India Papers Tells of Tulips In Holland

OUR TULIP FESTIVAL GOES TO END OF EARTH

The Holland City News is in possession of a newspaper printed in Madras, India, named "The Hindu." It is a strange looking paper with no news on the first page but advertising matter fills every inch. There are no "scare heads" but only small, cap-set captions.

On page ten, however, one is surprised to see in this Indian paper a very familiar scene. Your editor had to look twice in order to be sure that the photograph was not laid in India, but rather in Holland, Michigan.

It is a large three-column cut showing lads and lassies scrubbing the streets in Tulip Time and "The Hindu" fully describes the meaning of it all. Under the picture the following appears:

"Citizens of Holland, Michigan, nearly all of whom are descended from the Dutch, cast off their American habits and return to the customs of their descendants as they scrub the streets in wooden shoes, in preparation for their annual 'Tulip Festival'."

What an agreeable surprise this must have been to Rev. and Mrs. John Banninga clear out in India, half way around the globe, to see Holland boys and girls peep up at them from their morning paper and to see Harry Doornburg's drug store, French Clock store, De Fouw's Electric store and other familiar scenes these folks know so well.

Andy "Klomp" was there as big as life as well as was George Slikkers. The following young ladies were intent upon doing a good scrubbing job: Miss Carma Coster, Miss Irene Overbeek, Miss Dorothy Visser, Miss Jean Van Raalte and Miss Barbara Telling.

Anyway, the Indians now know that the city of Holland has a wonderful lot of beautiful girls and also that "cleanliness is next to Godliness," and judging from some of the movie pictures that we see of India, this factor is lamentably lacking there.

The following interesting letter from Mr. Banninga fits in well with this article:

Ben Mulder, Esq.,
Holland,
Michigan, U. S. A.
My dear Ben:

We try to keep informed about the doings of Holland by receiving the weekly Holland City News, as well as by the letters of our friends and can assure you that we are deeply interested in all that takes place there.

We have been especially interested in the celebration of Tulip Week and of the very valuable use that the citizens of Holland are now making of their ancestry and traditions. We believe that the Dutch connections have in them much of very valuable material for advertisement as well as for the making of character and therefore rejoice to see our friends making use of this material. The good old Dutch characteristics of thrift and honesty and friendliness and religion are all assets that ought to be followed up in such a way as to make the most of them for the development of similar characteristics in the young people of our day. After all it was their sterling honesty, their unstinted love for work and their unflinching trust in a Heavenly Father that made the citizens of the Netherlands capable of withstanding the Spanish tyranny as well as of establishing a nation that even today can hold its head high among the nations of the world in all matters that pertain to international righteousness and truth.

You will be interested to see the copy of the "Hindu" of Madras, South India, of which I am sending you a copy which contains a picture of your street scrubbing scene in connection with Tulip Week festival. It certainly is a good reproduction of the event and if one knew the persons concerned they would be easily able to recognize them.

What I want to call your attention to especially is the fact that we do have here in South India daily newspapers that are in close connection with world events and, therefore, we find in them such items as this forwarded to them by the P.P.A. You will find in the paper a great many other interesting items also showing you how we keep in touch with world events. Madras has two or three daily papers one of which, the "Madras Mail" is edited by Englishmen, but the "Hindu" is published by Indians entirely and is perhaps the leading paper there, at least from the standpoint of circulation.

Mrs. Banninga and I hope to be in Holland, Michigan, by the 1st of July, 1934. We shall miss many of our friends who have passed away during the last seven years, but I know we shall also find a good many others still there with whom we shall be glad to renew our friendships.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN J. BANNINGA.

HOLLAND AND ZEELAND CHIEFS GO TO CONVENTION

Chief of Police Fred Bosma will represent Zeeland at the annual meeting of police chiefs in Marquette August 28 to 30. He was granted a three-day leave by the city council.

Chief Peter Lieverse of Holland will also attend this convention.

Jasper Kobes has left on a trip through the eastern states and will pay a visit to his brother in Staten Island, New York.

Lewis Scudder, student at Rush Medical school, Chicago, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Albers.

HOLLAND FOLKS GIVEN WELFARE COMMISSIONS

Emergency welfare commissions for Genesee, Ottawa and Van Buren counties were announced today by Fred R. Johnson, director. The members of the Ottawa county commission are Oscar Peterson, city clerk of Holland; Marvin Z. Lindeman, also of Holland.

EDITORIAL

Spend and Save Now

A recent Dun & Bradstreet report accentuated a fact of the utmost importance:

For a number of months business recovery has continued without recession, and present signs do not indicate that any recession will occur in the near future.

In other words, we are not having a "rise in the depression" now. We are actually throwing off depression. The wise property-owner will do well to think that over. It means that the country is through with bargain prices for commodities and services, that the terrific oversupply of goods and labor isn't going to last much longer. It means higher prices. It means that if we put off fixing our houses and business property or rebuilding the tottering garage for another few months, we are going to pay a lot more for what we get.

Yes, it's time to build, to improve, to repair. It will put money in your pocket, save valuable property from going to pieces — and demonstrate your faith in the maximum that Investment and Employment are Cheaper and Better than Charity.

Last Local Bank Is Preparing For Opening

BANK OFFICIALS STATE THAT 76 DEPOSITORS HAVE SUBSCRIBED STOCK

The Holland City State bank officials are bending every effort to open their bank under the advertised plan laid down by the state banking department and approved by the federal authorities. Just what these plans have been fully and repeatedly published in the Holland City News.

Relative to the progress that is being made the Holland City State bank officials give out the following:

"Subscription list of stockholders for the reorganized Holland City State bank is growing rapidly as officers and public-spirited depositors are concentrating their entire effort towards completing the capital structure of the new bank before the end of the month.

To date seventy-six depositors have subscribed for stock in amounts varying from one to twenty shares each. Leaders in the drive are convinced the goal can be reached quickly if they continue to receive as good co-operation from depositors as they have thus far in their work.

New State Banking Law Protects Stockholders.

It was only in the closing days of the last state legislature that the measure was passed which protects investors in new bank issues from double liability. Old statutes doubled the risk of bank investors. By the new law a bank stockholder can never be forced to pay more than his original investment.

The reorganization plan of the Holland City State bank that was approved by the state banking commission and Governor Comstock, sets up two types of trusts for frozen deposits in the bank. Half of the funds on deposit will be paid out in five yearly installments. Under the new banking laws, depositors can subscribe for stock and use in payment any or all of the five-year time certificates.

Workers on the reorganization committee are suggesting that depositors use not over one-fifth of their total deposit in taking out the new stock and that they use the certificates that will become due four and five years from the reopening date to pay for the investment. In this way, it is said, depositors can put their tied-up funds to work immediately.

Report Full Co-operation Will Assure Success.

While it is too soon to predict the exact day when the campaign goal will be reached, the committee states, it would be possible to secure the necessary capital stock subscriptions in one day, if every depositor would turn in their stock subscription.

"As one member explained: 'If depositors who have subscription blanks in their possession would bring or mail them to the bank, the subscription campaign would be over in twenty-four hours and we could begin to take the few necessary steps, involving but a few days, to secure our license to reopen. Some depositors have so far failed to realize that there are but a few of us to make personal calls, and many of them to call on. They could help materially by bringing their subscription blanks to the bank.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith have returned to Holland after spending several days at the fair in Chicago.

Coal Dealers Object To Three Cent Sales Tax

AUSTIN HARRINGTON PRE-
SIDES OVER COAL
DEALERS

At least 250 coal dealers of Michigan from 25 cities came to Holland with their wives and sweethearts to hold the annual convention of the Michigan Retail Coal association.

Capt. Austin Harrington of Holland presided at the meeting and mapped out a program that is of real interest and dwelt largely upon unjust tax as this relates to inter-state coal dealers.

Mr. Harrington introduced William M. Connelly, our present industrial director, who by the way is also Holland's "greeter." Mr. Connelly has started on a new course in introducing Holland to guests. In this particular instance he pointed out the beauties of Hope college campus and the educational advantages. He told of the Holland Furnace company which has the last word in office construction and in heating units. He told of George Getz zoological gardens and what it contained and with this exposure he gave them an invitation to visit these show places.

He told them about our natural advantages including resort, fruit belt, poultry, furniture and furnaces. Mr. Connelly's first attempt along these lines surely gave Holland a thorough introduction.

We understand that other meets held in Holland will be told still other advantages and innovations that Holland can furnish.

Relative to the tax problem of Michigan coal dealers, it was pointed out that there was an unfair taxation, some dealers held, on industrial coal in which inter-state shipments play an important part. It is believed that the state legislator will correct this error.

A matter also discussed was the coal dock situation of western Michigan, in which Holland is intensely interested. This city has a project in abeyance through the R. F. C., by which proper docking facilities may be secured.

Naturally the code in connection with the NRA as well as the recently inaugurated state sales tax were thoroughly discussed.

One local man, namely John Good of the Good Coal company, was elected on the board of directors.

Lee E. Attridge of Flint was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, succeeding L. W. Collins of Kalamazoo who was named vice president. Frank M. Davis also of Kalamazoo, was re-elected secretary and treasurer of the association.

The meeting held at the Masonic temple hall, was opened in prayer given in the Holland language by Benjamin Van Loo of Zeeland.

STOCKHOLDERS OF SUGAR COMPANY HOLD MEETING

A meeting of the stockholders of the Continental Sugar company was held Tuesday evening in the People's State bank building and was attended by fifty stockholders. A committee of four was appointed to petition the court to continue the receivership of the company and to oppose the sale of assets at the present time. The committee is composed of William A. Dregman, chairman; C. J. Dregman, Albert Keppel and Sears R. McLean.

TER KEURST IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN NRA CAMPAIGN

Rev. Henry Ter Keurst was made general chairman for the NRA drive to start week after next. As subcommittees handling the different departments in the campaign he has named Arthur W. Wrieden, William Connelly and Charles Van Zyl.

Mr. Ter Keurst states that this campaign will not be one of coercion and strong-arm methods because he does not believe in that and Holland has too many fine and patriotic citizens who have never failed in an emergency.

He stated the campaign would be an appeal to Holland's patriotic spirit and American citizenship. The campaign will be made to a free people—then much can be accomplished.

TO ALLEVIATE WELFARE

The federal NRA project is being discussed along with the proposed Klein Nederland project in the meeting of property owners and taxpayers at the city hall this Thursday evening.

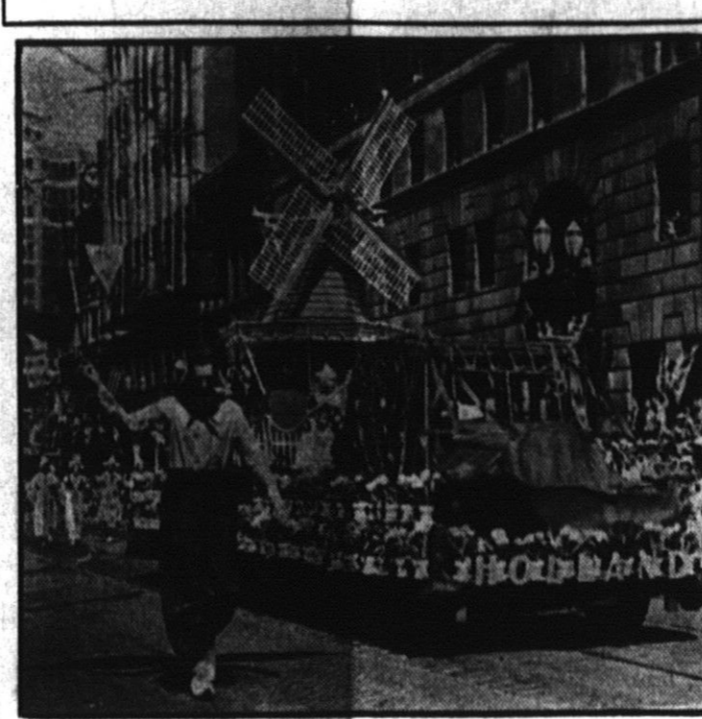

William M. Connelly, managing director of the Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker on the local reclamation plans, and time will be devoted to discussion of the subject.

Rev. Hessel Bosma, pastor of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, will give a brief NRA talk to open the meeting. Tonight's meeting was called by the Property Owners' league through Sears R. McLean, one of the officers of the league.

In addition to giving the facts already announced on the proposed project, Mr. Connelly is giving new estimates on unemployment relief made possible by the erection of Klein Nederland.

This Friday evening will be the last open-air concert by the American Legion band at Zeeland. An all-march program will be presented due to many requests for this kind of concert.

HOLLAND'S CONTRIBUTION TO LEGION PARADE

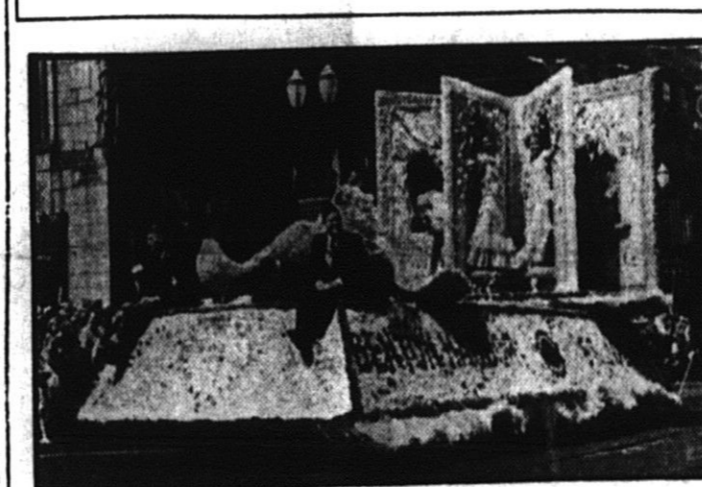

The above picture shows the American Legion float of the Willard G. Leenhouts post on Monroe avenue in Grand Rapids as it was passing the Morton House.

The gentleman in commanding position is not an ambassador from The Netherlands, but rather Chester Van Tongeren, the maker and distributor of all things Netherlandish. He made the red, white and blue canes with wooden shafts, part of the trimmings carried by marching Legionnaires and auxiliary of the post.

The Dutch windmill is surrounded by a Dutch garden in which tulip beds form an important part. The real ornamentals, however, were the groups of Dutch children in provincial costume. They were a happy lot "tripping through the tulips."

The float was set off by a large group of young men and women surrounding the windmill float, in fact these in Dutch garb, depicting a Dutch market scene, blended well with the float background.

PRIZE WINNING FLOAT

Holland was in competition with Benton Harbor and St. Joseph Legion posts, which brought to Grand Rapids the float used at the Twin Cities' Blossom Festival.

The float represents an elaborately made book or rather album, supposedly telling the story of Blossom Time. Each page contains a beauty and mechanically the leaves turn while the float is in progress, thus depicting grace and beauty of Benton Harbor and St. Joe's budding womanhood.

The foundation of the float was a colorful mass of flowers, forming a standard for the mammoth album of "Apple Blossom Time."

Anyway the float won first prize. The News is able to publish these two pictures through the courtesy of the Grand Rapids Press.

Now judge for yourselves to see whether the judges judged right.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Hermanus Boone, proprietor of the Market St. livery stable, left Monday for Illinois and will return with a carload of horses. Note: This livery barn was located where the People's garage is now, on Central Ave. The arrival of these horses at intervals made this street the center of horse trading, often winding up in a scrap or some "snaps" to bind the bargain. The auto surely gave livery stables and horse trading a "knockout blow."

Last Tuesday a large gang of men arrived in this city and began putting up poles for the telephone line between Holland and Grand Rapids in order that we can have a chance to talk to that city by going to headquarters. We hope that this will soon bring an exchange in this city so we can have telephones in our places of business. Note: Well, that did materialize and the Holland City News put in the first phone and it was a Bell.

Last Monday the steamer Macatawa took on 130 passengers from Grand Rapids for a picnic at the "Mouth." We are hoping that these out-of-town picnics may develop, for it means that this may become a real resort center.

Last Thursday morning the revenue cutter Andrew Johnson called in at this port for the purpose of making final preparations for establishing a life-saving station at our harbor. The boat steamed up town to Harrington's dock and our people were notified. It was soon learned that Senator Conger was a guest on board the cutter. Large numbers of our citizens gathered at the dock to view the large boat and to become better acquainted with our senator. About 50 citizens accompanied her on her return trip to the harbor, where the final plans were made as to location of the station. In a conversation with the editor of the News the senator expressed the belief that Holland harbor would and should be quite an important port on the east shore and it was evident that this would be named a harbor of refuge. Zeeland Post Office Seems Now Assured

ZEELAND MAKING FINAL
ARRANGEMENTS

(Zeeland Record)

The new federal post office site deal was finally completed Tuesday when a federal district attorney from Grand Rapids came to Zeeland to accept the bonds of the property owners for removal of the buildings and to tender checks in payment for the several property units which were performed and accepted by Custodian Fred Klumper, Mayor John H. De Pree, City Clerk G. J. Van Hoven and City Attorney Jarrett N. Clark. The property now formally belongs to the United States government.

No instructions have yet been received for the removal of the buildings nor any information as to when contracts for the new structure will be let. However, the old property owners have given bonds that the ground will be cleared within sixty days from the time instructions are given and they all stand ready to comply when the order comes. It is probable that the buildings can be wrecked at once without official notice, and on this promise D. F. Boonstra started with a gang of men on taking up floors in his old factory building.

It is most probable that representatives from the post office department will be here in a few days to make arrangements to either wreck the buildings or rent to present tenants.

The property purchased by the government includes the present city hall and fire department, the old factory building occupied by George Hamburg, and the market of John H. Teusink. These properties extend to the Isaac Van Dyke company store and warehouses, from whom a strip at the northwest corner was bought.

In transferring to the government a strip was reserved for public alley along the northern margin by a agreement between the federal government and the city of Zeeland.

The city has urged the immediate erection of the new post office to furnish labor for welfare benefit and it is probable this will be done.

That will mean new quarters for the several city departments, the arrangements for most of which have already been offered until a new city hall can be provided.

Holland is to have an honest-to-goodness theatre to take the place of the Lyceum Opera House that burned down seven years ago. James Price recently built a skating rink on 16th St. and River Ave., having in mind to convert it into a theatre. Well, this is to be done by winter and Mr. Price already has many bookings for road shows. Note: The old Lyceum Opera House was on the site of the present Knitting Mills store on East 8th St., near College Ave. It was a barn-like structure of wood and was the center for political gatherings. Price's Theatre is now the super-service station conducted by Mayo Hadden. As a theatre project it was a failure. William Jennings Bryan once spoke there at a banquet given by the local Democrats. The Republicans held their McKinley banquet there and the McKinley club, honoring the martyred president, was to be perpetuated at that time. It has since gone the way of other such organizations after the enthusiasm passes and the fire goes. At that banquet 50 guests became very sick of ptomaine poison caused by "over-ripe" chicken. Clarence Darrow, the noted attorney from Chicago, spoke in that hall in favor of the "wet" cause when Holland staged a terrific "wet" and "dry" battle.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Holland is to have another church costing $10,000. It is to be erected at 12th St. and Lincoln Ave., taking the place of a small parsonage. The new church is to be 40x60 feet and land has been purchased 132 by 194 feet. The church will hold an audience of 500. The building committee is composed of Neil Ter Louw, Wm. Dalman, Peter Moes, and Fred Van Voort. Note: This is now the Sixth Reformed church and has shown a rapid growth. The congregation owns a fine edifice and since a parsonage has also been erected. Rev. J. Vander Beek is the much beloved pastor.

ROTARY CLUB FAVORS
HOLLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROGRAM

The Rotarians met at Warm Friend Tavern today for their Thursday luncheon and they went on record as favoring the policy of Mayor Bosch's aldermen to participate in Chamber of Commerce activities in securing William M. Connelly as our new director of our our chamber of commerce. They also commented on the many conventions Mr. Connelly had secured for the city, a half dozen so far, at no cost to the city nor the chamber.

Altogether nearly 1,000 attended and Holland has materially benefited.

The Rotary club also wholeheartedly backed the "Klein Nederland" program which, if started, promises to relieve Holland of its welfare situation, which is costing more than $2,000 a week.

OTTAWA CO. W. C. T. U. WILL RALLY TODAY

The Ottawa county W. C. T. U. today is holding its fifty-fourth annual meeting at Spring Lake which includes morning, afternoon and evening sessions. Dinner and supper will be served.

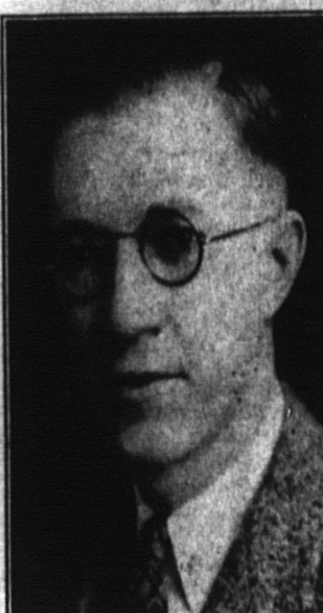

Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp of Holland told of the crusade's sixtieth anniversary at the morning meeting, which also included the official report of the board, introduction of local presidents, the president's address by Margaret J. Bilz and election of officers. The afternoon session included the official board meeting, a discussion group, song service and the report of the resolution committee. Music and the Pearl medal contest will feature the closing session.

Many from Holland attended the Ottawa county convention. Mrs. Margaret Markham of Holland gave an address this morning which was well received. Mrs. Alice Den Herder, formerly of Holland and now of Grand Haven, directed a playlet "With or Without?" Echoes from the Milwaukee convention were presented. Mrs. Anna Perry will present a piano solo, and the march of the contestants will be led by Mrs. Nina Dougherty. Holland. This will be followed by the "pearl medal contest." While the judges are out the two successful winners in class will render their selections. Rev. Horace Merryman will give the closing prayer and benediction.

Among those from Holland attending were Mrs. W. E. Van Dyke, president of the Holland union, and Mr. Frank Dyke.

Harry Wetter and family are on a vacation for a few weeks and intend to take in the world's fair at Chicago. Mr. Wetter for some time was secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

HOLLAND MAN HONORED AL JOLDERSMA

Alfred C. Joldersma of Holland who has always taken a deep interest in American Legion work, was re-elected finance officer at the state convention held in Grand Rapids. Al's picture appears in the Grand Rapids newspapers in the groups of others elected for state officers. Don L. Beardsell of Greenville, more than six feet tall, was named the new state commander.

HYMA'S HIGHLIGHTS By JOHNNY HYMA of New York and Holland

A fellow told me he knew all the roads from A to Z. (He must mean from Allegan to Zeeland.)

It looks like the county seat was a grand haven for bank robbers.

Dick Boler ordered a glass of milk in Hoffman's restaurant and it was sour. (Maybe they gave him "BOTER-MELK.")

DuMez store is selling taffeta dresses (you don't "taffeta" pull 'em over your head to take 'em off.)

Song by Ghandi today "BUD-DHA can you spare a dime?" (Get "Mahatma," I'm late for work.)

Wise Guy—What's the FOAM number of the brewery? Shorty Schroetenboer—Bottle 3.2-10 (bottle 3.2 for ten cents).

Miss Jeanette Mulder—Mohammedanism was founded in Benares, India. What religion was founded in Mecca?

Dick Van Raalte—Mecca-niam.

Miss Van Dyke—What is Tripoli? Elmer Bosman—A three-base hit.

ROBBER PLEADS Not Guilty Before Miles

GOES BACK TO JAIL WITHOUT RAIL. COURTROOM IS GUARDED

Harry Harris, captured bandit of the Peoples Savings bank of Grand Haven pleaded not guilty at 3:15 this (Tuesday), afternoon when arraigned in circuit court before Judge Fred T. Miles.

When asked if he understood the information as read by Prosecutor John R. Dethmers, the prisoner questioned "has my record been returned?" Sheriff Ben Rosema replied it had not.

Harris said: "I refer to my finger prints because the identification of me as the Harry Harris of famous 'four horsemen' of Chicago is not correct. I intended to plead guilty but I want my record here before I do."

Judge Miles said this court is not likely to be in session until September 5 and the prisoner nodded and said "that will be fine."

Judge Miles continued: "You are entitled to a trial if you desire it. But in the meantime you are to be held here without bail." The information charges Harris with bank robbery, armed, felonious assault on F. C. Bolt, Arthur Welling, William Pelegrom and the larceny of $2,568.83 in currency and coin and $1,750 in railway bonds.

There were few in the courtroom as the orders were issued to lock the courthouse doors. Harris was carried upstairs from the jail by Sheriff Rosema and William Boeve, deputy. He was seated on a large table in the courtroom fully dressed with his injured leg supported in a chair. William Boeve of Holland stood just behind the prisoner armed with a gun and Sheriff Rosema stood on the other side. John Dethmers read the information and the court stenographer was Mrs. Catherine Headley. William Wilds, county clerk, was at his post and the court was brought to order by Maurice Rosema, court officer; F. C. Bolt, cashier of the Peoples Savings bank; E. J. McCall, Herman Koster, Wendell Miles and two reporters were the only ones admitted to the courtroom, other than the officers.

This is the second arraignment of Harry Harris. On Monday he was taken in justice court before Judge Easterly where the same warrant was read. There the bandit waived examination and he was bound over to circuit court to appear before Judge Miles.

Bonds were placed at $25,000 by Judge Easterly and the only remark the prisoner made was "you might just as well have made that $150,000, judge."

The prisoner appeared meek and in better spirits than he has. He ate a comfortable breakfast and asked to see the papers. He is on a cot in a cell. Yesterday he complained that his head was very sore.

He told the sheriff he had been off crutches only about three weeks and that an old gun wound had broken open and the bones in the leg gave way. He said he had been in Chicago, and was a guard for a gambling joint there. He refused to say anything regarding the bandit gang other than that there were five in the party. One man was stationed outside, three went into the bank and the fifth was in the car which failed to wait and which tangled up the plans of the gang.

A report from Adrian said four of the bandits were in the car at Hudson, and it is thought that the three gunmen who made the flight from Grand Haven had been rejoined by the fifth man who was the bandit chauffeur of their car.

We are wondering what "gang-land" will do to this fellow who fled with his car when Kinkema, furniture man, leveled a gun at him.

The planted car near Pigeon creek was brought to Grand Haven and is being held. Finger prints have been taken and it is being carefully guarded that nothing valuable be lost which might lead to identification of the robbers.

No reports on the finger prints taken from Harris or those secured on the car have been returned to the officers yet.

Harry Harris, captured bank bandit, is reported to be the last survivor of the famous "four horsemen" of Chicago gangland. Capt. J. H. Marmon of the detective bureau of the state police, is in Chicago now investigating the bank robbers, who held up the Peoples Savings bank Friday. He sent the report to Sgt. Guy S. Baugh, head of the Ottawa state police post Tuesday. The other three in the famous band have all been killed, he said. This Harris seems to deny and before pleading guilty he is asking for his record from Chicago police to prove it.

A complete story of the robbery and stories of participants together with pictures, are shown on the first page of section two of this issue.

QUEEN CONTEST AT PAVILION

The largest crowd of the season witnessed the elimination contest at Saugatuck at the big pavilion for the title of queen of the Allegan fair, four maidens to be chosen from western Allegan county. Fourteen entered the contest. The four chosen were Miss Adelaide Campbell as "Miss Saugatuck," and Eleanor Koning, Jean Severa and Genevieve Wright as her attendants. These four will compete in the finals at the county fair.

Has Plenty of Gold

Anyone who has been disturbed by the fear that the nation's currency was not backed by an adequate supply of gold will be relieved by news that the Federal Reserve banks now hold more of the yellow metal than at any time during the year, and more than at any time during the two prosperous years preceding the 1929 collapse.

Holdings have increased during the year by $400,000,000 to reach a total of $3,500,000,000, which is more than the reserve banks have had at any period during their twenty years of operation.

Total gold stocks of the country, which includes amounts held by the treasury, are $4,320,000,000.

It may be puzzling to understand why, with all the gold that is available, the country remains off the gold standard. Whatever the answer is to that question, it is comforting to know that the gold is there.

A Hotel Clerk Meets Gen. Johnson

A good many humble Americans probably will feel that not the least of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson's admirable achievements was his recent action in putting a snooty hotel clerk in his place.

Gen. Johnson stopped overnight at Dayton, O., and through some mischance his baggage went astray. A newspaper reporter accompanied Gen. Johnson to a hotel and established his identity for the benefit of the night clerk. But the clerk, noting the absence of baggage, informed Gen. Johnson that in spite of his exalted position he could not get a room without paying in advance. Business was business and rules were rules — and, one supposes, a hotel clerk's majesty was a hotel clerk's majesty.

So Gen. Johnson, remarking, "To hell with this place," walked out.

There are in this broad land many hotel clerks who are courteous, obliging and intelligent. There are some, however, like this chap in Dayton; and a long-suffering nation of travelers is apt to wish that Gen. Johnson could call on all of them before he gets through.

No Marriage Ties

Local News

Monday evening, a meeting of the business men of Coopersville was held at the Village Hall, and nearly every business firm was represented. The report of the committee which had been appointed to consider hours of opening and closing, was presented, discussed, and finally laid on the table without formal motion to that effect, and the several questions relating to such action were taken up and disposed of separately. The discussion was thorough, and while the several steps taken were not entirely unanimous, most every one was satisfied with the action taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Baker of Grand Rapids entertained Tuesday evening at dinner at their Ottawa Beach cottage for the pleasure of several Allegan people and some from out-of-town. Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Perrigo, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. DeLano, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Horan, all of Allegan; Mr. and Mrs. D. Davis of Ashland, Ky., and their guest, Mrs. Rictanus of Middleton, O., and Mrs. S. S. Larmoin of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Mrs. George VanVerst of Holland and Miss Raleigh Curtiss of New York were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hulley one day last week.—Allegan Gazette.

Delivery of 138 automobile trucks and 35 tractors to the 23 emergency conservation work camps in the lower peninsula is expected to speed up the forestry work being carried on, according to the department of conservation. Each of the camps now has one dump truck, four stake trucks, and one pick up truck for the transportation of men and equipment to and from the camps and the work projects.

An increase of 722,000 high school students in the United States since 1929 is recorded, with prospects of a still greater gain in the future. Offsetting this figure is a decrease of 155,000 pupils in the elementary grades. The cost of education for a high school student is twice that of a primary student.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brink and children, Isabelle, Roselle and Lawrence of East Saugatuck motored to the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wiersma of 251 Columbia avenue announce the birth of twin daughters on August 18. The children have been named Myra Jean and Mary Jane.

Among the recent visitors from Holland at the world's fair are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wade; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fell; Miss Irene Elzinga and Fred Kobes; Mrs. E. J. Parker and daughters, Madeline and Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Parker.

A road parade staged by the Standard Oil company, in the interest of their new "super fuel," Standard Red Crown, passed through Holland Wednesday and was led by O. J. Klee, who directed the route. The exhibit consisted of a lead car announcing the "super fuel," a huge float with a mounted car illustrating Standard service at the pump and a sound truck which delivered music and announcements. This was followed with a large group of Standard delivery trucks, each carrying banners.

The Borculo band will give an open-air concert next Thursday evening, August 31, at 8 o'clock in Borculo. Bert Brandt is director of the band.

Mrs. M. Batjes of Holland route 2 submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Holland hospital last week, Thursday.

Miss Esther Kamerling is visiting relatives in Marshall.

Cars driven by Amber L. Fletcher of 128 East Seventh street and Charles Higgins of Chicago collided late Tuesday afternoon at the corner of Sixteenth street and Columbia avenue. Mr. Higgins received minor injuries to his nose. His car was damaged to the extent of $150. Mr. Fletcher escaped without injuries.

A. B. Horner of Grand Rapids, president of the National Coal Merchants' association, announced at the meeting here that a national code for retail coal merchants would in all probability be adopted by September 1.

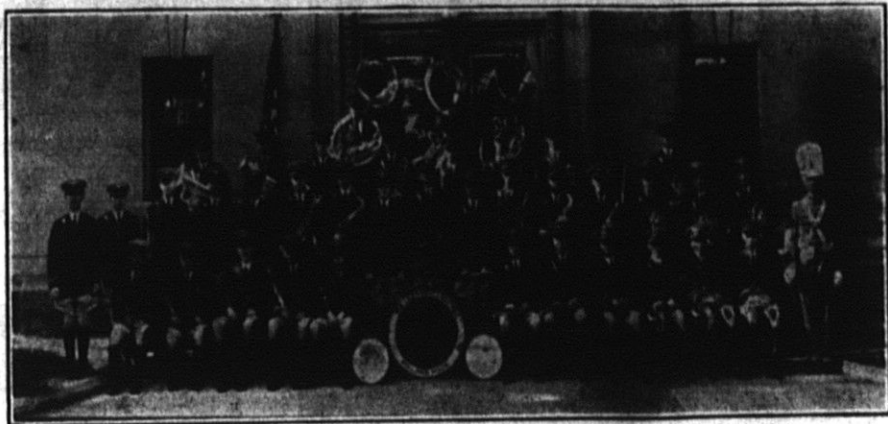

Arie Vander Wilk, 9, of 51 East Fifteenth street, suffered minor injuries Tuesday evening when he was struck by an automobile at the corner of River avenue and Tenth street. The lad was crossing the street diagonally when he was bumped by the side of the car driven by Ora Bingham of La Grange, Indiana. The boy's injuries were not serious.

Miss Martha Sherwood of Holland attended a dessert bridge in Grand Haven Wednesday afternoon given by Mrs. B. P. Sherwood in honor of Mrs. Warner Baird. The house was beautifully decorated with lovely garden flowers and the guests were entertained with bridge.

Miss Emma Hoekje and Miss Hannah Hoekje were hostesses to eighteen members of their immediate family at their home on west Twelfth street Tuesday. This is the first time in eight years that the family has been reunited. The family includes Rev. Willis G. Hoekje, missionary of the Reformed Church to Japan; John Hoekje, registrar at Western State Teachers' college at Kalamazoo; Mrs. Garret Hondelink, wife of Rev. Hondelink of the First Reformed church of Rochester; Mrs. H. V. E. Stegeman, wife of Rev. Stegeman, professor of New Testament in Meiji Gakuin theological school, Tokyo, Japan; Miss Emma Hoekje, teacher in the Holland schools; and Miss Hannah Hoekje, also a teacher in the local schools.

The Allegan road commission is improving some of the roads north from there toward Holland, cleaning out ditches and doing other maintenance work, giving employment to workers.

American Legion Band Receives Second Prize

Holland naturally was chagrined when the decision of the judges in the band contest at the state Legion convention at Grand Rapids placed the Willard G. Leenhouts post of Holland American Legion band second.

In appearance, uniform inspection, personal and the interpretation of the best music Holland far excelled anything in that parade. This was evident at Fulton street park when the crowd simply went "wild" over the Holland band's performance, the applause being overwhelmingly in favor of the Holland organization and you can bet that a crowd numbering thousands know what pleases them and know what good music is.

It appears that Holland received its jolt in the contest because of the Edwin Denby post band of Detroit, was closest competitor and a large proportion of their points were scored because they had more Legion membership in the band than did Holland, it was claimed.

The local band was given a total of 89.5 points of a possible 100 by the judges of the event. Nine out of 10 possible points were awarded for inspection and general appearance, and 80.5 points out of a maximum of 90 were given for general playing ability.

The Detroit band scored 86 points for appearance and playing ability, but was given additional 7.12 points for a 75 per cent Legion membership in the band. The Richard F. Smith post of Jackson was third with 56.5 points, and the George Meyers post of Alma placed fourth with 51 points.

The direction of the Holland band, under Eugene F. Heeter, won the organization a good rating in the contest. The judges were unanimous in selecting Mr. Heeter as the outstanding band director.

The officials of the Holland American Legion band received a check for $100, won as prize money at Grand Rapids Monday when they were awarded second place in the band contest at Fulton street park, Grand Rapids.

The American Legion band, winner of second prize in the Grand Rapids legion band contest, was enthusiastically welcomed at the concert staged in Centennial park Tuesday evening by a large attendance of home folk. The band will render a request program at its final concert next Tuesday.

Plans are being formulated to attend the national convention in Chicago next month.

The band of Willard G. Leenhouts post of American Legion received a check for $100 Wednesday for winning second honors in the band contest held in connection with the American Legion convention in Grand Rapids. The money will be used for various band purposes. Eugene F. Heeter, director, who won honors as champion director at the band contest, has returned to Interlochen after spending several days in Holland preparing the band for the contest. John Perkosi, solo cornetist, will take charge of the band in the absence of Heeter. The band will present its last concert of the season next Tuesday evening, the program to be composed of request numbers.

HOPE CHURCH

The pulpit services on Sunday, August 27, will be in charge of Rev. Milton J. Hoffman, D. D., professor of church history in the New Brunswick Theological seminary, R. C. A. His sermon topic will be "More Than Conquerors" (Rom. 8:37). Special music will be furnished by Paul and Cornelia Nettinga.

On Sunday, September 3, Dr. Davidson, the pastor, hopes to resume pulpit and pastoral duties. During his absence of ten weeks his pulpit has been supplied by graduates of Hope college, East and West.

The conference season at Pine lodge will close next Sunday and will be followed by the Intermediate Christian Endeavor training school, to close September 2.

BROWER-VREDEVOOGD

NUPTIALS HELP TUESDAY

The home of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Brower at 99 West Eighteenth street was the scene of a beautiful wedding Tuesday morning when their daughter, Miss Verna Brower, became the bride of Lawrence E. Vredevoogd, son of Mrs. L. Vredevoogd of Grandville. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock by Rev. G. Hekhuis, pastor of the Reformed church of Grandville before an improvised altar of ferns and palms.

Miss Lucille Vredevoogd played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the wedding party entered.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white mousseline de soie, with a matching turban. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white roses and swainsonia.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. Van Noord of Jamestown, who was gown in white organdy embroidered with blue flowers. She carried a variegated corsage of sweet peas. The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Maynard Vander Wal. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families.

Immediately following the ceremony the newlyweds were honored at a wedding breakfast served to twelve guests in the private dining room at Warm Friend Tavern. Mr. and Mrs. Vredevoogd are on a motor trip to Chicago, where they will attend the world's fair. They will be at home at 124 South Ottawa street, Grandville, after August 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Vredevoogd are both graduates of Hope college. Since his graduation Mr. Vredevoogd has been employed as a teacher at Grandville. He has been taking post-graduate work at the University of Michigan this summer.

Out-of-town guests who attended the ceremony and breakfast included the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. L. Vredevoogd of Grandville; his sister, Miss Vredevoogd; another sister, Mrs. Vander Wal and her husband of Grandville; Rev. and Mrs. Hekhuis of Grandville; the bride's sister, Mrs. Van Noord and husband of Jamestown.

BEAUTIFUL BUTTERFLY IS OF HUMBLE ORIGIN

On inspecting one of the beautiful large butterflies known as the giant swallowtail, it is difficult to believe that in one stage of its existence this magnificent creature could have deserved the appellation "polecat of the insect world." Yet it is probably because of the musky, disagreeable odor characteristic of the large, fleshy caterpillars from which these butterflies develop that many of the butterflies themselves owe their existence. For the birds, no doubt having discovered from experience that these caterpillars taste as bad as they smell, give them a wide berth.

NAT BROWN BACK: IS FREED FROM PRISON DUE TO GOOD BEHAVIOR

Nat Brown, who was sentenced to state's prison for the destruction of a cottage on Pottawatamie bayou with explosives, was released on good behavior by the parole commissioner and arrived in this city last night.

While in prison he had been working on some road machinery patents which he has had approved by the patent office and he is very much encouraged over his inventions, which he believes will have practical value in road work.

His case recently was given publicity through the answer that John R. Dethmers, prosecuting attorney, made to the parole commissioner concerning his case. Dethmers did not make any recommendations as to Brown's release. The commissioner acted without the advice of the local prosecutor. Nat Brown blew up a house by sticking dynamite in the chimney. He also scuttled a boat.

PERSONAL WORKERS CONDUCT SERVICES IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Kuiken, Tom Beyers and Al Barman are representing the Immanuel church personal workers in northern Michigan. They at present are in the lumber camps at Gaylord and are conducting Gospel services there each evening. They are speaking at three lumber camps which have a population of about 45 families each. Jail services also are conducted there on Saturday afternoons.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuiken have been in the north about four weeks. The group expects to be at White Cloud in a week. Other groups of personal workers of the local church are conducting Gospel services at Indian River and White Cloud.

BIRDS KNOW WHERE TO GET PROTECTION

Even Michigan's wild life has learned that the uniform of a conservation officer means protection, says the Department in citing the trusting faith of a pair of killdeer.

The two birds built their nest in the gravel highway between the Department's Gladwin headquarters and garage, so that it is necessary for trucks to pass around. The nest contains four eggs. At the approach of a civilian the birds fly away. However when a man in uniform goes near the nest the birds fail to move.

A stick with a flag has been erected near the nest to warn the truck drivers to detour.

Warning!

It is a state law that demands that motorists driving to the scene of a fire must give the fire department a clear right of way and must keep at least 500 feet to the rear of the fire engine.

It so happened that one member of our local fire department was thrown to the pavement and severely cut and bruised, while trying to clear the traffic for the passage of the fire truck, by some motorist who in plain ignorance of this law, tried to beat the engine to the scene of the fire Tuesday.

WOULD SEND DUTCH COWS INTO JUNGLE

"Unemployed cows" have become a problem in the Netherlands and several suggestions for deportation of surplus cattle have been made. One such plan would have the government buy 200,000 cows and bulls in the open market, kill the weakest, transport the sturdy to the Dutch East Indies and let them run wild in the jungle.

KROGERS OPEN LARGE STORE AT GRAND HAVEN

The Kroger Grocery and Bakery company has opened their finest food emporium at 224 Washington street, the main thoroughfare at Grand Haven. Recently they did likewise in Holland, choosing the large Van Ark building and practically emulated this move at the county seat in opening this large store.

MANY ATTEND HOLLAND WHEAT MEETING

As Ottawa wheat growers attend the wheat meetings and hear the allotment plan explained a high percentage plan on signing up and co-operating in the plan to reduce wheat acreage. The low prices that farmers have been receiving they know is due to the surplus of 360,000,000 bushels in this country, and to the fact that foreign nations to whom we usually ship our surplus are growing their own wheat and erecting tariff walls to keep our wheat out of their markets.

When the first series of wheat meetings have been completed, over 1,600 of the 2,500 wheat growers in the county will have heard the plan explained for reducing wheat acreage and receiving benefit payments from the processing tax.

Agricultural Agent Milham is merely explaining the plan at the district meetings and makes it clear that individual growers themselves must take the responsibility of making a decision on whether to join the plan or stay out. The opinions of many farmers indicates that at least 75 per cent of Ottawa wheat growers will sign contracts and receive benefit payments.

One hundred fifty farmers attended the Holland meeting.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Westenbroek of Holland route 7 on August 17, a daughter, Doris Jean.

Plant Hunkies in Allegan and Ionia Counties

Two more releases of Hungarian partridges in south Michigan in an attempt to increase the progress of Michigan's newest game bird, have been made by the game division of the department of conservation.

Seventy-six hand-reared "hunkies" raised at the state game farm at Mason have been placed in suitable cover: 19 pairs about 5 miles south of Ionia and 19 pairs in Allegan county a short distance west of Allegan.

The birds were placed in an area in Ionia county known for its cattle raising and abundance of corn, similar to the areas in Lenawee county where Hungarian partridges first appeared in Michigan. The 19 pairs planted in Allegan county are in a low muck area where it is hoped that they will thrive in the heavy vegetation.

With the most recent releases, Hungarian partridges have been planted in five southern Michigan areas so far this year. Last spring some birds were released near Cassopolis on the east side of the state. A second release was made near the junction of Eaton, Calhoun and Jackson counties. Twenty-two birds, the return of a loan made to Wisconsin three years ago, were planted in the Schoolcraft-Vicksburg-Mendon prairie section near the St. Joseph-Kalamazoo county line. Last year plantings were made near Williamston in Ingham county and near the Kellogg bird sanctuary near Cull Lake.

While it is quite definitely established, according to the game division, that most of the Hungarian partridges in Michigan will be limited to the better soils and farm areas of the lower part of the state, releases will continue in an attempt to distribute the birds over as wide an area as possible. All of the releases are under frequent observation that the division may have some check as to the success of the birds.

State Parks

Tents, once essentials of camping equipment, are being gradually replaced by so-called "house trailers." More house trailers are appearing in the parks camping grounds every season.

Unless new conditions compel revision, there will be no change in the state park rules and regulations for the next five years and the regulations adopted in 1932 will continue as published at that time.

SPECKLES BITING AT HUCKLEBERRY LAKE

Fred Keiser and John Murchell made a remarkable catch of speckled bass in Huckleberry lake a few days ago. Fishing only 1 hour and 15 minutes, the two anglers caught 28 speckles, all unusually big fellows. A few days before a party of two caught 42 bluegills in a day's fishing at the same lake. Bass and pike are just starting to hit. Huckleberry lake is 14 miles south of Grand Rapids on Division road and then 1 mile east.

WILLIE RITCHIE VICTIM OF CLOSEST DECISION

It was pretty fine figuring that cost Willie Ritchie his world's lightweight title when he lost to Freddy Welsh in England, July 7, 1914, at the end of 20 rounds. When it was all over, the referee, who had kept a score card, figured that Ritchie was the loser by half a point. Differing from many systems in this country, this ruling was based on Welsh's defensive tactics. In America, offense is generally regarded as entitled to the greater number of points.

PREVENTS INTER-STATE AUTO LICENSE MIX-UP

Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana have agreed that trucks, properly equipped in their home states, will not be molested in the other states. At the present time, the laws of the three states vary greatly in the type of lights required on the rear of trucks. This reciprocity was agreed upon at a meeting in Indianapolis. At the same time the three states agreed to make residence of the owner and not his place of employment the determining factor in the purchase of license plates. Thus a man living in Michigan and working in Ohio or Indiana, or Illinois, will purchase Michigan license plates.

DIRECTLY AFTER LABOR DAY

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. has on display in their two Eighth street stores a boy's and a girl's bicycle, which are to be given away directly after Labor Day. The lads and lassies, and there are many of them, are competing on the coupon basis as this relates to sales.

It is needless to say that all are "rarin'" to try out a new bike of the latest model.

Private Band on Birds Mystifies

Bird bands other than the official tags used by the state and the United States bureau of the biological survey are frequently sent to the department of conservation for identification, according to Harry D. Ruhl, in charge of the game division. If individuals who mark birds with private bands wish to obtain help in getting information about their migrations, they should put their name and address plainly on the band, he suggests.

Recently Conservation Officer Clarence Wheeler of St. Johns sent to the Lansing office a leg band containing the number "99" and which had been taken from a hawk near Elsie. The department was unable to furnish any other information about the bird because there was no clue as to who might have attached the band.

Many bird lovers, commercial pheasant and game breeders, place private bands on the birds, Ruhl said, and often when the bird is captured identification is almost impossible. Had the individual who placed the red band on the hawk sent a note to the department, some interesting information as to the migratory habits of hawks might have been obtained.

RADIO STATIONS COOPERATE

Eleven outstanding radio stations of the State have offered their services in the campaign launched by the Committee of 17 in procuring state aid for the schools. From these stations talks on the school situation will be delivered supplementing the information on the needs of the schools presented through the school meetings now being organized in the various Congressional districts through the Committee of 17. The stations are: WJR Detroit Goodwill Station; WWJ Detroit, Detroit News; WJ-BK Detroit, James F. Hopkins, Inc.; WXYZ Detroit, Kumaky Trendle Co.; WMBC Detroit, Michigan Broadcasting Co.; WKZO Kalamazoo; WFDF Flint Broadcasting Co.; WKAR East Lansing, Michigan State College; WOOD Grand Rapids; WASH Grand Rapids; WBBO Marquette, Lake Superior Broadcasting Co.

The Ten Brink family reunion was held at the Ottawa Beach hotel last week, Tuesday evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Ten Brink; Marjorie Ten Brink; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ten Brink and children of this village; Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moomey and Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaap and children of Holland.

Harry Lampen was in Crystal, Michigan, on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Van der Ploeg of Holland were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brink Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lampen, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Lampen left early Tuesday morning for the Century of Progress.

Mrs. Harold Dangremont and daughter, Betty Lou; Mrs. C. F. Bellings, and Mrs. P. H. Fisher and daughter, Hazel, spent Friday at the home of Mrs. John Kalvoord, Jr., at Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashley and family were in Detroit last week. While there they enjoyed a motor trip into Canada. Their daughter, Elaine, remained in Detroit to take up a course at the conservatory of music. The family returned on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beuker and family of Graafschap were at the home of Mrs. John Jansen.

The local baseball teams, after a short rest, staged two exciting games last week. The Merchants motored to Holland last week on Thursday evening and trounced the Phillips "66" to the tune of 7 to 0 in an abbreviated game. Bob Freeman, Hamilton hurler, held the Hollanders to two hits while his teammates gave him perfect support and hammered Wentzel for 11 hits. Freeman also had a perfect day at bat, driving out 3 singles. H. Kronmeyer, however, led the offense with a home run, a triple and a single. Nyhoff, Dangremont, Mr. Kronmeyer followed with 2 singles each. The locals had their big inning at the start after one was out. Roggen walked, Nyhoff singled, Kronmeyer then drove the ball out of the lot. Two hits in each of the second and third innings brought in two more runs. In the final inning 3 singles and a walk accounted for two scores.

Last Friday the Independents battled Martin to a 4-to-4 tie. Neither team was able to score during the first three innings. In the fourth Martin found Lugten for two hits and two runs. This lead was increased in the fifth when three hits and a man hit by a pitched ball pushed a counter across the plate and again in the sixth the visitors aided by Lugten's wildness and a sharp single scored another run. In the last half of the sixth the locals found Burdo for four hits to score three runs. The thrill, however, came in the eighth when with two out and Dangremont, who was on by a single, Bud Ten Brink drove a long double into right field to tie the score. Wentzel relieved Lugten in the seventh, holding the visitors hitless and striking out two of the three batters to face him in each inning. Both teams played a fast and snappy game. Ten Brink and Chet Voorhorst led at bat, the former getting a double and single and the latter two singles. Williamson and Moored starred for the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brink, Sr. and family enjoyed a motor trip to the straits last week, returning Friday evening.

Mrs. Emory Mosier visited Mrs. J. Stevens of South Haven Saturday.

Mr. G. Ensing of Grand Rapids is visiting his children, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Veneklasen, for several days.

The local farm bureau is complying with the spirit of NRA through increasing the number of employees and shortening of the hours of labor. Owing to the nature of their business a flexible schedule is necessary. However, Manager Lohman states that the organization will do all that is possible to co-operate with the government in the new venture. Since August 1 they have increased their employees by 50 per cent and last Monday the workers started on 8-hour shifts. Along with heavy shipments of eggs the organization is shipping from 2,000 to 4,000 dressed chickens, most of which are consigned to New York City. Other places of business are making arrangements to support the federal code.

The boys went over on a boat from South Haven Wednesday evening and returned Friday morning.

ZEELAND COUNCIL ORDERS ANOTHER WELL SUNK

At the common council meeting at Zeeland last Monday night the public property committee was instructed to sink a new city well at an estimated cost of $2,000. The well is to be a Kelly well type, which is claimed will stand longer service than the present type. It has been evident for some time past that the replacement would become necessary and it has now been determined that it was not safe to approach another winter on the old basis.

MISSIONARIES ON FURLOUGH

Rev. and Mrs. Willis G. Hoekje, Reformed missionaries in Japan 26 years, and their children, Howard and Jean, have reached Holland on furlough and will locate at Kalamazoo. Mr. Hoekje, graduate of Hope college and Western Theological seminary, is missionary pastor of Hope Reformed church in Holland.

ONLY A DREAM BUT VERY REALISTIC

Joe Zuverink of Zeeland had a queer experience Monday night. As Joe slept he dreamed he was back in the factory doing his daily task. As he was working he looked up and saw a train jump the track and bear down upon himself and his brother, Bert, working near him. He called out "Jump, Bert, jump!" At the same time he did jump.

The jump proved disastrous as Zuverink left his bed and leaped through a window, breaking the glass and screen besides landing on the hard ground. He was awakened by his wife who heard the crash. Zuverink escaped injuries.—Grand Rapids Press.

ZEELAND

Mrs. C. D. Schilleman, 80, died early this Thursday morning at her home, 246 North State street, Zeeland. COOKING SCHOOL FOR LADIES AT LITERARY CLUB ROOMS TODAY

The ladies of Holland and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the free cooking school to be held today, Friday, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Woman's Literary club rooms on Central avenue and Tenth street.

This free cooking school is given under the auspices of the Michigan Gas and Electric company of Holland with Dorothy K. Harris of the Home Economics department in charge. Mrs. Harris is well versed in the culinary art, having had much practical experience as a housewife, mother, nurse and operator of several tea rooms. During recent years she has been a conductress of economic lectures in which cooking demonstrations form an important part. These innovations so important and interesting to housewives are staged by her throughout the nation and in her demonstrations she uses both gas and electric appliances.

Besides being a wonderful cook she has studied dietetics and with this combined knowledge she has made this her life's work, in other words fine palatable foods correctly prepared, always bearing in mind the health giving qualities. Anyway the cooking school is free. It is held at the Woman's Literary club rooms this afternoon and plenty of new things in the cooking line will be brought out in this demonstration. There will be plenty of time for asking questions and to receive general information.

Others who will be at the school to greet the ladies of Holland, Zeeland and vicinity are Mr. M. W. Berg, local manager; George Esenburgh of Holland, and Henry Boelens of Zeeland.

MISS PIPPEL IS GIVEN GD. HAVEN NURSING POST

Miss Beatrice Pippel, daughter of the late Anthony Pippel, former fire chief and welfare director, was appointed city nurse by Peter A. Kammeraad, city manager of Grand Haven. The appointment was confirmed by the council last night. Miss Pippel will take over the duties of Mrs. Ann Lundborg, who resigned to join her husband, who is working in Detroit.

Miss Pippel is a graduate of the local schools and Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids. Mayor Lionel Heap submitted plans for a new city hall to replace the present one, which has proved inadequate. The plans call for the partial reconstruction and refinishing of Blanche hall at Fifth and Columbus streets, a part of the Akeley college property, to conform to old colonial architecture. The dormitories and various study rooms have been worked into combinations to form offices for all departments of the city government.

Among those from Holland attending the legion convention during the week at Grand Rapids were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Lente, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. William Westrate, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Brailey, Ben Lievense, Miss Jane Klein, Mrs. Paul Wijk, Mrs. Ben Rose, Mrs. Herbert Stanaway, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Joldersma, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geerds, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren.

SIXTH REFORMED CHURCH

Corner Lincoln avenue and Twelfth Street.

YOUNG PEOPLE ATTENTION!

One of the first questions in the life of a young person is that of vocation. It is evident that many careers which require a long period of cultural training are today overcrowded.

Since the "New Deal" the business world is pioneering in a new economic field. New opportunities appear in the offing for those trained in business methods and mechanics.

Why is a business training desirable?

1. There is need of bookkeepers and secretaries.
2. In normal times the rate of turnover of office help is high.
3. In times of depression the percentage of idle office workers is low.
4. The time of preparation is short.
5. The cost to prepare is comparatively small.
6. A clerical position is a stepping stone to an executive position.
7. The reputation of a private business school is dependent upon the efficiency of the students and the assistance to positions it renders to the graduates.

We shall be glad to explain our courses to you. Come to visit our school. Our office over Woolworth's is open Saturday afternoons and evenings. Day and evening school open on September 5 and 25 respectively.

MICHIGAN GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

The Haven Bank Robbers Gone to Parts Unknown

SPECTACULAR HOLDUP WHEN FIVE WERE SHOT AND BANDIT CAUGHT

Airplane, Coast Guard Steamer,
Radio and Flying Squadron
Brought Into Play

Four of the five bandits who participated in the recent holdup of the Peoples Savings Bank at Grand Haven, and who fled leaving one bandit and four Grand Haven citizens wounded in the street, are still at liberty.

They have long since crossed the state line south of Jackson and it was considered probable that they were in Toledo or Chicago, in the hands of friends.

Successfully eluding a net of radio-directed automobile patrolmen of Michigan state police, city police from other cities, and county sheriff's officers, the bandits dashed across the state in a southeasterly direction.

The bandits seem to have eluded machine gun squads, airplanes, coast guard cutter, radio and hundreds of state police, vigilantes, sheriffs, constables, and the whole outfit, that backed the minions of the law.

Reports of robberies, apparently by the same band, were received from other sections of the state around Jackson. From Adrian came a report that a sedan, bearing the same license plates as the car used by the robbers at Grand Haven, had been recovered by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Gallant of Lenawee County. The occupants of the car had placed a machine gun across the highway, stopping four LaFayette, Ohio, youths, and commandeered their small sedan. The bandit car had blown a tire and hurtled into a ditch.

They were last seen at 2 a. m. Saturday when they crashed into a tree 3 miles north of Hudson, after a tire blowout had disabled the car which they took from Oscar Varneau, 2428 Hall st., S. E., Grand Rapids, as the Varneau family stopped at a roadside stand on US-31, south of Grand Haven, shortly after the robbery.

Meanwhile, airplanes, a coast guard cutter and posses were continuing their manhunt in the desolate dunes area, along Lake Michigan, between Grand Haven and Holland, and especially bent their efforts where a planted Buick was found hidden in the brush at West Olive.

The coast guard cutter was patrolling the shore to prevent possible escape by boat or to bombard the dunes if the bandits were cornered.

A "planted" car on the old lake shore road west of West Olive, in the dune country near Lake Michigan, probably placed there by the bandits for their getaway, probably helped them, although they did not use it.

Discovery of the car late Friday, with its boxes of ammunition, quantities of tacks and extra cans of gasoline, led a posse to infer that the bandits were on foot in that vicinity. The hunt was further complicated by an early erroneous report that the Varneau car had been abandoned near West Olive.

Grand Haven Tribune—A spectacular holdup of the Peoples Savings Bank, in which five persons were shot during a thrilling fight as the bandits sought to make their getaway, was perpetrated Friday.

STAFF OF THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Those wounded were: Peter Van Lopik, gas and oil dealer, wounded in neck and arm, and taken to Hatton hospital.

Sgt. Julius Pleines, wounded in back, now at Hatton hospital. John Lindemulder, assistant cashier in bank, grazed across back, not serious.

William Pellegrom, teller, shot in foot, not serious. Harry Harris, bandit, Chicago, shot in head and hand and has leg broken.

The dramatic role played by Edward Kinkema, when he fired upon the bandits and felled one of them as he was struggling with F. C. Bolt, cashier, and the timely alarm turned in by Arthur Welling, which spread the alarm to state, county and city police, were the means of halting the complete get-away and recovering a large part of the loot.

It is believed now that about $2,000 was taken as a laundry bag of securities and a bag of silver were recovered and a pile of bonds to the teller's window presumably for business. The three men separated to other parts of the bank covering the employees, demanding they lie down. They were F. C. Bolt, William Pellegrom, Art Welling, Miss Martha Meschke and Miss Vera Correll. The two girls were standing near the vault.

The robbers quickly scooped up silver, currency on the counters and went into the vault, where they filled a laundry bag full of securities. The bag was a blue and pink one, such as is common in many stores.

As they finished the job which Miss Meschke said seemed like hours they ordered the group to the rear of the bank and out of the back door, as a shield. Machine guns were used freely after the bandits found a crowd was attracted.

Art Welling pulled the silent burglar alarm with his foot as soon as he suspected trouble, which reached Edward Kinkema in the Addison Pellegrom Colson store. He dashed out of the front door and then back in yelling to his partners that the bank was being held up. He grabbed a repeater shotgun and to the county jail to look after Harris.

On the bullet-proof vest were found a name which the police are investigating. As he sat in the cell waiting for the doctor, Harris did not appear to be badly wounded.

Mr. Van Lopik

although there was a great deal of blood from his head and neck. He smiled at those who crowded in to see him but would say nothing.

The bullets from the machine guns might have killed many people as crowds quickly gathered before there was any realization as to what was happening.

Don Ronan, who works at Keefe's restaurant nights, was asleep at his home, corner of Franklin and Third streets. He was awakened with the noise of the guns and heard the screams of the women as their car was being seized. He stated there was a fly-mouth car in back of the other which took after the bandit car as far as he could see.

BANDIT HARRY HARRIS SUFFERS SMILINGLY, REVEALS BUT LITTLE

Harry Harris, captured bandit, who is held at the county jail, was badly injured in his fight with F. C. Bolt and Edward Kinkema. He sat in the cell with blood streaming from head and neck wounds and suffering from a fractured leg, but made no sound and smiled at the reporter who was admitted. He only uttered a few words, giving his name and saying he came from Chicago.

His finger-prints were taken by Corey Dymond, state finger-print expert. Harold Mulbar, detective for the state police force, questioned him.

"He is an old timer, I am certain, and is used to this kind of a game," stated the detective.

"I think he is a pretty sick man although like his kind he is pretty game."

"He will probably survive as undoubtedly he has been through tougher times than this," concluded the detective.

Harris was attended by a physician. His leg was put in a cast and his head was bandaged and his hand bound up. He appeared to be resting comfortably later in the evening seeming to be asleep as a few were permitted to see him. Later he was moved to a cell upstairs, where he could rest and be away from the noise of the crowds that milled around the jail from the early evening until late at night.

He is of heavy stature, has dark eyes and dark hair and looks like a foreigner. He smiled in a friendly way at those permitted to the cell and did not appear to be disturbed over the turn of events which held him captive while his companions were being hunted.

More about the robbers will be found on page 4 of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Charter, of 39 West Eighteenth street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ola Charter, to LeRoy J. Essenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mulder of this city. Miss Charter, a graduate of Holland High school, is employed by the Holland Furnace company.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blom and Charles Blom have returned to their home in Madison, Wisconsin, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hofstede of West Fourteenth street.

Word was received here by relatives of the death of the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. M. Mogel, who died in the Jane Lamb Memorial hospital in Clinton, Iowa.

The following recently underwent tonsil operations: James Holras of 19 East Ninth street; George Van Der Heide of the north side; and Alvin Nienhuis of Holland route 2.

Bolt, Grand Haven Cashier, Owes Life to Edward Kinkema

FURNITURE DEALER RELATES
STORY OF HIS STRUGGLE TO OVERCOME BANDIT

Edward Kinkema, well known local furniture dealer and mortician, undoubtedly saved the life of F. C. Bolt, cashier of the Peoples Savings bank, as he rushed up to Bolt and Harris, the captured bandit, who were grappling at the rear of the bank. The bandit held a gun over Bolt's chest as Kinkema knocked Harris in the head with the butt of his gun and kicked him as he lay on the ground. Harris attempted to get up and make for the bushes at the rear of the bank and Pellegrom store, but was overpowered by Ed Ryenga, Tony Van Horsen and was dragged into the store.

"I heard the alarm and ran out of the front of the store," Mr. Kinkema said. "I saw Lawrence Dornbos and Peter Van Lopik going into the bank."

"I warned them not to go in as the bank was being held up."

"I ran back into the store and grabbed my shotgun, yelling to the boys that the bank was being held up and to get the officers. As nearly as I can remember as I came out the rear door and saw a big touring car on Third street. I put my gun to my shoulder to shoot but by that time there were too many women in the street and I did not dare to."

"The fellow in the car saw me and ducked his head, then made for Franklin street and disappeared east. He did not return and it was the loss of this car which confused the bandits as they got out of the bank. They yelled 'car, car, car,' and swore and cursed."

"In the meantime I dashed over to the Elks' Temple and told the fellows to get guns, that the bandits were coming out of the bank. They kidded me but soon heard the gunfire that convinced them I was right. A fellow was standing behind a tree on the other side of the street and he took a shot at me. I ran from the Elks' Temple to the rear of the McLellan store and then shot all the shells I had. The bullets were flying thick from the robbers, some going through the glass door there and into the store. I got a few in the side of the head which I did not realize at the time."

"I saw the fellow that got Pete

Citizen Downs Bandit

EDWARD D. KINKEMA

Van Lopik. He had a sawed-off shotgun. Lawrence Dornbos was flat against the building and escaped unhurt. Van Lopik sank to the street and the people rushed in around him.

"My shells were gone but I saw F. C. Bolt and a man grappling and ran across the street. The bandit had his gun over Bolt's chest when I banged him on the head with my gun which sent him reeling. Charles Bugelski of the McLellan store, was nearby, Edward Ryenga, who was coming from the front of the bank, came up, and Tony Van Horsen. In some way the four of us held the fellow, who despite a fractured leg, tried to make a get-away."

"We hauled him into the rear of the store, stripped him and found he was well protected with a bullet-proof vest. He had two guns on him. He had another pistol on his body. Both were automatic pistols. "By the time we got through with him the fight was out of him and we bundled him into the ambulance and Ed Ryenga took him to jail. I then realized that I had a few fine shots in my head and went to the hospital where they were picked out and first aid was given."

Jackson Prison Quartet Will Be At Hamilton

HOLLAND'S GERMAN BAND
TO BE ON LABOR DAY
PROGRAM—SENATOR
VANDENBERG IS HEADLINER

For years the Hamiltonians have not failed to celebrate Labor Day and this year is no exception. Arrangements have been made for a big celebration at the Sal grove on that day—morning, noon and night. The Grenadier band of Holland has been secured for the day and this German band of Hollanders is bound to please. The celebration will open with a doubleheader baseball game. The Merchants, the junior team, will meet the Phillips "66" at 8 o'clock a. m. and at 10 o'clock the Independents will play a colored team from Grand Rapids. In the afternoon the program will begin with a band concert at 10 o'clock. Dr. Paul Voelker of Lansing, superintendent of public instruction, will speak. The prison quartet of Jackson will furnish music during the day. A complete system of amplifiers will be installed. It is also expected that Ats Dykstra of Grand Rapids and Senator

Arthur Vanden Berg will speak in the evening and you can bet "Art" will have a real message to give.

At the close of the evening program a queen contest will be staged when four young ladies will be chosen to represent Hamilton at the Allegan county fair at Allegan next month. A full program of sports for the afternoon has also been arranged. The proceeds of the celebration will go for community welfare purposes as in former years.

Again referring to the queen contest we would advise the "pretty lassies" look their best for it may mean marriage soon, or a trip to Hollywood—who knows? But with all it will surely mean a trip to the Allegan fair.

ZEELAND

Miss Dena Kattie, 69, died Sunday morning at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Bakkar of North Blenden. Miss Kattie was a resident of Zeeland all her life with the exception of the last five years when she lived in North Blenden. She has been an invalid for about forty years. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Schepers of Holland and Mrs. Tieman of Zeeland, and one brother, John Kattie of Zeeland. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Langeland Funeral home. Rev. John Van Peursem, pastor of First Reformed church. Burial took place in Zeeland cemetery.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

NATIVE produce is supplying the home market but in addition each district must look to other localities for supplementary food. Chief in the week's markets are tomatoes, green beans, carrots, and beets. Sweet potatoes are beginning to be plentiful. Sweet corn is unusually fine and this is the season to enjoy it to the utmost. It is the height of the summer fruit season with new apples, peaches, pears, plums, and seedless grapes all available.

With olive oil, salad dressing and peanut butter to choose from, there is no excuse for not enjoying summer salads with a variety of dressings. The Quaker Maid Kitchen offers the following menus:

- Low Cost Dinner
Pan-broiled Chopped Beef
Creamed Potatoes
Green Beans
Chocolate Pudding
With Whipped Evaporated Milk
Tea or Coffee
- Medium Cost Dinner
Chicken Fricassee
Boiled Rice
Baked Stuffed Tomatoes
Lettuce with Peanut Butter Dressing
Bread and Butter
Grape Juice Sponges
Coffee (hot or iced)
- Very Special Dinner
Tomato Juice
Broiled Steak
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Braised Celery
Hearts of Lettuce
French Dressing
Rolls and Butter

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES
Mr. Wm. M. Connelly, Managing Director of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the Council and presented a proposition relative to the reclamation of the swamp district north of the City. In his report, Mr. Connelly went into considerable detail relative to the Federal Funds that will be made available for Relief purposes. Michigan's allotment of these funds is $130,000,000 that is to be expended on Public Works programs of various kinds. It was shown that already $30,000,000 has been allotted. Mr. Connelly went into considerable detail in explaining to the Council the purpose of the proposed project which calls for dredging and ditching the swamp area, building of dikes, erecting windmills and buildings which would make this district represent a small "Netherlands." Included in the project, is an addition to the Sewage Disposal Plant for the purpose of overcoming the odor, also a bridge across the River at Columbia Ave. The estimated cost of the project complete as proposed by Mr. Connelly would be approximately $600,000. It was shown that of this amount 30% or $180,000 would be a direct grant, and the balance would be a loan to the City at a rate of 4% which might extend over a period of 30 years, beginning 5 years from date.

Mr. Connelly stated that the interest on the investment might be paid by earnings from the Board of Public Works.

In this connection, the Clerk presented a resolution from the American Legion endorsing the project. A resolution was also presented by Ald. Prins approving of the project as proposed by Mr. Connelly and pledging the earnings of the interest on the investment.

The Council entered into a lengthy discussion on the project. Several of the Aldermen felt that on a matter of such importance, where such a large sum of money is to be requested, that they should have more time to look into the proposition before authorizing Mr. Connelly to go ahead and obligate the City to such an extent.

A motion by Ald. Prins, 2nd by Kleis, moved the adoption of the resolution authorizing Mr. Connelly to make application for the loan.

Ald. Van Zoeren objected to pledging the earnings from the B. P. W. for the payment of the debt. After various proposals by different Aldermen, the motion that prevailed was introduced by Ald. De Cook, and supported by Van Zoeren, to the effect that the matter be tabled for the time being and be taken up at a special meeting to be called by the Mayor not later than Friday, August 25, 1933.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS
On motion of Ald. Kleis, 2nd by Prins.

Resolved, that the Playground Commission be instructed to erect lights on the Horseshoe Court on E. 9th St. alley.

Adopted.

City Atty. Lokker reported for the information of the Council that Ottawa Co. through its Prosecuting Attorney has now started suit to recover the $40,000 from the City of Holland that is impounded in the Peoples State Bank, such funds being taxes collected by the City Treas. just prior to the closing of the Bank.

City Attorney also reported for the information of the Council that the Radio Ordinance passed by the Council recently had been tested out in Justice Court and found O.K.

GENERAL ORDER OF THE DAY
The Revision of the Building Ordinance which was introduced by the Ord. Committee under "Reports of Standing Committees" and referred to "General Order of the Day," was deferred, same to be considered at the next regular meeting of the Council.

Adjourned.

OSCAR PETERSON, City Clerk.

In The WEEK'S NEWS

BROTHERS MEET AFTER 53 YEARS. For the first time in 53 years, William J. Stevenson, 73, and Rev. V. Nathaniel Stevenson, brothers, met and exchanged greetings. The meeting occurred in Cleveland, home of William J. Stevenson, 65, now a Toronto, Ont., pastor, journeyed to Cleveland for the meeting.

RAIL SPEED VETERAN. J. C. Hewitt (left), was fireman on the famous old "999" when it made rail speed records 20 years ago, rambling from New York to Albany at 60 miles an hour. Now he virtually commutes between San Francisco and New York on three-mile-a-minute United Air Lines transports.

BOON TO HOSTESSES. An innovation in entertainment is this new "toastmaster hospitality tray" exhibited this week for the first time at the Century of Progress Exposition. The tray, chromium-plated with smart wooden handles, is equipped with all the essentials for a tasty informal snack, including a single or double toaster, a compact bread-board and trimming knife, and six matched crystal dishes.

COOLIDGE TOMBSTONE. A newly erected headstone on the grave of Ex-President Calvin Coolidge bears the presidential insignia of four stars and the inscription of his birth (July 4, 1872) and his death (January 5, 1933).

GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON, chief figure in putting across President Roosevelt's National Recovery program, has taken the stump for the N. R. A. which he declares will "go over the top" just as the Liberty Loan drives did during the world war.

NORTH HOLLAND

Due to the classical appointment of Rev. Maassen at Harlem, the pulpit here was occupied by the Rev. G. Tyse of Holland for the morning service. The afternoon services were conducted by Rev. Miner Stegenga, pastor of the Grove Reformed church of North Bergen, New Jersey.

A group of men are cutting the weeds along the road north of this place. They will continue at this until all weeds have been removed from the county roads in Olive township.

Gale Schilleman is hard at work giving his house a coat of paint. Mrs. Albert Stegenga and Jean of Ann Arbor came here to attend the family gathering Friday. They returned to Ann Arbor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smidderks, Willis Smidderks and Mrs. Freeman of Compton and Los Angeles, California, called here at the home of Albert Stegenga.

On Wednesday evening the ball team lost a very close and interesting game to the Allen Radicals of Holland. The game resulted in a 2-to-1 score. Clarence Weener and Lewis Prius formed the battery for the local team.

Miss Bertha Lievense and her Sunday school class will enjoy a picnic at Port Sheldon Friday afternoon.

ZEELAND

More than 400 farmers attended the first wheat allotment meeting in Ottawa county. It was to have been held in the Hudsonville High school, but owing to the large attendance, the farmers met outdoors. C. P. Milham, county agricultural agent, explained the provisions of the wheat bonus plan. A temporary district organization was formed with the following officers: Chairman, Homer Freeman,

Jamestown; advisors, John H. Van Noord, Jamestown; Charles Lowing, Georgetown. It will be the duty of the committee to select one man in each school district to co-operate in obtaining a mailing list of the producers in that district. Otto Pino, agricultural instructor at the Zeeland High school, has been appointed to assist Milham with the wheat allotment campaign.

POTLUCK SUPPER AT IDLEWOOD BEACH

(Zeeland Record)

Mrs. Corey Poest was hostess at a potluck supper at her cottage at Idlewood beach last Friday. The guests were members of the Women's Adult Bible class of Second Reformed church, with their husbands, and Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Vanden Berg.

The afternoon and evening were pleasantly spent in a social time, games, and partaking of a bountiful supper. A campfire service was held on the beach where hymns and short talks were given by the teacher of the class, P. T. Moerdyk.

The members of the Christian school circle of Zeeland under the leadership of Mrs. S. Waldeck, together with their respective husbands enjoyed an outing in the form of a "weenie roast" at Tennessee beach last week, Wednesday, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Staal, who are resorting there.

The guests included Mrs. M. Scholten, Mrs. E. Boes, Mrs. Jacob Kamp, Mrs. A. Jabaay, Mrs. J. Staal, Mrs. A. Van Harn, Mrs. S. Waldeck, Mrs. De Vries, Mrs. Ed Boes, Mrs. T. Kraai, Mrs. H. Van Der Ploeg and Mrs. William P. Staal. By the ladies the afternoon was devoted to sewing, and the evening was spent in playing games including volleyball and pitching horse shoes. The time was greatly enjoyed by all and passed all too soon.

A group of young people enjoyed a weenie roast at Ottawa Beach last Thursday evening. The group was composed of Misses Edith Huyser, Edith Van Nui, Kathryn Huyser, Gertrude Van Dorp, Celia Postmus, Messrs. Alvin Jager, Willard Vereke, Edward Van Liere, Dick Van Dorp, Jacob Van Dorp, John Kamp and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Huyser.

FINAL RITES FOR MR. ROGERS TO BE SATURDAY

Peter Rogers, 73, died Tuesday evening at his home, 195 West Tenth street. He was born in Belgium on June 13, 1860, and has lived here 18 years.

Surviving are the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Leo Van Braght of Decatur; three sons, Comiel Rogers of South Bend, Ind.; Alexander Rogers of Holland and John Rogers of South Bend, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales church. Father F. W. Ryan will officiate. Burial will take place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

PLUMBERS DISCUSS NRA CODE

Master plumbers of Holland, Zeeland, Saugatuck, Douglas, Fennville, Grand Haven and Spring Lake attended a meeting at the city hall Wednesday evening to discuss the NRA code. More than 35 plumbers were present.

W. A. Decker of Grand Rapids, state supervisor of the Master Plumbers' association, gave a talk on the relation of the state group to the national organization. A discussion was also led by Mr. Decker.

YOU CAN NOW USE TWO LINES AND TWO POLES

The ban against fishermen using more than one line or pole while fishing in inland lakes has been removed and the anglers are now held to two outfits.

ZEELAND

Rev. and Mrs. M. J. Duven returned Thursday to their home in Adams, Neb., after a visit with relatives in Zeeland.

The Zeeland public school will begin the new school year Sept. 5, the day following Labor Day. The board of education has decided that school will be held for the same length of time as in previous years and so June 13 will be the date of the next commencement. Vacation periods have been announced as follows: Nov. 30 to Dec. 1 will be the Thanksgiving recess and Dec. 22 until Jan. 2 has been announced as the date for the Christmas vacation. Other free days will be March 1 for county teacher's institute; March 7, prayer day for crops; March 29 until April 3, Easter vacation; and May 30, Decoration Day. The following groups are asked to report at T. A. Dewey's office on Friday, Aug. 25, from 9 to 12 or from 1 to 5 p. m., or on Aug. 26, from 9 to 12 noon. 1—Those who graduated from the eighth grade of the rural schools. 2—Any local boys or girls who have not enrolled for the coming year. 3—All those who enrolled in home economics or industrial arts. 4—Those who failed in any subject. All students who intend to enroll are urged to do so at this appointed time. Mr. Dewey may be reached by phone by calling 125 or 518 any time after Monday.

The Sunday school of North Street Christian Reformed church had its annual picnic at the Lawrence street city park Wednesday afternoon. The Sunday school picnic of Third Christian Reformed church was held yesterday afternoon at Lawrence street city park.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Parow and son, Willis, moved Friday from their home on Cherry street, Zeeland, to Grand Rapids, where Mr. Van Parow is employed.

Mrs. Mary Pot and A. Bouwens, who visited relatives and friends in Zeeland and vicinity the past three weeks, returned to their home in Firth, Neb., last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lindow and Robert Horn of Pennsylvania have been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Baehr on North State street, Zeeland.

The fourth annual field day will be held here Aug. 30 under direction of the chamber of commerce. Prizes will be given for the largest family and the oldest car and gate prizes will be given in the evening.

Rev. Peter Kosten has moved from his residence on North Centennial street to the home of his son, Otto Vander Plaats, on Taft avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Geels and children of Beaverdam have left for Iowa to spend their vacation with friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Bert De Pree and son, Donald, of East Central avenue, recently spent a few days in Chicago attending the Century of Progress Exposition.

The members of the band of First Christian Reformed church had an outing at Tunnel park, near Holland, Tuesday.

The Pioneer Neighborhood Club enjoyed their annual picnic at the H. Miller cottage at Tennessee beach near Holland, recently. Mrs. Fred Klumper and Mrs. B. Kamp were assistant hostesses and served lunch of hamburger buns, fruit and coffee. The following were present: Mrs. R. J. Vanden Berg, Mrs. H. Van Eenennaam, Mrs. D. Van Bree, Mrs. J. Keppel, Mrs. F. Klumper, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. B. Gozen, Mrs. E. Irvine, Mrs. B. Kamp, the Misses Jane and Virginia Kamp, and Donna Irvine, and Allison Vanden Berg, Ross Clark and Jack De Kruij, all of Zeeland; Mrs. C. Martin of Benton Harbor and Mrs. B. Van Hoes of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Angus De Kruij, wife of the local druggist, who was injured in an automobile accident near Watertown, N. Y., a few weeks ago, is improving and will soon return to her home from the Zeeland hospital.

About 75 members of the L. Shoemaker family had a reunion at Tunnel park, near Holland, last Wednesday afternoon and evening. And let us say they are not all makers of footwear either.

MRS. LOUIS BONEMA RELATES EXPERIENCE OF HAVING CAR STOLEN

Mrs. Louis Bonema, whose Chevrolet car was seized by the bandits, told of her experience to officers. She said she was driving west on Franklin st., Grand Haven, when three men ran to the side of the car demanding that she get out. She said she halted and for a minute refused to give up the car when one man yelled: "Get out or I'll plug you." He grabbed her by the dress and tore it as he jerked her out. "I must have my baby," she said, and then seeing the bandit did not pay any attention, she screamed, "I want my baby," and it was given to her. Meanwhile Mrs. Joe Miller and her children, who were also in the car, got out quickly.

Mrs. Bonema went to the bank later, remaining to give any assistance she could to the officers as to the description of the three men which she was certain got into her car.

Later it was believed there were four men who seized the Varneau car on U.S. 31.

Welling Tells of Bank Holdup

SUSPICIOUS ACTIONS OF BANDITS LEAD HIM TO SOUND ALARM IN NICK OF TIME

Art Welling, whose presence of mind prompted him to send the silent alarm to the city and county police officers, did as much as anyone to halt the five bank bandits who attacked the Peoples Savings bank at Grand Haven.

He said that two men came into the bank at five minutes to three. Both were short and well dressed and appeared to be about 25 or 30 years old.

One man pushed a $10 bill through the window and asked for $200 in nickels and $200 in dimes.

As he waited for the change, Mr. Welling said the other man walked toward the back of the lobby and in a flash Mr. Welling suspected that they might be bank robbers. He put his foot in a position to trip the alarm, which is located directly under the paying window, where he stands to serve customers.

As he was leaning over the counter to pay out the change the man shoved a gun into his face and said, "Keep still." It was then that Mr. Welling tripped the alarm that sounded in the police office, sheriff's office and in the Addison Pelegrom furniture store. It evidently was not noticed by the robber.

As nearly as Mr. Welling could remember the men rushed behind the counters and in no time had ordered all the officers and employees to lie down in the connecting runway between the cages. They cursed and swore constantly while working rapidly at the tills.

"While the robbers were at work if one moved a hair, a yell of the down, keep still, d— you," would soon settle anyone who had visions of watching them too closely," said the young teller.

"Where's the cashier?" demanded one of the men. Finally Mr. Bolt responded and was told to open the vault. He tried, failed and said he was not in the habit of opening the safe.

"Well, who is?" they asked.

Mr. Welling was called and he walked to the vault with a gun against his ribs.

"I tried to stall, working the combination as slowly as possible," said Mr. Welling, "but the robbers were on to me and threatened to shoot if I didn't hurry. When the clerk was heard they yelled 'pull open the door.' Welling did so and the men filled up the bag with bonds and securities.

After the loot was gathered the gang debated whether they should take the girls out with them or make the whole force go out. They finally decided things were "getting warm" outside and ordered the force to their feet. The bandits using the bank employees as shields, marched to the rear of the bank swearing and cursing and telling them to do as they were told and be quick.

As they got out into the street they saw there was trouble as Edward Kinkema already was out with a gun and the officers had arrived and were coming around the front of the bank.

The bullets began to fly, continued Mr. Welling, and he saw his car at the curb. Without further thought he rolled down underneath it. He said he was somewhat confused as to what took place during the exchange of fire, being perfectly satisfied to keep under cover.

A Fruit Show will be sponsored this fall by the Fennville chapter of the Future Farmers of America at the High School auditorium.

In the past Fennville High School has enjoyed the distinction of being one of the first to hold a fruit show, the last being held in 1930, when the practice was discontinued, owing to the stringency of the times.

This year the fruit show will be made possible by the curtailment of prize money, which has been the largest item of expense. Awards will be made in the form of silver cups and ribbons, according to E. H. Bjornseth, head of the agricultural department of the high school.

The F. F. A. has selected the following students to act on various committees: Fruit Show Manager — Herman Onken.

Premiums — Elwin Johnson, Richard Wade, Charles Fleming. Fruit — Erwin Hutchins, Robert Chambers, Frederick Thorsen. Vegetables — Ken Sargent, Elmer Stask. Grain — Robert Silerio, Willis Brink, Kirby Gooding. Advertising — Victor Egelkraut, Leon Fleming, Herman Onken. Home Economics — Frank Warren and James Beagle. Police — F. F. A. Officers.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

"AFTER THAT EXPERIENCE, I HAD MY TELEPHONE PUT BACK IN"

A strange noise at the window . . . smoke filling the room . . . sudden sickness in the night. With no telephone in the house, such emergencies may become critical. But with a telephone at hand, help can be summoned instantly, and family and property safeguarded. Just one such call may be worth more than the cost of telephone service for a lifetime.

Telephone service costs only a few cents a day. Order a telephone today at any Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.

Most Long Distance Calls Go Through While Line Is Held

Added speed, a higher percentage of calls completed or reported on while the subscriber holds the line, better transmission results, and fewer criticisms received, were some of the highlights of the year 1932 for the long distance telephone service throughout the country.

The average speed of connection of long distance calls for 1932 was two minutes, as compared with 2.2 minutes in 1931 and 2.7 minutes in 1930. The per cent of calls on which the customer holds the line until the connection is completed or a definite report made, was 85 per cent, as compared with 80 per cent in 1931 and 75 per cent in 1930.

Long Cable Is Completed

Most important in the construction program of the year was the completion of the last link of the St. Louis-Dallas cable, thereby making available Long Lines cable facilities all the way from Bangor, Me., to Cisco, Tex., a distance of approximately 2,450 miles. The longest all-cable direct circuit extends from New York to Dallas, Tex. Among other construction jobs completed was that of a new line between Laramie, Wyo., and Salt Lake City, Utah.
