Holland fair, Sept. 18-21.

Wm. G. Van Dyke, the new grocer, understands the art of advertising.

It has threatened to rain, but beyond this it didn't succeed—it was a mere bluff, as it were.

On the jury drawn for the fall term of the U. S. court at Grand Rapids, Ottawa county has no representatives.

It has been computed that the death rate of the globe is 68 per minute. It might be worse under the present administration.

Miss Senie Visscher was the recipient this week of some fine fruit direct from the California orchards, sent by some of her former Chinese mission school pupils in Fresno, Cal.

Our young friend G. H. Albers, of Grand Rapids, has been honored with the nomination of circuit court commissioner by the Republican convention of Kent county, held on Tuesday.

Saturday Albertus Notting was tried before Justice Van Schelven for an assault and battery upon Cornelis Spoelman. He was convicted and took an appeal. Both parties are from Georgetown.

The Merriam Cadets of Grand Rapids passed through our city Wednesday, en route for Grand Rapids, after having spent ten days in camp near the resorts. They gave a fine exhibition on our streets before taking the train.

W. Zwartout, an employee at C. L. King & Co., met with a painful accident Tuesday. The heavy truck loaded with logs passed over the large toe on his right foot, necessitating amputation. Dr. J. A. Mabbs relieved the sufferer.

U. S. District Attorney Powers and Deputy Marshal O'Donnell were in the city Saturday and caused the arrest of J. Kulte, Jr., for selling butlerine without a government license. He was brought before Commissioner H. D. Post, held for trial in the U. S. court, and gave bail for his appearance.

The following is the time card of the stmr. Lizzie Walsh, now in effect, on the route between this city and the resorts: Leave Holland at 9:45 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 5:45 p. m.; leave Macatawa Park at 8:15 a. m., 12:30 p. m., and 5:00 p. m. Sundays—leave Holland at 9:30 a. m., and 2:00 p. m.; leave Park at 1:15 p. m., and 6:30 p. m.

Squire Fairbanks, the local pension agent, breathes easier, since he has heard from Washington, something which does not occur often in these days: Jas. L. Fairbanks, of the 13th Mich. Inf., has his pension increased to $8.00 per month. Theodoros Botzen of Fillmore receives $72 per month, for total blindness. Sarah M., widow of Francis W. Briggs, of Robinson has been allowed $8 per month.

As Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Latta of Allegan are about to become residents of this city, we avail ourselves of the following from last week's Gazette as one way of introducing them as such: "It will be most unwelcome news to learn that Mr. P. A. Latta, having exchanged his residence here for that of Mr. Bert Kolvoord in Holland City, will presently remove to the latter place. Mr. and Mrs. Latta have been among our most respected and esteemed people, in all personal traits and social relations, while Mr. Latta has done a work in the schools of the county which will long outlive his course in life and be a blessing to generations yet to appear. A consolation in the matter is that they will not be so far away as to preclude an occasional visit and renewal of the ties which bind them to us."

Our contemporary, the Independent, in its issue of last week makes an implied censure upon the severity of the sentence of Henry Sickman, the Grand Haven burglar, who was sent by Judge Padgham to Jackson for a term of seven years. With our information and knowledge of the case we fear the Independent has been led to make this stricture without informing itself sufficiently as to the true inwardness of the affair. The rights of the laboring man and the interests of the poor are one thing, while an undue sympathy with a pronounced class of criminals is another. The two should not be confounded. With our estimate of the Independent under its present management we have no doubt the editor, upon proper investigation, will make the amende honorable as regard the actions of Judge Padgham in disposing of Sickman in the manner he did.

Zeeland is soon to have a second weekly newspaper.

Warm days, cool nights, smoky atmosphere, heavy fogs, and an awful drought.

The baby born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob R. Schepers, Fillmore, on Tuesday, died that same day.

Geo. Huntley, of the Aetna planing mill, lost a finger Wednesday evening, by too close a contact with the machinery.

It is said that a large search light is being made in Grand Rapids for the sole purpose of trying to find tariff reformers.

Rev. E. Van den Berge, of Olive, has received a call from an English preaching H. C. Reform church in Grand Rapids.

Johnny Van Landegend, the young man who was injured by the blow of a base ball bat, is doing nicely, and beyond danger of inflammation.

County drain commissioner Edwards will let two drain jobs on Monday, at the farm of Fred Van Lente, four miles north of the city. See notice.

Street commissioner Klavenga after having completed the various street culverts on Tannery creek, is devoting his attention to the renewal of several street crossings.

A party of Grand Havenites came down the other evening by rail and took the stmr. City of Holland for Chicago. The difference in passage at present is sufficient to warrant this.

The steamer Music gave its last excursion on Wednesday to Grand Haven. About sixty persons went from here. At Grand Haven the boat carried the Sunday-school to Fruitport and return.

The G. R. Democrat has a list of possible nominees for congress on the Democratic ticket, and among them we notice the names of Sherman H. Boyce of Grand Haven and R. Kanters of this city.

We have been informed that some four weeks ago, at Traverse City, Peter W. Kane was married to Miss Suzie Elzinga. Both parties are well known here, the bride being a sister-in-law of Mr. H. Brusse, of the Holland furniture factory.

As one season follows another, that same rotation is observed by H. De Kruij, Zeeland, in his agricultural warehouse. Just now the trade runs largely to drills, and "Homestead Fertilizer." And if you are without team, he'll throw in a horse or two.

Adrian Wabeke, the Zeeland bicycle stealer, has been sentenced for one year to the Detroit House of Correction. The jury, in bringing him in guilty, recommended him to the mercy of the court. We fear that at the expiration of his present term, this young man Wabeke will be again heard from.

The democratic county committee met in Grand Haven Friday; the Republicans will meet on Saturday. At the meeting of the former the calls for the two factional conventions were withdrawn; a settlement was effected by the resignations of Watson and Hummer; and a new call for a single convention will be issued.

We have noticed the death at La Crosse, Wis. of E. M. Beckwith, at one time, covering the war period, a prominent ship builder in this city. He had his yard at the head of Black Lake. Among the ships he built was the William Smith, which was wrecked near the west shore and drifted east. The hull came within a few feet from entering between the piers of Holland harbor.

"West Michigan School Journal" is the title of a new 36-page monthly, to be published in this city, devoted to the interests of the schools of Western Michigan. The first issue will be out September 15. Subscription $1.00 per year. The editor is G. W. Toren, and he will have for contributors the different county commissioners, school superintendents, teachers and others interested in educational matters.

On Monday the steamer Music carried a large number of our people to the Park to see the drills of the life saving crew and the Merriam Rifles of Grand Rapids. Both affairs were very interesting, and were witnessed by a large number of persons. The "soldiers" were boys from 12 to 16 years of age. They are well drilled, and the practice is an excellent thing for them. They are all members of either the church or Sunday-school of the Park Congregational church, of Grand Rapids. It would be a good plan to have such an organization for the boys of Holland.

Those who took in the excursion to Grand Haven on the steamer Music were badly shaken up. Quite a number returned home by rail.

A nine composed of the best players from Douglas and Fennville came here Saturday to play a Holland nine, but Holland won, 19 to 14.

Alonza Kendall, the aeronaut, was killed at Schoolcraft, Saturday afternoon, while making a parachute drop from his balloon. He ascended one thousand feet and as there was no breeze he came down directly under the balloon. A bag of sand, used as ballast, dropped out, smashed through the parachute, and Kendall fell five hundred feet with the parachute. He landed on a barbed wire fence and was cut nearly in two. His neck and hips were broken but despite his horrible injuries he lived a few moments after landing.

The Doctors Baking Powders.

DR. F. M. MORGAN.

I have no hesitancy in saying that the Horsford's Baking Powder, in my opinion is the only baking powder that ought to be used in any family, its chemical constituents supplying what is wasted in the manufacture of flour, viz., the phosphates. Most powders contain alum and cream of tartar. One is valueless, the other positively harmful to the system.

Henry Ward Beecher on the Problem of To-day.
Among our scraps we found the following extract from a Decoration Day address delivered by Henry Ward Beecher some twenty years ago, bearing upon the economic problem of to-day. What is especially remarkable is the prophetic view taken at so remote a period by this eminently great man: "We are approaching a period in which men must consider the duties and limits as well as the rights of property."

The wealth of the future is to be without parallel. The skies, the seas, the soil, under the discoveries of science are, as it were, recreated. The development of machinery has, in effect, multiplied the population ten thousand fold. Fortunes are to be amassed by multitudes of men, of fabulous magnitude. The combinations of capital are to go on beyond any power which we can foresee and predict.

Insensibly we are rearing up, under bands of commerce, vast forces which must become political forces. The railway system of the United States is one of the grandest developments of modern civilization in its relations to convenience and wealth.

The movement which is variously denominated communism, socialism, or of the labor party or workingmen's party, is not of American origin. It was born on the Continent. And there it is widespread.

At present in America it is in the hands largely of our emigrant population. But it has behind it in Europe a vast sympathetic force.

It has the vigor of youth and the intensity of fanaticism on its side. It has more. It seeks some ends that ought to be gained. It aims at some wrongs that ought to be redressed.

There are changes in society which selfishness will resist, but which must inevitable take place. In these respects it has strength.

Its social philosophy, if the crude theories may be dignified with the name, is its weakest point.

The attempt to reorganize industry, commerce and government, not by gradual unfolding, but upon a general theory involving a radical reconstruction, is an absurdity only this side of insanity.

There is no danger in the final results. But immediately there is great danger.

The movement is likely to draw to itself the indolent, the corrupt, the industrious poor, the laboring man by whom the great manufacturing interests of the world are conducted, and who are without real estate or capital.

It will tend to organize labor, as distinguished from capital, in an antagonistic spirit. It will seek to establish methods of industry and commerce, by strikes, by unions, whose interior will embody the most absolute despotism known to mankind. It will bring to bear upon parties an influence which will corrupt political doctrines, breed demagogues like the frogs of Egypt, enfeeble the laws and emasculate the administration of government.

Right of the President to Order Troops into States where There is Rioting.

The denial of the right of the President to order, or prevent, any part of the Federal army to be used as was the case in Chicago, has again been brought into prominence by the controversy between Judge Cooley and Gov. Altgeld, and goes deeper than has been generally appreciated.

Ex-President Harrison was reported as not questioning the right of President Cleveland to do as he did, but as affirming that at Chicago "was the first time in the history of the United States Government that a President has ordered Federal troops into a State without the request of the Governor of such State and over his protest. Let us see.

Forty years ago, and in Boston, the President used the army precisely as it was used at Chicago, and sent the Adjutant-General of the army thither to personally represent the President and the War Office. Then the statutes did not exist in relation to resisting Federal laws which have recently been so frequently published or cited in the newspapers. Those laws were enacted after the war of secession began, and some of them after the new amendments of the Federal Constitution.

The Boston case arose out of the Federal fugitive slave law, which compelled the surrender to their southern masters of escaped slaves, and which excited such resentment that many Northern States forbade their officers to aid in its enforcement.

The Federal magistrate in Boston had issued his warrant commanding the marshal to arrest the fugitive. He had been taken into custody, but the danger of rescue was so great that he was detained in the court-house during the trial and not conveyed to the jail.

The popular uprising was so general in Boston that unless the Federal army were used a rescue of the fugitive was inevitable.

No statute then existing covered the case, but on the advice of Marcy, Guthrie, Davis, and Cushing, and all the Cabinet, the President ordered certain companies of the regular army to proceed to Boston and place themselves within the bailiwick of the marshal and respond to his order as part of a posse comitatus. That was done, and the fugitive was carried down State street between two solid lines of Federal troops.

Of course, Massachusetts did not under any clause of the constitution call on the President to aid in executing the Fugitive Slave law.

Everybody recalls how the army was used to keep the peace in the Territory of Kansas forty years ago, and how bitterly such use was condemned. Congress called on the Executive for an exhibition of what he had done in Kansas with the army and his justification. The reply was an elaborate report by Jefferson Davis, as Secretary of War, whose abilities raised him afterward to such calamitous prominence. That report contains the best exposition that I know in print of the legal relations of the army to the President in preserving the peace and aiding in the execution of judicial process.

It will be observed that, following the Boston precedent, Gen. Miles ordered at Chicago that the companies under his command "are to accompany and support the United States marshal and his deputies, and to assist them in preventing any persons from obstructing or destroying the lines of communication along the lines of mail and inter-State commerce railroads."

The orders and mandates to be executed at Chicago were judicial and not executive. If the orders and mandates were unlawful the court was at fault, not the Executive.

The learned and venerable men who act as Supreme or Circuit or District Judges of the Federal courts have no physical power to execute their own decrees. They can issue orders to the marshal of the court, but when he reports an order resisted by an overpowering physical force the judges and the judicial power are helpless. The court orders him to tell the President what is going on. He must take care that the laws are faithfully executed. What is he to do? Nothing? The Constitution puts the command of the army in his hand. Even Congress cannot deprive him of that. Why could he not put the entire army in Chicago.

Congress can refuse to raise and support any army whatever, but can any law, or any constitutional power, prevent the President from using the army as he used it at Chicago, to enforce the resisted process of a Federal law?

Do laboring men wish it? Do railroad employees wish it?

Liberty and property are, next to life, dearest of all things to those men. Liberty and property are enshrined in, and protected by our Federal and State constitutions as nowhere else on earth, and the judicial power is what enforces these constitutions. The strikers at Chicago, misled by Debs, were endeavoring to destroy not only liberty and property, but innocent life, which the judicial power was endeavoring to uphold and preserve for the strikers, their wives, and children.

The phrase "Labor versus Capital," which Debs was mouthing, is a silly, a demagogic, a fictitious cry of an antagonism between the two, which is unknown to our constitutions, our laws, our courts.

Democracy an Expensive Luxury.

New York Recorder This administration is making a mark that will give it a peerless place in our history. It is breaking even President Buchanan's administration's record for business disaster, financial trouble and general national distress.

At the end of the first year of Mr. Cleveland's second term there has been an increase of the national debt $100,000,000. For every one of the twenty-four years of Republican control, from 1869 to 1893, inclusive, there has been an average decrease of the national debt of $69,000,000.

When it appears that the net difference between a year of Republican rule and a year of Democratic rule at Washington so far as the national ledger is concerned, is $169,000,000. It costs the Nation that much in extra taxation to indulge in the luxurious luxury of having a Democratic administration.

If Mr. Cleveland and his party go to the end of the four years' rope as they have gone thus far the American people will have their load of national debt just about $676,000,000 more March 4, 1897, than it would have been if they had not voted for "a change" in 1892.

And on top of that are the losses inflicted on private business. These have been estimated by Bradstreet's and Dun's agencies as amounting to the enormous total of $12,000,000,000 for the first year of Mr. Cleveland's term alone—that is to say for the year ending March 4 last.

And there are two years and a half more of this kind of "currency reform" and "tariff reform" yet to be endured.

The Young Gentleman.

A few days ago I was passing through a pretty, shady street, where some boys were playing at base ball. Among their number was a little lame fellow, seemingly about twelve years old—a pale, sickly-looking child, supported on two crutches, and who evidently found much difficulty in walking.

The lame boy wished to join the game, for he did not seem to see how much his infirmity would be in his own way, and how much it would hinder the progress of such an active sport as baseball.

His companions, very good-naturedly, tried to persuade him to stand at one side and let another take his place; and I was glad to notice that none of them hinted that he would be in the way, but that they all objected for fear he would hurt himself.

"Why, Jimmie," said one at last, "you can't run, you know."

"Oh, hush," said another—the tallest in the party: "never mind, I'll run for him," and he took his place by Jimmy's side, prepared to act. "If you were like him," he said, aside to the other boys, "you wouldn't want to be told of it all the time."

As I passed on I thought to myself that there was a true gentleman.—Ex.

VAN AUKEN IDENTIFIED.

Taken from Detroit to Quincy, Ill., on a Charge of Forgery.

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—C. M. Hobbs, who has been under arrest here for some time on a charge of attempting to secure money under false pretenses, has been identified by one of his bondsmen as A. M. Van Auker, who is wanted at Quincy, Ill., for a $30,000 forgery. The prisoner denied the identification, but agreed to return to Quincy without requisition papers. He left in charge of an officer Monday night. The prisoner has persistently denied all knowledge of Van Auker, refusing to recognize Mrs. Van Auker, her brother, Mr. Castle and others. The only explanation of this is that he is playing the insanity dodge. Mr. Castle says he will have the prisoner examined by Chicago insanity experts.

SCHOOLCRAFT, Aug. 26.—Prof. Kendall, the balloonist and parachutist, was killed here Saturday afternoon. He was picked up dead and was so badly crushed that the bones in several places protruded through his clothing. Kendall was 25 years old. He twice attempted to make ascension at Schoolcraft a week ago, but the balloon catching in a tree both times forced him to postpone his ascension till Saturday.

The Fifth District Republican Congressional Convention.

There was a full attendance at the Congressional convention held at Grand Rapids Wednesday, every delegate being present but one.

The action of the Kent county convention held the day previous, had developed a strong sentiment, bordering upon unanimity, in favor of Wm. Alden Smith, thus practically barring all prospects for the nomination of a candidate outside of Kent. In order to render this the more certain the Kent county delegates met in conference on the morning of the convention. This meeting is said to have been quite stormy, until it was decided to take a ballot, which showed the following: Smith 43, Belknap 2, Stuart 2. Upon a second ballot Belknap dropped out, whereupon Stuart withdrew, thereby leaving the delegation an unit for Smith, and securing him the nomination on the first ballot.

In view of the political nonentity to which Ionia and Ottawa are reduced under the present congressional apportionment it is in order for these counties to inquire of one another as they hereafter meet on similar occasions, "What are we here for, anyhow?"

We will hail the dawn of a coming century!

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and organized with Samuel Lemmon of Grand Rapids as temporary chairman, and Geo. L. Jordan of Ionia secretary. Messrs. Power of Ottawa, McMillan of Kent and George C. Cooper of Ionia were appointed committee on credentials.

Thomas Daniels of Ionia, George D. Turner of Ottawa and J. B. Griswold of Kent, were appointed a committee on permanent organization and order of business.

A motion for a committee on resolutions was voted down, and a recess taken until one o'clock.

When the convention reassembled, the committee on credentials reported a full delegation present and no contesting delegations.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business recommended Hon. W. O. Webster of Ionia for permanent chairman and G. Van Schellen of Ottawa secretary; also that the counties be called for presentation of candidates; nomination of a candidate; and election of a congressional committee.

Nominating speeches were in order and made as follows: Capt. E. M. Allen placed in nomination A. J. Weber of Ionia; Geo. Clapperton presented William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids; and G. J. Diekema nominated Geo. A. Farr of Ottawa.

The addresses were all of a high order, and met with cheering response. As Mr. Diekema stepped upon the platform he was received with hearty applause. In presenting the favored son of Ottawa he assured them that not a disparaging word would be uttered against the manly Weber of Ionia, with whom he had served in the legislative halls of the state; nor against the eloquent and gifted son of Kent, Wm. Alden Smith. But it was left for him to present the name of the noblest Roman of them all. The Fifth district was among the most important in the State, and it needed a man equal to the situation. All other things being equal it needed in the congressional bear garden a man of push and progressive vigor; an orator; a statesman, that had been tried. Ottawa presented such a man in Geo. A. Farr. He had served his people as senator in the state legislature and his record there was brilliant. The old soldiers desired the nomination of one of their comrades. When 19 years of age, while chopping wood on the farm, Geo. A. Farr laid down his ax, took up the musket, and served his country faithfully and well. Such has been the treatment of the veterans at the hands of Mr. Cleveland that it was only justice to them to send one of their number to Washington. Gentlemen of Kent, let us reason together: You are not without political possessions and preference. On the supreme bench of the state you have your honored representative. In the highest branch of the national legislature you have your eloquent standard bearer. The nominee for attorney general is one of your talented citizens. Other officials are located within your borders. It will not do for you to partake too much of the nature of that animal which is despised by the Jews, and in which so many devils were sent. [This rally met with cheer after cheer and was by none better appreciated than by the delegates from Kent.] You have looked to Ottawa for your Republican majorities. In the name of common justice we ask for this nomination at your hands, and we ask it for a man, whom, in addition to every other qualification, I present to you as spotless in private character. We ask you to give ear to our pleadings. New and important questions are confronting us as a nation, requiring statesmanship and new men. At some future date we will take great pleasure in honoring the young and rising man of your choice, but now we ask the nomination of Geo. A. Farr.

Dr. J. B. Griswold, of Kent, seconded the nomination, and in rebuttal of what had been said by Mr. Diekema, confessed by a slip of the tongue that as long as Ottawa held the U. S. senatorship she had been content and had not applied for anything else—which involuntary admission, as it was gradually caught up by the convention, was met with a hearty laugh at the expense of the good doctor.

One ballot decided the matter, each county casting its full vote for its own candidate: Farr 14, Weber 17, Smith 52. Ionia moved to make the nomination unanimous, Ottawa seconded it, and it was carried with an enthusiastic vote. Messrs. McIntyre of Kent, Diekema of Ottawa, and Allen of Ionia, were appointed a committee to wait upon the nominee and bring him before the convention. In due time Mr. Smith appeared and delivered an address of acceptance which at once captivated the convention and the large audience assembled. We prefer to give this address as a whole, and for want of space this week will reserve it until our next.

The convention was next addressed by Mr. Farr, who assured them the loyal and generous support of the Republicans of Ottawa County. [A voice—"Good for Holland." Farr—"Of the friendship of which I may well be proud."] He knew of but one other he had rather seen nominated than William Alden Smith, but modestly forbade him mentioning the name. He knew Mr. Smith when the latter was a page in the legislature, had watched with much interest his career since, and at this time there was no envy in his heart. Great questions have to be met, and the nation, now as in the past, looks to the Republican party to solve them. He pledged the candidate his unqualified support and ventured the opinion that Ottawa would give him 1,500 majority.

Mr. Farr was loudly cheered and his loyalty to the candidate won for him many new admirers.

Resolutions were adopted complimentary to ex-congressman Belknap; condemnatory of the action of the House of Representatives in refusing to give him his seat; also favorable to the Grand River improvement project.

A congressional committee, consisting of five members from each county, was then elected as follows:

Kent—S. M. Lemon, George Clapperton and Dr. J. B. Griswold of Grand Rapids, D. C. Lyle of Cedar Springs, and S. P. Hicks of Lowell.

Ionia—William FitzGibbons of Saranac, F. J. Morris, D. G. Connor and William O. Webster of Ionia, and E. B. Lapham of Belding.

Ottawa—George D. Turner of Grand Haven, G. Van Schellen of Holland, J. B. Watson, of Coopersville, Albert Lahula of Zeeland, and Robert Alward, of Georgetown.
The convention then adjourned.

A synopsis of the life of our candidate is another example of the possibilities that are open to an American youth.

He was born at Dowagiac, Mich., May 12, 1859, and was educated in the common schools of that place until 12 years of age, when he removed with his father and mother to Grand Rapids. His father taking sick, he was obliged to assist in caring for the family. We find him:

The Coming Fair.

The recent accident to the aeronaut Kendall has interfered with the proposed balloon ascension during fair week, as can be seen from the following card received by Secretary Kerkhof:

KALAMAZOO, MICH., Aug. 29, 1893.
DEAR SIR:—You have no doubt by this time heard of the sad accident to my brother and partner; he was killed while making an ascension in Schoolcraft, Mich., Aug. 25, falling 300 feet to the ground. This was a sad shock indeed to me, and I have concluded to quit the business at once; so I could not make the ascension for you. Thanking you very much for the favor,
I am yours, very respectfully,
ED. M. KENDALL.

TIME AT THE NORTH POLE.

The Man Who First Reaches That Point Will Meet with Surprises.

If ever the north pole is reached the adventurous spirits who get there will find that they have actually outstripped Father Time altogether; in fact, he will have given up the rate entirely, for at the northern and southern extremities of the earth's axis there is no fixed time at all, says the London Globe. At any moment it can be noon or midnight, breakfast time or supper time, work time or play time, whichever one likes. Clocks will be a fraud and delusion, for at the pole all degrees of longitude converge into one, and therefore all times. The possibilities of such a position are endless. Not only, too, will the clocks be out, but the calendar as well. It can be, at will, either yesterday or to-day, or to-morrow. We have heard a lot of foolish people ask what the use and pleasure can be of getting to the north pole, but a little reflection will show us advantages can be gained there which cannot be found in any other part of the globe. There, at any rate, instead of being like the poor inhabitants of lower latitudes, the slaves of time, we can turn the tables and be its masters.

THE GERMAN'S JOKE.

The Cate Smoker Plays His Game and Has It Returned.

The following "Fraud Upon an Insurance Company," in the Deutsche Tabak-Zeitung, is certainly just a little too good to be true: A cunning fellow, who wanted to smoke the best cigars at the cheapest possible cost, bought one thousand cigars of the highest quality and corresponding price, and immediately insured the whole stock. When he had smoked the last of them he demanded seven hundred and fifty marks from the insurance company on the ground that the whole of his insured stock, ten boxes of cigars, had been consumed by fire! The Solomonian court decided in favor of the plaintiff.

The company then brought an action of conspiracy against the smoker, accusing him of having intentionally put fire to his own cigars and deliberately destroyed his property. Hereupon the same wise court condemned the insured smoker to three months' imprisonment.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. A Racking Cough

Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genesee St.,
Lockport, N. Y., says:—

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was and had about decided to sit up all night in my easy chair, and procure what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments, I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."

DAMAGE BY FOREST FIRES.

Men Called Out to Fight for Their Homes—
—Trains Haul Water.

SAGINAW, Aug. 28.—Fires are causing heavy damage along the line of the Saginaw, Tuscola & Huron railroad, and on Monday the trains were hauling water to quench the flames. Several farm buildings have been destroyed. The smoke is so dense here that objects 100 feet distance cannot be distinguished. Much timber and farm property have been destroyed on the western division of the Flint & Pere Marquette and Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan roads. It is estimated that over $1,000,000 damage has been done in the Saginaw valley and northern Michigan.

HARRISVILLE, Aug. 28.—Several alarms have been sounded within the last day or two, occasioned by fires around the village creeping up on the fences, barns and houses situated upon the outskirts of town, but scores of men armed with tin pails and buckets responding promptly have held the flames in check. Tall pine trees enveloped in flames and looking like huge torches are becoming a common sight, and many are sleeping with one eye open and will continue to do so until their petitions for rain are answered.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Aug. 28.—Forest fires are raging in the woods near this city, and the town is enveloped in smoke and ashes. There has been no rain to speak of for two months.

BAY CITY, Aug. 28.—The western portion of Bay county is all on fire. Southwest toward the Saginaw line the long, thick prairie grass is burning fiercely, throwing out immense heat and sending up dense clouds of smoke. From these prairie fires comes the smoke which has been hanging over the city for days. To the west, in Monitor township, fires are also fiercely raging and the woods are on fire. That there has been great destruction is probably due to the watchfulness of the farmers.

The land off toward the northwest of Kawkawlin village is being ruined by the fire. In this part of the country the old pine and Norway stumps burn like tinder on account of the pitch they contain, and the fire, following the roots, burns down into the ground for a depth of 3 or 4 feet. This burns all the subsoil and renders the ground practically useless. Throughout the country a terrible drought prevails, and on the roads in some places the dust is 6 inches deep. Some miles west of here all the wells have dried up and the farmers are drawing water 5 and 6 miles for their stock. The air is full of ashes of burned leaves and the smoke is so dense that the sun is hidden.

ISHPEMING, Aug. 28.—Forest fires invaded the settlement known as Finland, on the South Shore railroad, and completely wiped it out of existence. Many of the residents lost everything. Thousands of cords of poles, ties and wood, as well as standing timber, have been destroyed.

TIRED OF HIS BURDEN.

Joseph Ertelt Could Bear Poverty No Longer, So He Killed Himself.

DETROIT, Aug. 27.—Joseph Ertelt's body with a bullet in the head was found Sunday afternoon lying beneath a willow tree, at Belle Isle park. He had evidently committed suicide Saturday night. In his pocket was found a note addressed to his wife, in which he told her he could bear the burden of poverty no longer and advised her to raise money and take her children back to Germany. Ertelt had been out of work two weeks. He leaves a widow and three children.

Death of a Pioneer.

GRAND RAPIDS, Aug. 29.—James W. Converse, a millionaire owning extensive interests here, has just died near Boston. He came here in 1850 and was largely interested in the building of the first railroad to the city of Kalamazoo by the way of Allegan, now a branch of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern. He furnished the means for building the railroad from this city to Newaygo. He subscribed and aided financially in many Grand Rapids manufacturing enterprises.

Old Soldiers Camp at Battle Creek.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 29.—The Veterans' battalion of Calhoun county, in conjunction with the Merrill horse brigade, began a two days' encampment Tuesday at Lake Gogunac, this city. This is the fourth annual reunion of the old soldiers. Marshall and other cities and towns of the county have sent their grand army posts. Washington Gardner, of Albion, was the orator of the day.

Killed at a Dance.

EAST TAWAS, Aug. 27.—Julius Fisher, a policeman on the Bay City force, is passing his vacation here, and was taken to jail at Tawas City for shooting and killing Mex Drevelke at a dance at the farmhouse of Chris Goedeke, 6 miles west of here. The ball entered the abdomen and passed through the body, causing death in a few hours.

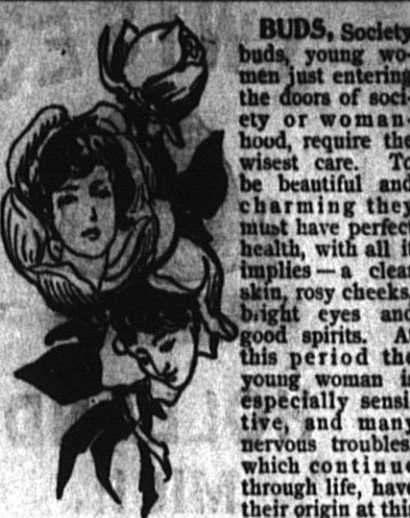

Michigan Bankers.

BAY CITY, Aug. 29.—Elaborate arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the Michigan bankers here on September 12 and 13. The Hon. S. O. Fisher will entertain them at Elm Place. Indications point toward a successful meeting. J. J. Eekels, comptroller of the currency, will speak.

WIN Require $5,000 Worth of Stamps.
GRAND RAPIDS, Aug. 27.—One of the largest playing card factories in the country, run by the American Playing Card company, of Kalamazoo, is located in this revenue district, and it is estimated that it will require for the stock on hand $5,000 worth of new revenue stamps to comply with the law.

Victim of a Dog's Bite.

SAGINAW, Aug. 25.—A. J. Blanchard, of this city, was bitten by a dog afflicted with rabies July 6. Seven weeks after to a day he was taken with the dread disease, and died Friday morning in great agony.

BUDS, Society buds, young women just entering the doors of society or womanhood, require the wisest care. To be beautiful and charming they must have perfect health, with all it implies—a clear skin, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and good spirits. At this period the young woman is especially sensitive, and many nervous troubles, which continue through life, have their origin at this time. If there be pain, headache, backache, and nervous disturbances, or the general health not good, the judicious use of medicine should be employed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best restorative tonic and nerve line at this time. The best bodily condition results from its use. It's a remedy specially indicated for those delicate weaknesses and derangements that afflict womanhood at one period or another. You'll find that the woman who has faithfully used the "Prescription" is the picture of health, she looks well and she feels well.

In catarrhal inflammation, in chronic displacements common to women, where there are symptoms of backache, dizziness or fainting, bearing down sensations, disordered stomach, moodiness, fatigue, etc., the trouble is surely dispelled and the sufferer brought back to health and good spirits.

"WOMAN'S ILLS."

Mrs. W. R. BATES, of
Dixie, Trumbull Co.,
Ohio, writes:

"A few years ago I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which has been a great benefit to me. I am in excellent health now. I hope that every woman, who is troubled with 'women's ills,' will try the 'Prescription' and be benefited as I have been."
