Cheff Takes Top Honors at Horse Show at Castle

Annual Event Attracts Nearly 2,500 Despite Rain During Morning

Between 2,000 and 2,500 persons witnessed the 23rd annual Castle Park horse show on the Castle grounds Wednesday where Col. P. T. Cheff of Holland took two firsts and a second in hunter classes for top honors.

This outside course easily the most colorful event of the afternoon, thrilled spectators as the riders successfully negotiated the unfamiliar course. In the outside course, the ability of the horse is secondary to the ability of the rider who is constantly on the alert and always mindful of oncoming fences. Cheff took first place with Pilot and second with Prince. He took first place in green hunters with Kitty Hawk.

A downpour of rain in the morning gave riders, spectators and judges a soaking but the show went on schedule as onlookers hoisted umbrellas and donned raincoats. Soon the rain softened to a gentle sprinkling.

An upset occurred in the competition for the Brown-Mantle trophy when Miss Evelyn Haas of Flint defeated the two-time winner, Ellen Parsons of East Lansing.

A new class added this year was the parent and child class which was well filled with entries. The winners were the William McHattie team of four, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. McHattie and their two children, Janet and Billie, of Coopersville.

The largest family represented was the Gerrit Buth family of Coopersville with five.

The first event of the afternoon was the always popular and thrilling "Knock Down and Out" with Bell Boy the winner owned by Mrs. F. M. Huebner of Jackson. Irish Hug, owned by Susan De Lano of Kalamazoo who had won this class at North Shore last week, finished second.

The pair class was one of the most popular classes of the afternoon. The nine pairs participating were beautifully matched as to color and suitability of mount to rider. This class was won by the popular little Janet McHattie riding with Sally Booth of Detroit. Two Holland entries in the fine harness class made a fine showing. Rhythm Step owned by Harry Plagemars, ridden by Connie Boersma and Golden Day ridden by R. J. Kuiper of Holland.

The show drew horses from Chicago, Jackson, Flint, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Lansing and Holland and its surrounding area.

A new thrill was the bareback jumping class which attracted principally boys and girls and the award went to Sue Carey of Detroit. The entrants demonstrated perfect form over the eight difficult fences and in many instances their performances seemed better than when they had the aid of a saddle.

Dr. E. P. Hutton judged the horsemanship classes and gaited classes in the afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. John Donald of Johnson City, Tenn., judged the hunters and jumpers.

The horse show dance Tuesday night on the dance floor was so popular that a repeat was demanded Wednesday night.

Full Ban on Raw Milk In Ottawa to Be Asked

Sale of raw milk in Ottawa county—already confined to the rural areas and a few scattered villages—may be completely banned under a new state law.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have of the county health department said he would recommend to the board of supervisors that it prohibit sale of raw milk throughout the county under the new law, effective Sept. 6.

The law provides that all milk sold for direct consumption in a county must be pasteurized when so requested by the board of supervisors.

City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate, chairman of the board's health committee, said that the new provision had not been discussed at committee meetings, but that the committee will give the law careful consideration. He had no way of knowing the sentiment of the board itself.

Sale of pasteurized milk has long been required in the Holland-Zeeland area.

According to United Press, the milk law becomes effective Sept. 6 along with another law, equally important, which provides that all cattle over 12 months of age that are sold or moved to associate with cattle of another herd must be accompanied by a certificate of record, issued by the state department of agriculture, showing the animal to be negative to a Bang's disease test within 30 days or that the animal originated from a herd which was tested and the entire herd found negative within 90 days prior to such sale of shipment.

Vaccinated cattle over 12 months of age must have the same certificate unless they were vaccinated under federal-state supervision between the ages of four and eight months and were negative to test prior to vaccination and recorded with the state department of agriculture.

Steers or cattle being moved for immediate slaughter are not affected by the new state law.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles Figy said the milk law will not immediately require pasteurization of all milk sold in the state until requested by local boards.

Although the new law was passed in an effort to stamp out undulant fever and other milk-borne diseases, Figy pointed out that the bulk of the milk sold in Michigan now is pasteurized.

There also appears to be little relation between undulant fever epidemics and sale of raw milk, Figy added. He said that the counties of Dickinson, Houghton, Marquette, Genesee, Oakland and Macomb where the largest amount of raw milk is sold report only three cases of undulant fever while 56 cases are reported in Sanilac, Hillsdale, Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Kent and Ottawa counties where little raw milk is sold.

Commissioner Ten Have said eight cases of undulant fever have been reported in Ottawa county during the past year, the latest one having been reported three weeks ago.

Ottawa Barn and Cattle Are Lost

West Olive, Aug. 30 (Special)—A modern dairy barn, possibly 28 head of cattle, 100 tons of baled hay and all dairy equipment were destroyed by fire about 9:30 p.m. Thursday on the farm of Arthur Kunkel located on M-50 in Robinson township, about 12 miles north of Holland. A nearby milk house and silo also were lost.

Kunkel and his two sons, Kenneth and Ronald, were in the barn doing chores at the time. Ronald discovered the fire when he was sent to the stable to get a wire cutter.

Cause of the fire was undetermined. It appeared that the only likely origin lay in an electric connection near the place where threshers were at work Thursday. A bulb in the connection could have been broken and the wiring shorted in some way.

A threshing rig owned by Clarence Reenders, still in the barn, was saved, but the stock, hay and all the modern devices such as steel stanchions, water fountains, manure escalator, hay conveyor and milking machines were destroyed.

All furniture was removed from the house nearby but the house was saved.

Loss is partly covered by insurance.

The barn was partly filled with grain and it was undetermined whether the loss was covered by insurance. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Man Is Fined for Driving With Suspended License

Grand Haven, Aug. 30 (Special)—Charles B. Prizes Awarded Derby Winners at Kiwanis Meeting

Five Youngsters Take Nine Awards in Annual Service Club Project

The five soap box derby entrants who corralled the nine prizes offered by the Kiwanis club at the second annual derby last Wednesday were awarded their prizes at a meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday night in the Warm Friend tavern.

Duane Gebben, 169 East 18th St., came out top man with two first prizes for distance and originality, netting $50 in war bonds. His neighbor, Dale Bekker, 170 East 18th St., netted $30 in war stamps for three second prizes in speed, distance and originality. Gerald De Koster, 14 West First St., was awarded a $25 bond for first place in speed. Ralph Bouwman, 67 West 20th St., took two third prizes or $10 in stamps for time and distance, and Alvin J. Heerspink, 424 Pine Ave., was awarded $5 in stamps for third place in originality. Winners in the distance contest had been listed incorrectly in The Sentinel last week.

The five cars of the winning entrants also were on display. Oddly enough, the handsome ribbons which the winners received in addition to their bonds and stamps in most cases matched the cars.

Gebben's blue ribbons for his two firsts matched his sporty blue car and Bekker's three red ribbons for his second prizes matched his slick red and white model. De Koster's blue ribbon also matched his blue car and Heerspink's yellow ribbon for third prize in originality was a perfect match for his streamlined yellow vehicle. Even Bouwman's yellow ribbons for third places in speed and distance weren't too far off in matching his long silver car named "Hi Ho Silver."

Fred Webber, a Kiwanian of St. Louis, Mo., who volunteered his services in the derby, was presented with a pair of appropriately engraved wooden shoes.

The 17 entrants in the derby will be invited to the next meeting of the club Monday, Sept. 10, when motion pictures taken at the derby will be shown.

Recognition was given the derby committee consisting of Herbert Bultuis, chairman, Walter Klen, Dr. H. J. Masselink, Glenn Gold, Earl Miller, Ed Viehl, Jack Gramsmyer and Fred Bokford. Gratitude also was expressed to Lester Essenburg for building the ramp.

An educational film entitled "Our America" was shown by Ray Klingenberg.

During a brief business meeting at which President John Van Dam presided, the president and John Van Dyke, secretary, were named delegates to the state convention in Lansing next fall with William J. Meengs as alternate.

Guests in addition to the derby winners were Dan Vander Werf, of Holland, Fred C. Webber of St. Louis, Mo., James Vander Ven of South Lyon, Lester Essenburg, Ray Klingenberg and Cornelia Van Voorst, Holland.

Chris-Craft Out on Sympathy Strike

Employees of the local Chris-Craft plant were out on strike today in sympathy with employees of the Cadillac plant where a strike was called Monday.

Ralph Dokter, head of the company's AFL union which takes in carpenters, joiners, machinists, painters and electrical workers, said employees of the Chris-Craft plant at Algonac also were out today on sympathy strike. He said the local men were out on the sympathy count alone, but understood Algonac had formulated some grievances of its own.

Cause of the Cadillac strike, according to union leaders, was due to failure of the management to consider seniority rights in calling back 100 employees for reconstruction work Monday after reconversion was completed last week. The company normally employs 225 and only a dozen maintenance men remained in the plant.

Cadillac union leaders said the contract calls for observance of "seniority, efficiency and skill" but that the management ignored the seniority clause, Dokter explained.

Just how many local employees were out on strike was not determined. Management said it had made no check of the records. Dokter estimated from 95 to 98 per cent of the employees were out but declined to estimate any totals due to recent cutbacks. A limited number of maintenance men remained at work.

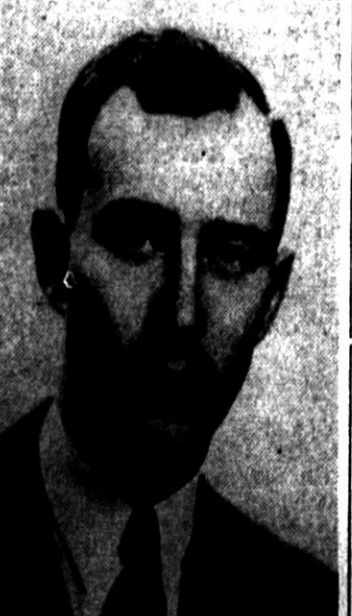

The Chris-Craft Corp. manufactured landing craft for the navy during the war.

Only five of the 12 from Holland were accepted for service. They were Raymond Harvey Reidsma for the navy, Edward Roy Wolters, Ervin R. Knoohuizen, John Harrison Gillette and Wendell Jay Rooks for the army. It was not known how many of the transfers were inducted since this information is sent to their registering offices.

Netherlands Museum Is Presented Drawing

The Netherlands museum has received from the Chicago Natural History museum, formerly known as the Field museum, a large drawing of a royal gamelan in the Netherlands East Indies, according to announcement by William C. Wichers, museum director, Col. Clifford C. Gregg, director of the Chicago museum, informed Mr. Wichers this action was taken to enhance the valuable collection of Indonesian now in possession of the local institution.

The drawing was made of the unique native orchestra, the gamelan, by one of the Chicago museum's globe-trotting members back in 1923 at Surakarta in South Central Java. Surakarta is the residence of the Susuhunan of Surakarta. The Kraton, residence of the Susuhunan, occupies a large part of the town. Within its walls live more than 10,000 people comprising the court, officials of the prince, artisans, artists, priests and others. The city's total population is 167,000 Indonesians and about 3,000 Europeans. It is presumed the drawing is that of the personal gamelan of the Susuhunan.

This is the second time within recent months that a nationally known institution has recognized the local museum by a special presentation. Last February the present of the University of Michigan presented a number of valuable historical maps of the Netherlands which had been held by the William L. Clements library on the university campus.

Identical Army Careers Four Holland GI's Spend

Four Holland men have enjoyed the distinction of being together in the same signal company from the time of their induction, through five major campaigns in Europe until today when they are still together awaiting redeployment in Germany.

On Oct. 22, 1942, Andrew J. Spyk, Jr., son of Mrs. Jennie Spyk, 127 East 15th St., Floyd Martin, son of Mrs. Rose Martin, 178 East Eighth St., Irving R. Lemmen, son of Mrs. Ray Lemmen, 270 East 19th St., and John H. Maassen, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. Maassen, now of Friesland, Wis., and at that time of North Holland, reported to the Kalamazoo army for induction into the army. Two weeks later they were sent to Fort Custer and four days later assigned to the 113th Signal Radio Intelligence company at Camp Crowder, Mo., where they received their technical training at the Central Signal Corps school.

Since then the four men have been together continuously through Tennessee maneuvers, a mission in Florida, several months in England, and five major campaigns in France, Belgium and Germany with the fabulous first army to the Normandy beach head to the battle of central Germany. At present the men are awaiting redeployment at Neckarsulm, Germany.

Another Holland man, Alvin J. DeVries, brother of Dr. Harold DeVries, local physician, also was inducted at the same time and sent to the 113th but was transferred in Belgium on account of illness.

Maassen and Lemmen were in the class of '36 at Holland High school and were friends in civilian life. Martin is a message center clerk and Maassen, Spyk, and Lemmen are radio operators. All four are entitled to wear five battle stars on their European theater ribbons and meritorious service wreaths on their right sleeves. Each has a total of 73 points for discharge.

Before being inducted Spyk was employed at Baker Furniture Co. Martin was employed at Hart and Cooley. Lemmen worked for the Lemmen Leghorn farm, and Maassen was a Hope college student.

There are many other Michigan men in the outfit including several men from Grand Haven, Hudsonville, Spring Lake, Allendale and Muskegon.

Although the second smallest state in the Union, Delaware is twice as large as Rhode Island. Texas, however, would make 112 states the size of Delaware.

More Vets Are Freed in Orient

Chungking, August 30.—Twenty-one more American and British war prisoners, some of the veterans of Wake Island and Bataan, were back in Allied hands today awaiting repatriation.

U.S. army headquarters announced that the former prisoners—18 American army enlisted men, two marine enlisted men and a British sergeant—were flown to Kunming Friday and Saturday from a camp at Mukden, Manchuria. Their names were not disclosed immediately.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero American commander at Bataan and Corregidor, presumably still was at Sian, 100 miles north of Kuleien, with other high-ranking Allied prisoners.

(Mr. and Mrs. Justin Nevenzel, route 1, today said they had received no recent word regarding their son, Marine Corp. Jay Nevenzel, who was taken prisoner on Wake Island May 23, 1941. The last message they received from their son was dated in September, 1944, but last May they received word from two escaped prisoners stating they had seen Jay in China just before they fled.)

Plan Special Deer Season in Allegan

Allegan, Aug. 30.—Dec. 1 to 31, inclusive, will be special antelope deer season in Allegan county.

The department is preparing to mail applications to hunters who hope to be numbered among the 300 who will be allowed to hunt on 24,000 acres in the Allegan state forest.

If more than 300 applications are received, a drawing will be held October 12 in Lansing. From the residents of the area will be given permits, the total of such applications to be deducted from the 300 total at the time of the drawing.

Hunters receiving permits for the special season may hunt during the regular season but cannot use their permits to hunt in Allegan county if they are successful in November.

The regular $2.25 deer license fee must accompany application to hunt in the special season, first legalized in 1941. In past special seasons 1,881 hunters have taken 165 deer.

Aboard the USS Mobile in the Pacific—Henry Kruthoff, 35, seaman, 2/C, of Holland, Mich., had a harrowing experience last October when his light cruiser and several other ships attempted to draw the Jap fleet out of hiding near Formosa.

The Japs refused to send their surface units, but dispatched their air force in continuous attacks for three days and nights. Kruthoff's battle station is one of the ship's main battery turrets—a position which kept him in the thick of the battle.

Kruthoff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kruthoff, Sr., of route 4, Holland. In the navy two years, he has seen action in nearly 40 Pacific engagements, including Okinawa, two Iles, Truk, Eniwetok, Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Hollandia and the Palau.

HE DID NOT LET THEM DOWN

Writing some days after the event, our own Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy, describing the scene in the press conference when peace was officially announced, said of President Truman, "The president said he didn't want the British to beat you people with the news."

All of a sudden all the reporters who have paced the floors of the White House in days past waiting for this news realized that the new chief had not let them down.

To some people it may seem like a very small thing that the commander-in-chief made certain that the American people were told of the surrender, by their own government and not by the publicity department of some other government. Several times during this war the American people, who furnished most of the money in this country's arsenal of democracy, were humiliated by their own government's failure to keep them informed of a crisis development.
That humiliation was one not merely, or even primarily, for the American men although they felt it most keenly. Those news men were merely the eyes and ears of the American people. Our government several times acted as if our people had no right to first consideration. In other words, more than once the government let the American people down.

President Truman's meticulous care in this matter, which may look like a detail to some, is emblematic of the government's spirit and position in far more important matters. It seems fair to assume that a president who is incapable of letting a roomful of reporters down is also incapable of letting the American people down or letting America as a nation down.

He has in fact given evidence of this several times. President Truman does not appear to believe that British interests are more important than American interests.
He is in no sense an Anglophobe;
like the general run of Americans he has the friendliest possible feelings toward the British but British must take second place. In recent years we have sometimes witnessed the spectacle of American government officials putting English interests ahead of those of America. That's letting America down, and that kind of thing is not to be expected from Truman.

Another class of American citizens, perhaps a couple of hundred thousand rather than a few millions, are the "Russians and Fellow Travelers and Pinkies," have been putting Russian interests ahead of those of their own country. Through their acts they have said over and over again that when Russia makes a demand we must yield. Mr. Truman does not submit his commonsense American judgment to this group either.
We are Americans and it is our business, first and foremost, to look out for America. At least that is what the president appears to believe. He is giving evidence daily, in small matters as in large, that he is not letting America down.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Dr. Frederik Brown Harris, chaplain of the United States Senate, says that President Truman is truly a religious man. A deep chord was touched in the hearts of the American people when he said in closing his first address to the nation as its president: "I ask only to be a good and faithful servant of the Lord and my people."

President Truman has made it known that when he goes to church, he doesn't want the reporters to tell the world about it.
He considers church going a part of his private life.

Why not make church going our habit of life, accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Joseph's Place in God's Plan
Genesis 39:20-23; 41:14-16, 25, 41-43

By Henry Geerlings

Everybody likes the story of Joseph. It reads like one of the Horatio Alger stories that were so dear to our children. As a child Joseph was somewhat spoiled by his doting father, and was hated by his jealous brothers. Sold into slavery, cast into prison under false accusation, he at last rode triumphantly in a golden chariot, second only to Pharaoh himself.
So the youthful dreamer became the savior of Egypt and of his own people. We all like a story that ends well, and such is the story of Joseph.

Dreams had a large place in the life of Joseph. They took on the nature of his ambition. He was one of two sons of Rachel. The family of Jacob consisted of twelve sons. Joseph was Jacob's favorite, and the father made no apologies for showing his favoritism which was bad for Joseph. At the age of 17 he strutted about with an expensive coat worn only by the rich. In the day he envisioned the great things he would do, and the thoughts of supremacy took place in the dreams of sleep.
He glibly told his dreams to his brothers and to his father and mother. So his brothers hated him. His parents, perhaps, wondered at the dreams he related.

Now the dreams of our waking hours are the molding influences of our lives. "The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts," Harold Bell Wright says, "it is the dreams of life that matter." Then he tells of a youth sitting in the orchard, where he had played so happily as a small boy. Now, however, all that is behind him.
His father and mother are both gone, and the old home has been sold under the auctioneer's hammer.
As he ponders over the past,
he hears the whistle of a locomotive.
He follows the column of smoke from the engine above the trees to see it pass out through a rift in the hills toward the city.
Then his dreams outrun the train, and he realizes that his manhood life has begun.

A young couple dream of a home they want. A doctor dreams of conquest over disease. James Watt dreamed of the power of steam and from the dream came steam transportation. The Wright brothers dreamed of men flying, and today we have the airplane.
Columbus dreamed of a short route to the wealth of India, and he discovered a new continent.
Our forefathers dreamed of a land where a man could be free, and behold, America.

We all have dreams of some sort. Do our dreams lure us to higher things as did Joseph, or are they just empty dreams, which end in nothing? Are our dreams in accordance with the plan of God?

Joseph had many tests. There was the hatred of his brothers.
They might have smiled at his boyish enthusiasm, but he seemed persistent in making it understood that his dreams indicated that some day he would be greater than all of them, even his father and mother. His boasting awakened jealousy and hatred. But even if he had been more reticent, his very ambition would have been a rebuke to his less ambitious brothers. It is always so. Even in Christian work, the person who dreams dreams great usefulness and influence is bound to evoke sarcasm and remarks from the less ambitious. Let a person sing better, write better, speak better, build better, live in a better house, be more popular, and always there will be some one who will be jealous.

His very integrity became the occasion for much adversity. When his father sent him on a mission to his brothers he carefully followed the directions. As a result he was sold into slavery.

But the Lord was with him. This has carried through to victory every person who has dreamed of great things and lived accordingly.
Thrown into a pit by his brothers he looked up and saw the sky and God. Then he was drawn out and sold into slavery. At least his life was saved. In a foreign land, a slave, somehow he felt that God was there, and he had strength to overcome temptation.
In prison, like Paul and Bunyan and Judson and Niemöller, he felt that prison walls were no barrier to God's presence. And so, because he felt the presence of God, he became interested in other prisoners. The jailer liked him and trusted him and made him his deputy.

Because he lived in God's presence, God could confide in him and he could understand God.
When the prisoners were troubled he was able to help them. So his range of helpfulness widened until Pharaoh found in him one in whom he could trust and made him ruler over all the land of Egypt.

In the Good
Old Days

On Tuesday evening the members of Hope church celebrated the laying of the cornerstone of the new church edifice now in process of construction with appropriate services, began a story in the Nov. 2 issue of the Ottawa County Times published in 1900 by M. G. Manting. A short address of welcome was made by Rev. J.
T. Bergen and he proceeded to give a brief history of the church since its organization as a mission in 1854. From that date until 1862 it remained a mission church but then a full organization was effected and a frame structure built where the congregation worshipped until 1871 when the building was eaten by the hungry flames that devoured the greater part of the city that year. After the fire, through the strenuous efforts of the congregation, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. A. T. Steuart, a new edifice was built in which the people worshipped till this day. Recently the congregation decided to build a new church to be the finest in the city with a large seating capacity. Work was commenced on this new building a few days ago and Tuesday evening witnessed the laying of the cornerstone. The honor of the placing of the stone had been given to Dr. J. W. Beardslee, as chairman of the building committee. As the Rev. Dr. was slightly indisposed and not able to be present, the stone was placed by Prof.
C. Doeburg the oldest member of the consistory. The box which was placed inside of the stone con-

many other things.

Dutch Speaking Hostess Surprises USO Visitors

Amazement at being greeted in their mother tongue was expressed again and again by three Dutch marines who have been visiting in Holland.

When Pts. Louis Quint of Amsterdam and Jan Van Loon of Breda, the Netherlands, called at the USO in the Tower building the hostess, Mrs. Adeline Hillebrands, who herself was born in the Hague, greeted them in the Holland language. More surprising, her dialect was the same as that used by the two youths.

Mrs. Hillebrands was very young when her family left for America and she lived in Detroit until eight years ago when she came to Holland. Without exactly knowing why, she occasionally brushed up on the Holland tongue, perhaps for just such an occasion as last week.

Another Dutch marine, A. Roebard, who was visiting his uncle, John De Wilde, for the first time in his life, heard that there were two other marines in town and also presented himself at the USO. And here he learned that they were part of the royal Netherlands marine corps now in training at Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he also is stationed. Thus, three native Hollanders who had never met in the homeland were united in Holland, Mich., the following day at the USO.

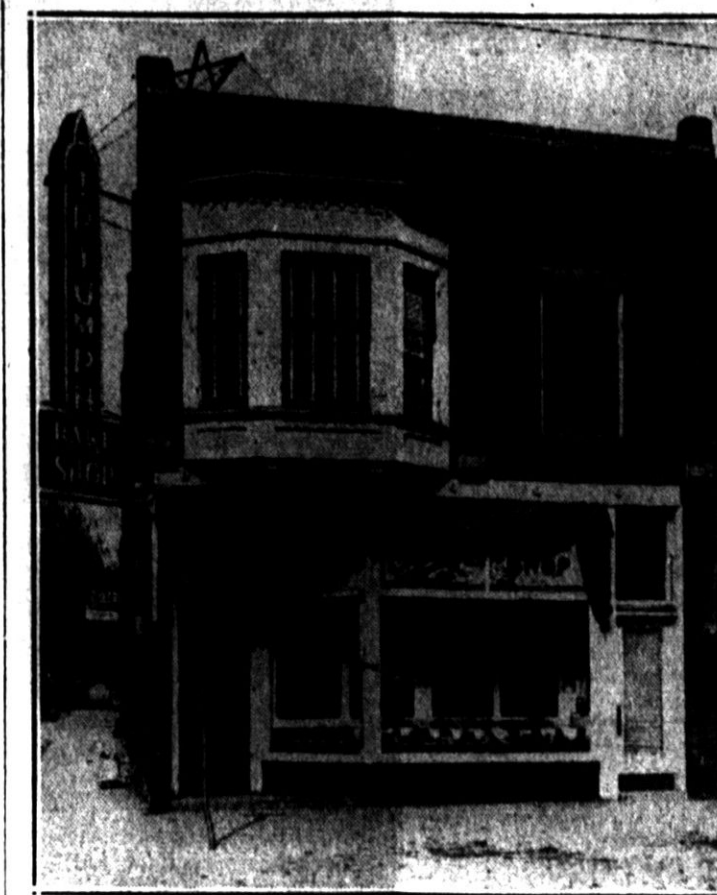

"tops" and said they would like to live in America after the war, even though they are anxious to see their native land again.

Leaving Holland—for one of the men—proved to be as adventurous as some of his other experiences while visiting here. While waiting for his train late Saturday night, Quint discovered he had forgotten some important papers and took a taxi to the home where he had been staying. Upon his return to the depot, he found that the train and his companion had left.

Excited because of a threat of six months penalty for late comers reporting to camp, he had a great deal of trouble in trying to make himself understood and at one time had seven persons surrounding him trying to interpret his broken English for the benefit of the ticket agent.

Then Deputy Sheriff Edward Brouwer appeared on the scene and, knowing the Holland language well, was able to grasp the situation. Since there were no trains running that would get the Dutch marine to Union station in Chicago by 10 a.m. Sunday, Brouwer arranged for trucks and cars which watched for trucks and cars with Illinois licenses. It was in this way that Quint caught a ride which gave fair promise of getting him to the station on time.

Deputy Brouwer also provided Quint with a written statement explaining his predicament and gave him instructions to head for the nearest policeman if he should find himself stranded again.

Two Thousand at Victory Rally Here
An estimated audience of 2,000 attended the Youth for Christ Victory Rally at Riverview park Friday night. A band concert by the massed mission band, directed by Carl Rogers, preceded the program.
The platform, constructed by Arne Vuurens and Louis Mulder, Jr., was an outstanding feature. In the background were three six-foot reproductions of the famous Sallman pictures, the head of Christ, Christ Knocking at the Heart's Door and The Good Shepherd. Flowers, flags of all nations, the American and Christian flags, Scripture texts, blue and gold star service flags and the world globe were arranged on the platform. Eight sections, resembling blue "cubby-holes," with an imitation stone base, formed the background of the platform. Colors were presented by two local soldiers and twin Boy Scouts.
Maurice A. Carlson, of Muskegon, was master of ceremonies for the program and Rev. Chester Reich, of Zeeland, conducted the Scripture and prayer service. A sing-along was led by Hugh Steffens of Chicago, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Kamphuis and Mrs. Kenneth Lovelady, pianists. Outstanding in performance was Beverly Shea, a bass-baritone soloist who sang several selections. The nationally-known Children's Bible Hour presented a 45-minute program. Military tribute was paid to those who have given their lives and service for the cause of freedom. Taps were played and singing of taps was presented by Miss Eleanor Mokma, soprano soloist, while the gold-star flag was unfurled by two servicemen.
Most colorful was the musical pageant by local young people depicting eight countries represented in native costume while a revolving globe pointed out the different countries with a flaming Bible and the words "I Am the Light" painted on it.
Climaxing the program, following an address by Freelin Carlton, of Chicago, was the choir as they sang "Let the Light from the Lighthouse Shine on Me" as a search-light played on the audience in the grandstand.

Schrotenboer of Lumberjacks Is Top Legion Hitter

Catcher Gene Schrotenboer of Northern Wood and Pitcher Carl Reimink of North Shore walked off with individual honors upon completion of the 1945 regularly scheduled American Legion games. Schrotenboer's batting average of .444, 16 hits in 36 times at bat topped the hitting department while Reimink's pitching record of seven victories against one defeat was the best mound record for the year.

Reimink's pitching record is fascinating. The big, thin, right-hander twirled three shut-outs and never allowed more than six hits in a single game. He pitched a couple of two-hitters, one three-hitter and two four-hitters.

Schrotenboer remained at about a .300 hitting pace most of the season but zoomed to the top about midway in the second round when he belted out three for three in one game, one for two in the next and four for four in a third.

Bud Boeve, blonde, left-hander, was close to Schrotenboer in the hitting department. He slammed out more hits than any other player in the league—18 in 42 trips to the plate. He played right-field for Fords. Al Van Meeteren, Northern Wood shortstop, is third with an average of .379—11 out of 29.

Second to Reimink in the pitching ranks is Warren Victor of Hart and Cooley with three wins against one defeat while Jim Walsh of North Shore and Dale Artz of Northern Wood chalked up a .500 percentage with three wins and two losses. Cecil Johnson of Hart and Cooley also had a .500 record with six wins and four defeats.

Leading players last year were Mike Van Oort, who hit .433 and Lou Borgman who batted .377. Pitching honors last season went to Borgman, now in the army, with six wins against no defeats. Jim Walsh won 11 games and lost one last season.

The batting records of the regulars in the league are as follows:

Registers Even Series With 10-9 Win Over Cubs

A fifth and deciding game in the American Legion "Little World Series" will be played Friday night in Riverview park between Hart and Cooley and North Shore. The H-C Registers evened the series at two games apiece Tuesday night in Riverview park with a 10-9 victory over the Cubs.

Mel Klinge's double into left-centerfield with the bases full and two out in the last of the ninth provided the winning margin. He came to bat with the score 9-7 against his Hart-Cooley outfit and his hit came after Bernie Rosenbald had walked. Cecil Johnson singled to center and Ken Van Tatenhove walked.

In the first of the ninth North Shore had taken the 9-7 lead after being behind, 7-6. Gene Marcus' double with the bases clogged had given them the lead. He had come to bat after Stu Baker singled. Bob Altena singled and Fuzz Bauman walked.

With Carl Reimink, ace right-hander of the North Shore crew, in Detroit for an army physical exam and Jim "Jumbo" Walsh suffering a sore arm, Manager John Mills was forced to use Shortstop Bob Altena on the mound. He gave way to Second Baseman Lou Humbert in the sixth.

Manager Dick Japenga started Warren Victor on the mound but replaced him with dependable C. Johnson in the sixth.

Van Tatenhove hit two homers for H-C. His first was an inside-the-park wallop which carried into the leftfield corner and his second landed four or five rows into the stands in deep leftfield.

The Cubs jumped off to an early lead and seemed to have the championship cinched. They led 6-2 at the end of the third. However the Registers made a slow but steady comeback until their mighty ninth inning rally. They cut the lead to 6-4 in the fifth, 6-5 in the sixth and took a 7-6 lead in the seventh.

160 Compete in Six-Hour North Side Horse Show

With 160 entries carrying Saturday's 12th annual North Shore Horse show into the twilight hours, those who witness the continuous six-hour event were given an exhibition of horsemanship that stamped the show as a major attraction in top flight horsemanship circles.

Starting promptly at 1 p.m., the 18 classes were run off with dispatch, with no delays or casualties to slow up the performance. However, the large number of participants did make it a longer show than had been expected, and Dr. I. E. Carr of Lansing, the judge, apparently was a tired man at the close of his duties.

The array of horses was the best ever seen in Holland, and those who carried off the ribbons did so under the stiffest kind of competition. In one class, that of the pleasure horses, there were 24 entrants, each one justifying the judge's serious consideration. Similarly, the working hunter class gave Judge Carr another tough assignment with its 18 excellent jumpers.

Because of the diversity of the events it would not be possible to single out any one horse or rider as the top performer of the afternoon, but in the hunter classes, five in number, the standout performance was given by Susan Delano of Augusta and her horse, Irish Hug.

A post entry, she came in for two firsts, two seconds, and a third in the five jumping events.

Connie Boersma of Holland, always a favorite to watch, held her own with two firsts, one second, and one third, being at equal ease on her horse, Marjo, and the others owned by Harry Plaggenmarm and Mrs. Charles Kirchen.

Probably the most thrilling event of the program was the colorful steeplechase over about a mile and a half course with brush fences, which was won by James Heider of Holland on Gallant Lady, owned by P. T. Cheff.

Western horses were well represented in four classes, with Van Wyk brothers from Holland carrying off most of the trophies, but yielding first place in two of the events to a horse named Tex, and ridden by Richard Van Belten of Grand Rapids.

The new show ring, accommodating a large ringside attendance, proved an improvement over the North Shore grounds, and added to the success of the show. The next event to take place at this community center will be a harness race program on Labor day.

There are to be three races over the enlarged track, a 2:25 trot, 2:20 pace, and a free-for-all, three heats each, with special entertainment being arranged for in between the races. This event will also be sponsored by the Holland Horseman's association, which put on Saturday's horse show.

Winners of the show follow, first, second and third place, etc., being listed according to their positions.

Strong House of David Team Beats Flying Dutch, 6-4

The Holland Flying Dutchmen lost their 13th game in 25 starts Thursday night in Riverview park, 6-4, victims of a powerful Benton Harbor House of David outfit which packed more strength in nine players than has any team that has played here this year or last.

By scoring a run in each the first and second innings, Benton Harbor jumped off to a lead over the Dutchmen and then kept one step ahead of them all the way, killing two Dutch uprisings with double plays.

Ken Little of Holland yielded almost as many walks last night as he has in all six previous games combined. He gave up five free passes and three of the men put on the bases the easy way later scored. In six games before Little has walked seven.

Lloyd Driscoll pounded a homer into the leftfield stands for Holland in the fourth inning.

A walk to Eddie Schumacher and Norm Snyder's double gave Benton Harbor a run in the first inning. Billie Leach's single, a walk to Eddie Deal, an infield out, and a wild pitch gave them another in the second.

Driscoll's homer made it 2-1 in the fourth and that score remained until the seventh when both teams traded heavy blows, Benton Harbor getting four runs and Holland three.

Singles by Ray Hiatt, Schumacher and Snyder, a walk to Glen Gierke and a double by Leach gave Benton Harbor four runs while Holland retaliated with doubles by Harry De Neff, Juke Van Huis and Ken Little, combined with an error to score three.

Hiatt was the winning pitcher coming in at the start of the last half of the second after Fizz Clupper retired Holland in order in the first.

A lightning double-play in the second inning killed a Dutch rally. With one out Van Huis lined a double into right-center. Sonny De Witt then beat out a grounder to deep short with Van Huis holding second. Mike Van Oort cracked one through the box but Shortstop Gierke came up with it, tossed to the second baseman only a couple of feet away, who in turn fired it over to first getting Van Oort by several steps and annihilating a rally which threatened to move the game into a tie.

Pat Mulvihill was also the instigator of a twin killing in the third inning. With one out, Little singled to right. Mulvihill then batted one down at the shortstop who made a nice pick-up and from thence the play was identical with the one in the second inning.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS...

Well, here it is 1955! And Tom in business for himself—already heading for a real success.

Set himself up with those matured Bonds we bought back in the 1940's—four dollars for every three we saved originally!

Back in 1945, even, we knew it would turn out this way. Buying all the Bonds we could. And saving them . . . for our future! Tom's a wonderful husband. And he deserves all the credit.

Well, almost all!

There was a time—that was back in 1945, too, I guess—when he needed a little help from me. I found he'd let down on his Bond buying. Not only that, he actually almost suggested we cash in a Bond or two to pay for something we wanted . . .

And that's where I put my foot down!

"YOU LISTEN TO ME, Tom Lapham," I told him. "Don't you know that the biggest difference between a success and a failure is that the success sticks to his plans? I don't want to be married to a man who hasn't the resolution (or maybe I said 'gumption') to slack off on what he knows is right! You're not going to sabotage our future!"

I guess every husband needs a wifely dressing down once in a while! And thank heaven Tom listened to me!

We kept our Bonds—and bought more and more of 'em! First thing we knew, we had enough so we began feeling secure. That gave Tom confidence—helped him get ahead. And this year, enough bonds matured to make our dreams come true!

TOM'S A SUCCESS—yet he might have failed if I hadn't spoken at the right time. And, of course, he's forgotten. I wouldn't dream of reminding him—it's a secret between us girls.

MORAL: Think of your future—hang on to your bonds! And keep on buying more!
