Shipping Strike Is Echoed Here

Echoes of the Great Lakes (CIO) maritime strike were heard in Holland today but it was still a bit early to estimate how much the tieup will affect local residents and business firms.

Two local dock operators which had boats scheduled to come in or load were uncertain today whether the work would continue as they had received no definite word. Said one employee, in protest to any newspaper publicity, "Good gosh, we're getting enough grief from householders let alone any more."

No boats were scheduled by another local firm until Aug. 27.

Local service stations supplied by gas from boats said the length of the strike will mean a great deal in local gas supplies. One firm, supplied by a marine base in Muskegon, said if the strike lasts long enough to exhaust "on hand" supplies, local stations might be a bit short of gas. Others receive most of their gas by rail.

Park Township Requires Permits for Building

To build houses in Park township now requires a building permit, according to announcement by Nick Stielstra, Park township clerk. Zoning of the township was approved by voters in the June 18 primary election.

Jack Grissen of route 4 served as inspector for the zoning.

Permits may be secured at the office of Mr. Stielstra, Lakewood Blvd.

Thousands Throng Kollen Park to Hear And See Amateurs

An estimated 5,000 persons gathered at Kollen park Wednesday afternoon for an amateur contest in which children and young people, 10 to 18 years, gave demonstrations of varied talents.

The contest, sponsored by the Retail Merchants association, offered first, second and third prizes of $15, $10 and $5 in each of the three divisions, vocal, instrumental and specialty.

In the vocal division, Bill Vander Yacht took first place with the song, "Rodger Young." He was accompanied by Earl Jekel. Second prize went to the Weary Warblers, a barbers shop quartet consisting of Irwin Smith, Jack and Chester Oonk and Bill Vander Yacht. The red and white hatted quartet sang "My Coney Island Baby" and for an encore as the judges made final decisions, "Margie."

Third prize in the vocal division went to Hugh Allen Koops, 14-year-old boy soprano residing on route 4, who sang a hymn.

In the instrumental division, Berdean Lea Young took first place with her trombone solo. Robert Greenwood took second with his French horn solo and Ruth Vander Leek and Muriel Hulst, third with an accordion duet.

John Swierenga served as master of ceremonies for the contest which lasted 11 hours. Judges were Bert Brandt and Clyde Geerdings of Holland and Harold Geerdings of Zeeland.

Awards were made by Tony Last, president of the Retail Merchants association, who was introduced by William H. Vande Water, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

All contestants who did not place received $2 for their efforts. They included Warren Mokma, trumpet solo; Donna Mast, vocal solo; Janet Ridley, accordion; Joyce Koops, piano; Mary Lou VanDyke, vocal; Kraai sisters, accordion duet; Eleanor Slagb, piano; Roger and Glenn Essenburg, vocal duet; Jane Scully, accordion; Norma and Shirley Vrieling, vocal duet.

In the girls softball game yesterday afternoon in Riverview Park the Holland Racine team defeated Bon Ton of Zeeland, 12-10. Florence Scudder was the winning pitcher.

Newsman Finds Michigan Beauty In Scenic Drive

Newspaper Columnist Writes No. 500 in Series, on State

(Following is the Michigan Mirror by Gene Alleman, secretary-manager of the Michigan Press association. Alleman has written 500 of these columns since he was selected as an executive of the association, which includes daily and weekly publication of Michigan. He started his weekly columns at the instance of Phil T. Rich, then president of the group—Editor.)

By Gene Alleman
MICHIGAN'S Lake Huron shore region, from Bay City north to Cheboygan, is bustling with activity this summer.

City dwellers are buying lake shore lots—all with a fine sandy beach and a clear view of the famous Blue Waters of Lake Huron. Rustic cottages and cabins are being built as fast as supplies and labor are found. A full-fledged "boom" is under way.

This East Michigan section, about the last in the Lower Peninsula to be developed, is served by a truly scenic shore highway, US-23, the Taft Memorial highway, whose southern terminus is Atlanta, Ga. From Bay City through Pinconning and Standish, this road swings inland beyond sight of the lake. The highway begins to skirt the shore at Au Gres and continues in almost continuous view of the lake (with a few exceptions) until the traveler reaches Cheboygan, the northern terminus of the Taft Memorial highway.

WHILE CAMEL hump-like dunes obscure a view of the Michigan west coast as travelers go north and south over US-31, the Michigan east shore along Lake Huron has no such characteristic. Land is fairly level and slopes gently to the water's edge.

As you drive north from Au Gres, you can see the Blue Water of Lake Huron most of the time. From our personal observation, US-23 offers one of the most beautiful motor tours in Michigan. Michigan made a happy decision when it located the route so close to Lake Huron. Not only does this concrete ribbon with slow curves serve the needs of lake shore residents, both summer and winter, but it provides an interesting scenic route for travelers who are going into Northern Michigan or the Upper Peninsula.

Overnight cabins are plentiful. Because the tourist development was a bit late, as compared to the West Coast region, the cabins are modern—many of them brand new.

LET'S HEAD north from Bay City for a week-end spin. Pinconning, whose Indian name was Opinnconing, meaning the "place of the potato" offers an opportunity to get some choice cheese. Pinconning has several cheese stores along US-23. They reflect the dairy industry of the region.

Standish, your next stop, is a trading center for a large farm area which specializes chiefly in sugar beets and dairying. Saginaw Bay, seven miles away, provides duck shooting each fall.

It is at Au Gres, French-named settlement marked by Point Au Gres, that US-23 returns to Lake Huron shores. Fourteen miles north is Alabaster where the U.S. Gypsum Co. operates a gypsum quarry. It is said that the quarry land was once purchased for $50, a gun and a dog. When gypsum was discovered, its value was jumped overnight to $10,000!

THE TWIN towns of Tawas—Tawas city and East Tawas—offer a variety of food and lodging accommodations.

The state park at East Tawas is blessed with a fine lake pier and a community house where the Lake Huron Players, directed by Hill Belmont of Saginaw, were presented a stock company drama, "Blithe Spirit." CIO and AFL Battle For Furniture Union

Grand Rapids, Aug. 15.—The Furniture Workers Union row was becoming more and more confused today as leaders of both the CIO and the AFL represented their organizations as the official bargaining agent for the 2,500 members of local 415.

CIO officials still claimed official representation for the workers despite action of local members Monday night in voting to quit the CIO and join the AFL. The bolt followed charges by local officers that the CIO was dominated by Communists.

Ernest Marsh, international director of organization for the CIO, said his union still was the legal bargaining agent for the workers and declared that the CIO would use all its resources to preserve grand Rapids membership. Morris Miller, leader of the bolt-

Child Killed in Two-Car Crash

Kenneth Jay Ter Haar, five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ter Haar of 14th St. and 14th Ave., was fatally injured in a two-car accident Wednesday at 5:40 p.m. when the infant tumbled from his mother's car through a window of the other.

The accident occurred at the intersection of 14th St. and Lincoln Ave. The cars were driven by the child's grandfather, Fred Dorgelo, 28, of 28th St., and by George Wolters, 25, route 6.

Mrs. Ter Haar told Coroner Gilbert Vande Water the baby was thrown 20 or more feet landing face down on the sidewalk north of 14th St. Mother and child were rushed to Holland hospital by Teno Vande Water, a fireman who was riding by. The child died of a skull fracture and cranial hemorrhage 10 or 15 minutes after arrival.

Mrs. Dorgelo, Dale Ter Haar and Wolters also were taken to the hospital for examination and were discharged.

Dorgelo who was taking his daughter and children to their home just a block from the site of the accident told officers he did not see the other car until he was well into the intersection. The Dorgelo car, a '29 model, traveling east on 14th, was hit in the right rear and was badly damaged.

Wolters, driving north on Lincoln, said he did not see the Dorgelo car until it was in front of him. He applied his brakes and police later measured 22-foot skid marks. Wolters, who was held as a German prisoner for many months during World War II, was badly upset by the accident.

Police are continuing the investigation and plan to consult County Prosecutor Howard W. Fant.

The child, born last March 11, is survived by the parents; two brothers, Bruce and Dale; two sisters, Ariene and Eleanor; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorgelo and Mr. and Mrs. George Ter Haar of Holland.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 4 p.m. from Seventh Day Adventist church with Elder Earl R. Reynolds officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Friends may call at the Dykstra funeral chapel tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

To Carry an Umbrella Or Not to Carry One—

Late V-J day celebrators report slight rains—or at least a heavy dew—about midnight last night, jumping the gun on scattered shower predictions for today.

Holland citizens had scanned the skies before leaving their homes to participate in afternoon celebrations. But Helios managed to play hide and seek with the dark clouds all day without being choked by precipitation.

Record rains fell on sun-dried Missouri and Kansas corn fields today, nearly destroying a bumper bottomland corn crop and heavily damaging thousands of acres of hay. Covering most of the midwest, precipitation was heaviest in these two states where one river spilled over its banks and several others reached the flood stage.

Beh Murderer Being Returned To Grand Haven

Ionia Authorities Reverse Opinions of Three Psychiatrists

Grand Haven, Aug. 15 (Special)—Robert Frederick Smith, 21-year-old confessed slayer of Roy Gordon Beh, wealthy Grosse Pointe Farms salesman, was to be returned here Tues. to face murder charges after being declared sane by officials of the Ionia Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

Smith had been confined at Ionia since March 17 when he was declared insane in Circuit Court here on testimony by three psychiatrists of Grand Rapids, appointed by the state hospital commission.

Ionia authorities said new sanity tests showed that Smith had "pretended" insanity last March when he was arraigned on first degree murder charges.

Smith will probably be arraigned Monday at 10 a.m. before Judge Fred T. Miles in Circuit Court, according to Prosecutor Howard W. Fant who said Smith will be given an opportunity to enter his plea on the same charges. If he pleads guilty, he probably will stand trial early in September, Fant said.

Sheriff William M. Boeve, State Police Sgt. Verne C. Dagen and Deputy Vernon Conant went to Ionia today to return Smith.

Louis H. Osterhaus, Grand Haven attorney who was appointed as counsel for Smith last March, will continue in that role and the two are expected to confer in Grand Haven tonight.

Smith, an Army deserter, was arrested by FBI agents last December, four days after the hitch-hike slaying of Beh. Smith and a fellow deserter, Boleslas Walter Czajkowski, 18, were captured at Blue Island, Ill., after an eight-day search that followed their escape from a guardhouse at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark.

Beh's body was found in his snow-blanketed car about 100 feet from US-31 in the West Olive district between Grand Haven and Holland. He had been slugged on the head and shot in the hip.

The following day, Dec. 21, Smith kidnapped R. Don Milewski and Rose McCormick (now married) and forced them at gunpoint to drive him to Gary, Ind. The couple had picked up Smith in Grand Rapids. The holdup occurred in Holland city. In Gary, Smith took about $15 from the couple and took the car which was recovered a few hours later.

In his confession to FBI men, Smith told how he hitched a ride with Beh and shot him when he refused to turn over his money.

Army Seeks Testimony For Tokyo War Trials

Former Marine Sgt. Jay Nevenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Nevenzel, route 1, and Walter E. Scott of Coopersville, who were prisoners of the Japanese during World War II, are among 2,661 former prisoners of the Japanese who are to be contacted by the Army to give statements concerning war crimes and atrocities for use as evidence in the war crimes trials at Tokyo.

This nation-wide campaign to contact discharged Army and Navy personnel and civilians was initiated by the Army. Both the Veterans Administration and U.S. attorney general's office are co-operating with the Army in taking the statements of the ex-prisoners of war.

Nevenzel returned to his home last October after being held prisoner by the Japanese for more than three and a half years. He was a member of the group which defended Wake Island before it fell to the Japs in Dec., 1941.

They Had a Good Story, And Police Didn't Argue

Two car occupants had a good story for Holland police when they were confronted with an extra tire in the trailer of their car.

Holland police stopped the car Wednesday at the request of Grand Rapids police who reported the two men had purchased one tire at a Grand Rapids firm but that another was missing.

The two men told Holland police they purchased a tire, and unknown to the other, one put a tire at a Grand Rapids firm but a new tire in the trailer which was carrying a motorcycle.

Holland police accepted the story with a grain of salt, but didn't argue when the pair agreed to pay an extra $15 for the other tire. The two men were not of Michigan.

Kelly Appoints John R. Dethmers To Supreme Court

Holland Attorney Will Succeed Starr On State Tribunal

Lansing, Aug. 15.—Gov. Kelly today appointed Atty. Gen. John R. Dethmers, Holland, to the state supreme court, succeeding Justice Raymond W. Starr who has resigned to become federal judge for the western Michigan district.

At the same time, the governor designated Foss O. Eldred, Ionia,

DETHMERS WILL ACCEPT

John R. Dethmers, who is vacationing here, today told The Sentinel he will accept the appointment announced today by Gov. Kelly in Lansing. He went to Grand Rapids this afternoon to attend ceremonies inducting Judge Raymond Starr to the Federal District court of Western Michigan.

as attorney general to succeed Dethmers. Eldred has been chief deputy attorney general under Dethmers. He will serve out the unexpired term of his elevated chief to Dec. 31.

Kelly said he selected Dethmers because of his outstanding work as attorney general and previous experience as a trial lawyer.

The governor pointed out that Dethmers possesses the same background experience as outgoing Justice Starr, who also was elevated to the Michigan supreme bench after serving as attorney general.

Judge Starr's resignation becomes effective today as he takes the oath of office as Federal Judge in ceremonies this afternoon at Grand Rapids.

The governor highly complimented Starr's work on the Michigan Supreme Court and said he is confident that Dethmers will be an able successor.

"Justice Starr has done an excellent job on the supreme court and has earned the appreciation of all thoughtful citizens of the state," the governor asserted. "I am convinced Judge Starr will make a very fine federal jurist."

Dethmers, now 43 years old, became attorney general Jan. 1, 1945 after serving since 1942 as state Republican party chairman. He previously was chief assistant attorney general in 1943-44.

Before taking state office, Dethmers acted as city attorney in Zeeland and in 1930 was elected Ottawa county prosecutor, serving four terms. In 1937-38 he was president of the State Prosecuting Attorneys association. Since 1932 he has maintained a law office in Holland.

Although Kelly evaded mention of it, the appointment was regarded as the governor's reward of Dethmers for his faithful service during the present state administration and for his outstanding work as state GOP chairman before he resigned that post two years ago.

Advancement of Dethmers keeps him prominent in state affairs after members of the Republican party repudiated him at the July 5 state convention. Delegates to that convention declined to renominate Dethmers as attorney general, yielding to the selection of Eugene F. Black, Port Huron, who was favored by Kim Sigler, GOP gubernatorial nominee.

Sprinkling Is Resumed Here

Effective today, sprinkling may be resumed between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m., the Board of Public Works announced.

The board requested users to observe the limits and conserve water wherever possible.

Today's order rescinds the ban on all sprinkling imposed by the board Aug. 6 when lowering of the water table made such action necessary.

For some weeks previously, sprinkling was limited to four hours a day, two hours in the early morning and two hours in the evening.

Lumberjacks Win American Legion Baseball Title

Defeated Last Night But DCA Also Loses; Last Games Friday

Standings	W	L	Pct.
Northern Wood	6	2	.750
Fords	4	4	.500
DCA	4	4	.500
Hart-Cooley	2	6	.250

Although stopped cold by Clyde Kehrwecker of Fords, 3-0, the Northern Wood team cinched the American Legion baseball title Tuesday night as DCA lost to Hart-Cooley, 11-8.

A victory for DCA would have given them a chance to tie for the lead in final games Friday. The Lumberjacks won the first round title last month.

Kehrwecker was nicker for six hits and yielded four walks but didn't let the Lumberjacks cross home plate.

Dale Arts kept Fords hits to four but three errors combined with one hit in the fifth, gave the Phillies two runs. They added the third in the seventh when Cal Van Wierren walked and came around to score on Zeke Piersma's single.

In the first contest, Hart-Cooley battered Jack Van Dorp and Austin Chamberlain for 12 hits giving Warren Victor plenty of working margin in which to beat DCA, 11-8. Victor gave up nine hits.

DCA took a three run lead in the opening frame when Ron Forney tripled home two runs and scored when the rightfielder made an error on the play.

Hart-Cooley got one back on walks in their half of the first and added five in the second with Howie De Jonge's three-bagger the big blow.

The registers then increased their lead and held against a seventh inning uprising by DCA which netted three runs.

Spile Van Eck had four hits including a double and De Jonge, two to lead Hart-Cooley. George Carver, Ken Van Tatenhove and Forney had two for DCA.

In the second contest Louie Altona and Con Boeve had two hits for Northern Wood. None of the Ford batters had more than one hit.

Score by innings:	R	H	E
DCA	300	011	3-8
Hart-Cooley	151	013	x-11

Score by innings:	R	H	E

Pension Boosts Scheduled Here

Lansing, Aug. 15.—Federal F. Fauri, state social welfare director, said Tuesday after October Michigan relief recipients may expect an approximate 18 per cent increase in food and 15 per cent boost in clothing allowances as the result of new federal legislation approved by President Truman.

Fauri said he cannot yet estimate the amount of money represented in the increased appropriations for social security, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind until additional information is received from Washington.

Although the increased allowances are calculated to offset greater present-day living costs, Fauri cautioned that they will not affect 30,000 of Michigan's 89,000 old age benefit recipients because they already are receiving the maximum monthly aid of $40.

City Property Sought For Radio Transmitter

Common council Wednesday night discussed briefly a request of S. W. Oppenhuizen, a returned veteran living in Grand Rapids, to lease and probably purchase five acres of swamp land on Black River just west of the Fifth St. Power plant for a radio transmitter and tower.

The issue was referred to the Civic Improvements committee, the city engineer, the city attorney and Ald. Herman Mooi who is chairman of both the Ways and Means committee and the Board of Public Works committee.

Oppenhuizen explained the lease is sought by the Holland Broadcasting Corp. composed largely of World War II veterans "who have as their aim to be of the greatest possible service to Holland through the owning and operating of a standard radio station of high caliber."

He said the property is needed before the corporation can apply to Federal Communications commission for a license. Oppenhuizen was accompanied by Raymond Plank, engineer.

Local Ex-Servicemen To Attend Get-Together

Members of the local Tulip City post No. 512, American Legion, composed of ex-servicemen, are invited to attend an all-girl get-together of ex-servicemen to be held Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Sessler room of the Pantlind hotel, Grand Rapids.

This meeting is being held in conjunction with the state American Legion convention in Grand Rapids Friday through Monday. Convention headquarters are in the Pantlind and meetings will be held in the Civic auditorium.

Above is one of the barracks-like structures of brick which are being erected as temporary living quarters in the Netherlands. The section shown is occupied by one family. Four families live in each building in separate family units.

These graves are those of eight Dutch men who were ruthlessly killed by the Nazis at this exact spot as they stood talking together. They had committed no wrong, but were killed when the real offenders could not be found by blood thirsty Nazis.

Travelers Say Europe's Plight Not Exaggerated

Stories about conditions in Europe are not exaggerations, but are true, said Mrs. Bert Kruijswyk, 209 East Eighth St., who with Mr. Kruijswyk and their children, Jeanette, 15 and Albert, 7, returned recently after a seven weeks' visit in the Netherlands.

Mr. Kruijswyk's parents, four brothers and four sisters live in Zeist and a brother lives in Gronkum.

The Kruijswyks took their car with them May 18 when they left for Le Havre aboard the Brazil, a former troop ship which had not yet been converted for civilian use. Beds were army bunks—not very comfortable—but food was good, they said.

The family drove from Le Havre to Zeist where their car was the talk of the town. Wherever they drove, swarms of children and adults descended on them to investigate and ask questions. Transportation facilities there, they said, are very poor. The Germans confiscated all bicycles and most travel is in box cars, they said.

Although Zeist was not hit, Mrs. Kruijswyk said, most places show the destruction of both German and Allied bombings. Very few churches are left with steeples, because they were the first destroyed by the Allies when the Nazis were using them as observation posts.

Reconstruction, she said, is very slow due to lack of materials. Temporary living quarters, brick, barracks-like structures, are being constructed in many places. Homes being built have window openings boarded up because glass is impossible to obtain.

Dutch housewives would think the United States a paradise, so far as food is concerned, said Mrs. Kruijswyk. The average wage, she said, is 45 to 50 guilders a week, not enough for the necessary food, even if they could get it. They stand in line a whole day for only the ration coupons, she said, and then maybe another day for a small amount of food. Often after many hours in line, the food is sold out.

Nothing can be bought without ration coupons, except at exorbitant black market prices. The Kruijswyks paid 85 cents apiece for peaches, 65 cents for a tomato and 75 cents for one egg.

Although the Dutch are neat, Mrs. Kruijswyk said, their clothes are old and mended. She said that people in France and Belgium, living under the same conditions, appear to have a careless attitude and a decided change in personal and civic neatness can be seen immediately upon crossing the Netherlands border.

Clothes, too, are very few and family members often stand in line in shifts for the few articles obtained occasionally by the retailers. When Mr. Kruijswyk's sister died the family's washing, the neighbors stood in awe for over an hour to gaze at the amazing amount of clothes owned by the Americans.

Albert, known as "Butch," used his ingenuity to satisfy his almost insatiable hunger. A fussy eater, he'd inquire of his little Dutch friends, "Have you eaten yet?" If the reply was negative, he invited himself to dinner, and by making the rounds of all his friends, he managed to get plenty to eat. He could eat only the things he liked with the knowledge that he could get more another place.

Recreation is practically nil, according to the Kruijswyks. There are occasional movies, usually films seven or eight years old which break at regular intervals. Tickets are $2.50.

The Kruijswyks returned on the Fairport on which only eight other passengers were taken.

New Lifeboat Is Expected Here

A new $23,000 36-foot heavy duty lifeboat is expected at the Holland Coast Guard station within the next day or so to replace a lifeboat in use here for 16 years.

Chief Glenn W. McGeorge said the heavy duty boat is used on long runs and in rescue work in Lake Michigan. From now on, most calls will be on the big lake, he said.

The boat was shipped out of Curtis Bay, Md., by freight May 7. It will be launched at Harrington's dock on the north shore of Lake Macatawa.

A wind storm over the week-end which Chief McGeorge described as the worst of the year endangered many pleasure craft in Lake Macatawa and Lake Michigan.

Coast Guardsmen Tuesday night completed work in returning to Jensen park an 18-foot runabout owned by Melvin Boonstra of Zeeland and Macatawa park which went awash in the surf a mile north of Tunnel park Thursday night. Boonstra had anchored the boat and made a call in the area. While he was absent, the wind came up.

David Lockhart and Harvey Neveland of Virginia park were taken from their water-filled 28-foot sloop in distress Saturday afternoon as they attempted to sail from Macatawa to Central park.

A 24-foot sloop owned by Lt. Comdr. Fred S. Bertsch was assisted when it threatened to break up on Telling's point Saturday morning after dragging anchor from the west to the east shore of the bay.

A 30-foot sloop with M. S. Riley and son Arthur of Grand Rapids was given assistance when it was in distress Sunday morning off Jensen park with a broken mast.

An outboard motor operated by Roy Webster of Grand Rapids was aided Sunday afternoon after the engine conked out on Lake Michigan and the boat washed up on the beach below the state park.

New Store Plans Novel Opening

Newest member of Holland's family of downtown businesses is Fox's Jewelers and Opticians, which Friday scheduled a novel get-acquainted event. The new and modern store was open from 5 to 9 p.m., during which no sales were made, but visitors were invited to inspect the store's stocks of diamonds, watches, silver ware, and electrical appliances.

All visitors to the store were given a free souvenir of their visit, according to Ray Striffling, vice-president and general manager of Fox stores, who was in Holland last week to arrange for the opening. Mr. Striffling has just returned from 42 months in the U.S. Army. In all he has had 22 years experience in the retail jewelry trade.

The local store will be managed by Harm Triezenberg, formerly of Kalamazoo. Mr. Triezenberg also is a veteran. He was recently discharged after serving 36 months in the Army, most of which was in the Services of Supply. He has had 18 years in jewelry experience. Mrs. Mary Triezenberg, wife of store manager will assist in the store. Wilbur Wennersten of Holland, experienced watchmaker, has been selected to manage the watch repair department.

Another staff member is Joyce Battjes, another Holland resident. Her parents live on Lake Macatawa.

Martin M. Fox, president of Fox's, has decreed a policy of complete customer satisfaction, according to Mr. Striffling.

"A sale is not completed when the customer pays for his purchase. He must receive complete satisfaction," Mr. Striffling said.

"It will be the policy of the store to offer Holland buyers the widest possible selection of nationally-advertised products. When available, we expect to add quality lines of fine china and stemware."

"It is our expectation that our store in Holland will create new business for the community, rather than dividing the old business. We believe that we can attract buyers to Holland who have never made purchases here before," Mr. Striffling said.

Store measures 17 by 50 feet, with an additional 50 feet available for merchandising or stock as necessity dictates. The building has been completely renovated in the latest and most modern styling. Ease of shopping and display has been incorporated in the plan, Mr. Striffling declared.

Lefty Van Wieren Gets Credit for Win After Relieving Skaalen

The Holland Flying Dutchmen won their only extra-inning baseball game so far this season last night, defeating Benton Harbor's House of David club, 6-5, in 11 frames at Riverview Park.

Benton Harbor led until the sixth when Harold Van Wieren's home run blast atop the leftfield grandstand moved Holland out in front. Benton Harbor tied the count in the ninth before the Dutchmen won on two infield hits and a stolen base in the 11th.

Wayne De Neff bunted safely to open the 11th. Frank Bagladi sacrificed and after Don Van Lente was retired on a grounder to the third baseman, Harry De Neff singled over the pitcher's head. W. De Neff stopping at third on Shortstop Wayne Terwilliger's fine stop. H. De Neff stole second and on the catcher's throw to second the winning run scored.

Lefty Clare Van Wieren was the winning pitcher after relieving Mike Skaalen in the ninth. Van Wieren made Denny Yarger fly out to short left to end the ninth with runners on second and third. He then pitched two scoreless innings.

Benton Harbor scored twice in the fourth on a single, an error, a walk, wild pitch and two stolen bases. The Dutch got a run in the same inning when H. Van Wieren drove Russ Woldring home with a single after Woldring had doubled.

Benton Harbor got another run in the sixth but Holland went ahead 4-3 in the same inning when they slammed four solid hits from the left-handed slants of Ed Schumacher, Woldring, singled, Juke Van Huis tripled and H. Van Wieren hit a mighty home run which bounced on top and over the leftfield stands. Vern Vande Water followed with a three-bagger but died on third.

Holland went ahead 5-3 in the eighth on a double by H. Van Wieren and single by Vande Water.

Benton Harbor tied the score in the ninth with two singles, a double and a walk.

Skaalen allowed eight hits during his eight and two-thirds innings on the hill. He was pulled by Manager Benny Batema when Yarger, a left-handed hitter, appeared at bat with two men on base.

Loren Wenzel went out of the game in the ninth with a badly damaged finger. A foul tip caught the third finger on his right hand.

A doctor's x-ray today was to determine whether his finger is broken. If the finger is broke he'll probably be lost for the rest of the season.

Vande Water came in from rightfield to don Wenzel's catching equipment and Don Van Lente went to right. Van Lente, regular first baseman, had been benched with a badly swollen thumb and sore right thigh. Russ Woldring, regular centerfielder, played first.

Speak Marriage Vows in Zeeland

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Redder

Miss Irene Overweg and Kenneth G. Redder, both of Zeeland, spoke their marriage vows Thursday night, Aug. 1, in the chapel of First Christian Reformed church. The Rev. D. D. Bonnema read the double ring service at 8 p.m. before an altar barked with palms, ferns and lighted seven-branched candelabra. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Overweg, 311 East Main St., Zeeland and the groom is the son of Mrs. Gertrude Redder, 178 E. Lincoln Ave., Zeeland.

Wedding music was played by Miss Ruth Koster and Mrs. Eleanor Glupker sang "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony and "God Sent You to Me" following the exchange of vows.

The bride wore a gown of marquisette over satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline with lace insets and long sleeves. Her full skirt extended into a train and her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was caught by a cluster of orange blossoms. She wore a triple strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Howard Redder served as best man and ushers were Corrie Overweg and Harvey Redder. A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony. Serving were the Misses Grace De Jong, Lena Jacobsen, Joan Vander Ploeg, Corrine Scholten, Evelyn Huyser and the Mesdames G. Van Draught and W. Vander Veer. The Misses Frances Overweg and Alma Vander Ploeg were in charge of gifts and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Overweg were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Louis Mulder presented a chalk talk assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Glupker, Miss Vera Rotman and Miss Ruth Koster.

Mr. and Mrs. Redder left on a wedding trip to Canada. They are living at 138 Lincoln St., Zeeland.

WITH PARDONABLE pride, Publisher Deemer Lee has sent us a copy of the centennial edition of his Estherville, Iowa, Daily News. Mr. Lee, Managing Editor Hoyt Luthly and News Editor Dorothy Story, are to be congratulated on the excellence of the edition. Advertisers got into the spirit of the celebration and many dug deep into company archives for "then" and "now" photos for their ads that make the edition well worth keeping for its historical value.

A side light on the water shortage can be seen at the parking at the city plant adjacent to Riverview park. At points where the sprinkling heads didn't meet there are nicely formed little diamonds of browned out grass. Even the city has its sprinkling problems, it seems.

THERE WERE some red faces around a local court not so long ago. Local officials were examining evidence in a minor traffic accident that involved not much more than a little scratched paint and, we fear, just a bit of temper. One of the principals was a former resident of Holland and a classmate of court biggies.

"Now see here" said the irate woman calling a court official by his first name. "Holland has the worst driving habits in the world and you know it." Nobody dared contradict her because she has spent the 20 or more years since she left here driving in every state in the union. We pass this information along to aid the Jaycees in their safety education program.

Holland residents could take a lesson from George Gosseler in helping beautify the city. Said gentleman has planted the little triangle at the southwest corner of 13th St. and Columbia Ave. near his store with petunias protected by a low white picket fence. It's beautiful. As for watering flowers like that, we hear it's legal with a pail or tea cup.

SPEAKING of conserving water, one enterprising Holland housewife has evolved a scheme many others could copy. She keeps a pail handy at the kitchen sink and instead of disposing of water used to wash vegetables through the drain, she pours it into the pail and then waters the trees and shrubbery in her yard. Others are using rinse water from washing and in other ways making water work twice.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, wife of the man whose "Dynamic Kernel" wheat-raising project has won national acclaim, is a personal friend of Mrs. Perry Slenk of route 6. She is the former Elizabeth Comfort of Tecumseh who taught with Mrs. Slenk at Spring Lake. Last year Mrs. Hayden was named the "Michigan Mother of 1945" by the Golden Rule Federation of New York City.

The bride and groom were at the altar. Attendants were in their places and the church had just the right kind of atmosphere as Myra Brouwer sang the climax to one of the better known wedding selections.

Then through the open windows came the voice of a sound car instructing residents to desist from sprinkling lawns due to water shortages. The announcer interrupted himself to say, "Hello, Jock. How're you doing?" as the car went away.

Don Vander Baan and Elaine Zeerip will have one more little thing to remember about their wedding Aug. 6 in Ninth Street Christian Reformed church.

A JUST AND LASTING PEACE

Lincoln ended his famous second inaugural address on the phrase
"a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."
The Civil war was closing and America was facing reconstruction.
The American people had the luck to have a literary genius in the White House, and he said in words that are unforgettable what was in his heart and in the hearts of the people.

President Truman the other day, with his eye on the Paris Conference, expressed the same sentiment. But Truman is no literary genius and his words have already been lost amid the insistently conflicting voices of our day.
"We have no ax to grind," said the president. "We are not after power or territory. We want no reparations. All we want is a just peace."

The words are not words of genius, rather the businesslike echo of a businesslike generation, but they mean the same thing Lincoln's words meant. And there can be little doubt that they express the deepest sentiment of this generation of Americans, as Lincoln's did of the Americans of his day. The American people have always been peace-loving. They deserve no special credit for that;
peace is obviously to our advantage. We have plenty of "lebensraum" here on this North American continent; we do not need territory in any other part of the world. Even the tiny spots that some Americans want for island bases are a responsibility rather than a desire; most Americans would be glad to give them up if they were not needed to protect our continent at home; they are not wanted for their own sake.

Any piece of territory anywhere else in the world would cost much more than it is worth. We can make much more out of what we already have here, if only left to develop it, than we could hope to get from any so-called "possession."
The desire for "a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations" is merely the expression of the good sense of the millions of common men who call themselves Americans. That's the side on which their bread is buttered, and they have sense enough to reject as a permanent policy the various blueprints for Utopia that visionary idealists are constantly drawing up. All the average American wants is to be let alone; to that extent he is a solitarian in the best sense of that much-abused word. Periodically he is even willing to fight for the right of being left alone. But his overall policy is one of peace. Lincoln said it 80 years ago, and Truman has said it again for us of today.

August 18, 1946
Jesus and the Sacredness of Human Life
Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-24;
18:10-14

By Henry Geerlings

If we read the Biblical writers we gather that there are very few things men do which do not carry a moral significance. If that be true, then all of life is invested with moral responsibilities. We cannot say of certain acts and moments, these things do not count, and these do not. The fact of the matter is that if we do not count, someone else does, and all the time there is being registered in us and in others consequences of far-reaching importance. If there were no relation between us, no interplay of influences, we might do many things that in the present arrangement seem altogether unwise. If what we do were carefully analyzed and spread out in front of us, we would be utterly amazed at all that is involved.

The will of God in respect to our lives has been expressed in two ways primarily. The first is in what He says. Nowhere in the Bible does God intimate that we can cheapen life. The laws He has handed down to us in every respect encourage us to foster the art of living at its best and of thinking of the life he has placed within us as of precious worth.
This can be seen in what has often been discovered that nowhere has the life of a human being been so highly esteemed and jealously treasured as among Christian people. Our attitude toward children, toward cripples and invalids and toward the unfortunate of all classes surpasses that of non-Christian people as the mountains rise above the hills at their base. It is the will of God that no one shall perish; and it is His will that none shall be injured and imposed upon and despoiled.
The will of our God is written in to the very texture of His legislation for the eternal guidance of their conduct and relationship.

God is the creator of all life, from its lowest to its highest forms. Inanimate beings were called into being by God through His word alone. The animals were brought forth from the earth and the sea at God's word. The divine creation of man is emphasized in Genesis. When God created man
He endowed him with a knowledge of Himself and with freedom and righteousness. Likeness to God carries with it the idea of intellectual, moral and spiritual powers. It is not strange that man the world over has been in search of the divine being, if haply he might find him. That search in itself is testimony to the fact that we instinctively long for knowledge and strength and holy living.

This quest for God is certain evidence that not only is He the source of life, but also that He alone can bring this life to its highest fruition. Were He to withdraw he would die. It is true then that He sustains the life that He has bestowed. This life is begun with Him and at each step of the way is dependent upon the power that brought us into being. That this life of mine is fostered day by day by laws that hem me in is no proof that I am not daily the object of His protection and care.
There is hardly one of us who would not be farther on and farther up if he had striven to be his best all along the way of his life.
How often we have let down the bars and carelessly remarked that we will not count this time.
Whether we counted or not, no chain of logic can convince us that someone did not count.

Is it not true that there have been very few times in life when we have actually been at our best.
We prod ourselves on toward that high goal when some person is looking, and when those eyes are turned in another direction we imagine we can give freedom to our desires without somewhere along the way suffering the consequences.
We have lived long enough to realize that our life is chiefly our concern. All the aids of God and man may be handed me but unless I avail myself of them, they are powerless to do me any good.
There is no force in the universe that can carry us to the highest goals without our sustained efforts. We are not logs or stones.
There is such a thing as only being; there is such a thing as being at our worst, and there is such a thing as being at our best. We shall have to choose which way we shall take.

One of the greatest tragedies of our life is to go on doing wrong, or doing less than we know we should do, and not be troubled by it. The person in that state hardly knows the first thing about the sacredness of life. To use it cheaply, to regard it flippantly, to pass it by as unimportant, is to insult God and heap indignity on Him. If base and ignoble living does not receive our disapproval so far as we ourselves are concerned, then it should for the sake of others.
Many a father has been brought to a real sense of his moral and religious responsibility when he has thought of those under his care.
We should live at our best for our own sakes; but if we cannot appreciate that appeal then we should be willing to live at our best for the sake of others, and especially for the sake of those whose lives are in the formative stage.

glue used in plywood, under pressure, in about two or three minutes. Prior to that process, the

Holland

It is estimated by some of the election officials who had a part in the counting of the vote in the various precincts in Holland that about 25 per cent of the total number of people who entered the voting booths to register their wishes in regard to the various candidates to be nominated were disfranchised because they made errors in marking their ballots.

A Holland alderman has found out that the automobilists and motorcycle owners of Holland could drive their machines on the sidewalk to their hearts content and the police department could not legally put a stop to it, according to a story in the Friday, Aug. 28, issue. He learned much to his surprise that there is no ordinance on the statute books of the city of Holland that forbids the driving of automobile and motorcycles on the walks. While the bicyclists are barred from the walks, the larger and swifter machines can do as they please as far as the walks are concerned. As a result of this information the alderman will probably attempt to have an ordinance introduced in the council which will definitely prohibit the practice.

Alaskan Trout Do Right By Phil: Takes Nice Mess

Newsman Gets View Of Glacier Fed River in Northland

By Phil Rich

HYDER, Alaska—Today we visited a glacier known as Salmon; we walked several miles over the Cantu trail through virgin forest; photographed a bear and caught a mess of Dolly Varden trout.

Hodg took off for the hills early with Art Moa to inspect the Cantu trail through government forests and we begged along. Moa had his pickup fixed so we could sit in the box and have an open air sight-seeing trip.

We drove up about 12 miles, crossed the Salmon river and then struck out across the Cantu. This trail runs about two and a half miles to Salmon glacier. It was a beautiful walk through a stand of hemlock. Most of these trees were large—some four to five feet in diameter.

Where the trail leads over a pass, the rise is about 1,000 feet—good for one's wind. We dressed for the ride but left our coats in the pickup and was it hot!

SPEAKING OF heat, it was 58 today and in the evening 54. They say it gets up to 90. It has rained just that light, misty rain, typical of Alaska—several times today. Moa's car quit on us at the Riverside mine. But a mechanic put things apart and had us going again in 30 minutes or so.

The Salmon glacier is a good sized chunk of ice—about 50 miles long. Where it squeezes through the mountain, a mining operation is getting started. They find a lot of lead and tungsten in these hills and some gold, silver, zinc, copper and other metals.

Camp supplies are piled in great caches along the glacier which is blue where the river escapes from its face. The 6,000-foot mountains are almost perpendicular in this valley. It is cool but not cold—probably 55.

ON THE TRAIL, we saw a whole flock of willow grouse and had to hunk the horn to get them to move off the road.

On the way back down the trail, Moa and Hodg let us off at Fish Creek and, just as we arrived, there stood a small black bear fishing for salmon. We made a movie of him at about 60 feet before he ambled off in the brush.

Then, we threaded up fly rods and started off. Reardon was ready first and dropped a small spinner and salmon eggs in from the bridge. "Snap" and his leader was broken. He re-rigged, tossed it in again and inside of two minutes was landing the first fish of the trip.

I tried flies—one of those special made for me by Lawrence Davids of Edenville—but these "dollies" did not seem to be rising. So I switched to my small dave with two salmon eggs on the hook and then we both got fish.

THESE WERE Dolly Varden's and they ran from 15 to 17 inches and weighed one and a half to two pounds. We made pictures at will and lost a lot of fish getting them.

Reardon hooked one fish he couldn't even move. I saw it and from its appearance, I'd say it was a rainbow or steelhead at least two and a half feet long. When the fish decided to move away, there was no stopping him and leader, bait and all were lost.

In two hours fishing, we caught nine choice fish and lost that many more while fooling around to get pictures.

A Dolly Varden on a four and a half ounce rod cannot be "horsed" in. They will streak away and rise like a rainbow and then head for bottom.

The "dolly" is a trout or salmon-type fish and looks, at first glance, like a rainbow in that it has a silver sheen. A closer look will show rather faded yellowish spots, something like a speckled trout but not as pronounced or of the same colors.

No one can doubt the superiority held by Northern Wood over the other teams in the American Legion baseball league following their 8-4 triumph over their closest competitors, DCA, last night in Riverview Park.

It marked the fourth time in six games that the Lumberjacks defeated DCA.

Victors in first round competition, the Lumberjacks need only one more victory to clinch the city championship.

The Lumberjacks wasted no time. After two were out in the first inning, Kearney Zoerhof singled, Fred Brieve doubled and Gene Schroteboer tripled for a two-run lead.

Brieve and Dale Artz led the Northern Wood attack with three hits each. Louie Altena, Zoerhof, Schroteboer and Bob Altena each had two.

Ron Fortney's two singles was the best hitting for DCA.

In the other game, Fords moved into a second place tie with DCA by defeating Hart-Cooley 11-5. Ten runs in the first two innings gave Duayne Rosendahl the win but he received relief from Clyde Kehrwecker.

Rural Telephone Service is Growing Fast!

Since the first of the year, we've added 12,000 new telephones in rural Michigan. This record growth brings the total to an all-time high of more than 94,000 telephones in the rural areas we serve.

We've added over 3,100 miles of wire in rural areas, and "unloaded" more than 1,600 overcrowded lines by reducing the number of parties per line. In addition, 1,400 crank-type telephone sets have been replaced by more modern equipment.

This is only the beginning of our 6-year $13,500,000 rural expansion and improvement program. Shortages of copper, lead and other materials have held us back, but as supplies improve, we'll get going full tilt.

Our 1/2-mile free allowance on line construction will enable additional thousands of rural folks to get service without paying any construction charge.

With the telephone becoming more and more valuable to folks in rural areas—for ordering parts, feed and supplies... for locating farm help... for calling the veterinarian... for visits with friends and neighbors—it is our aim to bring the best possible service at the lowest possible cost to more rural folks than ever before.

★ Long Distance lines and switchboards serving Michigan resort areas are extra busy this summer. On calls to and from these areas, you'll get better service by avoiding the rush hours—10 A.M. to noon and 7 to 9 P.M. Keeping calls brief will help too.

Holland Greeted Jap Surrender With Wild Acclaim

Just one year ago all of Holland turned out to celebrate the end of World War II.

Shortly after the history-making announcement at 6 p.m. that the war with Japan was at an end, people, automobiles and vehicles of all types converged on the business district with horns blowing and cow bells ringing. Paper was scattered and hoarded illegal fireworks were shot off.

That the long double lines of traffic made little progress was of little account—nobody was going anywhere anyway. People of all ages and costumes lined the curbs. All wore the same happy expressions.

It was not until the following day that people were aware that gasoline rationing was lifted, but that made little difference that noisy night. Even the most conservative "A" car travelers joined in the car parade that led nowhere. As for tires—"Shucks, we waited nearly four years for THIS!"

Teen-agers provided most of the excitement. Old jalopies were particularly popular. There was a scattering of musical instruments and noise makers on the cars. With the constant blowing of car horns, factory whistles and curfew-calls could not be heard downtown.

The Salvation Army band was out too. Their spirit was fine but the music could not be heard due to the other racket.

The streets were soon littered with tissue paper, streamers, news papers, shredded paper, dairy invoices and whatnot. Four hours of traffic reduced it into rubble.

Holland firemen answered six alarms, all false. They didn't like that.

Local Delegation Largest at WCTU

The Holland unit of the Women's Christian Temperance union had the largest representation present at the 67th county WCTU convention held Tuesday in First Presbyterian church of Spring Lake. County President Margaret Bilz was chairman.

Holland women were also well represented on the program. Mrs. Carl Dressel, president of the Holland union, took part in the March of Presidents, reporting the growth of her union.

Mrs. Margaret Markham, county vice-president, presented a paper, "How to Make Your Local Union Succeed" and Mrs. John Van Oss, president-elect of the Holland union, gave the noon-day prayer. Mrs. C. Van Duren conducted a catechism on WCTU history and facts.

Mrs. M. De Boer was soloist for the memorial service and the offertory. She was accompanied by Mrs. Dick Vander Meer who acted as organist and pianist for the entire program. Mrs. Nina Daugherty was chairman of the resolutions committee.

The convention was addressed by State President Dora B. Whitney, attorney at law, of Benton Harbor. In "Snap Shots at Our Laws," Mrs. Whitney explained many striking phases of liquor laws and their enforcement.

State Recording Secretary Mrs. Millie Powell of Grand Rapids gave helpful suggestions at the floor of the convention and during the dinner hour.

Miss Bilz was reelected president. Mrs. Markham, vice-president, at large; Mrs. Miriam Lytle, recording secretary; and Mrs. O. L. Marshall, treasurer. New officer is Mrs. Lella Walters of Lamont who was elected corresponding secretary.

Holland women attending convention sessions included the Mesdames Carl Dressel, Margaret Markham, C. Van Duren, John Van Oss, William Vander Schee, C. Dykhuis, S. Habing, Nina Daugherty, M. Boska, Dick Vander Meer and M. De Boer.

DCA Picnic Highlights Bathing Beauty Contest

The third annual Doughnut Corporation picnic was held Thursday at North Shore Community park. Clearing skies near noon made the day ideal. About 100 employees and their families were guests of the company.

A buffet supper was served in the dining room of the Community hall, followed by presentation of prizes and movies. Highlight of the evening's entertainment was a men's bathing beauty contest (1895 style) and first honors were awarded to "lovely and curvaceous" Ken Stephan.

James E. Walsh, general manager of the Holland plant, and Mr. Levitt of the New York office gave brief talks outlining company plans for the coming year. The picnic was planned and directed by Bob Winters as general chairman and Charles Zerrip as co-chairman.

Flying Dutchmen Defeat Milwaukee Colored Tigers

Lefty Victor Pitches 3-Hitter; Van Lente Hits Triple, Double

Lefty Ernie Victor gained his fourth straight triumph for the Holland Flying Dutchmen Monday night, a three-hit 8-2 decision over the Milwaukee Colored Tigers in Riverview Park.

His teammates collected 10 hits, five of which went for extra bases. Victor missed a shutout when his control failed in the second and fifth innings. He walked two men and threw two wild pitches to give Milwaukee a run in the second. He was nicked for two singles in the fifth but a wild pitch accounted for the second run.

With Don Van Lente setting the pace for the locals with a double and triple, Holland hammered Paul Green for 10 hits but didn't get to him until the fifth.

In the fifth Victor singled, Van Lente doubled, Russ Woldring and Juke Van Huis walked. Harold Van Wieren was safe on an error, Vern Vande Water singled and Frank Bagladi doubled for five runs.

They added three in the seventh when Woldring walked, Van Huis singled, Vande Water doubled and Victor singled.

It was Holland's 22nd victory against seven losses.

Dethmers Kills Teacher Insurance

Lansing, Aug. 15.—Atty. Gen. John R. Dethmers has ruled that school districts may not use public funds for payment of group life insurance premiums for teachers or school employees.

In part reversing an earlier attorney general's opinion issued in 1938, Dethmers said absence of specific statutory authority prevented use of public funds for the purpose although he conceded some argument might be advanced that power to fix compensation of teachers included the power to make direct payment of insurance premiums.

Any payment of insurance premiums must be made by teachers out of salaries directly or by voluntary assignment of payroll deduction out of compensation, Dethmers said.

Sneeze Days Acomin', Fever Victims, Beware

Today is sneeze day.

Aug. 15, according to Michigan botanists, is S-day for hay fever, and victims, beware. Individuals who have been suffering for weeks from the ragweed 'disease' will question the veracity of the Aug. 15 date. But their plight is explained by the fact that hay fever is prevalent for most of the spring and summer because of tree and grass pollens as well as mold spores.

Ragweed does not grow according to rain or other weather conditions. Botanists say that in some mysterious way this plant blooms "by the calendar." Its growth is controlled by the length of days, which is changing throughout the year so that on Aug. 15 sufficient light will have been acquired to prepare the pollen for travel, often a distance of a hundred miles or more under suitable conditions.

Weather conditions, not influencing the growth of the plant,

President Passes Hospital Aid Bill With Misgivings

Truman Objections Center Around Veto Power of Civilians

President Truman signed with plain-spoken misgivings a bill for a federal-aid program of hospital construction.

The measure is designed to furnish adequate hospital care for the nation by authorizing $375,000,000 in federal aid to states for a five-year hospital construction program.

It sets up a long-range program to supply hospital and clinical care, with the government furnishing 40 per cent of construction costs for public and non-profit institutions built under state programs approved by the U. S. surgeon general.

Mr. Truman said he was in full accord with the objectives but four certain provisions of the bill "objected."

He objected particularly to establishment of a council composed of persons who are not full-time government officials. This council will advise the surgeon general and have the power of veto over certain of his actions.

The council also may reverse the action of the surgeon general when he has disapproved a state plan because of failure to meet requirements of federal law.

Mr. Truman said this provision is "contrary to sound principles of administration."

Advance Probe in Ionia Fair Death

Ionia, Aug. 15.—Prosecutor Ray Barnes of Ionia county investigated "new developments" today in the first-fight death of Clara E. Hodge, 24, Portland, at the Ionia Free Fair Saturday.

Barnes obtained a delay in the examination of Chloris (Sonny) Howard, 35, carnival concessionaire of Tampa, Fla., Monday to allow more time for the investigation. Howard was charged with murder.

The prosecutor did not explain the nature of the new developments under investigation, but it was believed that an autopsy had raised doubt as to the exact cause of Hodge's death.

Hodge, a veteran of World War II, died after a fight with Howard at the latter's fair concession.

Christianity, Basis for World Help-Dr. Vasady

The significance of the Christian community in the world today was outlined by Dr. Bela Vasady of Debrecen, Hungary, at a public meeting in Hope chapel Thursday night, a highlight of the five-day Christian Workers Conference which concludes today.

"The Christian church is not a social development, nor is it to be compared with a club; it is a divine institution set up by the acts of God so that it is not national, nor racial, and certainly not denominational. It transcends all human boundary lines and gathers into itself all who are related spiritually to God in Christ," Dr. Vasady who is president of the University of Debrecen, said.

"This intimate spiritual bond is the basis for Christian sympathy and help," he added. He pleaded with his audience to let their interest and helpfulness become the windows through which the needy

Undertow Claims Detroit Couple at Grand Haven Park

War Buddy Exhausted In Attempts to Rescue Couple From Drowning

Grand Haven, Aug. 15 (Special)

A Detroit couple's vacation turned into a tragedy Friday when they were swept out into Lake Michigan by a strong undertow and drowned at Grand Haven state park.

The victims were War Buddy James A. Orser, 26, and his wife, Jacqueline, 23, living on Chalfonte road, Detroit. They had gone to Grand Rapids to visit Fred Carritte, a war buddy, and his wife, and the four had gone to Grand Haven to spend the day.

Orser was farthest out and called for help when he became exhausted. His wife and Carritte started out to help him but Orser and his wife both sank. Carritte, exhausted from his attempts to save the pair, managed to return to shore and was taken to a hospital for treatment of bruised ribs and shock.

Park Supt. Wilhelm Deckert

said the drowning occurred 30 feet south of the south pier and 60 feet from shore in eight feet of water. Mrs. Carritte, who can not swim, was not near the trio.

The bodies were recovered by four youths, Dean Misner, T. A. McMahon, Jr., Dick Miller and Darwin Smith, all of Grand Haven, who were directed by persons on the south pier who could see the bodies floating. Mrs. Orser's body was recovered 20 minutes before her husband was brought in.

Two physicians of Grand Rapids administered artificial respiration. Justice George V. Hoffer, acting coroner, later gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

The Orsers had been married five years and were taking their first vacation since his return last November from four years of army service, including two years overseas.

Orser is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Orser of Owosso. Mrs. Orser is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Randall, and a brother, Raymond, all of Detroit.

Peak of Polio Wave in Michigan Still 3 Weeks Away, Leeder Says

Lansing, Aug. 15

The peak wave of Michigan's current infantile paralysis scourge is still three weeks away and it still is too early to determine if the disease will reach proportions of a "serious outbreak" according to Dr. F. S. Leeder, state health department director of the bureau of disease control.

Poliomyelitis incidence is increasing in Southern Michigan but has not yet become an "outbreak" Dr. Leeder said.

He warned, however, that the effects of the malady are unpredictable and he cautioned parents of children who complain of an upset stomach, a headache, stiff neck or perhaps a fever to take no chances and immediately call a doctor. He advised citizens not to become hysterical if cases of poliomyelitis occur in any neighborhood.

Since the first of July 197 cases have been reported compared with 31 in the same period last year. Only two of the cases were not in the southern half of the state and 90 were in Detroit. Dr. Leeder said that only 197 cases in an area containing two million persons could not be considered alarming.

The state disease expert also had a cheering note when he pointed out that most cases reported thus far this year have been relatively mild with less than half of the victims actually developing paralysis, the danger of the disease in its more serious forms.

Allegan, Aug. 15 — Approval has been granted the Allegan county fair association for the construction of a new building to house modern toilet facilities at the county fair grounds according to E. W. DeLano, president and secretary of the fair.

Under direction of T. R. Ward the building will be constructed of whatever materials are available. The building will be 24 by 60 feet and will be located directly west of the agriculture building near the front of the grounds.

It is expected that the building will be erected in time for the fair which opens in Allegan, Sept. 9, and that at least part of the facilities will be installed by fair week, Mr. DeLano said.

Many of the cattle and horse barns are painted while the bleachers and grandstand are undergoing annual repairs.

The fair this year will again include all departments as before the war with 4-H and FFA exhibits along with a thrill day on Monday, four days horse racing and horse show on Sunday. Evening entertainment will include a musical revue with many feature attractions from the stage and circus world.

Two features new last year, the calf scramble and farmers horse race will again be included along with team pulling contests Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Ford Unfolds New Test Equipment

The Ford Motor Co. has taken another forward step in car production. Development of new test equipment which will eliminate much of the guess work in crankcase ventilation research and engineering has been announced by W. S. James, director of research of Ford Motor Co.

The new equipment makes possible for the first time an accurate measurement of the effectiveness of crankcase ventilation systems at all speeds and under all conditions. Automotive engineers have been working for several years for an effective method of ventilating the crankcase, pulling out gases which lead to formation of sludge.

Several methods have been developed, but the effectiveness always has been questionable because there was no accurate means of measuring exactly how much air was being circulated at various engine speeds.

Two air flow measuring tubes are used in the new equipment, one showing flow of air into the engine, the other showing the flow of gases out. Small blowers are used to compensate for line drop.

The equipment is portable and may be mounted in a few minutes on any test car.

John Vrieling, head of Vrieling Motor Sales, 159 River Ave., is the local Ford dealer.
