TO CELEBRATE EIGHTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. JAPPINGA

Preparations are being made to celebrate the eighty-ninth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Martin Jappinga which occurs next Sunday, September 7.

Mrs. Jappinga is still spry for her age and enjoys the gathering around of the family hosts on an occasion of this kind. Around her home at 186 East Tenth street she can be found tending her little garden and making herself generally useful about the house despite her "four score and ten."

Mrs. Jappinga passed away six years ago at the ripe old age of 81 and since that time she has been living alone still performing her household duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Jappinga were married in the Netherlands in 1855 and came to America in 1873, taking their little brood with them, which included Peter, Ab and John. Five children were born to them in this country, namely Alice, Jack, Henry, Alice and Ike. Alice Jappinga Zeerip and Jack and Ike have died.

Those who remain of the children and grandchildren expect to gather Sunday if possible extending love and congratulations to the old mother who has been spared to them so long.

Ottawa Bar Presents Plea For A Member

ASKS JUDGE MILES FOR CONSIDERATION IN DISPOSING OF ATTORNEY DAN PAGELSEN CASE

At the opening of the September term of the Ottawa County Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon, Louis H. Osterhaus, representing the Ottawa County Bar Association, appeared before Judge Fred T. Miles and asked for clemency and consideration, and urged prompt action in the case of Dan P. Pagsen, who earlier in the day had pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, second offense.

Orien S. Cross of Holland, former judge of this circuit, corroborated Mr. Osterhaus in his plea, citing his acquaintance, as judge of the circuit, with the respondent during his 17 years on the bench, where he had found him to be a man of integrity, a square shooter and deserving, he believed, the consideration of the court.

Tom Robinson of Holland, Clarence Hoffman of Allegan and Probate Judge James J. Danhof, and Attorney Leo Little all spoke in behalf of Mr. Pagsen, declaring they were convinced the man had had sufficient punishment and the lesson would serve to prevent similar missteps in the future.

Mr. Osterhaus in his plea called attention to Mr. Pagsen's intelligence, his years of experience at the local bar and his reputation as an officer. He believed, he said, that any punishment other than probation would react seriously for the respondent's future.

In his remarks Judge Fred T. Miles clearly brought before the members of the bar association, that this was a second offense. He also stated that if there is one class of persons who should know the law, it is an attorney. He expressed his appreciation to the members for their interest, sympathy and in reply to a fellow member and said the matter was a most delicate situation fraught with consequences, which might not be apparent to everyone.

Judge Miles made it clear in his remarks that he must accept the responsibilities which the office placed upon him, but indicated that in disposing of the case he would consider the request of the Bar Association. He set September 8 as the time for the respondent to appear for sentence.

The long drought in Allegan county was broken Tuesday morning by a heavy rainfall. It came late to help the corn crop but will benefit late potatoes.

Hot Campaign Is Now On In Allegan County

CONTEST IN ALL COUNTY AND STATE OFFICES, SHERIFF FIGHT WARM ONE

Allegan county is having a real campaign. Several closely contested positions on the republican ticket are being hard fought in our neighboring county, culminating at the primary election Tuesday.

For the first time in 10 years Cong. John C. Ketcham of Holland has serious opposition in George J. Barnard, state senator from Benton Harbor. A close vote is predicted.

Also for the first time in 10 years State Sen. George Leland of Fennville stands a chance of being defeated for nomination. His opponent is Paul H. Smith of Paw Paw. Smith has twice before opposed Leland in the Allegan-Barry-VanBuren senatorial district. Both other times, however, there was a third man in the race. This year Smith alone opposes Leland. Smith lost to Leland two years ago by slightly more than 100 votes, carrying both Barry and VanBuren counties.

Fred Wade, Allegan county state representative, who lives in Saugatuck, has serious opposition in George Schutmaat of Hamilton. Both are highly regarded in the county and politicians are pointing to a close race.

There are several hot contests for county offices. Interest centers chiefly in the race for the Republican nomination for county clerk. The present clerk, William G. Tisdale, is running for a fourth term. Carl A. Warner of Shelbyville, Wayne township supervisor and John Scarlett, Saugatuck supervisor, are opponents. Tisdale is conceded the advantage in the three-man race. Anti-Tisdale voters are concentrating their vote for Warner to overcome the three-way split.

Sheriff Guy Teed, serving his first term, is meeting considerable opposition in the candidacy of Fred W. Miller of Monterey township. Of late no opposition has been offered sheriffs running for a second term nomination, but Miller is waging a very active campaign.

Leslie H. Fry, Allegan township supervisor; Miss Agnes Robinson, deputy register of deeds for eight years; and Elmer Like of Plainwell are contesting for the nomination for register of deeds. Fry has a strong following and Like polled a good vote four years ago. Miss Robinson is the only woman on the county ticket and because of this is expected to poll a strong vote.

Roy Davidson of Allegan, the only Allegan city candidate, is running for the township supervisor nomination. He was formerly city treasurer. J. Roy Tanner, Monterey township supervisor, is his opponent. A close vote is predicted.

Prosecutor Harry Pell has no opposition. Nor are other places on the ticket being contested.

The Democratic party has named a complete county ticket without any contests. Its candidate for congress is Roman I. Jarvis of Saugatuck; state senator, Amos Schafer of Allegan; representative, D. A. Heath of Saugatuck; sheriff, Squire B. Wilcox, Monterey; county clerk, Sherman Moore; register of deeds, George Shea; prosecuting attorney, Edmund Cook of Allegan; circuit court commissioners, Lawrence Born of Allegan and Roy Honeysett; drain commissioner, Arthur Dostie; coroners, Joseph Gordon of Burnsville and Dr. Howard W. Stuch of Allegan; county surveyor, Arthur Dostie.

At a recent meeting of the Common Council it was determined to designate Washington street as a state highway right-of-way, but that no paving would be done there by the city at this time, only permitting the state to extend its 20-foot pavement on it through this city. After the concrete is laid, no permit will be granted to dig under the pavement for sewer or water connections.

"The new right-of-way will connect with the present highway in line with East Washington St., just north of the Bennett Lumber and Manufacturing Co. factory at the east city limits where it will gradually curve toward the north joining it completely near the large culvert."

"At the old brick yards one-half mile west of this city the new and old pavements will again join, where traffic west-bound over the new Washington Street route will again follow the old route while the new road is incomplete between that point and Holland city."

GAS MAN MAKES EASTERN TRIP

Mr. Groth will be away for at least a fortnight and will return to Holland with his family after making several side trips to places of interest in the east.

The "mike" told the world this fact: "Holland, Michigan, a resort and industrial city located on Black Lake and Lake Michigan where the Dutch residents give a warm welcome to every visitor."

Miss Agnes Hiemstra left for Lansing last week. Miss Hiemstra teaches school near Lansing.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. O. E. Yates, of Plainwell, has bought the practice of Dr. Robert B. Best, at Overisel. Dr. Best has moved to Holland and has established offices in the Vander Veen building on Main street. Note: Later Dr. Yates came to Holland to practice and became a very prominent citizen and mayor for two terms. The Yates home stood on the present City Hall site.

A wrestling match was put on Saturday night at Lyceum Opera House, the contest being between F. H. McKnight of Big Rapids and E. G. Johnson of Holland. The Holland man won the first fall in 15 minutes and the second in 9 minutes. It was a beautiful display of skill and agility. It is ridiculous however to hear some savants (?) criticize such exhibitions, as if they were brutal and disorderly and if they really do, is to display their own ignorance. The same "puritans" would attend a political meeting of their own ilk, and hear their opponents slandered and abused and they would glory in it and smile over it. (But that's no sin because they themselves do it.) How consistent! Note: Poor brother editor, may you be consoled in the fact that 50 years later some folks haven't changed much.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The five month old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Vyven passed away at the residence, Seventh and Columbia. Rev. A. T. Luther, pastor of the M. E. Church, officiated at the funeral.

Holkeboer & Co. has taken the contract to build the new Carnegie gymnasium on Hope college campus for $23,318. Fritsch & Thompson, River st. plumbers, were awarded the plumbing contract at $3,150. The building must be completed by June 1, 1906. Note: The above figures at least show that building costs have jumped tremendously. To duplicate that building today would cost not far from $100,000.

L. Serier died Sunday at 70 years, 246 East Ninth street at his home. One son, John, survives.

Johnnie Hacklander, age 11 fell from Seventh street into the Holland Interurban viaduct at the Pers Marquette depot. The fall is some 40 feet and the lad struck his head on the street car rails causing a bad fracture of the skull, resulting in death. A car was just emerging from the viaduct and the motor man seeing the boy fall jammed on the brakes and prevented the heavy car from passing over the inert figure. Dr. Henry Kremer and Dr.

Andrew Hyma is building a new residence on Pine street.

A hard frost in this vicinity killed off much of the fall produce. There was even ice on Black Lake.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Rotschaffer, at Madanapelle, India—a daughter. Mrs. Rotschaffer was formerly Miss Bernice Takken of Holland and is now working with her husband in the mission field.

Meyer-Reed Nuptials Late Social Summer Event

A great social function that created a deal of interest in Holland occurred at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when Miss Wilma Meyer, one of Holland's most popular young ladies and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Meyer of this city, was wed to Mr. Morris Osborne Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Reed of Grand Rapids, Mich. The marriage was performed by Rev. E. J. Blekkink, former pastor of the Third Reformed Church and for many years professor at the Western Theological Seminary.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents on Twelfth street and Central Avenue. The home was beautifully arranged and decorated with seasonal garden flowers and an improvised altar, before the fire place was a bower of beauty, banked with ferns, palms, together with pink and white gladiolus.

Mr. Harris Meyer, able organist and an artist of rare ability, came from Kalamazoo to play the wedding march at the marriage of his sister.

With the first strains of music the beautiful young bride descended the stairway on the arm of her father. Miss Meyer looked charmingly gowned in a Vionnet model of pale gray chiffon made with a vertically tucked bodice and skirt, flared at the bottom. A small apron of triangular pieces of chiffon was tied on with a belt of blue velvet. The bride's hat was of Pervanche blue silk velvet and her sandals slippers were of that color. To complete her costume she carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and swainsonia.

The bride was attended as maid of honor by her sister, Miss Nella Meyer, who looked very becoming in a gown of Lanvin model of beige crepe made with lace inserts in the cape sleeves and a lace jabot. The skirt was made with unpressed plaits in a full skirt tied tightly with a bow at the back. Miss Meyer wore a brown silk velvet toque and brown pumps. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of Pernet roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Gerald Reed assisted his brother as groomsmen.

Mrs. Reed's gown was of black satin, with which she wore a gold lame blouse.

Mrs. Meyer, mother of the bride, chose a printed chiffon with soft greens and gray predominating to wear at her daughter's wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Prins of Holland, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

After the marriage there was a reception and a delightful supper was served in the Meyer home. Here the decorations also were pleasing, the bride's table being adorned with white roses and blue gladiolus.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed left immediately for their home.

BIG SPECKLED BASS CAUGHT IN SPRING LAKE

Grand Rapids Herald:—Entries continue to come in from western Michigan anglers for competition in The Herald fishing contest for fish of species for which no prizes are offered. Many perch have been entered, although there is no contest division for perch.

Latest entry of this type is for a record-breaking speckled bass caught by Harry B. Parks, aged 13. Harry is entitled to a round of cheers for taking a speckle that weighed 1 pound, 13 ounces, dressed, and measured 14 1/2 inches. That's a whopper. But there's no prize offered for "specks." Harry caught his fish in Spring Lake, Ottawa County.

At a motoring trip and will be at home to their friends after October 1st at 1159 Cromwell street, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Reed is a highly educated young lady, being a graduate from Holland High School, from Hope College, studied at Kalamazoo Normal and also at Wisconsin state at Madison, Wis. She studied for some time at a celebrated art school in New York City, receiving her A. B. degree and recently devoted much of her time as a commercial artist, doing sketch and art work connected with the Herpolshemer Advertising department. She also conducts a studio of her own in that city where her work has been in great demand.

Mr. Reed is a graduate from Central High, Grand Rapids, and was a star on the football team of Southern California and is a graduate from Michigan. Mr. Reed is also of an artistic turn of mind, being connected with his father in the Reed Engraving Company of Grand Rapids.

The Allegan county road commission has completed the five and one-half miles of paving on the Montanary road north from the city limits to Knoblock corners and on Wednesday morning began work on putting down two and one-half miles of paving to the east village limits of Hopkins. The mile of paving in the village of Martin also has been laid.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Rev. J. Lanting will be in charge of the morning and evening service and will speak in the morning on the subject "The Lord Working." The evening subject will be "The Blood on the Door Post."

Jack Dempsey To Make Holland A Real Visit

NOTED BOXER IS TO REFEREE A SPORT PROGRAM AT THE HOLLAND ARMORY

Unless all plans fall through, which is doubtful, Jack Dempsey is to be the guest of George F. Getz at Lakewood Farm the greater part of a week in the very near future.

When the officials of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion got wind of this they immediately secured a conference with Holland's old friend, George Getz. It has been the ambition of the local post for more than two years to have Jack Dempsey referee a real "go" in Holland. Mr. Getz immediately fell in with the plans of the local boys and in a conference with Jack Dempsey, he, too, approved the plans that had been nursed along by the local legion for some time.

George Getz's bringing Jack Dempsey to Holland will be the greatest sporting event ever staged here. After the conference it was decided that the entire program would go to the American Legion as a special fund for local disabled and needy ex-service men.

If the plans formulated work out right a real worthwhile boxing show will be staged in which not only the most skilled men in the "manly art" from abroad will be pitted against one another but a few of the best of Holland's talent will be found competing in this sport program.

The intention is to have Jack Dempsey referee these events and Holland boys who get a chance to compete in the "square ring" will never get over the fact that "Jack" refereed their little "go" during 1930. It'll go down in their lives as a "red letter" day.

It is expected that this sport program will be staged at the Armory in Holland but just now the local organization wants to find out first that they are sure of Dempsey's coming before they put the final finishing touches to the plans. If everything works out right Holland will be sure to see many men of prominence here including Governor Fred W. Green, Lloyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit Sport promoter, Emmerson W. Dickenson, sporting editor of Grand Rapids and a great many other personal friends of Mr. Dempsey and Mr. Getz.

Miss Dora Wentzel has taken a position with the Holland Auto & Specialty Co. as bookkeeper.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dekker, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fairbanks, Chicago, a son.

Louis Stetekete, son of patrolman Stetekete is celebrating his 18th birthday.

Adrian Van Putten, of the Hardie Jewelry Store, was five "Jitneys" old Friday and celebrated the occasion by passing out good "Jitney" cigars to his friends. Note: By the way, that made Adrian "fat and forty."

Andrew Hyma is building a new residence on Pine street.

A hard frost in this vicinity killed off much of the fall produce. There was even ice on Black Lake.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Rotschaffer, at Madanapelle, India—a daughter. Mrs. Rotschaffer was formerly Miss Bernice Takken of Holland and is now working with her husband in the mission field.

VALUABLE INDIAN PRINCESS COSTUME

The Indian princess's costume worn by Mrs. Gus Jessiek in the Centennial parade and also at the costume party at the Payillon at Saugatuck is most worthy of note.

It is made of pure white doeskin and the beading is said to be an example of the finest work of Indian art in the United States and took four years to make.

It was worn many years ago by Princess Haulan, of the Cherokee Indians at the feast of the Great Peace by which the Cherokee Indians celebrated the treaties with the government and has been worn but a few times since that feast. It is considered priceless.

HOLLAND PREACHER WILL GREET CHINA MISSIONARIES SUNDAY

Rev. Wm. J. Van Kersen, D. D., of Holland, Western District Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, will deliver the short address of the service. Rev. Vanden Berg, pastor of the church, will also take part in the deliberations.

Rev. and Mrs. De Pree and family were in Italy on their way home when the volcano, Vesuvius, erupted recently, and much concern was felt for their safety.

GRAND HAVEN BANKER CATCHES BIG TROUT

B. P. Sherwood, Sr., Grand Haven banker, on a fishing trip near Elk Rapids over the week-end, brought in an unusual catch of Mackinac trout, when he landed two beauties of 20 and 12 pounds each. The 20-pounder measured 37 inches and gave the angler a good fight before he succeeded in landing it. The party also included his sons, B. P., Jr., and Marion, and a guest, Mr. George Daniels of New York City. Miss Lucinda Sherwood accompanied them to Traverse City.

RECEIPTS OF FRUIT SET NEW HIGH RECORD AT FENNVILLE

Six thousand crates of peaches, plums and pears were received in the packing plant of the Fennville Fruit Exchange Tuesday, setting a new record. Bartlett pears constituted a large part of the receipts. Harvesting of Prolific peaches will begin next week.

LOCAL PASTOR GOES TO CALIFORNIA

Rev. and Mrs. H. Van der Ploeg left with their daughter, Jeannette for San Jose, Calif., yesterday. Miss Vander Ploeg has just returned from a two month's tour in European countries. She will resume her work as instructor in Library Science in the State's Teachers' College. Rev. Vander Ploeg will engage in some mission work. Mr. Vander Ploeg recently held a charge at East Saugatuck.

Raymond Stetekete has left for River Edge, New Jersey, where he will teach English in the high school.

MR. AND MRS. DIEKEMA HOME MONDAY

Willis Diekema left for New York yesterday to meet his parents, Minister and Mrs. Diekema, who will arrive by boat from The Netherlands some time Saturday. They expect to arrive in Holland next week Monday and both will cast their ballot at the primaries next Tuesday. Just how the Minister from the Netherlands or what his near few future plans are is not known and will not be until he arrives. No doubt his time will be in much demand, not only here but in Washington as well.

MAYOR BROOKS TO SPEAK FOR BRUCKER AT ZEELAND

A "Brucker for Governor" mass meeting will be held at Church street city park, Zeeland, this Friday evening.

The meeting will be led by a special band concert by the Zeeland American Legion Band. This will be followed by speaking and more music.

M. C. Ver Hage will be chairman of the meeting, while Mayor Earnest Brooks of Holland will also assist in introducing the speakers and will himself speak, urging the nomination of Mr. Brucker for governor of Michigan.

Zeeland Has A Children's Curfew That Moves About

We are rather surprised to hear that Zeeland has a curfew. We had understood that Holland was the only city in the county that could boast of a child's welfare whistle that has never done much welfaring during the twenty years it has been doing its blowing (?). But then Zeeland has a curfew that is different as the following from the Zeeland Record will indicate:

"During the next few days the people of Zeeland need not be surprised if they should see the 'mocking-bird' traveling up and down Main street, screaming the morning, noon and evening hours, and striking the curfew hour with extra emphasis in the hearts of wayward young ones."

"The information has reached us that the Dutch Woodcraft Company, which has been blowing the city whistle on the hours of 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 6:00 p. m., and 8:55 p. m., has mounted the 'mocking-bird' on a steam traction engine, such as is used by the ordinary threshing outfits, and this will furnish steam to blow the whistle."

"We have not heard any complaint that the whistle cannot be heard in the more distant parts of the city, but then, there may have been complaints that the noise is too great in the vicinity of the factory, so that it has become desirable to move it about and give all an equal deal. And then, again, we have noticed a scaffolding about the smoke stack at the factory and it is possible the whistle is in the way and had to be taken down from where it had perched for years. At any rate, the 'mocking-bird' is now perched on the traction engine, and we'll just await results."

REFORMED CHURCH SCHOOL IN JAPAN CLOSING DOORS

Steele academy, an educational institution sponsored by the Reformed Church in America at Nagasaki, Japan, has been forced to close its doors. Closing of the academy was the result of altered circumstances, insufficient funds and a desire to emphasize evangelistic work.

The academy was established in 1886, with Rev. Albert Oltmans, veteran missionary now on furlough in this country, as the first principal. The present principal is Rev. Willis G. Hoeck, graduate of Hope college. The number of students enrolled two years ago exceeded 400. Funds used for its support now will be devoted to evangelistic work.—G. R. Press.

ALLEGAN SUFFERING FROM WATER SHORTAGE

Owing to the extreme dry season the Allegan city wells are at an alarmingly low stage, and sprinkling hours were given some time ago. It is learned that all are not adhering strictly to the sprinkling schedule. So Marshal Lemon has been instructed to watch users of water and see that the ordinance is enforced. Scarcity of water during this dry time would be disastrous in case of fire. The new test well, no doubt, when it is so the water may be pumped into the Allegan city mains, will give a needed supply of water to the city.

FENNVILLE SCHOOLS OPENED LABOR DAY

The Fennville schools reopened Monday for the fall term, and the pupils and teachers have resumed work after the long summer vacation.

There have been several changes in the staff of teachers this year. Miss Elizabeth Ludington will have history and mathematics; Geraldine Brooks, domestic science, and Janet Youker, English, taking the places of Misses Dorothy Kennedy, Catherine Broadwell and Anna Barkema, of Holland.

Holidays and vacations during the coming school year will be Thanksgiving, November 27 and 28; Christmas, Dec. 23 to January 1, 1930; Spring vacation, March 27 to April 6; Memorial day, May 30th.

Commencement events will be Senior Class day, June 2, 1931; Baccalaureate sermon, May 31; Graduation exercises, June 4.

SOME HIGH PERCH

A mess of undersized perch meant 20 days in jail for each of a party of three fishermen in Alger county. John Parley, Alex Miller and Max Klopoff were sentenced to pay fines of $10 each, costs of $9.65 each, and to serve 20 days in jail when they were convicted of possessing undersized perch.

Creamery Folks Want To Open Plant Again

OHIO MAN WANTS TO GET FACTS AND FIGURES ABOUT OUR LIGHT PLANT

The Council meeting last evening was rather a short one although much detail was gone thru hurriedly. The Holland Crystal Creamery, who were compelled to close their buttermilk drying unit because neighbors objected to the terrible odor, asked that they be allowed to re-open again. The matter has been referred to Al Kleis and Alderman Prins of the First Ward.

A Mr. Kountz of Ohio received permission to inspect Holland's light plant. He stated that he had heard so much about its efficiency that he was looking for data. The city fathers welcomed him and told him to go ahead.

These and many other details were taken care of as will be found in the following report given officially by City Clerk Peterson.

The Bean Pot

The bean growers of Michigan, who produce two-thirds of the white beans raised in the United States, will be relieved to know that the recent dry weather promises to increase rather than diminish their income from this substantial leguminous food product, although they can't take to themselves the credit for this happy eventuation. They would have been out of pocket if it hadn't been for nature, who knows her beans. A crop estimate made at the state agricultural college predicts that the production of beans in Michigan this year will be as low as or lower than last year's yield, which amounted to five and one-half million bushels and sold for from $4 to $8 a hundredweight, with the bulk of the crop bringing top prices. With no greater production this year, as good a price should obtain. This is where nature stepped in. The growers increased their acreage last spring by 20 per cent, which, if growing conditions had been perfect, would have meant more than a 20 per cent increase in yield, as compared with that of 1929, which was below normal; and that in turn would have meant lower prices. The dry spell has neutralized the increase in acreage by reducing the yield per acre and thus promises to maintain the price. The farmers can't get away from the acreage problem and the risk involved. They know they are gambling with nature. They can't see her cards. All they know is what she turned up last year. The price of beans was high last winter. So this spring they push across the table 20 per cent more acreage under beans. They are merely sweetening the pot for an inscrutable antagonist. If they get more beans they get less for them. If they get less beans they get more for them. Sometimes nature is kind enough to remove the consequences of human miscalculation.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral services of Mrs. Wm. Tannewitz were William Blum and Mr. and Mrs. Tannewitz of Madison, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Drews of Oshkosh, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. E. Tannewitz of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tannewitz of Detroit and William J. Tannewitz of New York.

Great German Airman

A fine young man is Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau, who came from Germany via Iceland, Greenland and Halifax, more than 4,000 miles, in forty-seven hours of flying time, stopping on the way for fuel.

He will live to make that and longer flights in one "hop," and to cross the ocean in 20 hours.

Animosities die out. Flyers of our army and navy welcome a Gronau who only a few years ago had his mind concentrated on bombing our ships and those of our allies.

He tells interesting, simple stories of his experience in the war and the various occasions on which he and his airplane were "shot down."

He ought to meet our crack American flyer, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, who brought down more German planes than any other American. Perhaps he was one of those that had the honor of bringing down the genial Gronau.

After the war von Gronau went back to farming on his estate in Prussia, and then started a flying school. He flew over here to give one of his pupils a good lesson.

Most startling in the revelations of New York corruption, which include purchasing of public officials, magistrates, judges, etc., is the statement that one Judge paid $200,000 for his seat on the bench.

The amount would be about $2,000 more than the total salary that he would earn in his fourteen-year term.

This means that some one else supplied the $200,000, and common sense indicates that the "somebody else" must have been a boss criminal, able, with the aid of a judge "owned by him," to get back his $200,000, with interest.

It is a strange picture of American civilization and "good government" in the year of our Lord 1930 and the eleventh year of the era of prohibition and bootlegging.

Mr. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, adds five to his list of men that rule the United States, increasing the 50 to 55. He adds S. Z. Mitchell, president Electric Bond and Share company; Walter Edwin Frew, head of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company; Amideo P. Giannini, powerful Italian banker; William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, and Matthew Woll, another union man, to his list of 59, making 64.

Somewhere in the background stands some individual not named, perhaps the ablest among corporation lawyers, who has more influence than the 64 put together, because he tells them what to think and what they can do.

You will notice in his list of 64 that "govern the United States" Mr. Gerard still includes no President, Vice President, senator, governor—not one person elected by the people. They must be bad choosers.

Mr. Lehman, lieutenant governor of New York, rich and intelligent, tells others of the prosperous class that the best weapon against Communism and radicalism generally is high wages, "leading to prosperity, happiness, self-respect and pride in home and country."

Mr. Lehman is right. All the alleged Russian propaganda multiplied by a thousand could not create as many dissatisfied "radicals" in this country as a year or two of depression followed by a foolish attempt to reduce wages.

Cut sixty billions a year in wages to forty billions and you would cut down prosperity by much more than twenty billions a year. It is the amount paid in wages above the bare cost of existence that creates prosperity.

There comes a dreadful surprise after all our efforts to be good helped by the Anti-Saloon league, Y. W. C. A. and so many other "virtue" organizations.

Dr. Eugene Laymen Fisk, specialist in health, and vice president of the Life Extension institute, says: "Man has three outlets for his energies—alcoholic intoxication, love and work."

And, says Doctor Fisk, "It is not a bad idea to mix the three about evenly."

To be too good, according to this observer, puts too much of a strain on man's nature. He quotes a philosopher who says that a wave of barbarism sweeping over civilization every 500 years is a good thing, as it wipes out "complexes."

This will shock those who with strength of will have practical vegetarianism, teetotalism, asceticism and other inhibitions.

Princess Marie Jose, crown princess of Italy, wife of the King of her, expects a baby.

If it is a boy and lives, it will be King some day. Mussolini on the one hand and possibilities of revolution on the other permitting.

In Italy, as in France in the old days, no woman can rule.

The French Lol Salique, which prevented it, was explained politely by a French King to an inquiring woman.

"France must have no woman on the throne, because under such circumstances a man might govern France. With a man on the throne some woman will always be the real ruler, an excellent thing for the country."

Alex Groesbeck Given Luncheon At Holland

TALKS ON STATE ISSUES
AT CENTENNIAL PARK
SATURDAY NIGHT

Tom Robinson Introduces Former Governor at Tavern; Judge Miles
at Public Meeting

Saturday night was a real campaign night with a luncheon, a speech at Centennial Park, a band and everything. It is about the first stem-winder to waken the people from their political lethargy.

The evening opened with a luncheon at Warm Friend Tavern honoring former governor Groesbeck which was attended by at least seventy-five Holland citizens and not a few from Grand Haven, Zeeland, and other places in the neighborhood.

Attorney Thomas N. Robinson, in his usual pleasing manner first introduced State Representative De

Alex Groesbeck

Land, who spoke a few minutes telling why former governor Groesbeck entered the campaign, pointing out gross inefficiency in administering state affairs on the part of the present administration. Mr. Robinson next introduced the former governor, who in a sort of "across the table talk" shorn of any pretense at eloquence in a business-like way told of why he was running for governor. He stated that he had no intention of entering the campaign, that after four years of diligent work, after spending nearly twelve years in state affairs, he just began to rebuild his private law practice which because of public office had suffered tremendously.

He pointed out how the powers that be at Lansing had used his name so often in launching a campaign, had made so many misstatements and had even prepared a major job for him in Detroit, fearing he might run and so many untrue statements had been affixed harking back to his campaign that he felt it was about time that he set himself straight before Michigan and at the same time show up the other fellows in their shortcomings. Now that he did announce himself as governor, a new from such enormous expenditures. Relative to good roads, Mr. Groesbeck said in part as follows: "According to the records of the State Highway Department issued in its report covering the period up to and including June 30, 1928, the average cost per mile of building concrete roads under the Green administration were $40,000 as against $32,017 during the Groesbeck administration."

"Comparing the last three years of the Groesbeck administration, 1924, 1925 and 1926 with the first two years of Green's administration, the average cost per mile, was $34,190 under Groesbeck and $40,000 under Green, a difference of $5,810 per mile. These are fiscal year figures and apply only to roads actually accepted as fully complete, and do not represent surface actually laid."

"The state highway records show that on June 30, 1920, there were only 200 miles of concrete highway; in 1921, 540 miles; in 1922, 611 miles; in 1923, 826 miles; in 1924, 1,162 miles; in 1925, 1,329 miles; in 1926, 1,493 miles; in 1927, 1,732 miles; in 1928, 1,754 miles."

In closing Mr. Groesbeck said, "I hope, if elected, to put the state on candidate announces himself in Detroit in the person of Judge Jeffries, who from the time of his "right of franchise" had always been a Democrat and had espoused the democratic cause until just now he was converted to the Republican doctrine and a candidate on the Republican ticket for governor of Michigan. Smilingly Mr. Groesbeck pointed out that this candidacy might have been launched in order that the Groesbeck vote might be split in the city of Detroit.

He stated the first threat early in the campaign came when John S. Haggerty threatened to go into the race to make the run, but in closing he said, "Here I am boys I am in the race to the very end and I ask you to carefully compare my administration of state affairs during my tenure in office and also compare the action of the present administration. After you have done this honestly I will have no fear of your decision at the polls next Tuesday."

Mr. Robinson then thanked the guests for their kind attention and the band struck up a lively tune, marching from Warm Friend Tavern to Centennial Park where Mr. Groesbeck gave a public address to at least 1500 people who had gathered in front of the bandstand.

Here Mr. Groesbeck was introduced by Judge Fred T. Miles who has become the public introducer of Holland this year for all public candidates who wish to give an expression as to the merits of their respective platforms.

Mr. Miles, before introducing the former governor, injected a small platform of his own and stressed especially not the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment but the enforcement of it. He stated that it has become a national law, that it has been written in the Constitution, the very foundation and ground law of the nation and those violating the Eighteenth Amendment in the selling or in the use of liquor are not only legally but also morally violating the precepts laid down in the national Constitution. Mr. Miles pointed out some very worthwhile administration during the Groesbeck period in office and in introducing the former governor he said that he believed the Detroit man would make a good governor.

Mr. Groesbeck acknowledged the introduction and as he arose to speak was given liberal applause. In part he reiterated what he had told the guests at the luncheon only he added considerable thereto.

"The people of Michigan are demanding a change. They are tired of being kidded. I never went across the state making silly promises, and I haven't any to make, but if I am nominated and elected governor I will go to Lansing, take off my coat and go to work, not one hour a week, not one day a week, but devote all my time to straightening out of the affairs of this state."

So declared Alex J. Groesbeck in his address at Centennial Park Saturday evening.

In continuing Mr. Groesbeck said in part as follows: "We centralized responsibility the same as you have done in your city government, so today, we know where to place the responsibility. We find that your state tax in this county has jumped 55 per cent during the present administration. The reason for this is the way the business of Michigan has been transacted. Due to the way government affairs have been handled, our state taxes have been increased from $17,400,000 to around $30,000,000 and at the same time it is difficult to show where the people have been deriving the full benefits of such enormous expenditures. Relative to good roads, Mr. Groesbeck said in part as follows: "According to the records of the State Highway Department issued in its report covering the period up to and including June 30, 1928, the average cost per mile of building concrete roads under the Green administration were $40,000 as against $32,017 during the Groesbeck administration."

IONIA "JAIL BIRDS" CAUGHT IN WOODS NEAR ZEELAND

County officers, led by Deputy Fred Bosma of Zeeland and nearly a dozen state troopers have combed the woods about 4 miles southeast of the Holland County club property in search of Edward Cassidy, 24, and Nelson Sylvester, 20, escaped inmates of Ionia reformatory who were sighted in that vicinity early in the week and retreated into the woods when official arrived.

Confirmation of belief that the two fugitives are in the woods was made by Charles Sparks, 23, third of the escaped trio, who was retaken after a chase.

The three men aroused the suspicions of Deputy Bosma of Zeeland when they drove through the streets of that city and the officer started in pursuit. After a chase of some distance the youths abandoned their car, which they had stolen, and ran across a field near the Country club. Bosma overtook Sparks.

Poses immediately were formed and with the aid of state police a cordon was thrown around the woods but the other two were not found.

Bosma said his suspicions were attracted to the trio when they ducked down into a car on one of the main Zeeland streets as he passed by. He turned about and they started off, however. When they saw he was gaining on them they tripped the car, reported stolen, and fled on foot. Sparks was the only one captured.

TO THE VOTERS OF OTTAWA CO.

Zeeland, Mich., Sept. 2, 1930

Through the newspapers of this County I have announced my candidacy for the office of County Drain Commissioner. I am anxious to have you consider my name for that position, and to do so I feel that we must become better acquainted. Since I cannot meet you all personally, I am taking this method of making you familiar with my qualifications, and I trust you will accept them in the spirit in which they are given.

Since I dislike self-praise, I shall let others speak for me.

As I have all my life been a resident of Ottawa County, the people of Zeeland and vicinity have

(a) for two years elected me to the office of Township Road Commissioner

(b) for many years I have acted as Clerk at Auction Sales

(c) for six years I have been a Member of the Board of Education.

(d) for four years I have served as Zeeland Township Treasurer.

Furthermore, The County Supt. of Schools has seen fit to appoint me County Attendance (Truant) officer for the past seven years; in regard to which the law reads as follows:

"The County Commissioner of Schools in each County shall select a person of good moral character to act as County Attendance officer for the County."

Again, the U.S. Govt. appointed me to take the Census for the entire Township of Zeeland for the year 1930.

From the foregoing it is reasonable to come to the conclusion that I am

A person of good moral character, of considerable experience, and who possesses the general qualifications for the office of County Drain Commissioner, namely:

To keep records.

To let contracts.

To estimate costs, and to work out the description of property accurately, and always ready to serve and satisfy the public.

My Dear Voters:

I regret that I have not the opportunity to meet you personally, as I do not have the funds to conduct a strenuous campaign, and my time to solicit votes was limited, as a considerable amount of my time has been taken up by attending to my public duties.

Since I am a candidate from the immediate vicinity of Zeeland and Holland, and since I believe you have decided that I am fully qualified for the position, I shall anticipate the pleasure of receiving your vote, and I can assure you that I shall greatly appreciate it. Prof. Albertus Pieters, of the Western Theological Seminary, Holland, contributed an article to the September issue of the Moody Bible Institute Monthly, on the subject, "Jonah and the Whale." The writer goes very carefully into the different problems upon this subject, and makes clear the fact that the account as given in the Scriptures would not be outside the range of reasonable possibility. The author does not question the presence of the miraculous in the Bible account as exhibited in timeliness and purpose.

The most elaborate wedding ever staged in a Christian Reformed Church at Grand Haven, occurred when Miss Janet Dornbos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit L. Dornbos, was married to Cornelius William Bierns of Kalamazoo. With approximately 360 attending, the ceremony was performed by Rev. R. J. Karsen before a bank of palms and green, mingled with arrangements of seasonal garden flowers. On either side were tall torches with white candles. The flowers were banked up to the organ loft, immediately behind the pulpit platform, the effect carried out with large wall pockets filled with flowers. Folks from Holland and Zeeland took part in the marriage ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Harold Dornbos and Miss Verduin accompanied Henry Derks of Holland, who sang DeKoven's "O Promise Me," and as the couple knelt, "I Love You Truly" was played. Miss Willene Verduin played the wedding march. Advanced to the altar, the bridesmaids were Miss Freda Zealand-Bosch, Miss Nella Derks of Zeeland, Miss Genevieve and Mrs. Johanna Vroomenfelder of Kalamazoo, cousins of the groom; Miss Margaret Dornbos, only sister of the bride, was maid of honor; little Mary Louis DeFouw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marinus De Fouw of Holland, dropped flower petals in the path of the bride, who advanced down the aisle to the altar on the arm of her father.

Jacob Wiker, of Hudsonville, recently from The Netherlands, probably will refrain in the future from taking decisive issue with a bull, even though the bull be rather small. Jake tried to induce the little rascal to another part of the barnyard and the instrument Jake used was a pitchfork. The bull objected in such emphatic form that Jake was deprived of much of his clothing and considerable of his skin. His left arm was broken at the wrist and his physique suffered a bad shakeup. The doctor says Jake will be all right in a month or two.

TWO MARNE STORES WERE ENTERED EARLY THIS WEEK BY YOUTH — SOON JAILED

Joe Pankiewicz, age 24, who has been living east of Marne, is in the Ottawa county jail today facing the charge of breaking and entering the Barlow hardware store at Marne, early this morning. Pankiewicz was taken just after daybreak this morning shortly after he had left the store.

Just at daybreak Ed Lardie, who occupies living rooms above the store, was awakened by a noise downstairs. Getting up to investigate he discovered Pankiewicz making off.

He summoned Roy Garter, a telephone operator in the village, and the two made the capture and held Pankiewicz until Sheriff Steketee at Grand Haven could be notified. An officer brought in Pankiewicz for examination.

Hardly had the prisoner reached Grand Haven when George Burch, who runs a general store at Marne, notified the officer that his store had been robbed during the night and about $2 taken from the till. Entrance had been made through a rear window. Pankiewicz was very closely questioned by the officers who state the prisoner admitted to the Burch burglary also.

Entrance to the Barlow store was made by breaking out a rear window. Only a low priced rifle was missing.

Pankiewicz was formerly from Grand Rapids, and the officers say he went to Ionia from there to serve time for the theft of some beans. Of late he has been employed by G. Cooper, who resides east of Nunica.

THIS MAN A CLEAN OFFICIAL

During the past two weeks the state press has been filled with charges and counter-charges made between one candidate for governor, namely Alex J. Groesbeck and the present governor, Fred W. Green—charges—if all true, which is doubtful—would be an appalling state of affairs.

Not A Breath Of Scandal Against Brucker

You folks who have been compelled to read columns upon columns of statements running down two state administrations, we assure you, have not found one charge made against Wilber M. Brucker. Mr. Brucker is considered a clean man even by his opponents. His work as Michigan's Attorney-General during the past four years has been outstanding. He has had much to do with the fighting in the so-called Chicago 'Water Steal' and has had many other cases of great import to contend with.

VOTE FOR BRUCKER

Grand Haven Tribune Announces for Groesbeck

Editorial in part from Grand Haven Tribune of August 27, 1930

GROESBECK—OUR CHOICE

As Sept. 9 approaches, and as the two leading gubernatorial candidates are in the midst of their campaign tours of the state, Michigan's citizens are probably aware that neither Brucker's nor Groesbeck's platforms are materially at variance.

We do not know how others are going to determine their choice, but after careful consideration we have decided to cast our lot with Alex J. Groesbeck. There are several reasons for this decision.

First, Mr. Groesbeck is a tried and tested man. He has repeatedly been elected governor of Michigan, and when he was finally defeated by Fred Green, it was not so much on the charge that he conducted his office poorly but on the natural human impulse which appears when a man has been in office too long. In other words, the voters thought a change at Lansing might insert new blood to the advantage of the state. The same condition is often found where a pastor or preacher has remained in an organization for a long period of years. A change, even for the worst, is not to be scorned, although it is frequently the case that people wish afterwards they had not pushed their old leader out. We believe that this is the situation this year in the governor's race. Groesbeck may have made mistakes, may have stayed in office too long, yet he is the only certain candidate to return to Michigan the excellent policies which he inaugurated.

So in our effort to learn whether Mr. Groesbeck is a tried and tested man, we turned to some of the outstanding policies which originated and were carried along during his terms of office. Under him the conservation department was established and given a program. That is worthy conclusive evidence that this worthy division of state government will continue to function, and we are satisfied personally that Mr. Groesbeck, will keep the department out of politics. Groesbeck was also the champion of highway construction, and now people are beginning to appreciate what his work has meant. Naturally Governor Green has carried the trunk line program along, but his predecessor paved the way for him. Again, Mr. Groesbeck was active in institutional improvements, including prisons and homes for the unfortunate and afflicted, so we may trust he will not let this worthwhile service be neglected if he is elected.

Yes, Alex Groesbeck was a pretty successful governor and he will be successful again. He does business as a business man should. He has been accused of being a dictator, which is a relative term at best, and we believe that he was chiefly dictatorial when the political grabbers around Lansing tried to rule him. We don't want any handshaken down in the governor's office anyway.

In all this we have not contrasted or compared Mr. Brucker with Mr. Groesbeck. We do not intend to do that, because Brucker is a promising young fellow. Anyhow, on what basis can the two men be compared? Brucker must first have served, as Groesbeck has, to make a comparison possible or reasonable. Our only interest is to see a tested man go to Lansing, for we badly need him these next two years. We are satisfied in our own minds that Groesbeck will make good. Brucker might. No matter, we declare ourselves for the former governor and we believe we have not made a mistake.

GRAND HAVEN MARSHES BECOME GAME BIRD REFUGE

Western Michigan's first state-operated sanctuary for wild ducks, shore birds and geese has been designated near the mouth of Grand river in Ottawa county. It will receive its first official test on Sept. 16 when thousands of hunters invade the river marshes for the opening of the duck season.

Executive Chairman Wm. Louit of the state conservation commission completed negotiations for the setting aside of this marsh land, which is owned by the Pool brothers and Howard Gardner of Grand Haven. Mr. Louit has been working on the plan for more than a year; but he insisted before he would act on being sure that surrounding lands on the river bank should be closed to public shooting.

The new refuge comprises a 300-acre marshy island between Indian channel and the main channel of Grand river, from Battle point down the river. There are at present more than 200 ducks, as well as many rail, coot and snipe in the sanctuary. It is expected that when the season opens other wild fowl will seek the refuge to escape hunters, and that thereafter the sanctuary will maintain a constant supply of game, feeding into the surrounding open marshes.

FRUIT FAIR BY FENNVILLE PUPILS

GRIM REMINDER OF OLD LAKE MICHIGAN'S WRATH OF LAST FALL

The finding of the body of Capt. Wm. Vaxter of Grand Haven officer on the car ferry Milwaukee, that went down ten months ago is a grim reminder of a fall filled with Lake Michigan disasters. The year 1929 will go down in marine history as a ship-wreck year.

The most terrible northeast storm in years swept the lake on the night of the Milwaukee's foundering and what happened to the great ship, which was believed able to withstand anything that blew, will perhaps always remain a mystery.

The metal container, which carried the last message of Purser Saydon was later picked up but gave no definite information as to just what was happening to the ship, beyond the statement that the sea gates at her stern were damaged.

Hope that the great steamer had survived the storm was held by marine men, until quantities of wreckage and bodies of members of the crew were found. Captain McKay's body was found on this shore as were those of several others, but the body of Captain Vaxter was never recovered and marine men, after weeks of waiting, said that the body would never come to the surface again and possibly was caught in the sunken hull as it went down.

It appears however that their calculations were incorrect for the body of the Grand Haven seaman was discovered by two Milwaukee boys who were playing on the beach at the foot of one of the streets in the Wisconsin City.

The current had apparently brought it through a gap in the breakwater at that point. The boys called the police immediately and the Milwaukee coroner took charge. From a watch found in the clothing, it was thought that the body might be that of Captain Vaxter. Members of the family at Grand Haven were notified and two sons, Howard Vaxter and William Vaxter, left for Milwaukee the same night to complete identification.

When found Captain Vaxter's body was held aloft by a piece of timber, around which his arms were still clasped. This leads to the belief that the first officer of the ill-fated ship had grasped this timber as the Milwaukee was sinking, but had not been able to get off the cardeck before the car ferry went down. The remains have probably been held aboard until now.

The body was in fair state of preservation considering the fact that 10 months have elapsed since the disaster. Identification was made quite certain by distinguishing marks known by relatives, and by articles of clothing.

Capt. Vaxter's watch had stopped about 7 o'clock, about the same time almost to the minute as other watches had stopped which were found on the bodies of those previously recovered. This strengthens the belief that the Milwaukee sank about 7 p. m. on Oct. 22, after a fruitless battle to get back to port. The body was clothed in underwear, vest and sweater. The sweater, something Capt. Vaxter always wore, helped keep the watch in the vest pocket.

It is believed the body was imprisoned in the steel hull until a few days ago when some twist of the current released it and sent it to the surface. The coroner stated that the body could not have been floating more than two or three days, and this leads many to believe the car ferry sank not far from the breakwater at Milwaukee.

Short services were held over the remains at Grand Haven, Rev. Dr. Sanders of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment took place in Lake Forest, Grand Haven.

Other Towns to Have a Tulip Time

HOLLAND STARTED SOUTH BEND GOING WITH 32,000 BULBS

Paper Tells How Visitors from South Bend Enjoyed Holland's Tulips

The South Bend Tribune devotes a column story to tulip time in South Bend and tells of a visit to Holland last May which started the Indiana city to become "tulip minded."

This is part of the article appearing in the South Bend Tribune: "Tulip time in South Bend. Those five words will be uttered many thousands of times by the people of South Bend and elsewhere between now and next spring if the desires of the city park board are carried out by unanimous action of the residents of the city.

"The board announced Saturday evening that it proposed to make next spring tulip time in South Bend and that it will prove its proposal by planting at least 32,000 tulip bulbs this fall in South Bend parks. Now it asks every resident to buy and plant tulip bulbs this fall so that next spring will in every sense be tulip time in South Bend.

"The board's order for tulip bulbs went direct to the Van Wyck Bulb company of Sassenheim, Holland, the world's greatest tulip bulb growing country. These 32,000 bulbs will be distributed among the city's parks, except Rum Village park which is not at present suited to such plantings. Most of the bulbs will be planted in Potawatomi, Howard and Leeper parks as they are visited by the largest number of persons.

"The park board hopes, in making preparations to carry out its plans for tulip time in South Bend, that its desire and its endeavors will be seconded by every professional and amateur gardener and by every owner of a yard in the city and that each will plant tulips in abundance this coming fall. If this is done tulip time in South Bend next year will be a period of floral beauty worth going many miles to see and enjoy. If this shall be the result of the park board's efforts the board will feel well repaid.

"Certain of the city's parks will present most attractive displays next spring, for the board has decided to go into tulip planting in a big way, but having no control over private yards and gardens all it can do is to hope the people of South Bend will follow the board's example and this fall plant tulip bulbs with the greatest liberality. If the people will do this South Bend will present a gorgeous sight and thousands will come to the city to see the tulips.

"Holland, Mich., this year had what is called 'tulip week in Holland.' The city planted thousands of bulbs in its beautiful park close to the business district and in many parts of the city home owners had very attractive yard displays. Tulips were privately planted in curb lawns, in front and back yards, as borders for walks leading to front doors and in other ways. The combined effect was one that made a trip to Holland, even from a distance, worth while. Hundreds of persons motored to the delightful little city and felt repaid for the trip. The display in the principal park was the most attractive but the private yard plantings also were beautiful, especially in the sentiment of loyalty to a city movement which they indicated.

"South Bend, it is believed, can and will do well. Great interest has been created in flowers, shrubs and trees in South Bend in the last 10 or 15 years and today very few yards are without plantings of some kind. Flower shows have had much to do with this growth of flower enjoyment and it is suspected many a citizen who decided to raise flowers was prompted by the beautiful flowers seen in these shows.

"But whatever caused the marked change South Bend has certainly become very flower, shrub and tree conscious and all over the city the result is observed. With this sentiment prevailing and the park board officially back of a movement for tulip time in South Bend the city, it is felt, will present something inspiring and beautiful through the tulip blooming period of 1931."

Lesson for September 7

JOSIAH, A ROYAL REFORMER

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 22:1-8; 23:1-24

GOLDEN TEXT—Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Josiah Finds God's Book.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Josiah's Rare Find.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Getting Help from the Bible.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The World's Debt to Reformers.

I. Josiah a Godly Young King (22:1, 2).

He did that which was right in the sight of the Lord and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left. About one hundred years elapsed between the reformation under Hezekiah and that of Josiah. Sometime during this period the book of God's law had been lost. Two wicked kings had reigned in the interval. The Lord had given to Hezekiah much wealth. His son, Manasseh, coming into possession of his father's property and being ungodly would naturally neglect the Bible. If not purposely try to put it from sight. Those who do not obey the word of God are usually interested in putting it out of sight. It was incumbent upon the king to have the law at his command and faithfully read it.

II. Finding the Book of the Law (22:3-10).

1. The occasion (vv. 3-8). It was while restoring the temple during Josiah's reformation that the law was discovered. In clearing out the dark corners to make repairs and to find a place to store the subscriptions made by the people, many things which had been lost were found, among which was the law.

2. The Book read before the king (vv. 9, 10). Upon making a report of the work to the king Shaphan informed him of the finding of the book of the law of the Lord, and the book was read by Shaphan before the king.

III. The Effect of the Reading of the Law (vv. 11-20).

1. The king rent his clothes (v. 11). As the law was read before him he was led to realize the awful extent of the nation's departure from God. He knew that sin merited punishment. The rending of the royal robes indicated the king's repentance and sorrow.

2. The king sent a deputation to make inquiry of the Lord (v. 12-20).

He included himself in the guilt before God (v. 13). His sense of sin was so keen that he went to inquire of the Lord as to whether there was any means of diverting the divine judgments. Instinctively the human heart turns from God's threatening judgments to a means of escape.

3. The message of Huldah, the prophetess (vv. 15-20).

(1) Confirmation of what the law said (vv. 15-17). She said that all the curses written in the law must follow, for the sins had been so flagrant that God's wrath could not be restrained. It was not too late, however, upon repentance to obtain mercy from God, but outward consequences of sin must be realized.

(2) Acceptance of Josiah's repentance (vv. 18-20).

Because of his tenderness of heart and deep repentance, the Lord said he should be gathered to his grave in peace and should not see all the evil brought on Jerusalem and the people. What Huldah said was true even though Josiah died in battle (II Chron. 35:22-25).

IV. Reforms Instituted (23:1-25).

1. The king read the law (v. 1, 2).

He gathered together the inhabitants of Jerusalem, including the priests, Levites, and elders, and read unto them the law.

2. The king made a covenant before the Lord (v. 3).

In this covenant he pledged himself. "To walk before the Lord" personally right with God.

3. To keep God's commandments and his testimonies and his statutes.

This obedience was a heart obedience. It was to be done "with all their heart and all their soul."

(3) "To perform the words of the covenant which were written in this book."

The king not only entered into this sincerely, but caused all that were present to "stand to" it.

3. The king took away the abominations (vv. 4-20).

He not only broke down the places of idolatrous worship, but threw the priests who officiated at the altar.

4. Passover kept (vv. 21-23).

So fully and heartily did they enter into this reformation that this Passover was unlike any that had been held since the days of David.

5. Workers of the occult driven out (vv. 24, 25).

All the days of the king they departed not from following after the Lord, the God of their fathers.

pointers down.

Curtain

Leave the Pointers down in their voting position, swing the Handle of the Curtain Lever to the Left as far as it will go, and leave it there. (This will register your vote, return the Pointers to their first position, after which it will open the Curtain).

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

As no votes are registered until the Curtain Lever is moved to open the Curtain you can make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the Right.
The Machine is so arranged that you cannot

"Curtain Closed—Voter Inside"

turn down more than the proper number of Pointers for each office.

Therefore you need have no fear of spoiling your ballot by turning down too many Pointers, as the Machine will prevent you from turning down more than the proper number.

There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the Curtain Lever returns the Pointers to their original position before the Curtain begins to open. So be sure to leave the pointers down.

TWO SUGGESTIONS

First: Read this sample ballot over carefully and decide which candidates you want to vote for.

Second: Call up the City Clerk's office and find out where a machine is on public exhibition, and call and operate it until you are sure that you can vote on it without trouble or delay. A few minutes so spent now may save time and avoid trouble on Election day, both for yourself and the other voters.

REMEMBER

That at this election each candidate of your choice for election to any office on your party must be voted for individually by turning down the pointer over his name.

IMPORTANT

All voters who can should vote early in the day and thus avoid all possibility of congestion.
