WESTERN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Recently in this publication, President Nettinga of Western Theological Seminary made an appeal to the public of Holland and vicinity to help raise money for the debt of some twenty odd thousand dollars still outstanding against the institution.

Mr. Nettinga points out the great benefits that have been, that are and that will be derived from this institution. The material benefits from schools of learning of this nature are tremendous. The money spent by students and faculty and the materials required to conduct such a large undertaking assume sizeable proportions over a year's time. What is more, the money derived for over 50 years has come largely from abroad and the proportion that Holland has given to its local academic institutions by comparison have been rather meagre.

From the open letter by Mr. Nettinga, it is evident that $5,000 has been given by an eastern man. Now he gives $2,000 more as an incentive to others most vitally interested to clear the Seminary of debt.

The material benefits, while an asset, do not begin to compare with the tremendous influence for good which is made possible through this institution.

Every year a sizeable class is graduated and goes into the world to preach the gospel to congregations dotting the entire nation. Every summer and throughout the year the prospective ministers who have not graduated are telling Bible truths to multitudes. In distant lands and African jungles, among Oriental bandits, among Indian tribes and in benighted nations messengers of God preach the gospel to all creatures under the most trying circumstances, privations and hardships. These messengers walk daily with pestilence and often death. Brave bands of men and women are these, filled with patience and perseverance, for their work calls for patience. Progress must be slow indeed in war torn nations such as China and Japan.

What could be more trying than to endeavor to preach the gospel to the children of the jungles, making them understand Bible truths which are difficult at times to be understandingly absorbed even by civilized America. Missionary work in India with its stations, untouchables, clans and internal strife where a nation reeks with fanaticism, must be uphill work; even to begin to make an impression in a field of this nature must be trying indeed.

We could go on indefinitely and speak of the wonderful work that the faculty of the Western Theological Seminary, guided by an able president, is doing. It is a great undertaking and the accomplishments covering a period of more than half a century stand as monuments and to the credit of the local seminary.

Motorcade of Army Trucks Bound with Soldiers for Allegan Camps

Thousands of these trucks are skimming over the highways and byways. In Allegan this week at least 400 of them took the Wisconsin troop divisions from Grand Haven over U.S.-31 through Holland to East Saugatuck. New Richmond and Saugatuck. They arrived at the "county seat" by car ferry from Milwaukee under command of

LANTING-ESSENBERG MARRIAGE TAKES PLACE

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Lanting, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Lanting to Ted N. Essenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Essenberg, was solemnized Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Woman's Literary club. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who is pastor of the Immanuel church of this city. Approximately 100 guests were present.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a wedding dress of white lace and satin, fashioned princess style with long tulle train, pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and swainsonia. The maid of honor, Miss Betty Van Klink, wore an ankle length gown of peach lace, and Miss Marian Lanting, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid wearing an ankle length pink chiffon gown. They were shoulder bouquets. Little Margaret Van Houtum, cousin of the bride, in a dainty pink dress, was flower girl, while Master Bobby Burrows, the groom's nephew, was ring bearer. He wore a white satin suit. Mr. Jack Essenberg attended the groom as best man and the ushers were Robert Lanting and Gordon Vanden Brink. Mr. Vanden Brink sang "When I Am With You," accompanied by his sister, Miss Thelma Vanden Brink. Following the exchange of vows, he sang "At Dawning" by Cadman. Miss Vanden Brink played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party entered. Miss Ruth Bähler and Robert Lanting were master and mistress of ceremonies. Guests were served from a long table decorated with flowers and candles. A large wedding cake occupying a conspicuous place in the center. The couple later left on a short wedding trip. They will make their home in Whitehall.

SPEAKS AT OTTAWA YOUNG DEMOCRAT MEET

More than 75 persons heard Harry Glass Jr., state representative, address a meeting of the Ottawa county Young Democrats at the West Olive school last night. Dr. Gerrit Hines, candidate for congressman from the fifth district and candidates on the county ticket also spoke. Ed. Broekema served as chairman.

Mr. Glass defended the national debt which the present administration has incurred by saying, "This country was willing to go far into debt to fight the World War for the benefit of big money interests, but evidently it is not willing to fight a war for the average man."

The speaker scored the Lemke Union party for "seeking a paradise overnight instead of waiting to reap the benefits of the Social Security act."

The Democratic county convention to elect nine delegates to the state meeting will be held at the courthouse, Sept. 21, it was announced by attorney Charles Minder, chairman of the Democratic county committee. The state meet will be held at Battle Creek, Sept. 25.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS KILLING OF TRUCKMAN

The tragic accident which took the life of Frank Swanson, Route 1, Grand Haven township, when the Sanitary Dairy Co. milk truck he was driving overturned on the highway connecting M-50 with the river road, designated as county highway 667, remains a mystery as to just what happened.

Swanson was alone in the truck. He had passed a car driven by Steve Botka, who stated to state police officers that he thought the driver ran off the road and apparently lost control of the truck. The accident occurred at about 3:30 p. m. on the road opposite the William Schroeder farm. Mr. Schroeder heard the crash as he was working in a field nearby. He said he heard a noise and saw the car turn over twice before it rested on the highway. Swanson's body was thrown on the highway and was badly mutilated. The truck was practically demolished and the half load of merchandise was scattered far.

Besides the wrecked truck there was further loss of more than $100 worth of ice cream carried in its insulated body. The ice cream, mixed with broken glass was scattered over the highway.

Troopers Raymond Sweet and Warren Hornbrook investigated the accident. They called Dr. W. B. Bloemendal, coroner, who pronounced death due to accident. The road has recently been blacktopped and is in good condition. Marks where the car was driven indicate that the driver was hardly on the shoulder when the accident occurred, it was reported by relatives of the deceased who examined the place.

RABBIT FANCY FINDS USE FOR WILD CARROT

W. A. Southworth, Benton Harbor rabbit fancier, has found a new use for the wild carrot which infests fields and roadsides in southern Michigan. The weed makes excellent feed for rabbits. He believes rabbit raisers can collect wild carrot from nearby farms with advantage to both themselves and farm owners. Around Holland, there are hundreds of acres of these wild carrots, so bring on your rabbits and feed them with your carrots. Farmers will be pleased to get rid of the weed.

DRIVER IS FINED WHEN HIS HORSES BEAT SPEED LAW

The final straw has been added here in the list of insults suffered by Old Dobbin in the wake of the motor age. He has been fined for exceeding a speed limit of eight miles an hour.

While flivvers breezed along at much above this speed and state limousines "did" Main street in quicker time, Hugh Leonard, teamster of Stevens Point, Wis. was halted by officers, hailed into court and fined $10 and costs for reckless driving. His steeds were timed by a motor car at eight miles plus. He was taken in on a "horse and buggy" day ordinance passed when the "iron horse" was not even thought of.

RETURN OF REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN URGED

Return of a Republican congressman in the fifth district namely Carl E. Mapes was urged by Dr. B. H. Masselink in his address at the Jamestown Old Settlers' picnic. The event was attended by 4,000 persons.

"If Roosevelt is elected we need strong opposition to check the present tendency of hasty and ill-considered legislation and if Landman is elected he will need a working majority to assure needed legislation and if the Union party is successful, we won't need a Congress," Dr. Masselink said.

LOCAL INSTRUCTOR TAKES ANOTHER LONG TRIP

Miss Lavina Cappon, expert home economics instructor in the Junior High School in this city, has just returned from a railroad trip of more than 8,000 miles, when she not only toured the western coast but the Mid-western states, in other words the "prairie states". Miss Cappon augments a summer pleasure trip with research work that stands her in good stead, as this relates to the teaching of home economics.

Last year she made an extensive trip through Alaska and the Northwest at that time gave an interesting resume of her travels through Uncle Sam's northern possessions. Before going to Alaska, she attended a home economics convention held at Seattle, Washington. This year Miss Cappon not only visited Hollywood, and with friends saw a great deal of "movieland", the movie stars, but also visited San Francisco, one of the most interesting cities in the entire nation, where the orient and occident meet. The Chinese district of San Francisco is so replete with interest that it takes several days of visiting to get a real conception of the immensity of the Chinese population there. Many of them are American-born and are as well educated and speak as fluently as do the White race. In San Francisco they have a Chinese telephone exchange, serving the orientals who speak no other language.

While in California, Miss Cappon was the guest of the Habermann sisters at Glendale. These ladies were former teachers in our public schools, and the late Rudolph H. Habermann, prominent citizen here who served as alderman and was a member of the board of public works was their father. She also visited Fred F. Colby and family at Claremont, California. Mr. Colby, it will be remembered, was at one time manager of the Macatawa Park Company. His rise to affluence is an interesting story. He started with a pop-corn wagon on the dock of Ottawa Beach, and wound up here by being a heavy stockholder in the Macatawa Park Company, and became its head. Now he is "sitting pretty" in his large orange ranch and makes trips east with his family for a vacation, annually.

Santa Barbara was another place visited by Miss Cappon. She also visited several parts of the country that have been blighted by drought and she states that in some districts conditions are appalling. It however, gave her a chance to broaden her scope on economic conditions, which comes within range of her vocation. Miss Cappon believes that politically the great southwest largely favors the candidacy of Alf Landon and Frank Knox, Republican nominees for President and Vice-president of the United States.

Miss Cappon left on Independence Day and has just returned, stating that it was a delightful trip, with the exception of the drought region, but she is glad to be back in Michigan and her beautiful native city, Holland.

The Ter Haar family reunion is being held at Spring Grove, Jamestown, today.

HAMILTON

A light shower fell Sunday evening. This is the first shower since July 7. Although it yielded insufficient moisture to greatly benefit the crops, everybody was happy. Crops are suffering severely as the result of the continued drought. Early potatoes, however, are fair in quantity and are bringing high prices. Early celery is one of the best crops ever produced in this vicinity. There is no longer a lack of employment and the difficulty at present is rather inability to secure enough help.

Traffic thru town is extremely heavy. Sunday traffic reminded folks of Tulp Time in Holland. Several hundred army trucks besides many tourists and visitors to the camp south of town passed thru town. War activities are evident everywhere.

The Independents were defeated during the past week in two games and then came back to take an easy victory. The first game was lost to the fast Burnips team by a score of 6 to 2. Wentzel for the locals and Moored for Burnips battled on even terms until Wentzel lost control and gave four free passes, when the visitors drew a break with four runs. W. Kemper, Bruik and Callahan obtained the hits for the local boys.

On Thursday evening Hamilton was defeated by the Army boys in an abbreviated game 8 to 1. There was a large crowd in attendance, but the late arrival of the soldiers compelled a long wait and the few innings were played in semi-darkness making playing difficult.

Tuesday evening the boys easily defeated the Benheim aggregation by a 10 to 1 score. Wentzel limited the visitors to 4 hits and a lone run by splendid pitching. Gates was whacked for 14 hits several of them being for extra bases. Callahan led at the bat with two triples and a single. Ashley obtained two doubles and a single.

The various committees are busy making arrangements for the Labor Day celebration. A meeting of all committees will be held during the last week when reports will be given and final plans will be made. Henry Klein passed away at his home Monday evening after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the home and 2 o'clock at the First Reformed church. Rev. J. A. Roggen officiated. Burial took place at the local cemetery.

Participants in the ceremonies held in connection with the formal opening of US31A at Holland are shown above. Standing on the speaker's platform, erected at the Holland city limits where a large crowd gathered for the program Tuesday evening are WILLIAM M. come our greatest period in the development of national consciousness and physical unity. This period of physical and spiritual expansion is far from completion. On the frontiers within our frontiers, roads are still being built, streams are being bridged, and mountains are being tunneled. The ring of the woodsman's axe has given way to the sound of the farmer's mower. Cities, towns, and hamlets, having taken root, continue to develop and prosper.

"This beautiful highway, stretching along the eastern shore of Lake Michigan toward Chicago, will be of enormous assistance to Michigan and to Wisconsin. It is a lasting tribute to the vision of those in whom their citizens place the responsibility for the development of government services. It is a monument to those who planned and labored to make this highway a reality rather than a distant hope of the people in this territory. Open roads, open highways and open hearts are the symbols of understanding, trust and common purpose.

"High in the mountains of the Andes on the boundary that separates the two great states of Argentina and Chile a monument has been erected with the hope expressed upon its polished surface, that Chile and the Argentine shall remain perpetually at peace until the mighty peaks and majestic ranges of these mountains shall crumble to the level of the adjacent plain. There may be no such reason for the dedication of this great artery of travel between Michigan and Wisconsin for we are destined by a community of purpose and interest to be forever a part of one nation. It will be dedicated, however, as an object lesson son to those nations of the old world, now storming to war, to impress upon them the homely truth that man's welfare is served best when governments join hands and build—and served worst when, with wings, gas, and guns, they take the field to destroy.

"In congratulating those whose efforts have made this new avenue of transportation an actuality, may I not express the hope that it is but one of many great public services yet to be created; that the joint effort of the federal government, states, and counties will continue to develop these endless bands of cement and steel which bind the earth that is America.

"May the great nations of the world find in these splendid structures resulting from the concerted action of all of our states, a sound precedent for their future relations. Then will highways replace fortifications, travel substitute for trenches, and the mad folly of destructive projects give way to efforts to create those things vital to the progress of a great people.

Mr. Connelly presented City Attorney Elbern Parsons, who in the absence of Mayor Henry Geerlings, now vacationing in the east, accepted the new highway in the name of the public and in behalf of the City of Holland.

The acceptance by City Attorney Elbern Parsons in behalf of the city of Holland follows:

"In the absence of our genial and eloquent mayor, I speak for the city of Holland.

"That city accepts with grateful appreciation, the splendid new highway which is here dedicated. It is accepted in the hope that the great multitude of motorists by whom it will be used, will use it safely, and with a wise regard for the safety of themselves and others, as befits the use of the southern gateway of a city of God fearing, law abiding, neighbor loving people. It is accepted with full recognition and appreciation of the patient, tireless, persistent efforts of those public spirited citizens, without whose efforts this road would never be. And it is accepted with full acknowledgement and appreciation of the obligation of this community to recognize and praise in this connection, the official acts of the Highway Commissioner of this state, who has demonstrated his impartial and non partisan interest in the improvement of the Highway system of the State of Michigan, and to whom public office is a public trust. The people of the City of Holland will not forget the timely recognition of its transportation needs and just deserts, which this new highway represents. It is accepted with grateful recognition of engineering skill and fidelity to obligation of contract, on the part of its builders, and with appreciation for and recognition of the honesty, loyalty, and fidelity to the high traditions of American Labor, on the part of the workers whose labors built it. It is accepted for the present and for the future, with gratification in the knowledge that, long after these ceremonies are forgotten, this highway will continue to stand as a monument to that invincible spirit of development and progress, so indispensable to the leadership of Michigan in the Union of the States."

In introducing Murray D. Van Wagoner, Mr. Connelly, the chairman said, "Deeds speak louder than words. One of the best deeds done by the next speaker lies before us. This splendid stretch of concrete shortens the time and eliminates traffic hazards for the millions who travel over it. It is customary to dedicate highways at a banquet table where only a comparative few people can be accommodated. Holland endeavors to be different. We have taken this method of showing our appreciation by inviting the public to these outdoor exercises. I now present our honored guest, Murray D. Van Wagoner, Michigan State Highway Commissioner."

Mr. Van Wagoner graciously acknowledged the cordial invitations extended by the chairman of the day, and laughingly said, "Whenever I come to Holland I have to pay for something. This is the third time I have been here. On my first visit when I came to consult on roads, I hurried over, was arrested by one of your speed cops and paid a ten dollar fine. For my pains you got the Hamilton-Allegan road which we expect will be completed next year. Then I was called here on other road improvements, broke a spring negotiating one of your bad roads into your city and now you have this wonderful road to Saugatuck. Bill Connelly here, has been leading me up with wooden shoes and now I presume I'll have to fix up that 'roller coaster' road at Vriesland, now connecting Holland with Grand Rapids.

Mr. Van Wagoner's remarks brought a gale of laughter. Continuing in his talk he stated that he had repeatedly come to Holland on the invitation of the heads of the Chamber of Commerce, that he always enjoyed his visit here and especially when the Tulip Festival was in progress. He asserted that a pivotal city such as Holland is, in the heart of the resort district on two fine bodies of water, should be connected up with good roads. Mr. Van Wagoner continued in part as follows: "I am especially pleased to mingle with you folks where I feel that I am one of you. To me it is 'old-home week.' I feel there is a common bond between us, since we can trace our ancestry back to sturdy dutch stock." (as an aside he might mention that the Van Wagoner name surely has a Dutch smack.) Mr. Van Wagoner continued, "You highway minded people of Holland will recall my visit last year with the Chamber of Commerce. At that time I outlined a master plan of road improvement in this vicinity. This plan of course did not contemplate that all the work be done overnight but I am happy to tell you that we have gone a long way toward our complete objective.

"Probably the most vital part of that master plan brings us here tonight. I refer of course to the paving of US-31A as a relocation between Holland and Saugatuck. That promise has been kept.

"I also told you of our plans to pave M-40 from Holland by way of Hamilton. The stretch to Hamilton has been completed and we are now working on a relocation as a major operation at Dunningville to the south of Hamilton.

"A beltline connection between US-31A and M-40 is also included as the third step in this master plan. Initial work on this by-pass is the construction of a grade separation on M-40 southeast of the city. We are hopeful that we can include that structure on our next grade separation program with the grading of the beltline to US-31A at about the same time.

"The plan also proposes an east beltline starting at the proposed grade separation on M-40 and connecting at the north with M-21. "This celebration is deeply significant to me, not only because it represents a fine highway improvement but because it revives an old-fashioned tradition of celebrating the fine things that come our way. They say the Dutch are a conservative people but I'll say one thing. When an Irish chamber of commerce gets behind them they seem to go places with their celebrations.

"In this centennial year of Michigan's great history it is very fitting that we should set aside a few minutes and celebrate a symbol of progress such as this new highway. The 3.5 miles of concrete pavement built on this relocation represents an investment of approximately $265,000, an investment that was made at no direct expense to the taxpayers of Ottawa or Allegan counties. The Federal government met half the cost while the other half was taken out of state highway funds.

"Of course as state highway commissioner I can place our value upon this new improvement but it is for you who have used the old obsolete route so long and are using the new to express the full valuation. No one can estimate fully, however, the tangible and intangible benefits this improvement will mean to you and your children.

"I believe this improvement is expressive of our sympathetic understanding of your problems not only here in Holland but all of Ottawa County as well as Allegan County. In the three years of my administration we have launched improvement totaling more than $1,500,000 in the two counties, virtually all of which directly affect this progressive community.

"I am happy to tell you tonight that we will try to correct another bad situation in which you people have the greatest amount of interest. I have promised your county road commission that an effort will be made to eliminate the 1 1/2-mile roll along M-21 halfway between Holland and Grand Rapids in the so called Vriesland swamp and to rid that section of its flood conditions. We needed no reminder of the hazardous condition of this stretch of road but we haven't had the money to do this and other work that has been needed badly. When your county road commission came to Lansing last week and volunteered to cooperate with me on remedying this situation, I told the members that every effort would be made to correct it.

"The county road commission not only agreed to furnish the fill dirt needed for this swampy section but also the trucks to haul the dirt to the location. With this generous cooperation there was nothing left to do but tell them as I tell you now that we will apply to the Works Progress Administration for the fill project and attempt to include the surfacing as a revised project on our current Federal Aid program. The entire job is estimated to cost about $190,000.

"Cooperation of this type is appreciated by your state highway commissioner. It is similar to the cooperation we have received from Bill Connelly and the Holland chamber of commerce.

"No reference to this spirit is complete without a word of praise for the senator from the Allegan district in the legislature, Frank Mosier. You people who are present from Allegan ought to know, and do know I am sure, that Senator Mosier has refused to permit petty politics to interfere with his duties. He has been very fair to the state highway department.

"Many people think of the state highway department as having thirty-five or thirty-seven million dollars a year to spend on new construction. They realize that we take in that much money in gasoline and weight taxes and immediately reach the conclusion that we have a lot of money to spend on new roads.

"I only wish it were true. It was almost true a number of years ago but that was before the legislature began to return most of the money to the counties. Today three-fifths of all our revenues go back to the counties. Ottawa County received more than $273,000 last year and Allegan $244,000. And what's more you received it on time when the money was due.

"Of course we can take some of the blame for this money leaving our hands. Believing the motorist was entitled to tax relief, I recommended a 36 per cent reduction in the automobile weight tax to the legislature in 1934 and it was approved. But it took over $2,500,000 from our revenues to help pay the counties for the computed loss in revenues.

"Michigan now has more than 9,000 miles of trunkline highways. The job of state highway commissioner is a big one with big responsibilities to all of the state. I appreciate the seriousness of the undertaking yet I am not disturbed over the public's reaction to the manner in which the trust has been treated so long as we continue to do the best we can for the best interests of the state as a whole. "It is in this spirit, Mr. Chairman, that I take pleasure in dedicating this new highway, US-31A, to the people of Holland in particular, and to the people of Ottawa and Allegan counties and the traveling public in general. Thank you."

During the evening, Wm. M. Connelly introduced several of the important men who had to do with the financing, the designing and construction of this road. These persons introduced did not appear on the speaking program, but we feel that they should be presented to the audience." Mr. Connelly announced their names as they were called. Each gave a few words of appreciation and congratulation.

Holland Coast Guard Station Get Picket Boat

TWO CRAFT WILL BE ASSIGNED BY CHICAGO DIVISION, LETTER TO MAPES STATES

Word that two 35-foot picket boats, now stationed on the New England coast are shortly to proceed to Grand Haven and Holland for assignment to such stations as Capt. Leroy Reinburg, commander of the Chicago division, U. S. Coast Guard, considers have been the most urgent need for their services, was received by Rep. Carl E. Mapes from R. R. Waesche, rear admiral, U. S. Coast Guard commandant.

The rear admiral states that a study has been made to determine whether it might not be possible to transfer several picket boats to the Lake Michigan region. Picket boats are desired at certain Lake Michigan ports because their rapid cruising speed enables them to get to the scene of accident more quickly than other types of coast guard craft. Need for them was recognized at the Ottawa county ports some time ago and both Chambers and Commerce in the two cities got busy sending letters urging their assignment at the two stations. Other stations in the district have also supported the move to secure picket boats.

Letter Received

Congressman Mapes immediately contacted the U. S. Coast Guard and has received the following letter from the rear admiral:

"Reference is made to your telephonic conversation urging the assignment of coast guard picket boats to the Grand Haven and Holland, Michigan, coast guard stations.

"As explained to you at the time, the coast guard is without funds to construct additional picket boats. However, we have made a study of our resources with a view of determining whether it might not be possible to transfer several picket boats to the Lake Michigan region where the need for the service of such craft is recognized. As a result two 35-foot picket boats now stationed on the New England coast are shortly to proceed under their own power to Grand Haven, Mich., for assignment by the commander, Chicago division, U. S. coast guard, Chicago, Ill. to such stations as he considers have the most urgent need for the service of this type of craft. Capt. Leroy Reinburg, the division commander, is acquainted with the representations made for the assignment of picket boats to the Grand Haven and Holland stations and you may be assured that in deciding upon their allocation every consideration will be given by him to the needs at those stations."

40 TO SEEK PAPERS FOR CITIZENSHIP

Examiner Becker, of the Detroit office, will meet local citizens seeking their naturalization papers at a preliminary examination Monday, Aug. 17, County Clerk William Wilds was notified today.

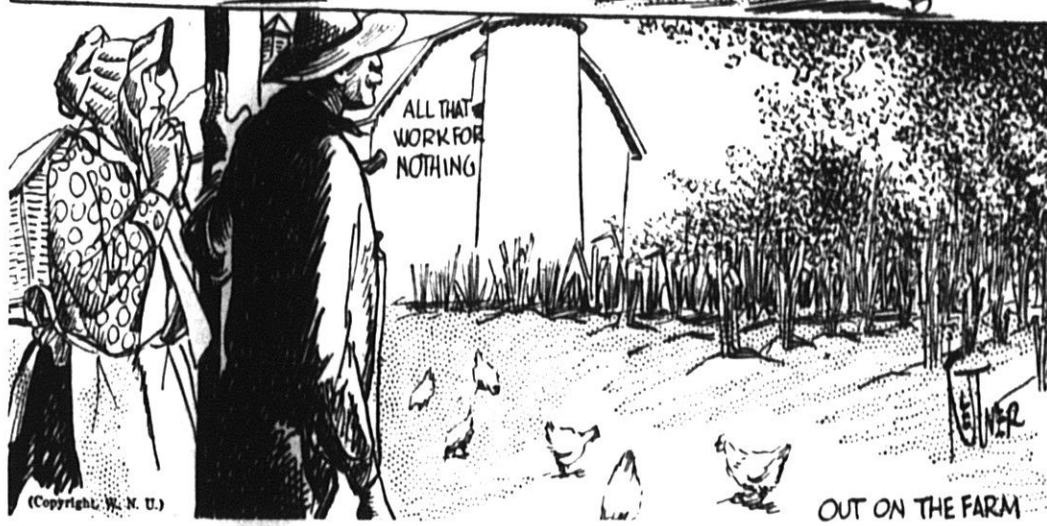

Andrew Jordan, assistant division director of the Detroit office wrote Mr. Wilds about the examination. The hearing, conducted by the immigration and naturalization service of the U. S. Department of Labor, is expected to be attended by about 40 persons, one of the largest classes in years.

Four persons were injured last week in automobile accidents in and near Holland. Hazel De Went, 17, of Jenison, was injured, last Thursday, when a car driven by Arthur Marling, 18, of Hudsonville turned over in the loose gravel on the Ottawa Beach road. Miss De Went was taken to the Holland hospital where she was treated for body bruises and possible internal injuries. Police reported that four girls were standing on the outside and that as the car upset three girls jumped clear but Miss De Went was pinned down by it. Herman Johnson, 18, of 205 W. 14th st., riding a bicycle, collided with a machine driven by William Borgman, 24, of River Ave., sustained a cut on his ear and minor bruises. Walter Kruisenga, 45, of Holland rural route No. 2, and William Bennett of 139 E. 10th st. were injured in an auto accident which occurred at 16th st. and Columbia Ave., last Friday morning. Travelogue on Interesting European Trip

By Mrs. Mae Van Dreezer Bush

July 8, 1936

Dear Ones:—

In one sense we have not seen London at all this time. Our schedule has been so filled with conferences, there has been little time or energy left for sight seeing. We did spend part of an afternoon at Westminster Abbey, wandering about among England's immortal dead. One always pauses in awe and reverence before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. There are always many beautiful wreaths about the simple slab, but the simple spray of wild roses or humble garden flowers touches my heart.

Of all England's great, I believe I like best to stand before her poets and writers—Milton, Johnson, Browning, Tennyson, Hardy and Keats have joined the great host since our last visit.

But I suppose the thing that has moved and touched us most is the statue of Lincoln which stands outside the Abbey. That England should have chosen our Lincoln to stand facing the monument to her immortal, should make us very proud.

We have taken time too to walk once more in Hyde Park. Great reviewing stands have been erected for July 16, when the new King, with great pomp and pageantry, will present new colors to the Guards. But we really went to see the crowds and hear the speakers. As you know, in Hyde Park, anyone may speak on any subject. So we passed from one group to another. One talked on Socialism, another on Communism, another on Personal Purity. Others talked against the Catholics and some for the Church of Rome. There were speeches on Atheism, Christian Science and the Salvation Army. It is an interesting study. One sees intense earnestness and sincerity. Some speak to 3 or 4 others to 75 or 100 people. There is perfect order but a great deal of heckling which the English do not seem to mind. They reply to a heckler in a placid fashion and unperturbably continue their speech.

You will be interested in hearing that we again had tea on the terrace of the House of Commons. It is a thrilling experience to sit and drink tea with the great and near great of England sauntering by for their inevitable cup of tea. Five years ago we had the honor of taking our tea with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henderson. Alas, Arthur Henderson is no more and the cause of Peace has lost a valiant fighter.

Peace. What a lovely word and all Europe preparing for War! We think of Peace as something quiet and pacific. I fear the time has come when all those who believe in and desire Peace must make a crusade. Wasn't it Shakespeare who said we must make a conquest of Peace?

I think you'll want to hear about our reception by Ramsey MacDonald in the Privy Council which he called the "Holy of Holies." This is a fine old room whose walls are lined with books. The writing desk is laden with mementoes of by-gone days—Queen Ann's silver inkstand, rare old silver candlesticks. As I looked about me, my mind tried to summon up other days, and I grew dizzy when I thought of the important decisions made within those walls, and of men who had sat at that desk—Disraeli, Gladstone, and a long line of illustrious dead. I wonder whether they ever return to laugh at the world's mad folk.

COLORED BOY DROWNS AT SPRING LAKE

The first drowning in Spring Lake this season occurred when Otha Yeager, 17, a colored boy from Columbia, Mo., employed by Dwight Sheldon, Columbia, lost his life. Dwight Sheldon, Jr., 15-year-old son of the Sheldons, made a heroic attempt to save the drowning boy as he fell into the water near West Spring Lake from a canoe which he was trying to paddle. One always pauses in awe and reverence before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. There are always many beautiful wreaths about the simple slab, but the simple spray of wild roses or humble garden flowers touches my heart.

MILKHOUSE BURNS AT ZEELAND

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the milkhouse of William Kaslander, R. F. D. 2, Zeeland, Saturday evening. The building was not insured. The contents to the value of $100 were burned and were covered by insurance. The Drenthe fire department saved nearby buildings.

HISTORIC S. S. HAWK IS MOORED AT HOLLAND

The S. S. Hawk, historic ship now serving as a Great Lakes training ship, is moored in Holland until Tuesday. The ship, reputedly built by the Duke of Connaught, son of Queen Victoria, later purchased by Mark Hanna, who sold it to the United States government for $1, conveyed Wisconsin national guards to this area for army maneuvers.

The Rev. and Mrs. James Ottobry and son, Collins, of Andarko, Okla., are spending a vacation here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van De Water, East 13th st. Rev. Ottobry is pastor of the Methodist church at Andarko.

I know the aristocrat of England would disclaim him for his more than humble origin, and the Labor Party would eschew him for his desertion when he formed the Coalition government. The fact remains, however, that the Labor Party in England is formed of two groups, the workers who have come up through the ranks and the aristocrats (or intellectuals) who have voluntarily joined forces with the workers.

To return to Mr. MacDonald, he welcomed us most cordially. He told us Americans that we could not forever stay on our side of the Atlantic, that we were bound together by the same ideals and obligations, bonds far stronger than alliances.

Many celebrated men have spoken to us. The list reads like England's Who's Who, G. D. H. Cole, the great English Economist, Viscount Halifax, better known as Lord Irwin, formerly Viceroy of India, the Earl of Lytton, known to the world for his famous report on Manchuria, Sir Arthur Salter, the great authority on international affairs, Mr. Morrison, the Lord Mayor of London, and to me the most important—Viscount Cecil who inspired the great Peace Ballot in England last year. Perhaps I can write you about him later. He deserves an entire letter by himself.

I love you all and hope you all are happy and well.

Lovingly,
Mae

OTTAWA COUNTY SCOUTS GET BID TO NETHERLANDS

A special invitation has been received by M. B. Russell O. county scout executive, for the local council to take part in the world scout jamboree to be held in The Netherlands next year.

A letter received from the New York headquarters stated that Admiral Ramonnet of Holland especially urges that scouts of Holland, America, be given an especial opportunity to attend.

The total United States representation will be limited to 500 boys. The Ottawa council will meet this month to consider the plans of sending a Holland scout to the jamboree.

VAN ZANTWICKS BACK FROM NORTH WOODS

Mr. and Mrs. Govert Van Zantwick veteran Grand Haven hunters returned from Drummonds Islands, where Mr. Van Zantwick spent the greater part of his vacation fighting serious forest fires on the island. He has a cabin which was barely saved, as the fire crept up to within a few feet.

The island, 30 miles long and 18 miles wide, is visited each fall by many deer hunters from this section and their interest in the fire, that has destroyed 5,000 acres, is keen. Mr. Van Zantwick with three men worked 24 hours one time to save the cabin. Mr. and Mrs. Van Zantwick go annually when the deer season opens. Both are good shots.

NOTED BANDMASTER TO BE AT INTERLOCHEN, TOGETHER WITH GOVERNOR

After entertaining the American Bandmasters' Association convention and staging two performances of Gounod's opera, "Faust," students attending the National Music Camp at Interlochen are preparing to welcome two distinguished guests, Dr. Walter Damrosch of New York and Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, Sunday evening, August 16. During the weekly broadcast from Interlochen Bowl, Dr. Damrosch will conduct the National High School Orchestra and the 200-voice Michigan All-State Choir in his latest composition, "An Abraham Lincoln Song," after Walt Whitman's poem, "O Captain, My Captain."

Although few orchestra conductors can look back upon such a crowded career of musical triumphs, Dr. Damrosch is perhaps best known for his weekly educational radio concerts for school children. During the comparatively short period of six years since he has gone on the air, he has developed an adult audience estimated at ten million. His children's concerts last season were listened to by an audience estimated at six million.

Musicians agree those programs alone have perceptibly raised the musical taste of the country. "The great trouble has heretofore been that classical music has been regarded as non-understandable—by people who had never had the opportunity of hearing it," Dr. Damrosch said recently. "What is happening now is that these very people turn on their radios and cut in on some delightfully charming composition. They do not know what it is, and when it is finished they are surprised to learn from the announcer that it is by Beethoven or Mozart." Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will speak during the Sunday evening program on this work being done to advance young along musical lines. The program, it is expected, will attract music lovers to Interlochen from all parts of the country.

The marriage of Ruth Elizabeth Johnson of Grand Rapids, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson, of Holland, and Arthur B. Van Raalte, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Van Raalte of Holland took place Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. She Rev. Nelson P. Van Raalte of Wyantkill, N. Y., brother of the bridegroom performed the service using the single ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson attended the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Van Raalte are on a northern trip. They will make their home at 47 West 21st St. Mr. Van Raalte is employed at the Holland Furnace Co.

SAWMILL OPERATOR IS INJURED BY BOARD

Bert Moeke, while working at his saw mill on Colonial Street, Zeeland, last Thursday met with a very painful accident, that might have proved more serious.

While resawing a board, the board became caught on the saw and was flung back at him, striking him in the face, badly cutting his lower lip and tongue and breaking some upper teeth, the injury requiring several stitches to close the wound.

Although very painful at first, he is now recovering nicely.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN ACCEPTS MUSKOGON CHARGE

Rev. Bert Brower, pastor of the American Reformed church at Orange City, Iowa, notified the congregation of Unity Reformed church, Muskegon, that he has accepted their call to become its pastor.

It is expected he will be assuming his active duties here about Sept. 1.

The new pastor has been spending his vacation with his parents, near Holland, and also with Mrs. Brower's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamelink, 34 East 13th St. Mrs. Brower before her marriage was Miss Susanna Hamelink, pipe organist in Trinity church. The grandmother, Mrs. Peter Hamelink, died during July. This week Rev. and Mrs. Brower are expected to visit in Muskegon for a day or so, and part of this time will be fishing excursion to White Lake and Lake Macatawa.

For the last 2 1/2 years, Rev. Brower has been at Orange City, Iowa, in charge of the American Reformed church, which has approximately the same number of families as Unity church. Prior to that he was in Grand Rapids at Home Acres church for 7 1/2 years, which the minister and his wife built from a mission station into an established congregation as their first charge. Both Rev. and Mrs. Brower are graduates of Hope college, and he received his theological training at Western Seminary, also at Holland from which he was graduated in 1926.

The incoming pastor is widely known for his Sunday school work, and young people's work. He is a columnist in two of the weekly publications of the Reformed church of America, writing "Let's Talk It Over," timely topics for young people appearing in the Sunday School Guide; and also writing the Senior Christian Endeavor topic appearing in the Intelligence-Leader, printed in Holland.

They have one child, a daughter, nine years old.

The new pastor succeeds Rev. Clarence P. Dame, who in June went to Grand Rapids as pastor of Bethany Reformed church after preaching his farewell sermon at Unity, June 21, ending his six years ministry in Muskegon. Prior to that Rev. Dame was pastor of Trinity Reformed church in Holland and while there, Rev. and Mrs. Brower were members of his congregation, and Mrs. Brower was church organist for several years. It was at this church that the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. Brower took place when Rev. Clarence P. Dame officiated.

MARRIED AT MAPLE AVENUE CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH

The Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Lena Klomprens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klomprens, became the bride of Mr. Benjamin Jay Hoffman of this city. The Rev. Benjamin Hoffman, a relative of the groom, performed the single ring ceremony. Vows were spoken before a background of cut flowers in the presence of 60 relatives. Preceding the service Mr. and Mrs. Jack Klomprens of Muskegon sang "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond. The wedding music was played by Miss Viola Baldwin. The bride looked charming in a gown fashioned of white lace over satin with train, princess style, with Queen Ann collar, hairdress of orange blossoms, and was given in marriage by her father. Her bouquet was of white roses and swainsonia. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Klomprens, who was groomed in printed tulle and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. Louis Hoffman of Muskegon attended the groom's best man. After the ceremony three-course wedding repast was served in the church parlors. Flowers also were adornments on the tables. The bridal couple left on a short wedding trip to Detroit and Niagara Falls. They will be at home at 94 East 24th St., after August 14. Mrs. Hoffman is employed at the People's State Bank. Mr. Hoffman is a student at the Western Theological Seminary.

GRAND RAPIDS TO HOLLAND ROAD STRETCH SEEN AS WPA PROJECT

The Ottawa county road commission today had the assurance of Highway Commissioner Murray I. Van Wagoner that an effort will be made to eliminate dangerous bumps on M-21 about halfway between Grand Rapids and Holland. "That is one of the most disgraceful stretches of highway in Michigan," Van Wagoner said after talking with members of the county road commission of the county.

The highway commissioner explained that the bumps in the road covering a total of about one and one-half miles of truckline, are caused by the muck underneath which is some places extends to a depth of 35 feet in the Vriesland quicks and basins.

Members of the Ottawa county road commission volunteered to supply truck and fill dirt for the improvement. Van Wagoner said he would make immediate application for a WPA fill project and told the delegation he thought the surfacing contract could be included in a revised federal aid road program for this year.

Employees of the road division were ordered to prepare estimates of the highway department's share, including state sponsorship of the WPA project and resurfacing. Van Wagoner said he believed the work would cost approximately $150,000.

Not only is the road rough, but it was pointed out at the conference that sections are flooded each spring, causing a traffic hazard which should be eliminated. This spot will be remembered in the vicinity of the Vriesland sink hole which cost the state thousands to bridge.

Birds Abound On Shore of State Lake

VACATIONISTS MAY SEE FEATHERED RIVALS AND PLENTY OF THEM

Birds occur in abundance wherever water is found. That is a vacationists in Michigan who bath boat or fish, have such a splendid opportunity to observe the State birdlife, Frank L. DuMond, president of the Michigan Audubon Society, says. Water birds which are most frequent are the gulls and terns, ducks and geese, herons and plovers, and a number of other species including the "divers" and "fishers."

When you walk in the sands of our Great Lakes shorelines early in the morning, you will discover that there are other people who have preceded you. They are the feathered beach folk. Their foot prints may be found at the water's edge, DuMond says. These fascinating tracks in the sand indicate where the spotted sandpiper, piping plover, killdeer and great blue heron have gleaned a breakfast of insects at the edge of the reed beds. When later you see the birds themselves there is no mistaking the long-necked sandpiper shanked great blue heron with its heavy flight and wing spread of about four feet.

Gulls and Terns Pointed Out

The spotted sandpiper is about the size of a robin and is the only sandpiper whose underparts are covered with polka dots on a light ground-color. His plaintive "pew-pew" as he runs ahead of you along the shore indicates his presence. The killdeer is about the same size, and they often are found in flocks of 12 to 30 along the sand bars and at the edge of our ponds and streams at this time of the year.

DuMond calls attention to the gulls and terns which are usually found winging their way over the water, diving swiftly to pick up the shore minnows. The larger bird with a snow-white body and black wing tips is usually the herring gull. The small birds, with sharp pointed wings and slender bills which usually point downward, are the terns. They are graceful swimmers in flight. If the tern is white, with a black cap and a tipped back bill, it is the common tern. The black tern is readily identified by its black body, black bill and medium-forked tail. Persons who visit the Beaver Island will see the larger and less common Caspian tern.

Loons, which may be seen on nearly every inland lake, are well known. They are shy, expert divers, checkered in black and white, best known for their uncanny laughing call. Fishermen know the thrill of surmounting a blue-winged teal, black duck or mallard with her brood of ducklings that float as lightly as duckweed corks upon the water. In some small streams lined with heavily wooded banks they find the most beautiful of America's water birds—the wood duck.

Watch for Bank Swallows

At the water's edge, they make the slow-moving, protectively colored American bittern stalks frogs or spearing crayfish, or catch a glimpse of the king rail as it slinks along the reeds. To them the sawn of the green heron is a familiar cry as is the chatter of the noisy gallinule and the cackling of the coot or crow duck. Overhead, the kingfisher sounds his friendly rattle as he hastens home to burrow at the bend of the stream with a minnow freshly caught.

If you should happen to come upon a place where the river has cut through a sand bank, be sure to inspect it for the holes of the gregarious bank swallows, which often fill their burrows by the score. Families of them skim tirelessly over the water, gleaming in sections from the air. Sometimes one may get a thrill of seeing a bald eagle leisurely winging his way to an eyrie in some far-off giant tree where hungry eaglets await his coming.

GRAND RAPIDS TO HOLLAND ROAD STRETCH SEEN AS WPA PROJECT

The Ottawa county road commission today had the assurance of Highway Commissioner Murray I. Van Wagoner that an effort will be made to eliminate dangerous bumps on M-21 about halfway between Grand Rapids and Holland. "That is one of the most disgraceful stretches of highway in Michigan," Van Wagoner said after talking with members of the county road commission of the county.

The highway commissioner explained that the bumps in the road covering a total of about one and one-half miles of truckline, are caused by the muck underneath which is some places extends to a depth of 35 feet in the Vriesland quicks and basins.

Members of the Ottawa county road commission volunteered to supply truck and fill dirt for the improvement. Van Wagoner said he would make immediate application for a WPA fill project and told the delegation he thought the surfacing contract could be included in a revised federal aid road program for this year.

Employees of the road division were ordered to prepare estimates of the highway department's share, including state sponsorship of the WPA project and resurfacing. Van Wagoner said he believed the work would cost approximately $150,000.

Not only is the road rough, but it was pointed out at the conference that sections are flooded each spring, causing a traffic hazard which should be eliminated. This spot will be remembered in the vicinity of the Vriesland sink hole which cost the state thousands to bridge.

Michigan is said to have the best onion crop in the country due to failures of the crop in other states. It is complained from Ohio that drains have been made too deep so that the top soil has become too dry for production and growers are quitting. They have come into southern Michigan.

Michigan mint growers have formed an association for co-operative sale of all and advancing their interests otherwise. Hundreds of similar organizations exist in the state and are rapidly increasing and with excellent results. They are the best sort of "relief".

Stored supplies of butter are very much less than at this time last year. Large shipments are coming from Poland, Latvia, Holland, and Russia.

Some towns in Michigan are having serious trouble from big flocks of our newest foreign birds the starlings. There are some of them about Allegan but not enough to make a disagreeable sensation. They are neither good looking nor useful, but like the sparrow they will have to be endured. It is to be hoped that their numbers will decrease as those of the sparrows have done. Sparrows are not half as numerous as they were some years ago.

Records of the secretary or state's office show that there was an average of 4.3 persons candidates for county offices. Seeking a solution to this housing shortage Mr. Connelly wrote to Raymond Foley, state Federal Housing Administration director, requesting that an F. H. A. representative be sent here to confer in the matter. In his letter to Mr. Foley, Mr. Connelly pointed out that men had not been back to work long enough to accumulate savings sufficient to make down payments on purchasing homes, and in many instances their wages are not enough to enable them to pay a rental sufficient to attract people with capital, to build small homes, for rental purposes. F. H. A. officials here on previous visits have rated Holland high, according to F. H. A. standards, Mr. Connelly said.

Funeral services were held, last Saturday afternoon at Grawn near Traverse City for Una Harger, 30, of Grand Rapids, roadmaster on the Pere Marquette railroad. The tooth cutting contest among babies started when the picture of Helen Maloney of Boston was published with the statement that she was 16 months old and had 16 teeth. Since then various cases have been reported in Grand Rapids. Holland's contender Joyce Elaine Van Langevelde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Langevelde, 51 East 21st st., cut her 16th tooth at the age of 15 and a half months. She is now sixteen months old. However, Juanita Audrey Price of Nashville, Tenn., seems to be the champion with 16 teeth at the age of 12 months. It is something to have your "eye teeth" cut at that age.

Now that Allegan has its own light and power dam going, the next thing they intend to do is to put in a boulevard lighting system on the principal streets and possibly some resident streets. JUDGE C. VANDE WATER MONDAY ANNOUNCES HER CANDIDACY FOR OFFICE

(Zeeland Record)

Hon. Cora Vande Water, Ottawa county's present judge of probate, this week announced her candidacy for renomination to the office she now holds which, we believe, meets with the hearty approval of everyone.

Miss Vande Water has filled the office of judge of probate very efficiently and is entitled to re-election next November as well as the nomination in the September primaries. It had generally been accepted that she would make an excellent judge, and her performance has in no way disappointed those who had faith in her qualifications. Besides being honest, energetic and faithful to her trust, she was backed up by several years of experience as register in the probate office, through which she became conversant with every detail of the requirements of her present office. She has made good and the voters will express their appreciation at the polls when the elections arrive. She is a native of this county and is so well known that she needs no introduction. We just want to remind you that she is soliciting your support and if her friends will come out to vote there will be no question about her election when the time comes to vote.

of the Spirit. But it means to sow the seed that satisfies a temporal passion or desire. The other kind is to sow to the Spirit. Those who thus sow entertain good thoughts, speak clean, wholesome words, indulge in practices in keeping with God's word. They are the men and women who live Christian lives.

The sower may have to be patient and wait a while for the harvest. The farmer must sow before he reaps, but the harvest will surely come. A distinguished surgeon operating before his class, said to the class after the operation was over, "Our operation is a success, but there are certain things we must take into account. Six years ago correct living would have prevented this disease. Two years ago a slight operation would have guaranteed a cure. Now nature will have the last word. We have done all we can." The next day the patient died. Waited too long! A person may wait in sin and rebellion against God and die in sin by waiting too long. Those who are trying to live a Christian life may be discouraged because they cannot see the fruit of their labor. Sow the seed and wait for the harvest.

Sowing and Reaping

Galatians 6:1-10

Henry Geertlings

Life is a seed time. Every life has a field of opportunity in which to sow some kind of seed. The harvest, of course, depends upon the kind or quality of seed sown. If we would have a good harvest in the future of this life, or the end of this life, it is necessary to sow good seed. Nature is so constructed by its creator that if good or valuable seed is not sown weeds grow without planting. You never saw a field lying barren. Either a farmer has planted good seed and a good crop is growing, promising a good harvest, or the field is covered with a variety of worthless weeds. So a life is either sowing good seed and is growing a crop for a good harvest or hurtful, worthless weeds are growing up which promise no harvest of value.

The expectation of a harvest is the controlling factor compelling men and women to sow. The farmer who would be sowing his corn or wheat without expecting a harvest would not be one with more foolish or insane than men and women sowing certain kinds of conduct without taking into consideration the harvest such sowing will produce. The drunkard is of a drunkard because he has not taken into count the harvest that is to follow. No man ever chose to be a debauched drunkard. He simply began to sow drink in his life and did not consider the harvest to follow. No prisoner behind iron bars for twenty years or for a life sentence, ever chose to plant his life thus. The future depends upon the present. What you sow you shall reap, and thus your future is easily foretold.

That the harvest is sure for individuals and nations is a fact. Babylon forsook God and sowed paganism. Babylon fell that was her harvest. Greece, with all her intellectual glory, denied God, sowed skepticism. Greece was overthrown—that was her harvest. The Jews rejected the Son of God. They have reaped rejection, for they have been rejected for centuries throughout the world, and there is no nation they can call their own. Our forefathers in this country sowed human slavery. The harvest was that practically every family in both North and South had some one killed or maimed. One century ago French spent millions of dollars sowing infidel literature. The harvest was thirteen revolutions which took place within eighty years and today she is reaping the result of her sowing in many ways.

What is true nationally, of course, is true individually. Adam sowed the seed of disobedience to God in Eden, and reaped a harvest of expulsion. Cain sowed the seed of violating the law of God and reaped exile and shame. David sowed the seed of uncleanness and reaped temporary expulsion from his throne. Eli sowed faithlessness in his relation to God and reaped a harvest of a faithless family and ruin to himself.

A boy, fifteen years of age, walking through the country, drops into a little chapel to protect himself against a snow storm. The humble country preacher was preaching the simple truth of God, sowing the seed of God's word. The boy was converted and became Charles Spurgeon, one of the world's greatest preachers. A humble preacher's manse is on fire. All members of the house have escaped save one lad. A faithful neighbor, at the risk of his life, rushes through fire and smoke, saves the boy thus sowing an act of mercy and kindness. That boy was John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church. What a harvest for the humble preacher who sowed the truth and reaped the harvest in Spurgeon, or the unnamed neighbor who sowed an act of kindness and mercy and reaped a harvest in Wesley!

There are two principal kinds of seed to sow. There are those who sow to the flesh. That does not necessarily mean simply to take care of the body. The body should be taken care of. It is the temple

Thousands of people have witnessed the contests since their introduction here two years ago and the interest shown has been very gratifying.

Detailed information concerning this contest can be obtained from him.

CATCHES BIGGEST FISH IN SPRING LAKE

A large black bass, 22 inches long and weighing exactly five pounds, was caught yesterday by Albert Dahman, age 14, of Spring Lake in Beaubien's bay. Lee Tunney, off whose property the fish was caught, reported the catch. It is the biggest bass seen caught in that lake any one knows of, up to this time. The boy also caught a large fish last week, weighing just short of five pounds.

WEIGHING MILK IS CUTTING FEED COST

Increase in the practice of weighing milk at milking time indicates that dairymen in Michigan are recognizing the importance of feeding a cow according to production. This is the deduction of E. C. Scheidehelm, extension dairyman at Michigan State College.

"Feed prices are moving up almost daily and the careful feeder will be well repaid for extra efforts in watching production and feed rations," advises Mr. Scheidehelm. Reports indicate that the 1,200 herds on test in the state in June maintained an average of 30.5 pounds per cow for the month, even though culling out of inferior producers had been reduced 21.2 per cent from the previous month. One third of the cows culled in June were unprofitable producers.

"Alfalfa and sudan grass pastures are proving themselves this summer," says Mr. Scheidehelm. "Dairymen find that these two crops are the best safeguard against a marked drop in the milk flow during the hot and dry months. Many dairymen reported their cows increased in milk production after they were turned into a sudan grass pasture."

"Weeds in the pasture can be killed easily by cutting them in the bloom stage. Annuals which depend upon reseeding themselves should be so treated. Weeds cut pasture feed production and spread to adjacent fields where they are a pest in cultivated and cut crops."

"HIKING" NOW BY W. P. A.

Boys and girls between the age of 10 and 12 who have not already joined one of the daily hiking groups sponsored under the WPA county recreational program are urged to be on hand Tuesday or Friday morning for outings with Jack Peterson, Naturalist.

Interested youngsters should meet Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. or Friday at 10:30 a.m. at Montello Park at the S.S. South American dock, according to C. Van Dommelen, county recreational supervisor. Nature hikes are conducted daily by Mr. Peterson, he said, but groups on days other than Tuesday and Fridays are already as large as can be handled. The trips will be continued throughout the summer until school starts, he said.

Hikes vary in length of time and distance, but generally last well into the afternoon. Mr. Van Dommelen said. Mr. Peterson, who was at one time associated with the Getz farm zoo, describes the ways of wild life to the hikers.

From Naturalist Peterson they learn such things as the only poisonous snake native to Michigan is the Massasauga rattler; the Michigan hog nose or blow are at the farmer are a great help to the farmer as are all harmless snakes; the speed of American snakes does not exceed three miles an hour; polar cubs are without hair when born and weigh about 12 ounces; ostrich chicks grow at the rate of 12 inches a month for the first five or six months; the deer sheds his horns every year, but all the pronghorn antelopes carry their horns through life.

The nature hikes comprise only one phase of the WPA recreational program for Ottawa county. In Holland an active program of athletics and playground activities is being directed by Leon Moody, Dick Boonstra with Effie Kamps, Mike Korstanje and William Staal at the head of an active Zeeland recreational program which includes handcraft, artcraft and leather work, a softball league, volleyball, horseshoes, and other activities.

In Ferrysburg the recreational program takes the form of special work in dramatics, music, speech and elocution under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Lytle. Miss Rose Marold is in charge of a recreational program in Grand Haven, while Henry Noble directs play activities at Virginia Park.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

FISHES, cantaloupes and pears are the outstanding fruits this week though apples, plums and grapes are plentiful and reasonable. Grapefruit is now coming to market in fair quantity.

Beef and young chickens are again good values. More quality lamb is available at slightly easier prices. Veal, fresh pork and smoked meats are high though smoked meats have a strong summer appeal regardless of price. Fish is both less plentiful and more expensive than last year.

Higher prices are being asked for dairy products, eggs, grain foods and canned vegetables as a direct result of heat and drought.

Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

But That's No Reason Why Your Wife Should Be a Kitchen Drudge

A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO THE MEN OF HOLLAND

You Men of Holland — why do you let the women wilt and toil in super-heated kitchens these hot summer days? Is it because you haven't investigated electric cooking? Why are you so content to "make the old range do"? Is it because you are not aware of the cheapness and economies of electric cooking?

Let's be fair, and face some facts. It isn't the cooking of family meals that women object to — it's the cooking in a kitchen that's unbearably hot. It's the wilting and perspiring, the fatigue and drudgery, that women want relief from.

LET THEM DO THEIR COOKING ELECTRICALLY IN A COOL KITCHEN

Your mother and all the women before her had to cook in super-heated kitchens — but that's hardly a good reason for letting your wife do the same. Not when an Electric Range makes that unnecessary.

You — a man — surely know that electric cooking is done without a flame, and with the cleanest fuel on earth. None of the heat is wasted — the kitchen stays as cool as any other room in the home. There is no soot to blacken the walls and ceiling — nor to dirty the bottoms of pots and pans. No flame to foul the air.

Give your wife an Electric Range — give her a Cool, Clean, Fresh Kitchen in which to work. Do that, and you'll also give the whole family healthier and more appetizing meals. Do it now — and profit from the savings! There's no better way to economize than to have your cooking done with Holland's cheap electricity.

About 1,500 people, including company employees, heads of the departments, the office force and their families of the Holland Furnace company were present at the annual picnic, held Saturday, at Tunnel Park. Activities started with two soft ball games in the morning, the second one being played by the office girls. The greased pig contest was an interesting part of the morning program. A basket dinner was served at noon and additional refreshments, consisting of ice cream, drinks, peanuts and crackerjack were served by the company. Mrs. Kolla was presented with a large basket of flowers from the Relief society. After a few short talks a special act was given in the afternoon by "Happy Harrison's Troupe," which included trick dogs, ponies, monkeys and a bucking mule named "Dynamite." Two tug-of-war were featured in the afternoon and prizes were awarded winners in several contests in the afternoon and evening. Henry Boersma, purchasing agent for the company, was in charge of the sports and he also was general spokesman for the day.

Holland, over the sea, is to be host next year to Boy Scouts of the world. M. P. Russell, county executive, announced last week that a special invitation had been received by the Ottawa County Boy Scout Council to participate in the World Scout jamboree to be held July 29 to Aug. 13. The invitation especially urges that Holland, in America, be given an opportunity to be represented. The matter will be brought before the county executive board and the local committee in an effort to work out some plan whereby a Holland Scout might be sent to the jamboree as the official representative of Holland and scouts in America. Mr. Russell said: "Preceding the jamboree in old Holland in July there will be a national jamboree in Washington in June of next year. Many scouts of this area signed for the 1935 national jamboree which was called off due to an outbreak of infantile paralysis in the capital city."

Miss Eleanor Wierda, whose marriage to John Vande Water will take place in the near future, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening given by Mrs. Clifton Dalman and Mrs. T. Wierda, Mrs. Bernice Vande Water, Mrs. Teno Vande Water and the hostesses.

About 250 attended the annual Brummel reunion held, last Thursday in Jamestown, Spring Grove. A program and sports were enjoyed both afternoon and evening. Officers and committee members for next year were chosen as follows: president, M. Van Loo of Zeeland; vice-president, A. De Borst of Grand Rapids; secretary, Mrs. H.
