TEST ACTION ON DANCES, RUM IN COUNTY STARTS

Operator of Yellow Jacket Appeals Justice Ruling
to Circuit Court

State or Township Curb on Establishments Is Debated Point

Grand Haven, Aug. 17 (Special)

—Found guilty of a charge of operating a public dance hall without first obtaining a permit to operate the hall from the township board, Mrs. Myrtle Bronkhorst, operator of the Yellow Jacket, located at the intersection of M-50 and the Waverly road in Robinson township, immediately appealed the verdict of the justice court to Ottawa circuit court last Thursday afternoon.

The guilty verdict was rendered by Justice Raymond L. Smith of Holland following a trial in the supervisors' room of the court house here.

Judgment of the court was a fine of $25 and costs of $6.65 or 30 days in the county jail. Counsel for Mrs. Bronkhorst announced that an appeal would be made and she furnished $100 bond as required by the court for the appeal.

The case is a "friendly" action or test case to determine whether the township board or state liquor control commission shall supervise the operation of dance halls where alcoholic beverages are sold.

It was brought out at the trial that Mrs. Bronkhorst has a permit from the liquor control commission to conduct a dance hall. Prosecutor Elbert Parsons filed the charge on the contention that the permit to operate the dance hall should be granted by the township board, according to state law.

It was stated that if the supreme court upholds Prosecutor Parsons' contention, the permits from the liquor control commission will be illegal and operators of dance halls where alcoholic beverages are sold will have to apply to township boards for licenses.

However, if the prosecutor's contention is upheld, dancing in township places where liquor is sold would be outlawed entirely as the present state law, it was said, requires that licenses for township dance halls shall be denied or revoked if intoxicating liquors are sold or drunk on the premises or if persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor are permitted in the halls.

The state supreme court has ruled that cities or incorporated villages, through ordinance, may prevent dancing in places where alcoholic beverages are sold under the "home rule" act and that such an ordinance will supersede all other state provisions. It is the desire to determine if this state law, regarding revocation of licenses of dance halls where alcoholic beverages are sold, can be made effective within townships to supersede the liquor control commission's ruling in governing such places of business.

Mrs. Bronkhorst was "legally" arrested on the charge when she appeared at the court house for her trial. Through her attorney, Matthew C. Locke, she entered a plea of not guilty after which the trial was commenced.

Two witnesses were called, one by the people, which was Sheriff Frank Van Etta, the complaining witness, and Mrs. Bronkhorst, who was called by the defense.

Sheriff Van Etta stated that on July 2, about 12:30 or 12:45 a.m. he saw, through a window, four couples dancing on the floor at the Yellow Jacket, and four persons who were supposed to compose an orchestra. Mrs. Bronkhorst denied this, stating she never did hire an orchestra, but did employ two boys who played and sang on Wednesday and Sunday nights.

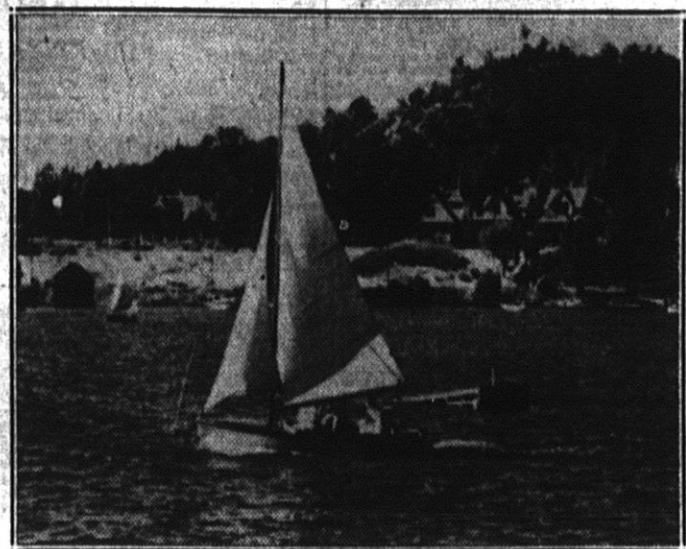

Mr. Locke, after an argument which consumed over an hour's time, contended that the Yellow Jacket isn't a public dance hall because the principal business of the defendant is the sale of food and liquor, and not dancing; that the matter in question is entirely within the control of the liquor commission, and the township boards have no longer any authority over public dance halls in their townships.

T. W. Atwood, assistant attorney general, assigned to the liquor control commission, and William Manning, inspector for the commission, both of Lansing, were present at the trial, and stated they were here only "as observers."

Bequest of $20,000 Goes to Seminary in Holland

Will Provides That Money
Is for Lectureship in Home Missions

Dr. Jacob Vander Meulen, 29 East 16th St., president of the Western Theological seminary of Holland, said Tuesday he has received notice that the seminary is the sole beneficiary in a legacy of $20,000 from the estate of the late Mary Bussing of New York city.

Dr. Vander Meulen said it is stipulated that the income of this trust will be used annually for the maintenance of a lectureship in home missions. "It is planned in the course of the year to bring to Holland a number of outstanding lecturers and to give the public as well as the seminary faculty and students the benefit of these worthwhile lectures."

"In this way, the local seminary finds opportunity to render an additional and real service to the local community and the church at large," said Dr. Vander Meulen.

He said he knew little of the family other than there was a brother and a sister who lived in the east. It was understood that a late J. Bussing had made donations to the Reformed church and its schools but it could not be learned whether Mary Bussing was a relative.

RUG PEDDLER LOSES IN DEAL

Is Attacked by Customer, Whom He Has to Repay;
Faces Two Counts

"Gypped" out of $51 through the purchase of a rug from a transient rug peddler, a Holland resident gained his "revenge" Saturday night when he attacked the rug peddler when officers went to a cottage at Jensen park to arrest him on a charge of selling merchandise without a state license.

The peddler, Hassen Malley, 36, of Albion, Ia., rushed to his car, crying that he would get his gun and "shoot it out" with his attacker. But Malley was quickly subdued by the arresting officers. Deputy Sheriffs Van Etta and William Kruihof.

The rug peddler was taken before Justice Galien Saturday night after his arrest about 7 p.m. and upon his plea of guilty was assessed court costs of $4.15 which he paid. Upon Galien's orders, Malley also repaid the $51 which the Holland citizen was said to have paid for his "valuable rug," later found to be of a cheap variety.

The peddler also is still facing a charge of carrying a gun without a permit.

Justice Galien said Malley had an Iowa permit to carry a gun but not a Michigan permit.

New List of Names for Calves Is Obtained Here

If you want a haircut, you go to a barber, if you're hungry you go home or to a restaurant, and so if you want Dutch names for use in naming newborn calves, the natural thing is to seek assistance in Holland.

That is what Alice D. Serrell, bookkeeper for the Van Hoesen dairy farm, located near Rochester, did. She wrote a letter to John R. Dethmers, local attorney, stating that she would like to have some Dutch feminine names as it is her job to name the calves.

"The Holstein-Friesian cattle, which we have, came originally from the province of Friesland in Holland. Besides that, what name could be more Dutch than our Van Hoesen. However, the given names of the family were all Biblical which isn't very appropriate for our black and white babies. We have used the names which we have time and again until they are thoroughly English, no more Dutch to them," she wrote.

In reply, Mr. Dethmers collected 50 feminine Holland and Friesian names and sent them to her. Mr. Dethmers also explained how the

HUNT STOLEN OIL PAINTING

Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta has been requested by the Arts and Crafts guild to search for an oil painting, a part of an exhibit, which was stolen from the lobby of the Waukazoo Inn.

The painting was entitled "Seascape," and was six by nine inches with a heavy mat and plain wooden frame. It depicted a sailboat, riding the waves, with blue skies overhead.

Peter J. Kolean painted the picture which had been exhibited at all three of the summer salons of the guild. It was last seen by members of the exhibition committee Friday night after a lecture at the inn.

The picture was hanging in the alcove at the end of the lobby, opposite the registration desk, but was not visible to the desk clerk. S. E. Paulus, manager of the hotel, is making every effort to locate the painting and has enlisted the help of the younger reporters to track down the painting.

It was missed when Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. Verne Hohl took down the other pictures in dismantling the exhibit.

LONG CAREER OF VANDERWERP IS ENDED IN DEATH

State Senator, Native of Allegan County, to Be Buried Tuesday

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Hope College Trustee,
Retired Judge

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 17—

Judge John Vanderwerp, a state senator, died suddenly about 4 p.m., Friday, of a heart attack. He was stricken Thursday night. He was 73.

Funeral services were held in Central Reformed church here Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

(Holland residents who attended the funeral included President Wynand Wichers of Hope college and Attorney O. S. Cross, honorary pall bearers, and Treasurer Henry Winter of Hope college, Rep. Nelson A. Miles and Alex Van Zanten. Judge Fred T. Miles, also named an honorary bearer, was unable to attend as he has been on a vacation.)

Vanderwerp, a native of Allegan county, had served as Muskegon county circuit judge for 12 years, a trustee of Hope college, Holland, for seven, and a member of the Muskegon board of education for five.

At the time of his death he was serving the 23rd district, Muskegon and Ottawa counties, in the state legislature where he was given important committee assignments when he took office as a Republican the first of the year.

Earlier, in 1911-12, he had served as a state senator from Muskegon and Ottawa counties, and once was Muskegon probate judge. For 35 years he had been a member of the state judicial council.

Vanderwerp was born in Allegan county, but had lived in Muskegon for 67 years. He left school at the age of 12 and first learned of legal matters while working as office boy for an attorney. He was admitted to the bar in 1887.

He served one term in 1896 and part of another term the next year as judge of probate here, resigning to rejoin his law firm when one of its members died. He was the attorney for the school board of which he was a former member.

In active legal work here 52 years, he was a former law partner of Charles B. Cross, now Muskegon municipal judge.

Vanderwerp retired Dec. 31, 1935, as circuit judge after serving on the bench since Jan. 1, 1918.

Hope college honored him with the honorary degree of doctor of laws in 1930. He was appointed to the Michigan judicial council in 1929 by the late Gov. Fred Green. The senator was born in Fillmore township, Allegan county, May 25, 1866, the son of the Rev. Douwe Vanderwerp, a Christian Reformed minister. Rev. Vanderwerp came to Muskegon in 1872 with his family to take over the pastorate of First Christian Reformed church. Four years later he died and the son was forced to leave school in the fifth grade to aid his family.

When 12 years old, he became office boy for the prominent law firm of Smith, Nims, Hoyt and Erwin, an association he often credited as the foundation of his acquired education in the face of many obstacles.

For nine years he was office boy there and when he was 21 he went to circuit court to listen in as another man took a bar examination.

Before he left the court that day he had taken and passed the examination himself, and had been admitted to practice by Judge Fred J. Russell of Hart. The event was entirely unexpected. In Vanderwerp's part, he often recalled. He passed the test Dec. 5, 1887, and for nine years more he served his law firm as an attorney.

HOLLAND GIRL SEES DIONNE QUINTS AS BIRTHDAY PRESENT

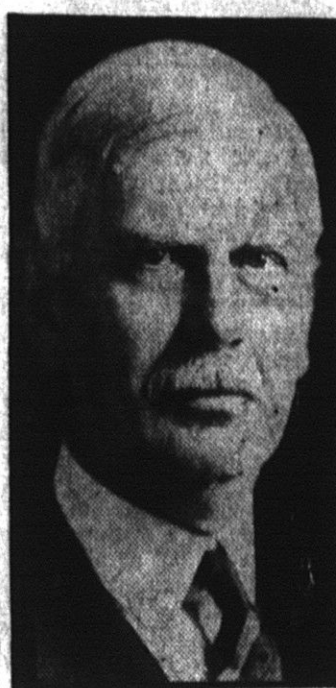

Miss Margaret Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Hartman, 242 West 10th St., today was proud of the fact that she had celebrated her 13th birthday anniversary with the Dionne quintuplets and approximately 2,000 other persons at the quint's home at Callander, Canada.

Miss Hartman accompanied her parents and sister, Miss Katherine, on a vacation trip that took them to Niagara falls and thence to Callander. They left here Saturday afternoon, and returned Wednesday afternoon.

As Tuesday marked Miss Margaret's birthday, their trip was arranged in order that they could see the famous Dionne quintuplets on that date.

The Hartmans saw the quintuplets at play during their outdoor play hour from 9:30 until 10 a.m. Tuesday. While the quintuplets played in a fenced enclosure, approximately 2,000 persons passed through the turnstiles to see them.

AUTO CRASHES THROUGH FENCE

Four Escape Unhurt When
'Racer' Turns Over on Beach Road

Out of control when the steering apparatus broke, an automobile with a racing body, owned by Julian Hilbink, 19, 10th St. and Maple Ave., and driven by Robert Vos, 18, 107 West Ninth St., struck a tree, overturned twice and tore down about 40 feet of rustic wooden fence along the Charles Kirchen farm on the short cut road to Ottawa beach about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Other occupants of the car were Pat Mullen, 166 West Ninth St., and two hitchhikers, one from Grand Rapids and the other from Muskegon. The only injury suffered by any was a cut on one of Vos' feet. Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta reported.

The accident occurred about one-half mile east of the Waukazoo road intersection. The "racer" was being driven toward Holland. Deputy Sheriff Van Etta said it was an "accident" that none of them was hurt as pieces of the wooden fence was forced through the cowl of the car and through the seat.

The car, with its yellow home-made body and "airplane tail," was a familiar sight in Holland.

Another accident, involving three cars, occurred on the Ottawa beach road about 9:15 p.m. Wednesday near the road that turns into the Baker place of business.

Deputy Van Etta was informed that a car, going west on the road, stopped "dead" on the highway and that a car, driven by Ernest De Feyter, 16, route 4, Holland, which was following crashed into the rear of the halted vehicle.

A third vehicle following, which was driven by Peter De Jonge, 19, route 2, Holland, crashed into the rear of the De Feyter car. In the excitement after the crash, the driver of the first car escaped from the scene and his identity was not ascertained.

Deputy Van Etta and Deputy William Kruihof investigated both accidents.

SEVEN THOUSAND AT PICNIC AT ZEELAND

Zeeland, Aug. 17 — Approximately 7,000 persons, including an afternoon attendance of 2,000 and a night attendance of 5,000, attended the annual Farmers picnic which was held here Wednesday under sponsorship of Zeeland merchants.

Highlight of the afternoon program was the hunt of children under 6 years of age for 500 pennies mixed in a load of gravel and the greased watermelon carrying contest for boys.

The Drenthe band provided music and others on the program included Bert Hogan, humorist; the VanHoven sisters, singers; and the Blue Ridge Mountaineers entertainers.

In the evening, Cornie Karsten, president of the business men's association, and Gerrit Yntema, mayor, gave addresses of welcome.

Zeeland defeated Borculo in a baseball game, 16 to 7.

Allegan Man Released Pending Court Hearing

Allegan, Aug. 17 — J. Lyle Connor, 26, an Allegan oil field worker, has been released from the Michigan state prison at Jackson pending outcome of a hearing on a motion for a new trial on a charge of manslaughter of which he was convicted last month by an Allegan circuit court jury.

Connor, whose car struck and killed Mrs. John Coleman, 63, on May 22, furnished the $1,500 bond stipulated in the sentence pronounced by Judge Fred T. Miles, Aug. 2, in case a new trial was sought or an appeal to the supreme court was made. Connor's sentence included a 2 to 15-year term in Jackson and payment of a $300 fine and court costs of $47.40.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FUND SHOWN IN HEALTHY STATE

Audit Reveals Balance of Forty Two Thousand
at Year's End

Operating Expenses Are Reduced; Big Sum in Bonds Retired

Showing a cash balance of $42,583.39 on hand as of June 30, the annual audit of the books of the Holland public school system was accepted by the board of education at its monthly meeting Monday night in Holland high school building.

The audit was for the fiscal year, ending June 30, and was submitted for the board's approval by William Arendshorst, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Arendshorst reported that the bonded indebtedness totals $398,000 but that approximately $125,000 in bonds have been retired within the past two years. The bonded indebtedness two years ago totaled approximately $525,000, he reported.

Supt. E. E. Fell said cost of the school system operation was $10,166.31 less last year than for the previous year. He said the principal items in savings were teachers' salaries, $3,235.61; fuel, $1,517.19; equipment, $2,152.39; special assessment, $1,719.09.

He explained that the reduction in teachers' salaries was due to the fact that there were three fewer teachers, a more even distribution of students and not so many students in the younger grades. He also reported that he was in Lansing last Friday to learn what the schools could expect of state aid next year and was advised that the amount would be about the same. He said the school system still has about $18,000 due it for state aid for the past school year.

Total operating expenses for the past year amounted to $33,291.05. Operating expenses for the year previous totaled $43,457.36.

Mr. Arendshorst reported that the uncollected delinquent taxes from 1929 through 1938 totaled $43,043.24, according to the audit.

President Fred Beeuwkes appointed the following committees for the ensuing year:

Teachers — Henry Geerlings, Mrs. Martha D. Kollen and C. J. De Koster, schools, John Orlert, A. E. Lampen, Albert Van Zoeren; claims and accounts, Lampen and Orlert; building and grounds, Van Lente, Arendshorst and Beeuwkes; ways and means, Arendshorst, Geerlings and Beeuwkes; visiting schools, September and February, Van Zoeren and Beeuwkes; October and March, Kollen and Lampen; November and April, De Koster and Van Lente; December and May, Arendshorst and Orlert; January and June, Geerlings; special reforestation farm committee, Lampen and Van Zoeren, representing the school board.

The matter of repairing the fence on the north side of Lincoln school was referred back to the building and grounds committee with a request that it confer with City Engineer Jacob Zuidema.

The school board approved the proposed plan of the Holland American Legion post to carry out a campaign to interest alien citizens in citizenship classes, they having been appointed for this work by the council of Social Agencies recently. Van Lente said the classes will be held if sufficient interest is shown.

Karl Bolander is Heard by Group at Waukazoo

Karl Bolander, director of the National Art Hobby guild and one of America's most popular art lecturers, delighted an audience of enthusiastic listeners at a super-lecture Friday night at Waukazoo Inn.

The super-lecture was held in connection with the summer salon of the Arts and Crafts guild of Holland which is being shown at Waukazoo this week-end and was arranged through the splendid cooperation of S. E. Paulus, manager of the Inn.

Mr. Bolander gave a brief talk to the group of artists in the dining room before the lecture in which he said that artists would pull the country out of the depression by educating people to appreciate beauty in the simple things around them and by giving Nature a helping hand.

"Holland is a fine example," said Mr. Bolander, "of what can be done in the way of beautifying our cities, its windmills, wooden shingles, and the trees and shrubs

TRIO ARRESTED FOR GAS THEFT

Indianapolis Boys to Face
Arraignment Before
John Galien

Three youths who identified themselves as residents of Indianapolis, Ind., were held in the local jail pending arraignment, possibly this afternoon, before Justice John Galien on charges of simple larceny, resulting from the alleged theft of gasoline from one of the trucks of the Holland Motor express.

The three gave their names as Joseph John O'Callan, 19, Charles Harris, 18, and Robert Close, 16.

The three arrested Wednesday night by deputies and local police, admitted they had attempted to steal 10 gallons of gasoline as they had no money to buy it.

Employees of the motor express firm detected the boys as they tried to siphon the gasoline from one of the trucks about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday. They in turn called John Cooper, owner of the firm, and Deputy William Van Etta was called there with Deputy William Kruihof.

O'Callan, found "guarding" the boys' automobile, pretended to be asleep, Van Etta said.

The other two boys escaped by running through the city dump nearby. After gaining a description of the two boys, local police joined in a search. Two five-gallon cans, one full of gasoline, were found at the scene.

While on his way home C. E. Alger, associated with the firm, thought he saw the missing two boys in Centennial park and informed officials. While local police stood guard about the park, Van Etta and Police Officer Henry Borr found the boys near the middle of the park. Van Etta said the two sought to flee but were quickly overtaken.

Their automobile was searched at police headquarters and revealed a quantity of camping equipment, a pair of golf balls, golf clubs and a quantity of cookies, sweet rolls and other bakery goods. The boys said they purchased the food from a bakery near South Bend.

They informed officials that they left Indianapolis Wednesday morning and were en route to Winnipeg, Canada, where they planned to fish and play golf.

Two Deeds Are Issued in Further Settlements
Along Lake

One Goes to Westrate at Madison Place Through Land Trade

In further settlements of property questions arising over the area which was filled in at the east end of Lake Macatawa for the city's new power plant, common council Wednesday night:

1. Approved a quit claim deed with riparian rights for Dr. William Westrate, involving a 100-foot strip of property just north of Madison place and extending east from Pine Ave., extended.

2. In return received a 90-foot right-of-way for Pine Ave. from Madison place to 100 feet northeast.

3. Approved a quit claim deed for Chester Van Tongeren on property extending from his property line to the east side of Pine Ave., extended. The Van Tongeren property faces Third St., west of River Ave.

4. Gave to a special committee the task of recommending how the Pine Ave. extension should be angled to the northeast in eventually connecting with River Ave. The deed to Westrate is scheduled to be issued after the special committee, composed of City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker, City Engineer Jacob Zuidema and the civic improvements committee, confers with him on the exact location of the 100-foot Pine Ave. extension he is offering. City Clerk Oscar Peterson said today.

Westrate requested the deed which would extend his property to the channel in order to sell it to Henry Neiring, owner of the new coal dock next to and northeast of the power plant site. Neiring seeks the 100-foot strip as an addition on the northeast to his frontage on the channel.

At the request of Ald. William C. Vandenberg, the city attorney explained the various proposals in detail to council. He said that when the case over the power plant was settled, the Pine Ave. extension and property involved in the case ended at Madison place.

The city will use the 100-foot Pine Ave. extension in eventually linking the avenue with River Ave. The Westrate property, being north of Madison place, was not involved in the previous litigation, and he asked the same riparian (Continued on next page)

LARGE NUMBER NOW ENROLLED AT C.C.C. CAMP

Enrollees Begin Work of Placing Brush Over Sand Blows
Officers at G.H. Arrange Other Programs for 193 Youths

Grand Haven, Aug. 17—A total of 193 young men have been enrolled in the recently-established CCC camp at Grand Haven. Capacity of the camp is 200 enrollees.

With completion of the construction of concrete walks throughout the camp area to connect the many buildings, black dirt is now being obtained in to facilitate seeding and landscaping the grounds. Gravel roads have been constructed and the buildings have been stained a bright green.

Approximately 150 of the enrollees have been assigned to work areas about 10 miles southeast of here where they will place brush over sand blows to hold the dunes, preparatory to reforestation which can only be done in the spring and fall.

Farmers allow the boys to find brush in woodlots and they are carefully instructed on the best methods of holding it in the sand. The remainder of the crew has been assigned to the camp where they have done an immense amount of work since arriving about July 1.

In the winter the work of brushing will continue, despite snow and cold and the boys will devote hours to study and handicraft with recreational programs which will keep them employed continuously.

Michael McGeehegan, the educational adviser, has been in the work for five years. He is an attorney. He is greatly interested in CCC camps and is considered to be one of the best men employed in this work in the state.

Most of the boys are new recruits. As the fall and winter season gets under way handicraft work will be started and it is the hope of the officers that the board of education will cooperate by allowing the use of the manual training shops for work to be done every Saturday morning. Courses also will be planned along vocational lines.

ORIENTAL JINGOISM

The jingoes flourish more and more in Japan, as the imperialists are stalled in their schemes of conquest and set up foreign scapegoats to cover their failure.

So far, their rage has been directed mainly against the British.
Recent pictures show a Japanese mood never before experienced.
Great mobs in Tokio and other cities have indulged in wild patriotic parades and given hostile demonstrations in front of foreign embassies, especially British.

England, so long admired by the Japanese, is obviously the goat at present. The Japs seem determined to oust the British from eastern Asia. Many observers think they plan to go much further, and expel the white race altogether from the Orient and even the South Seas—if they can.

In such a crusade we Americans would soon be assailed. Our ending of the commercial treaty with Japan might be a pretext. Recent indirect threats might soon become direct. Japan obviously desires the Philippines.

Fortunately the Chinese remain our friends. We do not want any trouble with Japan, and mean no harm to that country, but we cannot betray the Chinese. Our fortunes in the long run may rest with them rather than their oppressors.

As for our British friends, they may soon be adapting a historic American song and chanting:
"They gotta stop kickin' John Bull around."

SHORT WAY TO ALASKA

Walter G. Magnuson, chairman of the United States section of the British Columbia-Alaska Highway Commission is just back from an all-day flight from White Horse, Y. T., to Vancouver. He says he believes a much shorter route has been found for the proposed highway than was previously thought possible.

There seems to be a sort of natural trench in Central British Columbia and Yukon Territory, which will make it possible to cut the road to 2,100 miles. Once started, the highway could probably be completed within two years, if construction could be started at the same time at different places along its length, Mr.
Magnuson believes.

Whether the Commission will be able to persuade the two governments to start soon on this road is not certain. But the idea of its eventual construction for purposes of communication, travel and defense is appealing. It is likely to take a good deal more than two years to build. But it is impossible to believe that sooner or later it will not be done. And if this natural trench proves a practical right of way, cheapening as well as shortening the construction, it may not be many years before driving to Alaska becomes one of the popular tours.

Belshazzar's Feast—Temperance
Lesson
Daniel 5: 17-28

By Henry Geerlings

The king gave a feast and he did it in what we might call kingly fashion. He evidently spared no expense. He invited a thousand of his lords and they came. His consorts and his concubines were there, too. It was a case of wine, women and song on a great scale.
One can easily imagine that the party was not long in striking a lively gait. They speeded up. They drank heavily. They kicked down every restraining fence. With a terrible abandon they gave themselves to mad revelry. They had come for a good time and no one said that they should not have it. It was intended to be a wild party and it was. The king led on and who was there that dared not follow him.
What the king did the invited guests ought to do. When you are in the king's palace you must do as the king does. They all did. And why not live joyously when we live. Such, no doubt was the philosophy of that wild and unrestrained crowd in the king's palace that night. That is the philosophy of many of men and women who fret under the restraints of decency and temperate and wholesome living. This certainly has a modern note. It expresses the feeling of many today. They feel that life is their own to do as they please with it. They argue that the more restraints you throw around it the less you get out of it.
They hate any Puritan regulation.

Life should be free, not bound and pinched. It should pour itself out and not hold itself in. But they overlook the fact that there is such a thing as pouring out of life that is waste and death and there is such a thing as restrain-ing of life that in the end makes for its noblest expression. Utter abandon may end in utter weakness. And wise restraint may end in accumulated power. We often do not do that we may be better off. We often find that we may loosen. We abstain that we may have the better and deeper joy.
Wherever life knows no restraints it knows no power and never is able to climb the mountains of God.

When men drink they lose their heads. The king lost his. It is said that when he was carried away by wine he gave orders for the bringing into the banquet hall the sacred vessels carried away from the temple of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar. He wanted to drink out of them. They would not make the wine any better. They would not make drinking the more exciting.
But this just is another instance of the lengths to which men will go when they are drunk. They lose all sense of the fitness of things.
They respect nothing or nobody.
The more daring and foolish they can be the more they seem to have.
The king thought that in drinking from these sacred vessels would add zest to the wildness of the party and would satisfy momentarily the desire for something new.

But the king is stopped by a strange and terrifying happening in his mad revelry. A hand writes a mysterious message on the wall.
He is brought out of a state of abandon into a state of terror. He sends for his wise men to interpret the ghostly writing. They fail.
Then the queen-mother suggests sending for Daniel, now an old man. But he has not lost his power. He reads the strange message with ease. It is an awful and fateful warning. The king's end and the kingdom's end are near.
Daniel is brave enough to tell him so. That very night the strange words had their tragic fulfillment.
The king passed out and his kingdom went into other hands.

What a terrible denouement to a night's wild party! Possibly not all have such a tragic ending, but many of them have equally sorry conclusion. It is a question if men and women do not always lose something by such treatment of themselves and the sacred gift of life. We would not force any ugly Puritanism upon our modern people, nor would we take away any of the real joys of life, but we have the conviction that nobody can play fast and loose with his life and its powers and hope to get out of life then its best.

HOFFMAN SAYS VOTERS SHOULD URGE ECONOMY

Points Out Huge Total of Appropriations of Congress

Declares He Will Not Be Candidate for Any Job But Present One

Cong. Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan doesn't want U. S. citizens to be misled into believing their government has started to practice economy "just because in the closing days of its recent session congress turned down the lending-spending and housing bills.

"The truth is," he declared, "that this congress appropriated something like $13,000,000,000, an all-time high and almost twice what the government is receiving."

He continued: "Appropriations this past year were far more than the preceding year. Unless you believe in the theory that the nation in a mysterious way is able year after year to spend more than it receives, just put on your fighting clothes and get ready for a campaign to elect those who will vote, as well as talk economy or, perhaps, sweat and dig for more money to pay higher taxes.

"The government is your government. See to it that your representatives vote in accordance with your economic views. If you wish to spend and spend, and pay and pay, that is your privilege. It is your money that is being spent.

"Many friends in '37 and frequently since have urged me to be a candidate for governor; others have suggested that I make the run for the United States senate; some others may suggest that I attempt to be dog warden or pound master. Some have persistently circulated the rumor that I am a candidate for this, that and the other. Please take it from me, I will not be a candidate for any office except that of congressman from the fourth congressional district.

New Member of Holland's 'Colony' Pens First Novel

A new member of the growing group of authors in Holland and its resort areas was disclosed today with the revelation that Ivar Lund, who has resided the past six months in an apartment at 78 East 12th St., has completed and has ready for his publishers a first novel, "The End of Lucifer's Tail."

Mr. Lund, a Swede, came here from Chicago to devote his full time to writing a novel which, as an autobiography of his life, would give forth a tremendous stand for clean writing of beauty. The story represents his struggle to reach something higher within himself—something above art, something close to God.

It is this struggle between Art and Religion which baffles the main character—the vanity of Lucifer in art versus the servitude of an objective spiritual love of mankind.

The author for a number of years has been spending part of each summer in Holland where he has many friends. He has held various positions on newspapers in Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, Wash. In Chicago he sold advertising for a large advertising agency. It was the quiet atmosphere in Holland that prompted Mr. Lund to come here to write his novel.

Mr. Lund's contacts with life—from a bum in the Bowery to work in Kansas wheat fields, steel mills and cheap restaurants and on to a successful career in advertising agencies, newspapers and other businesses—provide enough material for a dozen novels. And he has molded these dozen novels in poetic-prose style into his single manuscript.

HOLLAND MAN VISITING EAST

A visit to the historic spots of Boston and Providence, Rhode Island, is the summer vacation described by Dr. J. A. Brower, 99 West 18th St. in a letter to friends in Holland.

Dr. Brower, who was met by friends of Providence in Boston Friday, said:

"Boston has its tortuous old-time alleys and graveyards from the time of the Puritans' landing—10 years after the arrival of the Pilgrims."

"I visited the old home of Paul Revere and where he took his famous midnight ride in 1775. I saw the spot where the sincere Puritans erected pens for Sabbath breakers. A man was not allowed to kiss his wife on Sunday nor could a mother publicly caress her child. It was much as they do today in Staphorst, Netherlands."

He described the Cape Cod route to Provincetown from Boston, and told of seeing Plymouth Rock. "Above the rock is Cole's Hill. Here in the dead of night during the first sad winter, nearly half of the passengers of the Mayflower were buried. The place was first called Leyden, giving us the idea that the colony was pretty well represented by the Hollanders."

He wrote of seeing the garden study of Daniel Webster, and the home of the original Old Oaken bucket. "At Duxbury we saw the home of John Alden and Priscilla," he wrote. He saw the burial place of Miles Standish, and in Quincy saw the homes of John and John Quincy Adams.

Dr. Brower wrote that the affects of the flood and hurricane which struck Providence a year ago are still noticeable.

NEW PROJECTS SCHEDULED FOR COUNTY ROUTES

Blacktop Improvement to Include Highways in Holland Area

Sixteen Miles Completed in Past Season Brings Total to 80

Grand Haven, Aug. 17 — With 16 miles of tarvia or blacktop secondary roads completed in Ottawa county this season, plans already have been made to continue the work on about the same basis next year.

Addition of the 16 miles this spring and summer, including projects at Holland, increases the county's mileage of tarvia roads to 80.

The 1940 program includes five miles on Sheldon road beyond the concrete pavement at the south city limits which over a two-year program will extend to M-50. The road at the south city limits, which was graded and gravelled this year will be done with the city and county sharing the expense on a 50 per cent division.

Two miles will be completed in Talmadge township; two miles near Lamont on the road east of Bauer to connect with the blacktop leading into Jenison. The road north of North Holland to Crisp will be improved with this dressing; another road east of Vriesland for five miles will be another project to connect with the present blacktop leading into Jamestown which is the well traveled Byron-Zeeland road. Thirty-second street in Holland will be resurfaced beyond the present limits for several miles.

Carl T. Bowen, county engineer, said that application had been made to the federal government for aid for secondary roads, but with or without this aid, the above plan will be carried out.

Word of the road commission is divided into four sections, preparation of roads for the blacktop work with the townships that raised local funds for road improvements; county-wide WPA projects including grading, graveling and drainage structures, and general maintenance.

The blacktop in the county which has been completed all but the seal coats, includes one-half mile in Spring Lake township south of the cemetery; 3.3 miles from the Coopersville school north to Muskegon; 1/4 mile at Conklin and another 1/4 mile leading to the school; 1/4 mile north of Marne; three miles on the Waverly road to connect with the pavement to New Holland; 1 1/2 miles south from Tunnel park; 1/4 mile at Borculo; 1/4 mile at Beaver Dam, West 16th street in Holland for 1/4 mile and 1/4 mile on 32nd street, the work done in cooperation with the city of Holland.

The estimated cost of the projects was $41,000 paid for out of the gas and weight tax money as allotted under the Horton act.

To encourage WPA projects the board of supervisors has appropriated $15,000 for next year's work and this year the road commission had $10,000 as the appropriation for the county's share for materials.

FINDER OF PURSE NOT EVEN THANKED

Lyle Schippa, an employee of the Holland Furniture Co., is a firm believer in honesty, but—

When Mr. Schippa found a billfold containing $50 in cash and many valuable papers on the road near his home in Virginia park Monday night, he immediately decided that the owner must be worried over his loss. So he made a special trip to Holland to return the billfold to the right party.

Mr. Schippa wasn't looking for a reward—nor was he looking for what he received. The owner eyed Mr. Schippa suspiciously, questioned his integrity, demanded the whereabouts of his find and finally stalked off into the house without a word of thanks.

In the "Good Old Days"

Following is the series of weekly articles based on news taken from the Ottawa County Times published in Holland nearly a half century ago.

Illegal fishing with nets has been going on in Macatawa Bay for years and it has been a difficult matter to bring the offenders to justice, an article entitled "Illegal Fishermen Caught," published in the March 23 issue of the Ottawa County Times in 1894 by M. G. Manting, began. Most of the time there was no deputy warden and when one was appointed he paid no attention to the work, the article continued. State warden Charles Hampton did all he could, but with a good local warden could not accomplish much. Last fall however some of our sportsmen secured the appointment of Austin Harrington as deputy warden in this county and he has given his careful attention to it. He has secured a number of nets and brought several offenders to justice.

ASKS BOARD TO CHANGE STREET MARKINGS HERE

Anties Desires to Change Parking Before State Plan Begins

Police and Fire Board Will Give Recommendation to Council

With parallel parking soon to become effective by state law on trunkline highways, the board of police and fire commissioners at its regular meeting Monday afternoon in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson voted to recommend to common council that its street committee grant Police Chief Ira A. Anties permission to begin marking off River Ave. and Eighth St., the streets affected.

Chief Anties told the board he would like authority to replace the present angle markings and paint the new lines before the Sept. 28 deadline.

Council recently approved parallel parking on the two streets but the markings have not been changed since the new state law becomes effective next month.

In other discussions, Chief Anties told the board he had received numerous complaints regarding operations of a photographer's studio in a local hotel. However, the chief said the studio had violated no city ordinance. The matter was referred to the chief and city attorney for further investigation.

Complaints, a report of the chief showed, concerned terms of purchase.

Chief Anties reported that the 12 new police badges had arrived and that, in keeping with the board's previous action, he would submit them to Peterson for safe keeping. Under the board's action, each officer will make a deposit for his badge, the money to be refunded when he leaves the department. Chief Anties said that to get a badge, an officer must present a communication to the clerk, signed by the chief, which will designate the number he will receive.

The board approved the sending of Police Officer Ernest Bear to Port Huron Sept. 7, 8 and 9 to attend the state meeting of the Scientific Identification association.

Fire Chief Cornelius Blom reported that he had conferred with Ald. William C. Vandenberg on the problem of allowing gasoline and oil transport trucks to use the main streets of Holland and he felt some action should be taken. He said the problem is becoming "most hazardous."

The board voted to refer his report to council as Hyma said the board would be limited to a recommendation.

On motion of Commissioner Fred Kamferbeek, seconded by Commissioner James Borck, the board voted to reinstate all present traffic officers with the opening of schools Sept. 6. Chief Anties was requested to give them required instructions.

Purchase of 14 mattresses at a net cost of $180.32 from G. Buis for use in the two fire stations was approved by the board upon recommendation of Chief Blom.

After bids had been presented the matter of buying coal for the fire stations was referred to the committee on equipment and buildings and Chief Blom.

The following bids were submitted: Ralph Zoet, $6.45 per ton; Harrington Coal Co., $5.75; Van Alsburg Coal Co., $6.30; Neitring City Coal Dock, $5.30, $5.80, $5.35 and $4.80 for various grades.

FENVILLE SOW HAS TWENTY-THREE PIGS

Fennville, Aug. 17 (Special) —A year old sow, her 20 little pigs, three sows which were drafted to remedy a feeding problem and the pigs of the foster mothers were all one, big, happy family today.

A record for large litters was believed to have been established when 23 pigs were born to the sow on the farm of Owen Lamoreaux. Only three pigs died. Mr. Lamoreaux said that as far as he knew the record litter previously was 18.

The prolific sow became quite confused when Mr. Lamoreaux took seven of the 20 pigs from her and placed them in another section of the lot with three sows which had smaller litters. When she first discovered her seven while feeding in the other part of the lot she refused to return to her other 13 pigs. Mr. Lamoreaux was forced to put the sow and the 13 pigs in a separate lot for a time. The group, now united, includes about 40 pigs.

The Lions club will hold a picnic Aug. 30 at Tunnel park a ball game opening activity at 3 p.m.

TRACES DEFEAT OF FIRST MERIT PLAN TO COSTS

Nelson Miles Tells Rotary Club It Was Created at Wrong Time

Says State Departments Made No Attempt to Follow Budget

Causes behind the "failure" of Michigan's former civil service system were discussed by State Rep. Nelson A. Miles at the meeting of the Holland Rotary club at the Macatawa Bay Yacht club last Thursday noon.

Miles cited general and specific causes. "The law was enacted at a time when economic conditions tended to produce failure, and there was a number of specific reasons why the law could not be honestly administered," he stated.

The speaker was introduced by Randall Bosch, chairman of the program committee of the club. L. W. Lamb, vice-president of the club, presided at the meeting in absence of Dr. O. Vander Velde, president.

Nelson A. Miles

Carter P. Brown, manager of the Holland-Castle park house show explained plans for ticket distribution for the 17th annual event here Aug. 30. Proceeds will bolster the Rotary fund for aiding crippled children in this area.

In his talk, Mr. Miles, who was requested by the late Gov. Frank Fitzgerald to introduce amendments to the old civil service setup, and who has acted in committee on the new bill, explained what he said were bad features of former civil service plan in Michigan.

He described its worst features as being unwieldy and too expensive. He spoke on the subject, he said, to correct an impression held by some that the merit system has been repealed in Michigan.

"It was unfortunate to have the Michigan law passed in recent years," he said, "because economic conditions have had a bad effect on civil service in other states as well. Ten years ago, it would have been hard to fill a vacant state job, but today as many as 5,000 apply for the post. If 1,000 qualify 999 have reason to ask why they didn't get the job."

"The demand upon state politicians for jobs is great," he pointed out, "and political pressure is responsible for many getting jobs, even under civil service. A provision, 90-day appointment allows such men to take jobs."

"It cost the state $1,300,000 to run the Michigan system for a year, Mr. Miles declared. "It was too expensive, and the thing wasn't run economically."

He quoted figures of civil service jobholders and costs in other states. In Ohio, 17,000 are hired, and the cost is $74,000. In Maryland, 4,614 workers are classified, and the cost is $32,000. The number of classified workers and cost of service in some other states are 12,000 workers and $50,000 in Illinois; 46,000 workers and $211,000 in Massachusetts; 16,000 workers and $225,000 in California; and 17,000 workers and $500,000 in Michigan.

"The $500,000 mentioned is the amount asked in the May sessions of the legislature for the merit plan. When the bill was signed, it carried an appropriation of $75,000."

Mr. Miles said the revision had reduced the scope of the law by only 5,000 employees, and that the service is still too expensive.

"Every department of the state said civil service in 1938 had cost them money. None of the departments made a pretense at operating within their budgets."

"The department must take on men whom they don't want, because of civil service, and then must conform to a wage schedule, over which the institutional head has no control. All the excess must come out of the institutional budget, and the department needs more money."

As example of "what broke down the merit system," he showed how some of the commissions operated under the system. Men were required to give daily reports of everything during the day. Printed statements were issued by the executive offices as campaign literature. It all cost money, and none lived within their budgets.

"In 1938, there was no way of enforcing the civil service law," he pointed out. "It was a weakness."

He declared that the law should have been started on a small scale, for 50 per cent of the employees, and worked as conditions would permit increase. "If the merit system had been initiated on a low scale, within limits of the budget, and under sound economical conditions, it would have been successful," he said.

WOMAN GIVEN FINE FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Grand Haven, Aug. 17 (Special)—Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, 22, Middleton, O., entered a plea of guilty Friday before Justice George V. Hoffer on charge of drunk driving and paid a fine of $75 and costs of $6.75.

Mrs. Crane was arrested by Trooper James Klemento of the state police post last Thursday about 11 p.m. after her car crashed into the rear of a vehicle, driven by Ann Murar of West Olive, on US-31, near the Stone school house, south of Grand Haven. Mrs. Crane was attempting to pass the Murar car at the time of the accident.

Frank Wagner, 38, who reluctantly gave his address as Detroit, waived examination before Justice Hoffer Friday on charge of issuing a false check in the amount of $8 at the Grand Haven state bank. He was bound over to September term of court on bond of $1,000 which was not furnished.

Information received here by Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta from the FBI at Washington, D.C., indicated that the name "Charles Lloyd" which was connected with the man whose body was taken from Lake Michigan at Eagle Crest Aug. 3 was an alias.

The FBI informed the deputy sheriff in a telegram that a set of fingerprints of the dead man sent to Washington earlier in the week are identical to those of Edward Neil Cain, who was received as prisoner No. 63774 at the state penitentiary, Raleigh, N.C. The telegram said he had entered prison in September, 1935, for possession and transportation of a stolen automobile.

Whether the man was an escaped convict or had served his term was not determined.

As Charles H. Lloyd, the man was fingerprinted as a civilian conservation corps applicant at Black River Falls, Wis., according to the prints received by the FBI in December last year. The person to be notified was given as Mrs. Arthur Carlson, friend, of Kansas City, Mo.

Deputy Van Etta said he likely would write a letter to Mrs. Carlson to inform her of the drowning. The telegram gave no street address for Mrs. Carlson.

The officer also received a telegram last Thursday from Tampa police, advising him that they had been unable to locate J. A. Upchurch, 1114 Florida Ave., Tampa, Fla. They wired that no person by that name lived at that address.

Lloyd's Florida address was learned from his fingerprints on file with the Michigan State police at Lansing, he having been fingerprinted at the transient camp at Kalamazoo last June 15. Lloyd also listed: Upchurch's name at the camp as the person to notify in event of any accident to Lloyd.

Motions and Resolutions

Ald. Vandenberg brought up the matter relative to the City of Holland issuing a quit claim deed to its rights along the new channel in exchange for getting a 90 foot right-of-way directly north of Madison Place. It was further reported that Dr. William Westrate is the owner of 100 feet of land on the old river directly north of Madison place. In this connection, the matter was also brought up relative to the city issuing a quit claim deed to Chester Van Tongeren for its rights to land east of Pine Ave. between Pine Ave. and Mr. Van Tongeren's property. This is in exchange for property that was given by Mr. Van Tongeren to the city for a railroad right-of-way out to its new power plant. Mr. Vandenberg then called upon City Attorney Lokker to explain more fully these propositions. Mr. Lokker reported that when the original stipulation was made, it took in property as far north as Madison place and did not go beyond this point. Mr. Lokker stated that he felt the city should use the same formula in acquiring a right-of-way for Pine Ave. north of Madison place and he felt that it was a good deal for the city to acquire Pine Ave. and in exchange, issue a quit claim deed to whatever rights it had along the new channel west of Pine Ave.

Mr. Lokker also explained that Mr. Van Tongeren had given the city a right-of-way over his property and he felt that the city should now issue Mr. Van Tongeren a quit claim deed to whatever rights the city had between Pine Ave. and east to Mr. Van Tongeren's property.

On motion of Ald. Vandenberg, seconded by Raymond, city attorney was authorized to go ahead and issue these quit claim deeds in order to close the deal with these two parties.

In this connection, however, the city engineer suggested that it might be well to get the right-of-way for Pine Ave. just north of Madison place on a curve rather than straight in order to get a better street line in entering River Ave. Mr. Vandenberg also suggested that in connecting up with US-31, it might be necessary to use a part of Lakeview park for this new street.

After some further discussion on this matter, it was moved by Ald. Raymond, seconded by Prins, that this whole matter be referred back to the civic improvement committee together with the city attorney and city engineer.

Adopted. Ald. Prins brought up the matter relative to completing the job of painting engine house No. 2, at the front of the building had been painted, he felt that they should now go ahead and tear down the old shed on the east side and finish painting the building.

After some discussion on the matter, it was moved by Ald. Prins, seconded by Kalkman, that the matter be referred to the committee on public buildings with power to act.

Adopted.

Oscar Peterson, City Clerk
