Council Names Inspectors for Coming Election

Considerable Routine
Work Accomplished
In Regular Session

Election inspectors for Holland's six wards were named for the Sept. 14 primaries at a regular meeting of Common Council Wednesday night.

Appointments follow: first ward, John Woltman; second, George Volkens; third, Al Faasen; fourth, Ed Lam; fifth, John H. Van Dyke, and sixth, Bert Stegink.

City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod called attention to a school for inspectors in the county clerk's office in Grand Haven Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Aldermen also were urged to attend the school.

Council approved applications for constructing and repairing sidewalks to Louis Ten Brink and to the Neil and Al Construction Co. (Neil and Al Kalkman). An application to transfer a license for operating a produce stand from John Roels to Herman Brinks, in business at 94 West Eighth St., also was allowed.

A letter from property owners on West 23rd St. between Washington and Van Raalte Aves., requesting information on laying a storm sewer in preparation for paving the street, was read by Clerk Grevengeod. City Engineer Jacob Zuidema said plans already have been completed for the project which must wait first for the sanitary sewer.

Drain contracts from the county involving property east of the city of Holland was referred to the Board of Public Works. A notice of letting an inter-county drain contract and review of apportionments in connection with the Maplewood drain was referred to the engineer and assessor.

The clerk reminded council that it usually takes action this time of year to pay the Board of Public Works for the fire alarm fund in the amount of $2,400 and the general sewer fund in the amount of $30,619.71, both as set up in the budget. The orders were approved and warrants ordered drawn.

Council granted a 90-day extension to Elzinga and Volkens, the Modders Plumbing and Heating Co., and the Newkirk Electric Co., all doing work on the new hospital addition. The request was granted to keep the original contracts in force while the hospital work is working with federal government for a possible grant.

The clerk reported cemetery bonds due Aug. 1 had been presented for payment in the amount of $2,000, plus interest of $135, and explained that the previous bonds approved Aug. 4 were bonds which had not been presented for payment before this year. Attempts had been made to locate the bonds several times but to no avail since the bonds were transferable and could not be traced. The bonds were approved for payment.

Council also authorized a transfer in fire truck maintenance and replacement fund and the River-view park reserve fund at Peoples State Bank. These two funds had been carried as savings accounts. Since this arrangement is contrary to regulations of the Federal Reserve Bank, they will hereafter be classified as "Time Deposit—Open Account."

The clerk read a BPW letter listing an estimate of $2,345.75 for 780 feet of six-inch water main on 25th St. between Lincoln and Columbia Aves. This is a confirmation of the verbal estimate presented Aug. 4 when a hearing was set for Sept. 1.

Council also approved payment of $24,476.36 on five paving projects.

Council was reminded that Aug. 25 is the date set for a special council meeting to consider objects to paving district roads.

Man Narrowly Escapes Drowning

L. J. Holmes, 44-year-old Des-plaines, Ill., resident who has been staying with the Westburgs at Waukazoo, narrowly escaped drowning before noon Wednesday when his small kayak capsized on Lake Macatawa not far from Campbell's boat house.

Holmes, near exhaustion after floundering in the water, was picked up by Steve Schmid, Macatawa park resortor from Webster Grove, Mo., and his roommate at Yale, James Gault of Flint, who were in Schmid's father's 17-foot motor boat.

The two young men took Holmes to the Coast Guard station where he was given artificial respiration and first aid by Jack Boerema, life guard at Macatawa, Chief Boatswain's Mate Horace E. Searcy and Boatswain's Mate J. C. Gustave Nynas.

Dr. Fred Kramer, Macatawa resortor from Webster Grove, also assisted as did Dr. William Weststrate of Holland who arrived later. Coast Guard officers said they received a report a man had capsized in Small bay and headed that way. By that time Holmes had been picked up by Schmid's boat and was heading for the station. Coast Guard spokesmen said the kayak had a small sail and capsizes quite easily in choppy water. They were inclined to discount rumors that the small boat had been swamped by waves from water skiers.

Fireworks Blast Hospitalizes Two

Grand Haven, (Special) —A box of 20-year-old fireworks demolished a truck, set fire to a shed and sent two men to Municipal hospital Tuesday afternoon.

The injured are Ray Fox, 68, and his son-in-law, Thomas Poligase, 24, who were cleaning up a shed near Fox's evergreen nursery on Country club road.

They were tossing powdered paint used in making fireworks onto the truck to take to the dump when a can exploded. The blast knocked Herman Lizzard, 24, from a ladder 300 feet away.

Fox and Poligase were treated for shock and cuts caused by flying glass and splinters of wood from the truck.

Peace Declared In Agreement For Bus Lines

Long Controversy Ends
With Arrangement Made
By License Committee

An agreement on working operations of the Holland City Bus line and the Lake Shore bus line was announced by Ald. Bertal Slagh, chairman of the license committee, at the regular meeting of Common Council Wednesday night.

City Attorney Peter S. Boter explained that the two operators, Alfred Brinkman and John Vander Kolk, have come to an agreement, marking the end of a controversy extending over many months.

Boter said the agreement is designed to eliminate certain routes in areas where duplication of effort led to friction between the operators. Vander Kolk will be allowed to operate in the city and two miles outside the limits but will not operate in Montello park or Central park except for certain factory runs and chartered school bus runs.

Brinkman will cease picking up passengers in the city for transportation inside the limits and will adhere to regulations permitted in his Michigan Public Service commission permit. The agreement will be effective until July 1, 1949, and then is expected to be renewed on an annual basis.

After the explanation, Slagh's motion that a city license be granted Vander Kolk was approved. This application had been pending for some time.

In other business, Slagh also asked who has control of speed boat violations on Lake Macatawa and was informed by City Attorney Boter that such control is in charge of the Coast Guard which operates under federal law.

A suggestion by Ald. Earl Ra-gains of the Chamber of Commerce committee that jurisdiction of the slips and dock facilities at Kollen park be turned over from the Park board to the Harbor board was tabled.

Mayor Pro Tem Harry Harrington, who presided in the absence of Mayor Bernard De Pree who is vacationing with his family in Seattle, Wash., suggested a complete survey of sidewalks in the city. He said no such survey has been made since WPA days.

Claims and accounts totaled $10,068.67. Other claims and hospital, $14,119.20; library, $498.15; park and cemetery, $2,808.91; Board of Public Works, $26,485.95; hospital building fund, $30,677.62. The city treasurer reported BPW collections of $38,781.87 and miscellaneous city collections of $10,542.57, city taxes of $84,928.50 and school taxes of $93,620.28, of a total of $189,091.35.

Wolf Whistles Illegal; On Your Car, That Is

Police Chief Jack Van Hoff frowns on wolf whistles on cars.

In fact, such gadgets are contrary to the city charter and officers are under orders to remove them or send the drivers to Municipal Court.

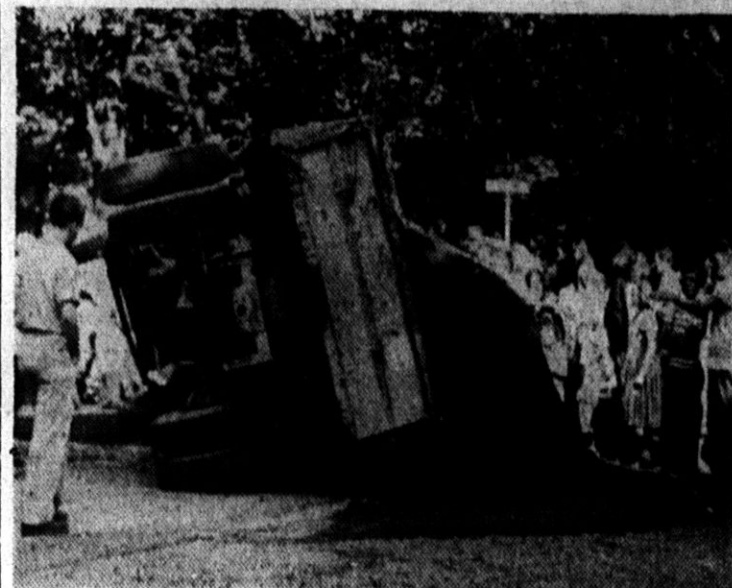

The wolf whistle, latest twist in an array of "unapproved noisy car accessories," is attached to the car manifold. Properly hitched up, it makes sounds which the chief doesn't regard as "pretty."

Van Hoff pointed to the section in the city charter which states it is unlawful to use sirens, exhaust compression or spark plug whistles on motor vehicles. This section also states that a "reasonable warning" by horn is permitted, but says unnecessary noise is a nuisance punishable by law.

The chief said his men have removed about six wolf whistles so far.

Car Catches Fire

Firemen put out a small fire in a car at Fend's Auto Service, 16th and Harrison, about 5 p.m. Monday. The car caught fire while employees were engaged in welding operations. They pulled the car out of the building. Damage was said to be confined mainly to the upholstery. Firemen were out only a short time.

Dozens of persons gathered at Ninth and Columbia late Wednesday afternoon when a passenger car collided with a dump truck which turned over spilling its entire load of hot asphalt on the car. The curve in the pile of "coal" shows the contours of the car. Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence Willey of East Grand Rapids, riding in the car, were taken to Holland hospital. The man was released after treatment but Mrs. Willey remained as a patient there today. Driver of the truck, Dick Boeske, of Grand Rapids, was not injured.

Triple Drowning Inquest Is Set

Allegan, Aug. 19 (Special) — Prosecutor Chester A. Ray announced today that arrangements have been completed for an inquest Monday into the triple drowning tragedy last week at Green lake.

The inquest will start at 9 a.m. Monday and is expected to continue two or three days under Coroner Clyde A. Dickinson of Wayland. The prosecutor will call 20 to 30 witnesses.

Ray said he and Sheriff Louis Johnson have questioned from 25 to 30 persons Monday and Tuesday. Purpose of the inquest is to decide whether the deaths were due to an act of some one person or persons. If the jury decides some person or persons is responsible, the prosecutor will issue a warrant.

Until now, officers have been unable to reach any decision whether such person or persons is liable and have been unable to identify any one or two persons who might be responsible for the drownings caused when a row boat with six occupants was swamped by waves.

HC Softballers Annex Decision

Hart and Cooley of the City Softball league had little difficulty in taking an 11-3 victory over the Baker Furniture squad Wednesday night in a post-season contest on the Pine Ave. diamond.

Herk Cramer went all the way on the mound for the winners, allowing six hits, while J. Hallan, Baker hurler, gave up eight safeties.

Hart and Cooley scored in every inning but the sixth. They sent two runners home in the first on one hit, added another in the second on Joe McCarthy's double, and then scored three more times in the third inning. Wlodarczyk's triple was the big blow of the third inning rally.

Baker scored its first marker in the fourth on two singles and an error. A double by Colton and two walks produced another HC run in the fourth. Then in the fifth inning, the winners really turned on the heat, getting four hits, good for four tallies and the ball game. This ended their scoring.

Baker rallied for two scores in the sixth on singles by J. Oonk, L. Beem and G. Swierenga.

Grand Haven Woman Injured in Accident

Grand Haven, (Special) —An accident Sunday at 8:20 p.m. at the corner of Franklin St. and Beech Tree Rd. involved cars driven by Lester Leonard, 22, of Grand Haven, and Charles Solomon of Lansing. Solomon failed to stop at the stop street. Leonard's wife, Sophie, was taken to Municipal hospital for treatment of leg injuries. Solomon was given a ticket by city police for failure to yield the right of way and failure to stop at the stop street.

Three Accidents In Area Send Five To City Hospital

Four persons from the Grand Rapids area and one Holland resident were admitted to Holland hospital within a few hours Wednesday night following three separate accidents in and near Holland.

An East Grand Rapids woman remained in Holland hospital today for treatment of injuries received in a car-truck crash late Wednesday afternoon at Ninth and Columbia in which a full load of hot asphalt virtually buried the passenger car.

Mrs. Clara Willey, 58, passenger in a car driven by her husband, received bruises to her left arm and chest injuries. Her husband, Clarence M., 60, received a small cut on the forehead and was released after treatment.

Driver of the truck, Dick Boeske, 37, Grand Rapids, traveling south on Columbia, told officers the passenger car failed to stop for the through street, and said he swerved to the left in an effort to avoid the accident.

The impact bounced the car over the curb bordering Lincoln park and tipped the truck over on its side emptying its load of hot asphalt over the car. Boeske was headed with the asphalt to the southern part of the city where paving is under way.

The Willey car was badly damaged and seared by the asphalt which workmen said is heated to 360 degrees. Point of impact was the left side near the rear. The truck was damaged on the right side. The truck driver was not injured.

Police said a summons for failure to yield the right of way to through traffic would be issued the driver of the car.

Another accident Wednesday night involving two cars at the intersection of Castle Park road and the old US-31 sent a Holland woman to the hospital for treatment of shock and minor injuries.

Mrs. Eliza Regnerus, of 1574 Howard Ave., was the only casualty in the crash involving cars driven by her husband and by Thomas Doran Heath of Highland Park, Ill. She was released after treatment.

Health told Allegan deputies that this was his first visit to this section of the state and he did not know the road. He was en route to Castle park to visit friends.

Both cars were towed away. Two Grand Rapids persons were injured, a car was demolished and a big cement abutment was moved in a crash at 2 a.m. today when a car missed the big curve at the railroad tracks at West Olive.

John W. Jones, 42, driver of the car, received a broken left arm and body injuries, and Milo Michelberg, the owner, received possible fractured ribs and multiple facial laceration.

The two found their way to a home nearby and called a taxi. They were admitted to Holland hospital at 2:30 a.m. and at 4:30 a.m. were transferred to Grand Rapids.

Sheriff's officers said the car was traveling south on US-31 and in failing to make the curve moved the heavy abutment knocking down the signal pole. Officers added the abutment was more damaged in this crash than in any other crashes there in the past. They are continuing their investigation.

'New Look' Scheduled For Holland City Hall

The city hall will sport the new look soon.

Common Council Wednesday night gave the Buildings and Grounds committee permission to advertise for bids for a new entrance to the building which would be extended to allow double doors to eliminate drafts in the corridors. This would be on the River Ave. side.

Plans call for a small copper tile roof over the new extension. The motion specified bids not to exceed $1,000.

In discussing improvements at the city hall, Mayor Pro Tem Harry Harrington who presided at the hour-long meeting in the absence of Mayor Bernard De Pree, suggested consideration be given to make the treasurer's office more accessible to persons paying light and water bills.

Grand Haven Boy Wins Soap Box Title for County

James Vickers of Grand Haven nosed out Bill Kolean by an estimated two feet to win the Ottawa county soap box derby crown for the second consecutive year Wednesday night on Columbia St. hill. The winning time over the measured course was 13.5 seconds.

Just across the finish line, Kolean skidded his racer to keep from hitting some spectators and tipped over after colliding with Vickers. Neither driver was injured.

Hundreds of persons jammed Columbia Ave. from 18th St. to 20th St. to view the photo finish races.

Third place went to Dave Rumsey who eked across the finish marker ahead of Vernon Keech. Rumsey's time in the semi-final heat equaled the winning time of 13.5 seconds.

Bill Kolean raced the measured course in the fastest time when he won a thrilling quarter-final heat from Dave Rumsey in 13.3 seconds.

The results of the qualifying runs determined who would race in the quarter-final heats. Clickers with the fastest time, 13.45 seconds, in the qualifying heats was matched against third qualifier Keech, who had 13.75 seconds. Rumsey with his second place qualifying time of 13.7 seconds was pitted against fourth place Kolean, who had 13.85 seconds.

Vickers advanced to the finals by racing across the finish line far ahead of Keech in 13.9 seconds.

Rumsey and Kolean raced side by side down the hill to the accompaniment of the crowd's cheers. Kolean surged one-half length ahead to win his place in the finals in the record shattering time of 13.3 seconds.

The semi-finals consolation race between Rumsey and Keech was another thriller. Rumsey won the heat and ended up in third place in the county derby by a one-half length margin.

Vickers also topped first place in the design. His sleek black and chrome trimmed racer, with regular automobile coil springs and brake bands on the back wheels, was good for first place and 300 points.

Judges were Joe Moran, Leon Moody and Harold J. Haverkamp. Moody served as starter for all races.

Other Grand Haven contestants and their qualifying times were: Walter Bessenger, 15.85 and James Vette, 16.3.

Each contestant was given two time trials and the averages determined who would race in the quarter-finals.

Walter Martynick was chairman of the Grand Haven Jaycee committee in charge of the soap box derby and Bud Knoll, also a Grand Haven soap box committee member, was on hand to help identify the racers.

William Meengs, of the sponsoring Holland Kiwanis club, acted as master of ceremonies.

Vanderveen Hurls 'Perfect' Game

Harve Vanderveen has turned in some excellent performances on the mound for the Dykema Tailors this season, but his exhibition Monday against the Zeeland Coliseum beats all. He hurled a "perfect" game against the invaders, not allowing a hit, a run, or a man to reach first base in the seven inning contest.

Meanwhile his teammates were collecting 10 hits and nine runs to whip the Zeelanders, 9-0. The contest was played on the Pine Ave. diamond.

Vanderveen didn't walk a batter and struck out 12. Every Zeeland hitter, with the exception of Thirdbaseman Barr and Pitcher Howard Bosch, struck out at least once.

The locals were methodical about their run-scoring Monday, jumping to a two run margin in the third inning on two hits. They added two more in the fourth on three hits—all singles.

Five additional tallies crossed the plate in the fifth to turn the contest into a rout. First Baseman Claude Dykema smashed a triple during the rally and Gil Bos followed with a homer.

Circus Stories Thrill Derbyists

Eleven soap box derby entrants were thrilled with circus stories by Al Priddy, Wisconsin master showman, who related many of his experiences at a meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday night in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Youngsters were wide-eyed as the circus trainer told how lights went out in the Big Top the first time he worked as prop boy to a trainer putting 37 lions through their paces in a big cage.

"All I could see was 37 pairs of fiery eyes looking at me. I backed up but my back was against the bars. I was too frightened to scream and all the bad things I had done in my 14 years of living paraded before me. Then the lights went on and I found the lions were going through their paces. Luckily, all the orders were by sound. The next day the trainer and the owner congratulated me on my presence of mind and I didn't dare tell them I was too frightened to scream. Soon I was on the road to becoming a trainer," Priddy said.

"Animals can do and think. They think all the time and lots of times they're a lot smarter than you think. Why shouldn't a cat mew to get out when she knows some dumb human will open the door for her," he said.

Derby Chairman Herbert Bultuis called attention to the county derbies here Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. with four top winners of Holland and Grand Haven competing. He introduced all the boys present, some of them bringing their fathers, and presented each boy with a flashlight.

President Tony Last presented prizes to the winners, a $25 check to Bill Kolean, first place; $15 to David Ramsey, second place; $10 to Roger Esenburg, third place, and $5 to Terry Zylman, fourth place.

Other derby entrants present were Terry Ver Hulst, Gordon Boer, Stanley Jacobs, William Bremer, Bob Holmen, Bob Bowman and Ray Vinstra. Some brought their fathers. Judges also were present.

Lee De Pree of Holland, formerly of Midland, played piano selections. Si Borr treated with cigars in honor of a new daughter who arrived Aug. 5. Tom Longstreet was welcomed as a new member.

School Forest Boasts Stand Of 95,000 Trees

Holland High Biology Classes Plant Trees, Do Replacement Work

A review of work at the Albert C. Keppel Memorial forest, operated by Holland high school, reveals a present stand of at least 95,000 trees on two 40-acre tracts on Lakewood Blvd.

Work on the original Keppel area the past year consisted chiefly of replacement work, checking sand blows, nursery work and general forest management. Work on the other tract obtained a few years ago, consisted of sand stabilization, tree planting and some replacement work.

Throughout the years, approximately 125,000 seedlings and transplants have been planted. Work also involved the preliminary stabilizing of the sand by planting beach grass and by "brushing" on nearly half of the 80 acres.

According to the annual report compiled by Lida Rogers for the Board of Education, the early fall work on the Keppel tract consisted of the usual clean-up work necessary in getting the cabin, fireplaces and yard ready for winter. Seed beds and transplant rows were weeded and cultivated, the shrubs around the cabin were pruned and the ragweed along the drive was destroyed.

On the north 40 a full program of soil stabilization and tree planting was carried out. Each boy worked one day in October on the program and then in December a second day was spent in pruning the large red pine trees east of the cabin. Branches thus pruned were used to make Christmas decorations or to spread on the large sand blow areas in the spring.

During the Christmas vacation, five boys were employed for one day to check over the whole forest and trim out all secondary leads that had developed. This was done under the guidance of a Soil Conservation Service aide.

In the spring, the boys and most of the girls in the seven biology classes spent a third day at the forest. Besides tree planting, they lined out 3,250 scotch pine seedlings into transplant rows; rebuilt four seed bed frames, sowed scotch pine seeds in these, beds, repaired covers for the outdoor fireplaces, restocked the anglemouth pit, cleaned the cabin, made and hung new curtains, raked the yard, and checked over the white pine trees for weevils and destroying them.

On May 26, 30 to 35 young foresters re-enacted various activities at the forest for motion pictures taken by Hilbert Frans.

The forest continues to attract visitors in the field of forestry and conservation. Many former students and ex-servicemen have inspected the forest and during Tulip Time many tourists made use of the picnic facilities.

Food Excellent At Guard Camp

"The food is excellent and the men should return with about 10 more pounds than when they left Holland," writes the correspondent for Holland's National Guard unit now undergoing their annual training at Camp Grayling. The men, 108 in all, arrived at Camp Grayling last Saturday and will return home Aug. 21.

"The first call is at 5:50 a.m. and we have chow at 6:30 a.m. We go out to the field at 7:30 and attend classes until 11:30. Then it's chow time again," writes the correspondent.

He explains that the men undergo a comprehensive training schedule on many phases of Army life, nomenclature and firing of the M1 rifle, pistol, carbine and mortar. Lyle Vander Ploeg, one of the newer members of the guard, carded a perfect score on the rifle range.

Here is a menu as given by the correspondent: Fried chicken, asparagus, potatoes, gravy and cantaloupe. Flatbreads of fried eggs are offered the men on many mornings, he writes.

Protestant church services are held in the camp on Sunday morning, while two Catholic Masses are held.

Van Liere Hurls 1-Hit Shutout

No matter who the Holland Color Ad baseball team puts on the mound, the result usually means the same thing—a well pitched shutout. Friday night it was Claire Van Liere who turned in a masterful one hit white-wash job on the Hamilton nine on the losers' diamond. The final count was 1-0.

Meanwhile his teammates were having considerable difficulty with the pitching of M. Johnson who permitted just five safeties—two going to Ted Bos, catcher.

Holland netted its only marker in the first inning when Van Liere doubled and came home on a single by Bob Borgman.

Although Van Liere struck out nine batters and walked only three, it took some fancy fielding on the part of his infield to pull him out of trouble. Once in the sixth inning his colleagues executed a double play to snuff a possible Hamilton rally, and again in the seventh they did the same thing with two runners on base.

Hamilton's only blow was delivered by Centerfielder R. Wentzel in the sixth inning.

In the last four Wooden Shoe league contests, Color Ad pitching has permitted no runs and a combined total of only five hits.

Mrs. John Donald French (Linger photo)

French-Lucking Vows Spoken in Kalamazoo

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Lucking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lucking of Kalamazoo, and John Donald French, son of Mrs. J. D. French, 1113 South Shore Dr., and the late Mr. French, was solemnized Saturday at 8 p.m. in Stetson chapel on the Kalamazoo college campus.

The Rev. Abraham De Yoning, former pastor of First Reformed church, Kalamazoo, officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 275 guests.

Palms, candelabra and vase arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of Hope college played the traditional organ music and accompanied Tim Harrison who sang "Through the Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian style wedding gown of ivory bridal satin cut with a drop neckline and fitted bodice, long sleeves, full skirt and train. Her veil of sheer illusion edged with Alencon lace was caught into a wide satin headband accented with rosettes. Her arm bouquet of white roses featured a white satin bow.

Miss Mary Van Loo of Kalamazoo, maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow taffeta similar to the bride's, but with a full net skirt and contrasting purple sash. Her Mary Stuart hat of yellow taffeta was decorated with purple ribbons. She wore yellow mitts and carried an arm bouquet of purple gladioli tied with yellow chiffon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Peggy French of Holland, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Leon Hikade of Grand Rapids, wore identical gowns of Nile green taffeta with net skirts. They also wore Mary Stuart hats and mitts to match their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of purple gladioli edged with green shirring and ties.

Charlotte and Gail Butler, small cousins of the groom, were flower girls. They were attired in white taffeta dresses and wore bands of yellow rose buds in their hair.

Ernest Meusens of Holland was best man and the ushers were Richard Lucking of Kalamazoo, brother of the bride, Robert Snow and Ernest Post, Jr., of Holland, and W. Wayne Sailors of Sturgis.

THE QUESTION OF
"PRIVILEGE"

In the recent Allegan Gazette
libel case that ended in a jury
disagreement the general public
in this section had a first-hand
opportunity to get acquainted with the difficulties and hazards
of news gathering and news dissemination. Any newspaper man anywhere soon gets used to the fact that the average citizen is
under the densest misapprehension about the material he sees
in his daily paper.

In the Allegan case two citizens
of that area charged that the Allegan paper had libeled them
and hence had damaged them to the extent of $10,000's worth.
The jury couldn't decide whether
this had or had not been done,
and so that question must be held
in abeyance for the present.

But a surprisingly large number of citizens are firmly convinced that when they carry a
story of skullduggery to an editor
and it does not appear, said editor
is in league with the crook
or crooks and is protecting him
or them. The citizen does not stop to think that the editor can be dragged into court, and often
is, as was shown in the Allegan
case. His paper is financially responsible for the truth of every word that is printed, and he must always be able to prove every word in court by evidence that
will stand up in a legal sense.
This fact soon develops in my
newspaper man a sense of responsibility that the average citizen
does not even begin to appreciate.

But along with it goes a sense
of responsibility to print the facts even though they are unpleasant to individuals or the general public. In the Allegan case the editor testified that he felt it his duty to print the story
that dragged him into court.
Whatever may or may not be true in this case, that is often
true in any newspaper office.

Least of all does the average
reader understand the question
of "privilege" in news reporting.
If a citizen has been accused of being a crook in a public document like an indictment or a warrant, a newspaper may quote such allegation without fear of prosecution. But if a newsman knows
in the depths of his heart and soul
that a man is a crook, he has to keep still about it in print if he does not wish to be haled into court.

There is a deep and widespread
ignorance on the part of the general public about the law of libel,
especially as it is affected by this question of "privilege." Occasionally a libel case like the one in the Allegan court is a reminder of the fact that there are hazards
in the distribution of news that
many are likely to forget.

Dorcas, a Woman of Good Works
Acts 9:36-42

by Henry Geerlings

Dorcas was one of those women
of means and leisure who were to be found in the apostolic church,
and whose ability and willingness
to minister to their fellow Christians accounted for their prominence in the communities to which they belonged. But we need not suppose that her activities were confined to making the coats and
the garments which the widows displayed after her death. Her house may have been one of those
in which a congregation met; and if so there would have been wide scope for her energies. At all events she was a person of considerable importance in the church
at Joppa and one whose loss was a matter of the gravest concern.

Woman's work in the church
dates back to New Testament times. Nearly every woman among the early disciples mentioned in the gospels and the epistles is associated with some form of Christian service. The primitive
churches were hives of industry.
A subtle change had come over
the position of women since the dawn of Christianity, and we find them taking their place in the Christian community with a simple dignity men and women alike,
servants of the Lord Christ.

What were the qualities Dorcas
used in her Master's service?
They were mainly two—a loving Christ-taught heart, and a skillful generous hand.

Dorcas was a woman with a loving heart. It is said that prosperity gains friends but adversity
tries them. It was not so with her.
Adversity to her was the sole passport to friendship. Wherever need
or sickness, poverty or death,
were stretching out pale and pitiful hands, there was always one
hand ready to grasp them and lift
them up. And thus she was always wanted. For as long as the world lasts the cry of human need
will always be heard, and they
who can hear it and answer it will never be out of request. And being in request, they will always be happy.

How was Dorcas led to her life
of loving helpfulness? No doubt
there was something in her environment; that pointed that way.
She appears to stand alone in the world. She appears, too, to have been in easy if not affluent circumstances. She had time to devote life to something else than her own support. In a self-centered
life there are few conditions
more certain to spell out misery
and ill-health. No need to work!
No interest in life.

Dorcas would have been in a sad plight if it had not been for one thing the main thing in all
her history, the mainspring of all
her activities, the keynote of all
the beautiful music of life she loved her Lord. But she learned to some purpose. She had learned
the meaning of that new commandment, love one another as I have loved you. And she had learned that a truth becomes altogether different when it is realized in action.

Not only did she have the price-
less gift of a loving heart, she had
also a skillful, enterprising hand.
Looking into the satchel of her
possibilities, she saw that she did not have many talents there. She was not what the world would call a gifted woman. She could not prophecy like the daughter of Prippli. She had a skillful hand. And
she was a woman of initiative,
who could strike out a new idea
and to realize it. In the meeting,
while the others were preaching
and praying, she would be silent;
but when the meeting was over
you would have seen her in her
little home busy early and late,
making garments by which she
clothed the widows and orphans
of Joppa. And thus, without knowing it, she became a kind of pioneer in Christian work, and made herself famous in the church as
the founder of Dorcas societies.

What wonders the needle has wrought since then in the hands
of loving women; what garments
it has made to clothe the hungry;
what churches it has built; what
missions it has equipped.

When Dorcas died we get a glimpse of the scene—all the windows stood by weeping and showing the garments she had made.
We see now sincerely she was mourned. She had not only done
good but she was good. And now
they felt she had died too soon.

In their trouble some one thought
of Peter who was only a few miles
off. The apostle came, no doubt,
only to sympathize. But he found himself in an atmosphere of earnest believing prayer and he recalled the unforgetting scene when his Master restored the daughter of Jairus to life. He lifted up his heart to God, and then, gently
and softly, yet knowing that the Holy Spirit was breathing in the words, he said, "Tabitha arise."

The closed eyelids looked out on life again. She came back to her old work; doubtless, at first, with a little regret. She had been well
content to depart and be with Christ; but soon the needs and sorrows of Joppa would absorb
her longing heart once more.

was done to the car. Witnesses
told police the signal lights were

No Primaries for Probate Judge

Grand Haven, Aug. 19 (Special).
—No primary election will be necessary for probate judge and
circuit court commissioners, county leaders were informed Monday.
Prosecutor Howard W. Fant received an opinion from Chief Assistant Attorney General Elburn Parsons, based on facts that only
two candidates have filed nominating petitions for probate judge,
and that there are no candidates
for circuit court commissioners.

County Clerk William Wilds
had been instructed to certify the names of incumbent Cora Vander
Water and Frederick T. Miles, Jr., as candidates for probate judge in the November election. The November ballot will provide
spaces for write-in names for circuit court commissioners.

Holland Ponders
Entry Into Loop

"Chances are excellent for a Holland baseball club to enter
the Michigan-Indiana semi-pro
baseball league next season," Russ Vander Poel, booking manager for the Holland Flying Dutchmen, reported Monday.

Vander Poel made the statement following a conference with Tate Edgell, a representative of the semi-pro league, Friday.
"There is one condition, however, Holland must install more
and better seating facilities at Riverview Park," he said. Edgell
has visited Holland on several occasions and is impressed with the condition of the diamond, but
said the seating facilities at the park must be greatly improved if
a local club would be admitted to the loop.

"We are going to think about it
awhile and try to find out the reaction of the fans to the idea,"
Vander Poel said.

The league is one of the strongest semi-pro loops in this area of the country and includes such clubs as Lafayette, Kenosha, St.
Joe Auscos, Benton Harbor, Ft.
Wayne and South Bend.

Strength of the league can be determined from the fact that the St. Joe Auscos in the 1947 season
captured the National Semi-pro
championship at Wichita, Kans.
Star player on the squad is Benny McCoey formerly of the Detroit
Tigers and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Other sportsmen in this area,
who have been quizzed on the
idea, are enthusiastic about the
plan to bring high class baseball
to this city.

The league plays Sunday baseball, but a schedule could be arranged to exclude Holland from doing so, if they so desire, it was reported.

Tour Light Plant

Grand Haven, Aug. 19 (Special).
—On Wednesday and Thursday,
visiting Mexican officials visited
the Grand Haven Municipal light
plant. Paul Artigas and Pedro Lubere of Mexico City, who are members of the Mexican government power commission came to Grand Haven with Louis C. Rove
O. Milwaukee. With them was A.
A. Elizondo, Mexican representative for Nordberg Mfg. Co. The Mexican government is building a diesel generating plant in Mexico
City similar to the Grand Haven
municipal plant. Artigas and Lubere studied the operations of the Grand Haven plant and also visited several manufacturing firms here that are supplied with power by the light plant.

Nature Lubbers

Holland
In 1915

After City Attorney McBride
had made his ruling that the common council and that body only
had the power to purchase or delegate the power of purchase of motor fire apparatus, a vote on the question of purchasing a fire
truck was taken and the council
killed the proposed purchase for some time to come by a vote of 8 to 3, according to a story appearing in the Wednesday, Aug.
18, issue of the Holland Daily
Sentinel published in 1915.

watching the Kalamazoo river,
near Saugatuck, recently for violators of the state fish laws who have been in the habit of slipping
into Michigan from Chicago for a

a get away. Sunday the state deputy made it a point to be on the Kalamazoo and rounded up a Chi-

neglected to secure a license.

26. Mrs. F. J. Vos of Holland is association and Holland is represented by still another officer,

Mrs. R. N. De Merell, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Etta Whitman
is superintendent of mothers' meetings.

The Ottawa County Rural Carriers held their annual election of officers last night. Anthony Ros-
bach was elected president; Gerrit
Rutgers, vice president; John Brinkman, secretary and treasurer. The executive board is composed of B. Vander Heide, Zeeland; Joe Padmos, Hudsonville,
and Dick Oosting, Holland. A re-

was given by Clifford Hopkins
who was the Ottawa delegate at the convention in Detroit.

About 500 people attended the Trinity church Sunday school picnic at Castle Park yesterday.
The picnic was a complete success
in every way. It seems that things
passed off too smoothly as trouble
was bound to come before the picnickers could get home. Soon
after they started for home on the Holland Interurban cars, all the power went out of the line because of a burned out switch and
the picnickers were stranded at various intervals between Holland
and Castle Park. It was more than two hours before cars got in motion again. People who had gone to the picnic in automobiles
learning of the plight of the people in the cars, made frequent trips to Holland. Jitney bus men

the price went up to 50c per passenger up came the Dutch and
the jitney men received very little
trade at that price. This news

Judge Dissolves
Water Injunction

Allegan, Aug. 19.—Allegan City Council was read to proceed Tuesday with plans to improve the
city's water system after Circuit
Judge Raymond L. Smith dissolved a temporary injunction and
dismissed a case to halt such improvements.

Judge Smith's ruling was announced late Monday afternoon after a hearing in Circuit Court in which attorneys for the six plaintiffs contended a three-fifths
vote was necessary to pass such a bond issue. They said of 1,023
votes cast in a recent special election, 428 or 42 1/2 per cent opposed the issue. Plaintiffs believed an expenditure of $18,000
would accomplish the same purpose as the city's plan which calls
for an outlay of $125,000.

Appearing for the defendants
were City Manager Philip H.
Beauvais; Roscoe E. Myers, assistant general manager at Blood
Bro. Machine Co.; George Up-
dyke, insurance agent; Mrs. Esther Morris, administrator of Allegan Health Center, and John E.
Vogt, sanitary engineer for the state Department of Health. All testified of the great need for better water facilities.

Plaintiffs' attorneys said they would appeal the case. Plaintiffs are Oliver Hayward, Edward Whitney, Glenn Thompson, Floyd
J. Rockwell, Joseph Mosier and Charles Peck. Defendants are the city of Allegan, City Manager
Beauvais and five councilmen.

Katherine Vander Hulst, 39, of Zeeland, was recovering in Hulzinga Memorial hospital Monday from injuries received when she was hit by a car Saturday
afternoon while walking on M-21
near Waverly road.

Thrown 20 feet by the impact,
Miss Vander Hulst received a frac-
tured collar bone and other bruises as well as shock. Hospital authorities said she would be released
in a day or two. She had recovered consciousness by the time she arrived at the hospital in a Holland ambulance.

Driver of the car, 16-year-old
Les Woodwyk, also of Zeeland,
told officers he lost control as he was riding east on M-21. His car
left the road and hit Miss Vander Hulst who was walking on the sidewalk. The car swung around in the opposite direction and rolled
over on its side.

Woodwyk was accompanied by
his younger brother, Anthony, 15.
Neither was injured.

Sheriff's officers indicated they probably would charge Woodwyk's
father with allowing an unlicensed
driver to operate a car.

The Woodwyks live about two blocks from the Vander Hulsts in Zeeland.

Holland Wins Slugfest From Kalamazoo Club

Locals Connect for 17 Hits and 16 Runs; Wlodarczyk Leads

It was all hitting and no pitching in the Flying Dutchmen-Kalamazoo Porter Sullivan encounter at Riverview Park Monday night. All told, 28 runs were scored and 32 hits boomed in Riverview Park during the three hour clash, Holland finally won 16-12.

Holland garnered 17 safeties, while the losing Cubs managed to connect for 15 hits.

It was the second victory for the locals over the Kalamazoo Cubs, managed by Coach Charlie Maher of Western Michigan college. Holland used two pitchers, Lefty Van Wieren and Bob Vandenberg in the contest, while Kalamazoo used three flingers in an effort to stem the tide.

Oddly enough the first two innings were scoreless, with both pitchers settling down to what looked like it might be a pitcher's duel. But the fourth inning quickly disproved any reasoning of that kind.

Kalamazoo broke into the scoring column first with four runs in the third with the help of a three run homer into the left field stands by Leftfielder Thomas.

Holland waited until the fourth inning to open their scoring bid—but it was worth waiting for. Five solid singles and a double by Lou Borgman sent six runners across, giving Holland a 6-4 margin.

After a scoreless fourth, the Cubs retaliated in their fifth to once again move into the lead. They combined three hits with a walk and a balk by Pitcher Lefty Van Wieren to push across three runs, making the count, Kalamazoo 7, Holland 6.

The Dutchmen moved in front 8-7 in their fifth on four hits and an error. Lefty Van Wieren highlighted the rally with a double to left field. Holland added another in their sixth inning to take another two run lead, 9-7.

But the stubborn Kalamazoo laid fought back valiantly and again knotted the count in their seventh, on a double, a triple and a walk. Holland quickly dampened their hopes for a victory, however when the locals pounded out three hits, good for five runs to take a 14-9 margin.

Everyone in the park thought that the Cubs would quit at this point—that is everyone but the Cubs themselves. With two runners on in the eighth Rightfielder Bauman took hold of a fast ball of Bob Vandenberg, who had relieved Van Wieren on the mound, and sent it into the left field stands. The score now stood, Holland 14, Kalamazoo 12.

Holland quickly assured the ultimate victory, however, in their eighth with two more runs. The Cubs went scoreless in their ninth inning.

Frank Wlodarczyk led the locals at bat with three hits in three trips to the plate, while Rightfielder Bauman had four out of four for the Porter Sullivan Cubs.

Booking Manager Russ Vander Poel also announced today that the originally scheduled game with the Chicago Neva Billiards has been cancelled. A new foe will be announced later.

Dick Is Missing; So Is Used Car

Holland police remained on the lookout Tuesday for 21-year-old Dick Van Dyke of Holland who is among the missing with a used car owned by United Auto Sales.

The search is just another link in a long chain of events which started when the young man took a '36 model from the car lot on a trial basis Saturday.

Later that afternoon, police received a call that there was a reckless driver in the vicinity of Seventh and Central. They investigated but the car had left. A half hour later they were informed the same car was involved in an accident near that intersection. They found an occupant in the car, but the man said he could not identify the driver who had picked him up. The accident was a minor affair in which the used car hit another in backing from a parking stall.

On Sunday morning, a representative of United Auto Sales informed police the youth had taken a second car on a trial basis Saturday afternoon. Van Dyke said his mother had just arrived in Holland by bus and was too tired to come down to the lot. In good faith, the firm let the youth take the second car, a '33 model.

The youth has not returned to the place he was staying on East Eighth St. since Saturday afternoon, police said. He also had been staying on East 18th St.

Shamrocks Bow To HC Outfit; Forfeit Mars Play

The regularly scheduled Lions league doubleheader turned out to be a single contest Saturday afternoon when Ford Phillies were forced to forfeit their game to Fillmore, because of a lack of players. In the first contest, the score was worse than a forfeit, with Hart and Cooley drubbing Duffy's Shamrocks, 22-3. Duffy was forced to play the contest without several of its stars.

Hart and Cooley wasted little time with the hapless Duffy club, connecting for 15 runs in the first three innings off Howie Schutt, Duffy flinger. Eight hits, many extra base blows, highlighted the scoring spree. An eight run third was their biggest scoring inning. Frank Wlodarczyk with two home runs in two innings was the hitting star.

The winners added two more in the fourth, three in the sixth and two in the seventh to complete their scoring.

Duffy garnered its only scores in the fifth inning on two hits and a walk. There might have been a few more tallies, if an alert HC infield hadn't executed the first tripe play of the Lions league season.

HC batters combined on 13 hits compared to three for the Duffy aggregation. Frank Wlodarczyk was the winning pitcher.

Heaters Annex District Title With 13-4 Win

The Holland Furnace company softball aggregation heaped glory upon itself Monday night when it captured the Western Michigan District softball title at Grand Haven. The locals easily disposed of the Camfield Pop Ups outfit, 13-4 to earn the right to represent this district in the Regional meet to be played at Grand Rapids next week.

Their next foe will be the winner of the Allegan district tournament which is scheduled to end this week. This contest between the locals and Allegan is slated for 9 p. m. at the Ann and Turner athletic field next Monday night.

Holland had earned the right to compete in the Grand Haven finals last week by hurdling the Lake Engine Co., 8-0.

It was Cork Weener, on the mound Monday night, who gained turned the victory leaf for his second victory of the District tournament. He allowed just four scattered safeties, striking out five Grand Haven batters in going the distance.

The Heaters bats were far from silent. Altogether the hickory boomed for 11 hits, including many extra base blows. Camfield took a two run lead in the first inning on two hits, but the Heaters came back with six in their second to virtually clinch the victory at this point. The Hollanders added six more in the fourth inning as a matter of "insurance".

The winners notched their final tally in the fifth, while Grand Haven pushed its last marker across in the seventh inning.

Ken Bauman led the local offense with three hits in four times at bat. John Tuls, Furnace catcher, garnered two safeties

Dutchmen Eke 11-10 Decision Over Kalamazoo

Van Wieren Homer In Eighth Is Clincher; Skaalen Is Winner

A terrific inside-the-park homer with two runners on by Harold (Mouse) Van Wieren in the last half of the eighth inning enabled the Holland Flying Dutchmen to eke out a 11-10 decision over the Kalamazoo Sutherland club at Riverview Park Thursday night.

The win gave the Dutchmen two victories out of three games played with the potent Celery City aggregation.

With the score 8-6 against them, the locals settled down to the business of "blitzkrieging" a late rally for the victory. Don Mulder opened the inning with a single behind second base. The next two batters were retired, before Ken Rotman sent Mulder home on a double. Tony Wentzel walked, but Harry De Neff rifled a double over third base, scoring Rotman. At this point, starting pitcher Lester was relieved by the ace of the Kalamazoo staff, Neal Webster. After taking two strikes from Webster, Van Wieren took good hold of a blinding fast ball and sent it soaring to the extremities of the park in centerfield, with three runners streaking home.

Sutherland threatened seriously in their half of the ninth, getting two runs, with the tying run resting on third base when the ball game ended.

Kalamazoo opened the tilt with a lone tally in the first, but Holland moved ahead in the second with three markers on three hits. The invaders, once again took a one run lead in the third with three scores in the third. They added another in the fourth to lead 5-3.

A double steal sent Mulder home with the fourth local run in inning No. 4. Holland finally knotted the count in the sixth on a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Mulder.

The losers forged ahead 7-5 in the seventh when Shortstop Kribbs sent a homer over the right field fence with a runner on. Holland retaliated with one in their half of the inning, while a determined Kalamazoo club matched the scoring with another in their eighth.

Mike Skaalen went all the way for Holland, allowing 16 safeties, while Lester and Webster permitted 16 safeties also. Ken Rotman led the Dutchmen with four hits in five trips to the plate.

Outstanding fielding play was turned in by young George Czerkies who made a running one handed catch of a hard hit line drive in the fifth inning.

Pilgrim Home cemetery No. 3 has an impressive entrance of Indiana Bedford stone. On the left is committal chapel now being remodeled to eliminate dampness and to provide a more convenient seating arrangement. A building of similar design on the right is the administration building. Chapel improvements are done by regular cemetery employees who are skilled in construction, plumbing, painting and maintaining the grounds, as well as the work connected with burials.

Chapel Improvements Under Way at Cemetery

Improvements to Pilgrim Home committal chapel to eliminate dampness and provide a more convenient seating arrangement are under way at Pilgrim Home cemeteries, just east of the city on 16th St.

Remodeling consists of raising the floor 18 inches and providing a new entrance in the small chapel which flanks the entrance to Pilgrim Home cemetery 3.

All work on chapel improvements is being done by regular cemetery employees, who are skilled in construction, plumbing and other necessary tasks. They are also accomplished in planting and caring for shrubs, flowers and other work to keep the grounds at their best, as well as the work with burials.

Another improvement under construction is the paving of the west road in the new section of the cemetery. This work is expected to be completed by Sept. 1.

One of the days when a cemetery meant only a burial place. Today Pilgrim Home cemeteries, particularly the new development, are settings of rare beauty with well kept lawns and attractively laid out shrubbery.

Services in the local cemeteries are comparable to those offered in large memorial parks, and it is the opinion of many that local cemeteries far outrank those in most cities of like size. Lots are now sold only with perpetual care. Persons who already own lots have the privilege of paying for annual or perpetual care. Funds for perpetual care are turned in to a trust fund in which interest is used for operating costs.

It is the aim of Common Council to have Pilgrim Home cemeteries self-supporting. This goal is in sight through the careful planning and management of Supt. Dick Smallenburg, who plans the landscaping and other work on the grounds; Ralph W. Sager, who directs office affairs and sales work; and Jacob De Graaf, assistant superintendent who supervises the force and assists with sales.

Cemetery work is carefully divided into a year-round program, with employees given different tasks for the seasons. The department is well mechanized, resulting in a substantial saving in manpower. Employees mow the grass, water lawns, maintain roads, remove snow, plant grass and shrubbery, trim trees, lay foundations for monuments, service and overhaul machinery, rake leaves and develop fertilizers as well as regular burial tasks.

Of particular interest in the new cemetery are the beautifully designed shrubbery spots with well trimmed privet hedges; the dwarf shrubs of mugo pine, a low growing ornamental pine; yews in globes and pyramids; goldspike arbutus and woodward arbutus encircled with low bushes of hybrid tea roses which bloom until frost. During May, large beds of tulips provide splashes of color.

Roadways are planted with Moerheim blue spruce, Japanese blueleaf maples, ginkgoes (Chinese maidenhair trees), Norway maples, Schwedlerie maples, hard maples and purple beeches. Other trees are Kentucky coffee trees, mountain ash, chestnut, Kwancan cherry, pin oak, and ornamental plum and apple trees.

New Stars Sign With Hurricanes

There was plenty of room for optimism in the Holland Hurricane football camp today following a spirited meeting with Owner Fred Bocks and Coaches Len Van Hoven and Curly Wiegertink Thursday night.

Included among the new players reporting are two all-conference players, with one holding an all state honor. The all-state candidate is 195-pound Pat Garzoni of Coopersville who was named to the honor squad in 1945. Another star reporting is Norm Baggott, All Southwest conference center from Grand Haven High.

Other new faces are Chuck Taylor, a back from Grand Haven; Lawrence Dennis, from Ludington; Lawrence McCormick, a center from Holland High; Rudy Biele, of Holland and Melvin Ellsworth of Allendale, formerly of the Grand Rapids All Stars.

An invading Zeeland Van's aggregation humbled the Virginia Park nine on the losers diamond Thursday night, by a 7-1 margin. Zeeland was in command all the way, with the Parkers scoring only in their last inning.

The winners tallied twice in the first inning on two hits and an error, and then upped their total to three in the third inning. A double and two singles in the fourth produced two more tallies making the score 5-0.

Meanwhile the Parkers were doing practically nothing with the pitches of Able, Zeeland flinger. Zeeland ended its scoring with single tallies in the fifth and seventh innings.

The losers managed to combine a hit, a walk and a pair of Zeeland errors for two markers in their final inning. The damage was already done, and Zeeland went home with an easy triumph. Standings in the Wooden Shoe league, including last night's game as compiled by the league statistician are:

Inquest Under Consideration in Green Lake Case

A coroner's inquest into the triple drowning last Wednesday in Green lake in Allegan county will probably be called as the result of a meeting of Green lake residents Monday night, Allegan Sheriff Louis Johnson said today.

The informal hearing, conducted by Sheriff Johnson and Allegan Prosecutor Chester A. Ray, also revealed the identity of another boat operator who may have been responsible for the heavy wake which swamped a rowboat sending three Jamestown residents to their death.

A large crowd attended the meeting at the roller rink. Johnson said many property owners appeared belligerent over practices which led to the drowning, and mapped plans to form an association to promote safety and general improvements. Property owners scheduled another meeting next Monday night.

Johnson said the resort area at Green lake has grown rapidly the last few years and the roads and other facilities are inadequate for traffic demands.

Residents also asked for full-time policing. Johnson said the Board of Supervisors has made no provision in the budget for this type of patrol work, but he probably will appoint a couple special deputies for work in that area. He said he has one deputy within two miles of the lake.

(de Vries photo) Henry D. Strabbing who has been carrying mail out of Hamilton for 38 years has seen many changes in the mode of delivery. Top picture shows Strabbing at right with three colleagues before their mail wagons in the early days when routes were 17 miles long. Left to right are carriers John G. Kroonmeyer, John Kroonmeyer, Gerrit Koelker and Strabbing. Middle picture shows Strabbing's contrived snowmobile which had skis on the front and extra wheels at the rear. Bottom picture shows how today's carrier manages to get around in the heavy snow.

Carrier's Travel Equals 17 Times Around World

Hamilton, Aug. 18 — For 38 years the Henry D. Strabbing of route 1, Hamilton, have had no mail delivery by carrier.

All this, however, will be different after Aug. 31. The reason?

Aug. 31 is the birthday anniversary of Mr. Strabbing, mail carrier for route 1, and on that day he will retire from the U.S. postal service after 38 years as a carrier. All these years were spent in service with the Hamilton post office, under four postmasters and one postmistress. Herman Nyhoff is currently the postmaster.

Altogether, Strabbing figures that he has covered some 425,000 miles, equivalent to 17 times around the earth. For 7 1/2 years he covered 17 miles a day; for 17 years, 3 miles a day; for six years, 41 miles a day; and for eight years over his current route, 56 miles a day. As better modes of transportation came about, routes became longer.

Formerly, the Hamilton office served four routes. These were consolidated into two routes in the fall of 1915. On March 2, 1908, Strabbing, having passed his civil service examination, became a carrier. At that time his salary was $630 a year.

From 1908 to 1911, horse and buggy served to carry the mail the year around. From then until 1917, Strabbing used a motorcycle in summer and horse and sleigh in winter until 1917.

"Gas was then 11 cents a gallon, and it took me a half gallon for my 17-mile route," he recalls. In 1917, Strabbing bought a Ford touring car, the cheapest touring car then available, for $360. This he used during the summer for several years. In winter, it was put on jacks, and out came the trusty sleigh.

Although, Strabbing used six horses, two motorcycles, one snowmobile attachable to a car, and 19 automobiles for carrying mail. His load increased from one motorcycle load to a carload of one to 10 pouches. His route serves 300 boxes in Benheim, Oakland, Diamond Springs and environs.

Last winter was bad, Strabbing recalls. Detours were common and sometimes the 56-mile route was extended to 100 because of detours. One time a detour through Allegan was necessary. As for trouser seats, Strabbing says cars with right-hand drive are available for carriers, but few purchase them because they are hard to resell. When cars are plentiful, carriers like to change every year.

Strabbing recalls one humorous incident in which a man sent a rat killer at $1 apiece. "One for me and one for my father-in-law!" the man said.

When retired, Strabbing will spend his time doing the things he likes to do. He likes to take pictures—he has a wonderful collection of photographs depicting his years of service. He likes to fish with the casting rod he won at the Holland Fish and Game club banquet last spring. He also likes to work in his garden and do some traveling.

A civic-minded sort, Strabbing served several years as a member and officer of the Board of Education, and also as an officer in the Hamilton Community Welfare association. He has been a Sunday school teacher more than 30 years and a Sunday school superintendent for 10 years, also an elder and clerk of the consistory of Hamilton Reformed church for many years.

3-Year-Old Viola Joan Holland's V-J Symbol

Saturday, the third anniversary of V-J day, held special significance for this winsome miss, who not only was born on V-J day three years ago but was named Viola Joan in keeping with the initials of the great day which marked victory over Japan.

She is Viola Joan Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kline of Port Sheldon.

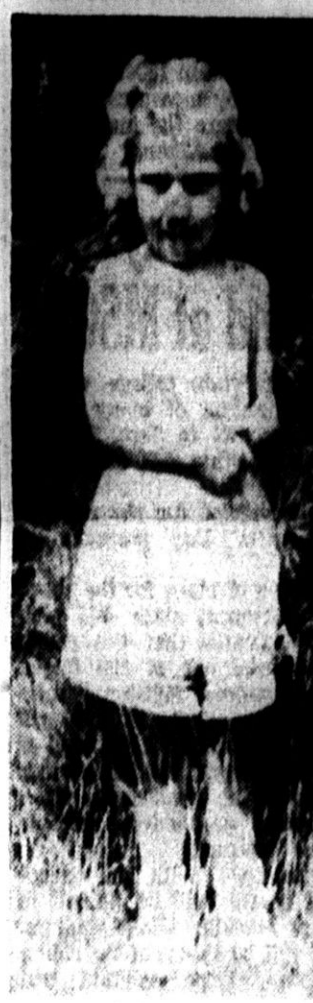

Aug. 14, 1945, was a day for wild celebration in Holland and elsewhere in the country. Shortly after the momentous announcement at 6 p.m. that peace had been declared, people, automobiles and vehicles of all kinds converged on the business district with horns blowing, cow bells ringing, streamers flying and hoarded illegal fireworks exploding.

That the long double lines of traffic made little progress in the din was of little account—nobody was going anywhere anyway.

Holland firemen responded to six alarms, all false, although one was called for a meat market where a spray system for fresh produce gave the effect of smoke.

More gas was probably burned in a few hours and more gears shifted than at any time since the last big Tulip Time traffic jam in Holland. After four hours of heavy traffic, the newspapers, streamers, tissue paper and other litter was reduced to a dirty rubble.

No V-J day celebration was planned in Holland this year, but last year the anniversary came in the midst of Holland's Centennial celebration which brought four full days of activity with such features as parades, programs, picnics, a horse show, swimming meet, merchant's picnic, a religious convocation, and a soap box derby.

Wheat Disease Found in State

L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, has received information from Dr. Muncie, Michigan State college, that the wheat disease "Take-all" was located in several areas of Michigan in 1948. Dr. Muncie says the new disease has come to Michigan primarily because of lack of rotation of this crop. The disease is known as "Take-all" because of its rapid killing of the affected parts. It is a fungus disease. The fungus grows on basal stems of wheat and certain grasses.

The disease is recognized by the black color to black discoloration at the base of the stem sometimes extending two inches above the soil line. Roots turn brown or rot off. Plants are much shorter and heads appear to ripen prematurely. Affected heads produce little seeds or kernels that are light and chaffy. In most cases the disease is found where wheat follows wheat.

With proper rotation the fungus is held in check. But when wheat follows wheat there is a rapid increase of the parasite and under wet conditions the wheat is attacked. So far as is known all varieties of wheat are susceptible to this disease. Seed treatment seems to be of no use.

Arnold urges farmers to recall that Sept. 19-20 is recognized as "Fly Free" date for escape of trouble from Hessian fly. Little complaints from farmers have been made due to this insect. However continued early planting could well bring on an invasion of this pest.

The Yorkwin wheat seems to have met with great favor throughout Michigan. Arnold believes that this wheat will become the most popular one in Ottawa county.

Fire Dangers Listed By MSC Forester

A warning to Michigan campers and tourists concerning forest fires was given this week by L. A. Carter, forester at Michigan State college.

Already this year, the state has suffered several disastrous fires. Carter points out that the toll taken by these fires is heavy. Even light burning fires cause this high mortality in the forest.

Tests have shown that nearly 100 per cent of small trees up to seven feet tall are killed by light burning fires and trees from one-fourth to four inches in diameter are also destroyed.

Larger trees suffer bark injuries that expose them to wood rotting fungi and insects. Carter urges that persons who build fires in wooded areas take all precautions to prevent spreading of fires.

Control Suggested For Grasshoppers

Michigan farmers are being troubled by grasshoppers in some areas, Ray Jones, extension entomologist at Michigan State college, reports.

While the infestation is spotty, most counties of the state have a grasshopper problem to some extent. Favorite haunts of the hoppers are pastures, orchards, and gardens.

Jones advises poison bait as grasshopper control. The bait can be mixed in small amounts by using bran or a mixture of bran and sawdust. Use six pounds of the mixture of the bran to six ounces of sodium fluosilicate and moisten to a point so a little water comes out when squeezed. Six pounds, spread thinly, is sufficient to cover one-third of an acre. The bait should be put out in the morning.

Care should be taken to keep the poison bait from children and animals, Jones cautions.

Farmers with badly infested crops can get information on other control measures from their county agricultural agent.

Epidemic of Rare Money Continues

The rare money market is good in Holland.

Today, Mrs. Alex Barnum, of 4351 Central Ave., submitted for inspection three old bills. Two were Confederate bills printed in 1864, one for $100 and the other for $20. The third was United States fractional currency for 25 cents. The latter is still legal tender. She said the bills had been in the Barnum family for many years.

Mrs. R. H. Mulder, of 249 West 17th St., has a time-worn souvenir in the form of a 10-cent bill, printed, she believed, in 1804. The fractional currency measures 2 1/2 by 3 inches and bears the manual signature of John Allison.

Farmers' Day to Be Held at MSC

Michigan State college will be the destination of many rural youths Aug. 31 to Sept. 3, when the annual State 4-H show convenes.

Also scheduled for the week is the Farmers' Day program on Sept. 2. In telling of plans for the show, A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader, indicates that this year's show will be one of the finest. Fifteen hundred registered delegates are expected and they will bring approximately 1,400 head of livestock. Several thousand other exhibits in the handicraft, crops, and home economics divisions are also expected.

All livestock, with the exception of horses, will be housed in the new Macklin Field stadium. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn. Other exhibits will be shown in the college auditorium.

A full week of activities has been planned for the 4-H boys and girls while they are in East Lansing. Evening programs will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday nights and will feature top-flight entertainment.

Since many farm families come to the MSC campus for the big youth event, Farmers' Day has been set as Thursday, Sept. 2.

During Farmers' Day, the college farms and barns will be open for inspection so visitors may see the Michigan Agricultural Experiment station. Members of the school of agriculture staff will be stationed at various locations to explain the experiments and to consult with farmers on agricultural problems and techniques.

Hatchery Conference Is Stated at Michigan State

The annual Hatchery conference will be held at Michigan State college on Sept. 15 and 16, according to an announcement made this week.

Michigan poultrymen are invited to attend the sessions of the two-day conference and also will be welcome at the banquet to be held the first night of the conference.

Highlight of the banquet program will be a report by John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college, on his trip to Europe. He recently went to Europe where he served as American delegate to the World Poultry conference in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Says Individualism On Farm Has Passed

Ionia, Aug. 16 (UP)—The day of individualism on the farm has passed.

So Vernon Vaniman of Chicago, director of the American farm bureau told 1,000 farmers who attended a special farm program at the Ionia fair Saturday.

Machinery and scientific advancement have increased the output of agriculture tremendously and as a result, he declared, there must be increasing co-operation and organization if gains made by agriculture since 1933 are to be maintained.

Watch Cows for Loss Of Weight in Summer

Watch your dairy cows for a loss of body weight during summer months was a warning given dairymen today by L. R. Arnold county agricultural agent for Ottawa county.

There are several factors which may cause dairy animals to lose weight, but the main one is a lack of feed. Too often pastures become inadequate to carry the number of animals being grazed, the agent warns.

Other factors causing the loss of body weight in dairy cows include high temperatures, high humidity, lack of water supply, flies and irregular milking due to press of farm work.

Cows should be milked as near to 12 hours apart as possible. But County Agent Arnold believes the span from morning to night often runs near 14 hours and from night to morning 10 hours during heavy farming months.

Cows that lose body weight in the summer often drop in milk production. They will go into the winter months in poor condition and then it will take lots of silage, hay and expensive feed to bring them back to top shape, the agent reminds.

Something New For Club Women

A new program for women's clubs that also may result in improved consumer products has been announced by the school of home economics at Michigan State college.

Called the "Consumer Speaks" project, the plan furnishes material for one or more interesting programs. In addition, the results of the meetings are used to advise manufacturers what the housewife wants in the products she buys.

Topics for discussion for the fall of 1948 and the spring of 1949 include: canned fruits and vegetables; vacuum cleaners; children's snow suits; and upholstered chairs. Your group may choose one, two, three or all of the topics. The "Consumer Speaks" project is sponsored by the American Home Economics association.

It gives homemakers a chance to tell manufacturers what they would like in various commercial products. Their opinions are collected, published and turned over to the manufacturers.

General procedure for conducting "Consumer Speaks" meetings is first to hold a group discussion regarding the articles and then to vote on different characteristics the group feels would be desirable or essential to that article.

This project thus gives you a chance to tell the manufacturer what you want before the product is manufactured. It also gives your club a planned program which is not only very interesting but also worthwhile.

If you are interested in this project, write to Marjorie Knoll, school of Home Economics, Michigan State college, East Lansing, for the materials.

Maybe the turkeys don't know it, but these research findings are the basis of much of the diet they're eating now as a preparation for the chopping block.

Fatigue Is Caused by Hot, Summer Weather

A warning to "beware of the heat" was given this week by Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college. The caution applies not only to farmers who may be working in the fields, but to Mrs. Farmer who can overdo right in the kitchen.

Don't work too long without a rest period, Roth advises. Take a few minutes occasionally to sit down and relax. You'll be more comfortable if you eat lightly in hot weather, wear loose, light clothes, and have plenty of ventilation where you're working.

Schedule Showing Of Frost Machine At State Fair

One of the latest developments in modern farm machinery will be seen for the first time at the Michigan State fair in Detroit, Sept. 3-12, when the newest machine to serve as a protection from frost will be on exhibit.

With a powerful infra-ray warming only the plants or trees instead of the whole outdoors, crops are protected from cold. When used in groups each machine protects about an acre of space.

The machine is the result of three years of intensive work of two organizations, Michigan State college and the Agricultural Industrial foundation of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

The two groups worked together for several years exploring methods of combating frost before producing this generator for heat energy, transforming the energy into infra-red rays and distributed the rays over a certain area. The rays when directed toward the earth tend to compensate for the loss of heat from the earth due to radiation.

Unlike many heating principles, infra-red energy does not appreciably heat the air through which it passes, but travels in waves until it strikes the plants or trees to be protected. The machine has been tested in nine different sections of the United States. As freezing weather visited these localities, the machine proved satisfactory.

Turkeys Need Correct Food

Those turkeys you'll be eating about Thanksgiving time are doing their part now—they're filling up on mash and grain to make sure they will be plump and just right for eating.

Research in recent years has done a lot to make sure turkeys eat the right things too. The Michigan Agricultural Experiment station has conducted feeding trials at its Lake City station to find just the right feed for turkeys. Tests have shown, too, that a careful choice of mashes and grains can cut the cost of producing market turkey. This can be done without seriously affecting the quality of the finished product.

In ordinary times, grains can be purchased at not over two-thirds the cost of mash. Free-choice feeding combinations that result in high grain consumption and low mash consumption help to lower feeding costs. The type of mash fed as well as the kind of grains used will affect the amount of each that will be consumed.

Turkeys have a remarkable sense for balancing their own diet when given opportunity to do so. After a number of trials, each feeding program shows a characteristic feeding pattern which is closely followed during each growth period as well as from year to year. If high-protein content mashes are fed, turkeys consume smaller amounts of the mash and a greater proportion of grain for each pound of gain. If low-protein mashes are fed, the reverse is true.

Director J. Colson Webster welded together a large cast of juveniles and adults to produce a highly acceptable play. A most effective stage setting was used to advantage in depicting life on the back porch of a middle class American home.

Elusive Sheep Caught But It's Wrong One

Eugene Teusink of Central Park has found a sheep—but it isn't his.

Teusink received a call Thursday before supper saying a sheep was seen near Dunn's woods and in the vicinity of 32nd St. He answered the call and found tracks, but not the animal.

After supper, Teusink organized a posse of youngsters to search for the missing sheep which he believed was his.

At about 8:30, the group spotted the wool-giver and began a "merry" chase. They finally caught the elusive sheep and to Teusink's surprise, it was not his.

Anyone missing a sheep can call Teusink and he will be glad to return his catch.

Holland Girl Weds in Kalamazoo

Mrs. John K. Venner

Miss Joan Cartland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cartland, East 23rd St., and John Kendall Venner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Venner of Kalamazoo, were married Saturday at 4 p.m. in First Congregational church, Kalamazoo, in the presence of 150 guests. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. William A. Keith.

Traditional bridal music was played by Harris Meyer, organist. Miss Jean Snow of Holland sang "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer." Palms, candelabra and tall vases of white gladioli decorated the altar.

The bride, escorted by her father who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of white marquisette with a double edged ruffle of lace marking the off-shoulder neckline, long fitted sleeves, and a hooped skirt extending into a lace-edged train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by an orange blossom headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. 'Kiss and Tell' Opens At Summer Playhouse

The Saugatuck Summer players opened Friday with their current vehicle "Kiss and Tell" at Saugatuck high school. The comedy was well received by an audience of more than 200, mostly from the resort area.

The play revolves around the domestic affairs of a neighborhood in a typical American community, becoming hilarious in spots and at times, bitterly satirical. The lines are spritely and modern in tempo.

Director J. Colson Webster welded together a large cast of juveniles and adults to produce a highly acceptable play. A most effective stage setting was used to advantage in depicting life on the back porch of a middle class American home.

The juvenile parts had rather the better of it, but then the plot revolves around Corliss Archer, who feigns a "delicate condition" to give her sister-in-law an opportunity to announce her secret marriage. The situation develops plausibly, leaving a feeling it could happen here.

The work of John Corkill as Dexter and the lines of Duncan Clarkson as Raymond Pringle are worthy of special mention. They handle rather difficult roles ably.

Don Rothschild played two parts, that of Private Earhart and Mr. Willard. The rest of the cast included Louise, played by Janet Bainbridge; Corliss by Ann Smith; Mildred Pringle by Barbara Kent; Janet Archer by Zora Taylor; Harry Archer by Ray Wagner; Lenny Archer by Bill Weber; Mary Franklin by Bobbie Pierce; Dorothy Pringle by Donna McQueen. Uncle George by Olin McQueen and Robert Pringle by Paul Erlebach.

Don Rothschild was technical director. Janet Bainbridge handled makeup. Jean Staples took care of costumes and Frank Funk was in charge of properties.

The play will be repeated tonight, Sunday, Monday and then will close to reopen Aug. 20 for 4 shows. Curtain time is 8:20 p.m. Webster has issued a call to Holland amateurs to read for parts in the next play. The reading will be Tuesday in the lobby of the Saugatuck high school.
