officials and other persons connected with traffic safety in Holland Tuesday afternoon at city hall. At right is Michigan State Police Sgt. Edward McGarvey who accompanied Olman in discussing the city's traffic problems.

Officials Hear Safety Inventory

Holland city officials were given a close look at the city's traffic safety picture Tuesday afternoon by Norman A. Olman, district director of the National Safety Council, and Sgt. Edward McGarvey of the Michigan State Police.

Meeting in Municipal Court at city hall, city officials, members of police and fire departments, Traffic and Safety Commission members and representatives of The Sentinel and local radio stations heard an annual inventory of traffic safety activities prepared for the city of Holland by the National Safety Council.

The inventory analyzed Holland's traffic program in eight areas and compared performance with that of the top 30 per cent of the 483 cities of similar size taking part in the inventory.

Based on the Action Program of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, the inventory covered Holland's death and injury record, accident records and analyses, traffic engineering, police traffic supervision, traffic courts, school traffic safety education, public traffic safety education and organization for traffic safety improvement.

Olman, who presented the inventory, made several recommendations based on conclusions of a number of advisory groups to the National Safety Council.

He recommended the city have a trained accident record supervisor, greater police training in traffic and safety, increased police strength, a city-appointed agency for traffic engineering, establish an official coordinating committee for a planned safety program and that the city use a uniform state manual of traffic laws.

Holland had two fatal accidents in 1960, Olman pointed out, giving the city a rate of 8.1 fatal accidents per 100,000 population. The national average for cities of the same size is 7.6 fatal accidents per 100,000 population.

In addition, each year for the last three years, an average of four Holland residents have been killed in accidents outside the city. In 1960, Holland reported 157 non-fatal injury accidents, 42 above the average for a city of 25,000 population.

Olman estimated the cost of accidents to the city at $700,000 per year. Included is the estimate loss of earning power, medical and hospital expenses, cost of motor vehicle repair or replacement and the cost of providing automobile insurance.

Olman cited an understaffed police force as an area where Holland was lacking in the overall analysis. Cities the size of Holland have an average of 45 men on their police forces, compared with Holland's 28 full-time and three part-time officers.

In view of the city's 157 injury and two fatal accidents last year, Olman said, statistics show that 3,180 traffic arrests and convictions should have been made. A total of 1,711 convictions were reported in Holland.

Olman labeled the most significant deficiencies in Holland's school traffic safety program as supervision, authorization and accident reporting. He recommended that the safety supervisor be allowed more time for his work and that the administration authorize the teaching of traffic safety. He said a student accident reporting system should be established.

Olman commended the Holland Traffic and Safety Commission for building citizen support for traffic safety improvement in Holland, but he recommended the establishment of a committee of city officials in coordinating a safety program for the city.

Holland Boy, Mother Are Injured

Speeding Auto Fails
To Make Curve; Cars
Collide Nearly Headon

A 19-year-old Grand Rapids youth was killed Thursday afternoon in a two-car crash which injured four other persons, including a Holland mother and her four-year-old son, on Lakeshore Dr. about six miles north of Holland.

David Allen Meines of 4934 Eastern Ave., SE, driver of one of the cars involved in the crash, was pronounced dead on arrival at Holland Hospital. Medical examiner was Dr. Warren K. Westrate.

Mrs. Donald Lievens, 36, of 396 Fairhill Dr., driver of the second car involved in the accident, and her son, Robert Paul, were both seriously injured in the crash.

Holland Hospital officials Friday listed Mrs. Lievens' condition as fair. She suffered fractures of the right leg and right arm and pelvic injuries, officials said. She is the former La Verne Huyser.

The Lievens boy was reported in critical condition with a fractured left hip, facial lacerations, concussion and possible chest injuries.

Two other Grand Rapids youths, riding with Meines, were injured. William John Hommes, 16, of 1915 Newark St., SE, was transferred to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids from Holland Hospital with head injuries. Officials at the Grand Rapids hospital today reported Hommes in fair condition.

The second passenger in Meines' auto, Thomas Frederic Huyge, 21, of 1432 Burton St., SE, suffered a fractured left wrist and scalp lacerations. He was released from Holland Hospital after treatment.

Ottawa County deputies said Meines' car headed south on Lakeshore Dr., and Mrs. Lievens was driving north when the two vehicles collided nearly head-on at 3:20 p.m., about one-eighth mile south of Quincy St.

Deputies said that Meines' car slammed into an S-curve at a high rate of speed. His auto crossed over the double yellow center line of the road into the path of the Lievens car.

Mrs. Lievens apparently swerved to her right in an attempt to avoid Meines oncoming car and got two wheels on the shoulder of the road when the vehicles collided. Deputies said the point of impact was less than three feet from the east shoulder of the road.

Sheriff's officers said Meines' car left over 159 feet of tire marks from where the vehicle entered the curve to the point of impact.

The two vehicles came to rest side-by-side. The Lievens car was bounced back some 23 feet, and the Meines' car moved about 11 feet from the point of impact. Both cars were struck on the left front.

Meines was thrown from his car in the collision.

Deputies said the three youths had been in Grand Haven where they rented a boat and had gone swimming.

Meines' death marks the 22nd traffic fatality in Ottawa County in 1961. For the entire year 1960, there were 23 persons killed in county traffic accidents.

CRASH SCENE — The battered wreckage of two cars tells the grim story of a grinding collision on Lakeshore Dr., near Quincy St., Thursday afternoon which claimed the life of 19-year-old David Meines of Grand Rapids and left Mrs. Donald Lievens of Holland and her four-year-old son, Robert, seriously injured. The car driven by Meines (right) slammed nearly head-on into the Lievens auto (rear), after Meines failed to make a curve and crossed over the center line. ## Sally Tellman Gives Glowing Account of Life in Vienna

VIENNA — A Michigan girl student fell in love with Vienna and decided to come over again "as soon as possible."

Sally A. Tellman of Phelps Hall, Holland, Mich., is one of 52 students of Hope College, who have travelled to Europe in a summer school program. The program combines a six-week travelling program with six weeks of study in European affairs in Vienna.

"I must say that of all the places I have seen in Europe I like Vienna best. It has become a second home for me, although I have been here only one month," the pretty Michigan student said. "I intend to return here as soon as possible to spend more time living in the charming old-world atmosphere of this capital of music."

Sally is full of praise of life in Europe generally. She claims that people enjoy life much more here by taking a more easy going attitude towards all the problems. "They do not hunt so much for money but like to sit down and relax."

The friendly Michigan girl not only saw Vienna, but also the most famous landmarks of France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. She also had a glimpse behind the Iron Curtain by weekend excursion to Prague, the capital of Communist Czechoslovakia.

Sally summed up her impressions on Prague by pointing out that "life on the surface looked completely the same as everywhere else."

"However, if you looked a bit behind the facade you noticed the grimness of life in a Communist country. Housewives queued up to secure meat and potatoes for their families, the red stars adorned all public buildings, people were dressed rather shabbily," Sally said.

"One of my biggest experiences was when I went to see an American film in Prague. It was "The Rainmaker" and Czechs seemed to have enjoyed it very much. They queued up in front of the movie theater to obtain tickets and during the performance often burst out laughing," Sally said. She added that she was told that only few western films are shown in Czechoslovakia and attract crowds.

VICE PRESIDENT'S DESK — The fabric design in the draperies on the left of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's desk on his personal plane and the panel of the same material above the desk were personally created for him by the Raphael Co. of Holland and designed by Eleanor De Pree Van Hattma. Included in the design are the Star for Texas, with a "J" for Johnson and the propeller-like design with a "J" through the center. Smaller stars and figures are repeated on the fabric.

PLANE INTERIOR — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's Lockheed Lodestar plane has specially designed draperies and panels created for him by a Holland company. Shown here is the Seal of the Vice President of the United States on the special seat with its safety belt. The plane is like a flying living room for the vice president on his continual trips around this country and abroad.

Vice President's Plane Has Draperies Made in Holland

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has a drapery designed for him by a Holland artist and made by a Holland company in his private plane, a Lockheed Lodestar, which he uses continually in his role as vice president of the United States.

The aircraft interior decorator asked Edwin Raphael to design a fabric suitable for the plane. In searching for an idea, Raphael, who is also a native Texan, allowed the artist and designer, Eleanor De Pree Van Hattma of Holland, to adapt his own unusual trademark, the propeller-like Infinity Fabrics design.

The completed design is a celestial-style design that features large stars for the Lone Star State with each star cradling the letter "J" for Johnson and co-features the scripted letter J inside the Infinity sign.

The large stars and signs are repeated on the fabric in smaller counterparts in various sizes and shapes. The brown, orange and beige on the natural color background are a refreshing combination.

Mrs. Van Hattma, the screen cutters and the printers all received thank you letters from Vice President Johnson for the design and production of the Lodestar's draperies.

The research and the personal design for the vice president paid off for Raphael in satisfaction that a Holland company and artist have been nationally recognized.

GEAR SHIFTING

We have noticed recently that there are many of the smaller automobiles that have gear shifts.

Then we find that there are many people who have never learned to synchronize their feet and their hands so that they can operate vehicles.

It may be that this should be included in the driver training programs. Comments that we have received from many young people would indicate that they think that they should at least know how.

Recently a university instructor discovered that only four out of 30 students in his class knew how to drive an automobile with a standard shift and 26 of them could handle a vehicle equipped with an automatic transmission, but shifting gears was not one of their skills.

Some people may think that this shifting is not a necessary part of the driver education. It might be a fine thing to have a survey made to see how many people are driving gear shifts, some of the industries are using lower priced automobiles that have gear shifts to help cut their costs.

We think that educated toes and arms are a fine thing. This might help with the safety problem. Anything that will help the safety problem is well worth a try.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, August 27
Lydia, A Christian
Business Woman
Acts 16:11-15, 35-40
By C. P. Dame

There are a number of beautiful stories in the Bible. Our lesson text tells one of them. The story of the conversion of Lydia relates how an adult who sought God found Him and showed by her life that she was really converted.

1. God converts people. We are responsible for contacts but not for conversions. Paul came to Philippi, a city in Macedonia, a Roman colony, which meant that it was a miniature Rome. What was fashionable in Rome was popular in Philippi. It was the custom of Paul to find a Jewish synagogue as soon as he entered a city.

In Philippi there was no Jewish synagogue which meant that there were not ten male Jews in the city, the number required to establish a synagogue. Paul, a Jew and a Roman citizen, undoubtedly felt the Roman atmosphere that permeated the city.

In his search Paul learned that a number of women had the habit of meeting by the side of a river for prayer. On the sabbath day Paul and his party sought and found the place and there he and his friends sat down and spoke to the women. Paul, the former Pharisee, preached to this group of women.

In this little congregation there was a Gentile woman, named Lydia. She had come from Thyatira in Asia Minor. This city is addressed in Revelation 2:18-29. Lydia was a business woman, a seller of purple, which was much in demand in Philippi. Purple was the color of the official stripe on the Roman togas at Rome and hence it was popular in all Roman colonies.

In Macedonia, woman enjoyed much freedom. Lydia's husband is not mentioned, evidently she was a widow carrying on her husband's business. Lydia was a seeker. She had forsaken her pagan beliefs and turned to Judaism. God is interested in seekers. Some people go to church and look around but do not listen much. Lydia listened and God opened her heart and she became a Christian. Luke tells us that she and her family were baptized. The whole family, publicly acknowledged Christ as Savior and Lord. The entire family changed. Lydia the seeker was found—and those who seek the Lord find Him.

II. The converted do good works. How did Lydia show that she was converted? Lydia practiced the grace of hospitality. Not many church members do that. The missionaries were strangers in the city and so Lydia invited them to her spacious home. She said, "If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and abide there." Paul declined but she insisted and went out—women usually do. The party consisted of four men—Paul, Silas, Timothy and Luke and to lodge all meant much. Now Lydia had a large house and servants and had the means but some moderns with all similar advantages never entertain. We also know that the congregation at Philippi met in Lydia's home. God had opened Lydia's heart but she opened her home.

Although it is not openly stated it is very possible that Lydia gave help to the poor in the city and helped Paul. In his letter to the Philippian Church Paul thanked the members of the church for the gift sent him while he was a prisoner. Lydia had a big share in the gift.

When a person has been really converted, good works are bound to follow. They prove that a conversion has taken place. When Paul and Silas were freed from prison in Philippi they did not wander around in the city—they knew where to go—to the home of Lydia who was grateful to the man who had brought her the gospel message which had changed her life.

Jeff Padnos Attends Jamboree in Israel

BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE—Jeffrey Padnos (center), Holland Boy Scout who attended the Boy Scout National Jamboree in Israel, shakes hands with Elmaar H. Bakken (right), who served as Camp Chief and Project Coordinator for the American Scout contingent in Israel and who served on general headquarters staffs of five National Jamborees. On the left is Harry Lasker, who served as Relationships Advisor and Jewish Chaplain. He visited Israel in 1958 as director of the First American Scout group to participate in a National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of Israel. This picture was taken in Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey before leaving for Israel.

By Jeffrey Padnos
(Editor's note—Jeffrey Padnos, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Padnos of 53 East 30th St., is scheduled to arrive home Thursday afternoon after attending the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts in Israel.)

It's very hard to believe, but here I am in Israel—the land of milk and honey. The land of Israel really lives up to her name; it is just beautiful. Well, I might as well start at the beginning.

We left New York from Idlewild International Airport at 4 p.m. on July 24 and arrived in Tel Aviv at about 3:30 a.m. two days later. On the way we stopped at Gander, Newfoundland, Shannon Ireland, and Athens, Greece. All these stops were very short, about an hour or so. Shannon was great. They had U.S. cigarettes there for less than you can buy them in the U.S. There are Scottish kilts and British suits on sale there for less than they sell for in the countries in which they were made! Gander and Athens airports were nothing. Everything in those places was very expensive. We will stop in Athens to tour the city and do some shopping for two and a half days on the way back from Israel.

We arrived in modern Lydia airport at about 3:40 a.m., and after going through customs, we went directly to a brand new hotel, the Accadia, to rest up. Being in the air 36 hours isn't too restful. At about 1 p.m. we started touring. We saw a lot of Arab villages that day. It is harvest time now and everyone including the children were out in the fields. A little later we saw Mount Gilboa where King Saul died. David is said to have cursed the mountain and said that nothing would ever grow there—the whole mountain is completely barren.

We arrived in Tiberias just before dinner time but still had time for a swim in the Sea of Galilee. It was just like swimming in Lake Michigan except that you can see across to the other side.

The next day we went to the holy city of Safed. There we saw two synagogues with books and Bibles and Torahs dating back to the early 1600's, and some which dated back to the 1400's. The Synagogues were really beautiful. They were filled with gorgeous ornaments and decorations.

We stopped for lunch at a kibbutz. It is like a city except that everything is cooperative, and there is no mayor.

The rest of that day and the days to follow were filled with sightseeing. Some of the things we saw were the Hula Valley, sight of Israel and Lebanon, Israel and Jordan, and Israel and Syria. I stuck my hand into Lebanon, but had to watch out for mines; and many places that were mentioned in the book "Exodus."

We saw many British forts and police stations. We saw the place where the Exodus landed. Later on, at the Jamboree, I met a person who was visiting the Jamboree who had actually come here on the Exodus.

I also visited the mountain where the Sermon on the Mount was given, Capernaum, and the synagogue where Jesus prayed, and the Church of Multiplication where Jesus fed 5,000 people with two fish and some bread. That church is noted for its beautiful mosaic floors.

The next day we went to Nazareth and saw where Jesus was born. Mary's Well, and quite a few churches. We saw the grave of Moses Maimonides, a very wise man who wrote many books and is a very important figure in Jewish literature. He was the court doctor in Spain, and died in 1204. The inscription on his grave says "From Moses to Moses, there was no like Moses."

We later visited the ancient ruins of Caesarea. The next day I swam in the salty Mediterranean. When you look at it, it looks like Lake Michigan on rough day. When you swim in it, you get covered with salt.

The next day was filled with tours, including a visit to the Bahai center of the world and the Garmet center of the world. The Bahai people believe in one

God and the unification of all religions.

Monday (July 31) came and at last it was time for the Jamboree. We left the hotel (where the food and rooms and hospitality were wonderful) early and arrived at the Jamboree in time for lunch. We then got to work setting up our campsite.

The people here are very friendly. They were always trying to talk to me and about 75 wooden shoes. I trade with us. By the time the Jamboree was over I had given or traded away all my patches and some U.S. stamps with a British boy.

I made countless friends at the Jamboree. One of them helped me contact some of my relatives. The first relative I met was Professor Ettingen. He is the husband of my grandfather's niece. I went to the house of Prof. Ettingen and talked with him for about 2 hours. He is a civil engineering teacher at the Technion (like M.I.T., only much cheaper, he was one of the founders of that school and is the only founder still working there. He was first a highway engineer in Israel and bridges.

designed many of the roads, bridges, and railroads crisscrossing Israel. As you can guess, he specializes in transportation. He planned almost all the roads on Mt. Carmel near Haifa, and was the second man to build a house on Mt. Carmel. He is sort of responsible for the whole movement of people from lower Haifa to Mt. Carmel. He is working on his 12th book. All the books he writes contain about 1,200 pages.

Prof. Ettingen told some more relatives that I was here and the next day my Dad's first cousin, Peretz Padnos and his wife and two children came to see me. None of them spoke English and they brought an interpreter with them so that I could speak to Peretz. Peretz's wife spoke Yiddish, and due to the German I of Byron Center, who were married last week, returned home from a trip to Niagara Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home in Drenthe and Mr. and Mrs. Ensink will live on Quincy St. in a new garage home.

At the Sunday morning services a Dutch Psalm was sung for Mrs. Helen Vander Kolk who will be 94 years old Thursday. She is staying in the Grandville Rest Home.

Arrie De Groot from Battle Creek and his sister, Mrs. Grace Janse from Hopkins, visited Mrs. Leonard Van Ess last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon De Young and family from Ionia visited their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Albrecht, a few days last week. They also attended the church services here Sunday morning.

Holland Sets Another New Water Use Record
After setting a new record for water consumption a week ago today, Holland residents broke the record during the period from midnight last Thursday to midnight Friday by using 300,000 gallons when they used 7,327,000 gallons.

In announcing the new record, Guy E. Bell, Superintendent of the Board of Public Works said that the pumps worked at the rate of 10,000 gallons per hour for 12 hours and at lower rates after that.

Bell indicated that "pumping rate" does not mean that that many gallons were used but that at a given operating speed that many gallons would be passing through the pumps per hour.

Bultman-Lanning Rites Read in Calvin Chapel

A harpist joined the organist and soloist to provide an unusual musical setting for the wedding of Miss Norma Jean Lanning to Stanley Bultman Thursday evening in Calvin Seminary Chapel, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Robert Brandt, harpist, Mrs. Alice Lantinga, organist, and Eugene Westra of Holland, vocal soloist, made up the trio. After a harp and organ prelude, the bride entered the chapel, on the arm of her father as the traditional wedding march was played on the harp.

The Rev. Lawrence Veltkamp, pastor of Bethany Christian Reformed Church of Muskegon, performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lanning of 623 Catherine Ave., Muskegon, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Bultman of 24 Decker Ave., Fremont. The Lannings are former Holland residents.

Spiral candelabra, sprays of flowers and greenery decorated the chapel for the 8 o'clock rites. For her wedding the bride chose a formal gown of white satin with long sleeves and an empire bodice of chantilly lace forming a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The full skirt skirt with lace panels and a back bow of satin formed a chapel train.

She wore a princess crown of satin jeweled with pearls and rhinestones attached to a bouffant waist-length veil of imported silk tulle, and she carried a cascading bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white carnations, stephanotis and jivy.

Miss Connie Holkeboer of Holland served as maid of honor while Miss Judy De Koning and Mrs. Larry Boerman, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. Cindy and Greg Lanning, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer.

Roger Buiten attended as best man and David Bultman, Andy Bultman and Arthur T. Lanning were groomsmen.

The bride's three attendants were identically dressed in gowns of white chiffon over pink taffeta designed with full skirts, large-back bows of pink satin and scalloped necklines. Their headpieces were large pink roses which secured nose-tip veils. Each carried a crescent shaped bouquet of pink majestic daisies.

The flower girl wore a floor-length dress of pink chiffon over pink taffeta featuring puffed sleeves and a satin bow. She carried a basket from which she dropped pink rose petals.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds greeted 140 guests at a reception in the Calvin College Commons. Mrs. Arthur T. Lanning and Mrs. Robert Bultman presided at the punch bowl.

Gift room attendants were Miss Janice Workman, Mrs. Ronald Bielema, and Mrs. John Vander Aa. Miss Sharen Ten Hove passed the guest book and Mrs. Stanley Cok assisted the bride.

After the reception the newlyweds left for a northern wedding trip. The bride wore a two-piece gold dress with cinnamon and green accessories.

The new Mrs. Bultman is a graduate of Holland Christian High School and Calvin College. She will teach at West Side Christian School in Grand Rapids this fall. Her husband is also a graduate of Calvin College and plans to continue his education there this fall to prepare for entrance into Calvin Seminary the following year.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Bultman will be at home at 532 College, S. E., Grand Rapids, after Sept. 1.

Snake Serum Available

Holland Hospital reports that they have a commercial supply of rattlesnake serum in stock.

Within the last few weeks two rattlesnakes have been killed in the Holland area and a number of persons have questioned whether there is serum available.

The Ottawa County Health Department doesn't stock snake serum, according to Dr. Ralph Ten Have, director of the department. None of the local drug stores have been stocking the serum, although a number of them thought it would be a good idea.

But the hospital, where most snake bite victims would be brought anyway, always has a supply in stock. It depends on the State Health Department for the serum. Since rattlesnake serum is only good for a short period of time, it has to be constantly replaced, Dr. Ten Have said.

Son of Local Resident Is Given Patent

WASHINGTON — Russell De Waard, son of Mrs. Dick De Waard, 182 East Fifth St., Holland, Mich., and the late Mr. De Waard, has been granted a patent for an improved "selective bolometer." The invention is the heart of the free air thermometer developed by the Barnes Engineering Co., Stamford, Conn.

It is adjusted to the infrared wavelength of carbon dioxide and by registering the temperature of the carbon dioxide shows the temperature of the atmosphere. The tiny detector makes it possible for a pilot to take the temperature of the air some distance ahead of his plane.

De Waard, head of the company's applied physics section, said that the new detector, which is about the size of a child's marble, is also adaptable to such "non-selective" or broadband operations as measuring the extremely low temperatures on the dark side of the moon. The company regards it as a major advance in the art of infrared detection.

Russell De Waard

De Waard who was born in Holland and was graduated from Holland High School lives with his wife and sons, Danny, 6, and twin sons, Bobby and Rusty, 4, in Old Greenwich, Conn.

Ottawa County 4-H News

By Willis S. Boss

County Extension Agent, 4-H

More than 2,000 4-H youngsters will bring their livestock, judging skill, singing voices and countless other entries to Michigan State University for the 46th annual State 4-H Club Show, Aug. 28-31.

Ottawa County will have 3 members participating in the dress revue at State Show. They will be staying at Shaw Hall and taking part in the dress rehearsal. The program for the 4-H dress revue is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 31. Parents day is Wednesday, Aug. 30 and 4-H parents are invited to view the displays on the campus of Michigan State University.

Tuesday, Aug. 29 is 4-H leaders day and Ottawa County will be honored in having Mrs. Marie Bosman, 20-year leader from Holland and Mrs. Fred Abel, 36-year leader from Hudsonville taking part in the day's activities.

Hilda Van Rhee of the Drenthe 4-H Club is among the 35 top 4-H dairy-cattle judges who will take part in the State 4-H Show Dairy judging Contest at East Lansing on Aug. 29. She was among 146 senior 4-H dairy project members 14 years old and older who judged at the Dairy Judging Field Day elimination contest at Michigan State University July 31 and Aug. 1.

The top 4-H dairy-cattle judges will be selected at the State 4-H Show. These young people will enter the final judging contest at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit. From these 4-H'ers, four will be chosen to make up the team that will enter the junior judging contest at the Waterloo, Iowa Dairy Show on Oct. 2. This team will be sponsored by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative. Another four of the top 10 will make up the Michigan team to enter the junior judging contest at the International Dairy Congress in Chicago on Nov. 29.

William Tedrick, Michigan State University program specialist for 4-H notes that this year's State 4-H Show features several firsts: For one thing, most contestants in judging events will confer individually with judges about strong and weak points of entries. Tedrick believes no state-wide 4-H event anywhere has given this opportunity on such a wide scale. Also, the program includes more educational sessions, exhibits and demonstrations than ever before. Members, leaders and parents will be able to ask questions of those making the presentations. Personal contact with judges and other participants should improve the educational value of each event, Tedrick points out.

This fits a long-term effort by Michigan's 4-H program to teach members the importance of asking "why" as well as "how."

As in the past, several hundred blue ribbons will be up for grabs during the four-day event; and over 100 members will win educational trips to various parts of this country and Canada. Also volunteer adult 4-H leaders will be honored for long service. Programs are available from the extension office, if you would care to have further information concerning State Show.

Detention Home Must Wait a Year

ALLEGAN — Allegan County's much needed detention home will be postponed another year, according to Probate Judge Harold Weston.

The need for a detention home the new county jail is begun. Construction on the jail will begin early next spring. Offenders under the age of 17 will be sentenced to the detention home with no probation or in connection with probation. In addition, the detention home will alleviate the cost of sending delinquents to state reform schools and state or private mental institutions.

A record number of 52 delinquents have gone before Probate is being felt more than ever this year, Weston said. But a ruling of the State Corrections Commission holds that plans for a detention home will have to wait until Court so far this year. Of this number six boys have been committed to the Boys' Vocational School at Lansing and six girls have been committed to the Girls' Training School at Adrian. Another four juveniles are waiting to be admitted to state reform schools.

Allegan will be one of the few smaller population counties to have a juvenile detention home, Weston said. Tentative plans are for a 12 to 15 bed home, which would be large enough for rental space to other counties.

The detention home will be built in connection with the county hospital, which is located five miles north of Allegan. It will include facilities for recreational and occupational therapy and temporary shelter care.

City Water Consumption Sets Record

Holland residents used more water in the 24-hour period from midnight Tuesday Aug. 15 to midnight Wednesday Aug. 16 than they have in any 24-hour period since the city began taking its water from Lake Michigan.

Guy E. Bell, Superintendent of the Board of Public Works reported that 7,013,000 gallons were used during that time. The pumps operated at a high rate of 10 million gallons per hour for an eight hour period and at eight million gallons per hour for four hours. After that the pumping slackened off to lower rates.

Bell pointed out by means of comparison that the 7,013,000 gallons, if stored, would be equal to the capacity of 14 water towers like that on 28th St.

Bell attributed the increase in water consumption to dry weather as well as the increase in area served by the city water system. He noted that Holland Heights and the Montello Park area are now served and several other areas now have more adequate service than they had before.

For those who may be worried about the possibility of inadequate pump size, Bell emphasized that the pumps have a capacity of 14 million gallons per day, twice the amount used in the record 24-hour period.

In 1958 the high amount used was some six million gallons while 1959 saw a high of 6,792,000 gallons in a single day. In 1960, the highest amount used was considerably below the 1959 high.

$11,000 Profit Reported by Village Square

More than $11,000 profit, was reported by Mrs. Bruce De Pree, treasurer, for the Hope College Village Square held on Aug. 11 on the college campus. However all reports have not yet been turned in and the Hope College Women's League, which sponsored the day's activities, believes the total amount will be boosted.

Chairmen of the various chapters met Friday with Mrs. A. A. Dykstra, general chairman of the 1961 Village Square festivities, in the Phelps Hall for reports.

More than 7,000 persons swarmed on the campus for the annual event, purpose of which this year was to raise funds to buy furnishings for the new Van Zoeren Library.

Festivities opened with a ribbon cutting ceremony presided over by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers. The huge scissors used for the occasion was made and donated by Max Flowerday and his son, Carl.

Those assisting Mrs. De Pree were members of the American Society of Women Accountants including Mrs. Minnie Maatman, Mrs. Gertrude Frans and Ann Brower.

Reports were given by chapter representatives from Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Illinois, Indiana, Kalamazoo, Wisconsin, New York, Zeeland and Holland.

Young Actors Produce Original Play in Barn

Rehearsals are in progress for a group of aspiring young thespians at the new Little Theatre at the Little Farm, home of the Edwin Raphael family on the Castle Park Rd., between Macatawa and Castle Park.

"The Wizard of Thunderbolt Mountain," written by Nanalee Raphael, Pam and Greg White, is the story of a wizard who disguises himself as a doctor so he can rule. It is a comedy type play and will be directed by Miss Raphael. The play will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 6:30 p.m. and continues into the next week.

Members of the cast include Bonnie Raphael, Pam and Greg White, Billy Tazelaar, Jane Allen and Laura Miller. This group has appeared in several Red Barn productions and some of the theatrical excitement has rubbed off on them.

The entire group works on the stage crew and with costumes which have been donated. They made their own scenery with the exception of the curtains which were a gift from Mr. Raphael.

Last summer the same group put on a parody on the nursery rhyme, "Rapunzel." It was a young approach to summer theater and the neighbors and even the professionals at the Red Barn were impressed. Everybody is invited to attend.

The stage and Little Theater are in a barn which has been converted for this purpose.

The Holland High Band will resume regular rehearsals after school begins. Rehearsals were held each Thursday night during the summer to prepare for the Chicago event.

Ottawa County Farm News

Ottawa County Extension Director

Ottawa County farmers might be interested in knowing that we have two, growers of certified wheat in the county. Floyd Terhaar of Vriesland and Earl Mulder of Beaverdam are both growing fields of Genesee wheat. We would like to encourage the use of Michigan certified seed in growing wheat on our farms as the varieties offered for Michigan certification are better adapted to our use than varieties grown outside the area.

We were pleasantly surprised this past month to receive notice that there is only one TB reactor herd in the county and only six Bangs disease reactor herds. However, I think all dairy farmers should be on guard with both of these diseases. It is almost time for another retest on TB and herd reaction naturally goes down at the end of the testing period. For a Bangs disease eradication program we highly recommend vaccination of all calves from 4 to 8 months of age with Strain 19 vaccine which is the only way of insuring control of this disease.

We would like to call attention to the Potato Field Day scheduled for Aug. 30 at the Lake City Experiment Station. I'm sure potato growers in the county would like to see the various experiments being conducted in regard to potato growing. Some of those included are chemical weed control, variety trials, potato seedling trials, seed treatment and many, many others. The Field Day is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. through 3 p.m. Tours with tractor drawn wagons will be conducted through the day.

Ottawa County wheat farmers will have a voice in determining next year's wheat program. They will vote Thursday in the national referendum for wheat growers. Two-thirds of the eligible wheat farmers must approve the provisions of the new bill to put the program in effect. The new wheat legislation was signed into law on Aug. 7 by President Kennedy.

The aim of the new law is to cut the 1962 wheat crop by an estimated 5½ million acres. This will be done by an across-the-board, 10 per cent cut in wheat allotments. Michigan wheat growers have received notice of their 1962 allotments, according to state ASCA officials. One of the new provisions of the law will be that wheat growers will receive payments for diverting acreage into conservation uses. For cutting acreage by 10 per cent, farmers

Reidsma-Harrington Vows Spoken

Palms, bouquets of pink and white gladioli and white mums, flanked by spiral and tiered candelabra formed the background for the wedding of Miss Rosemary Harrington and Vincent R. Reidsma, solemnized Aug. 11 in Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The Rev. W. Herbert Scott, pastor of Immanuel Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. Harrington, 4688 Beech St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reidsma, 314 West 15th St.

Wedding attendants included Mrs. Allan Valkema, the bride's sister as matron of honor; Christine Reidsma and Molly Reidsma, sisters of the groom, as bridesmaids; Sheryl Ott and Rhonda Smeenge, nieces of the bride, as flower girls; Jeff Barber and Tommy Vander Meulen, cousins of the groom, as ring bearers; Lance Reidsma, brother of the groom, as best man; Allan Valkema and Dave Harrington, groomsmen; Terry Grodler and Denny Jonker, ushers. "I Take Thee Dear," "Wedding Prayer" and "At Dawning" were sung by Karl Goossen, accompanied by Mrs. Arnold Detters who also played the wedding music.

As the bride approached the altar with her father she was joined in antique tissue tulle with a sweep train. Style features were the sash and neckline accented with embroidered lace and lace at the hipline of the skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl crown and her flowers included white sweetheart roses with carnations and pompons.

Mrs. Valkema and the Misses Reidsma wore ice blue tulle sheath dresses with silk organza overskirts. Their pearl crowns released nose veils of silk illusion and they carried bouquets of white Fuji mums and pink and white carnations. The flower girls wore pink polished cotton with white nylon jumpers embroidered with blue and pink daisies. They wore wrist corsages of pink and white carnations and as they walked down the aisle they dropped petals from a rose each was carrying.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smeenge served as master and mistress of ceremonies at a reception for 100 guests held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ott arranged the gifts and Dale Reidsma and Miss Joyce Van Valkenburg served punch. Waitresses were the Misses Karen King, JoAnn Goossen, Sandy Thompson, Barb Regnerus, Esther Meyer and Phyllis Dekker.

Following a northern wedding trip for which the bride changed to a black and white suit with black and white accessories and the corage from her wedding bouquet, the couple will make their home at 47 East Main St. Zeeland. The groom is employed at B. J. W. Berghorst Plumbing in Zeeland.

will receive payments based on 45 per cent of the county support rate times the adjusted normal yield on the number of acres diverted. Payments will be in cash or in wheat at the option of the farmer. Farmers will also be eligible for price supports on the entire crop from their allotted acres.

Secretary Freeman has recommended a national average support rate of $2 a bushel. This represents 83½ per cent of parity, up about 21 cents from the national average price of $1.79 in 1961. Under the law the Secretary can set the price between 75 and 90 per cent of parity depending upon the total market supply. The final price for 1962 will be announced by the Secretary well in advance of next year's harvest.

A new feature of the law permits farmers to retire an additional 30 per cent of their wheat land to conservation uses for payment. A farmer with a 20-acre allotment his reduced by 10 per cent. In addition, he could take out six more acres for payment. This is a kind of bonus plan to further cut acreage and avoid build ups of government wheat stocks. For taking out this additional acreage, farmers would be paid at the rate of 60 per cent of the county support rate for the normal yield of the diverted acres. Smaller growers are also subject to some new provisions.

Under the old program, any farmer could grow up to 15 acres without penalty. This has been reduced to 13.5 acres for 1962. Farmers who grew less than 13.5 acres from 1959-1961 have an exemption of the highest number of acres grown in any one year. Small growers who wish to retire more land from wheat can cut acreage by 30 per cent of 13.5 or of the highest acreage grown in the past three years, whichever is the smaller. All farmers must plant within their new allotments which include a 10 per cent reduction to be eligible for price supports under the loan program.

Producers who grew no wheat in the last three years are subject to penalties if they plant for the 1962 crop year without an allotment. Penalties for overplanting are stiffened considerably in the new law. They can be assessed on as high as twice the normal yield on the excess acres. In addition, the penalty rate per bushel has been raised to 65 percent of parity. This would be over $1.50 per bushel. Under maximum violation, penalties could far exceed value of the excess wheat.

Historically the western wheat states have voted strongly for wheat quotas and most opposition came from smaller eastern farmers. Under terms of the present legislation if the referendum is defeated price supports will revert to a nominal 50 per cent of parity in the commercial wheat areas for those farmers who comply with their quotas.
