Council Kept Busy At Session

Several items of business were processed at the regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night in City Hall.

Harvey Barkel was appointed to the Board of Appeals for a three-year term expiring June 30, 1970.

Tabled until the next meeting of Council Sept. 13 was a report of the Department of Environmental Health recommending demolition of a dwelling at 322 Pine Ave. after the owner failed to comply with requirements of the housing code.

The report stated it is the opinion of the city attorney that in this case, a court order should precede compulsory demolition and it was recommended that Council after investigation instruct the city attorney to proceed with action in Circuit Court of Ottawa County to obtain an order to demolish the dwelling. The report stated that at one time, eight of 10 children of the family occupying the premises were taken from the home and made wards of the court.

Council approved low bid of Diamond Crystal Salt Co. for the city's winter supply of rock salt on the basis of FOB street department warehouse and FOB supplier's nearest depot. The bid listed $14.20 a ton FOB warehouse and $13.40 a ton FOB depot. It was the lowest bid of four submitted. Rock salt bids two weeks ago were rejected and new bids authorized including the two designated delivery points.

Considerable time was spent discussing possibility of more shuffleboard courts as requested by the Golden Agers of Holland. A report by City Recreation Director Joe Moran did not recommend courts at Civic Center and suggested shuffleboard centers at the Maplewood Recreational area. A suggestion from Mayor Nelson Bosman on possibilities of developing courts at the 22nd St. area will be given further study. Present courts in Kollen Park have been subjected to vandalism, it was said.

A petition requesting sanitary sewer service in Lugers Rd. and Grandridge Ct. was referred to the city manager.

A letter from the Downtown Merchants Association of the Chamber of Commerce expressed appreciation to Council for granting permission to close streets for the sidewalk sale July 28. The letter also commended the police department for its courtesy and efficiency in handling traffic and the street department for its rapid cleanup.

A letter from the Gordon Cummings expressed appreciation for sympathy shown during the death of Cunningham's father-in-law.

Council acknowledged gifts for Holland Hospital consisting of a TV set from Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, and a nurse reference manual valued at $15 from the Ottawa County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Certifications were approved for Councilman Lamb of Lamb, Inc., fire, engineering and cemetery departments, $788.06, and Councilman Smith, Wade Drug Co., police department, $17.85.

A claim against the city from Mrs. Edward Ruddick, 814 Central Ave., was referred to the city insurance carrier.

Councilman Robert Dykstra in a statement similar to a "Letter to the Editor" pointed to the October deadline for petitions for paving for next year and urged persons living on unpaved streets to consider carefully the advantages of street improvements.

Council okayed expenditures of capital improvement fund for the following purchases for the recreation department: two automatic sprinklers, $500; 10 sets of tennis net poles, $275; improvements to baseball diamond at 22nd and Pine; water outlets at Maplewood recreation area, $2,000; landscaping at Maplewood Recreation area, $1,000; drinking fountains at Maplewood, $450.

The Glare Of Publicity

Lester H. Lobbe is a Juvenile Court Judge in Montana. He has recently become the center of controversy about the best way to combat juvenile delinquency. Judge Lobbe's idea is that trials in open court and the publication of names of juveniles on trial for felonies as well as the attendance of parents at the trials will help to keep delinquency under control. He says, although others dispute him, that he has the figures to prove it.

Experts in juvenile delinquency are not enthusiastic about Judge Lobbe's theories or practice. They don't believe that threat of public exposure improves people or that the desire to maintain a good reputation makes people any better. They feel that exposing the delinquent to the harsh glare of publicity is some kind of cruelty.

We would not pretend to solve the complex problem of juvenile delinquency with one simple nostrum, but we tend to agree with the idea that if people are dealt with as responsible for their actions, they may begin acting with some responsibility. Convince a person that he is merely the product and victim of his environment and you have a person who has an iron-clad excuse for any kind of misbehavior. Convince him that he has a will and individuality of his own and you may find a citizen who will take the blame for his own action and think before he acts. Even that would improve our delinquency problem a good deal.

Paul at Ephesus

Acts 19: 23-28, 35-39

By C. P. Dame

We are living in an urban civilization. Paul was a city man. He was born in a city, studied in a city and preached in cities. This lesson tells us about his successful ministry in Ephesus, a large city in Asia Minor where he faced opportunities and opposition.

1. Gospel preaching gets results. "And the same time there arose no small stir about that way"—about the gospel which Paul had preached in Ephesus, the capital of the province known as Proconsular Asia. For three months Paul preached boldly and persuasively in the synagogue. When he faced stubborn unbelief of the Jews he engaged a lecture hall from a man named Tyrannus from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. when due to the intense heat most work was almost at a standstill.

The preaching of Paul disturbed Demetrius who headed the craftsmen who made shrines and miniature replicas of the famous temple of Diana, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. Due to Paul's preaching the trade of the shrine makers was falling off and so the leader planned action, calling for a meeting at which he made a clever speech.

II. The gospel meets opposition. Demetrius had a cause and a crowd and a slogan. He had the ingredients for a demonstration and a riot. Past history in our cities proves this. The speaker appealed to the self-interest of the workers. Work was getting scarcer and Demetrius blamed Paul. In addition Demetrius appealed to religion and patriotism. If this preaching of Paul would continue the goddess of Diana would lose her magnificence and the temple lose its fame and Ephesus its popularity. The speech created an uproar.

Faithful preaching of the gospel should lessen the liquor trade, gambling, dope peddling and all manner of making money which appeal to human weaknesses. More and more stores are opening up on Sundays. Church members patronize some of them. How much better it would be if they would buy from merchants who keep their stores closed on the Lord's day. Some chain stores open in communities where the people do not care but close in communities where people are concerned.

III. Making peace is an art. The crowd shouted. The town clerk heard about it and faced the shouting, ignorant crowd, telling them that the courts were open and hence if Demetrius or any one had complaints they could bring them there. He reminded them that there was the possibility that they might be reported and be asked to give an account for this uproar. Rome did not tolerate riots, it demanded law and order. This one man's speech quieted the crowd.

The town clerk was a man of his times. Evidently he believed what the people believed about the goddess. He was mistaken like the people but one can't help admiring him for his insistence on law and order which some officials in our land must insist on in these days more strongly than ever. This day calls for the enforcement of the law.

The worship of the goddess has ceased but Christ is being worshipped more than ever. The church of today needs missionaries with the fervor and faith of Paul so that all manner of idolatry might be overcome and Christ be worshipped and served the world over.

Herrick Library Sponsors Summer Treasure Hunt

About 2,000 Holland area children are involved in Herrick Library's Treasure Hunt, a reading program designed to encourage the interest and participation of grade school age youngsters in reading while school is not in session.

Under the program, children who have read five books may pick a foreign coin from the treasure box, while those who have read ten books are eligible for the picnic at Kollen Park at the end of the summer.

For every five books read, another foreign coin may be chosen. The coins, which are real, are designed to give the children an incentive to learn about different countries.

Each child has an orange treasure map with numbers strung across it; for every book read, the appropriate number is marked with a stamp.

The reading program, which began June 12, culminates on Sept. 9 with a picnic for all participants at Kollen Park.

All interested children may fill out the orange map identification cards and take part in the Treasure Hunt.

MBYC Events Delight Both Young and Old

Young and old made a switch, out of necessity, Saturday as part of a dance contest held at Macatawa Bay Yacht Club.

In the contest that was one of the many events scheduled in connection with the family barbecue at MBYC, all those over 30 years of age had to dance the "modern" way, and all those under 30 years of age had to resort to the slower paced dances of "way back when."

Winning the "over 30" event was Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sligh III while Rick Prince and cousin, Charlene, graced through foxtrots and waltzes to win the "under 30" contest.

There were some 200 persons who attended Saturday's events at the MBYC Clubhouse following the sailing spectacle race to Kollen Park and back.

Another event was the turtle race in which Frank Lokker had the winner.

Immediately following the chicken barbecue was the presentation of awards.

In addition to the awards made to the sailors winning the long race down Lake Macatawa were the special awards for special reasons.

Plaques incorporating a wooden shoe in the design were made to Lois Sligh for "serving above and beyond the call of duty," and to J.C. Petter.

Mrs. Sligh's award was made for towing a Sprite from Kollen Park to MBYC when the tiller came out of the rudder and the skipper couldn't steer the boat. Petter's award recognized the fact he "always followed the races and assisted inland boats in any way possible."

Another special award winner was Anita Verdier as "dock mother of the year." Doug Verdier was also recognized for "loyalty on the offshore committee."

Volleys From Ambush

We've been noticing flags lately.

For one thing, The Sentinel has a new flagpole in the little island bordering the sidewalk.

And Hotel Warm Friend has a flagpole atop its building. It's lighted at night. Old Glory seems to wave more proudly at that height.

And 266th St. between Maple and Washington Aves. were alive with flags a few days ago to welcome Marine Lt. Barry Bailey home after more than a year at Vietnam.

It was a nice idea. Maybe other neighborhoods should follow.

The Bailey homecoming was particularly exciting for his three sons and for all the other youngsters in the neighborhood.

The youngest son, Danny, 4, was more excited than the others.

As the lieutenant's arrival came nearer, a neighbor asked young Danny if he had heard anything from his father.

"Naw," was the reply. "He only writes to mom."

The Red Cross blood program needs lots of help, and scores of volunteers give this aid, both in recruiting donors and in providing workers at the periodic clinics.

In Coopersville, the work is sparked by the Fire Belles, wives of volunteer firemen, headed by Mrs. Bert Barrett. The Fire Belles have succeeded in doubling the numbers of donors in a year. On Aug. 17 the women will visit Lansing Blood Center where all blood drawn in Ottawa is processed. The next Coopersville clinic will be held Sept. 13. On Sept. 14 a clinic will be held in Zeeland.

Some weeks ago, Red Cross chairman Bruce Raymond lined up two donors with O-negative blood for an emergency in Zeeland. A newborn baby needed it. Yes, donors were obtained and the baby survived in fine shape.

Ordinarily, both Holland and Zeeland hospitals have lists of names or rare blood types, but it's hard to locate people on a busy weekend and additional help was needed.

US-31 which passes through this fair city has caught up with US-23 in distance, and the two are tied for the distinction of being the longest state highways in Michigan.

Last year, US-23 which extends from the Michigan-Ohio state line near Toledo to the Mackinac Bridge, was the state's longest highway by one-tenth of a mile.

A year ago, US-23 measured 361.9 miles while US-31 which extends from the Indiana state line near Niles to Mackinac Bridge, measured 361.8 miles.

The 1967 State Highway Commission Mileage log, just off the press, shows both highways are 362 miles long.

The local H. J. Heinz Co. in Holland not only is the world's largest pickle factory, but it has the distinction of having the most up-to-date telephone system in Holland.

An automatic phone system has been installed, enabling all internal and most local calls to be dialed directly from plant phones.

The plant still handles 900 phone calls during a typical eight hour shift, but few go through the switchboard.

It's newcomer time again. During July, the city hostesses welcomed 22 new families to the community.

Some choice philosophies: For every woman who makes a fool out of some man, there's another who makes a man of some fool.

If you don't think smoking makes a woman's voice harsh, try dropping a cigarette on her rug.

The men who found their way across the trackless wilderness of this vast continent have great-grandsons who get lost in a supermarket.

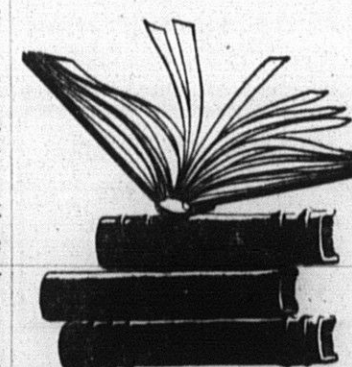

A generation ago, most men who finished a day's work needed rest; now they need exercise.

An optimist is a doctor who tells the mother of six small children to relax.

Have you ever wondered where all the old-fashioned girls are? They're at home with their first husbands.

Family Resort at Castle Park Caters to Several Generations

One of the few well-known family resorts in the area is Castle Park.

Clago, St. Louis, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Louisville — all are represented at the Castle Club as the resort is now known. The hotel, which looks like an ancient vine-covered castle, has been the summer vacation spot for several generations of these out-of-town-ers.

Many Hollanders also take advantage of the delightful spot. Visiting children and grandchildren of Holland families stay at the Castle for anywhere from a week to a month. Cottages are part of the overall resort picture.

Dr. and Mrs. Lester Nienhuis and their children from Tulsa, Okla., were in a new cottage on the dunes for two weeks while visiting his parents, the Albert

Nienhuises of Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maentz Jr., who live in Holland all the rest of the year take the month of August to enjoy the Lake Michigan waterfront at the park. Many of their young married set also take cottages at Castle.

Mrs. Robert Foote, the former "J. B." Brown vacationed at the family resort earlier this month with her husband. They recently returned from England where Robert completed his master's degree at Exeter University, Devon, England. "J. B." is the daughter of the Carter Brown Jrs.

Roger Brown, son of the Carter Brown Jrs., who was graduated from Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va., this spring, is on the front desk this summer. Also on the desk is Bill Parkes of Holland, who has been in the same post for the past 3 summers. He attends Hope College.

This is the 51st year for Mr. and Mrs. Carter P. Brown Sr. at The Castle. During the winter they are at Tryon, N. C. Mr. Brown still builds attractive antique-looking buildings in keeping with the setting. He is also helping procure antiques for the Post House at Windmill Island.

Carter Brown Jr., has succeeded his brother, Austin Brown as manager of the Castle Club and as manager of the Springdale Hall Club at Camden, S. C. Austin Brown is now assistant general manager of the Delaware Park Race Track at Staunton, Del.

A well-rounded program is geared to all age groups. A play class is held every day from 9 a.m. until noon. Lee Gerrard of Holland is in charge of the park program with six counselors assisting. They attend puppet shows, take excursions, hikes and do crafts.

Luncheon is served on the patio at the Dance Dune every noon. The Dune is also the place of the Saturday night dances which feature Ken Udel and his college orchestra from Grand Rapids.

The program includes bridge on Mondays, movies on Wednesdays and musical programs on Fridays, often in the Amphitheatre. Castle Vespers have been a Sunday night feature for many years at the Meeting House under the direction of Randall C. Bosch.

Coming events include the variety program "Castle Capers" on Aug. 25 and the Castle Park Horse Show on Aug. 30. This is the oldest amateur horse show in the United States. The staff at Castle puts on the "Capers" and is hoping to present "Sing Out America" on Aug. 18.

Rick Steketee of Grand Rapids is the tennis professional at Castle this summer. He is being assisted this summer by Fred Praset of Grand Rapids, a summer resident of South Shore Dr. and John Clarke of Western Springs, Ill. Tennis instruction is a specialty at The Castle Club. For many years the late "Cap" Leighton was the tennis pro.

Castle Stables are the newest addition to the resort, designed by Carter Brown Sr., with the same authentic rustic design as the other buildings. Peter Ver Plank of Zeeland is the riding instructor. He is assisted by his wife, Christine, a brother, Bill Ver Plank of Zeeland and Chris Raphael of the Little Farm, Holland. The stables are open to the public and riding instruction is available.

On the staff at the Castle Club are 10 attractive "Pixies" from the University of Tennessee and South Carolina. The five waiters are all college men from the University of Tennessee.

Clifford Hopkins of Holland is the Postmaster at The Castle, a familiar role he has filled for many summers. John Olert of Grosse Pointe Farms and Charles Vander Broek of Holland are also on the staff.

Among the longtime guests at the Castle Club are the Walter and Peter Rentschler families of Hamilton, Ohio. The Walter Rentschlers' son, Thomas and family and the Peter Rentschlers' son, James and family of the newest addition to the club facilities, designed by Carter Brown, in the same rustic fashion as the other buildings. The stables and riding instruction by Ver Plank are open to the public. During the winter season he trains horses in Cameron, S.C. and Omaha, Neb., and at several southern tracks.

RIDING AT CASTLE CLUB — Castle Park stables are popular with many young riders who stay at the club or others in the area who take advantage of the expert instruction by Peter Ver Plank of Zeeland, shown here between two of his young pupils, Ann Idema of Grand Rapids, left, and Polly Perkins of New Canaan, Conn., on the right. The stables are

LUNCHEON ON THE DUNE — One of the highlights of daily resort living at the Castle Club is luncheon served on the Dance Dune overlooking Lake Michigan. When the dinner bell rings the families walk up to the dune, take their trays and go from luncheon cart to lunch-

Herrick Library Compares Well On State Level

Herrick Library compares favorably with libraries of other Michigan communities, according to the official state aid annual report issued to Herrick Public Library.

The report, covering the previous year, presents an opportunity to compare Holland's library facilities with those of other Michigan areas. The report is compiled from data mailed to the official state aid office from the various state libraries. Most of the data concerns circulation and volumes per capita available to the public.

Herrick Library boasts 3.2 volumes per capita, while the state average stands at 1.5 volumes. Holland circulation of volumes among its area residents is 17.4, while the state average works out to 4.5.

According to Roger Walcott, head librarian, the 1967 figures are expected to be much the same, with a jump in area population roughly proportional to the amount of new books coming into the library.

Herrick Public Library will send in its 1967 data in November. The annual official state aid report for this year will arrive next June.

St. Augustine Seminary Begins Camp for Boys

A camp for 8-16 year old boys was initiated this month at St. Augustine Seminary, located on 65th Ave. between Holland and Saugatuck.

Called Camp Villanova, the program is designed "to give boys the camping experience of outdoor life and the experience of learning to live together," according to Fr. John Peck, the camp director.

A total of 60 boys from the midwest area are spending either two-week or four-week sessions at the camp on the grounds of the Catholic Seminary on the Lake Michigan shore.

The program will eventually accommodate 200 boys. Included in the camp routine are community mass, guidance, practice in patriotism, creative arts and crafts and swimming.

The camp takes its name from Villanova University in Philadelphia, which was founded by the Augustinians.

Temperature Slumps to 41

The mercury slumped to 41 degrees early Friday.

This is pretty cold for August but by no means a record. In 1965, the August low was 38 and in 1964 and 1963 it was 36.

Frost was reported on squash at the farm of Peter Dykman, Division Ave. and Lakewood Blvd.

By 11 a.m. Friday, the temperature had risen to 60.

Thursday's high was 72 and the low 52.

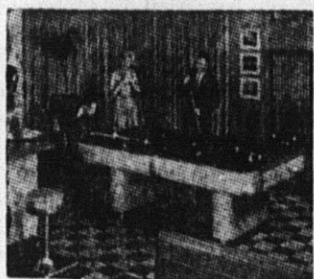

It was cool at Lake Michigan beaches too. The water temperature at 11 a.m. Friday was 50 and the air was 58. The yellow flag was flying.

Symphony Orchestras Thrill Music Lovers

A fitting climax to a week-long conference of music-making was the symphony concert in Holland High School auditorium Friday night presented by the Youth Symphony Orchestra and the Directors' Symphony Orchestra of the National School Orchestra Association which held its ninth annual conference on Hope College campus.

Conductor of the Youth Symphony Orchestra of 107 members was Jaroslav Holesovsky who has headed the organization since 1965 when the first Hope College-NSOA Youth Orchestra was formed.

Included in the four selections was a Holesovsky composition entitled "Dallas '63," a tonal mood composition provoked by a visit last April to the site of President Kennedy's assassination in Dallas while Conductor Holesovsky was visiting his son who is a member of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Tr composition with its contrasting moods made a tremendous impact on the audience which filled the auditorium, invoking an emotional response which brought the 1963 tragedy close to the heart.

Another youth symphony selection, "La Bamba de Vera Cruz," Tucci, was a Latin-American dance of high style and spirit. So well trained was the orchestra that after the introduction, Conductor Holesovsky left the podium and the orchestra continued its spirited number with no visible change.

At the conclusion, Holesovsky nonchalantly reappeared from the rear of the auditorium amid thunderous applause.

Dr. Leon Thompson, head of the music department at West Virginia State College, served as guest conductor of the Directors' Orchestra, directing compositions by Schubert and Copland. The latter's "An Outdoor Overture" was composed for the orchestra of the High School for Music and Art in New York City in the 30's by Aaron Copland. Earlier in the week Dr. Thompson served as guest speaker and conducted demonstration rehearsals for the orchestra conference.

Dr. Morrette Rider of Hope College, co-chairman of the conference with NSOA President Orville Dally who is retiring after four years, conducted the final portion of the program which included the first American performance of a new composition by English Composer Malcolm Arnold entitled "Water Music."

This brilliant and colorful work was composed for the opening of the Stratford Canal July 11, 1964, and although performed in Great Britain it has not been brought to the attention of American audiences.

The fathometer, a device to measure the depth of water, was invented by Herbert Grove Dorsey of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. By means of a series of electrical sounds and light signals, the depth of water could be easily ascertained.

tion of American audience before Friday's concert.

The set of three pieces, two of high rhythmic intensity and martial color are separated by a quiet and flowing slow movement reminiscent of a typical English folk melody. Although obviously of 20th century origin, the set has an immediate appeal to audiences as evidenced by the warm response it generated here. It contrasts heavily accented rhythmic passages with flowing melody and occasionally clashing harmony to sustain interest through variety and balance.

Wayne Pyle of Quincy, Ill., was introduced as the new NSOA president. The NSOA conference next year will be held in San Antonio, Tex., site of the 1968 "The Hemisphere," an international world fair. But the conference will return to Hope College in 1969, go to North Carolina in 1970 and back to Hope College in 1971. Pyle explained that conferences are set up four years in advance.

Next year's activities will have two youth orchestra conferences, one in San Antonio and the other in Holland. They will not be held simultaneously, and local youthful musicians were delighted that Conductor Holesovsky would return here next year.

A plaque was presented to retiring President Dally and was accepted by his wife. Dally was taken ill while in Holland and is recovering in Holland Hospital.

The board adopted a revised calendar for the 1967-68 school year providing for a minimum of 180 teaching days as required by Public Acts 237 of the Michigan Legislature. The previous calendar called for 176 teaching days but the law requires 180 days if state aid is to be obtained without penalty.

Classes will start Tuesday, Sept. 5. The Christmas vacation will run from Dec. 21 to Jan. 2, lopping off two days. Another day will be saved at the end of the first semester. A fourth day is saved since there will be no county institute in the spring.

Board President James O. Lamb reported that the school board negotiating committee on teachers' contracts was generally in agreement with all items except salaries and he expected this would be resolved in a few weeks.

Harvey Buter said a meeting of the pool committee had been held with the pool director, Ronald Howard, who would be setting up an office in Thomas Jefferson school during the first semester. The committee hopes to have the pool in operation for the second semester.

pointed and cleaned. Pouring of concrete for diving standards is scheduled this week, installation of locker room joists next week and completion of brick work within the next few days.

Supt. Ihrman announced that under new tuberculosis control requirements, all fulltime and parttime school employees must have examinations. Arrangements have been made with the Public Health department for such examinations Thursday, Sept. 7, at 3 p.m.

The board passed a resolution for participating in the 1967-68 Title I program. Mrs. Thelma Dalman, financial secretary, reported on local National Defense Education Aid programs in the Holland system since the act was passed in 1960. This program shares costs for equipment for science departments, the audio visual services, language, laboratories and electronic libraries. More recently, the program was enlarged to provide reading aids, English department equipment and industrial arts. The federal department pays approximately 44 per cent of the equipment costs, Mrs. Dalman said.

President Lamb presided at the meeting which lasted 45 minutes. Mrs. Lowell Heneveld gave the invocation. All members were present.

Male Chorus Antics Accent 'South Pacific'

"There is nothing like a male chorus," to paraphrase one of the hit songs from "South Pacific," and it was the male chorus in Red Barn Theatre's cast that complemented the action of the familiar, beautiful, emotional and funny Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

The show is being repeated this week at Red Barn and Monday's house was a packed one for Jim Dyas, who was unable to introduce the show in the usual fashion. It was Bruce Hall who stepped forward and gave opening remarks for Dyas. Hall quipped it was "the first time in the eight years I've been here that I've ever seen Dyas at a loss for words."

But the cast was not at a loss for words and went through the scenes and songs with zest.

Particularly delighting the Monday-night audience was Bloody Mary as characterized by Mary Nell Steele. Her command of carrying the role and mood proved effective.

Also winning the approval of the audience was Douglas McDonald who aptly characterized the sailor dubbed "Stewpot." His antics along with those of the other sailors in the male chorus brought out the snicker and laughter of the audience.

The motions and expressions by the chorus members epitomized the action and reaction of the entire group from Kathy Preston who portrays Ensign Nellie Forbush to Don Bonevich who appears as Emile de Becque; from John Frey who captured the audience as Luther Billis to Bruce Hall who is cast as Capt. George Brackett, USN.

Dr. Jack Kimmell is musical director assisted by Mary Lou Smith. Dances and ensemble numbers were choreographed by Helene Breazeale while setting and lighting was designed by Geoffrey D. Fishburn. Jean-Marie Andrejewski designed and made the costumes.

Because of the demand for an extra performance, "South Pacific" will also be presented at the Red Barn at 5 p.m. Saturday. The regular Saturday evening performance will begin at 9 p.m., one-half hour later than the usual 8:30 p.m. curtain.

"South Pacific" closes Saturday and will be followed by a one-week run of "Dark O' the Moon," a folk play with music telling of the legend of Barbara Allan and the Witch Boy.

Friendship Center Serves Migrants Working in Area

The Migrant Ministry Friendship Center is beginning its third week of social, educational, child care and religious activities, serving migrants from Texas, Arkansas and Florida who are working in the area picking blue-berries and cucumbers. The Friendship Center, which began operations July 24, will continue until Aug. 27.

Located on Barry St. in the old Harlem School, half-mile west of 136th Ave., the Friendship Center has expanded its program this year to include 40 camps, totaling about 600 persons. The reason for expansion is that the number of migrants in the area camps has decreased considerably, due to the use of mechanical pickers. For example, the 10 to 15 camps served in previous years had an estimated 1967 total of 200 persons. Nine years ago these same camps contained 2,000 persons.

The Migrant Ministry Friendship Center is sponsored by the Council of Church Women United, made up of 15 area churches and co-chaired by Mrs. A. T. Severson and Mrs. Charles Vander Beek.

Director of the Friendship Center is Douglas Johnson, whose staff is made up of Dave Kays, Lillias Morris and Sylvia Sutherland and staff nurse Mrs. Alena. The staff, which was trained and placed by the Michigan Migrant Ministry Inc., a division of the National Council of Churches, operates the entire program, which includes Family Nights, Teen-age Programs, Adult Discussion Groups, Adopt-A-Camp Program, Thrift Sale, Sunday worship services, Infant Day Care Center and Child Care Center.

The Family Nights, usually held on Wednesdays, offer special programs, often talent from members of the camps themselves. Last week Japanese singers presented a program and this week Marty Hardenberg, the "singing policeman," will be featured. A total of 250 persons attended the second family night of the season, 60 of whom came to the medical clinic open from 6:30 to 8:30.

The Thrift Shop is also open on Wednesdays, from 6 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays, under the direction of Mrs. Carrow Kleinhekel, Mrs. Harold Molenaar and Mrs. Carol Niekamp, are collected by the members of the Council of Church Women United throughout the year and are sold to the migrants at low cost.

A Teenage Club has been formed with the help of the Teenage Program, and meets every Friday night. Sport activities, wieners roasts and dancing are a few of the activities in which the teenagers are involved.

Church services are conducted on Sunday morning, often with the migrants taking part. Mr. Bradbury, a migrant from Arkansas, preached the sermon Aug. 6. Adult discussion groups are held Sunday evenings on various topics. Catholic Mass will be held on Thursday evenings, beginning this week.

On other evenings of the week the Friendship Center is open for games such as badminton, horseshoes, croquet, baseball and volleyball and for crafts such as sewing and woodworking.

In the Adopt-A-Camp program, groups of adults from churches in the Council visit an assigned Thrift items such as clothing camp at least once a week and conduct family night programs.

The Infant Day Care Center and Child Care Center, directed by Mrs. Earl De Young, is one of the major aspects of the Migrant Program. Forty-six children are enrolled in the centers, with a waiting list totaling 10. The centers care for the children of ages two through five from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. for a fee of 25 cents per child per day. The children are washed, fed two meals, and directed in activities such as games, painting and crafts. Field trips for the older children have been made to the Dutch Village, Herrick Public Library and Centennial Park.

Along with a staff made up of Chairman Mrs. Robert Nykamp, Nurse Mrs. Todd Bares and Cook Mrs. Henry Bareman, the centers are run by volunteers from the churches in the Council and will continue to operate through Aug. 25. Volunteers are being sought for the remaining two weeks, four needed each morning and four each afternoon. Volunteers are also used in the Thrift Shop and the Teenage Program.

The key word in the entire Migrant Program is involvement," according to director Douglas Johnson. "Anything that we do for them that they can do for themselves is detrimental to the program." Johnson and his staff are trying to get the migrants interested in helping themselves. "We want an internally developed program, not an externally developed one," Johnson said. And the migrants are responding. They are now providing their own transportation between the camps and the center and are taking part in the Sunday church services, talent nights and other activities.

The Christian Friendship Center works in cooperation with the Sheldon Woods Michigan Migrant Schooling Program, Michigan Migrant Opportunity Inc., and the YMCA. Destroys the Shine

Household cleansers may destroy the shine of a glossy enamel surface. Use a household detergent when washing enamel. Start washing at the bottom of walls or woodwork and continue upward to avoid water streaks. Test detergent on an out of the way spot before you begin.

IN THE BIG RACE—This is how it looked as entries started off from Macatawa Bay Yacht Club Saturday in a "first-of-its-kind" race to Kollen Park and back. Some 50 boats manned by MBYC sailors were entered in the race that presented a beautiful view down Lake Macatawa. First-place winners in the event included

MBYC Sailing Spectacle Attracts 50 Entries

Some 50 sailboats manned by members of Macatawa Bay Yacht Club presented a beautiful picture down Lake Macatawa Saturday as they raced from the MBYC clubhouse to Kollen Park and back.

This was a "first-of-its-kind" race for area sailors who also put on a "sailing spectacle" for offshore viewers along the route and picnickers at Kollen Park.

The starting gun for Sprites went off at 12:30 p.m. and the first of this class rounded the marker at Kollen Park around 2 p.m. It was reported all sailboats were in shortly after 4 p.m. Saturday.

Winning in the Sprites were Rob Sligh and Doug Bonzelaar, first; Scott and Skip Williams, second, and Bill Bonzelaar and Scott Murphy, third. Fred and Randy De Wilde sailed for a first in the Nippers class followed by Tom Nyland with crew Sally Gilcrest, second, and Ruth and Chris Anderson, third.

In the 110 category of Saturday's spectacle was Greg White and John Ten Cate, first, followed by Clark and Spencer Weersing, second, and Peter Van Dornen and Frank Lokker, third.

"Mahi-Mahi," skippered by Leonard Westdale of Grand Rapids, took a smooth first in the offshore class. She was followed by "Happy Medium" skippered by Phil Ragains and the entry skippered by Craig Hall.

The colorful spinnaker sails hoisted on the 110s added to the gaiety and beauty of the Saturday's race.

While the smaller boats were able to sail down Lake Macatawa with relative ease, shallow waters in some spots challenged skippers and crew members of the larger offshore entries.

Larger entries were forced to tack through the narrows in the vicinity of Allen Acres. It was reported a few of the larger entries tried to sail around the channel markers and ran aground; however, they managed to free themselves and continue in the competition.

Taking second place was Marilyn Bamborough with crew Kathy Lubbek. Bonnie Westrate, skipper, and Ruth Anderson, crew, paired for a third-place showing followed by Caddy Bradford and Peg Haken in fourth place.

Two sessions remain in the series of instruction planned by the yacht club for women. Greg White, sailing instructor, has been in charge of the sessions and also conducts the question-and-answer period that follows each race.
