every day is as follows: Each child drank a glass of water every morning before starting play. Then the children played outside until 10 o'clock when they were given a glass of orange juice. From 10 o'clock to 10:15 was rest period. From 10:15 to 10:30 was rest period. During the last few weeks a kindergarten band was organized. Each child had an instrument and a leader was also chosen. From 10:45 until 11:30 o'clock the children worked with clay, painted or colored pictures, and also built with blocks or played in the doll corner. At 11:30 the children were sent outside to play until 12 o'clock when their parents came for them.

DR. HEYNS AGAIN HEADS HOLLAND'S CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS

Dr. Garrett Heyns will again assume the superintendency of the Christian schools for his third year with the opening of the fall term. Dr. Heyns has made an able supervisor of schools and Holland is pleased to have him remain. With one exception the entire corps of 21 teachers will return.

HILLSDALE CHAPTER OF WALTON LEAGUE TURNS OVER 84 ACRES TO MICHIGAN BODY

What eventually will become among the largest bass and bluegill rearing ponds in Michigan were secured by the Conservation Commission when it voted to accept a deed to 84 acres of land near the city of Hillsdale. The Hillsdale county chapter of the Izaak Walton League has raised $4,900 for the purchase of the land and will turn the property over to the Department of Conservation which will develop and operate the ponds. About 60 of the 84 acres are suitable for ponds. The property is but a mile and a half from the city on what is known as the Emery Mills Creek Site.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

The following were fined $10 each for speeding: Francis Gerlacker, William Waley, Ignatius Weiss, Ed Skerrip, Ed Loveridge and Max Allbin. Harvey Matman drew a fine of $5 for speeding. Peter Mulder was fined $3 for failure to stop at a stop street, while Dan P. McDonald drew a fine of $34.15 for reckless driving.

Edner Slaght left for California Monday morning.

Van Eyck Calls To Mind Early Day Ship Wreck

SCHOONER EUPHEMIA FOUNDERS OFF HOLLAND HARBOR IN 1859

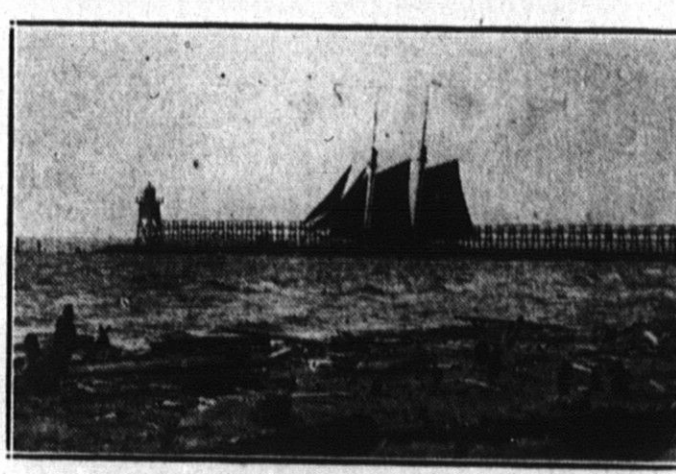

In That Storm Capt. Claussen of Singapore and His Crew Are Lost

Below will be found at some length a Holland Lake story of the early days. The early history of this wreck as compiled by Mr. Van Eyck is filled with pathetic incidents, narrow escapes, mutiny and hellish looting of a ship while sailors were dying. Here it is:—

The story of the wreck outlined in this article comes to us from that fog-period of our local history which extends from 1850 to 1871, the newspapers of which were almost all destroyed in the fire of 1871, and most of the events of which lie in a twilight-zone, not far from oblivion. Not a scrap of printed evidence bearing on the tragedy was available here in Holland; all that led to the rediscovery of the wreck was a line or two in Beer's Great Lakes, which spoke of the loss of the Euphemia with six men off Black Lake in May, 1859. This information, far from being definite as to identity and location, was strong enough to lead to further investigation; with results, not satisfactory in some particulars, yet definite and very conclusive.

After obtaining the published evidence later quoted, I interviewed three of our old sailors, all over 85 years old. Mr. Jacob Kraai remembered hearing the reports of the wreck, and he also says that his father, Thomas Kraai, assisted in rescuing the survivor, Mr. Ver Planke also remembered the survivor and his slow recovery. Mr. Gerrit S. Doesburg, the third sailor questioned, was more specific; and minor particulars aside, his report was substantially correct. No wonder; he was one of those on the beach at our harbor that May morning of 1859, when the wreck was discovered. As Mr. Doesburg's newspaper reports found, it is not surprising to quote him at length; although his recollections of the disaster were very distinct. He says, "Whether I was a sailor in 1859 or not, I do not know; but I was at the harbor that morning in May, 1859. From shore we could see something bobbing up and down. It looked like a cat or a dog, but through the glass we saw it was a man, about four miles west of us. The sea was rough; but the yawl-boat of the 'Commencement' rescued the man, who was taken to Holland and lodged for weeks at Vander Veere's hotel, the Grand Haven House, until he recuperated. Capt. Claussen's vessel was a schooner, and was probably one of the boats from St. Clair Flats or from Detroit Flats. From reports it seems that the deckload of the Euphemia was too heavy, and hence she capsized in the storm."

At the time of the wreck, Holland harbor was building, and many men were at work there. The storm had thrown two of Mr. Plugger's schooners on the beach—the Union of Chicago, Capt. Mass, while loading outside, broke her anchor chain and went on the beach south of our harbor; the Commencement (probably Capt. L. J. Van Die), coming from Chicago, missed the harbor and got on the beach north of the pier. These vessels were soon unloaded, and with the help of the Almira of Racine, soon gotten off. Plugger's third schooner, the Three Sisters, Capt. Pagelson, had, by good luck, returned to Chicago in time to escape the storm. Mr. Plugger, at that time, also operated a large store at the northeast corner of 8th and Market streets, where the Tavern is now located. He was the Dodge or Wanamaker at Holland those days. His three cargoes were saved from the storm of May, 1859; while his friend, Capt. Claussen, lost cargo, vessel, and his life.

The report of the loss of the Euphemia got abroad as follows: "A friend relates—a sloop, name unknown, built scow-fashion, supposed to be laden with lumber, was capsized in a furious gale of wind last Friday on Lake Michigan, about 20 miles south of Grand Haven. Six on board, Capt. Claussen also. Saturday all except one drowned. The one was rescued by a boat from shore. The wreck was visited by fishermen, who stripped her, and refused to take the survivor, whom they told to go to hell."—G. R. Enquirer.

In the June 2 issue of the same paper, is found the whole story copied from the Holland Register of May 31. The reference is to the Ottawa Register, a paper then published in Holland by Doesburg & Sons, with H. D. Post as editor. (The Register was started in 1857, and discontinued sometime in 1861, after the War broke out. Mr. R. Doesburg of this city has what seems to be the only complete copy of that paper now in existence—the issue of May 14, 1861.) Mr. Post's story of the loss of Capt. Claussen and his vessel is doubly interesting, as the story of the wreck at first hand, and as one of the few remaining articles from the long lost Ottawa Register.

"From the Holland Register of May 31, 1859—On Saturday, May 29, (Mr. Post was in error; Saturday was May 28—V. E.) the crew of the Schr. Commencement, which was beached during the late gale, describes some floating wreck off Black Lake. One of them on going up to the mast head, made it out to be a vessel, and thought he saw a man on it. Although the lake was still rough, the Commencement yawl was immediately manned and got ready. Vinke and Bosma's fishing boat and the 'Swallow' of Mr. Boot followed, which returning to shore took the yawl in tow. On reaching the wreck, it proved to be the Schr. Euphemia, Capt. Claussen, which left here Thursday morning (May 26), loaded with lumber. Only one man was on her, being the sole survivor of a crew of six persons. The sailor who was rescued was in a most pitiable state, and could not have survived another night. He was badly bruised, his limbs were very much swollen, and he was nearly exhausted with cold and starvation. He was brought to Holland and is now slowly recovering.

"He relates to us the following particulars—Capt. Claussen brought the schooner, which he had just purchased, from Detroit, having shipped his crew at that port. The persons on board were Capt. Frederick Claussen, Mate Griffin, a cook and three sailors—one Swede named John, another also named John, and the rescued man, Peter Hammitt. The cook belonged in Detroit, and his mother is a blind woman depending upon her daughter for support. They loaded deep with lumber, nearly all on deck, and cleared from Black Lake at about 9 o'clock Thursday morning. It soon commenced blowing a gale from N.W. Between 3 and 4 P. M. the wind shifted to S.E. of E. About 11 P. M. they reefed her sails, and at 2 A. M. Friday (May 27) they got in all their canvas and wore ship. At about 4 A. M. they saw land. They had lost the centre-board chain, so that the centre-board was down to full depth, and they could not get it up. At about 5 A. M. the vessel capsized, and lay only about five minutes on her beams end, when her masts broke away and came alongside, and she went over bottom up. When she first capsized the crew hung to the weather side, except the cook and another who were washed off by the sea, but who caught pieces of lumber and floated off. As she went over bottom up the captain and Hammitt caught in the fore-rigging and held on, and the two remaining men got on the keel. They did not stay long, but caught pieces of lumber, and he saw them still floating for an hour or more. He thinks one of them was still in sight as late as 1 P. M. The main boom fell on Capt. Claussen's thigh and left arm, and injured him very much, perhaps breaking his thigh; though he could not tell. Hammitt got him out as well as he could and lashed him fast. He died at Hammitt's side about three hours after receiving the injuries. Some time after he was dead, the main mast was thrown round by the sea and crushed him, and not long after, the lashings gave way, and his body washed away."

"At night they were near shore. A black boat with eight men in it came to the wreck and commenced plundering it, taking off the mainmast and some ropes. He begged them to take him off; but they rowed away and left him without replying. Saturday morning, a boat, the same he thinks, came to her again; he says the wreck was near a dock or pier, and they again commenced plundering and again left him to perish. The wreck again drifted off; and about 10 o'clock he was rescued as first stated, having been exposed to the sea and storm, without food for thirty hours.

"We can hardly believe there are beings in human form who would refuse to rescue a fellowman from death; and hope it will prove otherwise. But if this is true, the villains are found, then they ought to be summarily tried in Judge Lynch's court."

"Frederick Claussen, whose melancholy death by shipwreck we give an account of elsewhere, was a native of Hamburg, and must have been at the time of his death about 50 years of age. He was a ship carpenter, and while working at his trade in the city of London, married his wife, who survives him. He came to America some fourteen years ago and purchased a farm between L'Amoreaux's place at Richmond Bridge and the Colony. Finding it impossible to make a living at farming, he became engaged as a common sailor on a lumber vessel. He next took command of the schooner, Bowen, a small lumber vessel belonging to the Messrs. Carters of Singapore. Being prudent and industrious, he soon saved enough to purchase, in company with another, the Schooner Ark. He continued to invest his gains in vessels, owning at one time quite a fleet; and for a time accumulated property very rapidly. But by the unlucky purchase of a vessel which proved nearly a dead

HOLLAND BOYS MAKE LAKE TRIP BY SAIL BOAT

Mr. Henry Van Steenwyk and Mr. Chris Van Andel have left in their sailing-auxiliary yacht "Dolphyn" for an extended cruise along Lake Michigan shores. They intend to visit all ports of interest on the trip and also visit surrounding territory. They left Holland on Thursday, August 13th, and intend to return when they tire of the sport. The "Dolphyn" is fitted out with all the up-to-date conveniences including a radio. A card received by John Van Andel, who is the father of Chris, found them headed for the port of Whitehall. The weather and wind is excellent and in their favor.

loss, and by falling into the hands of one of the Chicago business men who plucked him without mercy, he went back nearly to his starting point, and lost all his vessels. Last winter he negotiated for the purchase of the Euphemia, designing to run her himself in the Black Lake trade, for which she was peculiarly adapted. He was compelled to encumber all or nearly all the property he had left to get her; and on the first trip lost both his vessel and his life.

"He leaves a widow and five small children with very scanty means of support. Capt. Claussen was respected and esteemed by all who knew him, as an honest, industrious and upright man, an enterprising public-spirited citizen, and an affectionate husband and father. We trust that we do not need to make an apology to our readers for taking up so much space with this memorial to one of the pioneers in the shipping interests of the Eastern Shore."

In De Hollander of June 2, 1859, are found the additional facts that the "Union" was on the beach; that the Euphemia was loaded with lumber from Howard's Saw mill; that Capt. Claussen, with broken thigh and arm, and his head literally crushed, begged that notice be given his wife and little children at Singapore, and that he expired in the attitude of prayer; that the survivor Peter Hammitt was in such condition that his mind was wandering and he deluded.

Most of the facts in regard to the loss of the Euphemia rest upon the testimony of Mr. Hammitt, confidence in whose statements was weakened by his deplorable mental condition caused by his sufferings. That Mr. Post had doubts as to the reliability of some of Hammitt's statements is clear. And De Hollander of June 9 says that the wreck of the Euphemia, much damaged, had come ashore three miles north of the harbor, keel up; "but the mainmast is there; thus not stolen." The theory of plundering and of refusing to rescue was evident from a statement as to it has come further evidence as to it has come into my hands. Investigations led to nothing. Later on stories were made. But, without doubt, the story of the wreck of the 3-master Milwaukee, in Nov. 1842, between Saugatuck and Holland, loaded with flour, reopened the stories of mutiny and rebellion, which were later made the basis of the stories of mutiny on the Euphemia. However, the heavy deck load and the terrible sea are enough to account for the disaster, without insubordination or mutiny.

Capt. Claussen, as Capt. Gundersen tells us, sailed, and owned with Thos. Sims of Chicago, the Schr. Ark in 1851-2. It is believed that Sims and Claussen owned the Schr. Venus, which was considered as having Holland as its home-port after 1853. Some say that Claussen at one time owned the Wm. Tell, and was its captain. It is known that when Vande Luyster and others in 1847 bought the Colony Vessel—the Knickerbocker—they consulted Capt. Claussen. In fact, the connections between the Holland Colony and Saugatuck-Singapore were very close in our early days; many of our immigrants came here by way of Chicago-Saugatuck. Let us not forget Morrison, Wells, Claussen, and other Kalamazoo Valley benefactors of our early settlers.

Capt. Claussen owned, I believe, at the time of his death, a place on the Kalamazoo River, about midway between Saugatuck and Saugatuck, and had a dock of some kind there called Claussen's wharf. At any rate, he and his family were well known in that vicinity for years.

In 1859 Capt. Claussen's vessel belonged to the Holland fleet; and for that reason, as well as for his services to Van Raalte, Post and others in the early days of Holland, I need not apologize to the readers for calling their attention to his life and his tragic death. May Saugatuck also, in her Centenary, not forget Capt. Frederick Claussen; for he was indeed one of the great vessel-men of his time on the Eastern shore.

Mason Youth Kills Self at Ottawa Beach

JOHN L. DEAN, COLLEGE OF MINES STUDENT, MISSING SINCE MONDAY, FOUND DEAD IN SHALLOW GRAVE

Digging his own grave under some vines on the highest point of land at Ottawa Beach and covering himself to the chest with two feet of sand, John Lee Dean, young mining student, shot himself in the temple with a .22 revolver some time Monday, it is believed. The body was found late this afternoon in the woods a half mile north of the state park at Ottawa Beach and Rueli W. Kruse, Lansing, and Fred Dykhuys and the young man's father, Alonzo P. Dean, who had come to search for the youth.

Young Dean, who was 22 years of age and a student at the Michigan School of Mines and Technology, had been camping alone on the oval several weeks, as he had done every summer for three or four years. He was last seen by park official Upham Monday morning walking on the beach in a bathing suit and sweat shirt, by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cook, Holland, who had a tent next to his.

The evening before Dean had had supper with the Cooks and was in the best of spirits at the time but had been seen brooding at times as he sat in his auto parked in the oval.

When he did not return to his tent Monday night the Cooks reported him missing to state police and coast guards and search was made for him by the state police, and Coast Guards Neil Syerama and Fred Dykhuys. His parents were notified and Mr. Dean came up bringing Kruse with him.

Every inch of the beach was searched, as it was believed he had been drowned. Finally Kruse and Dykhuys, widening the search, made the gruesome discovery on the wooded hill, the partially buried body with the ghastly hole in the temple, the revolver lying beside the young man's head.

Coroner Gilbert VanDeWater, Holland, was called and said the wound was self-inflicted and no inquest was necessary. No cause for the act could be assigned by the elder Mr. Dean, who, however, concurred in the coroner's verdict.

The body was taken to Mason Wednesday from Dykstra's undertaking parlors at Holland, where Mr. and Mrs. Dean reside.

Mr. Dean said his son had been forced to quit school because of ill health.

WILD DUCKS ARE GETTING RATHER RESTIVE

Ducks are beginning to get restless. That means the approach of the hunting season. During the early summer mallards, blacks and the other native ducks seldom are seen far from their nests and families, but along in August they start trying out their wings preparatory to the journey south.

Last Saturday afternoon as Max Sandy of the Grand Rapids Herald paddled around L lakes a big, old gray duck flew over all by its lonesome. On the lower Pere Marquette river Friday they saw one big flock, probably a family, of black ducks.

Frank DuMond reports that on a recent float down the Muskegon river to the mouth he saw scads of ducks, youngsters and oldsters.

Only a month now until the season opens on Sept. 16.

Ottawa County Dairy Products Reach New York

ZEELAND IS QUITE A CENTER FOR SHIPMENT OF MILK CREAM AND BEEF

Ottawa county dairymen indirectly are supplying New York city with a part of its milk, cream and beef.

For the past four years a firm in Paterson, N. J., has operated a buying station in Zeeland. William Glernum, a local man, is the buyer. It is his job to scour the surrounding country, principally of the Holstein and Jersey breeds, to be shipped east to a dairy feeding station.

An average of eight carloads of such cattle have been taken from this section yearly since 1926, according to Glernum. Already six cars have been shipped this year. The stock is loaded at the local stockyards. The cattle range two to seven years in age and never are bred again after leaving here.

Owing to the high cost of feed in New Jersey, Glernum said the cattle are sold to the slaughter block within the year and the meat likewise is sold to the mixed population of Gotham. The owner operates a line of milk trucks and delivery wagons. It receives 25 cents a quart for milk. Glernum said alfalfa is $60 per ton in New Jersey but that commercial feed prices are about the same as in Michigan.

The last shipment contained 23 head and Glernum paid an average of $101.50 per head.

It is a great asset to Ottawa county dairymen at the present time to have such a market for their cattle, as few buyers in this section can afford to pay as high prices as the eastern concern, which receives considerably more money for milk and cream. Owing to the low price of butter and butterfat farmers are taking advantage of an opportunity to market their stock.

Fred Porter is spending his vacation in Canada.

Jacob Geerlings is on his vacation.

Mrs. Donald Daugherty has returned from Boston, Mass., where she attended summer school.

POULTRYMEN ADOPT ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

Popularity Increases as Experiments Prove Value

A definite trend toward the electrification of the poultry industry is evident in Michigan, according to Michigan State College poultry specialists.

The demand for electrically operated and heated poultry appliances has become so great as to seriously curtail the sale of steam-heated and operated equipment. This was most strikingly demonstrated at the equipment show which was held in conjunction with the convention of the International Baby Chick Association. The exhibits of electrical appliances made up more than half of the show.

One delegate, who attended both the Grand Rapids show in 1926 and the Detroit exhibit this year, commented upon the remarkable growth of the exposition. Four years ago the exhibits were crowded into the corners of a Grand Rapids hotel lobby, while at Detroit the exhibits filled five halls in the convention building.

The popularization of electricity in the incubation and brooding of chicks, it was explained, has come about within the past few years. Formerly, it was in the experimental stage. But now that it has been demonstrated that it is practical to use electricity in raising chicks, farmers and hatcherymen are switching over their equipment to consume electric current instead of coal or oil.

RURAL ROUTES TO BE CON- SOLIDATED STARTING AUGUST 16

Beginning Saturday, Aug. 16, the four rural mail routes of the Fennville postoffice will be consolidated and three routes will serve the patrons from that date to Dec. 15 each year, according to Postmaster Charles Bassett. During the winter season, between December 16 and April 15, patrons will be served by the same four routes that now exist. This means that the three new routes will be lengthened about ten miles each to absorb the mileage of the route discontinued.

Under the new plan about 26 more families will be served. Route 2 will take about four miles of new territory—turning east at the Gidley school house and circling the block that makes in the Cole, Fisher, Tibbets, Gretzinger Fred Martin and Owen Lamoreaux farms.

Robert Keag will drive No. 1, covering the Ganges and Glenn districts; Clarence Huyser, No. 2, including most of the territory north of M89; Robert Shannon, No. 3, south and east of the village. Shannon is the oldest carrier from the Fennville office.

ZEELAND UNIT TO BE HOST AT COUNTY W.C.T.U. MEET

The annual institute of the Ottawa County W. C. T. U. will be held Wednesday, Aug. 27, in Second Reformed church of Zeeland. The morning session will be devoted to committee reports. A luncheon will be held at noon. In the afternoon there will be a public inspirational service at which a special lecturer from the state organization, Mrs. Lottie Woodford of Holly, will speak. She will speak also at the public evening meeting. Special music will be furnished by Stanley DePre and Herman Jansen. Twelve children from Second and First Reformed churches will put on a special number, "The young crusaders' Garden."

The Zeeland unit will act as host to delegates from Grand Haven, West Olive, Holland, Lamont, Spring Lake and Coopersville. Monday afternoon a recognition luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Julia Lillie of Coopersville at her home there. She has served as treasurer of the county W. C. T. U. 21 years.

LIVE BEER POPS WHEN POLICE BREAKS BOTTLES

Sergeant Baugh of the State Police at Grand Haven supervised the destruction of 225 pints of home brew beer and illicit liquor a few days ago. The booze, which had been confiscated by the sheriff's officers in recent raids, had been stored at Ottawa county jail. It was taken to the city dump and the bottles were smashed by the sergeant and sheriff's officers. The homebrew was pretty live and the officers had to handle it cautiously to avoid being injured by bursting of the bottles. It had been stored for some time and had reached a rather peppy stage.

Minnows Bring Livelihood to Many Folks

Holland and its resort have not a few minnow stations and fishermen are readily accommodated.

An indication of the extensiveness of the minnow retailing industry in Michigan has been pointed out by the department of conservation in announcing the sale of 449 minnow dealers' licenses so far this year. It is probable that the figure will reach well over 500 before the close of the present fishing season.

Minnow licenses are issued at a cost of $10 to all persons over 18 years of age, dealing in minnows commercially. These minnow dealers are required to prominently display a card bearing the words: "Licensed Minnow Dealer."

A licensed dealer may take minnows only from specific waters mentioned on the license itself. He may use a seine up to 30 feet long and 8 feet wide in the inland lakes and streams, except trout streams, and up to 80 feet long and 8 feet wide in the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

No license other than the ordinary fishing license is required of anyone taking minnows for his own use, and he may use a dip net up to two feet in diameter in taking these minnows. However, these minnows may be used as bait only in hook and line fishing.

The legislature, in its act dealing with the taking of minnows, defines them as "chub, shiners, suckers, dace, stone rollers, muddlers and mud-minnows."

OTHERS HAVE SOME CLAIM OF WOODEN SHOES

Allegan Gazette:
The Bell telephone company has erected in Holland a large and beautiful office building. Quite appropriately it is of Dutch style of architecture. This reminds that people commonly suppose that wooden shoes are worn solely in the Netherlands. They are quite as common in France where they are called sabots. From this word comes the English word sabotage because a French workman once threw his wooden shoe into machinery maliciously.

KAZOO WALTONS REAR 19 WILD BABY TURKS

Credit for the first attempt to restore the wild turkey to Michigan goes to the Kalamazoo chapter of the Izaak Walton League, which now is rearing 19 baby turks on the grounds of the state hatchery at Wolfe Lake.

The eggs were obtained from a North Dakota game farm at a cost of $10 a dozen, hatched under domestic hens, which have since taken over the job of mothering the hope of Michigan's future turkeys.

NOTE ABOUT A SOULLESS CORPORATION

Commerce may thunder around a railroad car now stationed at dock No. 1 at Tacoma, Wash., of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad, but it must not disturb that car. It houses a robin's nest with three blue eggs.

C.A. Norwood, clerk for the road, discovered the nest. Word was sent to Charles E. Devlin, superintendent, who issued the following order: "Under no circumstances is that

Fair Fireworks to be Held One Night Longer

COMMANDER BYRD AT THE SOUTH POLE PICTURE IMAGES IN FIRE AT FAIR

Holland Community Fair Will Have Three Evenings of Pyrotechnic Features

The biggest Holland Community Fair of all time opened its gates this week Tuesday and will remain open day and evening until late Friday night. The exhibition opens with Children's Day on Tuesday when all children are admitted free. One feature that has not been emphasized fully up to this time is the pyrotechnic features of this big Community Fair. This "festival of fireworks" has been extended on night longer than usual namely Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Patrons will be privileged to see this awe-inspiring display in front of the grand stand where these programs will be staged in the large race course oval directly after the 30 special features have been pulled off on the large brilliantly lighted elevated platform.

The fireworks program is tremendous this year, including a reproduction of Commander Byrd at the South Pole with his intrepid faithful crew. This will be a dazzling recreation of the outstanding world event of the last century; yes, Byrd, his men, plane, dogs and all will be seen in images of fire, fireworks features besides that of Byrd's group.

Spectators at the fair next week this year are promised a score or more of new thrills in the elaborate evening entertainment program, "The Festival of Fire," according to the detailed outline of headline features which was announced in final form today by President Austin Harrington.

The schedule of big set pieces which will be fired in connection with each evening's production and which is said to comprise one of the largest arrays of such elaborate numbers ever witnessed in the state, includes the following:

"Our Navy," a big marine battle feature, showing a submarine attack on the American coast and the ensuing battle between American ships and the enemy. The entire presentation, from the bombardment and crash of the battle, is carried out exclusively by means of fireworks effects.

"Jungle Land," a scenic spectacle covering a firing field 300 feet long and depicting big game hunters in the African jungle, with lions, tigers, bears, and giraffes in their native haunts.

"Niagara Falls," in which the falls will be more than sixty feet long and thirty feet high, carried out entirely in silvery, sparkling fire.

The famous "magic jubilee" fountain, an exact reproduction of the Fountain of Light created last year for Light's Golden Jubilee and the Edison Celebration.

A Boys' and Girls' 4-H Club emblem, painted in fireworks, with a boys' and girls' 4-H club member standing at either side. This will be one of the largest and most colorful set pieces ever seen at the fair.

A series of comedy action pieces, including "Jocko," the acrobatic monkey, and the "Fighting Roosters," carried out in action fireworks.

The "Aurora Borealis," a combination of brilliant colored lighting effects, shooting stars, and bombardment.

"Pyro Whoopee," a joint presentation of all the newest things in color.

"These are just a few of the features which will be seen at each evening's program at the Holland fair next week Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. We promise the public a fireworks show such as has never before been seen in this part of the state. It is more costly, more elaborate, more unusual than anything we have attempted in previous years, and we expect a record-breaking attendance," said President Austin Harrington of the local exhibition.

JONATHAN AND DAVID: A NOBLE FRIENDSHIP

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 18:1-4; 20:14-17, 32, 34, 41, 42, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Two True Friends.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Finding Worthy Friends.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Friend Who Does Not Fail.

The friendship of David and Jonathan has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, heir to the throne according to hereditary rights. David was held by divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and magnanimously waived his natural personal rights in favor of the one he knew God had chosen.

I. Friendship Established Between David and Jonathan (I Sam. 18:1-4).
1. Love at sight (vv. 1, 2).
Following the interview of Saul and David, after the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. He loved David as his own soul. While there stands out prominently in Jonathan's mind the love of Jonathan for David, the love of David for Jonathan is not less true.

2. A covenant established (vv. 3, 4).
The bringing of David into Saul's home gave opportunity for expression of love between Jonathan and David. This love resulted in the establishment of a covenant between them. Following this love covenant, Jonathan stripped himself of his crown robe and his equipment and gave them to David. This act was a virtual abdication of the throne to David.

II. Jonathan Defended David Against Saul's Frenzy (I Sam. 19:1-7).
David went into the battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion, not for personal glory. But it turned out as always, that because he put God first, God honored him. On David's return from victory over the Philistines, according to the custom, he was met by a chorus of women of all the cities of Israel, chanting praises to him for his victory over their enemy. They ascribed more praise and honor to David than to Saul. To hear sung the praises of a shepherd boy as surpassing his own was too much for Saul. It aroused murderous envy which had been slumbering in his heart and moved him to attempt twice to kill David. This is not an imaginary sin. Its counterpart may be found in many of our own hearts. The only cure for this dreadful evil is to put God first—to think more of him and our duty to him than of reputation before men. In Saul's third attempt to kill David, Jonathan defended him before his father, from whom he secured the oath that David should not be slain. He thus exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father for David's sake.

III. Jonathan Revealed to David Saul's Murderous Attempt (I Sam. 20:30-40).
The beginning of the new moon was celebrated by sacrifices and feasting at which all the members of the family were expected to be present (v. 5). David, excused for being absent was that he might go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of his family. The annual feast was more important than the monthly feast. Matters were now so serious that Jonathan and David renewed the covenant between them. In this renewal the terms were broadened beyond the life of Jonathan (vv. 14, 15). Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in David's company was planned a sign by which he could make known to David Saul's attitude and purpose. True friendship is proven in warning those who are exposed to danger.

Concerning friendships, observe:
1. It should be made while both parties are young. This is the time when hearts are capable of being knit together.
2. Real friends are few. Great care should be exercised in the formation of friendships, for while loving everybody, it is possible to have only a few friends.
3. Both parties must be God-fearing. David and Jonathan both recognized their obligation to the Lord, and that his help was essential to the welfare of both.

IV. David Mourns for Jonathan (II Sam. 1:17-27).
When David learned of Jonathan's death he sincerely mourned, remembering his undying loyalty and his personal worth.

Disaster Often Comes Like a Shooting Star Unexpected

At a county fair one finds all those things that make for happiness and progress—but no exhibit of the elements of destruction such as fire, windstorm, hail, accident and the calamities that destroy in the twinkling of an eye the savings of a lifetime of thrift and industry.

But you can be safe. You can turn to this agency of the well known Hartford for insurance covering practically every loss that can happen to a man or his property; from a falling airplane to a devastating windstorm—and in addition you get individualized, personalized service when you deal with us.

Neglecting His Own Lines

BABE BORN WITH FULL UPPER SET OF TEETH

Cutting his baby teeth will be only half a job for the seven-pound son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kendra of Fruitport, near Spring Lake, at Mercy hospital. The infant arrived in the world with a fully developed set of upper teeth. The child, second one in the Kendra family, is normal in every other respect and was the cause of a great deal of interest among the hospital staff.

ROBINSON TWP. CASE WINDS UP IN FAVOR OF DEFENDENT

The case of the people against Carl Bethke, Robinson youth, charged with disorderly conduct ended when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The case was tried before Justice Burr, Grand Haven, who held a session of his court in the supervisor's room in the county building, to accommodate the large number of spectators expected.

Bethke was charged with flashing bright lights into the home of Mrs. John Bethke on the night of August 6. Complaint was also made against Frank Secory, Arthur Fritz, Ed. Fritz and Louis Szymas, but with Bethke's acquittal these cases will also be dismissed as they are based on the identical charges.

Leo C. Lillie appeared for the defendant in the hearing and Clarence Lokker, prosecuting attorney represented the state. The case was tried by a jury of three women and three men, Mrs. Fred Erhmann, Miss Williamena Young, Mrs. Mary H. Boyce, John Sluiter, George Swart and Tony Hoebeke.

MANY VIOLATE FISH LAWS IN MICHIGAN

95% of all convictions obtained in Michigan for violations of the various conservation laws during June were for offenses against the fish laws. A report shows a total of 425 convictions through the state, of which 403 were for violations of the fishing laws and 22 or .05 per cent, for violations of all other conservation laws, including game and fur.

CLAM FISHERMAN, IN ARGUING OWN CASE, WINS COURT PRAISE

"You have shown more skill in conducting your case than the average lawyer would have done," Judge William B. Brown told Clarence Doane of Belmont, a clam fisherman, who, with Merle Back of Comstock Park, appeared before him in circuit court yesterday for sentence for contempt of court in violating an injunction restraining clambers from operating in the Grand River adjacent to property owned by Joseph H. Brewer, well known in Holland.

"And by that," he added later to a group of attorneys, "I cast no reflection on the bar, for the man's attention to detail was nearly perfect."

Judge Brown deferred sentence until Sept. 13, saying that he was loath to inflict heavy penalties on working men, but that the rulings of the court must be enforced. Its severity, he indicated, will depend upon the conduct of the two men, who are now engaged in other occupations than clamming, during their probationary term.

Earl R. Legg and Miss Esther Larson of Cadillac were united in marriage Saturday. They left on a honeymoon trip to Canada and will return to Holland the latter part of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Westveer are on a vacation trip to Northern Michigan.

Personal Items

Miss Marie G. Hamelink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamelink, 34 East Thirteenth street, and Charles E. Rozema of Grand Rapids were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Bert Brouwer, brother-in-law of the bride, performed the impressive ceremony in the presence of the immediate families. The bride looked very becoming in a beautiful gown of black satin trimmed with egg-shell, and carried a large bridal bouquet. Immediately after the ceremony a delicious luncheon was served. Mr. Rozema formerly attended Hope college and has been instructor in chemistry at Purdue university and is now connected with the research laboratories of the Haskelite Manufacturing Corporation of Grand Rapids. The bride has been employed at the Holland Furnace company. The newlyweds will make their home in Grand Rapids.

The first annual picnic of the Hart & Cooley Manufacturing company will be held Saturday at Jenison Park.

Mrs. Frank Pifer and Mrs. C. De Vries entertained a group of their friends to a one o'clock luncheon Friday afternoon at the home of the former at Jenison Park. A social time was enjoyed after the luncheon. The guests present were Mrs. V. L. Dibble, Mrs. J. Dykstra, Mrs. G. Stegman, Mrs. H. White, Mrs. A. Keppel, Mrs. J. Dryden, Mrs. N. Cobb, Mrs. F. ## Guarantee Satisfaction

MONTGOMERY WARD & COMPANY'S retail store in HOLLAND at 27 Eighth Street needs no introduction to residents of this section. Since its location here, it has been a shopping center for residents of this territory. It has been prominent among the concerns that have aided in the expansion and development of HOLLAND and vicinity by giving the public a metropolitan service.

They have assisted in raising the standard of living among the people by saving them thousands of dollars yearly on purchases made in their store in HOLLAND. This money saved has been invested in pleasure, education and recreation that heretofore has been beyond the reach of many members of this community. We are indeed grateful that this concern has seen fit to locate one of their retail stores within our reach. Even before their store was established in HOLLAND they boasted of many mail order customers in this section who realized what values they offered. And now even a greater saving is effected by the elimination of postage charges and the merchandise is laid before you for inspection before you purchase. Here there is no high selling costs, no large dealers' profits, no salesmen's commissions. They distribute from the factory and guarantee unconditionally all merchandise sold by them against defects in material and workmanship. Due to their tremendous buying power, special concessions by the manufacturer make it possible for them to put before you values that you cannot afford to overlook.

In their store at 27 Eighth St., in HOLLAND will be found a complete line of auto supplies, hardware, sporting goods, radio sets, phonographs, household appliances, etc.

Rural residents find it particularly convenient to shop here since their stock embraces such a large number of complete lines.

The heads of the MONTGOMERY WARD & COMPANY, are business people who realize that large profits are to be made from a rapid turnover. They offer goods at low prices because they buy in immense quantities at the lowest market prices. In some instances they buy entire factory outputs. Their large sales make it possible for them to sell at a small profit.

This store has the reputation for superior merchandise and excellent service that is responsible for its ever growing patronage. The management insists that every purchase be satisfactory and stands ready to replace any article or refund the money on any purchase that proves unsatisfactory.

The annual picnic of the Seventh Reformed church and Sunday School was held at Tunnel Park Saturday afternoon and evening.

Liam Stevens, secretary and treasurer. A. Meyer and Theodore Deur were appointed on the sports committee for the next reunion.

Children of the Park Way Play School enjoyed a picnic at Kollen Park Friday, the closing day of the school term. The children were taken to the park in the morning and enjoyed dinner there. The school is under the direction of Miss Margaret Van Leeuwen, who is assisted by Miss Helen Johnson.

Mrs. C. Brewer entertained with a miscellaneous shower at her home at 15 East Eighteenth street last week Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Nella Brewer, whose marriage to Dirk Glykenberg will occur soon. Games were played and a mock wedding was performed. The bride-to-be received many beautiful gifts from the twenty-five guests present. Delicious refreshments were served.

The annual American Legion and Women's Auxiliary picnic was held Friday at Tunnel Park. E. V. Hartman was chairman of the sports and games committee. Contests were held and prizes were won by the following: Dr. Wm. Westrate, Mrs. Henry Geerds, Bert Slagh, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Wm. Westrate, Jr., George Manting, Eileen Van Lente, Eunice Kramer, Everett Spaulding, Ed Oonk, Mrs. F. Bruns and William Arnold Sikkie. Following the contests a picnic dinner was served by the Women's Auxiliary. Nearly 150 were present.

SPRING LAKE COUNTRY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Spring Lake Country Club Friday afternoon at three o'clock, the principal business was the election of the new officers for the coming year. The following were named to serve: A. E. Gale, president; John Reichardt, vice-president; Jas. W. Oakes, secretary; Guy Warren, treasurer.

WEST MICHIGAN FAIR

The West Michigan Fair, August 25 to 29, will be one of the most comprehensive agricultural shows ever put on in Michigan. Dairy farmers, dirt farmers and stock breeders all over Western Michigan are preparing to show by their exhibits that they are among the most progressive farmers in the country.

Classes in Percherons, Belgians, commercial horses, draft teams in harness, general purpose horses, Shetland ponies and Welsh ponies will be shown, and this year there is a special prize for the most attractively decorated stable.

In the cattle department, under the direction of Donald McPherson, Lowell, will be eleven different classes competing for the generous prizes offered by C. Sophus Johnson and Miss Olive G. Jones, co-receivers of the fair association. August 27th has been made Jersey day.

There will be a cow calling contest on Thursday, August 28, at 2:30 p.m. At the same time in the livestock judging arena "Cowman" C. M. Long will be giving a demonstration of how to judge the milk giving capacity of a cow by the shape of its head, breadth of chest, length of legs and other physical characteristics.

Sheep, pigs, chicken, rabbits and cavies will also be thoroughly exploited in their various departments and the agricultural exhibit which is again under the able direction of B. O. Hagerman is to be one of the most interesting in recent years, special attention being given to the High School exhibits and to the county and community exhibits.

The women's department will give full credit to the big part that modern women play in farm life. The Michigan Gladiolus Society will hold their show this year in connection with the West Michigan Fair.

Expires August 30

BIDS TO BE RECEIVED

Bids will be received at the Office of the City Clerk for the hauling of the coal from the 5th Street Station of the Board of Public Works to the Holland City Hospital. Coal to be weighed and hauled from time to time as required. Bids to be in by Saturday, August 30th, at 5:00 P.M. and bidder must be a resident of the City of Holland.
