Proposal On Parking Is Tabled

A proposal to develop off-street parking west of River Ave. between Seventh and Ninth Sts. was tabled by City Council Wednesday night, pending a report of a parking survey for the city which is expected to be completed soon. The proposed program had called for $35,000 in special assessments and $20,353 to be paid from the parking meter fund.

Mayor Nelson Bosman was authorized by Council to appoint a committee to negotiate with Providence Christian Reformed Church on a right-of-way for Ottawa Ave. This involves a water line to service the new Christian High School now under construction.

Council set Sept. 14 as public hearing on a proposal to rezone property at 431 Washington Ave. from A-3 residential to C-1 neighborhood commercial.

Also to be reviewed at a public hearing Sept. 14 will be the special assessment rolls for paving and sanitary sewers. Persons involved will receive notices from the city clerk's office.

Council voted 8 to 1 to approve a new SDD license for Ward Hansen and James Pollock at 505 West 17th St. The request for action had come from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. The city manager's report included statements from the sanitarian, treasurer and police chief indicating no objections. Councilman Bertal Slaght dissented.

Council approved proposed construction of sanitary sewers in 35th St., Central to Pine Aves., and in Homestead Ave., from 16th to 17th Sts., following public hearings.

A communication from Park township board requesting installation of fire hydrants at four locations in the township, with township assuming costs for materials and installation, was filed for information. Council denied a request from Holland Electric Supply Co. for water services to its proposed building site on Waverly Rd. north of Eighth St. in Holland township.

Low bid of Vander Hulst and Branderhorst for an all-purpose play area at Lakeview School for $8,235 was passed unanimously. Cost will be shared by the Board of Education and the city.

Council approved a Board of Public Works recommendation on bids amounting to $123,491 for new equipment for the power plant expansion.

Claims against the city filed by Marilyn H. Bamforth, 688 State St., Wolverine Insurance Co., Kalamazoo, and Carl and Mildred Van Lente, 145 West 24th St., were referred to the city attorney and insurance carrier.

Council approved bid of Gregware Equipment Co. for $744 for 60 sets of scraper blades for the street department. There was one other identical low bid, and the city manager recommended the Gregware bid on the basis the company was the past year's supplier.

A communication from Municipal Judge John Galien informed Council that he has appointed Corinne Kolean as deputy clerk of Holland Municipal Court. Council had passed the enabling ordinance for such an appointment several weeks ago.

A letter from the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce addressed to Dr. John Pieper commented on the elimination of downtown parking meters in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham introduced William Koop, a new member of his law firm. All Councilmen were present at the meeting which lasted an hour and five minutes. The invocation was given by Dr. Bernard Brunsting of First Reformed Church.

The next meeting of City Council is scheduled Sept. 14 instead of Sept. 7 because of the Michigan Municipal League convention on the earlier date.

Name Chairmen For United Fund

Carl Harrington

Raymond J. Helder

Appointment of Raymond J. Helder as campaign chairman and Carl Harrington as vice chairman of October's Greater Holland United Fund-Red Cross drive was announced today by Gordon Van Putten, president of the United Fund.

Helder who is vice president of People State Bank and Harrington who is owner of Harrington Fuel Co. have been active in various civic activities.

This year's goal will be established at a meeting of United Fund directors Thursday, Aug. 25. Members of the admissions and budget committee will conduct a series of meetings Monday, Aug. 22, with representatives of participating United Fund agencies to consider financial requirements for the coming year. John Fonger, committee chairman, said meetings will run from 4 to 10 p.m. in United Fund headquarters in Civic Center.

Helder attended Hope College up to the time he was inducted into the U. S. Army during World War II. He served in an anti-aircraft unit in the Pacific theatre and emerged with the rank of captain. He did graduate work at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin.

He is a member of Third Reformed Church, Holland Lions Club, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Chamber of Commerce. He previously served as treasurer of the Ottawa county unit of the American Cancer Society and the Polio Foundation.

Harrington has for many years operated Harrington Fuel Co. which was founded in 1888 by his father, the late Capt. Austin Harrington. His late brother, Harry Harrington, served as mayor of Holland from 1949 to 1955. Carl Harrington is a past president of the Lions Club, is a member of First Methodist Church and is active in the Chamber of Commerce.

First responsibility of the two chairmen will be to recruit top leadership for the campaign's eight divisions. Division chairman in turn will recruit section and district majors.

West Ottawa Hires Ten Teachers

Contracts for 10 teachers, a boost in price in the hot lunch program and authorization of the new initial teaching alphabet on an experimental basis for one first-grade class next season were approved by the West Ottawa Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday night.

The new teachers are Raymond Van De Mark of Kalamazoo, elementary string instruments; Johanna Cook of Holland, returning to elementary; Mrs. Donna Schut of Ionia, one-half day kindergarten; Gene Wong of Lansing, high school social studies; David Visscher of Muskegon, high school social studies; Fred Kelley of Grand Rapids, high school science; Jeffrey Rivard of West Branch, high school English; Mrs. Aida Mierma of New York, elementary; Mrs. Jane Breen of Holland, advancing from half-time kindergarten to full-time first-grade; Joan M. Vahrenwald of Kalamazoo, English and social studies.

Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte said the teaching staff for the coming term is very nearly complete.

The board reaffirmed its policy that the hot lunch program must continue to be self supporting and raised the daily fee from 30 to 35 cents. The increase was necessary because of a further reduction in the federal reimbursement program and a reduction in such surplus foods as meat, butter, cheese, etc. The price was raised from 25 cents to 30 cents last February. The federal reimbursement per meal is 3.3 cents whereas it had been as high as 5 to 6 cents.

The board also recognized that some 10,600 lunches had not been paid for last year whereas only 2,700 lunches had been cleared for children whose parents were unable to pay. Because the board aims to keep the hot lunch program self-supporting, it authorized Supt. Van Raalte to investigate collection for the coming year, possibly placing such collections in the hands of a collection agency. This will only affect next year's program, not collection for the past year. In no case will a child be denied a hot lunch, it was emphasized.

The initial teaching alphabet approved on an experimental basis is a type of phonetic alphabet consisting of 44 symbols encompassing all sounds. The program was presented by Joan Muehlenbeck, reading consultant.

The board appointed Mrs. June Reimink as principal of Waukazoo and Pine Creek schools.

The board will take bids on the sale of the West Crisp school property which is no longer needed for school purposes.

Ed Donivan gave a progress report on building activity at the Pine Creek School where outside brick work is about 50 per cent completed and for the fieldhouse under construction on the athletic field. He also reported lawns have been put in at the new schools at North Holland, Sheldon Woods and Woodside.

Blaze Burns Home, Garage Near Holland

A fire razed a garage and burned an adjoining portion of the home of the Harold Troost family, 14725 Quincy St. Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Troost, four children and two grandchildren escaped from the home without injury.

The fire destroyed two antique dressers, some tools, a bicycle and other articles in the garage. It also caused extensive heat and smoke damage to the ranch-style home.

No estimate of the damages has been completed.

The fire started in the vicinity of a gasoline can about 12:30 p.m. The exact cause has not been determined.

Storms Batter Lower Michigan

Severe thunderstorms accompanied by strong winds, hail and the threat of tornadoes swept most of Lower Michigan late Monday and early Tuesday.

Thunderstorms accompanied by winds gusted up to 55 miles per hour hit the Holland area. More than half an inch of rain was dumped on the city. Most of it fell during the brunt of the storm between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m.

The high winds and lightning knocked down tree limbs and power lines in Ottawa and Allegan counties.

About 200 customers in scattered areas of Holland were left without telephone service in the storm. The Holland office of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said all of the telephone service would be restored by Tuesday night.

Fluoridation of Holland's and Zeeland's water supplies began Wednesday, according to Guy Bell, superintendent of public utilities.

Workmen completed the installation of fluoride feeding equipment at the city's filtration plant on Lakeshore Dr. Tuesday, and the machines began operation Wednesday.

All of the water which comes from the filtration plant will be treated with a sodium silicofluoride compound.

The fluoridation program was approved by the City Council in December. It is designed to help prevent tooth decay. The fluoridation of water reportedly helps prevent tooth decay in youngsters up to 18 years old.

The cost of the equipment and its installation was estimated at $4,900. It will cost about $2,200 per year to put the fluoride compound in the water.

Zeeland purchases its water from Holland.

GRAND HAVEN — It was 10:30 p.m. when State Sen. Guy Vander Jagt of Cadillac, Republican candidate for 9th district representative, arose to address the Ottawa County Republican convention Wednesday night in the Ottawa county building in Grand Haven.

"I'm going to throw away my 30-minute speech and deliver the shortest keynote address on record," he told the gathering which had assembled at 8 p.m. about 150 strong.

"We Republicans know when to stop," he said. "We know when to stop misinforming the public about Viet Nam, we know we must stop the over-centralization of government power, and we know how to stop talking when we've been in session 2½ hours."

He spoke for all nominees in expressing gratitude for the help of many Republican workers in the primaries and the continued time, talent and energy which will go into the November elections. "No candidate can do it without your help," he said. "In turn, the candidates are ready and willing and anxious to help you," he added.

The talk took 2½ minutes. A rising ovation followed.

In convention resolutions, the county body pledged its best efforts in supporting Gov. Romney's Commission in fighting crime and delinquency in Michigan. Other resolutions supported GOP candidates in the November election ranging from governor to state representative who won nomination at the primaries.

A resolution opposing state income tax introduced by Joel Ver Plank and seconded by Charles R. Sligh Jr. failed to carry enough votes for discussion on the floor. It had been defeated earlier in the meeting of the resolutions committee chaired by Allen Groendyke of Jensen.

Main purpose of the convention was to name 35 delegates and 35 alternates to the Republican State convention in Detroit Aug. 26 and 27.

Delegates named in precinct caucuses were Laverne Hoeksema, Edmonia MacDonald, Janet Van Alsburg, Charles R. Sligh, Herman Windemuller, Judson Bradford, James Dressel, Edward Boerigter, Donald Stoltz, Shirley Volkema, James Bradford and Sandra Bell, all of Holland.

Laley, Joel Verplank, Riemer Van Til, Charles Bradford, Hesper Raymond, Harold Volkema, Mary Louise Bradbury, Lyle Sanders, Raymond Varder Laan, Lawrence Dickman, Harold Ver Hulst, H.J. Carley, Donald Maatman, Frank Schmidt, Robert Bareham, William P. Fern, Julian Hatton, Robert Willett.

Delegates-at-large are Joyce Hatton, Tom De Pree and Melvin De Stigter. Alternates-at-large are Charles Cleverger, J. C. Grysen, David Pushaw, Alyce Yost, Deanna De Pree, Laverne Dykstra and Leonard Zick.

James Dressel of Holland served as convention chairman. Charles Cleverger introduced the speaker, Hannes Meyers of Zeeland served as parliamentarian and Fred Den Herder as secretary. Tom De Pree of Holland, vice chairman, outlined party procedures in the coming campaign.

PHILOSOPHER — "MULCUM IN PARVO"

James Russell Lowell is reputed to have said, "The art of writing consists of knowing what to leave in the ink-pot. In similar vein, Horace Greeley once observed, "I would write shorter editorials, but I haven't the time." We've read of some anonymous wag who wound up a lengthy missive to a friend with the words, "Pardon the length of this letter, I haven't the time to be brief." Upon one occasion, Woodrow Wilson, asked to give a speech, inquired how long a speech was expected. He thereupon explained that he'd need a week or more if the speech was to be 10 minutes, a few days if 20, but if he were permitted to speak two hours, he'd be ready right now.

All of which is apropos of nothing except to point up the difficulty of brevity and a behind-the-scenes look of a distraught editorialist in "the throes of composition." We had set out determined to air some views on the complicated questions of recent Supreme Court decisions such as the Escobedo case, and related problems such as third degree police methods and the road-blocks put in the way of police in their job of apprehending and convicting offenders. The difficulties of saying much in little temporarily overwhelmed and stymied us. Thereupon, we gave up the attempt for the time being and have to settle for the philosophical observation that compression is a most exacting art. Then suddenly, realizing that this is neither an earth-shaking, consequential or controversial observation, and also that we're already fast approaching the 300-word limit we impose upon our Public Opinion contributors, we proceeded to rebuke ourselves: "Cursed be he who has nothing to say and gives words evidence of that fact." Verily, verily, some days you just can't win!

Personal Purity
Exodus 20:14; Matthew 5:27-28;
John 8:3-11
By C. P. Dame

The commandment "Thou shalt not commit adultery" protects the home. The violation of this commandment often leads to murder, mental and physical illness, juvenile delinquency, broken homes and much misery. The keeping of this law leads to happiness and the strengthening of civilization. This lesson calls for a frank discussion of sex and all that is associated with it.

1. Adultery is a common and grievous sin. God established marriage and gave us rules regarding it. Marriage is a sacred relationship between a man and a woman for life. Adultery is disloyalty to the marriage vow. In a larger sense it refers to all manner of impure and sinful relationships between the sexes and forbids all moral impurity and the misuse of sex.

The Bible deals frankly and in a wholesome manner with sex which is of God—He created us sexual beings. Much that is beautiful in life comes from sex—marriage, childhood, parenthood, fellowship, inspiration and happiness. Degradation and misery come from the misuse of sex. This is due to the fall of man which has affected the sexual instinct just as it has blighted the mind and the imagination. The Bible glorifies marriage and sexual love and contradicts the notion that sex is bad. God planted two powerful appetites in man—hunger, so that man may live, sex in order that he may propagate the race and reproduce himself. The sexual instinct in men and women is of God. Sexual union is a vital part of marriage which God instituted. Adultery disrupts marriage. Some people have a low view of marriage and of fidelity to life's partner and to God.

We are living in a sex-mad age. Unbiblical ideas are even advocated by churchmen who accept the so-called "new morality" which teaches the idea that love can set aside the law. College campuses demand freedom and downgrade chastity. Experience still teaches that the violation of this commandment leaves scars, wounds, guilt feelings and unhappiness while purity pays the individual, the family, community and civilization. Modern man rationalizes excuses, justifies and minimizes this sin but it continues to break hearts and lives.

II. Jesus warns against the impure heart. The Lord objects to the lustful look because it may lead to adultery. The person with a lustful eye looks upon another human being as a tool or a thing to give sexual satisfaction. Jesus demands clean thinking. Today pornography is a big and profitable business. Some modern plays and books and movies pollute minds and liquor at a party tends to weaken inhibitions which God has ordained should check the tempted.

III. Sexual sins may be forgiven. The story of the woman taken in adultery is not found in some old manuscripts but it fits well with the character of Jesus. The religious leaders asked Jesus what He had to say about the offense. Jesus wrote on the ground and said, "He that is without sin among you let him first cast a stone at her." All left and so Jesus and the woman stood alone—what a contrast! We can be sure that the woman sinned no more after Jesus said to her, "Neither do I condemn thee; go, and sin no more."

YOUTH ORCHESTRA — This group of 105 young musicians from 14 states gave an inspired performance at a concert Friday night in Holland High School auditorium, the climax of the eighth annual conference of the National School Orchestra Association. Directed by Jaroslav P. Holesovsky of Kettering, Ohio, the Youth Symphony presented five selections. Appearing on the same program was the 90-piece Directors Orchestra playing winning compositions of the Roti Composition Contest.

Orchestra Association Returning Next Year

A public program by two symphony orchestras Friday night in Holland High School climaxed a week-long conference of the National School Orchestra Association which has been holding seminars, workshops and other studies on Hope College campus.

So pleased were the people over local hospitality that the NSOA will return to Holland in 1967 for their ninth annual conference and their fourth in Holland. This announcement was made by Orville Dally, association president, at the concert Friday night.

The Youth Symphony Orchestra, consisting of 105 talented young musicians from 14 states, presented a picture of Young America at its best — earnest, well scrubbed and dedicated.

Directed by Jaroslav Holesovsky of Kettering, Ohio, the orchestra presented five selections, one of them by Holesovsky which had never been presented in public before. The conductor said his "Slavania" had just come from the publishers last week and explained, in mock humility, that the youngsters just wouldn't appear in concert unless that selection were included.

Other Youth Symphony selections were a Barthelemy arrangement of the Mendelssohn "Hymn of Praise," "Catskill Legend," a Roth contest winner of 1962 by Paul Wheat, "Alma Mater," an exciting number full of classroom novelties by Leroy Anderson, and "Samborina," Jay Wilbur, which was presented without a conductor.

The Directors' Symphony Orchestra, consisting of 90 members from 17 states, most of them high school and college teachers, performed three new works by composers who won the Roth Composition Contest this year. Conductors were Leo Kucinski and Morrette Rider.

The Roth contest is conducted annually for $1,000 in prizes to encourage composers to produce works particularly designed for school and college orchestras. Heinrich Roth, president of Scherl and Roth, presented the $1,000 check to President Dally for this year's contest.

Much of the week had been spent in selecting winners. Out of 29 works submitted, a panel screened the number to 11 which were played throughout the week by the directors. These in turn were narrowed to three selections played by the orchestra at Friday's concert.

First place winner is "Hati-kvah" by Nikola Leonard Ovanin of New York City who will receive $500. Second place winner of $300 is Robert Jager of Ann Arbor for his two Cherokee impressions, and third prize of $200 went to Clyde H. Russell Jr. of Milwaukee, Wis., for his novelty composition, "Pick Inn."

Honorable mention compositions are "Africa" by Donald Matthews of Kansas City, Kan., and "H. Brew Suite" by Edward Gildman of Bayonne, N.J.

The Directors' Symphony which had relatively few hours of rehearsal on its selections showed a remarkable balance and coordination in interpreting new music, the greatest challenge of music educators.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Hudsonville

HUDSONVILLE — Hudsonville City and Georgetown Township fire departments extinguished a fire shortly after 11 a.m. Saturday in the Farmers Co-Op Elevator Co., in Hudsonville.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a spark from a shelling machine. The fire was contained to the corn crib bins and only minor damage was reported.

Sault Ste. Marie Tour Train Takes Historic 10-Mile Route

SAULT STE. MARIE — The narrated tour train for hurry-up tourists is going over big 'n' Michigan's oldest city.

In about an hour, a visitor can cover more than 300 years of history ranging from the days of Indian occupation to construction of the world's biggest ship-lift lock. This speedy sightseeing service is much to the liking of many visitors.

The trains are made up of specially-built open-air carriages pulled by a jeep camouflaged as a railway engine. A full train will include four carriages with about 64 passengers and will cover ten miles of sightseeing in 60 to 75 minutes.

On the average summer day about 800 visitors will take this means to see the sights in the Sault, according to Manager Jack Babcock, a former West Branch, Michigan businessman, who started the tour trains in 1963.

That was the year the $20,000,000 Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge between the United States and Canada was dedicated. A tour of the bridge, with its birdseye view of the historic St. Mary's River, Sault Rapids and Sault Locks, has become an important part of the trip.

Babcock and his associate, B. H. Sargent, got the idea during a vacation trip to Florida, where they toured Key West on a similar train. They immediately thought of the Sault, which will celebrate its 300th anniversary in 1968.

At that time the Soo Line Railway had closed out its passenger and freight service, and the line's roomy depot, on Portage Ave. directly across from the Sault Locks, was up for sale.

The abandoned depot is still a depot where the tour trains load and depart every hour or so. The depot also houses a souvenir shop, an old-style country store, and a museum of relics dating back to Indian days.

The tour train technique employs both sight and sound. As visitors roll slowly past a point of interest, they hear the driver give a running account of its history tied into a general history of the area.

Described is the founding of the Sault in 1668 when Father Jacques Marquette, aided by two other priests, built the first permanent structures here. These were a church and a cabin residence surrounded by a stockade of cedar pickets.

Other highlights are establishment of Fort Brady in 1822, ending British influence with the Indians in Michigan territory; the work of Henry Rowe Schoolcraft as Indian agent and chronicler of Indian legends, which supplied a fact source for the epic poem Hiawatha; construction of the first State Lock at the Sault in 1855; and current construction of a new $40,000,000 lock designed to handle a new class of Great Lakes ships that can be up to 1,000 feet long and 100 feet wide.

PASTORAL SCENE AT WINDMILL — Holland's now famous Windmill continues to be a top tourist attraction in Western Michigan. Visitors come from all parts of the country to see the 200-year-old Dutch mill and the island's other Dutch features such as the authentic replica of the drawbridge (left), post house in authentic Dutch architecture and a recently added feature, the miniature Dutch village. Ducks, swimming serenely on the island's ponds and canals, are a big favorite of the youngsters. Windmill Island is a peaceful, restful place to visit — for visitors to Holland or for Holland residents themselves.

most teachers of voice and guitar in the Chicago area will present a program of folk music on Friday night. Hunt has made guest appearances at many folk festivals and clubs throughout the country. He has conducted seminars at the Old Town School of Folk Music and is regarded as an outstanding interpreter of American folk lore.

Saturday night at 9 p.m. is Opera Night. Mozart's comic opera, "The Abduction from the Seraglio" will be presented in English. A lavish production with colorful setting and costumes has been planned.

The cast of professional artists includes Miss Eileen Deneen, winner of the John S. Newberry award given by the Metropolitan Opera Association. Robert and Ellie Quint have been a singing duo since their days at Northwestern University. They have sung in opera companies and appeared in many off-Broadway productions.

Thomas MacBane comes from Europe where he has sung over 200 performances on the lyric opera stages of Germany. In this country he has concentrated in 30 states under the auspices of Civic and Community Concerts, and has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Charles Koehn also has appeared on the stages of Germany with the State Opera House in Kiel, in Milwaukee, Wis., the Boston Comic Opera, the Waukesha Opera Guild and the Skylight Comic Opera.

Making his first appearance in a Richard Tyler production will be Patrick Carroll, a theatre arts major at Grand Rapids Junior College. Mr. Carroll, a native of South Haven, appeared

114th Allegan County Fair Classes and Sections Set

ALLEGAN — More than $30,000 dollars awaits exhibitors in a host of divisions and classes set up for the 114th Allegan County Fair, Sept. 12-17.

In addition, Fair Board President-Secretary James Snow announces $28,000 in purses will be awarded during the full six-day harness racing program.

Allegan Fair premium books, listing at least 20 divisions with numerous classes under each, were distributed this week throughout the county, Snow said.

The 100-page book contains rules and regulations covering all entries and describes many of the special events and innovations for the 1966 Allegan County Fair.

Antiques collectors will be interested in a new classification under the Hobbies Division. Mrs. Martha Ann Greenway, chairman, has set up a Currier and Ives collectors' exhibit and is seeking as many entries as possible for a good showing.

According to Mrs. Greenway, the rare original prints will be judged under 12 different categories and will bring premiums totaling $72 in the following groups: Civil War, farm and country, fruits and flowers, historical, juvenile, marine pioneer portrait, sporting, "The Turf", views and localities, and miscellaneous.

Other hobbies division classes will be divided into creative, collective, junior and senior art, antique glass, china, and cut glass exhibits.

The Allegan Fair boasts a number of division superintendents who have been actively associated with the event for more than a quarter-century. Superintendents listed for 1966 include James Chestnut, cattle; Clifford Calkins, sheep; Franklin Kelly, assistant to Chestnut in the swine division; Bruce Cooley, poultry and egg; John Morley, rabbits; Carleton Ingham, horticulture; Irene Waanders, home economics; Mrs. Orlo Mutchler, plants and flowers; Paul Schroeder, Christmas trees; C. J. Smith, farm machinery.

Homer Patterson and Marvin Heft, Jr. are in charge of the annual extensive 4-H and FFA Youth Division, which each year expands exhibits to the limit of available space.

Clifford Calkins will again be in charge of the Wednesday morning pony pulling contest under Michigan Association rules, with prizes ranging from $50-$100 dollars in two classes. Calkins will also be on hand Thursday, Sept. 15, to oversee the 9 a.m. mule pulling competition.

Final Week at Interlochen Schedules Varied Program

INTERLOCHEN—The arrival of more than 450 delegates from nearly 45 countries for the seventh biennial festival-conference of the International Society for Music Education highlights the eighth and final week of activities at Interlochen.

Other attractions during the Aug. 16-Aug. 21 period include the appearance of Michigan Governor George Romney, the world premiere of a work by noted American composer Norman Dello Joio, the colorful student dance concert and the presentation of the annual Shakespearean drama production.

The foreign representatives, many of whom have already arrived here, plan to observe the world-famed National Music Camp operation during the camp's final four days, Aug. 18-21.

Gov. Romney will greet the delegates and guests during the intermission of the world premiere of Dello Joio's "Songs of Walt Whitman," which was specially commissioned by the National Music Camp for the gala festival-conference.

The work, based on four Whitman poems, will be presented by the 450-voice Festival Choir and the University Orchestra under the direction of widely-known choral director Maynard Klein. Klein is director of choirs at the University of Michigan and founded and conducts the Rackham Choir which gave two concerts with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra last winter.

Two other major works, Zoltan Kodaly's "Te Deum" and Ralph Vaughan Williams' "The Serenade to Music" will also be performed on the same program.

Interlochen's talented teenage dancers will take the spotlight Friday night in the popular dance concert. The annual dance spectacular will be staged at 8 p.m. in lakeside Kresge Auditorium.

A varied and eye-pleasing program of four dance numbers, two by each department, will be presented by the cream of Interlochen's ballet and modern dancers.

"Twelfth Night," the sixth and final production of the season by Interlochen's High School Drama Department, will open Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Grunow Theatre. Other performances will be staged Wednesday and Thursday also at 7:30 p.m. in Grunow.

The annual Shakespearean drama is under the direction of Dr. Don A. Watters, professor of theatre and chairman of the department of theatre, State University of New York, Harpur College.

Sunday night the 300-player combined high school orchestras will perform Sibelius' "Symphony No. 1," Schuman's "New England Triptych" and Liszt's "Les Preludes." Dr. George C. Wilson, vice president and director of the N. M. C., will conduct the final concert of the camp season.

The 144-piece World Youth Symphony Orchestra, composed of talented teen-age musicians from six foreign countries and 28 states of the union, will be featured in two of the five concerts to be held during the ISME meeting. The WYSO will perform on

July 28, took the mid-term exams, and immediately set off from Vienna to take advantage of the long three-day weekend.

Among those from Holland attending the Vienna Summer School are Thomas R. Arendshorst of 379 West 31st St., Mary L. De Haan, 791 Central Ave., Patrick B. Donnelly, 1306 Waukazoo Dr., Patricia Helder, 359 College Ave., Louise Hohmann, 147 West 12th St., Vernon Plagenhoef, 317 East 13th St. and Nancy Ver Hulst, 1055 Lincoln Ave. David De Bruyn of Zeeland also is attending.

Blaze Burns 1958 Car Following Tire Blowout

A fire gutted a 1958-model car owned by Harold C. Starr, of Thomson, Ill., on M-21 west of 112th Ave. about 1:10 p.m. Sunday.

The blaze broke out following a tire blowout. The car went off the road and burned. The exact cause of the blaze was not known.

Holland township firemen put out the fire. Firemen said the car was a total loss.

Battle Creek Wins Regional Tourney Here

Mike Miller pitched a three-hitter to give Battle Creek Lakeview a 4-0 win over Preszkop Drugs of Grand Rapids and the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association class D regional baseball title in Riverview Park Saturday.

Earlier, Battle Creek had stopped Wyoming 3-1 as Roger Cook hit a two-run home run and Preszkop edged Donnelly Mirrors, 6-5.

Starter and loser Steve Lesperance gave up four runs on five hits in five innings and John Dalman came on in the sixth to yield two runs on two hits for Donnelly.

Dalman gave up a walk and two singles in the sixth as the second single drove in a pair of runs.

Donnelly opened up a 3-0 lead in the second with Mike Slenk delivering the key hit, a one-out double. Wayne DePree opened the inning by walking, Roger Jones sacrificed him to second, Jerry Vereke reached base on an error and Jim Fortney singled before Slenk's hit.

Preszkop tied the score at 3-3 with three runs in the third and took a 4-3 lead on Bob Clements' homer in the fourth.

After Donnelly left the bases loaded in the sixth without scoring, Preszkop scored its two sixth-inning runs and held on for the win. Donnelly rallied in the top of the seventh as Carlos Fierro led off by reaching second on two errors. Terry Stehle walked and stole second before DePree drove them both home with Donnelly's only hit of the inning, a double.

Camp Instructor Shot Accidentally

GRAND HAVEN — Walter Gregory, 40, Grand Rapids, an instructor at Michigan State University who is on the staff at Camp Blodgett about seven miles south of Grand Haven, accidentally shot himself in the thigh while walking through the woods at the rifle range at the camp at 2 p.m. Sunday.

State police said Gregory had neglected to uncork the 22 caliber action rifle and the gun went off while carrying it in his right hand and pushing brush away. He was taken to Grand Haven Municipal Hospital by his wife, and was released after treatment.

Gasoline Explosion Causes Garage Fire

Holland firemen extinguished a garage fire shortly after 3 p.m. Thursday at the Joseph Williams residence, 112 East 22nd St.

Fire chief Richard Brandt said the fire apparently started from a gasoline explosion. Brandt said that children were pouring gasoline from an engine into a can at the time the fire started.

No damage was reported to the building and only minor damage was listed to the contents.

Mrs. Mollema Honored At Farewell Party

The Ladies Adult Bible Class of First Reformed Church held a farewell picnic at Kollen Park last Tuesday evening to honor Mrs. Henry Mollema who is leaving to take up residence at Kirkside in New York.

A love offering was presented to her by the class of which Mrs. H. Vande Bunte is president.

High Pole Act Featured At State Fair

DETROIT — Two thrilling, high pole acts have been added to the free entertainment at the 117th Michigan State Fair, which opens Aug. 26 and runs through Sept. 5 (Labor Day).

The Sensational Swaying Stars perform at a height of 135 feet. Their two swaying poles, each 70 feet tall, are mounted atop another pole. A husband-and-wife act from England, the Stars have performed in circuses all over Europe. Thrilling stunts such as a cha-cha in the air; pole changing; handstands while their poles are swaying through great arcs, and other acrobatic feats are included in the program.

The Great Apollo from Florida performs on a single pole rising 105 feet in the air. His handstands and other acrobatics are done with the pole swaying back and forth. During the past year, he was featured in a number of Shrine Circuses throughout the nation.

The two high pole acts which will be presented on the fairgrounds are in addition to the circus in front of the grandstand, the Music Shell shows featuring big-name stars, and the many other free features which have given the State Fair a reputation for offering the biggest entertainment bargain of the year.

The sequoia trees of California were named for Sequoia, the son of a white man and a Cherokee woman of mixed blood. Sequoia is famous as the inventor of the Cherokee alphabet.

Japanese Exchangeites Perform Native Dance

Three Hope College International Summer Program Japanese exchange students performed a native Japanese dance Thursday for friends at the Berle Van Dyke home, 156 East 13th St.

Kohko Uno was inspired to present her country's dance of spring when she was taken to see Dutch Dancers perform. Nobuko Azuma and Nobuko Fujikawa accompanied her in the dance.

The interpretive dance symbolized spring rain, cherry blossoms and other features of spring in Japan. Each girl wore her native costume and parasols and fans were used to accent the dance.

Miss Azuma and Miss Fujikawa were the guests of Miss Mary Lou Van Dyke, 156 East 13th St., and Kohko Uno was the guest of the John Hempels of 1181 Euna Vista. The trio left to day for a two week trip to the west coast with stops at many national landmarks. From the west coast they will depart for their homes.

The girls were members of a group of 47 foreign students who participated in Hope College's International Summer School. All of the students stayed with families in the Holland area. This offered an opportunity for cultural exchange and led the students to a deeper understanding of the American way of life.

In explaining their native Japanese customs to their American families one of the students mentioned that raw fish was often eaten in Japan. Van Dyke said he aimed to please and prepared "Holland" herring in wine sauce, the nearest thing he knew to the Japanese dish, for the girls. According to Van Dyke "they just loved it."
