CITY AND VICINITY.

Holland fair, Sept. 18-21.

The Public Schools will open Monday, Sept. 3.

D. Kordux, an old resident of Holland is seriously ill.

Good progress is being made with the Market street parsonage. It is a fine looking residence.

Married at the M. E. parsonage of this city, Aug. 20, by Rev. C. A. Jakobs, Ed. Purchis and Mable Bennett, both of this city.

The flower beds of J. Dykema, on Thirteenth street; and of Harry R. Doesburg, on Ninth street, are among the handsomest in the city.

Benton Harbor will soon have the general freight office of the Michigan division of the Big Four railroad. They will be moved from Anderson, Ind.

The heavy smoke from the Wisconsin forest fires continues to hang over Lake Michigan. Along the west shore it is so dense as to be often a serious hindrance to navigation.

The shipping of saw dust from C. L. King & Co.'s mill has become a permanent feature in the lake traffic this season, two or three small vessels being constantly engaged in carrying the same.

Capt. P. Pfanstiehl contemplates making improvements on his dock. He has already built a new walk from River street to the landing, repaired the pavilion, and would also like to do some dredging.

The steam yacht Romeo arrived here from Chicago Saturday, after stopping over in Saugatuck a day or so to paint up. She has been engaged this week by Capt. P. Pfanstiehl to run at intervals between the city and the resorts.

Complaint is made by those that have occasion to arrive on the midnight trains, that our electric street lights are shut off immediately upon their arrival at the station, leaving pedestrians to grope their way home in darkness.

During the re-union last week one of our merchants took in a piece of Canadian silver coin. On one side there was engraved a monogram, and "Co. F, 26th Mich. Infy." The inference is that it has been paid out by mistake. The owner can obtain further information at the News office.

Says Jas. E. McBride, at the Kent county People's party convention held on Monday: "If Pingree had openly avowed his adherence to the doctrines of the People's party he would have been nominated and elected. He refused to do so, and to-day he is a political outcast, with hardly a friend in any party."

The Traverse Bay Eagle has this gratifying reference to one of our Holland boys: "J. W. Higgins, the young dentist who recently came to the city and fitted up handsome rooms in the First National Bank block, has already established a good practice. Mr. Higgins is a refined gentleman and a welcome addition to the local social circles."

The Merriam cadets, a military company of boys of the Park Street Congregational church, Grand Rapids, passed through the city, Wednesday, for a week's encampment on the south shore of Black Lake. The camp selected by them is the old Hopkins place between Central Park and the Laketown landing. They came down 35 strong, under the command of Capt. Van A. Wallin, and made an exceptionally creditable appearance, both in their marching and drill.

A well dressed stranger, who gave his name as James S. Brown, was taken in custody by Marshal Van Ry Monday evening, for being drunk. On his person was found a pocket book, which judging from the contents was not his own. In it was also a large quantity of postage stamps. He was arraigned before Justice Van Schelven the next morning and given ten days in the county jail. In the meantime the antecedents of the gentleman will be inquired into.

The repairs at the Walsh-DeRoo roller mills have progressed so far that the feed stones this week were again started. In the course of a week or ten days they expect to have the entire plant running at full capacity, when we expect to refer more fully to the extensive improvements this company has made to their mills. No doubt when everything is completed the Standard Roller Mills of this city will be excelled by none in Western Michigan in efficiency and in quality of product.

Wheat 50 cents.

Fris, the kerosene man, is proud of his new delivery wagon.

Republican congressional convention at Grand Rapids on Wednesday next.

Rev. W. P. Law will officiate in Grace Episc. church next Sunday, morning and evening.

The schr. Mishcote unloaded a cargo of lumber from Manistee, Tuesday, at Central wharf, for the West Michigan factory.

"The man of iron," not typical, but literal; not on horseback, but on a tricycle—in the show window of Katters Brothers hardware.

L. G. Duntion of Grand Rapids is shipping large quantities of lumber from northern points to Holland, by lake, and thence by rail to the Valley City.

J. Verhage, who lost his barn near Zeeland, by fire the other day, is making installments to rebuild at once. The other day he was in the city with ten teams hauling material from Capt. DeHaven's lumber yard.

Jacob Van Putten, Jr., has returned from a business trip to points in Illinois and Wisconsin. He succeeded in placing orders for several car loads of butter tubs and staves, but reports the demand for apple barrels as rather dull.

The various Masonic bodies in this state, at their first meetings herafter, will vote on the following: That it is the opinion of this lodge that the grand lodge should own the Masonic Home at Grand Rapids, and that the same should be maintained by an increase of grand lodge dues, not to exceed fifty cents per capita.

Among our visitors this week was Mr. Jurien Wildeboer, of Garden City, Mo. He came here in '48 as a lad, with his mother and brothers and sisters, and had his home for several years in the family of the late G. J. Kroon. From here he went Allegan and thence west, and during the war served as a Captain in the 70th Ill. Infy.

Of all the resorts on the east shore of Lake Michigan there is no spot that can compete with Macatawa Bay for genuine fishing sport. H. W. Perry, president of the Park Association, just informs us that on Wednesday afternoon himself, wife and son-in-law were out a little while on the Bay and returned home with 35 black bass and 6 rock bass.

In the peach district south of Holland, as far as St. Joseph, the yellows commissions of the several townships are exercising more than usual vigilance in stamping out the disease. Orchards are visited and all trees that are affected are marked for immediate destruction. Peaches that are tainted by the yellows are not allowed to be shipped, but dumped into the lake, or otherwise destroyed.

As Nibbelink's carryall was leaving the C. & W. M. passenger depot Wednesday afternoon, the old man Meeboer happened to be on the crossing and in some way or other he was struck either by the horses or the pole, and the entire rig passed over him. Mr. Meeboer had his leg cut and head bruised and received a general shaking up, bleeding quite freely. He was taken to Dr. Kremers' drug store, where his wounds were attended to.

Golden rod, the most hardy and prolific if not the most beautiful of American wild flowers, and by some designated as the "national flower," is just beginning its three months course of blooming. It will continue in bloom until the early snows come. Golden rod is a popular flower, and in good demand in large cities. In view of the large fields, a few miles north of the city, that are thickly covered with it, the question is whether it wouldn't pay to gather them and make daily shipments by boat to Chicago.

The base ball that was played in this city Wednesday afternoon, between the Grand Rapids Athletics and the Q. C. T. club of Holland was marred by a sad accident, the results of which are still alarmingly uncertain. Tony Van der Hill was batter, when the bat slipped from his hands, and landing amid a group of spectators struck Johnnie Van Landegend, a lad of about sixteen, at the side of the head, producing a compound fracture of the skull. He was taken home in an unconscious condition. Drs. Kremers, Yates and Cook succeeded in removing two pieces of skull that were quite deeply imbedded and relieved the brain from all undue pressure. Although the situation is a precarious one, the doctors are not without hope.

The fall term of Hope College begins September 19.

U. B. Eames has been appointed postmaster of Ferrysburg vice Chas. Stroob, resigned.

The coaster May Cornell has been hauled out on the south shore, and is undergoing repairs.

The number of passengers for Chicago on the stmr. City of Holland one morning this week was 130.

The C. & B. Leather Co. are making installments for a large addition to their dry house on the north side of Black river.

Those splendid oil heaters, that prove such an acceptable article in every well-regulated family, are again on sale at E. Van der Veen's. See new adv.

The Holland City Cornet Band entertained the public with a fine selection on Wednesday evening, and their music was well appreciated by the attending crowds.

Married in this city, at the residence of Mrs. Wilson, Ninth str., by Rev. C. A. Jakobs, Aug. 16, Joseph W. Payne of Fruitport and Miss Mary Bullis of Holland.

Six members of the South Side Cycling Club, of Chicago, arrived on the Sunday morning boat and proceeded on their wheels to Grand Rapids. They made the return trip by rail.

At the annual meeting of Columbia Hose Company No. 2, held Wednesday, the following officers were elected: A. C. Keppel, foreman; Adrian Glerum, assistant foreman; A. Klooster, secretary; and Jacob Lokker, treasurer.

List of letters advertised for the week ending Aug. 23, '94, at the Holland Post Office. Miss Kristine Hogchin, M. W. Palmer, J. O. Russell and Son, Capt. Ed. Ronne, A. C. Sharp, G. J. VAN DUZEN, P. M.

The large huckleberry marsh in Byron, Kent county, burned Monday night, entailing a severe loss. It covered nearly 200 acres and was one of the most profitable in the state. Farmers in the vicinity plowed all night to check the flames.

The base ball match between a printers' nine and a cigarmakers' nine, which was played at the ball park on Tuesday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the type-stickers, the score standing 23 to 20 in their favor. Will Lamoreaux officiated as umpire.

The Populist senatorial convention was held in Muskegon Wednesday. Ottawa county was represented by J. W. Knight, A. Alverson, J. Harris, and D. C. Wachs. David Bertsch, of this city, was nominated on the first ballot, there being no opposition.

The excursion by the stmr. City of Holland to Grand Haven, Tuesday, was a pleasant affair. About 100 availed themselves of the opportunity. Had it not been for the unfavorable weather in the morning the number would have been undoubtedly much larger.

An exchange says the meanest man in America is the one that lives up in Maine. Some time ago he told his amiable wife that he was going to Lake Ausangwatusogamongawaw-ontongowiar, for a week's fishing, and then went and got all his friends to ask her where he had gone.

Lest some one should infer from the description of Macatawa Castle, on our second page, that the house is haunted or in any wise abandoned, or that the write-up is anything but reportorial gossip, it may be well enough to state that its owner, Mr. Michael Schwartz of Chicago, and family, consisting of wife and three daughters, have arrived there this week and will occupy the premises during the balance of the season.

It took two weeks to run the criminal grist through the judicial hopper at the present term of court, and right busy weeks they were too. The civil jury calendar was taken up Monday and has furnished plenty of business for the week. The following sentences were pronounced: Hep Donker 2½ years at Jackson, his old home. Arthur Crosssett, on his plea of guilty to adultery, was allowed to go and report to the court on the first day to the next term. The three Grand Rapids men, Gerrit and John Wennink and Jacob Kosten, who were accused of stealing a mare and colt from a widow in Blendon, were acquitted. At the end of the week court will adjourn till a week from Monday to continue the trial of civil cases on the jury calendar.

The stmr. Music will give an excursion to Saugatuck Saturday afternoon at 3:30.

Excursions to the Holland resorts, by water and rail, are the regular order of the day.

Thursday the stmr. Bradshaw gave an excursion to South Haven, which was largely patronized.

Contractors A. J. & H. J. De Vries are at work grading east Twelfth street, between Land street and Columbia ave.

The gospel meeting of the Y. M. O. A., Sunday afternoon, will be led by Rev. S. Streng, Subject: "What are you going to do about it?"

G. H. Tribune: At a meeting held at Fox's mill, Allendale, last week, five miles of right of way was pledged, and a committee appointed to solicit ties for Jerry Boynton's Grand River railroad.

The Sunday issue of the G. R. Herald contains a very creditable write-up of this city and some of its leading interests. However, this is more than can be said of the portraits accompanying the same.

An excursion will be given by the stmr. Romeo to Jenison Park, Saturday evening, the 25th, leaving Pfanstiehl's dock at 6:30 o'clock. There will be a hop at the resort and the boat will not leave until about 11 o'clock.

Of the old stove mill, at the head of Black Lake, nothing remains now but the smoke stack and boiler. The Holland Stave & Lumber Co., the firm that operated the mill last, have disposed of the remnant of their stock of staves and heading to J. & A. Van Putten, who will use it largely in the manufacture of apple barrels.

Through the instrumentality of A. R. Lewis, manager of the W. U. Telegraph service here, it has been arranged to locate in this city a station for the regular display of the government wind signals, furnished free by the telegraph company to any points on the great lakes, for the benefit of the shipping interest. The service will be by flags in the daytime and lamps at night. Consent has been obtained from the city to utilize the flag-staff on Engine House No. 1.

Monday next will be a gala day at the Park. The Merriam Rifles, a fine military company from Grand Rapids, in full uniform and guns, will give a parade and drill. The life saving crew will also give one of their exciting boat drills and swimming contests in the afternoon. Both these events have been arranged for by the steamer Music, and everybody should go to the Park and enjoy the day. The children will soon be in school and this will be a good time to make a family picnic and go and see these interesting things.

Geo. P. Hummer, chairman, and Geo. W. Sevey, secretary, of the Ottawa county democratic committee, have issued their call for a county convention, to be held at Grand Haven on Thursday, August 30, for the nomination of candidates and the election of delegates. The total representation is 113, apportioned as follows: Allendale 3, Blendon 4, Chester 7, Crockery 3, Georgetown 6, Grand Haven Township 3, Holland Township 7, Jamestown 6, Olive 5, Polkton 8, Robinson 2, Spring Lake 4, Tallmadge 5, Wright 8, Zeeland 7, Grand Haven, First Ward 4, Second Ward 5, Third Ward 7, Fourth Ward 3, Holland, First Ward 4, Second Ward 3, Third Ward 5, Fourth Ward 3, Fifth Ward 1.

Since the above the county committee of which D. O. Watson is chairman, has met and decided to hold a democratic county convention for the same purpose on Sept. 12. We learn both calls will be recognized by the local democracy of Holland, that is to say, a separate delegation will be sent to each convention.

A Mysterious House.

STRANGE TALES OF THE "CASTLE" AT MACATAWA PARK.

Detroit Journal. Among all the pretty summer resorts that dot the east shore of Lake Michigan, none can claim more in the way of rustic beauty and picturesque surroundings than this delightful spot—Macatawa Park.

The park contains about 250 acres, and with its towering sand hills and deep ravines, thickly covered with gigantic oaks and elms, presents an ideal picture of forest scenery. Nearly 200 cottages are located here, owned largely by Grand Rapids and Chicago people, many of which are really handsome homes. Some are almost hidden from view by the native trees, and all are scattered along the most enchanting winding walks and drives that lay back on the hills from 50 to 100 feet above the lake.

Here one can spend a few weeks in rest and recreation without the "dress parade" feature, which characterizes the more fashionable places. Macatawa park is located on the south side of Black Lake, six miles west of the City of Holland, and fronts along Lake Michigan. Just across Black lake is Ottawa Beach. There is a daily boat service here with Chicago. Resort boats run regularly down Black lake to Holland.

The place is thoroughly romantic. A fine view of the surrounding country and the blue waters of Lake Michigan can be had from the enormous sand hill that stands just at the point where Black lake merges into Lake Michigan. Directly to the east, about a mile from this point, is Jensen Park, a pretty little resort, with many handsome cottages.

The fishing in Black lake is good; the surf bathing along the big lake all that could be desired, and every pleasant afternoon the wide beach of pure white sand is covered with bathers, and when the sea rolls heavy 'tis easy to imagine that you are looking in the ocean, as the general appearance is almost identical.

One of the most interesting sights near here is the "Castle", which is located southward from the Park, about three miles. The woods are full of stories about the place, in fact enough to fill a volume. The Journal representative, in company with a party of friends, rowed down the other morning. The building stands back about a quarter of a mile from Lake Michigan, and is entirely hidden from view on the lake by the tall trees which line the shore. No public highway comes near it, and its utter isolation alone would arouse and set one to thinking.

The building which is of brick, cost at least $8,000. It stands on a fine stone foundation ten feet in height. The circular tower at one end is finished with a turret, and the defensive appearance of the opposite corner, taken with the very low, deep front entrance, gives it indeed the appearance of a castle. It is finely finished inside in quarter sawed ash, and from its construction it was certainly not built for an ordinary home.

The building was erected by a Holland contractor, James Huntley, for a Chicago man, and many aver that it was to be used as a gambling den for the upper crust of Chicago's "smooth ones," and that had the arrangements been completed it would now be one of the finest spots for the business imaginable. Another story is also told that the Chicago man had three handsome daughters whom he had sworn should never marry, and intended to make a private "nunnery" of the place. Others say that it was to be occupied by single men and their wives. The story is also current that the place was to be used by a gang of forgers who had tapped several banks for pretty large sums on raised drafts, and who could here work in comparative safety, as its location made surprise in the way of a hurried approach impossible.

Whatever is the merit of the stories, or what the motive of building the place, the fact remains that the building stands here to-day in nearly perfect repair, empty and deserted.

It makes an interesting point for the cottagers to take their guests, and they never tire of so doing and speculating on "what might have been," or perchance what may be.

Ex-Senator Ingalls on the Economic Question.

The present situation is one phase of a controversy which is as old as the human race. In some form or other it will continue as long as humanity endures. Some have too much and others have too little. The rich are covetous and the poor are discontented. Dives is clad in purple and fine linen and fares sumptuously every day. Lazarus eats the crumbs that fall from the table and the dogs lick his sores. The burdens and benefits of society are unequally distributed. They always have been, and always will be. To him that hath shall be given; and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he seemeth to have, is the inculcation of Holy Writ. The strong succeed the weak fail. Brains were put on top to stay there.

Other nations, however, offer us no precedents, because the conditions are not the same. We have no government except the will of the majority, and the majority are becoming dissatisfied. The industrial situation is much the same in Europe as here, but with us every man has the ballot, and the vote of an angry, malignant and ignorant elector is a more dangerous weapon in a free government than the bomb of the dynamiter. One destroys life and property, but the other destroys laws and institutions, and threatens society.

We have multiplied the danger by admitting to our suffrage elements that should have been excluded; degraded, vicious, desperate aliens, who have no idea of government but force, who obey nothing but the bayonet and who redress wrongs and settle disputes with the pignard and the stiletto.

Recent disturbances with their violence, riot, lawlessness, brutality and disorder, are largely due to the presence of this class, to whom agitators and demagogues can appeal. The American is not by instinct or instruction an assassin or an anarchist. He respects law, and does not resort to the torch and the knife as remedies for injustice.

The present condition in several states of the union is equal to civil war. Constitutional self-government is on trial. Its right to exist is challenged. A large and formidable and an increasing fraction in our population openly declares that all government is tyranny and should be overthrown; that all law is an invasion of equality and the inalienable rights of man; and should therefore be disobeyed and abrogated. This is anarchy. It is the spirit that drove the dagger into the body of Carnot; that hurled the bomb at the Czar; that fired the fatal shot at Carter Harrison; that shattered the parliament house in London with dynamite; that threatens the peace, order and prosperity of society everywhere; that regards success as crime; that considers failure the true test of merit; that holds every man with a dollar in bank an outlaw, and every public official an enemy.

The Pullman incident was merely a pretext for the existing insurrection. The animus is the hatred of the poor for the rich. It is agrarianism which is seeking to take from those who have and give it to those who have not, and to reduce all fortunes and conditions to the level of the lowest.

There is an obvious purpose on the part of the implacable malcontents who control the machinery of organized labor to destroy capital, to derange and hopelessly disable its operations. It is distinctively malignant and destructive.

Labor has just cause of complaint. It has the same right to combine that capital has to centralize. But capital is more vulnerable than labor, and if present conditions are to continue, if employers and employed are to be arrayed like contending armies in hostile camps; if at a word from President McBride all the coal mines in the country are to be shut down; if at a signal from President Debs all the railroad trains are to stop running; if by an edict from some other president all shops, factories and foundries can be closed until they accept conditions that will bankrupt their owners, then the axioms of the declaration of independence are ironies; the guarantees of the constitution are nullities. This is no longer a government of just and equal laws, but a government of irresponsible men. It is not a democracy, but a despotism.

Any man or any number of men may legally refuse to work for wages or compensation that another man is willing to pay. But when any man or any number of men declare that no other man shall accept those wages or that compensation, under penalty of contumely, mutilation, or death, it is tyranny as detestable and intolerable as that of Russia or Turkey.

No responsible ruler, no corporation, no government could have perpetrated such abominable outrages as these unnaturalized foreigners and their self-constituted, irresponsible agents and leaders have inflicted upon the American people the past month, without revolution.

In bringing about the conditions that have made this crisis possible, capital, corporations and employers are by no means blameless. They have contributed their full share to precipitate the catastrophe. The coal mine owners and railroad builders and other great contractors are largely responsible for the presence of the Hungarians, Poles and Italians, who have been imported by the cargo like beasts of burden and employed at wages that no reputable artisan or laborer could accept. In order to increase profits already excessive. Then again the pusillanimity and demagoguery of our public men has strengthened and encouraged these destructive forces by convincing them that they have the sympathy or can compel the support of politicians of both parties in their crusade for the spoliation of society.

Gov. Altgeld, by pardoning the anarchists and assailing the tribunals by which they were justly condemned, by denouncing national authority and asserting the supremacy of the state, announced so far as lay in his power, that murder, incendiarism and treason were safe in Illinois.

Undoubtedly a solution will sooner or later be found for the difficulties and dangers that threaten our social and industrial system. The American people have given too many proofs of their capacity for self-government and their attachment to republican institutions to render the issue doubtful. They have found remedies for other evils. They will find one for this.

The relation between capital and labor will ultimately be adjusted upon a more equitable basis. Probably a tribunal of conciliation will be established by congress, to which all questions of wages and schedules will be referred for settlement, whose decisions will be binding upon all parties submitting their claims, like the decrees of a court of arbitration.

If this is not done the movement toward national ownership or control of railroads, telegraphs and other public agencies will be accelerated. My impression is that this is the predominant purpose of those who are most active now in labor organizations. To this plan there are great objections, but it is among the possibilities. The idea has grown recently very largely in importance, and is receiving much consideration among thoughtful men.

The feeling is growing that the business convenience, property, life, liberty and happiness of the great mass of people, who neither own railroads nor are employed by railroads, cannot be subjected indefinitely to the detriment and loss occasioned by these perpetual duels. The people are the real parties in interest. They are the real victims and sufferers, and they are innocent. They want to travel, to send their products to the market, to bring back the exchanges, and they are willing to pay for the service. They are deprived of their inalienable rights by strikes and boycotts, and if the government does not protect them they will find some way to protect themselves.

They are patient and long suffering; slow to anger and abundant in mercy. They prefer statutes and charters, but they are not afraid of the sword. Their liberties were won, and have been maintained by the sword. If these are threatened by implacable and incorrigible enemies, incompatible with safety, and too strong for peaceful subjugation, freedom will again be preserved by the sword.

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while some can not. Only a specialist of years experience can tell that. Prof. Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may produce that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not dead we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay. Call on or address Prof. Birkholz, 1011 Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

Hand this notice to any first-class druggist and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewistown, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that usually follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh.

To Down Spooks.

A wealthy bachelor declared that a horrid hag had glared at him through the night. His friends laughed at him but he insisted that the house was haunted. He grew ill, complaining of extreme heaviness in the stomach, his appetite failed, he grew sallow, emaciated and despondent, believing he was going to die, the spook being a warning, and declared he could hear funeral bells ringing in his ears, and even hinted at suicide. A friend induced him to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and he rapidly grew well, spooks and all his distressing symptoms disappearing. A torpid liver and dyspepsia caused his suffering and the medicine cured both. A pamphlet free or a large book, of Liver and Stomach diseases and how to cure them (138 pages) for 6 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, and derangements of stomach, liver and bowels.

WHOLESALE POISONING.

Ex-Gov. Winans May Have Been Murdered by a Woman, Who Has Since Died.

Detroit, Aug. 20.—Rumors that ex-Gov. Winans had been poisoned by a woman at Hamburg have led to an investigation. Dr. Smith, the medical attendant, said Mr. Winans was not poisoned. But he said the woman in question, Mrs. Butler, had poisoned her father, mother and husband, who died. She also poisoned the doctor himself, he alleges, and a farm-hand. Then fearing arrest, she took poison herself and died. A few days after the sudden death of ex-Gov. Winans at his home in Hamburg there were rumors that there was something mysterious about it. These rumors did not spread beyond the confines of the village until the suicidal death by poison a few days ago of Mrs. Julia Butler, a widow who has lived in Hamburg many years. Then tongues were loosened, and it was quite freely stated that the ex-governor had gone the way of the father, mother and husband of the suicide. Mrs. Butler resided upon a big farm upon the borders of Whitmore lake. Dr. Smith declares emphatically that the ex-governor died from natural causes to his certain knowledge, and that the dead man never ate or drank a thing prepared by the woman.

Dr. Smith is blamed on all sides for keeping back the story until she herself escaped by the poison route and are not half satisfied with his version of the death of ex-Gov. Winans. Some of them still declare she had ample opportunities to poison him, as she did her father, mother, husband, young Whitlock, and the doctor himself. Not only was she at Winans', but they declare the ex-governor was several times at her home not long before his death in connection with a loan he made her soon after her husband's death to buy out claims against the home farm.

BATTLE WITH HORSE THIEVES.

Two Men Have a Running Fight with Four Outlaws at Fisherville.

BAY CITY, Aug. 22.—Jacob Smithers and Perry Youngs, employees of the Williams Milling company of Fisherville, had an encounter with four horse thieves early Monday morning, which they related to the sheriff Tuesday afternoon. Two of the thieves were stealing a horse when Smithers fired at them. The shot was returned, and after the revolvers were emptied Smithers ran back for more cartridges. With Youngs he jumped upon a horse and followed two of the thieves, overtaking them and firing at them. Smithers was shot in the back and Youngs' horse disabled by a bullet. One of the robbers was also shot and traces of blood on the grass and fence indicate that one of the first couple was wounded. The sheriff has gone in pursuit, but it is believed he is too late, as the men have a day's start.

How We Got the Harbor Appropriation.

The improvement of our harbor is one of the vital and tender interests of the City of Holland, and the dissatisfaction of our people at the failure of Hon. C. E. Belknap to secure a reasonable appropriation for its improvement during his term in congress, was one of the causes of his defeat in the last congressional campaign.

While Grand Haven whose people always have claimed to have the best harbor on Lake Michigan, got $100,000 to improve its perfection, to gild its refined gold, and to butter its fat goose, Holland Harbor, shallow, dilapidated, and needy, received the insufficient pittance of $5,000, to mock its wants.

When the time came for another congressional election, some of our people thought it would be, for the interest of our harbor to have a change, and that a congressman from our own county might get a larger appropriation, and so Richardson was elected.

But when the harbor bill was finally passed through the House, at this session of Congress, it gave Holland Harbor the same beggarly dole as when Belknap represented us.

It was thought to be high time that we looked for help elsewhere, and so we got up a plain, straight-forward petition telling the condition of our harbor, how much money we wanted, and why, which was signed by our Mayor and Common Council, and a large number of our business men and citizens, and forwarded to Hon. James McMillan, our senator in Congress. He promptly acknowledged its receipt and promised to do all in his power to get for our harbor the help it needed.

He took our petition before the Senate committee on commerce, secured a favorable report, and stood by it in the Senate, and with the conference committee, till the bill was safely landed in the hands of the President, where it became a law without his signature.

We are very glad that President Cleveland was content to show his hostility to the River and Harbor appropriation bill by withholding his signature from it, and cared not or dared not to stop the improvement of our National Harbors by returning the bill with a veto message.

Church Notes.

The committee of the board of superintendents of the Western Theol. Seminary to receive students, will meet in this city, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 10 a. m. The committee consists of Revs. John Van der Meulen, E. Winter, A. Buursma, and J. Van Houthe, and the Professors of the Seminary. Rev. H. Dosker, D. D., Professor-elect of Historical Theology, will immediately enter upon his work and be installed early in October. The regular course opens the same day, Tuesday.

The fall session of the classis of Holland will be held at Forest Grove (Jamestown), Wednesday, Sept. 5.

Rev. H. J. Pletenpol of Ebenezer, has received a call from Farowa, Ottawa county.

Theol. student C. M. Steffens, having concluded his summer engagement with the Second Ref. church at Grand Haven, is visiting at Silver Creek, Ill., his old home.

Isaac Adams, the Persian missionary, spoke in one of the churches at Grand Rapids Wednesday.

Like Banquo's ghost, it's bound to reappear—the problem of transforming established church organizations from Dutch into English. In each and every instance it is a most perplexing problem, often jeopardizing a present status in the effort of securing a more permanent future, and hence requiring the utmost discretion and wise judgment. The membership of Third Reformed church of this city is again involved in an amicable agitation of this problem. By reason of the departure of their pastor, Rev. H. E. Dosker, at an early date, to assume his new position at the Western Theol. Seminary, the question once more presents itself to this congregation whether or not this is the opportune time to make the change, as a congregation, from Dutch to English, before a call is extended to another pastor. And inasmuch as it is not to be expected that all are ready for such a move, it also involves the further proposition which element, in case of a "swarm", is to remain at the old stand. Among the different ways presented of getting at a satisfactory solution the latest is a proposition to join the First and Third Reformed churches into one collegiate association, of which one, the First church, shall be Dutch and the other English. This is now pending before the consistories of the two churches, to be perhaps laid before their respective congregations at a later day.

The board of public works are to be congratulated upon their successful efforts to obtain an increase in the water supply for domestic purposes in this city. Not only that the additional flow of water is ample for the present wants of the city and those of the immediate future, but the expense at which this has been obtained is also so comparatively small, when compared with previous outlays. The three open wells cost us $1,000, $1,600 and $3,400 respectively, while the series of wells just driven, numbering 15 points in all, will only involve an expenditure of not over $100. Speaking from present tests the flow of these drive wells is greater than that of the open wells. The demand upon our water supply this summer has been exceedingly severe. With the increase of water takers came also and extraordinary dry season. Since the men and machinery are on the ground now, the board has decided to put down another line of 25 points in a north easterly direction of the works.

The latest number of De Hope is decidedly ragged. The editor's wrath has been roused. And no wonder: It appears that three unruly fellows—a doctor of divinity in Illinois, a clergyman in Michigan, and a lay journalist in Iowa—have formed a triumvirate with the avowed determination of... annoying the editor, by dissenting from one of the leading features of his paper, namely its all-embracing, never-ceasing polemics. Now it is rather wicked on the part of these gentlemen to thus pester the editor of De Hope in his herculean efforts of keeping everything and everybody straight. Would that they could but appreciate what it is worth to them to have such an ordained disciplinary, to keep them from stranding on stony places. Don't spare the rod, Doctor!

Not since the palmy days of lake shipping, in the "sixties," has there been so much activity and life on Black lake as this season. Half a dozen small schooners are plying constantly between here and northern points, engaged in carrying lumber for our factories and lumber yards. Two regular steamboat lines, with a steadily increasing passenger traffic, furnish daily communication with Chicago, while half a dozen smaller steamers are competing for the passenger trade with our resorts—to say nothing of the large number of steam yachts that are hourly seen cruising up and down the bay. Incidental to this also is the annual increase of docks and landings all along the south shore of our inland lake.

Twelve years ago we built the finest mill in Western Michigan and the first one constructed, in the section named, on the then new ROLLER PROCESS system. Competitors predicted the speedy downfall of this innovation but the flour produced by us was of such manifest superiority that they were speedily compelled either to imitate us or fall hopelessly back and out of the ranks.

The steady growth of our trade has incited us to make additions from time to time and now compels us to enlarge our milling capacity and our buildings.

We will tell you more about this later and want to assure you now that we can take care of all our trade till we resume grinding, from stock on hand.

The Old Coffee Kettle that Hung on a Pole.

TUNE—"The Old Oaken Bucket."

[The following army ballad was sung at the re-union of the 25th Mich. Infy. in this city, by W. B. Mead, of Marshall, Mich., late regimental bugler, who has kindly furnished a copy for publication.]

How dear to our hearts are the days when we soldiered,

As fond recollections present them to view;

The long line of earthworks, the deep tangled thickets,

And every rough spot that our army life knew.

The long parks of cannon with harness and saddles,

To picket roped horses oft trying to roll;

The cook house, the guard tent, the muskets stacked high,

And the old coffee kettle that hung on a pole.

CHORUS:

The sheet iron kettle, the smutty old kettle,

The old coffee kettle that hung on a pole.

Thirteen dollars a month for standing as targets

For heaps of cold lead and old iron and steel;

But Grant says we are better for what we endured then.

And we can't make a point on the General's deal.

We ate "salt horse" and hark-tack in all kinds of weather,

Some rations we drew and some others we stole.

But still, my old chums, we will always remember,

The old coffee kettle that hung on a pole.—

CHOR.

How dear to this day are the forms and the faces

Of those who stood by us in those trying times!

But so many are gone from the ranks and their places,

That it mightily shortens the original lines,

Hard marching and fighting, we all well remember.

And everything trying to body and soul;

But one thing we had that was genuine pleasure,

'Twas the old coffee kettle that hung on a pole.—CHOR.

Now more of us, comrades, are feeble and cripple,

Our heads growing gray with fast flying time;

But though in this world still our muster-roll

shortens,

We know it grows long in a happier clime.

Soon all of us, comrades, must pass over Jordan,

And leave all we have for the ferry-man's toll;

But cover 'til then can you make us surrender

The old coffee kettle that hung on a pole.—

CHOR.

The Farmer and Modern Invention.

In old times the farm was a self-supporting world in itself. The wells, springs and cisterns supplied water;

the domestic animals got all their food from it, and it produced its own fertilizers. By rotation of crops, by letting land lie fallow, and by the use of fertilizing material produced on the farm the land was kept fertile. Rain descended from the clouds without any human agency.

Now the conditions are very different. The greater demands of modern civilization militate against the simple life of the farmer of one or two generations ago. The farmer's chilren wish to compete with city chilren in education and in general culture. But outside of the personal aspect, of which this is but one element, modern conditions affect his life in a much broader sense. The tendency now is to work the soil in large areas devoted to a single crop, and to use machinery in all farming operations.

For many years past the American inventor has been busy inventing most ingenious machines for cultivating the ground, for sowing the seed, and for harvesting the crops. On account of the inventor's work the Western farms, with fields of wheat reaching to the horizon, cultivated by steam-drawn plows, and whose crops are harvested by great machines drawn by teams of many horses, have become a possibility. The great cereal crop of the United States is due to the mechanical inventor.

In the same order of things is the modern fertilizer. For different crops different fertilizers are made in factories. The farmer depends no longer on his barnyard, but purchases his plant food in the most approved form, made in factories from the most unpromising sources of supply.

Even in the matter of local transportation the farmer is being taken care of. The electric road, to whose operations, heedless of vested rights, so many highways have been surrendered, bids fair to revolutionize the aspects of rural life. It is believed by many that the electric road will even-tu-ally haul the farmer's products to the cities or railroad station.

When the process of development of modern life will end, it is hard to see.

The farmer, who would seem to be the last to be subjected to modern scientific advancements, is really, speaking relatively, the one most affected. Mechanical, chemical, and electrical science have changed his entire status. Among inventors the farm is recognized as the field for most useful invention.

HUMORING THE GREAT PETER.

How the Sovereign of Wurtemberg Carried Out His Little Joke.

It seems that the czar, who has determined on retaining his incognito in traveling through Europe, absolutely declined to take up his quarters at the royal palace at Stuttgart, but insisted on going to an inn. Having learned of this prior to his arrival, says the New York Home Journal, the Wurtemberg sovereign caused all the hotel and inn keepers to remove their signs. Over the principal doorway of his palace he had a huge sign hung out stating that within there was cheer for man and beast at cheap prices, and that the name of the hotel was the Konigsbau.

On the czar's carriage and retinue entering the city the postillions, previously instructed by the Wurtemberg officials, drove straight to the palace, and there, standing at the main entrance, was the sovereign, fat, burly and

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 90 per cent, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cough, fever and its filth, "emulsion" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases, and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of milk, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.
